HUNDREDS PAY TRIBUTE TO W. CLAYTON

Young Crockett Rancher Buried Wednesday Afternoon

PNEUMONIA VICTIM

Young Brought From Angelo Where Death Came Tuesday

Hundreds of sorrowing friends from all corners of Crockett County and from all parts of West Texas packed the Methodist Church Wednesday afternoon to pay tribute to the memory of Warren Clayton, 36, young Crockett county ranchman, who died in a San Angelo hospital at 7 o'clock Tuesday morning.

Death was attributed to pneumonia. The young rancher was taken to San Angelo in a Joe Berkamp ambulance a week ago Sunday. His condition did not appear serious upon arrival there, however, and encouraging reports continued to reach here until Sunday when he was placed under an oxygen tent. The community was shocked to learn of his death early Tuesday morning.

Funeral services were held at 10 o'clock yesterday morning at the home of his parents, Dr. and Mrs. W. Clayton in San Angelo, the Rev. K. P. Barton officiating. The body was then brought to Ozona where services were held at the Methodist Church at 3 o'clock. The Rev. R. A. Taylor, pastor, having charge of the service here. Burial followed in Cedar Hill Cemetery. Pallbearers were Louis Hall, North, Massie West, Clay Adams, Sherman Taylor, John Fogarty, Albert Bailey and Ed Bean.

Surviving are the widow, the parents, Dr. and Mrs. A. W. Clayton of San Angelo, two brothers, Ed Clayton of Ozona, and Joe Clayton of San Angelo, and one sister, Mrs. John B. Hemphill of San Angelo.

Mr. Clayton attended elementary schools in Ozona and later in San Angelo, after his parents moved to that city from here. He and his brother, Boyd, returned to Crockett County to enter the ranch business in 1918. The two acquired extensive holdings in this and Pecos county during that time. Mr. Clayton married Miss June Perner on September 1923. She is a daughter of Mrs. Mary Perner of this city.

F. Kirkpatrick, S. M. Harvick Are New Candidates

Two More Seek Post Of Commissioner From Precinct Four

The past week brought forth the makings of a spirited political contest in commissioner precinct No. 4 of this county when two additional candidates for the job of county commissioner representing that precinct on the county governing board flung their hats into the ring as candidates opposing the incumbent.

Following on the heels of last week's announcement of E. R. Linser, incumbent commissioner from Precinct 4, for re-election to the post, Frank Kirkpatrick, foreman on the Joe Blakeney ranch located in that precinct, and S. M. Harvick of Ozona, who ranches 36 miles south of Ozona, also in Precinct 4, announced themselves as candidates for the job as commissioners from that subdivision.

Mr. Kirkpatrick has been foreman on the Blakeney ranch the past eight years, coming here from Saint Rock.

Mr. Harvick has been a resident of Crockett County thirty years. He operates a fourteen-section ranch southeast of Howard Well.

CROCKETT COUNTY'S VOTING STRENGTH TO GO WELL OVER 800 WITH POLLS, EXEMPTIONS

736 Polls, 51 Under Exemptions Registered; Estimate Overs 35

Crockett County's voting strength will exceed 800 this year, according to tabulation of figures in the office of Sheriff W. S. Willis and Deputy Tom Casbeer this week.

This figure establishes a record in number of voters registered in this county, at least for a number of years past. Promise of lively interest in local politics, with an almost full field of candidates in the running six months in advance of the election, and national and state political interest high is believed responsible for the rush to the poll tax receiving counter.

At the close of the tax paying period last Friday night, a total of 736 poll tax receipts had been issued. Exemptions to those under poll tax paying age but eligible to vote in this year's elections totalled 51, making a total registered voting strength of 787. Two of the poll taxes are to be cancelled, Deputy Tom Casbeer said, one to an over and one to an under-age voter, but the change will not affect the figures relating to the voting strength.

In addition to the registered voters, the total polling strength of the county will be further swelled by over-age exemptions. In the case of those over the poll tax paying age, no exemption certificate is required for voting and these, therefore, are not registered. The number of such exemptions here is estimated at between 30 and 40, which will swell the total voting strength well above the 800 mark.

No check is yet available on the amount of property tax payments in this county. Clerks in the collector's office are compiling the data which will be available soon.

Improvements Made In Heating Plant At Grade School

Improvements in the heating system for the grade school building here are in progress this week Supt. C. S. Denham reports. A San Angelo plumber who installed the plant is here making various repairs and installing an oil burner in the furnace.

Beginning next week the system will be operated with the oil burner, installed in the present furnace. The grade school heating plant furnishes both steam and hot air.

Gerald Williams, principal of the junior high school, was able to be out again Monday after an attack of laryngitis.

O. W. Smith Out For Commission Job In Prec. 1

Former Tax Assessor Is Again in County's Political Picture

The hat of another candidate for the office of county commissioner for Precinct No. 1, which includes the town of Ozona came sailing into the county's political ring this week with the announcement of O. W. Smith, for fourteen years tax assessor of this county, as a candidate for the office.

Mr. Smith has been a resident of Crockett County since boyhood, and has had widespread contacts throughout the county through his public service and his long years in business here, operating a blacksmith and machine shop and doing windmill work here the past 30 years.

The candidate for a post on the commissioners court served this county as tax assessor for seven consecutive terms, during that time emerging victorious over many strong candidates for his office in the county. The constitutional amendment which placed the assessor's office in combination with that of the sheriff ended his public service two years ago.

A thorough knowledge of county affairs gained through fourteen years close association with the commissioners court in administering the affairs of his office and his record as an administrative officer of Crockett County form the basis upon which Mr. Smith is asking the support of Crockett County voters of his candidacy for Precinct No. 1 Commissioner.

Rob Miller, Crockett County ranchman, was the first candidate in the field for the No. 1 commission post, Ben Ingham, who now holds the office, has announced his candidacy for re-election, his announcement being contained elsewhere in this issue.

Siege Of Illness Sweeps Through On Heels Of Cold Wave

Ozona, in common with nearly every other community in West Texas, has been beset with a siege of illness that has simultaneously or by turns touched nearly every home in the city within the past two weeks.

Colds, pneumonia, heart ailments, mumps, pleurisy, bronchitis and a number of other common ills are prevailing.

Ben Ingham Asks Re-Election To Commission Post

Long-Time Representative of Precinct 1 Is Candidate

Allaying all doubt as to his intentions, Ben Ingham, Crockett County rancher and veteran member of the Commissioners Court of this county, yesterday made formal announcement of his candidacy for re-election to membership on the court as representative of Precinct No. 1, embracing the town of Ozona.

Mr. Ingham's announcement came on the heels of that of two opponents for the position he has held for more than twenty years. He has just recently returned from Dallas where he underwent an operation to repair faulty healing of a broken shin bone suffered when a horse fell with him on his ranch along the Pecos River in this county two years ago.

"I am perfectly willing to stand on my record and the record of the court," Mr. Ingham said in making his announcement for re-election. "I think the accomplishments of the administration, street paving, sewer system, road work and other community projects, speak for themselves and if the people want a continuation of the policies followed by the court I am willing to continue my service to the community. If not, I will step out with good grace and hold no grudges."

Mr. Ingham is now serving his eleventh term as commissioner from this precinct, the last ten or twelve years continuously, with others serving at intervals during previous years.

Mrs. James Cornell, Wife Of Prominent Attorney, Is Buried

Funeral services for Mrs. James Cornell, wife of Judge Cornell, prominent attorney, well known here and throughout West Texas, were held in San Angelo and Brackettville Tuesday, with burial in the latter city.

Mrs. Cornell died in a San Angelo hospital Sunday following an operation. She was 57 years old. Funeral services were held Tuesday morning in San Angelo and in the afternoon at Brackettville, former home of both Judge and Mrs. Cornell during their youth.

Schools Invited To Send Singers To Dallas Chorus

Local Pupils May Have Part In Centennial Massed Chorus

Efforts will be made to send a group of Crockett County boys and girls to participate in the giant Centennial Massed Chorus of Texas school children in Dallas on June 13, 1936, it was announced this week by school authorities.

Responding to an inquiry from Miss Sue B. Mann of Alpine, deputy state superintendent as to whether or not schools of this county will participate in the chorus, C. S. Denham, superintendent, declared that pupils are being trained in anticipation of their participation in the impressive Texas song feast and that if possible a group will be sent to participate.

A radio broadcast in which all Texas Cowboy songs that will be used in the Centennial program June 13 will be sung is to be made over the Texas Quality Network Friday morning, February 7, at 11:30 o'clock. Miss Nell Parmley and a group of artists will put on the program. Pupils of the local schools will have an opportunity to listen to this program over the school radio, it was announced.

Dunlap-Stuart Wedding January 20 Announced Here

Announcement of the marriage of Miss Wanda Dunlap, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Dunlap, Crockett county ranch couple, to Byron W. Stuart, catcher on last year's Ozona Giants, Permian Basin league team, and now an employe of the Ozona Laundry, was made to surprised friends of the young couple here this week.

The wedding took place in Sonora on Monday evening, January 20, with the Rev. Frank Nixon, pastor of the First Baptist Church there, performing the ring ceremony.

Accompanying the wedding party to the neighboring town were Mr. and Mrs. Norman Rendall and Butch Lenz, the latter a teammate on last year's winning ball club. The bride was attired in a dress of bottle green with brown accessories. She is a member of the 1936 graduating class of the Ozona High School.

Mr. Stuart is a son of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Stuart of San Antonio. After graduating from Breckenridge High School in San Antonio, he attended T.C.U. at Fort Worth. He has been playing professional baseball the last two years.

Crockett Vets Are Sending In Bonus Requests

$39,000 Estimated Due Local Veterans In "Baby Bonds"

World War veterans of Crockett County who are eligible for the bonus voted recently by Congress are filling out application blanks here this week for the "baby bonds" to be issued by the government in settlement of the bonus.

In the absence of an American Legion post or other veterans organization here, Bryan McDonald, manager of the Ozona Water Works and WPA supervisor here, has volunteered his services in filling out the blanks and taking affidavits of veterans. Several dozen applications have already been filled out and mailed by local vets.

Crockett County veterans will receive approximately $39,000 in bonus money, according to estimates of government agencies announced after passage of the bonus bill. The "baby bonds" are to be issued in June and will be cashable immediately.

G. L. Bunger, who has been ill several weeks following a heart attack, is reported somewhat improved this week.

Road Contractor Plans Move Here To Start Project

R. W. Briggs To Make Ozona Headquarters During Work

Local business interests received telegraphic advice the first of this week from R. W. Briggs of Pharr, Texas, successful bidder for the contract for hard surfacing of 9.1 miles of Highway 27 from Ozona west, that the contractor is making preparations to move to Ozona immediately.

Mr. Briggs and his crew will establish headquarters in Ozona while work is in progress on the highway project. Equipment is being moved here from the valley and actual work on the project is expected to get under way within the next two or three weeks.

The contract price for paving of this stretch of highway was around $97,000. It includes drainage structures, caliche and crushed rock base and triple asphalt surface treatment.

DISCUSS PLANS FOR '36 RODEO AT MEET SAT.

Association Calls Meet For Saturday Night To Talk Plans

ANNUAL MEETING

Officers To Be Named, Centennial Angle To Be Discussed

Officials of the Crockett County Fair Association have called a meeting of stockholders and directors of the association and all interested citizens to be held at the Hotel Ozona next Saturday night for the purpose of discussing plans for the Centennial year Crockett County Rodeo, Race Meet Stock Show and Sale here next summer.

The meeting was slated for last Saturday night, but was postponed when attendance did not justify any action by those present. The new date was set and the call issued by Wayne West, president of the association.

Election of officers and plans for the 1936 Rodeo, Race Meet, Stock Show and Sale will be the principal topic up for discussion at the meeting Saturday night. All citizens interested in the success of the Centennial year celebration are urged to attend this meeting, whether they are stockholders in the association or not, Mr. West said.

Full advantage of the Centennial celebration is to be taken by Crockett County with its 1936 preliminary pronouncements of leaders in staging this community's annual show. The Centennial aspect is to be worked into the three-day program and the full co-operation of the entire county will be needed in staging the event. All who can are urged to be present for the association meeting Saturday night.

First Grass Fire Of Winter Burns Over 2 Sections

Group Of Men From Town Beat Out Blaze At Ed Bean's

Between three and four sections of land were burned over by a grass fire on the Ed Bean ranch north of Ozona Monday afternoon.

The fire, of undetermined origin, was discovered soon after it started and a number of volunteer fire fighters from Ozona rushed to the pasture to help beat out the flames. A high wind from the northwest fanned the flames through the tall, dry grass at a rapid pace and grave fears were felt for a time that the fire would sweep over a vast area to the north of town.

However, the racing flames headed for a cedar hill north of the W. R. Baggett ranch home and spent itself while the fire fighters beat out the side fires.

Mr. Bean asked the Stockman to express his sincere thanks to all those who assisted in extinguishing the fire.

SIMPLICITY

Sir Henri Deterding, the international oil man, says that a common delusion existing in the minds of too many people today is that because a job is big, it is bound to be complicated and difficult.

"There could be no greater fallacy," he asserts.

From the first day a boy enters school, his future can be fairly accurately forecast by observing his ability to see things in their simplicity. If he is merely a memorizer, his school work will become more complicated each year.

Simplicity is one of those qualities that seem to be beyond the grasp of any except superior minds. Those who have the capacity to brush aside the irrelevancies of a problem, work so easily and speedily that they are astonished that others appear so slow and stupid

INFLATION THREATENS

Greenbackers in Congress are making a vigorous campaign. They want the Government to issue three billion dollars in fiat money to refinance farm mortgages and more than two billion to pay the soldiers' bonus.

Such an outcome would be disastrous for rich and poor alike. Yet, if it is to be avoided, there must be a prompt curtailment in Federal spending and the imposition of new or higher taxes.

As Professor Sprague of Harvard recently pointed out, the amount of debt which the Government can carry safely depends largely on whether the deficit is increasing or declining.

THE CARRYING CHARGE

All business not on a cash basis is concerned to some degree about the overdue account, Dallas Retail Credit men were advised recently by Lindley S. Crowder, general manager of the National Retail Credit Association, to adopt a permanent policy of imposing a carrying charge when the limit of terms is exceeded.

Non cash selling has admittedly increased the cost of retail commodities because of the carrying charge on slow accounts and the loss on bad ones is figured into the retail price of the goods. It is no secret that the good customer pays the way for the bad one.

You can assume that the merchant would not be interested in a write-up retail price, if he were certain that every customer would pay his bill on the first of the month. Why not then adjust credit practice to the dependability and responsibility of the purchaser?

WINS HIGH HONOR

Prof. Roger Adams, head of the department of chemistry of the University of Illinois, has been awarded the Willard Gibbs medal of the Chicago section of the American Chemical Society for 1935—one of the highest scientific honors in the United States.

A GREAT TEAM

A Survey of more than 5,000 persons in the United States, conducted by the Department of Commerce, showed that 85 per cent were convinced that brands advertised in daily newspapers were likely to be of a higher degree of quality than those not advertised.

The figures reveal at once the value and the limitations of advertising for building consumer confidence. It is obvious that advertising alone can not suffice. A customer might be induced to try an inferior article once, but he would not continue to use it, regardless of how much was spent by the maker in advertising it.

The successful users of the strength of newspaper advertising have not failed to appreciate this elemental fact. They have turned out a good product, for which newspaper advertising has provided an ever-increasing market. And they have continued to improve the product wherever improvement was possible.

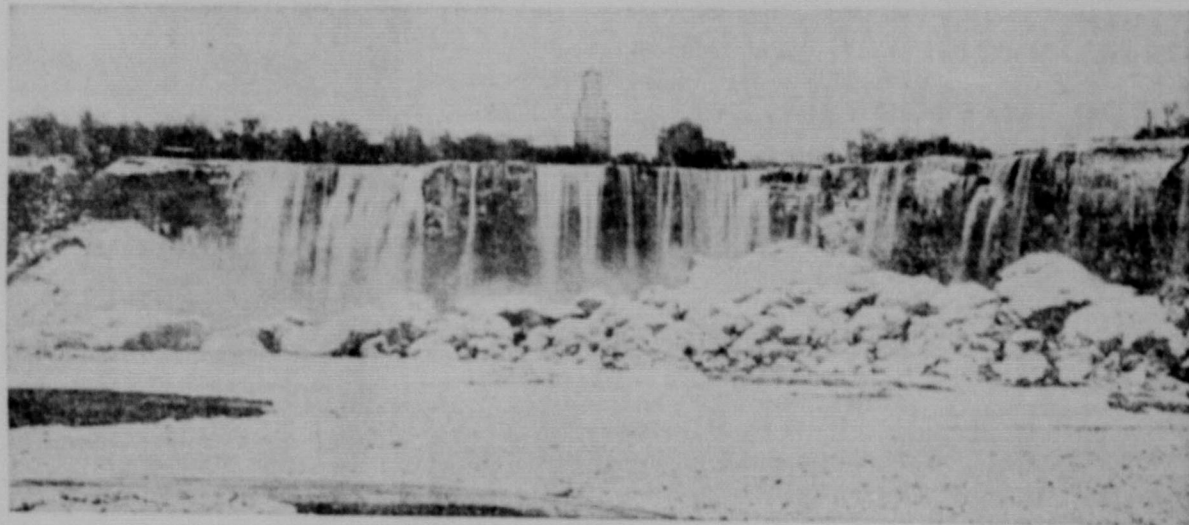

The result is a "team" that has won the confidence of the American people—quality goods and aggressive advertising.— Ft. Worth Star-Telegram.

Pellagra Caused By Lack Of Proper Diet

AUSTIN, Tex., Feb. 4.—Pellagra while not a communicable disease, is of concern to the State Department of Health as many people die of it each year in Texas. Pellagra is a disease that is caused by the lack of proper foods.

The longer a person has pellagra the harder it is to cure, so one should be on the lookout for the early symptoms, such as nervousness, indigestion, and burning of the feet and hands. The disease may become so severe as to affect the mind.

Pellagra is not contagious. As long as a person eats enough of the right kind of food and is not otherwise diseased, he is in no danger even if he lives with a pellagra patient.

The prevention of pellagra depends upon eating the right kind of food at all times. To make sure that the diet is right, it should always include plenty of milk daily, some fresh meat, and as many fresh vegetables as possible.

Marvin Rape, son of Mr and Mrs I. G. Rape, and a student at the University of Texas in Austin, spent the week-end here with his parents during a between-terms holiday period.

Predations Of Wild Indian Tribes One Of Greatest Problems Faced By Spanish Settlers In Texas Province

Light Of Colonists Described In Documents From Archives

ST. ANTONIO, Texas, Feb. 4.—The wild Indians in Texas constituted the greatest problem the Spaniards had to deal with, according to documents found in the archives of the University of Texas. In 1811 it was estimated that there were 10,000 warriors in the province of Texas. The most numerous of the wild Indians were the Comanches. These Indians were the most fierce and aggressive of the Texas savages. They were native-born horsemen. The Comanches roamed over most of northern Texas, often going as far as San Antonio and as far west as Nacogdoches. Next in importance were the Lipans, a branch of the stealthy Apaches. The Lipans harassed San Antonio, Bahia, Laredo and Grande with their devastating and cruel raids. The Carancahuas and Tanchahuas were next in importance because of their constant raids on the coast settlements. In East Texas was found the large Comanche confederacy. East Texas Indians were sedentary; they had acquired a fair degree of barbaric civilization. Although some of the Indians had organized communities and wore some clothing, records have been found to contradict the traditional picture of beautiful Minne-ha-ha, coyly laughing by a babbling brook. On the contrary, as a whole Texas Indians were filthy, irresponsible, treacherous, warlike and cruel. Some of the coast Indians were even accused of cannibalism. However, Indians in Texas feasted on Spanish flesh only in order to acquire the courage and endurance of their white enemies.

Since the wild Texas Indians outnumbered the Spaniards seven to one, they were compelled to devise a number of ways for pacifying the savages; for, after all, the intention of the Spaniards was to civilize and not to exterminate the Indians. The missions, even after they were secularized, were used to teach the rudiments of religion and civilization to the barbarians. In spite of the noble work of the missionary fathers, however, the ungrateful Indians would run away from the missions whenever the opportunity was afforded them. One of the most effective ways of controlling the Indians was the semi-annual gift of presents. Approximately two thousand pesos were spent annually for presents given the Indians in San Antonio, Nacogdoches, and Bahia. Through one of his officers the governor would summon the chiefs of the wild tribes to meet during a certain moon at a designated place. There the presents were distributed to the savages. The Indians preferred knives, rifles, and ammunition. However, the Spaniards gave them few of these dangerous toys, and large quantities of glass beads, vermilion, brightly colored cotton goods, hawk-bells, tobacco, and sometimes brandy. Besides being prompt at the designated times to receive their presents, the Indians would often pay social calls to the Spanish settlements. The Spaniards were good hosts. The officer in command of the settlement honored by the visit of a group of savages would order the fatted calves slaughtered for a barbecue, and a ring of soldiers thrown around the group—just to make the festive occasion more enjoyable and safe. The Indians were always required to deposit their weapons at the guardhouse upon entering a settlement.

The bribing method was not always successful. When the Anglo-American commenced to give the Indians more and better presents, the Spaniards began to lose the precarious friendship of the Indians. The wild Indians were exceedingly expressive. When presents failed to satisfy them, they expressed their displeasure by raiding, stealing horses, burning homes, and killing defenseless settlers, shepherds and farmers. In such cases, the Spaniards resorted to the use of their small but deadly army. Except on a few occasions when Indians were led by whites, the savages were always thrown into a panic at the sight of a hostile Spanish detachment. However, when a large body of Indians could surprise a small number of soldiers, then their revenge was thorough. On one occasion, in 1787, eight soldiers were overtaken by one hundred Comanches about twenty miles northwest of San Antonio. Upon seeing the yelling horde galloping towards them, and knowing their scalping playfulness, the Spaniards raced furiously toward the protective shelter of a motte.

chered and horribly mutilated the seven soldiers. Part of the men pursued the Indians, overtaking and killing only eleven of them.

The Indian menace kept growing and becoming more unbearable as time went on. The Indians took advantage of any misfortune of the Spanish government to let loose a series of plundering and destructive raids upon the struggling Spanish settlements. Once in a while the Spanish soldiers were able to surprise and attack an Indian raiding party. On January 20, 1817, for instance, Captain Juan de Castaneda surprised a hostile party of Indians near Bahia and killed Chief Bala and four warriors. Usually, however, the Indians had better horses than the Spaniards and could easily escape the pursuing avengers. Just before the Anglo-Americans came to Texas, conditions had become so desperate that on November 30, 1818, the Ayuntamiento of San Antonio petitioned the governor of Texas for military aid. An original copy of the petition is found in the Bexar Archives of The University of Texas. A translation follows:

Governor: "Don José Maria Zambrano, alcalde of first vote, the ayuntamiento, and syndic, representing all the residents of this city, held special session today to discuss the depredations which the wild Indians are committing every day in sight of this city. We have decided that in order to be enabled to continue cultivating our crops—the only source of income now left these settlers—we must appeal to Your Lordship for an adequate military guard for each one of the four farms. We would also request a detachment sent every day to reconnoiter the outskirts of the aforesaid farms. This kindly aid will enable us to continue our work and raise a crop, thus alleviating in part the miserable condition of the soldiers and settlers. Without these crops we shall surely reach the point of starvation. We are confident of finding relief through the kindness of Your Lordship.

"May God guard your Lordship many years."

New Chevrolet Truck on Economy-Safety Run

Carrying a 10,000-lb. cement block from Los Angeles to New York, a 1 1/2-ton Chevrolet truck—one of the new 1935 models just introduced—demonstrated that safe driving means economy. Speed limits were observed in every community, with 35 m.p.h. the maximum on the open road. The 2311 1/4 miles were completed on two quarts of oil and 308.6 gallons of gasoline, at a cost of 61.6 cents per mile, or one-third of a cent per ton mile. The entire run was completed without any mechanical failure, repairs, or even a scratched fender. The illustrations show the test truck and features of the new 1935 models. Coupe type cabs with solid steel roof, full-floating rear axle, and full-length water jackets, are some of the improvements. In the lower right, Harry Hartz, who drove the cross-continent test, is seen beside the 10,000-lb. block. The test was officially observed by the American Automobile Association.

Shipping Data Shows Livestock Reaching Normal

Year-To-Year Comparison Favorable First Time In Months

AUSTIN, Tex., Feb. 4.—For the first time in many months the year-to-year comparison of Texas live stock shipments to Fort Worth stockyards and interstate points is favorable, according to the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research. From July, 1935, throughout the remainder of the year each of the monthly shipments were far below those of the corresponding month of 1934. This situation was the result of the Government's huge cattle purchasing program during the summer and fall of 1934 in the drought stricken areas and also the shipment of unusually large numbers of animals through regular commercial channels because of the shortage of and high price of feed in comparison with the price of live stock, it was pointed out.

Shipments of all classes of live stock during December totaled 4,765 cars, an increase of 7 per cent over the 4,450 cars during the like month in 1934.

Interstate plus Fort Worth car shipments of the various classes of live stock during December, 1935, and 1934, respectively were: Cattle, 3,200 against 3,199 cars; calves, 945 against 776 cars; hogs 374 against 254 cars; and sheep, 248 against 221 cars.

"Practically the entire increase in shipments went to the Fort Worth market," the Bureau's report said. "Receipts in this market by truck showed a phenomenal increase over the year before in line with the trend of receipts by rail decreased except in the case of sheep. Substantial increases occurred in cattle and calf shipments to feeding areas, notably to Illinois, Missouri, Kansas, Iowa, and Colorado; and to the grazing areas of Arizona and New Mexico.

"Sharp decreases in the net rail shipments of cattle and calves occurred in the districts of West and Northwest Texas in contrast with substantial increases from East and South Texas."

NO GAME—A RACKET

A man wandered into a tennis tournament, the other day, and sat down on a bench.

"Whose game?" he asked.

A shy young thing sitting next to him looked up hopefully.

"I am," she replied.—Ohio Motorist.

ARROGANCE OF WEALTH

When a newly rich attempts to create a sensation, it is highly gratifying to see him effectually squelched.

A rich oil magnate had descended on one of New York's big hotels. Irritated at the indifference of the staff to his great wealth, he determined to give them something to talk about.

At breakfast the following morning he said to the waiter: "Just bring me twenty dollars' worth of bacon and eggs."

The waiter shook his head. "Sorry, sir," he replied, "but we don't serve half portions in this hotel."—Santa Fe.

Are You a STRANGER In Your Own Home?

It's a funny thing—but most people don't half see their own homes. We pass by both the fine points and places that need fixing, without a glance, without a thought.

Yes, we all do this—until some day we decide to look around and really discover the place we live in . . . Let's start with the living room. That couch seat—how dingy and dull it looks. And there's a rough place where the cat sharpens his claws. The little rug in the hall is ragged and frayed. (Why, that's a disgrace!) And that table top certainly must be done over. The mantel looks positively bare, since Ted broke that lovely green vase. And all those magazines and papers—what we need is a good-looking stand to hold them.

You see the point. Lots of little things need doing. And it doesn't take lots of money to do them, one at a time . . . Just make a list of what's needed and then keep watching the advertisements in this newspaper for good buys at low prices. Now's a fine time to find all sorts of good things for the house (February for furniture), and things you've been needing a long time, maybe, things you can have now without spending too much.

Two-Headed Calf Born In Ft. Stockton

A two-headed calf born Sunday morning in a mixed breed cow belonging to M. Morlan, farmer on the main place on the Monahans attracted great interest exhibited in town by Bill Hill, who took it to San Angelo for mounting and will transfer it to the natural history museum at Texas Centennial exposition in Dallas. A peculiarly deformed animal nearly an hour. Its body was nearly normal in all respects, but the head was doubled, with two underjaws and three tongues. The 2 out-side eyes appeared set, while those on the inside, each other, were slightly out of shape. There were only two heads—those on the outside. The heads appeared to join at the neck where additional ears would have grown.—Ft. Stockton Pioneer.

After all, why should anyone go any further on the story of two Louisiana hold-up men mingled with a group of legislators and walked out of town unnoticed?

Society Would Legalize Lotteries

The fact that larger headquarters were needed attests to the momentum of Mrs. Oliver Harriman's move to legalize lotteries in New York. ### The LIVESTOCK SITUATION by J.A. McNAUGHTON

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 4.—It is now apparent that there are more lambs on feed in the principal feeding areas than was estimated earlier in the season. The latest report of the United States Department of Agriculture indicates 5,260,000 lambs on feed, a decrease of 54% from a year ago and slightly larger than the total two years ago.

In the important feeding areas in Nebraska, Colorado and Wyoming, the number of lambs on feed was estimated as slightly larger than a year ago. In the far western states, including Oklahoma and Texas, it is estimated there are 2,304,000 lambs on feed as compared with 2,249,000 a year ago.

The nation is eating more lamb, according to United States Bureau of Animal Industry slaughter inspection figures. In 1935, a total of 17,645,000 sheep and lambs were slaughtered under Federal inspection, against 16,056,000 in 1934 (government drouth relief slaughter excluded) and the five year average of 16,400,000. There was an increase of 4.5% in slaughter of sheep and lambs in the San Francisco Bay District, according to figures compiled by W. E. Schneider, United States market specialist, while the trade estimates the increase in Southern California at around 50% over the previous year.

Lamb markets have held up fairly well in the first month of 1936, although weights of fed lambs are running somewhat heavier than the trade desires. The result is that prices of heavy lambs, weighing above 90 lbs. are showing some declines, while the comparatively small proportion of handy-weight lambs, averaging 75 to 85 lbs., are in very active demand with little loss in values.

Mumps Invade Local Schools, Report 9 Cases

Basketball Squad Hard Hit With Two Star Players Out

An outbreak of mumps in the local high school has riddled Coach Ted White's basketball squad and put a serious crimp in school routine, according to reports from the school yesterday. At that time, nine students were absent from classes suffering from the jaw enlarging malady. Of this number two were first string members of the basketball squad, two others were on the second string and Coach Ted White himself, mentor of the quint that promised to be a serious threat in the Big Lake joust this week-end, was abed with the mumps. D. A. Parker and Vaughan Brown, both of whom have been mainstays of the local court crew through this season, were out with mumps, and both of them were in serious condition for a time but were reported improving this week.

Second eliminations will be conducted by County Centennial Advisory Boards early in April, and the winning essays in the four divisions will be submitted by this Board to the State finals not later than May 1. State winners will be announced after May 15.

Winter Makes New Assault On Section

Winter renewed its assaults on this section early this week after a week-end lull that promised a few days' respite from the icy blasts.

A blustery wind Monday night ushered in a new siege and freezing temperatures resulted. The new spell failed to bring the moisture in the form of mist and snow that accompanied last week's low temperatures, however.

Even As Frigid Winds Blow, Ozona Fans Talk Plans For 1936 Diamond Campaign

Launching Of Plans Early Is Urged If Giants Are To Enter League Combat

Even while huddled up in thick overcoats with their backs turned to the icy winds from the north, Ozona's rabid baseball fans, and there are many of them, are beginning to talk and think baseball. Plans for the 1936 campaign are already forming in the minds of many followers of the fortunes of the Ozona Giants in years past. Prospects look good for building up a local team stronger than last year's second-half winning crew, with most of the players in that aggregation possibly available for another season and the field open to select pitching talent that will measure up to the team that will be backing up the moundsman.

Tex Stuart, Butch Lenz, Carl Dorley and Fats Heatherly, four of last year's crack infield will be on tap with the first chirp of the birds, the first three named residing here now and Heatherly understood to be available for this year's line-up. Bob Weaver, Ozona's incomparable center fielder is also one of the local stand-bys, and Vick Montgomery will be back from T.C.U. before the season is far advanced. Whether or not Johnny Mangold, agile shortstop on the '35 nine, or Joe Cogwell, right fielder, will be available is not known.

Players and local team are agreed that if Ozona is to have a team to compete in league campaigns this year that plans should be formulated early and efforts be now to put a team on the practice field at the dawn of the season. A mass meeting of backers for a "figure out" is in order in the next few weeks.

Mrs. N. W. Graham is understood to be heartily in favor of the plan.

Not This One; The Other One

THERE formerly were two Coveleskie brothers playing in the Big Leagues. One day Harry Coveleskie was pitching a game for Detroit against the Yankees at the Polo Grounds in New York. As

Damon Runyon sat in the press stand an attendant handed him a note which had been sent by one of a group of spectators in a grandstand box. The note ran as follows: "To settle a bet, please state which one of the Coveleskie boys this fellow is." Runyon turned the note over and made his answer on the reverse side of it. "Is," he wrote, "is the other one!"
