

Leaders Want Two Million Men In Service

High Command Thinks More Might Arouse Fears

WASHINGTON, April 29. (AP) — The high command, working with foreign policy framers, thinks two million men are enough for defense — that more might be viewed abroad as a move toward aggressive war.

The joint chiefs of staff, it was learned today, used such a diplomatic yardstick to help it measure the size of the recommended peacetime military establishment.

The joint chiefs' organization is composed of the military heads of the Army, Navy and Air Force, plus Adm. William D. Leahy, the chief of staff to the President. They constitute an advisory group to Secretary of Defense Forrestal.

The overall military-diplomatic policy is shaped by the National Security Council which includes President Truman, Secretary of State Marshall, Forrestal and the civilian secretaries of the armed forces. The military planning this is designed to be geared to the diplomatic thinking by the council.

Forrestal himself disclosed cryptically that factors other than cost and manpower availability were involved in the military's recommendations. In a New York City address last week he said that an armed force larger than the one recommended "might justifiably be viewed as preparation for war."

The joint chiefs, accordingly, made their recommendations for the fighting services within the framework of political as well as military objectives.

Here is what they want for a peacetime defensive force (present manpower figures in parentheses):

An Army of 837,000 men (540,000) in the regular establishment, 630,000 (260,000) in the National Guard. The Regular Army would be organized into 12 divisions, plus 30 battalions of anti-aircraft defense.

A Navy of 556,000 regulars (350,000) 220,000 (166,000) organized reserves. They would man about 390 combatant ships including about 16 carriers and 32 air groups.

An Air Force of 502,000 men (325,000).

Wall Street Strike Ends

NEW YORK, April 29. (AP) — United Financial Employees (AFL) today voted to return to work at the New York Stock Exchange and four brokerage houses and end their month-long strike.

The union acted at a special meeting after Mayor William O'Dwyer requested them to resume work at wage increases offered by the exchange pending city investigation of the wage issue.

There was no immediate announcement of when the strikers would return to their jobs.

The strike against the stock exchange and the New York Club Exchange started March 29. Later it was extended to four brokerage houses.

Two Thefts Are Reported In City

Two thefts were reported in the city late Wednesday, police said this morning.

Several slabs of sheetrock were reported missing from 802 Rosemont, where a dwelling is under construction. The material belongs to the Langley-Hall Lumber Co.

A window glass in an automobile was smashed at 201 Nolan street at about 6:30 p. m. and articles were taken from the car. Owner of the vehicle was not identified.

West Europe Snubs Plans For May Day

LONDON, April 29. (AP) — The Communists will have to celebrate May Day on their own this year in most of Western Europe's democratic capitals.

Socialists and moderate labor groups are giving the Communists the cold shoulder as never before in planning for the traditional labor celebration Saturday.

May Day was established as an international labor holiday in 1890 at a Socialist congress in Paris. In most countries it has become Labor Day. The Russians have made it a national holiday, and this year they plan one of their biggest celebrations in Moscow. Huge pictures of Lenin, Stalin and other Bolshevik leaders have been placed on buildings, and the city is going all-out in decorations. The Russians are combining celebrations, since May 1 is the third anniversary of the entrance of Russian troops into Berlin.

Final Effort Made To Avert Rail Strike

Federal mediators made a last-ditch effort today to head off a nationwide railroad strike set for May 11.

Elsewhere on the labor front there were these major developments:

Representatives of the CIO United Auto Workers and management resumed wage talks in Detroit in an attempt to avert a threatened strike of 75,000 Chrysler Corp. workers. The union will set a strike date Friday. The UAW seeks a 30-cent hourly wage boost and other benefits. The company has withdrawn its offer for an increase of six cents an hour.

The paper work necessary in getting the coal miners $100 a month pension checks started in Washington. John L. Lewis said it will be "several weeks" before the first checks actually are mailed. Operator Ezra Van Horn of Cleveland objected to the preparations but was vetoed by Lewis and Senator Bridges (R-NH), neutral member of the three-man board of trustees. Van Horn has started court action to block payments.

In Washington, Senator O'Mahoney (D-Wyo) asserted that price policies of the steel industry were controlled by the U. S. Steel Corp. He said price increases last fall and cuts announced recently were made at about the same time by the major steel companies. Congress, he said, should investigate. Conciliation efforts in the railroad dispute got under way at Chicago. Attending the conference were two members of the National Railway Mediation Board and representatives of the railroad's three operating unions.

The official strike notice was announced yesterday by the brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers and the Switchman Union of America.

The third union seeking a 30 percent wage hike with a minimum increase of $3 a day—the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers—did not join in the strike call. A spokesman for the engineers said the union has "not made up its mind when and if a strike date will be set."

However, a strike by the other two unions alone could cripple the nation's rail transportation system.

Good Will Visit

BERGEN, Norway, April 29. (AP)—A U. S. Navy task force headed by the carrier Valley Forge reached Bergen today on a goodwill visit to Norway. Norwegian military and civilian officials met the ships' officers.

In Western Europe, however, the Communists generally find themselves snubbed. Dual celebrations, in some cases for the first time, were called by Communists and non-Communists in London, Oslo, Paris, Berlin, Amsterdam, Brussels and Copenhagen.

Even in Finland, which recently concluded a mutual assistance pact with Russia, Social Democrats and Communists called for separate rallies in Helsinki and some other communities. Police throughout Europe, with the possible exception of Italy and Trieste, took a calm view of the coming celebrations. In prior years May Day has often led to sharp disorders.

Italian troops and police were ready for possible trouble, especially in industrial Milan and along the Yugoslav border.

City Budget Is Adopted After Hearing

Commissioners Virtually Alone During Forum

Big Spring's $523,648 budget was formally adopted Tuesday after city commissioners convened for a public hearing that produced no protests.

In fact, commissioners were left virtually to themselves during the hearing, with only two or three visitors remaining after the regular meeting. Mayor G. W. Dabney reviewed the budget proposal briefly and the commission voted unanimously for its adoption.

The hearing followed a regular commission session which was highlighted by a lengthy discussion on future paving prospects. T. S. Currie, Sr. and R. T. Piner, representing local banks, told commissioners they believed the city would find it more economical to finance the municipality's part of additional paving by voting bonds than by issuing warrants. Previously the commission had indicated that a warrant issue not exceeding $50,000 would be considered if it became necessary to keep the paving program active.

Representatives of several bonding companies were present at the session, and each submitted a tentative bid for warrants. The local banks also named a tentative figure, which Currie and Piner said the commission could consider in case the warrant route was followed.

Commissioners expect to decide upon a definite course this week, and the regular session was recessed until 3 p. m. Friday at which time the discussion will continue.

Final decision hinges upon immediate plans for the contractor. Brown and Root officials have indicated that they would request permission to recess from the local work temporarily after the 27 blocks now under construction is completed. They have an immediate commitment in Monahans which will require an estimated three months. If they should suspend actual operation here temporarily the Big Spring project would be resumed in August or September and they would leave personnel here continuously to proceed with contact work and legal tasks during the summer.

Definite plans, however, probably will not be developed until Friday.

Dental Survey Causes Concern

Expressing concern over screening results at local elementary schools, Dr. F. E. Sadler, director of the Midland-Ector-Howard county health unit today urged parents to make early arrangements for correcting dental defects of children.

Screening at the West Ward school, which was completed Wednesday, revealed an exceptionally high rate of defects. Dr. Sadler said. Approximately half of the pupils there attending morning classes were found to have defects in permanent teeth, and defects were noted in 90 percent of the pupils in afternoon classes.

Dr. Sadler said he was advising parents to make appointments with their dentists as soon as possible to correct the irregularities.

MAN-MADE RAIN IN GLASSCOCK?

There were unconfirmed reports here Thursday that a man-made shower had fallen in Glasscock county Wednesday.

At Garden City, H. M. Fitzhugh, county agent, said that an experiment with dry ice and clouds was in the making, but that he had no information that it had been undertaken.

Fred Mahler, San Angelo, had his plane ready and a stock of dry ice on hand, but at last account, was still looking for a likely cloud. Plans were to drop it over the Mahler ranch interest, which is being sub-divided in south-central Glasscock county.

GRANDMA REGAINS HER POSITION AS AUTHORITY ON BABY HANDLING

AUGUSTA, Ga., April 29. (AP)—Grandma, it turns out, was right about minding the babies.

And now, after all the years, Mama and Papa and the rest of the family are finding it out, says Mrs. L. W. Hughes of Arlington, Tex. Grandma, who—to use Mrs. Hughes' words—used to be "poison" around the kiddies is now as welcome as a lollipop.

Mrs. Hughes is national president of the Congress of Parents and Teachers. She made a speech yesterday to the 700 delegates at the state convention, and here's what she said: "Grandma used to be poison to parents with young babies and her

British Strike Jews In Jaffa Section

Egypt, Iraq Forces Move On Palestine

JERUSALEM, April 29. (AP)—The British struck with artillery and diving planes today at the battered Manshieh quarter of Jaffa, which Irgun Zvai Leumi captured yesterday after four days fighting with the Arabs.

The promised British counterattack developed as officials of Egypt and Iraq said large parts of their armies were moving on Palestine.

Sharp skirmishing occurred in the Jordan River Valley opposite Trans-Jordan.

The Jews claimed capture of Beisan, 15 miles south of the sea of Galilee. Beisan is a way station for Arabs filtering in from the east for the battle over partition.

The Arab Legion informed King Abdullah in Amman it had occupied Geshur, a Jewish collective settlement in the Jordan Valley, and killed hundreds of Jews. The Legion said the fight started Tuesday night when Jews killed a Legion sentry inside Trans-Jordan territory.

Egyptian Communications Minister Dessouki Abaza Pasha said in Cairo large Egyptian army forces had been sent to the southern border of Palestine. Regent Abdul Ilah of Iraq said in Amman his country's army has started moving toward Palestine and would pass through Trans-Jordan.

The British rushed in a battalion of Irish fusiliers to support their pledge not to permit the Jews to occupy Jaffa, the Arab port adjoining all-Jewish Tel Aviv. The reinforcements brought the British force available to about 3,000 men.

As far as was known, Irgun appeared determined to try and hold the Arab quarter. Throughout the night, Irgun force dug into defense positions and brought up fresh troops.

British shells fell in the Manshieh quarter. Early damage and casualties were reported small.

Arabs Reject U. N. Forces

LAKE SUCCESS, April 29. (AP)—The Arabs today rejected a French proposal for an international volunteer police force for Jerusalem.

The Jews agreed to the proposal for a 1,000-man elite force to safeguard Jerusalem's holy places under a proposed truce, but the Arab rejection dashed hopes for its establishment.

Jamal Hussein, vice-chairman of the Arab Higher Committee for Palestine, told the United Nations trusteeship council the Arabs "object to foreign troops being sent to our country." He said the term troops also meant police.

Huseini added that the Arabs would not resist the proposed police force but would never agree to it.

Moshe Shertok, head of the Jewish Agency's political department, said the Jews definitely agree to setting up a UN force for Jerusalem.

The United States renewed its appeal meanwhile for quick UN approval of the American plan for UN trusteeship over Palestine.

Law Is Seeking Maine Firebug

LUKE, Md., April 29. (AP)—Police in this mountain area are seeking a firebug who uses explosive powder as his "torch."

At least 12 properties have been damaged by incendiary fires since a supply of explosives disappeared from a mine near here. One blaze caused $10,000 damage.

Each of the fires started out with the thick, black smoke common to burning powder.

An explosive powder stick was found Sunday in the control room of the local water tower. Two similar sticks were uncovered last Friday on the property of the West Virginia Pump and Paper company plant here.

Sawyer Is Approved For Cabinet Post

WASHINGTON, April 29. (AP)—The Senate Commerce Committee approved today the nomination of Charles Sawyer, Cincinnati Democrat, to be secretary of Commerce. The nomination now goes to the Senate for action.

Sawyer, a former ambassador to Belgium, was named by President Truman to succeed W. Averell Harriman, who has resigned to become roving ambassador to the countries being aided by the European Recovery Program.

CHICAGO FIRST STOP Truman Planning Speaking Tour

Plans were shaping up today for a cross country speaking tour by President Truman only a month ahead of the Democratic national convention.

Unless developments in Washington or abroad intervene, Mr. Truman is scheduled to open his personal appearance campaign June 3 in Chicago. There he is to address a Swedish immigration celebration.

Two days later he may visit Omaha where his World War I buddies of the 35th Division will hold their annual reunion. From there he is expected to go to the Pacific Northwest before making the commencement address at the University of California on June 12.

Although not openly ticketed as a political junket, the tour's details are being worked out by Democratic National Chairman J. Howard McGrath.

Mr. Truman's search for a running mate could be tied into the transcontinental travels. Gov. Mon Wallgren of Washington has been mentioned as a likely vice presidential choice.

Meanwhile, the President's Republican opponents were off on speaking tours of their own.

Harold E. Stassen, the former Minnesota governor who holds the GOP popularity title to date, was in New Jersey to bid for the state's 35 convention votes.

The New Jersey convention slate already has been chosen and pledged to the favorite son, Gov. Alfred E. Dirsoll. But Stassen had a luncheon date today with the delegates and other leading state Republicans at Trenton.

MANY VISITORS Large Crowd Seen For Roping Events

Indications are that one of the biggest visiting crowds in many months will be in Big Spring Sunday, when followers of western sports will be treated to a deluxe roping program staged by the Howard County Sheriff's posse.

Bringing wild steer roping to this immediate section for the first time, Toots Mansfield, Big Spring's own champion of the rodeo arenas will contest with Everett Shaw of Stonewall, Okla., in a matched event for a $5,000 purse. Each man is to rope, trip, tie and brand 10 wild steers, with the purse going to the lowest average time.

Shaw already has arrived in Big Spring, and is getting set for the Sunday afternoon event. The Oklahoma rates high as a steer roper, and is expected to make it close for Mansfield, whose specialty has been in the looping of calves.

A calf-roping event is another highlight on the program, with Big Spring's Sonny Edwards—another who has copped many a rodeo purse—competing with Walton Poage of Rankin, another of the top lariat artists. These two will rope six calves each, winner grabbing the money.

The program will start at 2:30 p. m., and is to be unreelied at the Posse's new arena southwest of the airport. The site is reached by turning south off highway 90, just west of the flying field.

Special seating arrangements are being completed, and Possemen have put in many hours in getting the field into shape. They hope to have the dust problem whipped for the occasion.

The sponsors are hoping to put on their show before a crowd of up to 5,000 spectators. Inquiries about the roping matches have come in from such distant points as McCamey and Portales, N. M., and the Posse's advertising program has reached throughout West Texas, the South Plains area, and into southeastern New Mexico.

Posse members have disposed of a number of tickets in advance locally, and are continuing their sales campaign.

JOHN F. WOLCOTT

Texans Mourn Wolcott Death

West Texans today mourned the passing of John F. Wolcott, 77, a gentleman who changed eras but not his sense of values.

Mr. Wolcott died Wednesday afternoon in a hospital here after a long illness. The funeral is to be held at 4 p. m. Friday at the First Christian church with the Rev. Lloyd Thompson officiating. The Masonic lodge will have charge of graveside rites.

All Howard county courthouse offices will be closed Friday afternoon out of respect to the man who had served as county tax collector-assessor since 1935. Although they were hesitant to discuss the matter until after the funeral, members of the commissioners court said prompt naming of a successor would be imperative since the office could not function until such action was taken.

Mr. Wolcott leaves his wife; one daughter, Helen Wolcott; one son, John Wolcott, all of Big Spring; three sisters, Mrs. S. O. Golladay, Midland, Mrs. C. L. Golladay, Auga Dulce, Texas, and Mrs. W. P. Sims, Waxahatchie; two brothers, W. R. Wolcott, San Antonio, and Ben Wolcott, Harvey, Calif.

Knights Templars E. R. Watts, R. W. Currie, Frank Hodnett, R. B. Reader, J. H. Lees, L. E. Christian, John Davis and W. H. Battle will serve as pallbearers and S. A. Davis, W. B. Sullivan, W. S. Morrison and M. A. Loudamy will be escorts.

It was in the spring of 1883 that John Wolcott, then a lad of 14, stepped off the train in Big Spring and looked with fascination upon the waxed mustache of Charlie Read, the station master, and then with equal interest upon the country, so different from his native Ellis county.

With his father, B. F. Wolcott, and two brothers, W. R. and E. R. Wolcott, he had come to latan flat to graze the modest herd the family had saved to purchase. Not long afterwards, they bought out the interest of Jowell Rice in the Lucien Wells ranch in northern Glasscock county and it was here that they put up the first windmills

Wolcott's Pioneer Activities Recalled

In this region. Cattlemen from scores of miles away flocked to see this wonder of the wind harnessed to water.

A year later, Wolcott and his family had sold out to the T&T outfit and migrated to southeastern Midland county on the Queen Sabre spread, 30 miles from the nearest house. By 1887 they had sold out and had returned to Thorpe Springs but John Wolcott was back in three years—never to leave.

He went to work for the Big Spring Grocery company and managed, in four years, to save $388 out of his meager earnings. Going the note of his friend, R. D. Matthews, he launched on a partnership that lasted 20 years.

Some of their transactions sound fabulous even today in a city that is at least 15 times as large, for Matthews & Wolcott sold and jobbed over a territory that stretched from Lubbock to Hobbs, N. M., Pecos and Stiles. They kept a $80,000 stock and boasted they could fill any order.

Wolcott was a student of markets, studying commodity quotations intensely, day by day. He also was expert in computing freight rates from Fort Worth, Chicago, etc. Consequently, he knew when salesmen were quoting low prices. It was this special knowledge that baited one salesman, positive no small country store could handle such an amount, into offering a carload of vinegar at 12 cents a gallon. Wolcott made him ship it—tripling the firm's money.

He latched on to a 9 1/4-cent offer on cheese, and with 300 pounds rolling into here each week, Matthews Wolcott became the Wisconsin cheese capital of West Texas.

The firm had a standing order of a carload of flour a week from Demson, plus a couple of car loads per month of special flour. Other goods were bought in carload lots, including fancy evaporated fruits. One of the biggest coups the concern made was in salt water when they got a rock bottom price from the railroad to put 300 instead of 120 sacks in a car. They sold this everywhere at 50 cents for the 200-pound sack, driving Canyon merchants reeling from their bid for Lubbock trade and freezing San Angelo out of the Stiles section. The order, which they bought in conjunction with the old J&W Fish-or Co., was so large (780,000 pounds or 20 cars) that it collapsed the warehouse.

After selling out, Wolcott soon found himself in the Stokes-Wolcott Motor company as Ford dealer. In 1923 he sold 123 model T cars. By 1930, however, times had changed; the business had degenerated into "trading for junk" and Wolcott found that trust could be misplaced and that in this new day a man's word was no longer his bond. It was a bewildering experience for a man who had at one time carried $67,000 on his books without even so much as a note for security.

So Wolcott retired from business—perhaps worse than broke—but wouldn't quit. His own sense of values had not changed and he kept fighting back. In 1934 he was elected to his first of seven successive terms in office—a tribute from his neighbors, one he treasured almost as much as one R. H. Brennan, an early day competitor, volunteered when he sold his business: "You fellows," he said to Matthews and Wolcott, "are the whitest competitors a man ever had." Mr. Wolcott always had mist in his eyes when he recalled the incident.

Sterling Finals As Campbell To Take Potential

Anderson-Prichard and Vickers No. 1 Foster, south-central Sterling wildcat, has been completed officially for a 24-hour flowing potential of 846 barrels of 26.5 gravity oil.

Flow was through three-quarter inch choke from the Wichita-Albany section 4,252-4,305 feet. This had been treated with 1,000 gallons of acid. Yarbrough No. 1 Foster, three and one half miles west of the discovery and in section 10-13, SPRR, was below 2,200 feet after topping the San Andres lime at 1,670. Elevation is 2,493 feet, which makes it a little low to the discovery.

Seaboard No. 1 Dora Campbell, prolific Pennsylvanian development in extreme northern Howard county, was taking official potential test today. It is in section 29-32-3n, T&P.

Atha (and Rouse) No. 1 Musgrove, 330 feet from the south and east lines of the northwest quarter of section 9-31-1n, T&P, was reported below 2,000 feet. It was reported 37 feet high on the top of the Yates in comparison to a nearby abandoned test. The test is five miles north east of the city.

Humble No. 1-B Ellwood estate, deep test four miles north-northeast of the small Ellenburger discovery, Plymouth No. 1 Frost (which originally made about 15 barrels and a like amount of water daily) in northeastern Sterling county, has drilled to 1,170 feet in shale. Location is C NE NW 56-18, SPRR. In extreme western Sterling county Texaco No. 1-H TXL, 19 miles west of the discovery Anderson-Prichard No. 1 Foster, five miles south of Sterling, which rated more than 1,000 barrels flowing from the Wichita-Albany section, was below 1,027 feet. It is located in the C SE SE 13-3-4s, T&P.

Stanolind's deep exploration, No. 1 Mabee, in northwestern Martin county was below 13,145 feet in Ellenburger lime. It is in tract 87, league 258, Briscoe county school land. Sun No. 1 Schattel, section 186-97, H&TC, Scurry county, was below 3,408 feet.

WALL STREET
NEW YORK, April 29 (AP)—Oil issues tried to take over leadership of the stock market again today. A number of stocks, though, turned out to be balky with the result that small gains balanced closely with equally small losses.

Turnover continued at a fairly rapid rate but the market seemed to be undecided between picking up the thread of the spring advance, muddling along indecisively, or sliding back.

Cut The Rate And Total, Too

During the past 12 years, the United States has cut the death toll in traffic by 30 per cent. Unfortunately the death toll itself has not come down proportionately, so the saving is on paper.

Perhaps this sounds confusing. There's no reason for it to be, for the whole thing is based on fatalities per 100 million miles of vehicle travel. In 1935 the factor was 16.4 fatalities; in 1947 it was 8.6.

What it means is simply this: Had we gone on having fatalities at the 1935 rate we should have had 163,000 more killed by 1947 than actually was the case. So we write down a bookkeeping—and who knows, perhaps an actual—saving of that many lives.

But no one can gain too great comfort from this, for we will kill at least 30,000 people in 1948 on our highways, streets and grade crossings. Of course, this is better than the 39,000 we permitted to be slaughtered in 1947.

As our volume of traffic climbs—and it has been climbing to record proportions since the end of the war—it is sound policy to place emphasis on holding down the fatality figure per 100 million miles of travel. Some states (Texas, we are ashamed to say, is not among them) have done some remarkable jobs in this direction. . . . New Jersey with 4.7 and Massachusetts with 5.1, for instance.

If we are to get anywhere with reducing the aggregate number killed, we certainly are going to have to whittle our factor a lot lower. That means you are going to have to drive a lot more carefully. After all, you make the records.

Composure On Issue Dims

When the report from the civil rights program was embraced by President Truman, it stirred up a turmoil that is still churning in Dixie. Some pretty dire things have been said about it. . . . and about the President, too. In fact, some elements within the democratic party are bent on a second secession.

Many forward thinking people in the South feel that the entry of the federal government into the domain of the state will not accomplish its objective, but contrarily will set back the whole program of inter-racial relations.

The foment this has produced would indicate that there is a great deal of substance to the contention.

Witness the promise or threat the other day by a couple of Negro leaders—who we feel sure do not represent the majority views of their race—that they would not submit to induction into the army under present separation and segregation policies. They attempted to borrow a page from the lamented Mahatma Gandhi by calling it passive resistance. Whatever the name, it still isn't a palatable package from any race. . . . white, black, red or yellow.

And more recently, some elements within Texas have advocated appealing the first part of the 14th amendment and are openly declaring for policies which would amount to little more than legal subjugation of the Negro. That's an amazing and dangerous attitude, too.

What is needed most of all is some sanity and charity in this question. It doesn't look like we'll get it for the republicans are launching an anti-poll tax bill in the Senate. More strife instead of composure is on the way.

ABCs On Margarine

(Editor's note: This is the second of two stories on the fight over margarine)

By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON, April 29. (U.P.)—This is an ABC on the fight in Congress over margarine and butter.

The average price of those two bread spreads is: margarine, 42 cents a pound; butter, 94 cents a pound.

For the low priced margarine, many of the more customers there are for the law priced margarine. Still, far more butter is sold.

Last year the sale was: margarine, 745 million pounds; butter, 1.7 billion. Those figures are from the National Association of Margarine Manufacturers.

Butter is made of animal fats—cream from cows. This is the make-up of margarine: 15 per cent salt skimmed milk; 5 per cent vegetable oil from soybeans, cottonseeds, peanuts.

Margarine is sold on the market in two forms: already colored yellow—like butter; or plain white, with coloring attached for the housewife to mix to get the butter-yellow color.

About 90 per cent of all margarine eaten is the kind bought uncolored. The government tax on that is less than on the kind already colored yellow.

If you'd been raised from babyhood on white-colored butter, you'd probably grow up liking it that way.

But you've been raised on yellow butter. So your preference is formed. You want a yellow spread on your bread.

And that color—yellow—is one of the main points in the fight between butter-makers and margarine-makers.

The butter makers don't want to see yellow margarine sold on the market, if they can help it. They argue:

Unless yellow-colored margarine is labeled margarine, you, the housewife, can be fooled into thinking you're getting butter.

The other side of that argument is: If you began buying yellow-colored margarine and found not much difference between it and butter, you'd probably buy one as readily as the other.

And—the more margarine was sold, the more the butter-makers would suffer in the long run.

So it's been to the interest of the butter-makers—the manufacturers and the dairy farmers with the cream-giving cows—to see that margarine is sold under handicaps.

And for years it's been sold under big handicaps that didn't apply to its competitor, butter.

And for years the margarine-makers—the manufacturers and the growers of those vegetables that go into margarine, like soybeans, cotton, peanuts—have been trying to get the handicaps removed.

So it's been one group of manufacturers and farmers against another. Until now, the butter boys have been winning. Here are some of the handicaps on margarine:

Margarine manufacturers must pay a yearly federal license fee (tax) of $600, whether the margarine is colored or uncolored.

Retailers—neighborhood grocers—must pay a yearly federal fee of $148 to sell colored margarine, 98¢ to sell the uncolored kind.

Then there's a federal tax of one-quarter of a cent a pound on uncolored margarine and 10 cents on the colored kind.

These taxes are more of a nuisance to the margarine people than they are a revenue-producer for the government. The government income from those federal fees was about $7 million dollars.

Since about 745 million pounds of margarine were sold last year, the government's income was less than one cent a pound.

The U. S. Treasury is on record as not caring whether all the margarine taxes are wiped out. The taxes prevent the fraudulent sale of margarine.

The wiping out of all federal fees and taxes would still leave margarine under big handicaps in many states which have their own fees and taxes. About 22 states won't let colored margarine be sold at all.

The House was expected today to wipe out all or some of the federal fees and taxes. This won't mean anything unless the Senate does the same thing.

Fate Catching Up With Real Estate Lobby

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON.—It looks as if fate was finally catching up with the real-estate lobby. One of its most active spokesmen has been Congressman Charles Fletcher, San Diego Republican, who, though a freshman, was strategically placed on the House Banking and Currency Committee by the lobby's master wire-puller, Morton Bodfish.

Bodfish has now been indicted by the Justice Department, and Fletcher is now under investigation by the Home Loan Bank Board for some interesting operations in San Diego.

The board has sent its ace investigator, A. C. Newell, to California to probe the finances of the Federal Savings and Loan Association which Fletcher heads. Thanks to the congressman and his father, the association has got in up to its neck in a real-estate deal which may lose a lot of other people's money.

Fletcher founded the Federal Savings and Loan Association of San Diego and is still its president. Furthermore he draws a salary of $10,000, even while he is supposed to be devoting his full time to Congress.

Of course, as a congressman, Fletcher introduced the bill to abolish rent control, has voted consistently against housing reforms and is a member of the Joint Committee on Housing where he has done his best to sabotage the Taft-Elliender-Wagner housing bill. So, all in all, he hasn't done so badly by the housing lobby.

"FLETCHER PARK"

But in San Diego, Fletcher hasn't done so well by the people who invested in his Federal Savings and Loan Association. First, Fletcher's father sold a tract of land to a San Diego real-estate operator named Larry H. Imig, for around $30,000. Then, young Fletcher turned round and loaned Imig the money which he, Imig, paid Fletcher's father for the land.

Following this, Imig erected a housing development which he named "Fletcher Park" in honor of the two gentlemen who sold him the land and loaned him other people's money to pay it. Then Imig built another development which he named for himself "Imig Park," plus a swank hotel with swimming pool and night club which he named "Imig Park Manor."

Meanwhile, Imig kept borrowing money from Fletcher's Federal Savings and Loan Association, until his debt now runs to around $1,250,000—or about one-half the total assets of the association. If this were Fletcher's money, it would be one thing. But what worries the Home Loan Bank Board in Washington is that the U. S. government has insured the San Diego Federal Savings and Loan Association and Uncle Sam may have to bail Fletcher out. That's why Investigator Newell was sent to California.

Congressman Fletcher started in the savings and loan business back in 1934 on only $9,500. He hit it just at the right time, shortly before the war boom. By the peak of the boom, his association's total capital was swollen to nearly $3,000,000—of which about half is tied up with one real-estate speculator.

Meanwhile, Congressman Fletcher blithely continues to vote against public housing. Obviously, if he can lend money to private speculators with a government guarantee to bail him out, he isn't terribly interested in the low-cost public housing provided for in the Taft-Elliender-Wagner bill.

BACKSTAGE IN ITALY
Now that the Italian elections are over, some of the backstage developments can be told.

One factor which influenced Italian votes was the State Department's offer to return Trieste to Italy—an offer which the Russians eventually turned down.

What wasn't known was that Tito had been planning to make exactly the same offer himself—on behalf of Russia. But U. S. intelligence services picked up this fact, and we beat Tito to it. This was some of the fastest footwork the State Department has put across in some time.

Another factor was Ambassador Dunn's insistence that the American fleet get out of Italian waters. Some of the military men around the White House didn't like this advice, thought the fleet should remain. But Dunn argued that its presence gave political ammunition to the Communists. He was right. The fleet was withdrawn, and the Communists had to pipe down.

One thing which nearly upset the appetizer was the amendment by Congressman O'Konaki of Wisconsin making Marshall Plan money available to Spain. Until this was reversed in the Senate, it had a bad backfire in Italy.

Note 1—When this writer was in Italy last winter, he traveled with Ambassador Dunn and Vice Premier Paolucci to Naples to welcome the Friend Ship. Perhaps these were the two most incongruous people in Italy to be thrown together; for, during the Spanish civil war, Dunn was lined up on the side of Franco, while Col. Paolucci commanded the Italian anti-fascist troops in Spain fighting against Franco. Both, however, have now been working together in the belief that extremists of either the right or left are enemies of democracy.

NOTE 2—President Truman has in mind a promotion for Ambassador Dunn. While he deserves one, his services are too important in Italy.

Oyster Farm By Red Tape

By WILLIAM C. BARNARD

It's spring and time to grow things. Forget turnips and tulips this year and grow your own oysters.

When you raise a crop of oysters, you don't have to worry about the neighbor's children, chickens and dogs. You can laugh at Johnson grass and weeds. You don't care whether it rains. Here are the directions for obtaining an oyster garden, straight from the State Game, Fish and Oyster Commission. Follow them and you can't go wrong:

The first thing you need is an oyster lease on the Texas Gulf Coast. If you are a citizen of the United States you are entitled to such a lease if you want one. Attach a deposit of $20 to an application telling the Game, Fish and Oyster Commission where you want your lease. . . . along the shore of some quiet bay, perhaps. Your lease cannot cover any portion of a natural oyster reef. You have to start from scratch and plant your own.

You can lease up to 100 acres of submerged land. It must not be within 100 yards of shore. When the game commission gets your application (and the 20 bucks) they'll send a chap down to examine the territory you have in mind. If he gives you the nod, you are ready for step two—a surveyor.

Here the commission gets downright humorous. You are supposed to pay the surveyor, it says, out of the $20 deposit you made and any money left over will be returned to you. If the surveyor charges more than $20 for surveying, the commission whispers, you will have to pay it. Personally, we have never known a surveyor who will take the eyepiece off his surveying telescope for less than $50. If the commission knows one who will get his feet wet for $20, they ought to let the public in on the secret.

Anyway, the surveyor does his stuff and now you are ready for step three—marking your property. You must mark it or state officers will not protect, from outsiders, the oyster you are going to grow. If you mark it and the markers are lost, then you have to hire that $20 surveyor again, whoever he is.

Perhaps you want to do the marking with buoys. Large buoys may interfere with navigation. . . . and in this case you will have the U. S. Engineer's office at Galveston on your neck. Small buoys do not stay up very long. You can put a fence around your lease if the U. S. Engineer's office is willing. . . . but you have to ask them. You can fix up home-made buoys with old engine blocks from which corks can be floated. . . . if you are willing to wade out now and then to replace the corks. Or you can drive some piling.

The piling, which should be crocoteed, must extend at least six feet above high water and must bear navigation lights. Whether these lights burn all the time or whether you row out every evening and light them, the commission does not say. Before you can drive the piling, you have to beg permission of the U. S. Engineer's office. There are some forms to fill out. . . . these things take time. The engineers will want to be darned sure you'll keep those lights burning.

And now you have your lease all marked and ready to go. All you need are some seed oysters. This is step four. You have to get permission from the game commission to obtain these and before you make such a request you have to know where seed oysters can be found.

But let's suppose that you find where there are some seed oysters and the commission says go ahead and get them. Now you take the seed oysters over to your lease and plant them on a reef. We do not know the technique of this, the commission does not say, and as a matter of fact, we no longer are interested. Turnips and tulips are not so bad after all.

White Man Much Work

By HAL BOYLE
RAPID CITY, S. D., April 28. (U.P.)—"It is hard work to live like a white man."

An old Sioux Indian said this gravely to a friendly doctor interested in helping his copper-colored people. But more and more Indians are making the effort to live like white men. The system of putting them on reservations doesn't work out for all. Many now want to find a bridge between their old nomadic life and the new stability of a weekly paycheck.

Here the reservation system is in trouble because the land just won't support the growing Sioux population, and the Sioux won't adapt themselves to a farm culture.

The don't like the static life of the plow.

What do they do when a female county agent comes by to teach them the principles of poultry raising and leaves them a setting hen and a dozen eggs?

When she returns to admire the results, all she usually finds are chicken bones, feathers and eggshells, and the Indians are still hungry.

More and more the Sioux are becoming bemused by the white man's cities. Rapid City, which claims a population of 26,600 is also one of America's largest Indian urban centers. The number has climbed from 700 to 2,500 or more in a few years.

Torn by old tribal loyalties, Belly demands, and the white man's get-ahead-in-the-world philosophy, they are a strange people in transition. They neither are what their grandfathers were nor what their grandchildren will be. They are trying to get into the pattern of a violent, self-seeking race of foreign conquerors whom they were scalping only seventy-two years ago.

They are still dubious of the white man's sporadic interest in their welfare.

"They come and investigate us and go away," laughed one middle-aged squaw, "and nothing happens, then some more come back and investigate us again."

But they never feel sorry for themselves. To me the Sioux seem a racial cocktail—a people stoical as the Japanese, as independent and happily irresponsible as the Irish, as cynically subtle as the French.

In their climb from semi-savagery to what we label civilization they go three stages—they are known as Tent, Shack or House Indians.

The Tent Indians are a sad caricature of their ancestors. They are sheltered by canvas tents instead of skin teepees. They try to live on the original American Army "K" rations—balls of pounded sun-dried meat mixed with dried fruit and tallow and eaten with dried corn. (Note to war veterans: No, the darn stuff doesn't taste any better than "K" rations.)

Affairs Of The World—

Demos Must Watch Reds

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

The text of this little sermon is taken from a statement by Italian Minister of the Interior, Scelba, warning his people that they must be ever vigilant against possible Communist violence despite the sensational Red defeat in the recent national elections.

Scelba is head of the country's police forces, by virtue of his cabinet post. He was moved to give his warning by fear that the public might be lulled into a feeling of security because of the election results.

"When you have in the house as many Communists as we do" (some 30 per cent of the voters cast their ballots for the Communist-led Popular Front), he said, "you cannot ever be safe against all attempts at violence. . . . I am still convinced that if a favorable occasion turned up, the Communists would not fail to take advantage of it and that they would do everything they could to dominate the country."

That's sound advice for Italy, and it's equally sound for every other country, for we are dealing with world revolution. There's only one way for the democracies to meet this menace, and that is to battle it to a finish, individually and collectively—and never relax vigilance.

The trouble is that every time there is a lull in the Bolshevik offensive wishful thinkers let their fears die down. Some say: "It won't happen here." Others want to send an emissary to Stalin, bearing frankness and soft words, in an effort to appease him. The answer to all this is that it can happen "here," and we saw appeasement tried on Hitler.

Fortunately, so far as concerns joint defense the democracies are swinging into action with encouraging energy. Communist boldness, as displayed in the rape of Czechoslovakia and the grave threat to Italian independence, has shocked the western nations into realization of the danger of another war.

We see the results in the beginning of the Western Union of Europe, the moves to implement the Marshall Plan, and such actions as that taken at Bogota by the inter-American conference which condemned international communism as "an instrument of aggression" and a menace for "free democratic republics."

Around The Rim—By The Herald Staff

Life And Death Weighed By Fate

With the U. S. in general, and the Herald in particular, celebrating "National Baby Week," my thoughts have been focused on the part infants take in the day's news.

Their stories are seldom found in a big display along with the doings of our leaders. Yet in the short little items that dot the pages of our papers can be found the drama of events that make or break lives—drama because these little ones are completely at the mercy of the fates. One is saved by a miracle, another has a lifetime snuffed out.

For instance: Last Thursday, two Minneapolis garbage men hauled a large can to the back of their truck, hoisted it level with the bed and dumped the contents on the vehicle. To their surprise one of the newspaper-wrapped bundles stirred. In it, they found a newborn, unclothed baby boy.

Quickly one of the men wrapped the infant in his coat while the other summoned an ambulance. With prompt medical attention the child lived. Authorities discovered that a 19 year old mother had given birth to it in her nearby room that day and had disposed of it in panic.

Two days later in faraway Boise, Idaho two more garbage men making their weekly run were shocked to find a new-born infant stuffed in a garbage can. It was dead.

Investigation by Boise officials revealed that on the preceding Thursday a mother had given birth unwanted to a nine pound girl in the alley and had stuffed it into the closest waste container to destroy the evidence of her act. An autopsy revealed that the baby lived for "approximately 30 minutes." It had been dead 36 hours before it was discovered.

And who doesn't remember the case of Big Spring's own "Tree-Top Baby" of a few seasons back. A woman and her children, out for a stroll in the Birdwell pasture one afternoon, came upon a baby in a small box, perched well up in the branches of a cedar. Rushed to a hospital, the baby lived. Requests for adoption poured in from all over the country, but within about a week, the frightened mother put in her appearance and claimed her own.

She had given birth to the baby unwanted and had gone to get some swaddling clothes, then became alarmed when she noticed excited people where the baby had been left. Not long afterwards, there was the case of the baby abandoned in a service station restroom, but this baby wasn't so fortunate.—ADRIAN VAUGHAN.

NEW YORK.—Tutti Camarata seems to have an extremely elastic commutation sheet which permits him to shuttle long distances artistically as well as geographically. As recording director and musical boss of London Records, with headquarters in the British city, Tutti hops across the Atlantic four times a year at least to get his musical brainkicks on wax. Once he's in London, what he puts on wax is of such unusually modern content that he alone is being credited with the big noise London Records is making in the American market.

"I like the way they do things over there," Tutti said, quickly noting that he wasn't criticizing American recording methods. "It's just that over here recording is so highly gaited commercially that like the movies, there is too little opportunity for experimentation. The expected is recorded, just as trifle stories are filmed. Always the usual instrumentation is used in traditional orchestras, just as established stars amble through the expected situations.

"But in London, a more elastic attitude makes things just wonderful for a young fellow like me. I'm always looking and changing and experimenting, musically. Over here it is extremely unlikely that a top symphony orchestra would record a jazz composition, with the exception of course of the Gerashwin stuff which has come to be recognized as suitable, even if somewhat of a novelty still.

"Over in London I used the Kingsway Symphony Orchestra, and some of the men in the orchestra are the best in their fields. Reginald Kell, for instance, is the swe and idol of serious jazz musicians here such as Benny Goodman. He doesn't generally sit in on these lighter sessions, but I showed him what I was doing and convinced him certain pieces weren't being done as freak items for the daffy trade, but serious attempts to find a bridge between the traditional classical and the serious modern. He came, he saw and we turned out some dandies."

Dandies, indeed. The album entitled "Fingerbustin'" which Camarata recorded in London in that city already is a healthy sales leader on this side and one of the items in the album, "Fiddle Fiddle," is getting to be a fiddlin' fad on the juke boxes, ultimate touch of approval these days for any composer or instrumentalist from Tschalkowsky and Grieg to Irving Berlin.

Fortunately, so far as concerns joint defense the democracies are swinging into action with encouraging energy. Communist boldness, as displayed in the rape of Czechoslovakia and the grave threat to Italian independence, has shocked the western nations into realization of the danger of another war.

We see the results in the beginning of the Western Union of Europe, the moves to implement the Marshall Plan, and such actions as that taken at Bogota by the inter-American conference which condemned international communism as "an instrument of aggression" and a menace for "free democratic republics."

Man is the only animal that blushes, or has need to. Most things a fellow waits for are not worth the delay. After all is said and done, we keep on saying and doing.

Four Flower Arrangements Named Winners At Garden Club Spring Show

A spring flower show was held Wednesday at the regular meeting of the Garden Club in the St. Mary's Episcopal parish house.

Each member was allowed to enter as many arrangements as she chose, but only one arrangement of any particular flower. Those winning first prize ribbons were Mrs. C. D. Wiley, Mrs. J. E. Hogan, Mrs. D. M. Penn and Mrs. Obie Bristow.

Mrs. Cliff Wiley was speaker for the afternoon using as the topic, "Iris." She told the members that there are over a thousand different kinds of iris and that iris is a native of Asia Minor and will grow almost anywhere as it does well in a dry climate and requires very little water.

Among the most beautiful, sometimes more so than the orchid, are the William Mohr hybrid iris, the Dutch, Spanish and Japanese iris require more water than most varieties and should be protected from a strong wind.

Iris should be well watered in early spring and should be divided every two or three years. After the blooming season is over is an excellent time to divide them. One tablespoon of bone meal and one tablespoon of super phosphate should be put around each plant in the spring.

More expensive and much larger than the regular Gladiolus is the new giant strain These hybrids were developed from the famous variety Picardy. They are said to be much more beautiful. Recommended varieties are Pretoria and Tenor, pink; Dirk Bouts, lilac-rose; Else Poulsen, pink, named for the Else Poulsen Rose.

Then there is the sweet scented Gladiolus, Muriela, sometimes called Acidantha. These bulbs produce highly scented flowers of white with purple markings. Treat the same as "Glads." Should be dug in fall where winters are severe.

If Bermuda Grass is the bane of your borders, we are sorry to say that your best chance for control lies in digging it out by the roots. Sometimes it can be headed back from the borders by strips of roll roofing laid along the edge. This is a slow process and doesn't look any too well either, but is better than letting the stuff run wild. Constant cultivation inside the borders is necessary. Thick plantings of annuals will help some. But, let's change to a more pleasant subject.

In dusting roses, it is well to remember that dusting sulfur, or spray, will injure Viburnums, causing the leaves to blotch and fall. So, if you have Viburnums where dust or spray can drift toward them, use some of the special rose sprays that do not contain sulfur.

Exhibition roses should be disbudded and fertilized at least two weeks before they are to be used. Shrubs that were not cut back when planted, should have that operation at once. Too many gardeners hope to have a tall, thrifty plant right away, so fall to prune at planting time. Plants don't always die, when set out at full height, but at most barely exist, and almost never have a good shape. It is useless to try to retain bloom, when a shrub is moved in full blossom, especially without soil, also hard on the plant.

Borers seldom attack a healthy plant. There are several kinds of this pest. They usually have to be dug out of the bark or stems, sometimes plants die from the operation. Newly planted trees can be protected from borers by wrapping with kraft crepe paper.

In 1940 only half the Americans between 15 and 19 years old were in school.

Happy Go Lucky Club

Announcement is made that the Happy Go Lucky Sewing club will meet in the home of Mrs. A. J. Allen, 2000 Scurry, at 1 p. m. Friday, April 30, for a covered dish luncheon.

Many people have reported amazing results with this home recipe. It's easy—no trouble at all and costs little. Just go to your drug store and ask for 4 ounces of liquid Barcostrate. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill bottle. Then take two tablespoonsful twice a day. That's all there is to it. If the very first bottle doesn't show the simple, easy way to lose bulky fat and help remain slender, more graceful curves; if reducible pounds and inches of excess fat don't just seem to disappear almost like magic, from neck, chest, arms, bust, abdomen, hips, calves and ankles, just return the empty bottle for your money back.

Lost 47 Pounds

"When I commenced to take Barcostrate, I weighed 212 pounds. I now weigh 165. I feel so much better after losing that weight. I think it is a wonderful medicine and thanks to Barcostrate."—Mrs. George Greer, Chalmers Courts 4, Apt. 1, Austin, Texas.

Steeds Seek Second Win In Row Over Sports Here This Evening

Outlook Improving For Beantown Braves After Disastrous Start

Things are looking up for Billy Southworth and his Boston Braves after a week of disaster. Excellent pitching jobs by Warren Spahn, Red Barrett and Bill Voiselle have lifted the would-be contenders from the cellar gloom.

Spahn's first win of the season yesterday marked the return to normalcy of Manager Southworth's gang. For Spahn and Johnny Sain, as 20-game winners last year, were expected to lead the Braves to ward the 1948 flag. Spahn missed his first time out and Sain failed twice.

Lamesa Retains Lead In WTNM

Lamesa's Lobos clung to a narrow lead today in the West Texas-New Mexico league. And as long as the home runs hold out the Lobos should keep it.

The Reds' southpaw reversed the trend of his first outing when he walked 12 men. Yesterday he passed only two, assuring himself of win No. 1 by an 8-1 score. The victory put the Reds in a four-way tie for second place at 300.

There was bad news for Cincy, too. Catcher Ray Mueller fractured his right ankle sliding into home. He will be out for 60 days. The New York-at-Brooklyn game was rained out but both clubs provided disturbing news. From the Giants came word that Catcher Walker Cooper, who has hit four homers, has a chip fracture on his left knee. He was injured April 21 but caught four of the last five games. He will be out several days.

Pitcher Harry Taylor of the Dodgers learned he may have to undergo an appendicitis operation. Cold weather postponed the scheduled night game between St. Louis and Pittsburgh in the National. In the American Washington at New York, Boston at Philadelphia and Cleveland at Chicago were called off because of cold, rain or wet grounds.

Only One Hoss Hitting .300

Only one regular, Armando Traspuesto, is hitting better than .300 as the Big Spring Broncs complete their first week of play in the Longhorn baseball league.

Traspuesto is hitting .307 while Manager Pat Stasey has climbed to .272.

WHY FEEL OLD AT 40, 60 OR MORE

Why do you feel old? It's not your age, it's your health. You can feel young and energetic at any age by following the simple, natural, scientific method of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People.

The Bengals are unbeaten to date and will be seeking their fourth victory of the campaign in Pecos. Martinez will have several pitchers ready to go to the firing line but will probably use Isa Mendosa, considered to be one of the best pitchers in independent circles in West Texas.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With TOMMY HART.

Foy Fanning, the Munny pro who is going to have his hands full once the City golf tournament gets underway this weekend, is in Sweetwater where he planned to take part in the pro-amateur tournament today.

Fanning went down Wednesday to get in a few practice shots for show, which is circulated among the member clubs of the West Texas Gold association every month.

Foy was accompanied by Bobby Maxwell, the prep star, who had to get in his qualifying round for the Sweetwater tournament during recess from classes. Maxwell is Big Spring's best bet to bring home a trophy, especially since the veteran campaigner, Obis Bristow, will not be in the ranks.

Definitely out of their hitting slump, the Cayuses roared through the Sweetwater gang, 14-5, behind the expert elbowing of Gerry Rodriguez Wednesday night at the State street ballpark.

Rodriguez, in registering his second victory of the campaign, was airtight until the seventh inning, at which time the opposition took full advantage of two Bronc misplays and two safeties to score three times.

The locals picked up two runs in the first round, two in the fourth, one in the fifth, two in the sixth and then routed two pitchers in a big seventh and netted seven tallies.

Armando Traspuesto, playing first base for a change, started off the big seventh with a long home run over the left center field fence. Calien McPike, Sweetwater's starting pitcher, and his successor, Jack Whisenhunt, couldn't get the ball over the plate. Together, they walked three men, hit another. Three misplays by their mates did not help matters, either.

Manager Pat Stasey of the Big Springers broke a hitting slump with three safeties that accounted for three runs. Outside of Bobby Fernandez, who had two singles, the Irishman was the only Hoss to connect safely more than once.

George Lopez's long two-bagger in the sixth drove home a brace added cushion.

GLEANINGS - Rodriguez, who has accounted for two of the three Bronc pitching victories to date, had 'full counts' against nine hitters during the long evening. He lost four on walks. Ace Mendosa, the Big Spring center fielder, cut loose with a perfect throw from the middle garden after fielding Ed Peacock's hit to catch Mack Dunlap at home plate. Wayne Ingram received credit for a double in the seventh when Joe Arencebia failed to maneuver under his pop fly half way between home and third. The breeze caught the ball and blew it out of Joe's reach. Traspuesto's home run in the seventh, second clouted by a Big Springer this year, was hit on the first pitch.

The blow was one of the longest seen at Steer park in some time.

Rodriguez Gets Second Decision

Little Humberto Baez is set to go to the hit tonight in quest of his first pitching victory as the Big Spring Broncs entertain the Sweetwater Sports in the second and final game of their abbreviated set at Steer park. Kickoff time is 8:15 o'clock.

Baez, the Hosses' most versatile performer, was beaten by the Midland Indians in his only previous try but worked under unfavorable conditions.

Definitely out of their hitting slump, the Cayuses roared through the Sweetwater gang, 14-5, behind the expert elbowing of Gerry Rodriguez Wednesday night at the State street ballpark.

Rodriguez, in registering his second victory of the campaign, was airtight until the seventh inning, at which time the opposition took full advantage of two Bronc misplays and two safeties to score three times.

The locals picked up two runs in the first round, two in the fourth, one in the fifth, two in the sixth and then routed two pitchers in a big seventh and netted seven tallies.

Armando Traspuesto, playing first base for a change, started off the big seventh with a long home run over the left center field fence. Calien McPike, Sweetwater's starting pitcher, and his successor, Jack Whisenhunt, couldn't get the ball over the plate. Together, they walked three men, hit another. Three misplays by their mates did not help matters, either.

Manager Pat Stasey of the Big Springers broke a hitting slump with three safeties that accounted for three runs. Outside of Bobby Fernandez, who had two singles, the Irishman was the only Hoss to connect safely more than once.

George Lopez's long two-bagger in the sixth drove home a brace added cushion.

GLEANINGS - Rodriguez, who has accounted for two of the three Bronc pitching victories to date, had 'full counts' against nine hitters during the long evening. He lost four on walks. Ace Mendosa, the Big Spring center fielder, cut loose with a perfect throw from the middle garden after fielding Ed Peacock's hit to catch Mack Dunlap at home plate. Wayne Ingram received credit for a double in the seventh when Joe Arencebia failed to maneuver under his pop fly half way between home and third. The breeze caught the ball and blew it out of Joe's reach. Traspuesto's home run in the seventh, second clouted by a Big Springer this year, was hit on the first pitch.

The blow was one of the longest seen at Steer park in some time.

Wright's Stars Hold Attention In Derbytown

LOUISVILLE, April 29 (AP)—A lot of things besides corks were popping in Derbytown today along with the first "big push" of incoming tourists for Saturday's Kentucky Derby, but you couldn't cross the street without picking up either "Citation" or "Coaltown" on the ear drums.

While incoming regular trains, planes and buses were supplemented by specials from all points on the compass, the major topic of conversation was which of Warren Wright's stars would cop the big money in the Derby's $100,000 stake—not to mention a $5,000 Gold Cup and the horseshoe blanket of roses that goes to the "champ."

Wright said both his derby aces would be sent out to win. Talking about the other probable starters in the mile and one-quarter turf classic in the same breath with the Calumet colts just isn't being done.

My Request, Escadru, Billings, Grandpere? What are they hording into this deal for?

The streetcar motorman, shoe shine boy, taxicab driver, corner cop, waitress, or bellhop waste no talk on trivialities. Oh, sure, some horse has to finish third, they guess.

As for the size of the derby field itself, nothing can be certain until Jupiter Pluvius decides whether or not to deliver some rain.

At the moment it looks as though six three-year-olds will go post-ward around 4:30 p. m. (CST) in addition to the Calumet pair, they are Ben Whitaker's My Request, William L. Bran's Escadru, Mrs. John Payson Adams' Grandpere, and R. W. McIvalin's Billings.

There's daylight between the leaders and the other six colts in the Texas league race today but it's a matter that can be changed by a few bobbles.

Last night Fort Worth whipped Houston 9-5 and San Antonio licked Dallas 7-6, while Beaumont lost to Tulsa 6-1. And the upshot was that a three-way tie for second was broken and instead there is a triple deadlock for third.

However, there still is a rather small working margin between first-place Fort Worth and last-place Tulsa—just 3 1/2 games to be exact.

Shreveport was moving into a tie for third with Houston and Beaumont by downing Oklahoma City 4-1.

For a change, the Fort Worth opposition was having words with the umpire last night. Manager Johnny Keane and First Baseman Johnny Hernandez were tossed out as the Cats strangled Houston by scoring three unearned runs in the eighth.

Sal Madrid singled with the bases full in the eleventh inning to bring San Antonio's victory. The triumph ended San Antonio's losing streak at three games. The Missions' Bill Summers hit a home run in the ninth to force the game into extra innings, just when it appeared Dallas had it in the bag.

Harry Perkowski left-handed his Tulsa to a five-hitter in giving Tulsa victory over Beaumont. Perkowski also showed that pitchers do hit some of the time as he tripled in the fifth to touch off a five-run Tulsa spurge.

Pitching also featured Shreveport's win over Oklahoma City. Johnny Wood scattered seven Indian hits while the Sports cashed in on eight bloopers. Shreveport led all the way, getting off to three runs in the first inning.

Pipeliners Meet Col-Tex Tonight

FORSAN, April 29.—Off to a running start in the Texas Softball league, the Cooden Pipeliners mark time tonight in a practice game with the Col-Tex Refinery team of Colorado City at the Forsan athletic field. Starting time is 8 o'clock.

Manager Blacky Hines will use the contest to get a look at all his players and will probably send three men to the rubber, including the Pipeliners' ace, L. D. Cunningham.

Cunningham will work only long enough to get his arm in shape for Saturday night, at which time the Coodens play Ragdale in San Angelo.

Cotton Mize and Winifred Cunningham will also parade to the rubber for the Pipeliners.

A familiar figure will twirl for Col-Tex. He is Leon Glenn Bredemeyer, formerly of Big Spring and now of Colorado City.

No gate admission will be charged but a free will offering will be made immediately prior to the contest. The money derived therefrom will go to a resident of Forsan who has been bedridden for the past several weeks.

Fight Over Condon May Tie Up Funds

WASHINGTON, April 29. (AP)—The fight between Congress and the White House over the loyalty files of Dr. Edward U. Condon threatens to tie up funds for the State, Commerce and Justice Departments.

The money, to finance the three big agencies during the year starting July 1, is carried in a single bill passed by both House and Senate but in slightly different form. That means a conference committee will have to try for a compromise.

But spokesmen for the House Appropriations Committee said there will be no move to hurry up the conference unless the Commerce Department retreats from its refusal to turn over the Condon files to the Un-American Activities Committee.

The House passed a resolution last week directing the secretary of Commerce to surrender an FBI letter relating to Condon's loyalty.

Previously, an Un-American Activities subcommittee had called Condon, head of the Bureau of Standards, one of the weakest links in atomic security. It said he had associated with suspected Soviet spies. In support of the latter charge, it quoted from part of the FBI letter.

But it said it needed the entire letter to make a full inquiry. Condon not only denied the charges but pressed for a full hearing.

Shortly after the House directed the Commerce Department to turn over the letter, President Truman indicated to a news conference that the letter would not be forthcoming.

Congressional defenders of the President's position claim the House had no right to try to "invade" the files of the executive branch of the government.

But an Appropriations Committee spokesman told reporters: "If that's the way the Commerce Department and the President want to act about it, we'll see how they feel if we decide to hold up their money."

He added: "It is unfortunate that the other two agencies (State and Justice) may have to suffer also."

Illustrator Is Sued For Divorce

LOS ANGELES, April 29. (AP)—Peter Salm, Beverly Hills book store clerk, has sued former Gisela Vandeneschen, 23-year-old former Berlin illustrator, for divorce. He charges that his wife is guilty of extreme cruelty. They were married May 20, 1947, and separated March 17, said his complaint, filed yesterday.

A year ago when Mrs. Salm arrived in New York there was quite a fuss until it was discovered she was marrying the Los Angeles Salm, not the wealthy Peter Salm, son of Count Ludwig Salm and the former Millicent Rogers, oil heiress.

Government Payroll Increases Sharply

WASHINGTON, April 29. (AP)—Senator Byrd (D-Va.) reported today government payrolls increased nearly 800 persons a day during March.

This 17,093 gain brought the total to 2,030,861, he said in a report. The congressional committee on reduction of expenditures which Byrd heads said civilian employment in government agencies rose for the third successive month for a new 1948 increase of 35,365 persons.

B'SPRING REJECTS IT.

Most Cities Favor Local Civil Service

By PAUL BOLTON
Herald Austin Bureau
AUSTIN, April 29—Special legislation enacted by the last legislature for the benefit of city firemen and policemen over Texas has resulted in a number of elections, with varied reactions from the electorate. However, a majority of the affected cities showed a vote favoring the adoption of the two issues: Civil service, and minimum pay scales.

According to an unofficial opinion, elections must have been called, or held, in all the affected cities by this time. However, in a very small number of cities—three in the case of civil service and three on minimum pay—no election has been held.

A summary of these elections, has been made by the Texas League of Municipalities which has headquarters in Austin.

The civil service law requires that all cities of more than 10,000 population hold the election to determine whether a civil service commission shall be set up. As the population guide is the 1940 census, it affected 44 cities. The cities which rejected the plan were: Beaumont, Big Spring, Borger, Brownwood, Bryan, Corsicana, Dallas, Highland Park, Longview, University Park, Pampa and Victoria.

Some of the larger cities already had a city-wide civil service system. One instance was Fort Worth.

Big Spring (Texas) Herald, Thurs., April 29, 1948

Since the law did not provide an exemption, an election was held in Fort Worth and carried. Subsequently a suit was filed attacking the validity of the law, and that case is now pending in the court of civil appeals at Fort Worth.

Cities which have set up the system after elections (or which have city-wide systems set up under city charters) are Abilene, Amarillo, Brownsville, Cleburne, Corpus Christi, Dallas, Del Rio, Desian El Paso, Fort Worth, Galveston, Greenville, Harlingen, Houston, Lubbock, Marshall, Palestine, Paris, Port Arthur, San Angelo, San Antonio, Sweetwater, Sherman Temple, Terrell, Texarkana, Tyler, Waco and Wichita Falls.

Austin is in the unique position of having called for an election, April 27, after the supposed deadline.

During World War II the proportion of U. S. Navy flight surgeons killed was about three times that of other Naval physicians.

NEW YORK, April 29. (U.S.)—Four men held up a Queens bar today, took money from the bartender and three patrons, bought each a drink, paid the bartender and fled. Two of the four later were captured when they tried to shoot it out with two off-duty policemen who foiled their attempt to hold up another tavern. One of the patrolmen was wounded.

SOIL CONSERVATION Rye Proves Good Builder Of Soil

E. T. O'Daniel, cooperator with the Martin-Howard Soil Conservation District, has 105 acres of Abruzzi rye which headed out last week. O'Daniel, who planted the rye with hairy vetch last fall for soil building on his farmland 10 miles northwest of Coahoma as a part of his coordinated soil conservation program, will harvest the crop for seed. The rye was grazed about two weeks this spring and furnished a protective cover against blowing.

Another planting of Abruzzi rye on Tom Barber's place east of Coahoma has headed out and will be harvested for seed. Barber planted a 100-acre field of shinnery sand to rye and vetch last fall. The cover crop kept the land from blowing this spring.

R. A. Merrick, district cooperator in the Ackerly soil conservation group has 9 acres of Austrian winter peas ready to turn under on his farm three miles east and one mile south of Ackerly. The peas are nearly knee high and blooming.

Soil and water conservation plans were completed last week on the farms and ranch lands of Bert Massingill and W. Luther Poe. Massingill, who terraces his farm land northeast of Vealmoor as part of his conservation program, has two sections of rangeland which he

Funeral Scheduled For Colorado Marine

COLORADO CITY, April 29.—The body of Pfc. Jose C. Luera, who was killed in action while fighting with the 90th Infantry division in France, July 3, 1944, arrived in Colorado City Wednesday morning and was taken to Kiker & Son chapel to await funeral services. Funeral has been set for Sunday afternoon when Father Peter Oliveras will conduct final rites at the Catholic church. Burial will be with full military honors in Colorado City cemetery.

Born in Walder, Texas, Jan. 19, 1922, Pfc. Luera was the son of Lupe C. and Mrs. Rita Luera, both natives of Mexico. He himself, a Texan and a citizen of the United States, was the first Latin-American soldier from Mitchell county to lose his life in World War II. He had farmed with his parents here before entering military training in July, 1942.

Youth Will Take Over Colorado

COLORADO CITY, April 29.—Friday will find the reins of city and county government completely in the hands of Colorado City high school students as this town climaxes a week of formal observance of National Youth Week which has included everything from going to church to going to fly a kite.

Students of the high school, 75 percent of whom voted in the poll tax free election chose Dan Pritchett, son of Mayor pro-tem J. C. Pritchett, to take over his father's job all of Friday. Another older student who will sit in the back seat that day is Roy Davis Coles, veteran Mitchell county superintendent. Coles' son, Roy Davis, Jr., was chosen county superintendent. John Hayes Reese will be county judge. C. A. Wilkens, sheriff, Gregory will act as district clerk.

Kendall Henderson as county clerk, Mary Ann Kelley as tax collector-assessor. They all, along with Joe Berman who was named superintendent of public schools, Danny Smith, city-secretary, and five aldermen, Bob Maniss, Marie Grant, Bob Scarborough, Richard Delaney and Joann Womack, are members of the senior class.

One member of the junior class, Bobby Watlington, was elected to become manager of the local chamber of commerce for the day. Ronny Fee, senior and active 4-H club feeder, was chosen county agent.

Dispute Is Waged Over Child Preacher

INDIANAPOLIS, April 29. (U.S.)—Lawyer James Dawson of Indianapolis was under a court order today to bring his gospel-preaching ward "Little David" Walker into juvenile court May 14 for a hearing on a petition to dissolve the guardianship.

The 13-year-old boy evangelist billed as "the mighty atom" has appeared in big tabernacles of Akron, Cincinnati, Columbus, St. Louis, Indianapolis and in Carnegie Hall, New York.

Jack and Gertrude Walker of Chicago, parents of the youth, petitioned Referee Lawrence H. Hinds yesterday to end Dawson's guardianship. Walker told Hinds he fears the boy's "God-given power to preach the gospel is being commercialized" and his health and education are being neglected.

De Gasperi Is Laying Base For New Italy

ROME, April 29. (AP)—Premier Alcide de Gasperi began laying the groundwork today for the first government of the new Italian republic. He will head it, as premier, barring unforeseen upsets.

The Christian Democrat leader passed up a visit to Milan's 26th international fair to talk with Provisional President Enrico de Nicola.

Government sources said formation of a new cabinet must begin with De Nicola's decision to accept or refuse the presidency of the republic. The new Italian parliament meets May 8. In a joint session May 10 it will elect a president.

While there is no official information on De Nicola's plans, Naples sources close to the 70-year-old president said he had decided to accept the office.

De Gasperi's present cabinet—his fourth under the provisional administration—will hold its last session May 4. Ministers then will submit their resignations pending formation of the new government.

The executive committee of the Socialist Party—part of the Communist-led Popular Front beaten by De Gasperi's Christian Democrats in the April 18-19 elections—attacked the forthcoming De Gasperi government last night.

It said concentration of anti-Front votes in the Christian Democrat Party had deprived it of party characteristics and "conferred upon it . . . the characteristics of a new clerical-capitalist dictatorship, annulling the efficacy of a parliamentary institution."

The election results, it continued, are "fatally leading to dictatorship and war." This "more than ever makes the front the only guarantee of liberty and democratic recovery," the statement added.

Visitors who wish to walk to the top of the 555-foot Washington Monument can do so for nothing, but those who ride the elevator pay 10 cents.

- ✓ SORE FOOD TASTE
- ✓ ACID INDIGESTION

Do you feel bloated and miserable after every meal, taste sour, bitter food? If so, here is how you may get blessed relief from this nervous distress.

Everytime food enters the stomach a vital gastric juice must flow normally to break-up certain food particles; else the food may ferment. Sour food, acid indigestion and gas frequently cause a morbid, touchy, fretful, peevish, nervous condition, loss of appetite, underweight, restless sleep.

To get real relief you must increase the flow of this vital gastric juice. Medical authorities, in independent laboratory tests on human stomachs, have by positive proof shown that SSS Tonic is amazingly effective in increasing this flow when it is too little or scanty due to a non-organic stomach disturbance, which contains special and potent activating ingredients.

Also, SSS Tonic helps build-up nutritional weak, watery blood in nutritional anemia—so with a good flow of this gastric digestive juice, plus rich red blood you should eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better.

Sam's Hens Wear Spectacles!

Yes, it's a fact! Sam's brood of two dozen hens are wearing spectacles—which he bought from a mail-order house in Capitol City.

Sam says it works (and big poultry raisers say so, too). The hens see each other through soft colored glasses, and instead of fighting and picking at each other, they go around placidly, gain weight, and lay more eggs.

Makes me almost wish we could have rose-colored glasses for human beings, too. So that instead of quarreling and criticizing, like we

Margarine Wins An Impressive Victory In House Over Tax, Goes Into Senate

Interest Runs High In Battle Of Breadsreads

WASHINGTON, April 29. (AP)—With oleomargarine better than a two to one victor over butter in the House, the battle of the breadspreads moved into the Senate today.

Opinions differed sharply on what will happen there.

The House yesterday voted 260 to 106 to repeal the 62-year-old federal taxes on oleo. It rejected all dairy bloc efforts to compromise. These would have dropped the taxes but required the packaging of oleo in triangular or circular sticks.

The expected Senate battle shaped up about like this:

1. Senator Taft (R-Ohio), chairman of the Republican Policy Committee and presidential aspirant, is on the oleo side. He is expected to drive hard for passage of the tax-repealer bill.
2. The Senate Agriculture and Finance Committees may wage a tug of war for jurisdiction over the legislation. Dairy state members figure they will have a better chance to bottle up the bill in the Agriculture Committee.

Oleo backers already have suffered a preliminary rebuff in the Senate. A move to attach a margarine tax repealer to the income tax reduction bill was beaten 45 to 39. However, this was not accepted as a fair test as Chairman Millikin (R-Colo.) of the Finance Committee argued then that the two subjects should not be mixed.

Millikin said today if the oleo bill is sent to his committee he will seek prompt action.

But Senator Thye (R-Minn), member of the Agriculture Committee, told reporters: "We will do our utmost to defeat the bill."

He represents one of the great dairy states.

Senators Olin D. Johnston (D-SC) and Pepper (D-Fla.) predicted the bill will march through the Senate as it did in the House. South Carolina and Florida are among the southern states that produce cottonseed and peanut oils which go into oleo.

No recent issue has brought so much turmoil in house debate. No recent battle, even those on foreign relief and tax reduction, has so packed the galleries.

In their last ditch stand, House members from the dairy districts fought desperately to give oleo distinct marking. But triangular oleo was beaten 114 to 83. Round oleo went down for the count, 119 to 87.

Similarly, the House beat 129 to 72, an effort by Rep. August H. Andresen (R-Minn) to bar the sale of colored oleo altogether.

Rep. Katharine St. George (R-NY) added a feminine touch.

Oleo should be "virgin white," she said, adding: "If it's so perfect, why does it need another color?"

Brewery Celebrates Completed Expansion

KANSAS CITY, April 28.—Approximately 15,000 persons attended the open house given by the George Muehlebach Brewery company, in commemoration of its 80th anniversary and the completion of its million-dollar expansion program.

The brewery ranks with the finest in the Southwest and the completion of the new building will practically double Muehlebach's production capacity. Approximately 90-million units of packaged products can now be turned out for outlets in the seven-state area served by the company.

Marshall Demos Are Against Truman

MARSHALL, April 29. (AP)—The Harrison County Democratic Committee is firm in its stand against President Truman's civil rights program.

It announced that it would fight for a Texas national convention delegation which will vote against anybody for president or vice-president who advocates Truman's civil rights program.

The committee took its stand in a resolution passed yesterday.

Tributes Paid Tom Breneman

HOLLYWOOD, April 29. (AP)—Memorials to Tom Breneman, who died yesterday, replaced the joviality of his "Breakfast in Hollywood" radio show today.

A spokesman for the American Broadcasting Company said there would be tributes today, tomorrow and Saturday while the network decides whether the Breneman show will be continued.

It is possible that Jack McElroy, who often substituted for Breneman, may carry on the program which had an estimated 10 million daily listeners to its gags, interviews, fun with ladies' zany hats and orchids to the oldest woman present each day.

Breneman, 47, fell dead of heart disease at his Encino home early yesterday morning as he was preparing to leave for his Vine Street restaurant in Hollywood where the show was transcribed a day in advance.

The program which was to have been broadcast yesterday will never be heard, ABC announced.

Hidalgo Seeks Polio Treatment Center

EDINBURG, April 29. (AP)—Establishment of a polio treatment and diagnostic center in Hidalgo County is being sought.

Officials of the Hidalgo-Starr Counties Medical Society and the Hidalgo County Health Unit made the request last night to the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

More than 20 cases of polio have been reported in Hidalgo County this year.

Cleaning Chores Are Made Lighter

"To upset the entire house, unless you're planning to refurbish at the same time, is as old-fashioned as the horse and buggy," believes Dr. Elaine Knowles Weaver, assistant professor of Home Economics at Teachers College, Columbia University. "Before you start, take stock of the household and get rid of all excess baggage collected since the previous cleaning period," Dr. Weaver stressed. "And plan the task systematically."

All of this may be true in theory but if homemakers will only practice a degree of moderation, there is something intensely satisfying about a house that is clean all at the same time—a regular old-fashioned spring cleaning.

And the only way that we mean old-fashioned is in the sense of a complete household "going-over" at the spring season. For in every other respect, smart homemakers this year are due for a really new-fashioned spring cleaning. It was not long ago that every type of household cleaning required a different product and because of this, a variety of items suitable for various phases of housecleaning.

Now, a new cleaning product, Tide, has been brought to this market. This many purpose washing product is termed practically a "one man army" where all types of dirt are concerned. It solves all laundry and dish washing problems, cleans window panes, removes grease and dirt, is excellent for rugs and upholstery, and may even be used for household pets.

Chicken Served Italian Style

It's chicken in the Italian manner for Sunday.

And that means those savory additions of onion, cheese, and tomatoes to enliven the delicate flavor of chicken. And it means economy of course.

For the Italians know that old rule which is so good today—stretch the more expensive foods with the less expensive. And that's where the spaghetti comes in for this scalloped chicken dish.

The other modern economy rule is to use plentiful foods and go easy on the scarce ones, and stewing hens are abundant and cheaper than less mature birds—and many other meats.

CHICKEN, ITALIAN STYLE
3 tablespoons chicken fat
1/4 cup chopped onion
1/2 clove garlic (optional)
3 tablespoons flour
1 1/2 cups chicken broth
Salt and pepper
1 1/2 cups cooked chicken
1/4 cup canned tomatoes
1/4 cup grated cheese
1 1/2 cups dry spaghetti, broken in 2 inch pieces and cooked 1-3 cup crumbs

Heat fat; add chopped onion and garlic and fry slowly until slightly browned; add flour; blend slowly with chicken broth until thickened. Season. Add cooked chicken cut in pieces, tomatoes and 1/2 cup of cheese. Arrange chicken mixture with a little chicken fat and 1/4 cup of the cheese. Bake in a moderate oven (350 F.) about 25 minutes. Serves 4.

Tossed Spring Salad
Apricot Sherbet Cookies

Food Tips: You'll have three good meals from a five-pound stewing hen if you plan wisely.

First point is to keep meat servings small for the first meal. This is easy when you add flavor and "extenders" in dishes like today's casserole.

Then plan other extended dishes for two more meals. Perhaps you will like chicken risotto for one and potatoes stuffed with chicken for another.

A hen weighing five pounds shrinks to about four pounds when fully eviscerated.

A dressed hen has been slaughtered, bled and plucked. But when fully eviscerated the head, feet, oil glands and viscera have been removed and the chicken singed. In fact, it's ready for the cook to take over.

Bones account for about one-half pound of weight. And fat weighs another half pound. So you really get about three pounds of uncooked meat including giblets from a five-pound hen.

MEAT PIES
1 1/2 lbs. ground cooked meat or fowl (part beef, part pork, if desired)
salt and pepper
2 tablespoons flour
1/4 cup water
1 cup or more gravy or broth
1 tablespoon prepared mustard
1 teaspoon grated onion (more if desired)
1 recipe plain pastry

Thicken gravy or broth with paste of flour and water. Add seasonings and add to ground meat, making it just moist, not too soft. Roll pastry and cut in 4-inch squares. Put a large spoonful of the meat mixture on each square and fold into a triangle, crimping edges to seal. Pierce top of each pie with fork to allow the escape of steam. Bake in a moderately hot oven, 425 degrees, 12 to 15 minutes or until brown. Serve with additional gravy or with rich white sauce. Cooked peas added to the white sauce are very nice.

Note: If meats contain more fat than the average, omit 1 or 2 tablespoons of the shortening called for in Plain Pastry.

Brooklyn Students Threaten Teacher

NEW YORK, April 29. (AP)—The telephone rang in a Brooklyn high school teacher's home last night. An anonymous feminine voice left this message:

"If she doesn't pass everyone in mathematics tomorrow something will happen. She'll be pushing up daisies."

A few minutes later, 30 rifle shots fired from a passing car rattled the home of the teacher, Miss Margaret Jokiel, 24. No one was injured.

Miss Jokiel, a Fort Hamilton High School faculty member, was not at home at the time. The call was taken by her mother, Mrs. Esther Jokiel, also a teacher.

Board To Hear Ranchers Claim After Poisoning

ANGLETON, April 29. (AP)—Official claims for loss of cattle as a result of arsenic poisoned waters of Little Linville Creek were expected to go before a three-man board today for consideration.

The claims board was set up to appraise losses suffered by Brazoria and Matagorda county stockmen after poison was inadvertently dumped into the stream, which separates the two counties.

On the board are Judge Thurman Gupton, L. J. McNeill, retired Brazoria county rancher and banker, and Tom Matthews, Van Vleck, Matagorda County rancher and rice farmer.

The Santa Fe Railroad last week assumed responsibility for the poison being dumped into the stream.

'CORRECTING' RETIREMENT SYSTEM

New Physical Checkups Set For 10,000 Retired Officers

WASHINGTON, April 29. (U.P.)—Some 10,000 retired Army and Navy officers face new physical checkups under a congressional plan to revamp military pension systems.

A House Armed Services subcommittee recommended this move today as the first step toward "correcting" the armed forces' retirement programs.

The group, headed by Rep. Elston (R-Ohio) began its study last December after a Senate committee's investigation of Maj. Gen. Bennett E. Meyers, former Air Force purchasing officer.

Meyers, who had been retired with a $550 a month disability pension, later was convicted of persuading a business associate to lie to the Senate committee about their wartime business deals. He was sentenced to a 20 months' to five years' prison term.

The Elston report said: "Public criticism of physical retirements has become so intense that a serious reflection has been cast upon the integrity of the military services. We consider it imperative that affirmative action be taken."

"There appears to be only one possible course, and that is a re-examination of those who have been physically retired."

The committee said that of about 35,000 officers retired for disabilities between Jan. 1, 1940, and Jan. 1, 1948, approximately 25,000 obviously were physically disabled.

For the remaining 10,000 the committee recommended new checkups. If these show their health has improved since being retired, the officers either should return to active duty or be dropped from the pension rolls, the report said.

It added that information gained from 12 public hearings and from answers to 2,741 questionnaires sent to retired officers produced "no evidence of fraud."

The committee said Congress should look into a wholesale revamping of the military retirement systems. When it does, the committee recommends:

1. Equalizing disability retirement plans for officers and enlisted men.
2. Giving retirement credit to reserve officers and enlisted men for inactive duty in reserve units.

Officers retired for physical disabilities now receive 75 per cent of the pay for the rank they held when retired. It is a lifetime pension, and is exempt from income taxes.

Disability pensions for enlisted men are figured according to the percentage of disability. Also, former enlisted men are subject to periodic examinations to determine whether their disability still exists.

Baltimore Needs Flags Of Dixie

BALTIMORE, April 28. (U.P.)—This city is advertising for Confederate battle flags—but hold your fire, Yanks.

There's no rebirth of the civil war in prospect; it's just the Monument City getting ready to dedicate another statue.

This one is an enormous job in bronze, depicting Generals Robert E. Lee and Stonewall Jackson parting on the night before the battle of Chancellorsville, where Jackson was shot by one of his own troops.

The statue is to be dedicated Saturday, just 85 years after the battle, and the Confederate battle standards are wanted to decorate the site of the unveiling.

SNEEZE CAUSES DISASTER CHAIN

LOS ANGELES, April 28. (U.P.)—Mrs. Elsie A. Halprin sneezed. And what a sneeze! The police said it had these horrendous consequences:

She lost control of her car. It hit a parked automobile. That one bounced 25 feet into another.

Mrs. Halprin, 35, suffering a knee fracture, lip laceration and possible rib fractures, was taken to a receiving hospital.

Then an ambulance summoned to take her to another hospital collided with a car. Attendant John P. Funk, 25, suffered minor injuries. The ambulance was disabled.

Another ambulance transported Mrs. Halprin safely. Only then did the policemen find time to say "Gesundheit."

Bishop Hits Some Anti-Red Tactics Used

BOSTON, April 29. (U.P.)—Methodist Bishop G. Bromley Oxnam attributes what he describes as "declaration of a holy war on communism" to those who seek to retain their power, property and prestige.

The New York church leader, addressing the Methodist General Conference last night said:

"There is an approach somewhat camouflaged by ponderous phrasing and scholastic style that in effect is but the declaration of a holy war on communism."

"The real purpose that lies behind the war is to retain the power, the prosperity and the prestige possessed by those who advocate it."

Bishop Oxnam did not identify those he described as the aggressors. The bishop's 24,000 word, two and one-half hour episcopal address represented the convictions of the entire Methodist Council of Bishops.

He said Methodism rejects communism. "But," he added, "we know that the only way to defeat it permanently is to use the freedom of our own democracy to establish economic justice and racial brotherhood."

Rayburn Will Run For Re-election

WASHINGTON, April 29. (U.P.)—Rep. Rayburn (D-Tex) is asking for another term in Congress.

The House minority leader said yesterday he has mailed formal application to each county in his district asking that his name be put on the ballot as a candidate for re-election this fall.

Eisenhower Backers Demand Radio Time

AUSTIN, April 29. (AP)—Organized Texas supporters of Eisenhower for the Democratic presidential nomination are demanding free radio time.

Truman forces will have 30 minutes of free time tonight on the Lone Star Chain. They got it after protesting that Gov. Beauford Jester had been given a half hour on the network to criticize President Truman.

Woodville J. Rogers of San Antonio, leader of the Texans-for-Truman movement, proposes to answer Jester's denunciation.

Carl B. Morris of Austin, executive secretary of the Draft Like Committee of Texas wants a similar allotment of time to advance the Eisenhower cause.

"This (Truman) faction seeks to hog-tie the Texas Democratic delegation to a vote for Truman for the presidential nomination in full knowledge that such a nomination means the utter destruction of the Democratic Party," Morris said in a letter requesting radio time from Harold Hough, president of the Lone Star Chain, at Fort Worth.

Morris said his organization's entire campaign is based upon persuading the Democrats of Texas to instruct for Eisenhower at precinct conventions on May 1.

The pro-Truman broadcast will be from 9:30 to 10 o'clock tonight. Morris demanded time immediately following this period "or at some period prior to May first."

Texas Republicans Have 'Bolt' Trouble

DALLAS, April 29. (AP)—If Dewey forces don't get fair treatment at the Texas Republican convention at Corpus Christi May 25, they may bolt, State GOP Chairman George Hopkins of Dallas said here yesterday.

He charged that the Texas Taft faction, led by R. B. Creager of Brownsville, Republican national committeeman and Taft leader, is trying to use political pressure to frighten support that would go to Dewey.

Lawyer, Newsmen Buy PM Paper

NEW YORK, April 29. (AP)—A West Coast attorney and a Manhattan newsman have bought controlling interest in PM, eight-year-old New York City newspaper.

The sale to Bartley C. Crum, 47, San Francisco lawyer, and Joseph Barnes, 40, foreign editor of the New York Herald Tribune, was announced last night by PM Publisher Marshall Field III. Field said he would retain a minority interest.

Financial details of the deal were not announced, but Crum and Barnes said in an accompanying statement that they planned no immediate changes, either in personnel or newspaper policy.

Loan Drive Lags In State, Too

Howard county bond sale record to April 24 is pretty dismal, but there's ample company according to state figures.

The total sales for this county, said Ira Thurman, county chairman, amounted to $23,481, of which $20,962.50 is in E bonds. This is only 7.2 per cent of the Security Loan bond quota.

Only 33 counties in the state have reached as much as 25 per cent of their quota; 99 per cent are under 10 per cent; and seven had sold no bonds at all as of April 24.

After a fairly good start, this county has slowed its bond-buying pace considerably. The $326,000 quota is a long way off and will require some heavy buying to reach, Thurman said.

Now Procter & Gamble brings you A MIRACLE that will revolutionize washday!

IT'S TIDE

...you've never used anything like it!

TIDE is the postwar miracle you've been waiting for! Developed as a result of wartime research, Tide does what's never been done before—washes clothes cleaner than any soap, yet leaves colors brighter! Expect to see something entirely different when you use Tide. Even the suds look and feel different! And those wondrous suds billow up instantly even in hardest water . . . form none of that disagreeable hard-water scum . . . leave no cloudy deposits on clothes or round the tub!

ONLY Tide DOES ALL FOUR!

- 1. Washes clothes cleaner!
It's a real washday miracle, the way Tide gets the most stubborn dirt out of heavy laundry . . . even heavily soiled work clothes and greasy overalls! Tide not only leaves clothes free from ordinary dirt, but actually removes dingy soap film as well! That's why Tide washes cleaner!
- 2. Actually brightens colors!
Tide washes away dulling soap film left from former washings . . . leaves dainty washable colors so thoroughly clean and fresh-looking that brightness perks up like magic!
- 3. Never "yellows" white things!
Turn to Tide for dazzling white washes that stay white, week after week! Tide can't turn white things yellow, no matter how often you wash them or how long you store them.
- 4. Gives more suds—prove it in your dishpan!
Kind-to-hands suds! Faster suds! Longer-lasting suds than any soap in hardest water! Tide cuts grease like magic . . . washes dishes cleaner than any soap! No scum in the water! No greasy ring round the pan! No cloudy film on dishes and glasses! That's why they rinse and dry so sparkling clear—even without wiping!

TIDE'S IN-DIRT'S OUT!

Citizens Seek Missing Man

NEMAN, Ga., April 29, (U)—Citizens from miles around were called upon today by Sheriff A. L. Potts to join in a search for a missing, 25-year-old tenant farmer, Wilson Turner—or his body.

Two prominent dairymen were held for the grand jury at a preliminary hearing yesterday on a charge of murdering Turner after chasing him madly through the countryside in an automobile.

They are John Wallace, owner of a 2,000-acre Meriwether County Farm, and H. Swell of Chiplery.

Later in the day, Sheriff Potts held two others—Henry Mobley, Chiplery livestock dealer, and Broughton Myhand, a filling station operator — on murder warrants. He said he had evidence that they took part in the reckless chase that ended in Turner's disappearance.

At the preliminary hearing, Mrs. Turner, mother of a small child, wept as she told of her husband's fear of Wallace. She said trouble began between the two men over 20 gallons of whisky.

Orange Peach Shortcake

A dessert deluxe that brings a triumphant finale to a Sunday dinner is luscious, light-as-a-feather shortcake. A delicate orange flavor and juicy, fragrant peaches combine to make this delicious.

Orange Peach Shortcake
 2 cups sifted flour
 3 teaspoons baking powder
 2 tablespoons sugar
 1 teaspoon salt
 1-3 cup fortified margarine
 2 teaspoons grated orange rind
 1-3 cup milk (about)
 6 peaches, peeled, cut in pieces and sweetened
 1-2 cup heavy cream, whipped
 Sift flour with baking powder, sugar, and salt. Cut in margarine and grated orange rind until mixture is as fine as meal. Add milk, mixing until a soft dough is formed. Knead lightly about 20 seconds. Roll to 3/8-inch thickness. Cut with 3-inch biscuit cutter. Spread half of the biscuits with margarine and place remaining biscuits on top. Place on baking sheets. Bake in very hot oven (450 F.) 8 to 10 minutes.
 Split biscuits and put together with peaches. Top with sweetened whipped cream. Serves 6.

Queen Elizabeth of Romania, who died in 1916, was the author of a number of books, written under the pen name of Carmen Sylva.

Cream Of Chicken Soup

CREAM OF CHICKEN SOUP is a quick time saving meal these warm spring days as the soup can be made in the broth left from the boiled chicken that was baked for Sunday dinner. Add the giblets of the chicken to furnish the chicken taste. This dish is also a good appetizer, especially attractive served in dishes with a cover to keep it warm. Add a white sauce and seasoning to the broth and with giblets and it makes a delicious soup.

Serve Orange And Avocado Cocktail

1-2 teaspoon salt
 Dash of pepper
 1-4 teaspoon mustard
 1-4 teaspoon celery salt
 1-4 teaspoon paprika
 2 teaspoons tarragon vinegar
 2 tablespoons olive oil
 2 medium-size oranges (about 1 cup diced and juice)
 2 small or 1 large avocado (about 2 cups diced)
 Put salt, pepper, mustard, celery salt and paprika in a small mixing bowl; add vinegar and stir well to blend seasonings. Add olive oil and beat well with a fork. Peel chilled orange so that no white membrane remains; slice in thick circles and cut each circle in sixths; or cut orange segments away from membrane walls and halve each. Cut avocado in half and peel; slice and dice. Arrange avocado and orange in 4 sherbet glasses in layers, or place the avocado cubes on one side and the orange cubes on the other. Pour 2 teaspoons of the dressing over the fruit in each glass and serve immediately. 4 servings.

Turnip Cups Filled With Green Peas

4 white turnips
 2 cups cooked green peas
 2 tablespoons parsley
 2 tablespoons butter or margarine
 Peel turnips and boil until tender. Follow them out and fill them with cooked green peas combined with melted butter or margarine, and parsley, finely chopped. Place them in a pan with a small amount of water. Bake the cups in a moderate oven, 350 degrees, until heated through.

Oatmeal Cookies

1 1/2 cup sifted all-purpose flour
 1/2 teaspoon baking soda
 1/2 teaspoon salt
 1/2 cup butter or fortified margarine, melted.
 1 1-2 cups brown sugar
 1 teaspoon vanilla
 6 tablespoons butter milk or sour milk
 3 cups rolled oats
 Sift flour, baking soda and salt onto a piece of paper. Melt butter or margarine in large saucepan; remove from heat and mix in brown sugar. (If sugar is lumpy, roll before measuring.) Add butter-milk or sour milk and vanilla and mix. Add rolled oats and mix well. Add sifted dry ingredients and work in. Take up a tablespoonful of the mixture with a round-bowled measuring spoon and level it against the side of the mixing bowl; place on greased baking sheet with a small spatula and press flat with wet palm of the hand, rounding edges with fingers. Place cookies at least one inch apart. Bake in a moderate (375 F.) oven about 10 or 12 minutes, until lightly browned. Makes 5 to 6 dozen crisp cookies.

Simple Rites Are Conducted For Knudsen

DETROIT, April 29. (AP)—The auto industry and the country bids farewell to William S. Knudsen today in a funeral service as simple and unassuming as Big Bill's life. The brief Lutheran rites were scheduled for 2 p. m. at the Epiphany Lutheran church which the famed production genius was responsible for building.

No lengthy eulogy for the former General Motors Corp. president who coordinated the nation's wartime armament program has a part in the time-honored rites of Knudsen's native Denmark. Instead, the service consists of short prayers, scripture readings and a few hymns.

Knudsen died early Tuesday morning of a cerebral hemorrhage at the age of 69.

Knudsen left his high-salaried General Motors post when hostilities began, and was credited with "bringing order out of chaos" to convert the nation's industry from peace to war production. Messages from leading national and international figures continued to pour in today. They were received by Knudsen's widow, the former Clara Euler, and their son and three daughters, all with the famed industrialist when he died. King Frederik IX of Denmark wired:

"The Queen and I express warmest sympathy at the loss of our great countryman."

President Truman said the country had "lost a stalwart citizen."

President Walter P. Reuther of the CIO United Auto Workers paid tribute to Knudsen from his hospital bed.

Tomatoes Filled With Mashed Potatoes
 4 medium sized tomatoes
 Mashed potatoes
 1/2 cup broken nut meats
 Parsley
 Cut large hollows in unpeeled tomatoes, salt them and invert them to drain for 15 minutes. Place them in a pan with enough water to keep them from scorching. Bake for 10 minutes at 350 degrees. Add the broken nut meats to fluffy mashed potatoes and fill the tomato cases. Garnish tops with a sprig of parsley and return to the oven and bake for 10 minutes, or until the shells are tender and the mashed potatoes heated through.

NO PROGRESS Reds Seeking A New Name In Germany

BERLIN, April 29. (AP)—A Russian plan to change the name of the Communist Party in Germany's western occupation zones headed for trouble today.

Taegliche Rundschau, the official Soviet newspaper, announced this morning the Communist Party in the U. S., British and French zones would be renamed the Socialist People's Party.

It said the change was made "to bring the name of the party into harmony with the new policy developed since 1945." A Communist Party statement said: "The party today leads the fight not only for the interests of the German workers but for the interest of the German people."

An American Military Government political took issue with the statement and predicted the occupation authorities would bar it. To change its name in the American zone, a party must receive AMG authorization.

"When the Communists apply to us for such sanction," he said, "we shall point out to them they are making an unwarranted and deceitful claim when they say they represent the interests of the entire German people."

"Apparently they are trying to hide under another cloak because communism under its right name has not been able to make any progress in Western Germany. Why should we now let them get rid of a name they are ashamed of?"

The United States and Britain protested last night that in the Soviet zone the Russians are permitting the Nazi Party to reform under another name—the National Democratic Party. This group has been licensed to operate in the Soviet zone, an American official said, but has not been licensed by the four powers in Berlin. Allied control authority has banned formation of any Nazi political group.

Leaders Lay Low Twin City Rivalry

ST. PAUL, Minn., April 29. (P)—Traditional rivalries of Minnesota's twin cities were laid low today—and there was a joint portrait of the first families of Minneapolis and St. Paul to prove it.

Mayor Hubert Humphrey of Minneapolis journeyed over here last night to congratulate Edward K. Delaney, the new St. Paul chief executive named in Tuesday's election. Humphrey brought along his wife, and their four children—Nancy, 9; Hubert, Jr., 6; Robert, 4; and Douglas, three months old.

Greeting the Humphreys were no fewer than eight Delaneys—Dad, Mother, Alice, 13; Gertrude, 11; Ed, 10; Joe, 8; Kathleen, 6; and Jerome, 3.

After news and television cameras had recorded the 14 gathered in front of the Delaney mantel, the families parted, promising to get together some time this summer for a "big picnic."

Committees Named For 4-H FFA Rodeo

Committees have been appointed for the 4-H club and FFA rodeo to be held sometime in July.

This action came out of the regular junior chamber of commerce meeting, which also produced an announcement Tuesday that the membership drive will be held in May.

Lloyd Wooten, president, named a nominating committee to report a slate of candidates for officers. The report is due the last half of May. Visitors were Dudley Harkrider and Dave Moore.

LASHES 'WAR PLANS'

Wallace Says 'Oil Trust' Is Threat To Farm Prosperity

DES MOINES, Ia., April 29. (P)—Henry A. Wallace says the "oil trust" and war plans threaten the American farmers' prosperity.

Wallace called for farmer support of his third party presidential campaign and for a "realistic inventory" of our Russian relations.

The State Department, he said last night, should uncover "the issues and the real reasons" in the cold war with Russia "as a means of making a peace treaty with the Soviets."

Wallace also contradicted a "Communist" charge of CIO President Philip Murray against the third party, and called on President Truman to force the ending of the nationwide meat strike through arbitration.

The former Democratic vice president fired away yesterday on these and many other subjects in rally speeches, radio broadcasts, news conferences and statements made at Iowa City and in his home town, Des Moines.

He declared over a CBS network that the people should be told "what we will be fighting for if we go to war with Russia," and what are our specific "grievances, differences and demands."

During his automobile tour, continuing today at Oskaloosa, Ia., and tonight at Cedar Rapids, he came close to getting hit by two eggs. He later collected $3,172 from a home town crowd of about 1,700 and publicly "wondered about Middle West complacency."

Two bystanders at an Iowa City park were splattered yesterday when eggs sailed over Wallace's head and hit them at a University of Iowa rally. Wallace just grinned and continued posing for pictures of him with a baby in his arms.

At a Des Moines rally last night he said the "oil trust more than any other group is responsible for today's world trouble spots."

He said farmers were paying excessive prices for oil and their other needs because of war profiteering and preparations "and that they were likely to lose more."

"War hysteria," he said, threatens federal farm aid, flood control, and marketing programs and will draft sons and hired hands of farmers.

He said he is "wondering how far the price of corn will have to fall to wake Iowa up."
