Quarterly Clean-Up Campaign To Get Under Way Monday; Trucks To Start On Rounds Tuesday Morning

SEPT. TERM DIST. COURT OPEN MONDAY

Heavy Run Of Criminal Cases Expected For The Term

JURORS SUMMONED Grand Jury Convenes Monday, Petit Jury Called Wednesday

District Judge Joe G. Montague will be on the bench here next Monday morning for opening of the regular September term of 112th district court to continue through the week.

The grand jury for the term will be impaneled Monday morning and get started on its work immediately. The petit jury has been summoned to appear Wednesday morning when it is expected the court will be ready to take up the trial of jury cases.

Criminal business of the court will be unusually heavy this term in view of the special grand jury sitting here recently which returned seven bills of indictment. Six of these were in connection with the theft of two truck loads of oil well casing from a location on the Max Schneemann ranch. The other was against Salome Arios, charged with the 15-year-old murder of Jarvis Harp here. All of the defendants in these seven cases are in jail here except one, who is out on bond, and they are expected to be among the first to be called to trial.

The grand jury panel of 16 men, from which the investigating body of 12 men will be selected includes the following: J. M. Baggett, E. B. Baggett, Jr., George Bean, L. D. Brooks, P. L. Childress, R. J. Cooke, Ira Carson, W. E. Dunlap, H. B. Friend, Roy Henderson, Claude Owens, A. W. Jones, J. Keeton, C. C. Luther, Wayne West and John Mitchell.

The petit jury is composed of the following: J. A. Anderson, Ed Bean, S. L. Butler, E. E. Bode, Hugh Childress, Sr., W. T. Childress, W. D. Crowder, J. M. Dudley, C. E. Davidson, Jr., E. B. Deand, Ray Dunlap, R. R. Dudley, Ben Robertson, Arthur Phillips, C. C. Montgomery, Evert White, J. A. Elledge, Z. H. Eppler, Henry Elledge, H. J. Friend, Jr., R. A. Flowers, W. J. Grimmer, R. A. Harrell, Brock Hoover, Charles Lunnicut, W. P. Hoover, Jr., Tom Smith, Lee Henderson, T. A. Kinaid, Jr., J. L. Littleton, Ben Lemmons, H. A. Moore, Roy Miller, J. North and Joe Oberkampf.

The third quarterly clean-up campaign, sponsored by the Ozona Woman's Club, will get under way in Ozona Monday of next week, it was announced by the civic committee of the club Tuesday. Members of the civic committee, in whose hands is left the matter of planning and executing the clean-up drives, include Mrs. Lee Childress, chairman, Mrs. Albert Kay and Mrs. Evert White. The committee attaches particular importance to the clean-up next week as one of the most effective methods of ridding Ozona of the mosquito nuisance. Believing that this scourge will in a large measure be eliminated with a thorough clean-up of the town, the committee is seeking 100 per cent co-operation on the part of the citizenship in making this one of the most thorough campaigns ever waged.

Eliminate Mosquitoes
Tin cans that collect water with each rain, old worn out automobile casings and trash of all kinds that collect water are cited by all authorities as among the most frequent of mosquito breeding places. A thorough clean-up to rid the town of every tin can and every piece of litter of all kinds would be the most effective mosquito control measure that could be adopted, in the opinion of the committee and members of the Woman's Club.

As in the past, the County Commissioners Court is co-operating in the undertaking and will again furnish adequate trucks and labor to gather and dispose of all trash and rubbish in the city. Trucks have been engaged and will start on their rounds Tuesday morning. Mrs. Childress has announced, and residents are urged to have their premises thoroughly cleaned and all trash piled in a convenient place for the trucks to pick it up by Tuesday morning. It is not known in just what order the trucks will work and in order to get the work done in the least possible time and with the least expense to the county, everybody is urged to have trash ready by Tuesday morning. In some cases it may be a day or so before the trucks call for it, the committee pointed out, but if everybody will co-operate to this extent, and see to it that the trash pile is convenient for loading on the trucks, it will greatly facilitate the work and make it possible to carry out a more effective drive and in less time.

Supervisors Named
However, the town has been divided into districts, as usual, and a supervisor named for each district, and in the event the trucks miss any trash pile, residents are asked to notify the supervisor of that district at once and arrange-

Ozona High School Lions Launch 1931 Grid Season In Game Here Saturday Against Sherwood Crew

Facing one of the brightest gridiron prospects in years, the Ozona High School squad, under new mentor, Coach Ted White, will launch its 1931 campaign on the Powell Field grid next Saturday afternoon in a practice game with a raw team from Sherwood High School.

With less than a week of training behind them, the Lions are expected to exhibit little in the way of flashy football, but the game likely will be an easy one and will give Coach White an opportunity to limber up his squad and to form a pretty accurate opinion of what will be necessary to bring his proteges up to par for the first serious encounter of the season, that against Rankin the following Saturday.

a team from Sherwood High has participated, according to information here. All school boys are being used in the team, however, and the Sherwood coach promises some surprising action from a 100 per cent green team. The game is scheduled to start at 3 o'clock on Powell Field.

Twelve Letter Men
With twelve letter men available for the squad and some eight or ten with previous squad experience coming out this year, Coach White sees excellent prospects for a successful year in the district gridiron struggle during the coming season. The boys have been through daily workouts since last Saturday and are showing up well on the practice field, according to the coach.

Accused In Harp Murder

Salome Arios, alias Salome Alvareal, alias Jose Guererra, may go to trial in district court here starting next Monday morning in connection with the 15-year-old murder of Jarvis Harp in this county. The Mexican has been identified by several men as the herder who was sought as Harp's slayer and who was indicted soon after the slaying. He was recently re-indicted by a Crockett County grand jury. Shown with the Mexican is Sheriff W. S. Willis, who brought the man here from Del Rio and who has diligently followed the case in order that every scrap of evidence might be available in deciding the Mexican's guilt or innocence.

Work Of Installing Sewer System May Start In Ten Days If Final Check-Up Here Is Satisfactory

In the event a satisfactory report results from a final check-up of representations made to the company, actual construction work on a modern sewer system for Ozona will start within the next 10 to 15 days, it was announced here the first of the week by J. S. Barlow, independent engineer representing Crockett County in negotiations with the Southwest Sewer Company of Dallas.

J. H. Gehbauer, representative of the Southwest Sewer Company, was here the first of the week with Mr. Barlow making the final check of all facts in connection with the local project, going over all representations made to the company by Mr. Barlow and getting all necessary facts in connection with the project first hand.

W. G. Davis, Dallas contractor, who has done much of the work for the company, was also here recently testing the ground here and checking up on details with a view to making a bid on the construction work.

Officials of the company informed Mr. Barlow, he said, that if the situation here was as outlined to the board of directors, that the company was satisfied with the project and would undertake to install the system. Mr. Gehbauer's mission was that of making a final check-up for the company to determine conditions first hand and officials promised that if this check-up was satisfactory that work would likely begin within the next ten days.

Beau Gwen 14th Champion Here, Takes Off Lincoln Honors

A Texas-raised registered Hereford bull, Beau Gwen 14th, bred and raised by Joe T. Davidson of Ozona, was senior champion at the Nebraska State Fair in Lincoln last week, according to word received by Mr. Davidson from his herdsman, who is taking the Davidson show herd on the rounds of the big-time shows of the United States.

Beau Gwen 14th was adjudged champion bull at the 1930 registered Hereford show of the Crockett County Rodeo, Race Meet and Stock Show here and has been standing up well against keen competition in all of the big shows this summer. He is expected to command further attention in the balance of the shows in which he is to compete this fall, including the state fair at Dallas.

Luncheon Opens Club Year Work

Woman's Club To Undertake Big Projects During Year

Ozona Woman's Club started off its new year of work with an appropriate luncheon at the Hotel Ozona Tuesday noon.

The theme of the club's study course this year being Texas, the decorations, menu and programs each carried out the Texas theme. The luncheon table had as a centerpiece a native prickly pear with silvered thistles at each end of the table. On the prickly pear was a hand painted design which typified Texas. Place cards were also hand painted, the club colors of purple and white being carried out in all decorations.

Mrs. A. C. Hoover was toastmaster of the occasion. Mrs. Ira Carson gave a toast to the past presidents, Mrs. N. W. Graham replying on behalf of the past presidents. Mrs. Paul Perner gave a toast to the present president, Mrs. W. J. Grimmer. The musical feature of the program was a Southern song, "Little Pickaninny Kid," by Mrs. Bryan McDonald.

Securing a public library for Ozona and organization of a junior club were among the outstanding projects suggested for the club's work this year by Mrs. Grimmer in her message to the club as its president. Co-operation of other organizations in the city will be sought in the move to secure the library.

Conditions affecting the cotton, oil and wool producing interests of Texas were described by Mrs. Evert White in a talk "What is Going On In Texas." Mrs. E. M. Dowdy of Kerrville, a visitor, made a short talk.

Mrs. Vernon Cox gave two appropriate readings which were greatly enjoyed by the members and guests. The program closed with "The Eyes of Texas," sung by the club.

Following the regular program, a short business session was held, with the president in the chair.

The resignation of Mrs. W. E. Smith as recording secretary of the club was accepted and Mrs. George Montgomery elected to fill the place. All standing committees gave their reports, the most important of which was the report of the civic committee announcing the clean-up campaign which will get under way next Monday. Members of this committee include Mrs. Lee Childress, chairman, Mrs. Albert Kay and Mrs. Evert White.

Members present were Mesdames W. J. Grimmer, George Dean, W. E. Smith, Vernon Cox, B. E. Ingham, Vic Pierce, Bryan McDonald, Joe Oberkampf, A. C. Hoover, Will Baggett, Paul Perner, N. W. Graham, I. G. Rape, Joe Pierce, Evert White. One honorary member, Mrs. Kate Baggett, and two guests, Mrs. Charles Williams and Mrs. E. M. Dowdy of Kerrville, were also present.

business affairs here he will go into the ranching business, stocking a ranch east of Ozona.

Mr. Hunter has announced that there will be no changes in prices or personnel of the shop at present. He is stressing service, however, and promises patrons of the firm the best possible service and careful attention on every job. He will continue with the line of M. Born and Ed V. Price tailor-made suits on special order.

Miss Maxine Murdock of Albuquerque, N. M., will teach piano here during the present school year.

INCREASE OF 42 OVER LAST YEAR'S TOTAL

Senior Class Records Smashed As 25 Candidates Enroll

Enrollment records for many years past were smashed when the 1931-32 term of Ozona schools got under way here Monday morning.

Both the grades and high school showed a substantial gain in enrollment over last year's total, according to figures announced by Supt. John L. Bishop. The High School, with an enrollment of 100, a gain of 14 over last year's enrollment at the opening of the term, is believed to have hung up a record. The Senior class for this term also smashed all previous records with an enrollment of 25, the largest graduating class in the history of Ozona High School so far as available records show.

All but two classes in the grades showed gains over last year's totals, one of these coming up with a loss of one and the other matching its enrollment of last year.

The enrollment by grades, with last year's figures for comparison, is given below:

First grade: 31, last year 20; Second Grade, 29, last year 28; Third Grade, 32, last year 32; Fourth Grade, 32, last year 24; Fifth Grade, 26, last year 21; Sixth Grade, 23, last year 24; Seventh Grade, 29, last year 25. The kindergarten has an enrollment of 20.

Total enrollment in the Mexican school was 123. Figures for last year were not available, but it is believed this is a substantial increase. Enrollment figures for the county schools outside of Ozona are not yet available, but will be announced as soon as reports are received.

"Although we are badly overcrowded, things are running smoother than ever before," declared Supt. John L. Bishop Wednesday. "There is a better spirit of co-operation and we have gotten off to a better start than in years."

The new High School building is expected to be ready for occupancy between November 15 and December 1, according to estimates by contractors.

The following assignment of teachers was announced this week by Supt. Bishop: Miss Myla Bohmert, kindergarten; Miss Elizabeth Fussell, first grade; Mrs. R. O. Smith, second grade; Miss Norene Allison, third grade; Mrs. C. S. Denham, fourth grade; Miss Aline Hampton, English, Spelling and Reading in fifth, sixth and seventh grades; Miss Webb, Arithmetic, Geography and Citizenship in fifth, sixth and seventh grades; Mrs. Tom Hunter, History Art and Writing in fifth, sixth and seventh grades, and Miss Patti Raiza, public school music in the first seven grades.

Teachers for the High School include Miss Lula Mae Harrison, typewriting, bookkeeping and shorthand; Miss Ada Moss, home economics; Miss Lucille Williamson, English; Claude Denham, principal, history; Guinn Caruthers, manual training and science; Ted White, mathematics and athletic coach, and Supt. John L. Bishop, Spanish.

In the Mexican school here Mrs. Rusty Smith and Miss Helen Chapman will be in charge. Miss Hunter is the teacher at the Live Oak School, Miss Mildred Cook and Miss Sarah Cooke at Leon Powell school, and Miss Ida Parry at the Pecos Valley Power and Light Company school.

WHISPERINGS

Psst, Psst, Psst! Have you—? You don't say! Well, Well! And away goes another reputation for life long honesty, decency right living.

There isn't a more sinister, vicious, evil, advantage-taking method of spreading derogatory propaganda than through the Whispering Grapevine Route.

At times it rolls along apparently harmless as idle gossip. Then again as a thistle it turns over and over, gathering more rubbish through malignant contacts with venomous subjects which cling to it, until finally it becomes a giant prairie roller, a composit of all that is filthy and putrid in the community.

Fanned by the gale, the fastest runner cannot keep up with it. White-livered, black and white striped animals, who in order to further their own interests, or who delight in besmirching decent characters to the aroma of their own, start their whisperings by planting them deliberately at vulnerable peddling points, breathe the breath of life into their monsters, and then all the imps of hell lash them on.

The old-time alleged powers of witchcraft were inconsequential, compared to the possibilities for characterslaying, embodied in the witchery of Dame Rumor, and yet today there are no stocks to fasten these vicious Rumor purveyors in, as objects of public contempt; no lashing posts at which to scourge them; no stakes at which to burn them.

Suicides, murders, bank failures, bankruptcies, home, church, and school wrecks are spectres which rattle at the gate of Dame Rumor. Politicians work her overtime, and even in Washington's day she was so active, he declared he'd rather fight a whole army than one vicious rumor.

The worst enemy of prosperity, the outstanding enemy of progress, the foe of harmony, the greatest enemy of happiness, and the biggest liar in the universe, Dame Rumor is a wanton who refuses to come out and fight in the open.

She is sneaking, cowardly, snake-like; an object for fear and abhorrence, that should be crushed, squelched, choked, and hurled back into the depths of the bottomless pit from which she dared to emerge, because of the satanic efforts of her masters.—Leader, Pipestone, Minnesota.

MAYBE THEY EAT MORE LAMB

I see by the papers that the Japanese scientists have come to the conclusion that they can increase the stature of the Japanese people two inches by putting them on a beef diet. After investigation, the Japanese Government has come to the conclusion that an experiment would be worth trying out. The people are being urged to eat more beef and less rice. Pioneer Texans on the range were great beef eaters and you can go to any Texas cattlemen's convention today and see results. There is no place on earth that you can see as many 6-footers as you can at a Texas cattlemen's convention.—Theo. H. Lampe in "Livestock Leader."

If a diplomat says "Yes," he means "Maybe."

If he says "Maybe," he means "No."

If he says "No," he's no diplomat.

If a lady says "No," she means "Maybe."

If she says "Maybe," she means "Yes."

If she says "Yes," she's no lady.

That, dear customers, is a jewel gleaned in the week's browsing.

John Pettit is without doubt a man of action. The other day at the Lions Club the conversation drifted from one thing to another until something reminded John Pettit of French girls—during the war and all that. It doesn't take much, you know, just any little thing will remind him of French girls. (There were lots of things in France more interesting than battle fronts, shell fire and forced marches, you know).

Well, anyway, from French girls the conversation drifted back to—French girls and somebody asked John if he was ever in action "over there."

"Yes, sir," was John's reply, "Every time I heard one of Fritz's shells coming."

When the month of August had run its course recently the first of the month came along as firsts of the month have a habit of doing and with the first of the month the rent came due, as rent has a way of doing. Whether or not the fact that the rent was due had anything to do with it the fact remains that there was a general scramble on the part of renters and the moving trucks were busy for several days. As near as we can learn the outcome of the shuffle was about like this: Ben Lemmons moved into his new home. Tot Grimmer moved into the house vacated by Ben Lemmons. Tom Squires moved into the house vacated by Tot Grimmer. W. L. Rogers moved into the house vacated by Tom Squires. George Russell moved into the house vacated by W. L. Rogers. Frank Russell moved into the house vacated by George Russell. L. B. Townsend moved into the house vacated by Frank Russell. Horace Rogers moved into the house vacated by Townsend and a Mr. Williams moved out of his place of business into the house vacated by Horace Rogers and the seemingly endless circle had to come to a halt there.

All of which was to give Mr. Williams a place to live, we suppose.

"Where were you born?"
"In a hospital."
"What was the matter with you?"

WAITING FOR BETTER TIMES

San Marcos Record: He stood in the door of his business establishment with a downcast expression upon his face. He looked dejected and defeated. People passed by but did not stop. People do not go to a funeral only as a matter of due respect. So this so-called business man was compelled to have his funeral all by himself.

A little farther down the street was another store of the same class of merchandise. The proprietor only came to the door to greet his customers and friends. He was too busy rearranging his goods, re-decorating his store, or taking care of the wants of his customers to find time to stand in the front door and look sad. He caught the glimpse of the passer-by as he glanced out the door and the optimistic smile was so pleasant that the people just wanted to go inside and see what was going on. And there was something going on, for the clerks were all busy either selling goods or making the store look more attractive and inviting.

People passed this judgment on those two stores, which are of course used here only as an illustration. One was referred to as the "store that is on its last legs" and the other as "that live store down the street."

So, in the business life as well as in the other phases of endeavor we shape our own destiny by the way we face the problems of life and the manner in which we attempt to solve them. And this will apply to the newspaper man as well as any other business man. Things are generally about as good or bad as we make them look, and as we ourselves look.

ROWENA

Rides The Rumble

BY ETHEL HUESTON

After adjusting their difficulties, Peter accidentally opens a letter from Rowena's kid brother demanding $50 to pay a gambling debt. He sends the $50 out of his own money, along with a caustic letter. On reaching El Paso, Rowena hears from her brother.

"Why, here he's written me two whole letters, page after page, all about college and the boys and such nonsense, and never a word about money." She marched straight to the telegraph desk and after following her guiltily. He had to know what she was going to do.

"But, Buddy, darling, do n't you see some money?" she wrote.

"There was no bad news, I hope," said Peter, as they went up in the elevator. "Nobody bothering him for anything like that."

"Why, no," said Rowena wondering. "Nobody ever bothers Buddy. He isn't that sort."

"How—nice," said Peter.

The boy who took them up to their rooms did a very unusual thing, although neither Rowena or Peter noticed it at the time.

Instead of unlocking the door at once, he knocked, and it was opened from within. They noticed that, of course, and framed in the open door was Bobby Lowell.

"Where in the world did you come from?"

"What are you doing here?"

Bobby was crying, but they were too amazed, too disconcerted to offer either greeting or condolence.

"I've been waiting four days," said Bobby. "I nearly died of loneliness. You were due two days ago. I had a notion to kill myself."

Peter turned to the boy quite savagely. "Why didn't they tell us of the desk?"

"I told them not to," dimpled Bobby tearfully. "I wanted to surprise you. I told them to show you right up."

Rowena marched into the room, took off her hat and gloves and tossed them upon the bed. Then she got out her lip-stick and powder and concealed the stains of travel in a most efficient manner.

"All right," she said cheerfully. "Come on in Peter and don't stand gaping. Constantine, shake hands with one of the Boston Lowells."

All right, Bobby, give us the low-down. Now, Carter Wellman—"

"It's all his fault," sobbed Bobby, ignoring Constantine's black and white paw. "You know that telegram he sent you, Peter? It was a lie. He didn't mean a word of it."

"Will you sue him, or shall I horsewhip him?"

"How do you know? You haven't had time to get to New York and quarrel with him this time, objected Rowena.

I had plenty of time in Albuquerque, and I called him up. I asked him what I should get for the wedding? He said 'What wedding?' I said, 'Our wedding. That you wired Peter Blande about.' Rowena—Peter—he went on some thing awful. He said if I thought less about clothes and more about my immortal soul I'd be better off.

He said what did I mean by telling strangers—and I—low-principled characters like Peter, at that—the private details of our love-affair. In fact, he said he wasn't going to marry me until New York had a new insane asylum where he could control me by the latest improved methods."

Rowena and Peter screamed with laughter.

"Rowena," said Peter, "I take it all back. I won't punch him in the nose. He's a great old scout."

"What did you say, darling?" inquired Rowena.

"I said," announced Bobby with dignity, "that while perhaps he had never been in jail as Peter had, and had never toured the country under false pretenses and that sort of thing, Peter could teach him a whole lot about handling women."

Rowena rolled back on the bed helpless with laughter.

"What did he say to that?" asked Peter.

"Nothing. He hung up the receiver on me—and me paying for a telephone call clear from Albuquerque!"

So Rowena retired with Constantine to her rumble seat and they continued swiftly east. Bobby no longer did all the talking. Peter was showing up as something of a conversationalist on his own account.

"You've made a great mistake Bobby," he told her over and over, speaking in a slow and impressive voice. "I know men. Carter meant just what he said in that telegram, but he resented your taking up such a sacred subject by long-distance telephone. The telephone is such a sordid, mechanical, diabolical device. Naturally he would not wish to make plans for the tremendous romantic experience of his life by telephone at so much a minute. He wanted to have you in his arms."

Bobby was impressed—even a little frightened. "But he used to make love to me over the phone in New York," she said defensively.

"That was different. He was seeing you every day then and the calls were from house to house. It's not like shouting 'I love you' over three thousand miles of farm and factories. I don't blame Carter. I'm like that myself."

"But I didn't know what to wear —"

"That cut him to the quick," said Peter. "Men don't think about clothes in their emotional moments. And to know that instead of every pulse and every vein and every—er—corpuscule—singing aloud, 'I am going back to Carter!'—you were wondering what to wear. Well, I'm just like Carter. It would wound me to the heart."

By the time they reached San Antonio, Bobby was completely convinced, entirely repentant and asking Peter's advice—he being one of those men" and knowing how they were apt to feel about things.

"If I were you," said Peter, with the heavy air of one who weighed his words, "I should take the first fast train for New York. You can get a good train at Houston."

"I'll do it," declared Bobby. "I'll take the first train from Houston and I won't breathe a word to Car-

How You Can Help Your Child Get The Most Out Of School Is Told In Letter By Supt. John L. Bishop

By JOHN L. BISHOP
Superintendent Ozona Schools

You are all anxious to have your children succeed in school. School work is the most important business of the children in your care. Careful home training, good health, religious instruction, and a thorough education are the best insurance for the future success and happiness of your children. Be sure they have these at whatever sacrifice. The progress of your children in school will be greatly aided:

1. If you will insist upon punctuality and regularity at school and give no excuses except for the most urgent reasons.
2. If you will read carefully all notices and reports from the school, and through the teachers keep in touch with the work of your children.
3. If you will encourage your children to strengthen their weak points as they are revealed by their report cards.
4. If you will insist that the older children, who have assignments of home work, set aside a definite period for study each day.
5. If you will lend your cooperation in the care of school books and other school property entrusted to your children.
6. If you will withhold judgment regarding reports of happenings at school until you have heard both sides; never criticize the teacher in the presence of the children.
7. If you will insist upon obedience at home and respect for the parents, elders, teachers, and all officers of the law.
8. If you will know the character of the companions of your children and ascertain the nature of the entertainments which your children attend before permitting them to attend.
9. If you will see to it that the progress of your children in school is not hindered by fatigue resulting from insufficient rest or late evening parties.
10. If you will arrange regular home duties, or "chores" for your children so that they may acquire habits of work, ideals of service for others, and a sense of responsibility.

The progress of civilization depends upon the spiritual, moral, physical, and mental improvement of each generation. It is my earnest hope and belief that your children will contribute toward making the next generation a still better one than the generation of which we are now a part.

The two-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Williams suffered a broken leg Monday evening when she fell to the floor while playing at the home. The child was taken to a hospital in San Angelo where attending physicians described her injury as a very serious fracture.

Miss Alice Cowan, dean of women at Sul Ross, was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Oberkamp last week.

"Lost" Boy Is Found Asleep In Rear Seat Of R. J. Cooke's Car

The small son of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Squires left church Sunday night to get in the family car for a nap. When Mr. and Mrs. Squires came out of church they found their car empty and they could not locate the boy. After searching the premises thoroughly, they began a check up of members of the congregation and taking them one at a time began a systematic search of the boy.

About 11 o'clock that night they found him curled up in the rear of R. J. Cooke's car in his garage, blissfully unaware that he was the object of a frantic search on the part of his parents. Mr. Cook and his daughter, Mrs. Claffin Eledge, had driven the car home and failed to discover the sleeping boy in the rear seat.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Pierce and children, Sellers and Esther Kate spent last week in San Antonio and Bay City. They were accompanied home by Mrs. Pierce's mother, Mrs. Kate Moore who will spend the winter here.

FOR RENT—Furnished room one man. See Mrs. H. O. Word. Phone 90.

Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Taylor are waiting to take up residence on the ranch south of Juno which they have leased, until the house now under construction is completed.

Destruction Of Breeding Places Most Effective Mosquito Control Method, Says Health Dept. Bulletin

Mosquitoes are an unnecessary nuisance and danger. Through the intelligent co-operation of the householders, business men and city officials, they can be prevented from infesting any town which wants to rid itself of them, according to a health service bulletin handed The Stockman this week by P. C. Fahrenthold of San Angelo, District Sanitarian for this district. Mosquitoes carry malaria and dengue and they merit destruction for this reason, let alone for their pestiferous activities.

Mosquitoes require water in which to breed. They will harbor in long grass, vines and shrubbery, but they are not produced there. The female mosquito must lay her eggs on water and the eggs hatch into wigglers which must live and get their food in water. Wherever water stands, therefore, mosquitoes are likely to breed.

Many Breeding Places

Contrary to the belief of most people, mosquitoes do not travel very far, except the salt marsh mosquitoes of the Gulf Coast. Our inland mosquitoes rarely travel over half a mile from their birth places and will not go that far if plenty of blood is near at hand. Consequently, it is not the creek or lake a mile or two away which causes trouble, but the neglected water in the town and on its immediate edges.

It is impossible to list all of the places around a town where mosquitoes have been found breeding. Only an inspection will uncover them. These are some of the more important. Roadside ditches, street culverts, poorly covered cesspools, open wells and cisterns, stock watering troughs and tubs, rain barrels, sagging of choked roof gutters, tin cans and tire casings which have caught rainwater, refrigerator drips which form puddles under buildings, fire barrels in cotton gins and storage sheds, even flower vases in homes will raise groups of hungry boarders.

Mosquito Prevention

The best way to prevent mosquitoes is to kill them in the wigglers stage or eliminate the water in which they breed. It is the duty of every tenant or property owner to see that he is producing no mosquitoes on his place and he can do this by allowing no useless water to stand around. Mosquitoes develop from eggs to adult in about six days so that stock watering troughs and tubs should be completely emptied every three or four days. Refrigerator drips should be caught in pans and emptied. Empty cans and old casings should not be allowed to collect rain water. Rain barrels if absolutely necessary and cannot be done away with can be covered with cloth or oiled once a week with kerosene.

Open shallow wells should have concrete covers with pumps for the sake of safety to the water. If they must be left open a few top water minnows will eat the wigglers and any insects, worms, etc., which may get in. Underground cisterns can be safeguarded in the same way. In over-ground cisterns made of metal the water gets too warm for fish. The best method of control in this case is to put a cup full of kerosene on the water once a week making sure that a film of oil covers the whole water surface. Kerosene can also be used on ice-box drips. Cesspools should be tightly covered, otherwise they require weekly oilings.

Co-operation Necessary

For complete mosquito eradication everyone must do his or her part or the city must arrange to put on an inspector to find all the breeding places and oil or otherwise treat them. Therefore, everyone is urged to inspect his premises carefully and follow the directions given above. Remember the mosquitoes do not live long and that doing away with their breeding places causes a noticeable reduction in their numbers within a week.

FOOTBALL (Continued From Page 1)

Captain Miller Robison, 170-pound lineman, high school senior and third-year letter man, also entertains high hopes for his team's showing in district grid circles this year.

"We've got a heavy line, some fleet end men and plunging backs. And we have learned lots of football in the last week," Captain Robison said. "I believe we will have a good team this year—anyway the boys are showing lots of pep and enthusiasm on the practice field and prospects look good."

The prospective first string line-up this year furnishes a team whose average weight is 160 pounds, with a line averaging 170 to 175 pounds.

Nine Are Veterans

Nine veterans from last year's team, with three newcomers who classify as letter men, compose material from which Coach White is expected to pick his first string men. Last year's vets include Capt. Miller Robison, Buddy Moore, Slick Miller, James Baggett, Hop Hoover, B. E. Ingham, Conley Cox, George Vic Montgomery and Joe Chandler. Fletcher Freeman, Ft. Stockton letter man, S. W. Westfall, who lettered in junior high in San Antonio, and Munchie Graves, letterman from the San Marcos Kittens, are the experienced newcomers. Of this group, three are three-year men, Robison, Baggett and Montgomery.

Among others who are making their bid for a berth on the first string line-up this year are Hubert Westfall, Massie Ray Smith, Phillip Lee Childress, Chester Wilson, Charles Williams, Lowell Schwalbe, Ethard Glover, "Sunshine" Cox, Leonard Freeman, Billie Baggett, and Edgar Galyon. Joe Sellars Pierce, a squad man from last year, is suffering from an infected hand at present and has not been able to be out for practice. He is expected to come out later, however. Lee Dudley, another squad man from last year who showed excellent promise, will likely be unable to make a try for the team this year on account of injuries. Dudley suffered a broken ankle during the celebration, which will likely keep him out of athletics the balance of the year. Following the Rankin game next week, the Lions will tackle one of the toughest teams on their 1931 schedule the following Saturday when Eldorado comes here. The Eldorado team has been highly touted this year and the locals are looking for a real battle in this the first district title encounter.

After the Eldorado game the schedule is uncertain but other district teams to be engaged include Sonora, Rock Springs, Menard and Junction.

DR. MILLER TO TAKE COURSE IN PEDIATRICS

Dr. and Mrs. Garnett Miller left Tuesday morning for St. Louis, where Dr. Miller will take a second intensive course in pediatrics under Dr. Marriott, who is professor of pediatrics of the Washington University school of medicine and physician-in-chief of the Children's Hospital of St. Louis. There are only 30 out of many applications selected for this class and Dr. Miller's good record in his recent advance work there no doubt accounted for his selection to take the further work. Dr. and Mrs. Miller will be gone about a month.

Mr. and Mrs. Jake Short are coming Sept. 28 to take up their residence in Ozona. They will live on the Floyd Henderson ranch. Mr. Short has been ranching near Bandera.

Commissioners Court Orders County Under New Road Work Plan

By unanimous vote of the Commissioners Court in session this week it was ordered that Crockett County operate under Chapter 3 of Title No. 116, revised statutes of 1925, and that all male persons between the ages of 21 and 45 be required to work not more than five days each year on the public roads of the county or be subject to fines and penalties as provided by law.

In accordance with the vote, the court divided the county into road precincts and appointed road overseers. The road overseers include Fermine Aguirre, George Brown, J. H. McMichael, Louis Hersey and S. W. Westfall.

Schools Want Back Copies Of Magazines For School Library

Ozona Schools want all back copies of worthwhile magazines for the library which is to be a part of the new school building. Supt. John L. Bishop announced this week.

School children will be employed in binding all such copies received by the schools and all who have back copies of magazines which would be suitable for inclusion in a school library and who wish to donate them to the school are asked to call Mr. Bishop. The magazines will be bound in volumes and either complete sets or broken sets will be acceptable.

There will be plenty of room in the library for additions of this nature and school authorities hope in this manner to assemble valuable reference works for use of both school children and the public in general.

Miss Ada Word has returned from a visit with friends in Corpus Christi and other points.

Miss Catherine Chapman will leave this week-end to take up the year's study in Sul Ross.

Mrs. Clay Adams has been ill for the past few days at the home of her mother, Mrs. S. B. Phillips. Mr. Adams is also in town.

Possessing the basic goodness of sound design and fine manufacture

From the selection of raw materials to the completion of the finished Chevrolet product, each process of building, assembling and checking the Chevrolet Six is marked by extreme care and precision. An exhaustive system of test and inspection makes certain that every part meets specified dimensions exactly. Many of these parts are held to limits of one ten-thousandth of an inch. No manufacturer in the industry uses more care or precision in building and testing than Chevrolet.

Just as every part of the car is soundly built, every feature is soundly designed.

In planning the motor, Chevrolet engineers were not content to offer the public anything less than tried and proved design. They knew that the only satisfactory way to get smooth, flexible power in a car is to use at least six cylinders. So they adopted the six-cylinder engine without compromise. And this is what you get in today's Chevrolet Six.

As a result of this sound designing and sound manufacturing, you can buy a Chevrolet and know you are getting a genuinely good automobile—soundly designed, soundly built, basically and technically right.

Find Relics Of Lost People In West Texas Cave

Washington.—Relics of a mysterious lost people, believed previously unknown to science, have been found in West Texas by an explorer who risked death in the search and twice saved his own life by being "quick on the draw."

He is Frank M. Setzler, young scientist of the U. S. National museum, who delved into the past of the Big Bend country armed with pistols and dust masks.

With five Mexicans to help him, Setzler crawled through a two-foot tunnel into a pitch-dark cave infested with rattlesnakes, scorpions and huge poisonous centipedes.

For three weeks they dug in the cave, in constant danger that their pickaxe blows would jar loose the hanging rocks of the roof and bury them under tons of debris.

The air of the cave was full of choking black dust that penetrated even their protective masks and permitted them to see only two or three feet.

Twice Setzler was cornered in the cave by rattlesnakes and saved his life only because he could shoot straighter and quicker than the snakes could strike.

Evacuated earth was pulled out of the cave in buckets through the narrow entrance. Sifting it, Setzler found a primitive cradle, fragments of matting, baskets and sandals, and a child's skelton with teeth showing it to be of the Mongolian type.

So far as can be determined, these remains are not like those of any other ancient tribe of the Southwest, Setzler says.

The relics may have been left by a people who lived in West Texas even before the "basket-makers" who inhabited the region centuries previous to the time of Christ, Setzler explained.

The next step will be to explore the vicinity for similar relics which may be buried in geological strata of known age.—Alpine Avalanche.

HOW MANY SOULS?

Prof. Frederick H. Sears, eminent astronomer of Mt. Wilson observatory, has been making some interesting estimates concerning the inhabitants of the universe, which run into big figures.

First, he notes that there are about 30 billion suns, many of them immensely larger than our own, each of which may have at least one world spinning around it, while many have several.

The earth has an estimated population of about two billion people, so if each of these suns has only one inhabited planet and these planets average as many inhabitants as the earth, it would mean that there are 60 quintillions of living people. To write this in figures you have only to put down a 6 with nineteen ciphers after it.

This estimate, or guess, assumes only the possible number of people inhabiting the now visible universe. How many more suns there may be no one knows, and it is not likely that a telescope will ever be made powerful enough to discover them all.

But, taking the estimate as it stands, it refers only to people now living. The numbers that have lived and died, and those who are yet to live and die is left entirely to the imagination. Supposing that all have or will have immortal souls, it appears that there is little likelihood of anyone's getting lonesome in the hereafter, whatever his destination.—Alpine Avalanche.

In 1920 our per capita money in circulation in the United States was $53. Today it is a little over $38. Many people believe that the United States Government can at least partially remedy present stagnation in business by putting more money into circulation. It is alleged that the bankers who control the Federal Reserve Bank can regulate and do regulate the amount of currency in circulation and thereby largely control the price of commodities.—Livestock Leader.

Mr. and Mrs. Bascomb Cox, and son, L. B., Jr., and Mrs. John Bailey were in San Angelo Tuesday.

You Can Make Your Own Electric Rate

Your true electric rate is not the amount paid per kilowatt-hour for service used on the first or top step—but the net average cost per kilowatt-hour for all current consumed. Residential customers of the West Texas Utilities Company paid, during 1930, an average of only 6.5¢ per kilowatt-hour—and those customers using an electric range and electric refrigerator received service at an average rate of approximately 4¢ per kilowatt-hour!

The statement, then, that "you can make your own electric rate" is obviously true, for the more you take advantage of the many conveniences and comforts of electric service, the more inexpensive your service will become. The addition of new Electrical Servants will reduce your average cost per kilowatt-hour and bring you new comforts and conveniences worth far more than the slight cost of the additional service required.

The average residential customer now uses fifty kilowatt-hours per month. He could increase his service to three times that amount and only increase his total bill by approximately 10¢ a day.

Investigate the possibilities of complete household electrification! You will be surprised to find the equipment exceedingly moderate in first cost, and the operating expense ridiculously low.

ROWENA Rides the Rumble

ter. Then if I do change my mind along the road I can call him up somewhere."

"She's not very well," he explained in a fatherly manner. "Not really bad, you understand, but has queer little aberrations once in a while. Gets odd notions about traveling and wants to get off the train. Cooks up any sort of wild excuse for getting off—wants to send a telegram—wants to call up New York—no end to the silly nonsense she can trump up. Now I want you to see that she goes straight through to New York. Her doctor will meet her at the station and I'm depending on you to see that she gets safely into his hands. She'll be no trouble at all, one of the sweetest girls that ever lived, but just will get that odd notion about travel."

Peter gave the conductor ten dollars, who said he could safely promise that she would reach her doctor without misadventure.

"You'll know him all right," said Peter. "He's red-headed and kind of square-jawed."

The conductor, who was pretty square-jawed himself, promised to see to it. Peter passed on the same word, and a five dollar bill, to the porter of her Pullman, and then sent a telegram to Carter announcing the exact moment of her arrival and advising him to get in touch with the conductor of the train. Then he hurriedly rejoined the girls.

"Good-by, darling," said Rowena cheerfully. "See you in New Orleans."

"Oh, no, you won't," said Bobby. "You won't see me again till you get back to New York."

At the hotel in Houston they found another fat letter for Rowena and a telegram which she opened nervously. But it was only Buddy's answer to her inquiry from El Paso.

"No," it stated briefly. "If I needed money, wouldn't I ask for it?"

And hard up as she was, Rowena gave herself the satisfaction of wiring back the one word, "Yes."

There was also a telegraphic money transfer for Peter, to the amount of fifty dollars, and with it a short cold message.

"You go to hell."

It was from Ronald Rostand. Rowena was wrong about it, Buddy needed money a great many times after that but never asked for it again. He accepted a job in a haberdashery where he worked two hours every afternoon and all day Saturday. Rowena didn't like that because it kept him away from ball games, but all Buddy said to her objections was, "I've seen a ball game."

Rowena was quite uneasy about it all. Peter wanted to write him again, tried many times to put his friendly feelings into phrases, to say cheerio and tell him he was quite the stuff. He would even have apologized for his meddling. But somehow the kindly thoughts would not be written down, for he had not Rowena's facility with words and it was only in the pressure of deep emotion that Peter turned to the pen. And so, months later, when the two met for the first time, there had been no interchange of opinions between them after Buddy's lucid wire. But when Rowena, with a hand of each in one of hers, said brightly: "Oh, Peter, this is Buddy!" they shook hands heartily and Peter said, "Well, hello!"

"Hello, hello," said Buddy. And they both laughed a little, and each knew exactly what the other had in mind.

They had looked forward to New Orleans as one of the high spots of the entire tour. They had heard enthusiastic friends rave over its quaint charm, had seen exquisite etchings of its thousand odd little crooks and corners, had sampled its time-honored recipes. Peter had his heart set on doing something really worth while in New Orleans—two really worthwhile things—one for Rackeruff Motors, Inc., and one for Peter Blande and his future.

It was his idea to pick out the most picturesque and typical corner, with just a small portion of the roadster showing, and with Rowena peering out mistily into a shadowy street—a new Rowena, shimmery and shadowy herself behind a Spanish veil. Rowena, on the other hand, thought it would strike a more telling note to have the quaint old shop and the quaint old street with a strictly modern Rackeruff and a strictly modern Rowena standing out in bold relief.

Rowena and Peter never had the same idea about pictures, and Rowena wouldn't admit for a minute that Peter was always right. Certainly, whether right or wrong, he would have his own way when it came to pictures.

It was in vain that Rowena argued she wasn't the type to do a native daughter peeping out—she was strictly a New Yorker, looking fascinatedly in.

TOMATO JUICE COCKTAIL.

Ten years ago, who had heard of tomato juice cocktail? Three or four years ago it was still something of a novelty. But now at any restaurant or lunchroom you can get it as the first course for luncheon or dinner.

You can make it by pressing out the juice of very ripe fresh tomatoes. You may prefer to use the juice of canned tomatoes or to buy your cocktail all ready prepared. If you use the plain juice you will have to season it a little with salt, pepper, onion juice, lemon juice and possibly a very little tomato catsup. A new way of preparing it is to use tomato puree, which may be bought at any grocery store in small tins. Add equal parts water, season well with salt, lemon juice, onion juice, etc., and chill well and the cocktail is ready.

To be at its best tomato juice cocktail should be well chilled. It is not enough merely to pour the unchilled cocktail in the glasses set in chopped ice. The juice itself should have been chilled several hours before serving and on no account should ice be added to the juice itself, as this dilutes and robs it of its flavor.

SPANISH OMELET

A well-made and well-seasoned Spanish omelet, is a lunch in itself. Melt a tablespoon of butter in a saucepan, add an onion chopped fine, six mushrooms and one red and one green sweet pepper cut in small pieces. Cover and cook slowly for twenty minutes. Make a plain omelet from six eggs turn it on a hot platter, pour the Spanish sauce around it and send at once to the table. Spanish omelet is sometimes made by American cooks from stiffly beaten eggs, the yolks hardly mixed with the whites even after they are cooked.

PTA Plans Year Of Great Work

First Meeting Of Organization Slated For Monday

One of its greatest years of service to the schools and the school children of Ozona in the association's history is the hope of officials and members of the Ozona Parent-Teacher Association as the organization starts its 1931-32 work next Monday.

The first meeting of the new season will be held next Monday afternoon beginning at 3:15 at the high school, it was announced this week by Mrs. Welton Bunger, president. All members are urged to be on hand to start the new year's work with the greatest possible interest. Visitors are invited to each meeting of the association, Mrs. Bunger said.

An appeal to the parents and friends of the schools and those interested in child welfare to lend their co-operation to the P. T. A. to the end that it might accomplish the greatest good for the schools, was issued by Mrs. Bunger in a formal statement. Her statement follows:

"The importance of parent-teacher associations cannot be overestimated. Through this medium the home and school are brought into closer relationship; the parents and teachers reach a basis of mutually helpful understanding; and the problems confronting school government and progress are more easily solved. The more parents—both fathers and mothers—enrolled as active members, the more efficient and successful will the association become.

"The membership is not limited to parents and teachers, however, but all those interested in Child-Welfare, and in local, school, and community improvement, are urged to come. Become acquainted with your child's teachers at the beginning, let them know that you are interested and want to co-operate with them, and many of the misunderstandings will be eliminated."

Old-Time Spelling Match Held By Lions

An old-time spelling match which John L. Bishop, superintendent of schools, and president of the club, easily won, furnished a lot of entertainment for the Ozona Lions Club at its meeting Monday noon.

President Bishop, who has been absent from the club all summer, was given a rousing welcome upon his return. Rev. M. M. Fulmer, who resigned from the club several months ago, was also welcomed back into its membership upon application.

Mosquito control, employment in public works of persons seeking charity and other matters of public interest were discussed.

Miss Dorothy Miller left Sunday for San Angelo where she will re-enter the San Angelo Junior College.

Rev. L. N. Moody, pastor of the Church of Christ, and family have returned from a summer trip to Arkansas and other points.

Miss Hester Bunger and Miss Wayne Augustine are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Hilton North on their ranch near Sanderson.

Part Of Human Skull And Jaw Bone Found In Howard Well Cave

A part of a human skull and jaw bone that had lain in a cave on Howard Well possibly for many centuries, was found and brought to Ozona for exhibition recently by Royce Brownriggs. The interesting bones are on exhibit at the Jones Saddlery.

Many bones, thought to be human bones, were scattered about the floor of the small cave, Brownriggs said, and their size indicated that part of them were those of a child. Condition of the bones led to the belief that they were those of Indians or dwellers in the region even before the Indian.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Bailey were in Ozona Sunday to see Mrs. Bailey's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Averitt, who were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Kersey.

Mr. and Mrs. Pon Seahorn have had three rooms of their house repapered the last week.
