This Week

A BRAVE MAN DEAD. INHERITED GENEROSITY. HUMAN SACRIFICES. USEFUL WARNINGS.

Those that pity themselves because their health is "not quite what it ought to be" may consider Baron von Huenefeld, who died on the operating table, undergoing his thirteenth operation for an incurable disease of the stomach that had afflicted him for years.

Suffering hopelessly, knowing that he could not live long and must endure many operations, von Huenefeld planned and carried out the German-Irish flight across the Atlantic Ocean.

Such courage and will power should make others ashamed to complain.

J. Pierpore Morgan gives New York Hospital two buildings worth $2,000,000. Giving seems to be inherited, as illustrated also in the case of the Rockefellers.

Mr. Morgan's father gave to New York one of its finest institutions, a great lying-in hospital.

Serious rioting in India is caused by a report that Mohammedans kidnapped Hindu children and sacrificed them in connection with the construction of a new bridge. The report probably is not true.

Once important works were usually accompanied by human sacrifices. Somebody was killed and buried under the corner of a new building. A child or adult was often killed and buried in a shallow hole in a field newly planted. Knowing nothing about fertilizers they observed with "religious awe" that the grass grew greener where the corpse was buried.

Madame Bella Pollack died in Rumania, aged 118, leaving twenty-one children, the oldest eighty-five, and a fiance who would have been her third husband. Madame Pollack ate two and one-half pounds of black bread and a pound of sugar every day, and was never ill until her last illness.

Men often live long when the doctor tells them that they will soon die. A warning makes them careful. James Melrose, twice Lord Mayor of York, England, is dead, aged one hundred. Insurance company refused him as a bad risk several years ago.

The famous Luigi Cornaro became interested in his health when doctors told him at forty that he must soon die. He ate only twelve ounces of solid food, drank fifteen ounces of red wine daily, died at one hundred and four.

Lindbergh, on his way from Miami to Panama, "hopped off" on his twenty-seventh birthday.

Only twenty-seven, and his name is known wherever men are civilized.

Only twenty-seven, and already he has conquered the ocean, and what is more important, the respect of every man and woman.

Herbert Hoover may find important work for Lindbergh. Nothing more probable. An engineer knows that somebody who knows how to do what you want is valuable.

Mr. Hoover understands the engineering part of flying and all its importance, from mail carrying to national defense.

Colonel Lindbergh understands the flying part. A fine combination. Many hats would go up in the air if young Lindbergh were put by Mr. Hoover at the head of a separate department for national air defense.

Sonora Girls Win Cage Battle 10-7

Locals In First Engagement Of Season Put Up Good Fight

The girls' basket ball team of the Ozona High School played the Sonora team on the local court February 23. The result was a score of seven and ten in favor of Sonora.

This was the first game of the season for the Ozona girls and they are to be congratulated on the score as the Sonora team has played several other games and has been out for practice since the season opened. Ozona did not score until the last half and it took real fighting for both sides to hold the score as they did.

The Sonora girls were worthy sports and both teams enjoyed the game. The return game will be played on the Sonora court on Friday, March 1.

The line-up for the Ozona team was as follows:

- Centers—Alma Johnigan, Mildred Davis.
  - Guards—Jessie Lee Sapp, Lena May Williams.
  - Forwards—Ponk Friend, Lucille Rogers.
  - Substitutes—Carolyn Montgomery, Inez Rogers.
- Sonora
- Centers—Lottie Hull, Mildred Turney.
  - Guards—Gertrude Babcock, John Halbert.
  - Forwards—Johnnie Adams, Lena V. Stokes.

Ozona Woman's Club Observes Art Day With Exhibit Here

The Ozona Woman's Club observed its annual art day with a program at the School House on February 12. Mrs. A. C. Hoover, president of the club, had charge of the arrangements.

Mrs. W. S. Douglas, Art Chairman of the 6th District, spoke on "The Trend of Present Day American Art." As a lecturer on art appreciation, Mrs. Douglas is giving an invaluable service over the state and the people of Ozona are fortunate in having had this opportunity to hear her.

Another feature of the day was an art exhibit under the supervision of Mrs. Hal Jackson of San Angelo. The exhibit consisted of a collection of the paintings by H. G. Jackson, a modern artist of national fame.

A luncheon was served by the domestic science department of the Ozona High School. Addresses concerning the art work being done in the school were made by Miss Marie Doty, and Mrs. Tommy Hunter, two of the teachers.

Mrs. W. J. Grimmer, Mrs. Paul Perner and Miss Doty gave a one-act drama with a theme of thrift which was well enacted and favorably received. Music, literature and art are the three divisions of the Club work. With the chorus given by the Music club, the drama and the lectures of art, a well rounded program was carried out.

Lions Attendance Picks Up At Noon Luncheon Monday

The slump in attendance at the Hotel Ozona last week proved only temporary. The attendance climbed back up to about the normal level at this week's meeting.

The entertainment program for the day consisted of a reading entitled "The American Boy" given by Joe Billy Keeton, son of Lion J. T. Keeton.

Regular business of the club being at a minimum, the meeting was thrown open for open forum discussion and announcements. Several announcements were made and the meeting closed with the club's closing song.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Childress, Mrs. Mary Perner and Miss Catherine Childress were in San Angelo last Thursday and Friday.

Rain And Snow Bring Needed Moisture To West Texas Ranges

A light fall of snow which spread a thin blanket of white over the ground followed a slow rain here Tuesday night and Wednesday morning. The total moisture was one half-inch, according to the record shown on the rain gauge at the Joe Oberkampff store.

The snow and rain came on the heels of a drop in temperature Tuesday night. The temperature was barely to the freezing point, however, and moderated quickly Wednesday morning. No damage to livestock as a result of the cold wet weather is anticipated, while the moisture will be of great benefit to the range.

New Drug Store Is Open For Business; Tailor Shop Moved

The Ozona Drug Company, an Orange Cross store, opened for business this week in the building vacated by the Ozona Tailor Shop. The new store is under management of Raymond M. Gant, formerly connected with the Smith Drug Stores here and a man with 17 years experience in the drug business.

The Ozona Drug Company will handle a full line of drugs and sundries and will have a licensed pharmacist in charge of the prescription department.

The Ozona Tailor Shop has established business in its new quarters, the new building just completed on the L. B. Adams lot west of the Chris Meinecke No. 2 building. Rice P. Lynn is owner of the tailor shop.

Church Of Christ Closes Successful Revival Sunday

Last Sunday evening the Ozona Church of Christ closed one of the most successful revivals of recent years. The entire day was a fitting climax for the two weeks of efforts. Public mention was made of the courtesy of R. J. Cooke, of the Ozona Meat Market, who barbecued the meats, gratis, for the two Sundays luncheon.

At the close of the last service it was announced that Bro. Busby would return for another revival at the same time next year. The total accessions during the revival was eighteen. Sunday afternoon Bro. Taylor expressed his appreciation to the church and said that his only regret was that he had not been in physical condition to do the work that he would like to have done. The two evangelists left Sunday evening after the services for their home, being carried as far as San Angelo by Mr. and Mrs. Rob Miller.

RAINBOW IN CROCKETT TEST

Barber Oil Company's No. 1 H. B. Cox at Fort Lancaster in Crockett County had drilled Sunday morning to 1334 feet in hard, gray lime after getting a rainbow oil showing late in the week from 1320-34 feet.

The test resumed drilling the middle of last week at 1290 feet, where it landed 8 1-4 inch casing, 1272 feet, before shutting down two months ago. Location is on what was the parade ground of Fort Lancaster in early days, seven miles east of Sheffield, 1661 feet from the south line and 3962 feet from the west line of R. B. Dickerson survey.

The wildcat has an elevation 215 feet lower than Fuhrman Petroleum Corporation's No. 1 Padgett, which topped the lime at 1450 feet, 855 feet above sea level, and cored oil saturated lime from 1780 to 1835 feet before encountering sulphur water at 1897 feet. The Fuhrman test was 2336 feet from the southeast line and 330 feet from the northeast line of section 17, White survey.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Young and family are visiting at the home of Mr. Young's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Young. They came to be with Mrs. Young's father, Mr. W. C. Kuzn (Bill) Easterling, who has been seriously ill.

Mildred Miller Is '29 Valedictorian

Rachel Graham Salutatorian Of Graduating Class

Mildred Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Will Miller, is valedictorian of the 1929 graduating class of the Ozona High School, according to announcement made this week by Supt. John L. Bishop. Rachel Graham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. N. W. Graham won second highest honors for the place of salutatorian.

Miss Miller's average was 86.9 for her high school work. Miss Graham's average was 82.6. Arthur Kyle was a close contender for second honors, his average being one point below Miss Graham's.

There are nine candidates for diplomas from Ozona High School this year, the superintendent announced. The class roll follows: Rachel Graham, Alma Johnigan, Mildred Miller, Mildred Davis, Arthur Kyle, Earl Deland, P. C. Coates, Tot Grimmer and J. B. Miller.

Missionary From Africa Speaks At Church Of Christ

Rev. W. N. Short and wife, Church of Christ missionaries of Kabanga and Sindi missions, Kalama, North Rhodesia, South Africa, were in Ozona Monday evening at which time Mr. Short gave an illustrated lecture of his work in Africa and also presented a number of curios from that darkened continent. Mr. Short was very appreciative of Ozona and country, and said that the physical appearance of the country was very much like the Sindi mission country. He expressed himself as being delighted with the audience which greeted him.

Mr. Short is on a years furlough and at the end of which he and family will return to their work. He complimented the local church for its interest in mission work and stated that the free will offering given him was the largest received in Texas. Mr. Short and family returned to Abilene Tuesday where he will be with the Abilene Christian College for the rest of this week.

OZONA GIRL TO DENTON

BELTON, Feb. 27.—Miss Mary Van Ness, Belton, junior member of the local chapter of the Scholarship Societies of the South, will represent Baylor College at the annual meeting in Denton February 22 and 23. Dr. J. C. McElhannon, faculty adviser, Miss Mildred Smith, Bonham, president, and Miss Gussie Watson, Ozona, senior, will also attend the convention.

The annual meeting was to have been held at Baylor College this year but the recent fire, which destroyed the main dining room, kitchen and parlors, made it necessary for the convention to meet at Denton.

WHAT A MOTHER SHE WOULD HAVE MADE.

Marshall Morning News: A little girl out in San Francisco was carrying her doll across the street—the doll Santa Claus had brought her. She was knocked down and run over by a street car. The motor man was not to blame for the little girl ran right in front of the car. The car was stopped as quickly as possible and when it stopped the rear wheel was resting on the child's mangled legs and the doll lay near her all crushed and broken. There was great haste to lift the car off the child and while they were working she asked for her dolly and they placed the demolished symbol of a child in her arms. And as she lay there she uttered no cry of pain but hugged the doll to her breast and said: "Poor little dolly, you is all broke. I'm sorry I done it." She died an hour later in the hospital. Heavenly Father, what a mother she would have made!

BUICK BEATS STUDEBAKER 7 MINUTES IN RACE TO ANGELO; TIME, 75 MIN.

LEE WILSON SMASHES ALL SPEED RECORDS

85 Miles In 75 Minutes Made In New Buick Roadster

THRILLING RIDE "Yellow Streak" Crosses Spring Creek At 65 Miles An Hour

Averaging a speed of 68 miles an hour over a distance of 85 miles, Lee Wilson, Ozona and Big Lake Buick dealer, driving a stock model Silver Anniversary Buick roadster, plastered defeat on a stock Studebaker President "8" in a matched race from Ozona to San Angelo Sunday afternoon. The Studebaker was beaten by seven minutes in the race against time, the Buick's time being 1 hour and 15 minutes flat and the Studebaker's 1 hour and 22 minutes flat. This is believed to be the fastest time in which the road from Ozona to San Angelo has ever been negotiated by an automobile.

The Studebaker was driven by Herbert Haas of San Angelo while Mr. Wilson drove the Buick, with "Smoky" Adamson accompanying him as mechanic.

A coin was flipped to determine who should start first out of Ozona, the Studebaker driver winning the flip and choosing to go last. Mr. Wilson was tapped off at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon and Mr. Haas 15 minutes later. Wilson clipped off the 31 miles to Barnhart in 26 minutes, according to unofficial time caught in Barnhart.

Upon suggestion of Mr. Haas, it was agreed before the race that if either driver should have a flat tire, he might turn back and be tapped off again in Ozona without penalty. Upon completing the race in San Angelo, Mr. Haas reported having a flat tire a few miles the other side of Barnhart. He failed to take advantage of the agreement, however, and finished the race from that point.

Sunday's race was the culmination of several weeks dickering between Wilson and officials of the Studebaker agency in San Angelo. A week before a two-mile race against time was staged on the road east of Ozona between the Buick and the Studebaker President which hung up a record in a 30,000 mile run at the Atlantic City speedway. In this race, matched for the amusement of a crowd when an agreement could not be reached on the run to San Angelo, the Studebaker won by 4 4-5 seconds.

"The most thrilling ride I ever took," was the way both Lee Wilson and "Smoky" Adamson described the record-breaking run to San Angelo. Mr. Adamson was strapped into the machine before starting, but a few miles out of Ozona the strap broke and it was up to him to stay in the car the rest of the ride the best way he could.

"I thought I had lost him several times," Wilson said, "but he always came down with 'Step on her, Lee.'" The speedometer registered between 80 and 90 miles an hour practically the entire distance, they said, the greatest speed, 90 miles an hour, being attained on the long stretch of straight road a few miles beyond Barnhart. They ploughed through water a foot deep or more in Spring Creek at a speed of 65 miles an hour.

Several hundred persons had gathered at the finish line two miles this side of San Angelo when the little yellow Buick roadster roared across the finish line at 83 miles an hour. A few minutes later the time was announced as one hour and 15 minutes flat. The crowd remained at the finish line until the Studebaker flashed across 22 minutes later.

Name Committees For Convention

Sheep & Goat Raisers To Meet In Del Rio July 31-Aug. 1-2

Committees of the Sheep and Goat Raisers' Association are beginning to get things shaped up for the annual convention and sale at Del Rio, July 31, and August 1 and 2. The full list of committees was announced here this week-end by D. T. Jones, secretary and treasurer. They follow:

Program committee—Roger Gillis and C. C. Belcher of Del Rio; R. H. Martin, Eagle Pass, and James Cornell and C. A. Broome of this city.

Advisory board of the sales committee—T. A. Kincaid, Ozona; E. K. Fawcett, C. B. Wardlaw and Roger Gillis of Del Rio; S. S. Bundy, Roosevelt; Tom Bond, Roy Aldwell, Fred T. Earwood and B. M. T. Jones, secretary and treasurer, San Angelo. Mr. Aldwell and Mr. Bond are assistant secretaries.

T. L. Drisdale of Juno is superintendent of the sheep division and Fred T. Earwood is superintendent of the goat division.

Sifting committee of the sheep division comprises Roger Gillis, Del Rio; Duke Bryson, Uvalde; Zack Jones, San Angelo; Hugh Rose, Del Rio; Dutch Acton, San Angelo; T. A. Kincaid and Victor Pierce, Ozona.

Sifting committee of goat division comprises John Ward, Sonora; W. W. Knipper, Brackettville; O. L. Carpenter, Sonora; Sim Reed, Rio Frio; "Rip" Ward, Sonora; Carl Wolf, Junction; Bryan Hunt, B. M. Halbert, Jr., and W. H. Dameron of Sonora.—S. A. Times.

Mexican Students In Charge Of Program At Parent-Teachers

Students of the Mexican school were in charge of the program at the regular meeting of the Parent-Teachers Association Monday afternoon.

After a short business session, the program was turned over to Mrs. Rusty Smith and Miss Catherine Chapman, teachers in the Mexican school, and their students.

The program given by the Mexican children consisted of readings, a playlet, and songs. The program ended with several popular numbers sung in the Spanish language. Refreshments consisting of chile, crackers, dill pickles and coffee were served.

The showing made by the Mexican children reflects the good work which the teachers in the school are doing. The children showed a well balanced training and exceptional progress toward Americanization.

DANCE NEXT WED. NIGHT

Jack's Original Illinoisians will be in Ozona again next Wednesday night to play for a dance to be given at the courthouse, it was announced this week by local promoters of the hop. A cordial invitation is extended to everybody.

Of all the unforgivable eye-sores that ever plagued a traveling public, the road-side dump ground a few miles east of Ozona wins the platinum handled can-opener.

Cans, refuse, old automobiles, swill and other unmentionable and unthinkable waste litters the landscape and the roadside, even up to the edge of the road, for three hundred yards. The dump ground have been used for many years to set aside for this purpose might come had it not been for the human failing of laziness, carelessness, indifference or whatever complex it might have been that inspired the practice of dumping a load of trash when the dump ground came in sight.

When the dump ground was set aside for that purpose, it was contemplated that the space would be used to best advantage. Vehicles loaded with trash should have driven to the farthest point inside the plot and there dumped the trash. But instead they drove just inside the fence and dumped trash right in the drive-way—too lazy, too indifferent to the rights of other people and even to their own convenience to drive just a few feet further and dump trash so that the drive-way would be left open.

As it is today, the dump pile has leached out until it is now inside the right-of-way and we expect the next big consignment of trash to be dumped in the middle of the highway. With all the wide-open country available near here, it is difficult to understand why a spot beside the highway should have been chosen for the dump ground. Besides being unsightly the year round, it produces a most mellow odor and furnishes an excellent breeding place for flies in the summertime.

If everything burnable in the dump heap were burned and the smaller pieces of trash mashed down with a steam roller, with possibly some of it buried, and the dumping place moved inland to some spot where the general public would not be forced to look at it or come in contact with it against their will, a real service would be performed for the reputation of Ozona and for the comfort of those who pass along the road.

Mechanical Details of the New Ford

USE OUR SERVICE DEPARTMENT

We have a corps of expert mechanics at your service at any time.

Any kind of automobile or truck that is brought to us will receive the best that it is possible for a highly trained mechanic to give.

No matter what the trouble seems to be with your car bring it to us and we will repair it if possible at a reasonable rate charged for the work.

We have a modern painting shop in our service department and can do as neat a job of painting as can be done any where. Make that faded car look like a new Sport Model.

Our modern greasing rack facilitates greasing and oiling and assures a good job.

FUEL SYSTEM

THE practical value of Ford simplicity of design is especially apparent in the fuel system.

The gasoline tank is built integral with cowl and is unusually sturdy because it is made of heavy sheet steel,terne plated to prevent rust or corrosion. An additional factor of strength is the fact that it is composed of only two pieces, instead of three or four, and is electrically welded—not soldered.

Because of the location of the tank, the entire flow of gasoline is an even, natural flow—following the natural law of gravity. This is the simplest and most direct way of supplying gasoline to the carburetor without variations in pressure. The gasoline feed pipe of the new Ford is only 18 inches long and is easily accessible all the way.

The gasoline passes from the tank to the carburetor through a filter or sediment bulb mounted on the steel dash which separates the gasoline tank from the engine.

The carburetor is especially designed and has been built to deliver many thousands of miles of good service. Since all adjustments are fixed except the needle valve, there is practically nothing to get out of order.

The choke rod on the dash acts as a primer and also as a regulator of your gasoline mixture. The new hot-spot manifold insures complete vaporization of the gasoline before it enters the combustion chamber of the engine.

As a matter of fact, the fuel system of the new Ford is so simple in design and so carefully made that it requires very little service attention.

The filter or sediment bulb should be cleaned at regular intervals and the carburetor screen removed and washed in gasoline. Occasionally the drain plug at the bottom of the carburetor should be removed and the carburetor drained for a few seconds.

Have your Ford dealer look after these little details for you when you have the car oiled and greased. A periodic checking-up costs little, but it has a great deal to do with long life and continuously good performance.

THE LAST OF THE DUANES

Illustrated by Verne C. Christy

WHAT HAPPENED BEFORE

Buck Duane, quick on the draw, kills Cal Bain in self-defense and becomes an outlaw. After adventures on the road he goes to Bland Camp. There he wounds a man named Bosomer and becomes a bosom friend of another named Euche. He meets Mrs. Bland and also Jennie, held prisoner by Bland, whom he rescues after a series of intrigues in which he is forced to deceive Mrs. Bland.

This leads to Duane's killing of Bland, the outlaw leader, and rushing off with Jennie, who is later lost. Duane roams the roads for years as an outlaw, finally going to meet Capt. MacNelly of the Rangers, who had asked to see him. MacNelly is kind to him, and offers him a pardon if he will accept an offer to become a Ranger and go after Cheseldine's gang. MacNelly has become interested in Duane after a Miss Lee had spoken in his behalf. Duane promises MacNelly to do him any service. Meanwhile, MacNelly gives Duane much welcome news.

Duane goes to visit the Miss Lee who had intervened for him with MacNelly, and finds her to be none other but Jennie. They talk and tell each other of their love, and when Duane tells Jennie he is commissioned to capture Cheseldine she breaks down and begs him to break his word to MacNelly.

Duane sets forth on the hunt for Cheseldine. At Ord he locates the band of outlaws. At Bradford, later, he gives the night operator, Buell, instructions, saying he is going to arrest a man.

TENTH INSTALLMENT

"This will probably happen after I take the train with my man. What I want you to do is to post the other operator. Then in case this does happen to either of you be cool and pretend to send the message given you. But send the wrong message—anything at random. Bluff the thing so these allies of my man will think they can stall operations east."

Buell promised with a heightened color and considerable show of pleasure to go at once and relieve the day operator, who, he said, wanted some time off duty, and to stay by his instrument as long as needed.

"Who're you after?" he asked excitedly.

"You'll know presently. Another thing—my horse is over at the inn. I'll have to leave him and I'd like you to take care of him till you hear from me. If you don't hear—he's yours."

The time passed. When he went out he saw several Mexicans, a cow-boy, and two men, and they all watched him curiously. Next he ran into Sheriff Bridger.

He laid a heavy hand on Bridger. "I want Cheseldine. Is he coming?"

The sheriff gasped, and his swarthy face turned green. He looked sick. He could not speak.

Over his shoulder Duane saw Cheseldine coming with a group of men, all intent upon themselves. "I'm Buck Duane, Texas Ranger," he said, close to Bridger's ear. And he drew his gun and pressed it against the sheriff. "Look down," he added.

Bridger saw the gun and almost collapsed.

"Give me your hand-cuffs," went on Duane.

Bridger produced them and held them out with shaking fingers.

Duane snatched them, and, with a look at Bridger that meant death, he shoved him back.

Then Duane with gun high leaped in front of the approaching men.

"Cheseldine!" he yelled piercingly.

All of them halted as if the word had petrified. One of them turned a ghastly stricken white.

"Hands out! Not up! In front of you! Quick!"

As Duane's look had meant death so here did his voice. The manacles clicked. Cheseldine was a prisoner.

Duane turned to the paralyzed men.

"Gentlemen, you look honest," he said. "But I can take no chances. You must be judged by your company. I'm Duane, Texas Ranger. I arrest this man Cheseldine. I advise you all to be careful with your hands."

He grasped Cheseldine and backing away led him up to the station, pushed him against the wall. Duane's eyes covered every point before him. Bridger had disappeared.

Cheseldine's friends, recovering from their stupefaction, broke into a frenzy of excitement. But they did not approach any closer. One by one the little crowd of astounded men was enlarged by others. Sight of Duane and his gun was enough, both to make them gape and hold them back.

Cheseldine remained white but calm. He had nerve. He seemed to want to hide his manacled hands.

"Duane, why did you make an exception of me?" he asked.

Duane did not reply. At the moment he heard the train whistle. Probably Cheseldine was wondering why he had not met the same fate as Bland, Alloway, Hardin. Duane wondered grimly the same thing.

The eastbound rolled into the station. Duane, waving the crowd back with his gun, made Cheseldine walk ahead of him, climb the steps of the car.

"Hurry this train!" called Duane to the amazed conductor.

Then he got on, entered the car, put Cheseldine in a seat and sat facing him and all the passengers.

The train started up almost immediately, and left behind on the platform a yelling gesticulating crowd. Duane had a glimpse of Buell waving his hand from the window.

It was a fast train, yet the ride seemed slow. Duane disliking to face Cheseldine and the watching conjecturing passengers in the car, changed his seat to one behind his prisoner. They had not spoken.

Cheseldine sat with bowed head, deep in thought. Occasionally the train halted briefly at a station.

They got off the car at Val Verde. The station was a good deal larger than that at Bradford, and there was considerable action and bustle incident to the arrival of the train.

Duane's sweeping gaze searched faces, rested upon a man who seemed familiar. This fellow's look too, was that of one who knew Duane, but was waiting for a sign, a cue. Then Duane recognized him—MacNelly, clean-shaven, without mustache he appeared different—younger.

"Duane! Lord, I'm glad to see you," was the captain's greeting. Then at closer look into Duane's face his warmth fled—something he saw there checked his enthusiasm, or at least its utterance.

"MacNelly, shake hands with Cheseldine," said Duane, low-voiced.

The ranger captain stood dumb, motionless. But he saw Cheseldine's instant action and awkwardly he reached for the outstretched hand.

"Any of your men down here?" queried Duane sharply.

"No. They're up town."

"Come. Cheseldine, walk between us, and look straight ahead. Don't see anybody."

They set off up town. Cheseldine walked as if he were with friends on the way to dinner, except that his lips were mute. MacNelly walked like a man in a trance. There was not a word spoken in four blocks.

Presently Duane espied a stone building on a corner of the broad street. There was a big sign: Rancher's Bank. Duane touched Cheseldine's elbow, pointed to the bank.

"Cheseldine, do you want to go in the bank and see if the shipment of gold has come—the big haul?" asked Duane sarcastically. He halted to taunt the man, but could not resist that much.

Cheseldine gave a violent start. Perhaps in that moment he understood. He made no reply.

"There's the hotel," said Mac-

Local Firm Gets Valuable Agency

Ozona Drug Co. Secures 5-Year Franchise For Scientific New Formula, Sargon

Never before in the history of the world has the progress of Medical Science been so rapid. One important discovery after another has been made which will have a far-reaching effect upon the health and well-being of mankind. Some of these discoveries are startling in the extreme and absolutely disprove practices and theories we have known for a life-time.

As scientific investigators learn more and more about the human anatomy, the practice of medicine changes—the old is discarded for the new.

As a result of this world-wide medical research, Science has discovered that good health is largely governed and maintained by three vital organs and fluids of the body. These are the liver, the blood and the endocrine glands.

What is more important, we have learned that these organs and fluids can be stimulated and invigorated by certain basic elements.

Having knowledge of these important discoveries, one of America's leading bio-chemists, succeeded, after two and one-half years of laboratory research in combining these basic elements in one formula—which may well be considered one of the greatest health-giving remedies of the age.

It is called Sargon. This formula and the formula for Sargon Soft Mass Pills, which are an essential and integral part of the treatment, are the property of the Sargon Laboratories and can be obtained by no other firm or individual in the world.

This new scientific treatment, which represents much of our latest knowledge of modern therapy, has been acclaimed by druggists throughout America as a triumph in the field of medicine.

With the needs of their customers uppermost in their minds, leading druggists everywhere have been eager to be among the first to supply it to their trade.

Although introduced in the Southwest only a few weeks ago, Sargon has already become a household word. In Houston and San Antonio alone, over 51,000 bottles of Sargon and Sargon Soft Mass Pills have been sold and distributed by local firms. Nothing like it has ever been seen before.

The agency for Sargon and Sargon Soft Mass Pills for this city and section has been awarded to the Ozona Drug Company. In anticipation of the enormous demand, this well-known firm has just received a large shipment of these celebrated medicines.—Adv.

About Your Health

Things You Should Know

by John Joseph Oatman, M. D.

VACCINES.

There can be no doubt of the value of certain vaccines in the prevention and treatment of epidemic diseases. By the intelligent use of this method, much suffering can be avoided, and many conditions alleviated. Medical science has now practically abolished typhoid fever, malaria, small-pox, yellow fever, and other infectious diseases, and has shorn diphtheria and scarlet fever, tetanus, hydrophobia, and other fatal maladies of much of their terrors.

In an epidemic of influenza, I once gave prophylactic vaccines to twenty-five patients. Twenty-three of them passed through the scourge without contracting the disease, although several of them lived in infected families. The other two fared not so well; one of them had the "flu" when he took the first injection, the other, a tubercular, also well along with the disease, died of broncho-pneumonia, in spite of the efforts of myself and an able consultant.

Since then, I have given immunizing vaccine to many people, and have found the precaution most satisfactory for the patients and myself.

If your occupation exposes you to any epidemic disease, I would advise you strongly to permit your physician to immunize you by giving you appropriate vaccination, using the product of a reliable maker of such things. Like every other good thing, vaccine has been capitalized by the most brazen quacks; be on your guard. It is safe to conclude that all medical advertisers, those who "guarantee results" are rank imposters, who get your money for nothing; exercise good judgment, and trust your reliable family doctor.

Services are being held each Sunday afternoon in the basement rooms of the Methodist Church for the negroes of the city, according to announcement by Rev. Meredith, pastor. The services are conducted on alternate Sundays by Rev. Meredith and Rev. M. M. Fulmer, pastor of the Baptist Church.

Duane Puckett returned Thursday from Hobart, Okla., where he has been employed by a candy company of that city.

Your beauty's a flower, in the morning that blows
And withers the faster, the faster it grows.—BURNS.

Earlier in the month, in speaking of the different types of skin, I likened the thin skin to a piece of fine silk. I also told you that the thin skin possesses a transparent delicacy and a clear inner tone, and that the lack of natural oil in the system of the thin-skinned woman makes the pore structure less apparent.

This is the type of skin that really requires the greatest amount of care. And it is more delicate in substance of the heavier or thicker texture and does not have the resiliency which can more easily throw off the effects of the elements. The thin or dry skin will chap, redden and peel much more quickly than one that is thick and oily.

Therefore, in the daily care of such a skin it is very important to use preparations that will replace some of the oil which is lacking naturally. And for that reason, I advocate only the occasional use of water for cleansing the dry skin.

After the extreme dry condition has been corrected by frequent applications of rich feeding creams that will help to build up the starved skin texture, water can be used more frequently, but not daily. The action of water on the dry skin is to dry still further any of the natural oil that might remain in the skin, and make the skin almost arid, so to speak. Whereas the frequent application of rich, nourishing and feeding creams will give the skin some of the oils that it lacks naturally.

The essential steps to beauty for the dry skin are: Cleansing, stimulating, nourishing and toning.

The cleansing should consist of an application of good cleansing cream worked in lightly with the finger tips. Be sure in applying your creams not to stretch or pull the skin, but work them in gently. The stimulation should consist of a mild stimulating lotion that will whip up the circulation and bring the blood to the surface. The nourishment should be in the form of a feeding massage cream, rich in consistency.

Your daily beauty treatment should be finished with the application of a skin-toning lotion that is especially prepared for dry skins and which is only slightly astringent, as the majority of women who possess thin skins do not have a great amount of fleshy tissue.

Those who have dry skins should give very special attention to the flesh surrounding the eyes, as this oftentimes is more dry than the rest of the face, and unless it is fed generously (if possible left overnight), you will soon see the approach of fine lines and wrinkles both below and at the sides of the eyes.

Nelly. "Some of my men are there. We're scattered round."
 They crossed the street, went in through lobby, office, saloon, to a large room like a hall, and here were men reading and smoking. Duane knew them—rangers!
 When he snapped the handcuffs back on Cheseldine it was with a strange air of finality. It was as if he renounced. MacNelly, the rangers, and certainly, all noted Duane's strange action and look.
 "There, Cheseldine!"
 And with a something almost of passion and violence he pushed the outlaw toward MacNelly. He was done with him. Did that action mean that, as a ranger, he was turning Cheseldine over to the law, when as Buck Duane, he wanted to meet him, to face him, to make him draw, to kill him?

 MacNelly beckoned to his men. "Boys, here he is. Cheseldine! Russell, you and Mills take him in the small room and guard him. Don't take your eyes off him till we decide what to do."
 The rangers led Cheseldine away. "Duane, what had we better do with him for the present?" queried MacNelly. "There's a jail here. We can put him away till we're through. But would that be best? We've been lying low."
 "No. How many men have you?"
 "Fifteen."
 "Keep two men here guarding Cheseldine."
 MacNelly left to go into the other room, and returned closing the door. Then he almost embraced Duane, would probably have done so but for the dark firmness that

Reduction In ELECTRIC RATE

Lower rates for electricity for domestic and commercial purposes have been made voluntarily by the West Texas Utilities Company. The cost per kilowatt-hour has been reduced and the number of kilowatt-hours in each block before the next lower rate applies has been lessened. Based on the number of rooms in residences the new rate gives the small householder the same advantages of a lowering scale, as consumption increases, that larger users enjoy. The new rate enables consumers to make economical use of the many convenient and labor saving electric appliances.

THE NEW RATE FOR RESIDENCES

- 15 CENTS net per kilowatt-hour for the first four kilowatt-hours used per room per month.
- 9 CENTS net per kilowatt-hour for the next four kilowatt-hours used per room per month.
- 6 CENTS net per kilowatt-hour for all energy used in excess of the above amount.
- Minimum monthly bill $1.50 per meter.

DETERMINATION OF NUMBER OF ROOMS

The room count is based upon the ordinary real estate rating, and in making the count, alcoves, unfurnished attics, bathrooms, cellars, hallways, laundries, closets, pantries, open porches, garages, barns, and outbuildings will not be included. Premises with less than three rooms, real estate rating, will be classed as 3-room premises; those with more than seven rooms will be rated as 7-room premises. THE NUMBER OF OUTLETS AND APPLIANCES USED DO NOT AFFECT THE RATE.

Table Showing The New Net Rate And Number Of Kilowatt-Hours In Each Step

| Size of Residence | FIRST STEP15 cents per kilowatt-hourFor First | SECOND STEP9 cents per kilowatt-hourFor Next | THIRD STEPThe NEW SIX CENT rateFor All Kilowatt-Hours used each month over total of first and second steps, per kilowatt-hour. |

You will note how few kilowatt-hours per month need be used before you reach the new low SIX CENT price.

COMMERCIAL RATE

- 15 CENTS net per kilowatt-hour for the first 30 hours of maximum demand.
- 10 CENTS net per kilowatt-hour for the next 60 hours use of maximum demand.
- 5 CENTS net per kilowatt-hour for all energy used in excess of the above amounts.

The new rate makes liberal use of electricity for all purposes in commercial establishments inexpensive. Minimum monthly bill $1.50 per meter.

Further explanation of the rates will be given gladly upon request.

seemed to be coming over the man. Instead he glowed, he sputtered, he tried to talk, to wave his hands. He was beside himself. And his rangers crowded closer, eager, like hounds ready to run. They all talked at once, and the word most significant and frequent in their speech was Cheseldine.

MacNelly clapped his fist in his hand.

"This'll make the adjutant sick with joy. Maybe he won't have it on the Governor? We'll show them about the ranger service. Cheseldine! How'd you ever do it? Oh, I knew you were a wonder. But I was sure you'd kill him."

"He didn't give me a chance," replied Duane. "Now, Captain, not the half, nor the quarter of this job's done. The gang's coming down the road. I saw them from the train. They'll ride into town on the dot—two-thirty."

"How many?" asked MacNelly. "Poggin, Blossom, Kate, Pan Handle Smith, Boldt, Jim Fletcher and another man I don't know. These are the picked men of Cheseldine's gang. I'll bet they'll be the fastest, hardest bunch you rangers ever faced."

"Poggin! that's the hard nut to crack! I've heard their records since I've been in Val Verde. Where's Knell? They say he's a boy, but hell and blazes."

"Ah!" exclaimed MacNelly softly. Then he grew businesslike, cool, and of harder aspect. "Duane, it's your game today. I'm only a ranger under your orders. We've absolutely faith in you. Make your plan, quick, so I can go around and post the boys who're not here."

"Put one man at each end of this street just at the edge of town. Let him ride there with a rifle to block the escape of any outlaw that we might fail to get. I had a good look at the bank building. It's well situated for our purpose."

"Put four men up in that room over the bank—four men, two at each open window. Let them hide till the game begins. They want to be there so in case these foxy outlaws get wise before they're down on the ground, or inside the bank. The rest of your men put inside behind the counters where they'll hide.

"Now go over to the bank, spring the thing on the bank officials and don't let them shut up the bank. You want their aid. Let them make sure of their gold. But the clerks and cashier ought to be at their desks or window when Poggin rides up."

"He'll glance in before he gets down. They make no mistakes, these fellows. We must be slicker than they are, or lose. When you get the bank people wise, send your men over one by one. No hurry—no excitement—no unusual thing to attract notice in the bank."

"All right. That's great. Tell me, where do you intend to wait?"

"I'll wait in front—just inside the door," replied Duane slowly. "Poggin will get down first and start in. But the others won't be far behind and they'll not get swift till inside. The thing is—they mustn't get clear inside, because the instant they do they'll pull guns. That means death to somebody. If we can we want to stop them just at the door."

"But will you hide?" asked MacNelly.

"Hide!" The idea had not occurred to Duane.

"There's a wide-open doorway. A sort of round hall, a vestibule, with steps leading up to the bank. There's a door in the vestibule, too. It leads somewhere. We can put men in there. You can be there."

Duane was silent.

"Se here, Duane," began MacNelly nervously. "You shan't take any undue risk here. You'll hide with the rest of us?"

"No!" The word was wrenched from Duane.

MacNelly stared, and then a strange, comprehending light seemed to flit over his face.

"Duane, I can give you no orders today," he said distinctively. "I'm only offering advice. Need you take any more risks? You've done a grand job for the service—already. You've paid me a thousand times for that pardon. You've redeemed yourself."

"The Governor, the adjutant-general—the whole State will rise up and honor you. The game's almost up. We'll kill these outlaws or enough of them to break forever their power. I say, as a ranger, need you take more risk than your captain?"

Still Duane remained silent. He was locked between two forces. And one, a tide that was bursting at its bounds, seemed about to overwhelm him. Finally that side of him, the retreating self, the weaker, found a voice.

"Captain, you want this job to be sure?" he asked.

"Certainly."

"I've told you the way. I alone know the kind of men to be met. Just what I'll do or where I'll be I can't say yet. In meeting like this the moment decides. But I'll be there!"
