CROSTWAITE'S ONE-HIT MOUND WORK AT TEXON KEEPS OZORAS IN TOP HEAP OF LEAGUE RACE

Ozona-Sonora off week.
Three top teams in the Permian Basin league squared off into places in the first half struggle the past week-end when the Sonora-Ozona entry divided honors in a two-game series and the Iraan Oilers unexpectedly pounced on the champion Crane Gulfers for one of their two-game sessions.

Averages showed the Texon Oilers sitting on top of the league ladder in the percentage column, with only one loss out of six starts. The Ozona-Sonora Station A crew occupied a stable second place with two losses out of eight games, two games up on the other four teams in the struggle. The defending champion Cranes were well down in third place with two set-backs out of six starts. The heroic Iraan nine, playing uphill at the start of the season with injuries and shake-ups in the playing personnel, occupy fourth place with one win and five losses, while the McCamey Refiners are in the cellar with six straight losses.

One error in judgment, a pitch that slipped, or a lucky crack of the bat of Eddie McMillan, whichever way the fan might choose to judge it, cost "General" Al Crostwaite a perfectly pitched ball game at Texon Sunday afternoon in the veteran crossfire twirler's first appearance for the 1937 combined Sutton-Crockett county league entry.

With his teammates playing perfect ball behind him, the "General" blasted the Texon Oilers 4-1 in the Sunday afternoon encounter before the largest crowd of the season. The Oilers' lone hit and tally came in the seventh when McMillan punched a long high fly to left field, M. McLeod, patrolling the sun garden, had been pulled over out of position by Crostwaite, but one got away and the slugging Oiler dropped one out of reach of the fielder. McLeod in racing for the catch, outstretched himself and took a roll on the prairie, the big fellow crossing the plate with the tally before McLeod could right himself and retrieve the ball.

It was the first loss of the season for the Oilers, who the day before at Sonora had trampled the two town team by a count of 5 to 1.

After being nosed out by one score the day before, the Iraan Oilers came back Sunday to smack the Crane Gulfers 7-5 for their first win of the current season. C. LeMeilleux led the Oilers attack on pitcher Bob Osborn with two home runs and a double.

EMERGENCY OPERATION

Miles Pierce, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vic Pierce, underwent an emergency operation in a San Antonio hospital Monday night for appendicitis. The lad became ill Sunday night and was rushed to San Antonio the following day. His condition was found to be serious there and the operation was performed.

H. C. McCaleb, lineman for the West Texas Utilities Co. here, was able to be out yesterday after being confined to his home the last two weeks with an attack of measles. Mrs. McCaleb and their children have also been down with the disease.

EIGHTH WIN!

Crostwaite Has Finger On Texon Oilers; Lost Only Two Out Of Ten

When Sergeant Al Crostwaite was bottling up the powerful Texon Oilers with a single safe blow to humble the mighty Conleymen Sunday, he was enjoying his eighth victory over a team that has rode the championship pinnacle in these parts for many years until recently.

Starting with that memorable game on July 4, 1935, when he blanked the potent Oilers while his teammates were making five tallies, the sergeant has flung against the Oilers a total of ten games, winning eight of them and losing two. Both of the losses were by 2-0 scores, one a thirteen inning affair. In the other, both scores were made in the eighth inning. In those ten games, the Sniper's crew has been able to garner but an even dozen runs, while his teammates have gathered in 27.

With the Ozona Giants, the half season he played in 1935, Crostwaite won six games and lost four. Last season, he won 14 and lost 6, four of the losses being to Crane. He was able to turn back the Crane champs on two occasions.

Incidentally, it will be sad news to other teams in the Permian Basin loop to learn that the Randolph Field Sergeant is on a ninety-day furlough and will spend the summer here, doing his regular chores on the mound for the combined Ozona Sonora team.

Sophs Win Paper Contest For 3rd Successive Year

Fraction Of Point Divide Places In 'Lions Roar' Contest

For the third consecutive year, the Sophomore class of Ozona High School captured first place in the contest between the four high school classes on editorial excellence in production of class issues of "The Lions Roar," High School newspaper.

However, the winning editorial staff had but a slim margin of victory on which to base their boast of superiority. This was also true in other place winners. Sophomores took first place by the bare margin of one-third of a point. Judges scored the Sophomore edition at 79 points, while the Senior class was a close second with a score of 78 2/3. The Junior class was but one-third of a point behind the Seniors and two-thirds of a point behind the winners, their score standing at 78 1/3. Even fourth place winners, the Freshmen, were right up in the running with a score of 77 1/3.

The classes compete each year for the Joe Oberkamp silver loving cup for excellence in class editions of the school newspaper. As the score stands after this week's award of the prize, each of the three present upper classes in the school have won the award, the present Senior Class winning two years ago in their Sophomore year, the present Juniors last year in their Sophomore year and the Sophs this year.

The papers are judged by a committee of three judges on points of interest and appropriateness of news stories, general appearance of the paper, appearance and appropriateness of pictures, and the form in which stories are written. The final scores are arrived at by averaging the scores for each class found by the judges.

Change In Mail Schedule To Be Effective Sun.

Departure Set Up To 8:30 a. m.; Arrives Earlier

By reason of a change in railroad schedules on the Santa Fe system, a new schedule of mail service in to and from Ozona will become effective next Sunday morning. Postmaster J. R. Kersey announced this week.

A SUMMER WARNING

As the summer season approaches, a word of warning is timely to prospective campers, Boy Scouts, summer vacationists, fishermen, and others who enjoy getting out into the open, relative to the possible dangers that may be encountered from the standpoint of contracting infection under the changed environment. This is especially true of diseases that may be transmitted through food and water supplies.

Typhoid fever is a disease the amount of which is greatest, as a rule, where there is the least sanitation. It is an unnecessary and preventable disease. It is spread from person to person by water, milk, fingers, flies and food. Every case is contracted by taking into the mouth some substance contaminated with typhoid organisms, and these occur only in nature in the bowel and bladder discharges of persons sick with typhoid or from carriers, persons who have had typhoid and who after recovery still harbor the germs in their systems.

Persons planning a vacation or trip where sanitation may not be rigidly enforced or where food handlers are not regularly examined should protect themselves against this disease by being vaccinated. Three inoculations with typhoid vaccine, a week apart, are necessary to secure protection against this disease and the immunity established is good for two years. The purity of water or milk cannot be judged by looking at it. Play safe and have your doctor protect you.

Mr. and Mrs. N. E. Rendall will entertain members of the graduating class with a banquet at the Green Lantern tonight following commencement exercises in the High School auditorium.

McDonald Observatory On Mt. Locke Discovers "Galactic Light" In Stellar System With Photoelectric Instrument

82-Inch Reflector May Be Completed This Summer

Austin, May 19 — The McDonald Observatory of the University of Texas, in cooperation with the Yerkes Observatory of the University of Chicago, has recently discovered a faint milky glow which envelopes all the dark spaces between the stars in the galactic zone of the stellar system, according to Dr. Otto Struve, director of both observatories, McDonald Observatory being operated jointly by the two universities. Dr. Struve is now at the McDonald Observatory.

This interesting discovery is the result of three years of work by Doctors C. T. Elvey and F. E. Roach on top of Mt. Locke in the Davis Mountains of Texas. These astronomers used a delicate instrument—the photoelectric photometer—which was constructed in the shops of the Yerkes Observatory for use at the McDonald Observatory prior to the completion of its great 82-inch reflector, it was explained by Dr. Struve.

The "galactic light" discovered at Mt. Locke, had been predicted, several years ago, by Dr. Struve. His studies had indicated that the universe is filled with a fine dust which is faintly illuminated by the combined lights of all stars, as a band of fog may be illuminated by the lights of a city. The observational results are in complete agreement with his theory.

Parabolizing Mirror

"Dr. Elvey intends to continue his observations until the big reflector has been completed—which is now expected to take place some time in the summer," Dr. Struve continued. "The optical experts at the Warner and Swasey plant in Cleveland, Ohio, are now busy putting the final touches on the 82-inch Pyrex mirror for the McDonald Observatory. This final process in the manufacture of an astronomical mirror is called 'parabolizing.' The upper surface of the mirror is being polished in such a way that its cross section has the shape of a 'parabola.'

While this optical work is taking place in Cleveland, the astronomers of the two cooperating universities are making preparations for the observations of the stars which will begin immediately after the installation of the mirror. An accurate astronomical clock made by Riefler in Munich, Germany, has recently been purchased for the McDonald Observatory. This clock is operated from the electric current of a dry cell, which once every 30 seconds or so, transmits an impulse to a small brass weight. The pendulum of this clock beats seconds.

"Another important instrument is the stereo-comparator, made by the Carl Feiss Company of Jena, Germany, an instrument intended for the examination of photographs taken with the reflector. Two photographs can be inserted, and examined simultaneously. The instrument then acts like a stereoscope of gigantic dimensions. Comets, asteroids or other moving objects in the sky stand out in front of the background of stars. Accurate scales are provided, so that the photographs may be measured while they are in the stereo-comparator.

"Practically all scientific work with the reflector will be carried on by means of photography. Progress in the preparation of photographic materials has been so rapid in recent years that it is now possible to photograph and study many stars and nebulae which can not be seen by the human eye, even through the most powerful telescopes. At the Yerkes Observatory stars are now being photographed in infra-red light, which the human eye does not register. By means of ordinary photographic plates and colored glasses which permit only ultra-violet rays to pass through, the new McDonald reflector is expected to reveal some of the mysteries of the universe."

Mrs. H. L. Stanbaugh suffered a broken arm in a fall at her home here early in the week. Mr. Stanbaugh is employed on the Superior Oil Co.'s deep test on the Todd ranch.

Know Texas News Bureau Texas State College for Women

Denton, May 21—The difference between a horse and buggy and a streamlined automobile is not greater than the difference between Texas highways of today and those of ten years ago. Humped roads, murderously slick surfaces, and deep ditches on each side of high embankments are even more scarce than the horse and buggy, and the bump patches are going too.

Responsible for these changes is the State Highway Department, guided by the Highway Commission. The policies formulated by these three commissioners are executed by the highway engineer, whom they select. He has the power to appoint department heads and division chiefs and serves as long as the majority of the commission votes to keep him. Gib Gilchrist has held the post for the past nine years.

According to Harry Hines, chairman of the commission, there are about 10,000 employees in the department alone, exclusive of the contractors' employees on each job. Almost all construction work on the roads is done by contractors, except on test jobs which are done by the department at frequent intervals to determine fair prices.

Maintenance and repair work is done by state employees, however, and through experimentation and economy the cost of keeping up state highways has been cut from $445 to $295 a mile. The reduction of costs through improved methods is the result of work done by the department's huge laboratories, which are among the best equipped in the nation. In these laboratories every pound of material used is tested and retold for value and durability.

Two of the largest small tasks of the maintenance division are the distribution of road markers and the removal of animals killed on the highway.

Jones Miller, veteran Crockett County rancher, has been ill several days this week at his home here.

Barnum Was Right

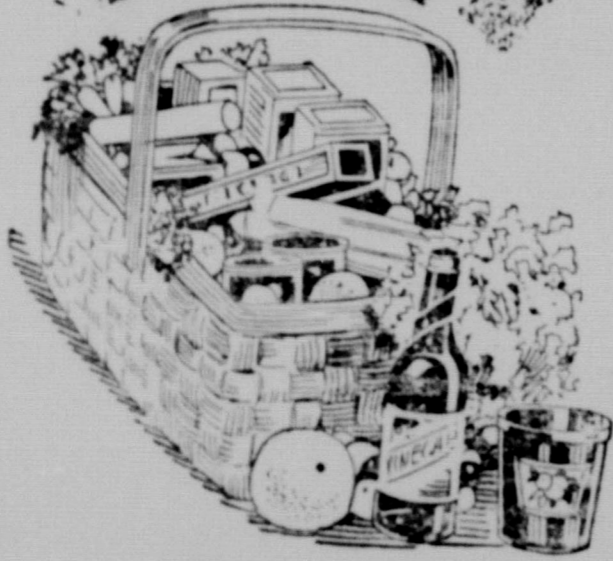

The one and only P. T. Barnum is alleged to have said many things that never found their way into our copy-books . . . things to which few of us would wish to subscribe. But he uttered a profound truth when he said: "If you don't advertise your business, the sheriff will."

Firms which intend to stay in business, that is, firms which deal directly with the public, must advertise. By the same token, it is a sign that they mean to stay in business when they do advertise. For they are offering, through advertisements, the values in their stores.

You, the customer, will decide whether or not they ARE values. If they are not, it is "just too bad" for the firm that claimed they were. Don't you see, therefore, that no merchant can afford to misrepresent himself or his goods in print? Advertising merely magnifies a misrepresentation—brings the fatal day nearer.

Naturally, then, you can trust the advertisements in this paper. You can believe that the stores signing advertisements want your trade and are willing to earn it—with honest values and fair treatment. Read the advertisements. Patronize the advertisers. It is to your selfish interest to do so.

HOUSE JOINT RESOLUTION

proposing an Amendment to the Constitution of the State of Texas to be known as Section 20 of Article VIII, providing that no property of any kind shall be assessed for ad valorem taxes at a greater value than its fair cash market value; and giving the Legislature power to provide that the State and all governmental or political subdivisions or taxing districts may allow a discount for payment of ad valorem taxes before the date when they would otherwise become delinquent; and providing that this Amendment shall become effective January 1, 1939; providing for an election on the question of adoption or rejection of this Amendment; providing for the proclamation and publication thereof; and making an appropriation therefor; and prescribing the form of ballot.

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS:

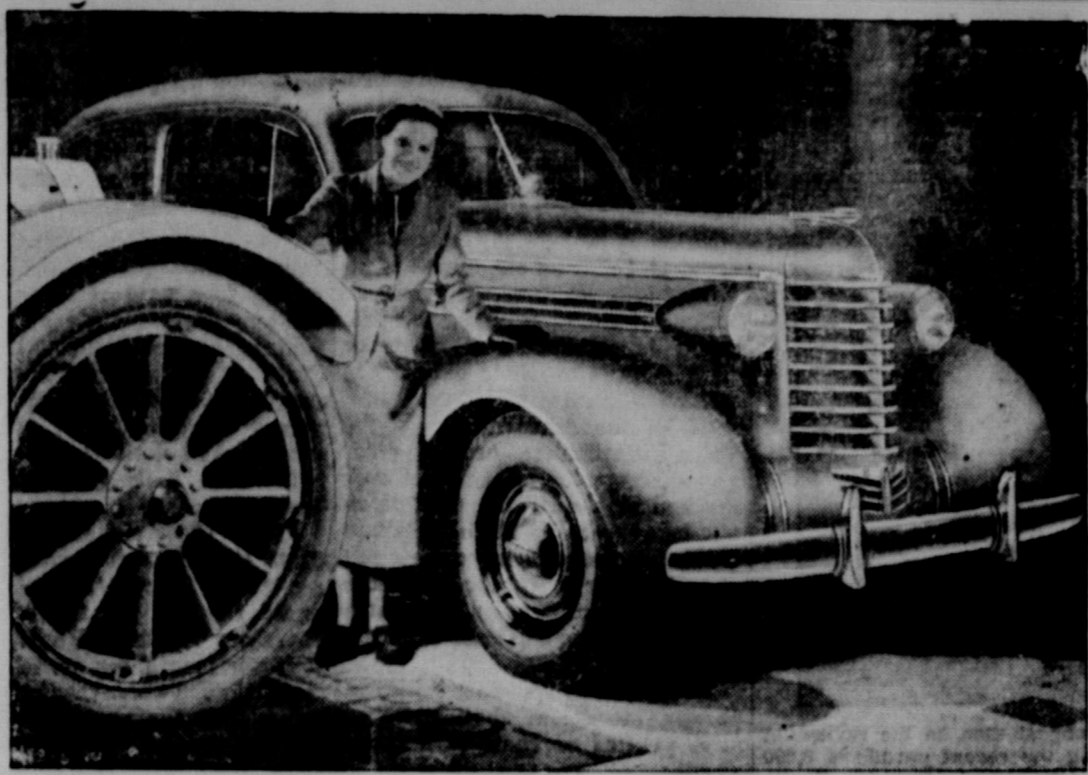

Section 1. That the Constitution of the State of Texas be amended by adding a new Section to Article VIII to be known as Section 20 and to read as follows:

"Section 20. No property of any kind in this State shall ever be assessed for ad valorem taxes at a greater value than its fair cash market value nor shall any Board of Equalization of any governmental or political subdivision or taxing district within this State fix the value of any property for tax purposes at more than its fair cash market value; provided that in order to encourage the prompt payment of taxes, the Legislature shall have the power to provide that the taxpayer shall be allowed by the State and all governmental and political subdivisions and taxing districts of the State a three per cent (3%) discount on ad valorem taxes due the State or due any governmental or political subdivision or taxing district of the State if such taxes are paid ninety (90) days before the date when they would otherwise become delinquent; and the taxpayer shall be allowed a two per cent (2%) discount on said taxes if paid sixty (60) days before said taxes would become delinquent; and the taxpayer shall be allowed a one per cent (1%) discount if said taxes are paid thirty (30) days before they would otherwise become delinquent. This amendment shall be effective January 1, 1939. The Legislature shall pass necessary laws for the proper administration of this Section."

Sec. 2. The foregoing Constitutional Amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of this State at a special election to be held throughout the State of Texas on the 23rd day of August, 1937, at which election all voters favoring the proposed Amendment shall write or have printed on their ballots the following words: "FOR the Amendment to the State Constitution providing that property shall never be assessed for taxes at more than its fair cash market value, and providing that in order to encourage the prompt payment of ad valorem taxes, the Legislature shall have the power to provide that the taxpayer shall be allowed by the State and all governmental and political subdivisions and taxing districts of the State a three per cent (3%) discount on ad valorem taxes due the State or due any governmental or political subdivision or taxing district of the State if such taxes are paid ninety (90) days before the date when they would otherwise become delinquent; and the taxpayer shall be allowed a two per cent (2%) discount on said taxes if paid sixty (60) days before said taxes would become delinquent; and the taxpayer shall be allowed a one per cent (1%) discount if said taxes are paid thirty (30) days before they would otherwise become delinquent. This amendment shall be effective January 1, 1939. The Legislature shall pass necessary laws for the proper administration of this Section."

Sec. 3. The Governor of the State of Texas shall issue the necessary proclamation for said election and shall have the same published as required by the Constitution for Amendments thereto.

Sec. 4. The sum of Eight Thousand Dollars ($8,000), or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated out of any funds in the Treasury of the State, not otherwise appropriated, to pay the expense of such publication and election.

Astounding is the comparison between the huge 42-inch wheel of the famous 1910 Oldsmobile Limited and the much smaller 15-inch wheel of the 1937 Oldsmobile Six. This pretty Miss made the comparison when new models were recently displayed alongside the well-known Limited, relic of an earlier period in automotive transportation. While wheel sizes were decreasing through the years, tire sections were increasing from 4 1/2 to 6 1/2 inches on the Oldsmobile Six and 7 inches on the Eight. Meanwhile tire pressures were dropping from 75 pounds to 28 pounds.

prompt payment of ad valorem taxes, the Legislature shall have the power to permit a discount for the payment of same before they become delinquent."

Those voters opposing said proposed Amendment shall write or have printed on their ballots the words:

"AGAINST the Amendment to the State Constitution providing that property shall never be assessed for taxes at more than its fair cash market value, and providing, that in order to encourage the prompt payment of ad valorem taxes, the Legislature shall have the power to permit a discount for the payment of same before they become delinquent."

If it appears from the returns of said election that a majority of the votes cast are in favor of said Amendment, the same shall become a part of the State Constitution.

Sec. 3. The Governor of the State of Texas shall issue the necessary proclamation for said election and shall have the same published as required by the Constitution for Amendments thereto.

Sec. 4. The sum of Eight Thousand Dollars ($8,000), or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated out of any funds in the Treasury of the State, not otherwise appropriated, to pay the expense of such publication and election.

Q. Was there a Capt. Burroughs in the Texas revolutionary war?

A. Capt. George H. Burroughs, of Zanesville, Ohio, commanded the Muskin County (Ohio) Volunteers, who came to Texas in September, 1836, to assist in repelling a threatened invasion. He resigned the command in about four months, and returned to Ohio, leaving Anthony Deffenbaugh, second lieutenant, in command until the company was disbanded in the summer of 1837.

Q. Was the Republic of Texas the first country to use the Lone Star as its emblem?

A. Texas cannot claim originality in the use of the Lone Star, as it was the ancient symbol of India, Persia, and Egypt, indicative of the sole dominion and sovereignty of those countries. In the United States flag each star stands for a separate state, signifying complete union with the other states.

Q. What was the date of the Battle of Conception and what forces were engaged in it?

A. The battle was fought Oct. 28, 1835 between about 90 Texans led by Fannin and Bowie and about 400 Mexicans, who surprised and surrounded the Texans. There were only about 400 effective men in the Texas army at that time, but these were reinforced the next day by some 200 from East Texas.

Q. To what extent did the Masonic order promote education in the early days of Texas?

A. About 1848 to 1855, the Masonic order established and liberally supported some 18 educational institutions in Texas, including schools in Marshall, Linden, Rusk, San Augustine, Bowie and New Danville. Masonic and other fraternal organization interest in schools gradually declined as the State developed its system of free schools.

Q. What is the area of the Angelina County National Forest and what reforestation work is being done there?

A. The National forest in Angel

Q. How many pounds of wild flower seed have been sown along the highways of Texas in the past three years?

A. It has been estimated that since the highway improvement movement began in 1933 under direction of Jac. L. Gubbels, about 20 tons of seeds have been sown along Texas highways by the state highway department, the garden clubs and various other organizations interested in highway beautification.

A Good Commercial Loan

-has distinct hallmarks which warrant its rating as sound business for your bank.

THESE hallmarks are:-the good name of the borrower; the sound purpose for which the money is to be used; and the self-liquidating character of the underlying transaction which assures repayment of the loan in accordance with its terms.

These are the essential features of commercial loans made by this bank. They help our customers carry on useful, profitable business activities. Bankers call them "short-term, self-liquidating loans" for they finance industrial, agricultural and merchandising operations which are normally completed within sixty or ninety days or seasonal periods, and bring in funds to repay the loan.

NOBODY'S BUSINESS

BY JULIAN CAPERS JR.

— Speeding down the mile toward adjournment of the regular session, set for Saturday, May 22, the regular session of the 45th legislature was pre-occupied with the question of whether to devote most of its time to the appropriation bills, with the doubt existing as to whether any would be passed. That there would be no tax legislation appeared a certainty. But the need for a tax session later is revealed in a glance at the appropriation bills which have passed one house and the other already.

Here are the comparative figures for the 1935 biennium, and for the new two-year period starting next September. For education $786,860 and approximately $1,000,000; for the judiciary, $3,225 and approximately $5,000; for the state departments $134,422 and approximately $1,000,000; for eleemosynary institutions, $10,870,727 and approximately $14,000,000. This gives a tentative increase for the biennium of about $19,800,000. The increases probably will be reduced substantially in the reference committee this week, but with constitutional amendments already submitted calling for participation in additional features of the federal social security program to aid blind persons and dependent children this fall there seems to be no other power but to raise some $15,000,000 to $25,000,000 of additional revenue.

A veteran congressman once said as his formula for remaining in office indefinitely, faithful following of the rule to vote against all taxes and for all appropriations. Evidently a good many members of the 45th legislature went to that same school.

About Special Session

Gov. Allred reiterated his determination at the weekend to call a special session on Monday, May 24, to which he will submit only race track gambling repeal, if no vote is had at the regular session, and a vote appeared very unlikely. The governor pointed out that it will take 90 days for the repeal to become effective, if it is adopted, and he would cut off the fall race meets at Texas tracks. Incidentally, he used the words "at the first called session" in referring to his plan, indicating quite clearly that he considers a tax session later as absolutely necessary.

The general impression here was that there will be no tax session until fall, because until the voters pass on the constitutional amendments in the fall, nobody knows how much revenue will be needed. Then, too, there is a strong probability that Gov. Allred will have been appointed to the federal bench by that time, and Lieut. Gov. Walter Woodul will have to shoulder the burden of persuading the recalcitrant legislature to raise some tax money. This undoubtedly will please the representatives of the special interests, who are "fed up" on Allred's efforts to tax them, and it probably will please the governor just as well, too, since he has struggled manfully but in vain to jam thru tax legislation. The legislature itself is quite willing to go home for a while during hot weather.

Senate Gets Going

The senate settled down and passed two measures this week which are calculated to improve conditions, without spending a large sum of tax money. The first of these was the tightening drivers' license law, requiring examination of new applicants and permitting suspension of licenses for driving offenses, the bill being changed but little from the house version, already adopted. It goes to conference for final ironing out.

The other was the tightening liquor control bill, granting greater authority to the liquor enforcement division to close up beer joints selling whisky, and generally tightening restrictions. It will prevent violators operating under protection of court injunctions when they are caught violating the liquor laws. The senate refused to re-insert the provision killed in the house committee which would have prohibited "chain bottle shops" in Texas, in which beer shipped in bulk from other states is bottled and distributed in small bottling plants within Texas.

Ad Bill May Get Up

Sponsors of the $3,000,000 five-year state advertising constitutional amendment passed by the senate under sponsorship of Lieut. Gov. Walter Woodul, have the resolution in a strategic position on the house calendar, and probably will bring it up for another test before final adjournment. The bill would submit to the voters the proposition of authorizing Texas to advertise for tourist trade and industrial development, spending $600,000 a year for a five-year period on the project. It has the active support of the Texas Press association and virtually all news papers in the state. It narrowly missed defeat in the house on its first test, Speaker Bob Calvert saving it by breaking a tie vote. It will require 100 votes in the house to submit it, and the outcome is doubtful.

Notes

Louisiana will have an opportunity to join the oil states' compact in the near future, when Gov. Leche calls a special session and submits the proposal, members of the compact were told by the governor at the recent quarterly session, held in New Orleans. Enlistment of Louisiana will mark the greatest forward step in petroleum conservation since the compact was inaugurated in the opinion of Rail Commissioner Ernest O. Thompson, who is also still strong in the Texas senate, as was demonstrated when Sen. Clint Small of Amarillo beat down "li-beral" amendments offered to the liquor control bill by Weaver Moore, of Houston, in one of the most entertaining floor battles of the session. Both senators are able debaters, keen parliamentarians and vigorous fighters, and Small won all the way. . . . Sen. Allen Shivers jammed thru his bill to reduce the legal working hours of women in Texas from 60 to 48 per week, with a maximum of 10 hours any day, and double pay for all over eight hours on any one day. The North and East Texas Press association meeting at Paris, elected Freddie Massengill of the Terrell Tribune president, and adopted a resolution urging a unicameral legislature for Texas. . . . Frank Adams, Austin newsman, has written in collaboration with half a dozen other distinguished authorities, a "History of Texas Democracy" just published, which reviewers are praising as a distinctive and accurate work. . . . B. E. Quinn, veteran Beaumont legislator, was at liberty under $1000 bond, following the shooting to death of another guest at Quinn's Austin hotel, after a dispute that arose after Quinn complained guests in an adjoining room were disturbing his sleep.

amendments will be found on pages three and four of this issue of The Stockman.

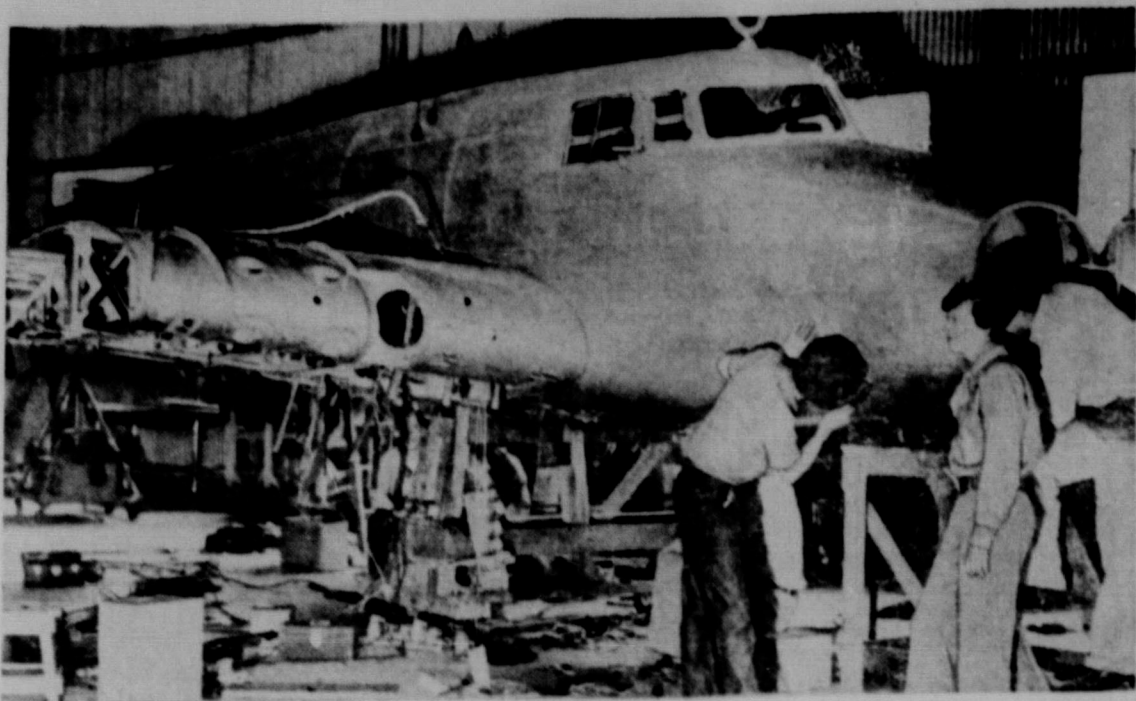

One of the amendments provides for certain regulations of banking institutions and restricting foreign corporations from doing banking business in the state. Another proposal would repeal the recently adopted constitutional change by which district, county and precinct officers were changed from the fee basis of compensation to a straight salary plan in the larger counties, with the privilege optional in smaller counties. Adoption of the new amendment would return the state to the fee system of compensating public officials.

Senate Joint Resolution No. 16 applies only to Harris County and road districts therein, making it possible for the voters of that county to levy taxes for road and bridge construction in lieu of the issuance of bonds.

House Joint Resolution No. 23 would provide for a 3 percent discount on ad valorem paid ninety days before the date on which they would otherwise become delinquent, a 2 percent reduction if paid sixty days before delinquent and 1 percent 30 days before the final date.

Two of the amendments seek to put Texas in position to extend aid to destitute children and to
