Fire Destroys Williams Store

Heavy Loss Results From Blaze Here Last Night

Loss estimated at nearly $5,000 resulted from a fire which last night destroyed the J. H. Williams store and filling station at the south end of Powell Avenue across from the baseball park.

A stock of groceries estimated in excess of $2,000 was consumed in the flames and the building, gasoline pumps and fixtures were a total loss. The building was a Sinclair company station. No insurance was carried on the grocery stock.

The fire was discovered shortly after 12 o'clock midnight. It is thought possible that the fire may have been started by mice gnawing matches, as there had been no fire in the stove Wednesday. The fire had made too much headway when discovered to determine its origin.

The cash register, adding machine and a few articles of stock were removed from the building before the fire had advanced too far.

Mrs. Kay Named Council Head

Inter-County P. T. A. Group In Annual Meet At Sonora

Mrs. W. A. Kay of Ozona was elected president of the Inter-County Council of Parent-Teacher Associations at the annual meeting of the Council held in Sonora Saturday. Mrs. Kay succeeds Mrs. John L. Bishop of Ozona, who served as first president of the tri-county group.

Other officers of the organization were re-elected. They include Mrs. W. C. Warren of Sonora, vice president; Mrs. Clint Shaw of Barnhart, secretary; and Mrs. Fred Smith of Mertzon as treasurer.

The topic for the convention program was "Leadership" and an address by R. S. Covey, superintendent of schools at Sonora on that subject, was a feature of the meeting. A report of the organization and work of a Mexican Parent-Teacher Association in Sonora, given by Mr. Jones, principal of the Mexican school, was another interesting feature of the program.

Ozona delegates attending the meeting were Mrs. Bishop, Mrs. Kay and Mrs. Ray Dunlap.

Hotel And School Are Beautified By Planting Shrubbery

Both the Hotel Ozona and the High School building have put on a new and dressier appearance during the past week with foundation planting about each building with evergreen shrubs of various kinds.

Large paradise trees, brought in by Wayne West, new president of the Hotel Corporation, have been set out along the curb at the Hotel and evergreen shrubs have been planted around the foundation at the front of the building, adding much to its appearance.

The High School building, with the construction of a new stone wall joining the grounds of the grade and high school, the street work now in progress on two sides of the school grounds and the planting of shrubbery, has also taken on a new appearance.

Start Baseball Practice April 1

Giants Again Compete In W. T. League; Peters Treasurer

With Scott Peters holding the purse strings of the West Texas Independent League for the coming year as treasurer of the organization and baseball fans thirsting for another chance at the long-standing championship roost of the Texon Oilers, the Ozona Giants will get under steam about April 1 in first practice for the new season.

Blondy Cross, good-natured old easy-going impartial scribe of San Angelo, was elevated to the presidency of the league so that he would not interfere with its smooth operation and with league funds now guarded by a banker (and how they can guard 'em) the League has excellent promise of a big season.

Addition of a catcher and a couple of pitchers and possibly an outfielder will put the Giants in position to offer a serious threat at the league flag. Talk is that these new players will be recruited for the entertainment of the other league entries, at present including San Angelo, Ballinger, Texon and Ozona.

Kite Tournament Planned March 24

Various Prizes Offered Winners In Annual Tourney

The annual kite-flying tournament sponsored by the Ozona Lions Club will be held again this year on Saturday, March 24, it was decided at the club meeting Monday.

More than a hundred kites of every description were entered in the contest last year and Ozona merchants awarded more than a score of prizes to contestants.

Another large group of prizes is expected to be offered by local business firms this year to the kite builders and kite fliers. Prizes were offered last year for the highest flying kite, for the largest, the smallest, and for a long list of other unique features and qualities of performance.

The list of prizes will be announced soon. Contestants who expect to enter the tournament, are urged to get to work now in building their entry or entries.

World Famous Cowboy Band Coming to Ozona March 27

Famous Simmons Cowboy Band To Present Program At Auditorium March 27, Auspices Lions Club

The world famous Cowboy Band of Simmons University, Abilene, will present a program of concert music and novelty entertainment at the High School auditorium here on Tuesday, March 27, appearing under the auspices of the Ozona Lions Club. Their concert here is one of a number in West and Southwest Texas where they are to conduct an extensive tour.

Having appeared in a majority of West Texas towns before, the Cowboys are bringing along a brand new program of music and cowboy acts. Stirring marches, popular tunes, cowboy songs, will be interspersed with novelty and solo performers.

Johnny Regan, English-Australian Cowboy, who learned while a cowboy in Australia to twirl the rope, crack the bull-whip and throw the boomerang, is a featured performer with the band. He will present his varied bag of tricks here.

The Cowboy Band was featured at Madison Square Garden, New York City's greatest indoor arena, last fall, with the World's Championship rodeo. This was but one of a long list of appearances of this famous band over the world, playing for rodeos, conventions, fairs, and in concert. They have played in half the states of the union and in several foreign countries.

D. O. Wiley, who has directed the Cowboys 12 years, will conduct the musicians in their concert here. Members of the band are regular students in Simmons University who are specializing in the school of band music.

CWA Program In County Curtailed

Force Cut Gradually, Bring Program To Close April 1

The CWA program in Crockett County is drawing to a close with payroll quotas being shaved rapidly by orders from the state director. The county's original quota of 67 men was cut to 55 on February 23, to 43 on March 2, 38 on March 9.

The quota will be further slashed on March 16 to 32 and on March 23 to 26. The entire force will be dropped on March 30, leaving only the administrative personnel in the local relief office. What step will be taken after that date the local office does not know, according to Royce Smith, county director.

Direct relief funds now allotted to the local office are sufficient for the month only. No more such funds are expected until state bonds are sold to make the money available. The office has a liberal supply of canned meat, butter, wheat breakfast cereal, smoked pork, etc. on hand, however, sufficient to last six weeks to two months, it is estimated. The office has recently received 17 cases of canned meats, and will get 12 more in San Angelo this week.

There is also a quantity of lard and other foodstuffs to be brought here from the San Angelo office. The office has also received seventeen 30-pound cases of butter and the director brought back more than 600 pounds of the wheat cereal from Del Rio the first of this week.

Missionary Society Meets With Mrs John Bailey For Program

Members of the Woman's Missionary Society of the Methodist church met at the home of Mrs. John Bailey Wednesday afternoon for the regular study program. The program was devoted to a continuation of the study of the mission book, "Christian Missions in America."

A talk by Rev. J. H. Meredith on "The Challenge of the Gospel," another by Mrs. Scott Peters on a chapter of the book, "How Does the Gospel Express Itself?" and a vocal solo by Mrs. Joe Pierce constituted the program. Mrs. Roy Henderson was leader.

Sheriff W. S. Willis attended court in Fort Stockton Tuesday as a witness in a theft case on trial there.

REVIVAL OF SCOUT TROOP HERE TALKED

New Move Depends On Interest Shown By Parents and Boys

INVITE EXECUTIVE

New Regional Head To Confer With Local Boosters Soon

Plans for the organization of a Boy Scout troop in Ozona are being considered by boy boosters of the city and as soon as an official of the Concho Valley Council can be brought here for a conference, the movement will likely be pushed through to realization.

The movement took form at the meeting of the Lions Club Monday noon when Dr. W. A. Grandy appeared before the club, discussed the merits of the Boy Scout movement and offered his services as scoutmaster or assistant for the local troop.

A committee was named by the club president to get in communication with the San Angelo headquarters of the Concho Valley Council and to feel out the local sentiment on the move.

K. R. Ransom, architect, with Leonard R. Mauldin, architect on the Massie West home, now under construction here, an experienced scoutmaster, has also offered his services in getting a troop under way in Ozona. Mr. Ransom has had an active part in Scout work in San Angelo for the past four years and has attended each of the annual Scout training courses held by the council during that time.

The recent resignation of Brice Draper, Scout Executive of the Concho Valley Council, to accept a position as deputy regional director of the Texas, New Mexico and Oklahoma region of the organization, will cause a temporary delay in development of local plans. Pending the arrival of R. L. Billington of Oklahoma City, plans for re-organization of the local troop will mark time.

As soon as Mr. Billington arrives in San Angelo to take up his duties, he will be invited to visit Ozona to confer with local parents and backers of the Scout move relative to the proposed organization.

Angelo Musicians In Program Here

Cowboy Entertainers To Appear, Auspices Jr. Woman's Club

The San Angelo Lions Cowboy Entertainers, internationally famous orchestra, adopted as the Lions International official orchestra at last year's convention, and well known throughout the state, will present a special program of entertainment for Ozona audience on Thursday evening, April 12, if present plans materialize.

The Cowboy Entertainers will appear here under auspices of the Ozona Junior Woman's Club. The group will be here at noon on that day to play for the group meeting of the Lions Club of this district, the district meeting having been set up from Monday, April 9 to Thursday to save the musical group the expense of a second trip.

The Cowboy Entertainers not only furnish splendid musical entertainment, but they have worked up a program of vaudeville skits, specialty acts, jokes and the like into a full evening's program of entertainment.

Pleas Childress returned from San Antonio Tuesday after a ten day's stay. Mrs. Childress remained for further treatment for an infected throat.

MEREDITHS RETURN

Rev. and Mrs. J. H. Meredith returned Saturday from San Antonio where Mrs. Meredith has been recuperating from a recent operation.

Mrs. Meredith will remain at her home here from approximately three weeks when she will return to Temple for a second operation. She is building up her strength rapidly and physicians hope to have her in condition to stand the second operation without difficulty.

Mr. and Mrs. Baehler Brown spent the week-end in Abilene.

MODERN WESTERN JUSTICE

Christian Science Monitor: Rap goes the bailiff's gavel. The Judge enters. A few stray spectators and less than six newspaper men see the prisoner brought in. A pair of handcuffs is unlocked, young man sits down and signs a paper. Click! go the cuffs again. It is during the noon hour.

The clock ticks smartly on the side wall. The District Attorney reads the indictment. "Do you plead guilty or not guilty to this charge?" There is scarcely a pause. "Guilty," is the quiet reply. No sound from the spectators, the prisoner shows no outward move of emotion.

The Judge repeats the plea to the clerk and proceeds to sum up the case in direct fashion. The clock ticks on—scarcely 10 minutes have passed since the prisoner came into Federal Court in the surprise move of the officials to avoid publicity. The Judge is now asking him if he has anything to say before sentence is passed. "Nothing, Your Honor," is the answer.

In direct language the crime of kidnapping is called "dastardly, criminal and heinous." As an accomplice in such a case, the prisoner hears the sentence. "You are sentenced to imprisonment for the rest of your natural life."

The court recesses. The prisoner is led out. The small group files out. Though the case has been blazoned in headlines from coast to coast, its termination has been swift, sure and unostentatious. South Dakota has set an example for other States and other courts.

"There is nothing to be gained by giving wide publicity to crime," says the District Attorney. It is hard to disagree with him.

INCOME TAX RETURN EASY

A Kerrville man says he worried a good deal over making out his income tax return, until he finally hit upon a simple formula, which he now offers free of charge to any who may be perplexed in the future.

He listed as dependents one blonde wife, a sedan car, three gold-fish and two children. He then multiplied his grandfather's age by six and seven-eighths, subtracting his telephone number. Next he added the size of his hat and subtracted the number of his car. After these preliminaries, the rest was easy.

Deducting $1,000 for keeping his wife a blonde for the whole year, he divided the remainder by the number of lodges he belonged, multiplied by the electric lights in the house, divided by the size of his collar.

This gave his gross income, which, after dividing by his chest measurement and subtracting his blood pressure, gave the net amount owed to the Government.—Kerrville Mountain Sun.

Mincola Monitor: Married men can stand a shock better than unmarried ones, a scientist finds. The shock of getting married makes all other shocks seem trivial.

DICTATORS AND DICTATORS

It must be galling to the kings and presidents of Europe and other sections of the world to see Mr. Roosevelt acting as his own dictator and running the whole show and annexing all of the applause or applause, as the case may be.

There's amiable King George, who enjoys the pleasing fiction of ruling England and her colonies. George is a very affable old gentleman whose principal duty in life is to write "approved" on whatever his prime minister and parliament do. George is a good writer.

President von Hindenberg of Germany is a famous old warrior, who fought and lost the most disastrous war in history. But for once the vanquished was not disgraced by his defeat. The world still admires and honors the aged field marshal. But von Hindenberg is only president. Mr. Hitler is the dictator and wears the highest hat.

Over in Italy they have Mussolini—"the" Mussolini—and all the world knows that Mussolini is the state. They also have a king, but Mussolini keeps him indoors and out of harm's way. He makes a nice ornament.

Our newly recognized friends, the Russians, also have a big bell weather, name of Stalin. He, too, knows how to dictate, and he lives up to his knowledge. We believe they have some kind of legislative assembly in Russia, but Stalin crooks his finger and the assemblymen dance to his growl. It's a great country where liberty is unknown.

There are other dictators scattered here and there, but they are only small fry.

Our own amiable president, probably, is the greatest and most successful dictator of them all. It isn't all necessary for him to proclaim himself a dictator. Shortly after his election the majority of the American people just spontaneously picked him up and deposited him upon the dictatorial throne—and there he sits, too entrenched for the time being to take a tumble.

We believe he, too, has some kind of a legislative body called congress, for the sake of appearances, and they are an obliging lot of fellows—including the females. If F. D. smiles they applaud; if he frowns, they shake in their shoes. Their duties now are practically limited to obeying the laws that Mr. Roosevelt makes. They have but one prerogative which they can really call their own—that of drawing their salaries.

Privately we admit that Franklin D. is the peer of all dictators, but publicly we poo poo such an absurd suggestion. We prefer to think that he is the only man in history who rules an entire nation with a soft voice and a pleasant smile.

CALIFORNIANS

A tourist is enjoying the wonders of California as pointed out by a native.

"What a beautiful grapefruit!" he said, as they passed through a grove of citrus trees.

"Oh, those lemons are a bit small, owing to a comparatively bad season," explained the Californian.

"And what are those enormous blossoms?" asked the tourist.

"Just a patch of dandelions," said the Californian.

Presently they reached the Sacramento river. "Ah," said the tourist, grasping the idea, "somebody's radiator must be leaking."

Recognize your own faults and those of your friends will not seem so glaring.

DEEPEST WELLS

While aviators are breaking records for height, oil men are breaking records for depth, with the further difference, however, that in the latter case the descent is made by drilling tools and pipes instead of men themselves.

One of the deepest holes ever drilled into the earth, completed as an oil producer in Reagan County, Texas, reached a depth of 8520 feet, or about one and five eighths miles. It produced about 600 barrels of oil a day.

Other deep holes include one in Orange County, Calif., 8201 feet, which was a failure; a gas well near Ligonier, Pa., 7756 feet, and a small producing well in the Rosecrans field of California, 7,591 feet deep.

Besides opening up a fast field for deeper drilling, the Texas well will make a contribution to education, the royalty of one-eighth of all the oil produced being owned by the University of Texas, which has already received more than ten million dollars from its oil land holdings.

When it is recalled that the first producing oil well in the United States, drilled near Titusville, Pa., in 1859, was only 34 feet deep, the amazing advance made by the industry since that time may be better appreciated.

2-HEADED CALF, BORN ON CHILDRESS RANCH, FRISKS ABOUT FOR FIVE DAYS BUT SUCCUMBS TO LUNG TROUBLE

A two-headed calf, born last week on the P. L. Childress headquarters ranch north of Ozona, frisked about apparently enjoying the best of health, for five days before what is thought to have been a lung defect, developed, necessitating the killing of the animal.

The freak calf was born March 4, its dam a Hereford grade cow and its sire a registered Hereford bull. The two heads sprang off from a common neck, and sat at approximately a 45 degree angle to each other. Both heads were perfectly formed.

The calf had two complete nervous systems. It was able to move one or more of its eyes, ears, or mouths independently of the others. The hide will be stuffed and the freak preserved.

BOOTLEGGERS STILL BOOTING

During the wet campaign it was boisterously proclaimed that once liquor became legal the bootlegger would have to walk the plank. Instead of that, we have legal liquor and the bootlegger is still here, and he owns the plank.

Because of the numerous and heavy taxes, and profiteering propensities of dealers, legal liquor is so high in price the bootlegger can undersell licensed dealers and still clean up an enormous profit. And the average man who wants it will buy where he can get it the cheapest.

Wilson, internationally known educator and principal of the South Philadelphia High School for Girls. NOT SO FOOLISH

When Howard A. Smith of Cape Mich., invited 250 unemployed Detroiters to work his farm on a co-operative basis, neighbors scoffed at his plan. But it turned out mighty well, for Smith divided total sales of $15,000 worth of farm produce with the Detroit men, retaining $7,500 for himself. No wonder he smiles.

Health Certificates Must Be Held By Those Handling Food

AUSTIN, Tex., March 14.—For protection of the public a law passed in 1921 making it mandatory for every person who is employed in any public eating place, bakery, meat market, dairy or candy factory to secure a health certificate from a reputable physician. This law is intended to eliminate all persons from handling any foodstuff. Health certificates must be renewed every six months.

Typhoid fever, diphtheria, and other infectious diseases have been found in dairies, cafes, and other places where food is prepared and served for sale. It is not too much to demand that those who sell food should be free from communicable diseases. If the examination for food handlers are properly carried out much good will be accomplished in protecting the health of the buyer as well as giving the applicant for a certificate accurate information as to his physical condition.

The Texas State Department of Health has repeatedly advocated periodic physical examinations for the general public, as it is during these examinations that many latent diseases may be discovered and treatment begun in time. It is developing to such a degree that treatment will not be needed. Many deaths and much suffering would be eliminated if every one would have this periodic check. In the case of food handlers, only the diseases that are communicable will withhold the issuance of a certificate. The cost of money well invested and the growing public should demand those they buy from have evidence of good health.

INSOMNIA

Even apparently healthy people are troubled with insomnia. It is always easy to locate the cause in any individual case. Even in one's regard: himself as healthy, careful examination may reveal the beginning cause. The abnormal wakefulness may be a symptom of faulty functioning of one or more organs. When this is the case, the treatment of the insomnia is the treatment of the abnormal condition which it is based.

If disease is present, the cause should be carefully investigated. Some people are wakeful because they indulge in tea or coffee or use too much tobacco at bedtime. These sometimes result in a nervous stimulation that makes sleep impossible. Much mental activity during the evening may make the mind too active for sleep.

Late Meal A Cause

Insomnia sometimes consists in going to bed too early and waking up too late. This is especially likely to be true if there is indigestion or digestive disturbance. On the other hand, some people have difficulty in sleeping because they are hungry. In such cases, a glass of milk and a cracker at bedtime is all that is necessary.

Drugs Are Dangerous

Insomnia is often overcome by the use of drugs, but these are usually unwise and dangerous. Many habit-forming drugs are habit-forming and should be avoided. They should be prescribed by a physician. A hot foot, a warm bath, a hot foot, and sponging the head with cold water before going to bed are good remedies. And the sleep is often restored by these simple measures, natural and refreshing.

The cause of the insomnia should be sought in the habits or the presence of some beginning disease. Removing the cause is the way to a cure.

Finding Economic Security At Transient Camps

Above is shown a group of 100 men who have found new hope in the rehabilitation work being undertaken through the Transient Concentration Camps. The scene above is at the Austin, Texas, Transient Camp.

Disillusioned Unemployed Find New Hope For Economic Rehabilitation Thru Transient Camps For Texas

AUSTIN, March 10.—Reflecting a spirit of good cheer that comes with modest economic security, one hundred men, once disillusioned and "broken on the wheel of fortune" turned to work today at Austin's Transient Camp. Other hundreds did likewise at similar camps at Amarillo, Austin, Beaumont, Big Spring, El Paso, Dallas, Fort Worth, Galveston, Houston, Palacios and San Antonio.

Through Transient Bureaus set up in Texas, the Texas Relief Commission cared for 21,255 persons during the month of February 1934. This represents a total of 15,000 cases per day.

On March first, 10,000 people were being cared for, of whom 4800 were single men.

Analysis of group case records demonstrates that one-third of these people are agricultural laborers. Another third are clerks of some description. Thirty per cent have high school education. Twenty per cent are past fifty years of age and sixty-five per cent have had a six to eight grade education.

Thus one finds a typical cross-section of humanity.

This is part of the Commission's plan to lay the ground work for some long range planning with a view to the vocational rehabilitation of this group. Technological unemployment and a shattered economic fabric has made these people industrial outcasts. If their roots are expected to sink deeply into the soil of our social order, some fundamentally sound plan must be used to deal with the problem.

The present plan is buttressed upon a program of vocational education that will build up individual morale, give confidence and hope to these migratory persons.

Director Marshall Thompson of the Transient Bureau of the Texas Relief Commission is of the opinion that one prime result will be obtained, namely a system of vocational living that will permit these people to entertain a new self-respecting, self-supporting attitude as more attractive adornments to human society.

'Arkansaw' is the Way The People Of That State Pronounce It

The correct pronunciation of the name of the river, the state and the city of Arkansas, in Arkansas, is Ar-kan-saw, with accents on first and third syllables. In the original bill passed by congress in 1836, creating the territory, it was called the Territory of Arkansaw, the name being derived from the Arkansa Indians. For many years the pronunciation of the state name was a matter of controversy. Between 1844 and 1848 the two senators from Arkansas were Chester Ashley and Ambrose H. Sevier. Ashley, a New Englander by birth, always pronounced it Ar-kan-sas, while Sevier, a southerner, pronounced it Ar-kan-saw. In the senate the Vice President recognized Ashley as the senator from Arkansas and Sevier as the senator from Arkansaw. In 1881 the state general assembly appointed a committee to examine the question and as a result of their report, the pronunciation Ar-kan-saw was made official.

Kansas has the Arkansas river and Arkansas City, and the Kansas pronunciation in both instances is Arkansas. Occasionally a visitor from the south will say Arkansas, but no headway ever has been made in giving the name the southern pronunciation.

The Arkansas River in Oklahoma is pronounced Arkansas for the first 100 miles south. After that it is Arkansaw.

TRUE TO RAISING

It was the day of the school entertainment, and the audience consisted mainly of mothers, proud or envious, according to the part their children were playing.

One small boy came to the platform. Striking a bold attitude, he began: "Friends, Romans, country-men, lend me your ears."

Whereupon one of the mothers whispered to her companion: "There, that's the Jones boy. He wouldn't be his mother's son if he weren't trying to borrow something."

WHAT Are the PURCHASING Agents Doing?

EVERY big company has one or more men whose entire time is devoted to buying the things which that company needs.

These men are specialists. It is their business to know prices—materials—sources of supply—present and future trends. They are the shrewdest, canniest buyers in the world.

But all of us, in a small way, are purchasing agents. We have to buy a certain number of things, if only to keep alive. And most of us aren't very skillful at it. We waste a lot of money. We miss the good bargains. In fact, we could learn a great deal by watching a professional buyer at his work.

At this time, especially, it may be helpful to know what the big purchasing agents are doing. Are they cutting down? Are they opening up? Do they think this is a good time to buy or a bad time? What do they think about the future?

Well, the answer is that they are all buying as fast as they can buy. And they are buying because they know that prices are going up.

"Pig iron has advanced 13 per cent" the purchasing agent of a $20,000,000 corporation recently said. "Brass is up 42 1/2 per cent. I am paying 41 per cent more for lumber than I did in February and fiber packing cases have doubled in price. In fact, everything we use in this business is costing us more today, and will in my opinion cost us still more tomorrow. I believe that many commodities will be back to or near 1929 levels by spring."

That's the way professional purchasing agents feel about it. And they know they have special sources of information. They are closely in touch with industry. They have studied the workings of the NRA codes.

Prices are going up. And it's a thing for everyone. For things come to the point where nothing any true value. A man's time—his property—his life—had no low in value that he couldn't get a decent living.

That couldn't go on. So the government set up the machinery of the codes in order to make every worth something again.

This process is now under way. Wages are being raised. Commodities are bringing better prices every day. But it is not yet over. Before fair values—living values—can be restored prices will have to go higher than are now.

Before they do, take a leaf from the purchasing agent's book, and lay it to the things you need. There are many good bargains still to be had. These stocks are strictly limited. It is the time to buy.

The advertising in this newspaper brings news of many splendid bargains of every description. Study them carefully --- then stock your needs.

LIVESTOCK MARKET NOTES

By ROY K. SANSON
With Natl. Livestock Com. Co., Fort Worth, Texas

A review of the eleven central markets show prices on the great bulk of fed cattle to be strong and active, rather than a quotably higher market over the slump two weeks ago. The good heavy thick-fat steers are the exception, however, for they have shown some appreciable advance, as evidence of a growing scarcity of these kinds and are gradually closing the considerable price gap that has for six months existed between the good light beef and these heavies. The Sheep Men continue to bask in the smiles of the favored few—but the scrap over the $2.25 tax of the hog process plan, between the Packers and the Powers that be, set hog prices back 50 to 75 ct. per cwt., and has continued into a stagnation with little of this loss regained. All the hog talent insist, and a good many cattlemen say, that unless hog prices show an advance of $1.50 to $2 per cwt. we can expect no very material improvement over existing cattle prices—because of the fact that dressed beef is now competitively sandwiched, in between cheap pork, poultry, etc. and the higher prices of mutton—Who knows?

Ft. Worth holds the eye of the whole South-west with our Fat Stock Show—and what a show it is this year. The Folks are here from all over and its the biggest crowd for many years. The Exhibits are well beyond those of recent years. The Rodeo is wild enough for anybody from anybody's country. The Horse Show has the class and distinction that can only come from representation of the Equine aristocracy of the whole middle west. The carnival alone is worth the trip—the new Rainbeau leg-show is hitting the high spots—and the hot-dog men say they never saw so many $ bills in their lives—Yes! its some Show.

Fed steers were in prominence and packers tried to shave prices at the opening, but didn't get very much done. They sometimes try this account of Fat Show cattle and the Club calves that naturally gravitate to them at the close of the show. The practical top on bulk of yearling stuff is around $6 with bulk of sales on good kinds of ALL weights in a range of $5 to $5.75. Good South Texas grass steers $3.75 to $4 with the common kinds around $3. A spirited demand for ALL good stocker cattle, and more country stocker sales in Texas in the past 30 days than for 3 months previous.

Cow prices on the cutter kinds have been rather a sad affair since Uncle Sam quit buying them—they are 50 to 75 ct. lower and now selling in the notch value above canners, instead of right up against fat cows as they were. No news yet in regard to a new Government order, but if they don't get into another jawing match we should know something definite in the right near future. Fat cows fully steady at $3 to $3.50—good cows $2.50 to $2.75—fair cows $2 to $2.25—cutters $1.50 to $1.75, and canners $1 to $1.25. An exceptional demand for HEIFERS at active prices, regulated by their competitive value between the stocker demand and the beef values. BULLS steady at $2 to $2.35 for good heavy weights. CALVES active on kinds more desirable for killers and selling generally at $4.50 to $5.50 for choicy milk-fed of attractive weights. All good stock calves in active demand. Real thin light jerseys are dead dull at nothing up to $2 per cwt. Royk.

Rancho Gas Name Of New System For Gas In Ranch Homes

The convenience of city gas on the ranch and at no more cost is the promise of a new gas service inaugurated this week by Joe Oberkampf.

The new gas, named Rancho Gas, is delivered in bulk liquid form under pressure and is said to be even more economical than natural gas in the city, once a storage system is installed. Installation of a storage tank, valves, controls, etc. places a home in readiness to use this gas for cooking, heating, water heating and for operating gas burning refrigerators. Mr. Oberkampf is installing a plant in his store and will be ready to demonstrate the new system this week.
