High Winds Whip Up Showers Over Scattered Areas

4 Inch Moisture Recorded In Blustery Falls Here

High winds, whipping up local dust storms and bringing a dusty haze from distant points ushered in blustery showers here both Monday night and Tuesday night, with a total recorded moisture fall of 4 of an inch locally.

A heavy shower of short duration fell Monday night after strong wind which continued after the rain. Again Tuesday night, the showers rode in on the high wind to fall briefly and then call off the attempt. Scattered showers that will be of benefit in hastening the growth of weeds and grass in range lands in this section were reported over most of the county.

Some hail accompanied Tuesday night's rain here, but the fall was light. Heavy falls of hail in sections north of here resulted in a sharp drop in the temperature Wednesday morning.

A report of the district convention in Del Rio will be made by Mrs. Albert Tandy and Mrs. Ira Carson, delegates.

The grade school exhibits will be arranged in the various rooms, showing the unit work in some grades and hand work done by pupils of all grades. This is an annual feature of the final P. T. A. meeting.

Mrs. Elton Smith will be inducted into the office of president of the organization at the installation ceremonies, succeeding Mrs. George Bean. Other officers to be installed are Mrs. Massie West, first vice president; Mrs. C. E. Davidson, Jr., second vice president; Mrs. R. L. Seniors Enter Final Whirl Of Social Activity

Class Of 1938 "Wined And Dined" As Graduation Nears

Seniors, members of the 1938 graduating class of Ozona High School, have entered seriously into the social whirl that precedes the important event of graduation and are being "wined and dined" in a merry round this week.

Starting the Spring social affairs with a "Senior Day" trip to Carlsbad Caverns two weeks ago, then the guests of the Juniors in the annual Junior-Senior banquet, the class has been honored at a number of social affairs the first of this week and are "dated up" for many others as the Commencement date nears.

Tonight Mrs. Paul Perner and Mrs. Bright Baggett are entertaining with a buffet supper at the Perner home, and Mrs. Roger Dudley will entertain with a supper Saturday night. Next week's engagements, already reported, include a Scavenger Hunt Monday night by Mrs. Massie West, and a swim and supper party by Mrs. Hugh Childress. Baccalaureate services are slated for Sunday, May 15, and Commencement for May 19.

Following are accounts of some of the events at which class members have been complimented:

Source Of Water Supply Is Given Spring Cleaning

Big Tank Emptied And Cleaned; Now Being Refilled

Spring "housecleaning" has just been completed by the Ozona Water Works and patrons of the system who may have been irritated by low pressure this week are given assurance that the system will be geared up to full capacity by the end of this week.

The big half-million gallon tank on top of the water works was emptied and given a thorough cleaning this week. The inside of the tank was scraped and scrubbed and given a coat of specially prepared whitewash.

Refilling of the big tank started Wednesday afternoon. About three days will be necessary to fill the tank to proper level, it was announced. Water from the tank will probably be turned into the mains sometime Saturday or Sunday.

Water for town use is now supplied from a smaller tank, the original supply source prior to construction of the big reservoir a few years ago. Seven wells are pumped with electric motors and a big Diesel engine to supply the city's water.

Regular testing by the state laboratory at Austin shows Ozona's water supply 95 percent pure.

Two One-Act Plays Here Tuesday Night

Speech arts pupils of Mrs. A. W. Jones will be presented in two one act plays to be given in the High School auditorium Tuesday evening, May 10. In addition to the plays, the program will be varied with two piano numbers by pupils of Mrs. Bryan McDonald, and a group of songs by Miss Adelia Willis, with Mrs. H. B. Tandy at the piano.

The program will start at 8 o'clock, and the public is cordially invited.

Ozona Bakery In New Quarters In Lemmons Building

S. G. McIntosh Buys Business; Install New Oven

A modern bakery with the newest equipment offered is in prospect for Ozona with the purchase last week of the Ozona Bakery by S. G. McIntosh of Lamesa and removal of the establishment from the rear of the Piggly Wiggly store to the Lemmons building at the north end of the business street.

Mr. McIntosh purchased the business from Gordon Brinegar of San Angelo, who, in partnership with Albert Trowbridge, recently purchased it from J. R. Kersey. Brinegar had lately acquired the interest of Trowbridge in the business.

In addition to moving to more commodious and more accessible quarters, the new management has purchased and installed a modern gas fired oven. The bakery opened for business in its new home Wednesday morning, the first baking in the new oven having been done Tuesday night.

Mr. McIntosh owns a bakery in Lamesa, where he has been in business five years. The Lamesa business is being operated by a son, he and Mrs. McIntosh making their home here. He has been a baker for more than twenty years. Two employes will assist him in operation of the business.

400,000 Pounds Wool Stored In Local Warehouse

Ralph Watson Clip Is Sold At 21 Cents; Market Quiet

Evidence that Spring shearing is in full swing in Crockett County may be seen in the rapidly increasing accumulation of stored wool in the warehouse of the Ozona Wool and Mohair Co. here, Melvin Brown, manager, reported.

A total of approximately 400,000 pounds of fleeces had been stored here up to yesterday, with the clips coming in at a rapid rate for the last several days. With "Cinco de Mayo" celebrations this week-end, however, shearing is at a standstill while shearers join in Independence celebrations over the area. The local warehouse has storage capacity of a million and a half pounds.

Recent sale of the Ralph Watson clip of 8-months wool at 21 cents was reported here this week. A total of 24,000 pounds moved in this sale. A slowing of demand for wool and mohair has been noted in the last few days, but the market is expected to pick up at the 21 to 23 cent level prevailing recently, growers here are predicting.

West, historian, and Mrs. Carl Colwick, parliamentarian and critic.

Strong Gas Show In Choate-Hogan University Test

Potential New Field In Northwest Corner Of County Gets Play

Another promising test in the northwest corner of Crockett County was reported this week when the Choate and Hogan No. 1-J University, 1 1/2 miles south and almost a quarter of a mile east of the same operators' discovery well in section 17, block 14, encountered a strong show of gas at 945 feet, which increased at 970-75 to an estimated half million to a million cubic feet daily. Formations were reported running about 50 feet higher than in the discovery well.

The well is 330 feet from the north, 1,006 from the east line of section 15, block 14, University. Ajax Drilling Co. was to have spudded Choate and Hogan No. 1-H Humble University 330 feet from the north, 1006 from the east line of section 14-14U, a mile east of the No. 1-J.

MOTHER'S DAY

This Mother's Day, is it a question of flowers, a box of candy, a form letter telegram? Is it a matter of sentimentality, a sampling of remembrances, a short look back and then eyes front again?

Or is it something bigger and finer, a one day celebration of a companionship that runs through life like a fine silver thread, an annual birthday of something that began in a whispered lullaby, and sings on through the strings of the years?

Those mothers of ours! We like to be sentimental about them. We like to remember what they went through for us, how they understood us when we ourselves were at cross-ends, how they held their breath when we were unkind or unthinking. We like to season the present with fine pictures from the past, to bring back the mood of yesterday with a Mother's Day remembrance.

And what of those mothers! We've an idea that much as they welcome that gift, they treasure our love and companionship more. That our "Hiya, Mother!" brings more joy to them than the measured phrases of a card, that having us near gives a room more interest than the finest flowers, that our knock on the door is more welcome than the mail man's ring.

Those mothers of ours! We're mighty proud of them, aren't we, and whether it's a card, a gift, or ourselves we send on Mother's Day, we've an idea they're mighty proud of us.

MY LITTLE GIRL

Today my daughter, who is seven years old, started to school as usual. She wore a dark blue dress with a white collar. She had on black shoes and wore blue gloves. Her cocker spaniel, whose name is "Coot", sat on the front porch and whined his canine belief in the folly of education as she waved "goodbye" and started off to the hall of learning.

Tonight we talked about school. She told me about the girl who sits in front of her—the girl with the yellow curls—and the boy across the aisle who makes funny faces. She told me about her teacher, who has an eye in the back of her head—and about the tree in the school yard—and about the big girl who doesn't believe in Santa Claus. We talked about a lot of things—tremendously vital, unimportant things; and then we studied spelling, reading, arithmetic—and then to bed.

She's back there now—back in the nursery sound asleep, with "Princess Elizabeth" (that is a doll) cuddled in her right arm. You guys wouldn't hurt her, would you? You see I'm her daddy. When her doll is broken or her finger is cut, or her head gets bumped, I can fix it—but when she starts to school, when she walks across the street, then she's in your hands.

She's a nice kid. She can run like a deer and darts about like a chipmunk. She likes to ride horses and swim and hike with me on Sunday afternoons. But I can't be with her all the time—I have to work to pay for her clothes and her education. So please help me look after her. Please drive slowly past the schools and intersections—and please remember that children run from behind parked cars. Please don't run over my little girl.—Eufaula (Ala.) Tribune.

A KING FROM CALIFORNIA

Out in California, promised land of such modern prophets as Upton Sinclair and Aimee McPherson, rides a new threat to the nation's mental equilibrium—King Riker, self appointed ruler of Holy City.

The King, whose road side domain in the Santa Cruz mountains is guarded by a row of plaster Santa Clauses, believes in government control—by A's government—of all money, no automobiles for women, and a white man's world. He has a standing reward of $25,000 for anyone who discovers a flaw in his system, an offer which has thusiasm and strength of youth have forced the experience, skill, loyalty, judgment and understanding of age to the side lines.

But the tide is turning! In recent weeks, Henry Ford has ordered the distribution of new jobs in his factories based upon the age levels in plant towns. As a result, 200 of the last 700 men hired at the River Rouge plant were over fifty, and a number were past eighty.

The campaign for age-aid spread last week into the east, with a number of employers organizing to fight the industrial disease of "fifty-fobia." Armed with facts and figures on the merits of age in business, they went on a campaign to win "a fair place for age in office and factory."

The fetish of youth, a phenomenon of the speed era, is giving way to an understanding of the value of age. Youth has its place, a place it fills with the enthusiasm of the young. Age has a place, a place it fills with the knowledge of maturity. As age comes of age, it brings to the present the knowledge of the past, a good omen for the future.

FACTS ABOUT FUNDS

In the past five years the Federal government has paid out exactly $14,218,773,000 in emergency funds!

How much is that? More than $110 for every man, woman, and child in America, enough dollars to six times bridge the distance from earth to the moon, enough $1 bills for 57 earth girdling dollar chains!

Where has it gone? It takes a quarter of a billion dollars to circle the earth. Twelve belts for the earth's middle went for direct relief, nineteen more for work relief. Fifteen world girdles of dollars went for PWA projects, seven more for CCC camps, and four for odds and ends.

Where did it come from? Out of your pocket, Mr. and Mrs. Tax Payee, and out of the pockets of your children. And out of those pockets must come the billions of dollars in local and state relief as well.

What can we do about it? Take more interest in our local, state, and national government! Watch the nation's dollars as we do our own pennies! And remember the dollars, 14,218,773,000, now, that are gone!

THE NON-AVERAGE BOY

Now that the reactions and opinions of "average" youngsters have been tabulated in scores of tests and examinations, an interesting look at the "non-average" boy has been given in a questionnaire recently answered by 1,394 youths in New Jersey's correctional system.

What made those boys go wrong? Asked to name the cause of their delinquency, almost half had a bad word to say for the influence of older boys. Others blamed unemployment or poverty. Of more interest, however, is the fact that 262 named motion pictures, 161 listed sensationalism in some news papers, and 75 marked down radio programs as the cause of their downfall. Only 7 placed the blame on their parents or their homes.

That almost 500 delinquent boys should blame the great knowledge spreading inventions for their fallure to find the right way of life marks an interesting trend. Contrasted with the small number who blamed home or parents, it would seem to indicate that outside influences rather than the home are the prime cause of modern juvenile delinquency.

Is it possible that sensationalism in the tabloid press, radio, and cinema have brought the rushing fury of modern life into the home too soon? Does youth fail to meet its problems because the world is too much with it during the home years? These are questions parents and educators will want to answer. On their answers may depend the future of our youth, and through them the future of our nation.

PETS AND POISON

Those pet poisoning pests are active again!

Give a dog a breath of spring air and he's sure to feel the urge to run and romp and dig a few holes in the garden. Those signs of canine activity seem to bring out the worst in the pet poisoners.

The owners themselves are certainly often to blame. Sometimes Fido's master isn't as careful as he might be in keeping puppy instincts under control. But that's no excuse for poison, for death that lurks in bits of meat.

If there were no other reason to condemn the pet poisoners, the threat to children would be sufficient. The death laden food of the dog killers is constant lure to the acquisitive instincts of every small child.

Prosecution and punishment is a fit end for those who seek to kill man's best friend, and bring danger to his children.

THE BUSINESS CURE

In the manner and mood of a group of specialists gathered at the bedside of a very sick patient, sixteen representatives of big business have joined President Roosevelt in a consultation over the body of a bed-ridden industry. Fledging themselves "to aid in cooperation," the business doctors went on record as "resolved to encourage the President in every effort to restore confidence and normal business conditions."

Significantly, the consulting doctors stipulated that no drastic cures shall be tried, their preliminary diagnosis reading, "Legislation based upon untried social and economic theories should be avoided." In this they agreed with the thousands of businessmen, big and small, who in the past few weeks have been lecturing a congressional committee on what's wrong with this country.

This pact of cooperation between the President is a good omen for the future. It seems to indicate that the business cure is to be found in the commonplaces of normalcy rather than in the mumbo-jumbo of many a congressman's "economic theories," that the search for a secret formula is to be dropped in favor of a course of old fashioned medicine.

There has never been a President better prepared to use cooperation than Mr. Roosevelt. Entering office on a land slide of votes, endowed with abilities of persuasion and charm, the President possesses the potential power to conquer worlds through cooperation. Perhaps the extended hand of business in the words, "We pledge ourselves to aid in the efforts of consultation and cooperation!" is just the push needed to stop "hanging apart" and start "hanging together."

The specialists are expert. Working together, their treatment should bring results. The invalid seems slated for a quick recovery.

AGE COMES OF AGE

There are signs that youth's domination of the modern scene is passing—that age at last is coming of age. For too long, the doors of industry have closed on the man of fifty. For too long, the en-

Persistence--

Persistence is the mother of miracles.

It is half of achievement.

In advertising, persistence is the first law of success. Spasmodic hit-and-miss or now-and-then advertising — little matter how clever — is seldom successful.

Persistence builds good will and creates confidence and confidence is the one priceless ingredient of every business transaction.

Persistence overcomes buyers' resistance and generates buying impulses.

Plan to use advertising persistently rather than using it only spasmodically.

Senior Class History

Four years ago an unusual school of "Fish" came swimming into the Ozona High School. They were of a bright green color and seemed to be very peculiar specimens. Accordingly, Miss North was charged to watch over them and wrinkle a smooth white substance found in that portion of the body known as the head. Most of these heads were found to be either too hard or too soft to do much with; but, nevertheless, some progress was shown at the end of the year, and the "Fish" became Sophomores.

Such a transformation! It was unbelievable! The little green beings were green beings no longer, in their own opinion. They thought they were privileged characters and knew all in the world worth knowing. "When duty and pleasure clash, let duty go to smash," seemed to be the motto of each and everyone of them. But Coach White, their sympathetic guide, seemed to see a diamond under each bit of roughage, and wisely watched and waited.

The next year it was a difficult matter for some few of the Sophomores to become Juniors. (The teachers were prejudiced, I suppose.) Much scheming and more pleading soon resulted in each class member's being allowed to choose four new subjects.

"Well, well, who would have thought it?" said Mr. Denham in surprise, after the first week of school that year.

Miss Moss swelled with pride and said, "I told you so, and that's not all; wait until next year; they'll be Seniors then you know."

And sure enough, with the March of Time came September, 1937, finding those same green "Fish" of years before, those "Ugly Ducklings" transformed. It was a group of "Swans," if you care for figurative language, who took their places in Room 205 that fine fall day.

Catherine Childress was elected class president, Miss Terry, class sponsor, and "Find a way or make one" was chosen as the class motto.

School days formed weeks; the weeks rolled into months, and the ninth month brought May and graduation.

Behind twenty Seniors, instead of the Gray Azores, lay accomplishment; and ahead, if the future patterns itself after the past, lie new victories and new praise for this group, who has proved that evolution is a theorem and that "making a way" offers many more thrills than does the boredom of waiting.

A DEDICATION IN FUN

We, the schoolmates of the Senior class of 1938, do hereby, now and forever dedicate this portion of the "Lion's Roar" to those Senior boys who, through all the years they have attended school, which is plenty, have regularly and unfailingly brought home report cards which looked like Christmas trees. They have carried much local color (mostly red) on those cards into their homes, and have done much to brighten those homes.

To them, we owe the homelike atmosphere created by the arrival of aforesaid reports. For what home would be a home without the song of the woodshed, the song of a paddle striking—solid—well, anyway, striking something solid.

To them, we owe the honor of having the large attendance in our school. They have been here SO many years.

To them, the principal and the superintendent owe their muscular bodies and forms. They have afforded them so much good, free exercise.

In fact, there is not anything, from broken-down seats to marked up walls, that we do not owe to the aforesaid boys. Without them, our school would not be what it is today. It would be a place of education. A horrible thought, truly.

Lend us your handkerchiefs, please, boys.

CAMPUS PHILOSOPHY FOR THE GRADUATES

Life will give you what you ask of her if only you ask long enough and plainly enough.

A useless life is only an early death.

Life's evening will take its character from the day that preceded it.

Age and youth look upon life from the opposite ends of the telescope; to the one it is exceedingly long, to the other exceedingly short.

To make good use of life, one should have in youth the experience of advanced years, and in old age the vigor of youth.

If you would keep your soul from spotted sight and sound, live like the velvet mole; go, burrow underground.

What Their Teachers Say

SUPT. C. S. DENHAM

Congratulations and best wishes to the members of the Class of 1938. They have been a pleasant group to have in our school and will experience regrets in having them depart from among us. I think of this class as one which has always made the best of its problems, taking as much of the good as possible and always giving in turn to the school. In academic lines, in athletics, in music, and literary activities the members of the class have given freely of their talents and in turn have developed their individual abilities.

Our one sincere wish for each member of the class is that he or she may drink from the cup of happiness during the remainder of their lives.

MRS. DENHAM

I will remember the first morning of school back in 1930 when the present seniors, dressed in their best and with beaming smiles walked into the fourth grade room. That was my first year in Ozona; and, of course, the fourth graders were more than anxious for a look at their new teacher. The year started pleasantly and ended as well. I shall never forget the pleasures of the year with the Seniors of '38. Congratulations and best wishes to you.

MISS ALLISON

It was on Monday morning, January 30, 1930, that I first encountered the students who are now finishing in our high school. They had been well trained by Mrs. Bishop, and not once did they say "Our teacher did not do that way." Jack Baggett is remembered as a very shy little boy who did not dare come nearer than three feet to the new teacher for at least two weeks.

Catherine Childress was not so shy. It was marvelous if she could stay within the vicinity of her desk, and it was necessary, right from the first, to give her a back seat so that she would have a wide range at the back of the room.

Haskell Leath was the conscientious pupil, who always made A's, and all of us could "count on him" even though he did have a hard time with the English language.

J. W. Johnigan gave the first impression of not knowing "what the score was," but it was evident immediately that such an impression was entirely false. At a certain time, we were improving our English by listening for errors, listing them, and giving corrections during Language class. One day J. W.'s solemn report ran thus:

"Miss Allison said, 'half to.' She should have said 'have to.'"

P. C. Perner was not fond of arithmetic. He even managed to have his dad work problems for him at times.

Betty Dudley will be remembered as the best student of public school music. She seemed most interested during the music period.

Christine Currie was our scholar, and she was always very generous with her papers, especially in passing arithmetic problems around to the boys.

Only a few minutes after I entered the third grade room for the first time, a lady came into the room and with explanation asked, "Would you like some cookies for Valentine?"

I was at a loss for an answer because it occurred only to me that the lady was trying to make a sale, but I inquired as to whether it was customary for the teachers to have cookies for valentine. Finally, I was aware that I was talking to Mrs. Welton Bunger and that she was offering us a surprise, and that her son, Welton, was one of my pupils. Consequently, Welton Bunger was the first third grade name I learned.

Maudie Mae Couch was the blondest of blonds as a third grade child, and it was she who always saw the funny things and giggled accordingly.

Sibyl Cooke was a pretty little brunette, who was so quiet we hardly knew she was there, but whose smile cannot be forgotten.

John Coates was extremely interested in football and baseball, and it was he who usually managed the whole group when at play. John was the mischievous child who knew exactly when to be serious.

It was through Maurice that I became acquainted with the house of Lemmons. He had his fun and played his pranks, and the third grade would have been incomplete without him.

Lela Mae Phillips was the so-called, easy-going child whose sunshining disposition added to the class spirit.

The other seniors, Lurinne Townsend, Norman Rendall, Mary Margaret Harris, Walter Babb, Louise Casbeer, Mickey Couch, and Buren Arnn were not with us in the third grade. It would be easy, however, to imagine them eight year olds in grade three, especially Lurinne since she came to Ozona as a bright-eyed fifth grader, who was an unusual child.

It is my wish to the Seniors of 1938 that they may be outstanding individuals as they were outstanding third grade group.

MISS BESS TERRY

To a class who has carried out the Golden Rule as successfully as a group of twenty can, let me extend hearty congratulations and best wishes for the future.

MISS ELIZABETH COOSE

Good luck to the Seniors of 1938. May they reap success hopefully, and may they earn their millions even though it be wisely invested in another generation of curly heads and studious minds.

MISS MILDRED NORTH

To the Class of 1938: May the future bring to all of you happiness, health, and good luck. You have been a happy, energetic group, pleasant to work with, friendly and courteous, and it is my sincere wish that you, my first freshman class, will prosper as the years roll by.

C. E. NELSON

Seniors of '38, I predict a very happy and profitable future for you. You and I started in Ozona High School together; and, thru the four years that we have been here, I have received a great deal of pleasure from our associations. You are the first class that has started and finished while I have been here, and that makes my obligation to you greater than to any previous graduating class. I wish for the future of each of you the very greatest amount of pleasure and prosperity possible.

COACH WHITE

As this, our Senior Class of 1938, enters merrily into the twilight hours of its colorful high school career, we, the faculty at see them as children who have studied diligently and who have played with wholesome enthusiasm. Each has an aim for the future that will guide him to heights of success. His parents and his teachers can watch his progress and his growth with pride; and they may claim some small credit for inspirations offered along the way.

We can only hope that these young and dynamic Americans may find the job for which they are best suited, and pursue it with zeal and an ever-enduring desire for success.

MISS ADA MOSS

Sincere best wishes to the Senior class of 1938, who, by their zeal for knowledge, have gained for themselves a cultural happiness; by their jollity and good will have made for more enjoyment; by their practice of working together in harmony have formed lasting friendships; and by four years of consistent sportsmanship have helped establish our school as the home of fair play.

GUINN CARRUTHERS

Teachers are apt to have a feeling that they are glad to get rid of a graduating class; and some members of that class are also apt to have just a little extra gladness, along with their natural joy over finishing, as the time grows short when they will be through with us. It is gratifying to hear such remarks as may be summed up thus: "That certainly is a nice bunch of students," and that goes for me, too. You are to be commended upon your attitude toward your work and toward school. It has been good and stands as a challenge to the classes that follow. Seniors, you are ready to launch out upon a new venture and search for greener pastures. We are rootin' for you, and we hope that Dame Fortune smiles kindly upon you.

Sixth New Meteorite Find Of Past Two Years Recently Added To U. T. Museum

Austin, May 4— Although meteorites are rare objects, a new one has just been obtained for the new Memorial Museum at the University of Texas, the sixth within the past two years, it has been announced by Dr. E. H. Sellards, director of the University of Texas Bureau of Economic Geology.

"Securing this unusual number of meteorites has been incidentally chiefly to the mineral resource survey that is being carried on in the state by the Works Progress Administration under the sponsorship of the University," Dr. Sellards said.

The new meteorite, which is of iron, comes from Dickens County. Dr. V. E. Barnes of the staff of the Bureau of Economic Geology, who has examined the meteorite, believes it may be a comparatively recent fall due to the fact that the surface still shows "flow lines," which are formed during flight owing to the partial melting of the iron stone. That it may be a recent fall is likewise borne out by some of the citizens of the community in which it was found who recall seeing a meteor fall apparently at this locality in the early summer of 1933, Dr. Sellards added.

The meteorite which weighs 4 1/4 pounds was found and has been contributed to the University collection by E. T. Varnell, Glen Evans, who was in charge of the mineral resources and museum survey of Dickens County, obtained the specimen.

Texas, according to Dr. Sellards is fast becoming the leading state in the number of meteorite finds. Meteorites are of special scientific interest because they are the only concrete evidence that we have of the composition of matter from out in space. For this reason it is extremely important that all meteorites found be preserved. The Bureau of Economic Geology, Dr. Sellards states, will be glad to identify any objects thought to be meteorites. For this purpose the stone should be submitted to the bureau at Austin. The Museum, soon to be opened, will contain a considerable collection of Texas meteorites.

Mrs. E. H. Gallenkamp and children, Rachael and Harry, left Saturday for their home in San Antonio after a visit here with Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Miller. Mrs. Gallenkamp is Mrs. Miller's sister.

Mrs. Mary Perner enjoyed a visit last week from her daughter, Mrs. Bob Murchison of Fort Stockton.

Right Beauty; Wrong College

Chosen as "the only beautiful girl" at the University of Chicago, Miss Joy Hawley, graduate and former beauty of Texas State College for Women, turned out to be enrolled in Northwestern University, where she has already been named a 1938 beauty.

The mix-up began when a Chicago U. magazine stated, "There hasn't been a really beautiful woman around here since Little Egypt reared her skirts on the World's Fair midway in 1893". To debunk the article, Chicago U. boys went down to the photographers and with the help of three prominent judges selected what they thought was the picture of a Chicago co-ed.

Great was the chagrin of the C. U. student body when their triumphant choice turned out to be a Northwestern girl, Miss Hawley is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. W. H. Hawley of Denton, Texas.

Fractional Loss Is Reported On Insured FHA Mortgage Loans

Washington, D. C., May 4—The almost negligible net loss ratio of one thousandth of one per cent on home mortgages insured by the Federal Housing Administration was reported today by Stewart McDonald, Administrator.

Reduced to dollars and cents, Mr. McDonald said that the actual net loss incurred through March 31 has been only $13,229 on 220,475 premium paying mortgages for $902,634,417 insurance.

"In the slightly over three years in which the Federal Housing Administration has been operating under the mortgage insurance program," Mr. McDonald said, "commitments to insure $1,194,672,233 have been issued. As of March 31st we have 220,854 home mortgages in the amount of $902,634,417.

"Of these 220,475 premium paying mortgages, only 137 have been foreclosed and tendered to an accepted by the Administrator for which debentures have been issued in the amount of $518,547. Of these, $120,414 have been retired, while an additional $22,272 have been authorized for retirement.

"From the sale of these properties the Mutual Mortgage Insurance Fund suffered a loss of only $13,229, which represents approximately one thousandth of one per cent of our total premium paying mortgages. These losses are paid from the Mutual Mortgage Insurance Fund which now stands at $20,872,594. Congress originally supplied $10,000,000 of this fund and it increases from the revenue supplied by appraisal fees and mortgage insurance premiums."

Mr. McDonald said at the present time an average of five and one half months was required for the orderly, business like disposal of acquired properties.

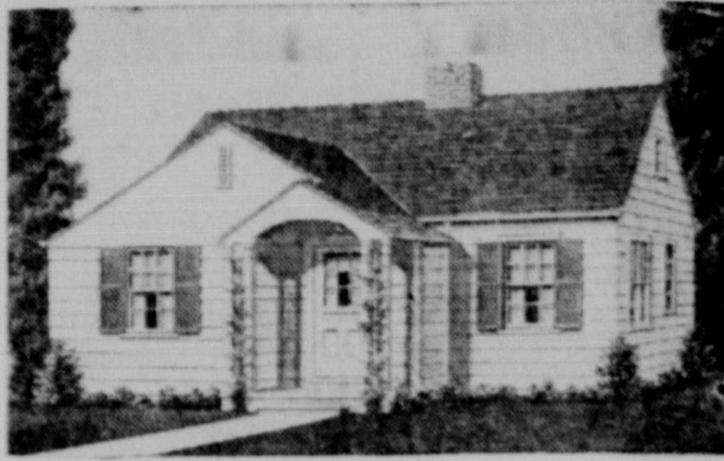

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Q. There is not enough light in my kitchen. What would be the easiest way to remedy this?

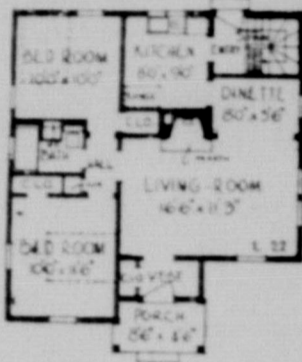

A. The best solution to your problem is to install more light outlets. This can be done inexpensively by any competent electrician. The outlets should be placed to give proper light for the operations that go on in the kitchen, with one over the sink and possibly one over the range. Also increased light efficiency may be obtained by painting the kitchen in a light color. White, yellow, or even light green tints are to be preferred.

Edward E. Davidson, 53, of Syracuse, N. Y., has earned his livelihood the past 35 years by posing as a mechanical man.

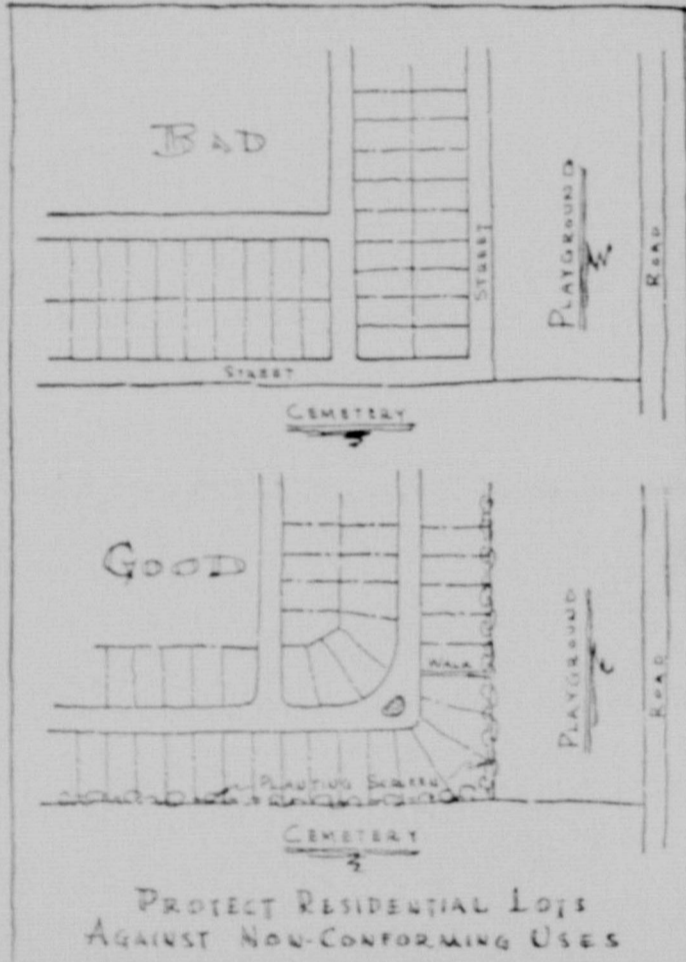

Colonial Cottage

Judged by the standard of good planning and building economy, this small house is an excellent value. All of the rooms are arranged compactly, and the plan shows properly placed windows in all rooms for good light and ventilation. The centrally located fire place and chimney is a practical and pleasing feature. A home of this type can be satisfactorily built anywhere, and makes a pleasing home for town or country living.

Land Planning

The Land Planning Section of the Federal Housing Administration believes that the appearance of every building site is improved when the sites face similar sites across the street. If there is uncertainty as to what use will be made of adjoining property, lots should be arranged in a subdivision so that they will not be seriously affected by the use of adjacent land.

Hard, glossy finishes, metallic surfaces, basket weaves, cloth reproductions, wood imitations and old fashioned embossed designs are but a few of the styles on the market. Modern architecture has done a lot to increase the demand for vertical and horizontal stripe papers, and plaids are also popular.

Metallic surfaces without formal design are a direct expression of the modern trend. These come in gold, silver, bronze, and aluminum. Among the textile finishes are embossed papers simulating monks cloth, basket weaves, and old fashioned plasters. Some hand made papers simulate velvet and mohair, while woods can be duplicated with remarkable fidelity through a number of processes. Some of the papers are real wood veneer on a paper base, but the majority are reproductions.

The types of paper known as velour and rough plaster have taken the place of the "oatmeal" paper so fashionable a number of years ago.

Pipe Insulation Reduces Cost. Increases Heat

Insulation of the piping and boiler will reduce fuel cost and will make the heating system perform better. Such insulation may be obtained in sheet or block form for insulating the boiler, in which case, it is applied directly to the boiler surface and secured by wire and then covered with a coating of plastic asbestos cement while the boiler is hot. A small amount of Portland cement may be added to the final coat to produce a smooth, hard finish.

Pipe covering is obtainable in split lengths with a light covering of canvas cemented over the insulating material. The fittings may be covered with a plastic asbestos so as to bring the surface of the fittings even with the pipe covering. At the end of each length of covering a light gage lacquered metal band with a patented fastener is secured to improve the appearance and keep the covering in place.

Rather than leave the pipes and boiler uncovered on the theory that they help to heat the basement, and therefore, contribute to ward the comfort in the house, it is better to insulate the equipment thoroughly and at the same time see that the cellar windows are tight fitting and that basement walls exposed above ground are reasonably well insulated. An necessary heat in the basement can be obtained by installing a radiator either on the basement ceiling or wall. Frequently the cause of the failure of a radiator to heat properly is due to the fact that the pipes leading to the radiator are excessively chilled in passing through a cold basement.

THE CLASS OF 1938 puts aside its books. The classroom work is ended, but lives of services are just commencing. That word "commencement" is particularly fitting as a designation for graduation week, and we offer our most fervent hopes that it will be the commencement of a worthwhile and worthy, a full-to-overflowing life. Most of us have known the members of the class of 1938 from the time they started saying their A-B-Cs. We've seen you grow to maturity . . . we've watched the development of your high hopes and worthy ambitions . . . and we want you to know that every one in this community is "with" you, hoping for your success in efforts that will follow the completion of this step in your development. We look forward to your future attainments, and we hope that you will realize your goal. We want to feel that we are your friends. And at this happy time we want to offer our sincere congratulations.

Ozona Pastor Writes His Impressions Of Methodist Conference

EDITOR'S NOTE: Below is a brief article written by Rev. Eugene Slater, pastor of the Ozona Methodist Church, who has just returned from attending the General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church South, in Birmingham, Alabama. Unification of the three branches of Methodism, voted at this conference, made it an outstanding event in the annals of the church. Rev. Slater has written briefly his impressions of the historic conference.

By Eugene Slater

The high moment of the General Conference came at the evening service on Friday, April 29. This day will always be a memorable one in the minds of those who attended the conference. By a vote of 434 to 26 the General Conference approved the plan of Union that merges the Methodist Episcopal Church, the Methodist Protestant Church, and the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, into the Methodist Church. At the evening service Dr. J. S. Straughn, President of the Methodist Protestant Church and Bishop E. H. Hughes, senior bishop of the Methodist Episcopal Church delivered their fraternal addresses. Following their addresses Bishop John M. Moore, senior bishop of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, responded with fitting words, after which he announced the singing of the hymn, "Blest Be the Tie that Binds Our Hearts to Christian Love." The three leaders of their respective Churches joined hands, and in unison, pronounced the apostolic benediction. This simple ritual, symbolic of union, was prophetic. It helped us to foresee more clearly the answer to the prayer of our Master "that they may all be one." Without doubt the union of these three churches will encourage further union throughout Christendom.

The entire Conference was permeated with a spirit of love, an earnest desire to do the work of the Church in the best possible way, and the feeling that these crucial days demand an unreserved loyalty to Christ. Our bishops and leaders are giving their best to the work that has been entrusted to them. They are worthy of our support.

Scout Notes

By Miles Pierce

The meeting this week was called to order and the flag was raised by Willie Joe Hubbard and Roy Henderson and the Scout oath was repeated.

Friday, May 6, all the Scouts of Region Nine will participate in a Scout circus at San Angelo. This circus will be held at night at the football field. Everyone is invited.

From a report that Mr. Hollon made, about the Scout circus, we learned that Ozona is to be in quite a few stunts. We will need about ten Scouts and have only eight in Archery. The boys of the Seventh Grade Patrol, of the Indian unit, will participate in this event. Bill Carson, Marvin Porter, Byron Williams, Lloyd Coates, Stanley Lemmons, Jack Brownrigg, Clifton Taliaferro and Bobby Lemmons will be dressed as Indians for the Archery event.

Ozona also will be in several more things. For a western scene that Ozona Scouts will put on, we will need to take a chuck box, bedding, skillets, saddles, and cowboy stuff. Our troop flag and patrol flags will be carried in the Grand entry.

Wednesday afternoon the Scouts of Troop 53 met at the school to practice this event.

May 10 will be the last meeting of this year. At this we will have a Court of Honor, held on the outside with eats. All Scouts that have become Tenderfoot Scouts since the investiture ceremony in October will be officially taken into the Boy Scouts of America with another color ceremony.

May 13, Friday afternoon, the Scouts will do their last bit of activity until school takes up again in the fall. We are going to Devil's River for a "big time."

THE WORLD THIS WEEK

By Robert Patterson

ALBANIA QUEEN

It's a long road from Virginia to the mountainous little country of Albania nestling by the Adriatic, but not too far for destiny's range threads to link together. Today Albania rejoices over its first queen, 22-year old Countess Geraldine Apponyi, who is half American, and through her mother, Lady Stewart Girault, traces her ancestry back to Virginia's plantations. Two years ago Maryland almost gave Britain a queen. This time Virginia has succeeded in giving Albania one. It seems only natural that the "mother of presidents" should also be able to produce a queen occasionally!

NEW TAXPAYERS

One proposal to speed recovery took a special spotlight last week. This was President Roosevelt's proposal to make all governmental salaries and all future governmental bond issues subject to taxation and put an end to the immunity which government officeholders and bondholders have long held. The aim, of course, is to replenish the treasury and help government shoulder what appears to be both a permanent and onerous relief load. With the costly prospect of long-term relief spending there will be disagreement, but to the proposal to make government salaries subject to the tax collector's paving knife, there will be little opposition — save from some of those who feel the knife. There is no good reason why officeholders receiving better-than-average salaries, and whose positions are relatively more secure than most wage earners', should not share in tax paying.

WORKING WIVES

Hard on the heels of a disturbing report from the Senate Unemployment Committee estimated at 17,314,000, the total number of persons dependent on relief aid, an old unemployment cure has been revived. Like the deathless phoenix, this remedy — no matter how many times it has been laid in the grave, sooner or later comes to life again. Now a director of the National Youth Administration urges that one half of America's five million working wives

Helpless as an Overturned Turtle

Rocks loosened by recent storms slid to the railroad tracks three miles north of Easton, Pa., causing this locomotive and 12 cars to crash down the embankment to the water's edge. Two of the cars were actually upended in the swollen Delaware river. The engineer and fireman were taken to a hospital.

give up their jobs in favor of unemployed youth. The idea is attractive. It is simple. It would constitute a body blow at the ogre of unemployment — if it would work. But we suspect the American woman, as breadwinner, is here to stay. Since she first began invading our factories, stores, and offices over a half century ago, her numbers in industries and professions have been aggressively on the increase. Drive millions of them out of their jobs? Let anyone try it!

VISITOR FROM HELL

Today America is entertaining the Mayor of Hell. Despite his awe some name, our visitor is a mild, thoughtful gentleman, and as far as he is concerned, Hell is the name of a pleasant little Norwegian town of some 1500 inhabitants. In the course of his visit to look over these United States he has heard so much about, the mayor or revealed several startling things about conditions in Hell. Contrary to traditional belief, the thermometer sometimes drops to as low as 13 degrees below zero. There are no divorces there. Neither is there any jail. The mayor is quite proud of that latter fact. Strangely enough, there is no fire department, either. The women of Hell are quite good looking, the mayor reports. And what is more, they are all blondes. As for politics, Mayor Lorentz declares the elections are friendly, a above-board affairs, without graft or patronage-seeking. We gather from all this that Hell must be a fairly nice place—in Norway.

GENEEL RACKET

Fist, you holler that your rights are being suppressed. This, of course, needn't be true, but if you holler loudly enough people will begin to believe you. Next, you threaten to revolt against the majority if you — the minority — don't receive the biggest piece of pie. The majority naturally suggests that you mind your manners and stop yelling. This immediately antagonizes your peace-loving nature, so you send an army marching in to "prevent bloodshed establish peace," and abolish the majority and its government. This was the genteel racket practiced when Hitler moved in on Austria. This is the genteel racket now being practiced in democratic Czechoslovakia by Hitler's stooge, Henlein, who today noisily tub-thumps about suppression of the Nazi minority. Ultimately German troops may march in "to keep peace and order." But suppose Czechoslovakia decides to smash this racket? Then the fireworks will start! And it may be soon.

HENDERSONS HOSTS AT FORTY-TWO PARTY

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Henderson entertained their evening bridge club and a number of guests Friday evening. Mrs. Scott Peters and Bryan McDonald took high score prizes for the club and guest prizes went to Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Clayton. Mrs. McDonald and Mr. Peters won the traveling prize.

Other guests were Dr. and Mrs. H. B. Tandy, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Childress, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Oberkamp, Mr. and Mrs. Joe North, Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Blaylock, Mr.

and Mrs. Hillery Phillips, Mr. and Mrs. Max Schneemann, and Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Henderson.
