Spotted rains that have left drouthy spots in the sheep raising section of West Texas had some effect on the results of sales in the auction ring at Ozona's 12th annual sheep sale and show Thursday, Friday and Saturday, but not as much as sale officials and sheepmen had predicted.

In fact, except in one classification, average prices paid for sheep sold under the hammer by Nelson Johnson in last week's Ozona sale were above those for the local sale a year ago—and average prices here have topped the nation in average prices for the past several years.

Fewer sheep than usual sold through the local ring, due to more stringent "cutting" to bring only the top sheep here from the leading flocks of America, but on the whole prices were unexpectedly good and buying was brisk. The final test of the success of the sale was the general feeling among all connected with the show that both buyer and seller were satisfied with the sales.

Both range rams and ewes out-sold consignments to the 1938 show, while stud rams dropped slightly from last year's average. The 174 range rams sold brought an average of $31.80 per head as against $22.57 a year ago, and 72 ewes brought an average of $27.84 against $22.67 at the 1938 sale. Stud rams dropped from an average of $94.61 in 1938 to $85 this year.

Average prices in these three classifications for the past four years are as follows:

	1939	1938	1937	1936
Range Rams—	$31.80	$22.57	$55.19	$45.07
Stud Rams—	$85.00	$94.61	$182.06	$165.60

ONE THING and THEN ANOTHER

By FRED GIPSON

SAN ANGELO.—The rodeo and reunion season is on again, with its thrills and spills and dust and heat and soda pop and free barbecue for all. Ozona broke out with one last week I didn't get to make it, but it must have been a whang dinger. Bob Cooke, chief grub-spoiler in that section, had to barbecue 500 head of goats to feed the crowd.

They're pitching an Old Settler's Reunion in Big Lake this week, June 30-July 1. Bronc Wilson, publisher of the Big Lake Wildcat, got so excited about it that he put out a 16-page weekly paper last week, trying to tell the folks about it.

Bronc ought to keep himself in hand better and not get so extravagant this time of the year. School kids don't need any lunch-wrapping paper now.

A man never knows what he wants. Ever since the City of San Angelo installed parking meters, I've been down on the city council. Then the other day they held an election and voted parking meters out. Last Friday, they were gone.

And now I don't know what on earth I'm going to lean on when some old-timer stops me on the sidewalks to spin me a tall one.

Cowboys Thank City For Courtesies Shown Them Here

On behalf of the visiting cowboys, contestants in the rodeo events here last week, Tom Taylor, representative of the Turtle Association, an organization of rodeo performers and cowboys, left a note of appreciation to the people of Ozona for the courtesies shown the visiting contestants during their stay here.

"Should there be any bills or bad checks left by contestants during the rodeo, I would appreciate your mailing notice of same to me at Spofford, Texas," Mr. Taylor said. "The Cowboy Association is paying any such bills or bad checks."

Ozonan Gets Holland Rum Jug Picked From Gulf Water At Corpus

Another interesting curio, this time from a foreign land, has been added to his already interesting collection by A. W. Jones, local boot and saddle shop proprietor. The newest addition is an earthenware rum jug stamped with the name of a liquor dealer or distiller at Rotterdam, Holland.

The jug or bottle, about quart size, was picked up in the gulf waters off shore at Corpus Christi by a resident of that city. It was given to Mrs. Gilbert Noakes of Corpus by the finder and she in turn sent it to her father. The bottle was full of rum, and the cork, with its seal was still in the bottle. Enough air space left in the vessel allowed it to float. The Corpus Christi woman who found the floating curio broke the seal and emptied the contents but restored the original cork to the bottle.

Writers Of Hot Checks To Feel Teeth In Laws

Offenders Get Treatment Of Felons Under New Law

A bill which empowers peace officers of Texas to take steps against writers of hot checks, regardless of the amount, with the same severity as though they were dealing with dangerous felons, has just become law through the signature of Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel.

Under the terms of the new act, copies of which have been sent to local officers, writers of hot checks on out-of-county banks can be prosecuted through ability of the courts to summon plaintiffs into the courtroom to testify. A banker or merchant in any town in Texas on whom a worthless check has been passed can be brought into court to testify as though a felony had been committed, it is said.

Additional teeth were put into the act, sponsored by Rep. A. R. Allison of Levelland, by the provision that any person who files a complaint with any district attorney in Texas alleging violation of the "hot check" act will be guilty of a misdemeanor and is liable to a $500 fine should he suggest or request the district attorney in charge of the prosecution that the case be dismissed. Provisions of this section also apply to anyone who has furnished information which has resulted in acceptance of a complaint or to one who has testified concerning the passing of a worthless check before a grand jury which has returned an indictment on the violation.

The habitual bad check passer, or one who has been convicted at least twice on "hot check" charges has been made liable to a 10-year penitentiary sentence, regardless of the amount of the check which resulted in the third charge, it is understood the law reads.

For the second offense of passing a worthless check under $50, the defendant is liable to a sentence.

"Bum" Bombs "Third-Rater" Into Has-Been

In a pre-fight exchange of "gentlemanly" amenities, Joe Louis, the Detroit brown bomber, and Tony Galento, the battling beer barrel, resorted to name calling for publicity purposes. Last night Louis made good on his pre-fight designation of the pudgy one as a "third rater" by exploding a murderous attack in the fourth that humbled Galento. But Louis admitted he might have underestimated the fat fellow a trifle, for he called it his hardest scrap. Louis was shaken severely in the first round by a couple of rights to the jaw delivered by the mountainous Tony and in the third the Bomber took a sudden seat on the canvas when Galento landed with a thundering right to the jaw and left to the midsection.

TWICE ELECTED TO PRESIDENCY

Being twice elected to the highest office in school is the unique honor bestowed upon Miss Mary Kay Jones of Frost. This spring she was chosen by a large majority of her 2800 classmates at Texas State College for Women to serve during the 1939-40 regular session as president of the student body. Again this summer she was elected president of the student body for the summer session.

Lowell Littleton, who has served the lodge as its secretary for several years, will be installed as Senior Warden. Richard Flowers will be the new secretary; Scott Peters, treasurer; Bob Moore, Junior Warden, and Oscar Kost, tiler.

Cook Book Issued By Missionary Society Is Placed On Sale

A cook book, compiled and issued by the Missionary Society of the Ozona Methodist church, was placed on sale by the society during the rodeo last week and a number of copies were sold to visitors and local residents during the celebration. The books came off the press last week.

The new cook book contains favorite recipes of a large number of Ozona women—and men, of former residents, and others gathered by a committee in charge of gathering and sorting the recipes. In the book also are favorite recipes of the two "first ladies" of America, Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt and Mrs. Mrs. John Nance Garner.

The cook books contain nearly 500 different recipes, covering all types of foods, and many helpful hints for better cooking and easier housekeeping. The books are attractively and permanently bound and are being sold at $1 each, proceeds to go into the Missionary Society treasury. Mrs. E. B. Baggett, Jr., is in charge of the sale and books may be obtained from her or other members of the society.

Heavy Delinquent Tax Penalties To Apply After Fri.

June 30 Deadline For Escaping Penalty on Past Due Taxes

Only one more day remains after today for paying delinquent taxes without suffering heavy penalties and interest charges, it was pointed out this week by county officials.

Under the terms of an order passed by the Commissioners Court of this county early in the year, all penalties and interest on delinquent taxes, so far as the county's share in the delinquent amount is concerned, were remitted if the delinquent taxes are paid on or before July 1.

After July 1, penalties and interest charges as high as 32 per cent of the amount due, are collectable. This high penalty affects taxes delinquent for 1934 and earlier. For later years the penalty scales down, but the amounts to be tacked onto the tax bill are enough in any case to be a severe hike in the payment. These penalties automatically go back on to the delinquent charges after July 1 unless the court takes action to extend the grace period.

Dr. August Saegert, a son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. Clark Barton, former Ozonans, now of San Antonio, has started medical practice in Mathis, Texas, after completing his internship in Robert E. Green Memorial hospital in San Antonio. Mrs. Saegert, the former Dorothy Barton, is a laboratory technician, and has opened a laboratory in Mathis.

Dr. W. H. Elkins, president of San Angelo College, and Emmett D. Cox, president of the Cox-Rushing-Greer Co. department store in San Angelo, were visitors to Ozona's rodeo last week.

Snappy Rodeo, Races Thrills Crowds Each Afternoon

Another successful show, the twelfth under direction of an organized fair association in Ozona, passed to history Saturday night with the running of the last race, roping of the last calf, etc., in the rodeo arena in the afternoon and the last shuffling foot and moaning saxophone at the open-air dance platform around midnight. And President Wayne West and his staff of association officers and helpers began checking up on the financial results of the three-day event to find that it was at least not a failure in that department.

From the standpoint of entertainment for visitors and home folks, the twelfth annual show was up to the high standard of previous efforts in every way. From the sheep show Wednesday morning to the last event Saturday night, crowds were offered varied entertainment, which included the famous free barbecue dinner in the park each noon day, an excellent speech by Representative Dorsey Hardeman of San Angelo dedicating the Davy Crockett Memorial, wild and woolly riding and roping contests, fast and thrilling horse races, carnival attractions and a well patronized dance each evening.

World champion cowboys, some of the best in the game, lent speed, dash and color to a most colorful rodeo performance each afternoon. With Earl Sellers of Del Rio and Dock Lee of Ozona in charge of the arena events, the afternoon programs were reeled off without ever a dull moment, from the grand entry to the final wild mare race.

An innovation in this year's show was the grand entry of contestants before the grandstand. Jack Hoy, announcer with the Gulf Oil Corporation's sound truck, which served all three days of the show, presented a colorful descriptive announcement and tribute to the American cowboy as the long line of contestants paraded in front of the stand after riders carrying the American and Texas flags made their entry and took stations at each end of the stands.

James Kinney, with a total time of 52.5 for the three days, emerged as champion calf roping of the show. Tom Taylor of Sonora, with a time of 57.7 was in second place and Jack Sellers, who did the job in 58 seconds for the three days was third.

The Swimming Pool?

Too much time has already elapsed between the suggestion of a specific plan for construction of a swimming pool and community or club house for Ozona and the start of some definite action to at least investigate the possibilities of its accomplishment.

An improvement as vitally important to the community, to the happiness of its people and livability of the town should be sought with all the vigor of the governing force of the county. It is the one improvement that is universally popular with residents here, young and old alike. In it community leaders see a center of interest for the youth of the town; supervised recreation that is healthful and invigorating. They see in it safe swimming for their children and children of their neighbors, and relief from the mental anguish occasioned by knowledge that their children are swimming in unsupervised tanks where tragedy might easily be the result of a few hours recreation, or where disease might be contracted from polluted water.

In the suggested club house as an adjunct to the swimming pool, leaders in the movement for this improvement envision a community-welding social center, a place where the community might meet for purposes of recreation or community effort.

It is understood that the women's club leaders who have launched this movement are making an effort to have some plans perfected and estimates of cost available for the next meeting of the commissioners court.

The movement has been started, the suggestion made as to the plan for financing it with federal aid. Let's not pigeonhole the proposition. Let's follow it up to its final realization. Surely a community with the resources of this can afford a few thousand dollars for such a worthwhile improvement. And if the money should not be available through regular funds, there is small doubt that the people would approve a bond issue for the purpose should it be necessary.

Swat Price-Fixing

Despite the fact that the membership of Texas Legislature is preponderantly lawyers, there was evidently but one lawyer in Austin who knew anything about the anti-trust laws, with the possible exception of the lawyers who might have been numbered among the small minority who opposed passage of the so-called Fair Trades Act.

Attorney General Gerald Mann was the one lawyer who knew that the Fair Trades price-fixing bill was flagrantly in violation of the anti-trust laws of the state, and held the act invalid in an opinion handed the governor this week. It is to be hoped that the governor acts on the advice of the attorney general and vetoes the bill.

Aside from any consideration of the law's validity or constitutionality, its passage by the legislature was the most flagrant violation of trust ever perpetrated by a group of small-fry Texas legislators. Elected by the people to represent their interests, they sold out their constituents for the benefit of a group of eastern manufacturers and incompetent retailers who sought legislative act to raise prices to consumers and destroy competition in the retail field.

Sad is the duty to record that our own representative, C. H. Gilmer of Rocksprings in the House and H. L. Winfield of Fort Stockton in the Senate, were consistent supporters of the Fair Trades Act. This stand against the consuming public in behalf of a selfish lobby of out-of-state manufacturers, who sought an opportunity to raise the retail price of their products, together with their equally reprehensible stand in behalf of the O'Daniel sponsored sales-tax in all forms presented, should be the only issues to be considered by the people of this district when these men seek reelection to their legislative posts, if they do. And if they do not seek re-election, then it should be the issue among other candidates. Let the people speak in unmistakable language whether or not they want price-fixing by law and a retail sales tax added to their already overburdensome tax bill.

Among the Visitors

Three burly Texas liquor enforcement officers, driving a new and expensive make of automobile drove 85 miles here and the same distance back again to arrest two humble defendants, one a Mexican and the other a negro, each charged with possession of a few cans of beer and a small quantity of whisky.

If these defendants were violating the law, local officers could have handled the situation and the state would have been saved a considerable amount in "expenses" of these enforcement officers. And no doubt if the truth were known there was more beer in any one of a hundred refrigerators in Ozona than the combined total taken from these two defendants. But these two are not likely to raise much of a howl and the three officers had a nice trip to Ozona during the rodeo, and at the same time had something to report to Austin concerning their activities. Local officers in most communities of Texas are plenty capable and willing to enforce the liquor laws, and the liquor enforcement division is just one of many at Austin without whose services the taxpayers of Texas could still struggle along. If we must have more money for pensions, let these able bodies brutes get themselves a job and turn the money that is being paid to them and for their expenses into the pensions fund.

AN OBJECT LESSON

"Private business has been primarily responsible for every dollar of wealth that has been created in the United States and for every job that exists," says the Mansfield, Ohio, News-Journal.

Ignorance or deliberate disregard of that fact has been a prime cause of prolonged depression. Private business has been attacked and reviled and the result has been less earnings and fewer jobs.

Texas Pension Muddle

After its expensive session of nearly five months, the Texas Legislature left the problem of old-age assistance more tangled than it was when the session opened. Thousands of additional old people were made eligible for pensions, but no additional taxes were voted for pensions. Responsibility for this failure rests largely with Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel and those others who insisted that the money be raised by a constitutional amendment providing an inequitable sales tax, which is essentially a tax on the poor.

It is not yet certain that the liberalization of the eligibility rules for old-age assistance will result in the cutting off of federal help for Texas pensions. As interpreted by the Attorney General, the new law does not open the pension gates quite as wide as had been feared; and possibly a way will be found to obtain continuance of the essential federal help.

The pension situation at best, however, remains badly muddled. The assisted old person in Texas gets only $14.15 a month instead of the $30 given in numerous other states and promised here. Moreover, the present pensions are being paid partly from borrowed money, which will run in July or August, necessitating a reduction in payments. A further reduction may come in October, when the state must begin paying off a $2,300,000 pension loan.

Texas has made two major mistakes in old-age assistance. One is to make too many persons eligible for such assistance. Of all the states and territories, Texas is the sixth highest in the proportion of the population on the pension rolls. The other mistake is in establishing pensions without financing them adequately. With this situation becoming worse month by month, a special session of the Legislature will be hard to avoid.—Dallas News.

No Relief From Relief

From Rochester, N. Y., where the WPA-FSCC food stamp plan has been in operation for several weeks, come reports that it works well. Distributors and retailers of foodstuffs are enthusiastic. Reliefers are asking for the stamps in growing numbers. New Dealers who devised the scheme are tickled pink. It is easy to see why the reliefers accept the plan. After all, the stamps represent additional real income. Plus the orange stamps that they agree to accept in lieu of part of their regular pay, they get blue stamps free. The blue stamps can be used to buy "surplus products" that now include such widely demanded articles as butter, eggs and flour. It is equally easy to see why the food merchants are pleased. The blue stamps are converted by them into real money. Is this extra increment of income for reliefers and food merchants simply spun from air, as so many New Deal beneficences appear to be? If you examine it, you will find that it comes out of the taxpayers and the public. Moreover, we must consider the effects of a higher price-level artificially maintained by manipulation of which the stamp-purchases are typical. Millions of borderline families not on relief, but with low incomes, must scrimp and save to get—or even must forego—these eggs, butter and flour that are given to the relief families.—Chicago Daily News.

When You Observe the Fourth of July, You Are Celebrating Freedom to Serve

FREEDOM, regulated by justice, dates back to July 4, 1776—the Birthday of America. This nation was founded on, and consecrated to, the idea of liberty, freedom, independence. This applies, not only to the nation as a nation, but to the individual in his daily life.

The Electric Industry, asking only freedom to serve efficiently and economically, contributes much to that priceless gift: more liberty and ever-greater freedom. Through Electric Service, men and women have been emancipated from thousands of tedious, nerve-racking, exhausting tasks both in the home and in other industries.

West Texas is traditionally the Land of Opportunity and the Home of the Free. Its history is linked with the fact that Your Electric Servant was free to keep pace with the region it serves... expanding its facilities to meet the needs of every community and anticipating your future demands for Service. As a result, you now are free to enjoy freedom from drudgery.

Behind The Scenes In American Business

By John Craddock

NEW YORK, June 26.—BUSINESS—Good news prevails over the bad in domestic business. With the two mid-summer months just around the corner, manufacturing and mining industries are showing an improvement unusual for this time of year. Reflecting this steady output of raw materials and merchandise, rail loadings rose a bit more last week. An upturn in business in England and France promises renewed export demand for American automobiles.

No seasonal decline is evident in the shoe industry. May output was 32,000,000 pairs. With abatement of fears over federal competition, a number of utility companies are planning expansion programs to cope with rising power usage which promises to reach a new peak in 1940. This should create a great deal of employment. The only really disturbing news comes from the Far East. Japan now controls the entire Chinese coast, seriously threatening established British and American rights there. Business, which is just getting over European war scares, may get the jitters all over again as a result of this new turn in the Sino-Japanese war.

WASHINGTON—As predicted a month ago, President Roosevelt called upon Congress last week for a new lending-spending drive of gigantic size. Over and above WPA, PWA and other relief appropriations, the plan envisions outlay of $3,860,000,000 in self-liquidating loans for non-federal federal public works, express highways, rural electrification, rail equipment, farm tenant aid and foreign credits to promote U. S. export trade. It is expected Congress will consider this broad proposal immediately. The record speed, however, with which the tax bill was passed—less than two weeks, compared with an average time of 90 days required for enactment of revenue bills of other years—indicates that congress is in no mood for such a protracted session as undoubtedly would be required to enact the President's entire program. The major part of it, therefore, probably will be shelved until 1940.

The new book, "Engineering Opportunities", edited by R. W.  Ex-Senator B. F. Berkeley tells me that in eight years of service for the 29th Senatorial District of Texas he never answered roll call a day without a red carnation in his coat lapel.

Which, I claim, is a better record for consistency than most senators can claim.

Quotation for the files: "Some women can take a lipstick and get further than a man with a good Winchester and a side of bacon."

I'm sitting beside J. T. Holmes of Rankin in a cafe, when he shoves back his plate and says disgustedly: "I just can't make it. No matter what you order in a cafe, seems like it's not what you wanted. Just doesn't taste like what the wife cooks up at home."

Which reminds me of the other night when I pulled in home, late and unexpected, and Mama rushed around, trying to scrap up a little supper for me and just as apologetic as she could be about not having any fine food ready for her son—the kind he's used to eating.

And I tried to tell her that nothing she could buy would taste as good to me as the cold cornbread and sour clabber milk she had on hand. But she never did understand. She just thought I was being nice about it.

Mama never has had to eat in cafes for month after month on a stretch, I hope she never has to.

In a session with Col. E. O. Thompson, chairman of the interstate oil compact commission, I gather that he's aiming to try for the governor's chair again.

Me—I'm always wondering what the peculiar fascination is that keeps people fighting for the governor's chair. I get to wondering if maybe I'm losing out some way by not trying for it myself.

It's another one of those July days in McCamey, with a dry wind whining across the surrounding greasewood flats and a scorching sun threatening to buckle the pavements. Mrs. C. G. Forester, wife of the McCamey chamber of commerce manager, sits in her room and swelters.

It all comes down to the telephone

In the calamities—fire, sickness, accident or other peril—the telephone is the first thing thought of. But its daily usefulness makes it scarcely less valuable.

It makes appointments. It reaches friends. It invites the ring of opportunity. Its value is so great that it simply doesn't pay to do without it.

"Let's Be Alive On The Fifth" Slogan Texas Safety Group

AUSTIN, June 28.—"Let's Be Alive on the Fifth" was the slogan urged today by Texas Safety Association to safety councils, luncheon clubs, safety groups and newspapers for combating the annual fourth of July accidents.

"The Glorious Fourth has proved a Fatal Fourth for hundreds of Texans in the past several years," the association said in letter to the various groups. "Let's Be Alive on the Fifth" should be the slogan throughout this week in order that casualty lists from drownings, fireworks and traffic may be reduced to a minimum for this year's Fourth of July celebrations."

The association urged the co-operation of all agencies in cautioning the public of the dangers of the holiday celebrations.

"You're the last man I expect to marry."

"How many are ahead of me?"

Silver Beaver Awards Presented

The Silver Beaver, the greatest honor that a council can present to any of its leaders, was presented to Sam Walk of Del Rio and T. A. Stevenson of Eagle Pass, at the semi-annual council meeting of the Concho Valley council at Del Rio, Monday, June 26. Roy F. Aldwell, national council member from Sonora, made the presentation with an appropriate ceremony.

Sam Walk, vice chairman of Val Verde district, chairman of senior Scout program for the council, is responsible for the progress of Scouting, through his efforts in securing the extension of the service of the Concho Valley council to Del Rio and to other cities. Mr. Walk has served as chairman of Sea Scout Ship 72 and Troop 71 for many years, and has been active in every phase of the Scout program.

T. A. Stevenson has been Scoutmaster, committeeman, district commissioner, finance chairman, and active in Scouting in Eagle Pass for many years. The presentation was a tribute to his wholehearted and continuous interest in boys of Eagle Pass and the old Southwest council.

Big Bend Trip

Directed by Frank Barney, chairman of last year's trip, Scout leaders through the Council are arranging for the older Scouts to enjoy a real exploration. Thru assistance of park official connected with Sul Ross college, Prof. G. P. Smith, a pack-horse trip into the unexplored mountains of old Mexico will be featured. ### Speaking of TRACTORS

... have you tried a loaded gasoline in one of the new tractors with a high compression head? If you haven't, you'll be surprised at the improved performance—at the efficiency which spells economy... And loaded gasoline is not necessarily high-price gasoline. As a tractor owner, you will be particularly interested in Humble's THRIFTANE, a recently introduced loaded gasoline in the lower-price range. It's not as good as Esso, Humble's premium grade (and the best motor fuel you can buy), or as Humble Motor Fuel, at regular price; but it's a mighty good product for tractor use. It gives you specified, loaded quality backed by the Humble guarantee... Try Thriftane (or a 50-50 mixture of Thriftane and Humble Motor Fuel) in your tractor; you'll be pleased with performance.

Game Dept. Rescues Millions Of Fish

AUSTIN, June 28.—Fish rescue work, of which much is done each year by the Texas game, fish and oyster commission, has started. State Game Warden Sam Turner of Waco reports the rescue of 21,000 fish from an old channel of the Bosque river. A large party of Waco sportsmen cooperated in the rescue work. All the members of the finny tribe saved were placed in the Bosque below the Lake Waco dam.

Receding waters following heavy rains and streams, lakes and pits drying up during the summer months strands millions of fish in Texas. During the fiscal year of 1937-38 game department employees rescued a total of 2,446,279 fish and placed them in rivers, streams and lakes of which there was no danger of going dry. The fish rescued totaled nearly as many as were produced in the state fish hatcheries during the same period, 3,068,705 crappie, cat, bass and bream being propagated by the hatcheries and used in stock waters of the state.

Claude Russell, his mother, and his nephew, Bud Russell, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Russell, and niece, Jo Nell Russell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Russell, visited Carlsbad Caverns last week.

FISHERMAN HOOKS 'GATOR

How'd you like to catch a six-foot 48 pound alligator on your trotline? That is just what a party of four Belton fishermen did on the Lampasas river in Bell county south of Belton recently, State Game Warden W. S. Hull reports.

The alligator, far from its natural habitat, which in Texas is deep East Texas, became tangled in the fishermen's lines and had drowned when the four anglers pulled it from the water.

'Gators are occasionally found in Central and North Texas, but they are not native and have generally escaped from pens.

Mrs. Hubert Baker and Priscilla Baker returned Sunday from a visit with relatives in San Angelo.

Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Kincaid observed their 51st wedding anniversary Tuesday. Mrs. Kincaid is still in a hospital in San Angelo.

Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Taylor are the parents of a boy born Saturday night in San Antonio. He has been named George Franklin.

Early reports from several sections of Texas to the game department are to the effect that quail and doves are prospering. Should conditions during the remainder of the rearing season continue good, nimrods should have some excellent sport this year.

Authority Calls Cotton Greatest Waster Of Soil

AUSTIN. — The statement so persistently promulgated that, without cotton, the South is doomed is branded as a gross fallacy by Walter Hansen in an article on "Let's Dethrone King Cotton" in the June issue of Texas Parade. Present attempts to find new markets for cotton—to save King Cotton—are subjected to a verbal barrage that ends with the plea, "King Cotton is already on his way out. Let's give him a shove."

"It is impossible for anyone," writes Mr. Hansen, "to approximate an accurate figure as to the amount of depletion cotton has caused in our soil, water and human lives." A North Texas State Teachers college instructor who has made extensive studies in the effect of cotton cultivation on soil, Mr. Hansen is a recognized authority on conservation problems.

"Rather than have our leaders engage in a campaign to save King Cotton, we should recognize cotton for what it is—a great waster of both natural and human resources—and we should do all in our power to eliminate this destructive force as quickly as possible," he writes. "It is time we cease paying tribute to a king who, for many years, has been draining the South of its best resources. One authority estimates that the average acre of land loses 30 tons of soil each year cotton is grown. Government experiments near Tyler show losses up to 57 tons of soil per acre each year. Many farmers each year lose more from their land in terms of soil erosion than is received from the sale of cotton."

Business Picked Up In Texas Department Stores During May

AUSTIN, June 28.—Business picked up during May for Texas department stores and apparel shops, the University of Texas bureau of business research announced today.

The bureau tabulated reports 104 stores, to discover that May sales were 5.7 per cent over April and 7.5 per cent above May of last year, and sales for the first five months of 1939 exceeded those of the corresponding period a year ago by 0.8 per cent.

The percentage of sales on open account during May was larger than a year ago, while at the same time, larger percentage of outstanding accounts were collected.

Typhoid Warning Issued By State Health Officials

AUSTIN.—If you have not been vaccinated against typhoid fever within the last two or three years, go to your family physician and have him give you the three "shots" that will protect you against that disease.

This advice comes from the Texas state health department, and is addressed particularly to those persons planning vacations away from home or those who regularly go on camping, fishing or such trips.

Typhoid is contracted by way of the mouth. Each case comes directly or indirectly from some previous case. You eat or drink the germs that cause the disease, in food, water or milk contaminated by the discharges from persons who are ill with the disease or who have had it at some time.

Modern medical and public health practices have greatly reduced the occurrence of typhoid, but it is still a menace to those unprotected against the disease. Protection of public water supplies from pollution, pasteurization of milk, inspection and supervision of food supplies, improvement in household sanitation and hygienic habits, better sewage disposal and careful investigation of typhoid outbreaks to determine the source of the disease are measures which have contributed to the diminution of the incidence of typhoid in Texas. But there are still sources of infection to which individuals are exposed, that cannot be reached by public measures, and for which vaccination affords additional protection.

Persons who are apparently well, but who have had the disease at some time, may continue to discharge the typhoid germs. Such persons are known as "carriers" and if they are not careful in their personal habits they are liable to contaminate any food they touch. Flies carry germs from contaminated sources to food, and are another source of typhoid infection.

Health departments, state, city and county, are waging constant warfare against typhoid all the year. Special efforts are made during the vacation period through the sanitary supervision of summer camps, parks, and public eating places to reduce any possible danger of vacation typhoid from such sources. But vaccination and sanitation are the only means to personal safety against the disease.

MORE ICE CREAM CONES

AUSTIN. — Approach of summer days boosted production of Texas-made ice cream to 1,074,000 gallons, an increase of 342 per cent over April and 19.6 per cent above May of last year. University of Texas business statisticians said today.

Other dairy products, butter and cheese, boomed in quantity produced over April, but dropped sharply below May, 1938, figures.

Simple Devices Improve Home

The "hominess" of the average house can be increased, and at the same time its market value may be raised, by adding relatively inexpensive features which, although simple devices, can become so important that living in the home will revolve around them.

While the fireplace is usually the focal point of the living room, in many of the older types of houses it is often dingy and unattractive. Modern decorators have devised means of brightening them through the use of paint, new mantels or large mirrors.

Another way to style a living room is through installing a large picture window. A large window allowing a clear, undistorted view of the landscape tends to bring the out-of-doors into the house and form a large living picture. Frequently its effect is to turn an otherwise undistinguished house into a showplace, while at the same time providing additional natural light.

Forced Air Circulation Cools Home

Forced-air circulation within a house during the summer can bring about some cooling effect and considerable summer comfort.

The forced circulation of air induces rapid evaporation of body perspiration and may be accomplished by individual fans in the various rooms or by the installing a large attic fan for forcing the heated air out of the house, or it may be used to draw cool air from the basement or from out-of-doors at night after the air has cooled, thus providing a house full of cool air for the next day.

Considerable temperature reduction may be accomplished in hot dry climates by wetting roofs with water, which prevents heat storage in the roof, while the evaporation of the water extracts heat from the structure.

PAINTED METAL SURFACES

The importance of keeping metal surfaces, such as roofs and gutters, well painted cannot be overemphasized.

Tin, galvanized iron and other metals used for roofing, spouts, garages, and various purposes present difficulties in painting. Often the paint does not stick well, probably owing to a thin film of grease left on the material in the process of manufacture. Oil or grease should be thoroughly removed by scrubbing with soap and water or with a cloth moistened with benzine. All loose rust should be cleaned off thoroughly with scrapers, wire brushes, or sandpaper, and finally with dry scrubbing brushes.

A REAL Improvement

The above illustrations give a clear-cut example of the type of home improvements which may be financed through the Federal Housing Administration's Property Improvement Credit Plan. Both views are the same kitchen, transformed from the dull-appearing room in the upper view into the bright, cheerful work-lightening kitchen in the lower view. The sink is banked with ample cabinet and work space which helps expedite the preparation of meals.

Auto Dealers Double Passenger Car Sales Over May Last Year

AUSTIN, June 28.—Automobile agencies sold 50.7 per cent more new passenger cars in Texas during May than in May last year, and commercial car sales climbed almost as much, the University of Texas bureau of business research announced today.

Reports to the bureau from 14 representative Texas counties showed registrations of new automobiles totaling 16.1 per cent over April of this year, while new commercial motor vehicle registrations dropped 5.9 per cent.

Commercial car sales for May were 46.7 per cent over May, 1938.

ATTRACTIVE DOOR BLINDS

Door blinds can be made attractive features of the home if wisely chosen to harmonize with the general architectural trend of the building. Although impractical on many types of houses, they often reflect good taste when properly adapted.

also have a utilitarian purpose in that they protect the door during severe weather.

TO AVOID HEAVY PENALTIES

DELINQUENT TAXES

MUST BE PAID BEFORE JULY 1!

To those who owe delinquent property taxes this reminder is given of application of heavy penalties which will apply on all such taxes not paid before the deadline of July 1.

Under action of the Commissioners Court of Crockett County early this year, penalty and interest on all delinquent county and school taxes were remitted if such taxes are paid before July 1.

After July 1, penalties amounting to 32 per cent will apply on taxes delinquent from 1934 and before, in addition to a like penalty on state taxes.

Likewise, these savings can be effected on taxes for years since 1934: for 1935, 26 per cent; for 1936, 20 per cent and for 1937, 14 per cent.

Penalties on 1938 taxes, now 3 per cent, will be raised to 8 per cent JULY 1.

emerging with the best average time for the three days in this event. The judges selected Eddie Cameron as the champion bronc rider of the show and Webb Moran faded all competition for that title in the wild steer riding division. Earl Sellers made the best time of the show in calf roping, snagging and tying down his calf in 14 seconds flat to win day money in Saturday afternoon's contest. James Kinney, the champion, won first money on both the first and second days.

Jack Sellers of Del Rio beat out Roy Seawald of Brownwood for the $100 purse in the matched calf roping contest. Sellers' time on the 15 calves, five each day, was 297 seconds. To his last calf, Seawald had a total time of 282 seconds, needing better than a 15 second time on the last one to win. He drew an unruly hellion for the final, however, and gave up in the middle of the chore of tying the pesky animal, awarding the prize money to Sellers.

"Top Hat II", registered yearling ram, bred by V. I. Pierce, Crockett County breeder, topped the sale for a price of $315, paid by H. L. Cravens of Brownwood. This ram won first in his class for a premium of $100 cash and then was picked by the show judge, Robert Miller of Davis, Calif., for the grand champion ram.

A close second, both in the show arena and in the auction ring, was by John Williams of Eldorado. J.

Fuzzy-Wuzzies Aid British in New Omdurman 'Battle'

In the welding of the "life line of the British empire," Lord Horatio Kitchener's famous victory at Omdurman, Anglo-Egyptian Sudan, on September 2, 1898, over the fanatic dervish hordes of the Khalifa stands as one of the most important military conquests in England's history. Stemming from this triumph was Great Britain's complete mastery of Egypt. Now a British movie company is remaking history, filming the battle with the aid of the Hadendowah tribe, known as the Fuzzy-Wuzzies, a name given them by Rudyard Kipling. ### Young People Of Baptist Church To Paisana Encampment

Four boys and seven girls, members of young peoples organizations of the Ozona Baptist church, are enjoying a summer encampment and training school at the Paisano Pass Baptist Encampment ground near Alpine this week.

The boys, accompanied by Rev. Clyde Childers and A. C. Hoover, entered the camp Monday and remained until Wednesday noon. Included in this group were Calvin Williams, Alvin McCaleb, Perry Hubbard and Arthur Byrd Phillips.

Wednesday morning the six girls, accompanied by Mrs. Mae Gary, Mrs. Charlie Butler and Mrs. Claude Hill, left for the encampment period, which will last from Wednesday noon until Friday noon. Mrs. Hill was to have returned last night, bringing home the four boys, while Mrs. Gray and Mrs. Butler will remain with the group of girls, visiting while in Alpine with Mr. and Mrs. Ben Williams, former Ozonans. Among the girls attending the encampment are Mildred Porter, Vera McCaleb, Billy Laxson, Adele Keeton, Marie Williams, Naomi Collard and June Beek.

Mrs. Clyde Childers accompanied Rev. Childers and is taking part in the work. She is leader of the young peoples division in the local W. M. U. Rev. Childers is on the faculty at the encampment school. They, with Mr. Hoover, will stay through the week.

city league softball which got underway Monday night. In the season opener Monday night, the Piggly Wiggly insects went into the win column by cracking the defense of the Joe Oberkampf men to win 14 to 7. The same night the Casbeer huskies downed the Humble Oilers 11 to 2.

The Texas-New Mexico Pipeliners won their league opener last night 21 to 6 off the J. H. Williams grocery men and by that single win, stand with the Yellowjackets at the top of the heap in league standings.

It was in the final game of the evening last night that the Piggly Wiggly hustlers went wild. To the sixth inning they trailed by the top-heavy score of 10 to 1, with Casbeer's boys hitting the over-size pellet freely. With one out in the last half of the sixth and one man on base, Manager Baker put himself up as pinch hitter. He rapped out a single that sent the runner ahead of him to third. Followed then a bombardment that resulted in a net advance of six tallies for the Piggly Wiggly men.

In the last of the seventh, the Jackets still needed five runs to win, and Baker went to work, and the boys got new inspiration. It was another storm of base blows, the last of which brought across runs number five, six and seven and the opposition threw in the towel.

Brock Hoover, in from his ranch on the Pecos River yesterday, says it is still dry in his country. Heavy rains along the Pecos river watershed above him that have put the river on several rises recently haven't helped his feelings any, he says.

97 Lives Claimed In Texas Traffic Accidents In May

AUSTIN, June 28.—Multi-fatal accidents showed a marked increase in May, seven of them claiming 22 lives, a state police compilation showed today.

The May death toll included 97 persons killed in May traffic, one more succumbing from a February accident, four more from March injuries and 12 more from April crashes.

In one crash, five lives were lost; in two crashes, four died in each; in another, three were fatally hurt; and in three accidents, two persons were killed in each.

The May figures also revealed an abrupt increase in the number of crashes on county roads, an increase which state police said may have resulted from defective vehicles forsaking the highways for less traveled roads. Twenty fatalities occurred on county roads as compared with 31 on city streets and 63 on designated highways.

There were fatalities in 28 pedestrian accidents, 29 motor vehicle crashes and 27 non-collision crashes, while there were only three fatal accidents involv-

Under provisions of the new act, "cashing" of a hot check is no longer the sole ground for prosecution. Any person who, with intent to defraud, attempts to obtain money, goods, service, labor or any other thing of value by giving or drawing a check, draft or order upon any bank, person or firm, or corporation, may face prosecution, the act provides. Such provision makes it a violation of the check law to give a worthless check in payment for rent, or for any article of merchandise.
