P. Vaughn, Former Ozona Resident, Dies

Heart Attack Early Yesterday Morning Fatal; Funeral Friday

H. P. Vaughn, 55, a former resident of Ozona, died suddenly at his home at Grosevenor, near Coleman, early yesterday morning, relatives and friends here were advised. Death came at 4 o'clock Wednesday morning, resulting from a heart attack.

Mr. Vaughn had been in ill health since a year ago, when he suffered a severe heart attack. Death resulted within a few minutes after the second seizure yesterday morning.

A daughter, Mrs. Phillip Lee Childress, and Mr. Childress, living Crockett County ranch country, left early yesterday morning upon receiving word of her father's sudden death. Their two-year-old son, Phillip Lee, Jr., only grandchild of Mr. and Mrs. Vaughn, remained here with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Childress.

Funeral services are to be conducted in Coleman at 2:30 Friday afternoon. Mr. Vaughn's mother and other relatives residing in Arkansas are on their way to Coleman and the funeral was set for Friday to allow them time to make the trip. The widow and two children, Mrs. Phillip Lee Childress and H. P. Vaughn, Jr., and the one grandson survive.

Mr. and Mrs. Vaughn left Ozona about three years ago to make their home in Coleman county, where Mr. Vaughn operated a stock farm. He had been a building contractor here for several years.

A large number of friends of the family will go from here to attend the funeral. Four Ozonans have been selected among the pall bearers. They are Scott Peters, Houston Smith, Joe Pierce and Lee Childress.

Scouts Pinch Hit For Santa At Christmas

Local Troop Gathers Toys For Underprivileged Here

Ozona Boy Scouts, members of Troop 53, are going to pinch hit for Santa Claus in Ozona this Christmas, it was announced this week by Scoutmaster Joe Haddon.

A campaign to gather all available used toys in the city for distribution to underprivileged children was inaugurated this week. A receptacle is to be placed at Smith Drug Store where used toys may be deposited, and a town-wide appeal has been made by the Scouts for everybody who has used toys which they will donate for this purpose to take them to the drug store.

Toys thus collected will be reconditioned by the Scouts and on Christmas eve, they will take the role of Santa Claus to distribute the toys to homes where Santa is not expected to pay his Yuletide visit.

December Ushered In Under Dripping West Texas Skies

Christmas month was ushered in this week under dripping skies. Low hanging clouds early this week dripped an almost uninterrupted drizzle over the area to add approximately 4 of an inch of moisture to an already well seasoned earth. The moisture was general over most of the area, reports indicate.

Mr. and Mrs. Fleet Coates spent the week-end in Gail, Texas, where they visited Mrs. Coates' mother and other relatives.

$140 Total Is Reached In Red Cross Roll Call

Brief Canvass Results In Satisfactory Enrollment

A brief campaign conducted by organized committees under the direction of Mrs. Scott Peters as Roll Call chairman netted a total of $140 in the annual Red Cross Roll Call campaign brought to a close last week.

The drive was brought to a close on Thanksgiving day, with a few scattered reports coming in later in the week to bring the total well past the assigned quota of the local chapter.

"Many persons who, we feel sure, would have contributed to the Red Cross were not seen by the committees because of lack of time," Mrs. Peters said. "However, we found the people glad to contribute to this cause and feel that we could have reached a more impressive total had we had more time. A splendid group of workers volunteered their services in making the drive and to each of these I am deeply grateful, for to them should go credit for the successful campaign."

The 1936 Roll Call enrollment represents an increase of near 100 per cent over last year's total, A. W. Jones, chapter chairman, reports.

Suspected In Barnhart Slaying, Jose Reyes Returns To Aid of Mother Who Took Blame

Five years as a fugitive from American justice, all of that time spent in Mexico, where he fled following a jail break at Alpine, ended here yesterday morning for Jose Reyes, former resident of Ozona, who is wanted in Alpine on charges of assault with intent to murder.

Reyes surrendered voluntarily on a downtown street here Wednesday morning to Sheriff W. S. Willis. His mother, who makes her home in the Mexican sector of Ozona, is ill and needs him, the young Mexican said, and for that reason he decided to give himself up to the law, and take his punishment.

Reyes was the object of an intensive search by officers through out this section five years ago as a suspect in the axe murder of a Mexican woman at Barnhart. There is no charge pending against him in connection with that crime, however, thanks to the mother, whose present illness and need led to his return from freedom in his native land of Mexico to face the courts in Texas.

Mother Takes Blame

Reyes' mother, Pala Gonzales, was assessed a five-year suspended sentence, according to local officers, upon her conviction in Irion County district court at Mertzon on a charge of murder growing out of the axe slaying of Julia Nabarete in Barnhart on July 20, 1931. Reyes, who had gained his liberty a few days before that killing by breaking jail at Alpine, was suspected of complicity in the crime, having been seen in Barnhart at about that time. The entire West Texas area was combed for him but he was never seen again until he walked up to Sheriff Willis on an Ozona street yesterday, identified himself and announced he was ready to surrender.

Reyes' mother, however, absolved him from blame in the killing, taking the responsibility herself. For that reason, no charges were lodged against Reyes, Irion County officers informed Sheriff Willis, who communicated with them following the surrender. The Nabarete woman's body was dumped in a shack at Barnhart and the building fired. The fire was discovered, however, before the building was destroyed, and the body found.

Reyes is wanted in Alpine in connection with an alleged hammer attack on his wife. He was jailed there following his arrest and was awaiting trial when he broke jail and escaped to Mexico. He told Sheriff Willis that he made his way across country to the border and had been in Mexico since that time.

Alpine officers were expected here this morning to take the man back to that city for trial on the assault to murder charge. The woman Reyes is charged with beating with a hammer recovered from her injuries and is living in Alpine, according to information in the hands of local officers.

26 Mexicans Are Fined In Raids On Game Houses

Wholesale Arrests Follow Visit Of Officers In Mexican Area

Twenty-six Mexicans "told it to the judge" in justice court here Monday morning as a result of a series of raids on alleged gambling places conducted Saturday night by Sheriff W. S. Willis and his deputies.

The wholesale arrests of alleged gaming house operators, players and hangers-on followed raids of three different establishments. Cards, dice and an assortment of gambling games were in progress as the officers swooped down, it was reported.

Fines assessed by Justice of the Peace J. W. Johnigan ranged from $10 for the operators of the houses to $1 for the "kibitzers".

Less than a half dozen of the defendants being able to pay the fines and costs, the crew was put to work the first of the week cleaning the accumulated leaves and other trash from around the park square and other sections of the downtown streets, to work out the fines.

Christmas Lights Form Canopy Over Downtown Section

Gay Colored Lights To Be Swung Over Business Area

In the next few days, nights rather, Ozona will put on its Christmas dress in the form of many strings of gay colored lights forming a canopy over the downtown section.

Cooperating merchants completed arrangements this week for installing the Christmas lighting plan inaugurated last year. A dozen strings of colored lights will be swung across streets from the West Texas Lumber Co. to the Hotel Ozona and from the West Texas Utilities Co. to the City Service corner to put the city in holiday attire and add to the Christmas spirit.

The West Texas Utilities Co., cooperating with merchants of the town, will install the lighting system this week, to be left until after Christmas.

Santa Makes First Visit Friday - Sat. At Morrison Store

Santa Claus is making his first pre-Christmas visit to Ozona Friday and Saturday of this week.

All Ozona children are invited to call on Santa during these two days, to lay their claims to virtue, and to pass across their want list for the coming occasion when the old fellow is scheduled to drop out of the sky with a bag of very interesting things for good girls and boys.

Basketball Exes Wallop Barnhart In Season Opener

Town Squad Takes Visitors 46-28; League May Be Formed

Basketball exes of Ozona showed time had not dimmed their shooting aim last night when they walloped a town team from Barnhart by the top-heavy score of 46 to 28.

Buddy Moore and J. W. Rutledge, Ozona High School Lion Aces of a few years back, were high point men of the scrimmage, Moore ringing the basket for a total of 18 points and Rutledge for 15. Johnnie Lynum, curve ball artist from the 1936 Ozona Giants hurling staff and purveyor of light on the local sports situation for Stockman readers, Coach Ted White and Wallace Myers, of basketball, football and baseball fame and now a member of the select circle of educators, each accounted for four points in the wild scoring bee. Perry of Barnhart was high point man for his aggregation, Clarence Nelson, Byron Stuart and Charles Williams were other players on the Ozona team participating in the game.

Last night's game is the start for what enthusiasts hope will develop into a town basketball league, composed of four teams. Two teams are already in the field, a faculty team composed of Guinn Carruthers, Wallace Myers, Coach Ted White, Clarence Nelson, Carl

WOOL-MOHAIR FIRM TO OPEN HERE ON JAN. 1

Richey and Brown Take Lease On Dudley Garage Building

MELVIN BROWN Mgr.

Lampasas Man to Move Family Here For Opening In Jan.

Preliminary plans were completed during the past week for the establishment of a wool and mohair warehouse and ranchers supply firm in Ozona with signing of a lease on the Dudley Garage building, one of the oldest and largest buildings in Ozona, located on one of the principal business corners in the downtown section.

The new business is to be established by Tom Richey, one of the most active wool buyers in West Texas for one of the eastern firms, making headquarters in San Angelo, Albert Brown of Lampasas associated with Mr. Richey in the operation of a similar business in Lampasas, and Mr. Brown's son, Melvin Brown, also of Lampasas.

Melvin Brown, who is to be active manager of the Ozona warehouse, was here last week making arrangements for moving to Ozona to make his home. He has rented living quarters here and will return with his wife and child.

The new warehouse will open about January 1, it was indicated by the men associated in the enterprise. The name under which the firm will do business and the policies and plans of operation have not been announced. Detailed announcement will be made upon opening of the business in January, Mr. Richey said.

Opening of the new warehouse here will present an opportunity for concentration of Crockett County wool and mohair crops and the creation of a strictly local market, with possibility of premium prices for the admittedly better quality wools produced locally. It was pointed out here by persons interested in the project. The warehouse will not be confined to Crockett County, however, it is understood, but will serve a wide area including surrounding counties.

CHRISTMAS SHOPPING GETS UNDER WAY

It's Christmas time again and youngsters are concentrating on their good manners, and slipping off at intervals to add another item to the list which they intend to submit to Santa Claus for his usual bountiful consideration.

The Christmas spirit is beginning to take form in Ozona as merchants load their shelves and counters with gift goods. And what an array may be seen in the stores that have leaped to the fore with early Christmas displays. Toys for good girls and boys are numerous and beggar description. Gifts for the fat and lean purse, and gifts of every description are on display in attractive arrangements.

Thus Ozona merchants make their bid for the Christmas shopper's business. We believe one would be safe in saying that no better stocks of gift merchandise could be found in any town up to twice the size of Ozona than will be found in Ozona stores. These merchants are your neighbors and friends, and the purchases you make of them makes it possible for them to offer you larger stocks and better values. They are entitled to your patronage, for, after all, your town is just as good as its business section. If there are no business houses, there is no town.

Resolve this year to do as much of your Christmas shopping in Ozona as possible. Take your gift list and make a tour of the gift stores. See what they have to offer, compare their prices, examine their stocks, and give them a chance to serve you. They will appreciate it and you will get as much for your money, more in many cases, as you will anywhere.

Cage Season Is Opened With 30 Team Aspirants

Scarcity Of Veterans Puts Coach White In Gloomy Mood

By Johnnie Lynum

Monday afternoon marked the opening of the 1936-37 basketball season for Coach Ted White and his squad. Uniforms were issued and at the close of the practice session, a close check-up showed that some thirty boys were out for the team.

The 1936-37 basketball season is quite gloomy for Coach White. He realizes that he has lost most of his 1935-36 aggregation that looked good enough to cop at the start had it not been for sickness that wrecked his opportunity. If the Ozona Lions are of a championship caliber this season, then James Childress, J. T. Casbeer, and Haskell Leath must bear the brunt of the burden and get able assistance from Fred Parker, James Parker and Joe Tom Davidson from last year's squad with the help of Pete Perner, Jack Baggett, Beecher Montgomery, J. W. Johnigan, Maurice Lemmons, Howard Lemmons, Irvin Babb, and Ele Baggett, who are showing lots of basketball ability in the daily workouts.

Centennial Memorial Museum To Open Soon At College Of Mines

El Paso, Dec. 2.—Collections of historical and geological materials of the Southwest will be featured in the new Centennial Memorial Museum at the College of Mines here, a branch of the University of Texas, which will be officially opened within a short time. Present collections have been obtained by gift and purchase, primarily for instructional and teaching purposes. No collection has been acquired entirely for exhibition.

Extensive collections in the geology and mineralogy field have been gathered by members of the college staff, by purchase, and by gift. Representative specimens of the principal rock, mineral, and ore types of the Southwest and Mexico are to be found.

The late Prof. W. H. Seamon, of the College of Mines faculty, through whose initial activities the geological collections grew, gave many beautiful specimens of minerals and ores of the lead and zinc deposits of Missouri and Kansas as well as many specimens from the Southwest. The Rechert collection, made possible by the gift of Mr. Rechert, El Paso assayer, is one of the most outstanding. Numerous specimens of the rich silver deposits of the Southwest and Mexico are to be found in the Herbert collection, gifts of the late Mr. Herbert of El Paso. This collection was made during the later part of the nineteenth century.

The Ledwige collection, a gift of the Woman's Auxiliary of the College of Mines, consists primarily of copper ore specimens collected in Bisbee, Ariz., district about 1911.

The Woman's Auxiliary has purchased two excellent collections of pottery within the last year, as well as a small collection of stone artifacts. They were collected in the Casa Grande area and are representative of that culture.

How did it come about that the defenders of the Alamo were fighting to preserve the Coahuila constitution and not in anticipation of the declaration of Texas independence? R. F. M.

Assuming that to be a fact, it only have been because they had not learned of the Declaration of Independence of March 2, or regarded themselves a part of the army of the Texas provisional government, created by the constitution of November, 1835, which by a vote of 33 to 15, had pledged its loyalty to the Mexican constitution of 1824 and had declared it would remain faithful to Mexico so long as it was governed by that constitution.

How many and what county has Angelina county had? N.

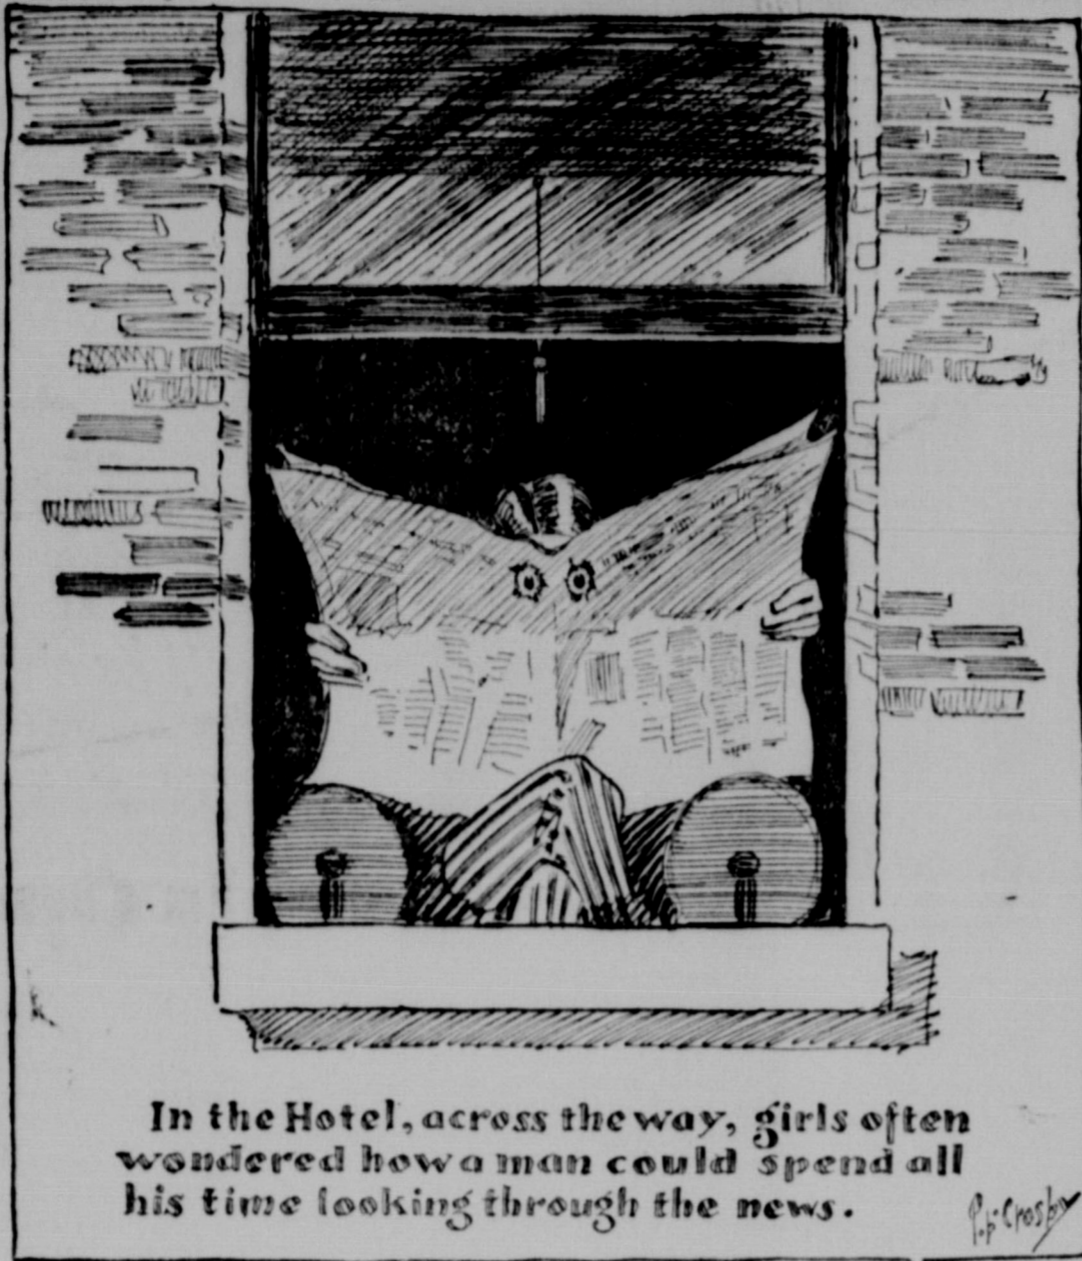

When the county was organized in 1846 the county site was Marion, now known as Marionville, near the center of the county, became the second county seat; the third being Homer; four located at Luffkin, the present county site.

Q. When was New Mexico colonized? T. L. K.

A. Juan de Onate received a commission in 1598 to colonize the territory and command a party that passed through the El Paso region to San Juan and Santa Fe, the capital being established in 1602 at Santa Fe.

Nowadays.

By PERCY CROSBY

In the Hotel, across the way, girls often wondered how a man could spend all his time looking through the news.

Q. Was El Paso established before or after the settling of Santa Fe? T. L. K.

A. The town of El Paso was not founded until 1680. Following the revolt of New Mexico Indians that year most of the 2,000 Spaniards then in New Mexico retreated to El Paso and established the town.

Q. Did the final demarcation in 1854 of the boundary between the United States and Mexico have any bearing on the present Texas-Mexico boundary? R. F. M.

A. The Rio Grande had already been definitely accepted as the Texas-Mexico boundary in the peace treaty of February 2, 1848, between the United States and Mexico, signed at Guadalupe Hidalgo near Mexico City.

Q. What was Vice-President de Zavalla's record prior to the Texas revolution? R. F. M.

A. He was born in Merida, Yucatan, in 1781, where he was educated and served as secretary of city council, physician, deputy to Cortes, deputy of congress of Mexico, senator. He also served as governor of the state of Mexico, Minister of finance, president of the general congress, and of the senate and minister to France, a position he resigned in 1835, to come to Texas. He opposed the dictatorial policies of Santa Anna and sought to establish a home in Texas.

Q. What was the Spanish evaluation of Texas before Anglo-American migration began in 1821? N. C.

A. It can be gathered from a report of a Spanish official at the end of 1819, which stated that it was inhabited by "barbarians and wild beasts, with the exception of San Antonio de Bexar and the Presidio of Bahia (Goliad), the only settlements of Spaniards and they are but small." The combined population of these two places was then only about 2,500.

Q. Why did Texans claim Santa Fe as a part of the Republic? O. P.

A. Under the Valesco treaty with Santa Anna, the Mexican dictator agreed to withdraw his troops beyond the Rio Grande and concede the country to Texas. Texas claimed that this included all the territory to the head of the Rio Grande and that Santa Fe, being east of the Rio Grande, thereby became part of Texas.

Old Hotel Register Contains Names Of Many Famous Persons

Fredericksburg Standard: If it's true that names make news, and in most instances it is, the original register of the Hotel Nimitz, dating back to the year 1873, should be one of the "newsiest" of times that can be found in these parts.

Starting with the year 1873 and extending through the year 1879, its pages are crammed with the signatures of folk from far and near, of generals who fought in great wars, and of ranchers and stage coach drivers, and others who entered the portals of the stately old Hotel Nimitz at the cross roads in Fredericksburg.

There is a signature of a "Henry Weston, England," on January 13, 1874. There are numerous signatures of visitors from Mexico, of visitors from Indiana, New York, and Philadelphia; people traveling distances that in those days took longer than would several trips around the world today. There are bold signatures and delicate ones, scrawls and Spencian flourishes.

While everyone who traveled the "highway" in those days deserves some credit for his bravery in facing the uncertainty of ever reaching his destination, and should for that reason have some worth attached to his autograph, there are signatures preserved in the book that would command a high price at any autograph exchange.

The name of Phil Sheridan, signed boldly, and authentic beyond a doubt, went into the register on Monday, May 31, 1875, while that famed assistant to Ulysses S. Grant was making an inspection tour of the South following the Civil War.

Another prize signature, also considered authentic beyond a doubt, is that of President Rutherford Birchard Hays and staff, 19th president of the United States, who on June 30 stopped at the famed old hostelry enroute on a tour of Mexico.

The predecessor of the Fredericksburg Standard even played host to people at the famous old inn. On Saturday, May 16, 1875,

Charles Martin registered as "the guest of the Sentinel office." On November 1, 1875, an aspirant for the governorship of Texas made known his aspirations and party affiliations by signing as "G. Pessels, Independent Candidate for Governor."

The mode of travel in those days is also evident from the records. For on November 6, 1873, "Moses K. Koseborough of Indiana, with horse," registered. "Chas Christopher, San Antonio, with four horses," stopped over on November 7, 1873. On Thursday, October 23, "W. O. Hutchinson, boss of the El Paso Mail Line, 6 employees and horses," stopped at the hostelry.

The horses in those days were registered so that charges of 50 cents per day could be made at the time of the guest's departure. The horses were stabled behind the hotel building, where stables and a high stone wall had been built to keep the marauding Indians from stealing the animals.

The spirit of revelry is easily discernible among the signatures in the book. On the eve of December 24, 1875, Christmas Eve if you please, "Gen. A. O. Cooley, Eureka, Maj. C. C. Callan, Dictator of America, and Ulysses S. Grant," scrawled their names across the now famous pages of the register for that day. Unfortunately there is no record of their activities during the night, but the handwriting in the book shows that they were well on their way to a jolly evening at the time they affixed their signatures.

What underlies many of the signatures, whether those who signed ever reached their destinations, or whether they perished after the stop-over in the hills at the famed old "steamboat Hotel" will never be known.

Trapping Season Is Open With Animals Reported Plentiful

With fur bearing animals reported more plentiful than in many recent years and prospects good for a strong fur market and higher prices than in several years, the trapping season got under way December 1, to continue

TEXAS 4-H'ER WINS $200 SCHOLARSHIP

MEET the champion 4-H livestock boy of the southern states, J. D. Jordan, 15, of Mason, Texas. Each year since his 15th he fed and showed baby beavers. His prizes on the 40 head handled total $1,116.86, and his sales return $3,429.18. For this record and his work as assistant leader and other activities he was awarded second national honors by club leaders in the seventh Thomas E. Wilson annual contest, and prizes including a $200 cash college scholarship presented at the 15th National Club Congress in Chicago. The boy had won state honors in 1934 but was too young to qualify for higher awards. This year's state award fell to Carl Martin, 18, Menard County, who fed 21 baby beavers in five years, winning $351.77 in prizes and returning proceeds of $2,107.22.

through January. Fur dealers here are anticipating a good yield as trappers take the field. With a few days of sustained cold weather, the furs will become prime and command top prices. Each trapping season brings several thousand dollars revenue to this section from the pelts of ringtails, coons, fox, skunk and other animals that abound in the area.

Pension Commission Collects Signatures Of 88,000 Pensioners

Austin, Dec. 2—The Texas Old Age Assistance Commission is starting an autograph collection which will eventually contain more than 88,000 signatures, Acting Director Orville S. Carpenter said today.

Washington officials told Carpenter that the federal government wanted the Texas commission to have a signature card upon each assistance recipient. The purpose of the collection is to provide federal auditors a method of checking endorsements written on the back of pension warrants when cashed, and to assist them in verifying the eligibility of each person. However, the cards will be kept in file by the Texas commission.

It was estimated by the statistical division of the commission that this new requirement would necessitate approximately 300,000 extra hours of labor by investigators in addition to the work being done re-investigating recipients and investigating new applications.

People now upon the assistance rolls will be brought cards to sign during the next sixty days, Carpenter stated. He stressed the fact that even present recipients eligible under the "necessitous circumstances" requirement of the new law would be asked to sign cards.

Birth Certificate Important Record

Austin, Dec. 3—"The registration of a person's birth forms a legal record that is frequently the most important document in that individual's life," said Dr. W. A. Davis, State Registrar, Bureau of Vital Statistics.

"With the passing of the laws relating to Old Age Assistance and Unemployment Insurance, many citizens will be called upon to produce their birth certificates to prove identity and eligibility for pensions," he said, "and many difficulties are being encountered because of the death of relatives and friends who were in attendance at the birth. The State Board of Health has provided for the registration of unregistered births, giving the information necessary under these new laws. Blank forms are furnished by the Bureau of Vital Statistics, State Department of Health, Austin.

"The parents of the child born more than sixty years ago did not have the same opportunity to protect their child's rights by having the birth recorded, as the parents of a baby born in this Centennial Year in Texas.

Each parent in Texas should be able to say that his child's birth has been recorded in the State Bureau of Vital Statistics. A properly prepared and filed birth certificate is sure to be necessary to your child at some time in his life and may be the means of avoiding many legal difficulties in later life. It is your duty to see that he has this protection.

"The State law provides that where a physician, midwife, or other person was in attendance upon a birth, it shall be the duty of such person to file a certificate of birth in accordance with the laws herein. The law states further that where the above stated persons were not present, it becomes the duty of the parents or others aware of the birth, to make known such facts to the legal registrar within 5 days.

"A properly recorded birth certificate is the legal record establishing the fact that you are a citizen of the United States and entitled to protection of your rights under the laws of this country."

QUESTIONS THAT ARE ASKED ABOUT BANKING

"Why are 'Banking hours' so short?"

THE hours during which a bank is open to the public for the transaction of business are usually called, "Banking Hours." They are only a part of the working day for bank employees.

A bank is very much like an efficient housewife who has work to do before a dinner party and work to do after the guests leave. There is much work for employees to do before the bank opens to the public. At the close of "banking hours" window tellers count and balance their cash; bookkeepers prove accounts and tally ledgers; checks are arranged for clearance to other banks and to other cities; conferences are held; officers dictate and sign correspondence, go over reports and tend to many other duties.

Our bank does much of its work before and after "banking hours."

THE BIGGEST JOB EVER TACKLED BY MAN!

GRAND COULEE DAM WILL HAVE 2300 MILES OF WATER PIPE BUILT IN TO COOL CEMENT—WILL CREATE ARTIFICIAL LAKE 50 MILES LONG

Rufus Woods, and: Coulee Dam from Grand Stand; Cement Buckets; A Frontier Town; The Forge. (Northwest Airlines, Photos.)

A FEW miles out of Wenatchee, Washington, nearly six thousand men are working on the biggest job that man ever tackled. They are building Grand Coulee Dam. It is a vast irrigation project which will take fifty years to complete; but once completed, it will irrigate thousands of square miles of land. It will turn thousands of acres of dust into the most fertile farms in America; it will change a sea of sagebrush and rattlesnakes into vast fields of grain, of pasture land and apple trees. The whole complexion of the Northwest will be changed. Its color will go from grey to green, and there will be a lake fifty miles long where now are barren hills and valleys and dust! It was dust, blowing through an open window into a law office, that started Grand Coulee Dam.

his law library. "Rufus", he said, throwing down his feather duster, "why doesn't someone build us a dam?" So they both went to the window and looked out in the direction of the roaring, raging Columbia River, one of the two most powerful in the world, and an idea was born. Rufus, that day, wrote a long, visionary article about a dam that would sit between the granite coulees, and would back up the Columbia for miles. "It will generate power, and the power will pay the bill", said Rufus. And at that point, the neighborhood broke into two camps: one camp that thought Rufus had been working too hard, and was a little out of his head; the other camp collected pennies and dimes to get the reclamation bureau down to see if the dam were possible. And in the meantime every one bought or borrowed books on hydraulic power generation, on irrigation, on construction engineering. "Any eight-year-old boy around here", Woods says, "could tell you exactly how far a cubic foot of water has to fall to generate a given unit of power." All that happened in 1918. The eight-year-old boys have grown up now, and many hundreds of them are working on the dam. They are helping realize the vision that Rufus Woods has been holding up to them day after day, month after month, for nearly twenty years. It is a tremendous task—and an impressive sight. Engineers from all over the world have made pilgrimages to R. New York business men who want to thrill at the sight of so colossal an undertaking, who can find relaxation in trudging through the sandy streets of the little frontier towns which have sprung up almost overnight, are flying out to Wenatchee or Spokane weekends, and going from there to the Grand Coulee Dam. And Rufus Woods still carries the torch. "The Dam must go on; it must not get mixed up in politics—it must go on!" says his front page.

TAILS FOR SHEEP

E. B. Brady, former and ranchman of London, was in Brady Wednesday and states rubber bands will remove lambs' tails. He said he tried a band on the toughest lamb in his flock, a black one, and it took the tail off in about three weeks. Next spring on his lamb crop he will wrap every tail with a rubber band, and believes it will save him a lot of money, as this method of removing lambs' tails causes no wound. Mr. Brady reports range conditions fine around London.—Brady Standard.

How's this? Are lambs' tails taboo in the estimation of modern shepherds? When Little Bo Peep lost her sheep she didn't know where to find them, but when they came home out of the gloom they brought their tails behind them. If Bo Peep's sheep had been up-to-date Bo couldn't have identified them. Anyhow, why shouldn't the sheep have a tail? The tail is wool bearing. It is good mutton, especially for mutton stew at cafes. Why should E. B. Brady introduce a new species of sheep after 5,000 years of sheep history? Evolution is all right if left strictly to the evolve. But when man interferes to bring on evolution by artificial means he interferences with nature. Nature is our all mother, and mother knows what's best. What would Mary's little lamb have looked like without a tail? As it was, Mary's lamb made the children laugh and play until the teacher turned it out. If the little sheepie had been tailless it would have made the children giggle all day. Our position is that a sheep without a tail is an incomplete sheep. Of course, the creature will remain docile even after being maimed by man. "Every shepherd tells his tale under the hawthorne in the dale," quoth Milton. It is to be feared that Mr. Brady is not a tale-telling shepherd. He is a tail-destroying shepherd.

Cranberry Much Sought After Delicacy In Adding Variety To The Holiday Menu

Practical Recipes For Preparing Given By H. E. Dept. Of T. S. C. W. (CIA)

Denton, Dec. 2—The cranberry is highly prized for sauce and jelly. Its beautiful red color enhances its value for decoration of the table, and the slightly acid flavor is particularly well suited to serve as a sauce with meats and poultry. The use of cranberries has been recommended for patients suffering with chronic rheumatism probably because the alkaline carbonates formed in the system from the organic acids stimulate the action of the kidneys.

Some of the ways in which cranberries may be used to add variety in the menu are: cranberry jelly, cranberry ice, frappe parfait, preserved cranberries, cranberry pie, as decoration on salads, cocktails, puddings, and as sauces to serve with meats, vanilla ice cream or puddings.

Cranberry Jelly: Pick over and wash one quart of cranberries. Add one cup boiling water, cover, and boil twenty minutes. Rub through a sieve, add two cups of sugar, stir until sugar dissolved, and cook five minutes. Turn into a mould or glasses.

Cranberry Sauce: Cook one pint of cranberries with one pint of boiling water five minutes. After boiling begins (closely covered) strain, add a cup of sugar and let boil once. Skim and set aside to cool.

Cranberry Pie: 1 1/2 cup cranberries, 1/2 cup water, 3/4 cup sugar. Put ingredients in sauce pan and cook ten minutes; cool and bake in one crust with a rim and strips across the top.

Cranberry Frappe: 1 qt. cranberries, 2 c water, 2 c sugar, juice of two lemons. Cook cranberries and water eight minutes; then force through a sieve. Add sugar and lemon juice and freeze to a mush using equal parts of ice and salt.

"REEL" RIFLE

Pretty Maurine Kerns, of Miami, Fla., known with her home-made harpoon rifle, designed by W. M. Edwards. The gun operates by means of stout rubber bands which discharge a steel arrow tied to a fishing reel line under the barrel. The fish is speared (if the angler is a good marksman) and reeled in.

Who Will Get the Lions' Award

Each year the Ozona Lion Club awards the outstanding football player of the Ozona High School a loving cup. Just who will get it is a question in the minds of many of our close football observers. There are several prospective candidates and regardless of who gets it, he is a lucky "baller". I say lucky because a flip of the coin is about the only means of deciding since the race will be such a close one. The boys most frequently mentioned for the award are Joe Tom Davidson, Haskell Leath, Pete Perner, Fred Parker, J. T. Casbeer, and Jamie Childress. Summing it up, there are four seniors and two underclassmen. Which is your choice?

The cup award is made by a secret committee of three, each reporting independently. The players are judged on their performance in play, their teamwork and leadership, their record in faithful training, their cooperation with the coach and members of the team, their scholastic record and other points that combine to make them valuable members of the team. Each member of the committee rates his choice in 1, 2, 3 order and the winner is chosen on points. The award is made at the time letters are awarded and the winner's name is kept secret until that time.

Basketball Outlook

Last week the basketball outlook for the high school was not too bright for Coach White, but when some thirty aspirants dashed onto the court Monday afternoon, things did seem brighter. Coach will have to build a team around James Childress and J. T. Casbeer. This week's scrimmages will give the public a glimpse of what to expect after the Christmas holidays.

Town Basketball

Efforts are now underway to sponsor a town independent basketball five. Ozona is blessed with a galaxy of basketball stars and every effort should be made toward sponsoring a team. Here we have Vaughn Brown, Oscar Rutledge, Bud Moore, Charles Williams, Coach Ted White, Wallace Myers and several other outstanding stars of the indoor court game that are very anxious to show their court ability once again.

Our Best Hunter

After conversing with a number of the sportsmen of this immediate center we will nominate Wayne West as the best allround hunter. It is quite natural that Mr. West will not divulge his kills, but he has been noticed frequently and it is from this close observation that he is given this distinction. If you are interested in kills and some first hand information talk to Mr. West.

Big Season for Lions and Their Coach

Even though the Ozona High School Eleven did not make an impressive win column for the 1934 football season, it displayed plenty of good sportsmanship. To Coach Ted White, we offer a salute. It was he who instilled in his youngsters the value of fair play and what it takes to constitute a good sport. He is to be commended for the excellent showing that his eleven displayed. It was his untiring effort and the willingness of his proteges that carried the purple and gold into battle, not only in quest of victory, but for the high principles our school has so notably attained. We sincerely hope that our few victories will not be lost for the future years, but plead that the spirit instilled in those youngsters in victory and defeat will never die, but be an inspiration in the years to come.

Football In District 21-B

Fans in District 21-B this season saw six defensive teams battle for the gonfalon that was finally awarded to Rockspring. The teams did not have an offensive scoring punch, but managed to either win or lose even in case of a tie. All the games in District 21-B must be either won or lost. If the offense is not good enough to score, then the teams making the most penetrations is declared the winner. If the penetrations happen to be the same, then first downs decide the outcome of the game. It seems logical that is should be run that way, but personally I do not believe in any such maneuvers. Why? Often the best team loses because it is a bad day for the eleven. You will recall SMU outplayed Fordham all the way except by points and after all points are the deciding factor in football. And too, there are only a few districts in the State that use this method.

Hats Off To The Champions

Coach J. N. Lauderdale at Rockspring and his fighting Bulldogs are the new football champs for our district. With five wins to no defeats is an enviable record. Mr. Lauderdale is a brand new coach at Rockspring, having made his debut there this season. It is quite an asset for a strange Coach to come into a town and turn out a winner. I imagine that he looks like a king to the Bulldogs and their followers—who wouldn't after such impressive record.

Officiating

The football season for this district has gone. We saw some good and some poor officiating. What we need more than anything else along this line is an organization of officials. An organization will not only do away with the undesirable, but will speed up the game. In a number of the sections of the state, such an organization has been formed. The organization has at its head a president, vice-president and secretary. Meetings are held at least once a week until the season is underway. At the meet-

BITTER WEED TROUBLES

Bitter weed is reported growing rank in some sections of the county. A few losses have been reported as a result of the weed, and ranchers who are troubled with the plant are anxious to see a killing frost.
