Stockman To Present Outstanding Economist In Seventh Annual 2-Day Free Cooking School March 24 and 25

Mrs. Cora Wilson Is Secured For Culinary Demonstrations

Arrangements have been completed for the Ozona Stockman's seventh annual free cooking school, a community service event of this newspaper which has gained in popularity each year of its Spring presentation.

Monday and Tuesday, March 24 and 25, are the dates that have been set for this two days of profitable entertainment for the women of Ozona and surrounding territory, and this newspaper and food distributors, manufacturers and other business firms cooperating with it in bringing this annual feature invite all women of this section to set aside the afternoons of these two days to take advantage of this outstanding home event of the year.

Mrs. Cora Wilson, noted Southern home economist, who is making her first appearance in Ozona, has been secured as lecturer and demonstrator. From information available concerning Mrs. Wilson's training and experience, the Stockman is confident in presenting her as one of the most outstanding experts in the homemaking field ever brought to this section.

In this parade of the preparation of foods, women will be able to gain full mastery of the art needed in the kitchen today. Based on economy and utility, Mrs. Wilson will divulge secrets gained over years of study in this particular phase of the arts. The saving the housewife will be able to accomplish by attending the school, with its new streamlined scientific ideas, will pay big dividends on the time spent there. How to use leftovers, how to purchase in a scientific manner, how to get the most out of a minimum of food; these are but a few of the features that will unfold from the completely equipped stage of the Happy Kitchen Cooking School.

In the entertaining presentation of these informative lectures, many tips will be passed on to women who wish to lighten their everyday tasks. Labor saving devices, efficient equipment, and new tricks in preparation, will be given in their full array of helpful characteristics.

Plan now to attend every session of the Happy Kitchen Cooking School which will be presented as a public service feature of the Stockman.

Radio Hook-Up Takes Revival To Sick Bed

A two-way amplifying circuit has been set up so that the revival services at the Baptist church might be taken to the bedside of Mrs. Adelia Whitehead, daughter of Sheriff and Mrs. W. S. Willis, who is ill at the Willis home.

The circuit is so set up that the patient can make herself heard in the services if she chooses. Preaching during the revival which closes next Sunday is the Rev. John T. Kee, pastor of the Baptist Church at Odessa. Song services are under the leadership of Joe Trussell of Brownwood, noted gospel singer.

Fifteen Planes In Dawn Flight To Ozona Sunday

Visitors From 5 West Texas Towns Inspect New Airport

Fifteen planes swarmed over Ozona Sunday morning bringing a total of 32 visitors from five West Texas towns on a dawn flight for a get-together of plane owners and pilots and to inspect Ozona's new airport west of the city.

The incoming planes, which began arriving about 8:30 Sunday morning, and had almost filled the landing field a few minutes later, were met by E. R. Kinser, local county commissioner and flight enthusiast, who with Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Coke had prepared a Western style breakfast of ham and eggs cooked in the open.

After breakfast the visitors talked "shop" of the flyers, inspected the various planes on display, and short flights over the city and surrounding area continued until afternoon.

San Angelo sent the largest contingent to the local gathering. Ten planes were here from that city. Making up the list of pilots and passengers from San Angelo were Gay Copeland, R. C. McKissack, Ernest Ruffini, Bill Wakefield, Dr. Otis L. Parris, Dr. Capshaw, Collier Noguess, Eddie Williamson, R. L. Hearrell, Tom White, Morris Brooks, Frank Jones, Mrs. Ruffini, Mrs. McKissack, Mrs. Jones, H. R. Calhoun, Oscar Appelt, Jr., Miss Joyce Therwanger, H. N. Therwanger, Buddy Hayden, Don Kennemer, G. Koonce, Beverly Sportsman and Bill Box.

Coming in one plane from Junction were W. G. Cavaness and Callan Graham. Another plane from Odessa brought T. L. Miller and son, and two planes were here from McCombs, one carrying W. C. Putman and a passenger, and the other Otho Edelman and W. W. Littlejohn.

Rankin Operator Drilled In 14th Noelke Producer

J. T. Holmes of Rankin last week drilled in the fourteenth producer, his first, in the Noelke field in western Crockett county. The well flowed heavily for one hour with tools in the hole, after which the tools were withdrawn and the well shut in for erection of two 1,000-barrel tanks.

Pay was topped at 1,146 feet and drilling stopped at 1,160. Seven-inch casing was cemented at 1,107 feet. Location is 2,310 from the north, 990 feet from the east line of section 30, GG, HE&WT Ry. Co. survey.

The Holmes well is the fourteenth in the field, thirteenth on land of W. T. Noelke and on sections that are mineral classified, the state owning one-sixteenth of all gross production. No pipeline outlet has yet been secured for the field, but the state, through Land Commissioner Bascom Giles, is seeking to promote a deal for a connection.

Fourteenth producer in the Noelke pool in western Crockett county, a well drilled by J. T. Holmes of Rankin last week came in a producer.

County Seeks To Buy Land Leased As Airport Site

Committee To Negotiate For Purchase From Mrs. Clara Couch

Negotiations toward purchase of the land on which the county-owned airport, now leased by the county from Mrs. Clara Couch of San Angelo are to be opened by a committee from the Commissioners Court.

A committee composed of Commissioners Charles Black and J. W. Owens was appointed by the court at its session Monday to negotiate for the purchase from Mrs. Couch of the 270-acre tract cleared for the airport after being leased by the court for that purpose.

The committee was given full authority to negotiate for the property but the court instructed the two to make a deal whereby a minimum amount of payment would be due for the next five years, calling attention to the present condition of the county's finances.

The land on which the airport is located, about six or seven miles west of Ozona on highway 27, is part of the Couch ranch, now leased for grazing purpose by Joe Davidson. The acreage leased for the airport was cleared and put in fine condition as a landing field, the port drawing enthusiastic compliments from the visiting air-men here last Sunday.

50,000 Pounds Mohair Sold At 51 And 66 Cents

Guy Burton Buyer At Cent Advance From Ozona Warehouse

Mohair made a one-cent advance on all fronts in Ozona yesterday when Guy Burton, buyer for Forte, Dupee, Sawyer Co., paid 51 cents for grown hair and 66 cents for kid hair from the Ozona Wool and Mohair Co.

Burton purchased approximately 50,000 pounds of hair at the local warehouse, his second purchase of around that amount since the spring shearing season opened.

The purchase lacked but a few clips of clearing the local warehouse of mohair received to date, Melvin Brown, manager said. However, more clips are coming in.

County To Install New Shades, Lights In Dist. Courtroom

New window shades and electric light fixtures are to be installed in the district courtroom in time for the opening of the April term of court. Orders for the new shades and fixtures were passed by the Commissioners Court in session early this week.

The new shades are to be furnished and installed by T. W. Parker of San Angelo. A total of 18 shades are to be installed. Joe Patriek is to install the light fixtures, four pendant type lamps with 300 watt globes.

COMMENCEMENT SPEAKER

Dr. D. M. Wiggins, above, president of the Texas College of Miles and Metallurgy at El Paso, has accepted the invitation of local school authorities to deliver the commencement address to members of the 1941 graduating class of Ozona High School. Dr. Wiggins received his A. B. degree from Hardin-Simmons in 1919, his A. M. from Yale in 1925 and a Ph.D. degree from the same institution in 1930. He was dean of students and professor of education at Hardin-Simmons from 1925 to 1935 when he was chosen president of the College of Mines.

Four More Recruits Called For Training In Next Three Weeks

Four more recruits for Uncle Sam's training army, one of them a replacement, will go out of Crockett county within the next three weeks, according to reports from the local Selective Service Board this week.

Two more calls have been received by the local board, one for two men on March 17, and another for one man on April 2. A replacement for one man turned back in the last contingent is scheduled to go today.

Slim Carven reported at Fort Bliss in El Paso last week and is now in training. Felipe Flores was rejected because of underweight. George Chipman, a volunteer, will make the replacement, and in line for induction in order are Lee Dudley, Lazario Basques, Francisco Mar and Blake Brown.

Boy Scout Finance Workers Meet With Splendid Success

Revision of figures on the indebtedness against the local Boy Scout cabin and a generous response on the part of Ozona citizens to the local committee's drive for funds to pay off the cabin indebtedness and to increase the community's contribution to the Concho Valley Council, put the committee's goal almost in sight at the end of the week.

A check-up, with not all solicitors accounted for, showed the workers had come within a little over $100 securing enough funds to wipe out the cabin indebtedness completely and to increase by nearly $100 a year, the community's contribution toward support of the Council. The drive is being continued and a final check-up within the next few days is expected to see the fund subscribed over the top.

Ozona Graduates Make Good Record In College Work

College records of graduates of Ozona High School for the first semester of the 1940-41 term show a high degree of success by graduates from the local school in pursuing higher education.

This was particularly true among the 13 freshmen students from Ozona High, this group turning in a total of 12 A's, 32 B's, 13 C's and only 6 D's and 4 F's. Among the sophomore, Junior and Senior students, there were 9 A's, 12 B's, 32 C's, 25 D's and 4 F's. There were 15 local students in the higher grades. Among the freshmen, the four F's were divided between two students, and in the higher classes, the four failures were divided among three students.

LAUNCH MOVE TO ORGANIZE ROTARY CLUB

Members Of San Angelo Club Meet With Local Group

MEET SAT. NIGHT

Organization To Be Perfected; Angeloans Return

As a result of the enthusiastic presentation of the principles and objectives of Rotary International made by a group of fifteen members of the San Angelo Rotary Club at a meeting here Tuesday evening with local business and professional men and ranchmen, organization of the Ozona unit of the service club is to be perfected at another meeting set for 7:30 Saturday evening at the Hotel Ozona.

This action, when completed at the Saturday night meeting, will unite Ozona with more than 4,700 cities all over the world where Rotary clubs have come to play a leading part in the progress and development of the community.

The San Angelo men and as many Ozonians enjoyed a steak supper at the Hotel Ozona after which the case of Rotary was presented in an enthusiastic and convincing manner by one after another of the visitors. At the conclusion of the meeting, the Ozona group held a brief caucus and decision was reached to make an attempt to perfect organization of a club here.

Committees from the nucleus attending the Tuesday night meeting will make an effort between now and the Saturday night meeting to contact as many prospective members as possible in order to start with a charter enrollment of between 25 and 30 men.

In the group of San Angeloans, who made a trip to Ballinger at noon Tuesday to present a program before the Ballinger club, and then came to Ozona Tuesday night, included Club President Hobart McDowell, Rev. K. P. Barton, Henry Batjer, Jim Clements, Clark Fisher, Henry Jackson, Dr. F. T. McIntire, H. C. Noelke, E. L. Nunnally, John Powell, Phil

Baptist Revival Attendance Best In Years, Report

Rev. Kee To Continue Thru Sat.; Singer Thru Sunday

Best attendance at a revival meeting in many years is the report of Rev. Clyde Childers, pastor, on the progress of the revival now in progress under the leadership of Rev. John T. Kee, Odessa, preacher and Joe Trussell, Brownwood, gospel singer.

"We are particularly gratified with the splendid attendance at both the morning and evening services," Rev. Childers said. "Good crowds are on hand for each service, interest seems to be growing and we are enjoying the finest spirit we have had at a revival in a number of years."

Rev. Kee will continue to preach at both the morning and evening services through Saturday evening, with the exception of Saturday morning when the service will be suspended. Mr. Trussell will continue through the Sunday morning services, the pastor announced.

As a special feature of the service tonight (Thursday), members of the high school band will present a 15 to 20-minute concert before the opening of the regular service. The program tonight begins at 7:15, while evening services on other days start at 7:30. Morning services are at 10:30.

Plateau Pot Pourri
By King Dude

And now I am doing a column again. But this time hundreds of miles away from the scene of my first effort. 'Twas back East in a small city on the famous Eastern Shore of Maryland that I first, unwarily and thoughtlessly, let myself in for many a headache by attempting a daily column. There's a semblance of truth in the old saying, "An apple a day will keep the doctor away." There's plenty of truth in the quip, "A column a day drives you nuts, hey, hey." But, notice, I've learned a lesson from the Book of Experience and so, as an aid to my equanimity, press time comes but once a week instead of every day. It is a satisfying and pleasing task, however, this juggling down of rambling thoughts. Let's call it "Pot Pourri," if you please. Webster defines that term, derived from the French, as follows: a literary production composed of parts brought together without order or bond of connection. To me, it means just a conglomeration of words, phrases and sentences expressing thoughts of various and sundry kinds. To the

HARD WAY BEST

Writing in Banking, Albert W. Atwood, the well known economist, offers the nation some worthwhile advice. "People are constantly asking how we can keep on borrowing money indefinitely, and no one has an answer. A more immediate and pressing problem is how the absolutely necessary borrowing which must be effected in the next few years, can be carried through safely.

"The whole fiscal problem not only must be worked out but can be worked out if resolute courage is devoted to the task.

"Even a substantial amount of financial suffering in the next few years would be better than catastrophe later on. Commenting on next year's colossal budget, Representative Wigglesworth of Massachusetts, remarked that 'when you jump off a monument the sensation is fine as long as you keep going.' The one fatal course at present would be a type of political expediency which always takes the easy way."

Political expediency has largely determined our fiscal policy for a good many years. Certainly, a considerable proportion of the $45,000,000,000 debt, most of which was rolled up in peace time, could have been avoided. And while there is no use in crying over spilled milk, we should have learned the suicidal folly of too much politics in finance.

Private capital should be encouraged to provide as much as possible of the defense money for industrial expansion. That would save the taxpayers of today and tomorrow billions and help preserve our free enterprise system.

We're going to have to come down to earth financially, soon. Government, no less than industry and the individual, must realize that the sooner we get down to cases, and take the hard way instead of the ruinous easy way, the better off we'll be.

There are no cuss words in the Japanese language — but we've given them plenty of ours.

"Anything To Barter Today"

A "Warning"—When? . . .

"No sound of horn, except as a warning to a person or animal in danger, will be tolerated"—From the antinote manifesto of New York's Mayor LaGuardia.

How perfectly silly. Anyone who has ever driven a car, even in Omaha, knows that an auto horn is used only rarely as a danger signal. It has a dozen more important uses. Among them: (a) To untangle a traffic jam. (b) To summon the other members of the foursome at 5 a. m. on Sunday. (c) To inform the other car waiting back of a traffic light that an Important Personage is being delayed. (d) To start the stalled motor of the car ahead. (e) To stimulate a slow truck to move faster up hill. (f) To notify the blonde in Apartment 46c that her Big Moment has arrived. We could go on and on. The auto horn is really one of the most utilitarian of devices, and the noisier the better. Mayor LaGuardia is going against progress—and is being naive, besides—if he expects people to use it only as a warning.—Omaha World-Herald.

THIS BUSINESS OF Living

BY SUSAN THAYER

Uncle Sam Goes to Work

Ordinarily Uncle Sam's all dressed up. He wears a high hat and a longtail coat. His boots are pretty elegant and shiny and there's an air of success about him. He's ready to go anywhere and meet anybody.

But today he's laid that tall hat aside, and he's pulled a worker's cap over his grizzled hair. He's taken off his good coat too, and he's wearing, appropriately enough, overalls. For overalls are a good, old American costume. He's in his shirt sleeves with his collar turned in. Because he's going to work!

The biggest job he's ever undertaken lies before him. He's got to build a lot of new equipment he thought he'd never have to bother with again and he's got to train a million or so young men, that he had hoped would be able to lead pretty undisturbed lives, to be soldiers. He hasn't time for that high hat for awhile. He's got to build planes — hundreds upon hundreds of them. He's got to turn out tanks — thousands of them. He must build great battleships and submarines and guns that shoot towards the sky.

And that isn't all. He has to turn carpenters and build dozens of great cantonments where about a million American men will be able to live comfortably and healthfully while they learn to be soldiers. And he must make clothes for these men and shoes and blankets . . .

Yes mam, he's going to be busy these next few months. His cap and overalls will be his regular costume. And that's the way you'll see him on more than 15,000 outdoor billboards this month and next. He's pulling his cap on in this big picture and looking thoughtfully out of stern blue eyes under bristling brows.

This is the way the National Association of Manufacturers, whose members are largely actually responsible for building our defense needs, visualize Uncle Sam at the present time. With the aid of the outdoor advertising industry, through its many agencies in every part of the country, they have set this symbol of our nation against a background of factories buckling down to the hardest work he's ever done.

There's a real job ahead. It's got to be done. American freedom, which is more precious to us than life itself, must be defended. It's Uncle Sam's job to do this. And in this country everybody is Uncle Sam. You and me and the people next door; the man at the factory and the man who runs the factory. The storekeeper and the doctor and the housewife . . . it takes us all to make Uncle Sam.

So look for the new poster and thrill with pride at the stern old gentleman Who's goin' to work!

Our personal impression is that the Dodecense Islands are small change terrain which Mussolini can't afford to lose in these hard times.

They Say:

Frank E. Mullen, Vice-President and General Manager, National Broadcasting Company: "If we do not look ahead and prepare now to two fronts—defense production and peace production—we shall have a social and economic dislocation of such proportions that no man here can foresee the end. We have a future in America as well as a present. I have faith that that future is secure if business and industry will ally themselves with science, encouraging and supporting its efforts to free mankind forever of the struggle between the haves and have-nots, in the new era of plants for all . . . In ourselves and the scientific future is our salvation."

George F. Nordenholt, Editor, Product Engineering: "Deprive a man of the opportunity to compete, to struggle or to fight for something, he soon ceases to be the fittest. The instincts with which Nature endowed him for his protection and progress becomes dulled. Physical strength and mental stamina, which can be developed only by exercising them, soften like the rotting wood of a dead tree . . . 'Competition is the life of business' is an old saying. It is equally true that competition is the very life-blood of a nation. Through competitive enterprise we keep fit, and only the fit can survive."

Alfred Grant Walton, clergyman: "I am an American; and I thank God for it. The privileges of this great land are incalculable. They did not come easily and were bought at a great price. To attain the benefits we now enjoy our forefathers gave their all. With fortitude and unwavering faith they laid the foundation of a government based upon justice, upon freedom, upon the rights of the individual to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness. Their sacrifice is our inheritance."

When buying advertised goods, say you saw it in the Stockman.

"Where do you bank?"

THESE four simple words are asked thousands upon thousands of times daily. You may have had the experience yourself in seeking credit accommodations, applying for a job, discussing a business deal, opening a charge account or in other ways.

It's gratifying at such times to be able to name this modern, progressive institution. If you are seeking a well-rounded banking connection, we shall be glad to tell you about our facilities.

THE RECORD . . . Facts That Concern You

A few weeds grow in every garden

Among the thousands of decent law-abiding beer retail establishments in America there may be a few disreputable "joints."

While it is the brewers' responsibility to brew good beer and the retailers' responsibility to sell beer under wholesome conditions, nevertheless the brewing industry is concerned about these undesirable places and wants them cleaned up.

We want them cleaned-up because they endanger your right to enjoy good beer . . . and our right to make it. We want them cleaned up because they endanger the 31,165 jobs and $22,076,182 payroll created by beer in Texas since re-legalization. Beer contributed $2,273,968.64 last year in taxes in this state.

These benefits are worth preserving. You can help us, if you will, by (1) patronizing only the reputable, legal places that sell beer and by (2) reporting any law violations to the duly constituted law enforcement authorities.

Consider Home Ownership.....

It Pays Six Ways

- 1 HAPPINESS
Life's happiest recollections are in the home.
- 2 HEALTH
Out in the fresh air with trees, gardens and unlimited sunshine lies the secret of health.
- 3 PRESTIGE
Prestige, both in the social and business world, is secured more rapidly if you own your own home.
- 4 INDEPENDENCE
The first step on the ladder of independence lies in home ownership. Freedom from rent is the beginning of independence.
- 5 ACHIEVEMENT
Owning your own home, in the eyes of the world, represents achievement and success.

Home ownership is a profitable investment. You gain all the increases in the valuation of your property and you are definitely a part of the community.

Twentieth Century because it is the story of a nation's striving to rid itself of an independence it could have kept.

The truth is that Texans did not glory in their free and sovereign Republic. Records in the University of Texas Library's Texas Collection reveal that in their first popular election, in September, 1836, they voted overwhelmingly to seek admittance into the United States.

Early in 1837, then, annexation was proposed in the American Congress—and the bill was killed. It failed primarily because Texas would come into the Union as a slave state, and already anti-slavery feeling ran high. "All who sympathize with that pseudo-Republic," one leading abolitionist cried, "hate liberty and would dethrone God!"

The Republic's Plight

So it was that Texas found itself suddenly burdened with an unlooked-for and unwanted continued independence—unexpected responsibilities, unexpected problems, unexpected slander from the neighbors it had thought its best friend. As a result, the late 1830's were probably the darkest years in all its history.

Mexico, which refused to concede the loss of its former province, throughout those years tried to blockade Texas ports and periodically sent invading armies into the Republic, twice sacking San Antonio; recognition from other nations was granted sparingly and grudgingly; Indian uprisings were a constant menace; and the government, with a ten-million-dollar public debt already waiting to be paid, was unable to raise enough money even for its current expenses.

It was Great Britain which proved to be a good fairy to the struggling Republic. About 1842 the British began to take an increasing paternal interest in their new sister-nation, for they now realized that a free Texas would prove a serious stumbling block in the western and southern expansion of the American Union—would prevent the upstart young Americans from becoming entirely unmanageable. Encouraged by them, Texans began to see some hope.

The U. S. Changes Its Mind

In 1845, playing its trump card, Britain persuaded the Mexican Congress to accept a treaty which, if accepted by the Republic, would guarantee its independence once and for all. There was one condition: that Texas must promise never to join the American states.

Long before, however, the people of the United States had grown thoroughly alarmed at this prospect of a European sphere of influence on their southwestern border. By 1844 they saw only one way out: beat Britain to the draw, ignore Mexico's threats of war, and grab Texas before it was too late, slavery controversy or not. James K. Polk won the presidency that year with the slogan "Polk and Texas," and early in 1845 Congress rushed through a bill providing for annexation.

So in June the Texas Congress was called upon to make the choice—guaranteed independence or annexation? Its vote was unanimous; and on the following February 19, the U. S. Congress having approved the new state's constitution in December, Anson Jones, the Republic's third President, furled its famous lone star flag and from the steps of the capitol at Austin formally proclaimed to the world that "The final act in this great drama is now performed. The Republic of Texas is no more."

And Texas was the twenty-eighth of the United States of America.

There you'd see eight busy cylinders, with pistons flashing up and down . . .

You'd see each fuel charge packed tight into a tiny bundle shaped like a flattened ball . . .

You'd see the spark leap, the flame spread, the piston thrust down with extra force as each furious fireball lets go its pent-up wallop.

You'd see all this happening as fast as thirty times a second in each of those eight cylinders—and we think you'd understand then just why there's such a special and exciting satisfaction in the way a Buick travels.

Gasoline gives up more of its power when it's packed as tightly as it is here.

So when you've got these eight balls of fire working busily under the bonnet, you really travel!

You travel farther on every gallon and you travel more pleasurably.

You travel—but, shucks! Why listen to talk when there's a Buick dealer nearby waiting to show you how you travel behind a FIREBALL?

That special, flattened-ball shape of the compressed fuel charge means smoother, better burning, full focus of the power on the piston head, where it counts.

Lovelace Speaks On Wildlife At Junior Historical Meeting

Boyd Lovelace, local salesman for the West Texas Utilities Co., and amateur naturalist, presented an interesting discussion on birds, animals and reptiles of Texas from the coast regions to the high plains before the Junior Historical Society of the Ozona High School meeting Tuesday afternoon. Special emphasis was given to wildlife in Crockett county.

At a business meeting following the program, members discussed a coming field trip to Howard Well, and another field trip later in the Spring. L. B. Sikes is sponsor of the Society.

Members present for the meeting were Wayne West, Jr., George B. Armentrout, Frances Bean, Bobby Lemmons, Shorty Colquitt, Claude Everett, Adele Keeton, Norma Lovelace, Mary Faye Lucas, Billy Hannah, Bill Carson, Charles McDonald, L. B. Cox, Zella Thurman, Virginia Hayes, Lila Lee Cooke, Billy Laxson, Georgia Senne, Burl Sparks, Calvin Williams, Bertie Sue Brownrigg, Mildred Nethery, Stanley Lemmons, Byron Williams, Dorothy Capps and Eddy Cooke.

Band Transfers To Abilene District

Ozona High School band has been transferred from the Kermit district or Region 1 to Region 2 with headquarters at Abilene for state band contest purposes, it was announced this week by school officials.

The local band will compete in the state band contest at Abilene on either April 24, 25 or 26, the date to be determined by the district chairman in making up the schedule for the meet. The local band was changed to the Abilene district, where it was first assigned three years ago, because of the distance to Kermit and the lack of interest among parents and band mothers in making the trip to that city.

CONGRESSMAN WRITES

"Am gratified to know that good rains have fallen over our West Texas country and that the prospects are fine for a good year for stock men," writes Congressman R. E. Thomason from Washington in a letter to the Stockman this week. "I seldom hear from Ozona people but would be glad at any time to render them any service in my power on matters of interest if they would make their desires known."

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

By Mrs. Cora Wilson

As you take a cake from the oven place it for a very few moments on a cloth wrung out of cold water. Then it may be turned over easily without sticking to the pan.

To avoid lumps in batter, add a pinch of salt to the flour before it is wet.

Wash spinach with root attached. Then remove leaf, as stem and leaf of spinach is hollow and will hold grit.

A fork should never be stuck into a steak or chop that is being fried or grilled, because it lets the juice out.

When ferns turn yellow, slice a raw potato and put it on top of soil. This will draw out the worms, which are usually responsible for such a condition.

A dry cork will remove stains from plate or silver more quickly than anything else, and it never scratches. If the cork is cut to a point it can be worked into the crevices which have become tarnished.

Heavy Outbreak Screwworm Fly Is Anticipated

Entomologist Warns Winter Favorable To Infestation

COLLEGE STATION, March 12 —Fall infestation of screwworm in the western half of Texas was general and above normal, and in the Laredo area was the highest ever recorded there in December, or for any time of year.

Quoting from a report on conditions by D. C. Parman, associate entomologist at the bureau of entomology and plant quarantine, Uvalde, Cameron Siddall, Extension Service entomologist for A. and M. College, said that on the other hand, infestation along the Lower Gulf coast and through east Texas was low and practically nil.

Temperatures throughout the entire winter survival area of the screwworm, especially the western half of Texas, have been favorable for the carry-over of the fly. Rainfall conditions have been, and continue, favorable for a continued buildup of the screwworm fly from central Texas west through all the states to California.

"Prompt and thorough treatment of all early cases will prevent the buildup of high populations of the screwworm fly in the southwest and prevent losses of livestock and decrease the necessity of treatments later in the season," Siddall warned.

At the present time, he continued, infestation is indicated generally throughout the southwest and development by late spring of a most disastrous outbreak of screwworms is in prospect. The season is too far advanced to expect reduction in the fly population through the effect of weather to an extent that losses would not be expected over most of the area.

"However, prolonged unfavorable weather will reduce the probability of a disastrous outbreak; but if the favorable conditions prevailing throughout the winter continue during the spring, livestock men may expect losses over the entire area.

RELIGIOUS SCHOOL ACTIVITIES

by ArmentROUT

Some people believe that religion and school activities, whether in the class room or not, go at right angles to each other. Why? The most important reason these people believe that is that they do not know enough about religion to understand fully principles and aims it has.

On the other hand, I sincerely believe that religion and all work, good honest efforts, go hand in hand together. They run on the same parallel.

I may be talking in circles, but I don't think I am. For instance, look at the studying proposition. God made man so that he could see, hear, and make his mind absorb things. No one can get around this fact.

Then, if these two subjects, religion and school activities, tend to go toward a common goal, why do not a larger number of high school students attend church services?

One reason popularly given is the following

"I just don't have time to attend this service this morning. However, I would very much like to go."

That is not the proper attitude to take. Here is another pet expression.

"I don't have a good suit of clothes to wear."—or I haven't a silk dress."

Neither of these alibis is any good. The best time to start going to church, whether in coat sleeves or shirt sleeves, is right now. I remember a quotation that said, "It is not what covers the poor man's heart, but what the heart contains that really counts."

We, the student body of Ozona High School, have a good chance to hear a very good revival meeting now. Brother Kee, Brother Trussell, singer and Brother Childers, pastor of the Ozona Baptist church, are conducting what I call an A-1 service. Brother Kee, I believe, is one of the most promising young men in his business, along with Brothers Childers and Trussell.

"We can learn in church how to live, though may not learn how to make a living in other experiences."

That is my motto.

Editor's Musings

By ADELE KEETON

If I Were a Freshman—

As I was eavesdropping one day when some upperclassmen were talking, I heard a very interesting subject being discussed. The main topic seemed to be "What changes I should make if my high school days should start again!" There were many interesting points brought out. One of the main points was to try to get along better with the teachers and everyone. Some of them said that they would try to make better grades. Of course, this can usually be done by a little hard work and more study, but it would be easier if you used better conduct in your classes.

I can think of nothing more important all through life than a person's ability to get along with people. You may wonder why some people are favorites of nearly everyone. This can usually be explained by the fact that they "strain a point" to get along with people. Some people never agree with anyone. They start an argument everytime anyone says anything. Naturally, they are not as popular as someone who tries to see the other person's point of view.

There are other points that should be remembered in trying to get along with people. You should be polite, kind, generous and friendly. It is hard to remember to put these things into practice, but I believe that if we tried,

Ozona Defeats Sonora In Typing Meet

A series of six or eight practice meets are held between Sonora and Ozona each year. The purpose of these meetings is getting the students accustomed to competition.

The Ozona typing team is composed of the three students having the best average for the preceding week. This week Virginia Hays, Bobby Lemmons and Don Wilson went to Sonora. Virginia won first place, Don third and Bobby fourth place. Ozona team scored 25 points higher than did that of Sonora.

Juniors Sponsor Virgil, Magician

On Thursday, Feb. 27, in the Ozona High School auditorium, thrills, chills, and maybe some fever was experienced by some, others, and still more others. Virgil the Great "pulled" a few stunts and also some things out of the hat. The gate receipts were $57.40. Virgil received the first $30.00 and the rest was divided equally between the Junior class and Virgil.

The Junior class part of the proceeds will be used in buying food for the Junior-Senior Banquet. The Junior class will sponsor a picture show, proceeds of which will also help the fund for the Junior-Senior Banquet. It is entitled "Knutte Rockne," all are invited to attend.

we should find that it works. Although we can't be freshmen again, we can start right now and try to get along with people better. This is a challenge to high school students. Let's try!

ROBERT LEMMONS Outstanding Athlete And Student

Robert Daniel Lemmons, known to everyone as "Bob," was born in Rochester, Texas, in 1925.

Bob has been enrolled in the Ozona school for eleven years. During his Junior high and high school years, Bob has made a good record in sports and scholastics as well.

Speaking of sports, Bob played football and basketball for four years in high school and three years in junior high. In football, Bob earned two reserve sweaters and two jackets. In basketball, Bob earned two sweaters. During Bob's freshman year, he took part in the District meet in Declamation, from which he brought home second prize. Bob also played a saxophone, during his freshman and sophomore years in the band.

It seems that Bob likes Fort Stockton, as in his sophomore year he went to Ft. Stockton for one-act play. Bob is now an Eagle Scout. He has been a scout for four years. During a recent scout program in assembly Bob demonstrated an experiment in which he won a Chemistry merit badge.

In his junior year, Bob was the president of his class. He took part in the Press Club. Bob has entered tennis most every year, planning to do the same this year.

Now, we come to the last and most interesting part of Bob's high school days. Those are the days when foolish juniors became sophisticated seniors. Bob, it seems, has made a change for the best. He is manager of the "Hitching Post," is taking part in the Senior play, and has acquired an average of 93.5, which makes him the valedictorian of the Senior class.

When questioned about his love affairs, Bob shook his head sadly and said that the first true love affair he had was in the second grade. Then (a sigh) she beat him in a spelling match, so he called the whole thing off. "But," said Bob, with a smile, "I think I am entering another love affair now, and at my age, too."

Bob, it is said works very hard. In his leisure time, he works as a clerk in "Lemmons Dry Goods." Don't work too hard, Bob. (Imagine it!)

Before we close, Bob has asked a special favor, which is going to be granted. He asked if the following notice would be inserted:

"Anyone who reads this article and knows this boy as "Bobby," please start calling him "Bob" or "Robert." Is sounds more dignified."

Homemaking IIa Gives Luncheon

As a part of the course of study in Homemaking II A, which deals with family meals, each girl planned, prepared and served a luncheon plate, Friday, March 6, at 12.

These luncheons were based on the knowledge which the students had gained from their recent study of meats and were judged by each student and the instructor, Miss Kinney. The work was evaluated on the bases of the standards developed and the schedules worked out. The girls had completed a study of State and Local food laws. The place of meat in the diet; identification and selection of beef, pork, lamb and chevon; and the art of carving.

The girls are preparing meals in many various ways; Friday the meats which were used were as follows: Pan-broiled T-bone steak, Swiss club steak, Breaded Veal cutlets, Oven Broiled round steak with mushroom sauce; Porterhouse steak, saute. From this experimental laboratory the following principles of successful meat cookery were found to be effective; factors, temperature, length of time for cooking and influence of moist heat and acid for tenderizing tough cuts. Cookery methods should be such that the resulting meat is juicy throughout, the center being cooked as desired, without hardening the surface. Employing the proper method of cooking is very important. Tender meat cuts are cooked by dry heat, as roasting, pan broiling; tough meat cuts by moist heat as braising and stewing.

The class will continue their study of meats and will visit the local market for demonstrations on meat cutters and identification purpose. Dressing of chickens and preparation of fish, and use of Bird's-Eye foods will be demonstrated in this weeks class work. These girls will soon be inviting guests to their luncheons. The following girls took part in the luncheons Friday: Mary Frances Bean, Dorothy Capps, Mary Faye Lucas, Jean Bush.

Visiting Ministers In Assembly Hour

Rev. John Kee, pastor of the Odessa Baptist Church, and Mr. Joe Trussell, song leader at the present Baptist meeting in Ozona were in charge of the assembly program Monday, in the high school auditorium. Mr. Trussell led the group in two songs, "The Eyes of Texas" and "Every Day with Jesus." He concluded his part in the program with a solo.

Rev. Kee gave a brief talk on "How To Make Success." He listed six steps on the way to success: use correct English, have close friendship, be a thinker, be persistent, be practical, and aim high. He illustrated each of these steps with a joke.

Some very good food at Sonora for the league Sunday night. Very good steak at the Home Ec. luncheon. The girls are beginning to be very good cooks.

Behind The Scenes In American Business

By John Craddock

NEW YORK, Mar. 10 — BUSINESS—In World War I, England adopted "business as usual" slogan, mainly to symbolize traditional British imperturbability. We fell in with that idea, too, over here. The present war, by its very nature, puts a lot more physical obstacles in the way of "business as usual" for the bomb-rocked British. Yet so far as the symbolism and mental attitude are concerned, the philosophy is again dominant there. And over here, too, we have tried to cling to that idea, mostly expressed in the phrase saying that we could "super-impose our defense program on our normal industrial production program." For months it was felt we could do it—could take on any foreseeable task in the way of defense production, and turn it out, without having to cut down on ordinary peacetime goods and services. Our business has not been "usual," it's been unusually good, for many months, because to a large extent the defense drive was set right on top of our normal schedule.

But in recent weeks it has become increasingly clear that the defense drive is going to require some men, materials and machines that otherwise would be producing consumer goods. Already adoption of mandatory priorities has brought home this fact to many manufacturers, and to some consumers. On the whole, though, the general prediction is that the most "unusual" thing about Uncle Sam's business — for many months to come—will be its "unusual upwardness." Although individual lines may be set back by the rationing system, the continued growth of defense production will more than offset those declines in non-defense lines caused by rationing of materials. The Federal Reserve Board's index of industrial production stood at 139 in January, and is expected to hit 150 before the end of the year. In that index, the activity rate of 1935-39 is rated as "100."

THINGS TO WATCH FOR—An amateur movie camera that runs on electricity from a small dry battery instead of the customary clock-type spring, eliminating re-winding... An attachment for converting any single-seat bicycle into a tandem job... with extra seat, handlebars and pedals... new stypes in floating soaps — a hollow in the center of the cake provides the buoyancy instead of depending on actual lightness of the "mix"... men's sport shoes made of vinyl, one of the stretchable plastics that last season emerged as material for belts and suspenders — in the shoes the plastic is treated to make it look like leather... Another plastic, of considerably different qualities and function, is being used a printing type... More bowls of fruit, alongside the magazines, in doctors' waiting rooms—to remind the patients that eating of apples, oranges and other fruit is beneficial.

A study which was recently made of the American machine tool industry—whose production is absolutely vital to national defense progress—has revealed the possibility of a total production of $750,000,000 output for the present year, though present orders total but $423,000,000.

Enrollment of charter members, adoption of a constitution and by-laws, election of officers and determination of the day and hour of the weekly meetings of the club will be matters to come before the organization meeting Saturday night. As soon as the new club has been admitted to membership in the International organization by vote of the international board of directors, its charter as a Rotary club will be delivered by the sponsoring club, San Angelo, and George W. Gilliam of Corpus Christi, who is governor of the clubs in this, the 129th district of Rotary. Delegations from all other Rotary clubs in nearby towns are expected to attend this event. Rotary clubs in this section are located in Alpine, Sanderson, Fort Stockton, San Angelo, Del Rio, Menard, Junction and other points.

The motto of Rotary, "Service Above Self—He Profits Most Who Serves Best" is interpreted in Rotary in four ways—service to the club to make it strong and active; service in one's own vocation; service to the community and service to the world as a world-citizen. These four opportunities for service arise out of the four objects of Rotary, which are:

1. To encourage and foster the ideal of service as a basis of worthy enterprise and, in particular, to encourage and foster:
 1. The development of acquaintance as an opportunity for service;
 2. High ethical standards in business and professions; the recognition of the worthiness of all useful occupations; and the dignifying by each Rotarian of his occupation as an opportunity to serve society;
 3. The application of the ideal of service by every Rotarian to his personal, business and community life;
 4. The advancement of international understanding, good will, and peace through a world fellowship of business and professional men united in the ideal of service.

More Relics Added To Collection For High School Museum

Another group of interesting relics has just been added to the collection of the Ozona High School museum, it was announced this week by Supt. C. S. Denham. Several of the newly received articles come from the old Howard Well ranch headquarters, loaned to the museum by Watt Turner. Among these is an old time chisel, a hatchet head found on the Old Spanish Trail, a lead bullet mold, nails, etc. from the pioneer day stage stand at Howard Wells, a molas or whiskey barrel auger, and an old-time coffee mill used for many years at the Howard Well ranch.

A German soldiers helmet, a relic of the World War I, found and loaned to the library by Floyd Hokit, is another interesting specimen, and Houston Smith has contributed some Indian manos, or hand grinding rocks, found in New Mexico.

Hardin - Simmons Cowgirl Band To Play Concert Here

Between 40 and 45 girl musicians, composing the famous Hardin-Simmons University Cowgirl Band will play for the Ozona audience at the High School auditorium Tuesday morning, March 25, at 11 o'clock. The band is being brought as a feature for school children and adults alike. A small charge is to be made to defray expenses of the group.

In addition to the program by the band, Miss Virginia Sheridan, 18-year-old girl harp artist, will be heard in a program of harp numbers. Miss Sheridan made a tremendous hit with an Ozona audience last year when she appeared here with a group of Hardin-Simmons artists under sponsorship of the Ozona Music Club. She is soloist with the Cowgirl Band.

Mrs. W. P. Foster of Lovington, N. M., is here for a visit with her sister, Mrs. Joe Oberkamp and other relatives.

"Philadelphia Story" On Local Movie Menu

Coming to the Ozona Theatre today and Friday is "The Philadelphia Story," a picture that won the 1940 Academy Award for one of its three featured players, James Stewart. Sharing the spotlight in this M-G-M production is Katherine Hepburn and Cary Grant.

"The Philadelphia Story" was a year-run hit on Broadway. Handsome Cary Grant, as the story unfolds, wants to start all over again when his ex-wife turns from a prim prude into a wild red-head. He's a wedding guest who stays on and on. Katherine Hepburn, as the ex-wife, goes on a hilarious champagne adventure, and in the general mix-up James Stewart complicates matters still further by falling in love with the red head.

Also on the program is a comedy, "No Census, No Feeling," and latest edition of news.

Coming next week is another academy winner—Ginger Rogers, in "Kitty Foyle."

reader, it will probably mean a mess of written words, "much ado about nothing." Oh well, time marches on.

Speaking about time marching on, recalls that "Open Letter" which a leading Greek editor wrote to Herr Hitler the other day in protest against the Nazi moves in the Balkans. With kindled fervor, the patriotic journalist declared, "Once the Greeks taught the world how to live, today the Greeks are ready to teach the world how to die." Remnants of Grecian culture in its former greatness still are to be found in the old and new worlds, its influence ever to be felt. And striking with the force of Spartan valor in centuries past, the words of this editor exemplify the heritage handed down to this noble people. They are the nation that toppled over Mussolini's much heralded Roman legions to give the Allies and neutrals new courage and new hope. And now the Greeks are tossing the gauntlet into the face of Der Fuhrer. Shades of Hercules!

Riding over from Sonora the other day with Rancher Bissett who thrives in the Barnhart region, I told him that I was a newcomer to this part of Texas and that for the past year my activities centered chiefly around the larger cities. Realizing that I was taking up location in this state's leading livestock producing county (at least that is the boast of Publisher White's paper) I asked Rancher Bissett if he would hurriedly drill me in terms applicable to the cattle and sheep industries. In other words, I wanted to learn the language of the rancher and forestall a dude's classification. But one can't be educated in half an hour. What price ignorance!

And yet there are a lot of so-called ignorant people in this world where circumstances propel them out of their native homes and communities or if Dame Fortune leads them to strange lands and environments where habits and customs and languages are ever so foreign. Reminds me of the story about the two salts aboard a merchant ship sailing the seven seas. One day the pair whipped up a vociferous argument over what a heifer was. The old-timer, who never set his sea-legs on dry land except to get drunk, vowed the heifer was a part of the sheep family. The city youth, seeking adventure on the briny deep, stoutly declared that a heifer was some sort of a pig. They were fast getting nowhere when the first mate came down on deck from his watch on the bridge. They threw the argument into his lap to settle. He spat a wave of tobacco juice to the leeward and answered, "Boys, I can't help you, I come from Maine and don't know a damn thing about poultry."

Mrs. Arthur Phillips is ill at her home here this week.

Mr. Smith has decided to adopt the Loen Star banner as his State flag, having just completed a year's market survey and sales campaign in Texas for the English firm of Crosse & Blackwell, Ltd., the world's oldest food house.
