Ozonia Man Appointed By Leasing Board For Big Job

AUSTIN, Tex., June 7.—The University Land Leasing Board created by the regular session of the 41st Legislature was in session here Friday discussing plans for surveying the 2,000,000 acres of University lands in West Texas.

Frank F. Friend of Ozona, Crockett County, was employed as surveyor. His selection was made from a list of 17 applicants.

A geologist is also to be employed but the appointment probably will not be made at this meeting. The board is to continue its session Saturday.

A general plan for re-surveying the lands is provided in the land leasing bill which authorizes the board to make leases, instead of as heretofore by the State Land Commissioners.

The board is also to prepare a budget for appropriations by the Legislature for the next two years.

Members of the board are Land Commissioner J. T. Robison and University Regents Ed Crane of Dallas and R. L. Holliday of El Paso.

The young couple left immediately after the ceremony on a wedding trip, returning to Ozona Wednesday night to make their home.

Miers Sells Long Wool At 33½ Cents, Had Refused 45 Cts.

SONORA, June 10.—West Texas' largest individual wool clip, held over from the 1928 season, has been sold at 33½ cents a pound by W. A. ("Bill") Miers, Texas' wool king, to Joe Blakney, of San Angelo, representing Hollowell, Jones & Donald of Boston. The clip aggregated 195,000 pounds. It is long wool. He is said to have refused around 45 cents for the clip last year.

Mr. Miers' 1929 clip of long wool, aggregating around 200,000 pounds, remains unsold.

Mr. Blakney included in his purchases at Sonora the 25,000 pound clip of long wool held over from last year by Theo Savell, paying 31 cents a pound for the accumulation.

Most Of Texas Wool Clip Sold; 8,000,000 Pounds Still Unsold

Approximately 30,000,000 pounds of the Texas spring clip of 38,000,000 pounds has been sold, leaving about 8,000,000 pounds of the spring clip yet to be disposed of in the state. Prices continue about the same with perhaps the general average for the season's clip 32½ cents. The top price remains 38½ cents.

Backsprings' warehouse and that of Junction and Sanderson have not sold their holdings. No sealed bid sales were held during the last week but buyers continued to acquire wool both from the warehouses and from individual growers. Mertzson's West Texas Wool and Mohair Association sold a million pounds last week.

Miss Ena Meinecke is home for the summer vacation period after attending Abilene Christian College during the past year.

SONORA LIONS HOSTS TO BIG CROWD AT MEET

Representatives Of 5 Towns Attend Inter-City Meeting

11 FROM OZONA

Lions Roar Hearty Appeal Of Inter-City Meet Idea

The inter-city meeting of Lions Clubs, suggested at the recent state convention of Lions in San Angelo received the hearty approval of representatives of Lions Clubs in five towns in this section at the first inter-city meeting held in Sonora last Monday night. Eleven Ozona Lions and ladies attended the meeting, which was held in the basement of the Sonora Methodist Church, ladies of the church serving the banquet.

The Sonora Lions Club was host to visiting Lions from Menard, Eldorado, Ozona and San Angelo, 99 Lions and Lionesses attending the affair.

W. E. Caldwell, president of the Sonora club, presided at the session, which was opened with the members facing the flag and singing "America." Invocation was read by the Rev. F. M. Jackson, pastor of the First Methodist Church of Sonora.

The welcome address of Mr. Caldwell was responded to by J. A. ("Gus") Miller of San Angelo, who touched on advantages of Lionism, stressing the humanitarian phase of the international organization.

W. L. Aldwell, president of the First National Bank of Sonora, addressed the Lions briefly, reciting the rapid growth and development of West Texas, and pointing out the progress that is being shown in extending the Orient from San Angelo to Sonora, via Christoval and Eldorado.

Two visiting Lions Club presidents selected as their topics the thought of the importance of inter-city meetings. Joab Campbell of Eldorado and J. H. Jordan of San Angelo each brought out points which stressed the bonds of friendship and co-operation brought about in such a manner.

The thought that good roads are economic assets to a community, aid in developing trade territory, and make inter-city meetings possible was expressed by the Rev. M. M. Fulmer of Ozona. N. H. Pierce of Menard, touching on Lionism, put humor in his brief talk to the Lions. C. G. Dunkin, a former mayor of Sonora but now cashier of the Guaranty Bank of San Angelo, spoke briefly when introduced.

Entertainment features included a piano solo by Mrs. M. M. Fulmer of Ozona, a reading by Mrs. A. W. Jones of Ozona, and violin numbers by Mrs. J. A. Miller of San Angelo, accompanied by Miss Mary Bain Spence of San Angelo at the piano.

Eldorado visitors included Mr. and Mrs. Joab Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. L. T. Barber, H. G. Parker, F. M. Bradley, Mr. and Mrs. George Williams, Fred O. Green, and Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Oglesby; Ozona—J. T. Keeton, Hugh Childress, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Evert White, the Rev. and Mrs. M. M. Fulmer, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Jones, L. L. Bewley, F. A. Gray and the Rev. W. R. Swinney; Menard—N. H. Pierce, W. R. Nisbet; San Angelo—Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Miller, Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Dunkin, Mr. and Mrs. Andy Gaines, Mr. and Mrs. John Bain, J. H. Jordan, W. Ed Blanton and Miss Mary Blain Spence.

Mrs. Bascomb Cox and Mrs. Morris Dudley entertained the Thursday Forty-Two Club at Mrs. Cox's home last week. Those present were Mesdames John Bailey, Mary Perner, Mary Childress, Kate Baggett, A. E. Deland, L. J. Kittle, N. W. Graham, L. F. Slider, W. E. Friend, Evert White, Rusty Smith, Tommy Hunter, Albert Kay, C. C. Montgomery, Roy Parker, Madden Read, I. B. Adams, George Bean. Apricot ice and cake was served.

Couch Back From Trip By Airplane

1,200 Mile Trip To Los Angeles Made In 10 Hours

Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Couch returned Sunday from their first cross-country flight in their new Ryan Brougham monoplane. They had spent the week in Los Angeles, Cal. where they attended the convention of Shriners held in that city.

The trip was perfect in every respect, they reported. The weather was fine, but a bit hazy, according to Embree Hunt, pilot. The trip from here to Los Angeles, a distance of about 1200 miles air-line was made in 10 hours and 15 minutes and the return trip in 10 hours and 35 minutes, an average of more than 160 miles an hour.

The flight was made at an average of about 5000 feet altitude. Mr. Hunt declared, it being necessary to attain a height of around 11,000 feet over the Rocky Mountains.

Leaving Ozona last Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Couch and Mr. Hunt flew to Marfa where their daughter, Mrs. H. B. Cox, joined them. They left Marfa Monday morning and arrived in Los Angeles Monday afternoon. They left Los Angeles on the return trip Sunday morning and reached Ozona Sunday afternoon.

Ozonia Scouts Are Enjoying Outing At Camp Connellee

Seven members of Troop 53, Ozona Boy Scouts, who are attending a ten-days camp at Camp Connellee, near Carlsbad, Texas, are having a great time, according to a letter received this week by A. W. Jones, local Scout Committee chairman, from Claude Denham, who accompanied the boys on the trip. Mr. Denham's letter follows:

Dear Mr. Jones: This Scout Camp is certainly going over in a huge fashion. Approximately sixty scouts are here and, as yet, there have been no dull moments. Programs for each day have provided sufficient work and sufficient play for everyone and none of the boys seem to be tiring. The eats are especially good, in fact, the officers say the present camp group is being fed better than any preceding camp group. The weather has been ideal and the nights could not be better for sleeping.

Each of our gang, except one, has appeared in parts of the camp program and all expect to be present and be promoted at the court of honor. My only regret is that the other boys of Scout age of Ozona are not present to be benefited by this splendid camp.

Assuring you that every scout is profiting greatly from this camp trip, I am,

Very respectfully,
Claude S. Denham.

100 Expected To Enter Frog Race

Novel Event At Barnhart Attracts State-Wide Interest

Around 100 entries are expected in the frog race to be staged at Barnhart Thursday night, June 20, according to word received here from promoters of this novel event.

The race has received state-wide publicity and entries are being received from all parts of the state, and other parts of the state.

Plans are being made now to offer additional prizes in the race, possibly a second and third prize. The first prize as announced is $100 in cash. This cash prize goes to the owner of the frog which first crosses a circular line to be drawn around the point where the frogs are to be released. The novelty of the race has attracted considerable interest throughout this section and a big crowd is expected to be in Barnhart to witness the performance.

PREPARE FOR OVER 10,000 AT '29 RODEO

Advertising Literature Broadcast To All Parts State

RACES ARE BETTER

All Departments To Be Improved Barbecue Arranged

Preparations are being made to entertain more than 10,000 visitors here during the three days of the Fourth Annual Crockett County Rodeo, Race Meet and Stock Show to be held in Ozona July 3, 4 and 5, according to fair officials.

Advertising literature for the 1929 celebration has been distributed to all part of the state and inquiries are already coming in from prospective exhibitors, race horse men, stockmen and visitors from all sections of the state.

All departments of this year's celebration will be improved, department heads declare. Already more entries have been received in the cow show and sale than have ever been offered in past years, according to Joe T. Davidson, chairman of the cow show, and Vic Pierce, chairman of the sheep show. New stalls for both the sheep and cow departments will be built before the rodeo dates in order to take care of the larger number of entries.

Considerable improvement in the horse racing events is expected this year. The five-town circuit of the West Texas Racing and Fair Association, including race meets in Menard, Sonora, Ozona, Eldorado and San Angelo, is offering a $250 bonus purse to the biggest money winners in the circuit. Payment of this bonus purse is contingent upon a horse's competing in race meets in all five towns. Race horse men in various parts of the state have shown considerable interest in this circuit and with approximately $10,000 in regular purses offered in the circuit, it is believed that this year's programs will bring more and better horses than ever before.

The barbecue fund, being raised by popular subscriptions locally for the purpose of providing free barbecue at noon on each of the three days, has about been subscribed and committees are at work getting things lined up for this phase of the entertainment. A dance each night on the fairgrounds platform to music furnished by one of the best orchestras in West Texas will be another feature of the three days entertainment. The Crockett County Band, has been employed to furnish music in the grandstand during the rodeo and racing events each afternoon.

Cow Show-Sale To Be Biggest Ever

Fifty Head Of Registered Herefords Entered In Sale

Entries to date in the cow show and sale to be held in connection with the Fourth Annual Rodeo, Race Meet and Stock Show, July 3, 4 and 5, indicate that this department will be practically twice as large this year as it was last, according to Joe T. Davidson, chairman.

Approximately 50 head of registered Herefords have already been entered in the sale and 26 head in the show, Mr. Davidson said. This is nearly twice as many animals as were entered in the show and sale last year.

In order to take care of the large number of animals to be sent here for the cow show, it will be necessary to build additional stalls at the fair grounds, Mr. Davidson said.

"The world is looking for the man who can do something, not for the man who can explain why he didn't do it."—Anonymous.

June 16th is Father's Day, and we want to urge everyone not to overlook this occasion. For some reason, Mother's Day is much more widely observed than Father's Day. This is understandable in the light of the beautiful sentiments that are aroused by the very word "mother"—yet father need not be neglected, as too often he seems to be.

Father may seem indifferent to such an occasion as Father's Day. Probably, if asked, he would call it "nonsense" and ask his children to "forget it."

Father may seem austere, or too practical to care for such trinkets as you might be moved to purchase for him, or, in many cases, it might seem ridiculous to present him with a gift out of his own money.

But remember one thing! A man is only a boy grown up. Your father, no matter what his exterior, has hidden away in his heart a little boy. And that little boy will come to the surface and with father will retire to his room as happy about the red pair of suspenders, or the tie, or the box of cigars that you have given him, as any little boy would be about a box of marbles or a baseball glove.

Don't be fooled by your father. He likes little attentions just as much as mother does.

There is no way of predicting the extent of developments in the radio field. Tests by the Canadian National Railway near Toronto indicate the futility of predicting the ultimate destiny of radio. It is possible now to talk casually from moving trains, to send telegrams from them, and to broadcast from them.

Years ago it was thought the ultimate was reached when phonograph records broadcast were heard over a comparatively short distance.

At that time anyone suggesting that broadcasts might be made from a moving train would have been considered insane. In ancient times such a prophet would have been burned at the stake for witchcraft.

Yet these miracles have come to pass, and do not doubt it, others are coming. There seem to be very few limitations to the ability of man to conquer the elements. But there is one very definite limit.

When Lieutenant Soucek sought to make a new altitude record, eight miles above the ground, he had to breathe oxygen from tanks in order to keep alive. As it was, breathing was an agonizing experience. His adventure proved there was a limit to human progress in the sense that man is confined to the little globe in which he is born.

CHURCH OF CHRIST

"Be not deceived; God is not mocked; for whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap. But this I say, He that soweth sparingly shall reap also sparingly; and he that soweth bountifully, shall reap also bountifully." If you only sow a little of your time in worshipping God, you may expect small returns. And when you absent yourself willingly from the church services, remember our Saviour said, "He that gathereth not with me, scattereth. Now remember this and for your own sake come to Bible study and stay for church.

All services at the usual hours. Special services regularly.

SECOND INSTALLMENT

—What Happened So Far—
Tom Bilbeck is the narrator. He is a fat newspaper writer who drives a tumble-down car he calls Grandmother Page. He is in love with Maryella, his rival being Jim Cooper. The three are members of an amateur dramatic group. Plans for a play at the Old Soldiers' Home are under way. Grandmother Page has engine trouble while Maryella is out driving with Bilbeck, and Cooper, passing in a big roadster, taunts him. After Maryella has left Bilbeck is able to start his car again.

Chapter II.
(Rehearsal)

Our version of "Pygmalion and Galatea" would doubtless surprise you if you are at all familiar with the original, in which Pygmalion is the artist and carves the lady in the sketch out of a block of marble.

We started out to rehearse it that way, but ran into difficulties when the matter of costumes came up for discussion. It seemed advisable that the statue should wear white tights and white grease-paint on the face in order to carry out the illusion. All the ladies of the club were quite content that it should be so, but when it came to assigning the parts each and every one refused to be Galatea.

For a time it looked as if we would have to fall back on some little sketch of Shakespeare's until Maryella made the practical suggestion that we change the story. Her idea was to make Galatea a sculptorine who hammers a hunk of stone into a beautiful male statue by the name of Pygmalion.

Can you imagine an anti-feminist thinking up a thought like that?

Maryella's suggestion carried. As the literary man of the organization, I was appointed to doctor up the manuscript to fit the change of characters. Later, much to my surprise and in spite of my protests, the stellar role of Pygmalion was forced upon me.

To-night was to be the dress rehearsal and on the following evening we were scheduled to give a trial performance in the barn at the Old Soldiers' Home. The trial performance was for the double purpose of getting easy in our parts and of making the old soldiers realize that war is not so terrible after all.

When I returned to my bachelor rooms in town I had only time to change to some dry clothing and hurry over to the rehearsal without getting anything to eat. Food did not appeal to me anyway. Neither did anything else least of all rehearsing a lot of fool love-talk. My own romance had suffered such a disheartening set-back that I was in no mood to enact the role of a hand-hammered Romeo of mythology.

But I went just the same. You know how hard it is to step out of the routine business of your life just because some disaster has befallen you. Your perceptions become numbed and you wonder vaguely why the sun is shining, but you go on doing the same things that are expected of you just as you have always done.

"Business as usual" is not the motto of an exceptional nation. It is the underlying principle of the progress of the human race.

The Sheridan Dramatic Club had borrowed for rehearsals the stage of the local opera-house, which was vacant that week. It was there that I wended my discolorate way.

I was late, but it didn't make much difference, as all during the first act the statue of Pygmalion was a papier-mache figure. Between the acts I was supposed to take the place of the statue in the same pose so that a little later I could come to life in response to Galatea's wish.

When I came in they were rehearsing with the dummy. Everything appeared to be going very well. Maryella looked absolutely ravishing in the Greek drapery, and Jim Cooper was doing the best he could to impersonate a skinny Greek warrior.

He was even thinner than I had suspected. As a Highlander he would never be a conspicuous success. Any one could tell that at a glance.

The part of a young sculptor's apprentice was taken by Mrs. Hemmingway, a dazzling blonde in a short Greek tunic and sandals. She wouldn't have fooled any one but a blind man into thinking she was a boy, but nobody minded that. She had talents enough to get into a Ziegfield chorus any day.

There was a dozen other parts played with intent to kill in the good old amateur way. I discovered former male friends hidden behind bushy beards that dropped off occasionally at a critical moment, leaving the actor bald-faced and speechless; and ladies I used to know disguised as Hellenic maidens by doing their hair into a Psyche knot and trimming their best nighties with a Greek key-design and an occasional swastika.

Off stage, doing a piece of embroidery while she waited for her cue, was Mrs. George Lillielove, the wife of the most popular undertaker in town. In Greek robes Mrs. Lillielove looked almost exactly like a haystack with a tarpaulin over it.

I slipped into my dressing room unobserved. My costume was there. I had not seen it before, so I was a trifle surprised at the bulk of it. The whole thing could have been put in the pocket of a dress waistcoat without spoiling the shape of it any. It was silk and white, but it seemed awfully thin. I played safe by wearing my underwear beneath it.

There was no full-length mirror in my room, so I could not get the entire effect, but it looked all right as far as I could see. It was easy to make up my face all white and put on a white wig which was provided for me. I slipped on my overcoat over the costume to step up on the stage. The curtain was down between the acts. I took my place on the pedestal, slightly nervous but determined to get through somehow if the seams of the tights did their part. The stage was dimly illumined with blue moonlight. Just before the curtain rose I dropped the overcoat behind me.

I stood motionless during the introductory music. There was a flutter of surprise among the members of the club who were not on the stage at that moment and had stepped out into the auditorium to steal a look from the other side of the foot-lights. It must have been beautiful. I know I was conscious of looking well in that pose and lighting. I flexed my muscles to make them stand out better.

Galatea entered. She was dressed in a gold-trimmed robe. On her neck was a single strand of beautiful pearls. I recognized them as Mrs. Hemmingway's. Maryella had borrowed them because their owner couldn't wear them for the performance, as she was playing the part of a boy.

Galatea's eyes were on the floor, pensive. She came slowly to the pedestal on which I stood. She knelt. She looked up.

She held her pose for a long time without saying a word—without expressing even a whispered wish that I would come to life. Maryella was wordless.

"What's the trouble?" inquired the coach, who stood, book in hand, just over the footlights. "Miss Waite, your line is, 'My dearest wish —'"

"No," she stopped him impatiently. "I know my lines. It's the statue."

Her tone was full of vexation. "What's the matter?" I inquired, without abandoning my attitude. "This is the same pose I've been taking every night at rehearsal ever since we began." "It isn't that. You are bow-legged."

made a blunder of some sort on purpose.

"Oh!" That was a sensitive subject with me.

"I didn't know there was anything criminal in being slightly curved. It really comes from strength. Lots of men are."

Make Him Happy at Meal Time

There is art in preparing appetizing meals. Three times a day the problem arises. It is a lucky wife, and a smart one, who is able to meet this problem three times a day, 30 days in the month and bring a smile to her husband's face every time he sits down to the table.

Appetites naturally become fagged during the summer months. It takes just a little more careful planning, just a little more variety to make eating a satisfaction.

Our job is to help the housewife meet this problem. We have studied this problem from a grocer's standpoint and our varied stock of foodstuffs shows the conclusions we have reached. Variety—in canned goods, fresh fruits, vegetables and staple groceries—has made the problem easier. Consult our shelves the next time you encounter this perplexing problem.

Why pay more than Buick's price for less than Buick performance?

Motorists who can afford to pay almost any price for a automobile are buying more than twice as many Buicks as any other car priced above $1200.

Men who can afford to pay almost any price they desire for a motor car are testing Buick and discovering an order of performance never before known... with the result that they are buying more than twice as many Buicks as any other car priced above $1200!

With Buick superiority so obvious and outstanding as to result in two-to-one countrywide preference, you, too, should investigate thoroughly before you buy any car. You, too, should seek the guarantee of lasting satisfaction which searching test on the road alone can provide!

Come to our showroom! Arrange to drive a Buick! Prove its absolute mastery over street, highway and hill. Compare every element of performance with other automobiles. Then you'll know that you, too, should have a BUICK!

Entire System Is Strengthened

"Two years ago specialists in Louisiana advised me to come to San Antonio to recuperate from a bad spell of malaria, which had poisoned my system and left me in a run-down condition. My complexion and eyes had turned an unhealthy, yellow. Everything I ate gave me trouble, instead of strength. Constipation kept my system from throwing off poisons. I was almost hopeless. Sargon did more for me in less such a remarkable change in anyone in such a short time. Every trace of indigestion is gone. My food gives me the proper nourishment and I have gained five pounds. I feel good all the time. Sargon Soft Mass Pills overcome constipation in a natural way. They not only have rid me of constipation but have driven the malarial poisons out of my body.

"I take the greatest pleasure in telling all my friends about it." The above statement was made recently by Mrs. E. Prudhomme, 616 West Woodlawn, San Antonio, Texas, who is highly regarded by her friends and neighbors.

ged statue before," she argued petulantly. "I don't care personally. I suppose that lots of really estimable men have personal peculiarities; but can you imagine a sculptor creating a statue intentionally bow-legged? Why didn't you tell me?" she wailed. "Why didn't you tell me?"

"Well," I temporized. "I didn't think I knew you well enough for that."

"The play is ruined," she declared.

"Not at all," I said with as much injured dignity as I could command in white tights. "You can easily get some one else to play this part. If you look around the club you can doubtless find someone with legs like bean poles."

She knew whom I meant without my explaining more particularly. "Come, people," interrupted the coach pleasantly. "We mustn't waste time. Remember there is a lot to do before we leave here this evening."

"Don't be silly," she replied. "No one else could learn the part in time."

"Why not try standing sideways to the audience all the time," suggested Jim Cooper, who with his nose glasses on and a cigarette in his mouth was the beau ideal of a Greek warrior.

"I know what to do."

Mrs. Hemmingway came to the rescue with a practical suggestion. "You can buy a pair of those things that chorus girls wear sometimes—symmetricals, I think they are called."

"Oh!" said several of the ladies at once, looking pointedly at Mrs. Hemmingway's shapely substructure.

"No, I don't wear them myself," she assured them in response to the unspoken question, "but I've heard that there are such things."

"All right," said the coach. "Go with the dialogue."

The balance of the act was plowed through somehow. I had to play several love-scenes with Maryella, but I was so acutely conscious of her criticism that I did them very badly.

The only scene that I played with any enthusiasm was one in which I was supposed to wrestle with Jim Cooper in the role of the Greek warrior. Even that turned out ill for me because it made his ache where I bumped it on the stage, and Maryella hovered over him like a hen with chickens all during the intermission while they were setting the stage for the third act.

I got tired of listening to her sympathizing with him and went out in the auditorium by myself. I did not care to talk to any one. To criticize my acting was one thing, but to make personal remarks about the shape of my legs was going too far.

I made up my mind to withdraw from the Sheridan Dramatic Club as soon as the performance of Pygmalion and Galatea was over. I would not leave them in the lurch now, as I might do and wreck the entire performance; but as soon as it would not be conspicuous I would assert my dignity and resign on the ground that it took too much of my time. I admired Maryella, but she could hardly expect me to stand for being made fun of before Jim Cooper.

"I think it is an awfully funny play; don't you?" inquired a voice behind me.

I looked around. In the aisle stood Mrs. Hemmingway, a plump sylph in the half-light of the auditorium. She apparently wanted to sit down, so I made room for her beside me.

"You think it is quite funny?" I repeated interrogatively.

"Yes, I didn't realize it so much until I saw the costumes. I didn't know you were going to be a clown."

She pointed to my white face. "I suppose she would have laughed herself sick at the Venus de Milo. Mrs. Hemmingway is a movie fan, and her sense of humor must have been curdled by this comic-fall stuff. Here I was gotten up to represent a beautiful work of the sculptor's art, and she had missed the idea entirely and thought I was meant to be funny!"

"The best scene," she went on, innocently endeavoring to flatter me, "is where you tell Maryella you love her there in the garden. It was better than Charlie Chaplin."

And that scene was pure poetry! I wrote it myself, so I am sure of it.

"Thank you very much for your appreciation," I said, wishing that she were a man so that I could say what I really thought. "You've no idea how your praise makes me feel."

"I'm glad I thought you were sort of blue over here all by yourself, so I decided to cheer you up."

Then she added hastily for fear she had ruined the effect of her

WEST TEXAS UTILITIES

What We're Doing for MOTHERS

WE are devoting a large measure of our time and efforts to the Mothers of this great empire of West Texas, always endeavoring to find ways and means of making their lives more pleasant and the duties which they find necessary to perform much easier.

—When we brought electricity into their homes, these Mothers were immediately relieved of oil lamps . . . one task less! It was made possible for them to enjoy the use of the Electric Refrigerator—the Electric Range and the Iron . . . all labor-savers for Mothers.

—There are numerous other electrical servants, all of which are skilled helpers on every household task; those tasks when done in the OLD way were genuine hardships; now they can be done easily and quickly, leaving much time for pleasure and recreation.

—Better lighting for homes . . . comfort appliances such as the heater and fan . . . floor lamps, bridge and table lamps and convenience outlets, too, are great conveniences . . . and there are personal appliances that keep Mothers well groomed. . . All of these we offer to the Mothers of West Texas, those who we are proud indeed to serve.

GUIDEPOSTS TO Health and Happiness

By Bernarr Macfadden

OVERCOMING BALDNESS.

There has always been much speculation as to why men grow bald and lose their hair quicker than women do. I do not believe there is any one particular reason. Rather, it is an accumulation of causes.

Probably, the reason women are less apt to lose their hair than men is because their longer hair, pulling on the roots, exercises the muscles and thereby stimulates the growth.

If you are losing your hair, the first thing to look to is your general physical condition. If you are run down you must build yourself up through proper exercise, diet, physical and mental rest. If you do not feel that you are below par, then you must search for local causes.

Among the many local causes of falling hair and baldness are several parasitic diseases, such as "ringworm," where round patches appear on the scalp. The germs of this disease are imbedded so deeply in the roots that it is extremely difficult to cure it. "Favus," which consists of golden yellow scales on the scalp is another. Ordinary dandruff, which interferes with the nourishment of the hair, is still another.

Fever will also cause baldness, or any wasting disease will also cause falling hair, because Nature has given all her attention to the more important parts of the body. The continual cutting which men's hair receives is sometimes blamed for baldness. It is not however the cutting which is to blame, but the dirty scissors, comb, brush, finger nails and hands of the barber which, if you put under a microscope, would reveal millions of dandruff germs.

One of the most reasonable explanations for early baldness in men is the constant wetting of hair. Little boys are taught early to soak their hair with water so that it will look neat and stay put. Most hair, when wet too much, snaps off and cracks easily. On the other hand, infrequent washing is just as bad, unless particular attention is paid to keeping the scalp clean. A dirty scalp fails to nourish the hair. In summer, when the head perspires and tends to rot the hair, a shampoo once a week is necessary.

There is no better stimulant to the growth of hair than massaging and brushing, both of which induce circulation and impart lustre. But care must be taken to keep the brushes free from particles of dandruff and dust.

In massaging the scalp, plenty of "elbow grease" is needed. A phlegmatic massage is of little value, while the vigorous massage is invaluable. The entire scalp should be pinched and kneaded with a circular motion until every portion of it is soft and flexible and moves freely. A gentle but firm pulling of the hair improves its strength. In certain European countries where women grow their hair for commercial purposes, it is said that they hang for a certain length of time each day by their hair, thus producing phenomenally rapid growth.

The application of hot and cold towels is a splendid stimulant, but care should be taken to dry the hair thoroughly afterward. Absolutely clean towels should be used.

If the scalp is naturally dry, olive oil or coconut oil is a good substitute. The hair should be parted and the oil applied directly to the scalp and not allowed to run down the hair. A superfluous amount of oil soon becomes rancid and catches dust.

It must be understood that once the hair root is gone, no remedy on earth will cause a new hair to grow from it. But if it is treated correctly when it begins to crack, baldness can be avoided.

JINGLE BELLS

"I really meant what I said though about your being funny." The dear little featherhead was trying to make me feel good! She was prompted by the instinct which makes one woman try to heal the hurts inflicted by another. I was a bear not to accept her tribute in the spirit in which it was offered.

"Thanks ever so much," I assured her, and reaching over carelessly I patted her hand, which lay idly on her knee.

As I did so a strong hand came down on my shoulder and, heavy man though I am, I was hoisted bodily from my seat to the aisle. "I caught you, didn't I?" hissed an angry voice. "I've suspected there was some man in the case to make my wife so crazy about acting all of a sudden."

We proudly exhibit the first super-tire, the finest, strongest, handsomest tire you have ever seen—Goodyear's 30th Anniversary masterpiece and the world's one tire built without limit as to cost. The DOUBLE EAGLE!

It excels any oversize, extra-ply or heavy duty tire—it is a new type—with more protection against puncture or blowout, more endurance and more mileage insurance built into it than most motoring needs warrant.

It is intended for exceptionally hard and fast drivers and exceptionally rough long distance travel. No tire, we believe, has ever withstood such abusive service.

Some motorists may indulge in its purchase for the sake of distinction it adds to a car's appearance. But necessarily high price limits such a luxury to a few.

Come and see this wonderful new type tire the world's largest rubber company has built.

RESOLUTION

Whereas it has pleased our Heavenly Father in his infinite wisdom and love to call our Brother, R. J. Elledge, home. Therefore be it resolved:

That in a loss of Brother Elledge Ozona Lodge No. 79 feels that a link in the golden chain of Odd Fellowship has again been broken and a vacant seat remains, in last memory of our departed Brother and while we bow in humble submission to the will of our Heavenly Father we deeply mourn the loss of our Brother, who, having been taken from our midst and that our heart felt sympathy is sincerely extended to the bereaved wife and loved ones.

He being a true Oddfellow and faithful to the order and ready to assist in trouble or distress, be it further resolved: That in his memory may be said that our loss is heavenly gain as he had recently stated he was ready to meet his Master.

Resolved that these resolutions be made part of our records and a copy be sent to the bereaved Wife.
