SCHEDULE
McCamey at Ozona.
Iraan at Crane.
Texon takes two by forfeit from San Angelo.

With only four more games left in the second half of the Permian Basin championship gallop, the Ozona Giants, two games in the lead, face a crucial series here this week-end when they take Mack Saxon's McCamey Refiners into camp for a double bill on the Powell athletic field diamond Sunday afternoon.

The past week-end saw the Giants take a full two-game lead by virtue of the forfeit of two games by the San Angelo Sheep Herders, who have announced withdrawal from the league, and the shifting of Texon to second place and McCamey from second to third position. The McCamey nine dropped two straight to the Crane Gulfers over the week-end, and Texon succeeded in whipping the Iraan lads two straight to ascend to runner-up position, shunting the Refiners down one peg.

Five Work Out Fines In Park And On Streets

Mexicans Pay $14 Each For Throwing Cats At Pie Supper

Four Mexicans one negro were fined in Justice of Peace Bill Johnigan's court here Monday morning.

Son Garfield, negro, was fined $23 for theft of an automobile tire from A. D. (Red) Davis more than a month ago. According to evidence shown, Garfield took the tire about a month ago and later hid it near the draw. The theft was detected when the negro man sold it. He had claimed in court that he "found" the tire.

Four Mexican youths, Manuel Rodriguez, Enrique Sanchez, Alencandro Ramiro and Balentin Manos, were found by Sheriff Willis and Justice of the Peace Bill Johnigan Sunday night while the four were "breaking up" a pie party in a residence in the Mexican colony. The youths were throwing rocks and cats into the residence, the officers said. Each was fined $14.

The fined men paid their assessments with work on the streets and in the park.

BUILDINGS, FURNITURE PREPARED FOR SCHOOL

In preparation for the coming school session, the floors and desks of the elementary school building have been refinished the past week. In the high school building the floors have been refinished also. During the summer, the kindergarten building was repainted.

Miss Ada Moss, who has been confined to a San Angelo hospital for several weeks, has returned home and is improving rapidly.

7 Amendments To Be Decided Sat. By Texas Voters

Crockett Electors To Cast Ballots In 5 Voting Places

Voters of Texas will decide on seven proposals to amend the constitution of Texas at a special election for that purpose to be held throughout the state next Saturday.

Crockett County voters will have seven polling places in which to record their views on the seven proposed amendments. Voters of the Ozona precinct will cast their ballots at the courthouse, where John Bailey will be the election judge. The Powell Field school house will be the No. 2 precinct voting place, the Owens Ranch, No. 3, Howard Wells No. 4, and the Pecos Valley Power & Light Co. plant No. 6. Election judges in these precincts are Charles Black, Jeff Owens, Charles Coates and J. R. Jones.

No. 1 amendment on the ballot is one of the three most widely discussed of the lot. It would give the legislature authority to provide a system of old-age pensions not to exceed $15 a month and to accept from the United States government aid for old-age assistance.

All In All, It's Been a "Good Ole Summertime" For Most Of Us, 'Retrospecter' Finds In Reviewing Events

Some Even Took Time Out From Baseball For Vacations

By Bill Gray
"There's a time in each year, that we always hold dear"—(unless we broke a leg, had the measles or failed to get the vacation coming to us)—"the good ole summertime."

Summer "daze" are drawing to a close and soon the poetic worm will be repeating, "The melancholy days are here, the saddest of the year, with wailing winds and naked woods."

And meadows brown and bare. Looking in retrospect over the past summer by route of the Stock man files before the school gong sounds and the court crier wails a "Hear ye," the retrospecter finds that it was a fairly "good ole summertime" for most Crockett folk. So many Crockett people took vacations that the retrospecter couldn't count up the figure and enough visitors came to see Ozonans to keep the grocery man from filling bankruptcy.

Cyclist Injured As Bike Overtakes On Downtown Paving

While stunting on a bicycle Sunday night in front of the Miller Service Station, Richard Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Miller, suffered painful but not serious injuries when the bicycle struck a nearby "stop" sign and threw the rider to the pavement.

Extent of the injuries were painful cuts about both legs, abrasions on the arms and a severe cut in the right elbow. The Ozona youth was confined to the bed early this week.

Search For Missing Mexican Girl Ends At Neighbor Ranch

A 16-year-old daughter of a Mexican couple employed on the Early Baggett ranch caused no little excitement among ranch folk of that area and officers and citizens of Ozona last week when she was reported missing from her home. Notes to her parents and sweetheart, left behind, caused friends and relatives to fear that the girl contemplated suicide. She carried a gun with her when she left the ranch.

The girl was found the following day, however, at the Lee Henderson ranch. She had walked eight miles across pastures to the Henderson ranch.

Miss Ethel Childress is visiting in San Angelo this week.

Atlantic Panel Plan Is Adopted By Group As Year's Study

Launching into one of the most promising club seasons in the quarter century history of the organization, the Ozona Woman's Club will pay tribute to its past president in the opening program of the coming year September 24. Aim and effort of members preceding the season prophesy the "promising year."

Choice of the subject of study during the year has been the "Atlantic Panel Plan," which has been incorporated in the program of study outlined in the club year-book which is off the press this week. Civic and home-mindedness continue to be the key notes in the aim of the organization, which has scheduled for study this year such home and civic colored topics as health, government and art.

Six program dates have been set aside as "special" by the woman's body here and for those occasions the group has titled the programs, Past President's Day, Health and Parliamentary Programs, Christmas Program, Government and Texas Day and Art Day. Eight of the year's assembly

Sister He Had Not Seen In 29 Years Visits Geo. Bunger

While here visiting her brother, G. L. Bunger, whom she had not seen in twenty-nine years, Mrs. Henry Korte, of Metropolis, Illinois, declared that she liked West Texas very much.

It was the first time that the Ozonan's sister had been to West Texas. She was accompanied by her husband, and their two children, Miss Helen Korte and Chris Korte, of Chicago. The Illinois party arrived here last Thursday and left Ozona Monday.

The Ozona man, who had not seen his sister for almost a third of a century, has lived in Crockett County for thirty-eight years. He left his home in Illinois in March, 1889. Mr. Bunger came to Crockett County from Menard.

Giants Smack Iraan Crew 14-8 In Ragged Exhibition Contest

Slim Harriss, Ozona Giants set down the Iraan league team 14 to 8 in a ragged exhibition game here yesterday afternoon. Neither team had its full strength in the field and the afternoon was an exhibition of plenty of action in the way of hitting the ball and racing the bases.

Conley Cox, Ozona lad who made good with the oil field team as second sacker, started in the box for the Iraan crew in the exhibition game. Cox was literally knocked from the box in the fourth inning when a sizzling liner off the bat of Frank Russell caught him square on the shin bone of his left leg. Moore, Iraan southpaw first baseman, took up the hurling duties, and since the visitors came with only nine men and the bat boy, Fats Kyle, Giant utility man, finished out the game on the initial sack for the visitors.

2 Church Teams Gun For Pagans to Tie Softball Race

Each Slated for Contest Against High-Riding Rinkeydinks

Scheduled games on the local softball calendar terminate Friday afternoon on Ozona's jousting field when the touted Rinkeydink ten faces the Methodists and the umpire for the grand finale of the lily sport and then the game will be tendered back to the kids unless game moguls card a future schedule.

At least the game is in its twilight for in its last stages the sport has played second fiddle to an increasingly favorite pastime, that of forensics (the art of arguing).

For the fan's entertainment this afternoon and under the titling of "softball," two aggregations, the Baptist athletes and the Rinkeydink artists, will engage in exhibition. Interesting to spectators who will witness the fray this afternoon and the battle royal tomorrow afternoon and late in the night, is the fact that the high riding Rink ten only has to win one of the two battles, then the series, flag and cheers are all the property of the Rinkeydinkies.

The Figures Say

	P.	W.	L.	Pct.
Rinks	14	8	6	.571
Bapt.	15	7	8	.466
Meth.	15	7	8	.466

The Baptists hope for a conclusion of the games today and tomorrow along this line. The Baptists wanna win from the Rinks this p. m. "but that ain't all!" The Rinks have to lose to the Methodists in tomorrow's tilt also or else the standings will not end up with all three teams in a three-way, which is the best wind up obtainable for the two religious

Tourist Party Injured As Car Strikes Culvert

Family from New York Recuperating From Wreck Shake-Up

All occupants of the car were injured last Sunday night when the automobile of J. Wagner turned over fourteen miles west of here on the O. S. T. Highway No. 290 after a car had passed the Wagner family and caused a cloud of dust to hinder the view. The Wagner car struck a concrete curbing and overturned twice. Bascomb Cox brought the injured people to Ozona for treatment.

The injured were Mrs. and Mrs. J. Wagner, and their two sons, Kenneth and Warren, of New York City. Suffering the most severe injuries, Mrs. Wagner was treated for a deep laceration of the head, a painful cut in the knee and other minor cuts and bruises. Mr. Wagner was cut about the face and suffered a fractured hand. Kenneth, younger of the two boys, escaped with a deep cut in the forehead and minor bruises, and Warren sustained only minor bruises.

Travelling toward Ozona with the intentions of remaining here for the night, the New York City tourists were going home after a tour into the western states.

The car, a Pontiac, was completely demolished.

Injuries of the family sustained in the wreck last Sunday have necessitated their remaining here during the week.

Ozonans Enjoying Vacation In Calif.

In a letter from Woodland, California written a few days ago to A. W. Jones, Ozona, C. B. Hudspeth wrote that he and Mrs. Hudspeth and Mr. and Mrs. George Harrell were enjoying their visit to California. The Ozonans left here more than a month ago for a tour of some of the western states.

The Ozona party recently visited the Bullard Brothers ranch where registered Rambouillet sheep are raised. Mr. Hudspeth said that his health was much improved and that he and his party expected to return to their homes near here sometime in September.

TOUR WEST COAST

Touring the western coast and visiting in many of the western states are Mr. and Mrs. Cam Longley, Sr., Cole Longley, their son, and Josephine Longley, their daughter. The Ozonans attended the San Diego Exposition.

WILL ROGERS

A name that will become epochal in the annals of American life is being pronounced today in sad eulogy and while a mourning cortege bears the nation's best loved citizen to his bier, every contrite heart in America beats to the knell that echoes through the land and the hearts of the American people follow a friend to the grave America's jester is dead.

When stark tragedy on a northern wastland wrought finale to the "act" of the great showman, an audience of illimitable numbers suddenly hushed their laughing, for without warning, the curtains were drawn, the actor was gone, and the great "act" was over.

When the body of Will Rogers is carried to its resting place today and the last words of tribute have been spoken, one of the greatest of American lives will have been finished, finding a dwelling place in the Hall of the Great, where it has been appointed a place beside presidents. And there will be no greater nor no simpler life among them than that of the Oklahoma cowboy who made friend of monarch and beggar. He found a joy in living.

Silhouetted by world prominence, the life of Will Rogers is an embodiment of simplicity and unpretentious living, a life acknowledged by the world. He was the American "average boy" who made good, sold his wit for millions and gave his money to the poor. He was a philosopher of the first rank but people laughed at his language. As an actor, he only "changed clothes" for each new role, for the knew but one role, to be himself.

In the years to come when circles of men gather to speak of sagacity, of honesty and fairness, of friendliness or any of the virtues of a simple man, someone will mention the name of a great comedian who knew the trail called life better than any of his fellows and thus helped them along the way.

His knell is tolled today. He reached the end of the trail.

WEEK-END VISITORS

Visitors over the week-end with Mrs. William D. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Jones and Dempster Jones, were Mr. and Mrs. Jack Ransom and their two children, Clara Louise and Buddy, of San Angelo. Mrs. Ransom is the sister of Ralph and Dempster Jones and is the daughter of Mrs. William D. Jones.

Supervised Plan Of Study To Be Continued Here

Project Called Success In First Experiment Last Year

The supervised plan of study, which proved successful in the Ozona school system last year, will be in effect during the 1935-'36 session, Superintendent Denham announced yesterday.

Not altogether eliminating home study, the plan is highly efficient, the Ozona school head believes. Margin of home study is retained for the two classes of pupils who need such, the school man said. They are (1) those pupils who find it difficult to do average or above average work and (2) those pupils who desire to do excellent work. Under this plan the teacher does the teaching and not the parent, Denham said.

That the plan operated successfully last year, is shown by school records:

Only one pupil was retained out of the first four grades. There were only four subject failures in this division. In junior high school there were two subject failures and no retentions. In the eighth grade there were no failures and there was but one subject failure and one incomplete subject recorded in the ninth grade. Only two incomplete subjects and one subject failure were recorded in the tenth grade.

High school will be dismissed this year as last year at 4 o'clock. Junior high is dismissed at 3:30. The various elementary grades are turned out between 2 and 3 o'clock.

During the past eighteen months Miss Chapman has been a student in the American Conservatory of Music in Chicago. Previously the new pianist here had attended the Texas Woman's College at Fort Worth. For two years Miss Chapman taught private piano in Henderson.

Joe Haddon, Ozona school orchestra director and private instructor in the study of musical instruments, is expected to return to Ozona soon. He has not announced the location of his studio for the coming year. Haddon is local Scoutmaster also.

Dorothy Henderson has recovered from an operation a week ago for the removal of her tonsils. Dr. Sellers Moore performed the operation.

RITE OF BAPTISM

The impressive rite of baptism was celebrated in the Methodist Church last Sunday morning, Rev. W. W. Nunn, pastor of the church, officiating, the pastor reading the ritualistic ceremony of the church which says: "Suffer little children to come unto me, and forbid them not, for of such is the kingdom of God." The following little children received the holy rite: Charley Edward and Dixie Rebekah, son and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Davidson; Sarah Josephine, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Nolen; Lula, Floy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Friend; Rebekah, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bright Baggett.

SALOON POLICY

Our official friends, the Tax Collectors in Houston, Texas, confess that the collection of special taxes on liquor sellers is not easy—and that, not until they have alternately begged and threatened, is the tax paid. When, however, the grand jury "investigated," the gentlemen of the bar became frightened, and paid promptly, instead of procrastinating payment to suit their leisure. The situation is always peculiar. The saloon keeper knows that he has no "inherent" rights—and that his business may be abolished, without compensation—yet, rather than be abolished, he will submit to license—but he will not pay unless his business is granted special privilege over and above all immunities, covered by his license.

SATURDAY AFTERNOON'S EGG HUNT

Long before the hour arranged for the egg hunt last Saturday a great number of bright, happy little children began to gather around the park and when the east gate was thrown open as a signal for them to begin the hunt they set no time in scattering in every direction and now and then a shrill scream of delight announced the finding of one or more prettily colored Easter Eggs. It was a beautiful sight to watch the little tots as they scampered from place to place in search of the much coveted prizes, and before the hunt was over some big boys about the size of Dr. Holmesley, George Bunker, John Turner, Frank Holmeslye and Baylor Young were scrambling in the luxuriant grass for Easter Eggs, seemingly enjoying the fun as much as the little fellows. It was a gala occasion for the children and the good ladies of the W. C. T. U. were amply repaid for their trouble in the realization that they had provided entertainment that will be beneficial in after years to the younger citizenship.

A BRIGHT BOY

The story is going around about a football player in a small college who was unusual, dumb. To the surprise of everyone he passed all of his work, including the rather stiff chemistry course, thereby being eligible for the big game.

One of the instructors asked the chemistry professor how it was possible that he passed chemistry. The chemistry professor said: "I decided that I would let him pass if he answered 50% of the questions correctly."

"I asked him two questions—one he answered right. Therefore I let him pass."

"The first question was: 'What color is blue vitrol?' He answered, 'Pink.' That time he was wrong."

"The other question was: 'How do you make sulphuric acid?' He answered that he didn't know. That time he was right."

Two negro men were talking, one said: "Did you hear about Captain Jones shooting Rastus last night for being in his chicken coop?"

The other one replied, "Yes I heard about it—mighty bad, mighty bad, but it could have been worse, it could have been worse."

"I don't see how it could have been worse when it killed him."

"Yes, but if it had been the night before it would have been me."

Consideration "Would you like to take a nice long walk?" she asked. "Oh, yes, indeed," replied the young man rapturously. "Well, don't let me detain you."

PRETTY SWIM STAR

Pretty Katherine Rawls of M. Fla., shown at the National A. A. U. swimming and diving at Manhattan Beach, L. I. won a popular victory in winning the yard breast stroke championship.

The letter ended with this advice:

"Never pick up any hitch-hiker unless you know the party personally. Never stop your car to help anyone that is apparently injured at the side of the road, unless you see tangible evidence of the wreck that caused the injury. Never pick up a girl hitch-hiker, an old man, or even an old woman. They are all often simply decoys, the road is tough. There are thousands of young fellows who have had experiences that have turned them into the worst sort of criminals. You can't afford to trust any of them, regardless of their experiences, and I know anyone is a sucker to trust me."

The man most likely is wrong in his implication that any large number of hitch-hikers have criminal intentions as they give passing motorists "the thumb." But there are enough of this class to give reason for the motorist to suppress any impulse of generosity toward the ride-beggar.

Better Hold Off

"What's the matter, Mrs. Smith?"

Why our Johnnie has swallowed a cartridge and I don't dare wallop him for fear it'll go off."

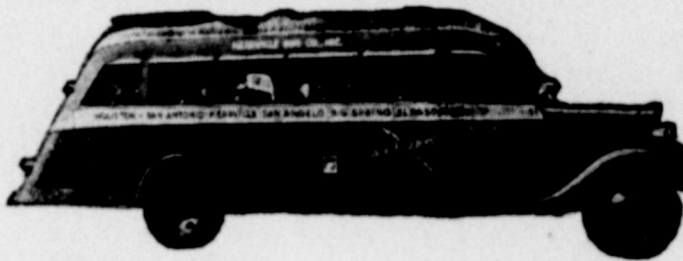

Gertie: "Well, I found out where my hubby has been spending his evenings."

Marie: "Blond or brunette?" Gertie: "No, I simply stayed home last night, and there he was."

A HITCH-HIKER'S ADVICE

Fort Worth Star-Telegram: The motorist who picks up a hitch-hiker runs the chance of being knocked on the head, robbed and left on the highway as the robber makes away with his car. Advice to drivers to be wary of this danger has been broadcast, but none of it seems more effective than that published in the Henderson Daily News and reprinted by the Houston Post. It is a warning from the hitch-hiker's side.

The Henderson paper published an account of an occurrence near that city in which a woman driver who picked up a thumber on the road, and on hearing the man's story of hard luck offered to lend him a dollar. The man accepted and, when a town was reached, got out of the car. A few days later the woman received a letter from the hitch-hiker saying that it was his intention to knock her on the head and steal her car, but that her kindness dissuaded him.

Royalist Victors Push Advantage After Crushing Uprising In Texas Province; Amnesty Granted To Few

Arredondo Ruthlessly Hunts Down Leaders Of Rebellion

AUSTIN, Texas, Aug. 21—The Battle of the Medina, fought on August 18, 1813, turned the revolutionists in Texas either into petitioners for mercy or into raiders dependent upon their own exertions for the very necessities of life. After the rout, the victorious Arredondo ruthlessly pushed his advantages. He confiscated the property of all persons even suspected of having aided the insurgents. He ordered the complete destruction of all settlements owing their origin to the illegal location of foreigners, seized all insurgent sympathizers not lucky enough to escape, and issued orders for the execution of all Spanish or foreign traders at Nacogdoches and for the arrest of all Napoleonic agents found in Texas. He thus hit at the roots of the various dangers the royalists had to guard against. First, he concentrated upon the rebels near at home, as will be shown by the translation of an interesting document in the Bexar Archives in the Library of The University of Texas—a letter written on October 10, 1813, by Joaquin Arredondo to Christobal Dominguez, Governor of Texas, as follows: "I am in receipt of the papers you enclose in your letter of today, forwarded by the natives of this province and of the town of Nacogdoches who are fugitives in the Neutral Ground. I am informed thereby that they are asking for pardon in order to return to their homes and live in peace and quiet with their families—a thing that is possible under the protection of the Spanish government.

Amnesty Granted
"By virtue of this, and believing them to be truly repentant for the horrible crimes they have committed, I have decided—by the authority vested in me in the name of His Majesty (may God protect him): to grant a general amnesty to all the inhabitants of this province who are subjects of the Spanish government and who are fugitives for the crime of rebellion. I do so on the condition that they shall present themselves at Nacogdoches, at Trinidad or in this capital within forty days, counting from the 25th of this month.

"In this way it will be manifest to the whole world that, just as we know to punish the enemies of our beloved sovereign, Ferdinand VII, with the sword, we likewise know how to show clemency to those who, because of deception or for any other reason, have taken part in the rebellion and who, in repentance, present themselves imploring pardon for their offenses. This pardon is granted under the following rules and exceptions: "Every person not excepted in this amnesty, shall have full pardon and shall be free to appear without any fear whatsoever before the judges or other persons at the head of affairs; they shall have complete enjoyment of favors from the governor of this province consequent upon the said amnesty.

Exceptions Listed

"The following persons are excepted from these rules as being unworthy of receiving any consideration; the perverse leaders, Bernardo Gutierrez, Jose Alvarez de Toledo, Francisco Arocha, Francisco Ruiz, Juan Beramendi, Cuesto Travieso, and the notorious and bloodthirsty Pedro Prado who, in addition to the atrocious crime he committed in beheading Colonel Simon de Herrera, Lieutenant-Colonel Manuel de Salcedo and the other victims sacrificed by the monstrous and inhuman being who executed them, presided over the infliction of this punishment. To these crimes he afterwards added still another. When he was fleeing from our territory he committed the crime of taking the life of his own son to whom his wife gave birth on the journey. He did not even allow him to be baptized and left his blood-stained body in the woods—a crime revolting to nature itself. This devilish and inhuman man also abandoned his wife and his other children. These men are therefore excluded from the provisions of this amnesty because they are responsible for the deaths named above.

"The foreigners, Samuel Davenport, Bernardo Dortolan and Pedro Girard, are also excepted from the terms of this amnesty, because they are men who have made themselves unworthy of all considerations of mercy by the ingratitude shown for the benevolence with which the Spanish government had treated them. They abused the good faith under which they were admitted and recognized as subjects by the most generous Spanish monarch. For this reason, they are prescribed along with those mentioned in article number two. This being the case, any native citizen may kill them with impunity, being assured at the same time that, instead of punishing them, the government will reward those who perform this act in the following manner:

"Any person who shall kill the first two leaders, Gutierrez and Toledo, mentioned under article number two are excepted and shall give proof of having performed the execution, shall receive five hundred pesos award. If they shall present them alive either to this government or to the judges under its jurisdiction, their reward shall be increased. If this same deed is performed with reference to any others of those included in articles numbers two and three those performing it shall be rewarded with this amount.

Foreigners Offered Reward
"This amnesty or pardon also includes under its rules and terms all foreign subjects of the King of Spain who previously resided in this province but who are now fugitives because of the last insurrection.

"Every foreigner, whether a subject of the Spanish government or not, who shall kill either of the leaders mentioned in articles two or three, shall receive five hundred pesos and shall be admitted in to this province if they are Catholics. Those who are not, shall receive half as much reward. If they shall present any of the said leaders alive, they shall, in addition to the five hundred pesos, receive land which they may own and cultivate with rights of proprietorship the same as if they were Spaniards.

"I am giving you this information in reply to your letter, in order that you may publish it as a proclamation in the province under your command for its due execution."

Arredondo thus succeeded in infusing fear in the insurgents. He still had the fear of danger from the machinations of Napoleonic agents facing him, though danger from this source was diminishing. Napoleon was far too busy in Europe to take any very active part across the seas. However, the poisonous propaganda had been spread and the authorities in America had to take cognizance thereof.

D. 1935, in a suit, numbered on the docket of said Court as No. 638, wherein Gladys Herrick is Plaintiff and Frank H. Herrick is Defendant, and a brief statement of Plaintiff's Cause of Action, being as follows:

Now comes Gladys Herrick, who resides in Crockett County, Texas, hereinafter called Plaintiff, complaining of Frank H. Herrick, whose residence is to this defendant unknown, hereinafter called Defendant; and for cause of action, Plaintiff represents to the Court that she is and has been for a period of twelve months prior to exhibiting the petition herein an actual bona fide inhabitant of the State of Texas, and has resided in the said County of Crockett for at least six months next preceding the filing of this suit; that on or about the 5th day of May, A. D. 1935 in Sutton County, Texas Plaintiff was lawfully married to Defendant, then a single man by the name of Frank H. Herrick, and that they continued to live together as husband and wife until on or about the 28th day of May, A. D. 1935, when by reason of the cruel and harsh treatment and improper conduct of defendant toward Plaintiff, she was forced and compelled to permanently abandon him, since which time they have not lived together as husband and wife; Plaintiff further alleges that she was kind and affectionate to him and always administered to his needs and desires by a dutiful wife should, but defendant unkind and harsh treatment and obligations of his marital vows, immediately after said marriage began a course of harsh treatment toward this Plaintiff, which continued until the Plaintiff was forced to abandon him, that Defendant was constantly drunk and often cursed and abused Plaintiff and applied to her vile epithets, without any cause or provocation whatever on the part of this Plaintiff and Defendant never at any time contributed anything to the support of this Plaintiff, that said marriage relations between the Plaintiff and Defendant still exist; that her name prior to said marriage was Gladys Thornberry.

Wherefore, Plaintiff prays the Court that Defendant be cited to appear and answer herein and for judgment dissolving said marriage relations and giving the name Gladys Thornberry, for cost of suit, and for such other and further relief, special and general, in law and in equity, and that she may be justly entitled to, etc.

NOBODY'S BUSINESS BY JULIAN CAPERS JR.

Austin, Aug. 21—Some real political fireworks is scheduled to be set off in Texas soon after adjournment of congress, when a house investigating committee from Washington will hold hearings in Dallas in connection with the congressional probe of lobbying.

At that time the committee plans to go thoroly into the matter of lobbying to death of bills introduced in the Texas legislature's last session to tax chain stores. Already, in Washington, the committee has brought out letters from former State Sen. Geo. Purl of Dallas, chief lobbyist for the chain group in the southwest, which are likely to cause sleepless nights for some political figures in Texas, who are mentioned by name. The chain store tax was one of Gov. Allred's platform demands, and he sent the question up to the 44th legislature soon after it convened. Both the administration bill, and another similar bill offered from the floor of the house, died in the legislative jam.

Purl wrote boastful letters to the head of the national chain-store lobby, telling what purported to be the inside story of how the bills were defeated. His letters may embarrass some of his friends, and ought to give the people some idea of how certain politicians spend their time during sessions of the legislature.

The current congressional lobby investigation is due to have reverberations in at least two Texas congressional districts, possibly more. Rep. Sam Rayburn, sponsor of much new deal legislation, including the utilities bill, in the national house, and representative of the Bonham district, has informed Texas friends here, they say, that he will accept the challenge of utility interests of Texas to defeat him and will return to his home district immediately after congress adjourns, to begin campaigning. Rayburn is a fine campaigner, and if the utility people offer a candidate against him, as has been rumored for weeks, that candidate is going to take on a man's size job.

Rep. Nat Patton, self-styled "dumbest man in the United States," central figure in the cigar-box angle of the national lobby probe, is going to have opposition as a result of that incident, reports here. The grapevine into Austin says that Gordon Burns of Huntsville, is studying the reaction to Rep. Patton's recent national publicity, in his home district, and is not unwilling for the lightning to strike him. If he should run against "Cousin Nat," Rep. "Slow" Daniel, of Crockett, is probably not averse to moving up to Burns' senate seat. Daniel is a popular member of the house, and is regarded by his colleagues here as a competent and level-headed legislator.

Summertime—

"busted" bronc riders to inflate the accident total.

Enough rain fell during the summer days to make the cynical minded lose their guess and some their bets but not enough to satisfy some who expect an India monsoon season every year and go on having a drouth on their place right through a seven-inch fall or more. The Joe Oberkamp gauge showed 6.33 inches during the three months and August isn't over.

If it wasn't for the ice man and the electric fan, lots of people would bundle up and go on vacations as soon as school was out. C. B. Beil, Ozona's ice man, kept the city alive during the summer months. He manufactured at the West Texas Utilities plant half a million pounds of ice (more or less). Mr. Beil doesn't have to be sentimental to like the song, "In the good ole summertime."

Not only during the summer months but for the past twenty-years, George Davis has been pumping water from the hill top for Ozonans to use. During the summer just gone by, he pumped 12,000,000 gallons of water and Ozona folk used it every bit trying to quench their thirst, washing their face and watering the garden. Those who owed for last summer's bill let the sun have the lawn (and that didn't pay last summer's water bill either).

Blistered backs, hours of perspiration while "toiling" for the wife and kiddies, lost ambitions, skinned shins, pocketbooks with only a stamp and somebody's address whom you met at Idleville, they are slight reminders of a summertime, but they don't mar the summer gone for Crockett people or any other people.

Ozonans and other folk soon will be turning the pages for football schedules, writing cards to friends where they vacationed in June and thanking them for the "nice time," looking over the fall tweeds, and burning midnight oil over Johnny's decimal problems.

Soon into the moth balls go the bathing togs, linen trousers, straw toppers and the white shoes. Summer souvenirs are dunked into the trunk. Before the last tid bit is put away, a post card is found. It is read and placed with the rest, and the last glance at the summer's remnants begets a light tune, thirty summers old or more:

"In the good ole summertime"—

Approaching Wedding Of Miss Willie V. Coose And James Baggett On Sept. 3 Announced At Informal Tea Here Friday

Announcement of the approaching marriage of Miss Willie V. Coose and James Baggett on September 3 was made at an informal tea given Friday afternoon by Mrs. Sherman Taylor at the home of her mother, Mrs. W. E. Smith. About 80 guests called during the tea hours from 4 to 6.

Mrs. Taylor welcomed the guests at the door and others in the receiving line were Mrs. W. E. Smith, Miss Coose, Mrs. Charlie Coates, Mrs. J. M. Baggett, Mrs. Jerry Pace, Mrs. Miller Robinson, and Misses Esther Kate Pierce, Dorothy Henderson, and Vicky Pierce.

Misses Carolyn Montgomery and Louise Henderson presided over the bride's book of white satin with decorated pages which was made by Mrs. Mahlon Robertson. Musical numbers were given throughout the afternoon by Mrs. Jack Holt and Miss Bernice Bailey at the piano and Miss Tommy Smith and Mrs. H. B. Tandy sang several selections.

The rooms were arranged with bowls of flowers carrying out the bride-to-be's chosen colors of lavender and white, including dahlias, asters, water lilies and cape jasmine.

The tea table was laid with an embroidered cloth of white linen and the centerpiece was of lavender and white asters in a silver bowl on a reflector. Silver holders carried white tapers. Presiding at the table were Mrs. Joe Pierce and Mrs. Fred Deaton. Tiny asters in the chosen colors were plate favors and the announcement was made on cards on the plates. Others assisting in the dining room were Misses Elizabeth Coose, Lillian and Posey Baggett.

Others in the house party were Mrs. Massie West, Miss Mildred North and Miss Mary Bess Parker.

The bride-to-be is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Steve Coose. She is a graduate of the Ozona High School, finishing with the class of 1933. James Baggett is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Monroe Baggett. He is also a graduate of Ozona High School. He is associated with his father in the ranching business in this county.

gress Administration to move from the relief rolls the maximum number of persons in the shortest time possible. He urged that applications for projects be made at once so that employables now on the relief rolls could be given employment as soon as possible to get them off direct relief, soon to be discontinued.

A. F. Moursund, division engineer for the state highway department, and F. W. Callahan, district PWA engineer, outlined activities of their departments. Mr. Moursund predicted early activity on a comprehensive road building program in West Texas.

There were thirty-six persons present for the luncheon staged at the Hotel Ozona. A number of local persons, interested in the discussions were present. C. S. Denham, superintendent of schools, delivered the welcome address.

clubs. So if the Baptist athletes win this p. m. and the Methodists athletes win tomorrow, each of the teams will be left with a .500 percentage. A loss by either of the religionists will boost the Rinks into the championship.

Last Thursday the Baptists lost to the Methodists 5 to 6 and rounded out a straight five game losing spree. Friday the Baptists eked a win by the same score from the Rinkeydinks, the Rinkeydinks won from the Methodists Monday, 16 to 14, and Tuesday the Baptists out-talied the Methodists 13 to 8 and thus left the standings today with the religious clubs tied and the Rinks on top.

More than likely tomorrow's game will not be the swan song for the sport here, even if the pagans win, as those who sit in the swivel chair in the local softball set-up will arrange more games, probably.

Planning to visit with Mr. Watt's mother, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Watts and children, Ernestine, Janice and C. J., Jr., left Ozona Friday for Lincoln, Nebraska.

7 Amendments—

No. 2 on the ballot provides that the legislature may provide for the temporary commitment of mentally ill persons not charged with criminal offense by the county court, without the necessity of jury trial.

Proposed amendment No. 3 is perhaps the most controversial of the seven, that which would repeal the state-wide prohibition laws.

No. 4 on the list would make it possible for the legislature to propose constitutional amendments at special sessions. These can only be proposed at regular sessions now.

Amendment No. 5 on the ballot would authorize the courts to place defendants on probation.

Another of the amendments that is getting some attention is that which would abolish the fee system of compensating all district officers and county officers in counties having a population of 20,000 or more and making the system of compensating county officers in smaller counties optional with the commissioners courts.

The last of the proposed amendments is another which has created widespread discussion. It would permit the furnishing of free text books to all children of scholastic age in the state, whether they attend public school or private schools, and changing the method of allotting the state scholastic apportionment, presumably on attendance record rather than on scholastic population.

DORLEY TO CONTINUE AS SCHOOL CUSTODIAN

Custodian of the high school and grade schools here last year, Carl Dorley will retain the maintenance position again this year. The custodian employs a keeper and is in charge of all three of the school buildings.

Superintendent Denham and many school patrons have called attention to the present beauty of the school lawns and the splendid condition of the flowers and shrubbery.

Falling from his horse here Tuesday morning, Harold Keeton, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Keeton, suffered a broken arm. The arm, broken near the wrist, was placed in a cast.
