I have been urged to write something on the Equal Rights Amendment. All those urging are women and all are against the document that Texas has already ratified. However, I just have to read the law before I can write intelligently about it. I haven't gotten around to it, but will try next week.

We will have a half page in next week's paper giving all the reasons why the law should be rescinded in Texas before it is passed by enough states to make it nationwide.

I have been most unfavorably impressed with what I have heard about the amendment. It seems that it will hurt the very women it was supposedly designed to help. Of course, this is not unusual for any document coming out of Washington. I find most of our lawmakers are a little, or a lot, paranoid, depends on how long they have been in the nation's capital.

I am sure of one thing, however. All the women I've seen on television and who are militant women's libbers, seem to be more masculine than feminine, and I guess that's what has turned me off women's lib.

I do feel strongly that women in Texas need to have more property rights and be elevated to the same legal status as men, but from all I've heard about ERA, that's not the solution.

This is the result of a bunch of radicals getting together and turning something good into something bad. It happens everytime.

More on this next week.

Our "Woman of the Year" award goes to Lucille Harrell. She never stops trying. Although her efforts to get the citizenry interested in the nation's Bicentennial celebration have not borne fruit as yet, she keeps plugging away. And we have the greatest admiration for her and her committee.

Absentee voting in the November 5, general election is under way at the county clerk's office. If you are going to be out of town, be sure to vote absentee before you leave. If you know an Ozonan who is away at school or elsewhere, remind him or her to send for a ballot and mail it back promptly.

This will be our last opportunity to have a say in our national and state government for some time, and since our vote is one of our last freedoms, it must be held precious.

BEHIND SCHEDULE, but still going up with lots of speed is the new nursing wing addition to the hospital. Brick has been laid already on much of the project and workmen are preparing for the roofing. Shortage of materials and slow delivery had put the projected finish date off, but good progress has been made lately and there is a possibility the facility could open on time, March 1, 1975, or a few weeks thereafter.

Lions To Begin District Play Friday Night In Big Lake

Ozona's Lions will open district play Friday night against the Big Lake Owls in Big Lake, following a shut-out of 28-0 at the hands of the Brady Bulldogs last Friday night in Brady.

The loss allows the Lions to go into district play with a 3-3 pre-season record. They have downed Junction, Eldorado and iraan, while losing to Ballinger, Lakeview and Brady. The Owls have only one win in pre-season play and have lost five.

The Lions will be odds-on favorites to best the Owls, but anything can happen when the two rivals meet and often does.

The Owls will be on their own home ground and fans may expect to see an exciting contest.

Kick-off time will be 7:30, thirty minutes earlier than that of pre-season games.

After Friday, the Lions will have three district games left to play: Sonora, here; McCamey, there; and Crane, here.

Ozona fans hope for another district championship this year and feel the only serious challenger will be the McCamey Badgers, who have fielded their strongest team in many years.

In Brady Friday night, the Lions were unable to stop the Bulldog attack and were effectively stopped by the big tough Bulldogs.

Again, Romaldo Cervantez was the workhorse for the Lions as he picked up 77 of the 91 yards rushing compiled by the Ozona team.

Cervantez carried the ball 17 times for a total of a little over four and a half yards per carry. Greg Thompson and Cervantez teamed up for a creditable 82 yards passing.

In the statistic department, the Bulldogs also won the game. They had 19 first downs to Ozona's 9; 156 yards rushing to 91 for the Lions; 178 passing to the Lions; 82; completed 9 of 15 passes while the Lions completed 7 of 14; Brady suffered no interceptions while the Lions had 4; punted four times for a 37 yard average and the Lions punted four times for a 35 yard average; Brady lost two fumbles and the Lions lost none.

4-H Lamb Feeders To Begin Program

The Crockett County 4-H Lamb Feeding Program will get underway on Saturday, October 19, when all lambs will be ear-tagged, drenched and weighed at the Livestock Show Barn. Some 25 4-H members have feeding projects planned for the coming year which includes lambs, swine, horses and beef cattle.

Boys and girls of 4-H club age, 9-19, who desire to participate in a feeding program should contact County Agent Billy Reagor for rules and regulations pertaining to feeding programs planned for exhibition at the county 4-H Livestock show in January.

Application for official recognition from the State Bicentennial Commission will be made soon by the Steering Committee.

Sixteen interested community leaders met in the Courthouse Library Monday evening and shared ideas for Crockett County's participation in the nation's 200th birthday celebration which ends on July 4, 1976.

It was announced that the three vice-chairmen, approved by the County Judge and Commissioners Court are as follows: Manuel Hartnett, DPS, Horizons: Mrs. P. L. Childress, whose committee will instigate and coordinate all projects for permanent community improvement.

Heritage: Mrs. Joe Clayton, this committee to develop awareness of local history and traditions and encourage the preservation of them.

Fiesta: C. O. Walker; the fun and games committee who will plan events in keeping with the Bicentennial concepts.

Some of the ideas and suggestions from the group were beautification and cleanup of the entire community, perhaps even creating a new park area in the south part of town and striving for recognition as the cleanest community in the state; renewal of the downtown area by sidewalk plantings; new store fronts; the sale of American flags to be flown at every residence and business throughout 1976; publication of several kinds of material of particular historical significance; the development of nature trails; observe Fort Lancaster days; local museum improvements; and a Fourth of July Sunday Basket Picnic and community wide church service in the park.

It is hoped that everyone will become involved by volunteering to work in one or more of the areas and sharing ideas for the celebration.

Application for official recognition from the State Bicentennial Commission will be made soon by the Steering Committee.

Robert Torres Critical After Hit By Auto

Four-year-old Robert Torres, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arturo Torres, remained in critical condition at Medical Center Hospital in Odessa late this week after being run over by a car here Friday afternoon.

Young Torres was hit by a car Friday afternoon as he darted from in front of a parked car on Santa Rosa St. He suffered massive head injuries and was flown unconscious to the Medical Center in Odessa.

Dr. David Blanton flew the injured boy in his private plane. An Odessa Fire Department ambulance met the plane at the Ector County Airport at 5:56 p.m., and he was rushed to the hospital where he received emergency treatment before being put into the hospital's intensive care unit.

Driver of the car was Sylvia Elsondo, 14, of Ozona. The accident occurred about 4:30 p.m. Investigating officer was Texas Highway Patrolman Manuel Hartnett, DPS.

In Redistricting Precincts-----

Discrimination Charge Brought Against Commissioners Court

The Crockett County Commissioners Court was accused of "discrimination and gerrymandering," as it convened in regular monthly session Monday morning. The charges stemmed from action the court took recently in regard to redistricting the four county precincts for a more equal distribution of voters, as ordered by the Attorney General's office earlier this year.

Louis A. Perez, Jr., a San Angelo attorney, appeared before the court along with Johnny Rodriguez and Jesus (Chuy) Castro, on behalf of the county's Mexican-American population. A petition was presented to the court protesting the re-districting of precincts as approved by the court in August. Perez said the group felt the redistricting was for the purpose of discrimination against the Mexican-American population. The petition asks the court to rescind the redistricting plan adopted at the Court's August meeting, and contends that Precinct 4, as created, has 609 regular voters whereas Precinct 1, as created, has 501 regular voters. The petition asks that the Court restore Precinct 4 as it was and adjust precinct lines of Precincts 1, 2 and 3.

The Court's plan cited 588 voters in 1 and 586 in 4, as created. Rodriguez and Castro pointed out that according to their figures 196 Mexican-American voters were moved from 1 to 4 instead of the 113 claimed in the redistricting plan. Rodriguez is a service station employee and Castro won the Democratic nomination for Commissioner Precinct 4, in May, and will be the next commissioner, replacing Glenn Sutton, January, 1975, barring a write-in vote for commissioner in that precinct. He has no opposition in the general election next month.

There was some variation in the lists of registered voters used by the two factions, the court having obtained its list from the County Clerk's office and the Mexican-American group having obtained a list from the county tax office. The court decided that both groups should get the up-to-date list and recheck their figures. The matter will be taken under advisement at the regular court meeting next month.

Judge Troy Williams assured the delegation that if the variation in voter numbers exceeded the required 10 percent, the matter would be corrected. In answer to the charges of discrimination and gerrymandering, the Judge reminded the group that the re-districting in Crockett County was ordered by the Texas Attorney General's office.

After the group and their body of onlookers left the courtroom the court returned to the agenda, hearing a request from Dudley McCarty for a railing or curb around the grounds at the Civic Center to keep automobiles off the grounds. The request was denied.

Fire Mon. Nite Ruins Apartment

Firemen were called out Monday night shortly after seven o'clock to a garage apartment at 606 Ave. G, owned by C. W. Talliaferro and rented by Earl Sandridge.

Heat and smoke damage was heavy. The fire was confined to the bathroom and that room was most heavily damaged.

Cause of the fire was a gas space heater which burned a hole in the gas line, igniting the escaping gas and creating quite a blaze.

Firemen were on hand and a half extinguishing the flames and used 200 gallons of water.

Ozona Gets Another Inch Of Rainfall

Ozona received another inch of rainfall Monday morning, which began with a booming thunder storm around 4 o'clock and rain fell steadily until about 7 o'clock.

The thunder storm came on the leading edge of a cold front which dropped temperatures to below 40 degrees here Tuesday morning. Temperatures rose under sunny skies by mid-afternoon.

Girl Scouts To Sell Halloween Cleanup Ins.

With Halloween only a few days away, the Ozona Girl Scouts are offering Ozona homeowners an unusual insurance policy. If you buy a Great Pumpkin Insurance Policy for only $1.00 you will get the services of a cleanup crew in case your trees or bushes are wrapped or your trash cans emptied by trick or treaters on the evening of Halloween.

With the purchase of one of these unique policies between now and Halloween, you will have the assurance of a cleanup crew for your yard the day following Halloween.

The active Girl Scouts and their adult leaders have undertaken the promotion of this great insurance policy on behalf of the American Cancer Society and all proceeds will go to the ACS. The various Girl Scout troops will compete to see which troop can sell and service the most policies and the winning troop will be presented with a prize donated by the local unit of the American Cancer Society.

During the next two weeks the Scouts will be knocking on your door selling these policies for only $1.00. Their slogan will be, "No muss---No fuss---Just leave the cleanup to us!" Buy your policy today from your favorite Girl Scout.

HAVING DINNER AT THE CARNIVAL is Mrs. Jay Miller and children, while the fishing booth operates in the background at the Girl Scout carnival which was held Saturday evening in the city park. A large crowd was on hand to boost the Scouts, and the event was a success in every way.

NEW PARKING LOT FOR SCHOOL is under construction across from the high school on Avenue E. Parking space is being prepared behind a little park of grass and pecan trees which makes a nice front for any parking lot. Paving on lot in background is to begin soon.

NEW HOME CONSTRUCTION BOOMS in Ozona. Here, the new home of Mr. and Mrs. George Bunker, Jr., is under construction. The home is being built on the site of the old Bunker home which was torn down some months ago to make way for the new house. The large luxurious home is being built in a setting of large oak and pecan trees and is already attractively landscaped.

THE CONCEPTION OF AMERICA

If America was born in 1776, it was conceived sometime between September 1 and October 26, 1774, at the First Continental Congress in Philadelphia. It was here, in Carpenter's Hall, that the colonial fathers came to the agreement to work together, and fight if necessary, in united opposition to the tyranny of King George and General Gage.

Not that all of the great ideas which sprang from the Convention were entirely new. The tide of rebellion had been swelling for a long time. The Stamp Act had been a bone of contention since 1665. British tea had been dumped into Boston harbor by the "indians" in 1773. The slogan, "United we conquer, divided we die" had been a watchword for more than six years, now it was simply updated to: UNITED WE STAND, DIVIDED WE FALL.

They were all there, Patrick Henry, Peyton Randolph (who was elected President), Charles Thompson (who was elected Secretary), Sam Adams and his younger cousin, John; George Washington, and from New Hampshire, John Sullivan, who could not have imagined that he was to be a major general under Washington in a bitter revolutionary war; Samuel Ward of Rhode Island, John Jay of New York, and Christopher Gadsden of South Carolina... great men, all.

Not that the Congress was easy sailing. Many grave problems had to be faced for the first time in history. There was debate over the matter of "one man, one vote." The issue was decided when Patrick Henry declared: "The distinctions between Virginians, Pennsylvanians, New Yorkers and New Englanders are no more. I am not a Virginian, but an American." It was one colony, one vote.

Nor was it at all easy for the delegates to turn against the mother country, no matter how grievous the provocations. Each step in that direction was taken reluctantly, and not without agony of heart and conscience. The meetings dragged on, the debates were long. Impetuous John Adams complained that the delegates were "fearful, timid, skittish...one-third Tory, one-third Whig, one-third mongrel."

If there was any one time in the convention that might be termed a turning point, it was when Paul Revere arrived at a gallop, having been delegated by Joseph Warren to rush from Boston to Philadelphia "with all speed" with a copy of the Suffolk Resolves, just adopted by the Sons of Liberty in Massachusetts. The Resolves stated flatly "that no obedience is due from this Province to... the recent acts of Parliament, but that they should be rejected as the attempts of a wicked administration to enslave America." Further, patriots were to "acquaint themselves with the art of war as soon as possible, and... appear under arms at least once a week."

The Suffolk Resolves were unanimously adopted by the Continental Congress on September 18, 1774. The colonies were ready to bring forth a new nation.

WISDOM FROM OUT WEST

Every once in a while a new face appears in Congress that renews our faith in the democratic process. Today we salute such a person: Rep. Steve Symms from Idaho's First District.

Freshmen congressmen, so they are subtly reminded by their elders, are to be seen and not heard. The youthful Symms, elected to his first term in 1972, has shattered that tradition and, in the process, established himself as one of the most articulate and thoughtful conservatives on Capitol Hill.

Symms and his constituents appear to have a good marriage going for them. He was unopposed for renomination this year—something of a rarity in Idaho—and in a recent poll throughout his district, respondents answered remarkably in line with Symms' own well-established views.

The Idaho First District poll indicated that 67 percent of respondents oppose extending diplomatic recognition to Cuba, 97 percent oppose tax-financed, multimillion dollar, low-interest loans to Russia and other Communist regimes, and 62 percent said America's defense was not strong enough.

Although a Republican, Symms hasn't hesitated to ruffle the feathers of members of his own party and the GOP White House as well as the Democratic majority in Congress. He consistently has let the chips fall where they may in defense of limited government, a strong national defense, and sound fiscal policy.

Witness this vintage wisdom from a recent Symms newsletter: "For too long we have acquiesced to the steady increase of federal authority over our economy, our property and our daily lives. This authority has created the ability of government to offer special favors to the 'highest bidders' and thus has corrupted our political system in more ways than just Watergate."

"... the real issue of Watergate [is] excessive federal power, granted by Congress and abetted by men in the Executive Branch who broke their trust... The ordeal is over now... we must hold our heads up high, reaffirming our faith in the principles of limited, Constitutional government. Our future, like our past, will be what we make it."

Wise words from an uncommon young congressman we'll be hearing a lot more about—Steve Symms of Idaho.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights by Lyndell Williams TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN—The high cost of campaigning for statewide office in the State of Texas continues to be evident.

Incumbent Gov. Dolph Briscoe reports expenditures from March through September 26 at approximately $800,000. Republican gubernatorial hopeful Jim Granberry reported expenses of $412,880 in his effort to unseat Briscoe and become the state's first Republican governor since Reconstruction.

Sam McDonnell, the American Party candidate for governor, reported contributions of $20,842 and expenses of $20,336. Granberry's expenses exceeded his contributions by $5,417. Briscoe's contributions totalled approximately $17,000 more than his expenses.

Excluded from Briscoe's contributions is about $407,000 raised at an October 1973 dinner, where Briscoe announced his intention to run for a four-year term. The money remains in escrow, pending final determination of a lawsuit filed by Briscoe's Democratic Primary challenger Frances Farenthold.

WATER BOARD DIRECTOR CRITICIZED — The Texas Attorney General's office has asked a subcommittee of the House Environmental Committee for authority to enforce anti-pollution laws without waiting for action of the Texas Water Quality Board.

Rod E. Gorman, an assistant attorney general, told the pollution subcommittee that TWQB Executive Director Hugh Yantis is blocking enforcement of anti-pollution laws.

Gorman claimed very few major polluters are referred by the TWQB to the attorney general's office.

Phil Maxwell, director of the AIE's environmental protection division, urged emergency legislation to strengthen the Attorney General's role in enforcing pollution laws.

The proposed bill would allow the attorney general to "enforce on his own initiative" such laws as the Texas Clean Air Act and the Texas Water Quality Act, among other laws or regulations "affecting the quality of the environment or the use of natural resources."

CAR DEALERS OFFER CUSTOMER AID — Texas Automobile Dealers Association has formed an in-house panel to attempt to satisfy customer gripes against 1,500 Texas new car dealers.

The seven-member Automotive Consumer Action Panel (AutoCAP) can levy up to $1,000 in fines against an erring dealer and require his expulsion from TADA.

Executive Director for TADA Gene Fendren says about 90 per cent of consumer complaints can be resolved, however, by adequate communication between consumer and car dealer.

SCHOOL FINANCE — The Governor's Office of Education plans to recommend to the Legislature a system of financing Texas public schools that "focuses on the student and his needs" says Dr. Richard Hooker, chief of the office.

Hooker told an educational study panel that school funding in Texas is now calculated on a classroom-teacher unit, based on average daily attendance in public schools. The result, he said, is probably the most complicated formula in the United States for measuring

However, the court ordered Art to pay damages. The court invoked the doctrine of "transferred intent," by which an original wrongful intent—in this case, the desire to hit the passing car—was transferred to the accidental consequences.

This widely recognized doctrine is based on the law's reluctance to let a wrongdoer get off scot-free. It has been applied in a case of mistaken identity. Thus: A man sneaked up behind another man, thinking he was an old antagonist, and bashed him on the head. Actually, the victim happened to be a total stranger.

But that didn't help the first man when he was haled into court afterward to face a damage claim. Applying the doctrine of trans-

After grinding out a passel of bills in the last week of the session preceding the 30-day election-day recess, members returned wearily to their respective districts to confront the voters.

Risking a possible immediate recall of Congress by Presidential order, the House persisted in an amendment to a non-related bill, which would stop military aid to Turkey unless Turkish troops are promptly withdrawn from Cyprus.

We all want to see those troops removed promptly. But it must be done by negotiation between Turkey, Cyprus and Greece, now in progress. It is feared the precipitous House action, if permitted to stand, will harden the Turks and make successful negotiations far more difficult.

This tampering with foreign policy could conceivably trigger events which might cause Turkey to withdraw from NATO and seek a rapport with Russia—thereby seriously endangering the future of Cyprus, Greece, and the entire Middle East.

Remember the good old days when the "farm bloc" was rated a powerful factor in Congress? It was that way when I came here. But times have changed with the unprecedented shift from farm to city.

The Census Bureau informs us that in the slightly more than 50 years since the farm population was first enumerated, the proportion of the national population living on farms has fallen from 30.1% in 1920 to 4.5% in 1973.

The shift trend has subsided, however. The 1973 estimate of the rural count was only 240,000 less than that of 9.7 million for 1970, a rather insignificant decrease.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Wrong Victim

One winter's day, Art, a teenager, was amusing himself by hurling snowballs at passing cars. One snowball missed its target and struck a pedestrian across the street, injuring his eye. Could Art be held liable for assault and battery?

In a court hearing, his lawyer said no. "Art had no wrongful purpose toward this man," went the lawyer's argument. "Hitting him was purely accidental."

However, the court ordered Art to pay damages. The court invoked the doctrine of "transferred intent," by which an original wrongful intent—in this case, the desire to hit the passing car—was transferred to the accidental consequences.

This widely recognized doctrine is based on the law's reluctance to let a wrongdoer get off scot-free. It has been applied in a case of mistaken identity. Thus: A man sneaked up behind another man, thinking he was an old antagonist, and bashed him on the head. Actually, the victim happened to be a total stranger.

But that didn't help the first man when he was haled into court afterward to face a damage claim. Applying the doctrine of trans-

Tips For Gardeners

From the Ozona Garden Club by Mrs. Bailey Post

These beautiful fall days invite you for outdoor activities or to enjoy gardening.

No amount of city water can do the same for our trees, shrubs, plants and grass as a good soaking rain does. Have you noticed how much greener the grass is and the refreshed appearance of the clean trees and plants?

Garden construction of most kinds can be started or undertaken this month, making of paths, terraces, rock gardens and other new features. There is more time for this now than in the spring.

If you have cold frames or a green house, clean well in preparation for protecting any frost-tender plants, and to grow hardy plants for spring transplanting. Some are trying tomatoes.

With cacti and other succulents be particularly careful not to over water, but do not allow them to dry completely, even in the winter. The Christmas cactus will bloom more surely if you rest it from early October until mid-November by keeping it in a fairly cool room and giving it little or no water.

Sanitation is important to prevent, so help keep down insect and disease problems of plants next year. Prune now to remove all dead wood and broken branches, before the leaves are killed by frost. Pick up all branches and twigs from under the trees and take thoroughly. Leaves packed down by rain or watering harbor insects and disease organisms. Repair damaged areas and paint or spray with asphalt all new cars over one and one-half inches in diameter. Dormant oil spray applied after leaves have shed and before.

buds swell will control scale. Cool season vegetables, such as lettuce, parsley, peas, carrots, kale, turnips, onions and others should be doing well after the good rains, and can still be planted.

If your roses have grown tall and leggy, it may protect them from strong winter winds if you cut them back some as you gather blooms this and next month. Do not prune severely until February or March or climbers until after they bloom next spring.

Sack lunches can taste good and be high in food value at the same time. Sandwiches made with fillings of finely chopped meat, eggs or fish, with salad dressing should not stand at room temperature more than three or four hours. If you made them ahead of time, keep them in the refrigerator and add to the lunch at the last minute.

A wide-mouth, insulated bottle makes it possible to pack hot soups, stews, baked beans, macaroni dishes, or creamed meats. Round off the lunch-box with a raw fruit, vegetable, and a dessert.

Preparing sandwiches for the packed lunch may be a real chore unless thought is given to short-cut measures. Why not make a large quantity of sandwiches at one time, then freeze them?

Wrapped in a double thickness of heavy waxed paper or sealed in clear plastic sandwich bags, sandwiches can be stored a week in the freezer without loss of quality. When using moisture-vapor-resistant wrap, the time can be extended two or three weeks.

Some fillings that freeze well are luncheon meats, left-over diced or chopped roast beef, roast pork, baked ham, chicken, turkey, dried beef, well drained tuna or salmon, sliced cheese, cheese spreads, hardcooked egg yolks, and peanut butter.

Wrap sandwiches separately, then freeze at 0 degrees F. or below.

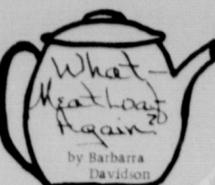

Frozen sandwiches can go directly into the lunch box. By noon, they'll be completely thawed. Once thawed, they should be eaten at once. Sandwiches spoil rapidly after they have warmed to 45 degrees F.

Cheese and Bacon: 1/2 c. grated American or Swiss cheese; 1 Tbsp. minced pickle; 3 Tbsp. mayonnaise with few drops onion juice.

Cream cheese spread: Mix 4 oz. (1/2 c.) soft cream cheese with one or a combination of the following ingredients: 1/2 c. deviled ham; 1/2 c. crushed pineapple; 1/2 c. cheddar cheese.

Ham: 1 c. ground cooked ham; 1 Tbsp. minced or grated onion; 2 Tbsp. minced of each celery, green pepper - 2 Tbsp. mayonnaise.

SPINACH MADEIRA
2 pkg. frozen chopped spinach

4 Tbsp. butter
2 Tbsp. flour
2 Tbsp. chopped onion
1/2 c. evaporated milk
1/2 c. vegetable liquor
1/2 tsp. black pepper
3/4 tsp. celery salt
3/4 tsp. garlic salt
salt to taste
6 oz. roll Jalapeno cheese
1 Tbsp. Worcestershire sauce
Red pepper to taste

Cook spinach according to directions on package. Drain and reserve liquor. Melt butter in saucepan over low heat. Add flour, stirring until melted and smooth, but not brown. Add onion and cook until soft but not brown. Add liquid slowly, stirring constantly to avoid lumps. Cook until smooth and thick; continue stirring. Add seasonings and cheese which has been cut into small pieces. Stir until melted, combine with cooked spinach. This may be served immediately or put into a casserole and topped with buttered bread crumbs. The flavor is improved if the latter is done and kept in refrigerator overnight. This may also be frozen. Serves 5 to 6.

"AND, BEHOLD, IT WAS VERY GOOD"

Not long ago I was driving home along the parkway, depressed and worried by many problems. The day was bleak and gloomy. Huge clouds boiled and churned above dark, forbidding mountains. Even the foliage hung limp and still.

Suddenly the clouds parted and a ray of sun streaked through. In that fleeting moment the landscape became beautiful—grayness transformed into mauves, deep blues and lively greens. It was like watching Creation. For the first time in a long time, I thought of God. And I prayed as I had been taught long ago in my church.

That was a turning point. Since then God and His Church have once more become a part of my life, and my problems have disappeared in a way I never dreamed possible.

God's goodness is always present. Go to your church, and learn the truths that can transform your life.

Halloween Frightens Some Youngsters

Halloween is the season that celebrates fear. For many young children, Halloween is their first real experience with fright, one family life education specialist pointed out this week.

She's Dorothy Taylor, with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

"A baby or young child is protected as much as possible from fear-provoking stimuli. As his environment expands, he will face more things that will frighten him."

"As his intelligence develops, a child perceives and imagines threats in objects, situations and people that failed to disturb him previously. As a child grows, his fears are more numerous and more intense," she explained.

Most fears are learned, according to Miss Taylor. Some come from a direct association or bad experience, while others are acquired from imagination or through conditioning (repetition of bad experiences).

She pointed out that certain fears are characteristically found at certain ages and stages. Research indicates that there is no sudden shift from one kind of fear to another, but rather a gradual shift from specific fears to general ones.

"Very young children fear loud noises, animals, dark rooms, being alone, and strange people, places and objects. Children two to six seem to fear more things than either babies or older children."

"The two to six-year-old is more capable of recognizing dangers. But unlike the older child, he is less capable of realizing that they may not be personal threats."

"Older children's fears are concentrated on fanciful, supernatural or remote dangers. They fear the dark, imaginary creatures, death, thunder and lightning, and characters recalled from stories. Older children also have fears related to self or status, failing, being ridiculed or being 'different', she explained.

Fear is an emotion that is hard to handle. It occurs suddenly and unexpectedly. The child has no time to adjust to it.

However, not all fear is negative, the specialist pointed out. Normal fear serves as a warning of danger. Unfortunately, children learn to fear those things which are not dangerous--then fear inhibits action and experiences that might be useful and enjoyable, she said.

"Signs of fear which parents might observe in children during the Halloween season are retreat and withdrawal, imaginary illness and false complaints, quaking, shyness, worry and anxiety."

"Anxiety responses will probably be the easiest to identify. Depression, nervousness, irritability, restless sleep, quick anger, quick tears, and total dissatisfaction are signs of anxiety related to fear," Miss Taylor explained.

Turning to positive steps to reduce your children's fear, the specialist said, "If Halloween is a favorite season in your home, practice putting on costumes and playing in them. Talk about trick or treat activities, costumed children coming to the door and how to trick or treat."

Home Frozen Meals Boon To Homemaker

Home-frozen main dishes are a boon to the busy homemaker, one nutritionist said this week.

"Frozen combination main dishes can add variety to your menu, offer quick meals for unexpected guests and provide appetizing, nutritious foods on busy days," Frances Reasonover, foods and nutrition specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System, noted.

In spite of the variety of frozen prepared foods on the market, Miss Reasonover pointed out that it is usually more economical to make your own. You can cook enough for several meals when you have time and then serve the family favorites even on busy days, she said.

"You can freeze all of the prepared food in meal-size packages or serve part of the food immediately and freeze the rest."

Turning to specific directions, the specialist said, "Place food to be frozen in the dish in which it is to be cooked, but first line the pan with heat-resistant freezer wrap."

"Press the food to the slope of the container to prevent air pockets. Pull the wrap over the food, but edges of the wrap together and fold several times so the wrap lies directly on top of the food."

"Fold ends of the freezer wrap and seal with freezer tape. Label with the name of the food, date frozen and last date the food should be used for best eating quality. Freeze it immediately.

"After it has frozen, it may be removed from the container and returned to the freezer. Then when you are ready to use the food, remove the wrap and return to the container in which it is to be cooked. Cook the food without thawing," the specialist said.

She suggested some main dishes that freeze well are baked beans, lasagna, meat loaf and chicken a la king. These dishes may be stored in the freezer for six months at 0 degrees F, and below.

Mrs. Joe Boy Chapman, presided. Theme of the program was "A Good Beginning - Horticulture." Mrs. Bob Childress spoke on how to prepare the soil for gardening. A program on care of potted plants was presented by Mrs. Snively and Mrs. Warth. They exhibited some of their beautifully grown pot plants in most unusual containers.

A fifteen minute garden clinic was held with members participating.

Others present included Mrs. Glenn Sutton, Mrs. L. L. Bryant, Mrs. O. D. West, Mrs. Fleet Coates, Mrs. Charles Williams, Mrs. Maggie Crawford, Mrs. James Kay, Mrs. J. W. Howell, Mrs. Ben Bohmfalk, Mrs. Starley Lenamon, Mrs. Steve Kenley, Mrs. A. S. Lock, Mrs. J. B. Miller and Mrs. J. C. Schroeder.

CARD OF THANKS

To all the kind people of Crockett County who helped to make our carnival a success on Saturday, October 12. Special thanks to West Texas Utilities and Bill Cooper for lighting the park and to Oscar Kost for furnishing the P. A. system; to the V. F. W. for the bingo machine and to all the business places who so generously furnished prizes for bingo and to Lawrence Jones for calling bingo. And thanks to all the friends who cooked things for the food booth and cake walk and South Texas Lumber Company for lumber to make booths; to the Masonic Lodge for the use of the old bank building; to the young people who helped us move and set up all the booths; Brown Furniture and the Methodist Church for the use of tables and chairs; to others who helped in many ways and to all who came to the carnival and we hope you had as much fun as we did.

With sincere appreciation, The Girl Scouts of Troop 189 and their parents and the leaders, Mrs. Lawrence Jones and Mrs. Ray Boykin

A man's right to work is as fundamental as his right to free speech and the pursuit of happiness.

If a man chooses to join a union, he should be free to do so. If he chooses not to join a union, he should be free not to. It's that fundamental, according to Doug Harlan.

Doug Harlan, lawyer and former government teacher, is a candidate for Congress in the 21st District.

Commissioners—Historical Soc. To Hold Quarterly Meet

(CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1) said he felt the less said the better about youngsters tearing up the grounds at the Center with their cars. He said that the behaviour had become much worse since a picture of the wrecked grounds appeared in the Ozona Stockman.

Hospital administrator Sony Kirklén appeared and handed out copies of his letter of resignation sent to Hospital Board President Mrs. Tom Mitchell October 10. He has resigned effective November 7, 1974. Kirklén said he had accepted employment elsewhere, but would not move from Ozona. He assured the Court that he had enjoyed a most satisfying three years as hospital administrator and had enjoyed a good relationship with the board and the court. He added to the hospital report the fact that Dr. Robert Owensby will begin practice here in January.

Jack Gillit, who has been county road superintendent for the past several years, resigned his post following the noon break.

Ozona Couple's Grandson Is Bellaire Hero

Donnie McCaleb, 12 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Don McCaleb of Bellaire, and grandson of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. McCaleb, was a hero in his home town this week.

Donnie and a friend were delivering papers on their Sunday morning route Oct. 6, when they noticed smoke coming from a residence about 6 a.m. The two boys went to the home and knocked on doors and windows trying to arouse the family. Seeing the smoke increasing, Donnie jumped on his bike and rode some eleven blocks to the Bellaire Fire Department and aroused sleeping firemen to turn in an alarm. The men responded to the call immediately and were able to contain the fire before it totally destroyed the home. No one was home at the time of the fire.

Fire Chief K. R. Smith said if the boys hadn't acted with the speed which they did, the house would have been lost and neighboring homes endangered. Roger Westrup, of the Bellaire Chamber of Commerce, presented the boys with a $25 savings bond each for service to the community from the Fire Prevention committee of the Chamber.

Sheep Prices And Numbers Are Down

A look at the lamb and sheep production picture for Texas and the United States reveals one thing for certain—a downward trend. Numbers of lambs and sheep continue to decline while prices also continue under pressure.

"Commercial sheep and lamb slaughter in the U.S. this year should be about 14 per cent below the 1973 level of 9.6 million head," points out Ernie Davis, livestock marketing specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

"Normally, when production drops, prices should tend to increase. But, with the special nature of demand for lamb, this is not particularly the case," notes the Texas A&M University System specialist. "Lamb prices, however, tend

August Bond Sales Told

Series E and H United States Savings Bond sales in Crockett County during the month of August totaled $758, according to County Bond Chairman Lowell Littleton. Sales for the eight-month period were $10,889 for 30% of the 1974 sales goal of $30,000.

Texasans purchased $18,667, 526 in Savings Bonds during the month, while sales for the same period last year totaled $154,751, 211 for 69% of the sales goal of $236.8 million.

Harlan To Visit Ozona

Doug Harlan, Republican candidate for Congress, from the 21st District, will wrap up his campaign in Ozona by a handshaking tour of the business district on Tuesday, October 26.

With recent polls showing Harlan ahead in the race, Harlan stated he will return frequently to Ozona after the election so that he can continue to have the benefit of the thinking of the people of Crockett County.

to move with beef prices. So the last half of this year may see a decline in lamb prices if large beef supplies drive beef prices down. Farm lamb prices should range between $43-$37 per hundredweight for the remainder of the year."

Davis points out that since 1971 in the U.S., 84 per cent of the number of lambs saved and 81 per cent of the breeding ewes have gone to slaughter. Heavy death losses, primarily from predators, have eliminated any flock build-up. Of the 1974 lamb crop, some two million head are expected to be kept for breeding stock replacements.

What are other important facts about the 1974 lamb and sheep situation when compared to last year?

Davis lists these: Breeding ewes of a year and older are down 8 per cent. The lamb crop is also down 8 per cent, and lamb slaughter during the first half of 1974 is down 8 per cent. Although lamb imports are down 41 per cent, cold storage supplies are up 12 per cent. Lambs on feed are down 2 per cent.

"Sheep producers are struggling to make ends meet," says Davis, "and they have little incentive to expand production. Their costs are continuing to climb while the price for their product has remained generally stable or has even declined."

WHOLE WHEAT BREAD
 1 package active dry yeast
 1 1/2 cups lukewarm water
 1/4 cup milk
 1/4 tsp salt
 3 Tbsp. brown sugar
 3 Tbsp. shortening
 6-7 cups unbleached whole wheat flour
 Dissolve yeast in lukewarm water. Scald milk and pour in large bowl. Add salt, brown sugar and shortening to scalded milk. Stir until sugar dissolves. When milk mixture has cooled to lukewarm, add yeast mixture. Gradually add whole wheat flour. Stir well after each addition as whole wheat flour absorbs water slowly. When dough is stiff enough to handle, turn it onto a floured board and knead thoroughly, gradually adding as much of remainder of flour as necessary. Try to keep dough soft by kneading in only enough flour to keep it from sticking. All-purpose flour can be used when kneading. Place dough in well-greased bowl and let rise 2-3 hours or until doubled in warm place. Punch down and shade into 2 loaves. Place in greased 9 x 5 inch loaf pans and allow to rise until almost doubled, about 2 hours, still keeping dough warm. Bake at 325 degrees for 1 1/2 hours, or until loaves sound hollow when tapped with fingers. Remove from pans and cool on wire rack.

Screwworm Buildup In Texas Bad

Mission. The fall screwworm buildup arrived in September with 1,098 laboratory confirmed cases in Texas livestock. The biggest share of these were in the hill country and west Texas, says Dr. J. E. Novy of the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

The pattern continued into early October with 41 cases confirmed in Val Verde County the first four days of the month. This followed 132 confirmed cases of the live flesh eating parasite in that county during September.

Shearing season for sheep and goats, and its attendant wounds, is underway in the region. Female screwworm flies oviposit their eggs on edges of wounds. Hatching larvae enter the wound to feed for about a week.

Second hardest hit county in September, notes Novy, was Crockett with 122 confirmed cases. The year's first screwworm cases were confirmed in Hudspeth, Winkler, Ector, Mitchell and Lampasas counties during the month.

and one to mark the OB Trap Company. Dedications for these markers will be announced in the near future.

Members were urged to attend the State Historical Commission meeting to be held in New Braunfels on October 24-25 where much will be learned about celebrating the nation's Bicentennial and other items of historical interest.

Historical Survey Committee Met Monday

The Crockett County Historical Survey Committee held a regular meeting Monday, October 14, in the library of the courthouse. It was announced by the Marker Committee that approval of two more historical markers for Crockett County had been received from the State Historical Commission: one to mark the site of the first producing oil well in Crockett County
