Driver Hurt As Alamo Truck Turns Over On Big Hill

Gears, Brakes Fail Loaded Truck Runs Wild, Wrecked

Daniel S. Dubose of San Antonio, driver for the Alamo Truck Lines operating through Ozona, suffered a fractured left arm and cuts and bruises Friday morning, when he rode a loaded freight truck on a wild 80-mile-an-hour run down the two-mile long Sheffield hill, 30 miles west of Ozona, and piled up at the bottom in a tangled mass of wreckage.

The big yellow truck, loaded with government freight, started down the big hill in compound low gear. The steep grade caused the loaded truck to pick up excessive speed and the gears on the truck failed. Dubose applied the brakes but the momentum was so great that the brakes soon burned out and were ineffective.

With nothing but rolling wheels Dubose concentrated on the steering wheel, all the control he had on the wild machine. At a speed which Dubose reckoned at 80 miles an hour, the big truck could not be coaxed around the long sweeping curve at the bottom of the hill. It left the road at the curve and turned over in a tangled mass of wrecked truck and scattered freight.

The injured driver, who considered himself fortunate to come out of the crash alive, was trapped in the smashed cab of the truck. A seismograph crew, working nearby, heard the crash and went to the driver's rescue. It was with great difficulty that he was extricated from the wreckage and brought to Ozona for treatment.

The wrecked truck was removed and placed aboard another Saturday afternoon. The scattered freight was placed under guard until it could be loaded to other trucks and continued to its destination.

Ozona Red Cross To Furnish 400 Soldiers' Kits

Individuals And Organizations Asked To Furnish Contents

Ozona chapter of the American Red Cross has agreed to furnish 400 personal kits for United States soldiers embarking for foreign service, and Mrs. Hugh Childress, production chairman for the local chapter, is in charge of the production plan.

Material for the kits, or containers for the personal items which are to be provided, is supplied by the American Red Cross and will be made by local women workers. Mrs. Childress will have this material, cut and ready to be sewed, and persons who will volunteer to make a kit and furnish it are requested to get in touch with her.

Items which are included in the kits are such things as tooth paste, thread, needle, buttons, shoe strings, a package of cigarettes, and other items which would be useful to the soldier in the field. The kits are passed out by the Red Cross at the port of embarkation with each group of soldiers leaving the country. Cost of the items which go to make up the kits is approximately $1. Full instructions will be given for making and furnishing the kits.

Individuals and organizations who will furnish one or more kits are sought by the production chairman. The local chapter plans to produce and ship at least 50 kits a month to national headquarters from which they will be distributed.

Mrs. Childress has also announced that a sewing room is to be established in room 203 of the high school building and one or two sewing machines are being sought to complete this headquarters for the production committee. Persons who have machines which they will lend for this purpose are asked to contact Mrs. Childress. The sewing room is to be maintained so that women who do not have machines at home may spend a few hours each week helping out in the production program at the sewing room. Someone will be in charge at specified hours and will issue materials and instructions.

Mrs. Childress announces a new quota of 60 women's petticoats and 60 children's pajamas to be made up.

Masons Gather For Patriotic Program Monday

O. C. Fisher To Address Members From Four Lodges

Members of Masonic lodges in Big Lake, Sonora and Eldorado are expected to be guests of the Ozona Lodge at a special patriotic program to be held in the local lodge hall Monday evening, September 7.

O. C. Fisher, San Angelo attorney and congressman-elect from the San Angelo district, will deliver a patriotic address on the occasion. Mr. Fisher is a splendid speaker and the local lodge feels fortunate in being able to present him to the gathering.

A barbecue supper is to be provided beginning at 7:30 in the lodge halls, with the business meeting and patriotic address scheduled to get under way at 8:30.

Special invitations have been extended to lodges of the 55th district, of which Ozona is a part. Other lodges in the district are Big Lake, Sonora and Eldorado.

Rev. Clyde Childers, pastor of the First Baptist Church, became a member of the Ozona Rotary Club at its last week's session. Rev. Childers succeeds to the classification vacated by the Rev. Eugene Slater, who left this week for his new charge at the Woodlawn Methodist Church in San Antonio.

"Junk Rally" Scheduled Here Next Saturday

Crockett Citizens Urged To Bring In All Needed Materials

Although Crockett County people have so far been cooperating splendidly in the national salvage campaign, beginning with the paper salvage drive, then the scrap iron, then rubber and now all classes of scrap material, a new "shot in the arm" for the salvage campaign is planned.

A county-wide "Junk Rally" is to be held in Ozona next Saturday, September 5, a rally that is to be carried out in a practical manner—no special entertainment features, but a special day on which every resident of the county is asked to make another search and bring in every available bit of scrap metal or rubber.

"Bomb 'Em With Junk" is the slogan of the national salvage campaign, and Americans are being asked to make the gathering and reclaiming of all scrap a continuing job, never ceasing, never passing up one item, however small, without turning it in. Scrap iron and steel for the furnaces of America turning out materials of war, rubber on which America's war machine will roll over the Axis, tin, zinc, brass, copper, lead and every kind of metal is vitally needed and needed quickly and in abundance.

The concentration point for all scrap material in Crockett county is the C. C. Luther station in Ozona. J. W. North, salvage committee chairman, has announced. Every person in the county is urged to bring in some quantity of scrap next Saturday and to continue to bring it in whenever they find it.

Government established rates will be paid for the scrap material by Mr. Luther, Mr. North announced. Persons who wish to donate scrap to some service organization such as the Red Cross, USO and other group, may do so. Materials so designated will be weighed and payment made to the organization designated.

Average Mexican Luke warm To Mexico's Participation In War, Joe Ripple, Back From Summer In Mexico City, Tells Rotarians.

The average Mexican man on the street in Mexico is not particularly enthusiastic about his country's participation in the present war, although our neighbor to the south is making a considerable contribution to the United Nations war effort in many ways, Joe Ripple, high school Spanish and history teacher, who spent the summer in Mexico attending the University of Mexico, told members of the Rotary Club at its luncheon Tuesday.

Many Mexicans will argue that their country is not at war, Mr. Ripple said, and back up their argument with the assertion that President Avila Camacho's proclamation declared only a "state" of war with the Axis, which they interpreted as not "actual" war. Al-

155,000 Pounds Eight Months Wool Sold At 43 Cents

Sale of 155,000 pounds of eight-months wool, last Spring's clip from a number of Crockett county ranches, was announced yesterday by Melvin Brown, manager of the Ozona Wool and Mohair Co.

The accumulation, all except one lot on storage at the local warehouse, was purchased by Tom Parker, buyer for Emory and Conant, at 43 cents a pound. One lot not included was not for sale.

County Goes Over Top In War Bond Sales For August

$22,750 Total Sales For Month; September Quota $21,600

Answering the appeal of Scott Peters, Crockett county's war bond sales chairman, Crockett county investors went over the top with the county's August quota when they bought an additional $7,450 in the last three days of the month.

Last week the month's sales lacked $6,200 of reaching the month's assigned quota of $21,500. Tuesday Mr. Peters reported the drive well over the top, with a total sales for the month of $22,750, a margin of $1,150 over the quota.

Crockett county's new quota for the month of September was announced this week by Postmaster J. R. Kersey, on advice from the treasury department, at $21,600.

General Rains, Pushed By Gulf Storm, Fall Here

High Winds Accompany Slow Falling, Soaking Moisture

Pushed ahead of the gulf hurricane which lashed at Texas coastal areas Saturday night and Sunday, rain clouds poured out a generous soaking for West Texas range lands Sunday and Monday, to the accompaniment of winds that reached almost gale proportions, a backlash from the gulf storm.

Aside from a few branches broken from trees and green pecans twisted from bearing trees, no damage was done in Ozona by the high wind. Rains which began shortly after noon Sunday increased in volume as the winds rose higher and continued falling throughout the afternoon and night, with intermittent showers continuing Monday morning.

Falls in the country ranging up to 3 1/2 inches were reported by ranchers. It is believed that the heavy rains were general throughout the county. The fall was the slow, soaking kind that will put range lands in fine condition for late fall and winter growth of feed.

Ozona received 2.25 inches of the Sunday and Monday rainfall.

Schools Open With Sharp Drop In Enrollment

Grade And Latin American Schools Show Biggest Drop

With a sharp decline in enrollment from the opening day's figures of a year ago, Ozona public schools opened for the 51st time Monday with appropriate exercises in the High School auditorium.

Declines in enrollment were noted in all departments, with the greatest drops recorded in the grade school and the Latin-American school. The grade school enrollment dropped from 181 the opening day last year to 140 this year, while in the Latin-American school the drop was from 183 last year to 152 Monday. The high school enrollment figure dropped to 80 this year from 88 last year. In the kindergarten, the 1942-43 opening day enrollment was 14 against 19 last year.

The auditorium was well filled with students and parents Monday morning for the formal opening exercises. The exercises opened with the invocation by the Rev. Eugene Slater and singing of "God Bless America" by the Assembly. Miss Rebecca Anderson leading. New teachers and those transferred from the Latin-American school to the high and grade school system were introduced by Supt. C. S. Denham, after which Miss Ruth Graden played a violin number, Miss Anderson accompanying.

The principal address of the opening day was made by the Rev. Slater, who spoke on the value of education for useful and full living. Judge Charles E. Davidson, participating for the 51st time in Ozona schools opening exercises, spoke briefly to the group, bringing greetings from the school board and detailing some of the aims of the administration in promoting the best school system possible for Ozona.

Mrs. Bryan McDonald, president of the Parent-Teacher Association for the 1942-43 season, was introduced and told of the year's aims and responsibilities of P. T. A. membership. The meeting closed after routine announcements concerning registration and assignments.

Songs Of 1917-18 To Feature Sing Song Program

Miss Rebecca Anderson To Direct Singing Friday Evening

Ozonans who attend the weekly sing-songs each Friday evening will hark back to the days of the first World War and the songs that sent chills of patriotic fervor racing up and down the spine when the old numbers of 1917 and '18 are brushed off for this week's song fest in the High School Auditorium.

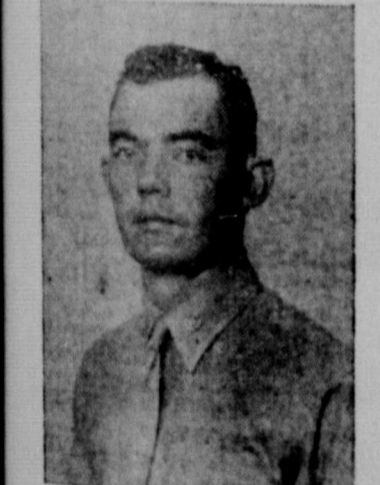

Mrs. R. A. Harrell, in charge of arrangements for this week's sing-song, has announced that the first World War songs which cheered American doughboys and bolstered the home front—"Good-bye Broadway, Hello France," "K-K-K-Raty," "How You Gonna Keep 'Em Down on the Farm" and others—will be sung.

Whereas the weekly sing-songs were started as an outdoor feature, on the lawn between the school buildings, rain last week forced the group inside and this week it has been decided that it will be more satisfactory again to move into the auditorium. Even if the weather is clear, the grass will still be wet, it was pointed out, and the crowd will be more comfortable on the inside.

Mrs. H. B. Tandy, who has just returned from a visit with her husband, Capt. H. B. Tandy, at Fort Hancock, N. J., will describe something of army life as she ob-

Anonymous Donor Of $1 Bills To Selectees

CLOSED SHOP THROTTLES MUSIC WORLD

Musical progress is being stopped by a little man in Chicago. He is taking us back 50 years, beyond the early days of the radio, beyond the phonograph days when no melody lingered on beyond its echo.

Yes, musical progress is being stopped. Amateurs are being barred from the air by the closed shop. Army and Navy bands cannot play the national anthem at war bond rallies because of the closed shop.

Already a triple threat to our war effort, the closed shop extends its long tentacles into our homes and places of amusement thus not only hampering amateur musical development but endangering national morale as well.

Climaxing a series of closed shop bills with the law, AFM now faces an aroused government and public opinion. If the present edict of the music masters holds, America's anti-racket record cracks, to our dying day we shall listen only to—"the closed shop"—"the closed shop"—"the closed shop"

CHINA COMES ASHORE

One of the little international ironies of our time has been that, though whenever tired of showering praise on the Chinese in China, we did not allow Chinese sailors to come ashore in the United States.

Now the War Shipping Administration, moved by the growing and understandable discontent among Chinese crews and by protests from Americans who would like to see a little brotherly kindness on our own docks, as well as ten thousand miles away, has opened a "free gangway" to sixty-two Chinese seamen from a British freighter in harbor here.

Labor Shortage Problem Strikes Stockman office

The Stockman has this week bowed to the inevitable—the war-created shortage of labor, especially skilled labor. Linotype operators and printers are as scarce as other skilled craftsmen, most of whom have been called into the armed services or have gone into the more lucrative war industries jobs.

Because of inability so far to secure the services of a competent compositor to replace Mr. Crisman, who left for Roswell, N. M., the Stockman is, of necessity, smaller in size this week, a condition which we regret but which, like most of our other troubles of today, we must blame on Hitler and Hirohito.

CONCERNING THE WEATHER

An old Texas proverb says that "who tries to predict Texas weather is either a fool or a newcomer." And anecdotes from the Texas Collection of the University of Texas Library seem to bear it out.

Thomas North, adventurer and soldier of fortune during the Civil War, tells of an interesting experience in his book, "Five Years in Texas, or What You Did Not Hear During the War," published in 1871.

"Texas is a country of great extremes and contradictions. It is the hottest and coldest; the driest and wettest; it has the most streams and the least water; the best soil and the poorest; the most cattle and the least milk, and butter, and cheese, and beef; the most salubrious climate and most sudden changes of weather; the least rain and the heaviest rain-storms; the sunniest sky and most terrific thunderstorms; the most balmy Gulf breezes and most bitter, biting northerly winds; long rivers and least navigation; the heaviest pine forests and least pine lumber; the best types of society, and the meanest the sun ever shone upon."

TEUTON ON A TOOT

For shouting "Heil Hitler" on the street, a St. Louisan was fined $25 on each of two charges. Can anybody tell us offhand what the penalty would be for shouting "Heil Roosevelt" in Berlin?—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

WHO DOES UNDERSTAND?

Representative Ludlow's protest that a packer shouldn't be expected to buy a hog for $30, convert it into meat products and then sell it for $25 indicates that he fails to understand the economic philosophy of the New Deal.—Indianapolis News.

HOW MANY MEN?

Judging from official announcements, we have about four million men in the Army and one million in the Navy, a total of five million under arms, as contrasted with 3,673,888 in the Army and 260,162 in the Navy at the close of World War I.

Isn't it about time we considered calling a halt? The course of this war raises strong question whether we can do anything with 10 million soldiers. Already we are having difficulty getting manpower for production. Doubling the size of the Army means taking another five millions from the production force that already is insufficient to service the present Army plus our Allies.

Texas Continue to Make Records In Naval Enlistments

Texas continued to supply its portion of men to the U. S. Navy, as evidenced by another record being broken in the South and West Texas Recruiting District, with headquarters at Houston, when 236 men enlisted for naval service August 20th and a total of 629 men for August 18, 19 and 20. It was announced by Lieutenant J. F. Beebe, Officer-in-Charge of the U. S. Navy Recruiting Station, Houston, Texas.

"Most men between the ages of 17 and 50 are beginning to realize that they must make their arrangements to enter some branch of military service and use their talents against the Axis," Lieutenant Beebe said, "and while many advanced enlistments are still open for enlistment where they can use their military training for higher ratings with higher pay and to serve America with the best of their ability."

The Navy Construction Engineering Corps, better known as the "SEABEES," still have openings for men with mechanical and construction experience. Ratings up to and including Chief Petty Officer are open to men that are qualified.

A&M To Train Men For Army Air Service Transport Pilots

COLLEGE STATION — Army Air Force Pilot Training will be available this fall at A. & M. College to men who are not able to meet rigid requirements for combat pilot training. Under the plan recently inaugurated by the Civilian Pilot Training Service of the Civil Aeronautics Administration in collaboration with the United States Army Air Service Training Command, it is now possible for men between the ages of 18 and 37 to qualify as Army Air Service Pilots for air cargo transport, ferry command, and flight instructors. This plan opens a field of pilot training which previously has been closed to those who have minor deficiencies which bar them from Army Pilot Training. The facilities of A. & M. College are being made available for training this group.

There are no educational requirements. Men between the ages of 18 and 27 must have received a grade between 65 and 80 in the Army Air Corps intelligence test or must have failed the Army Air Corps physical examination for combat pilot training. Men between 27 and 37 need not have taken any of the above examinations. All candidates must be able to present a release from their local Selective Service board giving permission to enroll in this training and they must be willing to enlist in the United States Army Air Service Enlisted Reserve.

"Every hour of each day of battle in Bataan and Corregidor this truth had been pounded into our hearts and minds, that this war is indeed a war for the survival of liberty in the modern world, for the existence of free institutions under which alone the spirit of man can breathe in joy and dignity.

"But over and above the horrors of war, far and beyond the pain, the agony, and the suffering, supreme over destruction and death there was something fine and noble in the Battle of the Philippines. It was the comradeship of the American and Filipino soldier who fought side by side, the sons and grandsons of men who only forty years ago fought each other, the union of two peoples, once enemies, welded together by mutual understanding and friendship, an irrefutable evidence of the workability of Rotary ideals."

can. At night everybody drives with parking lights only, which gives one an eerie feeling, and an uneasy one, too, since it is not pleasant to drive down the street expecting a car to pop out of a dark side street with only parking lights burning.

Mr. Ripple said that Mexico City is enjoying the greatest building boom in its history, by actual count, fifteen multi-storied apartment houses, modern in every respect, being under construction. One of the things which impresses an American in Mexico is the almost complete absence of a middle class of people, all being either wealthy or in abject poverty. There are few medium priced cars in Mexico, he said, most of them being either Buicks, Packards, Cadillacs or other high priced cars. And another peculiar fact is that 95 per cent of all cars in Mexico will be found in Mexico City, he declared.

The Tuesday meeting was designated as Gene Slater Day, the club honoring the Rev. Eugene Slater, one of the founders and a charter member of the club, who attended his last meeting of the club as a member, leaving for San Antonio to become pastor of Woodlawn Methodist Church. President Scott Peters expressed the club's appreciation for Rev. Slater's service to the group and to the community during his life here and invited him to visit the club at every opportunity.

Other guests present for the day were Early Baggett, James Baggett, Heyward White, Hart Johnson of Fort Stockton, and Leroy Wren of San Angelo.

Friends from the entire community were invited and despite the heavy rain and wind, a full house was on hand to honor the Slaters.

The Ozona Rotary Club, which Rev. Slater aided in founding, declared Tuesday as Gene Slater Day and President Scott Peters expressed the club's appreciation for the retiring member and his efforts on behalf of the club since its organization.

The lambs have been on feed nearly three weeks.

Official Canvass Of Second Primary Shows Minor Changes

Only two minor corrections in the unofficial returns from the Powell Field box, returns of the recent second primary election were made in the official canvass of the returns, Houston Smith, county Democratic chairman, announces.

Both corrections were in the returns from the Powell Field box, returns from which were not received until late last week. The official returns from that box gave John Lee Smith an additional 3 votes for lieutenant governor, making the final count in that race in this county 296 for Smith to 239 for Beck. In the race for state treasurer, Jesse James was credited with 20 votes instead of 18 as reported in the unofficial returns, to 10 for Hatcher, the total official count in this race standing 322 for James and 213 for Hatcher.

Sheep And Goat Directors Meet In Mineral Wells

Problems Of Industry Topics At Session Sept. 8 & 9

Meeting in an "off the range" section, Directors of the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers' Association convene in Mineral Wells on September 8th and 9th for their last 1942 quarterly Directors meeting. During the past few years large numbers of sheep and goats have been introduced into the Palo Pinto County area. Sheepmen from Edwards Plateau, anxious to meet these new fellow stockmen have selected Mineral Wells for this meeting.

TS&GRA Directors, their wives and visiting stockmen, will be entertained by a dance in the air-conditioned Baker Hotel Rendezvous on the night of September 8th, with Jack Amlung and his famous orchestra furnishing the music.

Directors will be welcomed at their regular business session, starting at 10:00 a. m. September 9th at the Baker Hotel, by Mayor John C. Miller of Mineral Wells. Following the morning session, visitors will be guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. C. Mosley and Palo Pinto County stockmen, at a noon barbecue on the Mosley Brazos Valley Ranch, just a few miles south of Mineral Wells on Highway 281.

All Association Directors, members and friends are urged to attend this meeting. Officers of the Association will discuss activities of the past quarter as well as new problems facing the industry. Topics of most interest will be those concerning the wool and mohair situations, lamb ceilings, freight rates, and similar problems. Several interesting speakers are expected to be present.

Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Harvick, Jim Ad, Mary Louise and Ann, spent the week-end in Abilene where they visited Martin Harvick, attached to the Army medical corps in Abilene.
