Kitty's Korner

by

Kitty Montgomery

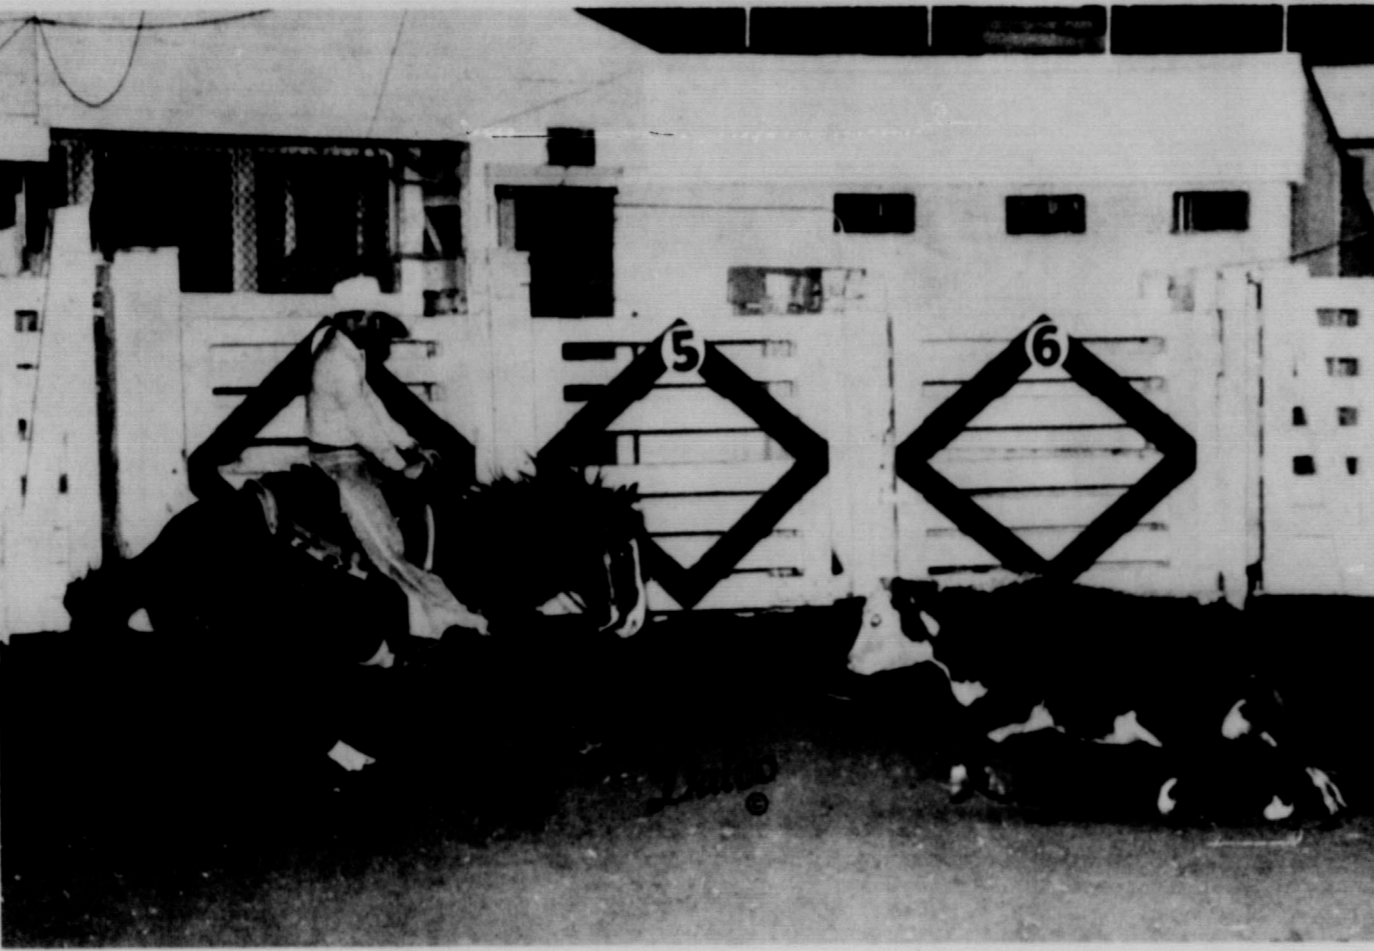

If there is any hard news in town this week it's been well hidden from the staff here at the Stockman. We even failed to come up with any news photos of much consequence. However, we've noticed that most of the dailies around are having much the same trouble. Must be a nationwide drought of news these days.

The sheriff came in this morning, and I was just sure that we had a big story on our hands, really big, since it was the high sheriff himself and not one of the deputies. However, it turned out to be nothing but a bit of nostalgia. He had a copy of the Coleman Democrat Voice, the newspaper in the town where we both grew up. On the front page was a picture taken in 1937 of a group of youngsters in front of the old Dixie Theatre. The Lions Club had sponsored a "potato show," and the picture was of youngsters participating. It seems admission was one or more potatoes for the needy. In the group was none other than yours truly, age 10, and my brother, age 4. Can't imagine how we came by 2 potatoes, but there we were, clutching our potatoes and ready for Tom Mix or whoever. Neither Billy Mills nor I could identify others in the group, guess too many years had passed in the interim. However, the picture brought back a flood of depression days memories. Every kid in town went to the Saturday afternoon matinee at the Dixie Theatre. It was either a nickel or a dime for those under 12 and admission was free for pre-schoolers. You really got your money's worth too. There was the news reel, at least two cartoons, previews of coming attractions, an installment of an exciting serial (series of adventures with same star, usually the Lone Ranger, usually 12 or 13 installment) and a full length feature starring Tom Mix, Gene Autry or some other dashing cowboy. As I look back, I really believe it was "the good old days."

Nobody had a heck of a lot materially, and friendship and fellowship was a cherished part of our everyday lives. The world didn't go around so fast, and a Sunday afternoon pitcher of lemonade with ice chipped off the block brought by the ice man the day before was quite a luxury.

We've never had so many "lost dog" ads in the paper as we have this week. Most are registered dogs, leading us to believe that there is a dog-napping ring operating in Ozona.

If you have a valuable dog, it might be well to keep a careful eye on him. Some of the dogs have disappeared from fenced yards.

competing with 290 cutting horses from over the nation. The six-day event had an overall purse of $132,000. Speedy Talent is owned by Erby Chandler, local rancher, and trained by John Brown of Waco.

Gravity of the condensate was 68.2 degrees.

Production was through perforations at 7,358-879 feet, which had been acidized with 2,000 gallons and fractured with 43,000 gallons and 51,500 pounds of sand.

Location is 1,320 feet from the north and east lines of 10-1-GC&SF.

Water District Increases Rates For First Time In Twenty Years

Ozona water users will notice a slight increase in rates on bills received February 1, from the Crockett County Water District. The new rate will mark the first increase in 20 years for Ozona.

Water rates will increase 5¢ per thousand gallons after the first 5,000 gallons. There will be a 50¢ per month increase in sewer connections from $1 minimum to $1.50 minimum. Garbage pick-up will go up 50¢ per month, from $1.50 minimum to $2.00.

The Water District board of directors decided on the action at the December meeting of the board. The increase was necessary due to the tremendous increase in cost of labor and materials over the past two years. During last summer alone, the cost of electricity to operate the plant was up 20%. The directors, Lowell Littleton, Gene Williams, W.E. Friend, Jr., J.W. Johnigan and Frank McMullan, Jr., discussed the modest rate increase and made a decision based on this year's operating cost. The board warned that continued inflation might precipitate another raise by the end of next year.

Other utilities serving Ozona have made substantial increases over the years. The latest, a boost in telephone rates, was protested by the Crockett County Commissioners Court to no avail. The court felt that telephone service did not justify a rate raise, but the raise went into effect last month. Pioneer Natural Gas customers in Ozona experienced a rate raise last fall and for the first time in the history of the company, West Texas Utilities raised rates in March of 1973.

Conservation Essay Contest In Progress

"Conservation - Key To The Future," is the subject of the 1975 Conservation Essay contest, sponsored by the Directors of the Crockett Soil and Water Conservation District.

Mrs. Black announced that, with the assistance of Jack Baggett, Jr., the Christmas appointments for Santa Claus netted $85.00.

Mrs. Nicholas gave a detailed report of the activities and actions taken at the December State Board and Committee meetings held in Houston last month.

It was announced that Attorney General John Hill has accepted the appointment of State Crusade Chairman for 1975 replacing Tom Landry.

Mrs. Williams, Service and Rehabilitation Chairman, reported continuing service to patients in Crockett County.

Awards to be provided by the local District are $5 for first, $3 for second, $2 for third, and $1 for fourth in each Division.

The essay contest is open to High School boys and girls 18 years of age and under, and does not jeopardize Texas interscholastic league eligibility. Up to 300 words are permitted.

The top essay will be selected and forwarded to Ft. Worth to compete for regional and state champion. Prizes in each of the five state regions will consist of 3 trophies in each region, $100.00 in cash and a trophy will be awarded to the state champion.

Last year's Crockett District champion was Dan Crowder. His essay placed second in Region II. The first place essay in Region II was also selected as state champion. The subject last year was, "Our Soil - Our Strength."

JAMES ANGLETON: A LOSS TO THE COUNTRY

The furor over alleged CIA domestic spying has produced its first sacrificial victim. He is James Angleton, head of the agency's counter-intelligence division and a veteran of 31 years in the intelligence field.

Mr. Angleton has denied that he, personally, had anything to do with any domestic surveillance activities. Nevertheless, he resigned for the "interests of the agency," because he had been charged by the New York Times as being the overseer of a "massive, illegal" intelligence operation against anti-war dissidents and others.

We don't know Mr. Angleton personally and, like most Americans, we don't yet know the full extent of the truth or falsity of the charges against the CIA. But from what we do know of Mr. Angleton's background, and from his comments, we suspect that his resignation will be a heavy blow to the real interests and security of this nation.

Angleton is one of a fast vanishing breed: a dedicated professional who deals with the real world instead of the hopeful fantasies dished up by diplomats and presidents. His experience with the Soviet's own intelligence organization — the KGB — has precluded any illusions. Reflecting on his long career, James Angleton has had a few things to say that, to us, are sobering.

"When we went into the [intelligence] business we thought of the country first," he was quoted by a friend. "But things have changed now. People want their mortgages earlier and personal security seems more important than service to the country." He told an acquaintance that his CIA work was a "31-year association in the cause of national security, which people no longer consider important."

In a telephone conversation with the Washington Post, Angleton referred to what he called a "masochistic" tendency in U.S. society, and predicted that the countries under the influence of the Soviet Union would become more powerful than the United States over the next five years. He said that in the next four or five years "there will be a change of power in which we will back down and surrender" to the Soviets. He also commented that "a western intelligence service has no hope of competing with police states. The opposition has 27 different services in the Soviet bloc hammering against us."

Many Americans, taken in by the Soviet stratagem of "detente," will no doubt look upon these remarks as the ranting of an obsolete "cold warrior." To them, probably, Mr. Angleton's departure will be regarded as good riddance. To us, his loss is a national tragedy.

THE U. N. : A SORRY RECORD

The year just ended proved conclusively what most thoughtful analysts have been saying for a long time about the United Nations: at best it is a debating society, at worst, it demonstrates what awful things can transpire when irresponsibility is linked arm-in-arm with the tyranny of a majority.

During most of the nearly three decades of its existence, the United States didn't once have to cast a veto in the UN Security Council. The Soviet Union, on the other hand, regularly vetoed UN action through its permanent seat on the Council. Usually those vetoes were aimed at sustaining communist-inspired aggression.

Today, the tables have turned. The irresponsible minority of sovereign States comprising the UN has become a majority. In 1974 alone, this majority:

- Suspended South Africa from the session, in clear violation of Article 5 of the UN Charter which grants such power to the Security Council alone.

- Welcomed Yasir Arafat — head of the murderous Palestine Liberation Organization — to the UN with all the pomp befitting a legitimate head of state.

- Granted permanent UN observer status to the PLO and recognition of its right to independence in "Palestine" — meaning in Israel, a member State.

- Curbed Israel's right to speak during the debate on the Middle East.

Even the New York Times, which traditionally has been high on the world body, threw up its editorial arms in disgust at the end of the 29th UN General Assembly.

"What was alarmingly new about Assembly No. 29 was the zest with which the majority... disregarded the rules by which any such body must function and violated the spirit, if not always the letter, of the United Nations Charter in a vain effort to work its will," editorialized the Times on December 13.

We agree with the Times' assessment that weaker nations which overwhelmingly comprise the capricious majority should "look beyond the intoxication of their irrelevant 'victories' in Assembly ballots to the larger, more compelling issue. That issue is nothing less than the survival of the United Nations."

STATE DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC WELFARE

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights
by Lyndell Williams
LEAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN, Tex. — While the legislature is getting set for action and inaugural activities are being planned, Gov. Dolph Briscoe is faced with hundreds of important decisions on fitting the right men (and women) into jobs.

Within the first two months of the year, he must make appointments or reappointments to about 600 board, agency and commission places where terms of members are expiring.

Before 1975 is over, he will have placed more than 1,700 people in major and minor jobs.

During his four-year term, he will make enough such appointments to "control" every appointive state agency.

That is to say, the people he selects will be in a majority of seats on the regulatory, licensing and administrative bodies.

Nearly all the gubernatorial appointments are subject to confirmation by the State Senate.

Three University of Texas system board of regents members will come to the end of their present terms January 13. The most controversial of the three, Frank Erwin Jr. of Austin, has stated he does not seek another term. Jenkins Garrett of Fort Worth and Dan C. Williams of Dallas also face expiring terms.

State Highway Commissioner D. C. Greer's term expires February 15. Briscoe has stated he will reappoint Joe Christie chairman of the State Insurance Board January 31.

Other agencies with powers reaching into all segments of economic life of the state have vacancies coming up which Briscoe will fill early this year.

SUPERPORT URGED—Governor Briscoe and Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby jointly urged public bodies and private interests to apply immediately to build a $400 million offshore terminal in Texas Gulf waters.

But both officials said they are opposed to state ownership of so-called superport facilities designed to receive and off-load oil imported in huge tankers.

Their statement dealt a perhaps-fatal blow to possibility of a state-financed superport. The Texas Offshore Terminal Commission by a five to four vote had recommended state ownership and control of an estimated $1.4 billion profit operation over a 30-year span.

The two officials lauded new federal legislation establishing a licensing procedure for the offshore facilities. They said they will cooperate fully with license applicants when assurances are provided that the coastal environment is not jeopardized. The federal act allows states to retain veto power of facilities, requires a $20 million bond to protect the environment and makes port owners and ships liable for up to $50 million in damages.

COURTS SPEAK—The State Supreme Court upheld validity of a corporation franchise tax surcharge attacked by six corporations in spite of erroneous dates named in the legislation for reporting financial data on which the levy is based.

The High Court in another case, concluded a school teacher fired temporarily while running for county commissioner must go through administrative channels before suing Pharr-San Juan-Alamo School district for $107,800 in damages.

A $48,866 award to a Galveston County youth hit while "playing" in front of a car was upheld in another Supreme Court case involving whether a lawyer hinted the motorist's insurance policy was limited to a $100,000 payment.

AG OPINIONS — Contributions to the Austin Inaugural Committee for paying expenses of inauguration ceremonies are not subject to campaign reporting provisions of the election code, Atty. Gen. John Hill held.

Hill's opinion concluded the persons or corporations who make them do not have to register as lobbyists either, unless their contributions were made "to influence legislation."

On another recent opinion, Hill held Texas veterans are entitled to exemption from tuition and fees when enrolling in University of Texas extension division courses. The same opinion found qualified students in the extension division are also eligible for assistance loans.

DANGEROUS PLANT EXPANDING — Hydrilla, an aquatic plant capable of choking waterways, has been discovered in three locations in Texas.

The plant was first found in Lake Livingston, later at the San Marcos fish hatchery on the San Marcos River and then in a Cameron County irrigation canal south of Los Fresnos.

Washington News Letter
by Congressman O. C. Fisher

THE NEWS REEL
A re-run of "The Ozona Story" as gleaned from the files of "THE OZONA STOCKMAN"

The food stamp program is out of control. Originally established back in 1964 to help shore up the nation's agricultural economy by distributing surplus food through retail channels, and to support better nutrition among the poor, has increased astronomically. "A frightening development," says USDA Secretary Butz, who administers the program.

From 367,000 recipients in 1964, the number now drawing this form of welfare exceeds 14 million—a 3500% increase. The annual cost has jumped from $860,000 to more than $4-billion.

Under the present program, a family of four with an income of $230 a month is eligible for $150 in food stamps. Such a family pays $60 for them and the government pays the other $90. Some large families making more than $10,000 qualify for the stamps. Strikers and many college students are also eligible.

A congressional committee has found that by next year one in every 14 persons will be using food stamps, and at the present rate of expansion within three years one in every 4 Americans could be eligible.

Recently, USDA, which administers the food stamp program, announced that as of next March 1 all households with a $30 or more net monthly income will be required to pay a full 30% of their income for the food stamps they buy. This moderate cut-back caused Senators Humphrey and McGovern to blow their tops, and 43 Senators, joined by 72 house members, lodged a vigorous protest. They promised to get the law amended next year to deprive the USDA the right to change terms of eligibility.

The Food Stamp program invites fraud galore. A few days ago a District grand jury indicted a Washington food stamp certifier on 78 counts, involving a $300,000 food stamp scandal. Another local man, an anti-poverty official, was indicted on 55 counts, and another on 60 counts. Those related to 1971 and 1972 offenses.

In Dallas a major food stamp scandal is being investigated. And these revelations are only the top of the iceberg. Policing the program is inadequate or nonexistent. Meanwhile, taxpayers are taking a beating.

Tips For Gardeners

From the Ozona Garden Club by Mrs. Bailey Post

Although this is the dormant season for many trees and shrubs, there are still plenty of garden chores to be done: dormant spraying, pruning and planting bare-root trees and shrubs. If you have a green house, repot plants in containers, and sow flower and vegetable seeds for an early source of bedding plants when the weather warms in early spring.

Dormant sprays are applied with relatively strong dilutions to plants that are leafless in winter. They prevent many problems by killing over-wintering insects and insect eggs, particularly those of spider mites and scales. They also destroy spores of fungus diseases such as peach leaf curl and fungus plants that benefit most from dormant sprays are roses, fruit and nut trees, apple, peach, pear, plum, pecan and berries that bear on canes. You can choose from several dormant sprays. Oil smother peels and their eggs. Bordeaux mixture, copper, lime sulfur and sulfur for disease control. You can mix one of the fungicides with oil or buy a prepared mixture. Whichever spray you use, drench the plant with it and soak the ground beneath the plant.

While pruning trees and shrubs it is a good time to remove suckers from trees, shrubs and roses. Many are having to prune severely to remove so much damage by the recent freeze. This includes summer flowering deciduous trees and shrubs such as althea, crepe myrtle and vitex. Fast growing trees that need pruning now are ash, elms, mulberry, weeping willow, tallow and others.

Arbor Day - Plant a Tree - Don't forget Texas Arbor Day, January 17. The purpose of this special day is to bring attention to the importance of trees in the environment. Research has shown that trees can reduce unwanted sounds by more than 50%.

MRS. STEVEN ERRICO
...nee Miss Diana Morris

Miss Morris Becomes Bride Of Mr. Errico

Miss Diana Lynn Morris became the bride of Steven Randy Errico in a double ring ceremony Friday evening at the Ozona United Methodist Church. Rev. Dr. Rocco H. Errico, the bridegroom's father, performed the ceremony.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Max M. Morris and Rev. Dr. and Mrs. Errico of San Antonio. The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a candlelight gown of silk crepe. The fitted waist and bodice was highlighted with lace trim, as was the high neckline. Lace ruffles edged the long fitted sleeves. She wore a headpiece of white rosebuds and satin ribbon. Her bouquet was a cascade of tiny pink and white rosebuds with stephanotis and baby's breath, edged in lace.

Christy Davidson served as maid of honor. She wore a red velvet gown styled in A-line with pink ribbon trim at the waist. Her headpiece was of red roses, and she carried a nosegay of red roses and pink carnations and rosebuds.

Best man was Barry Woitena of San Antonio. Ushers were Charles Hughes and Sandy Evans of Mertzon, and Danny Errico, brother of the bridegroom, of San Antonio.

Musical selections were presented by Miss Teresa Shaw at the organ. The bride's sister, Mrs. Brian Henry, sang "The Hawaiian Wedding Song," accompanied by Miss Shaw.

The church was beautifully decorated in the bride's chosen colors of pink and scarlet. Spiral candelabra holding dozens of pink tapers flanked the aisle and the altar. The altar arrangement was a mass of pink gladiolus, pink roses and carnations and red roses.

A reception followed the wedding in the fellowship hall of the church. The bride's table was centered with an arrangement of pink and red roses. The bridegroom's table was centered with an arrangement of white daisies.

Michelle Errico and Kathy Errico, sisters of the bridegroom, presided at the bride's book. Mrs. Charles E. Davidson, III, and Mrs. Tom Montgomery served at the bride's table. Mrs. Harold Shaw, Mrs. John Henderson, III, and Mrs. Thadd Tabb served at the bridegroom's table. Others in the houseparty included Mrs. Jerry Cain and Mrs. Mike Clayton.

The couple will be at home in San Angelo following a wedding trip to San Antonio. Both are students at Angelo State University.

The bride is a member of Pi Kappa Delta and Alpha Psi Omega at ASU where she is a speech major. The bridegroom is a government major and is a member of Pi Kappa Alpha Fraternity.

The bride was honored with a gift tea December 19 at the church parlor. Hostesses were Mrs. John W. Henderson, III, Mrs. George Montgomery, Mrs. A. E. Morris, Mrs. Mike Clayton, Mrs. Tom Montgomery, Mrs. Jerry Cain, Mrs. Thadd Tabb, Mrs. Edward Collett, Mrs. John W. Thompson and Mrs. Lawrence Jones.

GARDEN CLUB MEETING

The Ozona Garden Club will meet January 13 at 1:30 p. m. at the Civic Center.

Hostesses will be Mrs. J. C. Schroeder, Mrs. Fleet Coates and Mrs. Maggie Crawford.

Officers will be elected for the coming year and a slide presentation of European Gardens will be shown.

FRIDAY BRIDGE CLUB

Mrs. C. O. Walker entertained the bridge club in her home last week. High score winner was Mrs. Hilary Phillips, Sr. Second high went to Mrs. Bailey Post and low to Mrs. T. J. Bailey. Mrs. Lee Childress won the bingo prize.

Others playing were Mrs. L. L. Bryant, Mrs. Lovella Dudley, Mrs. J. B. Miller, Mrs. Sherman Taylor, Mrs. Ewart White, and two guests, Mrs. L. D. Kirby and Mrs. W. T. Stokes.

Debra Says

by Debra Price HD Agent

With divorce on the increase in Texas, many couples are faced with the problem of how to explain a separation to their children. Of approximately 64,000 divorces in Texas last year, slightly more than half involved children. Parents can help their children adjust to the new relationships if they are aware of the children's feelings during this stressful time.

For young children the circumstances leading to a divorce and the actual separation will create mixed feelings. The child is probably aware that some problem exists between his parents long before the divorce occurs. He may feel guilty for some of his past actions and believe he is to blame for the problems his parents are having. A child may feel some hostility and rejection because he is being left by one of his parents.

It is important to help the child understand that the divorce is not his fault. Parents should emphasize that they are separating because they can't live together happily - not because of something the child has done. The child needs reassurance that he will still have a mother and father who love him, even though they will not all be living together. He needs to know that both parents want to be with him as much as possible.

Parents can help a child to accept the situation realistically by explaining what is happening and why. The child needs to understand and accept the fact that his parents will not get married again - that things will never be like they were before the divorce because the relationships have changed. When a child knows what to expect, he will feel more secure and less anxious. Parents should decide who the child will live with and where they will be living. As soon as plans are complete, it is time to explain to the child what will happen.

It's also important to have some agreement between the parents about the type of guidance and discipline the child needs. Consistent relations with each parent will be less confusing to the child.

While the attire here is a bit more formal, this scene could be Coney Island. Everywhere the beaches are crowded!

We don't know what brings penguins together in such number, but where people are concerned, it's the quest for recreation.

Interesting word: RE-creation. . . as if the work of God at the beginning of time has to be done over again. . . man, the creature, needing to be created again.

Physically recreation implies a restoration of energy and vitality through refreshing diversions.

But the idea has spiritual implications worth pondering: The Sunday morning a family devotes to worship is a time of recreation. It does more for the soul than the crowded beaches can do for the body and mind.

Tex Watson talks about Natural Gas for the Future

I'm pleased to report to our customers that Pioneer purchased more gas during 1974 than we used. This new gas will be available for future use, of course.

As you know, Pioneer is having to pay more for new gas than we've ever paid before. The competition for the gas produced in our area has never been so fierce. But the higher prices are resulting in lots of new exploration and production. I know of numerous wells which could not have been drilled at prices prevailing three years ago.

The increase in field prices means that our customers will have to pay more for the energy they use in their homes - gas and electricity - but, more important, it means he'll have the gas he needs.

All energy will cost more in the future but gas will remain your best energy buy.

CALLING ALL HOMEMAKERS

The next time you're considering new chairs for your home, you might think about "chairs in pairs."

There are many advantages to buying twin chairs.

A main advantage is that chairs in pairs help to unify a room, leaving you free to assemble other distinctive pieces you want for contrast and individuality with the two chairs bringing desired unity. Chairs in pairs help give you harmony if other things are mixed. This can really give you the best of both decorating worlds.

Another advantage of chairs in pairs is that they help you simplify furniture arrangement in a room. By their very nature they can suggest a beautiful setting.

It's wise decorating to seek out twin chairs. They can be more practical for you, and add new dimensions of splendor to your home.

And chairs in pairs do not necessarily have to be exactly identical. Manufacturers make chairs that go together but are still somewhat different and stand on their own, so to speak. Either way, whether the two chairs are exactly identical, or are just related twins, be sure to look for chairs in pairs when you go furniture shopping. And we'd be happy to have you do your furniture shopping here. Stop in.

Reddy's helpful tips for your Home Laundry

Wash and dry a full load, but never overload... it is essential for each item to move freely for proper cleaning and drying.
Choose the correct cycle for washing modern materials. Perhaps hot water isn't needed, and only a gentle drying temperature.

Too much detergent can clog machine and drain... always measure, don't guess! Follow the manufacturer's recommendations for your type equipment. Mixing brands of detergents can cause graying of clothes.

Many manufacturers of permanent press garments recommend machine washing and machine drying for best results. Following instructions on the garment tag can help preserve the life of your clothing and give you wrinkle-free clothes without need for ironing. A big savings!
