

This Week

OUR PROSPERITY'S SPREAD. THE PORTERS ARRIVE. REALLY TWO CHANGES, RED, AND BRIGHT RED.

The good thing about American prosperity is that it spreads further and further from the great central sources of wealth. In ancient days, a rich nobleman in his palace was surrounded by ignorant, miserable, half-starved, barefoot peasants. Later the owner of a great factory in New England had the "satisfaction" of knowing as he lay in bed before daybreak that the men and women were already on the way to his mill to make money for him and earn for themselves barely enough to keep alive.

That has changed, and will change more. Millions of men go to work in automobiles. And the automobile widens their sphere of labor. A carpenter or bricklayer can work comfortably anywhere within fifteen or twenty miles of his dwelling. That change is as important, almost, as the invention of the locomotive.

The Dives-Lazarus dinner party is over. Dives still has more than he needs, more than he should have, but Lazarus has plenty, and travels in his little limousine while waiting to travel in Abraham's loam.

It would have interested you to see a Southern Pacific train getting ready to start from Oakland, one evening last week. Half a dozen well-kept, good automobiles were up, one after another. A man, well dressed, contented, prosperous-looking, got out of each.

His wife, who changed to the wheel to drive the car home, was prosperous-looking and proud to take her husband to his work. Those were the good porters of the Southern Pacific Pullman cars and their wives.

What a change from the days of Uncle Tom's Cabin, and the change is as great for white workers as it is for colored men. Seventy-five years ago pious New Englanders, excited about "abolition" and the terrible lot of poor black slaves in the South, were told by the late Albert Brisbane, "By all means free the black slaves in the South. But what about white slaves in your own New England factories? What about the white women who go to work in your cotton mills before daylight and get home after dark? It is worse than black slavery, because the black slave owner keeps him fed and healthy that he may continue to live and work, whereas you don't care what happens to your white slaves, since you can get, for nothing, more when they die."

Slavery can be and has been as bad on a "wage basis" as on a basis of physical slave ownership. Modern industry, highly productive, intensely organized, immensely profitable, takes a step toward civilization when it allows those that do the work and produce the comforts to have some comfort for themselves.

Those colored women, driving their husbands to work, in good automobiles, will cause the foolish to ask, "Dear me, what is the world coming to?" It is coming to better days, greater happiness for the crowd and greater security for the few that skim off the cream.

Certain clergymen are accused of being "red." Their accusers want them investigated by a Congressional Judiciary Committee.

A clergyman is "red" when he doesn't believe that a whale swallowed Jonah, and coughed him up on the land.

He is "red" if he believes that the advice to give all to the poor was really meant seriously.

He is "red" if he says the four angels could not have stood on the four corners of the earth because it hasn't four corners.

And he is BRIGHT red, if he thinks anything should be done to let everybody have enough* here, where so many have too much.

WOMEN BEGIN ANNUAL CLEAN UP CAMPAIGN

General Clean-Up Of Entire City Urged By Ozona Club

USE COUNTY CARS

Rubbish Will Be Hauled Free Of Cost To Property Owners

Ozona's annual Clean-Up Campaign under the direction of the Civic Department of the Ozona Women's Club will begin in the next few days, it was decided at the last meeting of the department and arrangements were being made this week with county officials for hauling trash out, and a general spring "house-cleaning" throughout the city.

The town has been divided into five sections for the clean-up drive and committees have been appointed to oversee the work. Mrs. J. C. Montgomery is chairman of the Civic Department and Mrs. Joe Pierce is secretary-treasurer.

Mrs. N. W. Graham was appointed general chairman of the Clean-Up campaign, with Mrs. Joe Pierce serving with her on the general committee. The following divisions have been made in the town, with the committees who will be in charge of the clean-up work in each: North, Mrs. Bill Grimmer and Mrs. R. R. Dudley; East, Mrs. C. C. Montgomery and Mrs. J. W. Henderson, Jr.; South, Mrs. Lee Childress and Mrs. Strick Harvick; West, Mrs. J. A. Fussell and Mrs. Collins Coates; Business Section, Mrs. Bert Kincaid and Mrs. J. C. Montgomery.

The clean-up campaign will be financed by the county as has been done in the past. The county will furnish trucks and men for hauling trash out of the city and men to clean up public places.

Owners of residence houses and places of business will be asked to clean up their respective premises thoroughly. All cans, trash and other rubbish may be placed in sacks, cans, etc. and if these are put out where truck men can find them they will be hauled to the dump ground free of cost to the resident or business man.

Members of the club and workers on the various committees are planning to make the clean-up campaign this year the most thorough ever attempted here, it was declared, and the full co-operation of every business man and resident of the town is earnestly requested. If everybody will join in the clean-up work and gather up every bit of trash and rubbish from their premises, it will be hauled away free of cost and the town will be much more attractive during the spring summer months, it was pointed out.

Business men are especially urged to clean up behind their stores, the committee announced. Trucks will be around in a few days and everybody is urged to get busy immediately.

Crew Of Mexicans At Work On Golf Course

A dozen or more Mexican workers and several trucks were put to work Monday at the Ozona Golf Course putting it in shape for play.

The workers were first put to clearing the fairways of shrubbery and in raking rocks, etc. from the fairways. A group of local volunteer workers will be called together as soon as things are in readiness, to spend a few hours a day in shaping up the course and getting it in readiness for play.

The crew of Mexican workmen is being supervised by Monroe and Early Baggett.

Misses Nettie and Mattie D. Word went to San Angelo Friday, returning by way of Eldorado where they stopped off for the opera staged by Ozona talent.

Justice Holmes at 86

Twenty-five years ago President Roosevelt called Oliver Wendell Holmes, then 61, to the United States Supreme Court bench. Now at 86 he is still as active as any of the nine justices. "Work is the secret," he says, "and I will never retire."

RACE HORSE IS KILLED, RIDER HURT IN FALL

Rusty Smith Bruised In Spill At Fair Ground Track Monday

OWNED BY PERNER

Animal Left Track At Turn And Fell Thru Outside Fence

"Cucumber," temperamental race horse owned by Paul Perner, was almost instantly killed and Rusty Smith, his rider, was bruised and cut about the head and face Monday morning when the horse quit the track during a try-out at the Crockett County Fair Grounds race track and plunged through the outside railing around the track.

"Cucumber" was being "stretched out" around the track in preparation for a matched race with two other horses slated for April 9 at the local track. He had been giving some trouble lately, it was reported, and Smith was induced to give him a try Monday morning.

At the north end of the track he became unruly and plunged into the railing. In going over the fence the horse broke one leg. He is believed to have broken his neck when he landed on the ground. He scrambled to his feet and trotted off toward the grandstand, apparently not seriously hurt, but a few feet from the grandstand, he dropped dead.

Smith suffered painful scratches about the face but was not seriously hurt. The fact that he was riding with a light racing saddle is believed to have saved his life. He was able to free himself from the saddle as the horse went down and fell free of the animal.

"Cucumber" was more or less of a stranger on the local track and was being trained for the April match by Dad Allen.

ACTIVITY IN OIL LEASING ON INCREASE

Considerable Trading In Leases, Permits Etc. Reported

SEVERAL DRILLING

Showings Reported In Pierce Test, Couch Down 25,00 Feet

With a number of producing wells in the county, drilling under way in more than a half dozen others, leasing activity soaring and trading in royalties, permits, etc. active, the eyes of the oil world are being turned toward Crockett County for the next big play, according to observers.

Leasing has been unusually active in the county during the last few weeks, according to reports. Several new wells have been started also recently and several showings have been encountered in wells under the drill.

The test on the J. S. Pierce, Sr. ranch in the southwest quarter of section 150, Block 6 is now drilling in the neighborhood of 800 feet. Several showings have been reported recently in this test at shallow levels and prospects are said to be good.

The J. H. Williams No. 1 was spudded in in the northern part of the county about ten days ago and drilling is now under way. The well is located about 150 feet from the southeast line of Section 53, Block GG. The new well is in the Powell field several wells from the Republic Production Co. No. 1 producer. Drillers expect to hit the pay about May 21, it is declared.

The V. T. Bolin interests of Ft. Worth, drilling on the Collins Coates ranch in the western part of the county, report their well down about 1,000 feet. This well looks better for a real producer than any going down in the area, according to oil men.

The World Oil Company test on the William Schneeman ranch, Section 57, Block BB of the EL & R R Ry survey in the northern part of the county, is reported down 2150 feet with good prospects.

Among recent trading in leases reported is a five year lease given by W. M. Noelke and T. J. Murphy, Crockett and Irion county ranchers, on 320 acres, the south half of section 48, Block 31 of the H. & T. C. Ry. Co. survey in northwest Crockett County to the Humble Oil and Refining Co. The consideration was not announced.

A pump station lease has been given by W. W. Weathered of Coleman to the Humble Oil & Refining Co. on part of Section 30, Block 31, H. & T. C. Ry. Co. survey in northwest Crockett County. The lease is for a period of 25 years in connection with the operation of the Humble pipe lines throughout that area.

H. C. Morris of Dallas has conveyed to Claude F. Morgan of San Antonio a 1-24 interest in oil and gas royalties in 89 tracts of land consisting of 51,648 acres known as the J. S. Todd N. H. ranch located in Crockett County. A number of Crockett County investors are interested in the development of these tracts.

A pipe line grant by J. H. Tippet of Rankin to the Humble Oil & Refining Co. on Section 28, of Block 31, H. & T. C. Ry. Co. survey and Section 4, Martha Reeves survey and Sections 2 and 9, Block 36, University lands in Crockett County has also been recorded recently.

Transfer of Permit No. 8161 on the east one-half of section 25, University lands in Crockett County by Tom Nolen to the Humble Oil and Refining Co. is another recent deal recorded here.

A. T. Freet of Ft. Stockton has sold to Max W. Keonig of San Antonio a 1-2 interest in Permit No. 11752, covering 1680 acres along the Pecos river bed between Crane

Russian Buyers Seek Tex. Sheep

Representatives Inquire About Pure Bred Tex as Animals

Members of the sheep buying commission of the Russian government may be on hand for the annual meeting and sale of the Sheep and Goat Raisers Association of Texas, to be held at Kerrville July 19, 20 and 21, according to N. W. Graham, secretary of the organization.

Inquiries have been received by the secretary and also by J. M. Jones of the experiment station, from the Amtorg Trading Corporation, agents of the Russian buyers, regarding available pure bred Texas sheep. This corporation has in the past purchased pure bred Rambouillets for export to Russia and "such purchases may be continued from time to time throughout the United States," according to a letter received by the secretary here.

The concern has been advised of the dates of the annual show and sale at Kerrville this year and it is possible that representatives may be on hand for that event to judge the possibilities of Texas sheep from those displayed there. It is expected that more than 1,000 head of sheep will be sold from the ring at Kerrville this year.

LAND SUITS SWELL CIVIL DOCKET HERE

Court Term Opening On April 25 To Face Full Docket

NEW CASES FILED

Much Crockett County Land Involved In Legal Tangles

The Crockett County district court will face a fairly full civil docket when it convenes in the regular summer session here Monday, April 25, according to records of filings in the county clerk's office.

Several new cases have been filed in the last few days in preparation for the opening of the court term. Practically all of these involve Crockett County lands, titles and leases.

Among the suits involving Crockett County lands of which notice has been posted here recently is J. B. Mayberry and the San Antonio styled Chas. F. Mabry against National Bank, involving 320 acres of land out of the east 1/2 of Section 41, Block 31, H. & T. C. Ry. Co. survey in the northwestern part of the county. The plaintiff's petition alleges that the defendants failed to deliver lease contract. This suit is to be tried in Tom Green district court.

Cases filed for trial in the Crockett County district court at the coming session include one styled W. M. Noelke vs. P. L. Childress, for title and possession of several sections of land in the northwestern portion of the county.

Henry M. Half of Mineral wells has filed suit against C. W. Webster of Fort Worth and about 30 other defendants for damages and plaintiff's title to 12,080 acres of land bordering the Pecos River, Section 51 to 70, I. & G. N. Ry. survey. The suit is for correction of lease contracts and deeds made by defendants.

Notice has also been filed in the clerk's office here of a suit styled R. H. Cooke, Jr. of Collinsworth County, vs. J. Shugar of Dallas, pending in the district court of Dallas County, involving the south 1/2 of Section 12, Block FP of the T. C. Ry. Co. survey, in the northwestern part of the county. The cause of action is to compel defendant to convey land to plaintiff, according to the notice.

Another suit involving Crockett County land is now on trial in the

HOSPITAL FUND WORKERS TO BE AT CC MEETING

Committee Of Women To Make Report To Body Mon. Night

WILL PUSH DRIVE

Hope To Have Quota Subscribed Before Meeting Night

Ozona's hospital project will likely come to a head Monday night at the regular meeting of the Chamber of Commerce.

Members of the hospital drive committee composed of a group of women appointed by President S. E. Couch of the Chamber at a recent meeting, have announced thru Mrs. Laura Hoover, chairman, that they will be on hand at the meeting Monday night.

The committee will likely have its report on the progress of the drive for subscriptions for stock in the institution and will discuss with the Chamber the program of procedure in the campaign.

Although no reports have been received by Mrs. Hoover from members of her committee, it is believed that the goal of $12,000 set in the drive will have been reached by the time of the Chamber of Commerce meeting Monday night.

In that event, the question of whether or not Ozona and Crockett County want a hospital set up in the frame building now occupied by the Drennan Hotel and available as a hospital site, or whether a new and modern building should be erected on a site in the northwest part of town which Mrs. Hoover offers to donate for the purpose, will be set up for discussion at the Chamber session.

Approximately $5,600 had already been subscribed through the efforts of Mrs. Hoover before the committee of women was named by the Chamber of Commerce. The committee has been at work more than two weeks and judging from scattering reports is meeting with considerable success in its undertaking.

The committee is composed of the following women: Mrs. Laura Hoover, chairman, Mrs. Bert Kincaid, Mrs. Hugh Childress, Mrs. P. T. Robison, Mrs. W. R. Bargett, Mrs. W. A. Adams, Mrs. Orville Word, Mrs. N. W. Graham and Mrs. L. B. Adams.

Rodeo Program For Club Women

Chuck Wagon Supper To Follow Entertainment May 3

A rodeo program with a full card of typical western stunts, followed by a chuck wagon supper will be features of the entertainment to be presented for the benefit of visiting club women here for the sixth district convention of the Federated Woman's Club to be held here May 3, 4, and 5.

The rodeo program will be staged at the fair grounds beginning at 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon and will last until time for the chuck wagon dinner, according to Joe Pierce, Jr., in charge of arrangement of the events.

More than 100 women are expected to be here for the convention and other entertainment plans are being worked out by local club women for the three days meet.

THE OZONA STOCKMAN

Published Every Thursday Morning at Ozona, Texas, County Seat of Crockett County by

W. EVART WHITE EDITOR and PUBLISHER Entered at the Post Office at Ozona, Texas, as Second Class Mail Matter under Act of Congress, March 3rd, 1879.

Ozona, Texas, Thursday March 31, 1927.

It's Springtime and Springtime brings house-cleaning time.

It's house-cleaning time for Ozona. The annual Clean-Up Campaign, fostered by the Civic Department of the Ozona Woman's Club, has been arranged by club leaders to begin immediately and an appeal has been sent out by the members of the committee for full co-operation on the part of Ozona people.

The clean-up drive comes none too early for Ozona. There have been evidences of the need for such a campaign for some time. Winter accumulations are becoming unsightly with the bright sunshine and fresh greenness of spring.

The annual clean-up campaign staged by the women's club is an opportunity for Ozona people to have their premises cleaned and the rubbish hauled without cost. The county has agreed to furnish trucks for hauling the trash to the dump ground. Residents and business men are urged to clean up their premises thoroughly and to put cans and other rubbish in sacks or boxes and place these outside somewhere where they will be easily accessible to truck drivers and they will be hauled away free of cost.

Although no final reports have been turned in to the chairman, it is understood considerable progress is being made by members of the committee of women at work on the hospital fund drive. Each member of the committee has been given a list of about ten names of persons who have not yet contributed to the hospital drive and the committee has been at work more than a week interviewing the citizens on their respective lists.

As soon as the necessary amount has been subscribed a meeting of stockholders will be called and plans for setting up the hospital discussed.

The project will be open for a free discussion at this meeting. Mrs. Hoover said, and any suggestions will be welcomed. The matter of whether or not Ozona wants to take over the old Kincaid building and remodel it for a hospital or erect a new building on a tract of land across the draw offered by Mrs. Hoover for that purpose will be among the problems to be thrashed out at that meeting.

If results are commensurate with efforts, the women's committee should finish its work by the end of this week at the latest and Mrs. Hoover hopes to be able to call the meeting of stockholders by the first of next week. If a decision is made at this meeting, it should not be long before actual construction work is begun. A hospital in full operation before spring is far advanced would be a great event for Ozona.

Irion County is in the throes of a two-cornered project—a fight to move the courthouse from Sherwood to Mertzon and to float a bond issue for the construction of highways through the county. Crockett County is faced with only one project at present, that of building good roads. We wonder if Irion County is going to beat us to it in solving her two-headed problem while we are still talking about our single one.

Two committees, named at the recent meeting of the Chamber of Commerce, are at work gathering data on the subject of building a a hard surfaced road between Ozona and Barnhart, and on the cost of erecting a new school building in Ozona or adding to the present one. As soon as the road committee has gathered sufficient data, the matter will be placed before Crockett County people and if the sentiment is in favor of a vote on the subject an election will be asked in a short while.

It is understood that the state highway department will be back in the road building business in August and in that case it is possible that Crockett County will be able to get state and federal aid on its road building projects. If that is possible, a permanent, hard-surfaced road would be in sight. Of course, the people of Crockett County want the best road that it is possible for them to construct, but if it cannot be a hard surfaced road at this time, it should be surfaced with some kind of material that will make it a passable road in all kinds of weather. A road as important to a community as that one is to Ozona should not long be neglected.

When you need windmill repair work, call me. I have a complete new outfit and will do your work promptly.

About Your Health Things You Should Know

HYDROPHOBIA

An ancient term, but one which comes before us every now and then, with an acuteness that pales the face with terror. In its literal meaning, hydrophobia is "dread of water," as "photophobia" is "dread of light." All "phobias" in medical language are "dreads."

"Rabies"—a shorter word, has its origin in "rage"—madness—from the French, hence, "mad-dog." Other animals than the dog are susceptible to rabies, the horse, the cow, the cat—and the rodents, rats, mice, etc. It has been suggested that the bite of the skunk may be followed by hydrophobia. The poison is one of the most active known, and, until the discovery of the Pasteur treatment, its presence spelled certain death.

Something may be said here, that will prove of value to my reader; if your pet suddenly shows signs of illness, you should at once put him into an absolutely safe isolation, and summon a skilled veterinary doctor. If your little dog begins to act strangely—shows no sign of affection for you—hides himself—trembles, as if excited or suffering, you cannot be too active in precaution; let me repeat, better be safe than sorry.

In the very unfortunate event of your being bitten by a dog, bear in mind that a bite through clothing is many times less liable to be followed by infection than one on a bare surface. Another point: The dog that bites you should be imprisoned and watched to see if he is actually diseased; to kill him and burn his body is to destroy valuable evidence.

The so-called "mad-stone," known in rural communities, has no known scientific value, and should not be depended upon; cases of reported "cures" by it were not hydrophobic to begin with. One of the brightest stars in the crown of scientific medicine is its mastery of this dread infection.

P. H. I. Londos Winner Over Tiger Man

Ozona Negroes Win 1 And Lose 1 In Prelim Boxing Bout

Billy Londos, Greek strong man, won the decision Saturday night over Tiger Dixon of Philadelphia in one of the roughest wrestling bouts ever staged here. With clawing, slapping and rough handling liberally spiced throughout the match, it was pocked with thrills to the finish.

Ozona negroes won one and lost one in the preliminary boxing events of the evening. Curley Daniels, local prize boy, won the referee's decision in a four-round boxing bout against a San Angelo Mexican.

The feature leather pushing card for the evening was a match between Jack Shields, San Angelo negro knockout artist, and Horace Hubbard, local heavyweight negro. The match had gone but a few seconds when Shields connected with a left hook to the jaw that sent the giant negro mechanic sprawling to the mat for the count of ten. After this sensational finish the negroes came back into the ring for a two round sparring exhibition.

Londos won the first fall in 20 minutes flat with a head lock that pinned Dixon's shoulders to the mat. Dixon came back with a vicious attack of head locks, toe holds, arm locks and scissors. Once in the height of the furious battle, Dixon struck Londos over the eye with his elbow, inflicting a wound that bled freely. Dixon finally conquered the big Greek with a toe-hold for the second fall.

Londos won the final fall in 15 minutes with a leg split.

Kid Pancho, San Angelo Mexican boxer, issued a challenge to Curley Daniels, Ozona's leather pushing shine boy, for a bout at the next wrestling event, which is expected to be in about two weeks.

Mexicans Escape Injury In Mishap

Two Mexicans driving an open model Ford car narrowly escaped serious injury Friday afternoon when their car turned over near the Mexican school between Ozona and "Little Mexico."

The driver of the car evidently lost control of the steering wheel and after swerving from one side of the road to the other several times, it turned a complete flip, landing on its wheels. The top was ripped from the car but it was not otherwise seriously damaged. Neither of the occupants of the car was injured beyond a few slight bruises.

ANNOUNCING

Starting April 1st we will do business on a CASH basis. This will in no way be clumsy or unpleasant. Keep right on putting in your orders AFTER the first as you did before. We will see you between then and the 10th and arrange for the month of April. AFTER the first month you will hardly realize that you are not running the same old way. Your cost of eating will decline very noticeably.

If you are in the habit of sending in from the ranch for things—keep it up and pay for it when you come to town. There will be no ticket books to keep straight. You will not have to write a flock of small checks.

Flowers Grocery has always been a service house. It always will be. We leave it to your option about how you are waited on. We will be glad to wait on you. You may serve yourself if you like to do that.

Deliveries will remain the same with this exception. We will deliver ANY size order, but YOU must help keep costs down and small .15 and .20 orders must wait until there is a complete run in that direction. Figure it out for yourself. Motorcycle advertisements tell you that you can run one for .09 a mile. It has one cylinder, two tires. A delivery car has four cylinders, four tires and a $100 man at the wheel. How far is it from your house to the store and back? Eh! Why by George, it only lacks a tenth or two of being a mile. A .15 article bears a profit of about 2 or 3 cents. Whew! THAT delivery cost YOU. It's up to you to keep it down.

By the way—we hear rumors of a Baseball Club. Let's get behind it and push a little. We used to pour it on any of them.

A small crowd turned out Friday night for the public installation of the local Boy Scout troops at the Methodist church. Badges which were to have been awarded the boys did not arrive i time for

The Store For Everybody

WHAT HAS GONE BEFORE

It is 1868 and the Pacific Railroad has reached its newest "farthest west"—Benton, Wyoming, a town described as "roaring", as was Frank Beeson, a young man from Albany, New York, comes here because he is in search of health and Benton is considered "high and dry".

Edna Montoyo, a fellow passenger on the train from Omaha, impresses Beeson with the beauty of her blue eyes and the style of her apparel. Equally she astonished him by taking a smile of brandy before breakfast. A brakeman tells Beeson she has followed her man to Benton.

Jim a typical western ruffian, whom she knows apparently well insults her and is floored by Frank whose prowess impresses the passengers.

Col. Lundersen and Bill Brady volunteer to entertain young Beeson.

Frank avoids being caught by any of the numerous gambling games, but is robbed of all his money.

At the "Big Tent" Beeson again meets the Lady with the Blue Eyes. At "Monte" someone turns up the corner of the winning Queen of Hearts and Beeson, his whole $22 bet on it, turns the card which instead of being the Queen is the Eight of Clubs.

George Jenks, a teamster in a wagon train about to leave for Salt Lake City.

Capt. Adams, a Mormon, is in charge of the wagon train.

Rachael Adams, an attractive young woman, one of his wives, is in the train, as is

Daniel Adams, his loutish son. When Edna, who has shot but not killed the gambler, Montoyo, comes a fugitive in "britches" to join the train, Daniel tells his father that she is seeking Jenks and Beeson. Capt. Adams shout, "No hussy in men's garments shall go with the train."

I Don't Want To Kill Him

One night after we had gone on some time, the sound of revolver shots burst flatly from a mess beyond us, but the shots were accompanied by laughter.

"They're only tryin' to spile a can," Jenks reassured. "By golly, we'll go over and I'll 'arn 'em a lesson." He glanced at me. "Time you loosened up that weepin' o' yourn, anyhow. Purty soon it'll stfck fast."

I went with him glad of diversion. The men were banging, by turn at a sardine can set up on the sand about twenty paces out. The heavy balls sent the loose soil flying but amidst the furrows the tin can sat untouched.

"What you thinkin' to do," Jenks smiled. "Hit that can or plant a lead mine?"

"Give him room! He's made his brag," they cried. "And if he don't plug it that pilgrim sure will."

Mr. Jenks drew and took his stand; banged with small preparation and missed by six inches—a fact that brought him up wide awake.

"Gimme another try, boys," he growled, but they shoved him aside.

"No, no. Pilgrim's turn."

Willy-nilly I had to demonstrate my greenness so I drew, and stood and cocked and aimed. The Colt's exploded with prodigious blast and wrench—jerking, in fact, almost above my head; and where the bullet went I did not see, nor, I judged, did anybody else.

"He missed the 'arth," they clamored.

"No, I reckon he hit Montany 'bout the middle. That's whar he scored center!"

"Hold down on it, hold down, lad," Jenks urged. "To hit him in the heart aim at his feet! Here! Like this—" and taking my revolver he threw it forward, fired. The can plinked and somersaulted, lashed into action.

"By George," he proclaimed, "when I move like it had a gun in its fist, I can snap it! But when I think on it as a can, I lack guts."

Now somebody else shot, and somebody else, and another, and the can gyrated, spurring us to haste as it constantly changed the range. Presently it was merely a twist of ragged tin.

Then in the little silence, as we paused, a voice spoke irritably.

"I 'laow yu fellers aint no great shucks at throwin' lead."

Daniel stood by, with arms akimbo, and beside stood My Lady. He towered over her in a maddening atmosphere of proprietorship.

She smiled at me—at all of us; at me, swiftly; at the rest, frankly. And I knew that she was afraid.

Daniel laughed boisterously, his mouth widely open.

"Set me up a can! That thar one wouldn't jump to a bullet."

A can was produced.

"How fur?"

"Fur as ye like."

It was tossed contemptuously out; and watching it I heard Daniel gleefully yelp, "O o' my way, yu-all!"—half saw his hand dart down and up again, felt the jar of a shot, witnessed the can jump like a live thing; and away it went, with spasm after spasm, to explosion after explosion, tortured by him into fruitless capers until with the final ball peace came to it, and it lay dead, afar across the twilight sand.

Verily by his cries and utter savagery and malevolence of his bombardment, one would have thought that he took actual lust in fancied cruelty.

"I 'laow thar's not another man hyar kin do that," he vaunted.

There was not, judging the silence again ensuing. Only—

"A can's different from a man," Jenks coolly remarked. "A can dont shoot back."

"I don't 'laow any man's goin' to neither," Daniel faced me in turning away. "That's something for yu to 'arn, young feller," he vouchsafed. His gaze shifted.

"Come along, Edna," he bade. "We'll be going back."

A devil—or was it he himself?—incited me, twittered me, and in a moment, with a gush of assertion, there I was, saying to her, my hat doffed:

"I'll walk over with you."

"Do," she responded readily. We are to have singing."

The men stared. Daniel whirled. "I 'laow yu ain't been invited, Mister."

"If Mrs. Montoyo consents, that is enough," I informed. "I'm not walking with you sir; I am walking with her. The only ground you control is just in front of your own wagon."

"Thar ain't no 'Mrs. Montoyo,'" he snarled. "And whilst yu're 'arnin' to shoot yu'd better be 'arnin' some manners. Yu comin' with me, Edna?"

"As fast as I can, and with Mr. Beeson also, if he chooses," said she. "I have my manners in mind too."

"By gosh, I don't walk with ye," he jawed. And he flounced about, vengefully striding on as though punishing her for a misdemeanor. She dropped the men a little curtsy.

"The entertainment is concluded, gentlemen. I wish you good-night!"

Yet underneath her raillery lay an appeal, the stronger because subtle and unvoiced. It seemed to me every man must appreciate that, as a woman, she invoked protection by him against an impending something, of which she had given him aglimpse.

So we left them somewhat subdued, gazing after us, their rugged faces sobered reflectively.

Daniel was angrily shouldering for the Mormon wagons, his indignant figure black against the western glow. She laughed lightly.

"You're not afraid, after all, I see."

"Not of him, madam."

"And of me?"

"I think I am more afraid for you," I confessed. "That clown is getting insufferable. He sets out to bully you."

"I'm afraid, too," she breathed. "I never have been afraid before. I didn't fear Montoyo. I've always been able to take care of myself."

"You have your revolver? I suggested."

"No, I haven't. It's disappeared. Mormon women don't carry revolvers."

"But you are not a Mormon woman."

man." "Not yet," she caught quick breath. "Do you know," she queried with sudden glance, "that Daniel means to marry me?" "But you are not free; you have a husband!" "Oh!" she cried, "why don't you learn to shoot? Wont you? Let me have your pistol, please." "You must grip the handle firmly; cover it with your whole palm."

low—at a man's feet if you're aiming for his heart."

"At his feet, for his heart?" I stammered. The words had an ugly sound.

"Certainly. We are speaking of shooting now, and not at a tin can! You have to allow for the jump of the muzzle. Unless you hold it down with your wrist, you overshoot; and it's the first shot that counts. Of course, there's a feel a knack. But don't aim with your eyes. You won't have time. Men file off the front sight—it sometimes catches, in the draw. And it is useless, anyway. They fire as they point with the finger, by the feel. You see, they know. Some men are born to shoot straight; some have to practice a long, long while. I wonder which you are?"

"If there is any pressing need in my case," said I, "I shall have to rely upon my friends."

"Those gentlemen of yours are Gentiles with goods for Salt Lake Mormons," she retorted. "Are they going to throw all business to the winds?"

"You yourself may appeal to his father, and to the women, for protection if that lout annoys you," I ventured.

"To them?" she scoffed. "To Hyrum Adams' outfit? Why, they are good Mormons and why should I not be made over? I'm under their teachings; it's time Daniel had a wife—or two, for replenishing Utah."

She paused. Then resumed. "But now if I may lend you a little something to keep you from being shot like a dog, I'll feel as tho I had wiped out your score against me. Take your gun." I took it.

"There he is. Cover him!"

"Where?" I asked. "Who?"

"There, before you! Oh anybody! Think of his heart and cover him."

"See that little rock? Hit it!" I fired. The sand obscured the rock. She clapped her hands delighted.

"You would have killed him." No—he would have killed you Quick! Give it to me!"

And snatching the revolver she cocked, leveled and fired instantly. The rock split into fragments.

"I would have killed him," she murmured, gazing tense, seeing I knew not what. Wrenching from the vision she handed back the revolver to me. "I think you are going to do, sir. Only, you must learn to draw. I must not stay longer. Shall we go to the fire, now? I am cold."

We walked almost without speaking to Hyrum Adams' fire. Daniel lifted his upper lip at me as we entered; his eyes never left my face. I was distinctly unwelcome. Accordingly I said a civil "Good-evening" to Hyrum and raising my hat to My Lady left for my own bailiwick.

Friend Jenks joined me.

"We were keeping cases on you

and so was he. He saw that practice—damn, how he did crane! She "Yes; she wanted amusement."

Jenks rocked to and fro, as we sat by the fire. "Hell! Well, if you got to kill him you got to kill him and do it proper. For if you don't kill him he'll kill you; snuff you out like a—wall, you saw that cantravel."

"I don't want to kill him," I pleaded. "Why should I?" Jenks sat silent; and sitting silent I foresaw that kill Daniel I must. I was being sucked into it, irrevocably willed by him, by her, by them all. If I did not kill him in defense of myself I should kill him in defense of her.

Could this really be I? Frank Beeson, not a fortnight ago still living at a jog-trot in dear Albany New York State? It was puzzling how detached and strong I felt.

THE OZONA MERCANTILE

"Small Profits, Many Sales"

Dr. Frank Crane Says

Most mothers are good. But many mothers are too good, that is, they lean backward, and they do more harm than good for their children.

For instance there is the too-indulgent mother. Everything her child does is right and she cannot ever bear to reprove him. I recall an incident of the wife of prominent man who was out walking with her child. For some offense she slapped him, and she immediately knelt down in the snow and asked his pardon and promised never to do it again. Piffle.

It is all important to the young human being that he shall learn to recognize and respect the laws of the universe, moral as well as financial. This is no pink tea world. Sooner or later he is going to run up against it.

Unless a mother recognizes these limitations and teaches her child to recognize them, she is doing him harm.

I know a son who has lied, stolen and done almost everything wrong but who yet is the apple of his mother's eye. What he needs is to get some good stiff punishment for his sins, but he always appeals to his mother and is saved from paying for his crime.

Another kind of mother who wrongs her son is the one who will not let him go when he has reached the age of manhood and chooses a wife. This mother tries to continue her hold on him with the result of making the wife jealous.

One essential element of good motherhood is to let the fledgling try his own wings when he is old enough.

A mother should control herself and should know the inevitable rules that govern souls. She should be wise and see that her son obeys them. It is to his interest to find them out soon and to govern his life by them. She must not prevent him from doing this.

Very often the devoted mother sees that her son is patted gently when he really needs a swift kick. In the end the hearty kick does more good than the gentle pat.

In Confidence

Readers desiring a personal reply can address Miss Flo, in care of this newspaper.

Dear Miss Flo:

Mine is the eternal man problem—how can I attract them? I have just about everything a girl needs to make her happy—but I haven't a boy friend. Because I will not drink, smoke or pet I never have a date. Do you think I am right in adhering to my ideals? Do you think that some day I will find a man who can love and appreciate a girl who has a higher ambition in life than just to have a good time? I don't mind waiting, but sometimes I become rather discouraged when I see the type of girl men seem to fall for and marry.

D. W.

I am no prophet where men are concerned, and I don't know whether your Prince Charming is on his way to you or not—but I can tell you one thing for certain, and that is that even if your Prince Charming never makes his appearance you will be a lot better off than you will if you take in your despair, a callow little jelly-bean with out two ideas in his head. It is only the woman who is fortunate enough to make a good marriage who is better off than the girl who does not marry.

While love and marriage are highly desirable blessings they need not be the whole of life, and any girl who sacrifices her high ideals in her effort to win a husband, pays too high a price for the sort of man she might attract—for he certainly could not be of the type desirable as a husband.

No girl makes a mistake by adhering to her ideals. Personally, I doubt very much if the girls who pet, drink and smoke outmarry the modest, self-respecting girls. Although I have no statistics in the matter, I am of the opinion that their chances are equal. Men do not love girls because they drink smoke or pet—they may love them in spite of it. Neither does a man love a girl because she doesn't do these things—although he may be very glad she doesn't. He loves her because there is something kindred in their natures that strikes the spark. After that, nothing else matters.

One of the mysteries that has never been solved is why certain girls are magnets that attract every man they meet, while other girls, probably just as charming and good looking in every way, never have a date. Frankly, I believe that if a girl is attractive to men, it doesn't make the least bit of difference that she will not drink, pet or smoke. He finds her companionship sufficiently interesting and stimulating. It's a sad fact, but it's true, that there are many women who would never be popular with the opposite sex regardless of the concessions they might make, and my advice to those girls who do not make a spontaneous hit with men is to stop wasting their time and their energies in trying to attract them, and find some real interest.

The queer thing about it is that as soon as you reach the point where you are indifferent to men and don't care much whether they notice you or not, they will probably be crazy about you.

And if you have everything else in the world to make you happy, why worry so much over the man problem, anyway? It seems that girls put the attentions of men above everything else on earth, and feel that if they are not being rushed by some man—be he ever so insignificant—everything else is dust. And that is truly tragic.

However, if we try, we can find many worthwhile consolation prizes when we miss getting the thing we wanted most.

Being an action and prayer for judgment against each of the defendants for the title to and possession and for quieting of the title of each and all of the land hereinafter described as follows:

All of those certain six sections or surveys of land patented to John T. Brackenridge, assignee of T. W. & N. G. R. Co., and more particularly described as follows:

Abstract No. 3394, Survey No. 5, Block "G", Certificate No. 0-215, T. W. & N. G. Ry. Co., 640 acres, Patent No. 14, Vol. 64, and situated in Crockett County, Texas.

Abstract No. 3392, Survey No. 7, Block "G", Certificate No. 0-205, T. W. & N. G. Ry. Co., 640 acres Patent No. 12, Vol. 64, situated in Crockett County, Texas.

Abstract No. 538, Survey No. 11, Block "G", Certificate No. 0-183, T. W. & N. G. Ry. Co., 640 acres, Patent No. 9, Vol. 64, and situated in Upton County, Texas.

Abstract No. 539, Survey No. 13, Block "G", Certificate No. 0-192 T. W. & N. G. Ry. Co., 640 acres, Patent No. 8, Vol. 64, and situated in Upton County, Texas.

Survey No. 3, Block "G", Certificate No. 0-197 T. W. & N. G. Ry. Co., Patent No. 15, Vol. 64, 640 acres, 213 acres of which is situated in Upton County, Texas, and known as Abstract No. 540, and 427 acres of which is situated in Crockett County, Texas, and known as Abstract No. 4134.

Survey No. 9, Block "G", Certificate No. 0-208 T. W. & N. G. Ry. Co., Patent No. 11, Vol. 64, 640 acres, 213 acres of which is situated in Upton County, Texas, and known as Abstract No. 541, and 427 acres of which is situated in Crockett County, Texas, and known as Abstract No. 4133.

Plaintiffs allege that they were in possession of all of the above described property on March 12, 1927, and long prior thereto and were entitled to such possession, and that the defendants afterwards on said date, unlawfully entered upon and dispossessed them of said property, and withhold from them the possession thereof.

Plaintiffs further allege that the said A. C. Hunter is the common source of title to said property, and that by deed dated August 8th 1890, he conveyed said property to said J. T. Crawford, and retained a vendor's contract lien in said deed on said property to secure the payment of a note for $1633.35 which note afterwards became the property of A. H. Esty and C. H. Esty, who foreclosed said note and vendor's lien in this court in cause No. 13,749, styled A. H. & C. H. Esty vs. J. T. Crawford, et al. wherein decree of foreclosure was rendered in their favor against said defendants on December 22nd 1898, on all of said property save and except said Survey No. 9, which through clerical error was not foreclosed on, and all of the remainder of said property was purchased under said foreclosure sales by said A. H. Esty and C. H. Esty and E. M. House as shown by the records of this court; that thereafter the said A. H. Esty and C. H. Esty, as the holders and owners of said note and vendor's lien rescinded said sale as to said Survey No. 9, and sold and conveyed said survey together with all of said other surveys to E. M. House, who sold and conveyed all of the same to Lora Sovereign, who is the same person as Lora Sovereign Bugbey; that the said A. C. Hunter and if he be dead his heirs hold whatever title they have to said property in trust for Plaintiffs who with their said grantors have been mortgagees in possession of said property from and since said foreclosure sales, and plaintiffs are entitled to have such title as remained in said A. C. Hunter and his heirs decreed by this Court to be vested in them, and they offer to do equity as may be decreed by the Court; that the plaintiffs are further claiming said land under the statute of limitation for a period of over five years; plaintiffs further pray for such order as they may be entitled to in connection with said old suit above mentioned and for general relief.

All of which more fully appears from Plaintiffs original petition on file in this office.

HEREIN FAIL NOT, but have you then and there before said Court this writ, with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

YOU MUST KILL YOUR PRAIRIE DOGS

With all kindness the Commissioners Court has given months of warning and the Court has at large expense bought for cash at wholesale the ingredients and is letting everyone have it at cost. Unfortunately the weather has not been propitious, but now the sun is shining. There is no place to stop now, and everyone knows that it is not a personal matter with the Court, but a real official duty to perform. It is so eminently unfair to let up now the Court wishes none to expect any let up in the matter of extermination of the prairie dog. Commissioners Court, Crockett Co., 7-38

Misses Emma Phillips and Carolyn Fox and Mrs. Arthur Phillips entertained with a delightful party two and bridge party at the Hotel Ozonia Saturday afternoon.

The big ball room was decorated in yellow and white streamers with wall pockets filled with flowers. The Easter motif was carried out in decorations and table appointments. Mrs. Bert Kincaid won high score for forty two and Mrs. W. J. Grimmer won high score for bridge. Prize winners engaged in an "Easter egg hunt" for their prizes. They were directed to a wall pocket where they found a note directing them to the next step in their search and in "treasure hunt" style finally ran down attractive prizes, a flower bowl for Mrs. Grimmer and a bon bon dish for Mrs. Kincaid each filled with eggs.

Employees of the Wilson Motor Company enjoyed a banquet and pep meeting at the Hotel Ozona Thursday night as guests of the management. A big feed was spread by the hotel management after which the virtues of the Buick and up-to-the-minute garage service were extolled and a general good time social hour enjoyed.

Paul White, "Devil Grip" tire patch salesman, and Bert Wilkerson, representing the Southern Equipment Co. of San Antonio, were special guests of the local Buick agency. During the evening, Mr. Wilkerson delivered an interesting and inspirational address.

Lee Wilson, proprietor of the Wilson Motor Company, was toastmaster of the evening. Employees of the concern enjoying the spread were Charlie Powell, Smoky Adanson, Latt Copeland, Taylor Word, and John R. Weaver. Mrs. Taylor Word, bookkeeper, was unable to be present on account of illness.

Mr. Wilson plans to stage similar banquets every few months, he declares, in order that the policies and plans of the company might be outlined to employees and a social hour enjoyed at the same time.

Mr. and Mrs. Grady Mitcham spent the week-end here visiting Mrs. Mitcham's parents, Mr. and Pleas Childress. On their way here they stopped off at Eldorado and witnessed the operetta Hearts and Blossoms, staged by local talent at the Eldorado Theater Saturday night.

January, 1925 — There was introduced a new Chevrolet which scored a tremendous success. Among its many new features were a new and rugged rear axle, an improved unit power plant, a new single plate disc-clutch, a much stronger frame, semi-elliptic chrome vanadium steel springs, coil and dash-lamps, and new Fisher bodies finished in Duco. The price of the Coach was $735.

August, 1925 — Chevrolet announced a new measure of value based on many new quality features—such as motor-driven Klaxon horn, improved sheet metal construction in the bodies, corrugated steering wheel with walnut finish, new headlamp rim construction and a more convenient gear-shift lever. Yet, despite all the additions the Coach was reduced to $695.

January, 1926 — Another spectacular increase in Chevrolet value—a model offering many mechanical improvements, such as a smoother, quieter motor with three-point suspension, a silent V-belt generator drive, new oil pump, more efficient cooling, an air cleaner, larger brakes, etc. Notwithstanding these improvements the Coach was reduced to $645.
