Reform For State Bench

Recently another paper (the Fort Worth Star-Telegram) called attention to need of an over-due reform in Texas. It is in regard to the popular election of the judiciary.

It was pointed out properly that "There is nothing that a judge can promise the voters other than to determine the law fearlessly and completely." The law being a profession within itself, most laymen are not well qualified to divine between those best qualified for the bench. In fact, in times past Texas has given some notoriously unqualified candidates large votes, and in minor instances has elected a few to the bench.

Certainly the public interest was not served by such a turn, for when people go to court, they were interested in correct interpretation of the law, not in politica.

This year three members of the Supreme court of Texas, all with strong records as lawyers and jurists, were appointed in January. Now they are compelled to make a political race for election. This is hardly reasonable or fair.

Some states have a strictly appointive judiciary. Others have a system whereby the state board names a list of eligibles for court posts, and the governor appoints from this list. After several years, these men then offer for re-election, thus affording the public to pass judgment upon their stewardship on the bench.

Something like that is needed in justice to the good men now in service and to attract others of the right calibre to the bench in Texas. The bar and laity should join hands in urging the legislature to take steps in this direction next year.

Don't Fritter Our Gas Away

It has not been long since a proposal to utilize Texas natural gas in recharging depleted Appalachian fields was advanced, or of all things, as a national defense measure. Storage of the gas in these sands would, ostensibly, put it nearer the industrial North and East where it could be tapped in times of emergency. Not much is said of the plans to use these once producing gas sands as reservoirs in meeting current demand.

Another proposal is that a corporation be permitted to construct nearly a thousand miles of 26 and 20-inch pipelines into, Ohio, where once-potent fields are about petered out. By connecting with lines at that point, a regu-

Notebook-GOOD EARTH CAN BE BAD TO STRANGER

BY HAL BOYLE NEW YORK, July 1. UB-A pauper in the big city can be defined as a man who doesn't have "a place in the country."

If that's the only hallmark of poverty, I'm the happiest pauper alive. For nothing makes me feel richer than to talk with a metropolitan cave dweller who has tried to get away from it all by buying a small plot of land away from it all.

I never shared the delusion of these would-be farmers in the dell that & city man can thumb his nose at Mother Nature for nine months, of the year and expect her to clasp him to her bosom the other three. She isn't going to forgive him; she's going to give him the works.

But this yen to currycomb one of God's acres far from the maddening throng hits the city's pentup millions like an epidemic each summer.

The awakening comes only too swiftly. The city dweller finds that the farmer who buys the Brooklyn bridge is no bigger sucker than the city fellow who believes the technicolor pictures on the seed catalogs.

He wears out himself and his pocketbook commuting to his job in the city. He has to taxi to the railroad station in the morning and back to his rural palace in the evening. And he still has to go out and pick the wilted green beans in the garden he has come to hate. By now he's tired of the country himself but still figures it's fine for the family. But is it?

Little Sister gets sunburned and cries all week. Then she chies because she misses her playmates in the city.

Junior almost drowns in a swimming hole. He's chased by a bull in the next pasture and tears his knee on a rusty wire going over the fence.

And Mama? She's sick of ants by day and mosquitoes by night. "I can't cook another day on this darned stove," she says. "When are we going to quit playing Swiss Family Robinson?"

So another empire dream crashes. The family treks back to the city. When Papa gets the bill for the summer's adventure, he goes to bed for a quiet nervous breakdown.

The good earth can be awful had for a stranger to the land. I'd rather be a man without the coun-

BIG T FIGHTS LOSING BATTLE WITH THIEVES

By WILLIAM C. BARNARD By The Associated Press The battleship Texas is fighting a losing battle with souvenir hunters, eager thievers who carry away anything they can lift.

Sundays, 5,000 visitors-and upswarm over the great grey ship, now a monument in San Jacinto battleground near Houston. You pay your 30 cents and you see the show. The admission entitles you to twirl a wheel which points the anti-aircraft guns from earth to sky. You can play with the helm, eat your picnic lunch on the main deck, lounge around in the admiral's quarters. You can ask questions of J. M. Strickling, the moonfaced man of 61 now in charge of the Big T.

Strickling, raised in Houston was in the Navy from 1908 to 1945. He made the builders run on the Texas in 1914 and served on the ship four years. Now a retired chief machinists mate, he says: "It seems a shame that people would be so low as to take things from a ship with as much honor as the Texas has won-but I have found that some people will take anything they can lift.

They take the nuts off the port holes, they steal the magnets out of the receivers of the ship's telephones. In many cases the receivers themselves have been yanked away.

"Someone even got away with the Texas flag.

"One day I walked out of my quarters and left the door unlocked. When I returned, five people were in the cabin and one woman was opening drawers and going through my belongings. 'I asked them to leave. Four of them did, at once, but the woman stayed. 'Madame, I would thank you to leave,' I said. 'Not before I get a souvenir,' she replied. -I then told her that souvenir hunting is nothing less than thievery. She left, and I thought I had taught her a lesson. A few minutes after she had gone, I discovered my flashlight was missing."

Strickling since has moved to the captain's quarters, secure behind a big sign which directs sightseers to stay out. The guarters are big, comfortable, shipshape and smell of leather. The chief caretaker is assisted by a couple of other oldtime seamen. John McKeown, retired chief machinists mate and E. E. Levy, a retired chief bosuns mate. The three have a total service time of 91 years.

Around The Rim—By The Herald Staff Gym Class More

Than Physical Aid

There are many reasons why I shall never forget Dr. Lowell N. Douglas, head of the Baylor physical education department before an auto accident brought about his untimely death several years ago.

He was an excellent pitcher and could have gone far in professional baseball had he chose to do so. But he cast his lot with those who were seeking to help the average fellow enjoy sports participation.

Perhaps he felt there was more security in this field than in the up and down world of coaching and "pro" athletics. However, I sincerely believe that his reasons went deeper than this.

I shall never forget a volley hall class I had under him. There was one fellow we'll call Charlie who had very effeminate sharacteristics. Naturally, the boy had a terrific inferiority complex at the start of the term, As his initial efforts at the game failed, Charlie sought to compensate for his lack of ability by building a front of disdain and noncooperation.

Things went from bad to worse. He was always the last one chosen when sides were picked. The team on which he played tried to shift its offense and defense to cover his position. His sharp comments and our retorts were growing to alarming proportions.

One day when our outcast was absent, Dr. Douglas called us into a group before play began.

"I realize that Charlie has created a problem," he began, speaking in his usual soft, kindly voice, "but maybe there's something we can do to remedy the situation." -

Then he went into a detailed explanation of procreation how some males had more than their share of feminine genes had vice versa. He explained how such a person had no control over this matter any more than he did of any other birth factor.

He told how such a person's interests depended a lot on the reactions of his associates. He didn't excuse the boy entirely for his attitude but he felt that the class might be able to help him some.

We worked out plans to ignore Charlie's comments, to treat him as if he were as good as any other player, to cheer every effort on his part that was in the least successful.

It was a hard task for all of us at first. Soon, however, we were amazed at the change in his attitude. I have never seen anyone se happy at being accepted. True, his ability didn't jump to any great heights though it did improve a little but he had entered the course a sports-hater and quit a sports-lover because for the first time in his life he was not pushed aside because of his ability, I think every one in the class was benefited. It was a great lesson in helping others. -ADRIAN VAUGHAN Contraction of the second lar demand of 200,000,000 cubic feet a day could be satisfied immediately.

Just as the Ohio reserves have been depleted, so can the Texas bounty of natural gas be exhausted some day.

It seems that plans such as are in the making by a group of operators and lease owners in the North Cowden field is vastly more advisable to Texas and the Southwest than piping gas off to some distant point. This means that gas yielded in production of oil will be milked for its natural and casinghead gasoline content, then reinjected under heavy pressures into the lime from whence it came. It will thus provide the drive and lift for other oil, thus doubling the potential petroleum recovery. In the end the gas will remain with the that the present swarm of people exception of that required in the meantime for domestic consumption.

We needn't be in a hurry to peddle out gas. We'll always have a market. Moreover, it is our greatest weapon in our bid for fuel for industry. Squander it and we'll fritter away stability for our section a generation or two hence.

Dewey And Cleanup

By JAMES MARLOW WASHINGTON, July 1. A-1t he's elected President, Thomas E. Dewey says, there'll be the "finest housecleaning Washington ever SAW working for the government would be fired. That hardly seems likely,

The people working in the judicial and legislative branches are practically untouchable by any President.

That leaves only the people in the executive branch of the government-various departments and agencies-for Dewey to work on. They number 2.048,000 everywhere: In Washington, the rest of the country and overseas.

Of that total 92 per cent, or 1,884,-160, are civil service employes. The rest, 163,840, are non-civil service and have been appointed to jobs. It's on that second group-the non-civil service people-that Dewey could do most of his broomwork. But take the civil service workers first.

They are people who have taken competitive examinations for their jobs and are making a career of working for the government. They can be fired for only two reason 1. If they've done something wrong. 2. If their jobs are wiped out, Dewey could sweep them out the second way: by asking Congress not to vote any more money for their jobs.

Now take those other 163,840 noncivil service people who have been appointed to their jobs or accepted them without civil service examination

Right off the bat Dewey would be sure to replace the heads of the big departments, like secretary of State, Agriculture, Labor and so

Then he could be expected to get rid of most, if not all, the heads of the independent government agencies-there are less than 100 such agencies.

Such agencies include the Maritime Commission, the Interstate Commerce Commission, and so on. The there'd be the special assistants to the department or agency heads who are not civil service people. There are other non-civil service employes-like the chauffeur to a cabinet member or special secretaries to department heads-who'd be likely to go. But even so the government has to be run. Good people willing to work for government salaries are not easy to find.

And Dewey, who has the reputation of being a good administrator, probably would be careful about firing good people doing a good job.

However, here is something else which the Veterans Administration has not yet made public. In its files are some revealing letters written by its representative, R. F. Andrews, chief of the Veterans Loan Guaranty Service in Dailag Here are some excerpts from them:

On Feb. 18, Andrews reported to Washington: "Mr. Godfrey of the Dallas Home Builders in telephonic conversation with Mr. Baker, loan guaranty officer, Dallas, today stated that the side-payment cases now in the hands of the U.S. attorney in Dallas are progressing to his, Mr. Godfrey's satisfaction. The innuendo is obvious."

The "side-payment" cases refer to the practice of charging veterans a fee above the limit permitted by the G. I. Bill of Rights. This fee is paid on the side and concealed from the Veterans Administration. This columnist previously reported that cases involving members of the Dallas Home Builders had been referred to the U. S. attorney in Dallas, but no action taken.

"PROMINENT .CITIZENS" ... INVOLVED On June 4, Andrew again reported to the Veterans Administration in Washington:

But procrastination is the thief of time. "In instances where so-called prominent citizens' as termed by the U. S. Attorney's staff, are involved, it is most convenient to find excuses to postpone from one grand jury to another. "A member of the Dallas Loan Guaranty division was in the U.S. Attorney's office while interrogations were being made concerning overpayments, and an operator admitted receiving $2,500 overpayment as 'that was my sales price,' and curtly inquired: 'What do you intend to do about it?" "The answer was negative, as the operator was a 'prominent citi-

Again on June 10, Andrews made the following report regarding U. S. Attorney Frank Potter whom this columnist charged with dragging his feet. "In view of the indication in these letters that the U, S. Attorney's office may not be properly cooperating in the prosecution of the persons and corporations involved, it is thought that perhaps you may decide to bring the matter specifically to the Attorney General."

FRAUDS IN FT. WORTH Andrews also reported to the brought them together. Subsequently the plan was broadened to include all French veterans associations, 34 in number, with a membership of six million.

It was the French railway veterans who first proposed sending 48 of the old railway cars used by American troops in World War I (40 men-8 horses). They suggested sending one car to each of the 48 states as a permanent souvenir. Accordingly persmission has been given sy the French National Raisways to send the cars, and the French Line has agreed to ship them a the United states without Upon arrival in the United States it is planned to send three of four sectional trains to different parts of fne country, dropping off one car in each state.

The distribution of the gifts in the U.S.A. will be left entirely to each state. The historic boxcars will be given to the forty-and-eight veterans or to whichever veterans group is designated by the different states.

It is also, planned to combine the train of gratitude with a letterwriting project called "Merci des Enfants." ("Thanks of the Children.") Each boxcar will contain various letters from the children of France to the children of America thanking them for the Friendship Train

When Congress learned about the French Train of Gratitude, only 36 hours of the session remained. However, it rushed through a special bill exempting the French gifts from customs duties. It was Senators Taft and Millikin, exspeaker Sam Rayburn and Congressman Aime Forand of Rhode Island who pushed this bill through in such record time.

Affairs Of The World-

Yugoslavs Defy Soviet

BY DEWITT MACKENZIE By The Associated Press The alleged defection of Yugoslavia's Marshal Tito and his captains from the Red laws of the Moscow Kremlin still is surrounded with mystery, but this much is clear:

There is a break at a strategic point in the Bolshevist Western front!

This is the first serious setback of the kind which Russia has encountered among its slave states, The staid London Times, in an editorial headed "Tito Called to Heel," says: "Nothing so apparently unlikely has happened for a long time, and nothing so destructive of Communist unity since the expulsion of Trotsky by the Bolshevists." We have had a demonstration that the Bolshevist Maginot Line is vulnerable.

The Yugoslav Communist Party Tuesday night showed its indepen ence and defied the storm by rejecting the charges of the Moscowdominated Cominform that Tito and his followers had departed from the Marxist line.

This Tito debacle certainly isn't calculated to strengthen the Bolshevists' hand in their effort to achieve a political coup in Germany by a food blockade which threatens some two million Germans in the American-British French zones of Berlin with hunger, if not starvation. A good many people are asking whether this atrocity is likely to result in war. I don't think so.

Talent Agent Is After Trademarks By JACK O'BRIAN.

NEW YORK-The typical booking agent, - are called around or "flesh peddler," a Lindy's, is mighty prou, when he can list in his files the swankjest night elubs throughout the country-the places which pay generously for floor show talent. But prominently displayed in the files of a Broadway gentleman named Abner Greshler are not such gaudy beadquarters of whisky and whoopee but workaday designations that read like trade marks.

Greshler has opened an entirely new entertainment horizon. He is the biggest operator in the field of supplying entertainment to normally deadly in earnest corporations and trade organizations. These outfits have discovered the advantages of making customers and convention delegates happy while working. The attractions of the saloons and night clubs away from conventions, trade showings and food shows have frequently caused vast emptiness in halls where, to great expense, companies and groups display their products. The conventioner on a spree is unusually willing to ignore the reason he is attending a show in the first place. Greshler's psychology is to present shows during business meetings.

A few weeks ago a business show in Chicago engaged, through Greshler, both Al Jolson and Danny Kaye, with several only slightly lesser stars for support in case they were needed. The total bill was said to have come to $60,000 for the week. The organization paid gladly-and said it was well worth it. The delegates had stuck to their work. The results high sales, good relations and a feeling of satisfaction all around.

Greshler says he discovered this open yein of gold about nine years ago. Company heads were noting that long-winded oratory during conventions and meetings wearied elients to a discouraging degree.

Lifebuoy with its Purifying Ingredient GETS SKIN CLEANER STOPS "B.O." as no other leading soap can!

DOCTORS PROVED with 820 scientific tests the truth of this amazing statement... The cleaner you get your skin, the doctors found, the safer you are from "B.O." (body odor). Any soap will remove all the grime and perspiration you can see. But it's the "invisible dirt," the doctors say, that may form a foothold for "B.O."

The doctors compared the effects of daily baths with different soaps. The results are amazing! Actually you are cleaner, safer from "B.O." when you take your daily bath with Lifebuoy. After 820 scientific tests doctors say Lifebuoy's clean-smelling purifying ingredient makes the difference. And this same purifying ingredient actually makes Lifebuoy milder ... safe even for a baby's tender skin! So use Lifebuoy in your daily bath ... because Lifebuoy gets skin cleaner, keeps you safer from "B.O."! Lifebuoy is made from a special oil blend that gives you such an abundant, refreshing lather. Franny (Pancho) Perez scattered ten Vernon hits and cakewalked to his 11th mound success of the 1948 season as the Big Spring Broncs romped over the Dusters, 8-1, before a sizeable turnout here Wednesday night.

The Steeds zeroed their sights on a former team-mate, Larry Shaw, to win going away. The Mobile rookie made it very interesting until the eighth frame when Ray Vasquez boloed one over the right field barrier with Ace Mendez on the base paths. Until the mite's round-tripper, it was a 3-1 ball game.

Vernon hopped into the lead in Round One when Lloyd Rigby came home on a single by Florencio Quesada. Perez might have been in a lot more trouble had not a great throw by Left Fielder Bobby Fernandez cut off Lou Ehlinger at the plate. Ehlinger had also tried to gain through transportation on Quesada's safety. The Cayuses waited until the third to dent the Vernon armor.

Then they went out and got themselves three runs. Perez strolled to open the frame but was out at second on a force by Ortilleo and McClain got home.
