Another week has passed and the deadline is upon us again. Of all days to get a new typewriter, Tuesday is not the day I would have picked. However, the installer or whatever, arrived on Tuesday to install the little jewel. Getting used to a new typewriter is more difficult than living with in-laws.

Little League season is upon us and there is not enough help for the four teams. There will be a meeting tonight at 7:30 at the Chamber of Commerce building for all interested in Little League. That means parents, coaches, managers, officials and other interested parties. Do something constructive this summer. Help a little league team.

You can bet there will be plenty of boys out for the teams.

Today is, or rather Tuesday was our wedding anniversary. Tom's and mine. I never get out of this building on Tuesday and you can imagine my surprise when Lou Ingram came in to deliver a beautiful package and wish me a happy anniversary. There was no card on the package, and I jokingly wondered who it was from. Tom obliged me by telling me it was from some old boy who was so happy Tom had taken me for a wife instead of him that he sent a gift of appreciation. Of course, it wasn't true, nobody remembers that far back.

Tom was just practicing to become another Lou Costello, in more ways than one I might add.

Ozona Officer Gives Testimony In Murder Trial

Patrolman Tom Finley, DPS, was in Los Angeles last Thursday where he attended the pre-trial hearing for Charles E. Waldon, accused of murder and robbery in the shooting death of Los Angeles businessman Lee Arter. Finley apprehended Waldon near Ozona in the car reported stolen when Arter was killed in Los Angeles last month.

Waldon was bound over for trial in Los Angeles County on charges of first degree murder and armed robbery following the hearing. He will be arraigned April 24, and the date for trial will be set at that time. Bail was denied.

There were nine witnesses at the hearing for the prosecution. Besides Patrolman Finley, there were the man who found Arter's body, an executive who spent Arter's last day with him, a man at a restaurant who was the last person to see Arter alive, the pathologist who conducted the autopsy, a ballistics expert and the two deputies first on the scene after Arter's body was discovered.

The body was found in a park in Los Angeles County by a man who was jogging. Arter was shot in the head with a small calibre weapon at a range of approximately 4 inches. The ballistics expert testified that the bullet which killed Arter was fired from the gun Patrolman Finley found in Waldon's possession at the time of arrest.

Patrolman Finley will be required to give testimony at Waldon's final trial.

Ozona Girls Take Lead In Dist. Tennis; Boys Playing Today

Ozona took an early first round lead in the girls district tennis meet held here last Thursday. The Lions had a total of 25 points to outscore Sonora with 15 and Crane with 10. Finals in the boys district tennis meet are scheduled for today (Thursday) in Ozona, and the total points of these two meets will determine the championship in tennis for this year.

Leaders for the Lions were Karla Fenton and Lynn Maness, who defeated Karen Kirby and Karen Bebee of Ozona in the finals 6-1, 6-2.

Fenton and Maness stopped Galindo and Finklea of Sonora 6-0, 6-1 in the quarterfinals. Kirby and Hawthorne of Crane 6-3, 7-5 in the semifinals, and then Kirby and Bebee in the finals.

Kirby and Bebee defeated Paup and Jamar of Crane 6-3, 6-1, and Howard and Alexander of Sonora 6-3, 6-3 before losing the finals.

Laura Gibbs of Sonora defeated Anna Gonzales of Crane 4-6, 6-2, 6-2 to take the girls singles title.

The winner and runner-up in senior doubles and singles will represent the district in regional Friday in Odessa, so Fenton-Maness, and Kirby-Bebee of Ozona will play there tomorrow.

In junior division tennis, Jeannine Perry and Cynthia Williamson of Ozona defeated Gigi McKinney and Teresa

Brown of Ozona 6-4, 6-4 to take the doubles championship. Perry and Williamson beat Allbright-Simon of Big Lake 6-2, 6-2 and Cook-Galindo of Sonora 6-1, 6-0 before defeating McKinney and Brown in the finals.

McKinney and Brown of Ozona beat Big Lake 6-1, 6-4 and Crane 6-1, 7-5 to reach the junior division finals.

Joe Skalak is the high school tennis coach, and Celia Allen is coach of the junior division. Ted Cotton, principal of Ozona Intermediate school, is the director of both district tennis meets for this year.

Historical Society To Meet Monday

The Crockett County Historical Society will hold its regular quarterly meeting on Monday evening, April 21, in the Auditorium-Coliseum at 7:30 p.m. The story of another of Crockett County's pioneer families, the L.B. Cox family, will be coordinated by Mrs. L.B. Cox, Jr. As always, interested persons are cordially invited to attend these meetings.

Each family story is taped as part of the Bicentennial Oral History project, and then transcribed into written form by Mrs. W.D. Cooper, Museum Hostess, thus making permanent records of this important part of our county history.

Museum To Be Open Sundays

Ted M. White, Crockett County Museum Director, has announced that the Crockett County Museum will be opened to the public on Sunday afternoons at 3:00 p.m., beginning next Sunday, April 20.

Mrs. George Bean will serve as volunteer hostess for the first two Sundays and others will be designated later. It is hoped that local people will take advantage of these afternoons to see the many items of interest on display in the museum.

A recent addition is the Bicentennial Quilt made by members of the Woman's Forum which was bought at auction by Mr. and Mrs. George Bunger who generously donated it to the museum.

Two Men Hurt In Sunday Cycle Wreck

Two men narrowly escaped fatal injury Sunday night around 9:15 when they dodged a deer on a 1975 model motorcycle on FM 1312 east of Ozona, and lost control of the vehicle.

Brought to Crockett County Hospital by private vehicle were Raymond N. Mosley of Gardendale and Benny J. Garcia of Odessa. Both men are here working in the oil fields.

Garcia was transferred to an Odessa hospital suffering from a broken leg. Mosley was treated and released from the hospital here.

Commissioners Hear Final Plans For Completion Of Care Center

Crockett County Hospital Administrator Keith Peters reported that donations had been received for the furnishing of all but nine and one-half rooms in the Crockett County Care Center at the monthly meeting of the Crockett County Commissioners Court Monday.

The center, which is nearing completion, has been furnished almost entirely by donations from local individuals, with the exception of the nine and one-half semi-private rooms. Peters listed donors in his report and the areas furnished by the various individuals.

Architect for the care center, John C. Allen of Austin, presented his report to the court. In it, he cited an apparent slow down of work in completion of the facility.

At Allen's request, the court instructed the judge to assess a penalty of $100 per day, unless valid reasons could be given, starting May 1, for incompletion of the facility and to write a letter stating this to Allen. Allen agreed to forward the letter to the San Angelo contractor who is responsible for completion of the wing, in order that he might be advised of the court's stand. The original completion date for the wing was March 15, but due to bad weather and shortage of materials, the court set the date up to April 15.

Allen noted all major construction items had been completed, but that minor electrical and heating equipment still must be installed. He told the court there was no reason the June 1, open house date for the center should be postponed.

The court approved the purchase of a paging system for emergency ambulance workers, at a cost of $2,684. Administrator Peters said the system would enable emergency workers on call to be away from the telephone during their shifts. The system will be tied into the short wave radio frequency in the sheriff's office.

An increase in ambulance fees was approved by the court. The cost table worked out by Peters was as follows: $25 for in-town emergency call; $20 for non-emergency call; $1 per mile for out of town calls with a minimum charge of $25.

The court discussed but took no action on a proposition by the Community Action Council of San Angelo to assist and explore the needs of Ozona's poor. The CAC is a social service organization, requesting to send an outreach worker to Ozona to work with the poor. The executive board of the Ozona Community Center has given its approval, but the CAC will not come into the community without the approval of the Commissioner's Court. Judge Troy Williams reported. Federal funds have been appropriated for the CAC to use in Crockett County and Sterling City, the judge said, and added that the program would be offered at no expense to the county.

During the Civic Center report, Garland Young, Director, advised the court of the need for two table dollies. The court approved the purchase of the items. Young informed the court that the Woman's Forum will purchase approximately $100 worth of equipment for the center kitchen. He said he had not yet received bids on the purchase of silverware for the center.

June 20 was set by the court as tax evaluation day. The court will sit as an equalization board in May.

In other business, the court decided to apply for flood plain insurance, and authorized the payment of $3,147 toward the purchase of a $16,000 machine for the District Attorney's office, the remainder to be paid by a state criminal justice grant.

Stories Being Received For History Book

Materials for Crockett County's History Book are now being received and filed in individual envelopes at the Crockett County Museum. Mrs. P.L. Childress, Chairman of the project, reminds everyone that the deadline for receiving these stories and pictures is September, 1975, but early submission of the materials will greatly facilitate the work of the committee.

Families are also reminded that the only family stories to be included in the book will be those written and signed by family members. The Committee will not write any individual family story, if it, however very important to have as many family stories as possible for it is the families who have made, and continue to make, Crockett County's history.

It is not necessary, although it is desirable, to have the stories in typewritten form.

The Oil Depletion Allowance

The headlines in the Washington newspapers told the story: "House Liberals Show Clout With Oil Depletion Victory."

"In a stunning display of their new legislative muscle," the story read, "a coalition of liberal Democrats pushed the repeal of the oil depletion allowance through the House of Representatives."

What the "stunning display" really demonstrated, of course, was the anti-capitalist mentality of the new, 94th Congress. The move was based upon the left-wing propaganda line that those who invest their money in drilling for oil are becoming fat at public expense. Since no amount of factual, statistical information will serve to change their minds, there is little use in repeating it here. The "liberals" are apparently blind to the fact that the cost of oil exploration has greatly increased with the passage of time and with new oil discoveries becoming less frequent. They seem oblivious to the fact that at this very time of dangerous energy shortage, we should be offering more incentives, and not less, to explore for oil. They are deaf, dumb and blind to the fact that the increased tax load to the oil industry will show up in the form of increased consumer prices for not only gasoline, but all other petroleum products.

We have a suggestion to make. According to the news stories, "Reps. William Green, D-Penn., Sam Gibbons, D-Fla., Abner J. Mikva, D-Ill., Martha Keys, D-Kan., Fortney H. Stark, D-Calif., Charles B. Rangle, D-N.Y., and Andrew Jacobs, Jr., D-Ind., formed the nucleus of the group of young maverick Democrats which brought the issue to the floor."

Our suggestion is that, in lieu of their $817.30 weekly paycheck, these "maverick" Congressmen be reimbursed in the form of investment in any oil drilling venture they care to select. After all, if those who do invest their money in oil are getting so all-fired rich, as these Representatives seem to think, they can't possibly object to putting their money where their mouths (and votes) are.

HOORAY FOR THE CIA

Every once in a while a ray of light illumines the excellent work of the U.S. intelligence community in a way that leaves its liberal critics with little to do but mumble to themselves.

So it is with Project Jennifer, the code name for the CIA's imaginative and valuable mission to locate and raise a Soviet submarine which sank under three miles of Pacific Ocean in 1968. A major portion of the submarine was grasped by an ingenious steel claw and brought to the surface, yielding important intelligence data. More of the sub may yet be recovered.

Complicating further efforts under Project Jennifer, however, is the now common knowledge of its existence and purpose. Typically, it was Jack Anderson, that champion of the people's right to know — including the people in the Kremlin — who finally blew the lid off the project. He did so after the most influential journals in the country — including the New York Times, Washington Post and Time magazine — wisely had agreed to maintain a cloak of secrecy around the operation, a cloak which is vital to any intelligence-gathering effort.

Within days of Anderson's revelation on a radio program, the Navy reported that a Russian tugboat, believed equipped with sophisticated electronic equipment, was hovering in the area of the sunken sub northwest of Hawaii. And one of Russia's largest oceanographic ships, the DIMITRI MENDELEEV, is due in Hawaiian waters in April.

Anderson's action, which is disgusting at best, should not, however, be allowed to detract from the plaudits owed the CIA for its resourceful effort. Despite the catcalls from its nattering critics, we believe Project Jennifer is typical of the excellent work done by the CIA and the rest of the U.S. intelligence community.

In the words of the New York Times Project Jennifer is "a useful reminder of how essential good intelligence is for the national security in a world of nuclear weapons, nuclear submarines and hydrogen bomb-tipped intercontinental missiles. The CIA is only to be commended for this extraordinary effort to carry out its essential mission."

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights by Lyndell Williams TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN — Texans are going to get to vote on a new constitution this year after all. Final legislative agreement on the article-by-article revision proposal will send it to the polls November 4 for a showdown decision by voters.

A major campaign is shaping up for the document, and several efforts can be expected against individual sections. At least, the revision is shorter, simpler and better organized than the present patch-work constitution. It would give the governor needed fiscal controls, appointive power and agency reorganization authority.

The proposed unified court system is not without some strong criticism, as well as backing. The finance article requires uniform standards and procedures for tax appraisal and countywide appraisal.

Counties, through the new local government article, would be able to change their governmental structure and adopt ordinances. Environmental protection would be mandated along with access to comprehensive health care and equal education.

Voters will decide earlier on two constitutional changes — on April 22. On the ballot then are recommended "emergency" improvements in state employees' and school teachers' retirement programs and a $600 a month pay scale and expense account increases for legislators.

MONEY RUNNING OUT State revenues, rapidly shrinking in spite of a once-fat $1 billion "surplus," will be far short of needs for real school finance reform, two government officials maintain.

Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby, Legislative Budget Board chairman, predicts about $450 million to $500 million will be available after the general state budget is approved. LBB Director Tom Keel estimated the main budget "leftover" at $472.8 million. That's nearly $300 million below the most modest program of major education finance bills backed by Gov. Dolph Briscoe.

Hobby said the teachers will get a pay raise — less than they are asking — but many other provisions of the Briscoe and Texas State Teachers Association bills cannot be financed.

PRIMARY DELAYED Presidential preference primary legislation went to conference committee with initial Senate instruction to retain a self-destruct feature which would make the legislation effective for 1976 only.

COURTS SPEAK The State Supreme Court will review a Laredo case which Atty. Gen. John Hill claims may have major consequences for enforcement of deceptive trade practices court orders.

WATERWAYS BILL PASSED The Senate designated Texas Highway Department as state sponsor for a joint state-federal effort to maintain 426 miles of Gulf Intracoastal waterways. The Department will cooperate by providing spoil disposal areas along the 426 mile main channel from the Sabine River to Brownsville.

Susan Speaks Out by Susan Gurley McBee State Representative, District 70

As we begin the last two months of the legislative session, legislators are spending less and less time in committee hearings and on office work, and more and more time on the floor debating and voting on bills. This is the critical period in the legislative session when many people would like to voice their opinions on particular pieces of legislation and often wonder how best to make their viewpoints known. The most effective way is to contact your State Representative. There are several ways to do this--the cheapest and easiest being to drop a postal card to me (at Box 2910 Austin, Texas 78767) stating that you're for or against a certain bill, if you want to go into more detail, write a letter. Or, if time is critical, call me at (512) 475-2763. I welcome hearing from constituents.

By the time this column appears the House will have acted on the proposed new State Constitution, which the Senate passed earlier in only one day's time. There are many pros and cons on the actual draft; but I think the concept of salvaging something from the 3 million dollars and many months of work already spent on Constitutional revision is a sensible one. At least it would allow the voters to express themselves once and for all. Until this happens, there will

Debra Says

Debra Price

Determining the best size eggs to buy for the money is a difficult choice for many consumers. Stores usually price eggs by the dozen so it's easy to figure cost-per-pound or cost-per-ounce for the different sizes. By state law, small size eggs must weigh 18 ounces; medium eggs, 21 ounces; and large eggs, 24 ounces per dozen. An even simpler method of determining egg value in relation to size is the eight-cent-rule. Buy the larger size egg if the difference in price is less than eight cents per dozen. For example, if large size eggs sell for 72 cents per dozen and medium eggs sell for 65 cents, consumers will get more egg for their money by purchasing the large ones. But if the medium size eggs were selling for 60 cents, the best buy would be the medium size.

EGG DIP

- 12 hard cooked eggs, sliced
- 2 t. prepared mustard
- 2 drops of Tabasco
- 1 t. salt
- 3/4 c. mayonnaise
- 2 T. soft butter
- 1 T. lemon juice
- 2 t. Worcestershire sauce
- 1 1/2 t. liquid smoke
- 1/2 t. pepper

Combine all ingredients and beat until smooth. If mixture is too stiff, gradually add a small amount of cream of milk until proper consistency for dip. Put into a chilled bowl and sprinkle with paprika. Serve with crackers or chips.

BACON AND EGG CASSEROLE

- 3 T. butter
- 3 T. flour
- 1/2 t. pepper
- 1 1/2 t. Worcestershire
- 6 strips bacon, crumbled
- 1 c. milk
- 1 t. salt
- 1/2 onion, grated
- 8 hard-cooked eggs (chopped)
- 1/2 pound cheddar cheese (grated)

Prepare white sauce by melting butter in saucepan; add milk, salt, pepper, Worcestershire sauce and onion; cook until thickened. In a one-quart casserole dish put a layer of white sauce, layer of eggs, layer of bacon, repeat layers. Top with grated cheese. Bake at 325 degrees F. for 25-30 minutes. Serves six.

Tips For Gardeners

From the Ozona Garden Club
by
Mrs. Bailey Post

Now that March is gone, we hope the winds are too, and that the refreshing showers of last week, to help green up the countryside and our yards, will continue.

Few summer garden features are more impressive than a large bed of annuals. But with schedules so busy and help scarce, not many can maintain large flower beds.

If your garden is small, you can make it colorful with containers filled with vivid annuals. But with schedules so busy and help scarce, not many can maintain large flower beds.

If your garden is small, you can make it colorful with containers filled with vivid annuals, graceful with trailing blossoms. Place a portable pot anywhere you want a splash of color, or move in planted pots in bloom to brighten a bed of evergreen or small shrubs.

Select annuals that will sparkle in sunny groups, and will grow in relatively poor soil, such as bush or trailing moss (portulaca red and yellow gaillardia, poppies, petunia, verbena and periwinkle. Creeping or dwarf zinnias grow well in poor or rich soil. Fertile soil in full sun produces good pink, white and crimson dianthus, and yellow, orange and mahogany pygmy marigolds. Annual phlox in brilliant red, pink, purple, white and lavender, and pentas to well in full sun and adapt to broken shade. Nierembergia (cup flower) is a creeping plant that produces purple, blue or white flowers in full sun or partial shade.

Choose members of the shade-loving families for spots where the sun doesn't linger too long. The sultanas are especially cheerful in such locations as well as the always brilliant colors of caladiums which last all summer. The white caladium lend a feeling of coolness to an area for relaxing. Caladiums and elephant ears may be planted anytime now, since the soil is warming up. Remember, they need water almost every day during the summer.

FRIDAY BRIDGE

Smile the Clouds Away

It's a line from an old gospel hymn, "Sing and Smile and Pray."

Our little lady with the checkered raincoat and umbrella has a most engaging smile. We're not sure whether she's happiest about her "storm gear" or her puffy dog or perhaps where she's going on this rainy day.

But this is certain—it takes preparedness to smile the clouds away.

Every Sunday in our churches millions of youngsters are learning with Christian conviction to sing and smile and pray. Their religious training is preparing them for all-weather living.

The darker the sky, the brighter the gleam in the eyes of faith.

Gas Producer Is Confirmed

Cities Service Oil Co. No 2-C Owens, fifth Cisco lime producer in the Clara Couch multipay field of Crockett County, 10 miles southeast of Iran, was completed for a calculated, absolute open flow of 2.15 million cubic feet of dry gas daily.

Production was through perforations at 5,805-10 feet which have been acidized with 1,000 gallons.

CALLING ALL HOMEMAKERS Brought to you By Lillian Brown

Your home does not have to look the same every day. Why not use different decor at different times of the year? There's no surer way to brighten your home--and your life.

For example, in wintertime, you could add warmth to your rooms by adding some new things in those warm colors of yellows, reds, and oranges. And in summertime, if you want to make your home seem cooler, how about using some things in cooling blues and greens.

You'll find ideas like this can work wonders and bring new excitement. Many people decorate their homes specially for Christmas--but why stop there? Why not think of ways you can celebrate springtime or summer or autumn or even other holidays.

If it's possible, you might consider using some lighter furnishings in the summer and a few heavier ones in winter. And, another way that you can decorate your home specially for seasons or holidays, or just for a change of pace anytime, is with different accessories. Get some new ones from time to time and you'll help add variety and sparkle to your home.

Let your imagination think of other ways to give your home varying decor, and if you need some help, stop in and see us.
