REV. R. A. TAYLOR OF VICTORIA ASSIGNED TO OZONA METHODIST CHURCH; MEREDITHS TO UVALDE

New Pastor Scheduled To Arrive Here Friday

Rev. R. A. Taylor of Victoria was assigned to the pastorate of the Ozona Methodist Church in the list of appointments for the coming year read at the annual West Texas Conference in San Antonio at the closing session Sunday night.

Rev. Taylor succeeds Rev. J. H. Meredith, who was transferred to the pastorate at Uvalde, after serving seven consecutive years as pastor here. Rev. L. U. Spellman, former pastor of the University Methodist Church in Austin, was appointed presiding elder of this district.

Rev. Taylor, with his wife and their small child, will arrive here sometime Friday to take up his work, according to a telegram received early in the week. He has been pastor at Victoria for one year, having previously served at the Prospect Hill church in San Antonio, at Uvalde, and was for four years a missionary in South America. He has been in the ministry fourteen years and is described as a scholarly preacher and teacher.

Rev. Meredith is going back to the town where he made his home for six months shortly after the close of the war. After being discharged from the army, in which he did Y.M.C.A. work, Rev. Meredith assumed an evangelistic circuit in the sections around Uvalde making his home in that city and holding meetings in surrounding towns. He held that place the last half of a conference year, being transferred then to a pastorate. Rev. and Mrs. Meredith expect to leave Friday for San Antonio, where Mrs. Meredith will visit her daughters and recuperate further from her recent illness, joining Rev. Meredith at his new charge in a few days.

Sonora Game Is Changed To Fri.

Lions In Next District Contest There November 9

A change in date of the next district contest in which the Ozona High School Lions are to engage, that with the Sonora Bronchos next week-end was announced this week by athletic officials.

The game, originally scheduled for Saturday afternoon, November 10, has been changed to Friday afternoon, November 9, it was announced. This change in date was agreed upon by officials of both schools as the more convenient arrangement.

In view of the new arrangement, a half holiday will be granted Friday afternoon so that the student body can attend the game at Sonora and at the same time constitute the school's observance of Armistice Day. No holiday will be granted on Monday, as had been contemplated at first.

The entire pep squad and most of the student body, as well as a large delegation of local fans will accompany the team, and school officials have requested that persons who will have room for pep squad girls or other students communicate with Miss Mildred North or Miss Esther Kate Pierce.

H. S. LASHES WIN FOOTBALL CONTEST

The High School girls softball team defeated the Junior High girls in a matched game on the school grounds Tuesday afternoon. The score was 26 to 11. The Junior High girls have asked for another chance and are getting down to the business of making it interesting for the big sisters.

Motorists Warned To Check Lights

Sheriff To Enforce Head And Taillight Regulations

A warning to operators of motor vehicles to make sure that both headlights and the tail light are burning when the vehicles are being operated at night on streets and highways of Ozona and Crockett County was issued this week by Sheriff W. S. Willis.

A number of auto and truck owners have become negligent about the headlight and taillight regulations, he said, and as these are two of the most common causes of night motor accidents, he plans a drive to correct such menaces to night driving. Operators of trucks are especially warned about keeping taillights burning. A number of accidents have resulted recently from rear-end collisions with trucks showing no tail lights. The "one-eyed light" on both trucks and cars is another unnecessary and unlawful road hazard that must be corrected here, Sheriff Willis said. The sheriff asks the co-operation of Ozona motorists in correcting these conditions. Have your lights inspected and repaired now, is his advice.

Dr. and Mrs. F. T. McIntire and daughter, Joyce, were Ozona visitors Sunday.

Sheep & Goat Raisers Assn. Opens Fire On New Organization Plan Led by Lea

Kincaid Outlines Accomplishments of Present Assn.

Opening fire on plans for the formation of a new organization to look after the interests of the sheep and goat and wool and mohair producers of Texas, T. A. Kincaid, president of the Sheep and Goat Raisers Association of Texas, this week issued a statement, outlining the accomplishments of the present association and condemning efforts of leaders of the new organization movement to "kill the Sheep and Goat Raisers Association" and defend that association as a competent representative of the interests of the sheep and goat raisers. The statement, which will appear in the next issue of the official magazine of the association, follows:

Scout Ceremony Here November 15

Tenderfoot Investiture And Court Of Honor Planned

Between twenty and thirty Ozona boys will take the Boy Scout oath and be inducted officially into Scoutdom at a Tenderfoot Investiture and Court of Honor to be held at the High School auditorium Thursday evening, November 15, under the direction of Bob Billington, Scout Executive for the Concho Valley Council, of San Angelo.

Mr. Billington will be accompanied to Ozona by Harold Broome and Mims Jackson, San Angelo Scouters, who will assist in the impressive ceremonies and the training class for parents as a part of the evening's program.

Thirty Ozona boys are keenly interested in organization of a Scout troop here and are working with Scoutmaster Joe Haddon in preparation for their Tenderfoot ceremony, in which they become Scouts. More than twenty of this number are expected to be ready for the investiture to form Ozona Troop No. 53.

A lecture on the purposes and ideals of the Boy Scout movement, together with a brief training school for parents and Scouters, and the Court of Honor and Investiture ceremony will constitute the evening's program, to which every parent and every person in Ozona interested in the great Scout movement is cordially invited.

The Scout movement in Ozona, which has suffered misfortunes in the past, seems destined for success this time under the capable leadership of Mr. Haddon, who has had many years experience in the work and is thoroughly qualified to develop the troop into one of the leaders of the council. Greater interest on the part of the boys is being shown and if this interest can be passed on to the adults, Ozona boys will be given the advantages offered through Scouting that 900,000 other boys of the world are now enjoying and finding the greatest man-building force ever developed.

MEREDITHS BID FAREWELL TO FRIENDS ON EVE OF DEPARTURE FOR NEW POST

The following "goodbye" note was handed the Stockman this week by "The Merediths", Rev. and Mrs. J. H. Meredith on the eve of their departure Friday for Uvalde, where Rev. Meredith will be pastor of the Methodist Church the coming year. Mrs. Meredith, who has been ill for several weeks will go to San Antonio where she will visit her daughters several days before joining him in Uvalde.

"I started to say 'Farewell' but did not feel that was what I wanted to say so I'll just bid you a 'good bye'."

"It's with a feeling of mixed sorrow and pleasure that we leave Ozona and the Ozona folks. We are happy that we could stay so long with you and still have the fine friendship and devotion which you have so often expressed to us. It's with pleasure that we are getting closer to our family and have a good charge to go to when we leave. But we wish that it was so we could remain with you for the rest of our days, as Ozona has become very much like home to us, and the Ozona folks seem like our own folks. We have lived in the Ozona parsonage longer than we have ever lived in another house. We know that according to the course of things that we will never see some of you again, and it makes our hearts sad when we allow ourselves to think much about it.

"But we are the servants of our church. To its plan and purposes we have consecrated our service. We have taken a vow that we would go when and where it says so. We believe that it is for the

With orders from drouth relief officials to bring the sheep and goat buying program to a close "as rapidly as possible," and only a few more flocks to be culled in this county, the government livestock purchasing program in this county was expected to be brought to a close by the end of this week, according to advices from the local headquarters.

LIBERTY REDEFINED

Houston Chronicle: Thoughtful men and women will find much material for contemplation in President Roosevelt's latest message to the American people, but the thought that will live long after his administration has ended is contained in the closing paragraph.

It sums up the whole philosophy of government behind the New Deal in a few terse words. It explains what NRA, AAA, FERA and other government agencies are trying to accomplish. And in little more than a hundred words it deftly disposes of Herbert Hoover's criticism of present policies which filled a book.

"I am not for a return to that definition of liberty under which for many years a free people were being gradually regimented into the services of the privileged few," the President said. "I prefer, and I am sure you prefer, that broader definition of liberty under which we are moving forward to greater freedom, to greater security to the average man than he has ever known before in the history of America."

Government for the benefit of the masses is the ideal behind the Roosevelt administration. In achieving this goal, liberty has been redefined. No longer does the world imply the right to practice exploitation for personal enrichment nor the enjoyment of privileges inimical to the welfare of the whole Nation.

The social and industrial reforms of the past 18 months, the President asserted, have been carried out within the framework of the Constitution. He quoted the great Chief Justice White of the Supreme Court, who said the Constitution is not a barrier to progress but "the broad highway through which alone true progress may be enjoyed."

Relief Clients Are Given Goats

Gov't. Purchased Animals Delivered Alive To Needy

AUSTIN, Oct. 31—Texas relief clients have taken such a fancy to "goat on the hoof" that it now appears few if any of these animals bought in the government program will be left for the meat canning plants. C. Z. Crain, head of the commodities distribution department of the Texas Relief Commission, said today.

We're issuing them alive to relief clients at the rate of 3,000 to 4,000 per day and this morning we haven't a surplus goat in our pens," Crain said. He estimated nearly 50,000 head have been disposed of in this manner. Clients themselves are required to slaughter the animal. They also must return the skin to the county administrator to indicate that the animal has not been re-sold. After the skin has been marked, it is returned to the client and he may use it as he sees fit.

Crain declared that skins are being used as floor coverings, and in some instances hides have been tanned and made into men's vests.

The federal government has set a quota of 400,000 goats in Texas. It is estimated that 100,000 of this number have been bought, counting condemnations. In contrast to the cattle and sheep programs, the Federal Surplus Relief corporation is not receiving goats and the responsibility for disposing of them was placed on the Texas Relief Commission. Officials first considered slaughtering and canning the animals, but decided to try giving them away alive. The plan met instant success. Many goats dress out 15 pounds of meat and some clients, looking to the winter months, have dried their meat for future consumption.

Baptist Missionary Groups In Meetings

The two groups of the Baptist Woman's Missionary Union met in regular session Wednesday afternoon, the Lottie Moon Circle meeting with Mrs. Leon Gambrell, with Mrs. J. S. Whitley as leader, and the Nelson Circle with Mrs. R. F. Powell, with Mrs. Ira Carson leading the Bible Study.

At the Lottie Moon session, Mrs. O. W. Smith and Mrs. Jim Patrick discussed Bible topics and Mrs. Ray Dunlap taught a lesson from "Seedtime and Harvest." At the conclusion of the program, ice box cookies and coffee were served to Mesdames H. A. Moore, R. C. Dunlap, Will Miller, Glyn Cates, John Patrick, Jim Patrick, S. L. Butler, R. O. Smith, W. A. Grandy, J. S. Whitley, Thalys Elledge, Hugh Gray, Luther Lynch, O. W. Smith, George Bean, Buster Hodges, C. W. Tallaferro, A. C. Hoover and the hostess.

Refreshments of pumpkin pie and coffee were served by Mrs. Powell to Mesdames J. H. McClure, A. W. Jones, Ira Carson, A. E. Deland, John Pettit, A. H. Wilson, Frank Russell, C. J. Watts, C. C. Pharr, Ernest Dunlap, Tom Squyres, and Misses Dollye Cooke and Maybell Taylor.

BAPTIST CHURCH NOTES

"Obeying The Gospel"

Rev. Leon M. Gambrell, pastor of the Baptist Church, will preach next Sunday night on the theme, "Obeying The Gospel." This will be in the nature of a Bible reading and every one is most cordially invited to hear the message. This service begins at 7:30 each Sunday evening.

Sunday school meets at 9:45 Sunday mornings. The officers and teachers are entering into the work beautifully in their weekly meetings and are making plans for a school twice the present size. All are invited to this, the teaching service of this church each Sunday morning. The Men's Bible Class give a special invitation to men to join in the study of God's Word. They meet in the church auditorium at 9:45.

Thirty-four ladies were in the two circle meetings of the Women's Missionary Society Wednesday of this week. Much interest is being shown in this work.

The Church was happy to receive Mary Francis West for baptism last Sunday and Leslie Ratliff on promise of a letter from the church at Comstock. All hearts are happy to see young people like these give their hearts and lives to Jesus. The pastor baptized Miss Nell Buckelew at the prayer meeting service Wednesday night. Several others are awaiting baptism and they will be baptised within two or three weeks.

The thought for discussion and meditation at the prayer hour this week was a genuine revival in the church and community. It was not a set series of services but a renewed condition of heart purposes and interests we had in mind. Nearly every one present agreed to pray daily for that sort of a revival in Ozona. We would like to have all friends, who love our blessed Lord, to join us in that prayer.

Leon M. Gambrell, pastor.

IF MOTHER ASKED IT

Oregon (Portland) Daily Journal: She is demure, self-possessed clear-seeing, and she went from office to office doing her bit in the Red Cross roll call. Looking up from his desk, a business man asked, "Why are you interested in the Red Cross?" If he hoped to confuse her he was disappointed. "I had become a member before the Southern California earthquake," she said. "I had folks there dear to me. How I wanted to help them! Then, as I learned how the Red Cross moved in, took charge, relieved suffering and reduced confusion, I realized that I, as a member, was helping."

The girl paused. Then she added, "Not long ago there were the Lower Rio Grande floods, and the misery at Kelso. I was proud to think that again I helped because of what the Red Cross did. What about you?" The man passed over his dollar for a membership. He did it with a smile.

During these days past the Greatest Mother in the World has asked for help in mercy and the relief of emergency everywhere. It is the mother touch, gently, capably felt where catastrophe falls. It is service magnificent and beautiful. In what other way could anyone have a part so great at cost so little in the splendor of humanness? What wonder that, with dollars from small and great so many business houses have posted 100 per cent Red Cross enrollment!

SAVING THE EDITOR!

Here is a minister who appreciates the Editor. At a recent Editorial convention he offered the following toast:

To save an editor from starvation, take his paper and pay for it promptly.

To save him from bankruptcy, advertise in his paper liberally.

To save him from despair, send him every item of news you can get hold of.

To save him from profanity, write your correspondence plainly on one side of the sheet and send it in as early as possible.

To save him from mistakes, bury him. Dead people are the only ones who never make mistakes.

Producers Warned Against Assigning Livestock Benefits

Livestock producers selling cattle or other livestock to the Agricultural Adjustment Administration under the emergency cattle agreement and emergency livestock agreements, with respect to the purchase of sheep, were warned today that assignment of or contracts to transfer benefit or service payments received from such sales cannot be legally enforced. Such action is in violation of the terms of the agreements.

The Administration issued the warning after complaints had been received that in some instances farmers' creditors, although waiving all claims to benefit or service payments in return for being named as joint payees for the purchase payments, were asking producers to sign separate agreements or through other devices were attempting to require producers to assign or contract to pay over benefit or service payments.

Two separate payments are made in connection with emergency purchases of drouth cattle, or drouth sheep and goats. One, a "purchase payment," is subject to claims of any lien holders against the livestock, and the other, a "benefit payment," in the case of cattle, or a "service payment" in the case of sheep or other livestock, goes direct to producers, and under the terms of the agreement is not subject to any claims of lienholders.

Both cattle agreement and the livestock agreement specifically protect the farmer against the pressure of over-anxious creditors who may insist that the producer assign or contract to pay over benefit or service payments. Under instructions issued to county agents, checks for these payments are delivered only to producers. The producer agrees, under paragraph (3) of the cattle agreements and paragraph (c) of the livestock agreement:

"Not to sell or assign, in whole or in part, this agreement or his right to or claim for the benefit payment under this agreement, and not to execute any power of attorney to collect such payment or to order that such payment be made. Any such sale, assignment, order, or power of attorney shall be null and void."

Before cattle, sheep or goats up on which liens are held can be sold, holders of the liens must sign the agreement. In so signing, the lienholders waive any claims to benefit payments or service payments, agreeing not to bring suit or proceedings to have such payments applied to any claim or debt, in consideration of the application upon the claims of the purchase payments made under the agreement with the Secretary of Agriculture.

Officials of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration in charge of the drouth cattle and sheep purchase program, state that any reported cases in which assignment of benefit or service payments has been pressed, will be promptly investigated. Complaints regarding alleged violation of the agreement in this respect should be filed with the regional field audit offices of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration handling the certification of payments in the state in which the complaint originates.

Mrs. Rice Lynn and young son, Hascob, are here from San Antonio for a visit with Mrs. Lynn's parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Kincaid and family.

Division Of Texas Again Being Talked

OK, Oct. 31—Division of the largest State in the Union, under lively discussion. President John N. Garner, advocate of dividing Texas into two states, but the West Chamber of Commerce has presented arguments for and against the division in its official publication. The division is possible by practically no one except within a quarter of a mile at least. Texas, four times bigger than England, was admitted to the Union, there was a provision that new States not exceeding 100,000 square miles may with the consent of the existing States be fashioned out of the territory and be entitled to admission. The agitation is merely for the sake of one new State, to be known as "West Texas." The President Garner explains the situation, this can be an act of the Legislature. The Legislature will be to get a majority in its general southerly trend. No natural boundary is offered for a division. Streams flow from northwest to southeast at so great an easterly angle as to be impractical for an east and west boundary. Another practical obstacle in the way of dividing Texas is the difficulty of agreeing upon a capital for the new State. Abilene, Amarillo, El Paso, Sweetwater, Brownwood, San Angelo, or Vice President Garner's home town Uvalde, might seek designation. A sentimental but equally effective obstacle would be the reluctance of West Texas to sever their connection with the Alamo at San Antonio, a shrine of Texas liberty.

the State into East and West portions would naturally have the 100th meridian as its northern starting point. That is the meridian that separates the Texas Panhandle from Oklahoma. Extended thru the State the meridian strikes the Rio Grande west of Laredo. Used as a dividing line it would place about a third of the area of Texas in "West Texas." The western territory would have only about 15 members of the Texas House of Representatives and three senators or a tenth instead of half, of the votes. If the dividing line should leave the 100th meridian at its juncture with the Red River and move eastward two tiers of counties before being projected south, "West Texas" would still be far short of necessary votes for a division. In the house there would be 20 members from territory that would be definitely in the proposed new State and 10 in territory that might be either in Texas or "West Texas," depending on how the border followed east and west boundaries of existing counties in its general southerly trend.

Dog With Rabies Bites 49 Texans

GRAHAM, Tex., Oct. 30—First injections of anti-rabies serum were given Thursday to 49 persons here after a puppy who snapped at scores of school children and adults Sunday and Monday was found to have been suffering from rabies.

The dog was kept under observation and died Wednesday. The animal's head was sent to Fort Worth for examination. Serum was rushed from Dallas and by Tuesday morning a list of 50 persons needing treatment had been compiled.

Mayor J. J. Gallaher posted a notice Wednesday ordering all dogs running at large to be killed and city authorities took steps to rid the city of stray dogs and cats and have other pets inoculated against rabies.

Care In Treating Colds May Prevent Serious Illness

AUSTIN, Tex., Oct. 31—"While the common cold is no respecter of seasons, increased prevalence is decidedly marked in the winter months. Unfortunately, familiarity with this condition has bred contempt for it. This is plainly indicated by the usual rejoinder, "Oh! I've just got a cold;" the inference, of course, being that while a cold is an annoying matter, after all it is an insignificant affliction. This attitude undoubtedly has been the cause of many needless deaths, to say nothing of prolonged and expensive illnesses," states Dr. John W. Brown, State Health Officer.

"One's resistance to many diseases, including colds, can be raised by increasing one's vitality by observing the fundamental living rules, namely: plenty of fresh air, good wholesome food, neither too much nor too little, sufficient rest, and the avoidance of habitual over-indulgence of devitalizing stimulants, including tea, coffee, tobacco and alcohol.

"If, however, in spite of ordinary precautions, a cold is contracted, it will pay to consider it seriously. Every cold should be viewed as the possible beginning of a serious illness. That means promptly seeking a physician's advice and explicitly following his directions. If he orders bed, then bed it should be. Incidentally, complete rest is one of the finest ways to overcome a cold in short order."

Eternal Vigilance Required in Fight Against All of Childhood's Epidemics

Mother brings baby to the clinic where he is weighed and inspected for hidden defects by Red Cross nurse; the nurse on her daily rounds inspects a little boy who is "feeling badly."

DIPHTHERIA—that dread epidemic of childhood two decades ago—has almost been conquered, medical authorities inform us. Eternal vigilance still is practiced against the disease, through immunization campaigns, and the world of medicine hopes that ultimately the dread plague will be as extinct as the yellow fever epidemics of the nineteenth century.

The American Red Cross played a major part in the eradication of both. As long ago as the 1880s a young Red Cross nurse—Jane Delano—led a corps of women nurses in the battles against yellow fever in the South. Today she is revered as America's Florence Nightingale, both because of her early exploits and because of her outstanding leadership as a World War nurse—a cause in which she sacrificed her life.

Red Cross nurses by the thousands have worked in the diphtheria eradication campaigns through assisting doctors in giving immunizations to school children. They first entered this work twenty years ago and still are carrying on in many hundreds of communities.

Epidemics of measles, whooping cough, scarlet fever and other diseases considered minor evils by many still sweep our schools. Public health authorities and the nurse know that these should not be permitted, because any or all may leave weaknesses. The nurse is alert against infantile paralysis, which annually presents a problem in some section of the country. Against all of these the healthy, well-nourished child stands the best chance.

Child health preservation is a major program of the American Red Cross. How important the work of the nurse is in this respect may be judged from the fact that during the last twelve-month period Red Cross nurses inspected 629,000 school children and of this number found 261,000 with physical defects of varying degrees which had to be corrected if normal health were to be maintained.

Following the World War the Red Cross undertook the task of showing rural communities and smaller cities the value of the visiting nurse—a lesson already appreciated by many larger cities. Hundreds of nursing services were established and proved their value to the taxpayers, thus becoming publicly supported institutions. Many services continued under the auspices of the Red Cross, and today there are more than 750 Red Cross nurses still making their daily rounds carrying their vital knowledge of good health habits to mothers and children.

During the past year these nurses made more than a million visits to or in behalf of the sick. There is still a broad field where the public health nurse is unknown. That there is no more appealing service to which funds may be devoted was illustrated a few months ago when Will Rogers, the noted comedian, desiring to do some public service—but not for public acclaim—gave the Red Cross $25,000 with which to send public health nurses into communities without funds for this purpose.

One of the most effective weapons against the inevitable toll of childhood's ills and epidemics which the depression-years are visiting upon the country, is wielded by the Red Cross nurse in her constant visits in the communities where she is employed. The work of these Red Cross nurses is supported through the annual roll call for members Armistice Day to Thanksgiving. Every man and woman who joins is aiding in the campaign to keep children healthy.

Expert Predicts Television Soon Ready for Homes

WASHINGTON—Development of television within four or five years to the point that it will be practicable to present in American homes a picture of important events throughout the Nation was predicted today by M. H. Aylesworth, president of the National Broadcasting Company.

The view was expressed to the communications commission in opposing proposals for Congress to allocate to education, civic, religious and other non-profit organizations a part of the Nation's broadcasting facilities.

Aylesworth said several hundred million dollars would be required to develop television to a practical basis. He emphasized it was still in the "laboratory stage."

"It will help the theatre and the motion picture business," he added. "People will still want to go out at night. Probably the reason so many men want to go to prize fights is not to see the fights but to get away from home. This feeling will still hold true."

wealth, and from which it hopes to draw a portion of its student body.

The lifeblood of these districts is gradually being drawn from the educational institutions because of the fact that the taxpayers who have been holding up a double burden of taxes, paying the part of the University of Texas as well as their own, cannot longer do so.

The amendment has the support of a large number of the states most prominent men as well as influential statewide organizations. It is supported by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, The Texas Press Assn, and many others who in the annual conventions have seen fit to adopt resolutions of sponsorship and support of the just bill.

The people of the state are being asked to give the bill thorough consideration and vote for a cause that is entirely just.

DOGS KILL SHEEP

A dog pack led by a large white bulldog is blamed for the death of over a hundred head of sheep belonging to Dan Bihl, and being pastured on his farm near Fort Stockton.

Tuesday night the herd of over three hundred was invaded, with about fifty head being killed outright and another half-hundred so seriously hurt that they died later. In addition over a hundred more of the sheep were injured less seriously.

Mr. Bihl discovered the damage when he reached the farm early Wednesday morning, finding two dogs still walking among the herd at that time. He returned to town for a gun, meeting the white dog coming away from his farm and killing him. Mr. Bihl felt the dog was leader of the pack for he had had trouble with the same dog previously.

Poisoned carcasses of sheep were placed Wednesday night to ensnare any dogs which might turn to the slaughter.—Fl. Stockton Pioneer.

H. J. R. 30, The Most Deserving Of The Constitutional Amendments

By H. G. SECREST, Supt. of Rankin Schools

Of the eight constitutional amendments to be voted on in the general election of November 6th the University School Land Amendment, (H. J. R. No. 30) is one of the most deserving of passage. Many reasons can be pointed to substantiate this statement.

The amendment, a corrective measure will first meet with the approval of the majority of the voters of the state in that it does not cost the taxpayer, one cent. In fact it saves the people an approximate $50,000 annually.

It was designed primarily to authorize school districts in which large tracts of land owned by the University of Texas and on which the University of Texas now pays no taxes, to tax these lands for school purposes.

A similar amendment passed by the state two years ago failed in its purpose, that of authorization of counties and school districts to tax these lands for the upkeep of both the counties and school districts. The attorney general ruled that school districts could not benefit under the terms of the first amendment due to the fact that it stipulated "for county purposes only."

Thus H. J. R. No. 30 is a corrective piece of legislation to permit the school districts which need tax money much worse than the counties in which they are located to benefit along with those counties.

The amendment has another provision in that it specifies that tax moneys against these lands which are now being paid out of the general fund of the state government to the counties, shall be paid out of the available funds of the University of Texas for both county and school district purposes.

The passage of the amendment is a matter of justice to the school children of these districts of which there are some 9,000. They are gradually being deprived of the educational facilities accorded other school children of the state by reason of the fact that in some cases the taxable valuation consists of more than half University lands which cannot be taxed for school purposes under the present set-up.

Four hundred and sixty sections of the Crockett county school district belong to the University of Texas. More than three hundred sections of the Reagan county school district belong to the University, more than two hundred sections of the Rankin Independent School District in Upton county belong to the University. Crane, Ward, Andrews, Winkler, Pecos, Hudspeth, El Paso, Schleicher and other counties have similar situations.

These same lands have produced millions of dollars of revenue through oil royalties and land leases to the permanent funds of the state University yet that institution has not paid one cent for the upkeep of the school districts from which it received all of its tion's early life. The movement is also one which holds in disrespect the men who are now leaders in the present Association. It is indeed unfortunate at this time, with the drouth and distressing financial conditions that such a move should be brought about.

What is the motive of the organizers? It is impossible to believe after all these years of experience and with the opportunity before them to have aided the Sheep and Goat Raisers' Association, that to assist the producers at this time can be their object.

"Did the wool houses and the Boston wool dealers help in any manner other than an occasional contribution as dues to get the stocker and feeder rates cut from 22,000 to 18,000 pounds minimum, and also the 85c on the $1.00 stocker rates with the same minimum, where the producers had been paying for years the 22,000 pound minimum as well as the fat base rate?"

"Are they the ones responsible for the 'Eat-More-Lamb' campaign when the sheepmen were faced with the trade name of 'Eat Mountain Quality Lamb,' which name, if adopted, would have practically killed the feeder lamb trade in Texas. Your representatives successfully fought the 'Mountain Quality' trade name at the Colorado Springs national meeting and had 'Eat-More-Lamb' adopted instead.

"Who has represented you before the I. C. C. and the Railroad Commission of Texas in the proposed increase freight rate hearings? Also who represented you when the railroads petitioned the I. C. C. this year to do away with all stocker rates?"

"Who represented you in the bedding charge fight in Texas, which state is the only one in which producers do not have to pay bedding charges for shipments within the state?"

"In fact, contrary to Mr. Lea and Mr. Jack Mansfield's statements that we do not have competent representatives, the above and many more examples certainly refute. These battles under the most trying conditions have been fought and won in the producer's favor.

"Who filed the first protest to the railroads of Texas in your behalf—your organization. In fact, there had never been a protest filed in this state on freight rates for sheep and goats until your organization did so.

"Even with their 'incapable representatives' the Association has procured for the producers of Texas the present low freight rates that each and every sheep and goat man is enjoying at the present time.

"Who represented you in the Legislature at Austin on the Weights and Measures Bill that would have been so detrimental and expensive to the producers of sheep and goats, wool and mohair? This is another instance where you had 'incapable representation'—but the bill failed to pass.

"It would take a book of many pages to write the history of the accomplishments of the Association. Of course, we have met defeat at times, as all who have tried have met defeat, but we have never failed at any time, anywhere, in any measure, to represent the growers for the growers' welfare before the national Congress, before state Legislatures, before the I. C. C., the Texas Railroad Commission and before other groups.

"It certainly seems that some men do not want the growers to have an organization and if the growers are to have one, it will be at their special dictation and control. In other words, they 'want the growers organized, but organized under their special plan and run at their special sufferance.

"Support the Sheep and Goat Raisers' Association who has no other interest than that of the producers and see that your own interest is taken care of by your own organization."

A group of questions, selected from a "Prospectus" prepared by promoters of the new organization were listed and answered by the Sheep and Goat Raisers Association head. The questions and answers are as follows:

1. What will happen to wool and mohair and meat tariffs in 1935?

Unanswerable by Mr. Lea or anyone else for the simple reason that no man has yet been born who can read the future since the passing of the prophets in the old biblical times.

2. Will we produce more wool and mohair than we consume in 1935?

Yes and no—if economic conditions do not improve, yes. If conditions improve and the purchasing power of the masses improves to normal, we will produce much less wool and mohair than we can consume.

3. Are you satisfied with present conditions?

NO!

4. Will you have adequate representation for your business in 1935?

Yes, if the producers support the organization that has fought their battles for 18 long years. If every sheep and goat producer in Texas will join and support your present organization, both morally and financially, we can have just as able men to represent your interests in any matter as Mr. Lea's organization, with no interest only yours.

5. Are you willing to stand by and let some one else take your business away from you without any effort on your part to protect your interests?

No—for this reason, those of us who have fought for you with capable men in Washington, Austin and before the Interstate Commerce Commission and the Texas Railroad Commission, are asking you to support your organization as never before and to prevent any other organization depriving you of representation of and by your own selves and not by other interests that might have interests detrimental to you, either directly or indirectly.

6. Are you willing to let some substitute fibre take the place of wool and mohair?

No. If we had had the assistance of those who are backing Mr. Lea, we would have had better success for the last 18 or 20 years. As you all know, the Truth-in-Fabric bill has been on the calendar for at least that long and has come up for consideration in every Congress.

7. Will your delicious meats or some synthetic substitute be the choice of housewives on the tables of the nation?

We placed lamb before the public with our "Eat More Lamb" campaign and those who are favoring Mr. Lea's organization are trying to make you believe that nothing has been done along this line by the Sheep and Goat Raisers Association.

Prize Boners Make Life Bearable For Frosh English Profs

FORT WORTH, Oct. 31—"And we all stood and sang the Armada."

That's the way a freshman student at Texas Christian University, impressed with his first big football game, wrote about the Alma Mater song in an English theme.

Another student wrote: "I was so tired I went to my room and there sank in the arms of metamorphosis."

Here are a few other prize boners that instructors in the freshman English classes have collected:

"An aluminate is an ex-student"

"A bibliography is a story of the Bible."

"A hobby is a boy friend."

"Girls are known as fair sex."

"Homily means not exactly beautiful."

"A gargyle is a throat rinse."

"The morality tables and statistics prove this."

"He decomposed over the social changes wrought by the World War."

"I waited in the sun parlor for his arrival with great expense."

Mrs. Scott Peters and Floyd Henderson after returning from a visit to Mrs. Henderson, who is under medical care in San Antonio, report that she is improved to such an extent that she is able to go on extended rides through the city.

FRESH BREAD IS GOOD BREAD

Remember way back when you were a kid and mother baked "light bread"—sliced a hot loaf, spread a slice with butter and jam or jelly and gave it to you? Good? Better than anything else you've eaten before or since.

One of the most prominent virtues of the bread "that mother made" was its FRESHNESS. Of course, it was good to the last crumb, but not nearly so good as when it first came from the oven.

So it is with bakery bread. Of course, we don't claim any bakery bread as good as that your mother used to make, but we do claim that our bread—BAKED FRESH EVERY MORNING—is far superior in taste and wholesomeness to the 48-hour-old "left-over" bread that is dumped on Ozona by the San Angelo bakers. Try our bread—note the difference.

Club To Assist Needy Children

Buy Toothbrushes For School Group; Sweet Sale Friday

As a child health promotion project, the Ozona Junior Woman's Club voted to purchase twenty-four tooth brushes for needy children in Ozona schools at the regular meeting of the club last Thursday afternoon.

Arrangements were also made at this meeting for a "sweets sale" to be held Friday, starting at 10 o'clock, in the Couch building next door to Joe Oberkamp's. Club members will contribute some home-made sweet, as candy, pie, cake etc., for sale, the proceeds to go into the club treasury for civic work.

Miss Hester Bunger, club president, was elected a delegate to the state Federated Women's Clubs convention to be held in Austin November 13 to 16.

The music room in the elementary school building has been assigned to the club as a permanent meeting place. The next meeting of the club will be held in the new quarters, on Thursday, November 8, at 3:40 p. m.

Last Thursday's program was devoted to a study of the novel, "No Second Spring" by Janet Berth, under the leadership of Miss Mildred North. The next meeting of the club, Thursday of next week, will have for its theme "International Relations and Armistice Day." Mrs. Ele Hagelstein will lead the following program:

"What Women Can Do for Internationalism"—Miss Frances Northcutt.

Reading—"Hymn of Hate"—J. D. Miller—Mrs. Ele Hagelstein.

Piano Solo—"Medley of National Anthems"—Miss Maxine Murdock.

"What Armistice Mean" in 1918—Miss Wayne Augustine.

Chorus—"America the Beautiful."

BYPU Groups Are Entertained With Hallowe'en Party

Members of the two Senior groups of the Baptist Young Peoples Union enjoyed a Hallowe'en party in the Sunday school assembly room of the church Tuesday evening. The Hallowe'en theme was carried out in decorations, games and refreshments. The game of "ghosts" and other spooky games were enjoyed after which open-faced sandwiches, done in spook style, stuffed oranges and hot tea were served. There were approximately forty persons present.

The younger Senior group has adopted the name "Senior Broadcaster" for its organization and the other group will select a name at its next meeting.

Mike Couch, local grocer, is in San Angelo this week where he is receiving treatment for an infected hand.

Hobos Are Flocking to California

Believing that California will be a paradise for them if Upton Sinclair is elected governor, thousands of Hobos and bums are making their way to that state as fast as they can. A lot of them are here seen arriving at Ozona on a freight train.

Interesting Stunts Presented By P. E. Dept. At Chapel Hour

One of the most interesting chapel programs offered in some time was that by the physical education department of the local schools at the regular chapel hour last Thursday afternoon. The program was staged in the High School gymnasium.

Pupils of the second and third grades offered a Swedish singing game, and pupils of the third and fourth grades, "Captain Jenks (United States)." An exhibition of travelling rings was given by Posey Baggett, Betty Jane Ingham and Maggie Brown and a group of girls from the sixth and seventh grades a series of floor stunts, including forward and backward rolls, pyramids, etc. Junior high school girls presented an English ribbon dance, and the freshmen boys an exhibition in general gymnastics, demonstrating use of the wall exercisers, stall bars and other gym equipment. A "Parade of the Wooden Soldiers" by Junior High School girls and an exhibition in calisthenics and pyramids by the sixth and seventh grade boys concluded the program.

Today's chapel program, starting at 3 o'clock, will be presented by the High School dramatic club, with special music and readings, under the direction of Miss Mildred North.

CAFE COOKS WITH GAS

"Cook with gas" has become a reality in Ozona despite the fact that none of the numerous promoters have yet successfully negotiated the thirteen miles that separates this city from an 18 million foot gas well on the Todd ranch. Hancock's Cafe this week put into operation a completely gas-operated kitchen, cooking on a gas range with an automatic gas water heater in operation. The coffee urn is also gas operated. Mr. Hancock is using Rancho Gas, installed by Joe Oberkamp.

GHOSTS AND GOBLINS ON ANNUAL HALLOWE'EN PROWL

Hallowe'en pranksters were abroad in force in Ozona last night as the annual soiree of ghosts and goblins got under way with the fall of darkness. Window washing was in order in the business section this morning, removing the systematic soap marking done during the evening by the goblins. All loose boxes, barrels, and the like were seen in unaccustomed places mostly in the middle of streets, and various other articles were found out of kilter with the coming of daylight, but very little property damage was done.

Mrs. Bob Weaver is able to leave home after two weeks in the Angelo hospital.
