10,000 Pounds Of Barbecue Served To Rodeo Visitors

More than 10,000 pounds of meat, the choicest lambs, kids and calves in Crockett County butchered for the purpose, was served up to the thousands of visitors here during the three-day rodeo, race meet stock and sale this week.

A total of 437 head of animals were butchered to furnish that delicious Bob Cooke barbecue for the rodeo visitors. In addition to the 10,000 pounds of meat, there were 180 gallons of "cowboy stew" consumed.

Somewhat of a record was hung up by Early Baggett, Will Baggett, Albert Kay and the others who were in charge of the barbecue service when they thinned out the huge crowd that gathered around the barbecue tables in the city park July 4, served them and had them cut down to a comfortable number in approximately 25 minutes. Serving, of course, continued for an hour or more, but the "first rush" jam was thinned out and most of the crowd was grouped around under the trees in less than a half hour.

Barbecue, stew, pickles, bread, onions and iced tea was the menu. The meat, as usual, drew hundreds of compliments and visitors who have been coming here for years to Ozona's annual celebration declared it "gets better every year."

Every governmental official or board that handles public money should publish at regular intervals an accounting of it, showing where and how each dollar is spent. This is a fundamental principle of democratic government.

ECONOMIC HIGHLIGHTS

The late Congress will go down in history as an extraordinary body. Its total appropriations were exceeded only by the World War Congress. Almost without a dissenting voice, it gave up to the President powers and prerogatives it has prized since revolutionary days.

1. A bill enabling the President to inflate currency by forcing the Federal Reserve to buy Government securities, to issue new currency up to $3,000,000,000, to lessen gold content of the dollar up to 50 per cent, to accept up to $200,000,000 in silver, instead of gold, in war debt payments.

2. A bill giving the President through a coordinator, wide powers in reorganizing and revising the railroads of the country.

3. A bill authorizing vast Federal developments in the Tennessee Valley.

4. A bill creating a Civilian Conservation Corps to employ 250,000 otherwise unemployed young men in the national forests at $1 per day.

5. A bill authorizing the President to regulate transactions in credit, currency and other coinage; to place an embargo in whole or in part, on gold; to forbid the hoarding of gold by an individual in excess of $100, and to restrict the activities of the Federal Reserve System.

6. A bill authorizing beer, in spite of the Eighteenth Amendment, through revision of the Volstead Act.

7. A bill initiating a $3,000,000,000 public works program in the interest of employment, to be controlled by the President through a director of public works.

8. A bill to reduce agricultural acreage in production, with compensation to farmers for all land withdrawn from use.

9. A bill giving the President unprecedented control over industry, with powers to eliminate compensation, fix minimum wages and maximum hours of work, regulate production, etc.

There were other bills, of course, but these are outstanding. Most far reaching of all is the last—it has not yet swung into action and it is not widely understood. Operation of the bill, in relation to particular industries, will be as follows: A trade group will draw up a plan designed to settle wage, price and production problems. It will apply to the administrator of the bill for authorization to put its agreement into effect. The administrator will then find out if the plan meets with the favor of most units within the industry. Representatives of labor, and a group of consumers, will be consulted. When all has been settled, the agreement will go to the President. If he finds it equitable, he will authorize it. If not, it will have to be redrawn. When industries are unable to agree among themselves, the President will be able to force a pact on them, by

The bill will strike directly at "depression born businesses"—unhealthy sweatshops paying employees 15 and 20 cents a day, and similar anti-social institutions, and will eliminate disastrous, depression-prolonging competition. The danger or weakness in the bill is that it will very likely make it more difficult for the small business to operate, and will favor the more efficient, better-financed large business.

"Hey, Slim" Breaks Professor's Spell Of Concentration

Life is full of its ups and downs, thinks Professor Zwami or whatever Hindu-sounding name he wears, of the carnival troupe playing here this week.

The "Professor" is the snake charmer and the hypnotist, the man who "buried alive" a hypnotic subject and left the victim in his "grave" three days and nights. A big crowd was gathered in front of his platform and he was using his best professional voice in haranguing them into the spirit of his act. He was "Professor" and his mind was concentrated; the thought waves were emanating from his mind to that of his subject—and the crowd stood in awe at the wonders he worked.

Then, in the midst of the quiet of concentration, while the cold perspiration stood in beads on the professor's brow somebody back of the tent yelled out in a rude voice, "Hey, Slim, your coffee's ready!"

The United States is not alone in experiencing signs of recovery. Unemployment in the United Kingdom has declined. Favorable factors predominate in French business indexes. Conditions in Spain are fairly satisfactory. Trade optimism persists in Canada. New business activity is appearing in Most encouraging phase of the general business situation is not only that improvement has appeared in basic lines, but that it is being continued. In recent months there have been no "downs"—there have been many "ups." Recently reported was the sixth consecutive weekly increase over 1932 in electric power output—and each gain was larger than the one directly preceding it. Carolings are up—during the week ending June 10, they were 12.5 per cent over the same week in 1932. May cotton consumption was close to double that of May last year. The commodity and security price indexes have shown climbs for several consecutive months. The number of business failures has taken a sharp drop. Iron ore consumption in May reached the highest monthly total since November, 1931. Improvement in employment and wage situations is reported from all parts of the country.

AN EXPENSIVE LESSON

The future of government-in-business is not so bright as it seemed awhile ago.

The people have discovered something. They have found that the only way their community can build, for example, a power plant, is to float a bond issue. They have found that this requires vast sums of additional tax money—laid on top of already onerous taxes. They have found, too, that when such technical endeavors as power plants are operated by politics, deficits customarily occur. These, as well, must be paid by the people through increased taxes.

Again, they have found that bookkeeping for a publicly owned utility, not subject to public regulation, is of a curious sort. Pleasant reports are issued, which take little or no account of overhead, depreciation, wear and tear. When the time comes for replacement of broken-down machinery, there is usually no money in the till—and the taxpayer is again called upon.

People are learning by dear experience that when Government goes into business in competition with its citizens, they have lost, not gained—that such service furnished them "at cost," means generally "at cost" to their own pocketbooks. The proponents of schemes to put Government into business never put up the money. They put up the "spiel" to obligate the taxpayer, and then they absorb tax funds through countless new jobs.—Geanga Republican Record, Chardan, Ohio.

THE THRILL OF CREATIVE EFFORT

In our pursuit of material gain or of fleeting pleasures, we sometimes forget this bit of truth, tucked away in the middle of Roosevelt's inaugural speech:

"Happiness lies not in the mere possession of money; it lies in the joy of achievement, in the thrill of creative effort. The joy and moral stimulation of work no longer must be forgotten in the mad chase of evanescent profits. These dark days will be worth all they cost us if they teach us that our true destiny is not to be ministered unto, but to minister to ourselves and to our fellow men."

It would be a good thing for all of us to clip this paragraph from the president's talk and read it over every once in a while.

Happiness most certainly does not lie in the mere possession of money.

The thrill of creative effort—that's it!—Howard (Ill.) Herald.

Abe Lee was born and reared in Ozona. He graduated from the Ozona High School with the class of 1931. Since that time he has been ranching with his father and brother, Dock Lee, on the Lee ranch in this county. Surviving are the parents, one brother, Dock Lee, and one sister, Miss Annie Lee.

Stubblefield, who operated a garage in Texon and took up flying as a hobby, had just bought the airplane in San Antonio the day before the fatal crash. He flew here to be present for the seventh annual rodeo, race meet, stock show and sale and to take up passengers for pleasure trips.

Several passengers had taken their "rides" in the little plane when Lee went up. The plane circled the fair grounds and then headed southwest in the direction of the landing field. The plane had just circled the Mexico point south of town and turned back toward the landing field when it was seen to jerk and then nose up into the air, turn over on its back and then dive to the ground nose first. It was estimated at around 300 feet high when it went into the dive.

The plane was a total wreck. Both the pilot and passenger were strapped into their seats and it was necessary to cut them loose from the wreckage.

Stubblefield was 28 years old. He leaves a widow and one child and one brother, Roy Stubblefield also of Texon. The body was taken here to San Angelo where funeral services were held Tuesday.
