Rev. J. H. Meredith To Close Seventh Year As Pastor Of Ozona Methodist Church With Services Next Sunday

Next Sunday, Rev. J. H. Meredith completes his seventh year as pastor of the Ozona Methodist Church, and in all probability the close of services Sunday will mark the close of his pastorate here, the longest in the history of the local church. It is considered almost inevitable that the Methodist Conference, meeting in San Antonio next week, will assign Rev. Meredith to a new pastorate and a new minister to the Ozona church.

At the present time, Rev. Meredith shares a conference record of long tenure with one other pastor in the conference, the Rev. J. R. Kidwell, who is serving his seventh year as pastor at Stockdale, Texas.

In his seven years as head of the Ozona church, Rev. Meredith has shattered more records than that for long tenure of office in the local church. For instance, when he came here seven years ago the membership of the church was 183. Now it is 289, a net gain of 106. During the seven years, however, he has received a total of 163 into the church membership, deaths and removals accounting for the difference. As a means of comparison of the remarkable gains made by the church under his leadership, it is noted that in the ten-year period prior to his coming, the net gain in the church membership was only 21.

Another example of the effectiveness of his leadership in church work, the young people's organization, the Epworth League boasted a membership of 20 when he came seven years ago. Now the membership is 70, and the Sunday School enrollment has climbed from 198 in 1927 to 214 at present.

A total of $54,497 in money has been raised through all the church channels for church purposes during his seven years of tenure. He has officiated at 38 funerals, performed 28 marriage ceremonies and baptized 32 babies. He has increased the force of general church workers by 50 in that time, thus broadening the services to the increasing membership. Through all the multiplicity of duties that have been his during his pastorate, he has found time to attain more Standard Training School credits than any pastor in the conference. He has also shouldered his part of the load of community work, taking a prominent part in community activities and giving freely of his services in leadership toward the development of Ozona and Crockett County.

Although many members of the church still hold to the hope that he will be sent back for another year, most of them are reconciled to the fact that there is a strong possibility of his being sent elsewhere and are preparing to do him honor with a community-wide attendance at the closing services Sunday, which also marks the close of the two-weeks revival meeting conducted here by Rev. and Mrs. R. L. Flowers.

Junior High School Records No Tardies During Last Week

A record of no tardies for the week was hung up by students of the Junior High School during the past week, it was announced by M. M. Collins, principal. Three students were absent during the week on account of sickness. Monday and Tuesday, however, were 100 per cent days, with everybody present at one time.

"Every student is doing his best to keep the absences and tardies at a minimum," Mr. Collins said. "We hope to eliminate tardies altogether, and with all the students and parents co-operating we can do this. We ask the co-operation of every patron of the Junior High School in this effort."

REV. J. H. MEREDITH

With Sunday's services, Rev. Meredith completes his seventh year as pastor here, and probably his last since there is a strong possibility that he will be transferred to another post by action of the Methodist Conference in San Antonio next week.

Utilities Rate Plan Simplified

Objectionable Room Count Feature Is Eliminated

Effective with this month's service, the West Texas Utilities Company is eliminating the room count feature from the local domestic rate. H. H. Batjer, District manager, who was an Ozona visitor the first of the week, had the following comments to make regarding the change:

"Due to the constantly increasing public objections to the present residential rate structure, the West Texas Utilities Company now proposes a plan to change this rate from the room count schedule to a block rate schedule, which we believe will meet the desires of our customers.

"In order to make this change in rate form, it is necessary that we make some rate reductions to prevent raising a large number of three-room customers. It is proposed to drop the rate two and one-half cents on the first step for lighting and one cent on the second step, making the new rate to any size house nine and one-half cents per kilowatt-hour for the first twenty-five, six cents per kilowatt-hour for the next twenty-

Buddy Moore Gets Halfback Position With Baylor Frosh

WACO, Texas, Oct. 15—When the Baylor University freshman team takes the field against the Texas Christian University Polliwogs in Waco October 18, Buddy Moore, Ozona's offering to the 1934 Baylor freshman squad, is expected to see service at one of the halfback posts.

Moore reported to Coach Jim Crow for the Bearlet team three weeks ago and has remained on the squad despite the reduction from 119 candidates to 50. The Ozona prospect has improved steadily since his arrival, and is to be counted on by the Cubs for a good bit of service. Moore, weighing 175 pounds, has shown up especially well on the defense, and is very likely to see service under the arca in the green and gold uniform Thursday night.

Record Attendance At Baptist Sunday School Present Sun.

The Ozona Baptist Sunday School attained a record attendance for several years past last Sunday morning when the total attendance for the morning amounted to 153. This is the largest attendance at a regular Sunday School hour, other than special days, in many years, and beat the record of the last Rally Day when the 150 goal was exceeded by one.

A steady climb in Sunday School attendance has been noted on each of the four Sundays since Rev. Leon M. Gambrell assumed the post as pastor of the local church. The first Sunday of Rev. Gambrell's pastorate, the Sunday School attendance was 101. The following Sunday it had climbed to 108, the next to 119 and last Sunday to 153.

Lions Wallop Menard 7-0 To Take First District Game; To Entertain Junction Eagles Here Next Saturday

With a new confidence to bolster their efforts and another week of intensive training and practice, Coach Ted White's Ozona Lions charged out on the gridiron a new team last Saturday and roundly walloped the Menard Yellow Jackets 7 to 0 in their first district game of the season.

Adopting the slogan, "Smear Junction," the Lions are hard at work this week in preparation for the second district encounter on home soil next Saturday afternoon when they entertain the Junction Eagles, one of the powerful trio of the district.

Several new ground gaining offensive plays were uncocked by the locals against Menard that resulted in the visitors being forced to fight with their backs to their own goal posts throughout most of the game. The one-touchdown margin of victory does not paint a true picture of the superiority of the Lions over the Jackets. The locals somehow locked that something that it takes to negotiate those difficult last ten yards to the pay station, pushing the visitors into the danger zone time after time only to fitter out on their scoring efforts.

Longhorns Capture Junior Grid Bout

Capt. Williams Leads Steers To Victory Over Frogs, 13-7

Some promising future football material was uncovered Friday afternoon on the Powell Field gridiron when the Junior High Longhorns, led by Capt. Leo Williams, trampled the Horned Frogs led by Capt. William Beecher Montgomery, by a 13-7 score in a hotly contested game.

Captain and Quarterback Williams was the outstanding ground gainer for the victorious Steers, accounting for both touchdowns made by his team. Montgomery, Schneemann and Lemmons led the attack for the losing Frogs. Jim Dudley played a good game at end, breaking through many times to throw the opponents for losses.

The line-up for the two squads were as follows:
Longhorns—Leo Williams, Capt. Quarterback; Leslie Squyres, R.

ANOTHER 1000 HEAD CATTLE COUNTY QUOTA

Second Allotment For This Week Thought To Be Last

7,473 GOATS SLAIN

Quota Of 10,464 Head Nearly Reached In Week's Buying

Purchase of a second quota of 1,000 head of drouth stricken cattle in Crockett County this week was ordered by drouth relief agencies of the government the first of the week. A quota of 1,000 head was allowed last week upon the resumption of the cattle buying program and that quota was reached in purchases concluded last Saturday.

Government appraisers who are spending three days a week in this county, dividing time with Sutton County, purchased 240 head on the present week's quota Tuesday. The 1,000 head quota will be reached in purchases to be made today and Saturday.

Sheep and goat purchases in the county are being continued, with 7,473 head of goats purchased to date. The quota on goat purchases for Crockett County was fixed at 10,464 head. This quota is expected to be reached within the next few days.

All of the 7,473 goats purchased were slaughtered on the range, not one animal being found in the county to date suitable for shipment to canneries.

Sheep purchases to date total $5,685, with 74,890 of this number being killed.

A total of 744,153 old ewes had been purchased by the government in Texas up to October 12, announcements from the Agricultural Adjustment Administration reveal. Of this number, 548,885 head have been condemned and killed. A total of 10,377 head of goats have been purchased, with 8,290 slaughtered.

INGHAM SUFFERS ACUTE ATTACK APPENDICITIS

B. B. Ingham, prominent Crockett County rancher and county commissioner, was rushed to a Temple hospital Sunday suffering from an acute attack of appendicitis. He was operated early Monday morning and, according to reports here, the appendix was on the point of rupture when the operation was performed, and doctors are watching his condition closely for evidence of peritonitis. Barring this possibility, his condition was considered good.

Singing services, which are scheduled to begin each evening at 7:30, are to be conducted by Ross Hufstetler, regular song leader. It is announced that morning services will be held each day and will open at 10 o'clock.

Special invitation to the public to attend has been extended by the church.

Close Methodist Revival Sunday

Rev. and Mrs. Flowers Conduct Successful Series Meetings

The annual revival meeting that is being conducted at the Methodist church will conclude with the services of Sunday, Rev. and Mrs. R. L. Flowers of Denton, Texas, are doing the preaching. Sunday will not only be the concluding day of the revival but it will also mark the closing day of Rev. Meredith's pastorate in Ozona. This makes the seventh year of his pastorate in this town.

The Methodist revival has been attracting good crowds and much interest has been shown. The young folk have turned out in great numbers and the special services have attracted large attention. The Flowers were here a year ago and their work this year Mrs. Flowers has been well received by the people of Ozona.

The Flowers leave Monday for a week's rest in Denton their home and on November 4 they begin a meeting at Bloomsburg, Pennsylvania, where they will remain throughout the Winter in revivals.

DRAWN MONEY PRIZE BUT NOT PRESENT TO GET IT

Tom Squyres was at once lucky and unlucky Wednesday night when his name was called as the winner of the first Money Prize Night cash prize of $12.50 offered by the Ozona Theater each Wednesday night. Mr. Squyres was unlucky in that he was not present and therefore ineligible to receive the prize. The cash award goes over and will be added to a like amount offered for next Wednesday night, making next week's prize $25.

VOTE AGAINST THE TAX LIMITING AMENDMENT

(An editorial appearing in the San Antonio Express of Oct. 11, 1934).

Perceiving that the hastily drawn, ill-considered constitutional amendment proposal to limit the Legislature's taxing and spending power to $22.50 per capita for each biennium would be detrimental to the State's interests, more and more civic organizations are rallying to the State's educators in opposing the measure.

Careful study of the measure shows it to be undesirable on several counts. The most serious objection is that it easily might and almost certainly would increase, rather than lower taxes.

The citizen should bear this fact in mind: The amendment would limit only State taxes; it would have no effect on city, county and school taxes, which make up the heaviest load he must carry.

In a recent address at Austin, Dr. B. F. Pittenger, dean of the University of Texas School of Education, showed how such an effect might ensue. He cited an estimate by the State Superintendent of Public Instruction that the tax-limit proposed would force down the State school apportionment from the present $16.50 to $8.50 or $9 per capita.

Fiscal experts' calculations that the amendment would reduce the State revenues by 20 million dollars a year, on the average, raise that prospect.

Furthermore—as Dean Pittenger pointed out—the amendment proposal is unfortunately timed. More taxes are delinquent in Texas than ever before; the revenue-yield from business and industry has been at low ebb for some years past and began picking up only lately.

Therefore, the Legislature should be left free to adapt its fiscal policy to changing times. Moreover, in the years just ahead the State must meet unusual obligations. It must retire 20 million dollars in emergency relief bonds and 100 millions in county road bonds taken over three years ago.

Such considerations led the Democratic State Convention at Galveston last month to "recommend to the people that the amendment be defeated." The opinions and facts cited should convince the citizen that his own interests demand that he vote "No" on this proposal.

SELFISH "FRIENDS" OF EDUCATION IN TEXAS

Down at Austin there has been organized an association calling itself "The Friends of Education in Texas," having for its purpose to wage a fight on two of the proposed constitutional amendments to be voted on in the general election November 6.

How this organization can reconcile its purpose with its name is more than we can see. "Friends of Education" indeed. Selfish "Friends?" if indeed they are friends at all.

"We feel that if the few counties wanting this amendment need more revenue they can get it by assessing valuable oil and surface leases held by large corporations and rich individuals, which leases are now escaping practically all taxation."

Total, sublime ignorance of the facts in the case, entirely selfish in motive and lacking in any honest approach to the question is this organization which seeks to thwart the first effort made to lift an unfair burden from the people of 17 West Texas counties who have carried the thousands of acres of lands belonging to the University of Texas tax free for these many years.

If the membership of this viciously selfish organization are not already aware of it, somebody should enlighten them that passage of this amendment would shift an existent tax burden on the "entire state of Texas" to the University alone, which is plenty able to pay it.

"Tax the valuable oil and surface leases held by large corporations and rich individuals!" That is indeed the purpose of this amendment, to permit these counties to tax the largest corporation and the richest individual landowner in the counties—the University of Texas, Crockett County, for instance, with approximately a seventh of its area comprising University lands.

Is it possible that the rest of Texas wants these 17 thinly populated counties of West Texas to continue to carry the major part of the burden of supporting the University which benefits the rest of the state far more than it benefits these counties? Do the people of Texas think it is justice to burden the people of these counties with excessive taxation for their local needs because a big part of the area of the county is occupied by University-owned and tax-free land?

A publication called "Sound Taxation," published at Houston, Texas, and advocating a "scratch 'em all" policy with reference to the eight proposed constitutional amendments to be voted on in November, expresses itself as unopposed to the University land tax amendment, although not supporting it for the reason that by advocating the "scratch 'em all" policy it will be sure to defeat the amendments it specifically opposes.

Of the University land tax amendment, this publication has this to say in a running discussion of the proposed constitutional changes: "Probably the most meritorious of all these amendments, although it is of least widespread interest, is House Resolution No. 30, designed to permit the taxing of lands of the University of Texas for county and school district purposes."

DONT STAY BURIED

This story isn't ours, but nevertheless it is a good one: A farmer had an old blind horse which had outlived his usefulness.

The men began to shovel dirt into the well. But the horse was not willing to be buried. When the dirt began to pour in upon him he began to shake it off and tread it under foot.

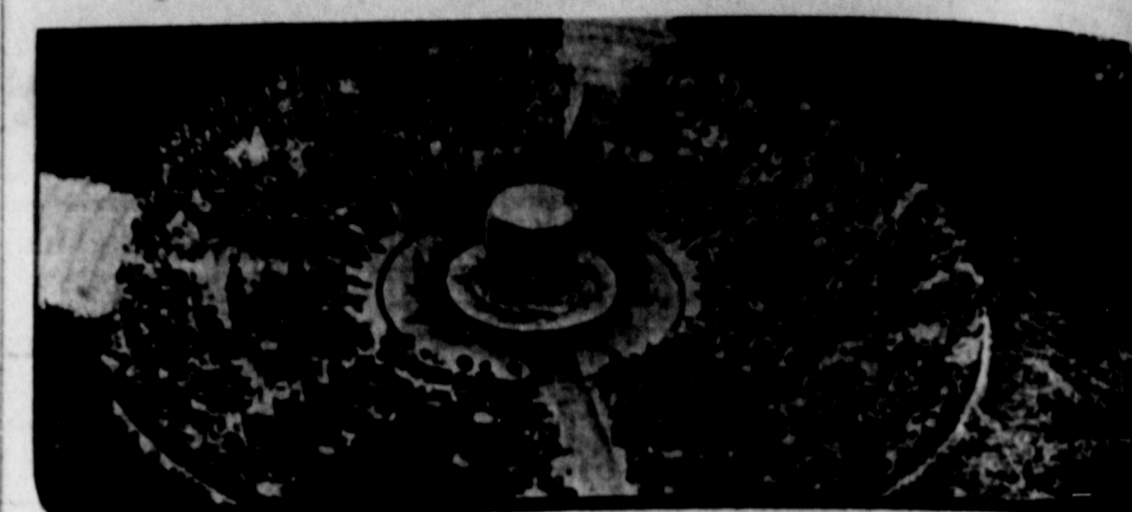

The very things which conspire to bury the lionhearted these days are used by them to lift themselves out of difficulties and into the light. The very last thing one should do is to agree to stay dead and buried.

Our painful experience with the human race is that when you try it, it will always be found wanting a lot.—Dallas Morning News.

HOOVER AS CRITIC

San Antonio Light—It is with mixed feelings that one reads the criticisms of the administration by former President Hoover in the Saturday Evening Post. He was the most conspicuous failure in American political history.

With four years of opportunity, he DID nothing, TRIED nothing, and SAID nothing useful or helpful. He was the hired man of the privileged interests.

we think—

In their behalf he asked Congress for extraordinary powers and began the encroachments upon popular rights of which he now complains. He gave France and England the chance to repudiate their debts.

He forced through Congress a moratorium on these debts which relieved the debtors not only of the payment of the agreed installments on the principal of what they had borrowed from us but even of the payment of interest—the reduced interest on the reduced principal of the obligations which we, with a generosity, now seen to be foolish and unappreciated, had cut in half.

He betrayed the interest of the American people to please dishonest international bankers. From the political tomb, which he now occupies—with the wide assent of his countrymen—he seeks to offer his views as to the conduct they should pursue.

There is much truth in what he says. The present administration is embarked on trends that involve dangerous innovations and present a broad conflict with constitutional principles, which have served the Nation well in the past and to which great numbers of our thoughtful citizens—justly, ascribe our strength, prosperity and commanding position among the nations of the world. The established principles of American life, including equal justice to all classes and the maintenance of individual right, so essential to the preservation of American initiative and enterprise, will not lack defenders.

we think—

It is questionable however, whether even these vital principles are served by a spokesman with the record of ex-President Hoover. If Hoover is the best the Republican party has to offer as a prospective candidate for the Presidency, the best thing for the American people to do is to reelect Roosevelt unanimously.

There were just as many reckless drivers thirty years ago but the horses had more sense. Louisville Times: It's expected that 5,000,000 families will be on relief in this country next winter, and if a really bang-up job of relief is done maybe 10,000,000 families will apply next year.

Elephants Walk To Burial Ground, Says African Traveler

It has often been said that no white man in South Africa ever sees a dead elephant, that is to say, an elephant that has died a natural death.

The traveler answers the question in a most romantic way. He tells that when an African elephant feels the pangs of old age stealing across the vast expanse of which he has been master for so many years, he moves away from the herd, sniffs the air and then with solitary determination makes his way slowly and sorrowfully to the appointed place of death.

Somewhere near Lake Nyanza, it is believed, lies the amazing graveyard, the goal of the dying elephant. It is a vast pit filled with blackness into which for thousands of years dying elephants have cast themselves with the last remains of their ebbing strength.

Arriving at the pit, we are told, the monarch of the African forest raises his trunk high in the air, snorts defiantly, and then lurks himself over the edge. His last death cry, says the traveler, vibrates thru the great forest and lions hearing that muffled cry shrink away into greater darkness while the snort of animals crouches as if in reverence of the death of something great and splendid.

A Ground Hog Situation Met

"Uncle Bill" Kellis in Serling City News-Record—

I have heard some of the boys beefing about the way Uncle Sam is cutting down on the purchase of cattle. So far as history relates, no government ever undertook to take and pay for cattle that were undesirable for food and market.

Up to a few years ago, it was every fellow for himself and the devil take the hindmost. Even then we had our good times, but often we had our "die-up" if we were not careful and on the job all the time.

In the year 1887, the members of the Kellis Colony drove a small herd of cattle to this country and located them in the valley of the North Concho near the mouths of Willow and Chalk Creeks. It was the third year of the great drouth and starving time in West Texas.

There was some grass on the Divide, but there was no water. Colorado was the nearest railroad point, but no one thought of buying feed for cattle. Even if we had, there was no money with which to buy it.

The old timer had to look out for himself and take care of what he had or he would be up against it. Every one knew this and he would act accordingly.

Getting back to cattle. Somehow the Lord took care of them during the summer and fall. They browsed on the catclaws and mesquites and managed to live until winter. We knew that somehow those cattle had to be saved, for they were all we had, and we had to save them or go back east and digger cotton again.

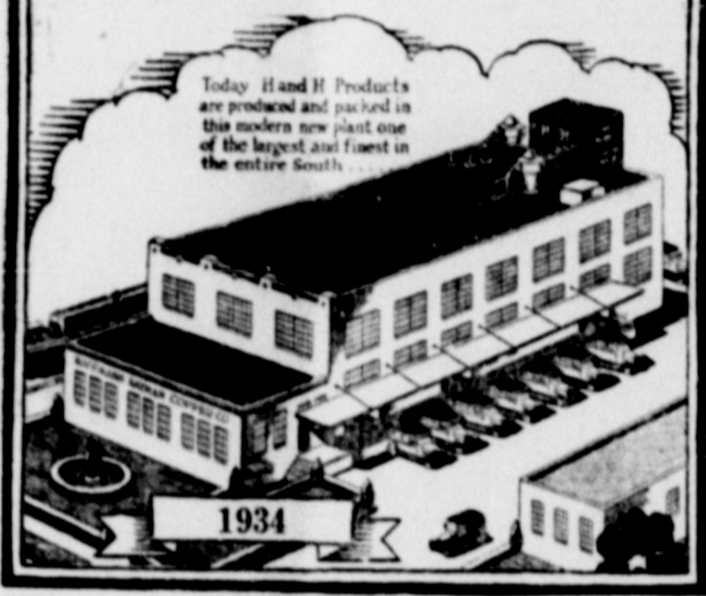

As is now, there were lots of prickly pears and bear grass on the range, so we went to work cutting and hauling them. After the cattle had eaten all the mesquite leaves we went to burning the thorns off the pears and feeding them to the cows.

Now you boys who are crabbing about Uncle Sam not helping any more than he has done, close your traps and think what your dads and mothers had to go through with before you were born.

BARNHART NOTES

By BUSTER KILPATRICK, Correspondent

MRS. MAY WYATT, ACTIVE IN COMMUNITY LIFE TO JOIN HUSBAND IN N. M.

Mrs. May Wyatt left late last week to join her husband, E. J. Wyatt, in Cimarron, New Mexico. Mr. Wyatt is a barber and beauty specialist in Cimarron. Mrs. Wyatt has resided in Barnhart since her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Doyal moved here in 1924 and has been a very active member of Barnhart's younger set. She was a charter member of the Barnhart Dramatic Club and was in two of the three plays presented by the Club last season. She is a member of the Baptist Church and was serving as secretary of the Baptist Missionary Society and as Librarian for the Society. She was a member of the Home Makers Class and teacher for the Beginners Sunday School class, as well as secretary of the adult union of the B.T.S. Mrs. Wyatt has served as general secretary of Barnhart Baptist Sunday School and as guardian of the Campfire Girls, as well as former reporter to the Stockman.

Mrs. Wyatt was honored last Wednesday with a farewell shower at the home of Mrs. Neville Davis, and was presented with many lovely tokens of esteem and friendship. Those present were: Mrs. J. C. Reed, Mrs. R. L. Owens, Mrs. H. W. Moore, Mrs. L. Joslin, Mrs. Wyatt, Mrs. W. C. Doyal, Mrs. J. D. Beeman, Mrs. C. E. Bailey, Mrs. R. B. Montgomery, Mrs. Tom Woodruff, Mrs. R. S. Neal, and Mrs. S. E. Hite. Mrs. Wyatt was presented with a pillow embroidered with the names of her Missionary sisters. Mrs. Neville Davis and Mrs. R. B. Montgomery sang two duets during the party. Mrs. C. E. Bailey, as retiring president of the W.M.S., and Mrs. R. S. Neal, as retiring secretary, were presented with gifts and Mrs. Tom Woodruff as retiring teacher of the Home Makers Class was also honored with a gift.

Mrs. Roy Davidson entertained the Merry Makers at her home here. Mrs. Dave Armstrong won guest high.

Jay Beeman, Elzie Beeman and Arla Williams spent Sunday in San Angelo.

Mrs. Hollyce Cole, former Barnhart teacher, spent the last week end in Barnhart as guest of Miss Winnifred Pfaff.

Ollis Frank, Jr. spent the weekend with his mother and step-father, Mrs. and Mr. Cal Johnson. He returned to Abilene Business College Sunday evening.

PLAY FOR P.T.A. BENEFIT

The money derived from the presentation of "The Gate to Happiness" Friday evening at 7:30 will be given to the P.T.A. to be used in purchasing school ground equipment. The admission charges for the play are 15 and 25 cents.

BAPTIST MISSIONARY SOCIETY MEETS

The Baptist Missionary Society met in the home of Mrs. C. E. Bailey Tuesday with a surprise party honoring Mrs. L. V. Gentry. A short program was presented by Mrs. B. G. Owens, Mrs. Bill Bissett, Miss Helen Lyons, and Miss Louzelle Barclay. Mrs. Gentry was presented with many beautiful gifts. A number of members of the Methodist Missionary Society also attended as guests.

The Barnhart Dramatic Club has selected Eugene Tod's "The Mill of the Gods" as their first play of the season. Rehearsals will probably start the middle of next week. A synopsis of the play follows:

When Ken Ramsey asked to marry Patty Jefferson, her father told Ken what no one, not even his wife knew; that Patty was a foundling he had substituted for their own baby when it died at birth. This news makes no difference to Ken but it makes all the difference in the world to Lawrence Stanton who overhears it, for his polished manner hides a ruthless will and he has planned to ruin Jefferson and force Patty to marry him. Now a better scheme falls into his hands. He forces Terry, an escaped convict, to pose as Patty's father and take her from the Jeffersons. While lovely innocent Patty, trusting Jefferson, and his invalid wife are blind to the real nature of Lawrence, he plays with dynamite for Golda Kane, his secretary, knows what he is and hates him as much as she fears him. And old mammy Selina has "a feelin'" dat Mars Lawrence is a debil. Time and time again Terry revolts only to be driven cringing back into the role he is forced to play. The diabolical cunning with which Lawrence eludes his fate holds the audience through one tense scene after another. Laughter, tears and moments of breathless suspense follow each other as the "Mill of the Gods" grinds slowly but surely on.

The play will probably be presented the last of November.

Utilities Rate—

five, and four cents per kilowatt-hour for all over the first fifty, unless the customer has an electric range in use, in which case the rate will be nine cents per kilowatt-hour for the first twenty-five, six cents per kilowatt-hour for the next twenty-five, and three cents per kilowatt-hour for the excess.

Simplifies Rates

"This gives a very simple rate structure; and while it does not equalize the cost of serving as correctly as does the room count rate from which has been universally adopted over the United States, it does provide an easy, understandable or incentive rate which this company feels will be more helpful in the development of increased business, or more unrestricted use of its service.

"Our main purpose now is to increase our sales of electric service and bring back the revenue which will be lost through this proposed reduction and change, as well as increased Governmental expenses. We have found that over the last eight or ten years our consumption per residential customer has more than doubled, yet we are not collecting as much in dollars and cents per customer as we did when they used less than one half as much service. While we have materially improved service, and have supplied a large increased amount of service, Government statistics show that the utility industry collects from the domestic customer only about 1% of his total household budget expenditure, while the investment by utility companies in facilities to render such service is many times that required of other household items, such as food or clothing, for which the customer pays over twenty times as much.

Effective At Once

"Utility companies, through private capital and private initiative, supply more electric service in the United States than is supplied from any other source in all the rest of the world; and yet it is surprising to learn that this nation pays $100,000,000 more for the single item of tobacco alone than it does for the total of all household electric service supplied in the United States.

"The West Texas Utilities Company believes that in changing from the room count rate schedule which it proposes to do in all its 160 communities within the next few months, it can improve its customer relations and sell an increased amount of service. We pro-

being drummed this week in preparation for the Junction encounter next Saturday, and if the same crescendo of enthusiasm and fight is attained in that fracas as was developed against the Jackets the Lions may be expected to make it most interesting for the powerful Kimble county crew.

After playing the Menard eleven off their feet throughout the first two periods, but with that scoring punch unattainable, the Lions got their opening in the middle of the final bracket when Ray Boyd, quarter, received the ball on a spin play and galloped 35 yards for the first touchdown of the season for Coach White's lads. Parker placed the ball squarely between the goal posts for the extra point.

Jackets Go Aerial Thereafter, Menard opened up with a sizzling pass attack that brought the crowd to its feet, whizzing bullet passes shooting across the line of scrimmage for two successive first downs until the threat was finally broken up when Boyd intercepted one of the Menard heaves. These two first downs, by the way, were the only ones credited for the Jackets during the entire game, the Ozona line and a charging secondary smashing almost every line of attack offered by the visitors.

Williams, Cox and Boyd were the most consistent ground gainers for the Lions. The line, with J. T. Casbeer, Batts Friend, Tom Everett, Capt. Leonard Freeman, Vaughn Brown, Joe T. Davidson, D. A. Parker and Max Eppler, starting, bristled with fight and presented an almost invulnerable front to every Jacket attack. Parker, Brown, Davidson and Eppler were outstanding in defensive work in the line.

Mrs. J. H. Meredith, who has been seriously ill for several days, is reported somewhat improved this week.
