WASHINGTON By George Durno

Mirrors

Mr. Roosevelt's plain and fancy tinkering with gold have the boys in Washington hanging on the ropes.

Ever since the President's idea of boosting commodity prices went into effect all the bright boys have been running to and fro for some clue as to exactly how it all works. One prominent official right next to the operation assigned a group of newspaper men thusly: "There's only one man in Washington who knows and I'm not so certain about him."

One group of observers believes there are too many false mirrors in the thick. They are hoping like never that the prospects will "turn" and it is something to be thought on.

Included in this school of thought are, naturally enough, Great Britain's representatives on the ground. Take note though that the Britishers don't seem to fear any big international money war with America's invasion of the world gold market.

They thus flick off such a suggestion: "That would be disastrous for everyone concerned."

Next?

If the gold juggling act fails to cause our commodity prices to shoot for an encore the question naturally arises, What's next on the bill?

Economists seem agreed the United States is no ready for stabilization of the dollar. Until our indexes reach a more normal level such a step would be economically and politically impossible.

That line of reasoning makes it hard to see ahead and date the day of devaluation of the dollar by arbitrary reduction of gold content. This at least would be in the outer office of definite stabilization.

Greenbacks—

Because of all this, out-and-out inflationists are taking heart—especially because of early failure of gold-price juggling to show its effect.

They now trot out the argument that printing more currency would not hurt a rich nation like the United States as it did Germany, always cited as the dire example.

Several billions of greenbacks could be pumped into circulation without unduly affecting our economic structure, they insist, because of the "air" gold supply dumped in the Treasury.

If this method of blowing up the dollar is not the answer, a fixed salary hopes the inflationists know what they're talking.

Men Of Three Cities Unite At Joint Ladies' Night Banquet Of Rotary Here Thursday Evening

Ranger Man, Former District Governor, Principal Speaker On Sweetwater-Midland-Big Spring Program Of Unusual Entertainment Value

Business and professional men of three West Texas cities, with their wives and women friends, gathered at the Settles hotel here Thursday evening in a joint Ladies' Night banquet program of the Big Spring, Sweetwater and Midland Rotary clubs. More than 140 persons were present.

A program of rare entertainment value followed the banquet. Logan Largent and his dance orchestra played during the dinner.

E. J. Mary, president of the Big Spring club, presided and introduced Charles Paxton, the Sweetwater president, and John P. Hoke, the Midland president. Robert T. Piner of the Big Spring club was toastmaster.

Mr. Paxton, a frequent visitor here in his capacity as Buffalo Trail Area scout chief, commented upon the value of joint meetings of service clubs of neighboring communities.

Relations of Sweetwater, Big Spring and Midland always have been cordial, in Rotary, as well as in football, Paxton said adding that his town would be ready to welcome hundreds of Big Spring fans Friday of next week when the high school teams of the two towns meet here.

Mr. Howe, the Midland club president, called on W. Hey Pratt "to make my speech." Mr. Pratt delivered a brief address in which he declared that codes of fair competition devised under NRA as a part of the New Deal put into practical operation principles of the Rotary Code of Ethics.

Mrs. H. O. Dean of Sweetwater captivated the audience with two songs. By request she sang "The Last Round Up" in truly artistic manner. Mrs. Dean is one of the greatest singers in the southwest, her hearse Thursday night agreed.

Mrs. Zillie Steakley played her accompaniment. A male quartette from Midland, Messrs. W. W. Larkley, Winston Borum, Ray Hayt and Percy Mims, sang a group of negro spirituals which added much to enjoyment of the occasion. Rev. Borum, pastor of the First Baptist church at Midland, a widely known entertainer, was heard in a humorous musical skit replete with "gags" that brought laughter. His act ended with rendition of a medley of choruses of well-known melodies.

Mrs. Borum played his accompaniment. "Charlie Paxton will tell you what a grand town Sweetwater is, that it is there the Santa Fe crosses the T. & P., and all about the great refinery there. E. J. Mary will point out Big Spring's importance as a railroad center, its refineries and other industries. John Howe will tell you a lot about Midland as a center of activity for the oil fraternity—they're all right. These are fine communities. Ranger is a great town too. She may not be as large as some others—but we've got a darned good football team," said H. S. "Andy" Anderson, immediate past governor of the forty-first district of Rotary League.

Let's Celebrate Recovery | By Jane Rogers

RECOVERY really does seem to be on the way. The "New Deal" is moving toward its goal. A new and better day seems to be dawning for all of us.

Let's celebrate. Let's pull ourselves out of all the old ruts in which we have been traveling. In particular, let's pull our menus out of the rut of monotony. Let's hail the new deal for the nation by a new deal in menus.

The necessity of stringent economy may have been handicapping us in planning our family's meals, but just as soon as possible let's add the special touches that give them real zest, and so help to build morale.

Below are two specially delicious "Recovery" vegetable dishes. They sound elaborate, but they really aren't. The chief secret of their appetite appeal lies in their careful seasoning. A little spice or cheese, a little chicken stock, most important of all a dash of sugar to blend the other flavors—that is all. This last touch, by the way—the dash of sugar to blend flavors—is one that you will do well to remember, for it gives added zest to practically all vegetable dishes.

Cauliflower Bearnaise
Wash thoroughly one large head of cauliflower and separate into clumps. Cook until tender. Drain and place in greased casserole. Mix together two cups peas, one large slice onion, two peppercorns, two cloves, one-half teaspoon salt, one tablespoon sugar. Simmer in one cup of water until peas are very soft. Melt three tablespoons butter in a saucepan. Add three tablespoons flour and stir until smooth. Strain pea mixture and press through colander, blending it with one-half cup milk. Season with one-half teaspoon salt and add to butter and flour. Stir until completely blended. Pour over cauliflower and sprinkle with bread crumbs. Brown in a quick oven not more than eight minutes.

Onions Arragonaise
Melt one-third cup butter in a saucepan. Add two cups peeled, small onions, pressing down firmly. Sprinkle over top one scant teaspoon salt, one-fourth teaspoon pepper, and one-fourth teaspoon sugar. Shake until seasonings are well distributed. Add enough chicken stock to cover. Cover saucepan and simmer until onions are tender. Remove cover and boil rapidly until liquid is reduced to about one-fourth. Butter squares of toast, sprinkle cheese over them, then pour over them the onions. Place in hot oven to brown.

Autumn Breakfast Suggestions To Take Place Of Summertime's Orange-Juice-Toast-And-Coffee

You are apt to be hungrier on crisp autumn mornings when there's just a threat of frosty winter in the air. The glass of orange juice-toast-and-coffee combination, while adequate in sultry summer, is not sufficient to send you off with a warm snug feeling when days grow longer—and colder! So here are some breakfast suggestions to give you that "well begun is half done" feeling.

Preserved Figs
Hot cereal and cream
Poached Eggs on Toast
Coffee

Poached Eggs
Beat the egg whites stiff and make a nest of the whites on each square of toast. Into this is dropped a little butter and the unbroken egg yolk. Salt is sprinkled over the top. The toast is placed in a moderately hot oven until the egg is set.

Grapefruit
Prepared Cereal with Cream
Ham and Eggs, Country Style
Pineapple Breakfast Cake
Coffee

Ham and Eggs
Gash the fat on a half inch slice of ham. Put in a frying pan and sear quickly on both sides. Then cook slowly for about ten minutes. Remove to a hot platter and keep warm till ready to serve. Break the eggs separately into a saucer and slip into the ham fat. Cook over a low fire and baste with hot fat until the white become set. Season with salt and pepper and serve immediately on the platter of ham.

Pineapple Breakfast Cake
Sift together one cup flour, one-eighth teaspoon salt, two teaspoons baking powder and one tablespoon sugar, and cut in three tablespoons of shortening. Add one well-beaten egg and mix thoroughly. Sift all the remaining ingredients except the nut meats and add. Add the chopped nut meats. Line a cake pan eight inches square with waxed paper and pour the mixture into it. Bake for fifty minutes. Turn from the pan at once and remove paper. Cut cake in four strips, then cut each strip into seven pieces.

Horses Coming Back At A Gallop. Will Rogers Opines While In Texas

ANACACHO RANCH, Zavala County, Tex. (UP)—"Horses are coming back at a gallop." Will Rogers is the authority for the prediction. He was speaking conversationally on the second-story piazza of H. W. Morrison's palatial ranch home. Below and to the left of the speaker were the spacious Anacacho stables housing saddle horses valued at hundreds of thousands of dollars.

"What we need," continued the humorist, "is more of this Lady Godiva stuff."
"Bicycle riding became very popular when women started riding in shorts," he added. "Now if fashion would only decree that women should ride horseback in shorts, what a comeback for horses that would be."

Rogers estimated that within two miles of his Santa Monica, Calif., home there were at least 600 horses trained for the bridle path or polo fields.

The galloping comeback of horses is not confined, however, to bridle paths and polo fields, Rogers declared. "The farmer has started driving Old Dobbin right down the row. Farmers have learned they don't have to buy parts for Old Dobbin every three years like they had to for tractors."
"They've learned also they can't raise gasoline in the fields—except in East Texas, and there they can't raise anything else."
"Yes, sir," horses are coming back at a gallop."

Miss Imogene Runyan has returned from a visit in Fort Worth.

Red Cross Official Declares Care Of War Veteran's Family Responsibility Of Community

Home Service Chairman Of County Chapter Furnished With Latest Information On New Legislation Affecting Families

The family of the war veteran is the responsibility of the community as well as of the state and nation, Dr. W. B. Hardy, chairman of the Howard county Red Cross chapter declared. "Since 1918 the Red Cross has made this service one of its definite responsibilities and in each of its 3,700 chapters over the United States, aid is being given those men in the adjustments made necessary by newly enacted legislation. The work of Red Cross locally and nationally is aimed at aiding the veteran in the rehabilitation of his condition to one of self-support. During the depression it has been impossible in many instances for these veterans to become self-sustaining, but with improved business and economic conditions, many ex-service men in this group soon will be in that desirable position of self-support.

The Howard county chapter handled several cases of veterans' work last year," Chairman Hardy continued. "In the state of Texas alone, hundreds of cases were given attention by Red Cross chapters, which resulted in hundreds of satisfactory adjustments. Working on cases of disabled veterans with service-connected disabilities, the chapter had available the assistance of a staff of liaison workers, maintained by the National Red Cross, and at central office of the Veterans' Administration in Washington. This staff has available records of the Veterans' Administration, and the help given on many difficult cases proved invaluable. The chapter also had the privilege of advice and assistance from the Case Correspondents in the Midwestern Branch and at National Headquarters on difficult case problems and matters of general information. In this connection, the National Red Cross is furnishing Home Service Secretary L. W. Croft with the latest information and instructions on the new legislation.

"Red Cross medical, social and recreational workers in all Army and Navy hospitals assisted patients, men and women, with personal and family problems, aiding their recovery by minimizing their anxiety. This is made possible by reports from the home chapter, showing conditions, and the steps taken to arrange for relief or other types of service found necessary. When patients are discharged from such hospitals the Red Cross social workers communicate with the home Red Cross chapters of the patients, with a view of arranging a continuation of the correct treatment and diet. In many instances such a practice means the difference between a continued convalescence and a relapse requiring hospitalization.

"These services given by the Red Cross chapter and the National Organization are possible only because of the annual Roll Call which provides the funds for the program," Chairman Hardy explained. "The Howard county chapter will launch its membership campaign on Armistice Day and the Roll Call will continue Thanksgiving day. Jesse F. Hall has accepted the post as Roll Call Chairman and has organized his committees in such a manner that every adult in the county will be given an opportunity to enroll. With added work with veterans necessitated this year as a result of recent changes in legislation, it is increasingly important that the local chapter have the support of the entire community. Every citizen should have a part in the Red Cross program through membership."

Braun Heads 3-Day Course For Officers

Training Of Personnel Under New Set-Up Purpose Of School

One hundred and fourteen state and county relief workers participated in the opening here Monday morning of the first of three relief administration schools to be conducted in Texas.

Headed by Charles B. Braun, assistant state administrator, a strong delegation of sixteen state and district officers was present to conduct the school. Various county administrators were also to take part on the program of the three day session which opened in the Settles ballroom.

At 6:45 p. m. in the Crawford hotel ballroom a banquet will be tendered all persons registered for the meeting. Additional registrations were expected for the afternoon session and those of Tuesday and Wednesday. Dean James M. Gordon, dean of liberal arts at Texas Tech, will be the principal speaker of the evening.

Practically all of the time during the three day session here will be devoted to detailed and technical discussions. Miss Marie Dresden of the Austin office spoke Monday on the "Case Record." Miss Helen Hardy, also of Austin, representing the child welfare division, dealt with "Cooperative Agencies," and particularly concerned her remarks to relief work calculated to better condition of destitute children.

W. D. Willie, Austin relief auditor, explained details of auditing and accounting. Dr. S. D. Ozer, a state officer, discussed the census report, and Braun handled the question of purchasing.

The afternoon session was held in the municipal auditorium. The group was welcomed to Big Spring by City Manager E. V. Spence and Wendell Bedelchek, representing the chamber of commerce. C. T. Watson, chamber manager, offered the services of the organization to the visitors.

Graf Zeppelin Lands In Ohio After Rain Squall Buffets It

AKRON, Ohio (UP)—The Graf Zeppelin, after being buffeted through the night by a strong wind, landed at 5 a. m. (EST) Wednesday at the Akron airport.

Throughout the night, the huge Graf had cruised over the city, waiting for the wind and rain squalls to abate. Dr. Hugo Eckener, commander, veteran of half a hundred transatlantic crossings, radioed constantly to officials at the airport that he would remain aloft until the wind had died down to 15 miles per hour.

Finally with the approach of daybreak a calm settled over the area. Rain and needle-like sleet, which accompanied the wind, had worried Goodyear officials for the safety of the 17 passengers aboard the Graf and the crew of 47 officers and men.

It was indicated the Graf would remain here until Thursday, when it would take off for the Chicago Century of Progress exposition. The ship arrived here from Miami, Fla., completing the journey in 21 and 1-2 hours.

Large Crowd Attends Crucifix Dedication At Catholic Church

Dr. Spann Accepts Pastorate Of Baton Rouge, La., Church

Community Expresses Regret Over Loss Of Outstanding Minister

Dr. J. Richard Spann, pastor of the First Methodist church for the past two years, informed his congregation following the Sunday morning sermon that he had accepted an invitation from Bishop Dobbs of the Louisiana-Arkansas conference to assume the pastorate of First Methodist church, Baton Rouge, La., and that he planned to leave Monday of next week.

The Baton Rouge church has membership totaling 2,100. The city is the seat of the state capital and of Louisiana State university. Transfers of pastors in three conferences of the Methodist Episcopal church, South, are involved in the change of pastorate for Dr. Spann. He reviewed correspondence with bishops of the church in announcing the change to his congregation.

The local pastor is transferring from the North Texas conference to the Louisiana-Arkansas conference. Rev. F. L. Wells, presiding elder of the Baton Rouge district, is transferring to the Virginia conference and Dr. Means is transferring from the Virginia conference to Paris, Texas. Bishop Dobbs, Bishop Boaz of the North Texas conference and Bishop Mouzon of Virginia arranged the transfers.

The pastor of the First Methodist church here will be selected among pastors now in either the North Texas or Central Texas conference. While grateful, in the interest of the church as a whole and for Dr. Spann's sake, that he has been honored by being called to service in a much larger congregation, the membership here received the announcement of Sunday with deep regret that represented a fine testimonial to the love and appreciation the congregation bears toward Dr. Spann. Citizens in all walks of life and of all religious beliefs freely expressed their sorrow over the loss of Dr. Spann from the ranks of the community, where his work has brought forth much good not only within but outside his own church.

Dr. Spann came here from Abilene, where he served four years as pastor of St. Paul's church. His first pastorage was at Brenham, Texas, where he served a year. There followed a year at Forney, Texas. He then served as associate pastor of St. John's, St. Louis, Mo., and two years as pastor at Cape Girardeau, Mo. He was a professor of theology in Southern Methodist university before going to St. Paul's at Abilene. His Alma Mater, Randolph Macon college, Ashland, Va., recently honored Rev. Spann with the honorary degree of Doctor of Divinity.

Dr. Spann will not attend the annual sessions of the North Texas Conference in Clearendon next week. The pastor of the local church will be assigned at the conclusion of that meeting by Bishop Boaz.

EDINBURG (UP)—Officers said one of four men charged with murder in the slaying of Claude E. Kelley was a victim of mistaken identity and that the killers planned the death of Couch, now county political leader, had confessed.

Charges of murder were filed here today against Cam Hall, former Hidalgo County clerk, now a resident of El Paso; George C. Beck, peddler, formerly of Edinburg and recently a resident of Dallas; Julian Ybarra, 54, Edinburg street sweeper, and Matto Cuellar, 23.

Mounted Mob Raids Plants Of Diemakers

Demonstration Against Strike-Breakers Conducted By 2,500

DETROIT (AP)—A mob, which police said numbered 2,500, rioted in nearly 300 automobiles, swept through the streets in which several tool and die shops were located, hurling bricks and overturning automobiles.

Officials said the action was a demonstration against tool and diemakers who had returned to work during the strike.

Police reserves were called after the mob smashed 134 windows of the Kinslin Corporation. Two men were arrested. Officers reported the strikers rescued them from police, and drove away.

Former Big Spring Man Is Designer Of World Fair Feature

Visitors To A Century of Progress Will Remember The Huge Glass Parking Tower In Front of the Transport Building in Which a Chain of Nash Cars Moved Up and Down Demonstrating New Parking System

Visitors to A Century of Progress will remember the huge glass parking tower in front of the Transport Building in which a chain of Nash cars moved up and down demonstrating a new parking system. The parking tower is the invention of a Howard county boy, James Ernest Morton. His is a brother of Mrs. J. A. Boykin of this city.

Oldtimers will recall the J. R. Morton, parents of the inventor, and Mrs. Boykin. They had a ranch in the eastern part of the county and their son attended school in Coahoma. They moved to another ranch near Hereford, sold that and bought a ranch near Midland. J. E. Morton graduated from the Midland high school.

He worked out the idea of parking tower while he was a student in Purdue University in 1927. He was about 35 years old at that time. The Whiting Manufacturing Co. of Chicago, by whom he is now employed, built these towers. There is one of them at Sandusky, Ohio. Many orders were placed for them by owners of large apartment houses in cities as a result of the fair demonstration.

The tower at the World's Fair is of glass so that people can see how it operates. While Mrs. Boykin, and her mother, Mrs. J. R. Morton, now of Alpine, and a sister, Mrs. H. E. Matlock of Houston, were in Chicago this summer they were taken for a ride. Many people were interested in watching them and several asked permission to ride in the cars; but only relatives were given this privilege.

The tower at Sandusky is of reinforced concrete and is five stories high, although the tower can be made as high as thirty stories accommodating 60 cars. The interior is modeled similar to a double elevator shaft. Machines rest on all-steel platforms, placed at periodic heights. An endless roller chain raises or lowers the auto to its panel at the entrance and similar to an automatic elevator, "floor board" sends the car to its allotted spot or brings it back to ground level.

The tower is provided with bumpers on each platform to prevent accidents. The structure is of fire-proof construction. Two machines may be parked at one time. A car can be discharged from the top in less than three minutes.

President Asks Steel Men Why Mine Labor Agreement Not Reached

WASHINGTON (AP)—Most of the country's retail stores with millions of employees began putting into operation Monday a single compact applying equal standards of trade honesty and fair competition to all.

Officials regarded the NRA retail code as the greatest experiment in the industrial recovery program.

President Roosevelt invited the steel industry's leaders to tell him why they had not worked out a labor agreement for their coal mines which he demanded three weeks ago.

The question of Henry Ford's compliance to the automobile code was temporarily shelved.

Unique Quilt Exhibit At Albert M. Fisher's

A silk quilt winning fourth prize in the quilt display at a Century of Progress is now displayed in a unique quilt exhibit at Albert M. Fisher Company Department store.

This quilt was made by Mrs. G. F. Rhodes of this city who made the beautiful bluebonnet quilt also on exhibit this week. This bluebonnet quilt was not finished in time for the fair; those who have seen it consider it even more beautiful than the lovely sunflower quilt that won the prize.

Both quilts reveal an intricacy of quilting that is as interesting in itself as the color schemes and the patterns. The bluebonnet quilt created a lot of interest when it was displayed earlier. Those who missed seeing it then will have a second opportunity.

Also displayed are two cotton quilts. One is a zigzag pattern made by the members of the Elbow Home Demonstration club to be given away by them. The other is a patchwork rose that Mrs. J. Lusk made. This is now displayed in a quilt that she bought from Albert M. Fisher's for this purpose.

The quilts will be on display for greater part of the week inside the store on the long center counter.

Special Coffin Used When 400-Pound Pecos Resident Succumbs

It was necessary for the Pecos Furniture Co. to order a special, double-size casket for Dittman. At the hospital two beds were necessary for him.

Funeral services were held last Sunday at Fort Stockton, oil men throughout Texas attending.

"Most of our communities need to get rid of the smokestack complex," he observed after reviewing the manner in which people are wont to expand the industrial facilities of their respective communities. "Rotary has shown the way for men to get away from selfish and narrow viewpoints. There is no place in Rotary for race prejudice, religious prejudice or political friction," he declared. Mr. Anderson reviewed the principles and methods being employed by the Roosevelt administration, comparing them with the Code of Ethics which has guided Rotary since its inception. The Golden Rule is being applied to business, to industry, to society, he declared, pointing to the presence of that Rule in the Rotary doctrine. WHIRLIGIG

Harpooned—The manner in which NRA headquarters announced Henry Ford's decision to submit a wage and hour report to the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce was clever stuff.

A two-page mimeographed statement was issued in General Johnson's name detailing advice from the Auto chamber as to the status of its members' reports. On page one were the names of 24 manufacturers in alphabetical order who had responded already.

On page two were the names of those who had promised to report "on or before the dates as indicated." Among the F's was the name Ford and behind it, "Nov. 6 or 7." That was the only indication in the statement that Henry had decided to inch along with the Code Authority to that extent.

The reason for this delicate handling was that Ford has complained bitterly to NRA against the manner in which he has been singled out. Now that both sides of the big Blue Eagle controversy are manifesting a belated desire to go out of the song and into the dance a corking of the NRA harpoon is one of the conditions.

The boys do whisper that Henry was on the verge of coming into the fold two or three times much earlier in the game. Unfortunately Johnson picked the wrong time to sound off and ruffled his temper on each occasion.

Fogged—There is just one angle to General Johnson's swing around the circuit in defense of his blue bird that seems to have gone unnoticed.

One of the most important steps from his viewpoint—in the itinerary will be California. Disturbing reports have seeped in from the West Coast and Johnson would like to straighten them out. Full of patriotism, California rushed to the front at the very start and passed a state code law. Chambers of commerce, labor and everybody else swung in behind.

But now the land of sunshine is all involved in a conflicting maze of codes. The state codes involve price-fixing right and left. I. costs 65 cents for a haircut in one city and 50 cents in another. Labor operating under federal codes is squawking about the breaks their intra-state brothers got.

General Johnson is most anxious to wade out of this. He will get hearty support from any number of Californians. The maze isn't doing NRA any good.

Notes—Washington is breathing a sigh of relief since George W. Wickersham admitted the other day he had made a mistake about the views of the American public on prohibition. The boys here remember that report. A summary printed in pamphlet form—approved by ten of the eleven Wickersham commissioners—said the body was unanimous against repeal.

Perusal of the individual briefs gave 7 to 4 in favor. Col. Louie Howe, the President's chief secretary, first broke in on a metropolitan newspaper because of his ability to compile a racing chart.

As a cub he had done it at Saratoga. The New York Herald kept him busy at the race tracks for a year and a half.

NEW YORK By James McMullin

Advice—Hot Springs was an appropriate site for the Investment Bankers' convention.

Returning New York delegates say the inside heat was well above the boiling point and the toughest job the authorities had was to prevent a violent explosion which would hardly have helped public relations. Members were invited to submit reports on the Securities Act. Then the heads had to "edit out the bitterness" before making the reports a part of the record. Some contributors refused to stand for the editing and withdrew their offerings.

But the oyster is that the IBA is inching towards partial acceptance of regulation. If the Act were amended to abolish personal liability except in case of direct and provably doing or neglect and v. joint damages to provable losses. A cause-and-effect relation. A they would swallow it with a further protest.

Anyway the IBA has a nice set of recommendations drawn up to this effect. They aren't going to offer them to the government. They're going to wait until their advice is asked. That could be quite a long time.

Distinction—The suggestion was made that railroad securities are exempt from the civil liabilities of the Act and therefore their promoters can proceed as before. But the railroad specialist said no. There is no exemption from criminal liability. "They can't take our money, but they can put us in jail, so we're out of business too."

Bitter—The Stock Exchange community and the banks are as friendly on the inside these days as a couple of stray bulldogs. The banks helped start the latest stock market tumble by raising margin requirements on stock loans (as noted in this column at the time). This left a bitter taste in Exchange mouths which hasn't become any sweeter since.

As a result the inside plans for the new Stock Exchange bank are being revised to cut into commercial bank business. This was no part of the original design. The grapevine says that Richard Whitney discussed this phase of the matter at the White House and was encouraged to carry on.

Special music at all services. ST. MARY'S EPISCOPAL The services at Saint Mary's Episcopal church will be: Holy Communion at 8 a. m. Sunday School 9:45. Holy Communion 11 a. m. An informal service of congregational singing, with the third address by the vicar on the manners and customs of the early Christian church will be given in the evening beginning at 7:30 p. m. FIRST PRESBYTERIAN "Armistice Day should make one think of peace," said Rev. John C. Thorns in announcing his sermon topics and services for Sunday. "Peace" will be the theme of the morning sermon. At 6:30 p. m. the Intermediate "Pioneers" will meet. "Young People of the Church" will convene at 6 p. m.

Crack-Down—Some big time commodity speculators are due to be stepped on hard and soon. Every time grain prices have shown signs of life these fellows have dumped holdings acquired earlier and flattened them out again. That's terribly discouraging when you are trying to boost farm products. The government is just about fed up.

Beer—Brewers are talking about a vast advertising campaign to increase beer consumption. Sales are not up to expectations. Only those who knew beer before prohibition have shown much interest. The younger generation sticks to bathtub gin and so must be educated.

Untermeyer—Sam Untermeyer nearly ditched New York City's financial appraiser at the last minute. The day before the agreement between the City and the bankers was to be signed he asked the bankers for further concessions. The banks simply stated that the time for discussion has passed and the agreement would go through as drawn or not at all. It went through.

Election—The Majority election is tightening up as the zero hour approaches. Tammany's dig-out-the-vote campaign is getting results. O'Brien's chances remain thinner than a cat's whisker but a lot of the boys would give their gold teeth if he could nose out McKee and smash the Farley-Flynn machine. All three candidates are holding back last minute dynamite. A switch of about 200,000 votes could be decisive. LaGuardia has the edge so far.

Both LaGuardia and McKee campaign have suffered from an excess of zeal. In the case of LaGuardia it can be attributed to inexperience but political observers say that McKee's political management has been incredibly bad considering its sponsors. Tammany has profited by sitting tight and saying as little as possible.

Advertising—There seems to be substantial advertising money in the offing. A New York agency with fine banking contacts is making a nationwide psychological survey. Its results are expected to promote and coordinate advertising activity among the big-timers.

WHAT are the PURCHASING AGENTS DOING?

EVERY big company has one or more men whose entire time is devoted to buying the things which that company needs.

These men are specialists. It is their business to know prices of materials . . . sources of supply . . . present and future trends. They are the shrewdest, canniest buyers in the world.

But all of us, in a small way, are purchasing agents. We have to buy a certain number of things, if only to keep alive. And most of us aren't very skillful at it. We waste a lot of money. We miss the good bargains. In fact, we could learn a great deal by watching a professional buyer at his work.

At this time, especially, it may be helpful to know what the big purchasing agents are doing. Are they cutting down? Are they opening up? Do they think this is a good time to buy or a bad time? What do they think about the future?

Well, the answer is that they are all buying as fast as they can buy. And they are buying because they know that prices are going up.

"Pig iron has advanced 13%", the purchasing agent of a $20,000,000 corporation recently said. "Brass is up 42 1-2%. I am paying 41% more for lumber than I did in March, and fiber packing cases have doubled in price. In fact, everything we use in this business is costing us more today, and will in my opinion cost us still more tomorrow. I believe . . . that many commodities will be back to or near 1929 levels by spring."

That's the way the professional purchasing agents feel about it. And they know. They have special sources of information. They are closely in touch with industry. They have studied the workings of the NRA codes.

Prices are going up. And it's a good thing for everyone. For things had come to the point where nothing had any true value. A man's time . . . his product . . .

his property . . . all had sunk so low in value that he couldn't even get a decent living.

That couldn't go on. So the Government set up the machinery of the NRA codes in order to make everything worth something again.

This process is now under way. Wages are being raised. Commodities are bringing better prices every day. But it is not yet over. Before fair values . . . living values . . . can be reached, prices will have to go higher than they are now.

Before they do, take a leaf from the purchasing agent's book, and lay in a supply of the things you need. There are many good bargains still to be had. But these stocks are strictly limited. Now is the time to buy.

UPTURN ITEM NO. 4 Pig-iron production, between August 1932 and August 1933, increased 245%.

The advertisements in this newspaper bring you news of many splendid bargains of every description. Study them carefully . . . then stock up wherever you can!
