Record Crowds Anticipated For 7th Annual Rodeo Here July 3, 4 and 5; Interest Spreads As Event Heralded

Loudspeaker For Fair Contracted

Announcements, Music To Be Relayed To Grandstand

A loudspeaker system, electrically operated, has been contracted by the Crockett County Fair Association for use during the seventh annual Crockett County Rodeo, Race Meet and Stock Show here July 3, 4 and 5, it was announced this week by fair officials. The loudspeaker system is to be operated by Tony Slaughter and Bill Thompson, both of Texon, Slaughter to do the announcing and Thompson the plant operation. This plan was first adopted here two years ago, at the last celebration, and proved so satisfactory that decision was reached to adopt it again this year. The system to be used here this year, however, will be a vast improvement over that of 1931, it is declared. This year's system will be operated from electric current from light wires, whereas, the 1931 plant was operated from batteries. New type speakers with better tone and uniform volume are to be used and better results are expected.

Recorded music will be used between events for the entertainment of crowds in the stands and the time of all roving, racing and rodeo events will be given from the microphone located in the judges' stand. A "Mike" may be installed on the orchestra stand at the platform during the dances each evening to amplify the music and vocal numbers.

Safety Measures Talked By Lions

Control Of Traffic On Main Streets Topic At Club Meet

Safety measures that will minimize the possibility of accidents on Ozona's broad paved thoroughfares as soon as the surfacing work is completed furnished the topic for discussion at the regular meeting of the Lions Club Monday noon.

The fact that the Barnhart highway passes in front of the two school buildings makes it doubly desirable that some means of controlling traffic along that street be developed, it was pointed out in the discussion. Stop signs, signal lights and other means of controlling automobile traffic at the most dangerous points were discussed.

A measure looking to improvement in the appearance of the main business section of the city by keeping it free from accumulations of papers and other trash in front of business houses is now in the hands of a club committee. The club is considering the possibility of installing trash cans at advantageous points in the business section to receive all papers and trash. Regular disposal of the contents of the cans and a campaign to urge their use are points in the proposed improvement.

OFFICERS ELECTED

Rev. J. H. Meredith was elected second vice president of the Ozona Lions Club and V. Van Zandt was named tail twister at a runoff election held Monday at the club meeting. A tie vote for these two officers was recorded at the election the previous week. J. H. McClure tying for the office of vice president and Evert White for tail twister.

Say "I saw it in the Stockman."

Interest being manifest throughout West Texas in Crockett County's annual Rodeo, Race Meet, Stock Show and Sale here July 3, 4 and 5 has led officials of the fair association to anticipate record breaking crowds here during the three-day celebration.

Advertising matter concerning the annual three-day event has been broadcast throughout West Texas and more is being sent in every direction daily. Many inquiries are pouring in to chairmen of the various departments, and one of the best shows in history is the promise of fair officials.

Five horse races daily, with some of the fastest animals in the state entering the competition for attractive purses, a continuous program of rodeo contests, a sheep show and sale and cattle show and sale that equals any held in the state, a big free barbecue at noon on each of the three days and a big dance on the open air platform at the fair grounds each evening, to music furnished by Ted Price and his radio broadcasting orchestra are features that are expected to draw crowds from all over the Southwest.

A round-up of the meanest broncos, the wildest cattle and the fleetest footed calves and goats has been underway the past few weeks and fair officials announce an array of animal talent that will furnish plenty of entertainment to spectators, riders and ropers alike in the western events.

A loudspeaker announcing system, contracted this week, will lend interest to the daily programs from the standpoint of spectators. Music between events will keep the entertainment going without interruption.

Crockett Recruit In Tree Army Describes Corps As 'Fine Thing'

Richard E. Cole, one of Crockett County's quota sent to the Civilian Conservation Corps training camps at Camp Bullis, near San Antonio, describes the corps as "a fine thing" in a letter to Hugh Childress, Jr., local chairman, this week. Cole was one of five young men to go from Ozona to the training camp, one of the number being rejected.

"This is to inform you that I was accepted for enlistment in the Civilian Conservation Corps from Crockett County, of which you are chairman," Cole writes.

"I take this means of expressing my thanks to you for the aid you extended in preparing my application."

"Tell all who may be curious to know, that the Corps is a fine thing. So again thanking you, I remain,"

Church Packed For Orphans' Program

Children From Methodist Home Entertain Large Crowd

Ozona Methodist Church was packed almost to capacity Monday evening for the entertainment program presented by a group of children from the Methodist Orphans' Home at Waco. Crowds filled the downstairs pews, and many sat in the balcony.

An excellent program of instrumental and vocal music and readings was given by the group. A Mr. Gibson, field representative of the Home, and who was raised in the home, accompanied the group and made a brief talk during the program, explaining the work that is undertaken and some of its results. Mr. Gibson has a younger sister who was a member of the party.

Orphan Clothed By Local Missionary Group Visits Ozona

Miss Opal West, inmate of the Methodist orphans' home at Waco, who was "adopted" by the Woman's Missionary Society of the Ozona Methodist Church and has been clothed and looked after by that organization since she was about six years old, paid her first visit to Ozona and her benefactors Monday. She was a member of the group of 28 boys and girls from the home who entertained at the church here Monday night.

Miss West is 18 years old and graduated from the home school last year and completed a business course the past year. She is teaching in the summer school at the Home this summer. She is an accomplished violinist and pianist, participating in the musical program here Monday night.

Miss West was a guest at the home of Mrs. John Bailey Monday night. She is pretty, with beautiful brown eyes and brown hair, and is tall and thin. She is rather shy and retiring in nature, according to Mrs. Bailey, but is well educated, well behaved and an altogether attractive girl. She was thrilled at the opportunity of visiting Ozona and was anxious to meet and thank the ladies who have been her benefactor through the years, sending her clothing, Christmas and birthday boxes and otherwise being a "mother" to her. She was introduced to the audience during the program at the church Monday evening.

Escaped Convicts Pass Thru Ozona

Four Fugitives Said To Have Gone Thru On Way To Border

Four fugitives who escaped recently in a wholesale delivery from the Kansas penitentiary are thought to have passed through Ozona last Sunday morning on their way to the Mexican border.

The men were reported to have passed through Barnhart and it was thought they were headed this way. From information available, however, no men suiting their description were seen here at the expected hour, according to Sheriff Willis.

A man-hunt which extends over several counties in the Southwest was on the first of the week following the capture of two of the escaped convicts near Junction by customs officers. Four others of the eleven who escaped are thought to be in this area and officers are keeping a close watch for them.

Giants Maul Miles Nine In Non-League Contest Here Sunday

Behind the consistent hitting of Wade and Duncan, the Ozona Giants eked out a 5 to 3 victory over the Miles Giants in an exhibition game here Sunday on the local team's day off from competition in the West Texas Independent League. Wade was credited with three hits in three trips to the plate and Duncan with three in four tries. Wade also ran in four of Ozona's five scores. Frank Russell, Barbee and Greer got one hit each for a total of nine for the locals. Con Cox hurled six innings, allowing the visitors two hits, and Barbee, regular string catcher, changed ends in the battery and pitched the other three, the visitors taking four of his offerings for a ride to safety.

Mexican Hurls Dynamite In Street Of Mexican Settlement Seeking To Wipe Out Enemy; Buildings Damaged

Wool Hits New High Of 28 1/2 Cts.

Eight Months Fleece Shoots To 26 Cents In Buying Wed.

The wool market continued its upward climb yesterday with a new high of 28 1/2 cents being established for twelve-months wool, a rise of 1/2 cent over the previous day's high price, and eight-months wool jumping three and a quarter cents to a new high level of 26 cents a pound.

The Wool Growers Central Storage Company sold 35,000 pounds of twelve-months wool at the new high price of 28 1/2 cents and the Val Verde Wool and Mohair Company topped the eight-months clip market with one lot going at 26 cents. Fifty-thousand pounds of eight-months wool sold by the Del Rio firm brought 25 3/4 cents a pound.

A high bid said to be 27 1/2 cents a pound was rejected on 80,000 pounds of 12 months wool offered at Del Rio Wednesday by the Val Verde Wool & Mohair Company. Charley Angell of Hallowell, Jones & Donald entered the top of the bid.

Twenty thousand pounds of eight-months wool was sold at 25 1/2 cents a pound to Murphy Campbell by the Del Rio Wool & Mohair Company. The Steve Stumberg clip of 70,000 pounds of 12-months wool was sold by the Del Rio Wool and Mohair Company for 25 1/2 cents. The wool is from the Sanderson country.

Adelia Willis Is Victim Of Fall; Lame Leg Injured

Inexperience in handling crutches caused troubles to multiply for Adelia Willis, daughter of Sheriff and Mrs. W. S. Willis, Sunday, when she slipped and fell on the concrete sidewalk in front of the jail suffering additional injuries to her leg, which had just begun to get strong after a siege of several months as a result of an infected knee.

A slight fracture of a bone and badly torn muscles and ligaments resulted from the fall. She had just started down the steps of the jail with her mother and sister and fell when she failed to put her crutches forward in descending the steps. Mrs. Willis caught her before she fell to the walk, but the injured leg was twisted with the unusual weight. X-Ray pictures made by Dr. F. T. McIntire showed the slight fracture and torn ligaments. The injuries are not expected to give further serious trouble, however.

Abilene To Play Here Week-End

Locals In League Combat Against Second Place Holders

Mose Simms' powerful Abilene Gassers, runners-up in the West Texas Independent League pennant chase, with only the Texon Oilers their superior, will be seen in action by Ozona fans here Saturday and Sunday against the Ozona Giants.

The Gassers will be in San Angelo Friday for a match with the Sheep Herders and will come to Ozona Saturday for the first of a two-game series with the locals Saturday afternoon, the second game to be played Sunday afternoon on the local lot.

Mrs. Bill Conklin is here from El Paso to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. B. Ingham.

Jose Melino, Mexican employed in the caliche pit a mile south of Ozona sought revenge in a big way Sunday night for imagined wrongs done him by two other Mexicans residing in the Mexican settlement.

Melino displayed a pistol early in the evening and two others proceeded to relieve him of the weapon without further ceremony. That angered Melino and he went back to the camp, secured two sticks of dynamite and lighting them one after another hurled them into the middle of the street of the Mexican suburb.

The explosions, which shook windows in the uptown section of Ozona, broke window panes and cracked several buildings in the vicinity. A long crack in the concrete wall of the Fermin Aguirre store resulted from one of the explosions and nearly every window pane in the building as well as those in nearby buildings were broken. Several men were on the street when the explosions occurred but none was injured.

Witnesses to the unusual attack said that the man drove a dump truck through the town, hurled the lighted dynamite and then left at full speed toward the camp. Sheriff Willis was called and went immediately to the camp finding a truck with lights burning, he felt of the radiator and found it warm. He went into the Mexican's tent and found him in bed, half dressed. He pretended to be asleep, the sheriff said, and when finally awakened denied any connection with the dynamiting. He later confessed, however, Sheriff Willis said, and told of his grievance against the two Mexicans.

He was lodged in jail and charges filed in justice court. He was placed under bond to await action of the grand jury.

Ball Club Plans Entertainment

Box Supper, Frog Race, Dancing, Bridge, Etc. Saturday Night

An old fashioned box supper, where the young swain bids for the supper prepared by the lady of his choice and thereby wins the privilege of eating it with her, a frog race, dancing, bridge, forty-two, dominoes and other entertainment will be available at the fair grounds platform next Saturday night under a program sponsored by the Ozona Baseball Club.

The fiesta will get under way at 8 o'clock. There will be radio music for those who wish to dance. A frog race has already been arranged, with the fast stepping West Texas ho-net lead at the entries. Suitable prizes are to be offered for the priciest box entered for auction at the box supper.

Funds derived from the evening's entertainment will go into the treasury of the baseball club to help pay some of its outstanding obligations. Everybody is invited.

BIDS SOUGHT FOR TOPPING ON EAST ROAD

Triple Asphalt Surface Treatment on 15-Mile Stretch

TO AWARD JUNE 20

Move Assures Completion Of Paving On Town Street

Contract for a triple asphalt surface treatment on the 15-mile stretch of the Old Spanish Trail highway from Ozona east to the Sutton County line will be awarded by the State Highway Department Tuesday, June 20, according to announcement from the department this week.

Advertisement for bids on this project was inserted in this issue of the Stockman. This being a federal aid project, the department in its advertisement for bids, sets the minimum rate at which labor may be employed on the contract, listing the wage scale for an eight hour day as follows: Firemen, $2.80; distributor men, $4.00; truck drivers, $2.80; tractor men, $4.00; grader men, $4.00; roller men, $2.80; spreaders, $2.24; common laborers, $2.24; watchmen, $1.60; water boys, $1.20; broom men, $2.80; motor mechanics, $4.00.

Award of contract for topping on the east highway will give assurance of a hard-surface treatment of the street traversed by the highway into the city. The caliche base extending the paving from curb to curb on this street is being laid this week and will be completed and in readiness for the surfacing as soon as the contract is awarded. The state and county work will likely be done simultaneously. Colglazier and Hoff have the contract for paving the street from the edge of the state job to the curb.

Hard-surfacing on the north road, including Powell Avenue from the highway intersection to the north edge of town, will get under way in the next few days, according to E. R. Menger, superintendent for the Colglazier & Hoff Construction Co. The contractors are now waiting for a shipment of asphalt which is expected soon.

The surfacing work will start on the downtown street, Mr. Menger said, the street being finished first. The finishing touches are being put on the caliche base now, a coating of finely ground rock being rolled into the surface and drainage dips being finished off for the final topping.

Mrs. Harry Perner and daughter, Miss Carolyn Perner, are here from El Paso for a visit with relatives.

Start On Paving Around City Park

Other Projects Pending As Improvement Work Extended

Another extension to the city paving project now under way here in connection with paving of the two highways into town got under way this week when workmen started excavation work on the two streets around the city park downtown. One block from the North Motor Company corner to the Baptist Church and the long block from the Baptist to the Methodist Church in front of the courthouse are included in the new paving project.

Efforts are now being made among property owners along Avenue C, from the W. E. West home south to the draw, to pave that street its length. It is understood that most of the property owners on the street have agreed to the plan but negotiations have not been completed.

THURSDAY, JUNE 15, 1933

Every governmental official or board that handles public money should publish at regular intervals an accounting of it, showing where and how each dollar is spent. This is a fundamental principle of democratic government.

THAT TAX DOLLAR

Floresville Chronicle - Journal:
That tax dollar you give the American Government—do you know how it is broken up when the Government goes to spend it?

Over four billions of your tax dollars go to the treasury in Washington to pay for public services—a lot of money. Where all of it goes ought to be of interest and concern. Let's divide this tax dollar up and see:

Two cents go to West Point and Annapolis.

Five cents to Veterans' hospitals.

Two cents to military research.

Twenty-five cents to pensions.

Thirty cents to building and upkeep of the navy.

Thirty cents to maintenance of the army.

And for all other functions of the Government, legislative, judicial, diplomatic and administrative, 16 cents.

Or, 84 cents out of every dollar
going into the Federal Treasury goes to pay for war that either has been or that the country is afraid is going to be.

HARBINGERS OF BUSINESS

San Angelo Morning Times:
The traveling man is more than just a part of a complex sales organization. He is a harbinger of busy times, an agent of good business; when he is on the road in force it is a safe bet that real prosperity is not far off.

It is interesting, therefore, to read the remarks made at Houston recently by L. B. Carlon, National director of the Travelers' Protective Association.

"You will soon see traveling men back on the road the forerunners of better business and renewed commercial life," he said.

"In my round I find truly a feeling of optimism. Railroad car loadings are on the increase. Rail transportation companies are installing fast freights to handle the increased tonnage quickly. Men are going back to work. Aggressiveness and enthusiasm have supplanted pessimism."

Tired of his wife, Alex Gros-heim of Muscatine, Ia., proposed to trade her to his best friend for seven hogs, a dozen chickens and a dog.

ECONOMIC HIGHLIGHTS

The news spotlight since March 4th has been focused on the White House. For brief periods it has moved slightly to illumine business recovery, beer, war debts,
tariff accords and discords, world economic and disarmament parleys. At the moment the Morgan investigation has dwarfed everything—it has served to obscure in the day's news other developments which, if less dramatic, are infinitely more important to the average citizen. These developments involve business which is moving forward after three years of retreat.

The country is experiencing a buying wave—still moderate, but definite. Factors behind it are renewed confidence, a belief that present low prices are doomed—
and the more concrete fact that wages are rising and employment levels gaining. The price rise belief is amply justified by the statistics. Commodity prices have been advancing at a steadily increasing rate for several months,
as have security prices. Business failures are down.

There is a noticeable decline in the number of distress sales. The index of industrial activity is now advancing satisfactorily.

Mr. Roosevelt's inflationary powers have aroused bitter dispute—to some they mean a quick and decisive victory over depression, to others they foreshadow
the potential collapse of the country's monetary system, in the manner of post-war Germany, when a box of matches cost a thousand marks one day, ten thousand the next. The President has said little, moved cautiously and sought opinions, facts and advice.

Recently the inflationary movement got underway. The President ordered the Federal Reserve to go into the market to purchase Federal securities. Under the new law, it may buy up to $3,000,000, 000 at the option of the President
—in the first week of operation, it bought but $25,000,000, and there is every evidence that it will go slowly. This type of buying is instigated to expand commercial credit.

A financial advisor to the Government has been appointed, with the title of Executive Assistant to the Secretary of the Treasury.
This official, Oliver M. W.
Sprague, was formerly economic advisor to the Bank of England,
and will be a much consulted member of a department which is short on banking authorities.

Finally the President asked Congress to repeal the gold payment clause in debt contracts.
This will simply make theory and practice jibe—ever since the banking moratorium the Treasury has refused to pay in gold coin. A battle at once started in the Congress between those who viewed with alarm and those who pointed with pride to the Administration position. Example: Said Representative
Sprague, Democrat, Alabama
"It is a declaration of economic independence. It will restore prosperity." Said Senator Reed, Republican, Pennsylvania, "This is terrible—a blow to American good faith which will be felt for over 100 years." To most dispassi-onate observers, and to the general public, the truth lies somewhere between those extremes of partisan sentiment. Gold moratorium is undoubtedly a breach of contract—on the other hand, in times of crisis, governments, as well as individuals, have usually taken the expedient, as distinct from the completely ethical course.

To those who have been frightened by the specter of inflation,
it may be said that every indication is that the President will withhold his power to the greatest possible degree consistent with his program; that there is no intention of flooding the coun-

IN A NUTSHELL

It's easy to regard tax reduction as something beyond the scope of the average citizen—as a matter for distant Washington to investigate and achieve.

But one of the most fertile fields for governmental economy is at home. The chances are that your municipal government is wasteful. There is probably widespread duplication of effort, a number of unnecessary bureaus, political inefficiency. Thousands of dollars of the money you and your neighbors contribute bring you little or no return.

Recently a new administration
came into power in the city of Seattle and it has made heavy cuts in municipal operating costs. In the city of Portland, 200 miles to the south, a new mayor will soon take office, and he is sponsoring a program that should find an echo in every community, large or small, in the land. This young Mayor-elect, Joseph Carson, recently said: "The tremendous expansion of government, local as well as state and national, has become the most serious menace to orderly government and stabilized conditions. . . . Business will afford employment when it need not fear that the investment and the fruits thereof will be confiscated through taxation. . . ."

Bring taxes down, adapt them to the ability of the business and the individual to pay—and watch recovery go into high.—Ex.

in Marlin for a two-weeks stay.

THE UNDERMINING PROCESS

The tendency of all political power is to acquire and indulge special privilege and it is the increase of privilege growing out of government itself that finally creates an aristocracy of officialism.

This condition can't last. . . .
we're all going to live, and after the Lord has chastened us sufficiently for the excesses of the past, the broad road to prosperity will be opened up again.—Alfred E.
Smith.

Hints for the Household

By Betty Webster

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

Window Boxes

To be attractive, window boxes
must be planned like anything else.

Care must be given as to the ex-posure and the coloring.

There are two types of flower boxes—namely, Flowering and Foliage. There is little trouble in planning or caring for the flowering variety, but in a north ex-posure or in a shady spot do not attempt it. Stick strictly to the foliage. Here is a list of plants for the foliage box:

- Vinca Vine.
- Wandering Jew.
- English Ivy.
- Rubber Plant.
- Pandora.
- Dusty Miller.
- Begonia.

COOKING HINTS

Spinach With Cheese Sauce

- 2 tablespoons of butter.
- 2 tablespoons of flour.
- 1 pint of milk (2 cups).
- 1 cup of crumbled cheese.
- 1 can spinach.

Hard boiled eggs.
Method: Make a thick cream
sauce blending the butter, flour and milk. Add the cheese and stir over a slow fire until melted. Heat and season the spinach. Put in a dish. Pour over the cheese sauce and garnish with slices of hard boiled egg.

How To Measure Butter

Sometimes in the country, or when our measuring cups have disappeared to the children's sand pile, it is well to know how to measure butter without our cup.
Hence this suggestion.

- 1 pound of butter equals 2 cups.
- ¼ pound package of butter
equals ½ cup.
- 4 tablespoons of butter equals
½ cup of butter.

A Delightful Cheese Dish

- 2 eggs.
- ½ cup of stale bread.
- 1½ teaspoon of salt.
- Little pepper.
- ¼ pound of American Cheese

(mild).

1 pint of milk (2 cups).

Method:

Beat the eggs. Add the bread broken up, salt, pepper and grated cheese. Scald milk and pour over all. Bake in casserole or custard cups and cook the same as baked custard. Cook 1 hour. Test by in-serting silver knife and when it comes out clean, cheese is done.

Say "I saw it in the Stockman."

THAT'S ME—

I'm the helpmate around the house. To see me you would think
I was the best sort of a husband.
I help my wife cook, sweep, take care of the children and, in fact, just help every way I can. But here is where the catch comes in.
I help, but it must be done my way and no other. If she doesn't cook the exact way I think it should be, I raise the deuce. I re-

LOW PRICE CARS VS. CHEAP CARS

We do not build a low-price car: the cost to us of building our car is pretty high.

But we do sell a high quality car at a low price.

Almost every new Ford V-8 car we have built so far this year, has cost more to manufacture than its selling price was. As you buy them at only $490 to $610, we have to depend on increasing volume to make up the difference.

The reason for this is simple: — a manufacturer who gives good value must expect to lose money on the first cars he sells because he cannot charge all his costs to the people who are first to buy.

But with the purchaser it is different — he cannot afford to lose anything on a car. It must give him full value from the first, and keep on giving him full value for years.

Two things make possible our combination of low prices and high cost quality:

1. Volume Production
2. Taking only one profit

First, we set our price at what would be fair to the public on the basis of economies we enjoy in volume production. Then, in order to justify and maintain our low price we must get volume sales.

Thus it comes that a car which is really high-cost to make, is also low-cost to buy.

There is a difference between a cheap car and a low-priced high quality car.

Ford prices are always fixed at a point which makes it profitable for a customer to buy.

Good and lasting business must produce profit to the buyer as well as to the seller. And of the two, the buyer's profit must be, comparatively, the larger one.

It pays us to sell the Ford V-8 because it pays you to buy it.

Commercial Failures Decline 30 Percent In Texas During May

Austin, Texas, June 14—Only 56 commercial firms went into bankruptcy during the five weeks of May, or 30 per cent less than the number during the corresponding five weeks a year ago, according to weekly reports to the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research. Total liabilities amounting to $1,044,000 were reported for May, as compared with $1,516,000 during May, 1932, a decline of 31 per cent. The total book value of the assets of the failing concerns was $358,000, or only about 34 cents on the dollar; however, during April, only 28 cents on the dollar was available for creditors on the basis of book value of assets. Of the total number of failing concerns, 15 were dry goods and apparel stores, 8 were manufacturers, 5 each were drug stores and combination groceries and meat markets, and 4 each were general stores and plumbing or electrical shops.

"Section 51a. The Legislature shall have power to authorize by law the issuance and sale of the bonds of the State of Texas, not to exceed the sum of Twenty Million ($20,000,000.00) Dollars, bearing interest at a rate not to exceed four and one-half (4½%) per centum per annum; and payable serially or otherwise not more than ten (10) years from their date, and said bonds shall be sold for not less than par and accrued interest and no form of commission shall be allowed in any transaction involving said bonds. STILL ARE FAKES IN STOCK "REMEDY" BUSINESS

Farmers waste millions of dollars annually for nostrums worthless in the prevention or treatment of livestock diseases, according to Dr. H. E. Moskey, Federal Food and Drug Administration. Comparatively few peddlers are selling stock "remedies" now, but farmers can find counterparts on billboards, in the press, and in radio broadcasts. The quack of old made tall claims for his goods but today there are some manufacturers, catering to the worried farmer, who exceed these claims both in volume and in exaggeration. The farmer is led to believe that there are medicines available which will "condition" his stock—prevent or cure such serious diseases as hog cholera, infectious abortion of cattle, fowl cholera, and blackhead of turkeys—keep his stock healthy and producing—increase the milk yield of cattle and the egg yield of hens—and do other things which drugs and medicines simply will not do.

The Department of Agriculture, through the Food and Drug Administration and the Solicitor's Office, is doing pioneer work in the control of interstate traffic in misbranded and adulterated stock "remedies," but Dr. Moskey points out that vast quantities of such preparations never cross a State border (and thus do not come within the jurisdiction of the food and drugs and the insecticide laws). The Government, he says, does not stigmatize or limit the operations of ethical and honest manufacturers, but it will continue its regulatory operations, under the law, until every adulterated and falsely and fraudulently labeled preparation is removed from interstate traffic. The farmer should not be expected to pay for what he does not receive.

"The stockman's knowledge of the limitations of drugs and medicinal, antiseptics, germicides, etc. in the prevention and treatment of livestock ills has been increased by an intensive five-year survey, conducted by the Food and Drug Administration, of such articles now on the American market," states Dr. Moskey. "This survey shows that most manufacturers comply with the law, put out honest goods, and advertise them truthfully. Some do not. For example, within the past few months the Government caused the condemnation and destruction of a 'liquid hog health and flu medicine for hogs.' This preparation was shipped by a so-called veterinary laboratory in Omaha, Nebraska. The Government held that the statements, 'liquid hog health' 'hog health,' and 'flu medicine for hogs,' printed on the labels, were false and fraudulent, since the articles contained no ingredients nor combinations of ingredients capable of producing the effects claimed. This is only one of many similar actions."

Regulatory control of preparations recommended for use in the prevention or cure of stock and poultry diseases has not been limited to articles bearing upon their labels definite curative claims. The survey, still under way, has embraced the whole field of veterinary preparations, and has included a study of more than 1,000 worthless and misbranded anti-septics recommended for human and animal use. Other articles which have come under investigation include stock powders, "conditioners," "regulators," tonics, cod liver oil and other "vitamin preparations," liniments, salves, caustics, blisters, and mineral mixtures. The investigations have brought to light numerous preparations recommended for increasing egg production, milk flow, meat production, the building up of health, the "reconditioning" of animals, etc. The Government has seized goods and prosecuted shippers where violations of the law have been found.

"Enforcement of the food and drugs and insecticide laws not only protects the farmer and saves him money," says Dr. Moskey, "but helps the honest manufacturer, too, because it removes from interstate competition the dishonest operator. There are still many quacks and bear-oil peddlers in the livestock "remedy" business, but the majority of manufacturers are honest."

The Administration, however, says it cannot give the farmer 100 per cent protection. This is due to three facts: First, the National food and drug law does not have jurisdiction over interstate shipments; it has no authority over claims made in outside advertising; and, 27 years experience in enforcing the law shows that there will always be some willful offenders.

A farmer would be wise, says Dr. Moskey, before he purchases a veterinary medicine, to consult a veterinarian as to its possible effect. Then he should thoroughly and carefully read the label on the preparation itself.

NOTICE OF PROPOSED AMENDMENT TO THE CONSTITUTION OF TEXAS
S. J. R. No. 3.

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS:

Section 1. That Article IX of the Constitution of Texas be amended by adding thereto a section to be Section 3, which shall provide:

"Section 3. (1) Holding the belief that the highest degree of local self government which is consistent with the efficient conduct of those affairs by necessity lodged in the Nation and the State will prove most responsive to the will of the people, and result to reward their diligence and intelligence by greater economy and efficiency in their local governmental affairs, it hereby is ordained:

"(2) Any county having a population of sixty-two thousand (62,000) or more according to the then last Federal Census may adopt a County Home Rule Charter, to embrace those powers appropriate hereto, within the specific limits further provided that the Legislature, by a favorable vote of two-thirds of the total membership of both the Senate and the House of Representatives, may authorize any county, having a population less than that above specified, to proceed hereunder for the adoption of a Charter; however, as a condition for such authorization, it is required that notice of the intent to seek Legislative authority hereunder must be published in one or more newspapers, to give general circulation in the county affected, not less than once per week for four (4) consecutive weeks, and the first of such publications shall appear not less than thirty (30) days next prior to the time an Act making proposal hereunder may be introduced in the Legislature. No County Home Rule Charter may be adopted by any county save upon a favorable vote of the resident qualified electors of the affected county. In elections submitting to the voters a proposal to adopt a Charter (unless otherwise provided by a two-thirds vote of the total membership of each House of the Legislature) the votes cast by the qualified electors residing within the limits of all the incorporated cities and towns of the county shall be separately kept but collectively counted and the votes of the qualified electors of the county who do not reside within the limits of any incorporated city or town likewise shall be separately kept and separately counted, and unless there be a favorable majority of the votes cast within a favoring majority of the votes cast without such collective cities and towns, the Charter shall not be adopted. It is expressly forbidden that any such Charter may in any way affect the operation of the General Laws of the State relating to the judicial, tax, fiscal, educational, police, highway and health systems, or any other department of the State's superior government. Nothing herein contained shall be deemed to authorize the adoption of a Charter provision inimical to or inconsistent with the sovereignty and established public policies of this State, and no provision having such vice shall have validity against the State. No Charter provision may operate to impair the exemption of homesteads as established by this Constitution and the Statutes relating thereto.

"(3) A Charter hereunder may provide: the continuance of a County Commissioners' Court, as now constituted, to serve as the governing body of a county to operate hereunder; or, may provide for a governing body otherwise constituted, which shall be elective, and service therein shall be upon such qualifications, for such terms, under such plan of representation, and upon such conditions of tenure and compensation as may be fixed by any such Charter. The terms for service in such governing body may exceed two (2) years, but shall not exceed six (6) years. In any event, in addition to the powers and duties provided by any such Charter, such governing body shall exercise all powers, and discharge all duties which, in the absence of the provisions hereof, would devolve by law on County Commissioners and County Commissioners' Courts. Further, any such Charter may provide for the organization, reorganization, establishment and administration of the government of the county, including the control and regulation of the performance of and the compensation for all duties required in the conduct of the county affairs, subject to the limitations herein provided.

"b. A Charter hereunder may provide that Judges of County Courts (including that County Court designated in this Constitution), and Justices of the Peace be compensated upon a salary basis in lieu of fees. The jurisdiction of the County Court designated in this Constitution, and the duties of the Judges thereof, may be confined to that general jurisdiction of a probate Court which elsewhere is defined in this Constitution. The office of Justice of the Peace may be made either elective or appointive. Other than as herein provided, no such Charter shall provide for altering the jurisdiction or procedure of any Court. The duties of District Attorney and County Attorney may be confined to representing the State in civil cases to which the State is a party and to enforcement of the State's Penal Code, and the compensation of said attorneys may be fixed on a salary basis in lieu of fees.

"c. Save as hereinabove and hereinafter otherwise provided, such Charters, within the limits expressed therein, may invest the governing body to be established for any county electing to operate hereunder with the power to create, consolidate or abolish any office or department, whether created by other provisions of the Constitution or by statute, define the duties thereof, fix the compensation for service therein, make the same elective or appointive and prescribe the time, qualifications and conditions for tenure in any such office; save that no such Charter other than as hereinbefore authorized, shall provide to regulate the status, service, duties or compensation of members of Legislature, Judges of the Courts, District Attorneys, County Attorneys, or any office whatever by the law of the State required to be filled by an election embracing more than one county. Excepting herefrom nominations, elections or appointments to offices, the terms whereof may not have expired prior to the adoption of this Amendment to the Constitution, at such time as a Charter provision adopted hereunder may be in effect (save as to those offices which must continue to be elective, as herein elsewhere specified), all terms of county officers and all contracts for the giving of service by deputies under such officers, may be subject to termination by the administrative body of the county, under an adopted Charter so providing, and there shall be no liability by reason thereof.

"d. Any county electing to operate hereunder shall have the power, by Charter provision, to levy, assess and collect taxes, and to fix the maximum rate for ad valorem taxes to be levied for specific purposes, in accordance with the Constitution and laws of this State, provided, however, that the limit of the aggregate taxes which may be levied, assessed and collected hereunder shall not exceed the limit or total fixed, or hereafter to be fixed, by this Constitution to control counties, and the annual assessment upon property, both real, personal and mixed, shall be a first superior and prior lien thereon.

"e. In addition to the powers herein provided, and in addition to powers included in County Home Rule Charters, any county may, by a majority vote of the qualified electors of said county, amend its Charter to include other powers, functions, duties and rights which now or hereafter may be provided by this Constitution and the statutes of the State for counties.

"(4) Any county operating hereunder shall have the power to borrow money for all purposes lawful under its Charter, to include the refunding of a lawful debt, in a manner conforming to the General Laws of the State, and may issue therefor its obligations. Such obligations, other than those to refund a lawful debt, shall not be valid unless authorized by a majority of all votes cast by those resident qualified voters of the area affected by the taxes required to retire such obligations, who may vote thereon. In case of county obligations, maturing after a period of five (5) years, the same shall be issued to mature serially, fixing the first maturity of principal at a time not to exceed two (2) years next after the date of the issuance of such obligations. Such obligations may pledge the full faith and credit of the county; but in no event shall the aggregate obligations so issued, in principal amount outstanding at any one time, exceed the then existing Constitutional limits for such obligations and such indebtedness and its supporting tax shall constitute a first and superior lien upon the property taxable in such county. No obligation issued hereunder shall be valid unless prior to the time of the issuance thereof there be levied a tax sufficient to retire the same as it matures, which tax shall not exceed the then existing Constitutional limits.

"(5) Such Charter may authorize the governing body of a county operating hereunder to prescribe the schedule of fees to be charged by the officers of the county for specified service, to be in lieu of the schedule for such fees prescribed by the General Laws of the State; and, to appropriate such fees to such funds as the Charter may prescribe; provided, however, no fee for a specified service shall exceed in amount the fee fixed by General Law for that same service. Such Charters as to all judicial officers, other than District Judges, may prescribe the qualifications for services, provided the standards therefor be not lower than those fixed by the General Laws of the State.

"(6) a. Subject to the express limitations upon the exercise of the powers by this subdivision to be authorized, such Charters may provide (or omit to provide) that the governmental and/or proprietary functions of any city, town, district or other defined political subdivision (which is a governmental agency and embraced within the boundaries of the county) be transferred, either as to some or all of the functions thereof, and yielded to the control of the administrative body of the county. No such transfer or yielding of functions may be effected, unless the proposal is submitted to a vote of the people, and, unless otherwise provided by a two-thirds vote of the total membership of each House of the Legislature, such a proposal shall be submitted as a separate issue, and the vote within and without any such city, town, district, or other defined governmental entity, shall be separately cast and counted, and unless two-thirds of the qualified voters cast within the yielding defined governmental entity, and a majority of the qualified voters cast in the remainder of the county, favor the proposed merger, it shall not be effected. In case of mergers hereby authorized, without express Charter provision therefor, in so far as may be required to make effective the object of the proposed merger, the county shall succeed to all the appropriate lawful powers, duties, rights, procedures, restrictions and limitations which prior to the merger were reposed in, or imposed upon, the yielding governmental agency. Particularly, it is provided that the power to create funded indebtedness and to levy taxes in support thereof may be exercised only by such procedures and within such limits, as now are, or hereafter may be, provided by law to control such appropriate other governmental agencies were they to be independently administered. Such mergers may be effected under proposed contracts between the county and any such yielding governmental agency, to be approved at an election as hereinbefore provided for. In order to increase governmental efficiency and effect economy the county may contract with the principal city of the county to perform one or more of its functions, provided such contracts shall not be valid for more than two (2) years.

"b. In cases of the partial or complete merger of the government of a city operating under a Home Rule Charter, with the government of a county operating hereunder, those city Charter provisions affected thereby shall cease to control and the county Charter provisions shall control.

"c. When any embraced incorporated city or town elects to merge its governmental functions with those of the county under the provisions hereof, such Charter may provide for defining or redefining the boundaries of such cities and towns, provided, however, that in defining or redefining the boundaries of such cities and towns, such boundaries may be extended only to include those areas contiguous to such cities as are urban in character; and as to such cities or towns and for the benefit thereof the county, in addition to the primary city and county tax herein authorized and any other lawful district tax, may levy and collect taxes upon the property taxable within such city or town as defined or redefined, within the limits authorized by

Sections 4 and 5 of Article XI of this Constitution, (or any Amendment thereof) for incorporated cities according to the population, provided that no tax greater than that existing at the time of such merger or for any added purpose shall be imposed upon any such city or town unless authorized by a majority of all votes cast by the resident qualified voters of such city or town.

"d. Areas urban in character though not incorporated, under appropriate Charter provision may be defined as such by the governing body of the county, provided, however, that no portion of the county shall be defined as an urban area unless it has sufficient population to entitle it to incorporate under the then existing laws of the State; and no such urban area, when created, shall be vested with any taxing or bonding power which it would not possess if it were operating as a separate incorporated unit under the then existing Constitutional and Statutory provisions of this State; and provided further that the governing body of the county for the government of such areas shall have and exercise all powers and authority granted by law to the governing bodies of similar areas when separately incorporated as a city or town, and such areas shall be subject to additional taxation within the same Constitutional limits as control taxation for a city or a town of like population. Likewise such Charter may provide for the governing board of the county subject to existing Constitutional and statutory provisions to define, create and administer districts, and have and exercise the powers and authority granted by the Constitution and laws relative to the same.

"(7) No provision of this Constitution inconsistent with the provisions of this Section 3, of Article IX, shall be held to control the provisions of a Charter adopted hereunder, and conforming herewith. Charters adopted hereunder shall make appropriate provision for the abandonment, revocation, and amendment thereof, subject only to the requirements that there must be a favoring majority of the vote cast upon such a proposal, by the qualified resident electors of the county; and, no Charter may forbid amendments thereof for a time greater than two (2) years. The provisions hereof shall be self-executing, subject only to the duty of the Legislature to pass all laws (consistent herewith) which may be necessary to carry out the intent and purpose hereof. Further, the Legislature shall prescribe a procedure for submitting to decision, by a majority vote of the electors voting thereon, proposed alternate and elective Charter provisions."

Section 2. The foregoing Constitutional Amendment shall be submitted to the qualified electors of the State at an election to be held throughout the State on the fourth Saturday in August, 1933, at which election all ballots shall have printed thereon the following:

"For the Amendment to Article IX of the Constitution of Texas, adding Section 3, providing authority for the adoption of a Home Rule Charter by the voters in counties having a population of sixty-two thousand (62,000) or more, to effect more efficient and economical government within such counties, and to authorize mergers of separate governmental agencies within such counties as may from time to time be authorized by vote of the people therein."

"Against the Amendment to Article IX of the Constitution of Texas, adding Section 3, providing authority for the adoption of a Home Rule Charter by the voters in counties having a population of sixty-two thousand (62,000) or more, to effect more efficient and economical government within such counties, and to authorize mergers of separate governmental agencies within such counties as may from time to time be authorized by vote of the people therein."

Section 3. The Governor of this State is hereby directed to issue the necessary proclamation ordering an election in conformity herewith to determine whether or not the proposed Constitutional Amendment set forth herein shall be adopted, and the Governor shall have the same published as required by the Constitution and laws of this State.

Habits Established in Childhood Shape Character Of Adult

Austin, Texas, June 14.—According to the State Department of Health a child's habits are responsible, in a large measure, for their mental actions in later life. A child of five or six years may have a bad temper. He can be taught as he grows older, to exercise self control so that it will not often be manifested. It would be better for him though if he had acquired a good temper instead of a bad one.

Now is understood better than before the enduring influence of habits that begin in the earliest years of life, in the nursery, or even in the cradle. In the young child, as a result of habit, certain types of behavior become established.

Perhaps the child had learned while yet an infant, that he could get what he wanted if he cried loud and long enough. Perhaps he had learned, when a little older, that bad behavior, as tantrums, screaming, rolling on the floor or sulking, brought him what he wanted after his request had been refused or ignored. If he had this experience once you may be sure that he would repeat the action the next time the occasion arose. If he found that such actions did not bring the desired results he would not try it again.

Other behavior habits, good and bad, are acquired from imitating older children and adults. In this way many likes and dislikes, tastes and ambitions which in later years become crystallized into character habits have their beginning. Calmness and poise, as well as nervous and panicky behavior in the presence of an emergency, are nothing more than behavior habits established by imitation and made permanent by repetition. The elders are responsible for more than they realize for the conduct of the child in the family. In this we see a new meaning of the old adage, "As the twig is bent the tree is inclined."

THE MORAL OF THE TALE

Teacher (warning her pupils against catching cold): "I had a little brother seven years old, and one day he took his new sled out in the snow. He caught pneumonia and three days later he died."

Silence for ten seconds.

Voice from the Rear: "Where's his sled?"

Three Thousand Dollars ($3,000.00) of the assessed taxable value of all residence homesteads as now defined by law shall be exempt from all taxation for all State purposes; provided that this exemption shall not be applicable to that portion of the State ad valorem taxes levied for State purposes remitted within those counties or other political subdivisions now receiving any remission of State taxes, until the expiration of such period of remission, unless before the expiration of such period the board or governing body of any one or more of such counties or political subdivisions shall have certified to the State Comptroller that the need for such remission of taxes has ceased to exist in such county or political subdivision; then this Section shall become applicable to each county or political subdivision as and when it shall become within the provisions hereof.

Section 2. The foregoing Constitutional Amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of this State at an election to be held throughout the State on the fourth Saturday in August, 1933, at which election all voters favoring said proposed Amendment shall write or have printed on their ballots the words:

"For the Amendment to the Constitution of the State of Texas exempting Three Thousand Dollars ($3,000.00) of the assessed taxable value of all residence homesteads from State taxes."

Those voters opposing said proposed Amendment shall write or have printed on their ballots the words:

"Against the Amendment to the Constitution of the State of Texas exempting Three Thousand Dollars ($3,000.00) of the assessed taxable value of all residence homesteads from State taxes."

Section 3. The Governor of the State of Texas is hereby directed to issue the necessary proclamation for said election and to have the same published as required by the Constitution and Amendments hereto.

LISTEN SON!

The following article marked exchange, has been printed in several of our exchanges. It is one of the best we have read and every father should take time and read it:

I am saying this to you as you are asleep, one little paw crumpled under your cheek and the curls thickly wet on your damp forehead. I have stolen into your room late. Just a few moments ago, as I sat reading my paper in the library, a hot, stifling wave of remorse swept over me. I could not resist it. Guiltily I came to your bedside.

These are the things I was thinking of: I had been cross to you, scolded you as you were dressing for school because you gave your face merely a dab with a towel. I took you to task for not cleaning your shoes. I called out angrily when I found you had thrown some of your things on the floor. At breakfast I found fault. You put your elbows on the table. You spread butter too thick on your bread. And as you started to play and I made for the door, you turned and waved a little hand and called, "Good-by, daddy," and I frowned, and said reply, "Hold your shoulders back."

Then it began all over again in the late afternoon. As I came up the hill road I spied you down on your knees playing marbles. There were holes in your stockings. I scolded you before your boy sends by making you march a yard of me back to the house. Your stockings were expensive and if you had to buy them you would be more careful. Imagine that, son of a father. It was such stupid logic.

Do you remember later when I was reading in the library, how you came in softly, timidly, with an air of hurt, hunted look in your eyes? When I glanced up over my shoulder, impatient at the interruption, you hesitated at the door. "What is it you want?" I snapped. You said nothing, but ran across, one tempestuous plunge; and drew your arms around my neck and kissed me, again and again. And your small arms tightened about me with an affection that God had set in your heart and which my neglect could not wither. Then you were gone, pattering up the stairs.

Well son, it was shortly afterwards that my paper slipped from my hands, and a terrible sickening fear came over me. Suddenly I saw myself as I really was in all my horrible selfishness, and I felt sick at heart. What has habit been doing to me? The habit of complaining, of finding fault, or reprimanding, all of these were my rewards to you for being a boy. It was not that I did not love you; it was that I expected so much of you. I was measuring you by the yardstick of my own years.

And there was so much that was good, and fine, and true in your character. You did not deserve my treatment of you, son. The little heart of you was as big as the dawn itself over the wide hills. All this was shown by your spontaneous impulse to rush in and kiss me good night. Nothing else matters tonight, son. I have come to your bedside in the darkness, and I have knelt there, choking with emotion, and so ashamed.

It is a feeble atonement, I know you would not understand these things if I told them to you during your waking hours, yet I must say what I am saying. I must burn sacrificial fires, alone, here in your bedroom, and make tree confession. And I have prayed God to strengthen me in my new resolve. Tomorrow I will be a real daddy. I will chum with you, and suffer when you suffer and laugh when you laugh. I will bite my tongue when impatient words come. I will keep saying as if it were a ritual: "Here is nothing but a boy, a little boy."

I am afraid I have visualized you as a man. Yet as I see you now, son, crumpled and weary in your cot, I see that you are still a baby. Yesterday you were in your mother's arms, your head on her shoulder. I have asked too much, too much.

Dear Boy, Dear little son, a penitent kneels at your infant shrine, here in the moonlight. I kiss the little fingers and the damp forehead and the yellow curl. Tears came, and heartache and remorse and also a greater, deeper love, when you ran through the library door and wanted to kiss me.

I do not know of a better shrine before which a father or mother may kneel or stand than that of

Reforestation Camps In Davis Mountains

Six reforestation camps, for employment of members of the government's Civilian Conservation Corps have been tentatively allocated to the mountain regions southwest of Pecos, according to word from Austin and Washington.

According to letters from Congressman R. E. Thomason, who has been active in the matter, and from Lawrence Westbrook, director of relief work in Texas, four camps have been tentatively allotted to the new canyon state park in Brewster county, recently established by the legislature as a state park at request of Senator K. M. Regan of Pecos.

Likewise, two camps have tentatively been located in Jeff Davis county, very near to Pecos, in the heart of the greenclad Davis mountains.

Mr. Thomason, in a letter to the Enterprise, stated that Mr. Westbrook was in Washington and that he had taken the occasion to interview him with relation to a reforestation camp in the Davis mountain country. Mr. Thomason declared that Col. Westbrook seemed favorably inclined to the suggestion.—Pecos Enterprise.

20 Minutes versus Three Hours

Have your neighbors ever dropped into your home to borrow the weekly collection of circular letters, hand bills, etc., that the users think are as good as advertising in your favorite country newspaper?—Menomonee (Wis.) Falls News.

Few people realize the actual coverage of even the most modest country newspaper. Not so long ago an advertising expert was quoted as saying that careful research had ascertained that a certain well known metropolitan paper is read, on an average, for the space of 20 minutes, while the average country newspaper has a "reading life" of 3 hours to its credit! It is kept 'round the house for a week and everyone in the family takes his turn in going through its pages.

That is something for both subscriber and advertiser to think about.

Four Amendments Voted On Aug. 26

Beer, Bond Issue, Home Rule, Tax Remission, Topics Touched

Emphatic reminder of the fact that Texas is going to have a highly important election next August 26 is the fact that advertising of the four proposed amendments to the constitution is under way. In the current excitement over beer and repeal of the 18th amendment, both of which issues will be submitted on August 26, the three other amendments to the constitution are almost over-shadowed, although at least two of these would be considered of outstanding importance at any other time. The first of the three is to authorize the Legislature to issue up to $20,000,000 in bonds for State relief work. This is generally referred to as the $20,000,000 bond issue, but as a matter of fact the Legislature may issue bonds for much less than that amount if the people authorize the issuance. The bonds to be issued are to bear interest at not more than 4 1/2 per cent per year, and are payable in not more than 10 years from the date of issuance. The amendment itself does not say how the bonds shall be paid, except that they shall never be a lien on property, and must be by appropriations made by the Legislature. If the issue is approved by the electorate August 26, the Legislature will have to be called into session to issue the bonds and make provision for revenues to meet them as they become payable. The other important amendment allows counties of more than 62,000 population to adopt a home rule charter, such as is now adopted by home rule cities. Any smaller county wanting to adopt a home rule charter, must give notice by publication, then apply to the Legislature for authority. An election would be held for any county which wishes to adopt the home rule privilege. The fourth amendment is to take out from under an amendment adopted last year, those
