The final adjustments in valuations was made by the board in conference with representatives of various oil companies and the West Texas Utilities Company, whose values were raised by the board in previous sessions.

The West Texas Utilities Company, which suffered the heaviest raise in values of any of the companies, had its representatives here to confer with the board and as a result of negotiations the final valuation as placed on Utilities Company properties in this county was $179,670. The company's rendition had previously been raised from $123,300 to $300,000.

Alleged Forger Caught At Pecos

Emmett Mapes Charged With Forging Brother's Name

Emmett Mapes is in the Crockett County jail charged with forgery and passing a forged instrument in connection with the passing of a check for $50 at the Ramirez Bros. Boot Shop here. The name of Mapes' brother, foreman on the Suggs Ranch, was signed to the check, which Mapes tendered in payment for a pair of boots from the local shop, according to Sheriff W. S. Willis.

Mapes was arrested last Friday in Pecos, Texas, where he was held for Sheriff Willis. He was brought back here and at an examining trial held Saturday his bond was fixed at $500, which he had not furnished yesterday.

The charge against Mapes will be investigated by the grand jury at the next term of court.

Two new subscribers have been added to The Stockman list in the past week. They are E. H. Webb, proprietor of the Ozona Fruit and Vegetable Store, and Mrs. E. H. Gallenkamp. Polo Sanchez handed in his renewal check this week for another year.

Baptists In Session Here Advocate Continuance Of 18th Amendment And Pledge Militant Drive In Support

Deploring the lax attitude of many Christian people toward the enforcement of the laws against the liquor traffic as contributing to the present sentiment toward prohibition, the Workers Conference of the Pecos Valley Baptist Association, meeting here Tuesday, went on record in a ringing resolution advocating the continuance of the Eighteenth Amendment and the Volstead Act, and pledging a militant campaign in support of same.

The more than a hundred messengers representing some 3300 Baptists, heartily and unanimously adopted the resolution which was presented by Rev. S. F. Marsh of Odessa, pledging themselves to see that the resolution is presented to every church in the Association, and that each newspaper in the twelve counties be requested to publish the same as the avowed sentiment of a large section of their several constituencies. The text of the resolution follows: "Whereas:

"All the moral issues involved in the matter of temperance and the use of intoxicating liquors are brought to a crisis by the present attitude of the major political parties toward the Eighteenth Amendment and the Volstead Act; and

"We confess that in considerable measure the present lax attitude of much of the public toward intemperance and law enforcement is due to a lack of vigilance and moral earnestness of the churches during the past decade; therefore be it

"Resolved: "That this Workers Conference of the Pecos Valley Baptist Association recall our Christian people to be innocent of the use of all intoxicating liquors, and lead themselves earnestly to the creation of a sentiment for the support of all officers in the enforcement of all laws and of the prohibition laws in particular; and be it further

"Resolved: "That since from the infancy of our Republic until the present day, the liquor traffic has consistently violated every law that has ever been passed for its regulation or restraint, we place not the slightest confidence in any promise or prospect that this traffic would observe, reverence, or obey any new laws or changes of our present laws that might be made for its regulation or control; and be it further

"Resolved: "That we reaffirm our allegiance to the Eighteenth Amendment and the Volstead Act as the best method yet devised for the curbing of this terrible scourge of mankind; and be it finally

"Resolved: "That we call upon our people to give earnest consideration to this matter in the several ensuing elections and pledge ourselves to the support of only such candidates, regardless of party alignment, who by their utterances and records have proven themselves to be unequivocally for the continuance and enforcement of the present laws against the liquor traffic, that this blatant Goliath, cursing in the name of his false gods may be forever banished from the earth.

Unanimously approved by the Pecos Valley Workers Conference, representing twenty-one Baptist Churches composed of 3300 members.

BALL CLUB ON OUTING

The Ozona Baseball Club was host to players on the 1932 Ozona Giants and a number of invited guests on a fishing trip and outing to the Pecos River near Pandale over the week-end. There were nearly 40 persons in the camp Sunday. The party left Saturday afternoon and returned Monday. They reported fishing good and the outing most enjoyable.

Raymond Lawrence was a week end visitor to San Angelo.

Over 100 Here At Baptist Meeting

2-Day Workers' Conference Is Largely Attended

Gathering from a large section of West Texas more than 100 messengers were present at the Workers' Conference of the Pecos Valley Baptist Association held with the First Baptist Church of this city Monday night and Tuesday.

Out-of-town messengers were entertained in local homes Monday night while an old-time dinner was spread for all present at the church Tuesday.

Rev. Ira Harrison of Sanderson preached Monday night, using for his theme "The Call of Moses," showing how God calls people for definite tasks. In the Tuesday session the morning sermon was preached by the Rev. E. E. Dawson of Balmorhea on the subject, "Anchors for the Soul." He pictured four anchors that had held him in the storms of life, namely, faith in one's self, the call of God, the joy of serving, and faith in God.

Others taking part in Tuesday's discussions were R. W. Smith of Odessa, chairman of the executive board of the association, Rev. W. J. Rushing of Iraan, Rev. Leon Frazier of Fort Stockton, Missionary J. A. Kidd of Pecos, and Rev. N. L. Range of McCamey.

"It was a great meeting and a signal blessing to our church," was the statement of Rev. M. M. Fulmer, pastor of the host church.

Streets Included In Paving Plans

Surfacing Contracts Call For Closing Present Gaps

Grading and drainage of Powell Avenue from the edge of the city to the intersection with the Old Spanish Trail highway at Broadway, a six-blocks stretch not included in the original grading and drainage contract on the Ozona-Barnhart highway will be taken care of in the contract for application of caliche base on the first unit of the highway from Ozona toward Barnhart, Exline Martin, resident engineer for the state highway department here, says.

Likewise, a short stretch of city streets not included in the contract recently awarded for grading and drainage of the first 9 miles west from Ozona on Highway 27 will also be included in the surfacing contract on that stretch of road, the engineer declared.

A committee from the Ozona Lions Club was appointed Monday to confer with highway officials with a view to bringing about some temporary repair work on Powell Avenue from the business section to the south end of the new grade. Huge chug holes and bad drainage on the street were the object of criticism and it was felt that in the event award of the surfacing contract on that part of the road was considered distant that the highway department might agree to do some temporary repair work to put the street in better condition.

Olympic Hope

When final Olympic trials are held in California, Elmer "Bulldog" Gray of Abilene Christian college, Abilene, Texas, will be the Lone Star state's foremost bid for glory. A sensation in his conference for 4 years, Gray became a contender for the Olympic team this year when he bettered the national collegiate meet record for the 880 yard run in Chicago, winning his preliminary heat in 1:53.2. His home is at Roscoe.

Pasteurized Milk Possibility Here

Mike Couch Will Install Equipment If People Want It

Negotiations looking to the installation of equipment for pasteurizing milk sold by the Mike Couch Sanitary Dairy have been opened with companies handling this equipment and a salesman for one of the companies will be here within the next few days for the purpose of examining the Couch dairy and making an estimate on the cost of installation of this modern equipment.

Mr. Couch started an investigation of the possibilities of pasteurization for Ozona's milk supply following a conference with Dr. F. T. McIntire, who recommended the process as the only sure method of making milk absolutely safe for human consumption. Mr. Couch had contemplated installation of pasteurizing equipment as the final step in perfecting a strictly modern dairy for Ozona.

Pasteurizing equipment is comparatively expensive and for that reason Mr. Couch is asking for an expression from the people of this territory before he finally decides the question.

"If the people want pasteurized milk, I will install the necessary equipment," Mr. Couch said. "But the machinery is too expensive for a small business to undertake unless it has the united support of the entire community. Now, if Ozona people want an absolutely safe and pure milk supply, I am ready to make it possible but before I undertake such a venture I must have assurance of adequate support."

Ozona Lions Help Send Cowboy Band To Cal. Convention

Donation of $5 toward a fund to send the Cowboy Entertainers, Lions Club band of San Angelo, to the International Lions Clubs convention in Los Angeles this month was made by the Ozona Club at its luncheon Monday noon.

Clubs of Texas are being asked to make small donations to this fund to send the band to the convention, with International President Julien C. Hyer of Fort Worth, Texas. The musical organization played an important part in the International Convention in Toronto, Canada, last year and was chosen the official band of the International organization.

Members of the organization have played in Ozona on two occasions, their programs being greatly enjoyed here.

Miss Ruth Priest of Ward, Arkansas, is the guest of Miss Annie Lee on the Pat Lee ranch in this county. She will be here the balance of the week.

Foreman Of Todd Ranch Drops Dead

R. Lee Perkins Victim Of Heart Attack At Ranch Monday

Riley Lee Perkins, foreman on the J. S. Todd ranch in Crockett County for the past nine years, fell from his horse about 9:30 Monday morning and was dead before a companion, also employed on the ranch, could reach him. His death was attributed to a heart attack.

Mr. Perkins had suffered from heart trouble for a number of years and lately had developed high blood pressure. He had not complained, however, Monday morning before starting out on his ranch duties, but members of the family said that they had noted an unusual flush about his face the last several days.

Mr. Perkins and Joe Segose, another employe on the ranch, had started out to ride the range Monday morning and were in a pasture some distance from the ranch house when Mr. Perkins was seized. An ambulance was summoned from Ozona and the Joe Oberkamp ambulance, with Dr. F. T. McIntire accompanying, drove to the ranch, making the 27-mile drive, part of it over rough ranch roads, in approximately 25 minutes.

The body was brought here where it was prepared for burial and was sent Tuesday to Big Lake and from there was sent by train to Boynton, Okla., where funeral services will be conducted probably today.

Mr. Perkins was born September 2, 1878, in Brownwood, Texas, and was 53 years old, 10 months and 9 days old at the time of his death. He had been foreman on the Todd ranch in this county nine years, coming here from Oklahoma. He and another employe on the Todd ranch also operated in partnership a 22-section ranch near Big Lake. He is survived by his widow and several brothers and sisters.

Van Zandt Urges Buy-At-Home Move

Utilities Co. Manager Urges Support Of Local Business

The practice of a few Ozona folk of buying merchandise and service from out-of-town concerns when the same merchandise or service can be bought at home was deplored in a talk before the Lions Club Monday by V. Van Zandt, local manager for the West Texas Utilities Company.

Mr. Van Zandt, who was recently transferred here from Santa Anna, declared that he had paid a visit to Ozona's laundry a few days ago and found it to be on a par with any he had seen.

"However, I see a San Angelo laundry wagon here nearly every day," he said. "That wagon must be getting some business or it would not continue to come. That little laundry is a big asset to this town; its operators make their home here and spend their money here. They are entitled to the support of this community." The speaker then related an experience of a West Texas town that lost its own laundry and subjected itself to the inconvenience of sending laundry out of town by patronizing out-of-town wagons.

Mr. Van Zandt praised the business service offered by Ozona's merchants and urged that a campaign be started to foster a buy-at-home spirit. He urged that where an item could not be found in a local store that the merchant be allowed to order the item and he offered to wager that the price would be the same laid down in Ozona as one could buy the same item on his own order.

The utilities company manager also called attention to the practice

T. A. KINCAID RESIGNS AS ASSN. HEAD

"Financial Condition" Is Given As Reason For Decision

SERVING 8TH TERM

Roger Gillis, Vice President Asked To Take Charge Of Body

In a letter dated July 9 and addressed to Roger Gillis of Del Rio, vice president of the Sheep and Goat Raisers Association of Texas, T. A. Kincaid of Ozona, serving his eighth consecutive term as president of the association, tendered his resignation from the office and asked that a meeting of the executive committee be called immediately to accept the resignation.

His "financial condition" was given by Mr. Kincaid as the reason for his decision to resign from the post he has held for so many years. Copies of the letter were mailed to each member of the executive committee.

Acceptance or rejection of the president's resignation will rest with the executive committee. In the event the committee accepts the resignation, Mr. Gillis will succeed from the office of vice president to acting president and will direct affairs of the association until the next annual convention when officers will be elected for the following year.

Mr. Kincaid's letter to Mr. Gillis follows:

July 9th, 1932.
"Mr. Roger Gillis, Vice Pres., Sheep & Goat Raisers' Assn., Del Rio, Texas.

"Dear Sir:
"On account of my financial condition, I feel it would be an injustice to the Sheep & Goat Raisers' Association of Texas and to myself to serve as President of the Association under these circumstances.

"I therefore hand you herewith my resignation as President of the Association, said resignation to become effective immediately.

"I further suggest that you call the Executive Committee together immediately and take over the affairs.

"Yours very truly,
T. A. Kincaid.

Thomason Here Meeting Voters

Congressman Seeking Second Term Representing West Tex.

R. E. Thomason of El Paso, Congressman from this district, was here this morning in the interest of his campaign for a second term as representative of the people of this area in the national House of Representatives.

Mr. Thomason has just come from Washington, where he has been busy in the recent session of Congress. His time for campaigning for a second term in office has been cut short by his duties in Washington but he plans to make an effort to cover the district in the few remaining days before the first primary election.

Mr. Thomason is opposed for a second term by Dan Jackson of El Paso, who for the past nine years has held office in Washington under Republican administration appointment. Mr. Thomason has the unqualified support of some of the largest newspapers in the district and observers have prophesied him a sure winner over his opponent.

"I have stayed on the job in Washington and have given the best of my ability for the people of West Texas and I believe I am entitled to a second term," Congressman Thomason declared here.

POLITICAL "GUESSES" COST PUBLIC DEARLY

According to L. A. Downs, President, Illinois Central System, some bad guessing in 1913 has cost the people of the United States approximately $185,000,000
The guessing was embodied in the Railway Valuation Act.

The proponents of the Act guessed that the railroads could be valued in two years; that the total cost would be less than $3-000,000; that the railroads would be shown to be greatly overcap-italized; that the government would be able to regulate rates
so as to yield the railroads a fair return; that the users of transportation would save around $1-000,000 a day.

Still quoting Mr. Downs, the corresponding facts, produced in the past 18 years, are: The valuation has not been completed; cost to taxpayers has been more than $40,000,000 and to railroads $145-000,000—a cost which has necessarily been reflected in railroad rates; the value of the lines has been determined as substantially greater than their capitalization;
the railroads have not earned a fair return, and are now one of the most depressed of all businesses; no public saving has resulted.

Political "guesses" are expensive for the taxpayers, not the "guessers." One wonders if those who are now guessing at the cost of new governmental activities are as uninformed on costs as the advocates of the Valuation Act in 1913.

YOUR NEWSPAPER

The following was taken from a circular sent to retail merchants by a large wholesale house: "The value of your local newspaper to the success of your business cannot be overestimated. It's worth all the support and cooperation you can give it.
For the newspaper is a mirror reflecting the life of the community in which you and your store have an important part. Your advertisement is the reflection of your store in this mirror. Everybody sees it there. If it is not there, the mirror is dark where your store should be. You are there but you cannot be seen. Your store is open for business as usual, but 'Out of sight; out of mind.' To keep in step with the progress of your community; to get your share of business, you must advertise regularly. Take your newspaper publisher into your confidence; he can give you invaluable assistance. Establish an advertising budget. Plan a regular schedule for your advertisements. It's a policy that is followed by the most successful stores; it's an idea that will be profitable for you."—Stillwater, Minnesota, Gazette.

SCANDALS

By THE TOWN GOSSIP

If this depression lasts another two years, the election ballots will have to be wound in rolls. Somebody then will have to invent a machine where voters can insert the rolled ballot in one end, turn a crank as they vote and drop in the voted roll.

The primary ballot this year is as long as a well rope and goodness knows how big the general election ballot will be, what with new parties and new tickets springing up on every hand.

If the people of the United States want something different, and it looks from this angle like they really need something different, maybe they should give the communists or the socialists or Jim Ferguson's defunct party a chance. Jim, of course, is too busy just now trying to get towed into the governor's chair via the apron strings to pay much attention to his "American Party" but he may be so mad at the Democrats again after they swamp him a week from Saturday that he will take his allied "hip pocket vote," petticoats and all and organize himself another one-man party.

They are saying now that the fellow who started this wheeze about prosperity being just around the corner worked in a roundhouse.

This year's elections have brought forth a host of promising candidates. In fact, there are no other kind.

Men are funny animals. A Nebraskan who hadn't kissed his wife in a year whipped an iceman who had.

When writing love letters to your girl, it's always a measure of precaution to begin—"My dear sweetheart and Gentlemen of the Jury."

"What's the idea of all the crowd at the church," someone asked.

"There's a traveling salesman here confessing his sins."

Remember this, boys, a girl may love you from the bottom of her heart, but there's always room for some other guy at the top.

AN AMERICAN TRAGEDY

Perhaps the most tragic figure in the world today is not the exiled King of Spain or the dethroned Kaiser mourning for the lost glories of the Hohenzollerns, but the man who only a few weeks ago was the head of the greatest light and power industry in the world and who today is penniless except for a small pension. Stripped of his power and his property, with all of his private means and those of his family gone in the effort to save his great power combine from collapse, Samuel Insull, at seventy-four, is going to return to his native England, to spend his few remaining years on a pension of $18,000 a year. $6,000 from each of the three of the corporations which he formerly dominated.

There have been violent differences of opinion about Mr. In-sull's business methods and ethics.
There never has been any difference of opinion about his enormous energy and his business genius. Born in England of Jewish parents, he got his first employment as a stenographer in the London office of Mr. Edison's very young electric light company. His reports to Mr. Edison were so intelligently phrased that the inventor sent for him to come to America as his personal secretary. That was more than fifty years ago.

The collapse of the Insull Empire is of slight consequence. The power companies which he established and amalgamated will continue to do business and doubtless to develop along the lines of his vision. And at seventy-four it probably is not a serious matter to have only $18,000 a year to live on. It has been a terrible blow, however, to the man's pride, and entitles him to everybody's sympathy. At the same time, he is entitled to a word of praise for his honorable conduct in sacrificing his personal fortune rather than remain himself enriched at the expense of the investors in his securities.

Mr. and Mrs. Massie West left the first of the week for San Angeles where they will place their small daughter, Joyce, in a hospital for care while she is recovering from a recent illness.

BOOM TEXAS CENTENNIAL

"The proposed Amendment to the State Constitution, to authorize an official celebration of the 100th anniversary of Texas' Independence in 1936, should carry overwhelmingly at the polls next November.

"The Texas Press Association
gave that opinion in resolutions adopted at its latest annual convention, in Mineral Wells.

"Practically every civic body that has met in Texas recently has gone on record similarly; and not a dissenting voice has been heard from any quarter.

"Of course, just now the citizen is more concerned about reducing governmental expenses and obtaining much-needed tax relief than about any other public question.

"Still, he should bear in mind that adoption of this amendment would not impose any new tax.

"It is purely an enabling act, conferring certain authority upon the Legislature.

"Should a majority of the lawmakers consider it unwise to hold a Texas Centennial Exposition in 1936, they would be under no compulsion to act contrary to that judgment.

"On the other hand, sponsors of the program confidently expect that better times will come before 1936, and that Texans will desire to profit by this exceptional opportunity to promote the State's industrial and cultural development."—San Antonio News.

STRANGER THAN FICTION

Was there ever such a complicated, unsolved mystery plot outside of the pages of a detective novel than the Lindbergh tragedy and its ramifications have developed into?

The kidnapping itself was sufficiently horrifying. The discovery weeks later that the little boy had been ruthlessly murdered was one of the most gruesome shocks
the American people have ever received. The subsequent discoveries of attempts to profit from the grief of the agonized parents make one wonder whether there is any such thing as honor or decency left in the world. The total failure of Federal, state and local authorities to get any tangible evidence of the identity of the criminals is almost beyond belief.

When the suicide of the servant girl in the Morrow household, who took poison rather than face another inquiry by the police, adds still another touch of mystery and tragedy to the whole affair.

When the whole truth is known, if it ever becomes known, the plain, unadulterated, straightforward story of the Lindbergh affair will take its place with the classics of detective fiction.

Is Being Weighed In the Balance Its Future Depends On You!

As other changes in business methods have come about through economic changes in recent years, so has a new era arrived in the method of administration of credit policies. Back in the days of inflated prosperity, everybody had money and it didn't matter particularly if bills were not paid promptly when due—there was enough money in circulation to keep business going while the merchant waited for others of his customers to pay their bills. Credit losses during those times did not make a deep dent in business' finances for turn-over was rapid, money was plentiful and credit easy.

But things are different now. Merchants are doing business on a smaller margin of profit than ever before. Stocks are turning slower than ever in history. Credit for retail business is non-existent and even the largest stores are doing business on the narrowest margin of reserve. Volume has fallen off and profits have dwindled.

As a consequence of such a situation, those merchants who operate under the credit system must do so under the strictest rule of promptness. Even were they inclined to do so, it would be impossible for them to revert nowadays to the old method of long-time credit. Their bills to the wholesaler must be paid promptly as always. In fact, wholesalers are like retailers now and their very existence likewise depends on prompt collections.

The convenience of credit can no longer be abused and continue to be available. Merchants have no choice if they are to stay in business. Even though you know in your own mind that you intend to pay your account, if it is overdue you are using another person's money without consulting him about it and he probably needs it worse than you do.

Consider your merchant's side of the question. Perhaps your account is small and the amount involved is not enough to amount to much in the merchant's operating capital. But consider the fact that hundreds of other small accounts like yours do amount to something in the merchant's business. What if all of these hundreds owing small accounts should reach the same conclusion you did, wouldn't it amount to a whole lot in the merchant's business? Every account, large or small, must be treated alike—prompt payment of them all must be demanded if business is to continue.

Your merchant can not carry your overdue account. Present-day financial conditions make it impossible. Don't jeopardize your credit, then, through procrastination or neglect. Pay your bills on the day they are due. Live within your income and do not embarrass yourself or your merchant by asking for further extension of credit if your last month's bill has not been paid. A calm consideration of the present situation will convince you that whatever the merchant's personal wishes might be in the matter, he cannot carry your delinquent account. Your merchant needs your co-operation and understanding now like he has never needed it before.

The business life of Ozona depends on you. If you spend your cash out of town and ask your merchant to credit you beyond his means, you are sapping the very life out of your town. Spend your money in Ozona; let's put aside personalities in times like these and put our shoulders to the wheel of community survival and ultimate progress and prosperity. Let's all pull together.

run, but not by an American, instead by that great athlete, Paavo Nurmi, of Finland. His time was 30 m., 18 4-5 s.

It wasn't an American who established in 1928 the new record for the 110 meter hurdles. It was a South African, Weightman-Smith. His time, made during a trial heat, was 14 3-5 s.

In Field Events

The Olympic record for the running broad jump was made by an American in Amsterdam in 1928. The record holder for the event is Edward B. Hamm. He jumped 25 feet, 4 3-4 inches.

The Olympic record for the pole vault is also held by an American, Sabin W. Carr, who in Amsterdam cleared the bar at 13 feet, 9 3-8 inches. Now 13 feet, 9 3-8 inches is high to be sure but in California they have been known to vault higher. The world's record for the pole vault is held by Lee Barnes, of the U. S. A., who in Fresno, Cal., in 1928, cleared the bar at 14 feet, 1 1-2 inches.

When Dr. C. L. Houser threw the discus at Amsterdam a distance of 155 feet, 2 15-16 inches, he set up a new Olympic Record. But contrast that record made at Palo Alto, Cal., in 1929. In that year Eric C. W. Krenz threw the discus a distance of 163 feet, 8 3-4 inches.

The Olympic record for the javelin throw is held by a Swede, E. H. Lundquist, who in 1928 set a record for 218 feet, 6 1-8 inches.

Track and field athletes have their off days like everyone else. But with a break of luck the Los Angeles games should see many new records established.

Eyes of Sport Turn West Expecting To See Old Olympics Record Shattered

By Jack Adams

Olympic track and field records should look quite different after the Olympic Games to open July 30 in the Olympic Stadium in Los Angeles, California and the breaking of records seem naturally to go together. There are seven world's track and field records in the record books which were made in California.

During the Olympic Games at Amsterdam in 1928, 15 new track and field records were made or equalled. How many of these will remain after the Los Angeles games?

Let's look at some of the records made during the Amsterdam Games.

In the 100 meters' run, Percy Williams, of Canada; R. F. McAlister, of the U. S. A., and J. E. London, of Great Britain, during trial heats were clocked officially at 10.6 seconds. Here it is interesting to recall that Charles W. Paddock, running at Redlands, Cal., in 1921, did the distance in 10.4 seconds. That is a world's record and better than the Olympic record, Eddie Toian, of the U. S. A., running in Stockholm in 1929, and again in Copenhagen the same year, equalled the 10.4 seconds time. Toian and Paddock are joint holders of the world's record for the 100 meters' run.

With the Runners

Helmut Koring of Germany, at Amsterdam equalled the Olympic record for the 200 meters' run with a time of 21.6 seconds. It should be remembered that an American, Roland A. Locke, holds the world's record for that distance. Running in Lincoln, Neb., in 1926, he covered the distance in 20.6 seconds.

A record for the 800 meters' run was made at Amsterdam in 1928. But it was made by an Englishman, D. G. A. Lowe, who did the distance in 1 m., 53 4-5 s.

A new record for the 1500 meters' run was also made at Amsterdam. But it was made by a Finn, H. E. Larva, who covered the distance in 3 m., 53 1-5 s.

A new time was set up also at Amsterdam in the 10,000 meters'

Modern Electric Refrigeration Will Help You Cut Expenses

Acclaimed for its great convenience, its value as an essential health safeguard, and for the delicious frozen desserts and salads available through its use, modern Electric Refrigeration is a household necessity for yet another important reason . . . the substantial cash savings it will bring you.

With Electric Refrigeration, "left-overs" are not wasted . . . but safely and conveniently preserved for future use in novel and tasty dishes. And in addition to the economies realized in this manner (statistics show that over 10 cents a day is lost by throwing out usable "left-overs"), further savings can be made through the safe refrigeration of "bargain day" quantity purchases . . . through buying larger sizes of canned goods—at a much lower cost per ounce . . . and through the elimination of food-spoilage.

These important savings are possible with Electric Refrigeration because the constant low temperature necessary for the safe preservation of perishable foodstuffs is maintained automatically.

Let Electric Refrigeration help you cut expenses. Ask a salesman to show you our new models . . . or see your nearest electrical dealer . . . Today!

Do you know that your increased use of Electric Service is billed on a surprisingly low rate schedule . . . and adds only a small amount to your total bill?

Burleson Pledges His Support To Sterling; Lauds Administration

AUSTIN, July 13—Support to Governor Ross Sterling in his campaign for re-election was pledged today by A. S. Burleson, Postmaster General in the cabinet of Woodrow Wilson, in a statement praising the Governor's successful efforts to keep the State on a sound financial basis.

Governor Sterling "deserves the support of every honest, thoughtful, patriotic Texan," declared the once active Democratic party leader.

General Burleson said he had not approved of martial law in East Texas, but added: "Candor compels me to say that it saved millions of dollars to owners of small land holdings in East Texas." Through the agency of martial law, the Governor "multiplied by eight the revenue the State was receiving from its production tax, thus keeping the State in a better shape rather than permitting it to slip further into the red, where it was undoubtedly headed," said the General.

Praise for the Governor's program for the future, as expressed in his speech at Big Spring, was voiced. "With intelligent co-operation from the legislature, Governor Sterling should be able to reduce substantially government costs and oppressive taxes," General Burleson said.

"Sterling has been Governor almost two years," said the former cabinet officer, "and no one charged that he has not given Texas an honest administration. I live here at the Capital, and never has there been a breath of scandal, a whisper of wrong-doing. This has not always been so. Every self-respecting Texan should feel constrained to vote for those who will protect us from the shame of graft and corruption in public office."

Great Program Is Promised At Annual Paisano Encampment

Announcements have been mailed out by Rev. L. R. Millican, president and manager of the annual Paisano Baptist Encampment, midway between Alpine and Marfa, calling attention to the 1932 encampment which is to be from July 29 to August 7, inclusive.

The encampment is held each year in the beautiful Paisano Pass with its towering peaks and beautiful groves. Over 5,000 feet above sea level, the climate is cool and invigorating, sometimes cold enough for a fire in August.

Rev. Millican announces a wonderful program for this year's encampment. Besides the study classes, with great teachers in each department, the singing, led by Bro. Bryce Twitty, will be a feature this year. Rev. Millican says in his announcement. Dr. J. B. Tidwell, Bible expositor, will present a series of lectures and Dr. George W. Truett of Dallas, renowned preacher, will preach every night. Dr. I. L. Yearby, late of Greenville, S. C., and now of El Paso, will preach at the morning hour. Other speakers during the meeting will include former Governor Pat M. Neff, president of Baylor University, Dr. J. C. Hardy president of Baylor College at Belton, Judge Cliff M. Caldwell of Abilene, and Dr. F. M. McConnell, editor of the Baptist Standard.

If there is any advertising to do it should be done through the medium that is established for that purpose.—Uvalde Leader News.

Charity Board May Employ Aid Seekers In Picking Up Nails

Rev. M. M. Fulmer, chairman of the Associated Charities of Ozona, outlined before the Lions Club Monday a project which should be of interest to every motorist in Ozona.

Rev. Fulmer has for several months been interested in developing some plan of ridding Ozona streets of nails, which in a year's time result in the loss of hundreds of dollars to local automobile owners in the cost of repairing punctures.

A plan to use the labor of able bodied men who apply for aid from the charity organization in picking up nails on Ozona streets is being worked out by the association head and if the plan is put in operation it will have a two-fold benefit, according to Rev. Fulmer. First, it will be a start toward ridding the town of nails and then it will furnish employment to worthy persons who are temporarily without funds and will give them an opportunity to earn, or partly so at least, the money or provisions they need.

TEXAS RAILROADS PAY SUBSTANTIAL PART OF STATE'S TAX BURDEN

Taxes is one of the large fixed charges connected with the operation of Texas railroads. From the standpoint of the welfare of state, counties and communities, railroad taxes are of much importance. This annual obligation must be met from the earning capacity of the rail carriers.

In 1931 the railroads of Texas paid a total of $8,303,108.47 in federal, state, county, municipal and miscellaneous taxes. The distribution of this amount to the various tax funds is shown below:

	Amount Paid	Per Cent of Total Tax Paid
U. S. Government	$ 61,270.13	.74
State	1,954,435.47	23.54
County	1,146,669.97	13.81
Roads	1,699,764.15	20.47
Improvement Districts	175,606.87	2.12
Schools	1,437,152.74	17.31
Cities	1,792,994.61	21.59
Miscellaneous	35,214.59	.42
Total	$8,303,108.47	100.00

It can thus be seen that railroad taxes represent an important and indispensable factor in the economic life of our state. They help in a large measure to pay the expense of our state, county and municipal government, build and maintain highways, pay the cost of drainage and other improvements, and support our schools and educational institutions.

It is the desire of Texas railroads to extend this helpfulness to Texas counties and communities in carrying this heavy burden. However, their ability to meet these obligations as they become due depends upon their ability to earn sufficient revenue with which to pay this and other heavy expenses connected with their operation.

RAILROADS HAVE ALWAYS SHOULDERED THEIR SHARE OF RESPONSIBILITIES TO THE NATION, THE STATE, AND THE CITIES AND COMMUNITIES THEY SERVE, AND WILL CONTINUE TO DO SO TO THE EXTENT OF THEIR ABILITY.

THE TEXAS RAILROADS

Democratic Primary Ballot Reproduced Page 4, This Issue

On page four of this issue of The Stockman is reproduced a sample of the official ballot to be used in the Democratic primary election Saturday of next week, July 23. This reproduction, except for the heading, is the same as the one which will be placed in the hands of voters on election day.

The ballot is reproduced in The Stockman in order that voters may have an opportunity to study the ballot between now and election day so that they will be able to vote quickly and intelligently.

Particular attention is called to the race for congressman-at-large. There are 39 candidates in this race and the race has been divided into three places. Texas is to elect three congressmen-at-large this year and candidates have been divided into three places, one to be elected from each of the three places. In voting draw a line through the names of candidates in each place against whom you wish to cast your vote, leaving ONE name for each place in each instance your choice for the office.

The state Democratic Executive Committee has announced that separate ballots will be furnished by the state organization for an expression from the people of the question of resubmission of the liquor question.

George Metcalf, a former resident of Ozona, was here a few days last week visiting friends.
