A BANK FOR BROKERS
NO ARSENIC, PLEASE, F. R.
USURY UNNECESSARY
INVEST, DO NOT GAMBLE

In response to warnings from the Federal Reserve, banks withdrew on Friday, $25,000,000 of call loans. The idea was "to discourage speculation." That speculation keeps big banks and their gigantic profits alive, but that is another story.

When loans were called, the rate moved from 6 to 9 per cent. Banks calling loans sacrificed 6 per cent on $25,000,000 and made an additional 3 per cent on about four billions.

Even a child on the farm could understand that systematic usury must be harmful. Even as base a thing as a speculator, buying American securities, should not be robbed too systematically.

It is probable that investigation of the Federal Reserve Banks, and its accidental or intentional promotion of bank profits, through usury, will follow the latest Federal Reserve action, responsible for a loss, widely scattered of three or more billions in a few hours.

Why do not Stock Exchange men protect themselves and their customers from financial tyranny. They could establish a great bank, especially for their own purposes. Compelling brokers to make call loans at that bank, on conservative margins of security, at a fair interest rate, and dividing profits among stock exchange members, they might do something that the Federal Reserve evidently cannot do.

Controlling a monopoly of call loans, they could sell $1,000,000,000 worth of stock in an hour.

If a father to cure his children of overeating, put arsenic in their food, you would say, "Something wrong with that father."

When a paternal Federal Reserve Board, mistaking itself for the national government, to cure what it considers over-speculation, ruin thousands of investors by forcing usurious interest rates, you say, "Something wrong with that Federal Reserve Board."

The board is unnecessarily excited about four or five billion dollars of brokers' loans.

Learned financiers should realize that there is money in this country outside of banks' control. Mr. Ecker, vice-president of the Metropolitan Life Company, has shown that the income of American wage earners is sixty billions of dollars a year. And they spend fifteen billions less than they earn.

Those fifteen billions are three times the total of brokers' loans. A nation that has every year fifteen billions of spending money might borrow a third of its excess annual wealth for investment, or even for speculation, without making criminal usury necessary.

Wall Street went to work last week convinced that the world had not quite come to an end, and even a benevolent regulating Federal Reserve might be endured.

Some for whom this is the beginning of the Spring lamb season, the unhappy wiped-out minority that tried the "faw down, go broke" experience, will know better next time. Others will know better later. Invest within your means, in America, and you get rich. Gamble here or anywhere, and gambling gets you.

Mr. and Mrs. Clay Adams spent a few days here this week from their ranch near Fort Stockton.

OST MOTORCADE TO STOP HERE NIGHT OF 27th

Arrangements Are Being Made To Entertain Boosters

HUNDRED IN PARTY

Part Of Visitors To Be Housed In Private Homes

The Old Spanish Trail motorcade from San Diego, California, to St. Augustine, Florida, with approximately 100 persons in the party making a cross-continent automobile drive to advertise the Old Spanish Trail and to attend dedication of the O. S. T. monument in St. Augustine April 3, will make an over-night stop in Ozona on Wednesday, March 27.

This was the information received Monday by President M. M. Fulmer of the Ozona Lions Club and officials of the Hotel Ozona, in response to telegraphic invitations to the party to make the over-night stop here.

Plans for entertaining the visitors during their brief stop here were made at the Lions meeting Monday. A banquet honoring the party may be staged at the Hotel Ozona. The Hotel has granted members of the party half rates for the night and those who can not be accommodated in the hotel will be furnished with rooms in private homes. Committees are to be appointed soon to make a canvass of the town in an effort to line up enough rooms to accommodate the party.

Ozona was selected as one of seven stopping places over the entire 3,000 mile trip. The stops over the route will be El Paso, Ozona, San Antonio, Beaumont, New Orleans, Mobile, Marianna and St. Augustine.

In addition to the banquet, it is planned to placard Ozona with welcome signs and possibly pass out some kind of souvenirs to the visitors so that they will remember Ozona.

The purposes of the trip and details of the arrival here are explained in the following letter received by Mr. Fulmer from Harral Ayres, managing director of the Old Spanish Trail Association: Mr. M. M. Fulmer, President, Lions Club, Ozona, Texas.

Dear Mr. Fulmer: "I am pleased with the wire of yourself and of the Hotel Ozona that you will not only grant the half rates but that your whole community will co-operate to make the stay pleasant. I have been especially anxious we should stop in Ozona instead of Fort Stockton and that you people would want to give them a real West Texas welcome. We will reach Ozona Wednesday night March 27th. We will telegraph from El Paso the number. A number in such a party as this is one of our hard problems, for so many people make up their minds at the last minute. I have wanted these people to have one nice contact with West Texas people, and as stated, Ozona was my choice for that contact. So it is entirely up to you as to the sort of welcome you will want to arrange. They will have a 360-mile run that day. There will be a lot of stragglers. They will come in tired but we all know that where there is real sociability and life we can forget a lot of tiredness provided we can get to bed in a reasonable time so we can all start off in a bunch the next morning. "One thought in mind is this: If the cars could all be parked at one place and a watchman provided that might be the simplest way to handle them. It might not be necessary for everybody to unpack a lot of luggage if there was a watchman. We are going to try to plan something like this in San Antonio. You, however, can think out details as well as we can. I can only express my personal pleasure that you are to welcome them and help take care of them.

Rain Is General Over West Texas

Nearly Two Inches Of Moisture Fell Here In Last Week

Heavy rains falling slowly and soaking into the ground thoroughly have considerably brightened range prospects in West Texas during the last week. The average fall through this section of the state in the last week has been more than two inches, according to reports.

The rain gauge here registered a total of two inches of moisture in the last week. With warm weather prevailing through the rain, and sunshine coming immediately on the heels of the moisture, ranchers declare that prospects were never brighter for the livestock section than at present. The range in this section was beginning to show the need of rain, and since the fall practically the entire country is beginning to show green grass and weeds.

Ram Lamb Owned By Vic Pierce Wins In Ft. Worth Stock Show

A ram lamb owned by Vic Pierce of Ozona was awarded second place in the stock judging at the Fort Worth livestock exposition last week. Mr. Pierce's lamb was one of ten exhibited in this class. An entry from the A. & M. College won first place in the competition. J. R. Christal of Denton won third, A. & M. College fourth and P. T. Underwood of Denton fifth.

METHOD NOTES

Beginning next Sunday and continuing through the week we will have preaching every night through the week, except Saturday night. The subjects for these services are as follows:

- Sun. morning, "Jesus and the Crowd."
  - Sun. night, "Epworth League Program."
  - Mon. night, "Jesus and His Friends."
  - Tues. night, "Jesus and His Family."
  - Wed. night, "Jesus and His Enemies."
  - Thurs. night, "Jesus and His Church."
  - Fri. night, "Jesus and The Children."
  - Sun. morning, "The Child's Place in the Kingdom."
- The choir will have special program consisting of Easter Hymns and Anthems.
- Sun. night, Easter sermon, "The Resurrected Life." There will also be special music for the evening service. You are invited.
- J. H. Meredith, P. C.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. E. Davidson, Jr., and their infant daughter have returned from Temple.

W. C. (Kuzn Bill) Easterling, veteran newspaper man, former publisher of The Stockman, was reported Wednesday to be improving after a second serious operation which he underwent in a Del Rio hospital Monday.

N. W. Graham and Richard Richard Flowers were in San Angelo Monday on business.

"Other cities are telegraphing half rates. Luncheon stops are being planned by community groups; sight-seeing and receptions are being planned. It is going to be a wonderful trip all the way across. Back of it all is this underlying fact that vitally interests you people—if national travel is to be put through Ozona we have to pull it down through Alabama, Mississippi, etc. We are trying to get things over that will help change this travel movement for the benefit of O. S. T. communities."

"With kindest regards, I am Sincerely, Haral Ayres, Managing Director.

NOTICE

If you can take one or more members of the O. S. T. Motorcade in your home on Wednesday night, March 27, phone S. E. Couch or The Ozona Stockman as soon as possible in order that arrangements can be completed to take care of the visitors. You will not be required to serve them a meal. Members of the motorcade will be entertained with a banquet at the Hotel Ozona on Wednesday night. As many Ozona citizens as possible are asked to attend this banquet and welcome the visitors. The price will be $1.00 a plate, an all-stag affair. If you can attend phone The Ozona Stockman, No. 31, and make your reservation. Reservations must be made by Tuesday night. Come on, let's give them a West Texas welcome.

Band Fund Drive Starts This Week

Committees From PTA And Lions Making Canvass

A drive for a general band fund for the support of both the Parent-Teachers Association Boys' Band and the Crockett County Band was started this week by committees named by the Lions Club and by the P. T. A.

This campaign seeks to raise total monthly donations sufficient to put both bands on a permanent basis and to make it possible for the director to devote his full time to band members and to give them all private lessons alike without extra charge to the members.

Under the present plan, it is likely that both bands will have to be suspended at the close of the present school year, at least until the opening of school in the fall. Monthly subscriptions now being collected by the P. T. A. will stop with the close of school and the boys band will suspend. Members of the adult band, who go fifty-fifty with the P. T. A. in paying the director's salary, declare that they will be unable to keep up the director's salary without the aid of the P. T. A. and that it will therefore be necessary to suspend during the summer.

The general financing plan as outlined in the present campaign seeks to put both bands on a permanent basis, with instruction and practice the year round and private lessons for all members. Such a plan would insure the development of a first class band, it is pointed out by leaders of the movement.

$200,000 AS CITY BOGUS AD BILL

That the sum of between $200,000 and $300,000 is wasted by San Antonio business men every year in fraudulent advertising schemes sponsored by fly-by-night promoters who come to this city for "easy picking," was pointed out to the members of the San Antonio Advertising Club by Mayor C. M. Chambers Tuesday noon as the reason why a co-operative movement in support of a vigilance committee should be set in motion. The mayor was the principal speaker at the regular weekly luncheon of the club at the Plaza Hotel when 110 persons were present.

The speaker outlined a plan which has been formulated by city officials and the mayor's vigilance committee of which T. J. Turner is chairman.

The plan provides for the appointment of a vigilance committee of business men to act upon all applications for a permit to solicit advertising in San Antonio, and the passage of a city ordinance making it a misdemeanor to solicit without a permit issued by the committee.

The mayor's committee of nine, including two members of the advertising club, has been in operation by Turner, chairman of the day, who introduced Mayor Chambers, that the operations of this committee has saved local businessmen from participation in

Managers Of Drug Chain Meet Here

Orange Cross Stores Head Pleased With Ozona Store

Managers of the eight Orange Cross Drug Stores in West Texas met in Ozona Wednesday night of last week and enjoyed a banquet at the Hotel Ozona. The visiting managers, including the president of the Orange Cross chain, A. J. Buttery of San Angelo, were guests of the Ozona store, the Ozona Drug Company with Raymond Gant as manager.

One of the features of the banquet was a talk by Bill Cole of the Iraan store describing his recent trip to Chicago, a trip he won in a sales contest staged by the Dr. West toothbrush manufacturers.

The fact that the building now occupied by the Ozona Drug Company has been leased for a term of ten years was brought out at the meeting here. "We are a permanent fixture," Mr. Buttery, the president, said.

Mr. Buttery was well pleased with the progress of the store here and with the outlook for the entire chain. He complimented Ozona, expressing surprise at the progressive attitude and wide-awake appearance of the town. Managers of the Orange Cross stores here for the meeting includes Joe Ramsey of Best, Mr. Rape of Rankin, Mr. Allen of McCamey, Bill Cole of Iraan, Wm. Malone of Big Lake, A. J. Buttery of San Angelo, W. F. McBride of Sonora and Raymond Gant of Ozona.

Beauty Specialist Coming To Ozona Drug Company

Mrs. B. Wright, representing Dorothy Perkins Toiletries, will be at the Ozona Drug Company April 1-5.

Mrs. Wright is a graduate beauty specialist, and has wide experience in beauty culture.

Demonstrations will be made in the homes of Ozona women. She will gladly make telephone appointments with any one who desires to consult her.

No charge is made for these consultations, Mr. Gant having made special arrangements whereby customers and users of Dorothy Perkins toilet articles may be given expert advice without cost, and where others may be made acquainted with the excellence and wide range of variety of the Dorothy Perkins line.

A cordial invitation is extended to all who wish to avail themselves of the opportunity to consult with a competent specialist as to their peculiar cosmetic and beauty culture needs.

A Chrysler automobile belonging to Pat Lee, thought to have been stolen, was recovered in Del Rio Tuesday. A man employed on Mr. Lee's ranch had "borrowed" the car for a trip to the border city. He was placed under arrest but was later released when Mr. Lee refused to file charges.

FRIDAY BRIDGE CLUB

Mrs. Ben Robertson entertained the Friday Bridge Club last week at the home of Mrs. George Metcalfe. She served delicious refreshments consisting of chicken salad, cheese squares, punch and small cakes. Those present were Mesdames J. W. North, Early Baggett, Roy Henderson, L. B. Adams, W. J. Grimmer, Bryan McDonald, Lee Childress, Evert White, L. J. Kittle, C. C. Coates, Joe T. Davidson, S. M. Harvick, Joe Oberkamp, J. C. Montgomery, Marnie Hagelstein, J. W. Henderson, Jr.

CLEAN-UP PLAN IS SUGGESTION OF LIONS CLUB

Regular System For Ridding Town Of Rubbish Plan

CLEAN DUMP SITE

Unightly Heap East City May Be Cleaned Through Plan

A year round clean-up campaign with a view to systematic clean-up of the entire town was launched Monday at the meeting of the Lions Club.

The plan as advocated by the Lions Club is more along the lines of educational measures to induce the people to take advantage of facilities offered and to keep their premises clean, the year round rather than an annual clean-up drive.

The plan was suggested by A. W. Jones, who pointed out the necessity for some step to be taken to insure the continued health of the community. There are many out-houses in the town that present a serious menace to the health of the community, Mr. Jones pointed out, and in addition to these, unsanitary conditions are further aggravated by tin cans, rubbish and trash of all kinds that litter portions of the town.

Designation of one man as city scavenger and trash hauler was advocated by Mr. Jones. One man who could make this his business, could make a good living for himself and at the same time provide a much needed service for the people of Ozona, Mr. Jones declared.

The club expressed itself as being in favor of the designation of one man as official scavenger and trash hauler by the Commissioners Court and the recommendation of this man to the people. Through a system of publicity, this service would soon become generally known and a much cleaner town would result, it was pointed out. The matter will be placed before the Commissioners Court at its next meeting with the request that that body designate Henry Daugherty, local negro, now engaged in hauling trash, dirt and other work of that nature, as city scavenger.

The condition of the city dump ground east of the city was also brought to the attention of the Lions Club. A plan for ridding the highway of this eyesore was also outlined by Mr. Jones. The suggestion that the Commissioners Court be asked to employ two or three men to clean up the dump ground, to move all trash and rubbish back a hundred yards or so from the road and to clean out drive-ways to the back of the area in order that trash might be dumped toward the back of the grounds.

The suggestion that a dead-line be drawn inside the dump ground and that suitable regulations be made by the county making it a finable offense to dump trash closer to that road than that mark was also made. A plan to erect a high board fence between the dump ground and the road will receive the attention of the club at a later date if the Commissioners Court shows a favorable attitude to be suggestion that the rubbish be moved back from the road.

Crockett Band Makes Good Showing In 1st Public Concert Fri.

The Crockett County Band made a favorable impression on a large group of Ozona people in its first public concert of the season in the city park last Friday afternoon. The band, under the direction of J. H. Thornhill, played five numbers each of which were greeted with applause from the audience in parked cars around the park.

The next public concert of the organization will be held early in April, it was announced.

Drive thy business, let not that drive thee.—BENJAMIN FRANKLIN.

The Lions Club has started a worthwhile movement in that to provide a regular clean-up system for Ozona. The annual clean-up drive sponsored by the Woman's Club has been in vogue for a number of years and is one of the most important functions of this organization in the general betterment of this community.

But Ozona has grown considerably in recent years and is still growing. Consequently, it becomes necessary to take additional sanitary measures to keep up with this growth. The annual clean-up, which is a system also sponsored by the State Health Department has its place, decidedly so. But Ozona needs more than an annual clean-up, it needs a weekly, or at least a monthly one. The plan as outlined before the Lions Club is simple. It requires no public subscriptions or donations nor does it require concerted manual labor. It is merely a plan of sanitary promotion through public educational campaign and ample publicity for an already existing and self-supporting sanitary system. The plan as suggested was to ask the Commissioners Court to designate some man with the proper transportation facilities as official scavenger and if possible to pass sanitary regulations that would make certain clean-up measures compulsory.

Here the public duty would cease, however. The man so designated by the court would be a free agent in working up his own clientele, securing his compensation from those he served. The official designation would be merely for the sake of wider publicity and semblance of accountability. Many people, being not now aware of the availability of such a service, would be pleased to learn of it and would keep their premises much cleaner than at present when if they stage a clean-up campaign at home they must depend on their own transportation facilities to get it hauled away.

The fact that a local negro, Henry Daugherty, is now engaged in such a hauling service was brought out at the club meeting and the suggestion made that he be officially designated as scavenger and his services made known.

Another serious need in connection with the proposed clean-up campaign is that of cleaning up the dump ground to the east of the city. The dump ground is one of the most revolting eyesores in all West Texas to our way of thinking and if there is any way on earth to remedy this condition, we are heartily in favor of it.

A worthy suggestion, it seems to the Stockman, is that one or more men be employed by the county or by public subscription to put the dump ground in order, move all the trash and rubbish back a hundred or so yards from the highway, cut off the whole with a high board fence and map out driveways through it so that it will again be possible to dump trash at the farthest point from the road and thus keep entrances and driveways clear.

At present the dump ground is a disgrace even to the millions of flies who call it home. Trash and rubbish of every description litters the right-of-way of the public highway for several hundred yards and it is now impossible for a motor vehicle to get inside the area set aside as a dump ground because all driveways have been cut off by piles of litter. There is ample acreage available on this site, it is understood, to serve this town as a dump ground for many years, but at present it is overflowing simply because people were thoughtless in dumping trash in it. If some plan can be devised to remedy this situation, it would be worth much to this community.

What Happened Before

Palermo is the scene. There an exile, Leonardo di Marioni, has come for love of Adrienne Cartuccio, who spurns him. He meets an Englishman, Lord St. Maurice, who falls in love with Adrienne on sight. Leonardo sees his sister Margharita, who tells him his love for Adrienne is hopeless. But he pleads with her to arrange an accidental meeting, to say farewell, between Adrienne and him.

She laid her troubled, tear-stained face upon his shoulder. "It is wrong of me, Leonardo. Yet, if you will promise me to say farewell, and farewell only—"

"Be it so! I promise!" "Well, then, each night we have walked past the Marina, and home by the mountain road. It is a long way round and it is lonely; but we have Pietro with us, and on these moonlight nights the view is like fairyland."

"And will you come that way home to-night, after the concert?" "It is good."

It was almost midnight, and Palermo lay sleeping in the moonlight. The concert was over. One by one the promenaders had left the Marina, and all sound had died away. One man alone lingered drinking in the sweetness of the night. The Englishman sat on the last seat of the Marina, in the shadow of a cluster of orange trees.

He had seen her again—nay, more, he had heard her sing—this girl-nightingale, who had taken the world by storm.

He sat dreaming, with a burned-out cigar between his teeth, and his eyes idly wandering over the blue Mediterranean. Suddenly the stillness was broken by the sound of a soft gliding footstep close at hand. He had heard no one approach, yet when he looked up he found he was no longer alone. A man in the garb of a native peasant was standing by his side.

Naturally the Englishman was a little surprised. He half rose from his seat, and then resumed it as he recognized the dark, swarthy face and black eyes of the waiter who had told him Adrienne Cartuccio's name.

"Hullo! What are you doing here?" he demanded.

"I was in search of the Signor!" was the hasty response. "For an hour I have sought him everywhere, and now it is by chance that I am successful."

The Englishman looked at him with suspicion. This change of dress was doubtless for the purpose of disguise. What was the meaning of it?

"What do you want?" he asked, watching him closely.

"I will tell the Signor. Is it not that he has an admiration for Mademoiselle Cartuccio, the singer? Well, she is in danger! It is for the Signor to rescue her."

The Englishman sprang up with sparkling eyes and pitched his dead cigar into the sea.

"In danger!" he repeated breathlessly. "Quick! Tell me where!"

The man pointed inland. "Do you see that belt of white road there, leadin' up into the hills?"

"Yes; what about it?"

"Have you noticed anything pass along it?"

"There was a heavy cart or carriage and some mules, I think, went by half an hour ago."

The native shrugged his shoulders.

"It was an hour, Signor, but no matter! Step back with me into the shadow of those olive trees. That is better. Now we cannot be seen, and I will explain."

The Englishman beat the ground with his foot.

"Explanations be damned!" he exclaimed. "Where is Mademoiselle Cartuccio? Quick!"

The man held up his hands, and spoke more rapidly.

"This evening I heard by accident of a plot to carry off Signorina Cartuccio by a rejected suitor. I hasten to inform the police, but on the way I pause. I say to myself, what shall I get for my pains, and for the risk I run? Nothing! Then I think of the Signor. I watched his face when the Signorina pass by, and I say to myself he has the passion of her. If I show him the way to save to save the lady he will be generous. He will win the lady, and he will reward poor Andrea."

"That's all right. Tell me what to do, and I will give you fifty pounds—anything you like. Don't waste time. Speak up!"

The man's eyes shone with cupid-ity. He went on rapidly:

"The Signor is a prince. Listen! Along yonder road, before many minutes have passed, will come the Signorina Cartuccio with her friend, attended only by an aged servant. Men are waiting for them in the grove of orange trees above the Villa Fiolesse. Their orders are to carry off the two ladies to the other side of the island, where a place has been prepared for them. For an hour I have searched for the Signor, that he might procure aid, and so encounter these brigands, but in vain. I was in despair."

"I want no help! How many of the blackguards are there?"

"Four, Signor!"

"Natives?"

"Yes, Signor."

"And cowards, I suppose?"

The man smiled.

"They have not much bravery, Signor. I know the men."

"I wouldn't have anyone else here for the world," the Englishman said, shaking his fist.

"Does the Signor want a knife?"

asked the man, thrusting his hand into his inner pocket.

"Not I. We don't understand that sort of thing in our country, my brave Andrea. Fisticuffs will settle this matter, you'll see!"

The man looked up admiringly at the Englishman's commanding figure and broad shoulders.

"I think they will run away from the Signor when they see him," he whispered. "But let the Signor remember this: if one of them thrusts his hand inside his coat, so, do not wait one moment—knock him down or get out of his way. He will have the knife, and they know how to use it, these brigands."

"Tell me the name of their leader—I mean the fellow who is trying to carry off the Signorina. Will he be there?"

The man shook his head. "I cannot tell the Signor his name. I dare not. I was once in his service, and he has powers—hush!"

The two men held their breath, keeping well in the shadow of the orange grove. They had reached the road, and in the distance they could hear the sound of approaching voices.

"I leave you now, Signor," whispered his companion to the Englishman. "I dare not be seen. Tomorrow, at the hotel."

He glided noiselessly away. The Englishman scarcely heard him, he was listening intently. Light footsteps were coming along the winding road toward him, and soon a laughing voice rang out upon the night air.

"My dear Adrienne, don't you think we were a little foolish to walk home so late as this? See, there is not a soul upon the promenade."

"Tant Mieux!" was the light answer. "Is it not to escape from them all, that we came this way? The stillness is exquisite, and the night breeze from the sea, after that hot room, is divine. What a view we shall have of the bay when we get to the top of the hill."

"They say that this place is infested with robbers, and it is terribly lonely," was the somewhat fearful answer. "Why would you not let poor Leonardo come with us?"

"Because I did not want Leonardo, chérie. Leonardo is very good, but he wearies me by persisting to dwell upon a forbidden subject; and as for protection—well, I fancy Giovanni is sufficient."

They were passing him now so close that he felt impelled to hold his breath. He had only a momentary glimpse of them, but it was sufficient. A few yards behind, a sullen-looking servant was trudging along. In the white moonlight their faces, even their expressions, were perfectly visible to him; Adrienne's rapt and absorbed by the still restful beauty of the dreaming night, and indifferent to all fear; her companion, whose dark eyes were glancing somewhat anxiously around her, and Giovanni's, whose

THE STATE OF TEXAS TO THE SHERIFF OR ANY CON-STABLE OF CROCKETT COUNTY—GREETING:

YOU ARE HEREBY COM-MANDED to summon by making publication of this Citation in some newspaper published in Crockett County, Texas, once in each week for four consecutive weeks previous to the return hereof E. L. Cole, Henry Brumme, Ralph Davis and O. K. Fewell, to be and appear before the Honorable District Court of Crockett County, Texas, 83rd Judicial District, at the next regular term thereof, to be held in the Court House thereof in the City of Ozona, on the fifth Monday in April, A. D. 1929, then and there to answer the Plaintiff's Petition filed in a suit in said Court on the 9th day of January, A. D. 1929, wherein Wm
Cameron & Co., Inc., is Plaintiff and E. L. Cole, Henry Brumme, Geo.

L. Thompson and wife, Ruby Thompson, M. R. Showalter and wife, Mrs. M. R. Showalter, W. B.
Pullman, Ralph Davis, T. G. De Vil-biss, O. K. Fewell, W. L. McDonald and J. W. Hillman, are Defendants.
File number of suit being No. 469.

The nature of plaintiff's demand is as follows, to-wit:
Plaintiff sues defendants, Cole and Brumme, on an itemized sworn statement attached to his petition in the sum of $5,362.80, which plaintiff alleges to be due it for goods, wares and merchandise sold and goods delivered to said defendants Cole and Brumme as shown by said account and which plaintiff alleges became due on or about March 7, 1928, and on which said defendants are entitled to a credit for materials returned amounting to $189.75, leaving a balance due of $5,173.05, with 6 per cent per annum interest from March 7, 1928, for which amount plaintiff asks judgment against said defendants.
Plaintiff further alleges that said goods, wares and merchandise shown by said account were sold and delivered by it to be used and were used by defendants Cole and Brumme in the construction and erection of certain improvements, being a two story frame Hotel building, with the outside walls and roof of sheet iron and the inside walls and partitions of sheet rock, located on Lots 1, 2 and 3, in

GENERAL ELECTRIC Refrigerator

From the very minute that we deliver the General Electric Refrigerator to your home, there's no connecting or plumb-ing to be done. The all-in-one icing unit is merely lowered into the top of the cabinet (built to receive it) and the cord is plugged into any convenience outlet.

Then automatically, quietly, economically it gives you perfect refrigeration. The current turns itself on and off at just the right moment to keep the temperature of the box always safely below the 50 degree danger point.

You never have to oil the mechanism, because a permanent supply of oil is enclosed in the hermetically sealed casing which holds all the machinery. Study these refrigerators carefully. Come in today and see them. Time payments can be arranged, if

THE GENERAL ELECTRIC REFRIGERATOR IS

Quiet—So precisely engineered that it is pleasingly quiet in operation.

Trouble-Free—No belts, fans, pulleys—no exposed moving parts—nothing to regulate.

On The Top—Designing engineers put the mechanical unit there because there is where it belongs—the heated air radiates up and away from the refrigerator.

Spacious—More storage space; chilling unit small, bigger inside for its size outside.

DID YOU KNOW that General Electric Refrigerators were the first to have accessible temperature control, the first to have a sanitary porcelain chilling unit, and the first to eliminate Radio interference?

(Continued from page 4.) way Company Surveys, more fully described in dedication recorded in Vol. 51, page 93 of the deed records of Crockett County, Texas, to which reference is made for all purposes, and plaintiff alleges that at the time of its sale of said goods, wares and merchandise to said wife and Showalter and wife. Plaintiff alleges the filing by it on the 30th day of April, 1928, of an affidavit duly recorded in Vol 2, page 22 of the Mechanic Lien records of Crockett County, Texas, claiming a Mechanic's and Materialman's Lien against the real estate above described and the improvements located thereon, to secure the payment of the account sued on, and it also claims such a lien against the improvements under the Constitution of the State of Texas. Plaintiff alleges the sale of Lots 1 and 2 of the real estate in question by defendants, Thompson and wife to defendant, Mrs. Showalter, as shown by deed recorded in Vol.

27, page 250, of the deed records of Crockett County, Texas, but plaintiff alleges that deed is void for defective acknowledgment and that if it conveyed any title to said land or improvements, same is in all things subordinate to plaintiff's lien.

Plaintiff further alleges that the various defendants to this cause are claiming right, titles and interests in the improvements and in the real estate hereinbefore described, the exact nature of which are unknown to plaintiff, but are by virtue of various affidavits enumerated in plaintiff's petition and of record in Crockett County, Texas, each of which plaintiff alleges is insufficient and void because not in the form nor filed in the manner by law required, and plaintiff asks that said affidavits be in all things cancelled and held for naught.

Plaintiff alleges that the improvements are capable of removal from the land without material injury thereto and it prays for a judgment against Cole and Brumme establishing the amount of its said debt and damage and for a foreclosure as against all the defendants of its lien on said land and improvements, or if no lien is found to exist against the real estate, then for a foreclosure of its lien on the improvements against all the defendants, and for an order of sale and for costs of Court and for general and special relief.

HEREIN FAIL NOT, and have you then and there this Writ, with your endorsement thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

GIVEN under my hand and seal of said Court at Office in the City of Ozona, this the 14th day of March, 1929.

years of suffering and failure is marvelous and I want my friends everywhere to know about this wonderful medicine.

"Even the lightest meals would cause me to suffer tortures from indigestion, gas pains, and smothering spells. Sometimes I would just have to gasp for breath. Nervousness made my nights almost sleepless. Rheumatism troubled me a great deal, too, and my liver was so badly out of order I had to take strong purgatives continually. I took treatments everywhere without relief, and finally made up my mind to travel with the seasons and live the rest of my days as comfortably as possible. Had anyone told me that any medicine would do what Sargon has done

"The Desperate Lover"

furtive looks, more expectant than apprehensive, marked him out to the Englishman as an accomplice in whatever devilry was afoot. Unseen himself, he watched them pass, and listened to their voices growing fainter and fainter in the distance. They were out of sight and out of hearing.

He was preparing to follow them, when suddenly another sound broke the stillness. He held his breath, and crouched down, watching. In a minute, two dark forms, keeping carefully in the shadows by the side of the road, crept stealthily past.

He waited till they, too, were out of sight, and then stood up with tingling pulses, but quite cool. Moving on tiptoe, he stepped lightly over the low stone wall into the road, and gazed after them.

The ascent was steep, and the road curved round and round in zig-zag fashion. On one side it was bordered by a thickly-growing orange grove, whose delicate perfume was sweetening the still languid air. On the other was a stretch of waste open country, separated from the road by a low wall. He chose the seaward side, and keeping under the shadow of the trees, followed them, his footsteps sinking noiselessly into the thick dust.

Once the two ladies paused to look back. He stopped too; and the two bending figures between them drew closer in the shadows and waited. He was some distance away, but the sound of her voice floated clearly down to him on a breath of that faint night air.

Again they turned, and again he followed. Suddenly his heart gave a great bound. About fifty yards in front of the two girls was a rudely-built country carriage, drawn by a pair of mules and with a single man on the box. They had paused at such an unexpected sight, and seemed to be deliberating in whispers whether or no they should proceed. Before they had come to any decision, the two men had crept out from the shadow of the wall and trees into the road, and with bent bodies hurried toward them.

He did not shout or make any noise; he simply lessened the distance between him and them by increasing his pace. The two stooping forms, casting long, oblique shadows across the white, hard road, were almost level with their intended victims. Now the shadow of one of them crept a little in advance of the ladies, and Adrienne Cartuccio, seeing it, stepped suddenly back with a cry of alarm. "Giovanni! Giovanni! There are robbers! Ah!"

The cry became a shriek, but it was instantly stifled by a coarse hand thrust upon her mouth. At the same moment her companion felt herself treated in a similar manner. They could only gaze into the dark ruffianly faces of their captors in mute terror. The whole thing had been too sudden for them to make any resistance, and Giovanni, their trusted escort, seemed suddenly to have disappeared. As a matter of fact, he was watching the proceedings from behind a convenient boulder.

The man who was holding Adrienne pointed to the carriage, the door of which the driver had thrown open.

"This way, Signorina," he said. "It is useless to struggle. We shall not harm you."

She shook her head violently, and with a sudden effort thrust his hand away from her mouth.

"What do you want?" she cried. "Who are you? You can have my Jewels, but I will never step inside that carriage. Help! Help!"

He wound his arms around her, and without a word, commenced dragging her across the road.

"You may shout as much as you like," he muttered. "There will only be echoes to answer you."

A sudden warning cry rang out from his companion, and, with a start, he released his victim. The Englishman had stepped into the middle of the group and before he could spring back, a swirling left-hander sent him down into the dust with a dull, heavy thud.

"You blackguard!" he thundered out. Then turning quickly round he faced the other man, who had sprung across the road with bent body, and with his right hand in his breast. There was a gleam of cold steel, but before he could use the knife which he had drawn, his arm was grasped and held as though by a vice, and slowly bent backward. He dropped the weapon, with a shriek of pain, upon the road, and fell on his knees before his captor.

The Englishman's grasp relaxed, and taking advantage of it, the man suddenly jumped up, leaped over the wall, and disappeared in the plantation. Pursuit would have been impossible, but none of them thought of it.

for me I could not have believed them. It put my stomach in perfect condition and drove the rheumatism right out of my system. I eat anything, am no longer nervous, and sleep like a healthy child. I feel strong and well all the time. Sargon Soft Mass Pills completely overcame my liver troubles. They act gently yet thoroughly.

"To enjoy such splendid health as Sargon has given me is the greatest blessing in the world, and I feel it my duty to let other sufferers know about this wonderful treatment."

This remarkable statement was made recently by Mrs. M. M. Link, wealthy resident of 863 Taxedo Blvd., Webster Grove, Mo. where she went in her long search for health.

Sargon may be obtained in Ozona from the Ozona Drug Company.

PRAIRIE DOG NOTICE:
The Commissioners Court is again giving notice that Prairie Dogs in Crockett County must be exterminated. The County has on hand quite a quantity of strychnine purchased at wholesale prices and will turn it over to the taxpayers at cost to county. The county clerk has charge of it.
This notice is not meant to require operations at once, but merely as notice to all parties that the court will insist that every prairie dog in Crockett County be killed during the next six months.
Chas. E. Davidson,
County Judge.
