High School Gridsters Charge Thru Sherwood Team To Win Opener 13-2; District Tilt At Rocksprings Saturday

Taking an early lead, the Ozona High School Lions, Coach Ted White's 1932 novice aggregation, swept through the Sherwood eleven on the Powell Field gridiron Tuesday afternoon by a score of 13 to 2, presenting a splendid demonstration of the game, considering the lack of experience on the part of most of the lads on the squad, and showing some first rate material for development as the season progresses.

The game Tuesday was postponed from Saturday, because the condition of the roads made it impossible for the Sherwood players to reach Ozona. It was Ozona's first game of the season and Sherwood's second, the latter team having taken a 20 to 0 beating at the hands of the Big Lake squad Friday in Big Lake.

As was to be expected at the opening of the season, the game was slow at times, but for the most part the fans were pleasantly surprised at the brand of football that was demonstrated on the field, especially when it is considered that the Lions boast but four veterans from last year's team.

The locals scored late in the first quarter after taking the ball on downs on their own 19 yard line and marching it straight down the field on running, smashing and passing plays, an attack led by Jake and Morris Miller, S. W. Westfall and J. T. Patrick in the backfield who were able to dart through big holes ploughed through the Sherwood line by the game forwards of the 1932 Lions. In fact, the day was one for the line on both offensive and defensive plays, those recruits shouldering their responsibilities with gusto and tearing at the opposing line with all the vim of veterans.

A 22-yard dash around left end by Morris Miller featured the 80-yard advance down the field for the first marker. Patrick, Westfall and the two Millers traded the ball about at Westfall's direction from quarter position and Jake Miller made the final two-yard plunge for the first touchdown of the 1932 season. The ball was bucked across for the point after touchdown and the score was 7 to 0, the quarter ending a few seconds later.

Many substitutions were made on both sides, Coach White playing most of the 30 or more members of his squad.

Sherwood opened up in the second quarter with an aerial attack that for a time seemed to be destined for a touchdown. Starting from their own 15-yard line, the visitors passed and ran the ball to Ozona's 45-yard line where they were forced to kick. The Lions returned the compliment and the Sherwood lads again took the ball on the 45-yard line and again opened up with their passing attack. The final heave of the half was intercepted, however, on the 15-yard line, the half ending a few seconds later.

The third quarter saw an exchange of punts that gave the locals a slight advantage. Near the end of the period, the Lions took a punt on the visitors' 32 yard line and marched the ball to within 15 yards of the goal as the quarter ended. Early in the fourth period, on successive plunges by Jake Miller, Westfall, Morris Miller and Capt. Buddy Moore, who had shifted from end to halfback position, the ball was placed on the 12-yard line. Here the Ozona line ploughed a wide furrow through the Sherwood forward defense and Jake Miller raced the remaining distance for the second marker. An attempted line back for the extra point failed and the score was 13 to 0.

Sherwood's marker came late in the game when a pass from center was fumbled by an Ozona back who covered the ball behind his own goal line for a safety and two points for the opponents.

The locals journey to Rocksprings next Saturday for their first conference game of the season. The team is being put through its paces this week un-

Golf Trophy Departs

C. Ross (Sandy) Somerville, 20, of Canada is the 1932 U. S. Amateur Golf Champion. He won the honor by defeating Johnny Goodman of Omaha in the finals at Baltimore, 2-1. This is the second time the title has been won by a non-resident of the U. S. in 36 years.

New Officers of BYPU Installed

Banquet And Program Preceded Installation Ceremonies

At a banquet where were gathered a large group of enthusiastic B. Y. P. U. workers, the newly elected officers were installed with appropriate ceremony last Friday evening. The banquet was served in the B.Y.P.U. room in the Sunday School building of the First Baptist Church. The tables were tastily decorated in orange and white with a sprig of fern at each place for favors. Vases of flowers graced the table and piano. Rev. M. M. Fulmer, pastor of the B. Y. P. U., was master of ceremonies. Many songs were sung by the group both before and during the meal. Following the dinner, an interesting and varied program was presented. Miss Maxine Murdock played "Country Gardens," after which each guest was required to describe his or her "first date," which brought forth a variety of interesting and amusing information. Royce Smith and Rev. Fulmer played a cornet and trombone duet, choosing the well known melody, "Whispering Hope."

A talk by the outgoing president, Joe Billy Keeton was responded to by Miss Dorothy Miller, the new president. Both stressed the value of B.Y.P.U. work and pledged themselves to do their best. Mrs. M. M. Fulmer played a piano solo, "Valse Caprice."

Climaxing the evening, the following officers were installed by the pastor:

Miss Dorothy Miller, president; R. C. (Bob) Moore, vice president; J. Glyn Cates, secretary-treasurer; R. O. Smith, Bible query leader; Mrs. R. O. Smith and Ben Williams, group captains, and Mrs. R. O. Smith, pianist.

For the past two weeks the members of the Junior English Class have been studying periodicals. During this study they worked out plans for a literary magazine and published "The Junior Monthly" for the month of September. The material was typed by Margaret Deland and four copies were placed in the high school library. The members of the staff were: Editor-in-chief—Vicky Pierce, associate editor—Pauline Williams, business manager—Bill Seahorn, art director—Dorothy Henderson, advertising manager—Charles Powell, society editor—Dorothy Johnigan, sports editor—S. W. Westfall, reporter—B. B. Ingham, Dennis Coates, Inez Rogers, Billy Childress.

Millers Buy Carload Registered Hereford Yearlings At Jackboro

Jones Miller, pioneer cattle and sheep rancher of Crockett County accompanied by his son, Will, returned recently from an extended trip to North Texas. They purchased a car of Double Standard (registered) Polled Hereford yearling bulls for their Crockett County ranches. They were selected out of the world's largest herd of such registered Polled Herefords, being owned by Johnson Bros. up at Jackboro.

These young bulls are popularly bred in the most famous blood lines of the breed, being descendants of such famous bulls as the $9,500 Bullion 4th, the $20,000 Beau Randolph and the $51,000 Prince Domino.

The Millers have been improving their cattle herd for many years until now it is considered substantially a herd of pure breeds. They specialize in raising modern, feeder type calves for the corn-belt states. Lambs raised on their Crockett County Ranches are added to those raised in Borden and Scurry Counties and fed out on maize so abundantly grown in that section.

They report livestock conditions excellent all over the sections covered in their recent trip, with fine grass and abundance of grain and feed crops everywhere.

Squyres Child To Dallas Hospital

Lions Club Sends Her For Operation To Correct Harelip

Little Wanda Squyres, 5-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Squyres, left with her parents Monday for Dallas, where she will undergo an operation in the Baylor Hospital to correct a harelip condition.

The corrective operation was provided for the child through the efforts of the Ozona Lions Club, the organization paying all hospital and traveling expenses. Dr. Frew, specialist on the Baylor Hospital staff, is donating his services in performing the operation and the hospital is making a special rate to the club for caring for the child. The club hopes to realize enough from receipts at the home talent performance in the High School Auditorium tonight to pay all or part of the expense of the project.

Criticisms that have recently come to light in connection with the case were aired at the Lions Club meeting Monday. Although sharply criticizing the conduct complained of, the Club voted unanimously to carry out its rehabilitation project for the sake of the child.

The child's mother will remain with her during the period of her confinement in the hospital. Another trip to the hospital will be necessary in a few weeks after her release this time, according to the Baylor surgeon.

Rev Brown Coming For Revival Meet

Lampasas Preacher To Hold Services At Baptist Church

Rev. George Brown of Lampasas will be the preacher for the First Baptist Church of Ozona in a series of evangelistic meetings beginning Sunday, October 23 and continuing two weeks, it was announced this week by the pastor, Rev. M. M. Fulmer.

Preparations are being made with the confident faith that there will be a real revival of religion in Ozona, Rev. Fulmer declared. Rev. Brown comes well recommended to Ozona, being personally known to several members of the local congregation. He is a young man of recognized ability,

Hilarious Comedy To Be Presented By Home-Talent Cast In Auditorium Tonight; Sponsored By Lions Club

Sale of reserved seats for the home talent production, "The Whole Town's Talking" to be given at the High School Auditorium tonight under the auspices of the Ozona Lions Club, was becoming brisk yesterday and this morning and committees in charge were predicting a full house for the performance this evening.

Clerk Receives List For Ballot

No Dem. Governor On List Certified By Secy. Of State

George Russell, county and district clerk, early this week received copy of certification from Mrs. Jane Y. McCallum, secretary of state, of the names of candidates for the various state and district offices to be placed on the ballot for use in the general election November 8.

The secretary of state's list contained no certification of a nominee of the Democratic party for the office of governor, certification of the nominee of this party being withheld by reason of an injunction granted by Judge Robertson of the district court at Austin in connection with the election contest suit brought by Gov. R. S. Sterling opposing the nomination of Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson for the office of governor. Final determination of the tangled election controversy must be settled within the next few days in order that the ballots may be printed in time for absentee voting to begin on October 18.

The Fergusons in their counter suit in the Austin district court alleged some 25,000 illegal votes were cast for Sterling in the August primary. Among the counties where illegal voting was alleged was Crockett County, the Fergusons contention charging 312 of the 644 votes cast in Crockett County at the second primary were illegal. There were a total of 488 votes cast for Sterling in this county and 153 for Ferguson. This county boasts a total voting strength of more than 700, while Jim would have the courts believe that there were only 332 legal votes cast in the county.

Just how the Ferguson aggregation arrived at the figure of 312 votes in his allegation is not known, for so far as local officials know, there has been no investigation of the local vote which would throw any light on the subject.

Similar charges of illegality were flung at other West Texas counties where Sterling secured big majorities in the second primary.

McINTIRES RETURNING

Dr. and Mrs. F. T. McIntire are expected to return this week-end from San Angelo where Dr. McIntire recently underwent an operation for removal of his appendix. Dr. McIntire was released from the hospital several days ago and is spending a few more days there before attempting the trip home.

J. H. McClure and Dr. A. L. Lewis were business visitors to San Angelo the first of the week.

The Lemmons Dry Goods Company will be closed all day Monday in observance of the Jewish holiday, Yom Kippur.

according to the pastor.

The song services will be under the leadership of Rev. Fulmer. Singers from other churches are invited and urged to help in the services. Special numbers are to be arranged for as many of the services as possible.

"Praying people are urged to remember this revival effort, asking for and expecting to receive a blessing," Rev. Fulmer said. "Don't forget the date, October 23 to November 6."

Reserved seats are on sale at the Smith Drug Store. Admission prices at 50 cents for reserved seats, 35 cents general admission for adults and 20 cents for children. Proceeds from the evening's entertainment go to the community funds of the Lions Club.

"The Whole Town's Talking" is one of the funniest comedies ever presented in Ozona. It is one of the highest class comedies offered for amateur performance, a heavy royalty play, and under the able direction of Mrs. A. W. Jones the cast will no doubt give a finished performance tonight.

One of the features of the evening will be the between-act performance to be given by "Michael Mantusky" and his tumbling team, Ozona's own acrobatic troupe. Michael and his company have also been in regular practice and promise an entertainment that will be worth the price of admission itself.

The curtain will rise promptly at 8 o'clock. Persons who have not yet purchased reserved seats and who plan to do so are urged to buy them early in order to get choice seats. There will be plenty of good seats in the unreserved section, managers report.

Canning Work Starts Today

Goats Given By Early Baggett Canned; Others Pledged

The canning program sponsored by the Crockett County Chapter of the Red Cross got under way this morning under the supervision of Mrs. Lon Freeman, with Rev. M. M. Fulmer, local Red Cross chairman, assisting.

A number of goats donated by Early Baggett were butchered and brought to town yesterday and these were being cooked and canned this morning.

An improvised pressure cooker, made from a steel gasoline barrel, fitted with steam pressure gauges valves, etc. was made at the O. W. Smith machine shop for service in the Red Cross canning operations. The big cooker is being fired with two gasoline burners and its capacity will speed up the operation considerably, it is believed.

All local organizations and individuals as well as the county government are co-operating in this worthwhile project of canning meat to meet relief demands here this winter. The county is furnishing the cans and meeting other incidental expenses in connection with the program and ladies of the town are donating their services in cooking and canning the meat. Ranchmen of the county have donated meat liberally and it is believed that more than a thousand cans will be put up for distribution by the charity and Red Cross organizations.

ADELIA WILLIS IMPROVES

Adelia Willis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Willis, who has been critically ill for several weeks, was pronounced practically "out of danger" by attending physicians this week. Rapid improvement has been noted in the child's condition the last few days and at last reports she was still reported doing well.

Mr. and Mrs. Pleas Childress were in San Angelo last week where Mr. Childress attended a meeting of the board of directors of the Wool Growers Central Storage Company.

FIRE DEPARTMENT

A first-class fire department is as necessary to a town, large or small, as is a pure water supply.

Farming areas, in particular, suffer from lack of adequate fire protection. An excessive proportion of the national fire loss occurs on farms, as do deaths due to fire. The solution is the establishment of fire districts, with high-grade apparatus situated at strategic points where it can serve a number of small communities and the surrounding territory.

A good department of this kind with a well-trained personnel and standard apparatus, can be created and maintained at a comparatively low cost. And, whatever that cost is, it is the finest kind of saving. The only really expensive departments are inefficient departments—every dollar invested in a first-rate organization amounts to insurance on our lives and property.

The fire department is a good community hobby. It is worth watching, worth taking a permanent interest in. Every citizen should investigate his department and determine, as well as he can, whether it is up to the highest standards.

THE COST OF LIVING

The cost of living has been steadily declining in the United States for ten years. Today it is nearer to what it was before the war than it has reached since 1913 according to government statistics which have just been issued.

The war sent the prices of all commodities up until, in 1920, it cost the average city dweller just about twice as much in rents, fuel, food, clothing and the other essentials of life, to say nothing of luxuries, as it had cost for the same things seven years before. In ten years two-thirds of this increased cost has been lopped off, so that today the general average of living costs is only about a third greater than it was in 1913.

The period of high commodity costs was, however, the period of our highest national prosperity. From 1922 to 1929 prices maintained a fairly even level of about 70 per cent more than in 1913. Everybody was busy, everybody was earning more money than we had ever earned before, more goods were being produced and sold at profitable prices than ever before, and the people of the United States were in a happy and contented frame of mind. Then the sudden drop in commodity prices began and we have had hard times, business depression and unemployment ever since.

It seems to us that here is conclusive proof that prosperity is dependent upon high prices. All of the statesmen, economists and financiers of the world agreed that is true. An intensive and wide-spread effort is being made to find a way of restoring and increasing commodity prices. An international committee is to meet shortly in Geneva to prepare the plans and program for a world-wide conference of governments in the effort to find some way to solve this problem. In the meantime, the upward trend has begun in many commodity lines, and the whole outlook seems to be toward better prices, which means, in the long run, the resumption of production and the restoration of prosperity.

THE WORK OF THE COMMERCIAL CLUB

Every live town has a commercial club. Dead towns have none, and cemeteries do not need them.

The mission of a commercial club is to make good towns better—to make live towns livelier, and to promote healthy business and social conditions. In brief, the true mission of any commercial club is to make the community a better place to live in.

Individualism may accomplish something. Every business man working by himself may get some results. Organization and cooperative effort, if rightly directed, can accomplish much more; and it is this cooperative idea that gives rise to commercial clubs and other like civic bodies.

A good commercial club has the business interests of the community at heart, first of all, for without healthy business conditions there can be little else worth mentioning.

To promote better business is one of the chief functions of a commercial club or chamber of commerce, and to do this it is needful to keep a watchful eye on the trade territory of the town and to cultivate the "trade center" idea. It is, for example, the business of every commercial club to carry the "Buy it in the home town" idea to all the country side for miles around, and as much farther as possible, so that when any person living in that territory contemplates buying any sort of merchandise, he thinks first of all of the home town as his trading point.

Promoting better business requires cooperative effort among the merchants, and this can best be secured through a commercial club with a secretary who is constantly on the job.

The work of a commercial club is not, however, entirely directed towards a purely commercial objective. There are many phases of this work, which, while they have no distinctive commercial significance, are no less valuable to the community.

A live commercial club is supposed to, and can, cultivate among the members a feeling of esprit de corps—a solidarity of interest and spirit of working together for the common good. A live commercial club which carries on as it should, can do away with petty jealousies and rivalries which injure individual business men and retard growth of the town. Through frequent meetings and discussions petty differences can be ironed out and grievances adjusted.

Too often the country town commercial club is wholly in the subjunctive mood. It might, it could, would or should do a great many good things and be of great benefit to the city, if—, and it is precisely this stumbling block that they must remove. They must fully realize that they live in the present and not in the past, and that this in an ever changing world. Conditions today are different from those of yesterday, and the conditions of tomorrow will be different from those of today. They must learn to adapt themselves to these changes, and constantly be on their toes.

Present business conditions will not last forever—in fact the coming of the new day is at hand, and light of the returning morning already tints the hill tops. Times are going to be better and all must do their part to keep their city and its business and social interests abreast of the times, so that they may be partakers of the good days to come.

It is easy to slide down hill, but it requires grit and stubborn endurance to make the long climb upwards. A live commercial club must plan for the climb upwards to the sunlight, and if they keep pulling together, and pulling with a will, they shall reach the top and breathe the sweet air of more prosperous times and happier conditions. They cannot do it by working each one by himself, but they can do it by pulling together!—Sumner Brainerd in St. James, Minnesota, Plaindealer.

The zone meeting of the Woman's Missionary Society will be held in Eldorado next Wednesday. A number of members of the Ozona society plan to attend.

There's A Big Reward For The Rescue — By Albert T. Roll

BRUCE BARTON

...writes of "THE MASTER EXECUTIVE"

Supplying a week-to-week inspiration for the heavy-hearted who will find every human trial paralleled in the experiences of "The Man Nobody Knows."

THE OUTDOOR MAN

The air was filthy with the smell of animals and human beings herded together. Men and women trampled one another, crying aloud their imprecations. At one side of the court were the pens of the cattle; the dove cages at the other. In the foreground, hard-faced priests and money-changers sat behind long tables exacting the utmost farthing from those who came to buy. One would never imagine that this was a place of worship. Yet it was the Temple—the center of the religious life of the nation. And to the crowds who jammed its courts, the spectacle seemed perfectly normal. That was the tragedy of it.

Standing a little apart from the rest, Jesus the young man from Nazareth watched in amazement which deepened gradually into anger. It was no familiar sight to him. He had not been in the Temple since his twelfth year, when Joseph and Mary took him up to be legally enrolled as a son of the law.

His chief memory of that previous visit was of a long conversation with certain old men in a quiet room. He had not witnessed the turmoil in the outer courts, or if he had, it made small impression on his youthful mind. But this day was different. For weeks he had looked forward to the visit to the Temple.

To be sure some of the older ones muttered about the extortions of the money-changers at the Temple. A woman told how the lamb which she had raised with so much devotion the previous year, had been scornfully rejected by the priests, who directed her to buy from the dealers. An old man related his experience.

Today Jesus faced the sordid reality, his cheeks flushed. A woman's shrill tones pierced his reverie like a knife; he turned to see a peasant mother protesting vainly against a ruthless extortion.

And suddenly, without a word of warning, he strode to the table where the fat money-changer sat, and hurled it violently across the court. The startled robber lurched forward, grasping at his gains, lost his balance and fell sprawling on the ground.

Another step and a second table was over-turned, and another, and another. The crowd which had melted back at the start began to catch a glimmering of what was up, and surged forward around the young man. He strode on, looking neither to right nor left. He reached the counters where the dove cages stood; with quick sure movements the cages were opened and the occupants released. Brushing aside the group of dealers who had taken their stand in front of the cattle pens, he threw act of defiance? Where had he come from? By what authority did he presume to interrupt their business?

"This is my authority," he cried. "It is written, 'My house shall be called a house of prayer for all the nations,' but ye have made it a den of robbers."

THE MACHINE

In a recent article, Dr. James E. Thomas, of the Commonwealth and Southern Corporation, analyzed the machine's effect on mankind.

Dr. Thomas' deductions are quite different from those of the critics of the machine, who blame it for all the ills of mankind from the Flood to the World War. He shows that it constitutes the basis of our modern economic world—that it has liberated men from arduous tasks, not enslaved them; that during most of its brief history, it has created employment, not unemployment; that it has cut down accidents, not increased them; that it makes for wealth, comfort and a finer civilization, not a poorer one.

During a recent period in American history, 1,957,000 people were displaced from jobs because of increased mechanical efficiency—and at the same time new trades and professions, largely resulting from the machine, gave jobs to 2,537,000 directly and 2,000,000 indirectly. In 140 years we increased our national income from $400,000,000 to $80,000,000,000, and our national wealth from $500,000,000 to $375,000,000,000—because of the machine.

The machine, after all, is simply a medium to make use of natural forces. It is part of evolution—as inevitable step in the march of the world from the Stone Age to the present and to whatever may be in the future. And, after the debts and credits have all been entered, and the cancellations made, it is found that the machine has been the friend, not the enemy, of "the common man."

Six times this season when Johnny Frederick of the Brooklyn Dodgers was called upon to pinch-hit he slammed out a home run. That's a record for a season.

Ranchers Study Soremouth Cure

Meeting To Be Held In San Angelo In Nov. For Demonstration

RANCH EXPERIMENT STATION Oct. 3.—County agents and others interested in control of soremouth among sheep and goats attended a meeting here today at which latest and approved methods of treatment of the disease were explained.

Approximately 40 attended the meeting. The speakers included I. B. Boughton and W. T. Hardey, veterinarians of the Sutton-Edwards County station; A. B. Conner, extension director of A. & M.; Judge J. A. Whitten, Livestock Sanitary Commission chairman; H. W. Williamson, assistant extension director; N. F. Williams, chief veterinarian of the sanitary commission and others.

Culberson Deal, manager of the San Angelo Board of City Development, explained the purpose and activity of the San Angelo Branch of the Agriculture Credit Corporation.

The Experiment Station now has requests from 57 ranchmen for 285,000 doses of vaccine for soremouth. Ranchmen are requested to write direct to the station in making application for the vaccine giving the time when marking will be done, the number of sheep or goats on hand and other information. The vaccine is not recommended for flocks where the disease has never been active or has not shown up.

Experiments have shown that there are no symptoms before soremouth breaks out but that once a flock is infected it can be transmitted to as far as the fifth generation. This was noted in an experiment on goats. It has also been shown the screw worms develop rapidly in animals affected with soremouth.

Treatment of the disease by certain "home remedies" has been found in many cases more harmful than good. Some types of this so-called treatment have been known to spread the disease, rather than to check it. Before attempting to control soremouth in sheep and goats ranchmen are advised to write the station and to attend a mass meeting which will be held at the Tom Green County courthouse at San Angelo early in November at which time a demonstration will be given on the subject. The exact date will be announced shortly.

LONGEVITY of newspapers

For 50,000 consecutive days, exclusive of Sundays, the London Morning Post has never failed to appear since it was founded in 1772. This is the oldest daily newspaper in the world that has been a daily since it was founded. There are one or two newspapers in America which are older, but they were weeklies for many years before they became dailies.

I know of nothing that is harder to kill than a good newspaper. I have had occasion to make a list of American newspapers more than one hundred years old and was amazed to find that there are nearly two hundred of them. That is probably more survivors than there are in any other line of business. Without exact figures at hand, I venture the guess that there are nowhere near two hundred businesses or industries in the United States that have survived a century of uninterrupted activity.

SAXOPHONES long with us

Almost a hundred years ago a Belgian named Adolphe Sax invented a new kind of musical instrument and named it for himself, the saxophone. It speedily became a standard instrument for military bands in France. P. T. Barnum, the greatest showman the world has ever known, heard the saxophone played when he was in Europe in the 1840's and brought a band of saxophone players over to give concerts in his museum on lower Broadway, long before he ever started in the circus business.

The saxophone is today the most popular of all musical instruments. Its re-discovery in America dates from about the time of the great war. One reason for its popularity is that it is easy to learn to play it. A great many people dislike saxophone music but something like a hundred thousand of these instruments are turned out every year by American factories and shipped all over the world.

SCOTCH buy our bonds

I dined the other night with the European representative of an important American financial institution, over here on a vacation. He told me that it was the canny Scotchmen who are responsible for the present activity in the bond and stock market in the United States.

Edinburgh is the headquarters of a large number of British investment trusts. Along in the early part of the summer the managers of these trusts, looking for sound investments observed that conditions seemed to be improving in the United States, that there was no longer any fear of our monetary stability, that some commodity prices were beginning to rise and that broad plans for the rehabilitation of the financial situation were beginning to operate.

At the same time they noted that American securities, particularly bonds, were selling at ridiculously low prices, so they began to buy them. They bought, and they kept on buying, and in a month or so their buying began to affect the Wall Street securities market and American investors began to follow their example. So my friend told me.

POWER inside the earth

Some day we will get a large part of our heat and power without using any fuel at all. In Italy more than 12,000 kilowatts of energy are generated by the heat obtained by drilling holes into volcanic mountains. In Sonoma, California, the steam from geysers is utilized to produce almost as much energy.

The late Sir Herbert Parsons, inventor of the steam turbine, worked out a plan for boring a hole for twenty miles or more into the hot interior of the earth and proved to the satisfaction of many engineers that its cost would be more than repaid by the continuous supply of heat and power which would thus be obtained.

We haven't as yet begun to more than scratch the surface of this old earth's possible sources of wealth.

We Believe In The Future Of Ozona And Crockett County

Good times are here again. The wool market is going up. Sheep are going up. Money is getting a little more plentiful. Rains are bountiful, assuring splendid feed through the winter. Prosperity is definitely on the way back for the ranch industry.

We have stood by as best we could during the most trying times in our economic history. We have sought to serve you unselfishly. Now, we ask your consideration in return. We still want to serve you and we hope we have earned your good will for the future.

Aches and PAINS

When you take Bayer Aspirin you are sure of two things. It's sure relief, and it's harmless. Those tablets with the Bayer cross do not hurt the heart. Take them whenever you suffer from:

- Headaches
- Neuralgia
- Rheumatism
- Lumbago
- Neuritis
- Toothache

When your head aches—from any cause—when a cold has settled in your joints, or you feel those deep-down pains of rheumatism, sciatica, or lumbago, take Bayer Aspirin and get real relief. If the package says Bayer, it's genuine. And genuine Bayer Aspirin is safe.

Aspirin is the trade-mark of Bayer manufacture of monoacetic-acidester of salicylic acid.

First Norther Swoops Down On West Texas Tues.; Rains Halted

West Texas was treated to its first sample of the 1932 winter Monday night when a cold norther blew in, bringing more rain with it. The rainfall was light, however, but the wintry blasts continued throughout the day and night and coats were still comfortable Wednesday.

The norther was a welcome relief from the dripping skies, however. The sun took its first peep on the world Monday after ten days of almost continuous rain and clouded skies. Three inches of moisture fell in that period, making a total of more than ten inches during the past month of rain.

THE FAMILY DOCTOR

By JOHN JOSEPH GAINES, M.D.

SUNLIGHT

The oldest subject "under the sun." But how important—and how interesting! Wise the family doctor who knows the uses of the God-given elements at his command, within easy reach.

Natural sunlight is just right for the human being—and for all life on the earth, animal and vegetable. It is a vital necessity. A dearth of it will produce weak bodies, poor blood, inefficient nerves—a weakened race of people. Outdoor dwellers in rural districts are more hardy and vigorous than inhabitants of crowded cities.

Good, bright, yellow sunlight is rich in ultra-violet rays and here we step into up-to-date stuff. The ultra-violet ray is the agent that converts the numerous lime salts of our foods, into suitable form for appropriation by our bodies. Lime, or calcium is an extremely important tonic for blood, muscle and nerves. It is invaluable for the breathing apparatus, and is supreme in maintaining the alkaline balance in the body. It prevents acid destruction of vital organs, such as the kidneys. Sunlight is the principal factor in bringing about the marvelous changes, so necessary to bodily vigor; it doesn't cost anything if you live in its vicinity, and are free to get about in it.

In mountain regions, the nearer approach to the sun gives a much greater volume of violet-ray

In lower levels, the air is more polluted with dust, smoke and other outside matters, which diminish the actinic effect of the rays.

Artificial instruments have been invented, whereby the doctor may administer sun-rays to patients in winter and cloudy times, when out-door absorption is impossible.

ASSEMBLY PROGRAM OCT. 12

There will be a short program in the High School Auditorium at 9 o'clock Wednesday morning, October 12. Rev. M. M. Fulmer will be the principal speaker on the program. The High School students will have charge of the program. Everyone is invited to be present.

BAPTIST SUNDAY SCHOOL

The Baptist Sunday School started off its new year last Sunday morning with an attendance of 113. Four new pupils were added in the different departments. All the new officers and teachers were on the job to start off the new year. Classes for all ages are provided by the Sunday School and all are invited to join in the work if not already in Sunday School, declared A. W. Jones, superintendent.

The "first Sunday" offering last Sunday was $32.75, each "first Sunday" offering going to Buckner's Orphans Home. The month of October will be observed in the local Sunday School as State Missions month. Appropriate programs will be rendered through the month on this subject and a big rally is planned for the fifth Sunday.

"Don't SEND your children to Sunday School—BRING them and stay with them," is the slogan of the new administration.

Texas Wool Industry

By W. E. TALEGT

Editor's Note.— This is the fourth of a series of articles dealing with the possibilities of the wool industry in Texas. Colonel Talbot, managing director of the Southwest Industrial Development Bureau, is an acknowledged authority on the subject of industrialization for Texas.

Copyright, 1932, Southland Life Insurance Co.

The first step in the development of our wool industry would be the creation of scouring plants. The first requisite is, of course, nearness to the base of supply; second, an ample supply of water, and third, the capital required to put it over.

The city of New Braunfels has made the initial effort along this line under the able direction of Harry Wagenfuhr, president of the chamber of commerce; Bailey Jones, general manager of the chamber of commerce, and James McDowell, an expert on textile manufacture. A group of buildings located on a stream where 2,000,000 gallons of water pass daily is being offered by the city of New Braunfels for the purpose of developing this new industry. San Marcos has also shown some activity along the line of a wool-scouring plant. Great interest today in a project of this kind is evidenced from San Angelo, Brownwood and Del Rio. There is ample room for all of these cities to develop their own industries along this line, because if we will do what we should in connection with the development into the finished product, the wool industry can grow to be one of the greatest, if not the greatest, industries we have in Texas.

It means we are going to have to quit dreaming and actually go to doing something about it. By doing our own scouring we could save in freight $500,000 to our people alone. The freight for the wool in its raw state is $1.66 per 100 pounds to the Eastern point, but scoured it is only $2.36. So by shipping only the scoured wool you can see the great amount of saving that can be effected for our own people.

Next week: Advantages of Scouring Plants in Texas.

Scoutmasters In Training Camp

Workers Urged To Attend Mertzson Camp Sat. And Sun.

The First Scoutmaster's Training Camp for West Texans is to be held at Camp Louis Farr near Mertzson next Saturday and Sunday, October 8 and 9. The Camp is for all Scoutmasters, Assistant Scoutmasters, and Troop Committeemen of the troops of the Concho Valley Council. The Concho Valley Council is composed of 17 counties of West Texas of which Crockett County is one of Ranch District.

A faculty of 10 prominent Scout officials has been assembled by Dr. H. P. Bybee, chairman of the training committee. Among these is James P. Fitch, Regional Executive in charge of Texas, Oklahoma, and New Mexico. Mr. Fitch is the fourth highest ranking Scout official in the United States in service. A. C. Williamson, Scout Executive of Sweetwater will handle several subjects of troop organization, and Ed Shumway of Abilene will have charge of the Morale section of the Camp. G. N. Quirl of Brownwood and B. W. Draper of Concho Valley Council will also have subjects of troop management.

Probably the most interesting speaker on the program will be Captain Innes Taylor of the Byrd Antarctic expedition. Captain Taylor has a long history of exploits, in addition to his Polar trip. On Sunday, October 9, from 12:30 to 1 the program of the camp will be broadcast over station KGKL, and James P. Fitch will explain the Ten Year Program to all West Texans interested in Scouting.

It is hoped that several men who are interested in boys will attend this Camp and learn how to have a good troop in Ozona.

Students Library Council Organized

Monday, October 3, the following students met to form the Student's Library Council of the Ozona High School: Drennon Slaughter, S. W. Westfall, B. B. Ingham, Joe Rape, Tommy Smith, Alberta Kay, Lowell Schwalbe, and Elizabeth Perner. Tommy Smith was elected president; Joe Rape vice president; Lowell Schwalbe secretary; S. W. Westfall treasurer; B. B. Ingham reporter. Drennon Slaughter and Alberta Kay were appointed members of the room committee and Lowell Schwalbe was appointed director of the magazine section of the library.

The purpose of this council will be to support, advise, and in every possible manner aid the work of the library and the librarian, Miss Lucille Williamson. The constitution was drawn up and adopted at the first meeting. Regular meetings will be held in the library on the first Tuesday of each month.

JUNIOR WOMAN'S CLUB DISCUSSES HEALTH TOPIC

Health was the topic for discussion at the last meeting of the Junior Woman's Club held in the High School auditorium. Misses Letti Powell and Helen Chapman were hostesses, with Mrs. Ted White as leader. Mrs. Leta Hawkins, president, presided. Mrs. Hugh Childress, Jr., gave a toast to health and Miss Wayne Augustine discussed "Community Recreation."

The next meeting of the club will be Thursday, October 13, at 3:40 p. m. at the High School auditorium.

Physical Education Part Of Curriculum In Ozona Schools

Physical education has been made a part of the curriculum in the Ozona Public Schools, with the program mapped out to meet every requirement of the State Department of Education according to Supt. John L. Bishop.

Where it is possible, every child from kindergarten through High School, is required to take an active part in the physical education program.

Teachers in the grades are taking care of this phase of child development in their respective grades. In the High School, Miss Ludee Mae Harrison and Miss Ada Moss are directing the physical education work among the girls and Ted White and Guinn Carruthers are in charge of the work among the boys.

The entire program is based on and is being developed on the theory that "a sound mind should dwell in a sound body," Mr. Bishop said.
