TEXON EVENS TITLE SERIES WITH WIN SUN.

Giants Show Effects Of Week's Idleness, Enforced by Rain

NEXT GAMES HERE

Contenders Clash Saturday and Sunday on Local Diamond

Snipe Conley's fighting Texon Oilers made it all even in the Permian Basin League championship series by taking the second game of the seven-game play-off series from the Ozona Giants, second-half winners, by a score of 2 to 0 on the Texon diamond Sunday afternoon.

The Giants showed the effects of a week's forced idleness due to rains. They were able to touch Haven's offerings for but four safe blows in the nine frames. Five hits gathered by the Oilers off Croswaiter's hurling, plus three giant errors, gave the Oilers the needed margin for the victory.

Locked in a death grip for seven and a half innings, neither team able to push over a run, it was a question of which team got the breaks. The Oilers got them, and won. It happened in the eighth after Gardner had popped out to Heatherly at second. Barbee got his first hit of the series, a single, and McMillan, the league's leading batter, rolled an easy grounder to Croswaiter for what seemed a certain double play. Croswaiter, however, threw low to second and Barbee pulled up at third and McMillan went to second. A squeeze play, with Burton laying down a bunt, brought Barbee in with the first.

Ozona Rancher Loses Thumb In Rope Accident

W. A. Kay Hurt While Pulling Car Out Of Mud On Ranch

An attempt to pull an automobile party from the mud while astride his horse resulted in the loss of the first section of the right thumb last Thursday afternoon for Albert Kay, Ozona ranchman.

While on his horse, Mr. Kay sighted an automobile halted in the mud on his ranch a few miles north of Ozona, and set out to aid the stranded people. Finding a man and his wife in the car, who were engaged in riding the pipeline, the ranchman offered to pull the car out.

After twisting the rope, which was tied to the car, around the saddle horn, Mr. Kay spurred his horse for the pull. The rope, wet and unmanageable, had ensnared the man's thumb and twisted the fore part off before he could withdraw the member. The injured man was treated in Ozona and has suffered no other ill effects from the injury.

'Geronimo,' Stockman's Pet Vinegaroon, Dead Victim of Fast Living

"Geronimo," the affectionate vinegaroon whose apartment during the past summer was a bottle in the Stockman office, is dead.

This week the journalistic mind of Geronimo was to have been transferred from the Stockman office to a more appropriate dwelling in the laboratories of the Ozona High School under the vigilance of Prof. Guinn Carruthers. Late Monday afternoon the bug was found in what seemed the throes of death but a cold water bath resuscitated him and apparently he was back on the road to recovery. But Tuesday morning, the worst had happened. Geronimo was extremely dead.

It was thought by several of the commenting coroners that the accumulation which had gathered in the vinegaroon's bottle caused a gaseous air that resulted in asphyxiation of the inmate. Others were of the opinion that fast living, made possible by a bountiful diet of bugs furnished by admirers was the cause of his untimely demise.

There's lots of room in the FORD V-8

EVERY ONE who steps into the Ford V-8 for the first time is surprised at its roominess. There's exceptional seat room, leg room and head room in all body types—the whole car gives you a feeling of substantial size.

The Ford gives you extra body room because of the compact design of the V-8 engine—an exclusive Ford feature at a low price. This V-8 engine takes up less space in the hood and permits more of the car's length to be used for passenger comfort. Many a car selling at a higher price does not give you as much interior room as the Ford V-8.

Rear seats are wide and restful... three people can ride comfortably in the front seat of the Fordor Sedan, Fordor Touring Sedan, Convertible Sedan and Phaeton, and in the Coupe and Roadster. The cost of the Ford V-8 Roadster is 52 inches wide. A ride in the Ford V-8 will show that it combines unusual body room with fine-car performance, safety and comfort.

Two $1000 Bills, One Good, 1 Phoney Used In Dallas Skin Game

A young woman walked into a Dallas department store last week, looked over a new shipment of fur coats, found one that suited her taste and asked how much. The clerk told her $500, and she said she would take it.

She reached into her purse and brought out a $1,000 bill which she offered in payment. The startled clerk told her that he would have to get an O.K. from the bank on the bill. When he made a note of the serial number, she left in a huff, saying that she would not want the coat if he didn't trust her.

For curiosity, the clerk called the bank, found that the bill was all right and became quite sick at having missed the sale. An hour later the lady returned and said she would take the coat in spite of the treatment she received at the store. A $1,000 bill was given in payment. The customer left and the clerk was quite happy that he had recalled a lost customer. But he became sicker than before when he learned that the second bill was phoney.

Diet Causes Most Dental Troubles, Research Reveals

AUSTIN, Texas, Sept. 11.—About nine out of every ten persons in the United States have something wrong with their teeth. At least eight of each ten have caries, or dental decay. A long list of other maladies, including the famous "pyorrhea," is to be discovered in even a casual examination of the teeth in any community.

Why do so many people suffer the misery of bad teeth? Dental research in recent years has revealed that the real trouble is the diet and other health habits of civilized folk, and not civilization itself. We may be both civilized and have good teeth.

The teeth are living organs, and must be nourished, like any other part of the body. They are composed principally of calcium, a mineral found in great abundance in milk. Hence the insistence of dental scientists on the use of greater amounts of milk in the diet.

particular attention should be paid to the diet, after consultation with a physician.

Another important time for teeth health is in infancy and early childhood. Children should have plenty of milk, should receive some Vitamin D. food, and should be permitted to play in the sunlight as often as possible.

Geraldine Coates Becomes Bride Of Dr. G. L. Coates, Jr.

Miss Geraldine Coates, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ford Coates, was married to Dr. Gaines L. Coates, Jr., of Martinez, Calif., at the ranch home of Mr. and Mrs. Collins Coates last Wednesday morning at 10:30 o'clock. Rev. C. A. Ridge of the First Methodist church presided at the single ring service.

The ceremony was performed before an improvised altar of asters and gladiolas. Miss Lorine Nagel sang "Oh, Promise Me" and "At Dawning." Mrs. Elizabeth Boyer of Dallas was her accompanist.

The bride wore a fall suit in a new woolen material in a forest green shade trimmed in mole of the same color. Her accessories were in brown finished with a slight touch of green. White gardenias made up her lovely shoulder corsage.

Mrs. Buck Pyle, matron of honor, and cousin of the bride, wore an Irma Kirby model, in the unusual and striking shade of duobonnet. F. B. Pyle was best man. Mrs. James C. Sharp of Iraan and P. C. Coates, Jr., were the other attendants. Mrs. Sharp's dress was also an Irma Kirby model but its color was terra cotta. Mrs. Pyle, Mrs. Sharp, Miss Nagel and Mrs. Boyer wore corsages of "Sweetheart" roses.

Mrs. Hart Johnson played Lohengrin's wedding march as the couple came to the altar made in the living room. During the ceremony she played the beautiful "Believe Me If All Those Endearing Young Charms."

The three-tiered wedding cake was placed on the dining table and served following the ceremony. It was topped with a charming miniature bride and groom. At each end of the table, on which was a white Madiera linen cloth, burned six white tapers. Mrs. Paschal Odom, Sr., presided over the coffee service. A white wedding bell was suspended above the table and about it was draped clematis vine.

Mrs. Coates spent her childhood in and around Ozona until her family moved to Marfa. She was graduated from the Marfa high school in 1929. She has lived with her family on their ranch near here for three years.

Dr. Coates attended the University of Southern California in Berkeley, receiving his degree there. He is a member of several fraternities. He makes his home in Martinez, where he has practiced as a surgeon for six years. The couple will make their home there after a honeymoon trip to Del Monte, California.

The same friction by which the Indian created a flame caused the easy ignition of the first Friction Match made by the Frenchman, Dr. Chas. Sauria, in 1831. . . . This was a basic discovery that we still use today. But how obsolete a smudging flame now seems in contrast with the convenience, safety and cleanliness of Electric Heat.

Mankind has an innate sense of cleanliness in relation to his food. Hence, the ever-increasing demand for such Electric Appliances as the Range, Electric Water Heater and the Electric Refrigerator.

These modern electric appliances can be had on convenient terms, and you will be surprised at the moderate cost of such added superior service.

120-Year Old Letter In Bexar Archives Describes Joy of Royalists In Texas at Return To Throne of Spanish Sovereign

Plea For Loyalty To Rulers Of Peninsula Made To Colonists

AUSTIN, Tex., Sept. 11—Ferdinand readily agreed to the Treaty of Valency that he drive the English from the Peninsula; and, as soon as he was released, he started for home. Nevertheless he had many obstacles to overcome before he reascended the throne. First, the Cortes, fearing treachery, refused to accept the treaty; next it refused the returning exile entry until he could show that he brought no Frenchmen in his train. To this Ferdinand readily agreed and he re-entered the country from which he had been absent since 1508. The joy of the royalists is described in a letter found in the Bexar Archives in the library of The University of Texas, written on August 12, 1814. In this letter, Felix Calleja thus describes conditions in Mexico City: "The important and longed for news that our beloved sovereign, Ferdinand VII, is seated on the throne of Spain amid the universal applause, joy and contentment of all his vassals has been received in this capital. I made this known by means of a proclamation on the 10th of the present month. I ordered it published throughout the kingdom. This gives me great satisfaction because I believe that this will put an end to the sufferings of the Spanish people in both hemispheres, since their happiness can be founded only upon the most perfect union. It is likewise dependant upon the most unchanging loyalty and unfaltering submission and obedience to the sovereign will of His Majesty.

"To uphold his sovereign and inalienable rights in these dominions, I am counting upon your loyalty, your gratitude and your devotion to him as well as that of all military leaders and civil magistrates in this kingdom. I am likewise counting upon the courage of his brave troops and the clear-thinking members of society. I flatter myself that my hopes will be met on every point. Confident of this, I have not hesitated to declare in the said proclamation my own firm determination to obey all royal and sovereign decrees and orders of His Majesty as soon as I receive them and to see that they are explicitly obeyed throughout the entire jurisdiction of this vicerealty.

"However, there may be some who, through a desire for change or being led astray by a mistaken idea of liberalism that is now causing so much trouble, will under specious pretenses try to carry forward ideas contrary to the royal desires of our king and argue in favor of constitutional principles and democracy. I am depending upon your zeal and tact in the matter. I charge you particularly to endeavor to discourage ideas of this kind and, so far as is possible, to form a correct public opinion and repress all others within your jurisdiction. You will first use persuasion in the case of those who try to draw people away from their allegiance and if this fails you will, when necessary, punish them. You will also seize all papers of this character that may be circulated and forward them to me."

This seemed to end all hopes of independence from Spain for no Spaniard would have the temerity to question the Divine Right of Ferdinand to rule over them. Until he should lead the way along the constitutional pathway or refuse to rule over them, they would with a few isolated exceptions, blindly continue to be loyal subjects to Ferdinand and obstinately maintain their connection with the Peninsula.

By a sudden turn or two of the wheel or fortune, Napoleon was eliminated from the international struggle and exiled to the barren island of St. Helena, even though some of his followers planned to rescue him and found for him a new Empire in Texas. In the meantime, however, the struggle had left Texas in a deplorable state.

Small Insects May Have Mighty Power

Scientists have been testing the strength and speed of some of the smallest insects, and have made some remarkable discoveries.

The beetle, it was found, is the strongest living thing in proportion to its size. It won this title by moving slowly with a parcel of lead shot weighing eight and a quarter ounces on its back.

This burden was about 850 times the insect's own weight. It was calculated that, if a man possessed the same proportionate strength, he would be able to lift 25 saloon cars and carry them several miles.

The ant is no sluggard, either. It has both strength and speed. One was observed dragging a load 60 times its own weight—it was as if a man had been pulling four and a half tons. Another carried a dead spider twice its own size up the verticle side of a tree stump. It covered two feet in as many seconds, or 48 times its own length every second. This was equal to a racing car going at 400 miles per hour.

In Africa ant-hills 20 to 40 feet high have been discovered—if a man built proportionately high he would have produced a skyscraper as tall as Mount Everest.

The spiders are the speed merchants of the insect world. Their pace is colossal in relation to their size. One covered 100 times its own length in a second. A car would have to travel at 3,000 miles per hour to put up a comparable performance.

KNOWLEDGE...

To be able to follow a definite course of funeral direction in time of bereavement is most difficult for those who are already heavily burdened. Oberkampf directors have the experience and knowledge that can be acquired only by constant efforts to perform the perfect service and are therefore better fitted to carry out the tasks of funeral direction.

ADVERTISING DOLLARS!

You, Mr. Merchant, spend your advertising dollar to get results—to get your sales message before the people who are your customers. At least, you should do that. Granting that advertising is a necessary part of every successful business—and every successful business man will agree that it is—where, then, should the business man look for the medium that will reach the people he wants to reach?

Will he select some publication in a neighboring town—one that circulates in that town only? If he does, he had best give his money to charity, for it will do him more good. He can't reach the people who are his prospective customers that way. Will he select some publication of general circulation throughout a region, which includes his own community? He is wasting a large part of his expenditure if he does. Such a publication has a large "waste circulation"—circulation in sections where the local firm can not hope to interest prospective buyers. And circulation in his own community is usually restricted to a very small percentage of his prospective customers. He must pay for this "waste circulation" in a higher space rate—pay for something that can not possibly benefit him—and at the same time reach a very small part of the people in his own community.

What medium, then, is the most logical for him to adopt? His LOCAL NEWSPAPER, of course. Where can he find any other medium that reaches ALL his prospective customers at anything like as low "per contact" cost? It is the only medium through which he can reach all his prospects at a reasonable cost. To carry his sales message to each one personally would be out of the question. To broadcast printed circulars costs more than the same message in a newspaper ad and is less effective. Readers place a value on their newspaper and read it for its news and entertainment features—it has the added virtue of getting attention as well as more thorough circulation. To mail the message by the direct-mail method would cost several times as much as the message in the advertising columns of your local newspaper—the postage alone in most cases amounting to more than the cost of the newspaper ad, to say nothing of preparation of the mailing piece, envelopes and time—and the well known fact that most such matter finds its way to the waste basket promptly.

The turn in business affairs is at hand. People are ready to buy the things they have been wanting for years. The merchant who goes after this business, who places his sales message before his prospects, invites their patronage and makes it easier for them to purchase what they want, is the one who will reap the harvest. Mr. Merchant, select the logical medium, YOUR LOCAL NEWSPAPER, to get your sales message to your prospective customers and get your share of the Fall business.

Denham To Write History of Sheep, And Goat Industry

A letter from G. W. Cunningham, secretary of the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers Association, this week to Supt. C. S. Denham, of the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research, has asked that the superintendent write a history of the growth and development of the sheep and goat industry in Crockett County. The manuscript will be used as a feature in advertising the sheep and goat industry in connection with the Texas Centennial.

The Centennial body asked for a history from the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers Association and association heads, having read Denham's history of the county, and the local man for the sheep and goat history.

Cities showing gains over the two comparable periods were: Brownsville, Corsicana, Dallas, Fort Worth, Galveston, Harlingen, Houston, Jacksonville, Laredo, Marshall, Palestine, Pampa, Port Arthur, and San Antonio.

run. On the play, Burton was safe at first when Dorley's throw was high to Heatherly, covering the bag. Leedy walked to fill the bags and Brown hit one to second and was out at first, McMillan scoring on the play. Haven struck out to retire the side.

Hitting Slump Hurts

The Giants threatened in the third, sixth and ninth, but lacked the necessary hitting punch to put over a run. In the ninth, Ozona partisans were pleading for a rally when Dorley, first up in the final chucker, rapped out a double. Mangold, however, rolled out to first unassisted, and Stuart was out third to first, and Dorley was caught off the bag on the play to end the game.

The two teams meet Saturday and Sunday on the Giants' home lot for the third and fourth games of the series. Sunday's game was slated for Ozona, in fact two games were scheduled for Saturday and Sunday, but rain prevented the Sunday game being transferred to Texon when a heavy rain Saturday night here left the local field a lake.

The Giants will be without the services of Vic Montgomery for the rest of the title series. The Giant left fielder left this week for Forth Worth to re-enter T.C. U. His garden will be covered by Red Greer, a regular outfielder on the local line-up, who is expected to fill the absent Montgomery's shoes with credit.

Youths Explore Cave On O-9 Ranch; Find Underground River

Considerable anxiety was held by several parents and relatives of eight Barnhart youths last Sunday when the group did not return when expected from an exploring adventure into the cave on the O Nine Ranch southeast of Barnhart.

Fear was dismissed when the entire group returned from the 138 foot hole unharmed. Long a spot of interest, the hole is located on the Jackson ranch northeast of here and has been explored several times by curious minded in the vicinity. The narration of the Barnhart youths who went into the cave Sunday by letting themselves down by rope and pulley, disclosed a hole 138 feet in depth which opens into a subterranean passage winding about seemingly without end. A running stream of water flows through the passage which has been claimed to be a tributary to Dove Creek. A mill on top of the ground draws water from the stream.

The youths reported a muddy stalagmite formation in the passage way. No gaseous air was found, although in one spot stale air was found.

Ozonans View Body Of Wiley Post And Attend Funeral

Two Ozonans who recently returned from their vacation witnessed the funeral tribute to the late Wiley Post and viewed the famed flyer's body while in Maysville, the flyer's home town. They were Mr. and Mrs. H. C. McCaleb.

The Ozonans, who were visiting the parents of Mrs. McCaleb near Maysville at the time, were among the thousands which filed by the aviator's bier. Mrs. McCaleb's father and a brother of Wiley Post had recently returned from Washington where they had gone to complete patent arrangements on a self-tying hay bailer which the two had invented. They returned in time for the flyer's funeral.

The Lemmons Dry Goods Company has been refinishing and remodeling the inside of the store here recently. New display cases and shelves have been added to the store's equipment. Mr. and Mrs. Lemmons have had repair work done at their home this week also.

Welding
... the best way to make a perfect union of two pieces of metal is by welding them together.

... and the best way to get a more pleasing flavor and a better taste in a cigarette is by welding together the different types of tobacco ...

That is just what we do in making CHESTERFIELD Cigarettes—the three types of mild ripe home-grown tobaccos, that is tobaccos grown in this country, are welded together. Then they are welded with aromatic Turkish.

When these tobaccos are welded together you get a combined flavor which is entirely different from any one type of tobacco. It is this welding of the right amounts of the right kind of tobaccos that makes CHESTERFIELD a milder and better-tasting cigarette.
