MISSIONARY TO BRAZIL DISPLAYS COPY OZONA RODEO PROGRAM TO RANCHER FRIENDS ALONG THE AMAZON RIVER

A copy of the program book for the eighth annual Crockett County Rodeo, Race Meet, Stock Show and Sale, held here July 3, 4 and 5 this year, is now making a tour up and down the Amazon River and its tributaries in far-away Brazil, South America, the proud possession of Rev. E. A. Nelson, Baptist Missionary to Brazil, whose missionary activities along the Amazon are being financed by the local church.

A copy of the book was mailed to Rev. Nelson by A. W. Jones and a letter received by the Stockman this week from I. G. Nelson, son of Rev. and Mrs. E. A. Nelson, acknowledges receipt of the book. Rev. Nelson is showing the book among his friends, many ranchmen up and down the Amazon, young Nelson writes.

The letter was dated July 14, 1934, reached Ozona Tuesday, more than two months in transit. Mr. Nelson's letter follows:

Caixa Postal 84A
Manos, Brazil,
July 14, 1934.

Editor,
Ozona Stockman,
Ozona, Texas.
Dear Sir:

"Thank you very much for the copy of the 8th Annual Crockett County Stock Show, recently sent to me, by Mr. Jones for you, I have given Jones Saddlery's card, and the catalog to father to enjoy and show his friends—many ranchmen up and down these rivers.

"Everybody is well, and the mission work along Amazon river and its 17 large tributaries is beginning to show marvelous results after years of labor by Dad, practically alone in this vast field, as two or three others who tried to work here died in less than three years. Now it is almost impossible to get a white man to live here any length of time and work. English, Germans, etc. in business here with their firms usually skip out of here to go home on furloughs every two years, to keep alive at all.

"The rivers are overflowing greatly this year so ranchmen have to keep moving cattle, sheep hogs to higher land often, and then go out in canoes and cut floating and other grass for cattle to feed on or starve. Argentine, a real cattle country, is more level, and less handicapped with floods. North Brazil suffers yearly.

"Again thanking all for past courtesies, and with good wishes, we are,

Yours gratefully,
Eric A. and I. Gordon Nelson.

Giants Defeat Station A, 16-4

Locals Pound Four Visiting Hurlers In Game Here

Coming back after several weeks of idleness following the close of the West Texas League season, the last half of which they won not a single league game, the Ozona Giants got the big sticks to working Sunday afternoon and flattened the snappy Station A team 16 to 4.

The locals chased Bud Smith from the box in the opening frame with a brace of four hits, two walks and four runs. Thereafter, three other Station players tried a hand at hurling, including Ed Ratliff, but the mauling of the Giants continued. Conley Cox weakened momentarily in the eighth to let the visitors in for four runs. He was relieved by Manager Carl Dorley, who held the Station A lads scoreless the balance of the game.

The game with the Station was in the nature of a warm-up for the Giants in preparation for their engagement with the bearded team from the House of David at Benton Harbor, Mich., here on September 27.

Crockett Sheep Tops Natl. Sale

JW Owens Ram Brings $750 In Salt Lake City Auction

Outstanding quality breeding of Crockett County Rambouillet sheep was demonstrated Tuesday when "Cactus," yearling Rambouillet ram from the flocks of J. W. Owens and Sons of this county, topped the National Ram Sale at Salt Lake City, J. K. Madsen of Mount Pleasant, Utah, paying $750 for the Texas ram, the highest price paid for an animal in the opening day of the sale.

The Crockett County ram was the first Texas sheep ever to be sold through the ring at the national sale. He was shipped by express to Salt Lake City last week, Mr. and Mrs. Owens following him to attend the sale.

For the past four years, Mr. Owens has topped the Salt Lake City sale in the highest price paid for breeder stock. His judgment in selecting fine breeding animals is reflected in the sale this week of an animal of his own breeding at the highest price for the day.

Telephone Building Is Being Remodeled

Work of remodeling the building occupied by the San Angelo Telephone Co. here got under way this week. The entire front of the building has been removed and will be replaced with a new front. Two arched windows and an arched doorway will add to the attractiveness of the new front, which is to be stucco finished.

The interior of the building is also to be completely remodeled. Remodeling of the exchange building is one of the last steps in the company's program of bringing the local system up to date. New poles and wire have been set to replace the old system over the town and the service improved with more modern equipment.

Mrs. A. C. Hoover, Mrs. Royce Smith and Mrs. Ernest Dunlap entertained last Thursday with a shower for Mrs. Massie Ray Smith.

SHEEP BUYING SCHEDULED TO START MONDAY

600 Head a Day Said To Be Rate of Purchase In Crockett

136,000 OFFERED

T. A. Kincaid Jr., Named Sorter For Work In This County

Machinery for the buying of sheep and goats under the government's drouth relief program was being set in motion here this week in preparation for starting the buying of animals in this county next Monday, it was announced at drouth relief headquarters here following the release early in the week of the buying order from the drouth administration.

Information concerning the program was obtained by local leaders at the drouth relief conference with government officials and Texas administrators in San Angelo early this week.

T. A. Kincaid, Jr., of McCombe, former Crockett County resident, has been named "sorter" for Crockett County. It will be the sorter's duty to receive the sheep offered to the government and to classify those fit for human consumption and shipment and those to be killed on the range. E. B. Baggett, Jr., has been appointed sorter for Upton County and Douglas Kirby for San Saba County.

Crockett County's quota in the first purchase of sheep and goats has been unofficially reported at 600 head a day. The period over which the purchasing program will be continued has not been indicated. No announcement has been made as to the total allotments to be made for purchases in the various counties, although such information is expected to be released later.

The present ruling that the animals killed on the range must be skinned and the pelts delivered at the shipping point before payment will be made may be set aside if present efforts of growers are successful. Such a requirement would work great hardship on growers, it was pointed out to relief officials at the San Angelo conference, the work necessary to meet this requirement being enough to almost offset any gain that might be made from sale of animals. Official announcement of the rescinding of this requirement is expected to be received before the buying gets under way.

The first announcement that no freshly shorn sheep would be accepted by the government has been modified, according to available information. Where ranchmen are accustomed to shearing twice a year, shearing of the sheep to be sold the government will be permitted.

A total of 152,775 head of sheep and goats have been listed at the local drouth relief offices for sale to the government, 136,422 of this number being sheep and 16,353 goats. At the flat rate offered by the government of $2 a head for ewes one year old and over and $1.40 a head for nannies one year old or over, the sheep and goats listed for sale in this county represent a total value of nearly $300,000 to Crockett County growers. The total inventory of sheep and goats in the county, as listed on the government forms, is 651,186.

THURSDAY, SEPT. 13, 1934. THE POOREST GAMBLE

Would you gamble $17,000,000 against one dollar? You wouldn't of course, no matter how good you thought your chance of winning.

It is very possible, however, that you take an even poorer bet than that every day—that you accept, consciously or unconsciously, life's poorest gamble.

If you are 35 years old, you will on the average, live for 17,000,000 more minutes. To save one little minute, thousands of automobile drivers risk losing the entire 17,000,000 minutes that are coming to them.

Each year in this country about 33,000 people make the 17,000,000 to one wager with death—and lose. Hundreds of thousands of others are injured. Millions sustain need loss property damage, estimated to reach a total of over a billion dollars.

Think of the odds next time you are tempted to take a chance while driving. Remember that the automobile you are operating is one of the most potentially dangerous of all weapons, both of others and yourself.

UPTON SINCLAIR, SOCIALIST

On August 23rd the state of California produced some of the most startling political news of the decade. The voters nominated Upton Sinclair, life-long Socialist, for Governor on the Democratic ticket.

As was to be expected, this unprecedented happening has aroused national-wide comment. Those who believe in Mr. Sinclair's principles state jubilantly that his success means the definite beginning of a swing to the left—that it is only a matter of time before believers in socialism will sit in all the seats of the mighty.

The Sinclair program is about as "promising" as anyone could imagine. High lights are: Heavy taxes on large inheritances and incomes over $5,000, pensions for the sick, unemployed and aged.

President Roosevelt at once made an appointment with Mr. Sinclair—observers believe he will attempt to tone down some of Mr. Sinclair's "wildness." If he is elected—and his chance of that depends how many Democratic voters who supported other and more conservative candidates he is able to hold—it is likely to prove somewhat embarrassing to the Democratic party by putting a genuine Socialist high in its councils.

Thus, even in all parts of the nation will be trained on California next November. And between now and then, the state will witness one of the bitterest campaign battles in its history. No two men could stand farther apart than Mr. Sinclair and Mr. Mer-

A DANGEROUS CRISIS

A great deal can happen in a year—and high government officials, textile employers and textile workers are realizing the bitter truth of that now.

A little over a year ago, on July 17, the first NRA code went into effect. This was the textile code, held to be a model of its kind. It outlawed child labor, cut working hours and raised wages, improved working conditions.

Today, the textile mills are all but saved for a few in the south, and there are no hands to guide the looms. Almost 500,000 workers have left their jobs, and the greatest strike in American history has begun. Neither side shows signs of giving quarter, both are digging in for a long, unhappy battle.

The whole future of the NRA and, more important still, of employer-employee relations is in the balance. The gravity of the crisis cannot be over-emphasized—it is literally packed with dynamite.

San Francisco Chronicle: Give the average person a lot of rope and he'll get tangled up.

Newark Sunday Call: As we understand the experts, there is plenty of food in the United States, but not enough people who like to eat.

Dengue Fever, Spread by Mosquito, Reported in Some Parts Tex.

W. Texas, Sept. 12—This season for dengue fever, according to Dr. John W. Brown, health officer. Several cases of this disease have been reported to date, and no doubt will increase until the first of the past fifty years Texas experienced three epidemics of dengue fever. The last occurred in 1922.

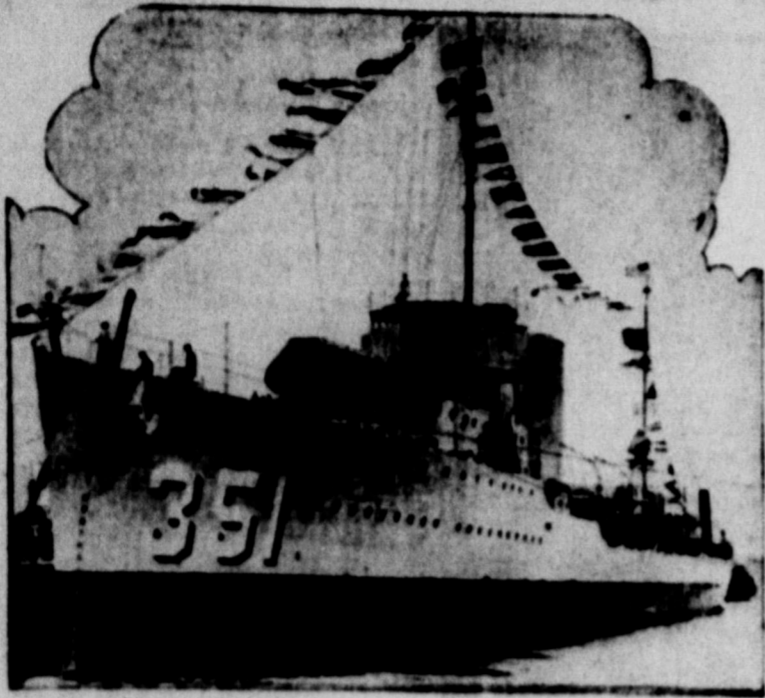

It is characterized by sudden onset, headache, and pain in the joints and limbs, especially the hands and feet. The fever is of short duration and convalescence is slow, causing great discomfort. The disease is seldom fatal. However, the loss of time involved is an economic loss. One attack is usually followed by immunity for several years.

The fever is caused by the same mosquito that carries yellow fever. Those that have studied mosquitoes are able to distinguish the differences. Even though a mosquito is incapable of causing dengue as dengue or malaria, it is very much of a nuisance. The dengue fever and its consequences transmitted by mosquitoes where they should be eliminated. Stagnant water should be removed or oiled, rain barrels should be cleaned, old cans or anything that hold water should be destroyed. Houses should be screened with sixteen mesh screen. Community-wide mosquito campaigns will aid in reducing this and add much to the comfort of the citizens.

How To Drive So As To Arrive

Ab Jenkins, the man who holds more American Automobile Association records for distance, speed and endurance driving than any driver—and has never had an accident—gives six practical suggestions for safe driving in the current Rotarian Magazine. They are:

1. Keep both hands on the wheel. "The only two people I know who are competent to drive one-handed are Eddie Eickenbacker and Ralph de Palma—and both of them use two hands."
2. Keep the best tires on the front wheels. "The front-wheel blow-out is by far the more dangerous. When blow-outs do happen, danger can be averted by clinging stoutly to the steering wheel."

It's clean flour — one of the first milled in Texas to receive the Seal of Acceptance of the Committee on Foods of the American Medical Association. GOLD CHAIN consists of the choicest streams of flour, milled in the South's most modern mill from the finest wheat obtainable.

3. Always test your brakes. "During the first 100 yards of driving, I always test my brakes by pushing the pedal. The brakes may have frozen, they may be greasy or need adjustment."

4. Be extremely careful at twilight. "You have three times the accident hazard at twilight that you have at 8 a. m. Defective visibility is, of course, the reason. Remember, too, that night-time crashes have a 42 per cent higher fatality than day-light accidents."

5. Don't use brakes in a skid. "To come out of a skid throw out your clutch and maneuver the steering wheel so that the front wheels are in alignment with the rear ones. In other words, go in the skid. Braking is ineffectual. Your concern is to equalize traction on all your wheels, in line. As soon as you feel the skid weakening, let in the clutch, 'gun' the motor, and resume forward progress."

6. Study the road. "Always reduce speed when passing from one type of road to another. Your right wheel should be approximately one and one-half feet from the outer edge of the highway. Running off the road is common. Thirty-one per cent of accidents are due to sleeping, while 34 per cent are caused by cars going off the road."

LETTERS From Readers

To the Editor, Ozona Stockman—

Last month I made a thorough repair to my home that has all the conveniences desired. Together with my family I had the thought of enjoying the comfort and warmth that such a dwelling house would afford during the severe cold days in the winter.

How great was our disappointment when we had to confront the school problem that concerns our children. At this point I was undecided. I did not know exactly which of the two things would be more beneficial to me, that is to continue residing here taking care of my home and depriving my children of the best asset in life, that is education, or to permit them to attend an overcrowded public school where a clear and vivid instruction cannot be afforded. I am willing to sacrifice everything in order to have my children attend a school where a proper tuition can be given and where no racial distinction exists.

When A Merchant Is Fooling Himself

The merchant who is not advertising and who observes that his competitor is not advertising either, is fooling himself if he believes that competitive advertising is not hurting him.

Daily newspapers from neighboring towns come in to his town every day. Some of his potential customers read them, and note the advertising messages they carry. Unless the home merchant is meeting this competition with similar advertising, he is losing business that he ought to have. If he doesn't think so, he is kidding himself, and the longer he kids himself the more business he will lose.

A certain amount of business will come to a town regardless of the efforts put forth by merchants. But there isn't enough business of this kind to make any town a good business town. It is the business that may come to a town or go to a competing town, depending upon the type of merchandising in the two towns, that keeps a business institution out of the red.

Business recovery for one town may mean business recession for a neighboring town. Which kind of town are you, Mr. Merchant, going to do business in in the future?

CONSISTENT, CONSTRUCTIVE ADVERTISING PROVIDES THE ANSWER!

Allotments For First Half Sept. Relief In Texas Exhaust Funds

AUSTIN, Sept. 11.—Relief checks, representing allotments to Texas counties for the first half of September, were being signed Tuesday morning for mailing during the afternoon.

Total money sent the counties in this allotment will be a little less than $2,000,000, an allocation for the care of an estimated case load of 265,000.

State Director Adam R. Johnson had written a letter to accompany the checks in which he told county administrators that "this exhausts all available relief funds until additional state funds are obtained through action of the Legislature or until the federal government comes to our rescue."

"You are therefore very definitely instructed to conserve these funds, but at the same time people should not be allowed to suffer. Every effort should be made by your clients to obtain seasonal employment so as to relieve our loads to that extent."

These funds cover all your costs work relief, direct relief, administrative costs and all special projects with the exception of rural rehabilitation. Please be governed accordingly in the administration of relief funds in your county.

Rural rehabilitation funds are contributed by the federal government entirely and are mailed to county administrators separately from the checks for other types of relief.

Nine Years of Honest Service!

On September 1 this year, we celebrated our ninth anniversary in the service of Crockett County people. On this occasion we want to express our gratitude to the people of this community whose friendship and generous patronage have made it possible for us to build up from a modest beginning a store of which we are proud and of which we hope you are proud.

These nine years of serving the people of this community have convinced us that our policy of honesty and integrity in every detail of dealing has made it possible for us to make continuous progress toward attainment of the ideal of merchandising service which we set nine years ago. We believe we have won the confidence of our patrons, and that confidence makes it possible for us to reach you without exaggeration or meaningless hallyhoo—just honest, straightforward service and sincere, purposeful store news told without exaggeration or mental reservation.

It shall be our purpose to continue to serve you honestly and efficiently and to continue to merit your good will and confidence.
