CITIZENS PLEDGE SUPPORT TO BASEBALL CLUB IN MASS MEETING; SUBSCRIBE FUND

New Board Of Directors Selected At Meet Of Fans

SELECT MANAGER

Four New Players To Be Hired; Season Opens Sunday

Baseball in Ozona was given a new lease of life—and baseball fans of Ozona were given assurance of a team for the present season to compete in the Permian Basin league at a mass meeting of men of Ozona held in the ballroom of the Hotel Ozona Monday night.

The meeting was made on a blind call and between 60 and 70 men were present for the gathering. Nearly all of them baseball fans, the meeting waxed enthusiastic after the local baseball situation was explained and discussed with the result that a fund of $214 a month for the four and a half months of the season was subscribed to support the team in league competition this year.

This fund will be used to employ players needed to bolster the local line-up. A catcher-manager, two pitchers and one infielder will be employed if the fund started at the mass meeting is subscribed to the figure estimated necessary to support this additional roster of players.

A fund of $400 a month will be sufficient to insure a well-manned baseball team, it was estimated at the meeting. A large number of competent ball players are in the area and applications of many of these are on file with the local club heads. Local talent, players who have been the mainstay of the Ozona club for many years, are all anxious to play and will play without compensation as in past year, it was explained.

A check for $50 as the Ozona club's deposit in the Permian Basin league went forward to league officials this week. This deposit will remain with the league officers until the end of the season when it will be returned if the local club plays a full season, to be forfeited only in the event the club fails to complete its season schedule.

Ozona's official league schedule opens next Sunday in McCamey with a double header bill with the McCamey team. Club heads were keeping the wires busy this week lining up some additional material to bolster its chances in the opening fracas.

The Ozona team is headed by a board of directors composed of George Russell, Warren Clayton, Joe Davidson, Neal Hannah and Early Baggett. These directors were named at the Monday night meeting and are charged with the duty of selecting a playing manager and a business manager, as well as additional full time players for the club.

A special concession exempting the Ozona club from the player eligibility rules of the Permian league was secured by Tom Casbeer, last year's business manager, in a recent league meeting in McCamey. Under this rule, other clubs in the league can not play a man unless he was in uniform the previous Sunday. With Ozona's exemption, the local club can play any player any time, except players from other teams in the league, such players coming under the same eligibility rule as governs other teams.

Mr. & Mrs Bert Couch Take Over Palace Theatre

Building Owners Now Operating Ozona's New Show House

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Couch, owners of the building in which the recently opened Palace Theatre is located, took over control and management of the show house last week when the original owners relinquished their claims.

Mrs. Couch, who is active in management of the theatre, has re-opened it for daily film showings. A mix-up in bookings arranged by the previous management resulted in failure of the film booked for Tuesday and Wednesday nights of this week to arrive. However, the bookings have been checked over for future showing and unless unforeseen contingencies arise, the show will be open each night hereafter, Mrs. Couch said.

Tonight and tomorrow night for the showing of the Paramount picture, "Rumba." Mrs. Couch has voluntarily donated all proceeds above actual expenses to the Ozona Lions Club.

Churches Join Easter Cantata Sunday Evening

Voices From All Three Churches Heard In "Eastertide"

Voices from the three choirs of Ozona churches will combine in an Easter Cantata to be sung at the evening hour at the Methodist Church Sunday evening, starting at 8 o'clock. "Eastertide" is the title of the Cantata, by Daniel Protheroe. It is in two parts, the first part developing the story of the Passion, progressing from the charge against Jesus, his hearing before Pilot, the clamoring of the mob, the march to Calvary, the crucifixion, the hours of darkness and closing with songs of glory.

The second part of the cantata passes to Easter or the resurrection, Mary Magdalene's visit to the sepulchre, the appearance of the archangel, finishing with a finale of gladness and the victory over death.

The service will open with a violin duet number by Miss Elitabel Tillory and Joe Haddon. Mrs. H. B. Tandy will direct the cantata, with Mrs. Victor Pierce accompanying.

Solo parts in the production will be taken by Mrs. John W. Henderson, Soprano; Mrs. Joe Pierce, contralto; Rev. Leon M. Gambrell, baritone; Neal Hannah, tenor, and Ross Huffstедler, bass.

When That Rattler Tried To Lick His Face,

That's What Made This Vaquero Really Mad

Vaqueros of the Pecos country don't tell fish stories, but find one without an individual, personal story on a charming snake that he has met up with and you won't have an honest to goodness vaquero, you'll have a citizen that has never seen the Pecos. It is more than somewhat understood, even, that when a gentleman of the chaps and spurs comes to town from "out that way," he is obligated to bring credentials, which in plain language is a story about snakes and the likes.

Four Ozona Boys Are Enrolled In 'Tree Army' Corps

New Enrollment Opens Quota To Crockett County Boys

Four Ozona boys will report at Brackett Friday morning for enrollment in the citizens conservation corps under a new enrollment program authorized from Washington the past week.

The four Ozona boys joining the tree army are Lowell Schwalbe, J. B. Sapp, John Kelly and Ed Standlee. They will be enrolled at Brackett and sent to their final camp destination from that point, probably somewhere in Arizona, according to R. O. Smith, relief administrator here, who is in charge of the enrollment of the Crockett County quota.

Authority to enroll 4,986 Texas boys in citizens conservation camps in the eighth corps area was received in Austin last week by Neal E. Guy, enrollment supervisor for Texas.

County administrators were not lifted immediately to instruct boys selected to report to recruiting stations between April 17 and 23. Enrollment will be for a six months period as usual with an opportunity to re-enroll for an additional six months.

Effect of this new enrollment of boys will be to take approximately 5,000 Texas families off the relief rolls by June 1, at which time first checks will be received by beneficiaries of enrollees.

Guy said approximately 2,725 young men will be sent out of the state to camps in Arizona, New Mexico, Colorado and Wyoming. The remainder will go to the 55 camps in Texas.

Enrollment of these boys will again bring the quota of Texas young men in CCC camps to the maximum figure of slightly more than 14,000.

French Attracted To Texas Province Of 150 Years Ago By Rich Indian Trading Possibilities, Thorn In Spanish Sides

Strong Spirit Of Nationalism Developed In Struggle

Austin, Texas, April 16—All precautions to the contrary, a number of Frenchmen from Louisiana managed to slip into Texas, "the land of promise," through the slightly-opened door at the post of Nacogdoches, where the Indians of the region to the West congregated to receive their annual gifts from the Spanish monarch. But the road to the Indian villages, where fortunes could be made by exchanging tawdry trinkets for precious pelts was no pathway to roses to them. Competition was keen from Englishmen, Irishmen and Anglo-Americans. Besides, there were high-headed Spaniards who prided themselves on their ability to handle the situation. Of these none were quite so arrogant, quite so sure of themselves as was Don Antonio Gil Ybarbo, perhaps the most picturesque character of the Louisiana border, across which stepped clown and martyr to play their roles on the great state of the magic Southwest. From the pages of the manuscripts in the Bexar Archives in the library of The University of Texas, that are now being translated for the first time, Ybarbo speaks, in a communication addressed to His Excellency, the Governor Dan Manuel Munoz. Written from Nacogdoches, it bears the date, October 2, 1791, and reads as follows:

"Don Antonio Gil Ybarbo, Captain of Militia, Lieutenant Governor of the Pueblo of Nuestra Señora del Pilar de Nacogdoches, with military and political powers, and Judge Delegate for the Prevention of Contraband and Illicit Trade, has the honor of appearing before your Excellency with the greatest veneration, and of setting forth the fact that he has served His Royal Majesty since the year 1754, at which time he obtained the positions above named. He wishes further to state that in the year 1774 he founded the Pueblo Senora del Pilar de Bucarel, on the banks of the Trinity River, with citizens from the abandoned Presidio de Adaes; that in the years 1777 and 1778 he explored the coast country at the mouth of the Neches, the Trinity, the Brazos de Dios, and the Colorado; and that, in the same year, he visited the tribes of the North for the purpose of pacifying them, because they were in the habit of committing depredations against the presidios of the province. In the year 1779 there was an unprecedented overflow of the said river which submerged the entire pueblo and ruined the houses and farms connected therewith. In this same year, therefore, he and his unfortunate comrades moved and founded a new Pueblo called Nuestra Señora del Pilar de Nacogdoches. It is now a fairly well organized town with a rather decent church, a guard house, and a stone jail, as well as one built of lumber. Toward all this he contributed with both supplies and personal labor and he is in command at the present time.

"He wishes to call attention also to his services in keeping twenty-one savage Indian tribes adjacent to the said presidial establishment in subjection and friendly to the government of the King. In addition thereto, he has used the greater portion of his property in feeding and otherwise providing for them, as is conclusively proved by affidavits of his services issued by his superiors.

"If his services have merited it, he humbly begs that your Excellency will be good enough to call the matter to the attention of His Excellency the Commandant General and his Excellency the Viceroy in behalf of the petitioner, since his honor and his financial interests are involved. He trusts that you will recommend to these superior authorities what favors it would be proper to grant him that would be most satisfactory to you. He trusts that your Excellency will do him this favor and render him this justice."

Not content with this, on June 16, 1792, he made another bid for favors by denouncing a Frenchman and a Spaniard—the latter of whom claimed to be a descendant of the renowned Cortes—for engaging in contraband trade. He still cited his high-sounding titles but this time he wrote from the capital of the Province, San Antonio de Bexar:

"His Excellency, the Governor: "Don Antonio Gil Ybarbo, Captain of Militia and Lieutenant Governor of the Pueblo of Nuestra Señora del Pilar de Nacogdoches, appears before you with all due submission and declares that he has had information that Captain Juan Cortes, who was commissioned to come to this pueblo to carry out certain orders of the commandant general, and who was accompanied by Nicolas de la Mata, the writer's open enemy, has, with his followers, acted so inconsiderately, so selfishly, and so unlike a Christian that he has exceeded all the bounds of justice. It has likewise been ascertained that a few days after his arrival, he sent a sergeant and a private soldier to the post at Nachitoches, and that, upon his return, the said sergeant brought back with him Don Nicolas de la Mata and two soldiers, together with a large quantity of contraband goods. The writer also has information to the effect that the said captain brought away from that place some tobacco and some playing cards, four slaves and some mules. These belonged to him, but they should have been left in Nachitoches until his case was decided, because they were part of his possessions that had been seized as contraband goods. This is a matter that I feel bound by duty to report to you. Besides I am afraid the things might be lost or hidden out. You will act in this matter as you may think right and proper."

The contest for control of contraband trade promised to be a spirited one, but the stakes were high—riches through trade with the Indians and, perhaps, final possession of the rich and beautiful province of Texas. The spirit of nationalism was then strong in the hearts of Frenchmen and Spaniards.

NOBODY'S BUSINESS
BY JULIAN CAPERS JR.

AUSTIN, April 16—Whether conditions on Retrieve prison farm are disgraceful, as charged by Dolly Boyett, prison board member, or whether sensational stories of mistreatment of prisoners are newspaper exaggerations, will be finally determined by a house probe committee. Houston newspapers "broke" the story. Prison Manager Lee Simmons denied it. Ranger Capt. McDaniel investigated at the governor's order, upheld Simmons. The house, unconvinced, named its own committee to look into the matter.

Outraged at propaganda stories in favor of federal oil dictatorship being published in national magazines and elsewhere, in which immoderate attacks on the integrity of Texas public officials and wild statements about the volume of "hot" oil flowing in Texas—which are refuted by official figures of the U. S. bureau of mines—Rep. Augustin Celeya of Brownsville has written a resolution calling for a house committee to investigate these charges, and if they are found untrue, to issue an official denial. The house was to consider the suggestion during this week.

Texas are active on other fronts this week. In New Orleans, ex-Gov. Dan Moody has been making good on advance forecasts that he would cause the Huey Long political machine some sleepless nights in his prosecution of federal income tax evasion indictments against certain Long henchmen. Whatever the jury decides, observers are unanimous in New Orleans, according to word reaching Austin, that Moody was never a more relentless prosecutor than in his presentment of the government's case against State Representative Joseph Fisher in U. S. district court at the Crescent City.

In Washington this week Col. E. O. Thompson, railroad commission chairman, was to offer an eloquent and logical plea against federal dictatorship for oil before the senate mines and mining subcommittee. A statement prepared for presentation to the committee by Col. Thompson asserts the Thomas bill ought to die in committee because:

- "1. There is no conceivable necessity for this drastic legislation.
- "2. It is undoubtedly unconstitutional.
- "3. It will retard recovery and cause chaos and uncertainty in the third largest American industry.
- "4. It seeks to change our system of government and violates every principle of state sovereignty in express contradiction of President Roosevelt's public utterance on the oil question of April 3, 1933.
- "5. The overwhelming majority of the industry and the oil producing states are opposed to it."

Col. Thompson eloquently developed this brief by pointing out that the Cole oil investigating committee, named by congress to study the whole oil question, failed to recommend federal oil dictatorship, and asserted specifically that federal control "was full of constitutional questions."

"Even the most ardent supporters of the present Thomas federal dictator bill will not contend that hot oil in any appreciable amount is being run today," he said. "It has been reduced to a minimum. The price is firm at $1 a barrel, and production is a quarter million barrels less than consumption and export daily."

Decision of the Third court of civil appeals, at Austin, that the Texas anti-trust laws are invalid, and holding the state has had no anti-trust laws since 1911, will not mark the end of the Allied suits against major oil companies. Atty. Gen. Bill McCraw, inheritor of the suits, remarked tersely: "The question is deserving of an expression from the supreme court," and forthwith prepared to take the case there. But the decision does present an interesting sidelight on legislative blunders.

The court found that in 1902 the U. S. supreme court held Illinois anti-trust laws invalid, because they exempted farmers and stockmen. The following year, Texas revised its anti-trust laws to meet this objection. In 1911, in recodifying Texas laws, the legislature managed to get the original version back into the revised statutes. In 1925 the statutes were again revised, again the exemption of farmers appeared in the revision.

The Austin district court dismissed the attorney general's conspiracy suits against 15 major oil companies because, it held, the NRA superseded the Texas anti-trust laws. The appeals court did not pass on this interesting question, but held the legislature clearly intended to exempt farms, since the exemption was carried thru two revisions. When the supreme court rules, the legislature may have to enact new anti-trust legislation, possibly also new laws to permit farm cooperative associations.

April Showers

By Mary Williams

EDITOR'S NOTE—The following essay, written by Mary Williams of Ozona, won first place in district competition at the district Interscholastic League meet in Fort Stockton last week. Miss Williams will go to Alpine in two weeks to compete in a regional "ready writers" contest.

"Whoa, Nellie, whoa! What you think this is, the wide open country? Well, it ain't so just calm yourself."

These gentle words issued from the mouth of a well dressed gentleman in faded blue overalls and an old straw hat, perched on the spring seat of a rickety wagon. His graying hair was pulled down under his shabby, straw hat, and his overalls seemingly had seen the wash tub and rub board many times. His eloquent speech was addressed to none other than an old, gray mare, about as rickety as the vehicle that she drew. In the back of the wagon were vegetables and fruits. The red apples and spinach, that are so good for growing children, were a bright contrast among the duller and smaller plants.

The gentleman climbed slowly down and walked over to the grocery store across the crooked street. As he walked he looked at the sky and shook his grizzled head rather dejectedly. Such a shake could mean nothing less than discouragement and failure. He sniffed the air inquiringly and again shook his head. Shuffling into the grocery store he sat down on a cracker keg and addressed the owner of the store.

"Wall, Jim, if it don't rain soon I guess I'll just about be ruined. I can't irrigate all summer, and Mandy can't never get well and get up from that thar bed with all o' this here dust and dryness and little more agility he walked out to his wagon.

He drove the nonchalant old mare across the street and unloaded.

"So long, Jim, I'll sure try to pep up, 'cause maybe it'll rain after all."

He slapped Nellie gingerly across the back, and the old wagon creaked on down the street until it came out in a wide lane. The green grass was weighted down with dust and no buttercups or daisies nodded by the wayside. But on looking up a very blue and clear sky was all that his searching eye could see.

On arriving home Joe cheered up his wife who sat forlornly propped up in bed, and then taking his old cap down, and slipping the milk bucket from the peg on the porch, he went out to milk.

After milking he fixed his wife's simple supper and went to read in his room. After reading for about two hours he began to yawn and nod over his paper. He jumped up with a start when he nearly fell asleep and went in to go to bed.

One bright, warm afternoon about a week later he came home from his usual trip to town. He found his wife sadder and quieter than ever and he began to worry about her. He went to bed that night with a heavy heart. He had been asleep for approximately three hours when suddenly a loud crash rent the heavy stillness of the night. He jumped out of bed as if shot and on running to the window he saw lightning flash across the sky, and another great peal of thunder broke over the earth.

Dashing into his wife's room he found her sitting up with a smile of loveliness on her pale face.

"Oh, Joe, God has been good to us, and now I know that I can get well, and you shall have a beautiful and profitable garden all summer."

"Yes, Mandy," he cried nearly choking, while great torrents of rain drenched the thirsty soil outside.

Awaking the next morning he went into the glistening loveliness of the newly washed world. The sun shone brightly, and what had been dusty soil under his feet yesterday morning was now real mud. His heart rejoiced and his lips puckered into a whistle, a very gay one. Such a day, such a world! The drought was broken and what a great month April was after all.

HOSPITAL—A CRYING NEED

Discussion of Ozona's need for a hospital is not new to these columns, nor is it a new topic among the people of this community.

Many years have elapsed since the first earnest efforts were made to bring about the establishment of hospital facilities in Ozona, but to date the community seems little nearer the goal than then; unless one may hope that the present frame of mind of the people and the possibilities of government aid now being held out will result in some action toward its realization.

There seems little need to expound the advantages to this community that would accrue from its own hospital facilities. Anyone who has had to have hospitalization in the cities can testify to the inconvenience and the exorbitant expense, to say nothing of the ever-present hazard of distance from such facilities in case of emergency. There is no way of knowing for a certainty, but it is a reasonable guess that several lives have been forfeited here because the nearest hospital is 85 miles away. Even one life is too much to pay on such an investment.

A small hospital, sufficient to take care of Ozona's needs for many years to come, could be built for a comparatively small amount of money now. Many who should know have voiced the opinion that a hospital here would pay a dividend to its owners or the community, but even if it failed to pay its own way, it would be worth many times more than its cost in the saving to the citizenship of expensive trips to the cities, and in furnishing security in case of emergency. If the opportunity comes to build one, let's grab it.

ILLITERATE CRIME

Dallas News: According to the annual report of the Texas Prison Board, 624 inmates of the Texas prison system were taught last year to read and write. In the last six years there have been over 2,300 convicts for whom training in literacy has been necessary. The figures convey an impression of relationship between crime and economic opportunity. The latter, of course, is extremely limited to the individual who can not read and write. Had these 2,300 men and women been given this primary schooling, crime might not have darkened their lives at all.

The numerical factor of illiteracy in Texas prisons is enlarged by the number of negro convicts. In a State where public school opportunity is theoretically open and compulsory to all races, there is little satisfaction in that thought. Uniform literacy in Texas would not end crime. Far too many criminals are literate and educated. But with the number of erring human folk who "just slip," the opportunity opened up by literacy is often sufficient to make the difference between going wrong and going right. The prison school system is a helpful agency toward supplying it for future years.

Achievement Tests Of Ozona Pupils Of Grades To Be Made

Scheduled to continue through the week preceding the final week of school, comprehensive achievement tests, standardized and furnished by the State Department of Education, will be given to pupils in the Ozona schools from the third through the seventh grades.

The tests, which will not enter into the grades of pupils, are prepared for determining pupil accomplishment in respective subjects, for diagnosing pupil needs and for comparing the grade curves of pupils in one school with pupils of other schools in the State. Norms accompany the tests for determining "near-to-perfect status" of pupils, or degree of efficiency.

THE REBEL LONG

Huey Long's defection from the Roosevelt political forces may be regarded by the faithful as a credit to the administration, but such a sense of virtue would be too self-conscious. Huey has not ripened much since 1932. He is about the same sort of a fellow now that he was then. People who would rather now be where he is not, had the same feeling then. He is a disorderly crowd all by himself and a reason for going up the other street.

The Roosevelt politicians had a chance in their national convention in Chicago to liquidate Huey on the ground that he and his delegates had not been selected by the Democrats of Louisiana. The case was good against him, but he was the noisiest Rooseveltian in the convention, and by a vote of 638 to 514 he was seated to help with the two-thirds majority Mr. Farley was not sure he had, the McAdoo transaction still hanging fire.

Huey was made a member in good standing, a worthy knight, arrayed in the right, a doer of good works, a true friend of the people, and an exemplar to youth. Later the milk soured, although efforts were made to sweeten it with investigations of Long's income tax schedules. Now Huey is a tack on Mr. Farley's chair.

Mr. Roosevelt has dispensed with the services of other men who failed to see eye to eye with him, including cabinet members and administrators, advisers and counselors. Some resigned and some were fired. They were not important political personages. They did not carry primaries or select delegates. Long may not scuttle the Democratic ship, but he is the first R.B.C. (Roosevelt Before Chicago) Democrat to go over the side and raise the flag against the skipper.—Chicago Tribune.

36 Percent Decrease In Number Of Cattle On Feed In U. S. Apr. 1

WASHINGTON, April 16—There was a decrease of about 36 per cent in the number of cattle on feed for market in the eleven Corn Belt States on April 1 this year compared with the number on the corresponding date of 1934. According to the estimate of the Bureau of Agricultural Economics. This decrease is equivalent to about half a million head. The number on feed April 1 this year is the smallest for that date in many years.

The decrease was general over the Corn Belt, with only two States—Ohio and Indiana—having an estimated number larger than a year earlier. The States east of the Mississippi River as a whole, had an estimated decrease of about 6 per cent, while the States west of that river had a decrease of about 42 per cent. The largest decreases were in the States west of the Missouri River.

Shipments of stocker and feeder cattle, inspected at stockyards markets, into the Corn Belt States for the three months January to March, inclusive, this year were about 15 per cent larger than for the corresponding period in 1934 and the largest for the period since 1931. While the largest increases were in shipments into the Eastern Corn Belt the movement into all of the Western Corn Belt States, except Kansas, was larger than last year and into some of these States was quite large relative to the feed supplies available. Apparently most of these cattle were for stocker purposes and not for immediate feeding. For the nine months, July 1934 to March 1935, inclusive, the inspected shipments of stocker and feeder cattle into the Corn Belt were but little different than for the corresponding period a year ago earlier, but were smaller than in any other similar period in the 16 years for which records are available.

Reports from feeders as to the months in which their cattle on feed this year would be marketed showed the proportion they expected to market in April and May to be much smaller and the proportion to be marketed after August to be much larger than similar reports have shown in any recent year.

Pupils Of Radio Technique Given Station Audition

Mrs. A. W. Jones and three of her pupils taking training in radio voice and technique were given an audition at Station KTAT in Fort Worth Monday of this week. The audition was judged by station officials and experts and was arranged for the purpose of testing progress in training and to receive suggestions for improvement from those connected with radio.

One of the local group was reported to have tested a perfect voice adaptability for radio and all were pronounced by the station officials as perfectly grounded in the fundamentals of voice work and expression and in radio personality. After the audition the group was given a consultation with Alice Joy, radio singer.

Pupils performing for the audition were Madye Jo Bailey, Crystelle Carson and John Henderson.

Texas Employment On Decline In March Research Indicates

AUSTIN, Texas, April 17—Industrial and commercial employment in Texas declined slightly during March in comparison both with the previous month and the corresponding period last year, according to the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research.

Reports from 1,578 representative Texas establishments covering the week which ended March 16 show a total of 68,971 employees, an average decline of one-half per cent from the month before and 1.4 per cent from the corresponding week last year. Total weekly payrolls for these firms were $1,564,000, a decline of .8 per cent from the previous month but an increase of 4.5 per cent over the corresponding week in March last year.

Groups showing improvement over the two comparable periods were: Electric railway car shops, foundries, machine shops, hotels, laundries, dry cleaning, millwork, retail and wholesale stores.

13,000,000 Lbs. Of Wool To Be Bought By Army

WASHINGTON, April 17—Congressman Ewing Thomason, representative of the western part of the sheep and goat territory of Texas, has been after the war department to prepare for the increased size of the army, by securing now those supplies which the army will require by reason of the enlarged enlistment of officers and men.

Mr. Thomason has received from George H. Dern, secretary of war, the following letter which indicates that 13 million pounds of wool will be used up to fill present army requirements:

"With reference to your letter of March 16, 1935, in which you discuss the question of the condition of the wool market and suggest that the increase in personnel of the Army and in the Civilian Conservation Corps will require the purchase of considerable amount of wool material, you are informed that at the present time the department is advertising for a number of items which, when procured, will require approximately 13,000,000 pounds of wool. The purchase will, no doubt, have a tendency to somewhat affect the wool market.

"No other requirements in the near future will result in additional purchases of wool materials."

He: "But doesn't my devotion arouse in you some sort of feeling for me?"

She: "Yes—the kind of feeling that prompts a person to take a tonic in spring."

Bad Teeth Is One Of Most Frequent Causes Neuralgia

AUSTIN, Texas, April 17—Neuralgia is one of the commonest of medical terms. And naturally so, because neuralgia is an exceedingly common complaint. Few people, however, could accurately define it. They well know when they have it, though. As a matter of fact, the term neuralgia is rather an inclusive affair. It applies to any pain that follows a nerve's course, though it is usually applied to the nerve which lies close to the surface of the cheeks. This nerve sends branches and sinuses behind the eyebrows, nose, below the cheek bone and to the teeth.

It is frequently very difficult to locate the real cause of this type of pain. There are many conditions that arise in the areas of influence of this nerve. And when one of them develops the result is suffering and usually there is plenty of it. In this respect, as one authority aptly puts it, "The tiny part which is inflamed is like a radio station which sends waves of sound into the carrying ether to be picked up by any one who tunes in. The nerve is like a many-wired antenna which catches the message and takes it to the tuned in brain."

While, as indicated, neuralgia can have a large number of causes one of the more general of them is a decayed tooth. As a matter of fact it is not at all uncommon to find a decayed lower tooth reflecting pain into the upper jaw and even the temple.

It follows that much of the neuralgia could be prevented by the simple practice of proper daily dental hygiene and the semi-annual visit to the dental chair. That this fact is becoming more and more appreciated is obvious in the greatly increasing numbers of persons who are making a daily rite of oral hygiene, and who also routinely every six months visit their dentist for professional prophylaxis and check-up. This practice is earnestly endorsed by the State Department of Health.

13,000,000 Lbs. Of Wool To Be Bought By Army

WASHINGTON, April 17—Congressman Ewing Thomason, representative of the western part of the sheep and goat territory of Texas, has been after the war department to prepare for the increased size of the army, by securing now those supplies which the army will require by reason of the enlarged enlistment of officers and men.

Mr. Thomason has received from George H. Dern, secretary of war, the following letter which indicates that 13 million pounds of wool will be used up to fill present army requirements:

"With reference to your letter of March 16, 1935, in which you discuss the question of the condition of the wool market and suggest that the increase in personnel of the Army and in the Civilian Conservation Corps will require the purchase of considerable amount of wool material, you are informed that at the present time the department is advertising for a number of items which, when procured, will require approximately 13,000,000 pounds of wool. The purchase will, no doubt, have a tendency to somewhat affect the wool market.

"No other requirements in the near future will result in additional purchases of wool materials."

He: "But doesn't my devotion arouse in you some sort of feeling for me?"

She: "Yes—the kind of feeling that prompts a person to take a tonic in spring."

POSTED—All my pastures in Crockett County. Hunting and trapping and all trespassing positively forbidden. Floyd Henderson. 11-1-35

Bad Teeth Is One Of Most Frequent Causes Neuralgia

AUSTIN, Texas, April 17—Neuralgia is one of the commonest of medical terms. And naturally so, because neuralgia is an exceedingly common complaint. Few people, however, could accurately define it. They well know when they have it, though. As a matter of fact, the term neuralgia is rather an inclusive affair. It applies to any pain that follows a nerve's course, though it is usually applied to the nerve which lies close to the surface of the cheeks. This nerve sends branches and sinuses behind the eyebrows, nose, below the cheek bone and to the teeth.

It is frequently very difficult to locate the real cause of this type of pain. There are many conditions that arise in the areas of influence of this nerve. And when one of them develops the result is suffering and usually there is plenty of it. In this respect, as one authority aptly puts it, "The tiny part which is inflamed is like a radio station which sends waves of sound into the carrying ether to be picked up by any one who tunes in. The nerve is like a many-wired antenna which catches the message and takes it to the tuned in brain."

While, as indicated, neuralgia can have a large number of causes one of the more general of them is a decayed tooth. As a matter of fact it is not at all uncommon to find a decayed lower tooth reflecting pain into the upper jaw and even the temple.

It follows that much of the neuralgia could be prevented by the simple practice of proper daily dental hygiene and the semi-annual visit to the dental chair. That this fact is becoming more and more appreciated is obvious in the greatly increasing numbers of persons who are making a daily rite of oral hygiene, and who also routinely every six months visit their dentist for professional prophylaxis and check-up. This practice is earnestly endorsed by the State Department of Health.

Lions Sponsor Film Showing At Palace Theatre

"Rumba" Presented By Club Tonight And Friday Night

"Rumba," a sensational romantic musical success, will be shown at the Palace Theatre Thursday and Friday nights of this week under auspices of the Ozona Lions Club. Mrs. Bert Couch, new manager of the theatre, tendered use of the show house to the club for the showing of this, one of the best pictures booked by the local show for the next several weeks.

All proceeds above actual expenses of the two evenings will go into the Lions Club treasury for use in community work. Regular admission prices will prevail, the first show starting at 7:30 p. m.

George Raft and Carole Lombard, the sensational dancing stars of "Bolero," repeat that early success on an even more lavish and startling scale in Paramount's "Rumba."

An enthralling and dramatic love story set to the rhythmic tom-toms of Cuba's fascinating dance rhythms, the picture combines musical innovations, drama and handsomely mounted photography to furnish spell-binding entertainment.

The story, itself, is concerned with Raft, a Broadway hooper exiled to Havana by threats of gang vengeance, who jumps into the limelight with his revival of Rumba dancing. Assisted by Margo, the lovely Mexican dancer, he becomes the town's chief attraction. He meets Carole Lombard, a lovely heiress, and falls madly, tempestuously in love with her. Soon, she reciprocates his feelings but they argue and she flees to New York.

Raft accepts an offer to star in a New York show, although he knows he is daring death, for the opportunity to be near the girl he loves. The film comes to its climax when, as a result of threats, his dancing partner refuses to go on in their dance. Carole Lombard comes to his aid. In a final burst of barbaric music, this pair dances a thrilling Rumba which brings the film to its close.

Only Two Aliens Get Citizenship Papers In County

Perhaps a low for inland counties of the state, Crockett County has received and ratified the petitions for naturalization and citizenship of but two aliens in the history of the county, the volume for that purpose in the clerk's office indicates.

One of the naturalization acts by the district court here is dated 1915, the other 1917. On March 21, 1921, by action of the Eighty-Third Judicial District Court here naturalization action was changed to the venue of the U. S. district court in San Angelo because of the "little naturalization business transacted here."

Mrs. H. H. Carden and small son returned to their home in Belton Sunday with Mr. Carden who came for them Saturday. They had been visiting Mrs. Carden's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Watson.

Marion Gering, director of "Rumba" who deserves special commendation for a beautifully blended bit of drama and entertainment, devoted months in the Latin-American countries to research that would make the picture authentic.

In the supporting cast are Margo, whose superior performance gives promise of better things from this lovely senorita; Lynne Overman, who turns in a capable interpretation of a flip-pant press agent, and Monroe Owsley, Iris Adrian and Gail Patrick, all of whom contribute meritorious performances.

Miss Louise Henderson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Henderson, was expected in today from Texas University at Austin, where she has been in attendance this year.
