M.A. Runnion, 36, Died Friday Morning; Burial In San Angelo

The victim of a heart attack which first occurred Wednesday night and grew critical Thursday evening, Maynard A. Runnion, 36, manager of the Ozona office of the San Angelo Telephone Company, died here about 2:30 a. m. Friday. Mr. Runnion had been enjoying excellent health and news of his sudden illness and unexpected death was received with shock among friends in Ozona and in San Angelo where he had formerly resided.

Funeral services for the deceased were held Saturday at 4:30 o'clock from Massie Chapel in San Angelo. Burial services followed with the Masonic order in charge at the Fairmount Cemetery there. Officiating at the final services was the Rev. Allen G. Roe, Methodist pastor.

Mr. Runnion had been with the San Angelo Telephone Company as a construction crew member since 1924 and a few months ago received promotion to manager of the Ozona telephone office, unit of the San Angelo Company. His wife and son had come with him to make Ozona their home and were at the bedside when death came. Mr. Runnion was a member of the old Harris oil test crew which drilled the well north of San Angelo.

When moving from San Angelo to Ozona, Mr. Runnion transferred his church affiliation from the Trinity Methodist of San Angelo to the Ozona Methodist Church.

Surviving the Ozonan are the widow and one son, and relatives residing in Ohio and Michigan.

Pallbearers were J. J. Clay, Sr., A. G. Ray, G. H. McLaughlin, L. L. Bonta and H. A. Searcy.

Honorary pallbearers were all employees of the San Angelo Telephone Company.

New Cash-Carry Plan Adopted By Flowers Grocery

Ozona Firm Quotes New Low Price Schedule With New Policy

Announcement is made this week by the Flowers Grocery-Bakery of the adoption of a new store policy, effective March 1, which calls for the elimination of all credits and deliveries. Simultaneously with announcement of the new cash-and-carry policy, Mr. Flowers announced a new low price schedule, made possible by the elimination of approximately $5,600 annual overhead expense.

The store was closed Wednesday and Thursday while the interior was being remodeled and re-arranged in preparation for operation of the cash and carry system. Merchandise is also being remarked throughout under the new lower price schedule.

C. P. Williams will be the only clerk retained in the store, George Whitehead being transferred to the bakery department. In announcing the new plan, Mr. Flowers pointed out that the extra trouble in shopping would be more than repaid in savings made possible through elimination of the heavy overhead. Complete details of the plan and examples of the new price levels will be found in the Flowers advertisement on page 3 of this issue of The Stockman. Watch for the ads each week in The Stockman.

Mrs. Lenmons has returned from her buying trip in New York. She has ordered a complete line of spring clothing and there are arrivals every day at the store.

No "To Let" Signs On Ozona Business Square; All Full

Empty "ghost" stores may stare at passers-by in many towns of West Texas but Ozona's square of business houses are all full. There is no empty store building in Ozona at present.

Perhaps indicative of better business conditions is the fact that the only two empty buildings here which had remained out of use for several months are now occupied. The Bunger building was refurnished and occupied by N. E. Rendall and the Bert Couch building was worked over and occupied by the new Palace Theatre.

Sweetwater Man Wins Barnhart Mail Contract

T.L. McLaughlin Takes Over Route July 1 For 4 Years

According to information received here by letter February 21 by J. R. Kersey, postmaster, from postal authorities in Washington, contract to carry mail between Ozona and Barnhart has been given to Thomas W. McLaughlin of Sweetwater. The new carrier's contract is in force on July 1, and will extend for four years.

A. L. Jordan, who has been carrying mail between Ozona and Comstock by way of Juno has been contracted by the government to continue the Juno route and to take over the Pandale route which is now carried by Dude Deaton. This contract also begins on July 1.

The past policy in Texas, Oklahoma, Arkansas and Louisiana has been to let contracts for one year periods but beginning with the new contracts, the period is for four years. Seven Ozonans and at least two out of town parties entered bids for the mail route between Ozona and Barnhart.

The Sweetwater man was eligible to make bid but upon receiving the government contract must bring his family to Ozona to reside, according to requirements of his contract.

New Auto License Plates To Go On Sale March First

1935 Numbers Can Be Displayed At Once, Says New Ruling

New automobile license plates, for the year 1935-36, will go on sale Friday, March 1, it was announced this week by W. S. Willis, sheriff and tax collector.

Under a new ruling received this week, motorists may purchase new license plates for re-registration of a motor vehicle and attach the new plates at once. Up to receipt of this new ruling, it had been the general interpretation that the new plates could not be put in place until April 1, the expiration date of the 1934 licenses as fixed by legislative act. New cars, however, purchased and registered before April 1, must be registered for the balance of the 1934 period, the sheriff was advised.

Sheriff Willis and Treasurer Tom Casbeer urged that all motorists bring their 1934 registration papers when making application for new numbers. This will avoid delay and confusion by supplying all information necessary.

Ozona Cagers Nudged Out In Stockton Meet

Sanderson Champs Eliminate Locals In Semi-Finals

The same basketball artistry that was theirs when they contested the huge Big Lake Owls in a grand finale in the Ozona Tourney here two weeks back when they gave the crown up grudgingly, 28 to 23, did not grace the Lion cagers' work Friday and Saturday, at the district meet in Fort Stockton. They were pushed out in the semi-finals by Sanderson, 21 to 15.

That the Crockett quint had competition in Sanderson was shown when the victors went on to the finals and took the crown by defeating Iraan 22 to 17.

Barstow was consolation winner of the meet, eliminating Toyah in the second bracket finals to the score of 19 to 15. Barstow had won earlier from Marathon 27 to 11. Iraan, runner-up, advanced to the finals by ousting the diminutive Marathon outfit 30 to 14.

All district team selections was: Forwards—Lockhausen (Sanderson) and Gaines (Toyah). Center—Crouch (Barstow). Guards—Scott (Iraan) and Mussey (Sanderson).

IF YOUR GROCERY BILL HAS DOUBLED, DON'T BLAME THE WIFE—NOR YET THE GROCERYMAN—IT'S JUST THAT H.C.L.

Survey Of Ozona Markets Show Many Staple Items Doubled In Price Last 2 Years

When that grocery-buying and eating public figure, Mr. John Eatmuck, is shedding tears and bewailing how his grocer does hate him and how he jumps prices, Mr. Eatmuck should take stock of other things—NRA, drought, government intervention into business and that general chaos of economic framework which indirectly fixes prices.

In Ozona four staple grocery items have jumped in prices during the past two years to double or more than double their 1933 quotation. They are lard, pinto beans, flour, and salt pork. Sugar has remained stable.

The most radical climb in prices is found in pinto beans listings. In 1933 beans were sold at four

$3 On Per Capita School Allotment Is Received Here

Together with other counties of the state, Crockett County was recently in receipt of a $3 per capita apportionment from the State available school fund which makes a total of $7 per capita received to present on the 1934-'35 amount.

Funds received in the Crockett County school fund depository, the Ozona National Bank, were for 739 school children, totaling $2,217. According to the amount set aside for each child of school age, $16.50, Crockett County schools have coming a total of $12,193.50 from the state fund.

The last apportionment from the State Superintendent, L. A. Woods, for the entire scholastics of the State amounted to $4,682,895 for the 1,560,995 scholastics. Of these, 506,509 are in common school districts and 974,486 in independent school districts.

The state superintendent with the last apportionments sent out announced that the department expected to have available the remaining sum of the $16.50 allotment by the last of the school year, which is August 31. Increasing difficulty of collecting state taxes during the past few years have necessitated small apportionments throughout the year, some falling to a fifty cents per capita figure.

American Folk Music Presented In Club Program

Colonial Dance In Costume Feature Of Music Club Meet

Highlights of American folk music were touched in an unusually interesting program presented by the Ozona Music Club in a Guest Day program at the High School auditorium last week. Invited guests of the club formed the audience to enjoy the evening's entertainment.

Mrs. J. P. Pogue opened the program by tracing the origin of American music. The Indian and his music was presented in pantomime by Misses Nita Nelson and Grace McMillan, with Mrs. Neal Hannah playing two piano selections from Leureance and the club singing Cadman's "From the Land of the Sky Blue Water."

A northern sea chanty representative of the music of the fisher folk on the northern sea coast and rivers, was sung by Miss Dixie Davidson, choosing "Blow the Man Down." Miss Davidson appeared in sailor costume, playing her own accompaniment on the guitar.

A pickaninny dance, performed by a group of small children under the direction of Mrs. W. J. Grimmer, was one of the highlights of the program. Participating in the presentation were Joy Coates, Mary Jeanette Grimmer, Margaret Russell, Roselle Pharr, L. B. Cox, Dick Henderson, Virgil Oden and Charles McDonald. Betty and Athleen Dudley contributed a vocal duet as further representation of the negro folk music.

Western folk music was represented with a camp-fire cowboy scene, a sextette from the Junior Music Club, in cowboy costume singing cowboy melodies. The singers were M. Fret Drake, Jeanetta Willis, Edy Schneemann, Willie V. Coose, Vicky Pierce and Esther Kate Pierce.

The program finale was the outstanding hit of the presentation, a colonial dance, Virginia Reel, done by a group of club members in colonial costume. The dancers performed the intricate and colorful steps and movements of the dance with the grace and ability of the gay young things of the nineties. Those who recalled the once most popular dance were Mesdames Paul Perner, Strick Harvick, Bascomb Cox, E. B. Baggett, H. B. Tandy, Max Schneemann, Vic Pierce and Joe Oberkamp and Misses Catherine Chapman and Maxine Murdock.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. West returned Saturday from a month's visit in San Antonio, Corpus Christi, Laredo and Houston. Miss Mary Outsider of Houston came home with them to visit Mrs. Alice Baker.

FAYETTE SCHWALBE, 67, ONE OF COUNTY'S ORGANIZERS AND A RESIDENT FIFTY YEARS, DEAD

Paralytic Stroke Over Year Ago Leads To Death Of Pioneer at 4:50 p. m.; Funeral Services Friday at 4

Fayette Schwalbe, 67, pioneer stockman and rancher of Crockett County, died at his home here this afternoon at 4:50 o'clock following a period of ill health which he has suffered for two years.

A victim of a slight paralytic stroke more than a year ago, the Crockett rancher suffered cerebral hemorrhage last July 6 and since that time had been confined to his home. His condition became critical last Saturday and he had been failing since that time.

Born in Iola, Texas, in Grimes County, December 26, 1867, Mr. Schwalbe as a youth of seventeen came to Ozona with his father and entered the sheep raising industry. The two maintained a sheep camp in the early days at the spot of ground around the old live oak tree beside the Ozona Hotel. He associated with his father in their sheep raising venture and later took active part in organizing the county seat here. Leaving the camp site, Mr. Schwalbe located his stock and made his home on the ranch area now occupied by Arthur Phillips. There he drilled the first water well on the ranch. At that time little land had been settled in this portion of the state and the largest ranch at that time was the Joe Moss land which is now occupied by Charles E. Davidson, Sr.

In November, 1893, Mrs. Schwalbe was married to Jennie V. Teague of Sherwood.

From Ozona, the rancher went into Oklahoma about the time of the turning of the century and was interested there in stock raising at Walters, Oklahoma. After about seventeen years there, the Crockett man returned here and since 1925 has been conducting a ranch business about ten miles south of the Sheffield highway, on the Pecos River.

For the past thirty years Mr. Schwalbe had been a member of the Methodist Church. He had been in active ranch work until illness came upon him more than a year ago. Since last July 6 when he suffered a second stroke, he had been confined to his home here in town.

Thirteen children survive together with two brothers and one niece.

The surviving children are Homer Schwalbe, who is in charge of the ranch, Chester Schwalbe, who left Ozona several years ago, Dick Schwalbe, Hobbs, N. M.,

NOBODY'S BUSINESS

By JULIAN CAPERS, JR.

Austin—Taxes have been the paramount issue and subject for discussion before the legislature the past week. Legislators sit up nights thinking up new taxes and new things to tax. The senate tax survey committee gave birth to 18 new suggested sources of tax revenue the other day.

The argument offered for every suggested new tax is always that it will relieve those burdened by existing taxes. The trouble is it never works out that way—it simply means additional taxes, more money for the politicians to spend.

There has been only one reduction in state taxes in a decade, and that was when the people took matters into their own hands and voted a constitutional amendment to exempt homesteads up to $3000 from state taxation.

Here is some interesting light on the tax question. It is a summary of some authoritative testimony given by one of the best informed tax experts in Texas before the senate tax survey committee—the identical committee which a few days later brought in the new tax suggestions. He said: "Present tax levies yielded en-

Two brothers, Bill Schwalbe, Reisel, Texas, and Eli Schwalbe, Kenerer, Wyoming, also survive. A niece, Mrs. J. L. Baggett, resides at Reisel, Texas.

All of the children are either here or enroute except Chester Schwalbe. Also to be here for the funeral services are three sisters of Mrs. Schwalbe, Mrs. Aron Billings of Langtry, Mrs. Austin A. Smith of Hope, N. M. and Mrs. X. B. Cox.

Convicts Trying to Control Swollen River

Convicts from the Mississippi state prison trying to stop a break in the Coldwater river as flood waters pour through. The floods along the Mississippi have caused property damage estimated at $5,000,000 and rendered some 25,000 persons homeless and destitute.

ough during the biennium just completed to reduce the state deficit from $20,000,000 to $12,000,000, and to cover the $16.50 school per capita appropriation and pay $3.35 on the previous year's deficit in the school fund. The state is about 90 days behind on its current accounts. It could easily wipe out the deficit and catch up during the coming biennium without a penny of additional taxes being raised.

Business men are familiar with the law of diminishing returns. It means you can't have your cake and eat it, too. Politicians persistently refuse to believe it. For instance:

In 1931, the tax on sulphur was upped from 60 cents a ton to 75 cents. The sulphur tax yield promptly dropped from $1,300,000 in 1931 to $435,000 in 1932, and one of the large Texas sulphur companies built a $14,000,000 plant in Louisiana, where even Huey Long is too smart to kill the goose that lays the golden egg. As a result, Texas no longer retains the proud title of sole source of America's sulphur supply.

It isn't so much a matter of finding new things to tax, as it is of collecting the taxes that are already levied. There are about $140,000,000 of delinquent taxes owing in Texas today to state, counties and local governmental bodies. If every tax collector in Texas made an earnest effort to collect these overdue taxes, it is quite probable there would accrue to the state sufficient money to wipe out the deficit and operate the entire government for a year, even if no current taxes were collected during that year.

The legislature has encouraged a bad situation, of course, by passing law remitting penalties and interest, from time to time. It seems grossly unfair to the taxpayer who has struggled and denied himself to keep his taxes paid, when his neighbor who has gone delinquent for years, escapes all penalties and interest. But it makes the delinquent vote for the legislators who espouse their cause. Or at least the legislators think it does.

A freshman legislator from East Texas is suffering from a bad case of "jitters." Before his election, he promised the courthouse crowd in his home county he would sponsor a bill to raise the pay of certain county officials. He introduced the bill, but his heart wasn't in it, so he privately told the committee chairman:

"I promised to introduce this bill, and I have. But so far as I am concerned, you can let it die in committee."

The word got back home somehow—perhaps because the committee chairman happened to be a good friend of the legislator's county judge.

The judge came to town, did a little lobbying, and the bill rolled out of the committee with a favorable report. The judge was in Austin a week, but he never went near the legislator who introduced the bill. The legislator wonders why. He'll probably find out next election, when the courthouse crowd back home casts its vote.

Politics is a strange game, but its first rule is "Never bite the hand that feeds you."

Clyde Barrow and Raymond Hamilton, No. 1 Texas bandits, have rendered a notable service to their state. Friends of law and order have tried for several years to enact a law creating an effective state police force. Clyde and Ray convinced the people of Texas that modern machine-gun bandits couldn't be caught by county sher-

Crockett County To Receive $721 From Racing Tax

Advocate of Law Urges Support of Lucrative Tax Source

Crockett County will receive $721 from the state treasury as its pro rata share of the excess collection of taxes by the state from the Race Track Law, according to a letter received this week by Judge Charles E. Davidson and the Commissioners Court from H. B. Edwards of Austin, who is soliciting support of counties over the state for the law, now under attack of the legislature.

The state of Texas has received this year, according to Edwards' letter, a total of $550,000 as her part of the tax on the parimutuel certificates and it has cost the state less than 2% to collect this tax and supervise the race meets. Of this amount, $132,642.59 went to the available free school fund, $111,640 to the maintenance of the Department of Agriculture, and $100,000 to the jack and stallion fund. After deducting for maintenance of the Racing Commission, the balance is divided among the 254 counties of the state.

Under the racing law, Mr. Edwards wrote, there has been constructed in Texas more than five million dollars worth of racing plants, more than 200 thoroughbred breeding farms have been established and more than 200 stallions and jacks have been brought to the state to promote raising of better horses and mules. More than 5,000 persons have found employment in connection with racing, and thousands of dollars have been spent for feed, transportation, farm products, etc. the advocate of the racing law declared.

Steve Coose and his daughter, Elizabeth, have both been ill with the flu this past week.

And Yet Greater Bargains—And Better Service Are In Store for Our Customers

To our many friends and customers of Ozona and surrounding towns We want to thank you for what you have done for us—you have helped us to build a business that we are proud of. We have often had tourists coming from Florida and from California make the remark that our store is one of the best that they have seen while on their tour. They say it is surprising to find a store like this out in an inland town; with a full stock of the very highest quality groceries. We thank them and tell them that they just haven't realized what town they are visiting. We show them the large sign on the corner of the town square—Ozona, "The biggest little town in the world." We are proud to live in this town.

Now our aim is to make this a better store—Beginning on March first we will give you some of the biggest bargains ever offered in Ozona.

We ask your patronage so that we may have a volume of business that will enable us to buy at still cheaper prices. The gain is yours.

$100 a Day for Prison Atonement

One hundred dollars a day for one hundred and twenty days, served in the Joliet (Ill.) penitentiary for another's crime is the compensation the state owes James A. Long, shown at right, according to a bill introduced in the legislature at Springfield, Ill. The bill states that Long's vindication did not remove the stain that conviction had placed upon his reputation, nor did it make up for the mental anguish he suffered, fearful he might have to spend the rest of his life in prison for a crime of which he was innocent. Long served a hundred and twenty days.

CASH KING

Starting March 1, cash will be king at this store—commanding greater values than ever before. On that date we are making the first major change in 10 years. Effective then, we are suspending all CREDITS and all DELIVERIES.

We believe that this change will be highly satisfactory to our friends and customers. It is for your benefit that we make it. Under the present system, we have cut our overhead as far as possible. Now, by eliminating credits and deliveries, we propose to save you an additional $5,600 annually—this saving to go directly into the pockets of our customers in the form of REDUCED PRICES.

C. P. Williams will be retained as the only clerk besides the manager. The difference in price will more than compensate you for the trouble of shopping personally and paying cash as you buy.

THURSDAY FEBRUARY 28 1935

JIGGS WAS HIS NAME!

Not long ago a quaint looking man with a unique philosophy of life came through town. Not a bit like the philosophy of Nietzsche, Voltaire or even Einstein. He had a sack on his back and not a dime in his pockets. His hair was white, silvery white, his skin was as a child's and his eyes sparkled like a little boy's. He smiled continuously. He looked clean, through and through, body and soul. Magnetic and radiating, he drew you to him.

The traveler, he called himself "Jiggs." Where he came from "west of the Pecos," you remember only; and where he went, "into the Valley," you recall and nothing more. But the man, his philosophy, his name, you can not forget.

Why? He talked of never dying. Odd. He spoke of a peculiar happiness, almost fantastic, a soul happiness. He spoke of God as if he had only been talking with Him. His happiness was so complete and so finely engraved on his features, his faith so strong and his virtue so in relief, that you found contentment in his presence.

He was not a fanatic. He was altogether practical and convincing while speaking in such terms of death and life and of the simplicity of Heaven, not a far away place at all.

You listened while he said that he would never die (he, a man of seventy, and would never die?) but you could not doubt him, he was so thoroughly convinced. He was living "the glorious life, finding soul food in growing like Him and looking to the day when he would see and—"

He talked on, "there is but one life, no death, but only one life, and I am in the morning of life now. After what you and others call death, the real, full life begins." You can not fully understand his doctrine, but you believe, you know.

And remembering, you recall a place in the Book where it said "For them that believe, there is no death."

He is gone—"into the Valley." A queer philosophy? "No death—the morning of life— one life—for them that believe there is no death." And there are those of us who complain to desperation over our small adversities of the present.

Mrs. Martha Young, who has been confined to her bed from illness the past two weeks, is reported improving.

Grazing Rights on Land, With Millions Of Acres About Them, Major Cause of Dissention Among Early Texas Settlers

Animals Belonging To Soldiers Depredate On Crops of Colonists, Causing Friction, Ancient Documents Disclose

(Note: The following is one of a series of weekly articles taken from the Bexar Archives at The University of Texas. This collection, considered the greatest single historical treasure on the North American continent, has been catalogued and is now being translated by The University of Texas. It consists of 400,000 pages of original Spanish handwritten documents comprising the official archives of the Mexican government for the Department of Bexar, which covered almost the whole of what is now the State of Texas, for the period from 1731, soon after Texas became a separate province of Mexico, to 1836, to the Battle of San Jacinto.)

Austin, Texas, Feb. 26.—There were two rocks—the Scylla and Charybdes—against which the Spanish ship of state shattered, namely, depression and the savage and unconquerable Indian tribes, it is indicated in the official records of that government for the Department of Texas. These records known as the Bexar Archives are in possession of the University of Texas library and are now being translated for the first time.

Poverty was ever present, the fear of Indians ever in the minds of the pioneers who formed the little civil settlement at San Antonio de Bexar. When the settlers sought to undertake improvements in their new habitat, depredations were always in the offing. Unfenced corn crops and unherded cattle could not exist at the same time, in the same place. The valleys were broad, the plains boundless, but the settlers by circumstances beyond their control were denied their use. They were hemmed up within the town and the open spaces in the immediate vicinity by Indian arrow and tomahawk.

The discouraging conditions are stated succinctly and dramatically in a series of documents dated 1773. A new Spanish governor, Don Joseph Antonio Fernandez de Jaurregui Urrutia, has just taken office. He must have been appalled by the discord among the civil and military inhabitants of the settlement. The colonists were complaining that the cattle belonging to the soldiers were eating all their crops; the soldiers in turn complained that the farmers killed their animals, and declared if they wanted their crops protected they could fence them in.

Harmony Sought

The governor determined to put a stop to such quarrels. He issued an order that the soldiers and other stock owners should keep their animals out of the fields and under guard, and that the citizens should enclose their fields. Any person breaking down the fences was to be penalized. Furthermore, instead of killing any animal found in the fields, the finder was to bring it to the corral and any damage incurred was to be settled for immediately. He urged mutual forbearance, in order to achieve the unity necessary to repel Indian depredations.

Instead of being satisfied and obeying orders, to farmers filed a piteous plea with the governor, claiming that his ultimatum was bringing disaster upon their heads and seeking immediate redress:

"The members of the municipal council and other citizens of the Villa of San Fernando, who, by order of His Majesty, came to settle this province, appear before me in the best form known to us and declare that:

"In as much as, on the 29th day of the month of September last, 1737, an order was published by the secretary of this said cabildo in the royal presidio of San Antonio de Bexar by order of your Excellency requiring us to fence our fields, to keep our cattle herded and not to spear stock that are continually causing damage to our crops; and

"Whereas, up to the present time, we have not been able to stop this nuisance, to carry said animals to their owners, to keep them shut up for three or four days in the corrals or to go in person almost every evening to give them notice thereof, no remedy has been found.

"Impossible to Fence"

"Therefore, since, as we have pointed out, your purpose is to avoid grave damages such as we have been suffering we cannot fail to bring to your Excellency's attention the fact that it is impossible for us to fence our fields now because the time for gathering the corn is near and there is a great deal of fence to be built.

Your Excellency must remember that the soldiers of this presidio keep their stock in our territory without any herdsmen at all, for one would cost them 380 pesos, the price fixed by the King, our Lord. We must live on the scant crops our fields produce. If we still permit them to keep their stock in our territory as we have been doing, then it seems that everything will fall on us. If we have to fence our land, the burden will be greater than we can bear in our poverty. If the soldiers had no stock, then we would be excused from building the fences. As to the order issued forbidding us to spear the stock, it is an impossible thing to get them out of the corn without using a goad. That is why we have to keep our spears when in the field. It has happened that when we have succeeded in getting one out even when armed with a spear we have killed our horses. It is almost impossible to get them out of the corn. We therefore beg that you will be good enough to order the soldiers not to let their stock come to our land because of the damage to our fields they cause. We are really in danger of losing all our lands, our irrigating ditches as well as our levees. During the six years we have worked on our farm lands, we have not been able to keep the stock out; for, in spite of the fact that they claim there is nothing for their horses to eat in this vicinity but that they can get something in the fields, we wish to say with all due respect that the statement that there is nothing to eat but the corn is false. We are therefore impelled to beg you to issue orders forbidding any person save the owners, under any pretext whatsoever, to enter our cornfields either by day or by night, for they rob us, and we assure you that we will try to find means to defend our personal work. We have to live, and when they lay it on to the Indians we are so outraged that we almost forget ourselves.

"We likewise beg of you to be good enough to order all the owners of stock to guarantee that they will pay us for the corn their stock has eaten, for up to this time they have eaten more than 400 bushels of corn. This deprives us of food and makes it impossible for us to pay the tithes we owe to the church. We therefore can not be excused from begging you to be good enough to order the soldiers of this presidio not to ride the horses we have in the herd, for we assure your Excellency that they do so often and that when we send for one it is useless when we get it, even though it has been left in the herd four or five months. Even now when they bring our horses to us they are riding them. Therefore we beg that you will do as we have petitioned you to do. If you do not we will be forced to abandon our corn and even the settlement because we will not be able to live and will perish in this remote region. We beg you to furnish us with a copy of this our petition for such use as we need to make of it. Please disregard the charge made against us that we have killed the stock belonging to the soldiers of the presidio, for we assure your Excellency that when these soldiers say that we have killed any stock, they fail to state the truth, because they can not prove that during the six years, now almost seven years we have been in the place, we have killed one single head.

Colonists Reprimanded

"We therefore beg and plead with you to be good enough to grant our petition. In so doing you will render justice and kindness. We do take oath that this our petition is in due legal form and is a necessary action. Again, we beg you to accept this our petition on ordinary paper since there is no stamped paper in this province."

Certain discrepancies in the situation as presented by the farmers and as interpreted by the soldiers caused the governor to take steps to ascertain the real truth of the situation. Pining the colonists down to cold facts, he ascertained that they, contrary to their original story, had killed some of the animals; that the greater portion of the 400 bushels of corn eaten by the stock had been destroyed during the regime of his predecessor, in fact, that only some fifteen or twenty bushels had been destroyed after his pronouncement had gone into effect; and, finally, that the farmers had not made written protest to the governor prior to the issuing of his initial order. Incensed at their inaccuracies and grieved at their unpatriotic threats to desert the colony should they not obtain relief, he issued a final order reminding them to be less hasty in the future.

"I the Governor and Captain General have decided that in view of the fact that the illustrious cabildo of the Villa de San Fernando (See GRAZING RIGHTS—Page 7)

Grazing Rights—

...hondo show the inadequate foundation they had for their complaint and that I have issued orders calculated to remedy the trouble, it is necessary for me to remind them that in the future, they must proceed with the care and caution demanded by justice and are not to threaten to leave their homes, crops and this city. Thus, though the land stretched for hundreds of miles around them, the early Texans found that land and grazing rights for their cattle was to be one of the major grounds for civil dissention.

Although the story is straight comedy drama there are four special songs, catchy airs written by three of the most famous song writing teams, Allie Wrubel and Mort Dixon, Sammy Fain and Irving Kahal and Bert Kalmar and Harry Ruby.

Powell sings two of the songs alone, "Pop Goes My Heart" and "Beauty Must Be Love" and also joins with Frank McHugh in a duet, "Massaging Window Panes." A fourth song, "All on Account of a Strawberry Sundae," is sung by Dorothy Dare, the famous Broadway musical comedy star who makes her screen bow in this production.

Josephine Hutchinson, the famous New York and London stage star who made such a hit last season as Alice in the Eva Le Gallienne Civic Repertory Company's production of "Alice in Wonderland" also makes her first screen appearance in this picture, playing the leading feminine role opposite Dick Powell.

Okl. Trucker Tells New Idea Hit For Popular Song Hit

KANSAS CITY, Feb. 26 (AP)—A peeling nose, a girl in Texas and a mother's innocent remark lay back of the movie fame that came to "Pinky" Tomlin, 23-year-old Oklahoma crooner and author of the song, "The Object of My Affections."

"One day," the former Oklahoma University student band leader explained, "I said to my mother, 'Ma, I'm going down to Texas to see the object of my affections.' I had been driving a State Highway Department truck all summer, and my face was red and my nose was peeling something awful.

"Ma looked at me and said, 'Son, you better change that complexion.' Right off I knew I had it. Those were just the lines to fit a tune I'd been humming to myself all summer as I drove 'up and down those hot roads.

"I hummed the words and tune all the way down to my girl's house and when I got there I had the whole song in my mind. That's all there was to it."

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Phillips and Miss Mary Virginia Gray visited W. C. Gray, who is recuperating in a San Angelo hospital from injuries received here recently, Wednesday. Mr. Gray is able to sit in a wheel chair.

Mrs. J. W. Owens was in from the ranch for the week-end.

Ozonan Boasts Valuable Collection Of Old and Rare Coins; Approximately A Thousand Pieces Included In Lot

Stamp Size U. S. Bills Included In Lewis' Collection

By Bill Gray

Some people are careful not to take money that is not in circulation and is not legal tender at the date but Jess Lewis of Ozona is looking for and readily takes old coins and old bills, and they do not have to be legal tender nor even coined in the United States.

The Ozona connoisseur has in his collection, which he began in earnest about six years ago, approximately one thousand in all of old coins and rare bills and recent but odd coins and currency.

Perhaps the most interesting of his collection are the almost stamp size bills which were issued by the United States in former days. The fractional currency series is made up of bills in fifty, twenty-five, fifteen, ten, five and three cents denominations. According to value, they range in size. Little time and less paper were applied in producing the three cent greenback with the date March 3, 1863. A rarity, the tiny five cent "red back" printed in 1862, must have been lost many times from several pocket books. All of the tiny bills are yet legal tender!

Has "Isabella Quarter"

The United States has coined only one series of coins which honored a foreign monarch and that was the "Isabella Quarter."

The Ozonan has one in his possession and its coin date is 1893. Among the coin collector's mediums of exchange are several half dimes and silver five-cent pieces. The series began in 1794 and was discontinued in 1873. The early ones are rare and bring fat premiums to collectors.

Perhaps the only U. S. coin to bear its metal value is the "trade dollar," one of which the collector here has secured in his collections. This is a rare coin and contains high value in silver, declaring in unprinted words, "420 grains 900 fine." It was coined in 1878 and was in competition with cheap money and less valuable Mexican money.

Other bits in the connoisseur's collection are a three cent piece, coined in 1882 and made of nickel, fifteen or twenty two-cent pieces from 1863 to 1866, half cent pieces of bronze (one coined in 1834) about the size of a quarter and "blanket" size bills with dates ceasing in 1928. The oldest coin in the collector's possession is a Rex, coined in an English mint in 1797 and good anywhere in "the isles." It is of bronze, about one quarter inch thick and is about the size of a dollar of today. At the time of coinage it was worth about four cents in American money.

Centennial Half Dollar

The latest rarity in the coin gathering is the centennial half dollar which is sold at banks for $1.00. The coin commemorates Texas' centennial celebration of independence from Mexico and carries the bust of Stephen F. Austin, Texas Alamo and liberty emblem on one side and the eagle mounted on the lone star figure with words around the edge, "Texas Independence Centennial," and "Remember The Alamo," on the other side.

The rarest listing in the numismatic catalogue of the coin collector is the silver dollar of 1804 mint with value today at $300. The 1913 Liberty Head nickel, valued at $50, and the 1894 "S" mint dime, for which $250 is offered, are among the best known of the "premium coins."

There is a law that if two monies are in circulation the good money will tend to drive out the bad, but it did not say that the "bad" will grow old and stale and come back with more value than the new. Brownings "Grow old along with me, the best is yet to be," might be one coin's watchword to another.

Tire Thief Flees, Leaving His Auto And Pet Greyhound

A dusky citizen of San Angelo made a poor swap Tuesday night when he was caught in the act of stealing tires in Kerrville and fled leaving behind his Studebaker coupe and a brindle racing greyhound.

Raymond Ochoa residing at the corner of Quinlan and Jefferson streets, by chance walked into his garage at about 1 p. m. Tuesday night. In the darkness he stepped on an intruder, who had removed one of the wheels from Ochoa's truck and was at work on another. After a brief tussle in the darkened garage, the thwarted tire thief broke away and dashed to his car which had been parked nearby. When Ochoa made a hip pocket movement, the prowler beat a hasty retreat, leaving behind his tan colored coupe and a whining greyhound.

City Officer Emil Habecker took charge of the car and the dog. A check of the license plates showed that the car had been registered by a negro at San Angelo, and the police department there was requested to be on the watch for the owner.—Kerrville Mountain Sun.

Bob Weaver has been ill at his home for the past week.

Leslie-Hiller Test
On Todd Awaiting
New Drilling Plans

Activity of the Leslie-Hiller, et al, test, located 14 miles north-west of Ozona on the Todd ranch, continues at a stand-still awaiting development of financial interests in Los Angeles who are sinking the test.

Leon G. Heisserer of Los Angeles, associate of A. L. Hiller, accompanied by I. Lee Burch, representing the California financing group, was in Ozona the latter part of last week studying the test at the 600-foot level and both have returned to complete drilling plans. When drilling ceased more than two weeks ago, the test showed lime corresponding favorably with formation of the same depth in the near area of the Permian. The formation is being reached higher and heavier than found in the Stanolind-Todd well nearby.

Spudded with an opening of 12 1/2 inches, 10 inch casing will be set if drilling continues. Plans for a 1600-foot hole may be abandoned and the test may go 2500, according to the operator here.
