Giants Play Hollywood Movie Stars, All Girls Baseball Team, 9-Inning Exhibition Game Here At 5 Today

Adding sex interest to baseball expected to bring out a record crowd here at 5 o'clock this afternoon at the baseball park when the Ozona Giants meet the Hollywood Movie Stars, an all-girls baseball team from Hollywood, Calif., now on a tour of the United States meeting semi-pro teams in all sections.

The girls team played the San Angelo Sheep Herders in San Angelo yesterday. The Herders taking the game 4-2. They are being sought for other games in this section and will likely play in San Antonio, Austin, Dallas and other Texas cities before continuing their tour. They will finish the season at the World's Fair in Chicago.

The Hollywood girls, led by Miss Pat Richards, former Ziegfeld Follies star, who has just recently completed work in the M-G-M picture, "The March of Time," are said to be seasoned baseball players and take their game seriously. Last season they won 70 out of 140 games played, with some of the best semi-pro teams in the country offering opposition. Miss Richards is the team's manager and pitcher and has been described by sports writers over the country as the nation's foremost woman baseball player.

Want Girl Umpire

The regular line-up of the Giants will take the field against the fair damsels, Manager Andy Andrews says. Two local girls are being sought for umpires, it is reported. The Giants' management being afraid of the possible undue influence of gallantry were a man chosen for umpire. However, the selection had not been made yesterday.

So much interest has been manifested in the unusual game that a petition was being circulated yesterday among the business houses of the town seeking a closing agreement during the game hour. It is understood that most of the business firms in the city will be closed to permit employees to see the game.

Flowers To Hold Another Revival

Popular Evangelistic Team To Return In October

Rev. and Mrs. R. L. Flowers, evangelists, who held one of the most successful revival meetings ever held here last fall, have been secured for another meeting to be held in October, it was announced yesterday by Rev. J. H. Meredith, pastor.

The meeting will start October 7 and continue through October 21.

Rev. and Mrs. Flowers are both capable evangelists, their pleasing personalities and strong evangelistic appeal contributing to the unusual success of the meeting here last year.

Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Willis have taken their daughter, Adella, to a Temple hospital where it is thought another operation will be performed on her knee for the purpose of stimulating the joint stiffened as a result of infection.

Andy Nelson is having a room added to his home here.

Sanitary facilities are being added to the new grandstand at the baseball park here this week.

Giants Drop 2 To San Angelo

First a 5-4 Battle, Second Is Lop-Sided 8-2 Slaughter

Battered down with tough breaks and lucky fielding on the part of the Sheep Herders that robbed them of several golden opportunities to win a ball game in the first game, the Ozona Giants dropped two straight to the San Angelo crew on the Herder diamond in San Angelo Sunday afternoon, the first by the close score of 4 to 5 and the last by the lop-sided tally of 8 and 2.

The Giants were even with the clouting Herders in all things save luck and runs in the first game. Both got nine hits each and each showed up with two errors. Lefty Weickline was a shade ahead of Manager Peoples of the Herders in strike-outs, getting 9 to Peoples' 7, and in base on balls, passing only 2 to Peoples' 5.

Herders Score Early

The Herders scored in the first inning when Hetherly walked, stole second and scored on Holloway's single. Two more were scored in the third on Hetherly's single, a double by Lewis, a single by Holloway and F. Russell's error of Brown's drive. Ozona scored in the sixth on singles by Rex Russell and Weaver, a walk to Dorley, Greer's infield hit and an

Rules Of Golf Course Drawn

Membership Cards To Be Available End Of This Week

Rules and regulations governing use of the tract of land on which the Ozona Lions golf course is located, on the W. R. Baggett ranch north of town, have been drawn up by the club's golf committee and will be printed on application blanks for playing privileges and on membership cards to be available the end of this week.

The rules as drawn up by the committee cover points of the contract between Mr. Baggett and the Lions Club governing use of the plot of ground. A pledge to strictly observe these rules will be required for issuance of the privilege cards. Infraction of the rules will necessitate suspension of players guilty of such infraction to avoid nullifying the contract and withdrawal of the land for the golf course purpose.

Among the rules as required by the contract is that no person shall climb fences surrounding the plot or let down water gaps. Members are to be responsible for actions of their guests and caddies. Immediate suspension from privileges will be the penalty for violation of this rule. Among other requirements, the rules forbid dogs or other pets on the course. Guns are also forbidden on the premises, as is trespassing on adjoining property not included in that set aside for the golf course. No cars or trucks are to be permitted on the tract except where necessary in building or repairing the course.

Annual fees have been set at $30 per person. A membership privilege card entitles the holder, wife and unmarried children living at home to privileges of the course. The first period to be covered by the fee will be from July, 1934, to July, 1935. It is thought that the course will be ready for play by that time.

RAIN REVEALS NEWLY DUG GRAVE IN CEMETERY WHICH REMAINS MYSTERY AFTER INVESTIGATION BY OFFICERS

A newly dug grave of about the size and proportions to hold the coffin of a small child, discovered in the northwest corner of Cedar Hill cemetery here following the rain last week, remains a mystery to local officers after digging out five feet of loose dirt in the hole.

The small "grave" was discovered by Dean Phillips, caretaker at the cemetery, when the rain softened the loose dirt and caused it to sink and crack open. Knowing that no grave had been dug in that vicinity recently, the caretaker notified officers who made an investigation.

The loose dirt had been thrown back into a hole about four feet by 2½ or 3 feet, whose walls were dug smooth and perpendicular as in a grave. The officers and Phillips dug the dirt from the hole with shovels down a distance of five feet when the earth became firm and it was apparent that that was the bottom level of the loose dirt. At this point the digging was abandoned and the "grave" again closed over its mystery.

Various theories have been advanced as to the reason for the grave digging, which was evidently done at night or the diggers would have been discovered by the caretaker. One of the theories, aside from those that stick to the belief that it was dug to receive a human body, is that it was a cache for bootleg liquor.

Whatever the reason for the grave, the investigating officers were relieved to strike solid earth and a reason to abandon the search for a body, which they had confidently expected to uncover momentarily as the digging progressed. In the party besides the caretaker were Bryan McDonald, justice of the peace, Judge Charles E. Davidson, Tom Casbeer and L. B. Townsend, undertaker.

Fast Races Are Promised Here

Some Of Best Racing Stock In South To Enter July Meet

Some of the fastest races in many years are predicted by Paul Perner, chairman of races, at the eighth annual Crockett County Rodeo, Race Meet, Stock Show and Sale here July 3, 4 and 5.

Inquiries are already coming in from stable owners all over the state, Mr. Perner said. Competition is expected to be keen for entries, and some of the fastest racing stock in the south will be here to compete for the big purses.

Ozonia Delegates To District Conference

Three delegates from the Ozonia Methodist Church left Wednesday morning for Abilene to attend the District Conference in session there Wednesday and Thursday. The delegates were Rev. J. H. Meredith, Mrs. W. R. Baggett and Mrs. J. A. Fussell.

Wind And Hail Do Damage Here

Trees, Roofs, Car Tops Damaged; Wind Overturns Truck

Considerable damage to roofs, trees, shrubbery, flower beds and vegetable gardens resulted from a terrific hail storm and a wind that almost reached the proportions of a storm here last week. Hail stones half as large as hen eggs fell for several minutes, beating leaves and small branches from trees and tearing holes in roofs and car tops.

One of the freaks of the wind, which was roaring out of the northwest, was the overturning of a truck and trailer loaded with hay at the south edge of the city, near the Humble station. The truck belonged to Bill Williams, local feed dealer, who was driving it when the accident occurred. Mr. Williams said he felt the truck sway and stopped. The truck and trailer were standing dead still when the wind whipped it over on its side. Only slight damage was done to the truck and trailer, both of which were turned over on the side.

The wind and hail were more severe to the south of Ozona than in town, according to reports from ranchers. On the Monroe Baggett and Arthur Phillips ranches, much damage to trees and gardens was reported. The wind was so strong on the Baggett ranch that big liveoak trees were snapped off at the ground and a big pecan tree in the Baggett yard was blown down. Trees were practically denuded of leaves it was reported. No damage to the ranch houses was reported, however.

Rodeo Program Books Off Soon

Ozonia Residents Urged To Mail Catalogues To Friends

The annual souvenir program and catalogues of the Crockett County Rodeo, Race Meet, Stock Show and Sale for 1934 will be off the press in the next few days. The books are being printed by the Ozonia Stockman and will be available free of cost there sometime next week.

The books this year contain 52 pages, including all rules and regulations governing the different departments of the fair, the complete three-day program for the biggest show in the local association's history, local scenes and information concerning the stock show and sale, race meet, rodeo events and other data which prospective entrants and visitors will want, and the advertisements of West Texas firms that make the handsome book possible each year.

Ozonia people are urged to call for these books and to mail them to friends everywhere. They constitute an attractive piece of advertising literature for the fair and are given wide distribution each year through the co-operation of Ozonia people. Postage on the books amounts to only a few cents. Mailing envelopes will be provided free of charge.

Contract Is Let For Construction Of Henderson Home

Roy Henderson has awarded contract for the construction of a handsome new brick residence on the lot across the street from his present home.

The contract was awarded to H. L. McBride, contractor on the Massie West home, now nearing completion. Work will start on the structure within the next few days, it is understood. Several months will be required to build the new home.

CLUB STARTS ANNUAL CLEAN UP CAMPAIGN

Residents Urged To Sack Or Box All Trash At Once

TO HAUL FREE

County Backs Move For City-Wide Clean-Up

The annual clean-up campaign, sponsored by the Ozonia Woman's Club, got under way the end of this week in the business section and will be extended to the residential section in a city-wide campaign starting the first of next week.

The club has the co-operation of the County Commissioners Court in the clean-up drive, the court having agreed to furnish truck hire for the campaign. The club's civic committee, composed of Mrs. B. B. Ingham, Mrs. George Bean and Mrs. Evert White, is in charge of the clean-up campaign.

Since the allotted funds to finance the project are limited, the committee in charge urges the full co-operation of the people in making it the greatest success possible. All trash and debris of all kinds should be raked up and boxed or sacked and placed in the street or alley convenient for the trucks to pick it up. This will be an opportunity to have trash hauled to the dump ground without expense and there will be no charge for the hauling levied against residents.

An appeal was also issued by the committee in charge asking that every one burn all trash that will burn instead of including it with the other accumulation. This will cut down on the amount of trash to be hauled and will make it possible for the club to extend the clean-up over as much of the city as possible with the funds available. The truck will make a systematic tour of the town gathering up the trash and everybody is urged to make a thorough clean up of their premises this weekend, and to gather all trash and rubbish and have it ready for the trucks when it arrives.

San Angelo To Play Here Sun.

Herders Finish Protested Game And 9-Inning Exhibition

Next Sunday being an off-day for both the San Angelo Sheep Herders and the Ozonia Giants in the regular West Texas League schedule, the two teams will meet on the Ozonia diamond for the play-off of the protested game of May 13, and a regular 9-inning exhibition game afterwards.

The play-off game will start at 3:30 Sunday afternoon. In this game, play will start exactly as it was in the seventh inning of the contest here when the local team successfully protested an umpire's decision on a catch by Manager Andy Andrews of Brown's foul fly behind the plate. The umpire ruled that Brown was not out because the ball was caught in Andrews' uniform. Blondy Cross, league president, sustained the protest and ordered the game played off from the point of the bad decision.

The score stands 5 and 3 in favor of San Angelo. Two men are on base, one out and Brown will be called out making it two, and the game will proceed from this point. The Herders ran in one score in the seventh and another in the eighth in the May 13th game, the score ending 6 to 3 in favor of the Herders.

The nine-inning exhibition game will follow immediately after the play-off, the game having no bearing on the league standing.

CRIME'S CONSEQUENCES

Kerrville Mountain Sun: Regardless of the particular activities in which we engage, it is natural that we should endeavor to look ahead, with a view to estimating the returns which may be expected.

Unfortunately, many do not look ahead at all, or if they do they fail to heed the warnings plentifully supplied by the experiences of others. This is especially true of those who decide to embark upon a life of crime.

Laying aside all moral considerations, and estimating the rewards of a criminal solely in terms of money, health and comfort, it seems strange that any should try to beat such a desperate game. Yet thousands try it and fail. They fall whether they are ever adequately punished by law or not. The daily fear of detection and punishment itself. For this reason, many criminals give themselves up when they can no longer stand the strain.

A criminal recently captured, charged with a long list of daring crimes, speaks on the subject with authority. He says:

"I am 36 years old. I began my career of crime 10 years ago. Eight of those 10 years I spent in jails and penitentiaries. I have been shot 13 times with pistols, once with a rifle and three times with a shotgun. My left arm is paralyzed from the elbow to the shoulder. One lung is gone. My body is scarred from head to foot with bullet wounds. And I say: 'You can't win.'"

VICTORIES FOR THE LAW

Houston Chronicle: Parents everywhere will breathe easier now that little June Robble is safe with her family, her kidnappers flying from the law, and that William H. Gettle is safely home, his kidnappers already sentenced to life imprisonment.

No one needs to be told just now that the quick apprehension and conviction of criminals is a detriment to criminality, a safeguard to all law abiding citizens. Everyone can understand that because of these two victories for the law criminals are cowed today, while a failure to save June Robble and Gettle would have raised up kidnappers in every State of the Nation.

If anything, the California courts have been to expeditions. A little more publicity on the criminals, a little more definite picturing of their reactions and their fate might have served as a more emphatic warning to would be criminals everywhere.

It is to be hoped that the deputies who took little June Robble to the hot and lonely desert pit, and there left her, can be brought speedily to justice.

Such a result would give the people new confidence in the potency of the law, in the effectiveness of their police officers and of their courts; it would go far toward forestalling mob action in future crises.

We have yet to round up our Dillingers and Barrows. That must be done, and with the aid of the Federal anti-crime laws just now being enacted, and with the improvement of State law enforcement agencies generally, as is being proposed by every gubernatorial candidate now before the people of Texas, we can hope for a prevention of such outbreaks in the future.

Further still, we should have a common honesty to recognize where most of the blame for our National crime rampage lies, with the vast majority of allegedly good citizens who have winked at law violation, who have connived at lowering respect for the law generally.

They are seeing now some of the results of the evil they fostered. Possibly we can hope that the damage already done will awaken them to the necessity of rebuilding what they so carelessly allowed to be torn down.

PAYING THE GAPS

Texas Weekly: Announcement that the State Highway Commission will give first consideration during the next two years to paying gaps in the State system of cardinal highways, to the end that it may be completely connected up for the Centennial year of 1936, will be received with approval by patriotic Texans generally. As Commissioner Ely says, we cannot afford to have gaps in our State highway system during a year when we are expecting many out-of-State visitors.

We are without sufficient accurate information to judge how much progress has been made during the past seven years—toward completing the system, but we assume it has been considerable. Just how big a job filling in all the gaps before the Centennial celebration will be we do not know, but even if it is too big a job to finish entirely, whatever can be accomplished will be worth doing, and every dollar spent on it will be well invested.

The Taylor freezer is one of the most complete and modern machines of its kind made. Mr. Moore is using creamery mixtures and mixtures of his own make in providing a variety of flavors and special combinations for the trade.

Sheep And Goat Raisers Assn. Plans Intensive Membership Drive Among Texas Growers; Splendid Work Cited been announced by H. M. Phillips, Secretary of the Sheep and Goat Raisers' Association of Texas, that the Association is embarking upon the most extensive membership drive in its history since the organization's inception. There are at least 10,000 sheep and goat men in Texas owning 5,500,000 sheep and 2,000,000 goats. However, less than 10 per cent of this number are members of the Association, and only a small part of Texas sheep and goat raisers are rendered to the Association's benefit. Only a few of the sheep and goat men are contributing to the financial support of the organization, while all are deriving from its efforts.

H. M. PHILLIPS
Sec'y Sheep & Goat Raisers' Assn.

Cut Freight Rates
Activities of the Sheep and Goat Raisers' Association in matters which pertain to the transportation of livestock has proven the most successful in regard to tangible financial benefits for the sheepmen of Texas through the cooperation and efforts of the members of the Association working with the Livestock Traffic Association at Fort Worth, sheepmen are enjoying rates as favorable as any section of the United States. The transportation charges have returned to the members of the Sheep and Goat Raisers' Association in one year in economies more than they put into it in membership dues since the Association was organized eighteen years ago, and members have received the benefits as the members.

Regarding the transportation of livestock, the Association has been active in these matters: THE GET PRIVILEGE RULE, CHANGE OF OWNER, the restoration of which the Association during the past two years has waged an unceasing fight in 1933 the Traffic department of the Association decided to stop the shippers of livestock from CEASE PAYING BEDDING CHARGES except where bedding was bedded at the request of the shipper. The Association is bedding charge fight at the carriers, thereby saving the shipper one dollar per car practically every car of livestock shipped within the state, was a material victory for the Association. In matters which pertain to FURNISHING LIVESHIP CARS, STOCK RATES, BRINGING COW PONIES WITH NEW WEIGHING, MIXED CARLOADS, ES ON COTTONSEED, LAWNS, AND FREIGHT the Association has been actively active in its work for the sheepman and has saved him hundreds of dollars. In one year the past three years the Association has returned to Texas sheepmen over $7,000 in overcharges.

has been continuous. At the present time the Association has a representative in Washington waging a great fight against any tariff legislation which would harm the sheep and goat industry of Texas. Time after time has the President of the Association, T. A. Kincaid, appeared before the Legislature of Texas to fight the passage of bills which would harm the ranch industry. And because the Association was low on funds, Mr. Kincaid, realizing the necessity of a representative of the industry in Austin, saw fit to pay his own expenses on these trips.

Through the efforts of the Sheep and Goat Raisers' Association the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, Sub-Station 14, has received continuous and substantial backing from the Legislature. The Experiment station is now one of the most valuable of its kind in the United States today, and has rendered manifold benefits to the livestock industry, especially in West Texas where the sheep and goat business predominates.

In any one of the above mentioned activities of the Association, the benefits accruing are for the sheep and goat industry as a whole and not merely for the members of the Association.

President T. A. Kincaid, who has worked so loyally and effectively for the ranchmen of Texas, deserves a much better Association membership. It is the intention of the Executive Committee of the Association and the Secretary in a membership campaign to show Mr. Kincaid that his work and the work of the Association has not been received ungratefully or indifferently, but that Texas sheep and goat men realize the value of the Sheep and Goat Raisers' Association and are willing and ready to support it.

Plan Intensive Drive
Through direct contact by Executive Committeemen and by mail the Association plans to contact every sheep and goat man in the State urging them to join. The dues to the Association are $2.50 per year and a 1 cent assessment on sheep and goats owned. A $5.00 initiation fee is charged. Practically every loan company or financial institution in the State has indicated that dues to the Association should be paid and that they would allow payment as a necessary item on the ranchman's expense account. Dues may be paid semi-annually or quarterly, if desired.

The Association hopes to line up enough new members that it will be possible within the next year or two to reduce assessments. With several times its present membership the income of the Association would be so increased that a reduction in assessments would be possible without impairing the necessary activities.

All non-member sheep and goat men are urged to write the Association Secretary at San Angelo for membership blanks and join in supporting the organization so indispensable to their industry.

Her First Trial

A magnificent view of the yacht Rainbow as seen from an airplane flying over her in Narragansett bay, when the craft spread her sails for the first time. The prospective America's cup defender was skippered by Harold S. Vanderbilt, the syndicate sportsman who heads the syndicate which constructed the boat at Bristol, R. I. If successful in preliminary yachting competition, Rainbow will meet T. G. M. Sopwith's Bullfinch in Hatteras bay this summer.

DEPENDABILITY

That's a word as important as "Service."

The hawker of street wares can give "service"—brings the goods directly to you—but he isn't dependable. If things aren't as represented, if something goes wrong with the purchase, he is gone and there's nothing you can do about it.

That's one reason why it pays, over and over, to patronize the advertiser; he has to be DEPENDABLE. Especially is that true of the newspaper advertiser, because the public holds both the advertiser and the paper responsible for the claims and statements made. That can't be said of all other kinds of advertising.

Confidence is won by reputable advertising. The public instinctively accepts the advertiser's claims as true. If they are not, it reflects back on the advertiser and he loses business.

So, the man who advertises constantly and consistently HAS to live up to his advertisements. He gains and deserves confidence.

Doubtful wares and questionable merchandising cannot bear advertising, so—error by Holloway. The Herders scored two more in the sixth on successive hits by Watson, Peeples and Hetherly after McKinney was safe on Brown's error at second.

Giants Drop

One of the big thrills of the game came when Lefty Weickline besides doing a good job of hurling for the Giants, rapped a homer over the left field fence, scoring Brown ahead of him. Weickline was called out by Umpire Reed as he crossed the plate because the coach at third had slapped him on the back as he rounded the sack, but the two scores were allowed to count after considerable argument. Weickline furnished another thriller for the fans a few rounds later when he rapped a left jab to Pitcher-Manager Peeples' jaw when the latter failed to smile when speaking of Lefty's sneaky.

Giants Threaten

The Giants threatened to tie the count in the eighth when Dorley was walked, Greer and Andrews singled and Dorley scored on Brown's long fly to center. Watson, rubber-legged Herder shortstop, leaped high into the air to stab Weickline's drive, a stop that meant a ball game.

Again in the ninth the Giants threatened. F. Russell walked, was sacrificed to second and went to third on Dorley's single. But Greer grounded to Brown to end the game.

The second fracas was a sad event for Giant fans. Weickline started in the box and held the Herders scoreless until the third when they pushed over five runs. He was relieved by Sanders, a recruit from Llano, whose offerings the Angletons found to their liking and they hit him freely in the third and fourth. Dorley took up the hurling job in the fifth and held the Herders to two hits, one a home-run by Holloway on the first ball pitched by Dorley.
