Work Progresses On Golf Program

Committee Studies Details Of Organization and Rules

A committee from the Ozona Golf Club, named Monday by resident Hugh Childress, Jr., is working this week on details of the organization of the Lions golf club with a view to announcing on conditions of privileges on the new golf course to be laid out on land given to the club by W. Baggett.

Rules and regulations of play, details of organization, fees and other organization features are to be worked out by the committee and submitted to the club for approval.

Fees which will entitle those outside of the membership of the Ozona Club to enjoy privileges of the golf course are to be fixed, as are the amount of greens fees to be charged. The organization set-up is to be in readiness for submission to those who want to play on the course as soon as it nears completion.

Tentative lay-out maps of the course have been drawn up the last week and the course will be definitely staked off within the next few days. When this is done, members of the Lions Club will start the work of clearing the fair ways, building greens, tees, etc. This work will require several weeks.

A disabled ex-service man, a patient in a United States Veterans' hospital, proudly shows some of the "Buddy" poppies he made for the annual national sale of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, held during the week of Memorial day, to raise funds for relief work. More than 6,000,000 poppies are being made in hospitals throughout the country.

RATTLE SNAKE FOUND SWALLOWING RABBIT TO PROVE THEORY REPTILE BITES VICTIM BEFORE DEVOURING

The question of whether or not a rattlesnake bites its victim before making a meal of it has furnished material for many an argument in the sections of the country infested with these venomous reptiles, and to many old timers, the question has never been definitely settled.

But Will Baggett brings in a story that definitely settles the question in the affirmative. Last Friday, Mr. Baggett reported, Walter Wilkins, employed on the Baggett ranch the past seven years now in the employ of Ed Bean, who has leased the ranch, found a large rattlesnake swallowing a grown cottontail rabbit.

Mr. Wilkins killed the snake, which was more than two and a half inches in diameter. Having heard the arguments on the question of how the snake dispatched its victim, Mr. Wilkins sought to settle it and skinned the rabbit. He found the flesh green from the poison of the snake's bite and the fang marks an inch apart on each side of the animal's back, just in front of the hips.

Since Mr. Wilkins' experiment, Mr. Baggett learned that his brother, Monroe Baggett, had seen a rattler bite a chicken a few years ago and then wait until the chicken died before swallowing it.

Giants Win Two Practice Games

Iraan And Station A Go Down Before Improved Locals

The Ozona Giants tapered off their training with two games the past week-end, winning them both and showing themselves in about ripe condition to take on the Texon champions in the league opening double-header fracas scheduled here Sunday afternoon.

The Giants trimmed the Iraan nine 4 to 1 Thursday afternoon and Sunday took the Station A crew into camp again to the tune of 8 to 3. In that game, Dorley, an import from the San Antonio Missions, playing third base for the Giants, slammed out a single, two three-baggers and got a walk in four times at bat.

Eleven hits were credited to the Giants in the Sunday game. White and Wickline, Giant hurlers, holding the visitors to four.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Henderson and Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Henderson also left this morning for San Antonio. Mrs. Grady Mitcham, another daughter is with her mother.

Seniors Present Three-Act Farce

Annual Play Entertains Large Audience Monday Evening

"The Million Dollar Butler," a farce in three acts, was presented by members of the Senior Class of the Ozona High School Monday evening in the auditorium before a good sized audience. The annual class play was presented under the direction of the class sponsor, Guinn Carruthers.

Each member of the cast was well selected and each played his part well. The plot was uproariously humorous from beginning to end and highly entertained the audience. It all started over a college indiscretion of Beau Spencer (Rob Roy Currie), a newly-rich bachelor. When Herman Manley (J. W. Rutledge) a bronzed young explorer, blew in on his friend Beau, he expected to find him leaping with joy over his newly acquired fortune. Instead, Beau was in trouble. Years before he had tried to prove he wasn't afraid of women and wrote a slushy note to an actress. The actress (Oleta Jo Blackwell) kept the letter and now with the letter and a slick lawyer (Troy Williams) attempted to separate Beau from a goodly portion of his inheritance.

Manley Steps In

Manley proposed to handle the situation. Beau took the place of the butler and complications arose. A series of humorous scenes between Boo-Boo, the African imp, played by John Henderson, and the improvised "Momma" of the actress, played by Dorothy Johnigan, added to the strength of the main plot.

Manley told horrifying stories of his life in Africa to frighten Elaine St. Claire, the actress. Into it all walked Ruth Dennis (Dorothy Henderson), a society girl made up as a gawky servant. Beau recognized her as the girl whose life he had saved and whom he had since vainly tried to meet. But Beau was a Butler and Ruth was a servant girl who handled her dialect well.

At last the true butler, Batts, played by Jake Miller, returned, bringing with him his bride, Sophie Klatzman, portrayed by Anis Mae Brock. The lawyer became suspicious. Boo-Boo destroyed the love letters and a final scene showed Ruth reconciled and preparing for clear skies ahead.

The between-act numbers were directed by Mrs. A. W. Jones, Miss Nancy Lee Miller, and Miss Ada Moss. Esther Kate Pierce and Willie V. Coose gave a short play, "Our Yesterdays," and Mary Alice Smith, Ora Louise Cox, Mary Louise Harvick and Mary Bess Parker gave a novel tap dance.

Mrs. Strick Harvick and children and Mrs. Neal Hannah and children were in San Angelo last week-end.

GIANTS STRONGER

Pitching, Hitting And Fielding Boosted In New Line-Up

The opening gun in the first half of the 1934 West Texas Independent League pennant chase will be fired on the Powell Field diamond here next Sunday afternoon when the Ozona Giants, our own league entry, entertain the champion Texon Oilers, first half and pennant winners in last year's combat.

The Giants, who last year brushed aside all opposition to cop the second half rag, and then was downed by the Oilers for the play-off, are several notches stronger this year than they were last and local backers of the team are in a fever of hope for a clean-sweep victory this season.

The league season will get under way officially here Sunday with a double header bill with the Texon champs, the first game to start at 2 o'clock. While the Giants

THE SPIRIT THAT MAKES CITIES

The recent generous act of W. R. Baggett, prominent Crockett County rancher, in donating use of a tract of land on the outskirts of the city for a golf course is the spirit that builds cities. The urge for unselfish service if present in the breasts of enough of its citizenship will make a city of any town, for a town can grow only so far as the people who compose it want it to grow.

The Lions Club hopes to develop on this tract of ground something of which the town will be proud. It hopes to provide a place where the citizenship can relax in amusement and healthful exercise, forget back-biting and petty jealousies and become better acquainted and more sympathetic toward their common problems.

Contrary to reports that have been circulated, the Lions Club is not going to restrict the course to use of its members only. It has committees at work on a plan for financing upkeep of the course and will fix the amount of dues to be required of those who want the privileges of the course, the money thus paid in to go toward upkeep and improvement of the course. But for the very obvious reason that it assumes all responsibility for respect of the property and for enforcement of the rules and conditions of the contract granting privilege to use the ground, and the further responsibility of doing the work of getting the course laid out and open to play, the Lions Club will retain control of the policies of the course and will of necessity make and enforce the rules.

Time will be required to work out the many details, and time and money will be required to get the course in readiness for play, but when it is all completed and as interest mounts in the game Ozona will realize more and more its debt of gratitude to W. R. Baggett.

BEAUTY AND THE FENCE

Of course, it's just one opinion but somehow we don't seem to appreciate the aesthetic qualities of the new high wire fence around the school grounds. Somehow to us it just seems a bit incongruous, a wire fence thrown up around as beautiful a building as you will find in all Texas, with beautifully landscaped grounds and trees and shrubbery placed to show off the structure to its best advantage.

Whether it was placed there for beauty or utility, we do not know, but it seems to us that in either case it will fail to fulfill its mission. If it was for beauty in our opinion it has already failed and if for utility, that is, to keep the school children in and others out it is destined to failure there, for it would take more fence than that to keep school kids inside.

But, as we've said, that's just one man's opinion, and if others can stand it, our aesthetic soul must.

AUTO ODDITIES

A CAR RECENTLY DESIGNED BY AN ENGLISH INVENTOR HAS A BACK THAT CAN BE PULLED OUT SO THAT THE MOTORIST CAN SLEEP IN THE CAR.

DIRT ABSORBED FROM THE AIR SO CONTAMINATED THE OIL IN A MOTOR IN AN AUTOMOBILE EXHIBIT THAT THE OIL MUST BE CHANGED REGULARLY THROUGH THE OIL IS NOT WORN AT ALL!

(1) One of the larger automobile manufacturers controls the temperature so perfectly in its painting process that extremes of temperature from 70 degrees to 230 degrees exist within one foot of each other with nothing to separate them except a curtain of air. (2) This car of English design is so arranged that the back can be extended to form sleeping quarters at the rear of the car. (3) The motor in this exhibit does not actually operate but is merely turned over very slowly by an electric motor. In spite of the fact that there is no wear on the oil, the oil must be changed regularly due to dirt absorbed from the air.

REVIVE THE RANGERS

Abilene Morning News: The Dallas News is another newspaper which thinks it is high time to revive the Texas Rangers as an effective weapon against outlawry.

The present force has been reduced in numbers almost to the vanishing point, and is so hedged around with restrictions that its field of usefulness is extremely limited. Only the other day a member of the force pointed out that the Rangers are limited to 500 miles of travel per month per man in their pursuit of criminals, whereas some of the big shots in gangland sometimes travel twice that distance in a single 24-hour span. The State furnishes no automobiles and allows only a nominal sum for personal expenses.

The force should be equipped with machine guns and armored with bullet-proof glass. It should be provided with ample funds to carry on its work. The custom of firing the whole force every time the State administration changes should be abolished. The Rangers should be freed from the influence and effect of politics.

It should be obvious to everyone that if Texas puts down the menace of gangsterism, it must have some form of State police. The Rangers, with their tradition of fearlessness, would make a splendid nucleus for such a force.

It is going to cost much in blood and money to stamp out banditry in this State. The sooner Texas starts spending the better, and the quicker the job will be done.

LET'S MAKE OUR TOWN CLEANER AND SAFER

Right now Spring is in the air, and nature, in her annual awakening, is doing her utmost to beautify this old world of ours. A little help on our part would not be amiss.

In the Winter many things are neglected. Vacant lots, yards and even streets become unsightly. Now is the time for a thorough spring cleaning, in the interest of better health, safety and improved appearance.

Such a clean-up campaign is a splendid activity for civic clubs, chambers of commerce or Boy Scouts to sponsor. One of them will have to assume the leadership in order to start the ball rolling, then obtain the cooperation of others. Streets and parking lots should be cleaned. Vacant lots, cleared of rubbish, can be made into healthful playgrounds, parks or gardens. Not the least important phase of this work is the jobs it provides.

When a movement to clean-up, paint-up and beautify sweeps through a community, it leaves in its wake a healthier, safer and more sanitary town than it found. From the angle of fire safety alone, it is worthwhile. In this connection it is interesting to note that the National Board of Fire Underwriters reported that during the year 1932, rubbish and litter caused a fire loss of almost $1,200,000 throughout the United States. Let's beautify our communities—and save that money this year.

Had you noticed how pretty the honeysuckle around the athletic field is, now that it has put on growth and started to bloom? If everybody who has extra plants that could be set out in the vacant places around the fence would donate them, it could be covered completely in a short while. Part of the plants were washed out by the overflow of the draw shortly after they were set out.

Diet And Insulin Are Factors For Diabetes Control

AUSTIN, Tex., May 2.—Diabetics should not die, and yet they do and more of them most every year, stated Dr. John W. Brown, State Health Officer, while speaking of the disease that is known as diabetes. The reason for most of these deaths is that the patient has not studied his disease.

Acid poisoning—diabetic coma—has been the diabetic's greatest danger, but with the use of insulin it should now no longer occur. Coma comes because patients over eat and break their diet, and thus neglect to keep their urines free from sugar. Coma comes during acute infections, whether general, like pneumonia, tonsillitis, grip, or during local infections such as carbuncles and abscesses.

Another diabetic danger is gangrene which most commonly attacks the feet and often begins with injuries to the toes which become sore, because they were cut or bruised particularly when they were not clean. Diabetes is becoming more frequent because it is a disease chiefly of middle life and old age and today people are refusing to die young and so are living to die old. If one does not die of tuberculosis or diphtheria, it leaves more to die of diabetes and cancer, and hence the mortality from these diseases is rising. It is not contagious, it can be controlled by diet and insulin along with common sense and exercise, and if you have it you know you are in good company because so many famous people have had it too.

But if you don't want it, you stand a good chance of escaping it if in middle life you keep your weight at what the insurance companies with their weight tables have shown to be the best for longevity, namely a few pounds below the standard weight for age and height—in other words above forty years of age be thin rather than fat.

Many women swear these days and with reason.

Some tongues are like a friendly dog's tail—always wagging.

Hoping for the best raises no spirits and doesn't cost a cent.

We still have our pessimists but mostly from force of habit. The fellow who claims "nature" generally spoils it by living beyond it.

Between brains and beauty most women would rather have them both.

GULF WINS MORE "HILL TESTS" THAN 32 GASOLINES COMBINED

Will your car have more power on any one gasoline? HERE'S YOUR ANSWER...

Gulf tested a total of 33 gasolines on famous American hills—12 hills in localities from Massachusetts to Georgia—and here is what they found...

The power of different gasolines varies widely! And of all 33 gasolines, Gulf is uniformly best. 7 out of 12 times, it propelled a car and load up mountain grades farther than any other gasoline tested!

It won more hill tests than 32 other gasolines combined! Prove it! Drive into a Gulf station, fill up, and test the power of That Good Gulf for yourself!

HOW 33 GASOLINES RANKED (IN ALL TESTS TO DATE)

All gasolines tested, except a few "third grade" brands, sold for approximately the same price as That Good Gulf. Each brand is denoted by a letter.

Rehabilitation Of Relief Families In East Texas Project

WASHINGTON, D. C.—A hundred families who had been on the rolls in the city of Houston this month into log and houses which they have combed for themselves in East Texas pine woods, in the village Woodlake. Built in the "dog-eared" or double-house type which Texas pioneers favored a century ago, these homes still have modern conveniences. They also been made architecturally attractive by following the pioneer style, at less cost it would take to make them in some imported style.

Each home is different from its neighbor, although of the same material and appearance. One has a three-acre tract surrounding it, on which the family cow, sow and hen with which the family is provided. The investment is paid by the Texas Communities, Inc., a subsidiary of the Federal Emergency Administration, but each family is charged with what it receives and will be required to pay in a given period. Not only the family charged with the care of its own house, livestock equipment, but it is also required with its pro rata share of the community canning house, the ice house, the community house, and other common enterprises.

In addition to the three acres around the homesteads, in the village each family is provided with twelve acres of tillable land outside the village. These tracts are adjoining, and are being worked this year on a cooperative plan, to reduce cultivation expenses.

The Woodlake families are also becoming craftsmen, and are now engaging, in a small way, in manufacture of raw-hide bottomed chairs and other simple furniture. Through this and other industries they expect to piece out their incomes sufficiently to make the required payments on their homesteads.

Woodlake was started five or six years ago by Mrs. Helen K. Thompson of Houston, but had acquired only about twenty families when the new project was introduced last winter by the Texas relief administration, then headed by Col. Lawrence Westbrook, who has since been made assistant national relief administrator in charge of all rural rehabilitation. Col. Westbrook is submitting the Woodlake plans to state administrators throughout the Nation as a model. The engineering architect, who pushed the Woodlake project to completion within ninety days after it was suggested, is another Texan, David R. Williams whose activities have also been expanded now to cover this work on a National scale.

$20,000,000 Is Spent Yearly On Cigarettes

AUSTIN, May 2.—Texans pay nearly $20,000,000 annually for their cigarettes, official computations show, the wholesale cost alone being $14,000,000, from which the State derived a tax of $3,480,586 last year with a decided upward swing in 1934. These figures were made public Monday by George H. Sheppard, State Comptroller.

During the first three months of 1933 the State collected $647,308 in cigarette taxes, compared with $936,749 this year.

A tax stamp that can not be used a second time was put in use and brought an increase of $27,575 the first month.

While the State has apparently choked off stamp repeaters, counterfeiters have been unusually active.

The increase in nine months with the new stamps was $644,728.

70,000 CHANCES TO 1

Boston News Record: The perfect alibi has at last been found. A statistician has worked out the number of chances for mistakes in one column of print. The number is 70,000 to 1.

In an ordinary newspaper column there are 10,000 letters;

there are seven wrong positions that a letter may be put in; there are 70,000 chances to make an error, and millions of chances for transpositions.

In the short sentence "To be or not to be," by transposition alone, it is possible to make 2,758,009 errors.

Secretary Swanson Didn't Like "The Fleet's In"

It took only one look from Secretary of the Navy Claude Swanson, Assistant Secretary Henry J. Roosevelt and an assortment of rear admirals, captains and commanders to send this work of art into the darkest corner of the navy's brig. It is entitled "The Fleet's In," and depicts a scene on shore when the navy boys greet their fraternal admirers. The work of a CWA artist, Paul Cadmus, it was labeled as being "not true to the navy" by Mr. Swanson.

West Texas Towns To Take Part In C. of C. Convention

SAN ANGELO, May 2—The cities and towns of West Texas are getting ready to participate in all phases of the program of the sixteenth annual convention of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce in this city, May 14-16.

From the office of Convention Manager Maury Hopkins and the Board of City Development, requests have gone to the affiliated towns asking them to nominate their directors for election at the convention, to name a representative in Rainbow Roundup, to enter the My Home Town Speaking Contest, to enter the poster exhibit display contest, to submit resolutions and proposals for the consideration of the convention, and to organize their delegations to attend the various group conferences at the convention.

Reports have been coming back from the towns on these various activities, and as the time for the big meeting approaches, the reports are coming in more rapidly.

Sixty of the one hundred seventy-five affiliated cities have already reported on the nomination of their directors responsive to the call of H. O. Timmins of the convention Elections Committee. Timmins issued another reminder to the remaining towns Friday asking them to immediately nominate their directors and report upon the nominations to the convention headquarters.

Advertised Products Are Better

It takes less "sales talk" to sell goods that are advertised. The customer knows about them already.

The same principle applies to any service you have for sale. People instinctively know to depend on the man or firm that believes in themselves. Advertising is a statement of facts or of ability to perform a given service. The advertiser must make his word good, so the public naturally and rightfully believes it can get better service from the man who advertises.

At any rate, you'll find in any town you may investigate that it is the advertisers who get the business.

Advertising carried in newspapers reaches more families, and every member of the family, week in and week out, than any other method. Displays and billboards are all right, but you must BRING the people to see them. On the other hand, the paper TAKES your sales message to the people.

A RAT STORY

Today 500,000 farmers and their families are sitting down to dinner in Texas. The wholesome meals on most of their tables are rich in food values; fats, carbohydrates, proteins, and incidentally the necessary minerals and vitamins. The wise mother should know from experience the foods on which her family thrives and only a calamity prevent their inclusion on her table. She probably does not know that vitamin A is the anti ophthalmic or anti infective vitamin and is necessary for good appetite, health and vigor, prevents infections especially of the eyes and lungs, and is essential for normal reproduction and lactation; but she does know that spinach, mustard, carrots and tomatoes are good for the family and father knows that green grass is good for the chickens, cows and pigs. Mother knows the deep yellow yolks are in the best eggs and rich yellow butter is best; but that all of these ordinary foods supply vitamin A has not occurred to her.

She may not know that vitamin A protects the body from such serious diseases as beri-beri or polyneuritis, but she knows that whole cereals, peas, wheat bran, rice bran and egg yolks are necessary for the health of her family and the fact that vitamin B is supplied by those is only of incidental importance to her. That vitamin C is the anti scurvy vitamin and protects the body from scurvy and keeps the bones and teeth in good condition does not mean so much to her as being sure the family have plenty oranges and lemons and plenty other fruits and salads; but these she unconsciously supplies the needed vitamin C.

If the children or the young animals have rickets or poor bone development she does not charge it to lack of vitamin D, the anti-rachitic vitamin, but the prudent well informed mother hustles the sufferers into the sunshine and buys some salmon and feeds them yeast and cod liver oil until relief is noted.

That barley, beans, corn, peas, rice and oats for the table and alfalfa added for the feedlot, supply the vitamin E that prevents sterility is interesting to her of course, but at any rate she knows that such items are desirable in the diet.

She also provides plenty of yeast, liver, kidneys, sweetbreads, and lean meat, as well as milk, eggs, cheese, turnip greens and potatoes, and the fact that these supply vitamin G that prevents pellagra, is only of secondary importance to her.

Mother knows that an abundance of all sorts of wholesome foods will keep off ailments and keep the family strong and happy. She may not know that every day in the Experiment Station laboratory nearly four hundred rats, carefully bred for uniformity, are measuring to the minutest degree the vitamin potency of the feeds and foodstuffs on which our people and our animals must subsist and that they are measuring the quantities of each various item of food needed to supply the body requirements, not only for maintenance but for proper growth and production and reproduction; but she does know that somebody has figured out some mighty good menus for the table and some mighty good rations for the feedlot and she is not too prejudiced to use them for of all things she desires the health and happiness of her family and the thrill of successful livestock production is pleasing to her.

Vitamin C is measured by feeding guinea pigs and the other vitamins are measured by feeding rats

No other method so satisfactory is known for evaluating the vitamin potency of feeds and foodstuffs. From Bulletin 477, one learns that a human being needs at least 1000 units per day of vitamin A and that foods carrying this amount can be provided for 1/2 or less; that milk cows and hens require green feed in the regular ration in order to continue in good health and be able to produce milk and eggs of high vitamin A potency, and that hays and fodders and even sorghum silage do not supply enough vitamin A for cow to produce milk in normal amounts.

"There's the Doorbell Again"

Suppose daily to your door came the butcher, the grocer, the clothier, the furniture man, and every other merchant with whom you deal? What a tedium of doorbell answering that would mean?

It would be even more impractical for you to visit daily all these stores to find out what they have to offer and the price.

And yet you need those merchants' service quite as much as they need your patronage. Contact between seller and consumer is essential in the supplying of human needs. Before a sale can be closed the goods must be offered.

Every week through the advertising columns of this newspaper, the merchants of this city come to your home with their choicest wares. Easily, quickly, you get the news of all that is worth while in the communities of this section.

They are not strangers at the door but merchants you know and trust. You are always surer of high quality and fair price when you buy an article advertised by a reputable firm.

William Miles, 16, Dies Of Pneumonia In Angelo Hospital

The town was torn with grief and sorrow, when the report came last Saturday morning that William Miles, 16, valedictorian of the Senior Class had died of pneumonia at 3 o'clock in San Angelo where he had been ill in the Rusk Shulkey and Wall clinic.

The body of the youth, accompanied by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Miles, brother, Joseph, an aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Holliday, and Miss Irene Beeman, was sent last Saturday night by train to their former home Ft. Madison, Iowa, for burial. William was a member of the Methodist church here and at the time of his death was general secretary and assistant superintendent of the Methodist Sunday School. The Rev. O. E. Moreland had charge of the funeral services which were held from the Robert Massie chapel, San Angelo, at 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

Surviving in addition to his parents and brother are two grandmothers, Mrs. J. J. Anthony of this city and Mrs. Julia Miles, of Ft. Madison, Iowa.

The graduating class, who because of their classmate's death will not have a formal commencement or baccalaureate exercises, are Tom Harris, Jr., Lorene Westfall, and Ollis Frank, Jr. The youth had been prominent both in athletics and literary events. The senior play which was to have been given Friday night with William taking the part of the father, was called off on account of his illness.

The Miles family moved here about four years ago, when Mr. Miles was sent here as Santa Fe agent. They are very prominent in public affairs and are well liked by the community as a whole. Words can not express the sadness we have gone through for the loss of their loved one, and our prayers are following them on their sad journey.

Mrs. Willie Lee East, teacher in the school here was a week-end guest of Mrs. William Grissett of Texon. Mrs. Grissett was formerly Miss Faye Couger, and taught in the school here.

The grades on the examinations for the post office were received this week. The three making the highest grades were Mrs. Willie Dunkin, B. Kilpatrick and R. R. Montgomery.

GIANTS OPEN—

are entertaining the champions, Mose Simms and his Ballinger team will form a reception committee for the San Angelo Sheep Herders as a season opener. These four towns compose the 1934 league.

Giants Stronger

The Ozona Giants are strengthened in all departments for this year's combat. On the pitching staff there is Weickline, a left hander with plenty of stuff, including curves and smoke, that many think will be just the medicine needed for the slugging Texon crew. Tex White, a right hander, has been doing some excellent mound work for the Giants in pre-season practice games. Tex is in San Antonio this week taking a civil service examination and may not be available for work in one of the double leader games Sunday. If he is unable to get back, a pitcher may be secured from the Galveston Texas League team, local fans report.

In the hitting department, a sizable addition was made the past week when Carl Dorley, outfielder and third sacker with the San Antonio Missions, Texas League, and formerly with the St. Louis Browns, was enlisted on the Giant staff. Dorley is a dangerous hitter in anybody's league. Texas League pitchers found him a constant threat. He lifted one over the fence with two on to win for San Antonio over Houston and knocked a homer in the San Antonio park, one of only four that has ever been sailed over that fence since the park was built.

In his first game with the Giants, here Sunday against the Station A team, Dorley hit a single, two three baggers and walked once in four trips to the plate.

Old Guard Swats

Wade apparently has his old time batting eye and Bob Weaver has been slapping them out long and hard. Greer and Frank Russell have been hitting pretty consistently in practice games and although Andrews, catcher, has not shown much since joining the Giants, he is reputed a good hitter and will no doubt get going with the stick soon.

In the field, the Giants show unusual promise of a highly successful season. The practice games, even though early in the season and the team raw, have been remarkably free from errors and some of the players have been showing mid-season form in taking the difficult chances.

Weickline will start in the box for Ozona in the opening game Sunday. Andrews will catch. The batting order will be Frank Russell, ss; Ted White, 1b; Bob Weaver, cf; Dorley, 3b; Wade, 2b; Andrews, c; Rex Russell, 1b; Greer, rf; and Weickline, p.
