PERKINS NO-BILLED BY GRAND JURY IN MIDLAND KILLING

MIDLAND, Feb. 23 (AP)—Col. John Perkins, noted West Texas attorney, was no-billed by the grand jury today in connection with the slaying of his son-in-law, Donald D. Traynor, 28, former Illinois University athlete and University of Texas law graduate.

Traynor, a former member of Col. Perkins' law firm, was shot to death on the rear doorstep of his father-in-law's residence here Dec. 28. Perkins was released under $5,000 bond after the shooting.

Col. Perkins is an army reserve officer and member of one of the Fort Worth Basin's best known law firms.

Traynor resigned from the firm Dec. 1. He was a track and tennis star at the University of Illinois and was graduated from the University of Texas law school in 1936. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Traynor of Dallas.

Reorganization Of Judicial Districts Proposed In Bill

Goodman Sponsors Legislation For New Court; Ector And Midland Counties Would Have Added Service

Herald Austin Bureau

AUSTIN, Feb. 23—A bill to create a new judicial district and to reorganize the 70th and 109th judicial districts in West Texas has been introduced in the legislature by Rep. James H. Goodman of Midland.

The new district would be the 128th judicial district. It would be composed of Ector, Ward, Midland and Crane counties.

Under the reorganization the 70th and the 128th would have concurrent jurisdiction in Midland and Ector counties, and the 109th and the 128th would have concurrent jurisdiction in Crane and Ward counties.

Heart Attack Is Fatal To Geo. Lamb

Drilling Contractor To Be Buried At Brownwood

George E. Lamb, 57, active in oil drilling and production in this area, succumbed here early Thursday to a heart attack. He died at his quarters in a local hotel where he made his home in Big Spring.

Born in Youngstown, Ohio, on July 30, 1881, Lamb early became interested in the oil business and followed it most of his life. He came to Texas 22 years ago when the state gave promise of oil development. In 1920 Mr. and Mrs. Lamb established their home in Brownwood. By the turn of the decade he had formed a partnership with E. E. Kirkpatrick—known as Kirkpatrick and Lamb. They had been active in the southeastern sector of Howard county.

Surviving are his widow and four children, George Lamb of Laverna, James Lamb of Coleman, Mrs. E. L. Phillips of San Angelo, and Mrs. Mack Thomas of Ballinger. He also leaves two brothers, Dr. Lamb of Oil City, Penn., and S. G. Lamb of Bakersfield, Calif., and three sisters, Mrs. William Chambers of Bakersfield, Mrs. Bess Williams of Alviso, Calif., and Mrs. Emma Free of Princeton, N. J.

Arrangements were incomplete, but Nalley Funeral Home was to take the body overland to Brownwood where interment will be made.

Mexico Turns Down Oil Deal

Rejects Proposal To Trade For 17 German Planes

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 23 (AP)—United States Ambassador Joseph Daniels announced today he had been informed that the Mexican government had rejected a proposal to purchase 17 German planes in a barter deal for Mexican oil.

It was understood on good authority that Daniels, learning of the projected trade, had registered objections.

Since Mexico last March 18 expropriated oil properties of 17 American and British companies Germany has become a leading market for Mexican petroleum exports.

It was understood the American envoy told Mexican officials he looked with disfavor on the proposed purchase from Germany of commercial planes which easily could be converted into war planes.

W. B. Davis, New York oil man, who two months ago negotiated a $17,000,000 oil barter contract with Mexico under which most of the oil is to go to Germany, recently registered at a Mexico City hotel. At the same hotel was stopping a German believed to be a representative of the Junkers aircraft firm.

Both were said today to have left Mexico City. It was understood Davis was trying to arrange the deal for the 17 planes mentioned by Ambassador Daniels.

O'Daniel Has 40-1 Poll For His Tax Plan

Tells Legislature His Mail Shows That Percentage

AUSTIN, Feb. 23 (AP)—Governor W. Lee O'Daniel told the house of representatives today communications he had received were almost 40 to 1 for his transactions tax program.

Mail Submitted

O'Daniel sent House Speaker R. Emmett Morse a big box filled with letters, postcards and petitions which had flooded the governor's office from all parts of the state. He suggested that any interested house member look through the communications and they then be made available to the senate.

No official action was taken on the governor's letter calling attention to the communications. Rep. Harold M. Hankamer facetiously suggested the matter be "re-referred" from the legislature to the governor's office. Rep. W. J. Galbreath of Wharton, strong critic of the transactions tax, commented that "you don't need to leave any of those letters with me."

House constitutional amendments and revenue and taxation committees started a hearing Wednesday last week on various new tax proposals but had given no indication they would formulate a program in the near future.

Shortly after O'Daniel's communication was read, the house completed legislative passage of a bill appropriating an additional $2,500 to the governor's office for stamps and miscellaneous office needs. Mail received by the governor, who broadcasts over a radio network every Sunday, is much heavier than that of any preceding chief executive.

The appropriation bill also contained a $9,156 deficiency allotment to the general land office. The senate quickly approved and sent to the house several amendments to the state unemployment compensation act, chief of which would make benefits payable every two weeks instead of weekly. Senator Allan Shivers of Port Arthur said the state would save $100,000 annually in administrative costs as a result.

Train Hearing Is Delayed To March 18th

News of the postponement of a Texas railroad commission hearing on the Texas & Pacific Railway's application to discontinue two trains between Big Spring and Sweetwater, was received here Thursday afternoon. Commission Chairman Lon A. Smith advised the chamber of commerce the hearing would be held in Big Spring on March 18. It originally was set for Feb. 28.

The chamber of commerce, which has elected to protest the application, sought a delay on the hearing.

The T&P wants to take off Train Nos. 3 and 4 between Big Spring and Sweetwater, because of operating losses.

Governor Signs Hospital Bill

AUSTIN, Feb. 23 (AP)—Governor W. Lee O'Daniel today signed a bill making an emergency appropriation of $200,000 to equip the new hospital for the insane at Big Spring.

The institution is expected to start operation May 1.

Survey Indicates A Shorter Route To Garden City

A shorter route by five miles to Garden City and an early start on construction of the troublesome section of highway No. 9 south out of Big Spring were seen today following a conference between County Judge Charles Sullivan and highway engineers.

S. J. Treadaway, district highway engineer, told the judge that it appeared that contracts might be let within the next few months on the highway No. 9 section from the city south to the new section of the road. Federal approval for a new routing of the road was indicated recently.

Engineers are still engaged in completing the Big Spring-Garden City survey. The proposed new route, preliminary figures showed, would bring Garden City within about 27 miles of here. The distance now is slightly in excess of 32 miles. Some half dozen jogs of one to two miles along section lines would be eliminated by the new route.

COX IS REELECTED PRESIDENT OF ACC

ABILENE, Feb. 23 (AP)—James F. Cox was re-elected president of Abilene Christian college yesterday and Don H. Morris was re-elected vice president.

The board of trustees, in annual session here, also re-elected board officers.

NO NEW LEVIES ARE IN PROSPECT, SAYS TREASURY CHIEF

Thinks Congress Should Remove Any Laws That Are Deterrents To Trade

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23 (AP)—Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau told business men today they not only need not worry about new taxes but may hope for improvements in present taxes to help business.

Expanding on and endorsing President Roosevelt's statement of last week that business men need fear no new taxes, the treasury head said:

"I sincerely hope congress will take a careful look at the tax laws and see if there are any deterrents holding back business and businessmen from making further commitments."

"I think the business man ought to feel that the administration wants him to go ahead and take normal business risks and make money."

The secretary said definitely no tax proposals except reenactment of expiring excise taxes and possibly a measure to raise approximately $200,000 for farm benefits, had been brought to his attention.

He indicated even proposals for new taxes to pay for increased armaments have been sidetracked for fear of depressing business and he said it was "likely" further defense spending would be financed by borrowing.

Morgenthau told a press conference he was not willing to say, at least yet, whether there are any deterrents to business in present tax laws. He added that constant studies of taxes were being made in the treasury and if congress asked for any suggestions he would be ready to testify on the subject.

The administration's only hope at present for increased revenue, he asserted, was from stimulating business and business profits, thereby increasing the yield from present tax rates.

No New Legislation During This Session

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23 (AP)—Speaker Bankhead told his press conference today President Roosevelt had "rather definitely stated" he did not intend to propose additional new legislation to congress at this session.

For that reason, the speaker said, pending legislation to change the social security law and provide aid for the transportation industry and similar controversial proposals would largely determine the length of the session.

The speaker refused, however, to predict a definite date for adjournment.

Earlier Senator McNary of Oregon, senate republican leader, had offered to cooperate in democratic efforts for early enactment of a legislative program and subsequent prompt adjournment of congress. McNary said republicans would offer no obstacles to speedy consideration of measures which the administration wishes to bring to the floor.

"All we want," he said, "is a reasonable amount of time to study each bill on its merits and we will be ready to vote."

House Rejects Air Base On Guam Isle

Naval Measure Is Passed Without That Item

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23 (AP)—The house passed and sent to the senate today a $48,300,000 naval air base bill after stripping it of the controversial proposal to establish a base for navy scouting planes on the far away Pacific island of Guam.

Final passage of the measure, an integral part of President Roosevelt's emergency defense program, came after the house had confirmed by a roll-call vote of 205 to 158 an earlier vote to eliminate the $5,000,000 Guam project.

Final passage was on a standing vote of 368 to 4.

After three days of stormy debate on the project, the house adopted, by a teller vote of 193 to 164, an amendment by Rep. Sutphin (D-N.J.) to strike the $5,000,000 Guam item from the $53,300,000 naval air base bill.

Under the rules, however, there still was a chance the house might reverse its action.

The vote came after the house leadership had made a desperate last-minute attempt to head off the bi-partisan drive against the project.

The vote on the Sutphin amendment came after Majority Leader Rayburn (D-Tex.) descended to the well of the chamber and declared solemnly the United States "does not go to war with anyone" and "wants peace."

Movie Awards Made Tonight

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 23 (AP)—In starved shirts and spangled gowns, the makers of movie entertainment will troop tonight to a hotel banquet room, where gold-plated statuettes will be passed out as symbols of outstanding achievement on the screen in 1938.

It's the 11th annual awards dinner of the Motion Picture Academy of Arts and Sciences.

Only two of the actresses in the final pool as the best of the year, Bette Davis and Fay Bainter, can come tonight.

Norma Shearer is in a hospital for treatment of a throat infection; Margaret Sullivan a few days ago gave birth to a daughter; and Wendy Hiller, English discovery, is in Europe.

Miss Bainter has a double chance of winning an "Oscar," since she also was nominated as best in a supporting role.

Male stars nominated were Charles Boyer, James Cagney, Leslie Howard, Robert Donat and Spencer Tracy. Donat has been in England, but the others are expected to be present.

Plans Offered To Deal With Crop Surplus

Wallace Indicates Endorsement Of Export Subsidy

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23 (AP)—Secretary Wallace outlined today three possible plans for dealing with the large surplus of American cotton, then indicated he favored some means of subsidizing exports.

Before Committee

The administration's farm chief appeared before the senate agriculture committee as it began public hearings on several bills dealing with the cotton surplus.

Declaring the present administration farm program was "fundamentally sound," Wallace said it had kept cotton prices from falling below present levels, and the surplus from growing much larger than it now is.

At the same time, Wallace said the program could not continue to pile up stocks of cotton under government loans and ignore the decreasing exports of American cotton to the world.

Wallace said there were three possible ways of dealing with the surplus problem:

1. Continue the present loan program and find some way to place American cotton in world markets "on a competitive basis."
2. A program of increasing cotton growers' income so they would give up government loans and permit a large amount of cotton to flow into domestic and foreign channels.
3. A plan for fixing a high price on domestic cotton that would let the surplus flow into world markets for what it would bring.

Recalling that cotton growers had voted to continue the present control and benefit program with its mandatory loans, Wallace said any change this year in loans "might be breaking faith with growers."

Chairman Jones (D-Tex.) of the house agriculture committee expressed the opinion, meanwhile, that the government may have to try some new approach to solving the farm problem.

Without elaboration, Jones asserted during committee hearings on cost-of-production bills.

"I'm not sure we're not going to have to work out something along a different line" (than the present plan).

While the two committees heard testimony on pending farm bills, authoritative circles forecast a change in administration farm price policies if American efforts to promote international cooperation to boost commodity prices fail.

Other Rural Trips Slated By C. of C.

Three neighborhood meetings of Big Spring business and professional men with residents of rural areas have been scheduled by the good will committee of the chamber of commerce.

Gay Hill, first to invite the chamber to hold such a meeting in their community following the successful Moore event, will be next on the list of visitation. The date has been set for March 14.

On April 11 a dinner will be staged in the Chaik community and Center Point will entertain on May 9.

Charles Frost, chairman of the good will committee, has named committees to be in charge of the various events. In the initial visit paid to Moore, more than 100 men were present for an evening purely of entertainment.

QUAKES RECORDED PASADENA, CALIF.

PASADENA, Calif., Feb. 23 (AP)—Two earthquakes, strong enough to do damage but apparently centered in an uninhabited section of the Tehachapi mountains, 70 miles north of here, were recorded this morning at the Seismological laboratory of the Carnegie Institution of Washington here.

HUGE LENS BEING INSTALLED AT M'DONALD OBSERVATORY

FORT DAVIS, Feb. 23 (AP)—Astronomers labored today over a 7,000-pound slab of glass designed for celestial explorations from the McDonald Observatory atop Mt. Locke near here.

The 23-inch lens, nearly seven years in the making, arrived yesterday after a tortuous, four-hour haul by truck from Alpine. It required two hours to transport the lens 18 miles from Fort Davis to the summit of Mt. Locke, 6,700 feet high.

A crane hoisted the lens and crate, weighing 7,300 pounds, 60 feet through the observatory roof.

C. J. Stillwell, vice president of Warner & Swasey, Cleveland lens manufacturers, said the mirror would be uncased today and probably be installed and ready for testing early next week.

Dr. G. T. Elvey, astronomer in charge, would not predict how far the telescope, one of the most powerful in the world, would probe into space. Staff astronomers said the mirror was 100,000 times as powerful as the naked eye.

TEXAS STEER WINS TOP HONORS

"Texas Superior," a Hereford, was adjudged grand champion steer of the Golden Gate Livestock show in San Francisco. Left to right are Bruce Robertson, who showed the steer for the owner, Clifford Jordan of Mason, Texas; Frank W. Clark, chairman of the exposition commission, and Leland W. Cutler, president of the International exposition at San Francisco.

Tax Diversion Is Opposed By Local Court

Bond Refunding Proposal Is Called Unfair, Unjust

Howard county commissioners court Wednesday went on record as opposed to the proposal now before the legislature to divert one cent of the gasoline tax for refunding road bonds and warrants of Texas counties.

The court, in a resolution passed in a special session, asked Sen. G. H. Nelson and Rep. Dorsey B. Hardeman to oppose the pending measure now before the legislature to divert one cent of the tax for a period of 25 years.

Refunding to be done, the court contended in its resolution, is "for the purpose of paying bonds and warrants that were not used in the construction of state highways."

It also was pointed out that of the $188,000,000 to be thus assumed, approximately 40 per cent is owed by 25 counties "which is very unfair to the majority of the remaining 25 counties."

Diversion of the tax, the court continued, "would mean loss of 224,000,000 in revenues over a 25-year period—revenues which could be applied to new highway construction. Howard county's pro

M'Call Loses Court Plea

Kidnap Slayer Is Due To Be Electrocuted Friday

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 23 (AP)—Judge Rufus E. Foster, senior judge of the U. S. fifth circuit court of appeals here, again today denied an application for a writ of probable cause which would have stayed tomorrow's electrocution in Halford, Fla., of Franklin Pierce McCall, 23, for the kidnap killing of James Bailey Cash, Jr., 8.

Late yesterday Judge Foster denied a similar application of Eugene C. Rutledge, Jacksonville, Fla., attorney for McCall on grounds sufficient reasons for interference had not been given.

It was reported here that Rutledge's associate counsel in the fight to gain a stay in McCall's execution, C. A. Averitt, now in Washington, would be given a hearing today by Associate Justice Hugo L. Black of the supreme court.

It was understood Averitt would ask for a stay of execution and a writ of certiorari.

The Cash boy was killed last May in Princeton, Fla. The boy, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Bailey Cash, had been held for $10,000 ransom.

Unidentified Ship May Have Hit A Mine

Search Abandoned For Vessel Which Sent Out SOS

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23 (AP)—Captain G. S. Bryan, the navy's chief hydrographer, expressed an opinion today a stray floating mine may have sunk the unidentified ship which yesterday flashed it had been torpedoed in the Atlantic ocean.

Captain Bryan said the naval hydrographic office was advised by radio January 27 that a mine had been sighted by the oil tanker California Standard about 600 miles southwest of the Azores.

The position given by the vessel which yesterday flashed an electrifying SOS was about 360 miles south of the islands.

Ocean currents and winds might easily have carried the mine the intervening 240 miles distance, naval officials said.

These officials termed a "definite possibility" that the mine was a stray sea weapon of the Spanish Civil war. Prevailing currents and winds both lead toward the open Atlantic south of the Azores, charts showed.

Meanwhile, organized search was abandoned for the unnamed vessel. See LOST SHIP, Page 2, Col. 2

CAGNEY BEST PAID ON WARNER LOT

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23 (AP)—James Cagney was Warner Brothers' highest paid movie star in 1938, with earnings of $234,000.

His salary was disclosed in the company's annual report to the securities commission, made public today.

Kay Francis, actress, was second on the list of Warner Bros. Pictures, Inc., with $224,000, compared with $209,100 in 1937.

rate part would be $960,735 for construction purposes.

"Howard county is sorely in need of more state highways and its present state highways are far from complete," said the resolution. "It would be grossly unfair and unjust to the people of the county if this proposal is adopted by the legislature and these funds diverted."

One of the chief grounds of opposition was that gasoline tax revenues from Howard county would greatly exceed the amount of principal and interest to be assumed by the state from this county.

"Approval of the plan," said J. S. Winslow, "would be penalizing us for being economical in the administration of the county's affairs." County Judge Charlie Sullivan could not see why "we should be called upon to bear the load of East and South Texas counties which voted themselves hopelessly into debt."

MINOR RIOT STAGED AS GAME RAIDED

DETROIT, Feb. 23 (AP)—Principals in a riotous scene that accompanied a police raid on a bingo game involving 1,500 persons at a fraternal order temple here last night, found quiet today—in recorder's court.

An estimated 1,500 women in the game greeted the 30 raiding policemen with hisses and hoots, and a barrage of bingo cards. Some rushed to grab a score of smoked hams offered as prizes, and other jammed the temple stage demanding refund of their admission.

Police racket squad members won the rush for the hams. Lieut. John P. McCarthy said the squad also seized $992 in admission fees.

Seven men were held on charges of operating or aiding and abetting a gambling enterprise.

'Peace With Honor' Aim Of France

Will Not Yield To 'Blackmail,' Says Daladier

PARIS, Feb. 23 (AP)—France, with what Frenchmen considered implied American and British support, today took the firmest stand for "peace with honor" she has adopted since Italy started the campaign for a share of French African colonies.

Premier Daladier, in a pointed address last night to the American club of Paris, made plain his government's policy of bending every reasonable effort to maintain peace but refusing to yield to "blackmail."

"We reject any idea of surrender," Daladier declared. "We cannot admit anything but peace with honor."

The premier's words were interpreted widely as a reply to American criticism, like that in the address by Senator Pittman (Dem., Nevada) denouncing the English-French appeasement policy.

Daladier expressed confidence, nevertheless, in the "solidarity" of France and the United States in working for liberty and democracy.

United States Ambassador William C. Bullitt, outlining similar ideals, gave his assurance that "we feel that these are worth defending and we intend to defend them."

The ambassador said the United States was preoccupied with a "growing apprehension that if there should be a war in Europe, we might be drawn into it."

He added that "we know we will not start a war with any nation. We are not in the habit of starting wars."

UNEQUALLED BY ANY ARMY PLANE, the XB-15 (above), giant ship in which Maj. Caleb Haynes and a crew of 11 flew medical supplies weighing 2,250 pounds from Langley field, Virginia, to Santiago, Chile, for the relief of earthquake victims, is the army's only bomber of this type. Weighing more than 30 tons, it's 90 feet long, 18 feet high and has a wing spread of 150 feet. It is powered by four twin-row Pratt and Whitney Wasp engines, accessible to the crew through wing passages.

sel which yesterday crackled out a sudden SOS, reporting she had been torpedoed near the Azores, and the beleaguered affair appeared likely to be recorded as another mystery of the sea.

The Radio Marine station at Chatham, Mass., reported the Greek steamer Mount Felton had given up its search of the area named in the distress message—signed only by the unlisted letters "FEOL"—some hours after the British liner Empress of Australia had abandoned the fruitless hunt. Neither vessel found any wreckage or other trace of a torpedoed ship.

Only silence greeted those who listened constantly on the international distress and calling wave for any further elucidation of the SOS. One possibility after another was abandoned by government officials and shipping men in this country and Europe as they sought to identify the vessel that might have been involved.

HEAVY MOVEMENT OF CATTLE OUT OF MEXICO

EAGLE PASS, Feb. 23 (AP)—One of the largest movements of cattle from Mexico into the United States in recent years was under way today, customs authorities said.

Fourteen thousand head of cattle are scheduled to pass through Eagle Pass within the next 60 days, going to pasture land in the United States.

The movement got under way last week with arrival of 300 head belonging to J. R. Sanford and 100 head owned by J. E. Baylor. Five hundred and fifty head entered local stock pens today from the ranch of M. G. Michaelis near Musquig, Coahuila. Tomorrow 650 more are scheduled to arrive, with 1,000 Saturday and 700 Monday.

Air Base

"covet a foot of land that belongs to anybody else."

Rep. Magnuson (D-Wash.) told the house that if the United States backed down on naval improvements on Guam Japan would "herald throughout the Far East" that this country was "afraid even to dredge a harbor" for fear the Japanese government would protest.

Since 1926, Magnuson declared, Japan has fortified the entire length of the Kurile Islands—only 652 miles from the tip of the American-owned Aleutian Islands and only 1,129 miles from Kodiak, Alaska, where an $8,000,000 air base would be established under the current defense program.

Burphin said he believed in "making America impregnable to attack by any nation," but that he could see no reason in the world for extending the line of defense 6,000 miles into the Pacific.

"What do you suppose we would think," he asked, "if Great Britain undertook to fortify Bermuda today? Would we consider it an overt act or a hostile act?"

DEPUTY NAMED

AUSTIN, Feb. 23 (AP)—State Labor Commissioner Joe Kunschik announced today the appointment of T. Young Collins of Fort Worth as his chief deputy.

Collins formerly was assistant county attorney of Parker county.

HAS SMALL CHANCE OF BEATING CHAIR

OSSINGING, N. Y., Feb. 23 (AP)—"Death House Mike" looks down the lonesome road to the electric chair for the third time today, with only one slim hope remaining to escape his latest date with death.

The state lunacy commission ruled yesterday that he—Michael Alex, 27, convicted of a $15 robbery-killing after six murder trials—is sane.

Mike received the news forlornly. "Well," he told his brother John, 22, who had been brought more than 400 miles from Attica prison to see him for the last time, "if the doctors aren't going to bug me, things don't look so good."

To "bug" a prisoner means in convict idiom to declare him insane. With his sanity affirmed, Alex will leave the house of the living dead for the last time at 10 p. m. (CST) today unless Governor Lehman commutes his sentence.

During 22 months on death row, Alex has seen 35 other men make the final exit.

FLEETS BUSY WITH THEIR MOCK WAR

MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 23 (AP)—The South Atlantic was astir with naval activity today as the "black" and "white" fleets fought out their continental defense problems after several brisk engagements resulting from initial contracts.

Before the critical eyes of President Roosevelt aboard the cruiser Houston and Admiral C. C. Bloch, official umpire on board the U.S.S. Pennsylvania, the contending forces deployed for further "battle" north and east of the West Indies.

Meanwhile, the sea-going chief executive was due to receive his first official mail pouch from Washington via Pan American Airways plane from Miami. Only the most urgent mail was sent to the president to avoid unnecessary interference in the war games.

12-YEAR SENTENCE

BROWNWOOD, Feb. 23 (AP)—Willis Lee Voss, 23, of Couchatta, La., today was sentenced to 12 years in the penitentiary on conviction of a charge of robbery with firearms.

Voss was charged with holding up a drug store here with a companion January 22. In escaping from the scene they forced Mr. and Mrs. Erton Wells to drive them several miles south of here.

Police overtook the car and the men fled but Voss was captured. His companion escaped. Voss also was indicted on a charge of kidnaping Mr. and Mrs. Wells.

DALLAS BANKER IS CLAIMED BY DEATH

DALLAS, Feb. 23 (AP)—J. Howard Ardrey, 63, nationally known banker, died today at a hospital here.

He was vice president of the City National bank prior to its merger with the American Exchange National bank to form the First National bank in Dallas.

Ardrey left Dallas to become a vice president of the National Bank of Commerce of New York City. When that bank merged with the Guaranty Trust Company of New York, Ardrey became executive vice president. He later resigned that post to become deputy administrator of the Federal Housing Administration.

CLIPPER LANDS AT N'ORLEANS PORT

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 23 (AP)—The 74-passenger Boeing Clipper No. 17, en route from San Francisco to Baltimore to be christened into trans-Atlantic service, alighted at Shushan airport here at 11:30 a. m. (Central Standard Time) today.

She made a smooth landing at the sea ramp on Lake Pontchartrain and was tied up to remain at New Orleans overnight.

The clipper flew here from Galveston, a 200-mile jaunt, postponing her arrival in New Orleans one day because of adverse wind conditions on Lake Pontchartrain.

Rebekahs And Odd Fellows Meet In Odessa For Dinner

To help the Odessa chapter of Odd Fellows celebrate their third anniversary of founding, members of the local lodges Wednesday evening attended a chicken dinner in Odessa given by the Rebekahs and Odd Fellows.

Smoked Pure Pork Sausage For Meals Like Mother Used To Cook

By MARTHA LOGAN

We hear so much of modern foods these days—foods that are new, foods that are ready-to-serve, and food combinations that provide the necessary proteins, carbohydrates, fats, minerals and vitamins for good health. Our national magazines have an avalanche of food advertising that has mouth-watering appetite appeal and an abundance of eye appeal through the use of clever garnishes. Sometimes just to forget all this and revert to a homey meal like mother used to serve would be sheer joy.

Most of us can work up a good case of nostalgia just by calling up memories of the food we had when we gathered around mother's table in the good old days. If you've ever hankered for a big helping of smoked pure pork sausage, head cheese, soup, blood and tongue sausage, or pork feet, you'll know just what I mean by nostalgia for homey foods. They may not be the foods we would serve for company meals, but who cares for frills if the food "hits the spot!"

The great meat packing companies are doing such a fine job of preparing these specialties that it is possible for all of us to duplicate those tasty dishes from mother's old time collection without all the fuss and bother that used to be necessary.

Smoked pure pork sausage (sometimes called smoked country sausage) is sold under nationally known packer's labels to assure you of quality and wholesomeness. Smoked sausage is available in links in natural casings or in bulk in transparent packages with accurate cooking directions attached.

Head cheese, soup, and blood and tongue sausage are all made of fine, full-flavored ingredients and according to genuine old-time recipes. These products are made in artificial and natural casings with the exception of souse. Souse is made in either artificial casing or molded in loaf form.

The old favorite, pork feet, perhaps you say "pigs feet," are now packed in glass jars of varying sizes. They are prepared in a style to suit most anyone's fancy. They are packed as boneless, partly boned, or bone-in pork feet and are vinegar pickled or cooked and spiced. Here again the brand name on the jar will be your guide to top quality.

It is often difficult to find recipes for preparing these homey foods because modern cook books usually pass them by. However, we have ventured to include a few tried and true combinations which have been handed down to us.

Pan Fried Smoked Sausage Place the links of smoked pure pork sausage in a heavy frying pan. Add a small amount of water, cover and steam 15 minutes. Uncover and cook about 10 minutes or until links are well browned. Use a slow fire and turn sausage frequently.

Baked Lima With Smoked Sausage 1 lb. smoked pure pork sausage 1 1/2 cups dried lima beans 1/2 cup tomato soup 1/4 cup dark molasses 1/2 cup tomato catsup 1/4 cup hot water 1 teaspoon dry mustard

Soak beans overnight. Cook until almost done. Arrange beans and sausage links in alternate layers in a baking dish. Mix remaining ingredients and pour over the beans and sausage. Cover and bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) until beans and sausage are tender, about 1 hour. One small whole onion may be placed in the bottom of the bean pot for extra flavor. Serves 5.

Fried German Cabbage With Smoked Sausage 1 lb. smoked pure pork sausage 6 cups shredded cabbage 1 tablespoon butter 4 tablespoons vinegar 1 1/2 cups water Salt

Melt butter in a heavy frying pan. Arrange sausage links in the pan. Mix cabbage with other ingredients and put on the top of the sausage. Cover and simmer over a low fire about 20 minutes. Uncover and cook until sausage and cabbage are well browned. Serves 5.

Head cheese may be cut in thin slices and served cold with chili sauce, chuney or prepared mustard. To serve it hot, dip slices in beaten egg then roll in fine crumbs and pan fry in a small amount of fat.

The attractiveness of souse and blood and tongue sausage and the spiciness of pork feet will make a cold meat platter "ring the bell." They are ideal for Dutch lunch service—Vegetable salads, hot or cold potato salad or cole slaw are excellent accompaniments. We like plenty of rye bread and relishes served too.

There is an intangible something about all these foods—perhaps it's their simplicity—but if served directly you'll find souse, head cheese, smoked pure pork sausage, and blood and tongue sausage, too, will become regular entrants on your family menu.

Mrs. W. D. Rowland Entertains Daisy Sewing Club Here

Mrs. Doyle Turney was included as the only guest when the Daisy Sewing club met Wednesday in the home of Mrs. Harry Montgomery with Mrs. W. D. Rowland as hostess.

Red, white and blue provided the colors for the decorations and games provided diversion. Mrs. Harvey Wooten and Mrs. Turney were awarded prizes in the games.

Hatchet stick pins were given as favors and sandwiches shaped in the form of trees and hatchets were served by the hostess to Mrs. Allen Wiggins, Mrs. J. A. Westmoreland, Mrs. Doris Scott, Mrs. Wooten, Mrs. J. B. House, Mrs. C. R. Thompson, Mrs. Harry Montgomery, Mrs. J. R. Phillips, Mrs. C. C. Harmon and Mrs. Turney.

The Safety Sensation of 1939! THE NEW Firestone CHAMPION The Only Tire Made with the NEW SAFETY-LOCK CORD BODY and NEW GEAR-GRIP TREAD...

NEVER before in our experience has a tire met with such instant and unanimous approval as the new Firestone Champion Tire. It's the Safety Sensation of 1939! Our customers have started a word-of-mouth campaign that is making this the biggest selling tire we've ever had. Motor car manufacturers have been so impressed by its superior performance that they have adopted it for their 1939 models.

Why? Because the Firestone Champion Tire is an entirely new achievement in safety engineering.

Stronger Cord Body. This is accomplished first, by the use of a completely new type of tire cord called "Safety-Lock," in which the cotton fibers are more compactly interwoven to assure cooler running and provide greater strength. Then, the fibers in each individual cord, the cords in each ply and the plies themselves, are all securely locked together by a new and advanced Firestone process of Gum-Dipping which provides amazingly greater strength. And greater strength means greater safety.

More Non-Skid Mileage. The new Safety-Lock cord construction provides the extra strength needed for the use of the new, thicker, tougher, deeper Firestone Gear-Grip tread which delivers remarkably longer non-skid mileage. This sensational new tread is called "Gear-Grip" because of its unique design — it has more than 3,000 sharp-edged angles which grip the road with a sure-footed hold to protect against skidding and assure a safe stop.

Drive in today and equip your car with a new set of Firestone Champion Tires — the only tires made that are safety-proved on the speedway for your protection on the highway.

Table with 3 columns: Firestone CHAMPION, Firestone HIGH SPEED, Firestone CONVOY. Rows show tire sizes and prices.

You Can Read These Faces . . .

By The AP Feature Service
YOUR FACE, my theme, is as a book where men may read strange matters. —William Shakespeare, Macbeth.

Look in my face: my name is Might-have-been. I am also called No-more, Too-late, Farewell.
—Dante, Bagriol Rossetti, Sonnet: A Superscription
Max Schmeling, according to unkind critics, might have told reporters something like that on his latest visit to the U. S.

Yet in my lineaments they trace Some features of my father's face. —Lord Byron, Parisian.
Branch Rickey, Jr., son of the St. Louis Cardinals' executive, posed before taking a job as manager of Brooklyn's farms.

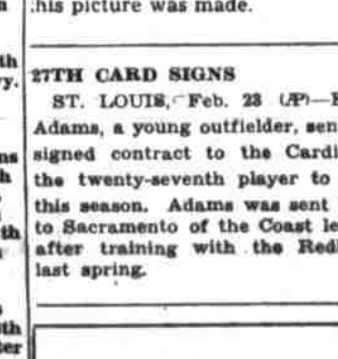

Behind a frowning providence He hides a smiling face.—William Cowper, Light Shining Out of Darkness.
Vin DiMaggio, ex-Boston Bee outfielder, was unperturbed upon learning he had been sent back to the minor leagues.

A full assurance given by looks. —Mathew Rorer, An Elegy.
The unfrightened Tony Galento refers to every opponent with the statement: "I'll moider da bum."

The day's disasters in his morning face. —Oliver Goldsmith, The Deserted Village.
Gus Suhr, Pittsburgh Pirate first-baseman, had turned down a contract calling for a $1,500 cut when his picture was made.

27TH CARD SIGNS
ST. LOUIS, Feb. 23 (AP)—Elvin Adams, a young outfielder, sent his signed contract to the Cardinals, the twenty-seventh player to sign this season. Adams was sent back to Sacramento of the Coast league after training with the Redbirds last spring.

Weekend Bowl Tourny Is Scheduled

The Casadena club's four-runway addition to its bowling alley will be formally opened this weekend with a Class A elimination tournament. Invitations have been forwarded to Amarillo, Lubbock, Hobbs, Lamesa, Midland, San Angelo, Sweetwater and Abilene. A prominent representation from these cities is expected.

Entry fee will be $2 per man which entitles him to compete in all events. A player must pay for his own lines, however. Prizes will be awarded to the three winning teams and the winners in doubles and singles events. The tournament will get underway Saturday, 7:30 p. m. The Casadena Alleys have recently been passed upon and sanctioned by the American Bowling Congress.

Mace Brown, Don Heffner

10 Freshmen Named; 'Bible' Bids Adieu To Old Timers

By SID FEDER
NEW YORK, Feb. 23 (AP)—Mace Brown has made the grade. It took one of the neatest jobs of relief pitching since Fireman Willy Moore was saving the Yankees a dozen years back, but the Pittsburgh Pirates' big right-hander finally has been included in the new "Who's Who in Baseball."

For three years Mace wore a track from the Buc bullpen to pitching box with never a tumble. But last season, he broke a record by going to work in 51 games. That turned the trick. For that matter, so is Don Heffner, the fast little infielder. He had to be shipped to the St. Louis Browns to make it, after getting nowhere in four years with the Yankees. And Hugh (Losing Pitcher) Mulcahy had to be the Tommy Farr of the futile Phillies' pitching staff for the last four years to win the "honor."

All in all, however, the 24th edition of "Who's Who" is a surprising little number than those of recent years. It lists 239 players and their histories, 14 more than last year. The book also bids official farewell to a number of past greats, fellows like Mickey Cochrane and Frankie Frisch, Waite Hoyt and Rogers Hornsby and Charley Grimm, all great guys while they had it. They're gone from the pages for the first time.

In place of the gone-but-not-forgotten heroes are a new crop. The baby among the newcomers is Bobby Doerr, classy second sacker of the Boston Red Sox, who won't be old enough to vote until April. Ten rang the bell their first try, making "Who's Who" in their freshman years. Among these crack rookies of 1938 are Joe Gordon, the Yankees' second baseman; Ken Keltner, Cleveland's third sacker; Johnny Rizzo of Pittsburgh, Enos Slaughter of the Cardinals, Taft Wright of Washington, and Pitcher Jim Bagby (Red Sox).

GOVT. PURCHASE PLAN FOR CITRUS CALLED FAILURE

LAKELAND, Fla., Feb. 23 (AP)—Failure to get the federal government to buy Florida citrus fruit for relief agencies on a basis that would help the state's growers was announced last night by the Florida citrus industry committee. The committee charged government officials "have wholly failed to understand the problems" of the industry. Growers, the committee suggested, should take up the matter with their congressmen and the president.

The government had agreed to spend $10,000,000 in citrus producing states for the purchase and distribution of 5,000,000 boxes of grapefruit and 3,000,000 boxes of oranges.

LONGHORN STEERS MAY GO ON NEXT LICENSE PLATES

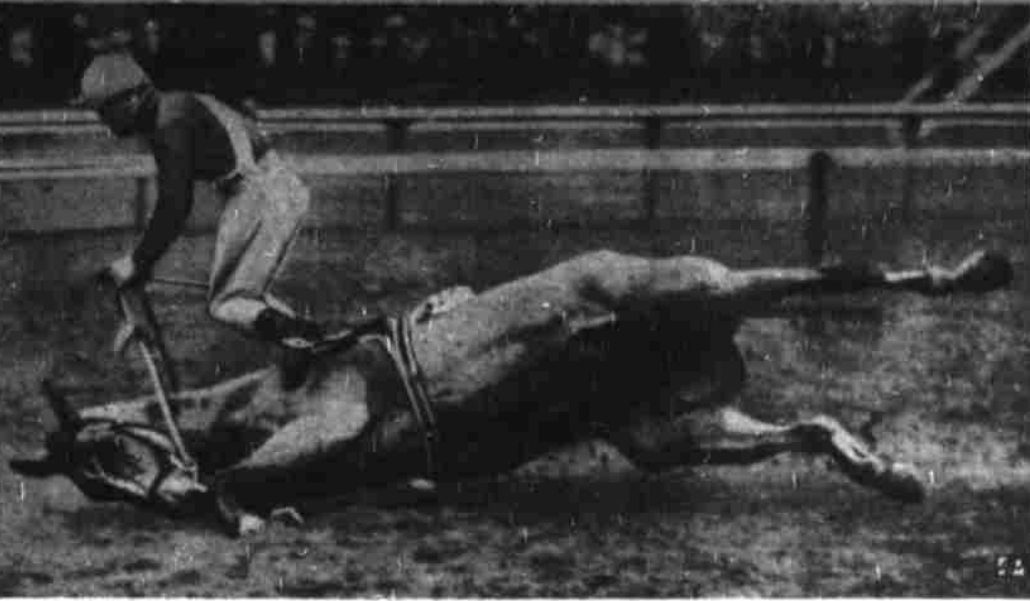

AUSTIN, Feb. 23 (AP)—Longhorn steers may adorn your 1940 automobile license plates. Rep. Robert Allen Harp, Cottle county school teacher, introduced a bill that would spread steer horns over the plate.

Sen. R. H. Nelson of Tahoka succeeded Wednesday night in getting the senate highways and motor traffic committee to report the bill favorably to the floor. One objection—that steer horns would necessitate a reduction in size of the numerals, was raised.

DIES COMMITTEE TO SEND PROBERS THROUGH NATION

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23 (AP)—The Dies committee on un-American activities announced today it soon would send at least nine investigators to all parts of the nation to assemble evidence of subversive influences. Representatives Dempsey (D-NM) and Starnes (D-Ala.), committee members, said these aides would spend three or four months examining organization records, gathering evidence and taking testimony for presentation at public hearings here next summer.

Rhea Whitley, 35, former Federal Bureau of Investigation agent, will direct the work. The committee has been considering the advisability of dividing into three subcommittees to investigate communistic, fascist and Nazi activities. A decision probably will be reached as soon as Chairman Dies (D-Texas) returns to Capitol Hill after recuperating from an appendicitis operation. The house recently recreated the committee for another year and appropriated $100,000 for the investigation. The committee had only $25,000 last year.

COAHOMA, Feb. 23—W. F. Talley will take his Coahoma Oilers to Odessa Monday evening to play a return game with the Barnsdall cagers in what will probably be the final game of the 1938-39 season for the champions of the Major-City basketball league.

Lash Nosed Out In 2-Mile Run

BOSTON, Feb. 23 (AP)—Glenn Cunningham, the kitting Kansan, is still the greatest miler of them all. Less than 48 hours after John Borican stunned the track world by beating the durable veteran in the "1000" at Newark, Cunningham wiped out the setback by administering a crushing beating to the New Jersey negro star, who finished last in a field of five in the Veterans of Foreign Wars meet last night. Cunningham turned on his justly famed kick on the next to the last lap and raced to a two-yard victory over Chuck Fenske in 4:15.5 for his 21st consecutive victory at his favorite distance.

FOR THAT AILING AIRPLANE Herbert Isenburger (left) of Long Island City, N. Y., has designed a portable X-ray machine with which to detect structural or mechanical defects in a plane part. Mr. Isenburger, seen explaining its operation to Orchestra Leader Andre Kostelanetz, believes his X-ray is the only one practicable for field work. The interest of Mr. Kostelanetz can be traceable to his enthusiasm for aviation; he holds a pilot's license.

TO DISPLAY RELIEF MAP OF BIG BEND PARK SECTOR

Herald Austin Bureau
AUSTIN, Feb. 23 (AP)—Officialdom and Austin visitors will soon be given an opportunity of previewing the picturesque Big Bend park of West Texas in miniature. The national park service has prepared a relief map of the park area, designating canyons, peaks and other scenic spots, which is to be placed in the rotunda of the capitol.

Sen. H. L. Winfield of Fort Stockton, sponsor of a bill looking forward to establishment of a national park in the Big Bend, pushed through a resolution in the senate requesting the state board of control to have the map exhibited in the capitol.

GANT ASSUMES JOB AT MEAD BAKERY

J. V. Gant, formerly of Wichita Falls, has arrived in the city to assume management of Mead's Bakery, 111-112 West Second street. Mr. Gant formerly resided in Big Spring, and is well-known here. Mrs. Gant will arrive shortly to join Mr. Gant, to make their home here.

Large Stocks Of Gasoline A Problem

Unwieldy Supplies May Disturb The Market

TULSA, Okla., Feb. 23 (AP)—Although they express themselves fair-to-middling pleased with the general trend of the business for this time of year, oil men are worrying more and more about mounting stocks of gasoline.

In the mid-continent area, they say, refinery operation has been held down fairly well but in other sections stocks are mounting with the prospect that business again may find itself in the overstocked position of 1938.

Latest estimates of stocks on hand are around $1,000,000 barrels. Economists had figured that if stocks were held to $2,000,000 barrels or below by March 1, the industry would stand a show for a profitable summer season.

Additions to stocks have been regarded as excessive since the first of the year. Refineries said even though consumption so far this year was good and a better demand could be expected as the season advanced, there still was the prospect of unwieldy supplies of gasoline might keep the price down to an unprofitable level through the heavy consuming period.

Scattered indications of the usual spring upturn were reported through the industry. Mid-continent marketers especially reported firming prices and quickening of inquiry for gasoline, bright stocks and neutrals. Recurrent cold waves increased the call for domestic heating oils and fuel oils were steady.

Thanks!

I wish to extend thanks to the people of Big Spring and surrounding territory for the excellent patronage they have accorded Knott's Bakery during its existence in Big Spring. We are sincerely appreciative of this business, and trust that you will continue to patronize our successor, Mead's Bakery.

We regret to leave this live, prosperous and wide-awake community in West Texas, but in so doing, we want to pause here to wish for each and every one of you the best success in the world.

Sincerely,

W. H. Knott

ARAB-JEW DISPUTE STILL IN DEADLOCK

LONDON, Feb. 22 (AP)—The British government failed today to break a deadlock between Jews and Arabs but left the door open to further negotiations.

A two-hour discussion, a British spokesman said, was "friendly and personal but neither side departed from its original contentions."

The meeting was the first between Jews and Arabs over the same table since the Palestine conference opened three weeks ago. It was an effort to save the negotiations from collapse.

Another joint session will be held tomorrow.

An almost hopeless task loomed in final effort to persuade the conflicting parties to agree jointly on a government for the Holy Land.

If no agreement were forthcoming, Britain was expected to put her own plan into force in Palestine. This was understood to involve major concessions to the Arabs in an effort to insure their support for Britain along the vital Mediterranean and Near Eastern trade routes in the case of war.

LITTLE COMMUNISM AT COMMUNISTS' GATHERING

OKLAHOMA CITY, Feb. 22 (AP)—President Roosevelt came in for praise at a communist rally here last night attended by more American Legionnaires than party members.

The meeting, held despite protests from the Oklahoma City Elks lodge, American Legion and Young American Patriots, was quiet. There was no heckling.

Twelve plainclothesmen and several firemen were in the audience. Outside eight motorcycle policemen, armed with tear gas equipment and riot guns, stood guard.

Speakers declared the communist party had no intention of seeking to overthrow the government of the United States by force and declared President Roosevelt was for "the common man."

A SUGGESTION FOR ECONOMY

Now, perhaps, we shall see whether the legislature is economy minded. The action or inaction on Governor O'Daniel's proposals to consolidate certain departments and bureaus offers the opportunity.

Abolition of the Texas department of agriculture, established when such departments were in fashion and Texas felt the state must keep up with the Joneses, has long been advocated on the ground that the work it did was being done and done better by the A. and M. college—ground that was easily established.

The governor's proposal is for a department of agriculture and livestock. The presumption is that the head of this department would be a person competent to direct activities in these fields.

If there are sound reasons why the governor's suggestion should be rejected, the opponents of it should be able to set forth those objections and the supporting reasons. And they will have to be something more than maintaining the present setup in order to provide jobs for commissioners and administrators and clerks of varying importance and degree.

A 'SIT-DOWN' AGAINST TAXES

When a mayor tries to get citizens NOT to pay their taxes—that's news! Yet that is exactly what a Massachusetts mayor suggested, a "sit-down" of taxpayers.

Of course, the mayor did not think up anything new. We've got plenty of those kind of "sit-downs" right here in Big Spring, as has many another city in this country of ours.

Like the few sit-downers in an industrial establishment who throw the hardships of unemployment on all the workers, the tax dodgers throw a heavier burden on those citizens who conscientiously pay their tax bills when they are due.

If these slackers would pay city, county and state agencies what they owe, the load on everyone else would be relieved—and the financial straggle of our governments helped greatly.

But while it would be almost criminally reckless to publish all the partially authenticated information which the government must weigh and take into account, it is nevertheless necessary in a democratic government that the people should know that the president is not conducting a personal policy.

There is only one way that this can be done. It is that the president should take and should be able to take the leaders of the opposition into his confidence. For if the people see that the opposition is participating in the decisions, they have the best assurance they could find that the decisions are national and disinterested.

But the administration cannot take the opposition into its confidence if the opposition refuses to treat anything as confidential. It requires at least two to cooperate. And if Mr. Roosevelt is by nature a poor cooperater, it is no less true that his opponents in congress are also poor cooperators.

Today And Tomorrow

By Walter Lippmann

(Mr. Lippmann's column is published as an informational and news feature. His views are personal and are not to be construed as necessarily reflecting the editorial opinion of The Herald.—Editor's Note.)

THE PRESIDENT AND CONGRESS

For the past few weeks Mr. Roosevelt has exhibited all the symptoms of a man who badly needs a vacation. At home and abroad for more than a year he has been navigating in stormy waters. He is in need of a rest. He needs to see things again in perspective. He needs to recover his poise.

Mr. Roosevelt is courageous. But that virtue can degenerate into restlessness and stubbornness.

Lippmann very great awareness of the movement of events. But that can degenerate into an impatient estimate of too short a view of the facts. Like the rest of us when we have done too much and are tired, Mr. Roosevelt has been unable recently to keep the defects of his qualities from becoming dominant. So Mr. Borah's advice is very good advice indeed, that the president should not let the latest "crisis" in Europe shorten his vacation.

It must be evident to any one who observes the Washington scene closely that Mr. Roosevelt, like several of his predecessors, conducts the presidency in a way that puts altogether too great a strain upon the strength of any human being. He is not only the president and head of the state, the chief executive and head of the vast administrative machine, the leader of his party and the leader of a faction within the party.

That is too much. The blunders and misunderstandings of the past month are the direct and obvious result of Mr. Roosevelt's attempt to do too many things at once. He does not really want responsible official advisers. So his decisions have to be taken hurriedly and informally. Because they are taken hurriedly, there is often, as in the case of the French plan, a tendency to use short cuts that are neither desirable or necessary.

But there are not enough hours in the day in which the president can find out all the facts, decide all the issues, and also lead congress and the press properly informed. And then, when Mr. Roosevelt finds that they are not informed, or that they have misunderstood, he is too hurried and too weary to explain patiently, and he resorts to epithets.

At the same time it must be admitted that the shadow of the coming national election has created a situation which would try the patience of any man, even of a very patient man, even of a man who had organized the presidency by delegating genuine authority to a responsible cabinet. There is, I think, no other government in the world in which the opposition will not allow the administration in power to discuss with it confidentially the critical issues of war and peace.

Yet that is the situation in Washington today. The peace of the world hangs in the balance; it depends precariously on the decisions which will be taken abroad by relatively few men. To mention a specific example, there is now all that is making what might become a full-fledged military and naval alliance between Japan and the Rome-Berlin axis. There is here a possibility which no American president could think of ignoring. Yet he must not sensationalize a possibility that may still be only talk. At a time like that, it would be impossible for a government to blazon in the newspaper headlines all that it learns from its representatives abroad. To do that would be in the highest degree dangerous. For it would arouse passionate excitement all over the world, and would make it infinitely more difficult for the moderating influences in all countries to exert themselves.

But while it would be almost criminally reckless to publish all the partially authenticated information which the government must weigh and take into account, it is nevertheless necessary in a democratic government that the people should know that the president is not conducting a personal policy. There is only one way that this can be done. It is that the president should take and should be able to take the leaders of the opposition into his confidence. For if the people see that the opposition is participating in the decisions, they have the best assurance they could find that the decisions are national and disinterested.

But the administration cannot take the opposition into its confidence if the opposition refuses to treat anything as confidential. It requires at least two to cooperate. And if Mr. Roosevelt is by nature a poor cooperater, it is no less true that his opponents in congress are also poor cooperators. If the president and congress continue on the present lines, the one refusing to give and the other refusing to receive that full information, which must necessarily include much confidential information, then we shall see here once more and on a grand scale another demonstration of how democracy does not work in critical times.

The remedy lies with the president and with the people. Only the president can raise the level of debate above factional suspicion and partisan bickering. He can do it only if, when he returns from his vacation, he makes it clear by word and act that he means to fix his attention wholly and solely upon the national interest.

The rest will have to be done by the people. It is they who will have to make it clear that they expect their representatives to take the national view, to be critical but not nag, to examine the national policy but not to sabotage it, to hold Mr. Roosevelt strictly accountable but not to destroy the usefulness of the president of the United States.

MAN ABOUT Manhattan

by GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK—I really amaze me the way the big hotels are able to reflect world opinion and to express, in concrete form, the changes that come, however impromptu, by war, death, or political upheaval.

The death of Pope Pius XI was an excellent example of the state of preparedness some of these hotels are in. Within a few moments after the news flashed from Rome the Papal flag was waving at half-mast from the Waldorf-Astoria, alongside the Stars and Stripes.

It was a huge flag and an impressive one, measuring 30 by 20 feet, carrying the Vatican City design of the Cross and the tiara with the three crowns, which are emblematic of the position and dignity of the Pope, and also the purple keys representing the keys to the Kingdom of Heaven given to St. Peter—all against a background of golden yellow and white.

Almost every day you see flags of various nations flying from the masts of the metropolitan hotels. One day it will be the Union Jack, signifying that perhaps the British ambassador is in the city and at that hotel; the next it will be the tri-colors of France, and so on. It is another of the interesting and colorful facets of life in New York.

There is a society of amateur chefs in New York which is composed of men who make cooking a hobby, and there are some surprisingly famous people in it. Among these are Russell Patterson, Arthur William Brown, William Rhode, Rex Stout, Bradshaw Crandall, and Dean Cornwell, all celebrated as artists and writers in their own right.

HOLLYWOOD—Can't vouch for it yet, but there are signs that the Dead End Kids are undergoing a decided change in character—and off the screen.

Off usually follows on, of course. The Great Lover who turns Sports King in his pictures begins to learn about sports in private life. The Snob who turns to rollicking comedy generally works at a Democratic Attitude for publicity's sake if nothing else. But the Dead Enders—maybe this is different.

Parents and schoolteachers have never liked the way the kids carried on, and they've been writing "soften" the boys in their films. In their new "Hell's Kitchen" the process is carried so far that the horrendous hoodlums, far from needing reformation, are instruments in the moral regeneration of Stanley Fields. But they wouldn't have any effect on the lads' private lives, would it necessarily?

The Messrs. Hunts Hall, Bernard Punsey, Leo Gorse, Gabriel Dell et al. are becoming concerned about things. At first they gloried in those yarns about their kitchentable misdeeds about the lot. Today they're alarmed when they read what hellions they're supposed to be.

"Just because we horse around a little," said one of the boys, "we don't want folks to get the wrong idea."

"Sure, most of us have been in show business long enough to put on a good act—but it was just an act," said another.

"Folks'll think we're awful obnoxious," said a third.

Thus the dawn of Social Consciousness, which proves that lightning can strike most any place.

Lightning strikes the local celebrities, too, it seems. All I know is I go peacefully along thinking I want to I can drop in at the Vendome and eat and star-gaze—and next thing I know the Vendome just ain't. How I know is I get a telegram saying a celestial named Ruby Foo has taken over, and would I please? The name is vaguely familiar—from New York, I guess—so I go, and pretty soon I meet Mr. Foo, and he doesn't look at all celestial, in fact he looks like Eddie Lewis who hailed from Boston and conquered New York, then eyed the Gold Coast and sampled its climate.

Next result, says Mr. Lewis, is that Mr. Foo is here to stay—his imported chefs having proved to their satisfaction that the local water is adequate for the concoction of a savory delight yclept Egg Roll. Mr. Foo's alter ego will remain in New York while Mr. Foo himself basks in the local glimmer and I, heaven permitting, bask often in the Roll of the Egg.

While on such matters—did you ever pity the poor nightclub operator who has his mournful outlook as he hears that some cinema celebrity is tossing a big party—at home?

Nor did I, until I talked to Monte Proser. Monte is a cheerful soul, with a cheerfulness born amid the bright lights of New York and as yet undampened by the fact that he acquired some time ago a night club in Hollywood. Hollywood is not the best of all possible places for a night club as the record of foldings and fatalities will show. Monte has La Conga, in the heart of Hollywood, and he has made it tick—so far.

But (says Monte) a night club hereabouts is dependent almost entirely on the favor of the movie crowd. When he hears that a movie star is giving a party—at home—he prepares for a good night's rest.

"Might as well close the doors that night," says he, "and hope nobody gives a party—at home—the next!"

DANGEROUS SERVICE

by GRACE ELLIOTT TAYLOR

Chapter 32 Petrel?

"Everything hangs together. He's very plausible now. But he can't cancel out that—that nightmare, Mike. No he just didn't think it mattered letting Peter take a risk. Some men are like that. Danger is part of existence. He'd have done the same job himself, if he had thought he could succeed. But he was being followed everywhere. He always is. That is his life, Mike. And I can't face it. I couldn't be happy with him; not now. I suppose I still love him. I can't help it. But I know that he is hard, and insensitive. I'm going to cut him out. Otherwise, Peter will be mixed up in his job, from now on. I know it. His admirer, Mike, not die. I want Peter to live, Mike, not die with a knife in his back." She broke down again sobbing and crying. As best he could Mike comforted her.

"When they reached the 'Continental,' Ted Masters told them, 'Rene is dead.' It was true, what Tony had said. That dispatch from Moscow had cost a great deal.

"Better Off Without Me?" Tony stood beside Peter's bed in the white private ward. There was beating sunlight outside. It was afternoon. Petronella had packed, and left by the mid-day train. Tony spoke, "There's a very flat feeling about Cairo today. He walked to the window, and stood looking out. The bright light revealed the lines of weariness in his face.

"You've said it," agreed Peter. "I'm sorry about last night. I feel it was my fault. I ought to have guessed she was going herself, and stopped her."

"You couldn't help it. I'll never forget what it was like, though, getting your message that Master had gone. When there he was, having a drink with me!"

"Of course I'll write and tell her you were speaking the truth. You couldn't have known Rene would bury the things. If I'd stopped to think, I should have phoned you, and taken an escort."

"I've told her. She knows. But she was right. There was still danger. There is always danger. I take it for granted. The issue seemed sufficiently important, to me, to make the job worth anyone's while. I'd no idea about your injuries. But knowing you, I might have foreseen, as she did, the way you would have acted. The thought of an escort never occurred to you, did it?"

"No." "I'm going to let her go, without trying to justify myself. She has showed me up. What should I have felt, if you hadn't got through alive? You see? She's better without me!"

Peter groaned. "I can't stand the thought of her going off alone, like that. These last few days she has been so happy. Happier than I've ever seen her before. Now, I suppose she is feeling equally miserable. Couldn't you send her a radiogram? Just a word or two, to soften it; to suggest the break needn't be permanent?"

"Took up on the edge of his bed. He pulled at a cotton which hung from Peter's bandaged wrist. He shook his head. "I can't believe it would be for her good. That dispatch gives me orders for Russia; after that, Spain. And tells me there is trouble ahead. Especially in Spain. Reading that document is like looking into the future. And it isn't any better than the past. Last night when she was nearly hysterical, it all came tumbling out—how she hates horror, suffering, trouble. Fascism and Marxism are bound to go on clashing. Peter. It is a fight which will have to be fought to a finish. I don't want to drag her into that. I wouldn't recall her, even if I could."

Peter tossed restlessly. "I suppose you're right. I hope so. But this needn't prevent our being friends, Tony. Do you think they would find any sort of a niche for me in your service?" He sat up, waiting for his answer.

Tony laughed. "Your sister knows you pretty well. She said you would feel like that. But she had a horror of your getting mixed up in it. The least I can do for her is to refuse you."

"But, damn it, she isn't my nurse." "Sorry, Peter. She also told me something else; besides being impulsive, you are not sufficiently discreet when you're drunk. And you are bad on detail. For all three reasons, I'm refusing."

Peter threw his head back on to his pillow disgustfully. "Women are better at home!" he declared. (Copyright, 1939, Grace Elliott Taylor)

TWO WPA OFFICIALS CONVICTED IN N. M.

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Feb. 23 (AP)—The federal government recorded the conviction of two minor WPA figures today as it postponed for two months further action in its prosecution of the New Mexico WPA conspiracy cases. Si Olguin, former WPA foreman, was fined $200 and sentenced to a year in jail on each of seven counts, the terms to be concurrent, after a jury convicted him yesterday of diverting WPA labor and falsifying payrolls. He was charged with using WPA labor to build himself a house. His fellow-defendant, Manuel Turrieta, a timekeeper, was convicted of aiding the payroll falsification and was placed on two years probation. Their convictions were the first obtained by the government since it began on January 30 its trials of indicted persons who originally numbered 73. Cases dismissed totaled 32. One jury acquitted 14 persons, including several close relatives of Senator Dennis Chavez, and deslotted on 11 others. Two other defendants were acquitted yesterday.

Mr. Jones of Abilene, who is visiting his sister, Mrs. J. Tacker and brother, Oscar Jones, here, attended church services at the First Baptist church Sunday. Mrs. D. L. Bond visited in the home of Mrs. J. T. Robertson of Flower Grove last week. Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Hambrick spent Friday with Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Whitmore of Shumake. Jimmie West has sold his farming equipment to Mr. Cherry who will farm the west section this year. Continued cold weather is proving hard on the farmers who are preparing their land for spring planting.

Caldwell Hens Are Establishing Fine Laying Record

In this season of the year when hens are on mid-winter egg strikes, the record compiled by the flock of Mrs. O. B. Caldwell at Chalk constitutes news. Mrs. Caldwell, poultry demonstrator for her home demonstration club, Thursday had figures to show that her 50 hens are laying 48 eggs daily. These records with poultry are nothing new to Mrs. Caldwell, for last year she raised 99 of a lot of 100 baby chicks. The one which did not survive was mashed. Success in the current demonstration is attributed by Mrs. Caldwell to good management of the flock. She keeps a light burning in the poultry house at night and has a generous supply of laying mash available for the hens to peck upon during the night. A gas heater keeps the hen house warm and warm drinking water is available for the hens. Once a day she feeds some rape or chard to supplement the mash diet with green feed. A patch of oats furnish the hens with a chance for exercise and more green feed.

CO-OPERATION COUNTED when Lord Chatfield, Britain's new minister for co-ordination of defense, enlisted help of his daughter, Katharine, for pruning job on Hampshire estate.

GLASSCOCK MEN REPORT FINE RESULTS IN SILAGE FEEDING

GARDEN CITY, Feb. 23—To get at the root of the mounting popularity of trench silos in Glasscock county, it is well to repeat a question County Agent V. G. Young hears most of all. "Is silage a good sheep feed?" Sam Childress, who ranches in the northeast part of the county, answers out of practical experience. "I lambed 700 ewes on my silage put in the silo I constructed in the fall of 1937, and in my 30 years experience in the sheep business, I have never seen ewes go through lambing in such good condition at this time of the year," he said. Childress followed the practice of feeding three pounds of silage and one-third of a pound of cottonseed meal. In addition to his sheep, he wintered 75 head of cattle on the trench silage. "Drouth insurance" is what Harry Echols, farming in the northwest section of the county, calls his stored feed. "I have enough silage to last me for three years," he declared. "This is what I mean by drouth insurance." Three trench silos were constructed in 1937 by Glenn S. Brunson, who operates a 640-acre farm on his 16-section ranch. They sold him on the idea and now, to quote Brunson, "I am planning on putting my feed up the trench silo way from now on as this affords me a good, cheap way to store my feed." His experience in sheep feeding is similar to that of Childress for he fed out 425 cut-back lambs for 115 days on this silage. The lambs averaged 40 pounds when they went on feed and 71 pounds out of the wool in Fort Worth when finished. They sheared seven pounds of wool. Average daily ration was four pounds of ensilage per head and one-third pound of cotton seed meal. No meal was given for the first 15 days and the amount gradually built up to one-third of a pound. Feed On Hand Looking at the picture from a county angle, considerable feed is on hand in the underground silos. According to reports received by County Agent V. G. Young, trench silos of Glasscock county contain 3,840 tons of good feed. This would feed the 7,500 cow population of the county 20 pounds daily for a period of 31 days or the 100,000 sheep population four pounds daily for 19 days. Right now the ensilage has a market value of $19,200, but its greatest value appears to be in feeding out or in storage for drouth periods. This may account for the growth in numbers from three trench silos in this county in 1936 to 27 at the end of 1938. One in seven farms of the county now has a trench silo, Young explained, since 11 of the 78 farms are thus equipped. Thirteen silos are located on places of ranchers who also operate farms in conjunction with their ranches. Young believes that a silo demonstration conducted by E. H. Eudaly, extension service dairyman, and the assistance of J. D. Prewit, district extension agent, aided materially in the popularizing of the trench silo in the county.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE

Without Calomel—And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Early in the AM! The liver should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas builds up your stomach. You get constipated. Your whole system is poisoned and you feel sick and the world looks pink. A mere bowel movement doesn't get at the cause. It takes three good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get those two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." Barmless, grade, get started in making bile flow freely. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name. 25 cents. Stubbornly refuse anything else. When Better Meats Are Sold TATE'S CASH GROCERY AND MARKET Will Sell Them 1200 W. 3rd Big Spring

A Quiet Life For Pershing

Aged General Is Less Active This Winter

TUCSON, Ariz., Feb. 23 (AP)—With age heavy upon his shoulders, Gen. John J. Pershing, just a year after his brush with death, is leading a quiet, secluded life, refusing interviews, receiving only close friends.

At this time a year ago, the 78-year-old World War commander lay critically ill, but recovered in the face of complications which once a physician said "would have killed any other man three days ago."

This winter the general has been far less active than during any of his previous visits.

Recently he has been sitting in the sun at his resort hotel cottage, chatting with such old friends as Gen. Charles G. Dawes, the former vice president, and Gen. James O. Harbord, with whom he was closely associated in World War days.

On other warm days automobile rides take him into the nearby desert, where in past winters he rode horseback with much of the zest he exhibited as a cavalry officer.

The general has made no public appearance this winter and accepts no social engagements.

New Year's day General Pershing felt well enough to take his first automobile ride, and five days later, in a ceremony limited to two minutes received from Henry H. Wilson, Lincoln, Neb., a badge denoting 60 years membership in the Masonic lodge.

When feeling particularly well, General Pershing works on his Memoirs, which may be made into a motion picture.

General Pershing keeps informed of international developments, but, true to his often expressed code of a soldier, he avoids expressing his opinions publicly.

Local Lions Give Midland Program

Big Spring Lions club, in addition to holding its regular meeting here Wednesday, furnished the program for the Midland Lions club.

On the program were Beatrice Peck, Marie Baird, and Juanita Cook, vocal trio accompanied by Mrs. Baird on her accordion. Mrs. Baird also favored with two accordion numbers. J. H. Greene spoke briefly on the subject of "Lionism," and Nat Shick, who accompanied the group, reminded the Midland unit of the approaching livestock show and several important convention dates, including the state postmasters meeting and rodeo. The program was arranged by Virgil Smith and he was accompanied by Mrs. Smith. Midland will reciprocate by furnishing a program for the local club soon.

KIDNEYS MUST REMOVE EXCESS ACIDS

Help 15 Miles of Kidney Tubes Flush Out Poisonous Waste

If you have a stasis of acid waste in your blood, your 15 miles of kidney tubes may be over-worked. These tiny filters and tubes are working day and night to help Nature rid your system of poisonous waste.

When functional kidney disorder results in poisonous matter in your blood, you won't feel well. This may cause dragging backache, rheumatic pains, big pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eye, headaches and dizziness. If you have trouble with frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning, there may be something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Kidneys may need help. Get it now, or better, so ask your druggist for Deane's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out the acid waste from your blood. Get Deane's Pills.

MARKETS Wall Street

NEW YORK, Feb. 23 (AP)—Buyers predominated in a slow stock market today, but concentrated on a few aircraft, steels and miscellaneous industrial shares.

Despite a flurry of orders following Secretary Morgenthau's statement the administration was seeking to encourage business profits and was studying tax revision, the market stayed in its February rut as speculators continued to wait for the spring business outlook to clear.

A few shares got up a point or more at the best, including Chrysler, Westinghouse, Du Pont, United Aircraft, Douglas Aircraft, U. S. Gypsum, Crucible Steel, U. S. Rubber and Omnibus.

Livestock

FORT WORTH, Feb. 23 (AP)—(USDA)—Cattle saleable 1,500; calves saleable 1,000; most short-fed steers and yearlings 7.50-8.50; good heifers 8.00-9.00; good fed steers and yearlings 9.00-9.75; bulk cows 4.50-6.00; slaughter calves mostly 6.00-8.25.

Hogs saleable 1,700; top 7.95, paid by small killers; packer top 7.55; packing sows 6.50-7.00.

Sheep saleable 2,000; most good and choice wooled lambs 8.00; choice 4-H club lambs up to 8.50; shorn lambs 6.25; shorn aged wethers 4.50 down; wooled feeder lambs 6.50-7.25.

CHICAGO, Feb. 23 (AP) (USDA)
Hogs 12,000; top 8.35; good 400-550 lb. packing sows 6.55-7.25.

Cattle 6,000; calves 1,200; light heifers and mixed yearlings steady at 8.00 to 9.50; vealers mainly 11.00 down; choice weighty vealers 11.50-12.00.

MENTHOLATUM
Gives COMFORT Daily

WHY try to open stuffy nostrils by blowing into your handkerchief until your nose is red? Simply insert a little Mentholatum into each nostril. Note how effectively, yet gently, it relieves the stuffiness and soothes irritated membranes. Instead of being a "blowhard," use Mentholatum. It's the clean, gentle way to open stopped-up nostrils due to colds.

Return From McCamey

Mrs. Charles Girdner and son, C. L., have returned from McCamey where they visited for several days.

TO PAY THEIR RESPECTS TO AN OLD VETERAN. the frigate "Constellation" which is listed as the navy's oldest fighting craft, apprentice seamen from the Newport, N. L., naval training station marched on board recently at Newport. The ceremonies marked the 140th anniversary of Constellation's victory over the French frigate "L'Insurgente."

AMONG THE GOYA ETCHINGS presented Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt by the Spanish government is this "Miseries of War" which is shown, along with 79 others, in a capital art gallery. Criticism of her acceptance of the etchings—which are new prints struck off old Goya plates—led Mrs. Roosevelt to explain that she regards them as a personal gift to her as an individual.

Mrs. Bill Edwards Has Surprise Party For Her Husband

Mrs. Bill Edwards surprised her husband with a party on his birthday anniversary Wednesday in their home. A buffet supper was served and dancing and games provided diversion.

Guests presented Mr. Edwards with a gift, and attending were Mr. and Mrs. Orville Bryant, Jess Thornton, Dorothy Harris, Edith Harris, Nellie R. Burns, Lenora Williams, Josephine Mittel, Vernon Smith, Albert Fisher, Jr., Gilbert Gibbs, Imogene Staggs, George Cross, Frances Hurkey, Earnestine Cain, Chock Smith, Curtis Winterrowd, Doris Smith, Good Graves, Jack Bates, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. K. D. Adams, and Alle V. Sims.

World Day Of Prayer To Be Observed Here

Six churches are to take part in the program observing World Day of Prayer to be held Friday at 10 o'clock at the Presbyterian church. The theme of the meeting is to be "Let us put our love into deeds and make it real."

The day of prayer is being observed by churches all over the world and churches taking part here are the Presbyterian, East 4th Baptist, Episcopal, First Methodist, Christian, and Wesley Memorial. Mrs. J. O. Haymes is general leader for the meeting. All women of the churches are invited to attend.

SEVEN FIREMEN ARE BURNED AS GAS IS IGNITED

KANSAS CITY, Feb. 23 (AP)—Seven firemen were burned, four so severely they may die, in an explosion and fire today at a fire station.

The firemen were scrubbing a floor with gasoline at the time. Friction of the scrub brushes caused the gasoline to explode, fire attendants said.

The men critically burned were Norman Brown, 22; Robert Mueller, 29; Homer Troseper, 28; and James Doman, William R. McKensia, George Monahan and Anthony Tremolone were painfully but less severely burned.

SHIP FIRE BROUGHT UNDER CONTROL

GALVESTON, Feb. 23 (AP)—Fire in the cargo holds of the freighter Texas Banker, 260 miles southeast of here, was brought under control last night, the coast guard station here was advised by radio.

The crew of 24 for several hours battled a stubborn blaze. The steamer's captain asked for aid. Coast guard cutters Saranac and Tampa and the freighter Alexander Hoegh started for the scene, but were recalled when ship's officers said the fire was under control.

The 251-foot vessel, bound from Brownsville to New York, carried a general cargo.

The coast guard station here had not been advised whether the ship would proceed or put in at some gulf port for repairs.

There were no passengers aboard. Capt. N. G. Gein of New York was in command. The vessel is owned by the Newtex Line.

MINERS REMAIN UNDERGROUND IN WAGE PROTEST

HAZLETON, Pa., Feb. 23 (AP)—Sixty-three hard coal miners, protesting they had not been paid, remained deep in a Wolfe Collieries company mine at nearby Onidias for the second day today while company officials arranged to distribute current wages they said were five days overdue.

Bunched around steam pipes for warmth on levels 250 and 500 feet below the surface, the miners sent up word, however, that they intended to stay underground until they also received back pay they contended was due them for more than a year from a previous company regime.

The present operating concern was organized a year ago through bankruptcy proceedings.

Mine Superintendent Peter Boyle said no attempt would be made to operate the workings until the issue was settled.

With one exception, the men were informed they could have anything they desired to add to their comfort. Liquor was barred. Meanwhile, fellow workers and friends outside gathered supplies for them.

April Uptrend In Business Forecast

Government And Private Economists Optimistic

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23 (AP)—A group of government economists forecast today that a further business uptrend would begin in April.

After an improvement which carried the federal reserve board index of industrial production from 76 last May to 104 in December, factory paces have been unchanged since Christmas.

The economists who advise major federal departments viewed this recent leveling off as a necessary breath-catching pause. Production, they said, got ahead of consumption, but now the two appear nearly in balance, since retail trade has been holding up well.

Government spending, home building, and possible utility and railroad spending are among factors which the economists named in predicting further upturn.

Private prognosticators also have been optimistic recently, including Col. Leonard P. Ayres of Cleveland, who said last week "business gains so far attained are likely to be pretty well held, and that new advances may well be expected."

Administration officials have said little publicly about the situation, although Secretary Morgenthau of the treasury told a house committee in January he looked for some improvement this year.

President Roosevelt asserted business need not worry about new taxes, the TVA made a deal to buy the Tennessee properties of the Commonwealth and Southern corporation, thus ending a long dispute, and Secretary of Commerce Hopkins is expected to emphasize business cooperation in his speech at Des Moines, Ia., tomorrow night.

The stimulus of federal spending looms large in nearly all the government economists' forecasting. "They point out that the federal budget calls for spending about $3,700,000,000 before June 30, and that much of it will be for public works projects.

Similarly, the experts bank heavily on the demand for building new homes and apartments which got under way last year.

Ely See Club Meets With Mrs. R. B. Bliss

Mrs. R. B. Bliss entertained the Ely See club with luncheon and bridge at the Settles hotel Wednesday afternoon.

George Washington's birthday provided the color accent. Mrs. Jimmy Beale had high score at bridge and Mrs. Elmo Wasson had second high.

Others present were Mrs. Victor Martin, Mrs. Tom Ashley, Mrs. Lee Rogers, Mrs. Bob Wagner, and Mrs. R. R. McEwen.

Mrs. Claude Wilkins Is Hostess To 1939 Bridge Club Here

Mrs. A. Seydler and Mrs. Lena R. Hooser were guests of the 1939 Bridge club when it met Wednesday in the home of Mrs. Claude Wilkins.

Mrs. Floyd Davis had high score and Mrs. R. C. Hitt was awarded the bingo prize.

The hostess served a salad course and others attending were Mrs. Cecil Guthrie, Mrs. C. Chaney, and Mrs. George Fomby.

POPE'S VICAR FRANCESCO CARDINAL MARCHETTI-SELVAGIANI (above) is among the Italian cardinals suggested as a possible successor to Pius. He is 68 years old.
