ANNUAL SHOW CROWDS HERE NEAR RECORD

Attendance for Centennial Year Event Near Boom Years

PROGRAM PLEASURES

Happy Events, Fast Paces Entertain Huge Crowds Each Day

Three-day crowds estimated at an attendance of between 25,000 and 30,000 persons thronged the fair grounds, enjoyed one of the most beautiful, most complete and most profitably handled free barbecues each of the three days, attended the official Texas Centennial Ram Sale and witnessed a fast-paced rodeo program and fast-paced racing card each afternoon.

The opening day street parade, the Centennial Ram Sale each afternoon, dancing and carnival attractions at night, a free barbecue dinner each day at noon, a baseball game after the parade program had been included Saturday afternoon. The big crowds will entertain throughout their stay in Ozona.

Ozona Boy Champ At the conclusion of the three-day rodeo program, champions of the show were picked by the judges. (Continued On Page 5)

Ozona Minister To Join Faculty Of Westmoorland

Rev. Taylor To Resign Pastorate Methodist Church In Sept.

Rev. R. A. Taylor, who is serving his second year as pastor of the Ozona Methodist Church, will announce to his congregation here next Sunday morning his decision to retire from the pastorate, effective September 1, or at the end of the present conference year, to accept a position as head of the Department of Religion and director of student religious activities at Westmoorland College in San Antonio.

Rev. Taylor likely will continue his service as pastor of the Ozona church until the West Texas Conference meets the first week in November, when a new appointment will be made, he said here this week on a brief visit from Kerrville, where he has been lecturing daily to groups of young people attending the Methodist Young Peoples' Epworth assembly.

The difficulty of making a change in pastorate before the end of the conference year may necessitate his continuing in charge of the work here, Rev. Taylor said, but he will start his work as head of the college department with the opening of school the middle of September, driving to Ozona to spend the week-ends and preaching on Sundays during the six or seven weeks interim between the opening of school and the annual conference. He will preach at intervals, representing the college in churches of the conference.

Rev. Taylor came here from Victoria where he served several years. Previously he had served the Uvalde church as pastor and spent several years in Brazil as a missionary.

13,000 POUNDS MEAT CONSUMED BY SHOW CROWDS

Beans, Stew, Bread, Iced Tea In Proportion As Ozona Feeds Thousands

They came! They saw! They got it! When Albert Kay, Monroe Baggett, Early Baggett and others of the barbecue crew gave that familiar and appetizing West Texas call to the dinner plate, "Come and get it!" in the downtown park here each day at noon during the celebration, the huge crowds that thronged Ozona really, "came and got it."

A casual glance at the wholesale lots of "grub" that was "packed away" during those three days will dispel any doubt that might remain in the minds of the uninitiated.

For instance, a total of 13,050 pounds of meat, choice baby beef and young, fresh-killed kid, was consumed by the hungry mob during the three meals. This did not count the weight of the livers, etc. that went into composition of the cowboy stew. And by the way, there were just 240 gallons of this stew served—and it didn't go around. In addition, 700 pounds of beans (weighed dry, before cooking) were cooked up in ranch style to help fill the holiday crowds. And bread—more than 2,000 loaves followed the beans, the barbecue and the stew. Iced tea enough to float a battle ship washed down the lot—each day's feast starting out with more than 500 gallons of the cooling drink made up and the barrels kept filled.

An estimated crowd of 10,000 was fed the closing day of the show, July 4, with more than 6,000 pounds of meat alone eaten.

Know Their Barbecue An idea of the expert knowledge long years of association with the duties of setting the stage for Ozona's annual barbecue, famous throughout the nation, has given the barbecue committee that has served for more than ten years, may be gained by the fact that the huge holiday crowd Saturday was amply fed, and that in less than an hour's time, six thousand pounds of meat dished out, and when all were fed and satisfied, a check-up showed just two tubs

Ozona Minister

James F. Black, until recently minister at San Benito and for nine years leader of the church in Del Rio, will arrive here early next week to become minister of the Ozona Church of Christ, succeeding James M. Camp, who resigned to enter the insurance business in San Angelo.

James F. Black New Minister Of Church of Christ

Former Del Rio Minister To Succeed Jas. M. Camp

James F. Black of San Benito, minister of the Del Rio Church of Christ for nine years, and a former minister of the church at Mertzton, has accepted the call of the Ozona Church of Christ to succeed James M. Camp, who has resigned to take charge of a district office for an insurance agency in San Angelo.

Mr. Black is at present holding a meeting in Blackwell, Texas, which will close next Sunday night, July 12. He will come directly to Ozona from Blackwell to assume charge of his duties here. His family consists of Mrs. Black and one son, James F. Black, Jr. The new Ozona minister served nine years in Del Rio, two years in Mertzton and has been three years in the Valley. He is a nephew of W. D. Black, Church of Christ evangelist and minister, who was minister of the Ozona church for three years, leaving in 1924, and who held a revival meeting at the local church a few years ago.

Mr. Camp will leave Monday to take up his new work in San Angelo. He plans to work a wide area in the San Angelo territory, making frequent trips to Ozona.

Ten Celebrators End Festivities In Justice Court

Affrays, Drunkenness Result In Assessment Of Fines

Considering the number of visitors who crowded Ozona streets all during the three-day celebration program, and the holiday spirit that took possession of local residents, the three-day event was comparatively peaceful, officers report.

However, Justice of the Peace W. M. Johnigan had an unusual run of "new business" resulting from the week-end's festivities. In fact, eleven "customers" were run through the mill during the period, ten of them for disturbances of various sorts connected with the celebration period and one a two-months old "cold check" charge.

Fines of $1 and costs, amounting to $14 in each case, were assessed by Justice Johnigan against Bill Johnson for an affray, against E. N. Stanley, Lige Armentrout, Aston Robertson, Bill

Colorful Parade Is Outstanding Feature Of Show

Mile-Long Pageant Depicts Developments Of Region

Although Ozona's first attempt at staging a parade in connection with its annual July celebration since 1904, the mile-long pageant which officially opened this community's ninth annual Rodeo, Race Meet and Texas Centennial Ram Sale last Thursday morning was one of the outstanding events of the week's celebration and elicited many complimentary remarks from the hundreds of enthusiastic spectators lining streets along the line of march.

Authentic reproductions of styles and customs of a half century ago, characters identified with the period of development of the livestock empire, representatives of the modern range operators, modern transportation facilities and commercial floats depicting appropriate subjects passed in orderly review.

The parade was headed by Wayne West, fair association president, and Adjutant General Carl Nesbit of Austin. Following were the flag bearers, carrying the six flags of Texas and the national emblem. Then followed cowboys and cowgirls, period entries, commercial floats, 1936 model automobiles, and the other parade features. Much of the credit for success of the parade goes to H. B. Cox, general supervisor of arrangements and his committee.

Burglar At Cox Home Takes $15 In Cash, Watch

Bold Thief Ransacks Residence While Family Sleeps

A bold thief who entered the Bascomb Cox residence late last week to prowling in every room, while members of the family slept, pilfered $15 in cash and a valuable watch, a family heirloom, from the pockets of Mr. Cox's trousers and escaped with several less valuable trinkets from the home.

A light left burning in one room failed to deter the bold burglar. Mr. Cox's trousers were taken from a chair in the room where he slept, the pockets ransacked and robbed of the money and watch, the trousers being found on the lawn the next morning. A small make-up kit, and another trinket box were also taken. In the kitchen, the thief took a sack of cantaloupes, but changed his mind about keeping this odorous fruit after reaching the outside, taking one cantaloupe from the sack and leaving the rest on the lawn.

The watch taken by the thief was valued as an heirloom, being a gift from Mr. Cox's father to him.

Rev. Garrison To Preach In Bandera, Bruton Here Sunday

Rev. Ira V. Garrison left today for Bandera County where he will open a revival meeting Friday at a community church near Medina. The meeting is scheduled to open Friday night and continue ten days.

Rev. A. D. Bruton of Brownwood will fill the pulpit of the Ozona Baptist church next Sunday morning and evening. Rev. Garrison announced before leaving. Rev. Bruton is a young man and an excellent speaker. Rev. Garrison said, and all members and friends of the church are urged to attend one or both of the Sunday services.

OZONA SHEEP SALE PRICES TOP NATION

Over 600 Animals Sold Thru Ring At Centennial Ram Sale

TOP PRICE IS $425

V. J. Pierce Ram Brings Highest Price; Over $30,000 Gross

Crockett County's annual Rambouillet sheep sale, designated this year as the official Texas Centennial Ram Sale, again held its position of registering the highest average sale prices of any sale in the United States, and excepting the boom years of 1928 and 1929, registered the highest prices of any local sale since the event was inaugurated in 1926.

The top price of the three-day auction was $425, paid by Wiley Green of San Angelo for a registered Rambouillet ram from the flock of Victor Pierce of Ozona. This was the highest top price paid since 1929, when a stud ram sold for $550. Several animals sold for $410, $400, $350, $300 and $200 during the sale last week.

More than $30,000 worth of the finest sheep in the nation changed hands through the ring, with Nelson Johnson crying the sale. Range rams, with 422 sold, brought an average of $45.07, 47 stud rams brought an average of $165.60, and 132 ewes sold for an average of $31.75.

Sales reported during the three-day auction follow:

Thursday's Sales Wilford Day, Parowan, Utah, two rams to Joe Decker, Menard at $105 each.

W. S. Hansen, Collinston, Utah, five rams to V. J. Pierce, Ozona, at $50 each.

Timely Rains In Ranching Sector Drench Wide Area

1.6 Inches Recorded Total Here; County Is Given Soaking

While other parts of the nation are in the throes of a drought which threatens to assume the severity of the 1934 drought, Crockett County and the surrounding area of West Texas are this week soaked with one of the most bountiful and most timely rains of the spring and summer.

Practically the entire ranching section of West Texas, except portions where rain is badly needed in counties to the northwest of this, received from an inch to eight inches of rainfall Sunday and Monday.

While Ozona received 1.6 inches in the two-day fall, as recorded at the Joe Oberkamp gauge, other parts of the county reported from two inches up, reports from all directions indicating the county was completely soaked. On the western edge, the Owens ranches report up to four inches, the Ingham ranch received better than two inches. To the south of Ozona, the fall was heavy Sunday and that section was drenched again Monday, falls up to six inches being reported. To the east, the rain was general, with an eight-inch rain reported in the Sonora sector that sent draws on a rampage. The fall was heavy and general toward Barnhart.

Miss Chapman To Assume Position At Baylor Univ.

Music Teacher Resigns Local Post Effective Next Year

Miss Wayne Chapman, instructor in piano in the fine arts division of the Ozona High School during the past term, has tendered her resignation to become effective with the opening of the schools here in September. It was announced the past week-end by E. S. Denham, superintendent, who was here from Lubbock to attend the celebration.

Miss Chapman is to become connected with Baylor University at Waco, she said in her letter of resignation, presumably in a teaching capacity. She is a graduate of the American Conservatory of Music in Chicago and took postgraduate work there this summer.

Miss Chapman's letter of resignation follows: "I regret very much to advise that due to connections which I am making with the Baylor University at Waco that I will be unable to return to Ozona for the coming term of school.

"I wish to express my sincere thanks and appreciation to you personally, and the faculty body in general, for the splendid cooperation and consideration shown me during my stay in Ozona. I thoroughly enjoyed the privilege of being associated with the Ozona school, its patrons and citizenship in general and it is with genuine regret that I tender this resignation."

Axe Falls To Clean Giant Benches Of Pitchers After Saturday's Debacle In Which Texon Oilers Crush Locals 18-1

Buchanan, Pool, Thornberry Released; New Talent Sought

Heads fell in great piles Saturday afternoon around the baseball park, the benches of the first half champion Ozona Giants being left denuded of pitchers as powers that be swung the big axe down the line of the Giant hurling staff, cutting a deep swath, leaving only Al Crostwaite, San Antonio army submarine chunker, and Manager Slim Harriss the only slingers available.

It all resulted from that runaway staged by the Texon Oilers in the opening game of the second half championship chase in the Permian loop here Saturday afternoon. The Oilers, on a hitting rampage, rapped 'em out at will off everything the Giants had. Buchanan, Pool, Thornberry and even Manager Harriss himself. It was slaughter in its most gory form, a matter of getting one, two or three men on base via hit, walk or error, and then rapping out a safe one to score from one to four at a time. In fact, so weak was the chunking that the Oilers piled up the impressive total of 18 safe blows, two of them home runs, for a total of 18 runs. Having held the celebration-weakened Ozonians to four bingles, which together with four errors by Housewright at third and one by

3 Cases Diphtheria Are Discovered In Mexican Settlement

A warning to parents of children under twelve years of age not yet immunized against diphtheria was issued yesterday by Dr. H. B. Tandy, county health officer, who announced that three cases of diphtheria have been discovered in the Mexican section of Ozona.

Children who have not been immunized should be given the serum at once, the health officer warned. The first case of diphtheria in the Mexican area was not discovered until four days after it had developed. All three cases are in the same family, which has been quarantined and placed under guard.

The possibility of exposure of other children during the interim between the development of the disease and its discovery led Dr. Tandy to issue a warning to parents and to urge them to get the immunization from their family physician without delay.

Elam Dudley, early day Ozonan, now making his home at Godley, Texas, left for his home yesterday after spending a week here visiting his daughter, Mrs. B. B. Ingham, and two sons, Morris and Roger Dudley, and attending the rodeo last week.

WHY OPPOSE GOVERNOR ALLRED?

Commerce Journal: It is a peculiar thing that a public official who makes good on promise and performance cannot be left alone and be allowed to devote his time to the people's business. But not so. Always there is some office-hungry person who comes out as a candidate on a trumped up, vote-getting, non-constructive platform. He has nothing to offer but himself, and usually winds up by getting nothing, but he does succeed in nagging and worrying the man in office, for the latter must answer various charges no matter how spurious and unfair they may be. How any candidate can expect to defeat Governor Allred for a second term, and why the Governor should be defeated, are equally hard questions to answer.

The LIVESTOCK SITUATION by J.A. McNAUGHTON

LOS ANGELES, Calif., July 8.—The drought situation is the most important phase of the livestock situation at this time, as more alarming reports of the spread of the drought area come from a wide front. Latest reports indicate that the 1936 drought may be as far reaching as the drought of 1934, although so far, the far western country is not as seriously affected as two years ago.

There are already reports of the forced marketing of livestock from drought areas, where owners are attempting to conserve feed and water supplies by cutting down on their flocks and herds. The middle western corn and fodder crops are still in the balance and the outcome of crops there offers wide conjecture. As a result, it appears that a large proportion of emergency drought marketings will have to be absorbed by the immediate meat trade, unless the Federal Government as indicated in press dispatches steps into the breach to help the growers carry on without sacrificing their holdings.

Insofar as the cattle market is concerned, the problem is serious in view of the fact that the markets are already flooded with heavy receipts of cattle. Federal inspection figures indicate that 1936 slaughter of cattle so far is of record proportions, resulting in depressed values. Heavier receipts, particularly of low-grade and thin stock from drought areas, may seriously affect prices during the remainder of the summer.

Job Rape, who is attending summer school at Sul Ross State Teachers College in Alpine, spent the week-end here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. I. G. Rape.

Mr. and Mrs. Collins Coates, Mr. and Mrs. Buck Pile and P. C. Coates, former Ozonans, were here from Fort Stockton for the rodeo.

Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Adams and two daughters, Misses Helen and Florene Adams, former Ozona residents, were here from San Antonio for a visit with relatives and to attend the rodeo. Mrs. Adams remained here for a further visit with her daughter, Mrs. Doug Kirby, and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chris Meinecke.

Dead Men Can Be Elected To Office In Texas Under Law

AUSTIN, July 8.—It is possible for a dead man to be elected to office in Texas.

This fact is included among a number of unusual features of Texas election laws disclosed in the first compilation of those laws since 1928. Prepared by Attorney General McCraw and privately printed by him, the volume has just come from the press.

The election of a dead man is possible under Article 3019 of the election laws, which says that if a nominee dies before the election, and yet receives a plurality of the votes in the election, "the votes shall be counted and the returns made."

Other oddities about the Texas election statutes:

In determining the residence of a voter, an unmarried man's residence is "where he usually sleeps at night."

A convict, who has forfeited his right to vote, nevertheless is liable for payment of the poll tax.

One of the exemptions from paying a poll tax is for those who have lost a hand or foot. The courts have said the lost hand or foot must be "entirely severed."

If you, as a voter, plan to write in some name not appearing on the ballot, be certain you have black ink or a pencil. Red ink won't do.

Contrary to the general impression, there is no statutory provision to prevent the counting of a mutilated ballot. Such a ballot is acceptable if the voter's intent may be determined.

If you want to challenge an election on some obscure ground, you might try measuring the voting booth, if booths are used. It must be, to comply with the law, 22 inches wide on the inside, 32 inches deep, 6 feet 4 inches high, contain a shelf for the voter's elbow, and be made with hinges so it will fold up for storage.

The election judge has the power to preserve peace, and he may arrest you for being drunk or disorderly; but he must let you vote before you go to jail. If you're drunk, however, the burden is on you to sober up before you may vote. (Art. 3092).

Still another statute says you may not be arrested while going to, or coming from, the polls, except for treason, felony or breach of peace.

Under certain circumstances, judges at elections may aid the distracted voter; but the judge must at all times speak English while offering this aid.

Moreover, the courts have said that the shortsighted voter who leaves his spectacles at home had better go home after them. The judges can't help him.

Failure to pay your city poll tax can not deprive you of the right to vote in a city election. The reason: The levy of a city poll tax against women has never been authorized, therefore to force men to pay it as a prerequisite to voting would be in violation of the Nineteenth Amendment to the Constitution.

Texas has a six-year-old statute authorizing use of voting machines—but it has never been invoked.

Large Roy Bean Depicted In Texas Cavalcade

Colorful Langtry Justice, One of 300 Historical Figures

ALLAS, Texas, July 8—The colorful and rugged exponent of homespun justice, Judge Roy Bean, known all over the world as "Law West of the Pecos," was one of the principal characters in the cast of the Cavalcade of Texas, now playing at the Texas Centennial Exposition.

Judge Bean, who followed the rail line into the Big Bend Country in 1850, dropped off at a town named Vinagaron, renamed it Langtry and started to make his name as the Jersey Lily. He took over the task of administering justice in a lawless area. His judicial rulings, which were still quoted wherever a group of lawyers gathered, and his humorous comments and decisions, which caused old timers to rock their heads up and down the street, went round the world when he died. Lily Langtry, for whom he named his saloon, carried on correspondence with the judge during the heyday of his career, and came to visit Langtry after the Roy Bean's death.

The Big Bend Country, a land which is still wildly beautiful, is the last frontier of the Old West, plays its own dramatic and colorful part in the story of the Cavalcade of Texas. Through the Davis Mountains the first of the conquistadores, shipwrecked Castilian de Vaca, trudged, naked and barefoot, in 1534. Across its rugged peaks the Conquistadore Cortes marched on his return from a fruitless search of Seven Golden Cities of the Cibola. With the grandeur of these mountain ranges Texas history was born. The east of the Cavalcade of Texas recreates the glory of the land of the Pecos, beginning with the de Vaca and Coronado and ending with Roy Bean and his Jersey Lily saloon.

The Cavalcade, presented twice nightly on the largest stage in the world, has a cast of more than 300 people. One hundred animals, including oxen, burros, donkeys, ponies, and Longhorns, are used in the production which is an outstanding show at the Centennial.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Miller and daughter, Mrs. Mildred Crowder and her young son, were here from the Miller ranch near Snyder for celebration week.

Miss Margaret Butler is in San Angelo this week receiving medical attention.

Beauty And Charm Winners

The sweltering heat of a Texas sun had little effect on the enthusiasm of more than 1000 girls in their recent selection of most beautiful and most popular summer school students attending Texas State College for Women (CIA). Miss Olivia Bishop, a striking olive brunette from San Antonio, was declared most beautiful, and Miss Georgianna Pace of Fort Worth was named most popular.

National Magazine Gives Endorsement To Ozonan's Recipe

Mrs. Jones Miller, Jr., of Ozona, has just been awarded a Certificate of Recipe Endorsement by Better Homes & Gardens for her recipe, "Easy Cool June Dessert."

This certificate, which brings national recognition to Mrs. Miller is given by the Magazine only to distinguished recipes which pass its Tasting-Test Kitchen's high standards for dependability, excellence of taste, and family usefulness.

In addition to the signed certificate, Mrs. Miller also received six copies of her endorsed recipe, each bearing the stamp of Recipe Endorsement, which she is giving to her friends.

In awarding these certificates, it is the magazine's aim to provide proper recognition for the creative work done by women in their own kitchens, and also to raise the standard of accuracy and dependability of recipes as a whole.

Mrs. Miller's endorsed recipe follows:

COOL EASY JUNE DESSERT
 1 pkg lime gelatine
 1 pkg lemon gelatine
 Whipped cream
 Green maraschino cherries

Prepare the gelatine according to the directions on the package. Place each flavor in a separate bowl. When the gelatine begins to thicken, beat each with a rotary beater until stiff. Place the lime gelatine in a shallow loaf pan 12 inches square and top with the lemon gelatine. Cut into squares, top each with whipped cream and 2 sliced maraschino cherries.

Roy Henderson and two children, Miss Louise and Roy, Jr., have returned from a visit in El Paso.

THIS WEEK IN TEXAS HISTORY

(By T. S. College for Women)

WEEK OF JULY 5

1821—Stephen F. Austin, with the commissioner Don Erasmo Seguín and a party of 14, left Natchitoches on July 6 for San Antonio to confer with Governor Martinez. His purposes were to secure a transfer of grant made to his father, to ask permission to explore the country and settle a suitable place for his colony.

1842—On the night of July 6 General Davis moved his force of 192 Texans on the Nueces from an open space to a ravine where the river and timber offered protection. General Antonio Canales, not knowing that the Texans had moved, made a charge where they had been. Discovering his mistake he led his men to a position of better advantage, but wounding of the commander of the detachment with the cannon, discouraged the Mexicans and they withdrew. The Texans had one man wounded.

1848—On July 5 Congress passed an act fixing the eastern boundary of Texas along the middle of the channel of Sabine Pass, Sabine Lake and Sabine River, rather than along their west bank.

Eradicate Rats To Curb Typhus

AUSTIN, July 8.—Typhus fever or "Fourteen Day Fever" continues to make its appearance in various counties in Texas. Like typhoid, most of the cases are in the hot months of summer and early fall, according to records of the State Health Department.

"The symptoms of typhus fever are similar to those of typhoid fever, except the course of typhus is generally two weeks while typhoid fever may extend over many weeks," said Dr. John W. Brown, State Health Officer.

"Although there are two types of typhus fever, it is the endemic type, (known as Brill's Disease) which presents itself in Texas.

"The onset of typhus fever is usually sudden and accompanied by chills, fever, headache, and general body pains. Nausea and vomiting may be present. Headache is an outstanding symptom, and often persists to such a degree that it does not readily yield to drugs or local applications.

"The fever rises rapidly, often reaching a maximum of 105 degrees in the fifth to eighth day, and generally declining about the tenth to fourteenth day. A reddish mottling of the skin also appears, which may subside soon or continue through the crisis. A hacking cough is often present.

"The mode of transmission of typhus fever is known to be from the rat-flea, and the disease could be prevented by the eradication of rats and mice. A campaign to rid your community of rodents would also be of great economic value as rats and mice destroy millions of dollars worth of food every year."

Mr. and Mrs. S. I. Powell have returned to their home in Spur after a visit with relatives here.

Mr. and Mrs. Wren Jackson were down from their ranch near Best to attend the rodeo and to visit Mrs. Jackson's brother, A. W. Jones. While here Mr. Jackson called at The Stockman office to put his Stockman subscription up three years in advance.

CAVALCADE HEROES STEP FROM PAGES OF TEXAS HISTORY

Dallas, Texas, July.—When the forty-foot rainbow colored water screen falls on the largest stage in the world at the Texas Centennial Exposition, heroes of the past step from the pages of history to recreate the glamorous story of the birth of an empire. Three hundred actors, a hundred head of horses, Longhorns, burros, oxen and mustang ponies figure in this great Cavalcade of Texas, the biggest show at the Exposition. Above, eight of the men who portray outstanding Texans sign their names above genuine signatures of heroes of the Republic.

Mr. and Mrs. Dink Parker, who spent celebration week here visiting old friends and relatives, left after the rodeo for Dallas to visit the Centennial Exposition before returning to their home in Tucson, Ariz.

Over 2,000 Interesting Texas Cattle Brands Are Illustrated In New Volume

Crockett county Brands Included In Comprehensive Book

A real book of cattle brands, the first ever to be seen in this country, has just been published and a copy received by this paper. The book contains actual drawings of some 2,000 interesting, amusing or historical brands together with the name of the brand, its owner and the location of the ranch. The brand information is listed by Counties, and practically every cattle section of the State is included.

The book has a foreword by Amon G. Carter, a short history of Texas, written by Peter Molyneux, author of "Romantic Story of Texas," and a short review of the Texas Cattle Industry and Texas Cattle Brands, by Frank Reeves, livestock editor of the Ft. Worth Star-Telegram. It is illustrated with pen and ink drawings of actual ranch scenes, done in West Texas.

Of special interest to ranchers and cattlemen of this section of the Country are the brands of Crockett County, among which the editors have listed the "School House," (L. D. Brooks brand) the "Two Half Circles," (B. B. Ingham) and several others. This publication will undoubtedly attain a wide circulation over the United States, and Crockett County feels proud to have these brands included in the volume.

The publication of the book came about as a result of public interest in Brands, fostered by the great revival of Texas history engendered by the Texas Centennial. When a Fort Worth department store, early in the spring of this year, put about 500 brands on its wrapping paper, a flood of requests poured in for information about brands, some of them from residents in the New England States. To satisfy this demand, as well as to fill a long felt want among Texas ranchers and cattlemen, the Fair Publishing Company, Fort Worth has assembled in this book an authentic list of a large number of representative Texas brands.

No other industry in Texas or elsewhere can boast of such a colorful and romantic history and background as can the cattle industry. No phase of cattle work is more glamorous than branding. Brands are the cost of arms for a cattle empire. Men have made fortunes by the proper use of branding irons, and others have paid with their lives for their improper use.

Every person interested in Texas, or in romantic history will appreciate this book. The younger generation will find it interesting and amusing; the ranchers of today will take pride in their listing in its pages; and old timers and early day cowboys will find excellent "grazing" and many a fond picture in memory's pasture as they wrangle through the list of brands shown in "A Century of Texas Cattle Brands."

Continued Gain In Texas Employment

AUSTIN, Texas, July 8.—Employment and pay rolls in Texas during June showed a slight gain over the preceding month and a substantial increase over the corresponding month last year, the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research reports. The number of workers increased 1 per cent over June, 1913, and pay rolls rose nearly 15 per cent. The increase over May was about 1 per cent for both the number of employees and the total pay rolls.

Cities whose records for the month were better than the state average during the two comparable periods were Amarillo, Dallas, San Antonio, Waco, and Wichita Falls.

[QUESTIONS THAT ARE ASKED ABOUT BANKING]

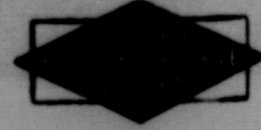

"How can I build up my credit at a Bank?"

SIMPLY stated, bank credit is the faith a bank has in a given individual, or business firm, to repay a loan at a specified time.

Character is the foundation of every good credit rating. Reputation for good business management, for paying bills promptly, and for "making your word good" is essential.

It is desirable to be a depositor in the bank where you wish to establish or build up your credit. An adequate balance should be maintained, and your account should not be overdrawn. Good credit references are helpful. Loans should be met promptly on due date.

These are some of the essentials we recommend to any person wishing to establish or build up his credit rating at our bank.

Black win in bronc riding. Ted Powers in steer necking, Tom Taylor in calf roping, Harold Jackson in wild cow milking and Tom Taylor the maverick calf roping. D. A. Parker won the wild horse race, the closing event of the three-day program. E. B. Ingham, Jr., took a wild bucking ride the entire distance around the race track, including a couple of sallies over and through the fence to come in second.

Cyclist Furnishes Thrill Jack Farmer, Fort Worth daredevil motorcycle rider, furnished crowds a daily thrill by riding through a solid board wall on his motorcycle while traveling at a high rate of speed. George Newton, formerly with the Tom Mix circus, exhibited a bag full of trick roping and rope twirling stunts. A showing of ranch remudas, range and thoroughbred stallions and yearling and two-year-old colts was made before the grandstand. The Davidson remuda took first place in the showing, with the Jones Miller group of ranch saddle horses in second place. H. B. Cox showed his group of palomino horses in a group of eight.

The daily racing card was one of the fastest in years. Horses from the stables of Joe Findley, B. L. Holt, Jess Barker, R. E. Burris, B. H. Sweatt, L. E. Cook, Sam Willman, Sam Frizzell, M. Cockrum, C. E. Hummel, P. Bryson, Rahl and Woodie and others made up full entries for the five races staged each day. Among the top speed nags of the meet were Bryson's Tom Paxton, Cockrum's Gold Rose, Holman's Yankee Doodle, Bolt's Lipan Flower, Findley's Hustle Anne, Hummel's Solo Flight and Frizzell's Holster.

Colorful Parade—

composed of John R. Bailey, Mrs. Lee Childress, Miss Ada Moss, Mrs. Scott Peters and Joe North.

Fiesta Prize Float The "fiesta float," bearing a group in Spanish costume dancing to the strains of the guitar and violin played by caballeros, the whole elaborately decorated with flowers, drew first prize in judging of entries. Mrs. Joe T. Davidson and Miss Ada Moss supervised arrangement of this entry.

A spring wagon bearing belles of the nineties on a holiday jaunt, was judged in second place among the entries. The society ladies of a half century ago were depicted by Mrs. Lee Childress, Mrs. Scott Peters, Mrs. Joe Oberkamp, Mrs. Bright Baggett and Mrs. Strick Harvick. Costumes that dated back to the era depicted and beyond were worn by these ladies. Mrs. Harvick wearing a plumed hat that in its day would have been the envy of the neighborhood, and Mrs. Baggett a dress that was one of the "gorgeous creations" about which the ladies of the gay nineties raved at length. Costuming of others in the group was in authentic relics of the period.

A covered wagon of the typical "squatter" family type, common in the early days of the development of this section, was another outstanding entry in the parade. Complete in every detail, even to the smoked pots and pans on the rear and the female hound dog tied beneath the wagon, the wagon was filled with youngsters whose heads protruded at every available opening, father riding or walking at the side and mother holding the lines.

Pioneers' Greeting

Mr. and Mrs. Jones Miller, representing the early day residents of Crockett County, rode in the parade in their own car, which bore a sign of welcome from this pioneer couple. Mrs. Pon Seahorn, Mrs. Charles Black and Mrs. W. E. Friend brought back to minds of many of the older women watching the parade the "good old days" when the ladies rode side saddles and long riding skirts. These three sat the ancient side saddles, resurrected from among family souvenirs of the county.

In another section, the modern girl showed the present-day mode—the modern cowgirl, dressed in pants and chaps, astride a western saddle and topping a salty bronc. Miss Dixie Davidson, in flashy attire, and sitting a proud cow horse, led the cowgirls section. Palomino horses, a group in Indian costume and riding bareback, young cowboys and cowgirls from five years up to twelve, and group after group of cowboys put the western spirit into the parade.

Two of the participants in Ozona's 1936 parade rode in the last similar parade staged here, 32 years ago. In the parade of 1904, Mrs. Pon Seahorn and Bill Nix of Rankin were among the participants and both again rode Ozona streets in parade in the Texas Centennial year observance.

Outstanding among the floats entered was that depicting the early day hunter and trapper, a full sized dead tree in which a bobcat and several other species of animal has been "treed," the hunters, Jim Brownrigg and J. L. Capps sitting under the tree, rifles in hand waiting for a shot. The West Texas Lumber Co. sponsored this entry.

The Lemmons Dry Goods Co. float was another novel entry, a huge Stetson hat which almost filled the bed of the truck. Another which caused wide-spread comment was the big mounted steer from the Ozona Meat Market, one of the first crosses between the Texas Longhorn and the Hereford, a huge animal that was butchered by the market several years ago, one of the largest steers ever raised in the section.

Utah Has Float

The state of Utah was cleverly represented in the Ozona parade. Mrs. John K. Madsen, wife of the Mount Pleasant, Utah, sheep breeder, and a group of other Utah ladies here with their husbands for the Texas Centennial Ram Sale, sponsored the Utah float. A choice Utah ram and a little girl rode in the truck, the side of which carried the legend, "Mary and Her Lamb, and Utah's Best Crops."

The old circuit rider of the early days, the man of God who rode with a Bible in one hand and a six gun in the other, was depicted in the parade by Bryan McDonald, in full whiskers and frock coat, Chuck wagon, burro and cart, 1936 model Chevrolet, Ford, Dodge and other popular make cars and many other interesting entries were included in the long line of march.

Axe Falls To—

Gentry at the plate for the visitors netted Ozona's only tally.

Sergeant Al Crostwaite was on deck ready to calm down the Tex-on batting spree while his bleary-eyed teammates shook the mist from their eyes enough to see the baseball again Sunday, but rain Sunday morning drenched the field and made it necessary to call off the game.

The three hurlers who were given the air here Sunday may line up with McCamey or some other Fermian team, it was reported here. The trio between them managed for six of the Giants' fourteen victories and the flag for the first half schedule, Crostwaite winning seven of the games and Manager Harriss one.

The Giants are scheduled for a double-header bill at Wink next Sunday. Al Crostwaite and Manager Harriss are slated for the chunking chores, league rules being that a new player must warm the bench for two weeks. Efforts are being made to line up one or two hurlers to put in uniforms next Sunday, to speed their eligibility for second-half combat.

Crane took the league lead as a result of a double win the weekend over the Wink Cats at Crane. Texon also has a .1000 percent rating for second position as a result of the one-game win over the Giants and McCamey and Iraan split to tie for the third rung, while Ozona and Wink hold down the cellar with no wins.

Testimony of Estrada, Frausto and one Herrera, a witness who attempted to stop the fight and received a deep gash on his hand for his trouble, was taken by the court, the story of each being at complete variance with the others on details of the start of the affray. Both principals agreed, however, that each was not acquainted with the other and that the two had never seen each other before.

Cutting it thin? Not on your life. That's expert judgment. Those boys—Albert Kay, Early Baggett, George Harrell, Hugh Childress, Monroe Baggett and others who have served long and well on that job—just know their barbecues. They know how much grub it will take for any given day months in advance of the show. Their practiced eye can look over the crowd in town at 11 o'clock in the morning before a barbecue at noon and estimate within a very few pounds of the amount of meat necessary to feed the mob that day. And they can tell you within a thin dime of how much the whole spread cost this year, last year—or next year for that matter.

But the man at the pit, you might say, is the man that gets the meat there in all its savoury tastiness, plenty of it and on time. And that man is Bob Cooke, who last week rang the bell on the 37th public barbecue dinner for which he has prepared the meat in Ozona. During those 37 years, Mr. Cooke has graduated—through his own ingenuity—from the obsolete open-pit method of barbecuing meat to the present-day Cooke-patented barbecue house, a device that cooks thousands of pounds of meat to a perfect nicety in around four hours, whereas over an open pit it would take literally days, and a whole forest of fuel.

Visitor Is Amazed

An out-of-state visitor here last week, Bill Huff of Oklahoma, a tourist, was so impressed with the flavor of the meat and the dispatch with which it was served, that he looked up the men responsible for it and declared that he had traveled far over these United States, but to then he had never seen anything to equal the feed that Ozona spreads for its annual visitors around the Fourth of July.

"For a town ten times the size of Ozona, feeding such a crowd as that would be a remarkable accomplishment, but for a town this size, it's a miracle," Mr. Huff commented. The Oklahoman was so interested that he visited the fair association's barbecue layout west of the draw, saw the screened cutting room, the battery of barbecue houses and inspected the meat while it was cooking. He was amazed at the strict sanitation, the simplicity of the cooking houses, and the efficiency of the whole organized methods that result in the feeding of 10,000 hungry folk in less time than a housewife can feed her husband and two children.

MISSIONARY CIRCLE MEETS

The Lottie Moon Circle met with Mrs. Ross Culpepper this week. Mrs. I. V. Garrison taught the Bible lesson taken from the book of Job. Those present were Mrs. I. V. Garrison, Mrs. Glyn Cates, Mrs. R. F. Powell, Mrs. C. C. Pharr, Mrs. C. J. Watts, Miss Maybelle Taylor and Mrs. Culpepper.

If you have been visiting or know any of your friends who have visited out of the city or have guests, The Stockman would be grateful if you would phone the news to 210.

Author Of "Trees" Is Honored With Memorial Forest

The establishment of the Joyce Kilmer Memorial Forest as a living memorial to the author of the most beautiful tribute ever written to trees has been authorized by the United States Government acting through the Secretary of Agriculture. The action was sponsored by the Boreman Bulger Post of the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

A 4000-acre tract of virgin forest in the primitive area of the Nantahala National Forest in western North Carolina was selected by the Kilmer Memorial Committee after a preliminary examination of available areas throughout the country.

Joseph C. Kircher of Atlanta, Georgia, United States Southern Regional Forester who will be responsible for the administration and protection of the memorial forest, announced today that the area will be dedicated on July 30, the eighteenth anniversary of the day on which Sergeant Joyce Kilmer was killed in action in France. The dedication program is being arranged by Paul A. Williams of New York, Chairman of the Kilmer Memorial Committee.

Joyce Kilmer was born in New Brunswick, New Jersey, December 6, 1886. He was graduated from Columbia University in 1908. At the time of his enlistment in the National Guard in April, 1917, he was a member of the editorial staff of the New York Times and was widely known as a lecturer. In accordance with the wishes of his family, he is buried with 600 comrades in the American Cemetery in Fere-en-Tardenois, France.

High 6-Months Sale Record Of 1928 Is Broken By Chevrolet

W. E. Holler, vice president and general sales manager of Chevrolet Motor Co., announced that on June 12, the company's sales this year had surpassed 582,964 units, a figure that has stood since 1928 as the company's all-time record for the entire first half of any year. By the end of June, said Mr. Holler, 1936 sales will have exceeded any previous record for the first six months by approximately 80,000 units.

Sales in the first half of last year were 436,669, a total that was passed this year before May 10. This figure will be exceeded by 50 per cent, it is estimated, during the same period this year.

Trio Suffer Slight Injuries When Car Overtakes On Hiway

Garland Williams, employed at the Watts Service station and a brother of C. P. Williams of Flowers Grocery, suffered back injuries and minor bruises, and Charles Williams was bruised about the head when a car driven by Williams turned over on the west road Friday night.

Miss Gweneth Parsons, who is here visiting relatives, another occupant of the car, escaped injury. Neither Garland Williams nor Charles Williams was seriously hurt, both being able to be out after treatment.

The accident resulted when the driver, failing to see detour signs in time, could not make a turn from the highway to a detour, the car crashing into piles of caliche on the highway, which is under construction. The car was badly damaged.
