

Keep 'Em Crossed—For Victory

Chandler Holds Lead; Victory Seems Certain

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Former baseball commissioner A. B. (Happy) Chandler seemed certain today of winning the Democratic nomination for governor of Kentucky. The lead of the former governor and U.S. senator mounted as additional returns flowed in from Saturday's primary, one of the hottest in Kentucky's political history. Returns from 2,028 of the state's 4,074 precincts gave: Chandler, 152,937; Bert T. Combs, 135,907; Jesse N. R. Cecil, 3,239. The 57-year-old Chandler's headquarters said the victory-trend that set in early was holding firm. Headquarters for the 43-year-old first state race, doggedly hung on, hoping for a narrow-margin triumph. Rumsey Taylor, Combs' campaign chairman, noted only about one-half the returns were in. "Until we see them all, we have no statement one way or the other," he said.

City Fire Losses Equal '54 Total

IN SEVEN MONTHS
Fire losses in Big Spring through the first seven months of the year are estimated to be as high as all of last year's losses. Though actual figures are not yet available, it is believed that losses through July were slightly in excess of $60,000. Total loss during 1954 was only $60,111.38. Known losses of $53,413.95 had been tabulated through June of this year. However, one large fire insurance claim for June, as yet unsettled, is expected to add around $6,000 to the known losses. And the 23 fires in July, which have not been tabulated, are expected to push the losses over the $60,000 mark. The unsettled insurance claim for June concerns the fire and explosion at 608 E. 17th which cost the life of R. D. Frierson. Estimated loss to the house was $5,000 and estimated loss to contents was $1,000. None of the 23 fires recorded in July were serious, according to fire department reports, but the aggregate damage should be more than $1,000. Of the known damages this year, $26,321.86 was the building loss total while a slightly larger figure, $27,192.09, was the content loss total. This year's heaviest fire loss period was May, when the total was $33,575.71. Damages during this one month were more than the $33,109.37 in losses recorded during the first seven months of last year. Through July of 1954 the building loss was $22,218.18 and the content loss was $10,891.19. May's losses this year were high because of the fire at the Jones-Johnston building at 1706 Gregg, where insurance payment totaled $30,605.71, and because of the fire at the Joe Mock residence at 1406 Young, where insurance payments totaled $2,800. January's losses this year were $7,194.47. One house belonging to Walter C. Moore at 109 Jefferson caused $6,868.01 of these losses when it burned from an unknown cause. Another big-loss month was March, when the total was $7,425.87. The V. P. Dunbar home at 1105 E. 13th burned during this month for loss of $6,525.56. A stove in the bedroom caused the fire. Losses in June of this year, in addition to the Frierson home, totaled $4,068.89. Some $3,000.82 of this loss was from a gas explosion in the J. W. Elrod apartment at 211 State. Lesser months so far as fire losses are concerned were February, when the total was $217.50, and April, when the amount was $1,011.51. There have been 152 fire calls so far this year.

Search Begins For Slayer Of Woman

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Discovery of the nude body of Mrs. Wilma Allen, 34-year-old socialite, touched off an intensive two-state search today for her killer, possibly a sex maniac. The body was found in a pasture 20 miles southwest of here yesterday, three days after she mysteriously disappeared while shopping in Kansas City. She had been shot twice in the head and her hands were tied behind her back with a pink scarf. She was the mother of two young sons. Her husband is William R. Allen, wealthy automobile dealer. Officers in Missouri and Kansas believed her death could be attributed to a sex motive. Robbery, however, was not ruled out. Her rings were missing and her purse, found several miles from the body, was empty. Officers said puzzling aspects of the case included: Why the killer placed nearly all of her clothing in the trunk of her car. The bloodstained car was found last Friday near Kansas City's Union Station. Why the body wasn't hidden. (See WOMAN, Page 6, Col. 7)

Congressmen Indulge In Partisan Claiming, Blaming

WASHINGTON (AP)—Partisan claiming and blaming for the results of the 84th Congress' first year continued today as the session itself dimmed into history. A weekend series of statements, political jockeying between the Democrats, who control Congress, and the Republicans, who control the administration. For the Democrats, House Speaker Rayburn of Texas claimed a "record of constructive legislation" which he said would have been even better if "the President's own party had cooperated with him in a better way." "We hope," he said in a statement, "by January the President will have his party in line to make our job easier." Vice President Nixon countered that it is "certainly not true that the Democrats did better than Repub-

Cool Front Washes Out

By The Associated Press
A cool front across the Texas Panhandle had "washed out" early Monday, the Weather Bureau said, and high temperatures under partly cloudy skies were forecast for all of Texas. Forecasts did call for isolated or widely scattered showers. The only cloudy concentration early Monday was around Amarillo. Temperatures rose into the 100s in most of the state Sunday and were rising to similar levels Monday. Sunday's highs included Preisdio 105, Wichita Falls and Mineral Wells 104, Dallas, Fort Worth, Laredo and Alice 101.

Plans Started For Mass X-Ray Survey

Dates for the annual mass chest x-rays survey for Howard County are to be set at a meeting of local tuberculosis association officials and a state health department representative Aug. 17. The survey probably will be scheduled sometime in September. Howard County Tuberculosis Association leaders are hopeful the x-ray survey can be conducted after the opening of schools, so that more school-age youths may be reached. Mrs. Alton Underwood, chairman of the survey committee for the TB association, was attempting today to secure a site for the survey. Mobile x-ray equipment, provided by the State Health Department, will be set up here for four or five days to conduct the survey.

Delay Asked In Murder Trial Of Physician

MCALISTER, Okla. (AP)—Defense attorneys for Dr. Ben T. Galbraith, heart specialist who is charged with the murder of his wife and three small children, today asked for a 30-day continuance in his trial following a suicide attempt by the doctor yesterday. The 34-year-old doctor appeared in Pittsburg County District Court with both wrists bandaged under a long-sleeved shirt. He had slashed his wrists in his jail cell, the fourth attempt he has made to take his life since his family was killed and his home burned March 17. Galbraith's trial for the death of his wife was scheduled to open today. Dist. Judge W. A. Lackey called Rudolph Meyers, the jailer who found him in his blood-spattered cell for testimony on Galbraith's condition. Also called were Bill Folsom, photographer for the McAlester News-Capital, and two physicians who treated him, Dr. C. K. Holland and Dr. Floyd T. Bartheld. Meyers said Galbraith used a silver of glass in the suicide attempt and left a note. The note reads: "It's just too much. Even after this trial there would be three more. That's just too much. It's too much for me and it's too much for my family. It's more than I can face." The note was not signed. Galbraith is accused of the March 17 slaying of his wife Kitty, 34, and their children, Frank, 7, Jere, 5, and Sarah Ann, 4. Pretrial motions for a change of venue, a continuance and suppression of evidence uncovered by searchers in the ruins of the Galbraith residence were all denied. The defense said it plans to plead insanity at the time of the slayings. Galbraith was arrested four days after the bodies of his family were pulled from the ashes of their two-story home. He has written a statement in which he said he beat his wife to death with a vermouth bottle, injected insecticide into the children and set fire to their house, apparently to veil the crime. At a sanity hearing in June, he was adjudged sane enough to aid lawyers in his defense. After the slayings a note written by Galbraith was found in the home. It said he had been mentally disturbed and worried about his financial situation.

Car Flips But Driver Not Hurt

Howard Bolinger of Hobbs, N.M., was driver of a car which flipped completely over this morning after striking an embankment at the intersection of Northeast Twelfth and Snyder Highway, police said. Bolinger walked away from the mishap without injury, it was reported, and was sitting beside the road when officers and a Nalley ambulance arrived. The mishap occurred about 6:15 a.m. Only one mishap occurred over the weekend, according to police records, and it came at 2:30 a.m. Sunday in the 500 block of Northwest Fourth Street. A car driven by Isaac Woodruff, address unknown, struck a parked car owned by G. M. Deanda, 507 NW 8th.

Marines Find Walking's Better

NEWPORT BEACH, Calif. (AP)—Four Marines turned the art of sailing back to the Navy today after unsuccessfully trying to paddle 30 miles to Catalina Island in a rubber life raft. Sunburned and seasick after getting half way across, the Marines hailed a passing vessel which radioed for another vessel to tow the raft here. Making the try were Cpl. Anthony J. Tesse, 20; Sgt. Dave Johnson, 21; Cpl. Gary Bear, 22; and his brother Pfc. James Bear, 20. All were stationed at nearby El Toro Marine Air Station.

Freed Airmen Describe Red Torture Methods

TOKYO (AP)—The Chinese Reds inflicted months of excruciating physical and mental torture on 10 U.S. airmen to bring statements used to convict them as spies, Col. John Knox Arnold Jr. told a press conference here yesterday. The 11 men, released last Thursday at the Hong Kong border, are scheduled to leave Tokyo Wednesday morning for home in two U.S. Air Force transports. Air Force spokesmen said two routes were being considered for the homeward flight. One would take them to Travis Air Force Base, Calif., via Alaska and McChord Air Force Base, Wash. The other would go via Honolulu, which would have better medical facilities en route to the Pacific to aid countries in danger of being overruled by nations opposed to democracy. At the trial in Peiping, later, other statements were added to this which made it sound as if he had confessed to a spying mission. "I repudiated that statement at the trial," he said. "His navigator Capt. Elmer F. Llewellyn, Missoula, Mont., also denied the Red charges. "We were never in their god-damned China," Llewellyn shouted, his fists clenched, as he turned from a large map of Korea. He had just pinpointed a spot on the south of the Yalu River boundary, North Korea's west coast, 40 miles as the crow flies, where their B29s were downed in flames by combined MIG and antiaircraft fire. Other officers in the crew said they had signed statements similar to Arnold's. The enlisted men said they signed statements admitting that the plane may have come down in Red China's Manchuria on a spying mission. Arnold was sentenced to 10 years. The others got from four to eight. "They told me sooner or later they would get from me what they wanted — but they didn't get it," declared the thin, tired-looking colonel. He said he never had confessed to intruding over China or to being on a spy mission. "But I told those people things that would have been better if they did not know, I am very much ashamed . . . I am not proud of it," he said. The only statement he signed, he said, was one that his air unit, the 381st Aerial Resupply Group, had come to the Pacific to aid countries in danger of being overruled by nations opposed to democracy. At the trial in Peiping, later, other statements were added to this which made it sound as if he had confessed to a spying mission. "I repudiated that statement at the trial," he said. "His navigator Capt. Elmer F. Llewellyn, Missoula, Mont., also denied the Red charges. "We were never in their god-damned China," Llewellyn shouted, his fists clenched, as he turned from a large map of Korea. He had just pinpointed a spot on the south of the Yalu River boundary, North Korea's west coast, 40 miles as the crow flies, where their B29s were downed in flames by combined MIG and antiaircraft fire. ## Amarillo, Pampa Fail In Attempt To Quit CRMWA

PLAINVIEW, Tex. (AP)—Amarillo and Pampa tried today to withdraw from the Canadian River Municipal Water Authority. Authority directors voted, however, not to accept the withdrawal resolutions presented in behalf of the city commissions of the two Panhandle cities. They voted to delay calling an election on a 76 million dollar bond issue so that citizens of Amarillo and Pampa will have an opportunity to petition themselves that their cities take part in the multi-million dollar project to ensure water for 11 West Texas cities. Amarillo's S. B. Whittenburg, that city's only director present, and Pampa's two directors joined in rejecting the withdrawal requests of their respective city commissions. Mayor R. C. Jordan of Amarillo said his city objects not only to what he called the high cost of a revenue bond financing plan now being considered, but also to an alternate proposal of a joint federal-state agency. But Jordan said his city commission has no desire to prevent its people from expressing their views on the subject. Directors voted to extend the formal date of calling an election on the bond issue to Sept. 12, their next regular meeting date. Meanwhile, a notice will be published in Amarillo and Pampa of the authority's intention to issue an order on Sept. 12 for an election on a subsequent date—if they are asked to do so by 100 qualified voters. Under state law, the authority can, if petitioned by 100 qualified voters of a city, call an election in that city even if the local government opposes the proposal. Mayor Jordan said that his city commission "will happily abide by the decision of its citizens" in such an election.

Needs Of A Growing City

(AN EDITORIAL)
Big Spring voters have a major responsibility to meet tomorrow. They have to decide, in a series of six bond issue proposals, whether to provide certain improvements a growing city has to have. To be sure, $900,000 in bonds ($300,000 in water revenue bonds and $600,000 in tax bonds) represents a considerable obligation. But it is not more than Big Spring can afford. The question, it seems to us, is whether Big Spring can afford NOT to meet the needs of continued growth and development. There is no way to keep pace with municipal advancement except to pay the bill; and to figure that the outlay, in the long run, is cheap in return for services provided. There is little question but that we need all these proposed improvements. We have to provide more fire protection, more water service, better streets. We have to get our park system in decent shape, and we need to do something about the crowded condition at the city hall, by providing a new jail and police station, and renovating the present building. These are the issues. It is not solely the City Commission's responsibility to see that municipal facilities are brought up to date. The Council has recognized the need, has set the pace, has put the matter before the citizens. Now the citizens write the decision: whether we keep going forward, or whether we take a drastic setback that can prove more costly than ever, on down the line. The Herald endorses these municipal propositions, earnestly hopes good citizens throughout the city will meet their responsibility by going to the polls.

BOND ELECTION TOMORROW

City Improvements Up To The Voters

Big Spring's immediate future development in a half-dozen different channels will be determined by voters tomorrow. Tuesday is decision day on a series of bond issues calling for improvements in fire protection, water distribution, streets, parks, the city hall and auditorium, and jail and police departments. The issues total $900,000. They will be submitted as six separate propositions, each to be voted on. Each issue could be approved or disapproved without affecting any of the others. Polling place is the City Hall fire station, with balloting from 8 a.m. to 7 p.m. All citizens of the city, who otherwise meet standard requirements for voting eligibility, and who have property rendered for taxation on the city tax rolls, may cast a ballot. The water improvement proposition is on the basis of revenue bonds, with revenues from the water department retiring this obligation. It is for $300,000. The other five issues, totaling $600,000, or submitted as tax bonds, with obligations to be retired from general tax assessments. The other issues are: new police and jail building, $200,000; fire department expansion in buildings and equipment, $175,000; street improvements $150,000; park improvements, including two swimming pools, $90,000; and city hall renovation, including air-conditioning of auditorium, $75,000. The issues were submitted by the City Commission after months of study on needs the municipality has to provide to meet continuing growth. There has been a moderate amount of interest expressed in the various propositions, but no outward indications of special activity either for or against the propositions. The voting turnout may not be too heavy. Only 18 absentee ballots were cast.

Oklahoman Is Leading Cowboy

Freddie Brown of Lawton, Okla., walked off with the title of All-Around Cowboy and the major portion of the prize money Saturday night, marking the close of the 22nd Annual Big Spring Cowboy Reunion and Rodeo. Brown was first place winner in the saddle bronc riding, second in the Brahma bull riding event, and third in the bareback bronc riding competition. Rodeo officials were pleased with the rodeo, declaring it was among the best put on here. E. P. Driver, rodeo association secretary, announced that all tabulations were not in yet and a final financial report was still incomplete. However, he predicted the results will show the rodeo was a success and about the same as last year.

County May Drop Tax Rate

Howard County property owners may get a two-cent tax reduction next year. Commissioners discussed that possibility this morning as they looked over the county's financial report for July. The report, submitted by Auditor Lee Porter, showed that two funds — general and officers salary — may have difficulty in keeping out of the red this year. Condition of the funds at the end of the year will depend, of course, on revenues during the next five months. Requirements are fairly well fixed for the remainder of the period, and if receipts hold up as well as in July the two funds probably will finish the year "in the black," Porter said. Possibility of the two-cent reduction in taxes for next year arises from retirement of the last batch of the 1945 series of road bonds. A tax of 3/4 cents per $100 valuation has been in effect for payment of the obligations. Commissioners said that one cent of this probably can be added to the levy for the jury fund, and a half cent likely will be applied to the 1954 road bond levy, leaving a two-cent surplus which the officials are considering dropping. The two-cent drop would reduce the county tax rate from 98 to 96 cents per $100 of valuation. The rate won't be set formally until September when hearing is held on the 1956 budget, however. The commissioners court spent the morning studying the July financial statement and going over routine bills.

New Recess In Talks At Geneva Called

GENEVA (AP)—The United States and Red China were reported bogged down today over procedure on the proposed repatriation of civilian nationals of the two countries. After a meeting of almost 2 1/2 hours, Ambassadors U. Alexis Johnson and Wang Ping-nan called another 48-hour recess without announcing any progress. The discussions up to now have been confined to the problem of releasing 40 American civilians held by the Peiping regime and repatriating an indefinite number of Chinese students the Chinese Communists declare are being detained in the United States. "The discussions will take some time," a Chinese Communist source said. This source indicated the talks were tied up on two main points: 1. A Chinese Communist demand for a list of Chinese Nationals living in the United States. It was understood Wang has not spelled out whether this covered only students or all persons of Chinese descent. 2. A Chinese Communist demand that India be permitted to act as a third party in representing the interests of the Peiping regime on the question of civilian repatriation. The United States was understood to be insisting that no Chinese were being detained against their will and to be demanding that the Chinese Communists furnish a list of any they contend are being held. On the question of India acting as representative for the Chinese Communists in the United States, the State Department policy is understood to be firmly set against any government representing the Peiping regime. At the end of this morning's session, Johnson and Wang issued a joint statement "to correct misunderstandings which may exist concerning the present talks." The statement, however, threw little official light on the private meetings. It confirmed that the talks so far had been confined to the matter of returning civilians to the two countries. It also announced that the two ambassadors have agreed to refrain from making any public statements concerning their discussions. The next meeting will be held at 9 a.m. Wednesday. Although there was no official sign of progress toward the release of the civilians, the belief was still widespread that the talks would result eventually in their repatriation. Such agreement would permit the two diplomats to move on to the second item on their two-part agenda, other issues between their two governments.

Indians Gather For Ceremonial Poll Tells American Opinions Of Sweden

GALLUP, N. M. (AP) — The old campfires are beginning to flicker and chants from days before the white man are echoing through the red and buff canyons of Indianland.

STOCKHOLM (AP) — The newspaper Express says most Americans look on Sweden as "a small, peaceful, stable, beautiful country with smorgasbord, nude bathing and loose morals."

The big Stockholm paper reached that conclusion from a United States — wide survey it sponsored. It had asked the Associated Press to send reporters into the streets of cities in the 48 states and ask the first 10 Americans they met this question:

"When you hear the name Sweden, who do you think about?" Express said: "The 480 answers told quite a lot about what the Americans know about Sweden, our main characteristics:

"Movie actress Anita Ekberg; smorgasbord; nude bathing; loose morals; peacefulness; King Gustaf."

Express made few comments on the poll. In a double-page spread it mostly listed verbatim the quotations from Americans and let their readers reach their own conclusions.

Here are some of the quotes: "I have heard that men and women bathe nude over there, I would like to go to Sweden." — A. S. Purnell, railroad employee, Florida.

"Messages, women with big busts and flaxen hair and that song they sing in Minnesota — ten thousand Swedes marched through the woods at the battle of Copenhagen." — an anonymous cab driver in Pennsylvania.

"I remember an English lady during the war who said the Swedes, not the Southerners, are the world's best lovers and she said she knew what she was talking about." A. P. McGee, TV technician, Pennsylvania.

"Sweden makes me think about sin. But I always think about sin." — John White, publicity man, Indiana.

"Most Swedes I have met seemed rather thick-headed." Vic Barksdale, Barber, Arizona.

The poll showed Americans generally remember that Greta Garbo was born in Sweden but believe Norwegian Sonia Henie and Danish fairy tale writer Hans Christian Andersen to be Swedish.

Military Reserve Bill Would Beef Up Standby Armed Might

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress last week handed the Defense Department the framework of a machine—the new reserve bill—designed to build a reserve military force of civilians which can be called upon in case of war.

The bill still lacks President Eisenhower's signature to make it law.

But Pentagon officials have already started hammering out the machine's working parts and doing the planning which will put it into full operation.

The first purpose of the bill is to create a "ready" reserve of men which can be called into uniform almost immediately to supplement the regular forces. The second purpose is to create a "standby" reserve from which men could be called to form the second line of defense in an all-out war.

The bill allows the Defense Department to assign nearly three million men to active reserve training in the ready reserve. This means that men so assigned will generally be subject to the requirement to attend 48 drills a year at nearby reserve centers and serve up to 17 days of summer training or, as an option to these, serve 30 days of summer training.

In case of an all-out war, these men in training would be the first to be called to duty. If another conflict like Korea should arise, the President would have the authority to call up to one million of them on his own initiative. Congress would have to act to call up the remaining men. Only Congress could call men from the standby reserve.

To create the reserve force, the bill:

1. Imposes an obligation on almost all men who enter the armed forces after the bill becomes law to train actively in the reserve.

2. Doesn't generally require men who have gone on active duty before the bill becomes law to train actively in the reserve, but provides them with an incentive to volunteer for such training.

The men who have yet to serve military duty will, to a degree, have a choice as to how they want to do so.

They may wait to be drafted and serve the required two years on active duty. After being released, they must serve actively for three years in the ready reserve. Then, they're transferred to the standby reserve for a year.

They may enlist for active duty in one of the regular military forces. The enlistment periods may vary depending on what service they go into and their own wishes, but will always be a minimum of two years. After they complete their enlistment, they must train actively in the ready reserve for the difference between their active duty time and five years. For example, if they serve three year enlistment they must train two years in the ready reserve. Then they're transferred to the standby reserve for a year.

They may enlist in a reserve organization for six years and agree to serve two years of active duty at some point during the six-year period. During the remaining four years, they must train actively for three years in the ready reserve and for a year to the standby reserve.

If they're between 17 and 18½ years old they may enlist in the National Guard or a reserve unit, agree to train actively until they reach age 28. No active duty with the regular forces is required. However, a man who signs up in a National Guard unit may cut down his total training time to eight years, if he agrees to train for not less than three consecutive months at some point prior to the time he has trained for eight years.

If they're between 17 and 18½, they may sign up in a reserve unit, serve up to six months active duty training and train actively for the remaining 7½ years in the ready reserve. However, this choice is limited to 250,000 men a year.

Despite the fact that men who have been or are on active duty at the time the bill becomes law are not obligated to serve actively in the reserve, generally they're assigned to the ready reserve when they complete their active duty.

Their assignment is usually for a period of the difference between their active duty time and eight years. A man who enlisted during three years may be assigned to the ready reserve for five years.

In effect, their names are put on the ready reserve roster which will be used, in case of war or national emergency, to bring them back on active duty.

Since these men are more likely to be called back to active duty in time of war or national emergency because they're assigned to the ready reserve, the new reserve bill gives them a chance to lessen this possibility. If they agree to serve actively in the ready reserve for a year, they'll be transferred to the standby reserve where they're less likely to be called up.

Also, the bill allows the Defense Department to release from active duty men whose completed at least 12 months of active duty if they agree to serve actively in the ready reserve for the difference

Lad Learns Secret Of Little Red Box

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 8 (AP) — Today, 3-year-old Donald Hottenfeller learned the purpose behind that little red box on the corner pole. He pedaled his tricycle from his Philadelphia home to the corner. Climbing on his tricycle seat, he opened the box cover and gave the lever inside a tug. Minutes later, Donald was surrounded by two ladder companies, four engine companies, a battalion chief, two police cars and a rescue squad.

And minutes after that, he was back home hearing the hard way his lesson for the day: "Don't play with fire alarm boxes."

Knows About Dieting

Back in business is former child star Jane Withers, currently working on "Giant" for Warner Brothers. She talks to Lydia Lane about eating habits and diet.

HOLLYWOOD BEAUTY

She Regained Figure After Having Babies

By LYDIA LANE HOLLYWOOD — Former child star Jane Withers is playing her first mature role in Warner's "Giant" and when I visited her on the set, Jane was quite enthusiastic about being before the cameras again. "But I still want a family of six," she confided. The present count is three. Jane's three pregnancies obviously haven't hurt her figure a bit. "There is no reason why a mother can't regain her figure quickly after the birth of her child these days," Jane believes, "because doctors no longer believe she must eat for two. They've revised their ideas about diet during pregnancy and the interesting thing about these diets is that they apparently have no influence on the size of the baby. "My weight problem came after my battle with paralysis," Jane continued. Jane made a remarkable comeback when she was stricken with polio some time ago. "None of the doctors thought I'd make it," she admitted, "but in seven months I was on my feet. It's positive thinking and prayer that makes such things possible," she said earnestly. I asked Jane how she lost that extra poundage. "My step-dad is a doctor and he knows how I love to eat. He knew that a starvation diet would never work with me. He had a nutrition expert work out a diet for me whereby I was allowed sufficient food so that I wouldn't get hungry and be tempted to cheat. I did have to eliminate such favorites as hot rolls dripping with butter, au gratin potatoes and cream sauces but by substituting other foods for these I was able to make the adjustment fairly easily. "For the first time I learned to enjoy broiled chicken and fish instead of fried, and steamed vegetables and salads without fancy dressings. When I feel I need a snack I have a cup of hot bouillon or nibble on crisp carrot sticks. I keep these on hand all the time. "I even enjoy munching on plain lettuce. A head of lettuce is very filling, yet low in calories. And I've learned to make the tastiest dressings with things like lemon juice, herbs and yogurt. Staying slim is just a matter of revising your concept of eating. Once you learn to like the things that are non-fattening, your weight problem is solved," Jane has discovered. MORE ABOUT DIET Try Jane's diet, if you like. Or perhaps one of the following diets will appeal to you. Order them by number: M-29 — Dale Evans' Easy 10-Day Diet. M-36 — Peggy Lee's 5-Day Reducing Diet. M-45 — Joan Davis' Rejuvenating Liquid Diet. Send 5 cents for EACH leaflet your order. Enclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope with your request and mail it to Lydia Lane, Hollywood Beauty, in care of The Big Spring Herald.

Chic Accessories Go Into Handbag

Time was when the average handbag looked like a storage bin, if not a waste basket. Some would blame this condition on the small pocketbook vogue which entrapped everything that went within it. It was impossible to weed out a crushed cigarette without emptying the contents of a bag, quite a project when one is in a hurry. Large bags are popular now. More things to be sure, but there are pockets and grooves to separate little items from each other. Then too, there are charming fashion accessories that hold everything from pills to pins. No more tobacco dregs and aspirin powder mixed together in the bottom of the purse. The new handbag accessories are as chic as they are practical. Available in matched sets in mother-of-pearl, embossed leather, baby calf, alligator, gold or silver-toned finishes and high colored enamels, they may be added to from time to time, and make ideal presents from family and friends. There are compact, mirrored lipsticks, pill boxes. There are charming carryalls that hold all the glamour aids for the big evening out, and carryettes that hold fascinators for the little evening out. Smart shoppers may even match up eyeglass case, key case and wallet to the other accessories if they've chosen leather. The carryall or carryette is a good little glamor purse to own. It is always waiting with a neat arrangement of lipstick, powder, comb and hankie for evening wear, needing only the addition of mad money to make it complete.

A Reasonable And Real Need

There's not really much to be added to bond issue Tuesday. Those who are interested in an analysis of the various parts of the proposal have had every opportunity to be satisfied, especially if they followed the series written by Clifton Lawborne.

By way of recapitulation, here hastily are the points: $300,000 in revenue bonds (to be repaid through sale of water) for enlarging the water processing storage and distribution system. $300,000 to be repaid through taxes for a new security building (police station, city court, jail). $150,000 as the city's share in a new paving program. $175,000 for two new fire stations, equipment, training tower. $80,000 for park improvements, including two swimming pools on the north side and further development of existing facilities. $75,000 for converting present jail and court space into offices, and for reconditioning and air conditioning the City Auditorium.

Each of these issues must be voted upon separately. We could make a dramatic appeal on the front page, crying alarm if the issues are not approved. We could say this is the turning point and predict great decay if the bonds are not carried. Actually, the bonds would rest on thin ice if this were the sole basis of appeal.

Instead we think they represent a reasonable and real need of a growing city. We are proud of the way the city commissioners have attempted to provide the things that our people want, and we hope that they are given the means to do a better job.

What's In A Name . . . Heh! Heh!

According to the Richmond Times-Dispatch the Virginia Health Department Bulletin recently discussed the subject of birth certificates, and reported finding the following unusual names in its files: Cranberry Turkey, Celestial Delight, Arle Zona, Fird Nan, Rollen Stone, Gather Pickle, Earl Y Arrival and Alpha Oemga. With a perfectly straight face the Times-Dispatch then reports a list of names compiled a few years ago by the Alabama Bureau of Vital Statistics, including these: Strawberry Commode, Comming Hard Times Smith, Piece of Cake Johnson, Lavative Jones and Semi-Colon Divinity Duke.

But at the University of North Carolina a professor compiled a list of odd names to end all odd names: I Shall Arise and Go to My Father Smith, and Seven Times Shalt Thou Walk Around Jericho Brown, called Thou for short.

Also, Nary a Red Lightning Twice, No Dice, Sunday May the Ninth and Lucy Never Seen Joe Smith, and twins named Gasoline and Kerosene.

Finally, the Times-Dispatch insists surveys have shown more than a third of all people with their names called something other than what appears on their birth certificates. Their reasons: difficult for other people to pronounce, personal prejudice, and the fact that some names lend themselves too readily to puns and jokes. Because initials can be embarrassing, the T-D concludes: "The Thomasons, for example shouldn't name their baby girl Pamela Orphella."

Obviously, selecting a name for the newborn is no casual matter.

Simple Guide: Have God In Your Heart

One of the most remarkable people I have ever met was an aged Negro woman. She lived in Florida and her grandson, knowing that I was spending a short vacation there, asked me to go to see her. He wrote me that he thought of her as "an angel on two feet."

"She has never had much money," he said, "but her laugh is like music." And he told me about all the children she had put through school, including himself.

I went out to her place, a humble little house at the edge of town on a dirt road. But there was no one home. I was just about to leave when I saw a woman coming down the road with a pack on her back. She had a rolling walk, almost like a sailor's, and she sang as she walked.

When she came up in front of the house, I asked if she were the woman for whom I was looking. "Why, yes, honey," she answered with a captivating smile. "What can I do for you?"

"I just came over to see you," I said. "Why, isn't that nice of you? What did you come to see me for?"

"Well," I answered, "your grandson wrote me and said that you are 'an angel on two feet.' And I wanted to see an angel on two feet."

She laughed. "I'm no angel, and that boy shouldn't say such things about his old grandma."

"He said you had a laugh like music," I told her, "and he was right about that."

She asked me in and showed me pictures of all the children she had helped. Then the telephone rang and she answered it. I could hear her saying: "Now, honey, don't you worry. Don't you worry. I'll come over there this afternoon and I'll prop you up. . . . Just remember, I'll prop you up."

When she had hung up, I asked, "Who is this you're going to prop up?"

"Oh," she answered, "that's a poor little old rich white woman and she's having an awful time; at least she thinks she is. So I'm going over this afternoon to her house and prop her up."

I liked that — "prop her up." Don't we all need "propping up" now and then? As we continued to talk, it seemed to me that this woman was one of the most radiant, happy and completely cheerful individuals I had ever met.

I asked: "How did you get this way? How did you find this joy and happiness?"

"Why, landakes honey," she replied, "I just have God in my heart." That seemed a rather adequate answer, and I went away happy within myself.

I can see her yet, standing there on that faded porch, the shabbiness of her surroundings made beautiful by the radiance on her face.

What she had was beyond philosophy, beyond the usual measurements of success. It was the most basic of all ideas expressed in the Bible simply as "God is love." This woman truly loved people because she had God in her heart.

And how does one get God in his heart? It is very simple. First, develop love in your heart, and then you will have God in your heart. And the only way you can have love in your heart is to cast out hate and prejudice and grudges. The greatest of all formulas of joy is the Biblical precept, "Love one another."

The first thing to do is to empty the heart of all ill-will. Cast out resentment and hate. Practice love, and ultimately you will receive love in return. You cannot expect that the world will change overnight simply because you've changed. But by continuing to live with love in your heart, you will have made a beginning, and presently your world will be a much happier place in which to live.

Peck Is Over His Wanderlust

HOLLYWOOD (U)—Movie producers will be happy to hear that Gregory Peck is over his wanderlust and plans to settle here.

The last time we checked up on the lanky LaJolla boy, he was home from two years of film making abroad. But he wasn't ready to stay put. He was bearded and ready to shove off for Europe again to play Capt. Abner in "Moby Dick." That was a year ago.

Today he's clean-shaven and content to remain in his California homeland. And if any picture could cause an actor to lose his love for travel, "Moby Dick" was it.

The picture started filming off the Irish coast. Just about everything went wrong, including the weather. Then the huge, man-made whale got lost in heavy seas. "The line broke and it vanished in the storm," Peck recalled. "The next day they searched all over for it, but not a sign was found."

"There was one report it was seen off Belgium some time later."

More ocean scenes were needed to depict the South Pacific. Since the angry North Atlantic would not suffice, the company had to plan another location jaunt to the Canary Islands. This followed long months of shooting in Wales and London.

Peck admired the Canaries—"just like Catalina"—but he had a brush with disaster there. He was aboard a new whale, along with director John Huston and a dozen others. A low rope again snapped, casting the crew adrift in a squall. Hours later they reached safety.

Peck is now seeking a quieter life and "doing the things I like to do." He has custody of his three sons for the summer and is spending much time with them. —BOB THOMAS

After His Hair
DETROIT (U)—Police are looking for a distinguished appearing man with brown hair greying at the temples. A bald man ordered a toupee from a wig shop. He tried it on to make sure it was a good fit; then walked out without paying the $155 bill. That's the fellow they're looking for.

Red China Ghost Casts A Shadow

WASHINGTON (U)—The United States treats Red China as a ghost that casts a shadow. It does not concede Communist China legally exists. But it deals with the Red Chinese.

This country refuses to recognize the Communists as the lawful rulers of mainland China although they have governed its almost 600 million people ever since running Chiang Kai-shek off the mainland to Formosa more than five years ago.

But an American ambassador and a Red Chinese ambassador are discussing in Geneva now the release of their nationals from each other's country. They may discuss more than that.

Meanwhile, Secretary of State Dulles, who says the Geneva meeting doesn't imply recognition of the Red regime, is having an intercontinental debate with Chou En-lai, Red Chinese premier and foreign minister.

Each is talking directly to the other but not officially so—each is making statements intended for the other's ears—to find out what the other is willing or likely to yield.

In the end Dulles and Chou may meet too. Since both insist they want peace in Asia, each would have to convince the other by concessions. One thing the Red Chinese want is a seat in the United Nations. The United States has blocked that, with help from other countries.

The United States might no longer want to block it if Chou gave sufficient peaceful guarantees, including an agreement not to attack America's ally on Formosa, Chiang, who claims to be the lawful ruler of mainland China.

Once Red China was in the U.N., the United States could hardly continue to withhold recognition. Yet, if it recognized Red China, it would be recognizing two Chinas: one on the mainland, one on Formosa.

That would in effect mean condemning Chiang to die of old age on his island. It would be American agreement that Chiang no longer had any legal claim to the mainland. Therefore, he could not expect American support for an invasion.

An invasion by Chiang, which couldn't be done without full American support, is academic anyway. The Eisenhower administration, which once talked of unleashing him, long ago changed its mind and has him solidly bottled up on Formosa.

But recognition and a U.N. seat for Red China won't come overnight. Last week President Eisenhower said this country's position on Red China—nonrecognition and opposition to U.N. membership—hasn't changed.

The United States has forces in South Korea, and as long as American troops are in the South, Red China is pretty sure to keep troops in the North.

Over the weekend a story came out of the State Department to this effect: that top U.S. policy makers are considering withdrawing American forces from South Korea to Japan. Perhaps this was a hint to the Red Chinese to do the same and thereby prove their peaceful intentions and get rid of the U.N. tag of aggressor.

He made for a better atmosphere the moment he came to us. After all, he should. "Little Blowhard" is an air conditioning machine.

My wife, Frances, bought him in the summer of 1949. For some time "Little Blowhard" and I did not get along at all. With the intuition of a cat or dog, he sensed at once my distrust and fear of new mechanical gadgets.

When Frances turned his knobs, he would begin to purr and puff out cool breezes. But if I even put my hand to his grating, he would snarl — and blow a gasket.

After a couple of seasons, though, we began to understand each other better. Gradually, "Little Blowhard" switched his affections to me.

Frances could spin and spin his knobs; "Little Blowhard" would only grunt, then lapse into silence. But then I'd go over, scratch the top of his head, pat his steel sides, and say coaxingly, "Little buddy, it's getting awful hot in here. How about helping your old pal cool off?"

Well, believe it or not, "Little Blowhard" would begin to clank at once. Soon he would be panting out a wind so cold he'd be in danger of getting himself frosted.

"I can't understand what makes that machine act so temperamental," said Frances crossly after one of these performances. "It's easy," I told her. "Machines are like men. They get tired of being taken for granted by women. They expect a kind word now and then for what they do."

"Well," said my wife, exasperated. "I certainly have more to do with my time than spend it praising a balky air conditioner."

About a month ago she suddenly announced she was going to have the whole apartment air-conditioned. We could save on our vacation expenses, and she would want another 10 years for that fur coat — etc., etc.

"Go ahead," I replied. "Little Blowhard" could use a little help. "That machine is going out of here," she said. "It's out of date, and besides it's the wrong color."

"This is where I put my foot down," I told her icily. "If 'Little Blowhard' goes, I go. That's final."

Last week I returned home during a hot spell and found the apartment remarkably cool. There were three new air conditioners — but no "Little Blowhard."

I stalked dramatically toward the front door, and said, "You know what I warned you."

"Oh, don't be so silly, Rover," said Frances. "Who wants to run away from home during a heat wave? Besides, your 'Little Blowhard' is still in the building. I sold him to a lady on the 14th floor, and she says she'll give you visiting privileges if you really miss him."

The new air conditioners actually are pretty nice. They have shiny buttons, and when Frances presses them they purr and puff like pleased cats. But when I reach out a hand they growl at me like strange dogs.

If they are smart, they'll keep right on acting like that — or they will go the way of "Little Blowhard."

That's the way wives are. They have to put up with so much foolishness in husbands they're not going to take any nonsense from a mere metal machine. Something's got to know who's boss.

For Big Gambling, Look At The Britons

If your help-mate has dropped a couple of quarters throwing horse shoes or 'donated' to the cause' at the bridge club, console yourself with the knowledge that it could have been worse.

"Austerity" has long been more than a word in Great Britain. It was a step-child born of a "have-not" nation and two great wars, but the average Englishman is much more apt to "go for broke" in some endeavor of chance where the odds are overwhelmingly against him.

Within a year's time, Britons spent more than $1,500,000,000 on gambling, which is enough money to clog the drain.

That averages out to about $30 for every man, woman and child in Britain's population of 50,000,000, and the kiddoes in three-cornered pants are not apt to be risking shillings on which one has the most teeth in his head.

In a family of four, that amounts to $120 per annum, or a figure approximating the average family's income for one month.

The Britons are quickest to try a bob on a horse race—something like $950,000-000 left the starting gate with the ponies last year. About one-third as much anted up on the greyhounds, though Britons—like Americans—are apt to refer to all animals as "dogs" when they lose.

Investment in football pools cost the people of the "tight little isle" something like $207,000,000. Betting on the Irish Sweepstakes alone last year came to a robust $28,000,000. Even divided into pounds sterling, that's a lot of scratch.

Of course, the average Briton is hoping for "the big hit," the huge return that will enable him to tell the boss to find another boy and keep him in ale and bitters the rest of his days.

The fact that part of the lottery's take might go toward charity plus the realization that gambling income isn't taxable help soften his outlook toward gambling, too.

He's rather like the donkey, though, who's inspired to drive ahead by a carrot strapped to a pole on his back and dangled just out of reach in front of him.

Chou Gains Strength On Formosa Issue

We are, I think, under estimating seriously the strength of Chou En-lai's diplomacy when we think of his more conciliatory attitude as primarily propaganda. It is true that the hostile tune of the Chinese Communist propaganda has been muted. But that change did not take place until after the situation in the Formosa area had changed decisively in favor of Peiping. The fact is that Chou became ready and willing to negotiate about the little issues, such as the prisoners and detained persons, when on the crucial issue, he had achieved his primary and paramount objective.

This is the elimination of Chiang as a contender on the mainland—the definitive renunciation by the United States of its support of the reconquest of the mainland. Chou En-lai did not become conciliatory in order to gain his objective. He became conciliatory after he had gained it, after he was sure that the President had over-ruled and had put down Chiang's American supporters.

Why, then, does it now serve his purpose to be conciliatory? Because, if I read correctly his recent statements, he is convinced that time is now working for him in Formosa, that the rest of the way is downhill. Once the Nationalist Chinese were deprived of the promise, indeed of the hope, of recovering the mainland, it could be only a matter of time when most of them make their peace with Peiping. It was this spring that the final turn against American intervention took place in Washington, and this was followed almost immediately by a change of Chou's attitude and of the Communist propaganda.

We must note in this connection that Chou is now taking the position that the future of Formosa is a question for the Chinese to arrange among themselves, and that the United States is not a party to the issue and has no right to participate in its settlement. While we are saying that we will not negotiate about Formosa and the off shore islands unless Chiang participates, Chou is now telling us that he does not wish to negotiate about them if we participate — that he wants to negotiate directly with the Chinese on Formosa. Chou does not admit that the United States has any legal standing in Formosa. It follows, quite obviously that Chou expects to get Formosa by making deals with the Chinese in Formosa. Now that the President has bottled up Chiang on the island of Formosa, Chou's diplomatic position is, as I have been saying, very strong. But the American position is weaker than it needs to be. It is weaker than it would be if we had a positive policy of our own for the future of Formosa.

Our legal right to have a voice about the future of Formosa is based on the peace treaty with Japan, and it derives from the fact that neither the Chinese Nationalists or the Chinese Communists but the American and Allied forces took Formosa away from Japan. We have promised to restore Formosa to China. But the Chinese government to which we meant to restore it is no longer the actual government of China. The other Chinese government in Peiping is an unfriendly government, and while it is unfriendly, we are under no obligation to take the risks and suffer the injuries of restoring Formosa to that government.

The weakness of our position is that the Chinese government in Formosa might disintegrate, leaving us with a choice of abandoning our rights in Formosa or of occupying the island with our own troops.

Our weakness is due to the fact that we have stalked everything in Formosa on Chiang, and that Chiang has no future. The best hope, I would suppose, of protecting our interests in Formosa would be to come forward with a plan to neutralize and demilitarize Formosa for, say, ten years under the United Nations. The essential American interest in Formosa is, as the President put it in his January message, that the island should be in "friendly hands." This does not mean American hands. It does not necessarily mean Chiang's hands. Under the U. N., Formosa would be in friendly hands.

A ten year plan is long enough to show how China's relations with the West and with the Soviet Union are going to develop. It is not too long a time to put off the final settlement of the sovereignty of Formosa.

We have had a Formosa policy based on Chiang. In the long run we cannot hope to deal successfully with Chou unless we have a Formosa policy which does not depend on Chiang — who is so vulnerable and who cannot last forever.

Some Nations Still Have Inflation

NEW YORK (U)—Americans have been enjoying a stable cost of living for some time. But inflation hasn't bowed off the stage in some other lands.

They still watch prices climb. And worry is increasing even here lest the economic scenery is being shifted again by recent wage increases, so that inflation, waiting in the wings, can make a return appearance.

Inflation, a chief problem in most Latin-American countries and in some parts of the Far East, still haunts a few European nations and threatens England anew.

Special conditions seem to account for inflation's hold on these spots.

On a world wide basis, commodity prices taken as a whole have been remarkably steady for three years. Metal prices are rising. But farm product prices are falling. Rises and declines just about cancel each other out.

Increased industrial capacity in the United States and Western Europe have licked most shortages and competition holds most prices in line.

Governmental financial difficulties and the printing presses busy turning out paper money.

Prices and wages soar in Chile—the cost of living up 70 per cent in the last year — and the printing presses busy turning out paper money.

Some workers there have to work 25 days to make enough to buy a pair of shoes and almost one-hour to buy a single egg. This has brought a rash of strikes.

The peso slips in value. Ten years ago four U. S. cents would buy one Chilean peso. Today four cents will buy 22 pesos.

In Brazil the cost of living rose another six per cent early this year. Peru has tried to correct its inflation problems. Mexico suffers now and then as wages tend higher.

Living costs creep steadily higher in Sweden and are about three times higher than 20 years ago.

Turkey this month turned to higher interest rates in a move to halt the inflation that has troubled it for some time.

Japan has been battling a serious inflation and hopes it has it in check now, Korea is hard hit, as war's aftermath. The West can only guess at what's happening in Red China, but prices may be soaring there, too, as the Communists push hard for their pet programs.

Cadet Sails, Confident He'll Get Commission

MARCUS HOOK, Pa. (AP)—A 21-year-old honor graduate of the U.S. Merchant Marine Academy sailed yesterday aboard a tanker as a deck hand after saying he felt sure the Navy would reverse its decision denying him a commission in the Naval Reserve.

Eugene Landy, Belmar, N. J., was denied the commission because his mother Mrs. Deborah Landy is an admitted former Communist. He has appealed the ruling.

The youth, who received a press reception befitting an admiral when he arrived here, told newsmen:

"Maybe I'll get the good news by radio on the run down the coast."

Landy is working aboard the huge supertanker Western Sun, which is making a 30-day round-trip voyage to Beaumont, Tex.

Shortly before he graduated from the maritime college at Kings Point, N.Y., last Friday, he was told that he would not receive his officer's commission. A number of Congressmen have protested the action. Navy Secretary Charles S. Thomas said he would review the case.

Landy said he signed for the trip to earn $400 he needed to continue his schooling at Yale University, where he has a scholarship to study admiralty law.

9 Yanks, 4 Koreans Injured In Riots Against Truce Teams

SEOUL (AP)—Nine American soldiers and four Koreans were reported injured in renewed Korean riots last night at Pusan against the neutral truce supervisors.

The U.S. 8th Army officially denied Korean police reports that U.S. guards bayoneted three Koreans in an earlier outbreak at Pusan Saturday.

Police said none of the 13 were reported seriously hurt today in the stone-throwing clash between demonstrators and U.S. soldiers guarding quarters of the Neutral Nations Supervisory Commission inspecting teams.

Police estimated some 30,000 Korean laborers milled through Pusan streets throughout last night.

Other demonstrations were reported at the west coast ports of Inchon and Kusan.

South Korea's government awaited an answer, meanwhile, to its demand that all NNSC teams get out of the country by Saturday.

The commission is composed of members from Switzerland and Sweden and pro-Communist Poland and Czechoslovakia. The ROK government charges the Pole and Czech members are spies for North Korea. It also wants the Swedes and Swiss to leave.

In a letter to the ROK government, the 8th Army asked its "cooperation for common objectives and not to resort to force or any violence," an ROK government source said.

The 8th Army in a release said reports that American military guards had bayoneted three Ko-

Russ Slave Labor Revolt Reported

VIENNA (AP)—Seventy-three prisoners sent home by the Russians reported hundreds of slave laborers were killed in a fight with Soviet troops last year.

The Austrians said the clashes occurred in camps of the Karaganda region of Central Asia after thousands of the laborers, including Russians, rioted against living conditions they deemed unbearable. The laborers were reported finally beaten by Soviet tanks and guns.

Rains May Have Saved Apple Crop

MONTREAL (AP)—Weekend rains may have saved Quebec province's multimillion-dollar apple crop.

Farmers reported up to two inches of rain in some areas. Prof. L. C. Raymond of Macdonald College's department of agronomy said the rain came too late for most grain crops but provided sufficient moisture to allow apple crops to develop properly.

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Vatican sources reported today that Josephine Pacelli, 84-year-old sister of Pope Pius XII, died last night after a long illness. These sources said Miss Pacelli had been paralyzed for more than 20 years.

MOTHER SAVES SON'S JOB

Paul Henson writes: "I work in a grocery store which is not an easy job. Six months ago I began to find things all the time. I tried to do my best, but I couldn't sleep at all except to drug home and go to bed. I tried a lot of medicine, but nothing helped. I stayed around and when my memory began to fail, my mother heard about H.D. 13 and got me a bottle and I sure am glad she did. In a few days I began to have more pep and energy and felt 100 per cent better. I've taken more than 10 bottles and I just can't describe the feel so wonderful. Cost $10.00 at drug store today, $1.25 and $2.00."

ONLY LEGALLY Stowaway Would Like Another Trip

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP)—"It was wonderful," said 16-year-old Joyceelyn Joan Pilapil of her stowaway trip from Hawaii on a Canadian destroyer. "I'd like to do it again—only legally."

She patted a short boyish bob haircut and added, "I had it cut especially for the trip. I guess they'll send me back to Hawaii, but I don't want to go."

A chief petty officer discovered Joyceelyn in the aft awning locker of HMCS Athabaskan one day out of Honolulu.

The brown-eyed girl of Portuguese-Filipino descent left a lipstick note for her parents. It said she was leaving because "Bill wants to take care of me and the baby."

The FBI met her upon arrival and she was taken to juvenile hall in Los Angeles. Today she will be arraigned on stowaway charges.

Questioned about the note hinting she was expecting a baby, Joyceelyn told reporters:

"That was a fib. I thought if I made the folks think I was pregnant they wouldn't try to find me."

... There is a Bill, but I won't say who he is or where he is."

She said she served coffee and tea to the Athabaskan's officers, washed dishes and scrubbed the deck.

"They called me 'Butchle' and treated me like a little boy. I ironed a few shirts for them too. I had to climb along a stern rope to get on the ship and once I fell in the water and lost my shoes."

The former beauty contest entrant said her friends in Hilo called her "Tarzan."

The Athabaskan's captain Lt. Cmdr. Charles Richardson termed the incident "regrettable." He told newsmen he doesn't know how she got aboard but doubted that she swam to the ship.

"She slept in the navigator's room while he bunked with a buddy," Richardson said. He said he didn't think any of his crew of 240 officers and men had anything to do with hiding her, but added, "I may have to swallow those words."

Beggars (Bandit) Can Be Choosers

NEWARK, N. J. (AP)—Unlike beggars, bandits can be choosers.

A gunman entered Tatt's Cleaners here yesterday, showed clerk Mary Macheski a revolver and asked for the firm's money.

She opened the cash register. The bandit looked in and saw only four single dollars.

"Is that all?" he asked.

"Yes," she said.

He turned on his heel and walked out the door without the cash, saying "I'll be back later."

Indian Opens First Atom Meet, Sees Harnessing In 20 Years

By FRANK CAREY
AP Science Reporter

GENEVA, (U.S.—) Indian scientist Homi J. Bhabha opened the first International Atomic Energy Conference today with the prediction that the way will be found to harness the titanic energy of the hydrogen bomb for peaceful use within 20 years.

Bhabha, president of the 72-nation scientific parley, said: "When that happens, the energy problems of the world will truly have been solved forever, for fuel will be as plentiful as heavy hydrogen in the oceans."

Bhabha spoke as hundreds of delegates gathered at the opening plenary session of the conference just 10 days and one day after the first atom bomb leveled Hiroshima.

The conference in the Palace of Nations, designed to parade atomic energy in its role as an ally of industry and a potential boon to agriculture and medicine, will continue until Aug. 20. The scientists will hear hundreds of papers on technical phases of peaceful use of atomic energy. Hundreds of other papers submitted for the conference will be published for study later.

The opening session also received a message from President Eisenhower, whose historic address before the U.N. General Assembly in December 1953 inspired the atom-for-peace program now being worked out by the international organization and the present conference.

The President's message, brought by Chairman Lewis L. Strauss of the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission, reaffirmed America's pledge to "help find ways by which the miraculous inventiveness of man shall not be dedicated to his death, but consecrated to his life."

Recalling his address before the U.N., which is sponsoring the parley, Eisenhower declared: "The atom stands ready to become man's obedient, tireless servant."

If man will only allow it."

The scientists also heard a message from U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold, who said that "we have a long road ahead of us to traverse before nations can hope to eliminate the threat of atomic destruction."

Touching on possible peaceful uses of atomic energy, Bhabha, who heads India's atomic program in the field said it already has been shown that peacetime heating and electrical power can be tapped from the "fission" process of uranium such as is used in atomic bombs.

This is the process used in atomic power plants the United States and Britain are now building and in the 5,000-kilowatt station the Soviet Union says it has been operating for more than a year.

"It is well known," Bhabha continued, "that atomic energy can also be obtained by the fusion process, as in the H-bomb, and there is no basic scientific knowledge in our possession today to show it is impossible for us to obtain this energy from the fusion process in a controlled manner."

The technical problems are formidable," he said, "but one should remember it is not yet 15 years since atomic energy was released in an atomic pile (furnace) for the first time. . . .

"I venture to predict the method will be found for liberating fusion and energy in a controlled manner within the next two decades."

In an interview prior to Bhabha's talk, Strauss had "no comment," but reporters asked whether the United States was working on the possibility of releasing atomic energy in a controlled manner from the thermonuclear (H-bomb) process.

Several years ago Sen. Hickenlooper (R-Iowa) of the Senate-Roosevelt Atomic Committee said, "The hydrogen picture contains some hope in time for peaceful and constructive applications."

"This . . . is something that the joint committee must look into," Hickenlooper declared, but neither he nor the committee has made any statement on the matter since that time.

Concurrent with the conference, the major atomic nations put on display five large technical exhibits to show the beneficial side of atomic energy and an "atom trade fair" of products available from commercial companies of various countries.

Hurricane Connie May Turn North

MIAMI, Fla. (U.S.—) Hurricane Connie, larger in size than ever, but confining its 135 m.p.h. punch to the open seas, gave indications today of turning to a more northerly course.

It was centered roughly 400 miles off the east coast of Florida and about 300 miles east of Nassau, Bahamas, at 5 a. m. EST.

It was moving along a northwest path at a speed of 15 m.p.h., a course that would keep it east of the Bahamas where winds should be no stronger than gale force.

Ross says there will be no change in policy, as this is set by the government, but he does hope to administer the program in a friendly and cooperative manner. He intends to work closely with business men, the farm organizations and other government agencies.

"We are here to help people," he said, "and to do that we hope to be as cooperative as possible, and still carry out the policies handed down to us."

This area will also have a new area supervisor. He is Milton A. Stinson, who has been county supervisor at Colorado City for several years. Stinson will be in charge of several counties in this area.

He was fined $75 and received a three-day jail sentence. Lerma was arrested by highway patrolmen Sunday.

Marvin Morrell pleaded guilty to a hot check charge. The complaint against him alleges he passed a worthless check to Burchett's Garage on July 22. Amount of the instrument was $10. Judge R. H. Weaver assessed Morrell 10 days in the county jail.

Robert J. Harlow pleaded not guilty to a worthless check charge. He is charged with passing a check to Newsom's Grocery for $10 on Oct. 21, 1954. Harlow's bond was set at $500.

Cool Air Mass Heads South

Cool air and thundershowers which broke the summer's longest and most intense heat wave over the weekend reached the Deep South today, and in parts of the North there was a touch of autumn.

The cooling mass of air which lowered temperatures as much as 10 to 20 degrees in the Central Plains overpread the East and even the northern parts of Georgia, Alabama and Mississippi.

It was a shivery 42 degrees at Grand Marais, Mich., early today, a drop of 20 degrees from a day earlier; and a more comfortable 54 at Wausau, Wis., 60 at Detroit and 66 at Des Moines.

Ahead of the cool air mass, however, were such early morning temperatures as 78 at New Orleans, 80 at Birmingham, Ala., and 85 at Fort Worth.

It was warming up again, however, on the plains and the weather continued hot in the interior sections of the Far West.

Scattered thundershowers moved ahead of the cool air, dumping occasionally heavy falls such as 2.32 inches at Newark, N.J., and 1.07 at Guyton, Okla.

Adenauer Visit Seen As Test Of Russ Intentions

WASHINGTON (U.S.—) Sen. Knowland (R-Calif.) says the forthcoming visit of West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer to Moscow may demonstrate whether there is any "basic change" in Russian policies.

Adenauer has accepted a Russian invitation but no date has been set.

Knowland, Senate Republican leader, told reporters before leaving for California that up to now "there has been a single instance of softening of the Soviets' attitude" on major cold war issues as an outgrowth of the Geneva Big Four conference.

"The free world has had what might be called 'fringe benefits,' such as articles in Pravda, and invitations for diplomats to visit the Russian Premier's summer home," he said.

"These things must not be mistaken for a major change in policy which has not yet materialized in the Soviet position."

Mrs. Bozeman, Colorado City Pioneer, Dies

COLORADO CITY — Mrs. D. T. Bozeman, 90-year-old pioneer Mitchell County settler, died at the home of a daughter in Colorado City early Sunday morning after an extended illness.

Funeral services will be held Tuesday morning at 10, from the First Presbyterian Church, with Reverend Earl Clary officiating. Burial will be in the Cuthbert cemetery at the site of her husband. Burial services will be under the direction of the Kiker and Son Funeral home of Colorado City.

Mrs. Bozeman was born in Monroe County, Alabama, February 2, 1865. Her father was still in the Confederate army at the time of her birth and died in the service without seeing his daughter.

She married D. T. Bozeman December 29, 1887 in Mexico and the couple moved to Mitchell County in 1890. They settled twelve miles northwest of Colorado City and established a postoffice in April of 1891. The post office was named Cuthbert and Mrs. Bozeman was the first postmistress, and served until her husband, who had been teaching a nearby rural school, built a country store and moved the post-office into the store. Then Bozeman was appointed postmaster and served until his death in 1927.

Mrs. Bozeman, a member of the Presbyterian Church, has lived with her children in Colorado City since 1927.

She is survived by five children, a son, Corley D. Bozeman, clerk in the Colorado City post office, and four daughters, Mrs. Flora Brown and Mrs. Roy Coles, both in the Colorado City, Mrs. H. W. Hanks, Berkeley, Calif., and Mrs. Charles Womack of Albuquerque, N. M., 18 grandchildren and 25 great-grandchildren.

She said she was a nurse with the rank of colonel in Villa's army. The woman, who believes she is on her death bed, said some of the gold is hidden in a Corpus Christi cemetery. She wanted the money for the Disabled American Veterans.

Widow Sees Children Again

DALLAS (U.S.—) A Dallas widow smiled through her tears today as she and her 12 children enjoyed their first reunion in three years.

Dallas firms, churches and individuals made possible Mrs. Clara Margerum's reunion with the 11 children she placed in Buckner Orphan's Home three years ago when her husband died.

Mrs. Margerum, 37, who lives in a rooming house and works in a department store, sought recently to rent a house for a three-day reunion with her children. She was downcast when she did not find a place. Then the Dallas Times Herald published Mrs. Margerum's story.

A flood of offers of help followed. Yesterday the Margerum family began a rent-free vacation in a suburban tourist court. An anonymous guest picked up the check for their steak dinners on the first night. Money for clothes appeared. Someone donated bathing suits for all, including a "wed one" for 4-year-old Shirley Joan.

Men Of Company D Hold Annual Reunion

Surviving members of Company D, 117th Supply Train of the 42nd Division, who fought overseas as a unit in World War II, staged their 36th annual reunion at the city park here Sunday.

Twenty-two ex-doughboys of the 76 that once composed the company attended the barbecue and general get-together. Seventeen of the group have died.

John M. Lamb, second in command in the company during the war, was unable to attend this year due to illness. He was present for the first time last year. He resides in Houston.

Next year's plans are contingent upon a planned convention of the entire Rainbow Division, tentatively scheduled for Dallas for the month of July.

The ex-soldiers meet the first Sunday after Aug. 5 every year because they were sworn into federal service on that date during World War I.

Those attending here included: Ledford Beard, Anthony, N. M.; Mrs. James T. Brooks of Big Spring, wife of the late company commander; Mr. and Mrs. Tom Cantrell, Big Spring; Mr. and Mrs. Glen Deason, Corpus Christi; Dr. C. W. Deats, Big Spring; Mr. and Mrs. Roy Doyler, Colorado City; and Butsy Herman, Santa Monica, Calif.

School Budget Hearing Slated

Public hearing has been set for 7:30 p. m. Tuesday on the proposed 1955-56 budget for the Big Spring Independent School District.

The hearing will be conducted at the school tax office, Tenth and Runnels, regular meeting place of the school board. Trustees are combining the hearing with a regular board meeting.

Other items on the agenda will follow the budget hearing.

The fiscal schedule for the year starting Sept. 1 proposes the expenditure of about $1,300,000 for operation of the school system. This will be an increase of approximately $150,000 over the current year. Higher instructional costs, maintenance and operation of a larger physical plant, and a slight increase in debt service requirements account for the increase in the budget.

Scout Budget Hearing Slated

Approximate cost of the trip is $8 in addition to transportation. There will be no organized transportation to the camp site, McRee explained. Each boy will have to work out his own method of getting to the camp.

When the boys arrive, they will be assigned either to Sgt. Kaylor's troop or another. None of the local troops will go in a group, it was explained.

Scout Leaders To Talk Year's Plans

A "ten-in-one" Boy Scout leaders meeting will be held tonight at the Howard County Junior College. All operating committees will meet, said Charles Weeg, district chairman.

The Boy Scout round table, the Cub leaders round table, and the Explorers round table are to be conducted. Programs for the coming year will be discussed.

Double-Wed Woman Leaves Both Mates

NEVADA CITY, Calif. (U.S.—) Unhappy Mrs. Schmidt took her little boy and moved off by herself today, trying to decide whether she wants to remain the wife of a returning prisoner of war or of a logging tractor driver.

Una, a slightly built brown-haired woman of 20, says she married logger Alford B. Fine in the belief that A.E.C. Daniel C. Schmidt was dead. He and 10 others in a B29 were shot down Jan. 12, 1953, during the Korean War.

Una talked by telephone yesterday with Schmidt, who is in Tokyo on his way back to America after 32 months in a Red Chinese prison. After the call, her attorney Harold Berliner said she had separated—at least temporarily—from the logger.

Just what she and Schmidt talked about was not made public, Berliner did say.

"Una and Al believe it is best for all concerned that they live separate and apart until such time as their problems are solved. In fairness to Airman Schmidt, there will be no further announcement until he returns and has an opportunity to discuss the entire matter."

At Tokyo, a Red Cross official said Schmidt came out of the telephone booth with his "morale improved."

The airman said he would not discuss his tangled marital affairs until he had a chance to talk with Una face to face "and work out this personal problem with those intimately concerned."

He has never seen his 2½-year-old son Danny. The youngster was born after Schmidt went to the front. Fine said the child now calls him "Daddy."

At Portland, Ore., Mrs. Nellie Peters, mother of the airman, talked to her son Saturday night and said he "sounded very hurt." But she said he indicated he would try to win back Una. Fine has said he hopes she will stay with him.

Mrs. Peters quoted Schmidt as asking her, "Didn't she get my letter from him?"

"I could only tell him I didn't know," the mother said. "I do know I sent several of them on to California—there were even pictures in some—it said so on the outside."

Una says she married Fine last September and heard the following November Schmidt was alive in a Red China prison, she and Schmidt had lived together only a few weeks before he left for the Far East.

Dawson Talks Change-Up In Vote Precincts

LAMESA — Possible changing of voting precincts in Dawson County will be discussed at today's meeting of the Dawson County Commissioners' Court. The county now has 17 precincts but it's possible some of them will be eliminated.

Date of election for re-allocation of taxes will also be set. It will be held sometime in September.

Informal bids that have been submitted for foundation work and house moving along the proposed Highway 87 four-lane throughfare that will run through Lamesa were to be considered.

The highway is to be constructed as soon as the commissioner's court can complete purchase of the right-of-way.

The court also planned to consider receipts of annual lateral road money and review claims for approval for Farm-to-Market Road 2050, which extends from the Snyder highway cutoff to the Patricia community.

Discussion of seal coating on the Labor Camp Road and on roads leading through the city park is also planned.

Bills were also to be approved and a treasurer's report given.

Scout Encampment Starts Sunday In Davis Mountains

Boy Scouts who plan to attend the five-day outing at the Buffalo Trail Camp in the Davis Mountains should contact Bill McRee, Scout executive, as soon as possible.

The camping trip will begin next Sunday, and it is expected that two troops will attend from Big Spring. Sgt. Leon Kaylor will head up one troop.

Boys must take physical examinations before making the trip, and medical blanks can be obtained from McRee for presentation to family physicians.

Approximate cost of the trip is $8 in addition to transportation. There will be no organized transportation to the camp site, McRee explained. Each boy will have to work out his own method of getting to the camp.

When the boys arrive, they will be assigned either to Sgt. Kaylor's troop or another. None of the local troops will go in a group, it was explained.

Palmetto Poloists To Meet Lovington

LAMESA — The Dawson County Palmetto Polo team will play Lovington at Lovington, N. M., Tuesday.

The Dawson team beat O'Donnell 8-4 last week but there is some doubt the game will count in district play.

Lamesa will appear in Lubbock Aug. 14, which will end the season for the Lamesa team.

Official standings of district play will be announced after that time.

LOOKING 'EM OVER For Pennant In AL

With Tommy Hart

Always a great booster for Big Spring and Big Spring football, Abilene's Fred Sanner committed himself thusly in a recent column:

"Only a rainstorm and a sea of mud kept the (Breckenridge) Buckaroos from defeating Big Spring and moving into their umpteenth playoffs (in the 1953 football race)."

With such a positive and uncompromising statement, he credits Big Spring High School's greatest moment in its athletic history and writes off the tremendous record of the 1953 Steer club by blaming it all on the weather. (I was of the opinion both teams played in the rain that night.)

Sanner must own stock in the Breckenridge club. At the same time, he doesn't think they play football around here like they do in his section of the state and in Breckenridge.

The big boy, who is ready to concede from time to time he knows more football than the coaches, was in the press box the night Big Spring defeated Breckenridge in the rain, 6-0, here. The game all but insured the Steers the district championship and the locals went on to win it all.

Sanner was unimpressed. He said the rain kept the Breckenridge aerial and running game from getting off the ground, dismissing the possibility that Frosty Robinson and J. C. Armistead might have done some ambling themselves. He reckoned, too, without a Big Spring line that was ready for the Bucs.

Breckenridge was probably lucky the game was played in the rain that night.

The Bucs had best be ready to play football the night of Sept. 9, though Sanner intimates it wouldn't surprise him if they're all-victorious again this season. The Greenies host Snyder that night and the Tigers aren't going to be pushovers for anyone.

If the truth were known, the Snyder gang would probably rather beat Breckenridge than Big Spring. And they'd just about as soon beat the Steers as win District 1-AAA championship honors.

How about a five-team playoff for the American pennant? It sounds fantastic but the pot is boiling up a real fine stew for President Will Harridge.

Under the American League system, it's sudden death, a one-game playoff, in case of a tie. But that takes care of only two clubs. With seven weeks to go, only 1 1/2 games separate the top four clubs. Detroit in fifth place is only 5 1/2 back.

The weatherman helped tighten the screws yesterday, forcing Chicago to settle for a 2-2 tie in 12 innings at Baltimore and washing out a scheduled second game at Washington after the Senators had bopped the Cleveland Indians again 9-3.

Dean Franks Blanks Cops With Two Hitter, 5-0

The Big Spring Cosden Cops victory. It was the second time this year the Big Springers have been shut out.

Franks gave up a first inning single to Mario Sabari and a third inning one-baser by Aca Baca. Only the drive by Baca was well-hit. Joe Bauman almost flagged Sabari's bingle down first base way.

Dick Adams and Bauman clubbed home runs for the Rockets, who were in the act of sweeping their two-game series from the locals.

Baca pitched creditable ball but he didn't have a chance against Franks, who fashioned his 21st victory of the season.

Adams' home run, clubbed in the second, provided the Rockets with their first run and, like Bauman's 40th four-master later in the sixth, occurred with the sacks deserted.

The Rockets picked up another tally in the seventh on Dick Hutzler's second of three hits, a throwing error, an infield out and a sacrifice fly.

The visitors closed out with a two-run ninth, using base hits by Charley Pruitt, Hutzler, Al Werne and Duane White to pad their lead.

RAMBLINGS — It was "barred day," with all fans paying what they wished and a total of $66.69 was taken in at the gate. . . Roswell is now getting along with four pitchers but are playing as good ball as any team in the circuit. . . Not a Big Spring player got as far as third base in the game. . . Baca worked the count to two strikes and no balls on Werne in the first inning and then walked him. . . The contest was reeled off in an hour and 47 minutes.

Three Deadlocked In Lubbock Meet

LUBBOCK (SC) — Three players tied for first place in the Lubbock Invitational Golf Tournament, which was to have ended here Sunday.

The trio engage in an 18-hole playoff here today.

They are Bobby Goetz, Arlington; Frank Wharton, Dallas; and Wendy Green, Midland. Each had a 72-hole score of 278, six under par.

Rex Baxter, Jr., Amarillo, was fourth with 279; Jim Powell, Dallas, fifth with 280; Arlyn Scott, Odessa, sixth with 281; Larry Lott, Lubbock, seventh, with 282; Jack Williams, Plainview, an Don Schumacher, Dallas, tied for eighth, each with 283; and Marcelino Moreno, tenth, with 284.

City Links Finals Have Been Delayed

The championship of the 1955 City Golf Tournament has not been decided due to the fact that one of the finalists, Randal Carpenter, has been on vacation.

He will meet Bobby Wright for the title upon his return.

A new champion is assured, since neither golfer has ever won the meet.

Carpenter is the medalist but Wright will probably rule as a slight favorite.

Boston Pitching Getting Better, Says Sam White

BOSTON, (AP)—Sammy White—the man who caught "em-feels" the Boston pitching staff is improving down the stretch of the torrid American League pennant race as the Red Sox prepare to prove it against New York.

The fourth-place Sox, a game and a half out of first, invade Yankee Stadium tomorrow night for the first of a three-game series with the Yanks, who are three points back of front-running Chicago.

"Frankly, I don't think our pitchers have reached their peak yet," says White. "They've been improving all along. Every one of them is stronger now. This could be the best pitching staff among the contenders."

White, recently called "the best receiver in the league" by Cleveland Manager Al Lopez, singled out Willard Nixon, who will start tomorrow night.

"Nixon has won five in a row starting with the first game of the July 4 double-header by Cleveland since early June. So valuable is he that despite the dwindling capabilities of reserve Pete Davedy, White has appeared behind the plate in all but four of the club's 105 games. His judgment commands complete respect from the pitchers.

His .285 batting average is deceptive. His timely hits have driven in 47 runs.

Paris Gains Spot Among Top Four

By The Associated Press

Sooner State opponents of the Lawton Braves can't accuse that hot outfit of being a "homer." Lawton's 12-game winning streak, which ties a record it established earlier in the campaign, piled up while the team traveled.

The 12th victory, last night, was a 3-1 affair over the McAlester Rockets.

Meanwhile, Paris pushed into first division with a 5-0 decision over Muskogee. Ponca City beat fading Shawnee 2-1 to throw the Hawks six games off the pace and Seminole trimmed Ardmore 6-4.

By JACK HAND The Associated Press

Mickey Mantle's 10th-inning home run, his 26th of the season and second of the game, gave New York a split with Detroit and sole possession of second place.

Detroit shaded New York in the opener 4-2 but Mantle's clout added up to a 3-2 Yankee victory in the second behind Bob Turley.

The fast-moving Boston Red Sox outlasted Kansas City in a wild fray 16-12, hammering four pitchers for 19 hits and 31 total bases. Despite the victory, the Red Sox lost the series to the A's, the first set they had dropped since they bowed to Cleveland July 16-17.

In the National League, Milwaukee won a pair from Pittsburgh 6-3 and 4-2 while New York split two at Cincinnati, losing 8-5 and winning 6-5. As a result the Braves have a two-game edge on the Giants in their second-place battle. The Braves are 1 1/2 games back of Brooklyn, which bowed to Chicago 4-3. Philadelphia trampled St. Louis 9-6 in the other game.

Chicago had Jim Busby on second base with two out in the 13th when rain made further play impossible at Baltimore. All individual records go into the book but the game must be replayed next month as well as the postponed second game.

Dave Pope's two-run homer in the fourth gave last-place Baltimore its runs after George Kell charged for the Sox in the first. Chicago tied it up in the eighth on Nellie Fox's triple and Kell's single.

Washington rode to its fourth pitching and hitting. The veteran lefty went the route with a 10-hitter and came through with two doubles. Early Wynn was the loser.

Mantle's two homers saved the Yanks from dropping a full game behind Chicago. After Al Kaline's two-run single tied the score in the eighth, Mantle hit a 1-1 pitch by reliever Babe Birrer into the upper stands in right field for the ball game. He hit his first homer off starter Frank Lary in the first inning.

Detroit won the opener in the seventh on successive doubles by Kaline and Jack Phillips and Ray Boone's triple that knocked out Tommy Byrne. Steve Gromek was the winner despite home runs by Eddie Robinson and pinch hitter Bob Cerv.

Norm Zauchin, Sammy White and Billy Klaus each belted three hits for the Red Sox in their free 1 1/2-inning afternoon. After Boston scored six runs in the eighth to wrap it up, the A's came back with five in the ninth.

The Dodgers were beaten at Chicago by Gene Baker's single in the sixth, following Don Fondary's double. Warren Hacker, fourth Cub pitcher, ended the game in dramatic fashion by throwing just three pitches.

Don Zimmer, who came in to face Don Zimmer with the bases loaded and a 2-0 count on the batter. He struck him out on three pitches.

Hank Aaron's two-run homer helped Milwaukee whip Pittsburgh in the first game after the Braves had knocked out Vernon Law to score four runs in the first inning. Bob Buhl went the route in the second game for his ninth victory.

Hobbs Vet

Ollie Ortiz (above) has lost 15 mound decisions for the Hobbs Sports this season but he's still regarded as one of the top hurlers in the circuit. He's also regarded as an A-1 hitter.

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—The National Junior Chamber of Commerce Tennis Tournament moved into its semi-finals today with top-seeded Ned Neely in the boys class clashing with giant-killer Paul Palmer in the feature match.

Neely, heavy favorite from Atlanta, Ga., took out Ray Senkowski of Hamtramck, Mich., 6-2, 6-0, yesterday in the quarter-finals.

Palmer, non-ranked but a tough one for those who are, knocked out Marty Riessen of Hiasdale, N.J., 6-3, 6-4. Riessen was rated eighth.

In the other boys semi-final, James Shaffer of St. Petersburg, Fla., clashes with Richard Leach of Arcadia, Calif. Shaffer got there by ousting Leach Buecholz of St. Louis, 7-5, 6-3. Leach got there by beating Gerald Duble of Hamtramck, 6-1, 7-5.

Pampa Roars Back To Fell Amarillo

The Associated Press

Pampa's Ollers, on the skids for a week and a half, snapped back last night to sweep both ends of a double header and roar back into the middle of the West Texas-New Mexico League pennant fight.

The Ollers knocked off second-place Amarillo 12-4 and 6-1 to climb to within two games of front-running Albuquerque and just one game back of Amarillo.

Albuquerque took it on the nose 6-5 from Lubbock, while Clovis rocked Plainview 15-11 and Abilene outlasted El Paso 5-4 in the other games.

The teams change around tonight, with Clovis at Pampa, El Paso at Plainview, Amarillo at Lubbock and Albuquerque at Abilene.

Doug Ford Racks Up Top Money In All-American

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN

CHICAGO (AP)—Four-year-old Mike straddled Doug Ford's shoulders and pounded tom-tom fashion on his head.

Ten-year-old Doug Jr. hung to his dad's hand, his eyes gleaming in hero worship.

The dad said: "I guess I'll go back to the trailer and do some baby sitting. I've got another, Pamela. But she's only 5 months old."

Doug Ford is the hottest pro golfer on the circuit right now. His check of $3,420 for winning the All-American Tournament at Tam O'Shanter yesterday boosted his earnings for the season to $19,020 and gave him third place on the PGA money-winning list.

Lead Of War Birds Cut To Half Game

By The Associated Press

The Dallas Eagles limped home Monday leading the Texas League by a bare half-game while San Antonio's torrid Missions sashayed up to Tulsa for a doubleheader that could give them first place or a tie for it.

The Missions whipped Dallas 6-5 Sunday night on homers in the ninth by Jim Pisoni and Stan Holmgren. It meant they had won the series three games to one and that Dallas' lead had been cut to the smallest margin in two months.

Should San Antonio win both games from Tulsa, and Dallas lose to Beaumont, the Missions would be in first place. If San Antonio should win two games and Dallas one, the clubs would be in a tie for the top.

As San Antonio caught fire for the drive down the stretch, fan interest in the Alamo City was whipped to a frenzy. The 4-game series with Dallas drew 17,070 and brought the Missions' attendance to 124,532 for the season. They have 11 more home games to better the 149,085 of last year.

It has been quite a surge. June 26 Dallas was leading by 7 1/2 games. Since then the Eagles have won 23 games and lost 19.

Squad For Oil Bowl Grid Game Aug. 19 Completed

WICHITA FALLS (AP)—Standouts of the Texas Coaching School all-star game at San Antonio have been added to the Texas football squad for the Oil Bowl game to make the lineup virtually complete.

The Texas squad will meet an Oklahoma squad, which has not been picked, Aug. 19.

Although the game has always been close, Oklahoma has never won.

The Texas team will use versions of the split T and will be coached by Claude Gilstrap of Arlington State and Pat Gerald of Sweetwater.

The Texas line will average 196 pounds.

The Texas squad:

Ends — Don Smith, Phillips; Charles Knight, Albany; Denny Meyers, Waco, and David Harris San Antonio Edison; Tackles — Jerry Cramer, Breckenridge; Gary McElroy, San Angelo; Lee Yokum, Texarkana, and Millard Glass, Vernon; Guards—Buddy Burt, Chillicothe; Ken Schrum, Midland; Bill Carrico, Denton, and Ivan Allred, Wichita Falls; Centers—Gerald Compton, Graham; Jimmy Hunt, Fort Worth Poly, and Arlis Parkhurst, Colorado City; Quarterbacks—Jim Monroe, Texarkana; Frank Smith, Sweetwater; Jim Millerman, Abilene, and Charles Fredrick, Lufkin; Fullbacks — Jimmy Gates, Pleasant Grove, and Buddy Humphrey, Kilgore.

Cappelli Back With Bobbies

The Big Spring Cosden Cops left on a five-day road trip to New Mexico this morning, cheered by the news that Shortstop Nick Cappelli would probably return to action tonight.

The Cops play first in Artesia, meeting the NuMexers in three games, then move over to Roswell for two games.

Cappelli suffered a broken nose in a Saturday night game with Roswell here but was cleared from the hospital Sunday and saw part of Sunday's game with the Rockets.

The Cops return home Saturday night to begin a five-game stand. Saturday night will be "Davy Crockett Night," at which time a poopy, complete with saddle and bridle, will be given away to some child between the ages of five and 15.

The tickets, which the kids can obtain from their merchants, not only give the child an opportunity to win the horse but admits them to the game, as well. The ducat must be filled out at the gate, however, for the youth to be eligible.

Aussies Must Rely On Lew Hoad In Davis Cup Tests

By WILL GRIMSLEY

GLEN COVE, N.Y., (AP)—If the Australians are to win back the Davis Cup, one thing seems sure: they'll have to put young Lew Hoad back on the varsity.

Rex Hartwig, brilliant but explosive and panicky, definitely can't be trusted with a singles assignment in the big pressure matches coming up — first the Italians, then the Americans.

Ben Jones has been traded to Abilene for Whisenant. Wayne Carter has been given his outright release and Outfielder Don Deck- abled list in other action taken by the Warriors.

Horace Busby, business manager of the Indians, indicated that Adrian Brull would be placed before the end of the week.

Pentagon 'Mess' Seen

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo) predicted today that the Pentagon will some day be investigated, from the standpoint of structure and function, and it will produce "the biggest mess" in the past 10 years.

Symington, secretary of the Air Force under the Truman administration, said, "When I went in the Pentagon building there were eight secretaries and that maybe was too few, but it was enough to fight and win from a very flat start the greatest war in the history of the world."

"And what Mr. Truman wanted and the Democrats was true unification. They wanted to reduce two services to one service."

"Now, they've got four, Army, Navy, the Air Force, and the ever-growing Department of Defense; and, incidentally, they have 21 secretaries. They've got so many secretaries over there now that I understand former Air Force Secretary Finletter said that, 'People shouldn't be too upset about losing civil service jobs, because pretty quickly they'd be appointed to a secretaryship.'"

UNCLE RAY'S CORNER

A lantern fly.

The lantern flies of Brazil have been called "the queerest of all bugs." Maybe they are the queerest so far as shape goes, but they have been given the wrong name! The name "lantern fly" suggests an insect which shines in the dark, perhaps lighting up in the manner of a firefly. Actually, the lantern flies of Brazil (as well as those of other lands) fail to glow.

The mistaken name was given by a woman scientist — Maria Sibylla Merian — who visited Brazil 250 years ago. During her return to Europe, she heard noise coming from a box in which she had placed several strange-looking insects. It was dark in her cabin. When she opened the box, she found that the heads of the insects glowed. This suggested a scientific name to her, and the name grew into the present popular name of lantern fly.

Madame Merian was a good scientist, but she made an error in this case. Her insects glowed when she looked at them, but the name failed to apply to this insect group.

Scores of scientists have made tests which bear out my statement. Since Madame Merian was careful in most of her work, we must try to explain the error in a special way. Since that time, much has been learned about bacteria which glow in the dark. It is likely that, through an accident, glowing bacteria entered the box along with the insects, and swarmed about their heads. In any case, such bacteria should have been given the name of lantern flies.

Other names have been suggested. The insects have been called peanut bugs because peanuts are suggested by the shape of their heads. Some persons speak of them as alligator bugs because certain markings suggest the teeth of alligators.

Lantern flies of Brazil are of large size. Some of them grow to be three inches long, and have a wingspread of six inches. Small relatives of Brazil's lantern flies live in the United States.

Tomorrow: Blister Beetles.

4,000 Battle Ontario's Worst Forest Fires

TORONTO (AP)—An army of more than 4,000 men, including volunteers from all walks of life, is fighting the worst forest fires in the history of Ontario.

Already millions of dollars in timber have burned. Despite the efforts of the fire fighters, only heavy rains can end the destruction.

The fires, first sighted April 1, are in their fifth month. Upward of 125 separate blazes have laid waste more than 200,000 acres. Daily from 10 to 15 fires are reported raging out of control.

Within a month after the first smoke warning, the Forest Service had 2,000 of its regular force and 2,000 others into the firelines. But hot weather and no rains proved an implacable enemy. The flames burrowed a foot below ground, making the earth scorching hot. Entire streams dried up. Lightning fired new blazes.

For 65 cents an hour plus meals they took up hose, shovel and ax to battle the flames, sometimes on a round-the-clock basis. The strain is intense. Last year one nerve-shattered fire fighter plunged screaming into the heart of a blaze to his death.

All live in tents. No work breaks are observed but crew foremen govern hours and shifts. Five or six meals a day are served from mobile canteens.

Barbershop Group Seeking Members

New members are cordially invited to join the local chapter of the Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barbershop Quartet Singing in America. The group is currently working on its third annual "Roundup of Harmony" program to be presented in the Municipal Auditorium Oct. 8.

Any man of any age is welcome to join in harmony with the SPEB-QSA, according to Dr. K. L. Brady, president. Meetings are held at 7:30 p.m. each Tuesday in the basement of the First Presbyterian Church. Orland Johnson is director of the chorus.

Lugosi Claims He Has Dope Whipped

NORWALK, Calif. (AP)—Bela Lugosi, portrayer of horror roles such as "Dracula," says he is not going to disappoint the hundreds of persons who helped him in his fight against drug addiction.

The 66-year-old Hungarian actor was released yesterday from Metropolitan State Hospital, to which he was committed three months ago at his own request.

"I'm no longer an addict to drugs," he said. "I've licked a habit of 20 years, and I'm a happy man again."

He starts work in a new movie Aug. 20.

West Texas Shares In Road Building

AUSTIN (AP)—Road bids expected to total more than 11 million dollars will be received on 293 miles of highway construction work Aug. 16-17, the Texas Highway Department reported today.

Projects include approximately 150 miles on farm to market roads and 143 miles on state and U.S. highways.

West Texans bids include: Burden and Scurry Farm Roads 1610, 2000 and 1200, 4 1/2 miles grading, structures and paving from Murphy School to Scurry County line; from Farm Road 1200 to Farm Road 1200 from Farm Road 1610 to near Lake Thomas Dam; from U. S. 288, bridge 27 1/2 miles northwest of Sanderson on Middle Fork of Big Canyon.

Texas Cities Burst Toward The Suburbs

This explosion, which sees the populace moving away from the heart of the city toward the suburban fringe, is promoting a business war.

You might call it a battle between the downtowners and the suburbanites.

An analysis of the trend toward suburban shopping and what it may mean for the future is offered by Miss Anne K. Schuler in the forthcoming issue of Texas Business Review. Miss Schuler is a research associate for the University of Texas Business Research Bureau.

She finds that only recently have Texas metropolitan areas, conspicuously Houston and Dallas, spread over a large enough territory to make their downtown shopping facilities fairly inaccessible to many suburban dwellers.

Houston offers an example of how suburban dwelling has increased. The city's central area has actually lost population, some 25,000 since 1950. Areas a little farther from the center have about held their own. But in Houston as elsewhere, the big growth has been in the fringe area.

"The population movement away from the central core of the city toward the suburban fringe is the push behind the biggest shift in merchandising since the development of the mail-order catalog," says Miss Schuler.

Outward growth such as that of Houston and Dallas is necessary before regional shopping centers can be built, she continues. Many Texas cities, of course, including several smaller ones like Midland and Victoria, have modern planned neighborhood and district shopping centers, but there the emphasis is still of "convenience goods."

In Dallas, most of the older unplanned centers have gained little if any trade during the postwar years, according to the analyst. "The concept of convenience goods versus shopping goods is a basic one in merchandising," Miss Schuler explains. "Retailers see their goods as comprising a spectrum, ranging from convenience goods, for which nobody really shops around, to shopping goods, for which the customer is willing to go to considerable trouble to satisfy his wants."

"The higher the merchandise in such a spectrum, the farther the shopper will probably go to buy it. The problem of the suburban retailer is to balance his sales of the big-volume convenience goods with sales of big-ticket shopping goods."

"In an effort to stay in the game, downtown merchants are beginning to fight back. In April, 26 downtown Dallas stores sponsored a free-ride-home plan for shoppers. Throughout Texas, downtown merchants are helping develop off-street parking lots and garages."

A survey of Houston shoppers revealed that most shoppers buy food and furniture, go to movies, and get medical care in suburban areas. Appliances are bought largely in downtown stores. Fifty-nine and seven-tenths percent buy clothing downtown also.

Houston shoppers named difficult parking, crowds, and congested traffic as big disadvantages of downtown shopping. They listed a larger selection of goods, being able to run several errands at once, and cheaper prices as major downtown advantages.

Suburban shopping scored highest on nearness-to-home, informal dress, and smaller crowds.

The first regional center being built in Texas is Gulfgate, on the Gulf freeway in Houston. Scheduled to open next spring, the 20-million-dollar center is geared to accommodate 20,000 a day on its 60-acre site.

DATE DATA

By Beverly Brandow

Aside from dates, teenagers want two things: to be popular, and to seem older. Being dependable is a great help in realizing both wishes.

No sermons please! No. Just a few helpful hints on being the sort of person you want to be, and getting what you should out of life. It's strange. People read and follow diet books every day, and frankly admit their figures or physiques need improving. They also listen to pointers on how to improve their golf or canasta game because they want to be more socially acceptable. Yet, it is wise unto the person who even hints that the personality might need a little shot in the arm now and then.

George promised to meet Jerry at Hamburger Haven Saturday for lunch and then go to a movie. At twelve o'clock George was nowhere in sight, so Jerry, amidst the noon rush, held a table until one o'clock. Line-standers and waitresses glared when he said he would order later.

A call to George's home finally revealed George had had a better last minute offer and had taken it. What could he do? It was too late to phone Jerry at home.

What could he do? He could have declined the last-minute invitation and kept his first engagement!

Accepting responsibility for our promises or agreements and being dependable to our friends not only builds good will and helps bring popularity, but it shows mature thinking. Conscientious, mature personality is not the result of growing to a certain height or living a certain number of years. It is the result of a long battle between the noble and the selfish parts of our natures, until at last the better self wins and our personality becomes naturally thoughtful and unselfish.

Such personalities are worth the effort. The conquest of self over self is rewarded with friends, respect, good job, promotions, and raises.

A reliable man or woman whose "word is as good as a bond" is a gem among people.

"Prescription for Popularity," a free booklet, is yours if you write Beverly Brandow in care of The Herald and enclose a 3 cent stamp.
