

Draft Boards For Counties Are Appointed

Names of local draft board members, whose task will be that of carrying out the selective service training program, were announced Wednesday as preparations were completed for registering men from 21 to 36 years of age next Wednesday.

On the Howard county draft board, nominated for the job by Governor Lee O'Daugh, are George G. White, Bruce Frazier, and H. C. Hooser. White operates a farm and ranch here and is former district old-age assistance administrator. Frazier is an ex-service man and operator of a farm-ranch near here, while Hooser is a Big Spring attorney.

After Wednesday's registration, they will begin the job of determining which men are immediately available for one year's military training and which will be deferred because of dependents and other factors.

Scout Workers Start Drive Thursday

Ready to raise quickly the Boy Scout fund quota for the Big Spring district, a corps of workers drafted from four service clubs and numbering up to 80 men will take the field here Thursday following a breakfast session.

The "kick-off" breakfast, as it is called, will be held at the Crawford hotel at 7:30 a. m.

Pat Kenney, district finance chairman, said that enthusiastic response had come from the four clubs concerning the drive. He predicted the $2,700 quota would be raised by tonight.

After a brief program, those at the breakfast will be given cards for contact and will start work immediately. The team set-up is such that none will have more than a few cards.

"The Big Spring district has shown considerable progress during the last 12 months," said Kenney, "and even greater plans are in the making for the scouts and cubs of this locality."

He cited the recently adopted objective of Boy Scouts of America to train scouts to be of most service in their home communities in time of disaster or of urgent service. This, he said, would play its part in a national preparedness program.

Claim London Rail Facilities Put Out Of Order

NEW YORK, Oct. 9 (AP)—The German wireless broadcast tonight that railroad facilities "vital for the supply of greater London" had been demolished today by a Nazi bombing squadron.

It was claimed bombs also were dropped on an airport near London, destroying hangars, halls and barracks on a gas works of a city on the southeast coast, and on a merchant vessel which was left sinking in an east coast.

NEW CANTEENS FEED LONDON'S HOMELESS

Trucks carrying a kitchen unit were marked with Y. M. C. A. triangle and crossed American and British flags and the legend "U. S. A. Allied Relief Fund to Great Britain."

Hot food and drinks were served.

PLANES SHOT DOWN

A SOUTH COAST TOWN, England, Oct. 9 (AP)—Two out of three German planes which rained this town today were shot down after a series of low-flying attacks in which residents said they machine-gunned the streets and killed at least three persons.

One plane, hit by anti-aircraft fire, fell in a park with bombs still aboard and the explosion blew the plane to bits, killed its crew and damaged a chapel and several residences.

Large Crowds Cheer Wilkie

ENROUTE WITH WILLIEKIE THROUGH CONNECTICUT, Oct. 9 (AP)—Bolstered crowds which frequently broke through police lines greeted Wendell L. Wilkie in Connecticut today and slowed up the motor caravan taking him on a four-day campaign tour of New England.

Wilkie said he did not have time to discuss campaign issues in detail, but asked his hearers to keep their minds open and study both his arguments and those of President Roosevelt, his opponent.

Reiterating before a crowd of workers at Bridgeport that he favored the social security system, Wilkie told his audience that the Roosevelt administration has spent two-fifths of all the money expended by the federal government since George Washington's day.

"Do you think that if we keep on spending," he asked, "there will be money to pay your social security in your old age?"

Either inflation or bankruptcy was inevitable, he contended, if present federal deficits continued. He said that he wanted to bring economy to the government.

New Tax Bill Is Approved By President

Corporation Income Levy Boosted, Excess Profits Affected

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9 (AP)—Broad tax legislation using an excess profits levy as a barrier against profiteering on military contracts and intended at the same time to encourage defense enterprises has been signed into law by President Roosevelt.

The new law, signed at 11 p. m. Eastern Standard Time last night, carries an excess profits tax of from 25 to 50 per cent and raises the corporation income tax from 20.9 to 24 per cent, the new rate being applicable on 1940 income and thereafter.

The White House announced the signing today.

As a means of activating the defense program, the law permits manufacturers and others to amortize, or to deduct from their taxable income, their entire cost of facilities completed for defense purposes after June 10, 1940. The deductions would be made at the rate of 20 per cent of a year for five years.

It also suspends, during such period as the excess profits tax is levied, present 8 and 7 per cent limits on profits from warships and military aircraft.

The excess profits tax, designed to retard the creation of "war millionaires," is the first of its type enacted since the years immediately following 1917-18.

The nation's 400,000 smallest corporations will not have to pay it, since the law exempts the first $100 of every corporation's profits.

Also set up by the law is a government insurance system for members of the present-day military and naval establishments, including draftees and national guardsmen called to active duty permitting them to obtain low cost policies up to a face value of $10,000.

Britain Moves Civilians Out Of Gibraltar

By The Associated Press

Great Britain rushed the removal of all civilians from Gibraltar today after the guns of the massive rock fortress had fired out into the Mediterranean for several hours, reportedly sinking a French ship which refused order to halt.

Long after he and the others had started for home, he said, they could see new fires break out.

The air ministry said the raid on Wilhelmshaven was "equally punishing" in spite of intense anti-aircraft fire. More than fifteen tons of bombs were dumped on the naval base, it said.

One pilot reported to the ministry that an unidentified plane was seen flying over the coast.

Following him as he was flying about 10,000 feet above the Frisian Islands off the Dutch coast, another plane joined his pursuer and both closed in on him. He dived to 8,000 feet, swiftly changed course and eluded them.

Eight yards at Mannheim and Gremberg and several German airbases, as well as the channel ports were raised, the ministry said. All the British planes returned safely.

DYKSTRA MAY BE CHIEF OF DRAFT

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9 (AP)—Dr. Clarence A. Dykstra, president of the University of Wisconsin, said today that President Roosevelt had discussed the post of draft administrator with him but that it would have to do "some considerable" before saying whether he would accept.

Dykstra made the statement after calling upon the president in company with Secretary Stimson.

Asked whether he would accept the draft directorship, the university man said he would not answer that until he would have "given the matter some considerable" thought.

Navy To Be Brought Up To Full Strength

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9 (AP)—At a press conference filled with questions about the tense Far Eastern situation, Secretary Knox said today that the United States fleet, now on duty in the Pacific, would be brought up to full strength immediately by the addition of about 4,200 men.

The additions, the navy department chief reported, will raise crews of the warships from 85 per cent to 100 per cent of their theoretical strength.

Announcing the reinforcement of several measures to reinforce the navy's strength without delay, Knox said also that the navy was "pressing" for the acquisition of 31 additional auxiliary ships for the fleet's train.

He was asked whether he concurred in a prediction that the administration feared war with Japan in 15 days and promptly replied "no."

"I don't think anybody knows," he added.

The United States watched the Far East attentively, and at the same time kept an alert eye on the progress of the furious air war over Europe as a critical factor in the present world struggle for power.

The state department, it was understood, was reckoning with the possibility that an emergency affecting the country might occur in the Orient. Not wholly in the background, however, some officials said, was the question of additional aid to embattled Britain.

The reactions of Japan to events of the last 24 hours were variously interpreted, particularly since the events included Britain's announcement that the Burma road to China would be reopened for supplies, the ban on the further flow of subsidized American wheat to Far Eastern ports, and the precautionary steps to get American nations out of potential trouble zones in the Orient.

Tons Of Bombs Unloaded On Vital Points

Refineries And Munitions Works Also Are Targets

LONDON, Oct. 9 (AP)—Tons of high explosives and hundreds of incendiary bombs were dropped last night on the vital German seaport of Bremen, the air ministry reported today.

RAF heavy bombers, the ministry said, ranged over Bremen and the naval base at Wilhelmshaven, as well as inland German cities and towns and the already badly battered English channel "invasion bases."

The attack on Bremen alone lasted more than half an hour, the ministry declared. Time and time again the British unloaded showers of bombs. The air was filled with debris from explosions and fires broke out in the area.

Oil refineries at Gelesonarchen, in the industrial Ruhr valley, the Krupp munition plant at Essen, a steel works at Hanau, a fuel power station and the Fokker aircraft factory at Amsterdam were raided.

One pilot who took part in the Bremen attack said he saw flames roaring skyward from a building which shortly exploded, tossing broken timbers and pieces of steel high in the air.

Long after he and the others had started for home, he said, they could see new fires break out.

The air ministry said the raid on Wilhelmshaven was "equally punishing" in spite of intense anti-aircraft fire. More than fifteen tons of bombs were dumped on the naval base, it said.

One pilot reported to the ministry that an unidentified plane was seen flying over the coast.

City Takes Action To Collect Old Paving Accounts

With heavy expenditures, principally for paving, whittling the city's general fund balance down to $1,985, city commissioners Tuesday evening reaffirmed its "all signed" paving policy and instructed the city attorney to take action toward collecting $28,844 in outstanding paving accounts.

Thomas J. Coffey, city attorney, was instructed to prepare a letter to all persons owing past due paving accounts instructing them to call at the city hall and make arrangements for the collection of their accounts. Instructions to file immediately suits against all who fail to make satisfactory arrangements.

Previously the city commission had said that no additional paving would be done until all homestead property had been properly signed in advance.

While on paving matters, the group adopted a resolution accepting as completed the paving on Ayford street and ordered issuance of paving assessment certificates.

Issuance of $30,000 in waterworks refunding bonds of Nov. 1, 1941 was ordered. The issue, covering half of $60,000 callable next year, would bear a 2 3/4 per cent rate, lowest in the history of the city, and would be amortized $3,000 per annum over 10 years. The present issue bears six per cent and expires in 1951. Plans are to assume $30,000 of the total amount out of available city funds next year, refunding a similar amount.

Adjustment of delinquent taxes on the Bauer property, taken over by W. B. Currie for $1,528.21 was approved in conjunction with identical action by the local school board.

The commission authorized the city to submit an additional airport project to WPA, to be effective if and when the port is designated as important to national defense. Under such arrangement, the federal government would carry a heavier share of the work, which would include another hangar, sub-drainage and topped taxi strips.

An ordinance amending an ordinance passed last week to reassess paving costs on Third street was adopted to show corrections in property descriptions.

Italy Would Share Spoils

ROME, Oct. 9 (AP)—Premier Mussolini's newspaper Il Popolo d'Italia said today that "new heavy blows" against Britain with the intervention of fresh forces were imminent and offered British territory in the western hemisphere to the United States if she remained out of the war.

The newspaper's military commentator, Mario Appellus, said the United States must choose among three decisions:

1. To remain neutral until the destruction of the British empire has been effected and to take its place among its natural heirs with Canada, Newfoundland, the Bahamas, Bermuda and Jamaica as its "expectations."
2. To continue to aid England without intervening in the war and find herself in an "inferior diplomatic condition" when the British empire is split up at a peace conference, as well as in future trade agreements.
3. To enter the war "knowing she is not militarily ready and meet all the consequences of defeat."

The final course, Appellus said, would be "suicidal."

If the United States remains neutral, the commentator went on, she might also get Australia and New Zealand, while British Honduras would go to Guatemala, British Guiana to Brazil and the Falkland Island to Argentina.

Game Tickets On Sale Early

Anticipating possibly the largest crowd of the season here Friday evening when the Big Spring Steers meet the Odessa Steers in a game with important bearing on the outcome of district 3-A-A, local officials announced today that tickets would go on sale for the game Thursday in the Crawford lobby.

Interest in the game has caused the entire west stands to be reserved, and the east side stands have been set aside for students of both schools. If there is available seating room left in these stands, general admission ticket holders will claim the space.

Odessa has been furnished 1,100 tickets for the game, and based on enthusiasm shown in the Ector county seat, prospects are that most of these seats will be sold in advance.

Edmund Nostestine, business manager of the school district, said that 500 extra seats would be available in the south end of the field if the crowd is large enough to require them. Seating capacity of regular stands is 4,000.

Reserve seats are 75 cents and those planning to see the game were advised to make reservations as early as possible.

Indicated lint yield per acre was 185,000 pounds compared with 160 pounds in 1939 and 149 for the 10 year average.

HERE'S ONE WAY TO PAY YOUR TAX BILL

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., Oct. 9 (AP)—Tax Collector Phillip M. Graston found a porcupine and a note in his parked car.

The note said: "I owe you 20 cents for a poll tax. The nose of this porcupine, according to state law, is worth 20 cents. Take the nose off and turn it over to the state, collect the 20 cents and we will be even."

New Hampshire pays a bounty on porcupines.

Planes Change Formation To Evade Fire

Hospital Casualties Loom Large In Night Bombardment

LONDON, Oct. 9 (AP)—Flying in loose formation to out-smart the city's growing anti-aircraft defense, as many as a dozen Nazi planes were counted over London at one time this afternoon in the continuing siege of the city.

The planes looked like militia—the white crosses against the blue sky, with the puff of anti-aircraft fire dotting their trail. No sound of bombs could be heard above the firing of the ground guns.

After a particularly heavy burst of the "archies" the planes, flying lower than the others, turned off and made toward the coast—possibly damaged.

This afternoon sun had cleared away the clouds that hid raiders in their first daylight follow-up to overnight assaults in which heavy bombs smashed an air raid shelter and three wings of a hospital housing 108 patients.

None in the hospital were believed to have escaped either death or injury. Eight persons were killed in the shelter and an undetermined number injured.

Late in the afternoon a few bombs were heard in London while over one section of the capital a German raider, caught in the full blast of anti-aircraft fire, was blown to pieces.

A large formation of attackers crossed the southeast coast, seemingly enroute to London, but they were intercepted a short way inland by British fighters.

Raiders that seemed aimed directly at the coast, two of three fighters striking at one southern town, were shot down, while a German fighting planes dived at Dover harbor, in the southeast, an shot down a barrage balloon.

The bombed hospital was described as possibly the hardest-hit building in London where the raiding up to midnight was reported to be the most severe the city has undergone.

Three wings, two housing men patients and one housing women patients were crumpled. Most of the patients were 80 years old or over—almost all of them permanent in valid cases.

The first daylight alarm was sounded some time after sounds of distant firing, apparently high above the clouds, were heard in London.

Raiders also were reported over the east coast. One town was dive-bombed and machine-gunned.

First reports said bombs were dropped on at least two London districts during the morning raid.

After the night attack glaziers strewn streets, heaps of rubble, shops that had been and work-shops, and lengthening casualty lists were reported from 162 sections of England. Thirty-eight of the areas of new bomb-wrought devastation were in London, which again bore the full force of the bombings that started England's third month of severe air siege.

Next to London, the hardest hit area was in the latter triangle down the Thames to the nearby wire guarded southeast coast.

House Not To Take Recess

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9 (AP)—House democratic leaders abandoned today for the time being plans to recess or adjourn congress, Speaker Rayburn announcing that the decision was made "for reasons sufficient to us."

The senate meanwhile, planned to start Thursday a series of three day recesses until November 18. Rayburn asserted that as for the house no decision had been made as to whether it would start such recesses later.

"We will not make any effort to recess or adjourn to a certain day for reasons that are sufficient to us at the present time," the speaker told his press conference.

The senate, making ready to quit work until Nov. 18, was asked for quick action on legislation authorizing establishment of "home guards" to replace national guard units mobilized for a year's active service.

Majority Leader Barkley (D-Ky.) called for a prompt vote on the measure which made slow legislative headway yesterday because of the volley of critical questions fired by some senators. The bill heads the agenda which the senate hopes to dispose of by tomorrow when plans call for the start of a series of daily recesses to last until after adjournment.

Service Of Negroes To Be Utilized For Defense On An 'Equitable Basis'

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9 (AP)—President Roosevelt ordered the war department to put into effect immediately a policy providing that the services of negroes will be utilized on "a fair and equitable basis" in the national defense program.

Announcing the president's action, Stephen Early, his press secretary, said that it followed a conference Mr. Roosevelt had on September 27 with negro leaders and Frank Knox, secretary of the navy, and Robert Patterson, assistant secretary of war.

Early said Patterson thereafter submitted a statement of policy which the president approved.

The statement as given out at the White House:

"It is the policy of the war department that the services of negroes will be utilized on a fair and equitable basis. In line with this policy provision will be made as follows:

1. The strength of the negro personnel of the army of the United States will be maintained on the general basis of proportion of the negro population of the country.
2. Negro organizations will be established in each major branch of the service, combatant as well as non-combatant.
3. Negro reserve officers' schools for active duty will be assigned to negro units by colored personnel.

All Quiet On Orange Front

ORANGE, Oct. 9 (AP)—H. J. Latcher Stark, whose philanthropies have brought this city many things, including an athletic stadium and colorful pep squad, minimized today the controversy that arose following his disagreement with Dexter Shelley, coach of the high school football team.

"The team had threatened to strike and a group of students had paraded with placards saying 'no Shelley, no team. No team, no school.'"

"The kids are all back at practice, except possibly one," the millionaire's business man and sportsman asserted.

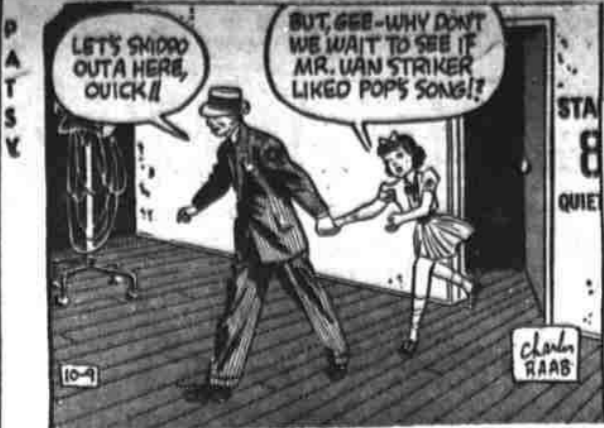

Shelley left last night after announcing that he was through with coaching. He declared things had quieted down, adding that he had gone to the football field twice to talk to the team into practicing.

"I'm going to leave town for the rest of the week so the boys won't have me to run to," he said. "I figure if I'm not here, the boys won't have much to get excited about."

Shelley said he would like to stay here but that he was going to quit coaching if he could get something else.

Shelley formerly was captain of the University of Texas football team. Stark is a regent of the University where he took the lead in bringing D. X. Bibbe from Nebraska to coach the Longhorns at a salary of $16,000 a year.

"There's a lot more interest outside the town in this thing than there is here," Stark said with the local controversy. "The boys just had a good time and everything is quiet now."

Church Meet At Kas. City

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 9 (AP)—Brilliant pageantry of the call to worship will open the Episcopal church's 53rd triennial general convention today but it will overshadow only temporarily the problems to be faced because of wars in Europe and the Orient.

Delegates' minds will be dwelling on the words of Bishop Shirley H. Nichols of Kyoto, Japan, who told the church's national council last night:

"The American Christian church will suffer its greatest blow in 100 years of missionary work in the Orient on Oct. 17, when the new Japanese religious bodies act becomes effective."

Bishop Nichols said the new Japanese measure will place all hospitals and schools maintained by American churches under rigid jurisdiction of the Tokyo government. He predicted the law soon would be applied to church activities in Japanese occupied areas of China.

He said Japanese officials have a list of all American and European missionaries and that those regarded as "objectionable" because of anti-totalitarian sympathies probably would be ordered to leave Japan.

To Give Cooking Demonstrations At Local Store

According to Mrs. Romania Timmis, pictured above, Big Spring residents may be in danger from drowning, without attempting to swim or even to go near the water!

In explanation of this startling statement, Mrs. Timmis pointed out that the danger she refers to lies in "drowning" foods—vegetables, particularly. In other words, cooking foods in quantities of water may rob them of properties that are essential to health, as well as of delightful natural flavors.

Mrs. Timmis will be in Big Spring from Oct. 10 to Oct. 12 and will conduct continuous demonstrations daily at H. Sherrod Supply company to show local housewives how to cook successfully without water, and thus avoid the above danger.

THE WAR TODAY

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

Does another great war lie at the end of the Burma Road which winds its way up through China's primeval mountains?

Or is it likely (as some seem to think) that threats will not be backed by deeds?

A good deal of bluff has been tossed about (and has been got away with) by one or another in the Far East since the Japanese in 1931 set their war-machine rolling in conquest across the rich plains of Manchuria.

That was a speculative venture—a feeble—evolved from the grandiose idea of ousting the western powers from eastern Asia and establishing Nipponese hegemony over that vast and rich area. Japan swung what was in part a bluff and made it stick—thereby breaking trail for Messrs. Mussolini and Hitler.

Since that time we have seen much of bluff in one form or another. It's likely, too, that there's a certain amount of it involved in the present Anglo-Japanese crisis, which revolves about Britain's decision to challenge Japan's demands and reopen the Burma Road for the passage of war-supplies to China.

There is a vast difference, however, between the position today and that of 1931, or for that matter of many later dates. A bluff which might have been called successfully not so long ago, now is supported by a grim determination to back it up if necessary.

Japan and Britain, hard pressed in life and death wars, have reached the point where neither is willing to retreat. The stakes are too great.

Britain appears finally to have called for a showdown over the Japanese policy which would deprive England of the vast politico-economic influence it has exercised in eastern Asia. And Nippon, having thrown every resource it has into its expansionist program, and mortgaged its future for generations, is equally set on carrying it through.

That is why the present situation is grave. War could grow out of it very easily.

Duce Reviews His Troops

ROME, Oct. 9 (AP)—The new plan of military action drafted by Adolf Hitler and Benito Mussolini at Brenner Pass last Friday was believed today in some quarters ready for execution as 11 Duce inspected troops of the eleventh army corps encamped near Gorizia, within 25 miles of the Yugoslav frontier.

Mussolini flew to Gorizia and then proceeded by automobile to the encampment.

Tomorrow he will review 20,000 young fascist volunteers at Padua, the ceremony will be broadcast on an international network at 11:22 a. m. (EST) and there have been indications that Duce might seize this occasion to make a speech indicating some of the decisions reached at last week's conference with Hitler.

Some observers suggested that the Hitler-Mussolini plan of action might turn to the Near East—specifically to control of the Strait of Dardanelles, through which oil tankers pass from Black sea ports.

With the Dardanelles under axis domination, tankers from Rumania's fields could be sent into the Mediterranean with supplies for German and Italian planes.

British Leave Rumania As Nazis Enter

BUCHAREST, Oct. 9 (AP)—The last British officials who have been supervising Britain's extensive interests in Rumania's rich oil fields were reported leaving their posts today as the first contingents of German troops neared the petroleum producing area.

Departure of the Britons was said to be in pursuance to direct advice from Sir Reginald Hoare, the British minister, following receipt of news that Nazi forces had crossed the frontier.

The entire British colony was expected to leave the country and foreign observers believed an open break in British-Rumanian relations inevitable.

It was generally accepted that Sir Reginald—who yesterday asked the Bucharest government to explain its stand on the German action—would depart himself before the main Nazi forces arrived here.

The entrance of the German troops was reported proceeding smoothly.

So far as could be learned in Bucharest only an advance force of some 4,000 men had thus far crossed the border, but other troops were said to be on the way and heavier equipment en route by Danube river barges.

The first contingents explained they had been dispatched to Rumania to "defend" the oil fields against any peril and to help the Rumanian army attain a high degree of efficiency.

Oil men reported the Rumanian government to be planning to ban-

Courts Or Cops To Blame For Traffic Laxity?

CHICAGO, Oct. 9 (AP)—Who is to blame for inadequate enforcement of traffic laws?

The courts, says Police Chief W. K. Ingram of South Bend, Ind.

Traffic cops, says Municipal Judge Perry A. Frey of Cleveland, O.

Their debate on the subject, "What Is Wrong With Traffic Law Enforcement" highlighted a session of the National Safety Congress today.

Chief Ingram termed the judiciary "top-heavy, moss-grown and antiquated—a jolly in the midst of streamlined traffic."

"The average judge is just plain bored—he doesn't take traffic cases seriously," said Chief Ingram. "They don't have the 'omph' of a nice assault and battery."

Judge Frey asserted that many traffic officers merely parade highways for the purpose of scaring, ridiculing and browbeating the motoring public.

"The traffic cop who greets the motorist with 'where's the fire' or 'who do you think you are, Barney Oldfield' does more to break down public respect for traffic law enforcement than any other factor," the judge averred.

Uncle Sam's Selective Service

Registration—Who is Affected

1. Q—Who must register on October 16 under the selective service program?

A—Every male citizen of the United States and every male alien who has declared his intention of becoming a citizen, must register unless he is specifically exempted by law, provided he has reached his 21st birthday and was not passed his 36th birthday.

2. Q—What classes are exempted from the registration?

A—The Selective Service Law provides that the only classes exempt from registration are members of the armed forces of the United States, the active National Guard, the reserve corps, the coast guard, the coast and geodetic survey, the public health service, cadets and midshipmen at national academies, and cadets of the Advance Course, Senior Division, Reserve Officers Training Corps or Naval Reserve Officers Training Corps. The staffs of foreign diplomatic establishments in the United States are also exempt.

3. Q—Suppose a registrant is absent from his home voting box on registration day. What procedure does he follow?

A—Many registrants, such as college students, traveling men, and business men, will be away from their homes on registration day. They must go to the nearest polling place on that day and register. Their registration card will then be forwarded to the proper place.

4. Q—Suppose a registrant is sick on registration day. What should he do?

A—He may deputize some person to get a registration blank for him and to assist him in filling it out. In some cases the person will be too sick to permit registration, so he will be allowed to register later on presentation of a doctor's certificate explaining the reasons for his non-registration.

5. Q—Suppose a man is married or suffers from some physical ailment which would make it impossible for him to perform military service. Does he have to register?

A—Yes. All persons between the ages of 21 and 36, regardless of physical handicaps or conditions of dependency, must register on Wednesday, October 16.

6. Q—Can a man register late without being penalized?

A—Only if he can produce sufficient evidence to justify his failure to register on the national registration day.

7. Q—What is the penalty for the failure to register?

A—A heavy fine and prison sentence for failure to register. Registration officials will make up a list of those failing to register, and this will be turned over to law enforcement officials who will round up the truants.

British Leave Rumania As Nazis Enter

BUCHAREST, Oct. 9 (AP)—The last British officials who have been supervising Britain's extensive interests in Rumania's rich oil fields were reported leaving their posts today as the first contingents of German troops neared the petroleum producing area.

Departure of the Britons was said to be in pursuance to direct advice from Sir Reginald Hoare, the British minister, following receipt of news that Nazi forces had crossed the frontier.

The entire British colony was expected to leave the country and foreign observers believed an open break in British-Rumanian relations inevitable.

It was generally accepted that Sir Reginald—who yesterday asked the Bucharest government to explain its stand on the German action—would depart himself before the main Nazi forces arrived here.

The entrance of the German troops was reported proceeding smoothly.

So far as could be learned in Bucharest only an advance force of some 4,000 men had thus far crossed the border, but other troops were said to be on the way and heavier equipment en route by Danube river barges.

The first contingents explained they had been dispatched to Rumania to "defend" the oil fields against any peril and to help the Rumanian army attain a high degree of efficiency.

Oil men reported the Rumanian government to be planning to ban-

ANTI-ROOSEVELT TICKET LINED UP IN GEORGIA

ATLANTA, Oct. 9 (AP)—All Georgia supporters of Wendell Willkie united behind a single state electors today but anti-Roosevelt democrats cling to their party and even while fighting to send the state to a republican presidential nominee for the first time.

A solid front on the presidential issue was welded between republicans and Willkie democrats yesterday when the general election ballot was drawn up with identical lists of presidential electors to ping the tickets of the republican and the new-born "independent democratic" parties.

But here the similarity ends with the "independent" ticket being some of the same state officials as the regular democratic party.

Uncle Sam's Selective Service
Registration—Who is Affected
1. Q—Who must register on October 16 under the selective service program?
A—Every male citizen of the United States and every male alien who has declared his intention of becoming a citizen, must register unless he is specifically exempted by law, provided he has reached his 21st birthday and was not passed his 36th birthday.
2. Q—What classes are exempted from the registration?
A—The Selective Service Law provides that the only classes exempt from registration are members of the armed forces of the United States, the active National Guard, the reserve corps, the coast guard, the coast and geodetic survey, the public health service, cadets and midshipmen at national academies, and cadets of the Advance Course, Senior Division, Reserve Officers Training Corps or Naval Reserve Officers Training Corps. The staffs of foreign diplomatic establishments in the United States are also exempt.
3. Q—Suppose a registrant is absent from his home voting box on registration day. What procedure does he follow?
A—Many registrants, such as college students, traveling men, and business men, will be away from their homes on registration day. They must go to the nearest polling place on that day and register. Their registration card will then be forwarded to the proper place.
4. Q—Suppose a registrant is sick on registration day. What should he do?
A—He may deputize some person to get a registration blank for him and to assist him in filling it out. In some cases the person will be too sick to permit registration, so he will be allowed to register later on presentation of a doctor's certificate explaining the reasons for his non-registration.
5. Q—Suppose a man is married or suffers from some physical ailment which would make it impossible for him to perform military service. Does he have to register?
A—Yes. All persons between the ages of 21 and 36, regardless of physical handicaps or conditions of dependency, must register on Wednesday, October 16.
6. Q—Can a man register late without being penalized?
A—Only if he can produce sufficient evidence to justify his failure to register on the national registration day.
7. Q—What is the penalty for the failure to register?
A—A heavy fine and prison sentence for failure to register. Registration officials will make up a list of those failing to register, and this will be turned over to law enforcement officials who will round up the truants.

Looking 'em Over

With Jack Douglas

Hal Battle, 145-pound guard, is one of those Steers who will go into their last District BAA opener Friday night when Big Spring is host to Coach Joe Coleman's Odessa Bronchos. Like his name signifies, this boy is a battler of the first water. Rather far removed from the old-time bruiser who held down an inside post back in the days when be-whiskered giants of the striped field wore their shoulder pads on the outside, Hal is a wiry, bony-faced man.

HAL BATTLE

Last year, Battle got the nod for all-district guard honors, and except for the first game of the season this year, has definitely shown that the choice was a good one. Having an ability to put on weight, he shows an acquaintance with his berth and the game that picks him out as a man to give the paying customers an idea as to how a line position should be played and to keep the opposition busily engaged throughout the evening. When you see a man whip out of the line and dart into the opposition, look for the big number 50 on the back.

MID-WEST GRID IS SET FOR GOOD YEAR

CHICAGO, Oct. 9 (AP)—The Western conference appears headed for its greatest competitive football season in a decade, one which could become the greatest gridiron campaign in Big Ten history.

With Chicago out of the picture, there doesn't seem to be a push-over in the field—one which even this early in the year presents such a stout opponent as Ohio State, Michigan, Minnesota and Northwestern.

For all-around strength, the conference apparently has bobbed up with a natural this season. Ohio State routed Pittsburgh and was expected to have little trouble last Saturday with Purdue, but the conference champions squeezed through 17 to 14 on a last minute field goal as the Boilermakers showed surprising power.

Michigan, a pre-season favorite with Ohio State, overwhelmed California 41 to 0, then came back to trip a tough Michigan State team, 21 to 14. Minnesota, conceded to have only a fair team before the season opened, whipped Washington 19 to 14 and then defeated Nebraska last Saturday, 13 to 7. Northwestern, reportedly weak in its forward wall and of unknown offensive quantity, rolled over Syracuse, 40 to 0.

The other four conference teams even though they faced weaker opposition, did surprisingly well Saturday. Wisconsin showed power in its 33 to 19 conquest of Marquette, while Iowa routed South Dakota, 46 to 0. Illinois whipped Bradley, 31 to 0. Indiana lost to Texas, 13 to 6, but the Hoosiers showed an aerial game that probably will give plenty of trouble to every opponent from now on.

Embellishing the picture are numerous backfield stars whose performances give the season a lusty sparkle. Tom Harmon, with seven touchdowns, heads the field, but he has stellar company in such standouts as Minnesota's George Franck, Ohio State's Don Scott and Jim Langhurst, Mike Byehene of Purdue, George Paskvan of Wisconsin and Northwestern's Bill De Corveant and Don Luckson.

Blocking Recorder To Get Test At Steer Stadium Friday Night In Tilt With Broncs

Spectators at the Big Spring-Odessa football duel here Friday night will be given a chance to pass judgment on a new piece of grid equipment, blocking recorder, designed with the purpose of clarifying the game for fans and obtaining a greater degree of efficiency in carrying out assignments from players. The recorder, installed on an approval basis only, will become a permanent part of the high school athletic plant if it holds up to the expectations as stated by those handling it. Otherwise, it will not be accepted by the school board.

According to the inventor, Clyde Wright of the Ballinger high school coaching staff, this machine is supposed to point out the success or failure of every man on the team in carrying out blocking, tackling, ball-carrying and all other assignments that might be designated in executing a formation on the offense and defense. A successful performance will be signified with a green light in the spot on the board pointing out the individual player and a red light will denote a failure, the recorder backers state. This is supposed to help the coach review mistakes made in a game and to allow the watchers to keep track of the players.

Eleven operators will be placed in the blocking recorder tower in order to keep track of the participants and give a red or green signal of what they see. Each spotter will keep a record of the number of times a man performs his job and when he does it.

As to the mechanics of the machine, it is a frame structure that stands behind the goal posts, thereby giving the spotters an unobstructed view of field action. At the close of every play, the operator will flash a light to give his recording of a good job or a bad one. According to those in charge of installation, men with a good understanding of the position they are spotting will be in the tower.

CINCINNATI, Oct. 9 (AP)—Headachy but happy after a night of spectacular celebration, Cincinnati's baseball fans came to slowly today, pinched themselves a few times, and finally awakened to the realization it was true—the Reds had won that old championship.

Yessir, those good old Reds have done it. Whee! Old Paul Derringer, the people's choice, had licked Detroit's Buck Newsom, 2 to 1, in the seventh and deciding game, as tense and thrilling a battle as ever climaxed a world series.

Streets of the town still were littered with the paper and rubbish that showered down from ten thousand windows an instant after Earl Averill, a pinch-hitter, slapped a ball at Lonnie Frey and was snapped off at first for the final out of the long-drawn play-off yesterday afternoon on Crosley Field.

Those who witnessed both said it was the most delirious night Cincinnati had experienced since the armistice was signed in 1918.

Today the proud celebrants had only one big problem on their minds—to name the hero of the series. And it was a real problem.

Derringer? The big pitcher who produced one of his greatest masterpieces; didn't permit an earned run to one of baseball's finest array of sluggers in the clinching struggle?

Bucky Walters? The stout hurler who twice in the series stopped the Tigers with three-hit and five-hit performances when the Reds were trailing by a game and appeared to be on the verge of defeat?

Bill Werber? The scrapping third-baseman who led both clubs in hitting for the seven games with an average of .370 and whose fielding was spectacular?

Or even little Billy Myers, the shortstop, who clouted the long fly off Newsom in the seventh inning to score Jimmy Ripple from third with the Reds' second and winning run? Billy didn't do much before that, but in the view of Cincinnati fans he could have made up for a lifetime of lapses with that one vital blow.

Heroic in defeat was Buck Newsom, who pitched the Tigers to two stirring victories, blanking the Reds over one stretch of 16 consecutive innings, but on whom the terrific pace finally told at the very climax of the series.

After Bobo won his second game on Sunday, his arm was so sore he scarcely could lift it. But out there yesterday was Bobo, firing them across with only one day's rest, and it wasn't until the seventh inning that Frank McCormick and Jimmy Ripple rattled the fences with successive doubles to start the rally that beat the big South Carolinian out of the third world series triumph he craved.

From a romantic standpoint, the grandest figure on the field for six of the seven games was Jimmy Wilson, the 40-year-old coach who pulled his ancient catchers mitt off the bottom of his locker and filled the big shoes of crippled Ernie Lombardi behind the plate for the Reds.

He was a trouper! He was strapped up with 40-odd yards of adhesive tape yesterday for what he said, vehemently, was the last game he ever expected to play. He was limping on both legs, if that is possible. But Jimmy hit two singles, laid down a perfect sacrifice in the Reds' winning inning, and stole the only base of the entire seven games. Manager Bill McKechnie sounded like he might choke as he watched Jimmy play his valdeictory:

"Just look at him. What if a manager had a whole team of players with hearts like Jimmy's?"

H-SU Polishes Airblitz For Miner Clash

ABILENE, Oct. 9.—Rampant after three fall wins in a row, topped by a 17 to 0 victory over Arizona State of Tempe in the annual Rose Festival classic at Tyler, Hardin-Simmons' Cowboys polish their airblitz today for Saturday's clash with Texas College of Mines, at Odessa.

This game, second in a row for the Ranchers with a Border conference foe, tops the gridiron menu of the week in West Texas, and several thousand fans will witness the afternoon clash at Fly field.

L. B. (Scat) Russell, wispy 190-pound field general of the Cowboys, parked the Rose Festival verdict over Dixie Howell's defending champs of the Border loop.

Russell hit for 10 of 19 passes, one of them to co-captain Owen Goodnight, his touchdown twin, for the score that put the game on ice, after Murray (Boom Town) Evans had given the Ranchers a 3-point field goal lead with his educated toe.

Russell's airkrieg results boosted his season's mark above the 500 mark for completions, with 18 of 35, for 314, including four touchdown aeriels.

Evans, with his field goal boot, and Moose Bryson, Tyler full-back who scored the Rancher's final marker, and added two conversion boots, moved into a second place tie for Cowboy scoring totals, of 8 apiece, behind H. C. Burrus. Burrus has caught two passes for scores.

Bryson smashed for 52 yards in 11 carries, in his first game, alternating with Moon Mullins, fellow East Texas powerhouse, from Marshall.

Coach Frank Kimbrough pushed his Cowhands through more air maneuvers, which have produced 6 of the team's 9 touchdowns this fall, and bore down on pass defense, in preparing to meet Mack Saxon's rugged Miners today.

Gillespie Is Question Mark On TCU Squad

The question mark in Texas Christian university's 1940 football hopes, Kyle Gillespie, played for the first time this season Saturday and during the short time he was in the game, gave 12,000 fans a passing exhibition unequalled in the "passingest" conference in the nation.

When the Frogs were only seven points in the lead, Gillespie was rushed into the fray. In three passes he marched 64 yards for a touchdown. The payoff came on a heave to Nolan Sparks which gained 5 yards. After this, Gillespie remained under wraps for the rest of the game, while his mates added another seven points to the score.

Gillespie is a junior from Paris. He played at Paris junior college before coming to T.C.U. He answers to "Sweet Pea" or "Knee." The latter nickname was given him because of his trick knee.

Not content with stealing milk from the doorstep, he said, he fakes orders for the milkman to leave whipping cream, and swipes that, too.

Tigers' Higgins Sets New Assist Record

CINCINNATI, O., Oct. 9 (AP)—Pinky Higgins, stellar third baseman for the Detroit Tigers, hung up a new record for assists during the world series.

He handled 30 chances during the seven-game series to top by two the old mark set by Bucky Harris for Washington in 1924. Higgins set a new one-game record Saturday while he made nine assists, breaking a mark of seven set by Freddie Lindstrom.

through 1930 in which the late, great Knute Rockne acted as football head coach at University of Notre Dame, the Norwegian wizard added his Notre Dame teams against the opposition of forty different rival colleges.

Only one rival varsity managed to come out with a margin of victory against Rockne's coaching. That was the University of Iowa, and the score was 10-7 in the Hawkeyes' favor in 1931, and the two schools never met in football again during Rockne's lifetime.

This remarkable record, of only one school, among forty rivals, became able to gain an advantage over Rockne's coaching in career as long as Rockne's, was one of the subjects that drew attention when four of the country's outstanding football coaches gathered to honor Rockne's memory, and to play the movie role of themselves, in a sequence of Warner Bros. motion pictures, "Knute Rockne—All American," which plays at the Ritz Saturday midnight, Sunday and Monday.

Prominent among the four coaches who assembled to honor Rockne by appearing with Actor Pat O'Brien, who impersonates Knute in the film, was Howard H. Jones.

Jones coached the University of Iowa team of 1921 which made Iowa the only school that ever got the better of Rockne in the coaching rivalry that went on during Rockne's lifetime. Jones was a little less fortunate later when he transferred to University of Southern California and initiated a new inter-school rivalry with Rockne's Notre Dame teams, that was dominated, until "Rock's" death by the Scandinavian bald eagle.

Chatting about such items in Rockne's phenomenal football record were Coaches Glenn Warner, A. A. Stagg, Bill Spaulding, Jones,

CINCINNATI, Oct. 9 (AP)—The other fellows may out-vote us on the series here, but we'll string along with old Jimmy Wilson. To top it all off, the old boy actually stole a base. ... Other players may have done a bit brighter, but Bill McKechnie will tell you there was no more valuable player on the triumphant Reds than the old gentleman of 40.

VOLS' MENTOR GETS NEW SYSTEM AFTER 14 YEARS

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Oct. 9 (AP)—After 14 winning years with the same solid offense, Major Bob Neyland has strengthened his power-packed Volunteers of Tennessee with a tricky new shift.

The 42,000 fans who watched the Vols roll over Duke last Saturday, 13-0, get a glimpse of the shift, the first departure Neyland has made from his orthodox attack since he became head coach here in 1926.

But it was moulded into the old-style offense so adroitly that few sensed the change.

Decided to adopt a shift when I felt our stuff was becoming too well known," the one-time army officer said. "The shift broadens our attack and gives the other fellow something to worry about."

The Neyland system calls for a balanced line with a single-wing back and the No. 2 at the heels of the center to the strong side.

In the new shift, the strong-side tackle and end shift out a pace and the No. 2 back drops back into the orthodox single-wing, making a formation from which a variety of straight plays, reverses, spinners, double reverses, and passes are possible.

From 1926 through the Rose Bowl defeat last New Year's Day, Neyland's team won 109 games, lost 13, and tied eight. This did not include 1935 when Neyland was with the army in Panama.

Steers Having Play-Memory Trouble

Yesterday was one of those days for the Big Spring Steers. As is so often the case before an important game, everything seemed to look pretty black for the future. Plays were botched by reserve players in scrimmage before the first-stringers could get started. Passes turned into give-aways, and memories were rather short when it came to keeping track of formations, assignments and positions.

Horace Bostick was still handicapped with an injured foot and Owen Brummett was nursing a rick knee. Both these men, half-backs, are going to be needed if Big Spring walks away with the big end of Friday night's score. Brummett's services are going to be needed to clear a path for Steer runners and Bostick carries a great deal of the ball-toting burdens.

Still smarting from a 6-0 pasting administered by the Steers last year, Odessa's Bronchos are not making the mistake of getting over-confident about Friday night's results. Big Spring will have the advantage in that the Longhorns will have had a two weeks rest and are playing on their home grounds.

Despite the showing made yesterday afternoon in practice session, the Bovines are due to go out on the field with a maximum of strength, providing Brummett and Bostick are ready and able to go. Otherwise, the Steers will be at a disadvantage.

Bartell Gets 1940 Series 'Goat' Title

CINCINNATI, O., Oct. 9 (AP)—The second guessers are calling Dick Bartell's seventh inning mental lapse—when the Cincinnati Reds scored their world series winning runs—the $50,000 "snooze."

Here's what happened. The Detroit Tigers were out front, 1 to 0 as Frank McCormick led off the Reds' seventh with a blistering double against the left field wall, Jimmy Ripple followed with another two-puty shot against the right field barrier, it looked as if Bruce Campbell might catch Ripple's hard drive, and McCormick "tagged up" at second.

As the ball hit the wall, McCormick started for third, but slowed almost to a walk after rounding the bag. Campbell threw to Bartell, between second and third, but Bartell, despite yells and gesticulations from his mates, didn't notice McCormick was only halfway between third and home until too late to make the play. At the same time McCormick didn't know the ball was back in the infield and just jogged across like a guy who hit a homer.

Anyway, the experts figure if Bartell had caught McCormick at the plate, the Tigers would have won the game 1 to 0, and the series along with it. The out would have left Ripple on second with one away, and Wilson would not have followed with a sacrifice, which put the runner on third from where he scored the winning run on Myers' long fly to center.

The difference between the winners' and losers' share of the series gold is far above $50,000, but the second guessers settled for that amount on the "snooze" angle.

Fourth Annual Dawson County Fair Will Open Thursday

Free Gate To Bring Large Attendance

LAMESA, Oct. 9 (Sp1)—Weeks of planning and hard work on the part of scores of persons will reach a climax here Thursday with opening of the Dawson County Fair for its fourth annual stand.

This year, for the first time, fair officials have decreed a free gate and those in close touch are predicting an attendance of 25,000. Last year more than 15,000 clicked the stiles when admission was charged. Not only are Dawson county folks expected to turn out en masse, but large representations from surrounding counties are anticipated.

Encouraging is the response of businessmen in leasing commercial exhibit spaces. They were bought without the necessity of solicitation, said Raymond Lee Johns, chamber of commerce manager and secretary-treasurer of the fair association. This, he added, indicates 100 per cent cooperation.

Serving his first year as fair president, W. B. Collins, pioneer Lamesa businessman, said "we expect the largest attendance of the history of the fair, and every effort is being put forth by all officials to furnish the people of Dawson county and the South Plains a program of combined education and entertainment second to none."

Final touches have been given to the grounds and buildings and all is in readiness for the opening. The carnival set up its midway at the start of the week and has been in operation in advance of the fair. Conway E. King, band director of the Lamesa school, and parade director, said that a colorful procession was shaping up. Several business houses have entered floats and the Lamesa band will lead the parade.

Decorations of the city has been carried out under the direction of Don Brashers, and the city has taken on the festive atmosphere.

Friday is to be observed as "Kiddies Day" at the fair, and rural schools will be dismissed during the day, while Lamesa schools will close at noon.

Purchase of new buildings created a drain on association finances and as a result the horse, mule and jack show was suspended for the year.

But all other portions of the show are intact with prizes between $400 and $500 apportioned to show divisions in poultry, livestock, hogs, general agricultural, educational arts and crafts, textiles, canned products, culinary and 4-H girls.

COME ON IN FOLKS, IT'S FREE, says Raymond Lee Johns, chamber of commerce manager at Lamesa and secretary-treasurer of the Dawson County Fair association. This is John's first experience with the fair, now in its fourth year, and this is the first year that a free gate has been offered for the attraction. Johns is shown opening the entrance gate, symbolizing that there will be no charge to view the fair this year. (Ferry Photo).

Nearly $500 To Be Distributed To Winners At Dawson Co. Fair

LAMESA, Oct. 9 (Sp1) — Good and old spending money, nearly $500 of it, will be handed out as a reward for outstanding exhibits at the fourth annual Dawson County Fair starting Thursday.

The remarkable thing is that officials have so arranged the prize lists that it will touch 413 places, with an additional 27 others to be recognized by ribbon awards.

In the poultry class first prize will be $1 for best pen, hen, cock of White Leghorns, Rhode Island Reds and Brown Leghorns. Second prize will be 50 cents and third a ribbon.

Livestock prizes show $4 first prize for registered Hereford bulls (over two years and under), cows, and heifers, the same arrangement for Jerseys with the exception of an additional place for 4-H and FFA boys' heifers. Second prize in each place is $2.50 and third $1.

For both Poland China and Berkshire hogs, there will be $3 first prize for the best boar any age, best sow or gilt, and best sow and litter. Second prize is $2 and third $1.

Agricultural Products Grain sorghums show $1 for 10 best milo and kaffir heads with 50 cents for second and ribbons for third; 75 cents for each red top cane and sudan grass and 50 cents second, ribbons third.

Cotton carries $1 for best 20 open bolls in box, best stalk of cotton and best pound of lint. Second prize in each is 75 cents and third 50 cents. Seventy-five cents first prize, 50 cents second, and ribbons for third for best gallon wheat, milo, hegar, red top cane, kaffir, watermelon, kerahaw, pie pumpkin, winter squash, Bell peppers, five beets, five carrots, five onions, five cantaloupes.

In the 4-H and FFA boys division there will be $1 prizes, 75 cents second and 50 cents third for best 10 heads milo, kaffir, gallon threshed milo, kaffir, hegar, 20 open cotton bolls in box, best stalk of cotton and best pound of lint cotton.

For educational exhibits, the prizes will run $15, $12.50, $10, $7.50, $5 and $2.50. Under arts and crafts, best still life and landscape oil paintings will draw $1, 75 cents and 50 cents, with identical prizes for still and landscape water colors, pastels, and pen, pencil or charcoal drawings.

Wood carvings carry the same prize distribution as do batik, fabric painting and block printing; painting on wood, and iron and tin work.

Other Prizes In textiles the distribution is $1, 75 cents and 50 cents for embroidery work including luncheon set, initial cut work, buffet set, applique work, pillow slip, center-piece and chair set; candlewick colored spreads, white spreads, crocheted spreads and pieced and quilted quilts; and $2, $1.50 and $1 for ladies cotton sheer dress, non-sheer cotton dress, woolen dress, woolen suit and woolen coat. Child's (1-6) dress, child's (6-12) dress and 50 cents, as well knit or crocheted baby caps, baby dresses, baby coats and caps; braided rugs, woven rugs and hooked rugs.

Canned products draw $1, 75 cents and 50 cents for two quarts of plums, pears, apples, peaches, cherries, other fruit, salad pack tomatoes, two pints of grape juice

EXHIBITS SPACE AT FAIR WAS TAKEN VOLUNTARILY

LAMESA, Oct. 9 (Sp1) — The dream of every person helping promote a community undertaking came to pass in the development of plans for the Dawson County Fair this year. Instead of committees having to go out and sell merchants and other businessmen on the idea of reserving space for commercial exhibits at the fair, officials merely had to sit back and check them off until space was exhausted. "No one was asked to buy any space," said Raymond Lee Johns, secretary-treasurer of the fair. Yet the display for commercial purposes has been a complete sell-out.

Lamesa Men Cooperate To Build Fair

LAMESA, Oct. 9 (Sp1) — Busy merchants professional men and agriculturists have combined efforts to direct the affairs of the Dawson County Fair a factor that contributes to its increasing success.

W. B. Collins, pioneer department store operator, heads the institution as president; Connally Baldwin, publisher, is vice-president; Raymond Lee Johns, chamber of commerce manager, is secretary-treasurer.

On the board of directors are W. K. Crawley, F. L. Grissom, S. L. Forrest, J. T. Allen, A. W. Matthews, Mrs. Furman Thorp, B. J. Baskin, C. A. Hollingsworth, W. M. Yates, Joe Peterson, D. L. Adcock, W. J. Beckham, George D. Norman and J. M. Peterson.

Collins, of course, heads the executive committee while Allen is chairman of merchant's exhibits; A. G. Bearden and Johns in charge of grounds and excursions; Conway King, parade; F. L. Grissom, general agriculture; Mrs. C. W. Shafer, home demonstration; and Mrs. Dixie Kilgore, general women's division.

For the poultry show, Ben Dobson is in charge with E. V. Dunn, Jr., vice-chairman; Harvey E. Owens is livestock chairman with D. L. Adcock, Jr., vice-chairman; C. E. Hardy is hog show chairman, aided by Billie Joe Peterson.

Other divisions and those in charge are: General agricultural, J. Logan Green, aided by Robert Hunt; educational, C. D. Applegate, assisted by Gene McLendon; textiles, Mrs. T. E. Temple; canned products, Mrs. V. B. Hofn; culinary, Mrs. W. L. Marr; and 4-H club girls, Mrs. J. D. Banta.

TITLE ASSN ELECTS SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 9 (AP)—R. L. Rustan of Port Arthur was elected vice-president of the Texas Title association at its closing session here yesterday.

LARGEST CROWD in history of the Dawson County Fair is expected this season by W. B. Collins, president of the association. Encouraged by wholehearted cooperation on the part of Lamesa people, Collins wouldn't be surprised at a total of 25,000 people visiting the fair Thursday, Friday and Saturday. He is a pioneer Lamesa business man and is serving his first year as association head.

Dawson Farm Folk Contribute Heavily To Annual Fair

LAMESA, Oct. 9 (Sp1) — Town and country get along exceptionally well in these parts, thank you, which works out nicely for everything concerned, particularly the Dawson County Fair. While businessmen have taken care of commercial spaces and have seen to it that spaces are provided, farmers and ranchers have worked like Trojans in seeing that the agricultural and livestock exhibits are representative and plentiful.

One fair official, commenting on the manner in which farmers and ranchers have worked said: "I've never seen anything like it."

ENTHUSIASM of Connally Baldwin, vice-president of the Dawson County Fair association over the fourth annual fair opening for a three-day stand Thursday is well founded. Preparations for the event have shaped up wonderfully well, all commercial exhibit space going without necessity of soliciting. Too, it looks like a banner year for the fair. Baldwin is publisher of the Lamesa Reporter.

Communities Have Booths

LAMESA, Oct. 9 (Sp1)—Several educational community booths have been entered in the fourth annual Dawson County Fair.

The O.K. Community home demonstration club has arranged an exhibit showing the importance and conveniences of frame gardens. The Central club booth will depict in graphic fashion the many uses to which cotton can be put.

An exhibit of lightweight bed coverings will be the offering of the Klondike club while the Shumake club will show the uses of feathers in bed coverings.

Spartanburg home demonstration club will have a poultry yard exhibit, and the Key club will illustrate various ways of laying walks on lawns. The Union FFA and Homemaking clubs have a joint exhibit on phases of modern living.

CIVIC LEADER in this Lamesa man, Sam Richardson, president of the chamber of commerce. Every worthwhile activity, whether sponsored by the chamber or some other organization, has the support of Richardson. This happens to be the case concerning the Dawson County fair. Richardson is no stranger in this area, for he long has been regarded as a democratic leader in West Texas.

Parade To Be Friday At 1:30

LAMESA, Oct. 9 (Sp1)—Parade for the fourth annual Dawson County Fair has been shifted from Thursday to Friday at 1:30 p. m., Conway E. King, director of the activity, has announced.

Adding color to the affair, King is seeking to emphasize horse-drawn vehicles and automobiles of ancient manufacture. Prizes of $2.50 each for the oldest automobile and for the oldest and most unique horse-drawn vehicle have been posted.

Many merchants are due to enter floats and commercial displays, and King urged that horseback riders, school buses, cyclists and others join to make the event varied.

The Lamesa high school Tornado band, with 72 marching players, will head up the parade forming north of the postoffice on N. Houston street.

Lamesa's New Cotton Oil Mill One Of Finest In Plains Area

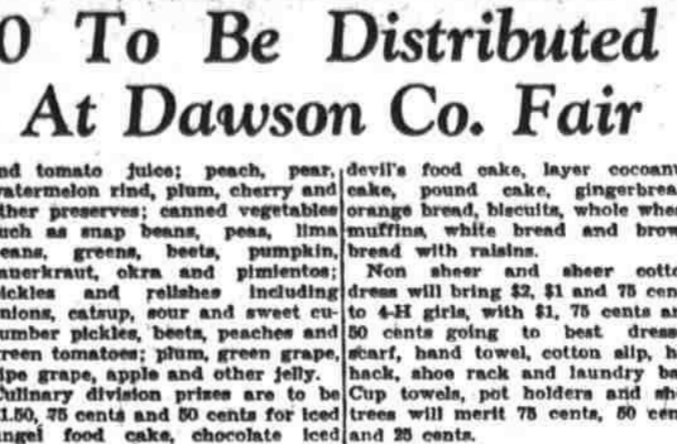

LAMESA, Oct. 9 (Sp1) — Construction of the newest and most modern cotton oil mill in the South Plains area is nearing conclusion here after a program which started last June 23.

P. A. Norris, Jr., manager of the plant, said he expected that it would be in partial operation within a few days.

The mill will replace two smaller ones, the old Dawson County Cotton Oil Mill and the Tinsley and Jacobs mill, both of which were bought by Kay Kimball, Fort Worth businessman, and P. A. Norris, prominent in cotton oil milling circles. Norris is president of the new concern, known as the Lamesa Cotton Oil Mill.

The plant is located in the southeastern part of town on a 10-acre tract on the Santa Fe tracks and near the old Tinsley-Jacobs mill. New all-steel buildings have been erected and at the present time machinery is being installed.

Housing the mill unit is a 4x4x40 foot structure, and a 90x220 foot seed house with an 8,000-ton capacity is part of the plant. According to the manager, a new type of construction has been employed in part of the work with use of corrugated asbestos over the frames instead of ordinary sheet iron. This is to check heat and reduce danger of fire.

AGRICULTURE MAKES DAWSON COUNTY one of the most important ones in West Texas, for when crop years are reasonably good, cotton, grain and livestock come from all parts of the county in a parade of good business. Examples of what agriculture means to Lamesa, county seat, may be seen in the above picture. Top is the new and most modern cotton oil mill in the South Plains, a unit with a 200-ton capacity and equipped with 15 presses in a 300-foot fireproof building. Its construction has required 125 to 150 men and operation will require around 75. Below is one of many Lamesa and Dawson county gins, now turning out the early portion of the 1940 crop which, despite whittled estimates due to drought, still promises to be more than 40,000 bales. Britain's decision to reopen the Burma road for the passage of war supplies to China...

This involves the whole question of Japan's increasingly aggressive policy which is calculated to break the influence of the western powers...

The Burma road controversy is merely one of a long chain of clashes between Britain and Japan...

Japan's recent adherence to the Berlin-Rome axis obviously has forced Britain to the conclusion that it must either take a stand now or be pushed back.

Washington Daybook

WASHINGTON—There have been so many requests for explanations of selective service rulings that I have decided to devote a series of columns to questions and answers...

Q. My birthday is October 17. On that date I will be 36. Am I subject to registration?

A. Certainly. The law says that any man between the ages of 21 and 36 (that is, if on that date you are 21 or 35) you must register...

Q. I am taking an automobile trip on October 14. On October 16, I will be in Grand Canyon National Park. Where do I register?

A. In Grand Canyon National Park. Under the Selective Service regulations, if a person subject to registration is out of his state or registration district and CAN NOT GET BACK...

Q. I am subject to selective service registration, but at present am in a reformatory. Will I get in more trouble if I do not register?

A. Not unless you fail to register on the date of expiration of your sentence. This ruling also applies to persons in insane asylums, jails and penitentiaries...

Q. My working hours are such that I can't get to the registration board on October 16. What do I do?

A. If your employer prevents your getting there on that day, he is obstructing selective service and subject to penalties under the law...

Q. I am ill at home. I can not get out to register. What must I do to avoid penalties under the law?

A. Deputize a competent person to register

Man About Manhattan

NEW YORK—Sometimes at night, when the mood for the old familiar haunts is lacking, I forget about Broadway and amble over into Jersey for a visit with my friend Ferde Grofe.

Such instances are delightful, for life in the Grofe household is paced by the same appreciation for abundance that is expressed in his suites to the Grand Canyon and the Mississippi...

I mean, well, around midnight when Mrs. Grofe suddenly says, "How would some pork chops and hot biscuits sound to you?" she doesn't mean that she happens to have a few chops already prepared and stored away in the icebox...

It's this abundance of things, this aura of ample plenty that permeates the atmosphere and leaves you gently in a wave of cordiality. The porkchops merely express a point. If you prefer lamb, there is also half a lamb hanging from its hook in the refrigerator.

Ferde is looking up now. He is feeling better. Perhaps it was a winter spent in California, and a successful summer at the Fair, that is responsible. It may even be his new composition, "Temple Hills," which again expresses his deep longing for the western countryside.

Sometimes, in his study or on the air when I listen to his music, particularly to the move-

Hollywood Sights And Sounds

HOLLYWOOD — "Christmas in July." Written and directed by Preston Sturges. Principals: Dick Powell, Ellen Drew, Raymond Walburn, Alexander Carr, William Demarest, Ernest Truex, Franklyn Pangborn, Harry Hayden, Rod Cameron.

Another charming fable from the movies' newest Aesop. This one takes up the chain of events loosed when a bunch of the boys gang up on The Boy with a fake telegram informing him he has won a $25,000 contest.

Sturges has written and directed his story with the same sure, original approach that distinguished "The Great McGinty," but where "McGinty" had a rugged brittleness sparked with satire, the present film sacrifices no satirical humor and yet has an over-coating of sentimental tenderness quite proper for a Boy Meets Girl yarn.

Jimmy (Powell) works for one coffee company and writes slogans for the rival concern's prize. He can't see marrying Betty (Drew) on his own $22 a week and dreams of copying the contest to set up in a nice home and buy his moon (Georgia Crain) the bed-davenport she's always wanted. With the frame-up, his jubilation causes him to be fired by the boss (Truex), then rehired, promoted and given his own office.

The prize-giving coffee company, however, has its own troubles. The jury is hung, Mr. Bil-docker (Demarest) holding out for his own choice against the pleas and threats of all his fellows. The president (Walburn) is exasperated. When Jimmy shows up to collect, he pays off, and Jimmy and Betty go shopping. They buy everything in sight for the neighborhood folks—and then the prey learns his mistake.

War In The Far East?

The resulting position is obviously grave. The chief danger lies not in the immediate upheaval over the opening of the Burma road—for that was more or less expected at the expiration of the three month period—but in the probability that the Japanese will take strong military action to prevent the passage of supplies that could result in war between Britain and Japan.

Many recent events, such as the scrap metal embargo, the suspension of wheat export subsidies, the naval activity, indicate that the United States government is concerned over developments in Far East. That the situation has become more serious is shown in the instructions for American citizens to return home.

It is to England's advantage that the United States remained thusly concerned, for it is the blunt truth that the American navy, in Pacific waters, can be a powerful ally against Japanese aggression. Tokyo itself appears not averse to evoking more wrath from Uncle Sam, and the axis powers all are talking more strongly than ever against this country. If the war spreads to the Far East, with Britain as a participant, it means that war is a step closer for the United States.

for you. In this instance, the person you deputize will act as registrar for you. With, of course, the permission of the local board. If you are too ill or quarantined on registration day, present yourself to your local board as soon as possible and under these circumstances, have a physician's certificate or other competent evidence on hand to prove your case.

Q. I am going to be out of the United States on registration day. What must I do to avoid the penalties of non-registration?

A. Present yourself to your local board within five days after you get back in the United States, offer them proof that you were outside the United States on October 16 (a ticket stub, stamped passport, reports from your local newspaper, or affidavits from responsible neighbors would be evidence enough) and register in the ordinary manner.

Q. I am subject to selective service registration, but at present am in a reformatory. Will I get in more trouble if I do not register?

A. Not unless you fail to register on the date of expiration of your sentence. This ruling also applies to persons in insane asylums, jails and penitentiaries. Such persons will be registered "on the day of discharge" by the superintendent or warden of the institution and your responsibility from there on is to your local registration board in the voting precinct in which you formerly had residence.

Q. My working hours are such that I can't get to the registration board on October 16. What do I do?

A. If your employer prevents your getting there on that day, he is obstructing selective service and subject to penalties under the law. In most cases registration day will be a holiday and persons who have to work on holidays will be given time off to register.

ments from Grand Canyon, such as "On the Trail." I have to close my eyes and wonder about, Ferde Grofe. I wonder what he must have been like as a youngster when he was getting his musical start by banging pianos in the Barbary Coast dives. . . . Or when he was Paul Whiteman's arranger, giving Whiteman many of the arrangements that made him great and which now remain models of instrumental phraseology.

Today Ferde is short, thick-shouldered, serious-minded. Sometimes he worries a lot—often without reason. His home is a sort of mirror that reflects his career, for in the basement are radios, phonographs, and recording devices. In the drawing room are novachords and organs. In his study upstairs, where all of his composing is done, is a piano and more radios and phonographs. This room is a well of manuscripts, old and new, some published and handsomely bound, some half-finished, dotted down in pencil, scattered about the top of the piano.

You say, "Well, what sort of fellow is this Grofe?" and the answer surprises you. . . . He isn't any different from anybody else.

"Well," you argue, "what has he done beside compose a little music? The woods are full of composers of a sort."

The difference is this. Before he came along, jazz music was simply an indefinable influence of uncertain proportions. He was the first to sense in it certain fundamentally sound elements in harmony with the established principles of standard music, and he was the first to reduce this to written form.

The Herald's Serial Story

Chapter 26 TO THE VICTOR

Don bent to kiss Constance, patting her hand. "Forget everything; I'm in the saddle now."

Donna whisked in gaily. "My word, how you do steal the lime-light," she prattled. "Here I spent days and nights being a traitor to my family to try to forewarn Pedro what was going on so he'd save the ranch, and then, just as I was ready for the big denouement, you jump off the deep end."

There was silence for a moment. Constance waited for the next news. Then Donna sidled nearer the bed.

"Connie, will you be my maid-of-honor?"

"No!" The word came out forcefully. This was too much. "Not that I don't think Pedro will make an ideal brother-in-law," she hastened to say.

"Pedro! Good gracious, Con, that tall, dark and handsome wouldn't have me as a gift. I'm marrying Jack Dea. You know, Santa Barbara and way-points. We're going to the Islands."

"But you and Pedro," began Constance.

"Listen, sweet, all I ever had out of Pedro's company was a course of curtain lectures. He was the one who made me see what a nit-wit I was around you. He made me appreciate you. He likes girls like you, girls with a purpose, like that red-headed Irene something or other."

Constance scarcely heard Donna's chatter until she said, "and I think Nadine and the Major are that way."

So she had lost to the red-head Constance thought. She had been so concerned with the thoughts of her head that she hadn't listened to her heart. Not that it mattered; she was just fifty thousand dollars behind marrying anyone herself.

"Nurse," Constance awakened from a late nap, "I'm leaving tomorrow. I can't let it go. But I don't want anyone to know."

"Well," said the nurse, "if you can pass that man who's waited downstairs every day—"

"That man?" hope flared up. "John, Raskthorn," said the nurse, reading it from a card. "Hope died down. By dint of bribery, Constance left the hospital in the freight elevator. A hired car and driver waited at the ambulance entrance. Constance was glad she didn't have to steer the car past that memorable spot."

El Cabrillo was quiet when she reached there. Then she spied Juliano in sack-cloth, his hair dusted in ashes. Juliano the dramatic, who came to her on his knees.

"It's all right," Constance assured him. "We just didn't understand each other. I'm going away, Juliano, you can repay me by showing Don and Pedro how El Cabrillo men can make this ranch the best of its kind."

"My Wife!" Pancho was in his eleven-acre lot, beamed. He came to her with a whiff of greeting. He pranced around when she was in the saddle, then headed for the hills, and she let him take his own way. She was saying goodby to El Cabrillo. She wanted to be alone.

Fog was coming in from the west. As she rode up the ridge to the boulder peak, she could see it tumbling in beneath her in silver waves. Perhaps she should turn back, but Maria had assured her, nearly a year ago, that horses traveled by sense.

She patted Pancho and he lifted his head, bared his teeth and trumpeted.

An answering trumpet came from the timberline and a horse-man rode out.

Constance watched him, seated so surely, riding so easily, this same vaquero who had ridden out of another fog. And she was stirred a thousand-fold more than she had been stirred that other time.

"Senorita," he smiled at her; a conquering, proud smile, dark eyes challenging. "You are lost!"

"I have lost, Pedro," she corrected, smiling as she thrust her hand at him. "Congratulations. To the victor goes El Cabrillo."

Pedro swung off his horse and sent him grazing, then extended his hand to Constance and she stepped down.

They were face to face and Pedro was smiling at her in his old, teasing way.

"You're wrong. I'm just a hired hand on this ranch."

Constance felt the world sway under her. Could Pedro be swinging his help to the red-headed Irene?

"You're not buying in? Why, Pedro, why?"

"My wife needs the money."

"This, thought Constance, is defeat."

"You see," he was explaining carefully, "I fell in love with a shrewd young woman. She bargained with love. She didn't know anything about love. You can't bargain with it, because it has to be paid in like kind.

"Well, I can repay her love with mine, consequently I don't need the money and she does."

Constance swallowed, wondering why her throat could be so dry when this wet fog was rolling in, enveloping them.

"I hope you will both be very happy," she offered formally.

"Oh, we're going to be," Pedro assured her. "Dad's retiring and my wife's brother and I am going to run the place. He's a fine kid. Never had a chance. No discipline, no man to keep his excess vitality in the right stream. Yes, sir, Don Cabrillo's one of the nicest."

"Pedro—"

"Yes, Michael?"

"Now will you let me tell you what I've been trying to tell you for months?"

"Now you don't have to," she laughed. "If you can't imagine Don, looking as he does, in the role of cupid—"

Not A Dream

She was in his arms. She wasn't dreaming it. And if she were, she hoped she'd never awaken.

She did. She pushed Pedro away. "I can't let you do it," she protested. "El Cabrillo has meant too much to you. You need to own part of it."

"I will be owning half of one fourth," he assured her. "Community property law in this state gives me that. . . . when I marry you. Besides, didn't Raskthorn tell you, as he told me, that I was trying to marry the ranch?"

"But—"

"There's that argumentative but again. Listen, dear, we're doing old John out of enough, you and I. Let him have the satisfaction of thinking he was right."

"Even if it does cost you fifty thousand?" she asked, and laughed. "I do come high."

"And worth every fraction of a cent to me, Michael."

Constance knew this as she knew she would sacrifice more than that for Pedro. She lifted her face from his arms, and the fog curled her hair in soft tendrils, curled the dark lashes back from narrowed eyes.

"Now Michael Mahoney," he warned, "you can't bargain with me. No time. Let's get John paid off so we can be married right away. I've waited long enough."

Constance reached up and turned his head to one side so that she could see the rugged profile. "Imagine bargaining with a ruthless one like you," she chided. "No, I was just thinking, and it's queer Pedro. I've never taken an unearned cent without paying interest. I thought I never could."

But I don't mind accepting this money from you. Why?"

Pedro smiled his teasing smile. "It couldn't be that you loved me, could it? Love neither gives for gain nor accepts for burden. I've learned all this in the past year," he added with mock modesty.

"Now let's go down to Dad. He was pulling for you to fail while he helped you win, because he thought you needed relief from your family. He was going to buy the place and then give it to us as a wedding present. He seemed to know, ever since your first visit, that you'd marry me some time."

"And you didn't?"

Pedro's past doubts were encompassed in two words: "Oh, Michael," as he gathered her back into his arms.

So they delayed their trip to the ranch until the fog bound them into a silver cocoon; and Pedro and Michael, indignantly forced to ride side by side, sensed their way home.

LATIN-AMERICANS' DESIRE TO BE LOYAL CITIZENS STRESSED AT COUNCIL'S DINNER HERE

The desire to assume a rightful place as loyal, law abiding citizens of the union was expressed over and over again by speakers at the dinner sponsored by local councils of the League of United Latin American Citizens at the Kate Morrison school Tuesday evening. Large numbers from the Rotary, Lions, Kiwanis and American Business clubs, their wives, and other guests joined in the affair which drew approximately 150 people. Plates of Mexican foods were served by council members.

Henry Rodriguez, San Antonio, who presided as master of ceremonies, asserted that Latin Americans can and do make "as good, true loyal and law abiding citizens as any others in this nation of ours." He scored Texas histories for omitting the part patriots of Mexican extraction played in the struggle for Texas independence and said this in part mitigated against citizens of Mexican descent who desired to be good citizens. He pointed out that in the words of George Washington the nation needed all races in its confines fused into one citizenry, and that subjugation of Latin Americans resulted in keeping a "cancer" within the whole body of citizenry. He pleaded that the race be given its rights and be expected to do their full part.

Exalter, A. Q. Gans, San Angelo, governor of district 10, had recited the assumption of Lulac's responsibility in seeing that Latin American aliens were registered under the alien registration act, in proposing that Spanish be taught in elementary grades above third, and in offering services for diplomatic, consular and intelligence service to the government. In appreciation for the work of the local council, Gans said he would call the district convention in this city later in the year.

Assuring is the thought, said Harold P. Steck, that instead of a band, Big Spring has LULAC organizations bent on the sole purpose of good citizenship. He added that "LULAC deserves our heartiest cooperation," and that the current "challenge is for all—one for both Anglo-Saxon and Latin-American citizens."

John R. Hutto gave the welcoming address, declaring that "nobility does not dwell in the aristocracy alone," and that it was the same with good citizenship. J. H. Greene paid tribute to the LULAC and the Latin American population in his response. Short talks were made by Pete Mancha and Mrs. Tony Castillo, in which they urged that they be called upon for help in community understandings. Henry Valla, district organizer, recited the 25 aims of the LULAC organization. Guests introduced included Mr. and Mrs. Levi Robinson, parents of the late Newton Robinson, whom Gene Salazer, LULAC pres-

Even the best plans of mice and men go wrong sometimes, according to Bard Robt. Burns. Which applies to the demonstration firemen and city electricians gave before the high school Wednesday morning. J. D. Stenbridge, city electrical inspector, had set up his equipment operating off 50 amps at the city hall. At high school however, the transformer was farther away and the amps down to 35. In plain language, his planned electrical shorts did not burn and flash as quickly or as effectively as planned. But they were good enough to impress.

In the same demonstration, Tubby Gaylor got a big hand for his "explosions" of flour, starch, sulphur and other dusts. By pumping them into a blasting box, he showed conclusively what happened if excited people tried to use these as fire extinguishers.

Ruth Thompson, district No. 6 home demonstration agent, paid Lora Farnsworth, county home demonstration agent, a visit Wednesday. At the same time, Marvin J. Birdwell, marketing quota auditor, visited the AAA office and left happy.

J. R. Kennedy, locomotive engineer who resides at 606 Main, was treated Wednesday morning at the Big Spring hospital for lacerations about the head. He was brushed by a switch engine on the tracks early this morning, according to reports.

It is the consensus around town that it is a blessing the world series is over. By going seven games, it extended to seven the probability of losing investments in series pools.

A new class of CAA students begin preliminary flight training under the direction of Art Wintheliser at the airport today. And those interested in a third ground school CAA class were urged to apply as soon as possible at the chamber of commerce office.

Most everyone who attended the Lulac good will dinner at the Kate Morrison school last night had a "hot time." Those enchiladas weren't red for nothing.

READY AND WAITING—A statue in his own image tops the tombstone Wm. Rebstock (above), a bachelor in Carmi, Ill., had carved for his final use. He's 62. Epitaph reads: "Here lies a man who... died for his country, relatives and friends."

The session opened with a nervous downturn which thinned and finally faded when such leaders as U. S. Steel, Chrysler, General Motors, U. S. Rubber and New York Central failed to follow the general trend.

GAIN SHOWN IN BIG COMMERCIAL LOANS

NEW YORK, Oct. 9. (AP)—After years of small demand for business credits, bankers reported today a decided upswing in commercial loans, particularly borrowings to finance new war industry and expanding payrolls. Some Wall Street bankers said they looked for broader demand for commercial credits as the United States defense program moved ahead and manufacturers felt the need for extra working capital to carry stocks of raw materials and buy equipment. The latest weekly condition report of member federal reserve banks in 101 leading cities, it was noted, showed a jump of $55,000,000 in business and farm loans, one of the largest weekly gains in years.
