DEDICATE NEW SCHOOL BUILDING FRIDAY NIGHT

LIONS PLAY TO BE GIVEN ON MARCH 15

'Sun-Up' Home-Talent Production To Be In School Auditorium

TICKET SALE SOON

Full Evening's Entertainment Planned In Connection

"Sun-Up," the three-act drama sponsored by the Ozona Lions Club, will be presented in the auditorium of the new Ozona High School building Tuesday evening, March 15, it was definitely announced this week by Mrs. A. W. Jones, director of the play.

Announcement of the date of presentation of the all home talent production has been withheld pending final arrangements for the dedication exercises for the new school building. The play was first announced for March 1 but on account of delay in dedication of the building the play has been postponed.

Members of the cast have been rehearsing the play for several weeks and will be ready for a finished performance when it is presented, according to Mrs. Jones. The play tells a gripping story of a North Carolina mountaineer family at the outbreak of the World War. It is a play that is different from any attempted by a local home-talent group in the last several years and it is believed will make a hit with local audiences.

In addition to the play, the evening's program of entertainment will include between act specialties, instrumental and vocal music and vaudeville features. Admission prices will be 50 cents for the reserved seat section and 35 cents general admission. Reserved seats will go on sale sometime next week.

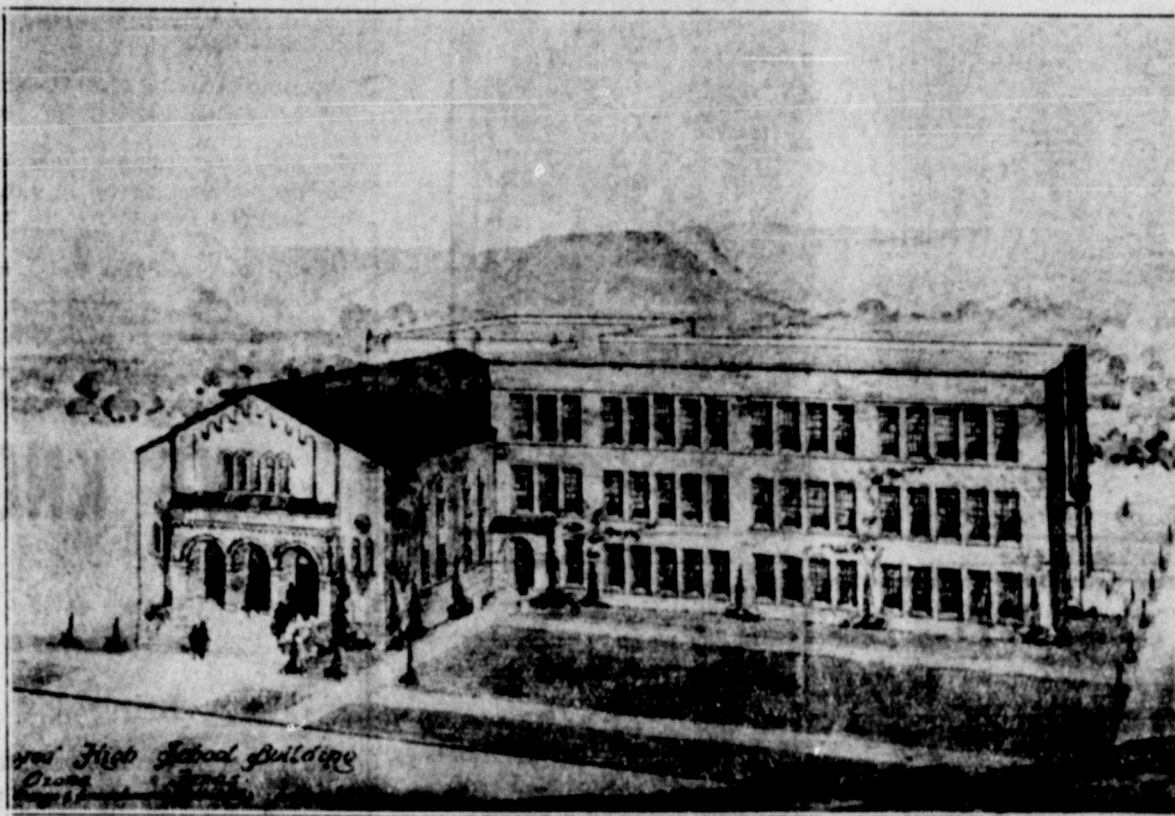

Ozona High School Typists Take Part In McCamey Tourney

Miss Mary B. Vaughan and Eugene Montgomery represented the Ozona High School commercial department in a typewriter tournament at McCamey last week with fifteen entrants from eight high schools in the area.

The Midland team won the tournament, a twenty-minute speed test, taking both first and second places with an average speed of 48 words per minute for first place and 47 words per minute for second place. The Ozona typists made a good showing in the competition, however, both averaging between 40 and 45 words per minute. These pupils have developed this speed since entering on the commercial course in September. Miss Ludee Mae Harrison, instructor, accompanied the local students to the tourney. Schools participating in the tournament were Crane, Midland, Fort Stockton, Alpine, Iraan, McCamey, Marfa and Ozona.

Local school officials are making plans for holding a similar tournament here in the near future, according to Supt. John L. Bishop. In the event such a meet is arranged, schools in all the neighboring towns will be invited to send entries.

Sam Williams of Barnhart, who suffered the loss of two fingers in an accident at Mertzon last week, was taken to San Angelo Wednesday in a serious condition. It was expected that San Angelo surgeons would find it necessary to remove the hand. Mr. Williams is a brother of Mrs. S. B. Phillips of Ozona.

Texas Independence Observed By Lions In Program Monday

Members of the Ozona Lions Club observed Texas Independence Day with an appropriate program at its luncheon Monday noon. Miss Helen Adams, student in the Ozona High School, presented a paper touching the high points in the Texas war of independence and followed this with a reading, "Texas, Undivided and Indivisible" by Joseph Weldon Bailey.

Miss Berenice Bailey, another High School student, entertained members of the club with a few piano selections and a vocal solo.

Eugene Montgomery was admitted to membership in the club for the next school semester on a plan adopted by the club to extend a complimentary club membership to the highest ranking boy in High School. Eugene held this honor throughout the school year last year.

REV. MEREDITH CHAIRMAN OF CHARITY BODY

Report Of Committees Show Much Relief Work Done

$300 FUND BALANCE

Plans For Work Next Year Outlined At Annual Meeting

Rev. J. H. Meredith, pastor of the Ozona Methodist Church, was named general chairman of the Associated Charities of Ozona at the annual meeting of the executive committee of the group held at the Baptist Church Monday night. Rev. Meredith succeeds Rev. M. M. Fulmer, who has served as director of the organization since it was perfected, and who asked that he be relieved of the responsibility.

Mrs. Welton Bunger was re-elected secretary of the organization and Hugh Childress, Jr., was re-elected treasurer.

The Associated Charities was organized in December, 1930, under the leadership of the Lions Club and a drive was staged at that time for funds to be used in taking care of local emergency charity cases. Nearly $500 was realized from this drive and other contributions brought total receipts of the organization to more than $700. Of this amount $301 still remains in the treasury, which is believed will be sufficient to take care of local charity needs until next fall.

Much Relief Work Done

Reports of committees of the organization were heard at the annual meeting, outlining the relief work that has been done. These reports indicated that the funds of the organization have been handled in a most economical manner and that a great deal of worthwhile relief work has been done through this group, saving citizens of the town hundreds of dollars in individual and unorganized charity efforts and waste on unworthy cases.

Rev. Meredith, who was chairman of the investigating and relief committee the past year, in making his report to the executive committee declared that in his opinion the charity organization had saved Ozona from a perpetual line of beggars. Every request for aid is thoroughly investigated by

THE "MORNING AFTER"

Anyone who has indulged in strenuous exertion knows what "getting the second wind" means. There are a lot of people and a lot of industries getting their "second wind" in a business and financial way today.

Those industries and individuals with constitutions strong enough to stand the "reducing process" of the past two years have sweated off their overload of fat, secured "their second wind" and are ready for real work.

There is nothing unusual about the experience we have been through. It was a whole lot like a great national banquet. Most of the guests not only gorged themselves on healthful food, but ate all the indigestible viands they could swallow.

Their "morning after" was inevitable. But it was so severe that many of them are still frightened of all nourishment—good as well as bad.

Retrenchment, economy and starvation diets, now being practiced in the extreme, do as much harm as the reign of gluttony and extravagance that preceded them.

The nation now depends on the men and industries that have their "second wind" and are ready to proceed on a normal diet of production and earnings.

A SAFE PLACE FOR MONEY

The plan, fathered by Col. Frank Knox of the Chicago Daily News, for an issue of "baby" Government bonds to be offered to everybody in the effort to induce people who are afraid of banks and of other forms of investment to take their money out of hiding and put it where it will earn something and be useful, has much to recommend itself to the American public.

These bonds are to be issued in

UNCLE SAM

By Francis G. Blair

You ask me who is Uncle Sam, I modestly reply, I am.

These hungry urchins meanly dressed.

These mothers suckling babes at breast.

These traffic cops along the street, These rushing crowds on eager feet.

These thousands caught in fortune's jam—

All these, you and I, are Uncle Sam.

All farmers working in the field, All bankers making dollars yield, All those who teach or preach or pray.

All honest workers, night and day All mountebanks who cheat and sham—

All these, and you and I are Uncle Sam.

This miner climbing from the mine This boot-black calling for your shine.

This lawyer pleading at the bar, This doctor rushing by in car, This druggist measuring gill and gram—

All these, and you and I, are Uncle Sam.

Those prosperous in high estate,

Those buggars waiting at the gate Those morons breeding in the slums,

Those soldiers stepping to the drum,

Those toppers swigging down their dram—

All these, and you and I, are Uncle Sam.

Not high-topped hat nor stripes nor bars, Not gaudy coat, bedecked with stars,

Not whiskered chin nor pointed nose,

Not gawky form from head to toe, Not Yankee Doodle's slap and slam—

Not any or all of these are Uncle Sam.

But pioneers on land sea, Unnumbered millions yet to be

Of noble men who work and play To build and guard their native land;

Who daily do their civic share Unflinchingly and unaware

Of those who praise or those who damn—

All these, and you and I, are Uncle Sam.

WHERE DOES YOUR MONEY GO?

Had you ever stopped to consider where the money you spend for every day expenses goes? When you spend it with your established home-town merchant it goes to maintain several local families who are your friends and neighbors—the merchant himself and his family, his employes and their families, those who serve these in other capacities. It goes for rent, lights, water, fuel, groceries, dry goods, household goods, gasoline, tires and auto accessories, for taxes, insurance, drugs, medical service etc. All of these who benefit—the landlord, druggist, grocer, auto dealer and so on are benefitted. They also are your neighbors and friends.

It's a cycle that has no ends. Everybody benefits. Your town benefits, you benefit.

But money that is sent out of town for something that can be bought at home, or money that is spent with the fly-by-night merchant or the street corner peddler is gone never to return and your community's wealth is reduced that much. Stay with the merchant who stayed with you.

To The School Board -- To The Faculty And To The People of Crockett County

Our new school building is a thing of beauty and Ozona is justly proud of it. The school board and those men and women who labored so patiently to get the best to be had in every detail of construction are due no little credit for their successful efforts.

Let's all be out for the dedication tomorrow night and show them we are proud of their work.

MAIN STREET LOOKS AT OZONA BY OBSERVER

See America

New Yorkers are generally condemned for sticking to the seaboard and never going west. A young woman who has traveled over Europe and crossed the ocean many times, recently remarked that she had never passed through a Pullman car. Under questioning, she admitted she had never been more than a couple of hundred miles away from the city in this country; had never been to California or even Chicago, and knew next to nothing about her own country. There are millions of New Yorkers like her, even in these days of fast travel, although the situation is changing in recent years. The writer lived here for fifteen years before he ever saw a hundred miles away from the Atlantic Ocean, although he visited nearly all of the coast.

York Opportunities

Gotham is beyond question the greatest city in the world for any one to make a fortune—or to lose it. Recently there died here a man named Leopold Zimmerman. He went broke when 71 and made his fortune and paid off all his debts. Zimmerman's specialty was buying and selling foreign money. There is always a shade of difference between the currencies of the great nations and he used to travel in London and sell in New York by cable, pocketing the difference. It sounds simple but it really takes the finest kind of brains, which explains why Zimmerman enjoyed what amounted to a monopoly in his field.

Historian Art

A certain five-story building on Lexington Avenue has the most curious decorations that exist on any building in the world. Its structure is built of brown granite and, over each one of its windows, appears a head of one of the earlier presidents. The heads stand out from their niches and are remarkably lifelike. One curious thing about the architect, or sculptor, is his choice of about twenty presidents when the building was put up and he skipped around leaving Cleveland but leaving a lot of others.

Boatmen

New visitors to New York ever see one of the strangest colonies. The colony is one of canal boats and their inhabitants. It is located almost at the foot of the Hudson and whole families live on boats, sending their children to school when they can, and hang out the family washing on the deck, just like the ordinary dwellings in the backyard.

Recently tug boats have put up charges so high that it costs more to be towed back to the Erie Canal than the money received for freight, so many canal boats have been tied up for two years at their piers here, waiting for the rates. Meanwhile the families feel as though they have become regular residents.

Big Slash

Everybody knows that prices of things have come down but the biggest shock we have received in months came the other day when we noted a truck carrying a sign through the Times Square district saying "Penny-A-Day."

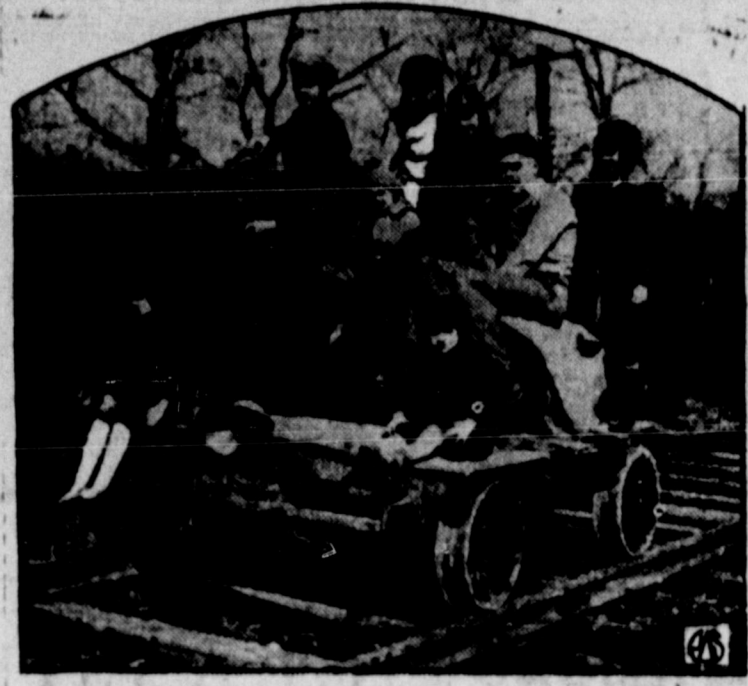

The movies have made us all acquainted with the Dime-A-Dance establishments, where one can get a more or less charming waiter and amble about the room for a few minutes but we are still curious as to how long a cent will buy one to swing a girl around the dance floor.

It is worth more than that in leather alone.

THE FAMILY DOCTOR

By JOHN JOSEPH GAINES, M.D.

THE WOMAN IN BUSINESS

My next birthday is a little nearer to the three-score-and-ten mark than it is to my last one. I mention this, so that my friends may call me an "old fogey" if they want to; if they do, I shan't be offended in the least. Speaking plainly and to the point, I am sorry for a humanity that has grown into the necessity of making a wage-earner of the woman. I never see a woman in an executive, male vocation, that I am not the least bit sorry for her, and, ashamed of the male biped who has grown into a human biped that no sensible business man would care to have around. When a woman goes into the world of commerce, she is forced there by man's inexcusable laziness and delinquency. But the world is changing, madly, unthinkingly. We watch the sports column grow into two massive daily pages; we see the former page of church announcements dwindle to half a column in the skimpy, Saturday afternoon edition. Straws show the direction of the wind. Remove an individual from his or her sphere of activity, and we lay the foundation for a weaker, more trifling race. I mean the sphere for which the individual was created. An army of "business" mothers will produce regiments of male incompetents, weak-kneed scions that grow into weaker citizenship. Lord help us from the "papas" whose wives make the living! Being a family physician myself, I believe your family physician will agree with me for the most part. He knows the horror of a mollycoddle husband, yoked up with a wife who is forced to wear the trousers because of its mate's utter worthlessness.

The WAY of LIFE

BY BRUCE BARTON

ONE MAN'S GUESS

New York has been so thick with gloom that we have had to carry flash-lights at mid-day. Men talk about "thirty years of bad business" and "the collapse of the capitalistic system" and "the end of the gold standard," etc. Millions of dollars in cash are hidden in safety deposit vaults. Since all the authorities have proved wrong, and one man's judgment is as good as another's. I venture to publish my little guess as to what is and what is not going to happen. It has been the record of history that times of great tribulation result in the removal of great abuses. Said Lincoln in 1864: "At the end of three years' struggle, the nation's condition is not what either party, or any man, devised or expected. God alone can claim it. Whither it is tending seems plain. If God now wills the removal of a great wrong, and wills that we of the North, as well as you of the South, shall pay fairly for our complicity in that wrong, impartial justice will find therein new cause to attest and revere the justice and goodness of God." If the Civil War had ended quickly it would have settled nothing. It dragged through four weary years, but it abolished slavery. If the present depression had been easily cured no good would have come of it. It is so bad, so world-wide, that it is compelling the peoples of every nation to realize the two fundamentals which were set forth convincingly in Sir George Paish's book, "The Way to Recovery."

1. We were compelled to realize that the old-time insular, nationalistic thinking is out of date in a world which has been shrunk to a neighborhood. No nation can prosper unless all nations prosper. Tariffs and reparations and international jealousies are shackles on trade and mean less prosperity for us all.

2. If trade is once freed from these shackles, including the worst, which is international suspicion, the future has possibilities beyond our wildest dreams. The consumptive power of humanity is unlimited. Even in the most advanced nations the standard of living is still low. There are potential markets enough to keep all our resources employed, and to make all of us well to do.

I, therefore, am optimistic, not because this is a minor depression but because it is so very serious, so world-wide, so packed with suffering for everybody. Before it is finished we shall be compelled to effect international economic reforms that we never should have considered in prosperous times. And when we do get business going again our prosperity will amaze us.

METHODIST NOTES

Every father and mother who has an interest in the religious work of their young people is especially invited to attend. The program of the services will appear in another place.

Sunday morning at eleven o'clock Rev. S. L. Batchelor will preach in place of the pastor who will be at San Angelo attending the Training School.

Mrs. Royce Smith has been seriously ill for the past ten days but is improving at present.

A Community Triumph!

Tomorrow night will be a proud moment for Ozona folk when they gather in the auditorium of their wonderful new High School building to witness its formal dedication.

Proud of our own accomplishment, proud of the result of our sacrifices, proud of the school board and officials who carried out our wishes, proud of the good that will accumulate for years from our efforts—proud will we all be.

George F. Coeheram, San Angelo grocer, was here on business Tuesday. Mr. Coeheram inserted advertisement in The Stockman in this week's issue calling attention to his week-end specials.
Coeheram explained that he did not seek the business of Ozona people by mail order nor did he wish to draw trade from local merchants. "I am merely seeking to draw to my firm the business of people in this section when they are in San Angelo and want something in my line, and not to attract them from buying from their local merchants wherever possible."

A business man told the Leader-News this week that he had been experimenting with various methods of advertising and from his own experience was going to spend what money he had to advertise strictly in the home paper. He believed a greater percentage of his customers read Leader-News ads than any other form of advertising.
He could say what he wanted to and change his advertisements every week. The paper was always giving a lot of free space for home enterprises and helping to advertise this section and he thought that it was good common sense to put his advertisements in the home paper that went direct to the homes and was not only read by the immediate family but also by others as well.—Uvalde Leader-News.

If Pride
Goeth Before a Fall
We Are Due for a Tumble!

For we are no little proud of our new Ozona High School Building—along with every other resident of Crockett County. A town many times the size of Ozona might well be proud of it.

And we join the chorus of voices raised in congratulations to Crockett County on final realization of her dream and in expressions of gratitude to the school board and school officials and to the architects for their labors on behalf of a building second to none.

A Proud Community

Welcomes Final Acceptance of Its Handsome New School Building

Another step in Ozona's march of progress has been taken with final realization of our dream of years—a new and modern school building, built on the solid foundation of community faith.

Tomorrow night this monument to community enterprise will receive its baptismal service, so to speak, and a proud community will be present for the exercises. We lend our voice in praise of the men who, as representatives of us all, attended the details of selection and construction with such splendid results and we are proud to have had our small part in its realization.

PROTECT HIS HEALTH

Take No Chances With Your Baby's Milk Supply

Your child's health is your sacred obligation. No amount of money could induce you to give your child contaminated or disease-laden food—knowingly. Yet, there are parents who give their children milk they buy from neighbor or dairy on a mere surmise that it is clean

BE SURE your milk supply is CLEAN. Investigate its source. Watch the operation of its preparation, from the cow to bottle. Examine the equipment and premises and KNOW.

Again we invite Ozona people to inspect our sanitary dairy. Several accepted our invitation last week and inspected the premises—and we gained some new milk customers.

And remember our, pure, sweet, rich milk is Only 10 cents a Qt.

Lamb Campaign In Mississippi Valley To Hike Consumption

An intensive lamb campaign in the Mississippi Valley has just been launched as a new feature of the national campaign sponsored by the National Wool Growers Association and the Colorado-Nebraska Lamb Feeders Association. Initial activities are now getting under way in New Orleans, La. The itinerary to follow will consume about five months time and will include nearly fifty of the principal cities of the valley from Louisiana to northern Minnesota.

The lamb interests selected the Mississippi Valley for this intensive campaign in view of the small amount of lamb consumed in this section, it is said. The consumption is only about four pounds per capita and it is the object, of course, to bring this to a higher level.

The Louisiana State University is cooperating in conducting the work not only in its own state but also in Mississippi. Prof. J. B. Francioni, Jr., in charge of the meats department at the university, is active in making local arrangements and will lecture on lamb in all of the cities visited in these two states. The close cooperation of other state universities in the territory to be covered is expected as the work progresses.

As in the past the campaign activities will be centered on the lamb cutting demonstration introducing the modern retail cuts. There will be demonstrations before audiences of retail meat dealers, chain store organizations, packers, housewives, high school and college students and faculty, and other groups.

In addition both the trade and the consumers will be provided liberally with educational literature on lamb.

the committee before it is granted and if the case is not found worthy aid is refused. Having such an organization functioning, with all relief work being administered through a central body, Rev. Meredith declared, the professional beggar is deterred and seldom carries his begging to heads of such an organization.

Reports by other members of the investigating committee, including A. W. Jones, Mrs. S. L. Butler and Mrs. Scott Peters, were also given, each outlining special cases that have come to their attention. Mrs. W. A. Kay, chairman of the committee to gather and distribute second-hand clothing, reported that the organization is now practically without such clothing. Mrs. P. T. Robison and John L. Bishop also gave reports on recent relief work. Rev. L. N. Moody, minister of the local Church of Christ, was welcomed into the organization as a representative of his church.

Committee Named

Chairman Meredith, following his election, announced the following investigating and relief committee: Mrs. Scott Peters, representing Methodist Missionary Society; Mrs. S. L. Butler, representing Baptist Missionary Society; Mrs. P. T. Robison, representing Church of Christ Missionary Society; Mrs. W. A. Kay, representing Parent-Teacher Association; John L. Bishop for Ozona Schools; and A. W. Jones, Rev. M. M. Fulmer, and Rev. L. N. Moody. Mrs. Kay was appointed by the chairman to present the matter to the Woman's Club and ask that organization to name a representative to the body.

On motion of Rev. Fulmer, the executive committee voted to purchase 25 five-cent testaments to be placed in the hands of the investigating committee for distribution to persons seeking aid. The financial report of the organization, prepared by Hugh Childress, Jr., was read to the group by Rev. Fulmer. The report follows:
