Kitty's Korner

by
Kitty Montgomery

I guess it takes all kinds of people to make a world, at least that's what I've always heard, but after a flasco in front of this office Monday afternoon, I get the idea that the world might be a better place if there were fewer of some kinds and more of other kinds.

For the first time in my life, I witnessed the most flagrant disrespect for a law officer I have ever seen, and to top it all off, about an hour later, one of the participants came to my office and told me in no uncertain terms to confine my writing about the incident to the story of the wreck and to mention no other names. As most of you know, who know me at all, I don't take orders very well. What I write about in this newspaper and especially in this part of the paper is strictly between me and my conscience. And after a veiled threat, I feel more compelled than ever to bring this matter to the attention of our readers.

I've had telephone threats, nasty telephone calls, and poison pen letters, all anonymous. Maybe I am courageous and maybe I don't have enough sense to be frightened by all of this, but I have continued to do my job in the face of it, and I shall endeavor to struggle on.

There was a head-on accident Monday afternoon in the empty street directly in front of our office. I heard the crash and looked up in time to see both cars literally locked in mid-air. Local youngsters were in both cars, and it was a miracle there were no injuries.

The street was as empty as a graveyard before the collision, but a crowd soon gathered, and there was quite an audience before the highway patrolman could get in from out on the highway to investigate. He drove up knowing none of the particulars and when he asked to see one of the drivers operating license, he was abused and cursed by one segment of the crowd. He finally had to threaten them with jail. When he crossed to the other side of the street to further his investigation, he was followed and sheriff's deputies were forced to keep the peace. The upshot was, the officer was verbally assaulted and unfairly accused of prejudice in the course of the investigation, all unprovoked. The man who ordered us not to write the story was none other than MACO president and Ozona High School English teacher, Thomas DeHoyos. The officer was Patrolman Manuel Hartnett, DPS.

I have for years prided myself on my utter lack of racial prejudice or bias, but I find Mr. DeHoyos a very unreasonable young man seething with hostility toward the gringos. I also question his intelligence in coming

THE ONLY ACTION IN DOWNTOWN OZONA Monday was a head on collision directly in front of the Ozona Stockman. All other businesses were closed in observance of the Memorial Day holiday. However, soon after the wreck a crowd gathered.

The three young men involved miraculously escaped injury and here, only moments after the crash are examining the damage to the late model automobiles. Both cars were extensively damaged.

$20,000 Cemetery Lighting Project Under Way Here

Work began recently on the lighting of Cedar Hill and Lima Cemeteries. The project, which will be undertaken at a cost of around $20,000, is a gift to the county from F.H. Hunt, former

Pfiester And Routh Receive Safety Awards

Gary Pfiester and Bill Routh, drivers for Intratex Gas Company, a subsidiary of Houston Natural Gas Corporation, have been honored for their accident-free driving records during 1974.

During informal ceremonies, safe driving awards were presented by the company's safety manager, Phil Armbricht, H.J. Haas, senior vice president and general manager, HNG Petrochemicals, Inc.; R.A. Nevill, vice president-Operations, and W.L. Upham, general superintendent, Compressors, Houston Pipe Line Company, were on hand to extend congratulations. HNG Petrochemicals and Houston Pipe Line are also subsidiaries of Houston Natural Gas.

Pfiester received a three-year award, and Routh received a two-year award.

Ozonan and Crockett County landowner, presently of Temple.

The proposal was accepted by the Crockett County Commissioners Court in a called meeting last month. Hunt met with the court and presented a detailed plan for the installation of electrical lighting at both cemeteries. Hunt said, "It is considered to be in the best interest of the county and of the cemeteries that the entrances of each be equipped with electric lighting both for the purpose of helping safeguard said cemeteries against vandalism and for other purposes."

The work will be done by the Arthur Collier Electric Company of Temple. The court approved the plan submitted by the electric company, which included installation of electrical facilities, fixtures, equipment, etc.

Hunt began negotiations for the lighting in December of 1974. He worked out arrangements with the West Texas Utilities to run electricity to the cemeteries, and donated a sum to pay for the monthly utility bill in excess of $20 per month. The county agreed to pay the initial $20 monthly for the electric service. Hunt presented his personal check in the amount of $5,801.19, as a contribution to the Crockett County Cemetery Lighting Fund. The fund will be used to defray any cost above the $20 to be paid by the county monthly.

Hunt and Mrs. Jack Baggett, president of the Ozona Cemetery Association, have selected the ornamental fixtures for the lights and other installations.

Speaking for the court and the county, Judge Troy Williams accepted the generous gift and thanked Mr. Hunt for his unselfish and beautiful tribute to the county.

O.C. Fisher Takes Position As ACA Trustee

Former Congressman O.C. Fisher of San Angelo has accepted an invitation to become a member of the board of trustees of the Americans for Constitutional Action (ACA), which is headquartered in Washington.

A 32-year veteran in Congress prior to his retirement at the end of 1974, Fisher becomes one of 10 ACA trustees, and shares the position with such distinguished personages as John Wayne of Hollywood and Bill Tuck, a former Congressman and former Governor of Virginia.

Non-profit and non-political, ACA is devoted to the preservation of constitutional government, and to the practice of fiscal sanity in the Congress. Widely recognized as a conservative-oriented organization, ACA gathers and disseminates vital facts and information regarding current issues. At the end of each session it publishes a report showing how each member of Congress voted on important and decisive issues. Based upon recorded votes, the analysis is generally accepted by both conservatives and liberals as a fairly accurate reflection of each member's philosophy.

In accepting a position as an ACA trustee, ex-Rep. Fisher said he considers it an honor and a privilege to serve. "ACA is a highly prestigious organization which engages in no witch hunts but simply tells it like it is. It serves a very useful purpose by providing the public with facts and information they can depend upon," Fisher said.

Local Youths Uninjured In Head-on Crash

Three local youths narrowly escaped serious injury about 2:30 p.m. Monday in a head-on collision in deserted downtown Ozona.

Will Collett, traveling west on 290 adjacent to the downtown park, in a late model sports car, was in collision with a new Chevrolet driven by John Tambunga and attempting to turn across 290 to the park.

The impact sent both cars flying in the air. Ramon Martinez, a passenger in the Tambunga car was taken to the hospital by private car, but was only dazed due to a bump on the head. Neither of the two drivers was injured.

The Collett Corvette was totaled. There was extensive damage to the Chevrolet, but Tambunga was able to drive away in the automobile.

Screwworm Population On Increase

"We seem to have two different screwworm populations in Texas," says Dr. James E. Novy, director of field operations for the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) Screwworm Eradication Program.

One is growing from the South Texas over-wintering area. The other is "spearing" into the Trans-Pecos and Hill Country region. This strong invasion is bolstered by increasing populations of this parasite of all warm blooded animals south of the Rio Grande River in Mexico's State of Coahuila.

Consistently warm weather in much of the Trans-Pecos and Hill Country with weekly rains of a half inch or more have created an environment favorable to the screwworm fly. Stormy conditions and heavy "smaze" have severely hampered aerial distribution of sterile screwworm flies.

Novy comments that the screwworm population in Texas' eight southern counties is statistically losing ground as reports of cases farther north in the state increase.

Counties recording their first officially confirmed cases of the year during the first half of May were: Bandera, Blanco, Bee, Coryell, Crockett, Gillespie, Hamilton, Kendall, Maverick, Pecos, Presidio, Sutton, Terrell and Zavala. Forty-nine Texas counties had laboratory confirmed infestations by May 16.

New Mexico Cowgirl Sweeps Annual Quarterhorse Show

Dorothy Ann Murdock of Hobbs, N.M. with Billy Bars Baby won the trophy saddles in both the youth and open division of the annual Ozona Quarterhorse Show held here Saturday.

Due to a downpour of rain Saturday morning, some contestants left before the show got under way around 9-45 a.m. with the halter classes competing in the County Show Barn. Lighting and space was limited, but it was an improvement over the rainy area.

Thundershowers Amount To Inch Of Rain

By noon Tuesday, slightly over an inch of rain had been recorded in the official gauge in the water district office, the result of a weekend and several days of unstable weather and thundershowers.

For the first time Ozona received rain after spending every day for almost two weeks under severe weather alerts. Most of the storm warnings came at night, but other than high winds, there was no precipitation.

A rainshower Saturday morning and a thunderstorm Monday night amounted to .70 of an inch of rain. Steady rainfall throughout the morning Tuesday added just over .30 of an inch. Following the downpour Tuesday the sun came out and temperatures began to rise.

VFW Installs New Officers

Members of the Ozona Veterans of Foreign Wars Post installed new officers last week in regular meeting. The new officers will take up their duties following the State VFW Meeting in June.

Tom Montgomery was installed in the post of Commander. Serving as Quartermaster will be Floyd Holdt; Senior Vice Commander is Gene Williams; Junior Vice Commander is P.K. Smith. Al Fields will serve as Adjutant and Service Officer. Judge Harrison was elected to the board of trustees.

Members of the local post will observe the traditional Memorial Day Sunday, May 31, and will observe it by placing American flags in the graves of veterans in Cedar Hill and Lima Cemeteries.

Bud Hoover has been transferred from Methodist Hospital in Houston to Shannon Hospital in San Angelo. He is in room 260 and will possibly be discharged late this week.

By mid-afternoon the rain was over and the arena in shape to hold the remainder of the show as planned.

The Price of THE NEW YORK TIMES

A few short weeks ago Americans were treated to the televised spectacle of seeing the producers of the film documentary "Hearts and Minds" read a telegram of thanks from a Vietnam spokesman during the Academy Awards.

Most citizens were rightly shocked by the fact that the producers of the film would take advantage of the Academy Awards platform to spread their pro-communist propaganda—and by the fact that many members of the Academy in the audience approved of what was being done. Beyond that, every decent American was angered and disgusted because he knew that these men of talent and ability had sold themselves, and would do so again to anyone for any cause for the right price.

We expect better of the New York Times the "dean" of American newspapers.

But on May the 11th someone paid a sufficient price for an ad to be run in the New York Times on behalf of Kim Il Sung.

Kim Il Sung? He's the iron-fisted dictator of North Korea. Since the recent collapse of U.S. policy in Indochina, it has been widely reported that Kim Il Sung is now pressing his case with both Moscow and Peking for their blessing to test American willpower in South Korea. He is also pressing his case with the American people through the New York Times—and perhaps other newspapers with similar advertising policies.

The two-page spread in the May 11 issue of the Times is billed as a "talk of the respected and beloved leader President Kim Il Sung with a Panamanian Journalists' delegation." However, it is pure, unadulterated, naked propaganda intended to soften up the American people for whatever aggression North Korea's communist rulers might be planning against South Korea.

The New York Times may argue that the article was simply placed as an "advertisement" and that "freedom of the press" must prevail.

Perhaps the Times can thus dismiss the importance of the tens of thousands of American lives destroyed by this same North Korean government a quarter of a century ago. Or the American soldiers stationed in South Korea today who are facing the same threat.

Perhaps the Times has forgotten. But we haven't. And we think the Times should hang its head in shame for valuing its advertising revenues more than those lives.

All The POW's Are Not Home

It is understandable that, from a political point of view, President Gerald Ford wants to get the war in Southeast Asia behind him, and go on to other pressing matters, both foreign and domestic.

However much he may wish it, many millions of Americans are not going to be satisfied with the "war is over" declaration until the United States government acquires from the Communists a full accounting of all POW's and MIAs—the American prisoners of war and missing action.

It is gratifying that the President has shown compassion for the Vietnamese orphans and refugees. But there are American orphans resulting from that same war—to say nothing of wives, parents, and loved ones—of men who are still not accounted for.

The last published figures by the Department of Defense indicated that there are 37 Prisoners of War still not accounted for. The number was dropped from 57 during the Nixon administration, although there has been no hard information on the 20 who were changed to "PFOD"—presumptive finding of death. Nor has the government produced any hard information concerning the hundreds of missing in action. What, for example, has happened to Sgt. Raymond Bobe, Major Donald Burnham, Capt. James Carlton, Capt. Samuel Deichmann, Capt. C. Scott Harris, Master Sgt. Prentice Hicks, Lt. Scott Ketchie, Spec. 5 James Moreland, Major Ralph Pattiello, Sgt. Rollie Read, Major Alton Rockett, S/Sgt. Charles White, and Captain Robert Williams, all from the State of Alabama? Or of all the other POW-MIAs in our other States? Should not our government continue to demand, daily, that the Communist conquerors in South East Asia provide a full accounting?

A bill presently pending before Congress—House Resolution 335—calls for the establishment of a special Investigative Committee of Congress, with power of subpoena, to probe the entire subject of the prisoner of war and missing in action. Let us hope that the measure is adopted.

Freeze Damages Peach Crop

AUSTIN—A late freeze that hit much of the state in March destroyed the entire peach crop in the Seminole area of the High Plains and severely damaged peaches in North Texas.

The Seminole area has the largest number of trees at fruit-bearing age.

In East Texas damages ran from minimal to 50 percent loss.

According to Agriculture Commissioner John C. White, these losses will drop the overall peach crop to 312,000 bushels from 375,000 a year ago.

White said Gillespie County suffered some damage but still has a crop set. In South Texas a good fruit crop was set and harvest of early varieties began in late April.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights

by Lyndell Williams

AUSTIN—The 64th Legislature is deep into its last final week of activity, with all of its remaining Big 3 assignments still incomplete.

Conference committees have drawn the jobs of adjusting differences between House and Senate versions of these measures:

— The $12 billion all-time record appropriations bill for 1976-77. There is really little controversy, and the budget will be ready for final approval by adjournment deadline Tuesday.

— Public school finance reform. There is plenty of controversy here, with the outcome likely to remain in doubt until near the final gavel. Gov. Dolph Briscoe shows every sign of being determined to veto any measure which overspends revenue in sight.

— Utility regulation through a state commission. Again, there are strong differences between the House and the Senate majority. House leaders insist they have compromised enough in getting their bill passed and want nothing weaker. They are backed by a well-organized citizens group which has served notice it will have the House bill or nothing.

Conference reports can be passed by a bare majority, and they are subject to no amendments.

Oil Increasing

For the 39th straight month, the Texas Railroad Commission has set a wide-open 100 per cent statewide oil production allowable.

Commission Chairman Ben Ramsey said indications are Texas production is "beginning to stabilize and possibly show a slight increase."

The big East Texas field, a deviation from the all-out production pattern, will be held to 86 per cent.

Appointments

Governor Briscoe has appointed former State Rep. Menton J. Murray of Harlingen to the Texas Board of Mental Health and Mental Retardation, replacing Paul Leonard of Fort Worth who resigned.

Briscoe also announced his intention to appoint Joe R. Carroll of Snyder to Texas Water Rights Commission. Carroll will succeed Otha Dent of Austin who resigned before expiration of his term.

Industries Slow

Only 15 new industries located in Texas during April, compared with a 25-per-month average in 1974. Jim Harwell, executive director of Texas Industrial Commission, said the 15 will have an annual impact of $137 million on the Texas economy and create nearly 4,000 new jobs.

The industries will locate in Longview, San Marcos, Brownsville, Corpus Christi, Gainesville, Clear Lake City, La Grange, Midland, San Antonio, Sherman, Sumnerfield, Tyler, Henderson and Liberty.

Courts Speak

The Third Court of Civil Appeals turned down Atty. Gen. John Hill's request for rehearing of an effort to stop a $45 million Southwestern Bell Telephone Company intrastate long distance rate hike.

Hill's motion to modify judgment to prevent the increase going into immediate effect also was rejected. The Attorney General has promised to appeal.

Texas Supreme Court turned down a suit by Amarillo, Berger and Pampa against Canadian River Municipal Water Authority over distribution of costs for operation and maintenance of an aqueduct, dam and reservoir.

Plainview, Lubbock, Brownfield, Levelland, Tahoka, O'Donnell, Slaton and Lamessa sided with the Water Authority.

AG Opinion

A bill which would permit distribution of state-owned textbooks to pupils of non-public schools "probably" is constitutional, Attorney General Hill held.

In other recent opinions, Hill concluded:

Domestic relations courts may appoint masters in chancery, but only in exceptional cases for good cause.

An educational and recreational fund administered for benefit of state prisoners may be invested or spent for prisoners' benefit in any manner consistent with purposes of the trust, law and proper prison system management.

A bank holding company may own a majority of the stock of more than one bank without violating the constitution or laws.

Charges Refused

Charges that $500 million in erroneous payments were made to Texas welfare recipients due to clerical errors were challenged by State Welfare Commissioner Raymond W. Vowell.

Vowell disputed statements of the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare concerning mistakes of state and local welfare officials.

HEW said another $500 million was spent in error because recipient's provided incorrect information on factors determining eligibility for aid and size of payments.

Vowell said 70 per cent of welfare mistakes are due to recipient error or falsification. He said efforts are being made to cleanse Texas welfare rolls of ineligible recipients.

Short Shorts

A new form of health and accident protection will be available December 1 through Health Maintenance Organizations. Governor Briscoe signed the bill into law.

Calvary Baptist Bible School Starts Monday

Calvary Baptist Church will begin its Vacation Bible School next Monday, June 2. The school will be held daily through Friday from 7 p.m. until 9:30 p.m. All children are welcome to attend. Bus service will be provided to and from Crockett Heights.

THE NEWS REEL

A re-run of "The Ozona Story" as gleaned from the files of THE OZONA STOCKMAN

May 30, 1946
Guy Fortenberry last week assumed his duties as Crockett County agent and county service officer, succeeding Tommie Stuart.

29 years ago Miles Pierce, son of Mr. and Mrs. V. I. Pierce of Ozona, will receive his Bachelor of Science degree in Agriculture from A&M College, in a class of 219 graduates. Miles is the second highest ranking student, scholastically, among the 1946 class of Seniors.

29 years ago A man wearing the uniform of the U. S. Navy and claiming to be a victim of amnesia, was arrested here recently by Deputy Sheriff Red Woodard and turned over to military authorities in San Angelo, later to be questioned by FBI agents there. The man told the authorities conflicting stories and is still under investigation by the FBI and military personnel.

29 years ago Members of the Ozona Rotary Club enjoyed a barbecue supper and hillbilly music Tuesday evening. The music was provided by Hubert Baker and his "Crockett Hot Shots", composed of Baker, A. E. Gillam, Homer Good, Richard Miller, Jr., and George Senne.

29 years ago N. E. Melton, Ozona's new Ford dealer, has set up shop in the O. W. Smith rock building, next to Johnson draw bridge, pending the construction of a new building next to West Texas Utilities Company office.

29 years ago Ozona was given quite a "spread" in the May issue of the Sheriff's Association of Texas Magazine as the result of a visit by its associate editor, Charles B. Moore to Ozona recently. Moore had nothing but good to say about Ozona and its law enforcement officers. Moore wholeheartedly agreed with the slogan "The biggest little town in the world."

WASHINGTON—Irresponsible meddling by Congress in foreign affairs could cost the United States the support of a vital ally, with drastic consequences for the entire Free World.

A foreign policy calamity potentially more severe than the catastrophe in Southeast Asia is brewing along the "soft underbelly" of Western Europe.

All along the sunny Mediterranean Southern Flank of NATO, the strategic position of the Western Alliance is crumbling. If present trends are not soon reversed, our Sixth Fleet will be left "flapping in the breeze" without a Mediterranean port in which it would be welcome.

The most publicized blow to NATO has come from Portugal, where the Communists are slowly but surely consolidating their power. American bases in the Portuguese-owned Azores are an important part of our antishubmarine defense network, and made possible the resupply of Israel during the Yom Kippur War.

Events in Portugal are being closely watched in Spain, where the death or resignation of General Franco could spark a similar political upheaval.

France already has withdrawn from the command structure of NATO.

Italy is going through yet another of its innumerable governmental and fiscal crises.

Greece has thrown the Sixth Fleet from its home port in Athens, and withdrawn from NATO because of our refusal to take their side in the explosive Cyprus situation.

And now Congress, by precipitously and discriminatorily cutting off military aid, may succeed in driving from NATO the other disputant in the Cyprus conflict and our most loyal and valuable ally in the Mediterranean—Turkey.

The Turks fought side by side with us in Korea, and have remained steadfast friends ever since. Their friendship has been extremely valuable, for Turkey's strategic position is without parallel. Turkey borders on the Soviet Union. It borders on Iraq. It borders on Iraq. The Turks control the vital straits of the Dardanelles, the narrow sea passage through which Soviet warships must pass to reach the Mediterranean.

But Congress seems prepared to discard this valuable friend, to drive Turkey into the camp of the radical Moslems, to in effect mortgage the security of the Free World for the sake of placating some ethnic emotions in the U.S.

Congress has dabbled too much in the formation and implementation of foreign policy, which is properly the province of the Executive Branch. This meddling must stop.

Tips For Gardeners
From the Ozona Garden Club by Mrs. Bailey Post

It seems April showers have hopped, skipped and jumped right over us each time rain has been in our forecast. We are now looking for that slow soaker without hail or a storm.

Roses have been presenting an array of special beauty and abundance of blooms covering the plants. They are still called and thought of as the Queen of all flowers.

Summer your houseplants out-of-doors for a vacation from the almost year long indoor stay. Keep in mind that the kind of light they normally have inside. The first few days they should be sheltered from the sun and wind to allow them to harden to the new environment. Eventually it will be possible, and even beneficial to give them a bit more light than they usually have, but don't overdo it. Tender succulents will sunburn very soon in direct sun. Wind too, should be considered, for house plants are sensitive and not acclimated to wind and sudden chills or hot winds. Try to place them where they won't be whipped and mar the beauty of their foliage.

Watering these house plants will have to be done more frequently than when inside. Evaporation is more rapid from the leaves as well as from the pot's sides. Too, their growth will be more active than if indoors. It will take less water if the plants are clustered fairly close together. For smaller plants, this can be done most attractively by grouping them in larger troughs or window boxes and surround each pot with sphagnum moss or soil. It is helpful to hose both upper and lower leaf surfaces every other week or so to keep the plants clean enough to breathe. Do this early enough for the foliage to dry before night. Also this will help keep pests to a minimum. A two-gallon plastic watering can can make this chore easier and more practical than the small cans you may use indoors.

Try to place plants under or near trees, a balcony, or other protection so they can be moved quickly should hail be in the forecast.

HOT WEATHER ACCENTS NEED FOR PROPER FOOD CARE
Safe food must be planned--not left to chance. Hot weather means we need to be even more careful in planning meals. Precautions to remember include proper care in buying, storing, handling and cooking food.

Shop for meat and poultry and other perishable foods just before you check out. Unless you make this a consistent practice, you may be tied up in store traffic or diverted by bargain hunting longer than you expect. Make sure frozen foods are hard-frozen and have been kept below the frostline in the supermarket freezer.

You can tell when frozen foods have been poorly handled by these signals. One of the signals is softness. When you pick up frozen food that feels soft, you know

It has not been kept at zero F. or below. Another sign is an ice coating on the outside of the package. This is a good indication that there has been some previous thawing and refreezing.

When buying refrigerated foods, make sure it is cold--not just room temperature. When you're checking out, ask the clerk to bag cold foods together. If they're packaged together, they stay colder.

Never be tempted to do any more shopping after you have loaded your car with frozen or refrigerated foods. Head for home and unload these perishable foods first. Store them immediately in the proper place. Food may not be safe to eat if held more than two hours at temperatures between 40 and 140 degrees. This includes all of the time of buying, storing, preparation and serving. Chances of maintaining the good quality of the food you buy depends on your buying food and handling it properly. --0--

The Master's Touch
God must love beauty, to use it so lavishly. The Master Artist dapples the soft green leaves with golden sunshine, turns the brook to flowing crystal, and puts a song into Spring itself.

There is beauty in us, too... because He put it there. In His sight, none of us are ugly, none of us are forsaken, none of us are "lost."

But sometimes, in the busy process of day-to-day living, we turn blind eyes upon the world's loveliness, and take for granted the gifts which should brighten the hours and years. We need a faith that gives us vision to find again the inner beauty He gave us in the beginning—a gift which He never takes away. Let us go, then, to His Church. Let us "enter into His gates with thanksgiving... for the Lord is good; His mercy is everlasting, and His Truth endureth forever."

into a newspaper office and ordering the editor to disregard such a wild scene which took place in front of his own eyes (hers in this case). With teachers of his ilk, I am curious to know if he does indeed teach English in his high school classes, or what? If I were a parent of a high school student, Mexican-American or Gringo, I would be terribly concerned on this score.

This may be considered another exercise in "Freedom of the Press." It might be well to consider also that this story has a moral. Any editor worth his salt would write it after being ordered not to, even if there was no story worth telling.

It's always a problem and a challenge to do an attractive decorating job in a very limited space and this is especially true in those tiny breakfast rooms or dinettes.

The limited space naturally limits the size of the furniture—but a slim-lined table and chairs can be comfortable and distinctive if carefully selected.

Small, bright chairs with a round table might be the answer, if space is still a problem, you might consider a small rectangular table placed against the wall.

These mini-dinette areas may be treated formally or informally. An example of the former shows that period elegance is possible even in a tiny breakfast alcove by using such things as striped wallpaper, small brass chairs and a marble-topped pedestal table.

Or, you can carry out an informal or outdoors effect with the right choice of furniture and decor.

Just remember that whether you have limited space or large areas and whether your budget is limited or not, you can furnish your home usefully and beautifully, and we can help you do it.
