Lamb May Weigh 100 Pounds At 4 Months Old

Robison Grooms Unusual Animal For Rodeo Showing

A registered Rambouillet lamb, four months old and weighing a hundred pounds is the ambition of Miller Robison, young Crockett County rancher.

He is well along toward the realization of that ambition with the lamb that balanced the scale at 90 pounds yesterday at the age of 169 days. Five days before the animal weighed 92 pounds, but the last several days of very hot weather has made it difficult to maintain the peak level.

The lamb, out of a registered Rambouillet ewe from the George Adams flock at Eldorado and by the V. I. Pierce flock of this county, was born March 4 at one month old weighed 40 pounds. In its lifetime, the lamb gained and lost a total of 24 pounds.

Robison hopes to have the lamb weighing 100 pounds by July when it will be four months old. Plans to exhibit the unusual animal during the rodeo and stock show here next week.

VISITOR

Woodrow Wilson, cadet second class at U. S. Military Academy in West Point and a former Ozonian, arrived here this week for a visit with his father, Lee Wilson, local Buick and Pontiac dealer. Cadet Wilson has made an inviolable record at West Point, both in scholastic work and in athletics. He has climbed steadily toward a berth on the first string Army football team next fall. Illness last winter cut short his participation in grid contests but spring practice saw him in the first string line-up in a wingback position. Wilson has a ten-week absence which he will spend visiting in various parts of Texas.

Saturday: Texon at Crane, Iraan at McCamey. Sunday: Reverse

The combined Sutton-Crockett crew, playing under the official designation as Station A, topped out in first-half Permian Basin league play the past week-end with a brilliant finish to put them far in the lead of the other four contending teams for first half honors. The twin city team, appearing in their final game of the first half, crushed the third-place Texon Oilers of Snipe Conley in both sessions of the week-end engagements, 7-1 at Texon Saturday and 9-0 Sunday at Sonora.

Meanwhile, the second place Crane Gulfers were victimized by the up and coming Iraan Oilers in a pair for the week-end, to drop to a bare one-game lead over the Texon and Iraan crews, tied for third place.

The final games of the first half this week-end find Crane and Texon battling it out for second place, with Iraan taking on McCamey and a chance to tie for second place with either Texon or Crane. Texon must win both games off Crane to finish ahead of the Gulfers and Iraan can tie with a double win over McCamey. Should Texon and Crane split and Iraan win both games, the latter can tie Crane for second place honors.

The Ozona-Sonora nine took a three-run lead in the opening (Continued on last page.)

Parents Warned To Avoid Taking Children To S. A.

Infantile Paralysis Outbreak In City Is Reason

A warning to residents of Ozona and Crockett County against taking children to San Angelo during the present outbreak of poliomyelitis (infantile paralysis) was issued this week by Dr. H. B. Tandy, county health officer.

Two deaths have been reported from the disease in that city and a number of other cases have developed. San Angelo physicians have declared in statements through the public press that the disease outbreak has not reached epidemic proportions yet, but warn against taking children to public gatherings. The disease is transmitted chiefly by personal contact and for this reason parents are urged to keep children away from any possible communication with the source of infection.

"The disease is too serious to take any chance, or risk even the remotest possibility of contracting it," Dr. Tandy said. "The safest thing would be to avoid taking children into the city until the outbreak has completely subsided."

RACE HORSES ARRIVING AS MEET NEARS

Managers Looking For One Of Best Cards In Years

PLANS PERFECTED

Greatest Crowd In History Expected For Show Next Week

Stables at the Crockett County fair grounds began to fill up gradually this week as date for the tenth annual Crockett County Rodeo, Race Meet, Stock Show and Sale nears. More than a dozen race horses have already been quartered at the grounds, going through the daily rounds of training and conditioning in preparation for the meet next week.

With the extensive improvements on the local track, completed recently, and advance notice received by meet officials from race horse owners who plan to bring their mounts here, the race card at next week's show gives promise of being one of the best in local history, according to officials. The track was recently lengthened and all curves widened and banked. The circle was also made more nearly level with excavation of the south end and pulling of dirt to the lower side of the track. The improvement should serve to speed up the races considerably.

Pots and pans are being shined up, bread knives whetted and fire wood stored this week in preparation for the job of making ready to feed the thousands who will flock here for the three-day entertainment. Barbecue by the hand of the master, R. J. Cooke, again will be the delicacy served visitors each day at noon in the city park.

The show grounds will take on festive air early next week with the coming of the Texas Kid Carnival Company, which is scheduled to be here all week, featuring free dog and pony show nightly.

SIX STEPS TO RUIN

Unless the constantly widening gap between government income and outgo is closed, writes Roger W. Babson, one of the outstanding American economists, six financially ruinous consequences will result:

"First, continued deficits ultimately lead to fear of government credit.

"Second, unsound public credit means unwillingness to lend the government money to pay its bills.

"Third, the treasury is forced to print paper money to pay its deficits.

"Fourth, the paper money falls like a meteor in value as prices shoot sky-high.

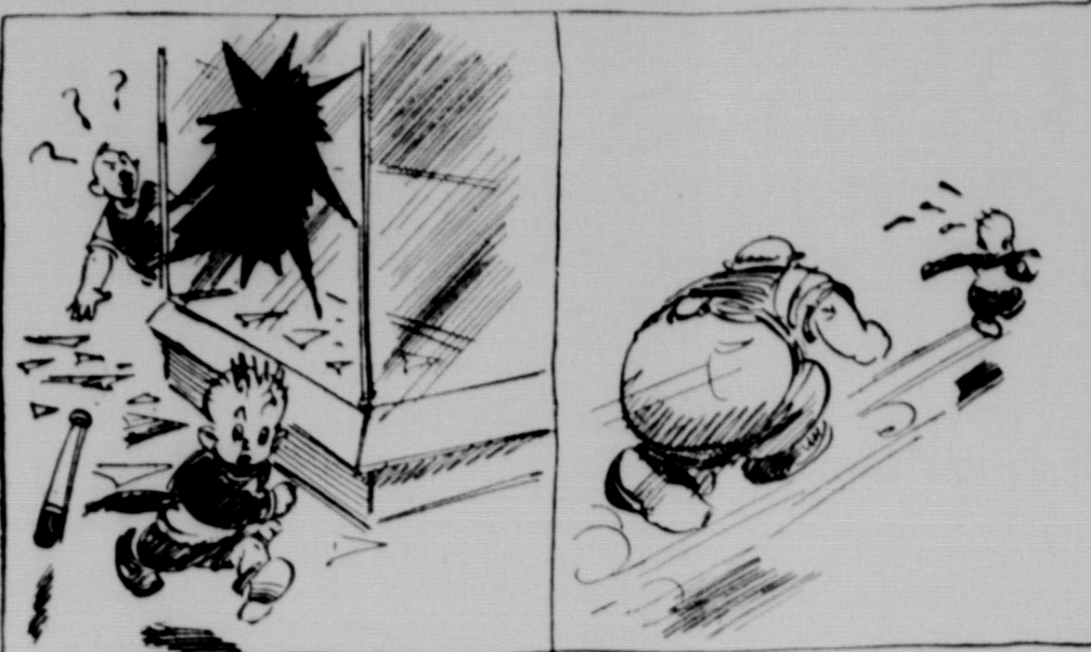

"Fifth, the buying power of salaries, wages, savings accounts, insurance policies, and bonds drops to practically nothing.

"Sixth, the ruined, starving middle-class take the reins of government by force to bring order out of chaos."

Mr. Babson does not think it too late to put the government's financial house in order, but quick action is essential. On a per-person basis Federal expenses since 1860 have increased from $2 to $55 a year. The average American family of five has an income of $1,700. It owes as its share of the soaring national debt, $1,375. In addition to owing this debt it must pay $275 annually in Federal taxes alone. Only an aggressive public demand for retrenchment and a balanced budget can save us from the "six steps to ruin" Mr. Babson describes.

BRANCHING OUT

The vast oil industry of Texas is primarily dependent upon the widespread use of the automobile for its welfare, but not entirely. Its ramifications are many. There is kerosene for cooking and for lighting; there are the industrial lubricants, ranging from heavy greases to special oils so carefully refined you could use them in a salad dressing if you chose; there are numerous specialties for the home and car—from body polishes to window cleaners; there are fuel oils, diesel oils, spray oils for fruit trees—the list is endless. And almost daily, the engineers, the chemists, the whole army of the oil industry's technicians are adding to it . . . It's a far cry these days from the "coal oil" can with a potato on its spout.

The Humble Company keeps abreast of all the new developments. Its Baytown refinery is one of the largest, most up-to-date, in the world. But Humble technicians still leave no stone unturned in their day-to-day efforts to improve the products you buy under the Humble sign.

Careful Breeding Culling Urged For Finer Wool Clips

95 Percent Texas Crop Is Fine Wool, Says A.-M. Expert

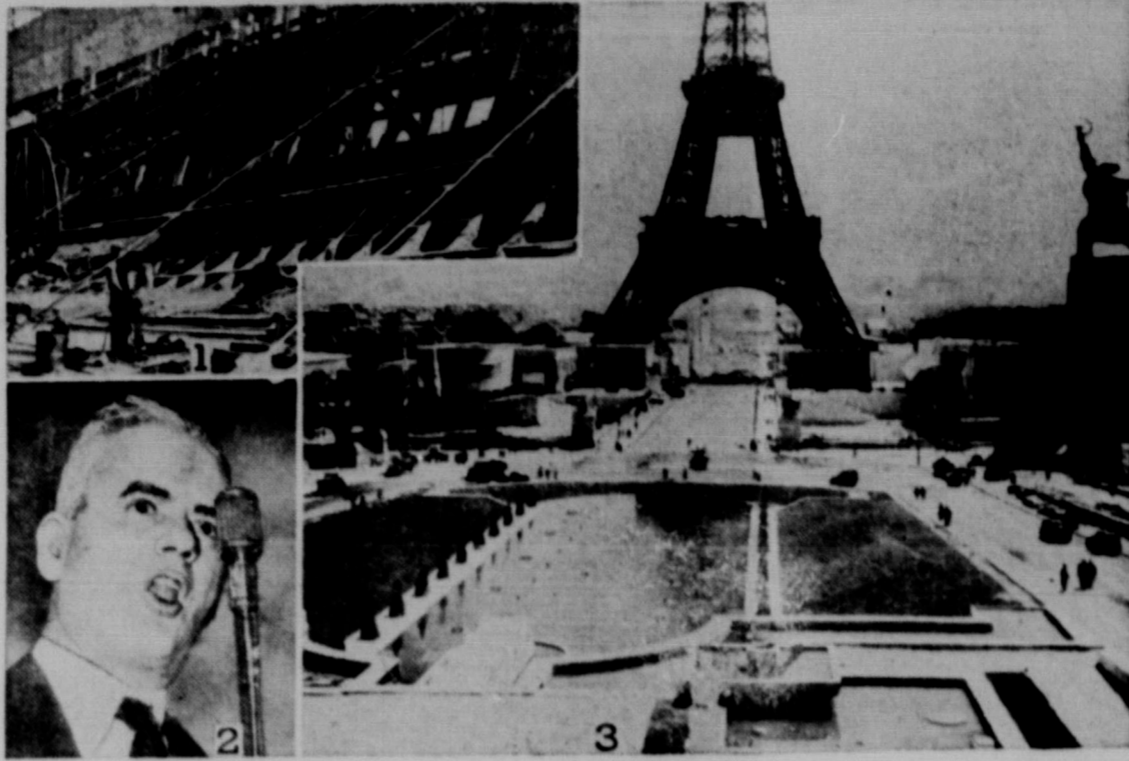

By A. D. Jackson
A. & M. College

About 95 per cent of the Texas wool clip is fine wool produced by the Rambouillet and Merino breed of sheep and classed as 64's and up. This high percentage of the some 66 million pounds annual clip commands the respectful attention of wool buyers so that no very serious marketing problems have confronted Texas wool producers. In talking with J. M. Jones Chief, Division of Range Animal Husbandry of the Texas Station, I learned the following interesting facts. This large annual offering of high class Texas fine wool can not be said to be the finest wool in the world. In fact, Australian wool producers at the present time are said to produce some of the choicest fleeces. This, however, is due to their having processed with systematic selection over a long term of years, always introducing the finest sires they could find. In this respect, the Texas wool producers have also made considerable progress and some of the finest breeding animals to be found are among the fine Texas flocks. Another point, however, in which the Australian wool producers have succeeded in impressing the wool buyers is in the systematic and skillful manner in which the fleeces are skirted and classified before being placed on the market. While some of this sorting and classing is done on the Texas ranges, it is in general left up to the purchasers who are able to take the large quantities of fairly uniform offering and sort and clean and classify them in line with their needs.

Criticize Length

At the present time one of the outstanding criticisms of Texas

Scenes and Persons in the Current News

fine wools is that it is sent to market in rather uneven lengths of staple. There is demand for larger amounts of fine combing wool 2½ inches and over in length. Upon length of staple depends the strength of the yarn to be spun and there is much less waste in spinning of the longer fibres. Fineness of fibre is also necessary in order to enable the spinner to produce yarn of the requisite number of counts. In general, fineness in the fine wool breeds to a certain degree is an indicator of good breeding, but there is possibility of a condition known as over-fineness of fibre. With quality of fiber properly cared for, the average yield of scoured wool per head is of great importance. Experiments on the Texas Station have shown that certain sheep produced in a 12 months growing period about 5 pounds of clean fleece as against 2.87 pounds produced by another group. This shows that the wool producer can greatly increase his salable wool by selecting animals that shear high yields and it is obvious that having got high yields along with good length and fineness of staple, as well as uniformly high quality in fibers, the sheep that deliver these desirable features become very valuable for use as breeding animals from which to develop more desirable flocks.

Many of our western wool growers are proud to draw the attention of visitors or friends to the presence of a few of their fleeces and strongest bodied ewes in their flocks while at the same time they maintain an apologetic attitude with reference to the presence of a number of off type and poorly fleeced individuals which very naturally lower the annual wool production both as to quality and quantity. They need to do some vigorous culling.

Select Type Carefully

Constitution and type should be given the first consideration by the breeders who are attempting to raise the standards of their flocks. In the selection of the sires and dams or in the culling of the off type individuals from the flocks, breeders should bear in mind that there is a certain standard of excellence which should be maintained among the members of the ewe flock as well as by the rams. A ram should show masculinity while the ewe should display a fair degree of refinement without any tendency toward weakness. The ram should be masculine, commanding, and active. The head should be well set on, being neither too large nor too small but proportionate to the size of the body. The forehead should be slightly arched and broad between the eyes; eyes should be bright and prominent with determined expression. The face should be of moderate length, with a full slightly rounded nose, covered with fine silky hair; muzzle well developed, nostrils open, wide and thick; neck of medium size, well rounded and muscular, tapering gradually from the head to the shoulders. The chest should be straight without any deficiency immediately back of the withers; back strong, ribs broad, and not too drooping, tail well set on, hind quarters well rounded and muscular to hock, legs of medium length, straight, wide apart and well set under body. The hoofs of the fine wool breeds should be of a clear amber or honey color and free from any black streaks. The foregoing description could in a general way be applied to representative breeding ewes; however, breeders recognize that members of the ewe flocks should be more highly developed in the hind quarters than are the rams which have more strongly developed fronts.

Obviously, in addition to adding to the herd breeding animals that possess the proper qualities, it is a profitable practice to cull out as rapidly as possible the faulty animals. This culling is more effective when weighing the fleeces is practiced. Some of the faults that justify culling are:

1. All sheep that are undersized or possess weak constitutions.
2. Sheep that are off type, that is, those possessing long legs out of proportion to their size, weak backs, over-shot or under-shot jaws, etc.

3. Sheep producing light frowzy wool lacking in density.

4. Sheep producing wool with too much variation in the size and length of fibers.

5. Fine wool sheep producing patches of black wool on any part of the body.

6. All those producing kempy hairs. Such hairs are likely to be found about the face, fore-legs and thighs. Kemp is a separate and distinct fiber from the so-called "beard" hair which is frequently found on the folds or breech. This beard hair, as it is sometimes designated, is also very objectionable.

Some Australian and Wyoming wool growers who are not qualified to classify their own flocks employ sheep classing specialists who are thoroughly efficient and familiar with the various kinds of wool produced by the flocks and with the class of wool in greatest demand. These classers are also good judges of sheep and are helpful in culling the flock. Texas growers can no doubt profit by similar procedure.

Children And Friends Stage Surprise Birthday Party For "Mother" Hoover On Occasion Of Her 75th Anniversary

Roadside Park is Scene Of Gathering In Honor Of Crockett Pioneer

The roadside park east of Ozona was the site chosen for the surprise birthday picnic for Mother Hoover, given by her children and friends, last Thursday afternoon. The occasion was the seventy-fifth birthday anniversary for the pioneer Crockett resident.

The group gathered at the park at sunset and the honoree was brought to the scene for an enjoyable evening. Barbecue for the occasion was prepared by Pat Lee, who, according to participants, made good his boast that he was "the only one who could prepare meat good enough for Mammy." The menu consisted of fat kid goat barbecued to perfection, turkey pie created by Mrs.

A. C. Hoover, fresh green beans as Mrs. Lee's "special," potato salad, pickles, iced tea, coffee and birthday cake.

The birthday cake was a "masterpiece" formed by Hartley Johnson, baker at the Ozona Bakery. The huge tiered cake was topped with a basket of roses, and was elaborately decorated with intricate designs all fashioned from icing. Radio entertainment consisted of cowboy songs and music was enjoyed by the group.

Sharing with Mother Hoover in the day's honors was her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Brock Hoover, whose birthday falls on the same day. Present for the occasion were Mother Hoover, "Aunt Tenny" Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Brock Hoover, "Hop" Hoover, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hoover, Armond Hoover, Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Kinser, Jeane and Hallie D.

Kinser, Howard Graves, Laura Graves, Mr. and Mrs. Pat Lee, Annie Lee, Dock Lee, Drew Mc-Inteer, and Mrs. A. E. Deland.

North Motor Co. Ozona, Texas

In this column answers will be given to inquiries as to Texas history and other matters pertaining to the State and its people. Address inquiries to Will H. Mayes, Austin, Texas.

Q. Why did Santa Anna and his men go to New Washington just before the Battle of San Jacinto?

A. Two reasons have been given, one that his army was much in need of Texas supplies stored there which he secured for the relief of his half-starved men; the other that he thought Houston's forces were in retreat to safety beyond the Sabine and he (Santa Anna) hoped to negotiate with the owner of a coastal vessel for his return to Mexico via Vera Cruz. When he reached there he learned that the vessel had that day been captured by a Texas schooner, so he turned inland to avoid the scattered Mexican army.

Q. Where is Padre Island and to whom does it belong?

A. It is a narrow sand-formed strip of land 120 miles long along the Texas coast between Corpus Christi and Brownsville. Private parties claim ownership under a Spanish grant confirmed by the Texas legislature in 1852 to "eleven and one-half leagues called Padre Island," but the island now contains nearly three times that amount of land.

Q. What are the defects in the Hall of State on the exposition grounds at Dallas and where has the responsibility for them been placed?

A. The lower floor has been flooded through seepage or faulty plumbing, one wing of the structure has perceptibly settled, as has part of the paved plaza in front of the building, and the expensive murals have blistered in places. If the responsibility for these conditions has been fixed, it has not been made public.

Q. How and when were William H. and John A. Wharton captured and imprisoned in Mexico?

A. When William H. Wharton was returning on the Independ-

Sons of Diamond Daddies Good at Baseball

These four stalwarts of the University of Florida baseball team ought to be pretty good at the national pastime—if there is anything in the theory of heredity. All are sons of famous major league fathers, whose names were household words a few years ago. Left to right are Ed Manning, twenty, son of Ed Manning, former pitcher for the St. Louis Browns; Lee Meadows, Jr., nineteen, son of Lee Meadows, old Pittsburgh Pirates mound ace; Jimmy Shotton, seventeen, son of Bert Shotton, a former St. Louis Cardinal, and Wilbur White, nineteen, whose father once played third for the Chicago White Sox.

dence in April, 1837, from service as commissioner from Texas to Washington, the vessel was captured by two Mexican brig-of-war, and Wharton was taken to Matamoros and imprisoned. John A. Wharton went to Matamoros to exchange Mexican prisoners and secure release of his brother, but was thrown into a dungeon there, from which he escaped after six days. In the meantime, William H. Wharton had escaped and returned to Texas.

Q. How much money does the Federal Government expect to spend in maintaining Big Bend National Park, if it acquires and how many visitors reasonably may be expected?

A. About $225,000 annually, according to Herbert Maier, of the National Park Service, who says that on the basis of patronage of other National Parks, Big Bend Park should draw 125,000 tourists annually. Tourists traveling or camped in parks spend an average of about $4.00 a day, and many spend several days sight-seeing in the large parks. Big Bend should have a big travel appeal.

Q. Where did Gov. Allred's ancestors settle in Texas?

A. Gov. Allred's grandparents came to Texas nearly a century ago and lived in what is known as the "Cherry Mound" community in Grayson county, where they died and were buried.

Q. What is the average expenditure of Texas for prisoners in the penitentiary?

A. The last report showed an annual expenditure of $231.37 per prisoner for the 6,050 prisoners then confined in the system.

Q. Was Pres. M. B. Lamar related to L. Q. C. Lamar of Georgia?

A. They were brothers.

Q. Why did Mexico, though quick to repudiate Santa Anna's Texas treaty, delay efforts for the reconquest of Texas?

A. S. Rhoads Fisher, who had spectacularly commanded the volunteers when the American schooner Hannah Elizabeth, which had been taken as a prize by the Mexican warship, Bravo, was taken in Matagorda Bay, Dec. 19, 1835.

Q. How did Secretary of War and Navy Fisher incite the ire of President Houston, resulting in his discharge?

A. By going with Commodore H. L. Thompson on a cruise off the Mexican coast in June, 1837, without consent of Houston and knowing he would not approve it. The Senate refused to impeach Fisher, but expressed a wish that he resign because "the breach between him and his excellency is such that it could not be for the interest of our common country that he should retain the station."

Q. What caused the Rio Grande River canyon in the Big Bend section of Texas?

A. Walter P. Webb, historian of the National Park Service, who recently made a tour of inspection of the river channel thinks it was brought about by an earthquake ages ago.

Q. What is antimony and where is it smelted?

A. It is silver-white crystalline product used as a stiffener and hardener for lead alloys and has many industrial and military uses. The only antimony smelted in the United States is at Laredo, Texas, built in 1930, much of the raw material coming from Mexico, Bolivia and China.

Q. What humiliating feature of the capture of the Texas warship Independence by the Mexicans prompted Secretary S. Rhoads Fisher to seek to recapture it?

A. On board the Independence when it was captured, was a cannon that the Texans had taken at San Jacinto a year before. This highly prized war trophy had engraved on it initials of many leading Texas ladies.

Q. When and how did Houston first learn that Santa Anna was in the vicinity of New Washington and Morgan's Point in personal command of a part of his army?

A. About dark on April 18, Deaf Smith returned from a reconnoiter on the west side of Buffalo Bayou with two captured Mexicans, one of whom bore a message from Gen. Filisola at Fort Bend to Santa Anna. From these Houston learned of the burning of Harrisburg, and that Santa Anna had gone down the west side of the bayou toward Morgan's Point. He knew, then, that Santa Anna had passed over Vince's Bayou bridge, the probable route of communication with Filisola's forces, or of an attempt at escape in case of Santa Anna's defeat.

Rats Cause Loss Fifteen Millions

Austin, June 23—Texas sustained a fifteen million dollar loss last year, on account of rats, declared Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer. The figure is a very low estimate based upon the probable number of rats in the state, two for each person. No doubt many suffer losses that would pay their taxes, and this does not take into consideration the losses from disease, time, and money, caused by the rat.

Typhus fever is on the increase in Texas, said Dr. Cox, and the rat is the cause of its spread. Old world typhus fever has a high death rate, while the type we have in Texas, sometimes called Brill's disease, has a low death rate. It occurs among persons who work and live in rat infested buildings. It was the observation of this fact that led to the discovery that rats are carriers or transmitters of the disease. It appears that the rat suffers attacks of this form of typhus fever and that the fleas harbored by the sick rat bite man and thus human infection results.

Although this disease is not commonly fatal, it cannot be considered lightly. The intense headache, the high fever and the great mental depression are its most unpleasant features. Like in sea sickness, the patient's greatest fear is that he is not going to die. The illness lasts about two weeks.

Don't Dese Collich Boys Git Yer Ninny Wit Sich Langwich?

Fort Worth, June 23—"Aw, ditch that goon and bring your squaw along to the courtin' hall; you've been truckin' with!"

The speaker is just a Texas Christian University student who is well versed in the idiom of everyday campus life.

A "goon," in T. C. U. parlance, is a co-ed who "runs after" a boy. A "squaw" is any girl. The "courtin' hall" is the library. To "scratch" is to eliminate from the running a rival for a girl's affections. Any boy who studies hard is a "puff." To "go truckin'" is to attend a dance.

Campus Romeos have a wide vocabulary to apply to co-eds. A pretty girl is a "queen." "Heart-beat" is the one-and-only; "skirt" a fair-to-middling looker; and "pig," a girl who is a prude or a "heel."

The girls also make their contributions to college slang. Their boy friends are "steadies," even if they are forced to share their attentions with another. A good-looking boy is "choice"; one they dislike, a "rat." And any boy who loses his head over a girl who doesn't care for him is a "chump." Any boy or girl who does things that are out of the ordinary or not accepted is an out-and-out "screwball."

Mariner Plans Sea Cruise in Tub

Ernest Biegajski of Buffalo, N. Y., evidently believes in safety first, for he has put on a life preserver before hoisting sail and moving out into Lake Erie in his remodeled pickle barrel schooner in which he plans to go to Europe this summer if present experiments prove successful. This is the second such boat he has built with his soldier's bonus money. The 1936 model leaked so badly that only the timely arrival of the coast guard prevented its maiden voyage from turning into a tragedy.

Midland To Open '8-Day Race Meet Friday, June 25

Midland, June 23 — An eight day race meet, the last to be staged at Midland Downs and perhaps the last meet to be staged in Texas before the pari-mutuel wagering repeal takes effect, will get underway here on Friday afternoon, June 25, and will close on Saturday afternoon, July 3, the race meet being staged by Ford Corkran and associates who have leased the local race track from Midland Fair, Inc. Corkran, who has been identified with most of the minor meets staged in Texas during the past three years, assumes full liability for purses and expenses, according to Midland Fair officials.

The races will start at two o'clock each afternoon, at least eight races being carded for each session. Excellent purses are being offered and one of the most successful meets ever staged here is anticipated.

Race horses started arriving here the first of this week, approximately 300 of the finest race horses of the Southwest being expected for the eight day meet. Between 150 and 200 horses were brought here from Pampa where Corkran concluded a race meet last Saturday. He is very enthusiastic over the meet and the type of horses that will participate. Race fans of West Texas are assured plenty of fast horses and an outstanding race meet, according to Corkran.

tion committee, announcing the name of the Christoval duchess and her escort, Miss Viola Harris, secretary of the Christoval Commercial Club, wrote, "They are looking forward with a great deal of enthusiasm to a grand time. Thanks to you for this invitation and we sincerely trust your program will be the biggest and best ever."

"I have never been to Ozona in my life, and I don't know a soul there; nevertheless I am eagerly anticipating my visit," writes Miss June Jordan, duchess from Brady. "We shall have a marvelous time, I know."

Spirited voting is reported in the contest to name the Queen of the Rodeo. The names of twelve Ozona girls have been placed in nomination and voting places have been provided in both drug stores here.

Today marks the close of local balloting. At the closing hour of the drug stores this evening, the contest will come to its official close and the boxes will be taken up for counting of ballots by a disinterested committee. The name of the Queen is not to be revealed and her identity kept secret until her presentation and coronation on a specially constructed stage in front of the grandstand Thursday evening of next week, the opening day of the celebration.

The twelve young ladies whose names have been placed in nomination for Queen are Misses Imogene Baker, Margaret Ella Drake, Dorothy Drake, Maggie Seahorn, Lillian Baggett, Mary Williams, Vicky Pierce, Carolyn Montgomery, Blanche Robison, Totsy Robison, Wayne Augustine, Athleen Dudley and Elizabeth Coose.

This group, excepting the one chosen for queen, will constitute the queen's ladies in waiting for the coronation. Following the presentation of visiting duchesses and ladies in waiting, and coronation of Her Majesty, the Queen, at colorful ceremonies in front of the grandstand, the Queen and her court will lead the grand march opening the first of the series of dances each evening during the rodeo on the fairgrounds platform.

frame at Texon Saturday, and the Oilers took up the margin a bit in their half of the opener with one run. After that, for five more innings at least, it was nip and tuck baseball. A double by Dorley and a triple by Marvin McLeod in the seventh, however, netted the locals another run. Three hits bunched in the eighth brought in another pair and an error and a hit in the ninth another. The locals touched Ritter for nine hits, while Crostwaite gave up eight, but kept them well scattered.

Sunday's game at Sonora was called in the last half of the eighth on account of rain. The twincity crew had gone into the inning leading 4 to 0. Texon had failed to score in their half of the eighth and the locals had pushed over 5 scores, had two men out and the bases full when the game was called. Bud Smith, chunking for the Pumpers, limited the Oilers to three hits.

Drivers who back from the curb to circle to the opposite side of the street to reverse the direction of their cars are also in for trouble if this practice is not stopped, Sheriff Willis said. These practices are a serious menace to traffic safety and must be stopped, the sheriff declared.

Delicate Spinal Operation May Restore Health Of Daughter Of Former Ozonons

Betty Cooke, Daughter Of Greene Cooke, Recovering After Remarkable Surgery

Betty Cooke, 5-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Greene Cooke of Sanderson, former Ozona residents, who recently underwent a spinal bone operation in a Dallas hospital which is described by hospital attaches as one of the most delicate and remarkable operations ever performed there, is on the road to recovery after three years of illness and suffering, according to word received Tuesday by R. J. Cooke, grandfather of the child.

The little girl was discovered suffering from tuberculosis of the spinal column three years ago. Long treatments finally arrested progress of the disease but not until great damage had been done to the bone. The operation performed in Dallas recently was to set a piece of bone, taken from the shinbone, into the area destroyed by disease to give sufficient strength to the spinal column and to promote natural repair of the damage.

The child was in a critical condition for several days after the operation, reports indicated, but is now well on the road to recovery. She was expected to be in condition to be able to return to her home in Sanderson the end of this week. Other children of the Greene Cooke family have been staying here with their grandparents while their parents were in Dallas with Betty.

Determine Order Of Amendments In August Balloting

Six Proposals Before Voters In Election August 23

Austin, June 21 — A constitutional amendment which would eliminate double liability for stockholders in state banks will have first place on the ballot when voters pass on six amendments August 23.

A drawing in the office of secretary of State Edward Clark today determined the order.

Place two went to the proposal to aid destitute children up to 14 years of age. The state could spend a maximum of $1,500,000 for this purpose, giving $8 a month for the first child of a family and not more than $12 for a family. The federal government would pay one-third of the cost of the program.

An amendment authorizing the legislature to abolish the salary system of remunerating district, county and precinct officers and revert to the fee plan in any county won place three.

That providing for a system of discount to encourage prompt pay ment of taxes went into place four, and one authorizing Harris County, after a vote of its residents, to levy a tax for support of a five-year road and bridge program annexed place five.

Last place on the ballot will be occupied by an amendment providing state aid, in cooperation with the federal government, to needy blind 21 years or older, who might receive $15 a month.

A seventh amendment will be voted on at the general election the duelling section of the constitutional oath.
