Until the close of the present school term our only services will be our regular Sunday teaching and worship hours and the daily prayer meeting at 7 o'clock.

We are very anxious to see an increased attendance upon the daily prayer services. Certainly it is not too much to ask all of God's people to come aside for 20 to 30 minutes each day and pray for the success of the invasion of western Europe when our men over there are practically working day and night to get ready for it. Nothing that we can do for the moment is of more importance than this. We worship a God who has always bared his arm in defense of his people when they have humbled themselves in his sight and earnestly prayed for his help. He has overwhelmed the enemies of righteousness before and can do it again. We must remember that our God is strong to the casting down of strongholds and he can breach the "fortress Europe" for our men if our nation is ready spiritually for military victory. May it never be said of our praying, "to little and too late." Come this evening and every evening at 7 o'clock for this prayer service.

Emergency Messages To Overseas Marines May Be Sent by Family

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Families of U. S. Marines overseas now may include births or even urgent business matters in messages which Marine Corps headquarters will transmit abroad by radio, it has been announced here.

In making public the more generous policy of handling personal messages for Marines overseas from their families in the States, it was pointed out that the messages must be concerned with the welfare of the immediate family. The overseas service may be obtained by filing messages at any Red Cross chapter, or by sending them direct to Marine Corps Headquarters, Washington. It was stressed, however, that messages must be confined to matters of a definite emergency nature.

For example, should the mother or sister of a Marine who is overseas become dangerously ill, the family might advise the Marine of her state by filing a message to him with the Red Cross or with Marine Corps Headquarters at Washington. The message should be addressed the same as his letters are addressed.

'Invasion Prayer' Services Bring Out Increasing Crowds

Daily community-wide prayer services for the success of the coming Allied invasion of "fortress Europe," being held each evening at 7 o'clock at the First Baptist Church here, are drawing increasingly larger attendance.

The daily services, lasting but a few minutes, are devoted to the theme of asking divine guidance for the forces of righteousness now poised to strike the death blow at the evil which has blighted the world, Rev. Clyde Childers, Baptist pastor, directing the services, has declared, and a cordial invitation is extended to all people of this community to join in directing their prayers for the success of this undertaking.

The congregation at the services last night numbered 36, including eleven members of the Senior class and their sponsor, Miss Hazel Kirbie. The services are entirely informal, start promptly at 7 o'clock and continue but a few minutes.

"If you are working in the house the yard or garden, don't bother to dress over, come as you are," Rev. Childers invites.

All Cleared Up

A Grand Island man in the Navy, recently shipped abroad, wrote: "We asked the censor and he said it was all right to tell you that we are at (deleted by censor). That is about all that I can tell you, though."

Mrs. Lee Childers and Mrs. S. M. Harvick are in San Antonio this week for a visit with Mrs. Harvick's daughter, Mrs. Donald Wright Dwyer.

Farm Cash Income 50 Million in March

AUSTIN, Texas—Farm cash income sank to 50 million dollars in March, 1944, as compared with 61 million in March a year ago, chiefly because of the drastic slump in marketing of cattle, calves and sheep, Dr. F. A. Buechel, economic analyst for the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research, reports.

Income for the first quarter of 1944 was still two million dollars above the first three months of 1943, and totaled more than 172 million dollars, despite the March drop, Dr. Buechel explained.

In a live-stock market forecast for coming months, the analyst said that he anticipated the future shipments would approximate those of a year ago "with possible temporary variations resulting from price or feed conditions."

BAND PICNIC

The Band Mothers will entertain members of the Ozona High School band with a picnic and swimming party at the ranch home of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Piner, Monday afternoon.

Mrs. Sherman Taylor, who has been under the care of physicians in a San Angelo hospital for several days, has returned to her home here.

GADGET REPLACES GAL AT SHIP LAUNCHINGS

Latest victim of the ravages of war is the vision of the lovely lady wielding a champagne bottle over the bow of a ship at launching. An ingenious New York shipbuilding company has replaced the whole procedure with "Christine," a mechanical arm. With an immense but much efficiency she bursts the bottle automatically—and saves a lot of time.

"Christine's" brain-fathers were awarded honorable mention by the WPB for their scientific achievement.

RANCH RECORDS

Are More Important Today Than Ever

Government regulations and new war tax programs make it more important today than ever before that every business keep accurate records of its operations.

The ranch business is no exception. Your government must necessarily levy stiff taxes to finance the gigantic war effort now under way, and tax agents are going to be stricter in demanding compliance with all regulations. Records of all operations are going to be increasingly important in proving up your income tax returns.

Start now to keep a complete record covering all operations in your business with the Stockman's RANCH RECORD BOOK. Your cancelled checks or your present records can be transcribed to this handy record book, together with your income and inventory records and you can have your entire record in a simplified form contained in one volume.

The decision of a lifetime... this wide-eyed little girl wants something that will last a long time, taste good, and still cost only one penny. From toddling days, through the years of maturity, human reactions change very little. They, too, will look for durability, enjoyment, and a lot for every penny! The new improvements will have to wait—but when it comes to electricity, those three good qualities have not gone off to war and they are not rationed.

Daphne Meinecke Champ; Liz Gray, Baby Hokit Win Doubles

Downing five opponents in succession, Daphne Meinecke, president of the Junior class, battled her way through to a smashing victory for the Girl's Tennis Singles Championship, April 26th and the 27th. In the finals, Daphne, with her ever-ready backhand and steady, consistent drive, defeated Ruth Townsend two straight sets, with a six-one and six-three score.

Mary E. (Liz) Gray and Myrtastine (Baby) Hokit won the Doubles Championship after defeating first the freshman team, Ann West and Corinne Phillips, then walking to an easy victory (both scores being six-two) over runners-up Doris Bean and Barbara White.

Coach I. B. T. Sikes, in charge of the Tennis Tournaments, states that the boys matches will start Monday of next week if the weather permits. Coach Sikes expects about sixteen boys to enter.

S-H-O
DON'T QUOTE ME, BUT I HEARD THAT—!!!

The Seniors were blistered but happy when they got in from their trip Sunday night. The Spanish supper, given by Miss Moore Friday night, was a big success. Also the party afterward.

These sophomores seem to be doing all the good lately. Among the sophs at the party were Carlton and Nan Moore, Earl and Sue, Bill Wilkins and Doris, Dick Lee and Betty Martin, and Muggins and Duane Stearns. Nan Tandy and Lowell Sweeten left early. Was it your headache, Nan? Barbara got one glimpse of Larry in his ranch clothes and forgot all about being mad at him. Billie Jo Leatherwood's topic of conversation is "Chester" nowadays. Baby Hokit is now donating all her time to a project but she won't give out much information about it. A certain G.I. called Liz out of the show Sunday night. What is all this, Liz? Joyce West and Chappo were seen together Sunday night. Maybe there's still a spark. Billie Womack and Bennie Gail bring food to parties but don't show up themselves.

Joe Corbell is showing a growing interest in Nan Moore. Joyce and Byrd seem to be getting along extremely well lately. They even serenaded Mr. Sikes Monday night. Miss Moore was very excited about her trip to San Angelo over the week-end!

O-H-S
RUGGED INDIVIDUALISM.

Boarding house life got George Witters, 25, down. So he climbed a Houston, Tex., tree, built himself a cabin in the sky. Four dollars a week buys his food, a brick oven beneath his roost cooks it. The rest of his shipyard wages goes into War Bonds, which Witters plans to convert into a wonderful postwar boat and be a fisherman in Alaska.

Benefit of Education

Spending the night in an Amarillo hotel, a young woman tourist who, it was learned later, had two college degrees, engaged the desk clerk in conversation.

"What have you that is of unusual interest in your city?"

"Well, we have the only helium plant in the world for one thing."

"Really, and is it in bloom, now?"

COGITATIONS
By Joyce West

Barbara was so lonesome Friday that the boys in Geometry Class fixed up a dummy, a very handsome one too, to take the place of Larry! Miss Moore was doing all to the good Monday night; who was that you were with, Teacher? Nan and Lowell are good at this disappearing business; they were especially good last Friday night at the Spanish party! Betty Martin and Nan Moore were at the party Friday night with Carlton Smith and Dick McDonald! Doris didn't seem to know exactly where Bill Wilkins was Monday night; he told her he was going to the ranch! The Press Club had lots of good food Monday night; and lots of people to eat it too! The seniors all look a shade darker after their senior trip but they say they had a wonderful time. Barbara has been threatening to use brass knuckles on somebody; who is the unfortunate victim? Daphne says that the sound of planes is like music to her ears! Sue claims that the fabulous Dick is here again; she was awfully excited about it, too! Nan Moore was seen Monday night with Carlton Smith, Joe Corbell, and Chappo Morrison! It's rumored that Joy Hubbard has gone all out for the Army. How about that?

Spanish verbs, words, quizzes, tests,
Alas! We sighed, are we ever to rest?
So after a day of riot and stress Moore decides to work us less.
A Spanish dinner, she decreed. Put on our costumes, come to the feed!
To people like Byrd, Larry and Bill, This meant one little English word—Fill!
For awhile we were lifted higher than clouds
But weeks were to pass before the great crowds
Would flock to the banquet at Butler's Drive Inn
To acquire in good grace, two flabby chins.
Barbara was frantic—what would she wear?
Larry was happy—he didn't care!
Joyce was seized in a terrible frenzy.

Recommends 4-Fs for War Work

Appearing before a house military affairs committee, Undersecretary of War Robert P. Patterson recommended that 4-Fs not engaged in essential war work be inducted into the army enlisted reserve for assignment to civilian jobs. Photo shows, left, Ralph A. Bard, assistant secretary of navy, talking to Secretary Patterson (right) during the hearing.

She is to be Carmen, and create a dinzy.
Corinne was creating a new kind of jitterbug.
Sue, in her ecstasy, became a flitterbug.
School is forgotten, more tests are flunked.
Teachers say pupils are very dis-punked!
Nan and Ruth are warbling with will.
Bill Wilkins is making room for the kill.
Patsy is trying to alter a dress
Everyone's brain is a terrible mess.
Bill Hoover is dreaming of almond and Ann.
Mike is making a desperate last stand.
The dates are destroyed, made and remade.
The trouble is brewing—how much will be paid?
Louise is concentrating on the dance.
Jimmy's in study hall, she hasn't a chance.
For the banquet is given before the shake-down.
She is close to a nervous breakdown.
Burl is taking his own easy time.
Let the others take dates—he'll save a dime.
These bashful boys—Marie resignedly sighs,
She tried her best, and she's worn out her eyes.
Bud and Ira are thinking of food.
Everyone seems in a gay eating mood.
Laura is frantic, oh how will she fix
Enough for this ravenous, hungry mix?
Max is quite worried for fear that

Corinne
Will fall for her dancing partner in all of the din.
Joe Perry is smiling and shouting, "Helloooo."
But Ann changes the shouting to a loud "Owwwww."
Sue glances at Duane with a "Come-on look."
Duane turns a bright red and opens a book.
Joy Gay, in a dither, is perfecting a plot.
In which, if it works, Joe Ross will be got.

Now we are all happy, the feast has arrived.
Having eaten so much, we all have survived.
A thanks to Miss Moore for such a grand time.
And with that I end this rambling rhyme.

Announce Wedding of Miss Noma Miller To Lt. Harry Wiet, Jr., at Rapid City S. D.

Mr. and Mrs. Rob Miller of Ozona announce the marriage of their daughter, Noma, to Lt. Harry Wiet, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wiet of Merced, Calif., in Rapid City, South Dakota, on April 21.

The single ring ceremony was performed at 7 o'clock p.m. at the Methodist Church in Rapid City by the Rev. Carl Stromberg, pastor.

The bride wore a midnight blue Adele Simpson original suit of light-weight wool. Loops of white and blue silk braid edged the bolero jacket that was worn over a white jersey blouse with tie bow at the round neckline. A matching blue straw calot was worn with crisp blue veiling, white kid gloves, dark blue bag and shoes. Her corsage was of white orchids.

Mrs. Don Kilburg of Chicago, Ill., was matron of honor. She wore a powder blue dress with black accessories. Her corsage was of pink carnations. Mrs. Ed Olson of San Antonio was a bridesmaid. She wore a blue suit with brown accessories and a corsage of pink carnations.

Lt. Don Kilburg of Chicago attended the groom as best man, with Lt. Ed Olson of San Antonio as groomsman.

The church was decorated with white carnations and snapdragons, the altar flanked by two eight-point candelabra. Mrs. Charlotte Snyder of Rapid City, played Liebestraum for prenuptial music and accompanied Mrs. Rudolph Lee of Rapid City who sang "I Love You Truly." Following the ceremony, a reception for the wedding party was held at the Alex-Johnson Hotel in Rapid City, where the couple will live for the present.

The bride is a graduate of Ozona High School and attended George Pepperdine College in Los Angeles, Calif., where she was a member of the Zio-Kem Club. She also attended Draughon's Business College in San Angelo.

Lt. Wiet was graduated from Merced High School and Stanford University. He completed his training as a bombardier at the San Angelo Army Air Field and received his commission there. He also attended the Harlingen gunnery school. He was a bombardier instructor at the San Angelo field and has been assigned as an instructor at the Rapid City, S. D., field.

home on it. The German is a good fighter, make no mistake about it, and we've no snap to beat him."

Lt. Cahill received a scalp wound in the course of his experiences in the Mediterranean, an enemy missile creasing his scalp. "I had to part my hair on the other side," he said of the wound.

"We guys who came back wearing these decorations—merit badges," he called them, are not heroes," the combat bombardier veteran said in serious vein. "You get recognition for your accomplishments over there all right. We had two heroes in our outfit but they didn't come back." Later, in answer to a question as to his most exciting mission, Lt. Cahill revealed that he had seen his best friend go down, the whole crew being lost. "It was an unusually tough mission," he said. "One doesn't remember much of the missions, we try not to, but I guess I'll never forget that one."

In answer to questions fired by the audience, Lt. Cahill told many interesting incidents from his bag of experiences. Of his work as bombardier, he said that the squadron's work was pattern bombing, knocking out gun emplacements, interrupting supply lines, bombing supply ammunition dumps and troop positions, supporting ground action of our own troops. They did not bomb with precision instruments, though their work called for attacks on "pin-points" on the maps, he said, sometimes within 300 yards of our own troops.

"You don't see gun emplacements, troops or other installations," the speaker answered in reply to a question. "I've never seen an enemy soldier in our attacks from the air. That makes it a little nicer—relieves you of any sense of killing. Ours is a job and we do it, having a sense of satisfaction, of course, when it is done well, or in the case of combat in the air, when you are victorious and shoot down the enemy."

Asked if the German flyers ever strafed our parachuting airmen, Lt. Cahill said that as a general rule they do not. "Of course, there are probably instances where they have shot our men coming down," he said. "But I saw one man bail out and a German fighter circled him several times on the way down, but never touched him. Many of them fly alongside parachuting men, wave and fly on."

"You've heard it said that you can't fight a war without hating the enemy. That's not true in the Air Corps. We are out there to lick the enemy, and we are proud when we do. But we try to be men at the same time. That's something the Japs haven't learned yet—we'll have to teach them."

Lt. Cahill praised the English fighting men as "fine fellows," reserved, but thorough and always quite capable in any situation.

To a question about the raid on the Ploesti oil fields in Rumania, Lt. Cahill said that he knew several of the men who made that raid. And that was the occasion for an amusing story on the workings of international law as regards neutrals, facts which are given airmen in their training. International law provides, he said, that a plane forced down in neutral territory becomes the property of the neutral government, and, although interned, members of the crew have the privilege of attempting to escape. One bomber, returning from the Ploesti raid, was forced down in neutral Turkey and the crew interned. Sometime later, the crew managed to seize their plane and flew it to Cairo. Then Turkish, British and American governments started to untangle the complications. The men were privileged to escape, but they had stolen the plane, then the property of Turkey. The matter was finally settled when the escaped crewmen boarded the stolen plane, flew it back to Turkey, delivered it to the "owners," and then were given passage back to Cairo by boat. They had already made good their escape and consequently could not be interned again.

This picture shows the recently famous British three-man Midget submarine of the type used in the attack on the German battleship Tirpitz, which was in hiding in a Norwegian fjord. She was injured under water and has been ineffective since.

Lt. Raymond Burns, commanding officer of the group stationed at the local airport, was also a guest of the club. The meeting was also the occasion for the club's entertainment of members of the 1944 senior class and their sponsor, Miss Hazel Kirbie. Miss Kirbie introduced class members and gave an entertaining reading, a burlesque review of "The Virginian." Don Baldwin of San Angelo, Boy Scout executive of the Concho Valley Council, was also a guest for the day.
