OZONA READY TO MAKE 11TH ANNUAL SHOW GREATEST IN HISTORY; OPENS 1:45 TODAY

New Stables Built To Accomodate Overflow Of Race Horses; Sheep Facilities Full; Record Crowd Expected

Final preparations having gone forward at top speed all this week, Ozona is all set for the opening of the eleventh annual Rodeo, Race Meet, Stock Show and Sale at 1:45 this afternoon.

In order to accommodate the largest number of race horses ever assembled in advance of a local show, fair officials have had additional stables constructed this week and all available stalls are now filled with the pick of some of the fastest race horses in the Southwest, promising crowds at the week-end's three-day show one of the fastest racing cards in the history of the celebration.

If pre-show arrival of visitors can be taken as a barometer, one of the largest crowds of recent years will crowd the stands and grounds during the daily programs today, Friday and Saturday. Fair officials are confident that the show will draw capacity attendance at each day's showing.

With more than 800 sheep on hand for sale in the auction ring, this outstanding feature of the annual event here gives promise of further record breaking possibilities. Top animals from some of the nation's outstanding flocks will be paraded before prospective buyers in the auction ring at the sale from 9 to 12 each morning.

Among the well known breeders with sheep here for entry in the show and sale are Wilford Day of Parowan, Utah, F. N. Bullard and Robert Miller of California, Day and White of Fort Stockton, W. S. Hansen, Collingston, Utah, John K. Madsen of Mt. Pleasant, Utah, Wallace Hendricks of San Angelo, P. T. Underwood of Denton, Geo. Williams of Eldorado, D. T. Jones & Son of San Angelo, Sol Mayer & Son of San Angelo, V. I. Pierce and J. W. Owens & Sons of Ozona, and others.

The big free barbecue at noon each day, which has become an "institution" in connection with the local celebration, will as usual be an outstanding feature of the three-day event. R. J. Cooke, "father" of the Ozona brand of barbecue, has had the bean pots simmering and the barbecue pits blazing preparing the menu for the first day's feed. Fresh barbecue will be cooked each morning for the day's feast at the noon hour.

Many new and interesting features are in store for the crowds attending the rodeo events and racing card at the fair grounds each afternoon. Outstanding among the "special events" will be the daily demonstration by Luke Pasco, famous breeder and trainer of Border Collie sheep dogs, of his world champion dogs. These famous dogs will demonstrate their intelligent herding of sheep for show crowds. A small group of wild sheep, fresh from the range, will be used in the demonstrations, the dogs, responding to whistle signals from their master, penning the sheep in small pens, cutting them into groups, and performing other herding feats.

A daily performance by Jeff Reavis' trained pony, "Danger" will be another feature of the afternoon shows. Wild steer riding, a colt show and other events will be in addition to the usual rodeo and races.

Dancing and carnival attractions on the show grounds will furnish the diversion at night.

The daily racing card, always a favorite feature with the grandstand, is due to be the best this year in the ten-year history of the show. From six to ten entries are expected in each of the five daily races. Some of the state's leading stables will be represented in entries for the meet.

NATION'S TOP SHEEP RIVALS IN SHOW RING

Williams, Jones Take Ram, Ewe Division Championship

88 ARE ENTERED

Pierce, Owens Crockett County Sheep Heavy Show Winners

John Williams of Eldorado and D. T. Jones and Sons of San Angelo carried off championship honors in the eleventh annual Crockett County Rambouillet Sheep Show at the fair grounds here Wednesday morning.

Mr. Williams, son of George Williams, a veteran exhibitor at the local shows, entered the champion ram, and D. T. Jones and Sons exhibited the champion ewe. The Williams ram was a yearling which took first place in his division before taking the championship. The D. T. Jones ewe took first place in the aged ewe division and went on to win championship over the yearling ewe winner, from the flock of V. I. Pierce of Ozona.

The show was judged by Prof. Esplin of the Utah State Agricultural College at Logan, Utah. Eighty-eight entries were recorded in the six divisions of the show, with some of the nation's finest animals competing in one of the most closely contested shows in many years here.

In the aged ram division there were twelve entries. A ram from the D. T. Jones and Son flock from San Angelo took first place in this division, W. S. Hansen of Collingston, Utah, exhibited the second place winner. Third place was won by V. I. Pierce of Ozona and D. T. Jones and Sons took fourth place.

Twenty-nine entries were made in the yearling ram competition, the champion of George Williams flock winning handsily in this division. V. I. Pierce was second, J. W. Owens and Son, third and Wallace Hendricks of San Angelo fourth.

From a field of twelve entries, D. T. Jones and Son took first place in the aged ewe showing. Second place went to W. S. Hansen, third to V. I. Pierce and fourth to Claude Owens.

A yearling ewe from the nationally known flock of V. I. Pierce of Ozona captured first place in the yearling ewe division over a field of 26 entries. This division was a clean sweep for Crockett County sheep. J. W. Owens and Son took second place, Claude Owens captured third and C. B. Hudspeth, fourth.

Demo Committee Arranges Ballot For July Primary

Only One Contest Develops in County; For County Surveyor

Order of names to appear on the ballot for the Democratic primary election July 23 was determined and assessments against county and precinct candidates for the purpose of defraying election expenses were made at a meeting of the Crockett County Democratic executive committee in the office of Houston Smith, chairman, Monday afternoon.

Saturday was the last day for candidates for county and precinct offices to file applications with the county chairman for a place on the primary ballot. At the close of the period, only one contest for office in this county had developed—that for the post of county surveyor. N. E. Rendall last week announced his candidacy for this office, and Bill Conklin, incumbent, has made application to the county chairman for his name to go on the ballot for re-election.

All other county officials will go back into office without opposition. These officers are County Judge Charles E. Davidson; George Russell, county and district clerk; W. S. Willis, sheriff, assessor and collector of taxes; Tom Casbeer, county treasurer; N. W. Graham, county attorney; W. M. Johnigan, justice of the peace, precinct 1; and County Commissioners Rob Miller, E. R. Kinser, J. W. Owens and Chas. Black.

W. Lee O'Daniel of Fort Worth, radio entertainer and flour manufacturer, drew first place on the local ballot in the drawing by the committee for the order of names in the race for Governor of Texas. Next in order of appearance will be Karl Crowley, Clarence R. Miller, James A. Ferguson, Thomas Self, Marvin P. McCoy, Ernest O. Thompson, S. T. Brogdon, Joseph King, Clarence E. ## Hail Pelts Ozona, .7 In. Rain Recorded

A driving rain and hail storm struck in Ozona last Thursday night to bring a total of .7 of an inch of moisture. The hail stones were large at the outset of the downpour and would have resulted in considerable property damage had they been falling fast. But the fall was scattered and the stones became smaller as the fall increased.

Pictured is Arthur Mitchell, who came to Ozona recently as local manager for the West Texas Utilities Co. Mr. Mitchell came to Ozona from Cross Plains, Texas, where he served as local manager of the West Texas Utilities Co. for seven years. He replaced J. ## Tax Valuations Hiked $120,729 By County Board

Renditions Of 32 Oil Companies, Individuals Raised

Increases in property valuations for tax purposes of 32 taxpayers of Crockett County were made by the Commissioners Court this week sitting as the first Board of Equalization.

Total increases levied by the Court amounted to a $120,729 hike in property valuations for the county for 1938. Among the 32 taxpayers affected, the majority were oil companies, royalty companies, and pipe line companies. However, there were several individuals named whose valuations were hiked in the court's action.

The largest increase was made in valuations of the Standard Oil Company whose valuation was hiked $18,000, from $46,025 to $64,025. The firm of Armer and Armer was raised a total of $17,000, or from $13,000 to $30,000. Stanolind Oil & Gas Company's valuation was hiked $14,000. E. L. Smith Oil Co., $16,000 and Republic Production Co., $13,000.

Taxpayers affected by the raise are notified by notice in this week's Stockman of the raise in values and of the meeting of the court as a final board of equalization on July 11. At that time taxpayers will be given a hearing to show cause why the values should not stand as raised.

Clips From Many Growers Go In Sale At 19 To 19½ Cents

The wool was sold to Tom Rich-ey, buyer for A. W. Hilliard and Son, the price ranging from 19 to 19½ cents.

The three out-of-town clips were from Clay and Jim Espy of the Davis Mountains area and from the ranch of Ed Mertz near Fort Stockton.

New Stables Built To Accomodate Overflow Of Race Horses; Sheep Facilities Full; Record Crowd Expected

Final preparations having gone forward at top speed all this week, Ozona is all set for the opening of the eleventh annual Rodeo, Race Meet, Stock Show and Sale at 1:45 this afternoon.

In order to accommodate the largest number of race horses ever assembled in advance of a local show, fair officials have had additional stables constructed this week and all available stalls are now filled with the pick of some of the fastest race horses in the Southwest, promising crowds at the week-end's three-day show one of the fastest racing cards in the history of the celebration.

If pre-show arrival of visitors can be taken as a barometer, one of the largest crowds of recent years will crowd the stands and grounds during the daily programs today, Friday and Saturday. Fair officials are confident that the show will draw capacity attendance at each day's showing.

With more than 800 sheep on hand for sale in the auction ring, this outstanding feature of the annual event here gives promise of further record breaking possibilities. Top animals from some of the nation's outstanding flocks will be paraded before prospective buyers in the auction ring at the sale from 9 to 12 each morning.

Among the well known breeders with sheep here for entry in the show and sale are Wilford Day of Parowan, Utah, F. N. Bullard and Robert Miller of California, Day and White of Fort Stockton, W. S. Hansen, Collingston, Utah, John K. Madsen of Mt. Pleasant, Utah, Wallace Hendricks of San Angelo, P. T. Underwood of Denton, Geo. Williams of Eldorado, D. T. Jones & Son of San Angelo, Sol Mayer & Son of San Angelo, V. I. Pierce and J. W. Owens & Sons of Ozona, and others.

The big free barbecue at noon each day, which has become an "institution" in connection with the local celebration, will as usual be an outstanding feature of the three-day event. R. J. Cooke, "father" of the Ozona brand of barbecue, has had the bean pots simmering and the barbecue pits blazing preparing the menu for the first day's feed. Fresh barbecue will be cooked each morning for the day's feast at the noon hour.

Many new and interesting features are in store for the crowds attending the rodeo events and racing card at the fair grounds each afternoon. Outstanding among the "special events" will be the daily demonstration by Luke Pasco, famous breeder and trainer of Border Collie sheep dogs, of his world champion dogs. These famous dogs will demonstrate their intelligent herding of sheep for show crowds. A small group of wild sheep, fresh from the range, will be used in the demonstrations, the dogs, responding to whistle signals from their master, penning the sheep in small pens, cutting them into groups, and performing other herding feats.

A daily performance by Jeff Reavis' trained pony, "Danger" will be another feature of the afternoon shows. Wild steer riding, a colt show and other events will be in addition to the usual rodeo and races.

Dancing and carnival attractions on the show grounds will furnish the diversion at night.

The daily racing card, always a favorite feature with the grandstand, is due to be the best this year in the ten-year history of the show. From six to ten entries are expected in each of the five daily races. Some of the state's leading stables will be represented in entries for the meet.

"Tiny Comet" a favorite this year on West Texas tracks, is one of seven horses from the stables of N. C. Casbeer of San Antonio. "Over Shoes" and "Golden Words" are other horses from the Casbeer (Continued on last page.)

GENERALISSIMO

A busy man this week is Wayne West, president of the Crockett County Fair Association. In fact, he has been a busy man for a month or more as he handled a multitude of details in connection with preparations for the eleventh annual show here starting today. Mr. West is serving his sixth year as president of the group sponsoring the local celebration.

THURSDAY, JUNE 23, 1938

A RECORD OF FAILURE

The session of Congress now ended has not been an inspiring spectacle for the American people. It is more than a mere coincidence that as the session advanced and administration policies were further unfolded the depression deepened and production and unemployment declined.

The regular session was virtually a continuation of the special session called last November. The purpose of the special session was to enact or to get ready for the regular session beginning in January four major pieces of legislation. The President also directed its attention to the recession then gathering force and a second major objective then came to be dealing with that.

What has been done about the four major bills the administration desired? And what has been done to restore confidence and better times to the country?

The answer to both questions is that little was done in the special session and—so far as any actual contribution to sound recovery is concerned—little or nothing more in the regular session.

TOO MUCH OF IT ALREADY!

Of the four administration measures, the farm bill was enacted first. It is a piece of legislation so far untried over a crop year. But already expressions of farm discontent with the act have been more numerous than in the case of any previous legislation having to do with agriculture.

The second of the four, the wage hour bill, in somewhat compromise form, was passed. It is a hodgepodge of compromises and doubtful provisions and has an uncertain future both in its constitutionality and its benefits to industry and wage earners.

The two other important administration proposals with which Congress started seven months ago have gone by the board. The government reorganization bill, which the President made a test of his strength, was rejected by the House and this became the most humiliating setback for the administration in the entire session. The final proposal, an extension of the TVA to six additional regions of the country, never had a chance. It was ditched early and remained in that predicament.

But what of the chief necessity of ending the recession, bringing recovery, better times, more jobs, more wage money for workers and their families? The results are plain to any citizen with open eyes. Rather late in the regular session the President decided that something drastic had to be done. Following the housing legislation and extension of RFC loans, a so-called recovery program then was advanced.

The first part of the program, credit inflation, was supposed to "take" at once. It failed at once and has continued a failure. The second part, government spending and lending to a total of 3,750 million dollars, is due for a similar fate. Whatever flurry may be created when the money is turned loose will be shortlived. It will be a repetition of what has been tried before, on an even larger scale. It will not be permanently constructive because it does not alter the fundamental conditions needed for sound and lasting recovery.

That is the stage at which Congress and the administration now have arrived. They have not been the most pleasant company for each other along the way. Differences have engendered a bitterness and division that will be projected into the months and years ahead.

Politics has had and will have its inning. The well-being of the nation and its people is the basic consideration. On that score Congress and the administration have suffered their greatest defeat.

The country must suffer as a consequence. Witnessing the futility of Washington, it must fall back on its industry, its initiative, its will to do, its traditional character and principles and trust to them for achievements beyond the reach of political, misconceived and costly policies of its government.—S. A. Times.

THINGS TO WATCH FOR

A new treatment for cloth which will enable designs to retain their sharpness and original luster on fabrics even after repeated washing. An apparatus which permits a patient to administer anesthetic to himself while having a tooth filled, a bone set or while undergoing a minor operation; as long as he feels pain he squeezes on a bulb similar to those used on atomizers. A vending machine that sells flashlight batteries. A rear view vanity mirror for women interested in seeing what is going on behind their backs without being observed. A method of freezing bread so that it can be kept in storage six to eight months.

COACHES OF DISTRUST

Senator Alben Barkley declared Sunday night in a radio broadcast that American business "for more than two years has been in a large, wholehearted, unconscious conspiracy" to deprive customers of cash. The continuing responsibility of government during periods of recession is, therefore, to create employment to increase the flow of cash and induce business activity.

Dear Alben becomes "Coach Alben" of that political tribe which holds that everything the government does is right, that which business does is wrong. Nothing has ever been built on distrust, not even a government. One of the oddities of today is that business which has helped the nation to grow great and powerful, which has contributed all that was asked by the government, is now the bad wolf of recession.

What this nation needs as much as the five cent cigar back in Marshall's time is to get rid of some of the coaches of distrust. The oddity of the situation is that when the political coaches get rid of all business through destroying confidence in it, they'll be left without any material support. Distrust leads ultimately to that end.—S. A. Times.

NO BOUNDS FOR POWER

Leaders of the electric power industry met last week in America's time honored convention town, Atlantic City. Cool ocean breezes promoted the conciliatory spirit, and a sincere desire to cooperate with the government was expressed. Another boom seems to be on the way, for according to one spokesman, a $12,000,000,000 investment in new plant facilities will be required in the next decade to meet growing demands for electricity. It is revealed that at the end of 1937 Americans were using 2,100,000 more electric refrigerators, 325,000 more electric ranges, 2,000,000 additional radios, 750,000 washing machines, 1,200,000 electric clocks, 1,350,000 flatirons, 90,000 cleaners and 250,000 more toasters than at the close of 1935.

ONE-MINUTE STORIES OF 100 TEXANS

By W. T. Carley

O. Henry

The world's greatest short story writer came into the world in the city of Greensboro, North Carolina, September 11, 1862, six days before the Battle of Antietam, and was christened William Sidney Porter. At the tender age of three he lost his mother, and the lonely father turned the toddling son over to his sister, "Miss Lina" Porter, teacher of a private school.

At fifteen young Porter had completed his elementary education and knew more of his dictionary, Bible and Shakespeare than many college graduates. The next five years were spent as a drug clerk. At 20 he came to Texas to live the life of a cowboy in LaSalle County. After two years of ranching he removed to Austin to accept employment from a realty firm.

At 25 he started a four-year tenure in the general land office as a bank teller. Then a journalist. Then an adventurer in South America. Then the loss of his wife the shadowed years, the publishing of his first story, and a favored niche on fame's eternal camping ground.

From 1902 to 1910 he was a resident of New York City, the voice of The Four Million, The Caliph of Bagdad, and in eight hurried years turned out 250 stories that will live as long as our language endures. In the 28 years following his death world-wide admirers have purchased more than two and a half million copies of his stories, a popularity that is second only by Mark Twain.

O. Henry "gave his strength to the weak, his substance to the poor, his sympathy to the suffering, and his genius to humanity."

Mrs. Lou Friedman and daughter, Bobbie, of New York City, will arrive here this week for a visit with Mrs. Friedman's sister, Mrs. Ben Lemmons. They are coming by boat to New Orleans.

Son of "Sherlock Holmes" Creator Weds

Adrian Conan Doyle, second son of the late Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, creator of "Sherlock Holmes," is shown with his bride, the former Anna Andersen, only daughter of the late S. Andersen, Copenhagen ship owner. The bride is regarded as one of the loveliest women in Denmark.

Slight Decline In Texas Employment

Austin, June 22—Reports to the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research from 2,521 representative Texas establishments, employing 103,609 workers during May, showed a decline from April of 1.2 per cent in the number of employees and a decline of 5.8 per cent in the number of workers from May, 1937. Total weekly pay rolls of these establishments were 1.4 per cent larger than in April but 0.8 per cent under May a year ago.

In the manufacturing industries of the state employment decreased 0.9 per cent from April and 8.9 per cent from May last year; while total weekly pay rolls were up 3.3 per cent from April and down 3.2 per cent from May last year.

Industries making a better showing than the state average were: beverages, commercial printing, petroleum, refining, foundries, machine shops, public utilities, dyeing and cleaning, and laundries.

May Auto Sales Drop Abruptly From 1937

Austin, June 22—New automobile registrations in Texas during May declined only slightly from the preceding month but the drop from May last year was decidedly abrupt, the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research has announced. Reports from fifteen representative Texas counties show a decline in registrations of 1 per cent from April and 34.9 per cent from May last year.

Registrations in these fifteen counties during the first five months of the year totaled 19,827 cars, a decline of 30.6 per cent from the corresponding period last year.

"Sales in all of the four price brackets shared in the decline but the percentage drop was greatest in the lower-intermediate price group," the Bureau's statement said.

Because he wears a muzzle, catches flies, chases fowls and beats it for home when he sees the catcher coming.

Long Term Loan Proving Factor In Home Buying

Monthly Amortization Has Appeal to Small House Owner

Growing interest in home ownership, as reflected in building permits and construction totals for recent months in practically every section of the country, is evidence of the acceptance of the FHA's long term, monthly amortized mortgage, according to Administrator McDonald. Much of the new residence construction, particularly in the lower priced field, is being financed by long term mortgage, both those insured by the FHA and others similarly repaid but not insured.

The cost of mortgage credit is unquestionably a legitimate part of the cost of shelter and home ownership, and much of that too-high cost in previous days resulted from second and third mortgages, according to Mr. McDonald. "These secondary risk positions called for extremely high rates," he pointed out. "Such rates seriously impinged on the owner's ability to pay and thereby jeopardized both primary and secondary obligations.

Secondary Loans
"On a theory that mortgage lending was really a process of buying houses on a deferred basis, low ratio first mortgages and expensive secondary liens were perhaps justified from the lender's point of view. But on the thesis that a lender is one who lends and not one who bets that the home owner cannot meet his payments, it is apparent that a single mortgage based on the borrower's ability to pay and limited only by the value of the collateral is a sounder system. It is not the ratio of debt to value that caused the lending losses of 1932 but the idea that a borrower could, in a short interval, amass enough cash to pay primary and secondary obligations in full, for, in the last analysis, the old 3 and 5 year mortgages was to the average home buyer nothing more nor less than a demand note.

FLOOR COVERING

Pleasing effects in interiors can be had by having the floor coverings contrast rather than complement the wall coloring.

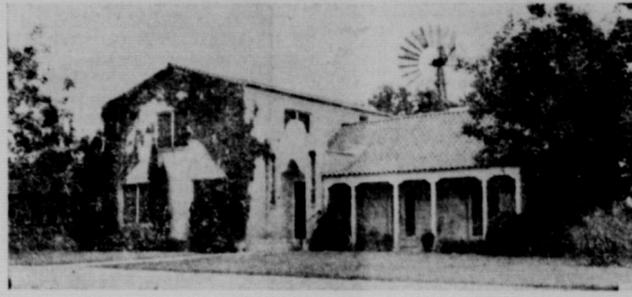

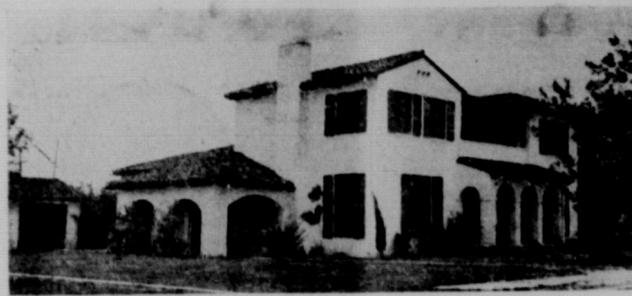

Light and cheerful atmosphere is created in a room with a soft-toned, light walls by use of a dark floor covering of the same basic color.

Dormer Windows Are Important Aid To Attic Ventilation

The attic is obviously the easiest and most economical place in which to add bedrooms or playrooms. With such an addition one changes a five room house to a six or seven room house without adding a wing or becoming involved in serious structural changes. Adequate ventilation and light for these rooms can be provided by adding dormers and good sized windows in the gable. The size and design of the house will more or less determine the type of dormer to be used. They may be set back on the roof or be set flush with the face of the house wall, as is often the case with brick or stone faced dormers. It is imperative however, that they be carefully proportioned and designed in harmony with the style of the house, for over sized or ugly dormers may easily ruin its appearance.

If possible, add dormers both front and rear so that there will be through cross ventilation.

The Federal Housing Administration insures loans by private institutions for remodeling attic space under the Property Improvement Credit Plan.

Mrs. Bob Austin and children of Fort Worth are here for a visit with Mrs. Austin's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Kersey.

All Parts Plumbing System Important To Its Proper Operation

A plumbing system is divided into three parts, all of approximately equal importance.

To the layman the fixtures are better known and are items that come in first consideration when building a house or when contemplating the modernization of an existing house. But even the finest of fixtures cannot render the service they are capable of unless the supply and waste piping are correctly installed and adequate for the needs of the system.

Defects in supply piping frequently will result in an inadequate supply of water at fixtures, and defective waste piping will often cause a stoppage at the fixtures.

In designing a plumbing system for a new house the plumber will first total the water consumption for all fixtures. The capacity of piping should be sufficient to allow the use of all fixtures simultaneously, otherwise some of the faucets will give off only a discouraging dribble when heavy use is being made of water. To guard against this, pipe capacity should exceed the all fixture use volume. Hidden piping should be of high est grade, as it is costly to replace or repair. In the usual two story house there is approximately 300 feet of such piping concealed in walls and under flooring. Obviously it pays to have this concealed part of the plumbing system of the best available quality.

Questions And Answers

Q. What material would you suggest for a fireplace facing?

A. Brick, slate, soapstone, or some other fire resisting, crack-proof material.

Q. I am going to put down a brick walk in my garden. If it is laid over sand, will it heave?

A. The chances are that a walk so put down will heave. It will cost more to lay the brick over a concrete slab, but when this is done the possibility of heaving is eliminated.

Q. I have a built-in corner cabinet in my living room. The room is done in natural pine. I wish to paint the inner wall surfaces of the cabinet. What color would be effective?

A. That is a matter of personal choice largely. You should be guided by the other colors in the room, such as upholstery, drapes and floor coverings.

Q. The living room and dining room of my house are small and have low ceilings. How can I paint them to give the impression of added height and size?

A. By making the ceiling and walls the same color this effect is created. Two large wall mirrors that face each other also give the illusion of room depth.

World Situation Affects Academic Life In Texas

Austin, June 11—The academic world is feeling the pressure of the tense world international situation, according to Donald Coney, head of the Lamar Library at the University of Texas. The Library recently received a letter from the Shanghai agent who furnishes it with books from the Far East, expressing his thanks for an order of May 12 for two volumes. But no two volumes came with it.

"We regret to have to advise that these cannot be had at present," the dealer wrote, "as the offices of the publisher have been closed by the Japanese Military authorities. They are likely to remain closed until after the conclusion of the present hostilities."

The library is now virtually out of the direct touch with the two danger spots of the world — the Far East and Spain. Two years ago its Madrid dealer and six months later is Barcelona dealer regretted that their business relations with the world must cease until "certain difficulties" were cleared up.

U. S. Farm Exports Gain, Imports Lag

College Station — The United States is now exporting over 300 times as much corn and over 8,000 times as much wheat as it is importing, according to figures just received from Washington by W. E. Morgan, economist of the Extension Service of Texas A. and M. College.

In April alone corn exports were more than 20 million bushels. Imports of corn during the same month were 55,000 bushels.

April wheat exports were above 8 million bushels while 1,000 bushels were imported. Wheat exports from July 1, 1937 to April 30, 1938, were in excess of 76 million bushels and imports during the same period were 696,000 bushels, Morgan said.

Only 529,000 bushels of corn were imported during the six month period prior to April 30, 1938, while almost 65 million bushels were exported. Corn exports for this period were higher than those for any year since 1923.

"We normally export and import very little corn," Morgan pointed out, "for corn is usually in the form of pork. From July 1, 1937, to April 30, 1938, we exported more than 214 million pounds of pork, including lard. Imports during the same period were less than 56 million pounds.

Prize Cow Given Roosevelt Blessing

"As hog production expands in this country after the effects of the two droughts, exports of pork can be expected to increase and imports to decrease."

The United States resumed its normal position as an exporter of wheat and increased exports of corn above normal because Argentine farmers had only half a crop.

WHO PAYS?

A recent survey reveals the rather astounding fact that if everyone had to turn over to the government all income in excess of $5,000 a year, the sum collected would pay only about 1/5 the annual cost of government, federal, state and local. It points out that the great bulk of the tax bill must be paid by the small wage earner. He pays it in the form of "hidden taxes" without knowing it in most cases. Hidden taxes are a part of the cost of virtually everything that everybody buys—food, clothing, shelter—necessities as well as luxuries. For example, even the simplest item of everyday fare, a loaf of bread, is taxed 57 times, the survey shows. The loaf of bread for which Mrs. American housewife pays eight cents could be bought for six cents if these hidden taxes were eliminated.

Success Of State Advertising Plan Is Demonstrated

Dallas, June 22— The quickly improved success of a newspaper advertising campaign by the state of Mississippi on its new north-south paved highway, says a report of the All South Development Council, contains a valuable tip for Texas in its cultivation of the highly remunerative tourist industry.

An expenditure of $6,199 last December and January by the Mississippi Advertising commission, state owned and state operated, was returned 80-fold through increase in gasoline tax receipts alone, the commission reported. These receipts for the first quarter of 1938 were $473,070 above those for the same period of 1937.

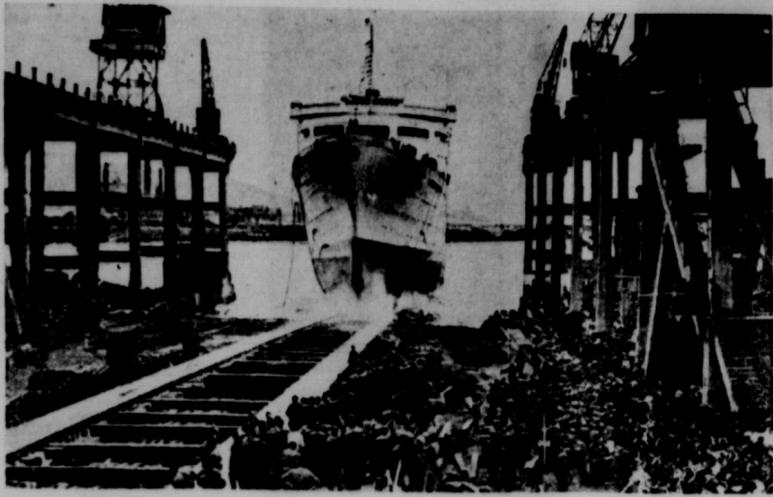

That the benefits were not confined to the actual state coffers alone is indicated in the fact that along the new highway reported a 30 per cent increase in tourist registrations; restaurants had a 25 per cent gain in transient trade, and communities throughout the state noticed increased tourist traffic.

Texas, which "discovered" the profits to tourism in an impressive way in 1936 and 1937, when the Centennial and Pan-American expositions formed the basis for abundant advertising of the state, still has attractions worthy of as vigorous exploitation as those of any of the many states which are permanently in the tourist business, the report points out. The Lone Star state got a tempting picture of tourism profits when her 1936 retail gasoline tax receipts showed a $4,000,000 jump, more than writing off the state's official $3,000,000 investment in the Centennial.

In a state as large and as varied as Texas, stimulation of tourist traffic could profitably be carried on within the state as well as by attracting outside visitors, the report noted.

Undoubtedly there will be some carry-over of tourist interest in the state, by word of mouth advertising, but with competition among the states growing more intense each year for this business, as well as for new industrial location, a program designed to publicize Texas tourist lures is needed to keep this "new" money flowing into the state.

Records of development of such states as Florida, California and Colorado, which have carried on long continued tourist advertising campaigns show that, in addition to tourist revenues the states have benefited from acquisitions of new permanent residents and new business establishments as a result of thus merchandising their attractions.

That Mississippi is "sold" on the idea after its brief and modest—but profitable—trial is shown in the fact that the commission has upped its budget from $6,199 to $15,000 for this year.

One form of advertising which would be somewhat indirect but "automatic" in its effect on tourist interest in Texas would be the successful consummation of the movement to raise a million dollars for purchase of some 800,000 acres in the Big Bend area for creation of a national park. For the incidental advertising value alone that would attend the creation of the proposed park, the movement deserves the support of all the people of the state. At a conservative estimate, Big Bend park would add easily a million dollars a year to Texas' tourist trade income.

Air conditioning equipment was installed last week in the Hancock Cafe here. The equipment, furnishing a blast of washed air that keeps the interior of the cafe at a comfortable temperature even in the hottest weather, was installed by the West Texas Utilities Company.

BETTER MEDICAL CARE

The Gallup poll published Sunday confirms the often made assertion that the present medical set-up in the United States is not providing medical care to the extent it should. While large advances have been made in the handling of charity cases, little has been done for the family that is above the charity bracket, yet is unable to pay the high medical fees often charged. Of those questioned in the current poll, 42 per cent said they had to forego needed medical care because of the cost.

The poll revealed that 81 per cent regard medical care of the indigent as a Government responsibility and that 53 per cent would be willing to make monthly payments for medical and hospital care for themselves. With illness costing Americans eleven and a half billion dollars a year, there is need for an insurance plan that would allow budgeting of this expense.

Health insurance and group practice have been developed in foreign countries and locally in this country. This movement doubtless would have made more progress here except for the hampering opposition of Dr. Morris Fishbein and his reactionary clique, who control the American Medical Association and its subsidiaries. IT IDENTIFIES the brewers who have pledged their support "to the duly constituted authorities for the elimination of anti-social conditions in the sale of beer."

It identifies the brewers who, through The Brewers' Code of Practice, have pledged themselves to the promotion of practical moderation and sobriety.

These brewers ask, with all thoughtful citizens, for adequate enforcement of existing laws... to close outlets operating illegally... to prevent the sale of beer to minors... or after legal hours... or to persons who have drunk to excess.

These brewers ask the public to support and encourage the great body of retailers who sell beer as law-abiding citizens and who operate legal, respectable premises.

Son Of Ozonan Attains High Rank In U. S. Military Academy; Stood In 14th Place In Class Of 468; Is Commissioned Lieutenant

Standing fourteenth in scholastic attainment among a class of 468, Cadet Woodrow Wilson of the United States Military Academy at West Point, a son of Lee Wilson of Ozona, was designated one of 27 Honor Cadets from the class or third year group at the conclusion of the scholastic year recently.

To reach the high rating of Honor Cadet, top rank scholastically in the military academy, cadets must have a scholastic average of 92 or better for the year's work. The Honor Cadet corps is designated by a star on the uniform collar which denotes their high scholastic ranking.

Cadet Wilson was also commissioned a Lieutenant for the coming year, his last in the Academy. He was recommended for a captaincy by his superior officer, but failed to reach that rank. He has been promised a captaincy at the beginning of the scholastic work in the fall, provided he reaches certain goals set for the summer military training work in which the first class cadets are to be engaged, according to advices to his father here.

Young Wilson has made a splendid record at West Point, both in athletics and scholastically. He was one of Army's most dependable backfield men in last year's football campaigns, and but for illness and injuries would likely have gained national recognition on some of the all-American teams. Prospects for such an accomplishment with the season this fall were brightened with a switch in Army's style of play, as indicated in Spring training, from strictly power plays to more speed and deception in running plays. Woodrow's shiftness, speed and remarkable kicking and passing ability will stand him in good stead in this type of game, and observers expect Captain Wood, new Army coach, to put much dependence in the Ozona lad for the success of his campaign.

Wilson lettered this spring in lacrosse, a popular game among Eastern and northern colleges.

stables. From Rockstrings there are three steppers from the Riggs stables and Jap Holman of Senora has brought "Yankee Doodle," "Savage" and "Purple." "Yankee Doodle" was one of the favorites in last year's racing meet here.

Carter and Wells of Odessa are entering "Toy Sketch," and "Dry Brush," and Sam Christi of Ward County has brought "Sky Hawk." Martin and Keith of Amarillo have "Star Fox," "Borneo" and "Cold Trail." "Custodian" and "Ray Broker" are entries of Joe Adolph of Oklahoma City, and W. C. Gilliam of Lampasas is featuring "Oklahoma Farmer," "Secrer" and "Dancing Diane." Joe Finley of Eldorado is pinning his hopes on "Jimmie Rogers," "Rosanne," "Hustle Ann" and "Maurice." For Fred Smith of Sherwood, "Ruby" and "Sail On," two names familiar on the local track, will try for the purses. Dave Poole has entered a string of horses, and the Morris Stables of Brady have sent two animals. Johnny Lane, veteran jockey, has five fine horses for entry. Joe Blakeney of San Angelo and Crockett County will have three horses in the competition, "Judge Brooks," "Bonnie Wood" and "Marian Deer." Many other well known stables of the area will be represented in the daily races.

Betty Grimmer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Grimmer, arrived Tuesday from Winfield, Iowa, for a visit with her grandparents, Judge and Mrs. Charles E. Davidson.

University Lands Offered For Oil Lease At Auction

Blocks Adjacent To Development In Crockett Available

Austin, June 22— Another sale at public auction of oil and gas leases of tracts of land owned by the University of Texas is scheduled to take place here June 24. The land to be leased is situated in or adjacent to producing areas in Crane, Crockett, Andrews and Reagan counties, all in West Texas. The tracts total 126 in number and are of an average size of 165 acres.

In Andrews County 35 tracts will be offered out of a block of 294,00 acres owned by the university. Production has already been obtained on privately owned land situated within a mile or two of this large acreage.

Oil operators are showing much interest in production possibilities of the 60 tracts out of a block of 194,560 acres of university land in Reagan County, which will be placed on sale at the coming auction.

An interesting feature of the prospective sale of leases is that two tracts of 165 acres each are located adjacent to the new field that was recently discovered on a block of 356,480 acres of University land in Crockett County. Seven other quarter sections which will be offered for lease are located partly in Crockett County and partly in Reagan County.

In Crane County, where there is already a large producing field on University land, the sale of leases of thirteen tracts of 160 acres each will be offered. All of these are part of the 63,680 acre block owned by the University.

Other bodies of land owned by the University in counties where there already is old production include 6,080 acres in Ector County, 22,400 acres in Loving County, 184,950 acres in Pecos County, 80,640 acres in Ward County, 53,120 acres in Winkler County, 77,440 acres in Upton County, and 14,080 acres in Martin County.
