KINCAID LAND HOLDINGS ARE PARTITIONED

Huge Estate Divided Among Children By Deeds

95 SECTS. DIVIDED

Crockett, Val Verde Acreage Included; Retains Upton

Partition of the vast land holdings of T. A. Kincaid, one of the largest landowners in West Texas, lying in Crockett and Val Verde counties, was accomplished with the filing of deeds to designated acreage to children of Mr. and Mrs. Kincaid, in the county clerk's office here this week.

In the deeds filed here, Mr. Kincaid disposed of approximately 3,000 acres of land, or around 95 sections, to six of his children and Mrs. Kincaid. The huge ranch land holdings lay in two blocks, one east and south of Ozona and the other approximately 70 sections lying in the southeast corner of Crockett County and extending a few miles into Val Verde county.

While disposing of his land holdings in this county, Mr. Kincaid retains in his own name a 12-section ranch in Upton County, near Rankin. In addition to the land he owns in fee in Upton county he has several thousand additional acres under lease, all stocked and in operation.

In the partition recorded in the deed records of this county, Mrs. Marbury Morrison was given 9,917 acres lying in a block in the southeast corner of Crockett County and extending into Val Verde. Adjoining this tract on the east, T. A. Kincaid, Jr., gets 9,443 acres also partly in Val Verde County. A block lying next to this tract, containing 9,471 acres goes by deed to Bud Kincaid.

A tract containing 9,471 acres, lying just north of that deeded to Bud Kincaid, goes to Mrs. Strick Harvick, and another lying north and east of this, containing 9,246 acres goes to Mrs. Lee Childress.

Mrs. Kincaid was deeded the tract of land lying just south of Ozona, known as the McCollum place, containing 8,707 acres. Mrs. W. E. Friend, Jr., youngest daughter, gets the ranch adjoining the town of Ozona on the east, where Mr. and Mrs. Friend are now ranching. It contains approximately 6,688 acres.

Uncle Of Cox Brothers Died

Dan Shipley Of Floydada Is Victim Of Paralysis

Dan Shipley, 61, uncle of Bascomb and Vernon Cox of Ozona, brother-in-law of the late Mrs. L. B. Cox, Sr., died at his home in Floydada Monday of last week, members of the family here were notified.

Mr. and Mrs. Parker Shipley of Edinburg, Texas, spent the night here Friday visiting Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Cox and Mr. and Mrs. Bascomb Cox. They were returning home after attending the funeral. Mr. Shipley was a son. Other surviving children are Max Shipley of Big Lake, Frank Shipley of Clovis, N. M., and John Shipley of Floydada. The widow and two brothers also survive.

Mr. Shipley was a prominent cattle buyer and rancher of the plains area. He operated a big sheep ranch near Clovis, N. M., and was prominent in civic affairs at Floydada. He was the victim of a paralytic stroke.

MATE OF KILLER WOLF KILLED LAST WEEK ON CHILDRESS RANCH SLAIN BY "POSSE" IN ANOTHER MOTOR DRIVE

For the second time within a week, a "posse" of Crockett County ranchers and Ozona business men, riding in automobiles, went wolf hunting on the Walter Childress ranch north of Ozona and got results.

This time, Monday morning, the moto-rized hunters rounded up the mate of the female killer slain in the Childress pasture last week.

Seven carloads of wolf hunters were recruited in Ozona Monday morning and were spread out for the drive at 10 o'clock. Shortly before 1 o'clock the big gray-black wolf, believed to be part dog, was sighted and the merry chase was on.

A few of the pursuing cars were hot on the animal's trail while others of the party were riding "hell to leather" to get in on the shooting. As the cars closed in on the fleeing wolf, and let drive with a shot-gun bombardment, he would cut back through his tormentors and attempt a get-away. Members of the party who saw the chase from a distance described it as a rare bit of sport as well as a worthwhile predatory animal destruction. Three cars were pelting the doomed wolf when his sheep-killing days were finally ended, according to Joe North, a member of the party. Approximately the same group of hunters in last week's fray participated Monday.

While three hours were consumed in running down and slaying the big gray wolf, only twenty-five minutes were required from the start of the drive until the female lay dead in last week's hunt.

The big wolf killed Monday was one of the most destructive known in this area in several years. A half dozen or more dead sheep were seen in the pastures Monday and a large number have been found by ranch hands in recent weeks either dead or badly injured. A number of the injured sheep were taken to the ranch and cared for until they had recovered from their encounter with the killer. It is believed that with the killing of the second wolf, the last of the raiders had been cleaned out from that section, but ranchers in the area will be on guard to detect further invasions in the future.

BIG ADVERTISING TALKS

Use the newspapers—not bills. How to reach a large number of customers or prospective customers most economically and effectively is a problem which still worries a great many business men, says an exchange. But it was really solved long ago and the answer is this: Print your message in the newspapers. Recently a Detroit electric company which serves 500,000 customers in nearly 200 cities and smaller communities wanted to send them a series of letters. After considering various methods of distributing these messages, it was decided to use local newspapers exclusively. The first letter sent out, signed by the president of the company, began as follows: "We have a lot of things to tell you which are of interest because you are our customers. We might get your attention by circulars delivered to your door, or by radio broadcast. But we think the best way to reach you is by successive letters in the newspaper, of which this is the first." In certain special cases the use of circulars or the radio may be fairly effective, but for definite results economically obtained no advertising medium over devised approaches the family newspaper.—Stillwater (Minn.) Gazette.

OH WHAT!

Getting out this paper is no picnic. If we print jokes, people say we are silly. If we don't, they say we are too serious. If we copy from other papers, we are too busy to write it down ourselves. If we don't, we are stuck on our own staff. If we stick close to the job all day, we ought to be out hunting up news. If we are not out and try to hustle, we ought to be at the job in the office. If we don't print contributions, we don't appreciate our readers. If we do, the paper is filled with junk. If we make a change in a fellow's work-up, we are too critical. If we don't, we are asleep. Now, like an old woman, will you? We copied this from some other paper. WE DID.

PROFITABLE ADVERTISING QUEEREST AND SILLIEST YOUR NEWSPAPER

Announcement that the price of eggs will be held down as low as possible under working order that will do doubt add materially to the cost of manufacture. The record of the cigarette companies during the years of depression is remarkable. Despite taxation, that amounted in each package of cigarettes to more than half the selling price, and faced with competition that cut prices down to minimum, the leading cigarette companies forged right ahead and during 1932 and 1933 showed handsome profits. It is one industry that went forward instead of backward.

The secret of the cigarette companies can be paid largely to the publicity campaign that they waged to maintain their sales. Instead of curtailing advertising, the cigarette companies increased allowances for publicity and made the public "cigarette-minded."

THE COUNTRY NEWSPAPER

Turning from city newspapers to small town press exchanges that come to the editor's desk is like stepping from the slums, full of vice, into an old-fashioned garden sweet with lavender and flowers and the scent of perennial blooms. The pages of big dailies are so full of murder, thievery, immorality and selfishness that the better news is obscured by these glaring shattering of the Decalogue. One puts the papers aside with a feeling of depression and heartache that the world is so full of terrible and unhappy things.

Then picking up the papers that record the happenings of the little towns around us, one gains renewed faith in life. Here are set forth only that which uplifts a community—the activities of the business men, the church members, the happy social gatherings of the youth, the marriages, births and death anniversaries, and all the numerous and one daily occurrences that make up the simple annals of the great common people, who are really the foundation of this broad, free, free of ours. Sometimes people speak lightly of the country newspaper, but it is one of the most potent and uplifting factors in our national existence.—Christian Science Monitor.

No army ever won a battle unless it believed it could lick the enemy. No community ever overcame its obstacles, unless it had confidence in its ability to triumph over them.

QUEEREST AND SILLIEST

For many years the people of the United States have been buying cheap goods from a certain 4 and 10 cent stores. These nickles and dimes from millions of Americans have made the heiress-daughter tremendously wealthy. What to do with that vast wealth has not worried the young woman in the least. Like many another American girl with more money than patriotism, she forthwith bought her a foreign prince for a husband. Now she is a princess. The prince, of course, is a pauper—no other kind come over here hunting rich American girls for wives.

The amount of good American money this rich girl will spend on her pauper prince will run into high figures—enough to keep the wolf from the door of many families whose bread winners are out of employment.

One if by land, and two if by sea, And I on the opposite shore will be Ready to ride and spread the alarm To every Middlesex village and farm For the country folk to be up and to arm. "By the trembling ladder, steep and tall To the highest window of them all."

While we are holding memorial celebrations and putting up monuments to newspaper men of the historic past, why not stick up a tablet somewhere in the memory of Isaiah Thomas, editor of the Boston "Tep," who gave Paul Revere the signal to start!—American Press.

Learn to Advertise

All successful merchants know the art of newspaper advertising. They are experts at it. They consider it one of the chief means of building up the volume of their sales to a point that will yield dividends at a small margin of profit.

The small merchant, or manufacturer, who does not advertise can't hope to increase the volume of his sales without the use of advertising, therefore the sooner they learn to advertise the sooner they will get going on the road to success.

Experiment with a small ad in THE STOCKMAN for a month. Study the effects, and find for yourself the best way to word it, the items or features that bring the most response, and, last but not least, the right sort of preparation to make for completing a sale to the prospects which the ad brings; for there is one important thing to learn about advertising: It won't make the sale; it can only bring you into contact with a prospective buyer.

BLEEDERS
There are some people who have an inherited tendency to serious or even fatal hemorrhages. Slight wounds or abrasions are accompanied by a disproportionate amount of bleeding which is extremely difficult to control. These people are called bleeders. The abnormal tendency to bleed is called hemophilia. Hemophilia affects the male, but is transmitted through the female. Neither the sons of a bleeder nor their children inherit the tendency. The daughters, however while they themselves are not affected, transmit the hemorrhagic tendency to their male children.

The blood of hemophiliacs is very slow in clotting, and the clots which finally do form are imperfect and fail to completely stop the flow of blood. There seems to be a lack of certain substances in the blood which are essential to a normal rapidity and completeness of clotting.
Boys Should Be Protected
The knowledge that there have been bleeders in one's family is extremely valuable if it is applied in protecting the males against the causes of hemorrhage. Until the child reaches an age where he can understand his condition, he must be carefully protected from wounds and abrasions. After that, active games and occupations involving the risk of injury should be avoided.

Fortunately, modern medical science offers certain methods which are fairly satisfactory in controlling the bleeding in these cases. These include blood transfusions and the injection of serum and other substances which hasten the clotting of blood.
Osler said that the women of bleeder-families should not marry or, if they do marry, should not bear children. As the men of such families do not transmit the tendency, it is safe for them to marry. If this rule were followed, apparently hemophilia would be bred out of these families.

After the Great Earthquake in India

Moughyr, a city of 25,000 inhabitants, was reduced to a pile of debris in the quake that shook central India recently. Throughout the 100 square miles affected by the temblor a death toll of from 8,000 to 10,000 was recorded, and countless thousands were injured and made homeless. Moughyr, a thriving community and center of the cigarette industry, was almost completely wiped out. This is a photograph of a section of the city.

Tuberculin Testing Of Cattle Urged As Health Necessity

Austin, Texas, March 7—Pure milk is Nature's most nearly perfect food, according to the Texas State Department of Health, and persons should be sure that the cows which produce the milk they use are in a healthy condition.

It is estimated that 2 per cent of all milk cattle have bovine type tuberculosis. Tuberculin testing of cattle will definitely prove whether the cow has tuberculosis. If a person owns their own cow, she should be tested, and if milk is being purchased, the purchaser should make sure that the cattle in the dairy he patronizes are free of this disease. These tests should be made each year, and if milk stock is to be purchased, they should be tested before completion of the sale.

About twenty-five per cent of all tuberculosis in children is of the bovine type—fatal bovine tuberculosis after the fifth year is rare. It generally attacks the lymph glands and bones. When not fatal, this disease, when it attacks the joints or bones, usually leaves the child crippled for life.

The C.W.A. has created a fund to pay for the destruction of each tuberculin cow. Of course, the disease must be certified by an accredited veterinarian. The State Live Stock Sanitary Commission and State Department of Health are very anxious to control this disease. The former to improve the dairy herds and the Health Department to protect the public health. Every one can help by demanding that the cows where they purchase milk be tuberculin tested.

Paul Willoughby and Farris Baker were down from San Angelo Monday on business.

of the CWA these protective serums will cost the individual around twice this amount. At these low rates, patients will be expected to pay cash for the work.

Opportunity for All

Dr. McIntire stressed again the fact that those who are unable to pay any of the cost of the injections, neither the doctor's fee nor the cost of materials, may get immunization just the same. Arrangements have been made to secure the necessary serums for these cases, if one is able to pay the whole cost, he will be expected to do so, or if he can pay only the cost of materials, he will be expected to pay that amount, which is nominal.

The period of co-operation of the CWA in the immunization program ends May 1. Dr. McIntire pointed out, and he urges all those who plan to take advantage of this opportunity do so at once. Three weeks is required for the typhoid inoculation and since only about seven weeks remain in which to get the immunization, he urged that arrangements be made at once.

Miss Zeolla McKissack, C.W.A. health nurse, and her assistant, Miss Rachel Schraeder, will get in touch with those who have signed up on the health survey to arrange appointments with the doctors. Dr. H. B. Tandy will devote the hour from 11 to 12 each morning, except Sunday, to the immunization work, and Dr. McIntire has set aside the hour from 1 to 2 each day except Sunday for the injections.

Arrangements have been made with Supt. John L. Bishop to allow school children time off from school long enough to get the inoculations. Children will not be marked absent or tardy while taking the injections.
