Tax Penalties Mount Rapidly After June 30

Last Half Payments Also Are Due This Month

The last day of this month is the final date in which taxpayers may avail themselves of savings on delinquent state, county and school taxes, according to W. S. Willis, tax assessor and collector. June 30 is also the final date for payment of the second half of 1934 taxes on the split payment plan where taxpayers paid one half their levy in November.

Unless delinquent taxpayers act before the first day of July, they will face sharp stepping up of penalties and added interest to their former assessments.

In making the announcement warning taxpayers of the June 30 deadline, the assessor and collector here disclosed the curve upward in penalty after July 1.

Taxes for 1934 take a 5 per cent penalty through June and 8 1/2 per cent if paid in July. For all prior years 5 per cent penalty will be added IF PAID IN JUNE, but in July the penalty on 1933 tax becomes 17 per cent; on 1932 tax, 23 per cent, on 1931 tax, 29 per cent, on 1930 tax, 35 per cent, and thus upward for prior years.

After July the total increases 1/2 of one per cent each month, which means steep penalties in long delay. The assessor-collector warned too, that redemption costs are additional to penalties.

Payment is due on or before June 30 on 1934 tax—where taxpayers took advantage of the split payment plan and paid half of the levy last November.

To avoid assessment of the added levies which climb from the low penalty of this month to steep amounts after June 30, the assessor-collector here has warned delinquent taxpayers to act immediately.

Crockett Among 10 Counties With Under 5% Relief

Local Relief Load Was Only 3.8 Per Cent Of Population

AUSTIN, June 19—Ten Texas counties representing all sections of the state made up the list of those which boasted a relief load of less than five per cent of their population during April. Taking the state as a whole, 14.8 per cent of its people received some kind of public aid and the total resident relief load consisted of 225,529 cases. The ten counties with the best records were Hartley, Winkler, Upton, Reagan, Crockett, Kenedy, Kleberg, Lavaca, Fayette, Smith.

For the first time in many months, NO county reported as many as 40 per cent of its residents on relief, the highest being 38 per cent. Only six counties reported more than 30 per cent of their people receiving aid during the month. These were Wheeler, Hockley, Yoakum, Presidio, Camp and Orange counties.

In the metropolitan areas, Bexar and Tarrant counties carried the heaviest loads, falling in the classification of counties having between 22 and 30 per cent of their residents on the rolls.

Crockett County's relief load was only 3.8 per cent of its population.

Ozona—And Not The 'Biggest Little Town' Is Santone Watchman

This Fellow's Fortune Might Lie Here—At Least His Name Would Be Remembered

The people of Ozona think that the name of their town is unique—and it is. No one has ever discovered another town with just such a name (to the knowledge of the citizens here).

That a person might carry such an appellation, had never entered the minds of Ozona people until some of them read a San Antonio paper Tuesday.

After a purse-snatching incident in the Alamo City Sunday, a youth was arrested and placed in custody, charged with the theft. And the nightwatchman who caught the lad was named, "Mr. A. Ozona."

Blasting Hurls Rock That Lands On Dinner Table

Kyle Family Narrowly Escapes Injury In Draw Clearing

What might have ended tragically, resulted only in frightening several people Tuesday at noon when blasting of the slab in Johnson Draw was in progress.

The Kyle family, residing about fifty yards from the scene of blasting, were seated at the table for the noon lunch when the series of dynamite blasts attracted their attention. Shortly after the family was attracted from the table by the blasting, a small piece of the dynamited slab smashed through a window of the house and caused the occupants to retreat to another room. Then a heavy piece of the flying debris came through the screen door and struck square in the middle of the table where the family had been eating a few minutes before. None of the family was injured by the flying parts of concrete which tore through the house.

Dishes and food on the table when the missile landed were scrambled, glasses, plates and bowls being broken in the shake-up. Mrs. Kyle had been seated at the table with her back to the door, directly in the path of the hurtling stone, and would likely have been seriously injured had not she and her two sons, Walter and Arthur, decided to leave the table when the blasting started.

Some of the blasted concrete flew through the air as far away as the Ozona Laundry building, a block away.

Miss Louise Zanor has returned from a trip to Santa Anna.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Oberkampff were business visitors in Kerrville recently.

Excerpts From Early Ozona Papers, Taken From Dallas File, Most Complete Known, Furnished Thru Courtesy Of File Owner

John M. Hefner of Dallas Compiles Interesting Bits of Early-Day Happenings

An interesting feature, items collected from early-day newspapers published in Ozona, recalling to old timers the events that helped to shape the destiny of the vast empire that is Crockett County in those stirring days, will be found on page three of this issue of the Stockman.

The Stockman is indebted for this bit of interesting recollection of bygone days to Mr. John M. Hefner of Dallas, successor to the Powell Land Company, and administrator of the Powell Estate. E. M. Powell was a pioneer land owner in Crockett County and donated the townsite on which the town of Ozona is located. The athletic field was set aside and deeded to the county for that purpose by Mr. Powell and the town's main street is named for him.

Mr. Hefner has been a subscriber to every Ozona paper published, and is reputed to have the most complete file in existence of papers published here. The paper now has complete files only for the past nine years, the term of the present management's regime, other files having been partly destroyed or never kept.

Mr. Hefner has promised to select excerpts from early Ozona papers to be mailed to The Stockman at intervals for use as a regular feature. The Stockman is gratefully to Mr. Hefner for this courtesy and know that our readers, young and old alike, will thoroughly enjoy these excerpts.

W. R. Baggett was elected Worshipful Master of the Ozona Masonic Lodge at a meeting of members of the order in the lodge rooms here Saturday night. Other officers of the body elected to serve for the coming year were Rob Miller, senior warden; Ira Carson, junior warden; Tom Gilbert, tyler; Scott Peters, treasurer, and Lowell Littleton, secretary.

The new officers will be inducted into their posts at installation ceremonies to be held June 24, the last day of the present lodge year. Ray Piner is Master of the lodge now.

Concrete Slab Is Blasted Out Of Johnson Draw

Obstruction To Flood Waters Removed By County Workers

The concrete slab which crossed Johnson Draw at the middle crossing, was blasted away by shots of dynamite by county workers Tuesday.

Such a move had been discussed at the last session of the Commissioners Court here last week and the project was accomplished Tuesday by several dynamite shots. Removal of the concrete wall, which had formed a foot-bridge until a sector broke away at the west end, will allow water to move down the draw more quickly after heavy rains and eliminate spreading of water at this point.

Giants Drop Two For First Half Schedule Finale

Locals Have Protested Game Play-Off At Iraan Sunday

An exhibition game has been matched for the Giants with the Iraan club on the Powell athletic field diamond for Saturday afternoon starting at 4 o'clock. The two teams meet again the following day, Sunday, in the play-off of the protested first-half league game of three weeks ago.

Save for one protested game to be played off at Iraan next Sunday afternoon, the Ozona Giants polished off the first half season in the Permian Basin league with undisputed possession of the cellar position, with a double-barreled loss to Crane Sunday afternoon.

The first game went to Crane with a score of 12 to 3, the locals bungling for six errors, four in the outfield and two in the infield. The second game, a scheduled seven-inning affair, went eight with the count knotted four all at the conclusion of the seventh. Ozona failed to count in the first half of the eighth, but Crane pushed one over for a win in their half of that frame, after two were out.

The jinx follows the Giants into any class of competition, the Station A crew of the Concho Basin League knocking a short-handed local club over by a 5 to 3 count here Tuesday afternoon. The game was a practice work-out for the locals as they try to whip into shape for the opening of the second half competition in July.

OZONA PLANS 3-DAY FETE JULY 3-4-5

Baseball, Dances, Carnival on Bill of Fare for Event

BARBECUE ON 4TH

Group Of Citizens Arrange Celebration Program

Although officials of the Crockett County Fair Association saw fit to abandon the annual Ozona show in 1935, a group of citizens, headed by Joe Oberkampff, has completed arrangements for a three-day entertainment program here which will include a free barbecue on the day of the Fourth a baseball game each afternoon of the third, fourth and fifth, a dance on the fairgrounds platform each of the three nights and high class carnival attractions on the grounds each night.

The free barbecue dinner the day of the Fourth was made possible through subscriptions of meat and money, given by business men and ranchers.

Music for the three nights dances will be furnished by a twelve-piece orchestra from Wichita Falls. The orchestra is equipped with a public address system for broadcasting the music and songs during the dances.

The carnival company that had been engaged for the annual Rodeo, Race Meet, Stock Show and Sale when that event was called off, will pitch tents here during the week for the curtailed program. The company is said to be one of the largest touring the South.

Ozona's Permian League baseball entry, the Ozona Giants, will engage teams either from other towns in the Permian League or organizations from more distant points for the three-game series during the mid-summer celebration program.

Hardin-Simmons Graduate Named Principal Here

Gerald E. Williams Succeeds Collins As Elementary Head

Appointment of Gerald E. Williams of Abilene, graduate of Hardin-Simmons University of that city, as principal of the elementary school of Ozona is announced by Supt. C. S. Denham in a letter to The Stockman this week from Henderson, Texas, where the superintendent and Mrs. Denham are visiting this summer.

Mr. Williams succeeds M. M. Collins, who resigned the position here to accept the post of superintendent of the Hawley schools. He will teach arithmetic and Texas history and act as coach of junior athletics.

The new grade school principal has a B. A. degree from Hardin-Simmons and did graduate work in the University of Texas during the summer sessions of 1934 and 1935. During the past two years he held the position of teacher in the Central Ward school at Abilene, and was coach of junior athletics. His junior team won the city championship in football last year.

MINISTER AND FAMILY LEAVE FOR SUMMER STAY

L. N. Moody and family left here Sunday at noon for Portia, Arkansas, where Mrs. Moody and their two children will spend the summer months with her parents. The Ozona minister will conduct meetings in Arkansas, Missouri, Tennessee and Texas before the Ozonans will return here late in August.

THURSDAY, JUNE 20, 1935.

MOSQUITO CONTROL

Recent heavy rains in Ozona have presented a problem that is not altogether new to the city, but one that has not presented itself in the last three or four years— that of controlling mosquitoes.

Water standing in pools in the draws and in low places about the city, in tin cans in back yards and in various forgotten vessels on every premise furnish the setting for a quick scourge of mosquitoes. The dangerous little pests have already begun to put in an appearance in some numbers.

Residents should see that all tin cans are drained and water holes in the neighborhood should be oiled, thus killing the larvae. Another factor in mosquito control that is often overlooked is that of weeds. Mosquitoes do not breed in weeds, as many think, but tall, rank weeds often harbor the insects during the hot part of the day, giving them shelter when otherwise they might expire or be blown away during the daylight hours. Such shelter keeps them in the vicinity of your home, ready to feed on members of the family at night. Cut the weeds.

PUBLICATION FINANCIAL STATEMENT

As a friendly suggestion, we would like to bring to the attention of the mayor, the county judge and the administrative heads of all subdivisions of the city and county government that sufficient time be taken during the current season to work up for publication financial statements covering receipts and disbursements during the past year. As a matter of fact it should be compulsory that such statements be given the public periodically. To be frank about it, taxpayers and the public in general are entitled to such information.

It is not a question of there being any fear of irregularities. The men we have at the head of the city, the county and district governments are all gentlemen of honor and integrity and the people have confidence in them. More over, those who have been assigned the detail of making collections and disbursing of the various funds are likewise held in the highest esteem. But that does not alter the fact that the financial statements need to be given out. In many sections of the country a move has been under way for two or three years seeking to have the statements published by every division that collects tax money.

The information that has been given this newspaper indicates that the city is in excellent condition, financially, at this time.

We have been informed that the city water department is now free of debt, at least as far as current accounts and warrants are concerned. Of course, there are outstanding bonds that are being retired by the taxpayers and will be retired in due time over a period of years. However, this one department of the city has made lots of progress, yet there is enough human interest in all of us to read official reports on what is being done by this great department of the city government. It is also reported that all divisions of the city government are in just as good condition.

Several years ago, or since the city was incorporated fifty years ago, Stephenville established a record for paying its debts that has been outstanding. There have been no defaults on either principal or interest payments, and most of the time it has been possible for every obligation to be taken care of promptly as it was presented. It is true, as is the case with most all other small cities in the country, that there are not so many items for the city to pay for, but during the course of twelve months more than $30,000 for the operation of the business of this municipality. The fire department, which has no more than two paid employees, and the office of the city secretary where three are engaged, are the principle items in the way of salaries. One of the employees in the office of the city secretary is in charge of the park department and perhaps this salary could not be charged directly to the secretary's expense.

Salaries of the mayor and members of the city council are nominal and amount to virtually nothing. The water department takes care of its salaries and expenses out of receipts, and not from tax money. These are mentioned merely to show some of the cash outlays the city is called on to make for its operation. But coming back to the original point, a financial statement could be made up to show the detail of every item of expense, etc. If our memory serves us correctly there has been no financial statement published by the city within the past year. Therefore, while there is a lull in the business office of the city government it seems a fine time to give out an official statement.

The same thing applies to the county. Being a larger organization and collecting much more tax money than the city, the county business concerns almost every person in the county. The county treasurer makes up a quarterly statement and presents it to the members of the commissioners court for approval, while the county clerk makes an annual statement. Added to these the four commissioners have transactions that the people would like to know about. The county has not published a statement of its financial affairs in several years and certainly those who are paying the bill would appreciate this information.

None of the records of the city or county governments are secret. They are open for inspection at any time, and ordinarily the officials in charge of these records are always glad to aid those who desire to see them. The average citizen, however, sometimes finds it embarrassing to go in and inquire about this or that. He would much prefer to have the facts before him in printed form so he can take plenty of time to read them.

What goes for the city and county also goes for the school districts. Every agency collecting taxes should publish statements at least annually showing what has been paid in and what has been paid out. It would go far in satisfying disgruntled taxpayers if there are any. It seems to us that it should be the desire of these officials to render this service—a service that would be welcomed by all the people. And this is not a solicitation for advertising revenue. It is a matter that has been brought to the attention of this department by hundreds of people in all parts of the county. They want it and should have it.—Stephenville Empire-Tribune

INVISIBLE PANTIES O.K. NOW

(By International News Service)

CHICAGO, June 18—The world can now have its invisible panties, thanks to the decision of the Supreme Court on the constitutionality of the NRA.

The decision came just in time for the Invisible Corporation, which was engaged in a bitter controversy with code authorities over the question of demonstrating invisible panties.

"It saved our life," declared Mrs. R. S. McCracken today. "Now we can demonstrate our product."

"The NRA told us we couldn't have demonstrators because if the panties were invisible, the customers would not be able to see them and our advertising was misleading."—(From Boston Evening American).

New Car Sales Up In Texas For First 5 Months Of 1935

AUSTIN, June 19—New passenger car registrations in fifteen representative Texas counties for the first five months of 1935 were well above those of the corresponding period a year ago, according to the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research. Total sales during the months of May were 5,275 cars, a decline of 5 per cent from the previous month and 1.9 per cent from May, 1934. Aggregate sales for the first five months of the year were 27,066 cars, an increase of 22.8 per cent over the corresponding period last year.

Your Selling Message

Reaches Hundreds of Prospects Simultaneously In Newspaper Advertising

If you depended on person-to-person contacts to get over your sales message, your stock would be moulded before you could get around to telling every prospective buyer in the community about what you have to sell.

If you employed a house-to-house canvasser to tell the people about your wares, it would take weeks of long-hour labor for him to make one round—and the cost would be prohibitive. By that method, each prospect interviewed would cost the merchant several dollars.

For only the minutest fraction of a cent per prospect, you can lay your selling message before the eyes of every prospective customer in the community—attractively displayed—a printed message that is welcomed into every home—with an advertisement in your home-town newspaper. Newspaper advertising is the cheapest and most effective selling method yet devised—reaching the greatest number of prospects at the lowest rate per contact.

To make your advertising more attractive and thus more effective, this newspaper offers you FREE illustrations for any type of business, cut and copy service that is effective. Its staff, schooled in the art of selling by the printed word, will gladly assist you in working out your advertising plans.

In Retrospect

Looking Backward through Files of Ozona Papers

Cleanings from Pioneer Publications furnished by JOHN M. HEFNER of Dallas from files of Powell Land Co.—the most complete file of Ozona Papers in existence

Taken from Editorial Columns of OZONA ENTERPRISE of April 26, 1906; Archie Cochran, Proprietor, C. B. Bacon, Editor.

"GOOD-BYE"

"With this issue all my active interest in the ENTERPRISE ceases, having leased the entire plant for a term of five years to Mr. C. B. Bacon, who has been in editorial charge of the paper for the past seven months.

I realize, before it is too late, that I am not adapted to the newspaper business and I am taking the first opportunity to let go without serious injury to myself or the people who have been so generous with their support in the short time that it took me to learn some of the intricate details of a printing office, or why a newspaper cannot be made to pay unless one has practical knowledge of the business.

The little experience that I gathered has cost a pretty penny, nevertheless it has been money well spent and I am all the wiser for some of the hard knocks, that I am advised is part of a newspaper man's life. This experience has also taught me that newspaper men are not made in a day—that every man has his talent—mine is not to successfully conduct a newspaper, and while I feel deep concern because of a severance of the business ties that have been so very pleasant to me, I feel that under the new management all of my mistakes will be forgotten and forgiven and you will rally to the support of Mr. Bacon and help him keep Ozona before the people as the best town in West Texas.

It is not necessary for me to speak in praise of Mr. Bacon or to commend him to the patrons of the ENTERPRISE, as a writer or printer, he has made the paper what it is today and I cheerfully turn its destiny over to his keeping, believing it will grow better and better with each issue.

Thanking you sincerely for the many favors so graciously given to me and the many compliments for my efforts to make the ENTERPRISE a reflex of the progressiveness of Ozona." Archie Cochran.

"Referring to the above, I beg to say there will be no change in the policy of the ENTERPRISE; as in the past, it will always uphold the right and protect the weak; use every honorable means in advocating the moral side of every question and will champion every cause for the upbuilding and development of Ozona and Crockett County, and if it cannot say a good word about anyone, it certainly will not speak ill of them." C. B. Bacon.

"The dry towns neighboring to Ozona are always talking about irrigation. This summer, after the ice factory is in running order, there will be plenty of irrigating in Ozona."

"The directors of the Ozona Improvement Company met in the Court House last Monday night and a committee composed of Messrs. L. B. Cox, P. L. Childress and J. C. Midkiff was appointed to prepare a scale of prices for electric lights."

"The sale of all the ranch property owned by Mr. Theodore Bjorkman to Mr. J. M. Shannon, was consummated the later part of last week and possession is to be given the 10th of May. In the deal Mr. Bjorkman sold 1100 head of 3-year-old steers at $20. per head; 2000 head of stock cattle, calves not counted, at $12. per head; 40 head of horses at $25. per head, and all the ranch improvements, the transfer amounting to about $100,000., being the largest sale made in Crockett County for several years."

"Mr. F. M. Joslin, who is the agriculturist on the Broome ranch was in town Saturday and tells the ENTERPRISE that prospects could not be better for an immense yield of feedstuffs which he is cultivating this season. The cool weather he said is not materially affecting his crop, but when the warm sunshiny days come he expects to see all vegetation make up for the slight setback."

Taken from other columns of the same paper

"Messrs. Paul and Ross Perner and Ray Clayton returned last Saturday from Midland, where they had gone with the Pleas Childress herd of steers. The boys had been "out" about two weeks, saying they slept in water, rode in water and water was everywhere. The atmosphere was full of water, and their grub was watered from rains which fell all the time they were on the drive. Ross brought home with him a full crop of face down, which he regretted sacrificing; Paul says he recovered his appetite, and Ray tells marvelous stories of cowboy life in a cowboy camp."

"Mr. Albert Kincaid was in town the latter part of last week and told of a "twister" that visited his sheep camp last Thursday and some of the "didoes" it created. Albert says the twister came with a roar and backed his hack about twenty feet, turning it over and damaging the top considerably. The cook was preparing supper and the wind picked up the coffee pot and set it down on the opposite side of the fire and also picked up a tin bucket filled with water and dropped it twenty feet away without spilling a drop. Albert vouches for the authenticity of the above and he is too big a man for the Enterprise to question any of the statements."

"The working crew on the buildings for the ice factory and electric light plant are rapidly pushing the structure to an early completion and the crew excavating for the poles and placing them in position will soon be ready for the stringing of the wires."

"Mr. Jones Miller last Saturday bought a jack from Messrs. J. W. Friend & Sons for which he paid $250."

"Mr. S. E. Couch recently purchased from Mr. J. B. Harrell a thoroughbred fancy driving yearling stallion, for which he paid $50."

"A bevy of charming young ladies and gallant young men enjoyed an early morning horseback ride last Sunday over flower burdened prairies, coming in in time for dinner with luscious appetites."

"Mr. E. B. Baggett and daughter, Miss Rebe, were in the city last Tuesday."

"Mr. and Mrs. W. E. West were here from Juno yesterday and the day before on a shopping trip."

"Messdames A. C. Hoover and Andy Nelson of Live Oak were here this week visiting kinfolks."

"Mr. Pleas Childress returned last Saturday from Midland and other upper West Texas points."

Really Damp When Fence Posts Sprout

CLARKSVILLE, June 18—Though a continual downpour of rain the past several days has dampened the ardor, as well as the fields, of even the most optimistic farmers in Red River County, a bumper crop seems to be in store this year.

At least, when fence posts take root and grow, conditions ought to be favorable for any sort of crop. And that is just what happened on a farm operated by Porter Baird. Early in February, he started building a fence but before he was through, his supply of posts was exhausted, so he heaved out some from a post oak sapling.

The make-shift posts served their purpose, but this spring they began to put out buds then twigs and last leaves. Being enough of a farmer to realize something was amiss, Baird began an investigation and found that numerous tiny roots had formed underground.

Nearly everybody knows that innumerable plants grow from cuttings, but only with very abnormal moisture will plants of the hard wood variety subsist, Baird points out. However, he wants it understood that he is not seeking admittance to any Ananias Club, but has a tangible proof of his story.

Typhus Fever Is Transmitted To Man By Rat

AUSTIN, June 19—Wars have been lost by generals and won by epidemics of rat-borne diseases, according to Dr. Hans Zinzer in his recent book—Rats, Lice, and History. Texas has more of the disease than Dr. Zinzer has written about, typhus fever, than any other state, according to Dr. John W. Brown, State Health Officer.

There are two types of typhus fever—the epidemic or Old World type, and the endemic or New World type, known as Brill's Disease. In the former the death rate is very high and in the latter, commonly found in Texas, it is very low. The most cases appear during the hot months. The rat and mouse are the reservoirs of this disease and it is spread to man by fleas, lice, or ticks that have fed on an infected rat. The cycle being rat-flea-man.

The symptoms of typhus fever are very similar to those of typhoid fever, except the course of typhus is generally two weeks. The onset of the disease is usually sudden with chills, fever, headache, and general body pains. Nausea may be present. The fever rises rapidly to a maximum of 105 degrees. There is also a reddish mottling of the skin and a hacking cough is generally present.

Typhus fever could be prevented by the eradication of rats and mice. This would not only result in the prevention of much suffering but would be of great economic value as it is estimated that the damage by rodents amounts to about twelve million dollars annually in Texas.

NOBODY'S BUSINESS
BY JERMAN GARDNER JR.

AUSTIN, June 18—No political tempest, but only a gentle zephyr blew across the Panhandle-plains region, when the young Democrats held their annual convention and the New Deal came in for some controversial discussion, in connection with the NRA decision and other things. The meeting was highly publicized in advance. Gov. Allred took the center of the stage with a heated defense of state's rights. Elliot Roosevelt, son of the president, and by marriage of Fort Worth, defended the New Deal and the president with all the boyish loyalty of a devoted youngster who thinks he is helping his dad.

There was really no issue between the governor and the youth. Gov. Allred, as a good lawyer and a capable politician, believes in the Constitution. Elliott Roosevelt, as a loyal American citizen and the son of a great president, does likewise. The only divergence anywhere from this view, except from a handful of irresponsible radicals who are without influence, has been in the supreme court's interpretation of the revered document. The nine fragile old gentlemen, who with their predecessors have been satisfying the American people pretty regularly for 150 years with the character of their work, will doubtless continue to be entrusted with the job.

A very mysterious business has been the conduct of the investigation of the East Texas oil fields by the special house committee, headed by Rep. Augustin Celeya, of Brownsville, the past week. The committee assembled at Longview held many conferences behind

"Corkscrew" Airplane Built in South Dakota

This corkscrew-shaped airplane-Zeppelin, called the Aerozep, is scheduled to make its test flights this summer at Rapid City and its inventors, Rev. C. H. Locke and Lorrin Hansen, expect it to show a speed of 300 miles an hour. An all-metal dirigible, with vanes running around it, the contrivance revolves in a steel frame 1,000 times a minute. It has wings like an airplane and a large rudder.

closed doors with prospective witnesses, held a few mysterious executive sessions, and daily issued long statements to the newspapers. The gist of all these statements was that "a very serious situation apparently exists and the committee cannot do very much about it with only the $1000 fund granted by the legislature for this investigation." Board hints have been cast adrift that a much larger appropriation should be granted the probers. There have also been suggestions that the committee might utilize privately donated funds to extend its activities. Nobody knows exactly who might be interested enough in keeping alive a house committee probe to put up money for it. No member of this committee, with the possible exception of Sidney Latham of Longview, has evidenced in Austin signs of an expert knowledge of the oil business. Chances are when the $1000 is gone, no more will be heard of the oil investigation.

Cullen F. Thomas, president of the now defunct Texas Centennial commission, did some political hessing on his own behalf, according to confidential reports here, on his recent trip to Washington, in support of the federal appropriation for the Centennial. Now it is reported that Thomas, the "forgotten man" when the new commission of control was appointed, has succeeded in lining up influence in the national capital which make him a very likely candidate for the job of Federal Centennial commissioner, at $12,000 a year. Thomas is said to have the support of his brother-in-law, Senator Morris Sheppard, for the post.

Attorney General Bill McCraw anxious to put some actual cash in the state treasury under the newly-enacted hot oil seizure law, moved a bit too hastily in approving acceptance of a bid of 40 cents a barrel for the first seizure at Waco. He drew fire from Col. E. O. Thompson of the railroad commission, and others interested in maintaining $1 a barrel for East Texas crude. McCraw has announced process will be slower in future, and all bidders will be given an ample opportunity to get in their offers before a sale is made. The constitutionality of the new state seizure law will be tested soon before a three-judge federal court in Tyler, three test cases having been filed by oil operators who object to such drastic measures to suppress movement of illegal oil.

Private advices here indicate that war chest fillers of both wet and dry factions in the forthcoming August submission, are finding their task much more difficult than they anticipated. The dries raised $2500 in a burst of enthusiasm at their Dallas organization meeting, and promised early starting in the campaign. They have raised very little additional since, it is reported here. Wet fundraisers, too, are having their difficulties. The folks seem to have pronounced opinions, some for, some against, repeal of the constitutional amendment. They're willing to vote their convictions—but they've been slow to see why they should pay professional crusaders on either side for the privilege. Outside aid, on which wets were counting, has been slow to come thru, with distillers selling all the liquor they can manufacture in territory already open to them. It has slowed up the Texas campaign considerably.

Considerable pressure is being brought to bear on the state highway department to widen and repave the 145-mile stretch of road between San Antonio and Laredo. Traffic on this thoroughfare has increased several hundred per cent during the past few years, as the National highway from the border to Mexico City has pushed its way to the Mexican capital. When the road is finally opened this summer all the way thru to Mexico City, it probably will develop quickly into one of the heaviest carriers of both tourist and commercial traffic in the south. Improvement of the road to the border, say those interested in nurturing this tourist volume, is imperative soon.

A Scotchman who was going to take a trip from Boston to New York by train was told to throw a penny out of the window for good luck.

When he returned to Boston he was asked if he had good luck by throwing the penny out of the window.

The Scotchman answered: "I had good luck the first three times but the fourth time I had bad luck."

"How did you have bad luck the fourth time?" he was asked.

"The string broke and I lost the penny," he replied.

Say "I saw it in the Stockman."

A TRUE STORY

The brain truster that formulated the questions asked at a farm credit administration test of applicants for jobs must feel abashed.

The test contains two catch questions to which applicants are supposed to answer no.

The questions are: "How long is a piece of string?" and "How far can a dog run into the woods?"

An Iowa university student answered the unanswerable questions Tuesday. He said: "A piece of string is twice as long as the distance from the center to either end." "A dog can run only half-way into the woods; after that he's running out of the woods." He got the job.

LET GEORGE DO IT

She came to her husband in tears and managed to say, "Y-your m-mother in-insulted me."

After calming her, he exclaimed "How could she? She's in Chicago!"

"Well, she is, but today a letter came to you in her handwriting, so I opened it and—"

"Yes," sternly.

"And she wrote this at the bottom, 'Dear Mary, be sure to show this to George.'"

Angelo Herders Seek Berth In Permian League

"1935 Edition" Wants Competition In Second Half

New troubles rise over the horizon for the Permian Basin league entrants with a "1935 edition" of the San Angelo Sheep Herders" ready to take the field in the second half of the league split season schedule starting in July, according to an article by Blondy Cross in yesterday's San Angelo paper. The San Angelo entry, if it materializes, will complete the circuit for a full sched- ule during the next two months, with no off-Sundays.

The new Herder set-up is de- scribed in the following article on Blondy's page:

"The San Angelo baseball asso- ciation in heavy sessions the last several days organized a 1935 edi- tion of the San Angelo Sheep Herders and worked out a plan for competition in the second half schedule of the Permian Basin league now composed of Texon, Ozona, Crane, Iraan and McCamey. "By taking in the San Angelo team the league will be assured of continuous baseball with no off-Sundays.

"The San Angelo business man- agement is composed of the old officers, Joe Sanger, president; Allen Ingram, vice president and secretary-treasurer, and the sports editor of this newspaper as he board of directors.

"Herman Peters, Sheep Herder manager the latter part of last season, returns to the helm again this year. Oscar Peeples, veteran Herder twirler, is assistant man- ager.

"A potentially strong club has been aligned.

"The pitching staff is composed of Peeples, Buzz Wetzel (with San Antonio for a time this summer) and Herman (Lefty) Sparks of Del Rio, and a former Pacific coast hurler.

"The catching staff is composed of Buck Bailey, the noted govern- or of Schleicher County; Joe Gonzales of Del Rio, and Jack Doran of San Angelo.

"Peters has been doing most of the mobilizing. On the infield the manager himself goes to first base with Dawes of Del Rio at short- stop and Ryan of Del Rio at sec- ond base. Peters has picked up three young infielders, Herb Jones, Max Welch and Troy Mc- Kinney to fill out the inner works.

"Bear Barnhart of Del Rio and J. D. White, the latter recently released from an East Texas league club, have been aligned for outfield chores.

"Sparks and Gonzales besides being a pitcher and a catcher are swell outfielders.

The second half of the Permian Basin league race runs through July and August."

Mother Hoover—

the passing of the last half century with more happiness of life, working harder, living fuller and lending more joy to those about them, than Mother Hoover. Although most of her years have been spent on the ranch near the Pecos, where she raised nine children, Mother Hoover now resides all of the time at her home in town with her flowers. Abundant rains have made her flowers, vines and shrubbery to grow into a huge flower garden all about the house and she plans to spend the summer months enjoying the fruits of her happy labors.

Hollyhock, rose, chrysanthemum, cactus, vine and shrubbery mingle in the yard of the first Ozonan and florist. Elm and pecan trees planted sixteen years ago now throw protecting shadows over the yards and complete the picture of a "home beautiful." A wild grape vine brought here by Mother Hoover from Comanche has enveloped one of the water storage pools near the house and bears an annual supply of wild fruitage.

The house, of vari-colored stucco, fits into the floral scene. Adjoined to one of the fore rooms, the flower or greenhouse, is the pride of the Ozona florist. In here she has collected and cultivated innumerable kinds of cactus, fern and flower. She has a glass pool of assorted, diminutive fish.

An Old West Welcome
For the summer months, the florist has placed flower pot growths outside and the inside garden is now composed chiefly of cactus and ferns. In one corner a tall California cactus extends several feet and almost approaches the ceiling, presenting a strange effect among odd-wise and peculiar shaped smaller growths. Unusual too, are the five pointed cactus which sprout in forked fashion. The garden is crowded with numerous ferns and various other sorts of greenery.

Mother Hoover is proud of one of her birthday gifts, and it is an unusual gift. It is a little home in miniature, made from cloth, and forms the door stop. You can not but notice it as you leave—it looks as friendly and inviting as the real home you have entered and are leaving.

Full Time Employees May Not Get Relief To Augment Salary

AUSTIN, June 19—Full-time employees may not receive assistance from county relief offices, regardless of the fact that in some instances the wage earned may be insufficient to provide subsistence requirements for the worker and his family, it has been announced by Mrs. Val M. Keating, director of the social service division of the Texas Relief Commission.

Case supervisors throughout the state were notified that it is contrary to the policy of the Federal Emergency Relief Administration to supplement the wages of full-time employees with relief funds. Case workers were instructed to examine their rolls and drop cases wherein the breadwinner is employed on a full-time basis.

"This regulation was not adopted to penalize the worker but to encourage employers to pay a living wage," declared Mrs. Keating. "We know of too many instances in which the employer will not pay subsistence wages. He expects the Relief Commission to supply the added needs. It amounts to a situation whereby the Relief Commission pays a part of the employee's salary. We feel that if the employer can not pay subsistence wages for a full-time job, it should best be declared no job at all. The funds we spend are to be used to grant relief to economically distressed persons. We have no money for subsidies to employers."

Religious War Waxes Warm On Softball Field

Methodists One Up In Standing With Seven Games Played

In three innings of a lively nine inning softball affair Monday afternoon, the Methodist aggregation was able to garner enough tallies to shade their rivals, the Baptists. Counting all innings, the score rolled to a finish with the Methodists' final spree in the ninth and totaled 27 for the Methodists and 20 for the Baptists. The two teams were tied up at 20 tallies each at the outset of the ninth and in this frame the Methodists forged ahead with seven runs while the Baptists took none in their finale at bat.

The seventh game of the year since softball was inaugurated here, it left the Monday victors with four games to their credit. Last Thursday's affair, won also by the Methodists, had left the rivals tied with three each.

Losing the game in the last go-round, the Baptists previously had made a pretentious bid for lopping off the struggle in their favor by tallying five times in the eighth while their opponents took but two. Cates gathered six hits for the losers, while Dunlap and Wyatt each slated five a piece. In all, the Baptists outdid their opponents at the bat, slapping out 36 safe ones. The Methodists poked out safely 34. Errors cost the losers the game.

Last Thursday afternoon the Methodists evened the score with their rivals when they snatched the sixth game of this year to the tune of 14 to 10, leaving the standing of games won at that time at three all. The Thursday affair revealed a slump at batting on both sides but there were excellent bits of fielding.

Employables On Relief Roll To Get Work Relief

N.R.S. Enrolls Workers In Preparation For Work Program

E. A. Elliott, district supervisor for the National Re-Employment Service, was here this week to start the enrollment of employables on Crockett County relief rolls in readiness for the new federal works program expected to start soon.

Only employables relief clients are being enrolled on the N.R.S. rolls at present, it was indicated, the new work relief program requiring that at least 90 per cent of employes be taken from relief rolls.

One of the first local projects under the work relief program will probably be the sewer extension work. Another project which is possible of early completion will be that of marking streets of Ozona on the curbing all over the city.

Employment on the work relief projects will be on a monthly salary basis rather than an hourly wage, the wage scale being $21 a
