Alma Johnigan Becomes Bride Of Frank James

Impressive Home Ceremony Unites Ozona Couple Wednesday

Miss Alma Johnigan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Johnigan, became the bride of Frank James, proprietor of the City Service, garage and filling station here, in an impressive home wedding ceremony at 9 o'clock Wednesday morning at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Welton Bunger.

Rev. James M. Camp, minister of the Church of Christ, performed the single ring ceremony in the presence of members of the family and a few close friends.

The home was beautifully decorated in yellow and white chrysanthemums. The young couple entered the living room to the strains of the wedding march played by Miss Dixie Davidson at the piano and Joe Haddon on the violin. A bank of yellow and white chrysanthemums flanked by floor baskets of the same flowers at the north end of the room formed the background for the ceremony. Candles flanking the improvised altar were lighted preceding the ceremony by Miss Dorothy Johnigan, sister of the bride. The bride was attired in her going away outfit, a brown tailored ensemble with brown accessories. Attending the bride was Miss Mildred Davis who wore rust crepe with brown accessories. The groom's attendant was Walter Kyle, Miss Davidson and Mr. Haddon played "Indian Love Call" and "I Love (Continued On Last Page)

Johnigans Hurt When Car Turns Over On Highway

Blowout Causes Accident On Barnhart Road Sunday

Mrs. W. M. Johnigan suffered a broken rib a wrenched back and severe cuts and bruises and Mr. Johnigan received a shoulder injury and was severely bruised shortly after noon Sunday when the car in which they were riding overturned about twelve miles out on the Barnhart road.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnigan had started to San Angelo and were driving a car belonging to their son, Hartley Johnigan. A blow-out was the cause of the accident, the car leaving the highway and doing a complete flip into the ditch, landing upright on its wheels. The car was only slightly damaged.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnigan are both confined to their beds recuperating from the injuries. Neither is believed to have been seriously hurt. Mr. Johnigan is justice of the peace and deputy tax assessor in the office of Sheriff W. S. Willis.

Rogers Memorial Fund Campaign Is Lagging In Ozona

Chairman Bailey Reports Drive Stymied at Total of $75 Pledged

The Will Rogers Memorial Fund campaign in Ozona is lagging, according to reports by John R. Bailey, Crockett County chairman of the drive. With approximately $75 subscribed early, the campaign seems to be stymied at that figure, the chairman said.

Extension of the Memorial Fund campaign to December 15 and information that handicapped children will be the principal beneficiaries of the fund were announcements from the national campaign committee, headed by Capt. E. V. Rickenbacker, the past week. Gift of a million dollar hospital at Saranac, N. Y., by the United Variety Artists' Fund, Inc., and $500,000 cash by five major theatre circuits for its maintenance for five years, was also announced the past week.

Donations to the national Will Rogers memorial fund are being made in small or large amounts, each contribution an expression of undying love of American people or the most lovable character ever produced in this nation. The "living memorial" to be constructed under the direction of a national committee of business and political leaders will be something appropriate, a humanitarian in-

Churches Unite In Thanksgiving Service Thursday

Early Morning Meeting To Be Staged At Baptist Church

Membership of Ozona's three churches will join in union Thanksgiving services at the Baptist Church Thanksgiving morning. The services are slated to begin at 7:30 a. m.

Rev. R. A. Taylor, pastor of the Methodist Church, will deliver the Thanksgiving sermon, choosing as his subject for the early morning discourse "The Right and Wrong Kind of Thankfulness."

There will be special Thanksgiving music by a union choir. Rev. James M. Camp, minister of the Church of Christ, is out of the city and will not be able to take part on the program, but members of that church will join in the union services of praise and thanksgiving. Rev. Ira Garrison, pastor of the Baptist Church, will conduct the worship service.

School Opens Museum, Appeal For Branding Iron Specimens Made

Opening of a school museum on the third floor of the High School building, in which various curios and objects of historical interest are being displayed, was announced this week by Supt. C. S. Denham.

In the display will be the two skeletons of cave dwellers found recently on the Noelke ranch in this county, a dinosaur bone found a few years ago, an Indian collection in possession of the school for several years, ancient and modern pistols and rifles, branding irons and other articles.

The collection of branding irons is yet incomplete, Mr. Denham said. School authorities hope to have a complete representation of ancient and modern branding irons in the display and an appeal is being sent out to Crockett County ranchmen to bring in any irons they may have, their present brands, old irons and whatever specimens they may have for the collection.

NEW BOOTMAKER

Leo Laushman has been employed as bootmaker at the Jones Saddlery here. Mr. Laushman at one time was employed as bootmaker by the late F. E. Piner, pioneer Ozona bootmaker. He came here from San Angelo, where he was employed in the Riggs and Bennett boot shop.

University of Texas Archeologist Says Skeletons Found Here are Cave Dwellers

Another Texas archeologist, A. T. Jackson, field foreman, Texas archeology, department of anthropology of the University of Texas at Austin, is of the positive opinion that the two skeletons, one of an aged woman and the other of a child between 4 and 5 years of age, found recently in a small cave along the Pecos River on the Noelke ranch in this county, are those of Texas cave dwellers, ancestors of the historic Indians.

In a letter to C. S. Denham, superintendent of Ozona Schools, and one of the party making the cave excavations, Mr. Jackson gives some interesting conclusions concerning his examination of specimens of the wrappings around the skeletons, a small portion of which was sent to the department by Mr. Denham.

"Your letter of November 14 together with the specimens from the Crockett County cave are at hand," Mr. Jackson wrote. "We are very much interested in the account of your finds in this cave. The wrappings you speak of apparently was a rabbit skin blanket. Fur blankets of this kind frequently are found in the caves of

Upholstery In Car Of Dr. I. S. Moore Is Destroyed By Fire

Fire of undetermined origin stripped the interior of a Ford coupe belonging to Dr. Sellers Moore early Saturday morning. The upholstery was completely destroyed but the car was not otherwise damaged. The damage was covered by insurance.

The blaze was discovered about 5 o'clock Saturday morning by Bob Summerall, Crockett County special deputy sheriff in charge of livestock shipping inspection, who was just coming into town from a night's patrol of highways. The blaze was quickly extinguished but a complete replacement of upholstery will be necessary. Just how the blaze originated was a mystery.

Ozonan's Brother Dies Enroute To Santone Hospital

Death Overtakes Ira Jones In Car Near Menard Sunday

Ira Jones, 50, brother of Solomon G. Jones of Ozona, Crockett County rancher, died shortly before noon Sunday in an automobile on the highway near Menard while enroute to San Antonio for medical attention.

S. G. Jones left here early Sunday morning with Mr. and Mrs. Ira Jones and Miss Zoela McKissack, local nurse, for San Antonio when the sick man's condition became worse. He had been seriously ill for about three weeks. It was presumed that the party turned back and was making an effort to reach the nearest hospital when death overtook the speeding car a few miles from Menard.

Upon receiving word of the death by long distance telephone Mrs. Solomon Jones and a son of the dead man, Ray Jones, who has been working on Crockett County ranches for several months, left here for Menard, being taken by Dr. Sellers Moore in his car.

The body was taken from Menard to the former home at Jacksonville, Texas, where funeral services were held. Surviving besides the widow and the son are two daughters, both living in Jacksonville. Mr. Jones and his wife had been making their home on his brother's ranch in this county for several months.

Red Cross Roll Call Drive Is Short Of Goal

Persons Who Have Not Been Solicited Urged To Send In Fees

With its goal of $100 only little more than half subscribed, the Crockett County Chapter of the American Red Cross is winding up its annual Roll Call drive this week with a last minute solicitation in the hope of reaching the $100 objective.

The Roll Call drive is conducted each year between Armistice Day and Thanksgiving, final reports going into national headquarters a few days after Thanksgiving. A corps of workers who are making the local solicitation had not turned in final reports this week, but it was estimated Wednesday that the total subscriptions to date would amount to around $60.

Chapter Chairman A. W. Jones, and Roll Call Chairman J. H. McClure have made efforts to see that all are given an opportunity to enroll in the Red Cross. A group of ladies have conducted the drive in the residential districts while the business section has been canvassed by workers recruited from the ranks of business men.

The Roll Call chairman invites all who have not been solicited and who wish to have a part in the work of the Red Cross to hand or mail their membership fees to either Mr. Jones or Mr. McClure or at the Ozona National Bank. The membership fee is $1, half of which stays in the local chapter fund and the other half goes to the national organization for nationwide disaster relief work.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Watson and daughter, Miss Wanda Watson, left Wednesday for Belton for a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Watson's son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Henry H. Carden and young son. The Ozona party expects to attend the Texas-A. & M. football game in College Station Thanks giving Day.

Lee Schneider of Ozona is ill in a San Angelo hospital.

INITIAL W.P.A. WORK PROJECT STARTED HERE

4300-Foot Sewer Extension To Give Employment to 20 Men

13 START WORK

County's Part Of $26,000 Project To Be $400 to $500

Thirteen men, recruited from relief rolls of Crockett County, went to work Friday morning on this county's first W.P.A. project, a 4300-foot extension of Ozona's sewer system.

The sewer extension is being done on a $26,000 grant by the WPA to this county, approval of which was announced last week.

The new sewer line will connect with the existing main just south of the highway west of the draw and will run 4300 feet north to make sewer service available to all residences west of the draw. A main already serves most of the residences in that section of the city, traversing the principal north and south street of the area.

A list of twenty men was approved by the district WPA officials in San Angelo last week for work on the sewer project. A maximum of thirty-three men could be given employment on the job if that number was available from relief rolls. Of the twenty men approved, only thirteen were on the job when the initial work on the project was done Friday morning.

Bryan McDonald is local supervisor of the sewer extension project. The county's part in financing the project will be between $400 and $500.

Rains Tuesday Add 1.05 Inches Moisture Here

Warm Precipitation Is Welcome Addition to West Texas Store

Skies that have been overcast for days and clouds that have contributed light drizzles at intervals got down to business in this section early Tuesday morning and visited another splendid rain on the area.

The warm rain, bringing no drop in temperatures, amounted to 1.05 inches here, adding much to the splendid moisture seasoning already in the ground in this range section of West Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. Hillery Phillips have returned from a visit in Ft. Worth the past week.

Saturday Is Last Day To Pay Taxes In Installments

Second Half Of Taxes May Be Paid Up To June 30th

Saturday, November 30, is the last day on which taxpayers may pay the first installment on their 1935 tax bill and "ride" the balance until June 30, 1936.

The split tax payment plan, whereby half of the amount of taxes due may be paid before November 30 and the balance to be paid and payable up to June without penalty, was adopted to provide a convenient "installment" payment plan for those who wish to take advantage of it.

Unless the first half payment is made on or before November 30, the entire amount of 1935 taxes must be paid in January to avoid penalty.

Sutton To Vote On Liquor Sale Dec. 2

A decision as to whether or not liquor shall be sold in packages in Sutton county, according to the recently enacted law, will be made by the county electorate Monday, December 2.

Those who attended the meeting of the court were Alvis Johnson, judge, and commissioners, Joe F. Logan, C. T. Jones and C. W. Adams.

It was mandatory on the part of the court that the election be called. Only twelve names were necessary, according to law, for a local option election. WHEN WILL ROGERS CAME TO TOWN

By ROBERT W. RUHL

One dark, rainy November evening in 1931, the front door of the Mail Tribune at Medford, Ore., opened and a man walked in, taking off his battered hat and shaking the rain drops from it as he did so.

Then he turned down the collar of a rain-soaked, weather-beaten ulster, and remarked to me in particular, "Howdy folks and good evenin'—suppose this is what you call a good evenin' in sunny Ore-ee-gon."

There was a moment of silence while the three of us—the paper had been put to bed over two hours before, and most of the force had gone home—gathered around this unexpected visitor, and tried to find our tongues in the presence of none other than the famous Will Rogers.

Will Rogers had a face which once seen even in pictures could never be forgotten.

Two of us at least knew Rogers had left Los Angeles that morning by plane for Seattle, and it was not difficult to figure out that he had been forced down by the storm at the local airport, equidistant between San Francisco and Portland.

Well, there Will Rogers sat and there we sat, not for a few minutes nor for half an hour, but for two solid hours, and I have never known two hours to pass more quickly or more pleasantly. It wasn't so much a matter of wise-cracking, or cracker-box humor, although Rogers' remarks were full of amusing and pat allusions, as it was the perfect naturalness, simplicity and above all the genuine human kindness of the man.

You know how it is in a small town, the grapevine is so active and efficient, one sometimes wonders if there is any need for news papers. In ten minutes after Will arrived, apparently everyone within ten miles knew about it and knew he was at the Mail Tribune.

Well, in they came, big and little, large and small, old and young umbrellas, slickers, wet shoes and all—until just before train time and Will had to go—the place was packed with moist (and not particularly fragrant) humanity, elbowing their way up to shake hands and have a look at Will Rogers. It was a great event for Medford.

And for each and every one Will Rogers not only had a word of kindly greeting, but what seemed at the time impossible, he appeared to have in each and every one a genuine personal interest.

Now that he has gone it is more understandable for we have learned that he had met many men but never met one he didn't like.

We doubt if the truth of that statement is more keenly appreciated than in Medford, Oregon.

When the news of Will Rogers' death came over the wire, there were actually men and women here, who broke down and sobbed, as if they had lost a beloved member of their own family. Yet their only personal acquaintance with him had been gained through that brief glimpse of him in this office nearly four years ago.

The explanation I think, lies in the fact that Will Rogers really cared. He liked people—all kinds and conditions of people—and the people who came in contact with him knew that instinctively. It's a quality, by the way, which can't be faked, though there are so many people, particularly politicians, who try to do so.

A national memorial to him is a fine idea.

Millions now have an opportunity to contribute to the memory of Will Rogers. Famous friends have organized The Will Rogers Memorial Commission. It is hoped every one who smiled with Rogers will come forward with a subscription. Take it or send it to your bank—or any bank—or use the accompanying coupon to send your subscription to this office. Every cent subscribed will be used for memorials to be selected by Henry Ford, Herbert Hoover, Alfred E. Smith, Will H. Hays, Jesse H. Jones, Owen D. Young, Vice President John N. Garner and other men and women of national prestige and respect. The memorials will depend on the number of friends who contribute—but they will be used for charitable, educational and humanitarian purposes. There will be no cold shaft of marble to honor the memory of this warm, friendly man. They will be living, continuing memorials.

University Lands In West Texas Built Nearly All Institution's Buildings to 1928; Oil Added More Millions To Fund

2 Million Acres Valuable Oil, Grazing Land Owned By School

The intriguing and unique story of the land endowment of the University of Texas was recounted by President H. Y. Benedict of that institution at the annual meeting of the Association of Governing Boards of State Universities at Lincoln, Neb. President Benedict described the steps by which the land endowment was obtained and discussed the policies pertaining to its administration.

Texas came into the union, Dr.

Benedict pointed out, with the right to retain ownership of her public land and upon that fact, he said, hangs the story of University of Texas lands.

"The Constitution of 1876," he continued, "canceled a previous land grant to the University and in lieu thereof set aside one million acres of the unappropriated public domain for the University and its branches. In 1883 the legislature set aside another one million acres.

"Since the unappropriated public domain was, during the early '80's, practically all located in West Texas, the University land had to be located in the Trans-Pecos and east-of-the-Pecos part of Texas. At this time this semi-arid region was unsalable and unleaseable and was thought to be so valueless that it was surveyed quite inaccurately and in large blocks in order to avoid the expense of subdivision. It was so valueless that the Texas & Pacific Railway rejected it and left it for the University."

Grazing Leases Pay

President Benedict pointed out that money received for grazing leases on this land virtually built all of the University buildings down to 1928 and paid a considerable portion of the running expenses besides. He commented upon the fact that the State Constitution prohibits the appropriation for University buildings out of tax money, which he characterized a unique provision.

He called attention to the fact that all money received from oil and gas royalties and other mineral leases must go into the permanent fund of the University, only the income of which may be spent. He outlined the manner in which the permanent fund was invested, there being now $625,000 in State of Texas bonds belonging to the University, $9,680,000 in United States bonds, $5,800,000 in Texas municipal and county bonds, $6,000,000 in building bonds issued by the University itself and to be repaid to the permanent fund from the interest received on other securities. The 2,100,000 acres of West Texas land, the 100,000 being a guess at the excess, is also considered a part of the permanent University fund.

With the $6,000,000 derived from selling University bonds to the permanent University fund the institution was able to finance a $4,000,000 building program for the University, and a $2,000,000 program for the Agricultural and Mechanical College of Texas. Subsequently, at the request of the Board of Regents, the privilege of investing the permanent funds in the bonds and obligations of the Board of Regents in the future was withdrawn. The president expressed the belief that this widening and narrowing of the field of investment is a unique episode in the history of higher education in the United States.

14 1/2 Millions Spent

Dr. Benedict said that since 1925, at Galveston and Austin and Mt. Locke, including construction now in progress, $14,500,000 been spent for buildings and other permanent improvements, this amount having been secured as follows: $2,175,000 from the Sealy and Smith Foundation, the Littlefield family, W. J. McDonald, and the Ex-Students' Association; $1,030,000 from gifts from the Federal Government via PWA and direct grant for a Centennial Museum; $1,867,000 from loans from the Federal Government via PWA $4,000,000 from "building bonds"; and $5,425,000 out of income from the University endowment fund.

The University of Texas, he pointed out, was operating at the lowest cost per student of any of the institutions in its class. He announced that enrollment had increased by another ten per cent or more this fall.

Within Reach of All

A clergyman, anxious to introduce some new hymn books, directed the clerk to give out a notice in church in regard to them immediately after the sermon. The clerk, however, had a notice of his own to give with reference to the baptism of infants. Accordingly, at the close of the sermon he announced, "All those who have children they wish baptized, please send in their names at once." The clergyman, who was deaf, supposing that the clerk was giving out the hymn book notice, immediately arose and said: "And I want to say for the benefit of those who haven't any, that they may be obtained from me any day between three and four o'clock, the ordinary little ones at fifteen cents, and the special ones with red backs at twenty-five cents each."

Little Bobby had been praying earnestly for a little sister, but as time passed with no fulfillment of his petition, he became somewhat discouraged and ceased praying.

Shortly afterward he was called into his mother's room to welcome two little sisters (twins). Gazing thoughtfully at them for a few moments, he said:

"Well, it's a good thing I stopped praying when I did."

Give Thanks For Good Health, Says Department Head

AUSTIN, Texas, Nov. 26—The first Thanksgiving Day was proclaimed for the purpose of giving thanks for the colonists' health that had allowed them to survive the first rigorous year in America. Dr. John W. Brown, State Health Officer, asks that citizens of Texas give thought to their own health at this season of the year.

Although we have experienced one of the longest depressions in history, the people have retained their health to a remarkable degree. Last year Texas was one of the few states to show a further decline in deaths among infants. During the last fifty years departments have been established for the purpose of preventing disease. While their activities have been hampered by a lack of funds, a great improvement in the general health has resulted. During this period the life of the average person has been increased by fifteen years. In other words a baby born now is expected to live fifteen years longer than if he had been born in 1885.

So let each give thanks for the

Tho They Had Plenty of Money, Texas Colonists of 1820's Faced Depression, With Goods Not Available For Purchase

Stephen Austin Found Conditions Deplorable As Colony Planned

AUSTIN, Nov. 27—A depression, but not one created by the same misfortunes that have fostered the one of the last few years, greeted Stephen F. Austin when he visited the Mexican settlement in Texas on his first trip to that province. For the people of that region were not troubled with over-production and inadequate income. Instead, they had plenty of money, but there were no commodities for which they could spend it.

In his first trip to San Antonio and in his subsequent explorations, Austin traversed the region now covered by twenty-three counties, records in the Austin Papers and in the Bexar Archives, both of which collections are kept in the Library of The University of Texas, show. He found that there were only two small villages in this vast region—San Antonio and Goliad—with a total population of 2,516 inhabitants.

Nacogdoches, which had been a town of over a thousand population before the filibustering expeditions of 1812, 1817 and 1819, was now a deserted village. The missions near San Antonio and La Bahia were either deserted or poorly managed and in a deplorable state of dilapidation. Because of government restrictions on trade with the United States, and since the sources of supply—Monterrey, Saltillo, Vera Cruz—were so inaccessible, Spanish Texans were living in a most wretched condition. Austin found that they had an abundance of money, but there was nothing for them to buy with it. The ever present Indian menace had increased in proportion to the depopulation of Spaniards. Governor Martinez realized that the province of Texas had to be populated at any cost.

Therefore when Moses Austin, and later his son, initiated a movement to colonize Texas, Governor Martinez did everything in his power to aid the colonization scheme. He recognized Stephen F. Austin as the legal successor to his father. He gave Austin leave to explore the province and furnished him guides and other help.

On October 12, 1821, Austin wrote a letter from Natchitoches to Governor Martinez, giving an account of his exploration and the boundaries of the proposed colony. This letter is found in the Austin Papers kept in the archives of The University of Texas. A translation of this letter follows:

"To Don Antonio Martinez, governor of the province of Texas:

"I have the honor to report to Your Lordship my arrival here with my companions on the first of this month. I shall now give Your Lordship an account of my trip.

"At La Bahia I hired a guide and three Jaraname Indians for one peso per day. They traveled with me for a week. However, seeing that they were not helping me any because they were not acquainted with the terrain, I paid them for the time they had been with me and sent them home. I explored the Guadalupe River down to its mouth. Then I explored its banks hoping to find the site of the old presidio of La Bahia, but I could not find it. The land which I have selected for the new colony is situated on the Colorado and Brazos rivers and the territory between these two rivers from their mouths in the Gulf to a line six leagues above the upper San Antonio road. The boundaries I request for the colony that I intend to establish in that province are as follows: Beginning at the mouth of La Vaca River, up the river to its source, and continuing along the hills which divide the Guadalupe and Colorado rivers, to a line six leagues above the upper San Antonio road. Thence a line parallel with the aforesaid road running east to the hills dividing the Brazos and San Jacinto rivers; thence a straight line along the hills to the sea. I have not been able to select a site for a town or seaport. In order to do this more accurately, as soon as possible I shall sail from New Orleans and explore the coast to the mouth of the Guadalupe River. From there I shall go by land and report to Your Lordship any observations that I may have made, for your resolution. I have permitted some of the families now living in Nacogdoches—where they were settled by Don Basmo Seguin—to move to the district I have outlined above. I have given this permission only to those who have furnished affidavits of good character. I have promised them land in accordance with the plan I proposed to Your Lordship, with the only difference that I have not promised to give them town lots; I have decreased the acreage given to unmarried men and have increased the allotment given them for children and slaves. I have given each head of a family one square mile or 640 acres; a woman receives only half this amount, or 320 acres; each child receives one-fourth, or 160 acres; and each slave one-eighth, or 80 acres. The land will be given the settlers in two sections; one of them will be set aside for grazing stock. This manner of distributing land is more acceptable to people of means, and it is more like the system they are accustomed to in the United States. The amount of land given them is almost the same as what I suggested during my visit to San Antonio, but it is divided in a different way. Since farmers could not, at the same time, settle on farms and town lots, the result would be that no towns could be founded. Therefore, I have reserved town lots for mechanics, merchants, and others who may wish to settle in them.

"Over fifty families have asked me for leave to move from Nacogdoches and its surroundings to the interior of the province in the months of November and December. Since I will not be able to go with them yet, I have appointed Don Tomas Novell, of Nacogdoches, to lead them and to see that they are well located and that there are no misunderstandings among them. In order that they may not scatter out too much, I have assigned them the territory between the Colorado and Brazos rivers and between the San Antonio and Bahia roads. The reason for selecting that stretch of territory is that it is beyond the reach of the Carancahuases and Comanche Indians; and, besides, it is located in the territory where buffalo are found, and these will serve for the sustenance of the new colonists. It is much more healthful than the coast; and, since it is between the two highways, immigration to it will be made easier.

"After I select a site for the port I shall establish the colony near it. In the meantime those who are already settled will raise their crops and help the others through until next fall.

"I think it necessary to appoint one of these settlers to serve as justice of the peace. I have appointed (pending your approval) Don Jose Dell to this office, and I have instructed him to give Your Lordship frequent reports of everything he may observe. Dell was my neighbor for a long time in Upper Louisiana, and he has always had the reputation of an honest man. He has a family of his wife, two children, and three negro slaves.

"I hope Your Lordship will approve the steps I have taken.

"I am your most obedient servant,

Stephen Austin.

"P.S. I expect to be in San Antonio in January. From there I shall go to the new colony to help settle these families, who will, by that time, have arrived there."

Although Austin's colonizing scheme was well under way, many difficulties commenced to appear with the advent of the new government, for I turbid was now assuming the role of emperor of Mexico.

A number of Ozona football fans are reported preparing to attend the T.C.U.-S.M.U. football classic of the nation in Fort Worth next Saturday.

To Those Contemplating Taking Advantage of the

SPLIT TAX Payment Plan

State and county taxes for 1935 are now due and payable.

Citizens who feel that they will not be able to pay their taxes in full before the end of the present tax-paying period, should take advantage of the SPLIT-PAYMENT plan whereby half of the taxes may be paid on or before NOVEMBER 30 and the other half on or before June 30, 1936, without penalty.

However, your particular attention is called to the fact that the law provides that in order to take advantage of the split-payment plan, the first half taxes

MUST BE PAID ON OR BEFORE NOVEMBER, 30, 1935.

Today- We Are

THANKFUL

On this day of Thanksgiving let us not be forgetful of the many blessings that we have received in the past year.

A year ago we were entering a winter of hardships and ranchmen were spending the earnings of a lifetime for feed.

We had seen great dust storms and there was no grass.

Today we live in a land where there is plenty of grass—plenty of rain.

We thank our many friends and customers of Ozona for their friendship and patronage and we pledge ourselves to give you the same—or better service and quality in the future than in the past.

Let us this day bow our heads in humble thanksgiving as did our forefathers three hundred years ago.

The bride wore a corsage of gardenias and lillies of the valley.

An informal reception followed the ceremony. After the bride had cut the wedding cake, the wedding party and guests were served coffee and cake. Assisting in the serving were Miss Lola Taylor and Miss Christine Viles. The serving table held four yellow tapers in silver holders, and yellow chrysanthemums and fern tastefully arranged.

The young couple left shortly before noon on a wedding trip. They will return in a few days to make their home here. Mr. James has been in business here for several years, recently changing the location of his business to the Perner lot just west of Flowers Grocery. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. K. James, pioneer residents of Sonora. He was graduated from the A. & M. College of Texas in 1930.

Mrs. James has been employed as saleslady and bookkeeper at the Lemmons Dry Goods Co. here for the last two and a half years. She was graduated from Ozona High School in 1929 and attended Sul Ross College in Alpine one year. She will continue her position with the dry goods firm.

Eldorado Eagles Take To Air To Win Over Lions

Locals Drop Final Encounter Of Season By 20-6 Count

After taking the lead in the opening period on a series of line plays that netted a touchdown, with Brown carrying the final spurt to the pay dirt, Coach Ted White's Ozona Lions were counted out under a dazzling aerial attack loosed by the flashy Eldorado Eagles in the final conference game of the season for both teams and the closing contest for the 1935 season of the locals, played in Eldorado Saturday afternoon.

Trailing 6 to 0, the Eagles uncorked their passing attack in the second period. One of these heaves, Spurges to Kerr, was received on the 15, Kerr dashing the remaining distance for the evening counter. Hext was good in his try or the extra point from placement and the Eagles led by one point at the half.

The Eagle aerial attack continued in the third period. P. Davis flung one in that frame to Spurges who lateraled to Hext and Hext went 45 yards to the six before being downed. M. Davis ploughed the line for the marker. The try for point was wide.

The Schleicher crew went one more touchdown up in the fourth chukker, again via the pass route. Spurges pitched one to Moore for ten yards in the flat zone and Moore crossed the goal marker untouched. Hext again kicked the point.

Aside from the successful passing attack waged by the winning Eagles, the Eldorado crew had hard going against the stubborn Lion defense on line plays. The locals waged a determined campaign, but the Eagle aerial circus was too much for them.

Total Of Employed For Dist. 19 To Date Is Near 500 Mark

SAN ANGELO, Tex., Nov. 26—Jobs for approximately 200 relief workers were made available during the past week in District 19, according to information released today by John C. Burnside, district director. Added to the number of workers at work before this time on district projects in the eleven counties which comprise the district, the total of workers receiving wages from the Works Progress Administration program nears the 500 mark.

Projects in Irion, Tom Green and Crockett Counties were started during the past week with approximately 26 workers gaining employment in Irion County on the improvement of City street in Jertson, while improvement of roads in precinct one, Tom Green County, gave jobs to about 30 relief workers, and Crockett County cases were aided to extent of placing 15 workers, which included all workers available on relief cases.

Playground and recreation project in Tom Green county added 15 workers to the steadily growing list of placements and additional workers in the Tom Green County Sewing Room mounted to the total by approximately 75. Other minor placements in Tom Green County made up the total of about 200 workers.

Reports from active projects in Pecos, Tom Green, Irion, Crockett and Upton Counties have been satisfactory and district officials are finding response from county officials equal to emergency of meeting demands, for placing workers.
