

Revolution Threats In Mexico Increasing

GOV'T FORCES PREPARE FOR REBELLION

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 5 (AP) — The administration of President Cardenas took extraordinary precautions today to forestall a possible armed attempt to seize power which a leader of General Andreu Almazan's party declared might begin "within the next 10 hours or two days."

A statement by Angel Trechuelo, who claimed to be an executive of Almazan's party, that an armed attempt to seize power might shortly begin was repudiated by the Almazan party. Emilio Madero, head of the party, said he had "never heard" of Trechuelo, and had heard no such reports.

The government patrolled highways, watched airports and kept all trains under surveillance to check on movements of Almazan's followers, while responsible sources reported troop reinforcements were being moved to northern Mexico, regarded as an Almazan strong hold.

Graciano Sanchez, head of the National Confederation of 3,000-000 peasants, announced 80,000 trained members were ready to take up their rifles in support of the administration, which backed Manuel Avila Camacho against Almazan in the disputed and bloody July presidential election.

REPORTS DISPUTED
NEW YORK, Sept. 5 (AP)—Mexican Consul General Rafael de la Colina today disputed reports of revolutionary outbreaks in Mexico and asserted government officials in the Mexican capital had assured him by telephone that "complete tranquility reigns."

At the same time, Manuel Reachi, aid to Gen. Juan Andreu Almazan, opponent of the administration, denounced a version of purported plans for a revolution related in Mexico by Angel Trechuelo, described there as an executive of Almazan's party.

Trechuelo is not a member of our party," Reachi said. "We do not know him and we know nothing of him."

Italian Raids Successful

ROME, Sept. 5 (AP)—A series of furious naval and air engagements with British forces in which Italian mines (motor torpedo boats) participated "successfully" was reported in Africa and the Mediterranean by the Italian high command today.

It told of British air and naval bombardments of Italian bases in the Dodecanese Islands, off the coast of Turkey, and Italian attacks on three British naval and merchant ship formations.

Six British naval ships, including two cruisers, were damaged by aerial bombs in two of these actions, the high command said, and 17 British planes destroyed in this and other combats.

In addition an Italian torpedo boat "successfully attacked" a British cruiser and two destroyers, and Italian planes "seriously hit" a British merchant ship.

Italian losses were listed as one motor boat, and four planes.

The action ranged from off the coast of Algeria in the western Mediterranean, through the Aegean to the Red sea.

Spirits of flame shot high from the deck of one of two British cruisers "violently" attacked off the coast of Algeria by Italian bombing formations, the high command said.

SOME OF THE OLD GUARD—Here are two of the old type United States destroyers, the U.S.S. Leary and U.S.S. Shubrick as they idled at anchor in the New York navy yard. They are the same type of reconitioned over-age destroyers going to Great Britain in a swap for island bases.

NAZIDOM'S EMPIRE TO FADE QUICKLY SAYS CHURCHILL

LONDON, Sept. 5 (AP)—Winston Churchill declared in his parliament today that the British-American exchange of destroyers and defense bases will enable the United States "to take danger by the throat whilst it is still hundreds of miles away"—but he warned the British to remember that America is not in the war.

The prime minister, speaking for a time during a general London air raid alarm, declared, however, that Hitler "no doubt will pay the U. S. out if he ever gets the chance."

Nevertheless, he expressed his boundless confidence that the empire of the third reich "will pass away as swiftly—perhaps more swiftly—than did Napoleon's army, although, of course, without any glitter and glory."

Churchill told the house of commons that no one must read into the British-American agreement anything more than is on its face, and he stressed that it did not affect "in the slightest degree the non-belligerence of the United States."

Turning to the battle of England, even while it raged above the capital itself, the prime minister declared the Germans had used a greater proportion of their air strength already than the British; warned of heavier fighting to come, and predicted:

"The whole nation will stand up to it, grim and gay."
While he was speaking the deep blare of the London sirens sounded the "all clear."

British crews already are taking over the first of the 50 over-age American destroyers which are being transferred to Britain in exchange for western hemisphere defense bases in a deal announced only Tuesday, Churchill reported.

"That, he said smilingly, "is a case of what one might call the long arm of coincidence."
Churchill conceded that Hitler should be able to "magnify and multiply" his air onslaught on Britain this month, but he added: "We can stand it."

Then he gave the British civilian air raid casualties for August as 1,975 dead, slightly more than that many wounded and said 800 houses were destroyed.

Again, he warned the people that the danger of invasion is not passed, and called for "the greatest vigilance." But he insisted the problem of invasion, for Hitler, was vastly harder in September than in June.

Dealing briefly with the Balkan territorial changes, Churchill said that Britain intended to recognize no such changes "unless they take place with the free consent and good will of the parties concerned."

He turned to the Near East to disclose that the eastern Mediterranean fleet had been almost doubled by the addition of powerful vessels. The Italians, he said, knew this, "but we were unimpaired."

Heavy fighting is coming in the middle East, he said.

This action, the Italians said, was set off when their air force pursued a large British merchant convoy in the Aegean. It was followed by five successive bombings in 10-12 hours of the British fleet which attacked Dodecanese, and by spirited assaults by Italian torpedo boats.

Wickard Sworn In
WASHINGTON, Sept. 5 (AP)—Claude E. Wickard of Indiana was sworn in as secretary of agriculture by President Roosevelt today.

Wickard succeeds Henry A. Wallace of Iowa who resigned to campaign as the democratic vice-presidential candidate.

Bullets Fell Two Arkansas Fugitives

Another Reported Taken, Only 11 Now At Large

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Sept. 5 (AP) — Bullets today cancelled two more convicts' names from the "wanted" list of Arkansas' wholesale, Labor Day prison break.

State patrol headquarters here announced guards from the Cummins prison farm shot to death two of the fugitives in a gunfight in rural southeastern Arkansas, and reported recapture of another felon.

Patrol Radi Operator Luke Barber said those killed in a battle at a cabin between Winchester and Tillar were James Scott, 21, and Raymond Harrell, 23. He said the man recaptured was E. G. Holtzclaw, 47, a convicted slayer.

This left at large only 11 of the 36 men who broke from the Cummins farm Monday after killing a guard. Four have been shot to death, 21 recaptured.

The Columbia, La., section breathed easier after the release unharmed, of three high school students kidnaped by six convicts all of whom now are dead or retaken.

A report earlier today told of five or six convicts being surrounded near Watson, and it was believed the two reported killed may have been part of this group. Still another was reported spotted near Natchez, Miss.

Frank Conley, 34, a ringleader, was killed by possemen near Columbia Tuesday a few hours after Frank Gattman, a Columbia automobile dealer, was fatally wounded while hunting the desperadoes.

Another convict, Bruce Fowler, 28, was shot and killed at the Vicksburg, Miss., river bridge yesterday.

Conley and Fowler were two of six felons who kidnaped Voncille Williams, 16, Gladys Diamond, 15, and Jerry Hargrill, 17, high school students, Monday and held them captive in the swamps near Columbia.

Over 1,000 possemen closed in yesterday and captured them unharmed while capturing three convicts.

The other desperado of the six was with Fowler, and surrendered when the shooting started at the Vicksburg bridge. Two kidnaped women in the car, Mrs. H. L. Irwin of Denison, Tex., and Mrs. C. E. Eldridge of Monroe, La., escaped unhurt, but their nephew, Woodrow Wall, suffered a scratch bullet wound.

ELECTRA NITRO PLANT WRECKED BY EXPLOSION

ELECTRA, Sept. 5 (AP)—A nitroglycerin plant 15 miles from here was wrecked this morning by an explosion.

The blast was heard 40 miles away.

Three men who were mixing explosive fluids escaped injury by running when fire broke out nearby. They were 300 feet from the plant when the blast went off. Debris was blown over an area of a mile.

The plant is located on the Wichita river near an oil field. Damage was estimated at more than $3,000 and included the loss of 300 quarts of nitroglycerin and some dynamite. The operating firm is the Texas Torpedo Company, managed by Mrs. Edna Rapp and her son, Paul.

Would Create 'Home Guards'

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5 (AP)—Mayor La Guardia of New York urged congress today to authorize a system of "home guards" throughout the United States with the federal government supplying arms, uniforms and general supervision.

La Guardia, wartime filer and member of the newly-appointed United States-Canadian defense board, testified before the senate military committee in support of a bill sponsored by Chairman Sheppard (D-Tex.).

"There is not a state in the union today that could properly or completely equip or arm a home guard of any size," he testified in support of his opposition to defense units that would not be under federal supervision.

Raids From Baltic Sea To France Reported By RAF

Berlin Raids Acknowledged

BERLIN, Sept. 5 (AP)—Six British destroyers have been sunk recently by U-boat and torpedo boat flotillas, the high command said today, as Adolf Hitler's Volkischer Beobachter, bellwether of the German press, declared Britain's acquisition of 50 United States destroyers might be used "only to cover the eventual glorious retreat" to America.

The high rate of destruction of Britain's smaller warships was emphasized by the high command as German planes striking back at the British whose bombs killed a score of persons in raids last night on Berlin and other parts of Germany, were reported centering day attacks on airports in the suburbs of London.

The high command's communique said "numerous fires" were started at Britain's ports, air bases and industrial centers—Liverpool, Swansea, Bristol, Weymouth, Poole, Chatham, Tilbury, Great Yarmouth and Hull—in night raids, while an airplane motor factory at Rochester, a plane factory at Weybridge, munitions dumps and hangars were hit in day raids.

Good weather, the first reported here in weeks, permitted numerous German battle planes to resume the attack this morning.

Eighteen civilians were killed by a British bomb in a northern German town last night, the high command announced, and two men were killed in a two-hour raid on the Berlin area.

The command asserted the British attack on the capital "foundered" in face of strong defenses.

U.S. Protests To Jap Demands On Indo-China

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5 (AP)—Japanese demands on French Indo-China evoked strong opposition from the United States and new attention to its interests in the Far East today.

Secretary Hull sought to check threatened Japanese military moves into the French colony by a statement late yesterday that it was "a matter to which this government attaches importance."

He reminded like the United States to the principle of the status quo in the Pacific.

German Fliers Take Beating In Offensive

LONDON, Sept. 5 (AP)—British planes last night bombed a power station and a plane factory in Berlin during widespread raids extending from Sittich on the Baltic sea to Cherbourg, France, an air ministry communique said tonight.

Five more German raiders were reported to have been shot down over southeast England towns this afternoon, making the day's unofficial total 14.

The government announced that seven additional German planes had been shot down by British fighters in the southeast of England. Three British planes were reported missing.

The government's announcement said that reports of yesterday's air battles over England showed that 54 enemy planes had been shot down and 17 British planes lost. Only five British pilots died, however.

Waves of enemy aircraft had crossed the southeast coast at a great height and some of them were approaching London when the alarms were sounded.

Anti-aircraft batteries and British fighters went into action.

The raid was one of a series over England at widely-spaced objectives, some planes of one group penetrating the outskirts of London and dropping bombs, and others doing considerable damage in the northwest.

The air ministry said preliminary reports indicated no great harm was done in London, but gas and water mains were broken, a hospital was hit, and another narrowly missed during the attack in the northwest.

Several casualties resulted from the bomb hits on the hospital.

Arms Fund Act Is Approved

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5 (AP)—The house gave its approval today to a compromise version of a bill carrying almost $5,250,000,000 to provide equipment for an army of 2,000,000 men, start work on the "two ocean" navy and buy 14,394 airplanes for the army and navy.

The measure, which must go back to the senate for approval of house changes before it is ready for President Roosevelt's signature, would boost the session's appropriations and commitments for defense well past the $15,000,000,000 mark.

Before completing its action, the house agreed to elimination of a provision which would have repealed a section of the recently enacted navy "speed up" bill empowering the secretary of the navy to commandeer industrial plants under certain conditions.

Rep. Woodrum (D-Va.) explained that it was deemed advisable to let the commanding authority stand because the whole question would be settled under the pending conscription bill.

In its action today, the house also approved a $229,109,000 increase for new flying fields and housing for army, navy and national guard personnel and national defense workers.

Japan Granted Right To Land Troops In Indo-China City

HONGKONG, Sept. 5 (AP)—Authoritative neutral quarters at Hanoi reported tonight the Vichy government of France had agreed to grant Japan limited right to land troops and supplies at Haiphong and move them over the Indo-China railway to the Chinese border.

This was said to be subject to conferences now resumed between French colonial officials and Major General Issaku Nishihara, Japan's negotiator-in-chief.

The Japanese army wanted to act with a full-fledged landing and said so in an ultimatum presented Monday.

MONARCH IS STRIPPED OF ALL POWERS

BUCHAREST, Sept. 5 (AP) — Haggard from the struggle to preserve his dismembered, anarchy-riven realm, King Carol II, of Rumania surrendered his vast powers of state today to a new strong man and was authoritatively reported to have consented to banishment of red-haired Magda Lupescu.

Government quarters expressed belief that Carol might abdicate soon.

Madame Lupescu, his long-time friend, was reported already aboard the royal yacht, now anchored at Istanbul. She was said to have left Bucharest four days ago.

With the coming of dawn, the 46-year-old monarch who had lived down the name "playboy prince" with a decade of strong-handed rule, reached a "royal understanding" with a tough, strategy-minded general, Ion Antonescu, whose price for success was a transfer of power.

With what General Antonescu called "royal graciousness," Carol signed a public declaration which was a clear acknowledgment that the essence of rule meant the hands and Antonescu had changed hands and Antonescu proclaimed a nationalistic program "to heal the wounds, collect our strength and assure our future."

Only Figurehead
Carol found himself only the figurehead ruler of what had been left of Rumania after vast territorial cessions under pressure, to Soviet Russia and more recently to Hungary, which had the backing of the Rome-Berlin axis—now holding merely such powers as the right to hand out medals, coin money, pardon criminals and lay cornerstones.

One of the general's first acts after taking oath as premier at dawn was to order the arrest of General Banliu who, as chief of gendarmes, supervised the mass execution of the iron guard assassins of former Premier Armand Calinescu. Banliu was Calinescu's brother-in-law.

At the same time Antonescu issued a proclamation which made clear that "persecution" of the Carol-outlawed iron guard, (a fascist organization) would cease at once.

The proclamation inferred that members of the iron guard who organized Monday night's attack and were accused of the attempt to assassinate Carol would not be punished. Although not a member of the iron guard, Antonescu has its support.

Volunteers Would Fight

CLUJ, Transylvania, Sept. 5 (AP) — Unconfirmed reports from the Transylvania border today said 2,500 demobilized Rumanian soldiers have volunteered for membership in a "death legion" to resist Hungarian occupation of the territory.

The men were said to have pledged to return to the concrete forts of the Carol line in the vicinity of Oradea which is not due to be turned over to Hungary until tomorrow.

Behind the fortress walls volunteers were reported ready to fight to the last man "to show the world that Rumania has courage."

A Rumanian official here asserted he had heard nothing of any organized resistance, but reports in Hungarian and Rumanian circles said a Colonel Strat would head the "death legion."

This, it was said, was regarded by Rumanian general staff as "a purely private undertaking."

The funerals of four Rumanian students and one Hungarian, killed in fighting between the two nationalities were held privately to avert a renewal of street clashes.

The imposition of martial law is believed to have eliminated probability of more outbreaks.

As General Ion Antonescu assumed dictatorial powers in Rumania, the army command at Cluj posted notices in Hungarian forbidding political meetings or the gathering of more than three persons in one place in the street.

360-Bbl. Well Completed In Mitchell Co.

One of the most active oil development spots in West Texas, the northwestern corner of Mitchell county continued in the limelight this week, with completion of a large producer, said of lease acreage and planning of new locations. What was said to be the largest pay well in the area is the Echolds well in the northwest corner of subdivision 13, which gauged 360 barrels on a railroad commission test. Total depth is 1,745 feet, some shallower than other wells in the area.

Guy Anderson, who drilled the Echolds well, staked a new location in the northeast corner of the northwest quarter of subdivision 16, on the Annette Mills land. Another location is due to be made next week by R. L. Holcomb and associates of Amarillo, on an 80-acre tract in section 81, block 97, H&TC, the north half of the northeast quarter. The new owners will drill an offset to the Hillburn well. About a mile and a half south of the Echolds well, Jimmy Ewing was cleaning out a test on section 63, and planned to make a test Friday. Oil was standing 1,400 feet in the hole, with a total depth of 1,740.

Mickey Green this week spudded a west offset to the Haynes No. 1

Grable, 330 feet out of the southeast corner of the northwest quarter of section 18, I&GN. The Grable well has made a good producer.

Because the pay in the northwestern Mitchell area is shallow, and because acreage is held in many small blocks both by majors and independents, the sector is due to continue active.

Reports Seizure Of U.S. Citizens

NEW YORK, Sept. 5 (UP)—Capture of six Americans on a steamship seized by German warships was reported today in a broadcast by Edwin Hartich, CBS correspondent in Berlin, quoting the newspaper Deutsche Allgemeine Zeitung.

Hartich said the Berlin newspaper related the Americans were taken from the steamship Atlantic en route to South Africa.

They were first taken to a French port, he said, and then "given transportation" to Irun, Spain. No details were given as to whether the six were ultimately released.

Mr. and Mrs. O. Yoder, F. A. Schmaltenberger, Jesse M. Nitcholson, Frank J. and Zona C. Kuntzler.

CBS studio officials here gave the following names of the six, adding that there was no confirmation of the spellings and no addresses:

YOUR ARMY

A Series Of Articles Describing The Arms And Services Of The Regular Army
No. 3—Coast Artillery

"From the rock-ribbed coast of Maine—
In fact, on any coast where the Stars and Stripes float in the passing breezes, the Coast Artillery of the United States army serves like a solid wall of steel." Its line of defense extends 25 miles to sea. It cooperates with the navy and army air corps—defense is the middle name of the Coast Artillery. The Coast Artillery holds a special appeal for young men who want to see the world, because approximately fifty per cent of the men in this arm of the service are stationed in overseas garrisons. The equipment is both permanent and mobile, and anti-aircraft units are the most active adjuncts of the Coast Artillery. This arm of service is also in charge of mine-laying for harbor defense. Young men who want to get ahead in the Coast Artillery must have scientific knowledge and precise mechanical skill. For this reason this arm of patriotic service offers a liberal allotment of non-commissioned officer grades and specialist ratings. Forty per cent of the enlisted men in the Coast

Artillery draw pay higher than that of privates.
High school graduates have the best chances of making progress in the Coast Artillery, although grammar school graduates may enlist and qualify for the various schools operated to provide training essential to advancement. These schools instruct in motor mechanics, radio operation and maintenance, telephone operation and maintenance, power plant operation, truck and tractor driving and searchlight operation. Courses are also open in stenography, typewriting and general clerical work.

The Coast Artillery School at Fort Monroe, Va., is the goal of most men in this arm of service. For those who make the army a career promotions are dependent upon graduation from this school, where specialized training second to none in the world is provided. The Coast Artillery has long been recognized for the quality of its personnel—young, ambitious men who, in addition to serving their country, are acquiring lifelong training for themselves—and, in many instances, seeing the world while they are doing it.
(Tomorrow: Field Artillery.)

Kathleen Little Is First Place Winner In Herald's Get Acquainted Contest; Other Awards Announced

First prize in The Herald's "Get Acquainted" contest—the assembling of cartoon personalities from a special page which appeared last Sunday—goes to Kathleen Little, 11-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Little, 112 Lexington avenue, a board of judges announced Saturday night, after long study of the many entries submitted.

JOHNNY, COME BLOW YOUR HORN

Sound, full notes will presently emerge from this souffrance being repaired in the U. S. Army quartermaster depot at Philadelphia, where army tents, uniforms and miscellaneous Army supplies are made. At this depot, the army's musical instruments are also repaired and reclaimed. Col. W. A. McCain commands the depot.

an accompanying brief biography written by the side of the face clipped from the paper, and all other personalities, with names printed underneath, were presented on accompanying cards. A glance at the fine handwriting of the entries was enough to convince that much time, thought and effort had been put into the preparation of the entries. There were many other novel ideas submitted, and The Herald expresses its appreciation to all contestants for their participation, regretting only that every contestant could not win. AN ANALYSIS OF THE WAR DEVELOPMENTS

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

Herr Hitler's sportsmanlike speech last night reaffirmed his promise to the German people that England would be smashed—but he didn't say when.

The Fuehrer employed the same slashing, crowd-awing technique which I have seen him use with great effect from that same rostrum before this. Somewhat, however, it didn't produce the impression of being an announcement of the war's end.

From his reference to a protracted conflict one gathers that perhaps he expects a long grind yet.

Maybe the Fuehrer meant that the hour is at hand. The first of the week they told us in informed Nazi quarters in Berlin that the British air force couldn't survive another fortnight of the German attacks—a claim made in connection with the official assertion that the Reich now has mastery of the air over England.

Undoubtedly Hitler had mastery at the outset of the war and for long months after that—but he didn't take advantage of it. Now it is fair to say that if the Germans do indeed have mastery, it is potential and rests in power which hasn't yet been brought into play.

However, I think we must accept as a possibility (I don't say probability) that the Nazi chief may be getting ready for his big fling—a crushing blow on England from the air, and then invasion with troops.

We have been talking a lot about the bad weather intervening at the end of September to give England a breathing spell. But how about the weather being used by Herr Hitler to save himself from a spot of bother?

It strikes me as possible that his strategy involves taking advantage of the break in the weather. He may be planning to use it as a shield in case his grand coup fails. We mustn't forget that it and when Hitler tries an invasion of England he will be undertaking one of the most hazardous of military projects. The only way he can achieve it will be first to blast Britain into near insensibility from the air. Unless that were done, the great British home army and air force in all likelihood would pour terrible disaster on the head of the invading troops.

This means that when invasion is attempted, Hitler must fling into the air all the big reserves which he may have been holding for this purpose. In thus filling the sky with planes over England he will be taking the chance that the British may shoot them down in such numbers as to shatter his air force.

Should this happen he would have no adequate weapon for the defense of Germany against British bombing. He would have placed himself in England's hands.

But supposing he waits until almost the time of the change of weather for his assault. Either he smashes England quickly and the war is over, or he himself is flung back in heavy defeat. If he encounters a crushing blow, the weather intervenes to save him from being finished off on his own home grounds.

I am not advancing this idea as a probability, but as a possibility that holds water.

California Anglers Catch Marked Trout

LOS ANGELES (UP) — Trout fishermen in California lakes and streams may be surprised when they catch fish with marked fins, but fish and game officials explained that a count is being taken as an aid in determining the size and type of future trout plantings, as well as the adaptability of certain species.

The count is being undertaken by the U. S. Forest Service, California State Division of Fish and Game, the U. S. Bureau of Fisheries and the Reclamation Service.

BACKACHE, LEG PAINS MAY BE DANGER SIGN Of Tired Kidneys

If backache and leg pains are making you miserable, don't just complain and do nothing about them. Nature may be warning you that your kidneys need attention.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking strong acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 2 pints a day.

If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, hollows under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or steady passage of smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, and immediately begin taking for over 20 years they have helped hundreds of thousands of 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from the blood. Get Doan's Pills.

ROUND THE COFFEE POT

By Newton Robinson

Cattle prices on the local market were up on most classes this week as a strong offering moved through the auction ring of the Big Spring Cattle Auction company, Wednesday. Fat cows went under the hammer at $5.50; stocker calves, up from last week sold at $9 to $10. A run of yearlings brought $8 and $9 and butcher yearlings cashed in for $6.50 to $8. Canners and cutlers sold from $3.50 to $4.50. There was a strong demand from the stands for all classes of cattle, particularly stocker material.

A three quarter inch rain fell on Lake Underwood's place in the Luther community, Tuesday, it was reported.

Sixty odd head of registered Herefords from some well-known Texas herds will be auctioned in the West Texas stockyards at San Angelo, beginning at noon Friday. Past Hereford offerings in the ring there have brought good attendance and a strong range of prices.

Bill Neal bought a fine lot of fat heifers at the Auction sale here Wednesday.

143 Attend Inter-Club Luncheon

The four service clubs of Big Spring met jointly for a noon luncheon at the Settles hotel Thursday, an affair out of which is expected to grow a planned program of inter-club cooperation on community enterprises.

There were 143 present, Rotarians, Kiwanians, Lions and ABC-ers, and some 15 newcomers here from the Cosden offices who were given a special introduction by Elmer Potter.

Dave Duncan presided for the program which featured an address by Fred Wemple of Midland, a past district governor of Rotary who talked on employer-employee relationships. Wemple was introduced by Elmo Wasson, after vocal selections by Bill Dawes.

Wemple advocated the setting up of an "individual code of ethics," by which an employer could judge his attitude toward his employees and his competitors. Tolerance and understanding, and a studied manner of approach were cited by the Midland man as the secret to pleasant profitable intra-company relationships. Service to others, in a business way, can be as self-compensating as service through other channels, he said. Wemple advocated "craft" meetings, in which executives and workers in a given line of business would meet together along service club principles. The inter-club move of Big Spring drew his endorsement.

The four clubs here plan regular joint meetings. In addition, there was proposed the establishment of a monthly Round Table, to be attended by the president, secretary and one other member of each club, and to head up the cooperative programs.

The Rotary club was host for the meeting. The Lions will be next hosts, with the joint affair to be held in about three months.

SCHOOLS RECEIVE MORE TAX MONEY

Howard county's rural school districts will have a little more money, result of a distribution of funds received Thursday by the office of County Superintendent Anne Martin.

A check for $292.67 was received, representing the schools' share on delinquent tax collections by the county.

Health Depots Are Established In Flood Zones

PAWNEE, Okla., Sept. 5 (AP)—Eight health depots were established in northeastern Oklahoma today in the wake of the worst local flood since 1923.

More than 200 families were homeless and the Red Cross and health officials worked to prevent an outbreak of disease.

Dr. G. F. Mathews, state health commissioner, said that if dysentery and typhoid fever outbreaks appeared imminent mass immunization would be started.

Under a clear sky waters swollen by cloudburst began to recede, but many sections were still inundated.

Four-fifths of Bixby, Arkansas river-bottomland town of 1,300 residents, was under water during the night. More than 150 families were removed in boats.

The Frisco railroad reported water over the tracks at Kellyville was holding up service between Oklahoma City and Tulsa.

Cleveland was hardest hit. Waters chewed gaps in the top of the dam at the municipal lake, leaving the reservoir with only a week's supply. The city was without gas service.

Six homes were washed away at Haskell. Heavy livestock losses were reported and much cotton and corn was destroyed.

The waters fell fast at Sapulpa, and water service was restored. One hundred families were chased from their homes yesterday.

BORDER QUIET

LAREDO, Sept. 5 (AP)—Despite reports of political tension in Mexico, border passage proceeded as usual here today.

Reports from Pedro Coronado, chief of Mexican immigration at Nuevo Laredo, indicated no expectation of disturbances there.

MARKETS Wall Street

NEW YORK, Sept. 5 (AP)—A better brand of war and business news today helped the stock market extend Wednesday's rally by 1 to around 4 points despite comparatively heavy profit selling.

Dealings, amounting to some 1,300,000 shares, were the fastest since mid-June, although slow-downs appeared now and then as prices shifted from their tops. After absorbing offerings, leaders generally resumed the advance.

Wall street, brokers said, was more hopeful than ever, in the light of European dispatches, that John Bull would succeed in beating off attacking Nazis. A long conflict, it was added, with a probable British victory, might further stimulate American industry.

More Air Development

Another speed achievement in the sub-stratoplane has demonstrated the advantages of high-altitude flying for long-distance commercial transport purposes. The Rainbow—a Pan American Airways "stratoclipper"—lately accomplished a one-day round trip from Miami to Cristobal (Canal Zone) and return, setting speed-records in both directions. The outward journey was completed in 6 hours, 12 minutes. The transport returned to Miami in six hours flat.

between the eastern half of the United States and South American west coast countries can be speeded up. Aside from faster schedules, stratosphere flying affords passenger comfort in air-conditioned planes; quiet, safety and security from "bumpy" air and storms. The planes fly in smooth, rarefied air at 18,000 feet or above—literally "over the weather."

Washington Daybook

By Jack Stinnett

WASHINGTON—Answering the mail orders: G. C. K., Detroit, Mich.—You've given me a handy tip, but I'm having a hard time breaking the story. Being a plant superintendent of many years' experience and having a memory like an elephant, you have, I think, uncovered something. The point is that I have been unable so far to get anyone to "tear up."

partment and not on industry's stoop. Officials with whom I have discussed the matter shy from all talk of it whatever, claiming it is a legal question on which they are not competent. I think you will hear more of this very shortly.

Apparently the 1913 amendment to the personal and corporate income tax laws DO give the treasury department authority to do all that the proposed amortization laws would do. As a matter of fact, I'm informed—strictly off the record—that the treasury department within the last year has given the green light to one arms manufacturing firm to go ahead with construction of a plant to manufacture the Garand rifle, with the understanding that said firm have the privilege of charging off plant amortization for five years. I cannot confirm this, but it comes to me on good authority.

G. O. C., San Francisco, Calif.—That was a swell letter, but you'll have to forgive me not commenting on it in detail. Maybe I'm wrong, but I have an idea that I best can serve you and other readers merely by passing along an inside picture of the Washington scene as I see it—and avoiding any editorial comment or the perpetuation of any reader's personal comment when that resolves itself into one man's opinion on a highly controversial subject.

Man About Manhattan

By George Tucker

NEW YORK—If you walk into almost any store in the mid-town sector and wait a reasonable length of time you are almost certain to see a young woman canvassing public opinion as to the presidential possibilities for November. We ran into several in one day, although in only one instance were we able to ascertain whom they represented. This was in a men's haberdashery on west 49th street, and a nice-looking young woman came in with a brief-case and a lot of blanks to be filled out and quickly collared one of the clerks. She represented Fortune magazine.

"Who's winning?" we wanted to know. She laughed. "I'm not permitted to tell you. Anyway, what's true of Manhattan probably wouldn't be true in some other places." She went out the door, swinging her case. These girls never poll more than one person in a single store. There is a hospital on the second floor of the NBC building, in Rockefeller Center, that is free to the public. Sounds queer, I'll admit, but it's true. Such has been this reporter's experience, in any case.

All the while this was going on the young woman was writing furiously which we couldn't hear, much to our regret. Finally she said, "Thank you," gave him a big smile, and put her papers back into the brief case.

Hollywood Sights And Sounds

By Robbin Coons

By ERNEST PAGANO Of Paramount Studio (Unreeling For Vacationing Robbin Coons) HOLLYWOOD—I see by the papers that my old friend P. G. Wodehouse still is a prisoner of war, in Germany. If "Plummy" is performing with his customary ecia, you'll probably find him immersed in some swimming pool, despite the obvious difficulties and horror of his position. "Plummy" is like that.

Mark asked him if he had seen ack. "He's borrowing sweat from somebody to prove his glands are functioning, and will be running over here in a minute," Fred quipped. I think Benny probably has the best sense of timing since the days of Buster Keaton and "Fatty" Arbuckle. They were really tops. But timing today, in talking pictures, is even more difficult than it was in the silent days. And I've often wondered how some of Benny's laugh lines get over when they're translated into a foreign language.

Baby Show And A Review To Be Held Here

Registration will begin Thursday for the Better Babies contest to be conducted by the Miriam club of the Rebeckal lodge 254 of Big Spring. Registration will be at Barrow Furniture store beginning at 9 o'clock and will last through Saturday, September 7th.

Dr. Powell in discussing the theme pointed out: "The emergency of today, with the threat of the spread of totalitarianism, brings a challenge to an association of university women to carry through a program which will aid in the defense and preservation of the American way of life. In conforming with the national program with its purpose to help maintain and strengthen the best elements of the civilization we wish to preserve, the Texas division has adopted its program of 'practical educational work' for 1940-41 and looks to its personal resources for aid. Each branch will be assisted in making a catalogue of its members, their training, experience, occupations, and special abilities. An effort will be made to secure qualified members as volunteers for special services and to have their contributions to governing boards during the emergency period."

Each child will receive a thorough physical examination and the attending physician will complete a United States public health chart to be returned to the parents, together with a health certificate. There is no charges or fees in any way to the parents. A baby review to determine the "Miss" and "Master" of Big Spring will be held at the municipal auditorium September 23, at 3 p. m. The Miss and Master will receive a silver loving cup. Each baby must wear a sun suit or bathing suit. A colorful pageant is being planned as the climax. There will be a little king and queen crowned in three age classes, an infant, junior and senior. These babies will wear little robes and crowns and will also receive silver loving cups. The kings and queens will hold court together with a prince, princess, duke, duchess and members of their courtiers. The pageant will take place at the municipal auditorium September 20th at 7:30 p. m. The committee in charge is Mrs. Gene Crenshaw, president; Mrs. Ruth Wilson, secretary; Mrs. A. C. Wilkerson, noble grand; Mrs. Hazel Lamar, Mrs. Viola Robinson and Miss Lucyle Standefer, who will be in charge of registrations.

Year-Around 'Home Market' Made Available To Farmer Through The Use Of A Freezer-Locker Plant

(Currently being talked in Howard county is the establishment of a freezer-locker plant. The Herald asked County Agent O. F. Griffin to give a detailed explanation of the advantages and plan of operation of such a plant. The article herewith is one he has prepared in compliance with this request.)

From the standpoint of public welfare, the freezer-locker plants will fill an urgent need. The farmer's market has become more and more limited in recent years. At the same time his ability to produce has greatly increased. Lower prices for cash crops such as cotton and wheat were inevitable. At great expense, the government has tried to remedy the situation by a system of crop control. Today, the incomes from cash crops is pretty definitely fixed at prices too low for the average farmer to buy a good living.

Under these circumstances many of the farmers who are able to do so are, either buying, or renting more land in order to produce bigger crops for themselves. But there is not enough land to go around, consequently, for each farmer who increases his production by securing additional land, there is a less fortunate farm family pushed off the land and denied any opportunity to make a living by the occupation for which they are fitted.

But in our effort to expand the farmer's markets and find new markets, we have overlooked a market closest to the farmer. I refer to the farmer's home market, especially food for his own table.

Preservation of food products. Most farmers of Howard county produce some meat, milk, butter, eggs and vegetables, necessary staples that help to make up a wholesome diet. However, only a very few produce a year round supply. And when the home supply gives out, there is a large percentage of farm people whose incomes is too low to permit of their buying all the food that they need for health and efficiency.

But why do farmers not produce a year round supply of meat and vegetables? The answer is to be found in methods available to farmers for the preservation of foods. There is a lot of meat lost from spoilage. And if it does not spoil the warm weather during summer makes it rancid, sometimes unfit to eat. Then too, the fact that animals can be slaughtered only in winter has made the meat supply like that of vegetables, seasonal, and with many families to bacon and pork as their only meat supply. Canning of both meat and vegetables is being used, to some extent, by most farm families. This method is both laborious and expensive. If an adequate supply were canned for the average size family, the cash outlay would be greater than that for the refrigerated locker. Besides being more economical, the freezer-locker method, recently developed, preserves foods without destroying any of their value or palatability. Practically all of the vitamins are also preserved. Canning meat, as well as most vegetables, requires high temperatures, which destroy part of the food value, as well as vitamins, and make the food less palatable. Thus the freezing process is found to be far superior to canning as a method of food preservation.

A modern freezer-locker plant includes chilling, aging and quick freezing of meats. There may also be provision for curing pork. Any kind of meat or fish lends itself to the freezing process.

The carcass is first chilled to a temperature little above freezing. It is held at this temperature in an aging room to make the meat more palatable. Then it is cut ready for cooking, and wrapped in packages of a size to suit the family that is to use it. Those small packages are then spread out in a "quick freeze" room, where the temperature is well below zero so that it freezes quickly. This "quick" freezing prevents the forming of ice crystals in the meat and disarrangement of the parts of the meat. Meat carried through this freezing process is actually improved. When thoroughly frozen, the packages are taken out of the "quick freeze" room and placed in the customer's locker. The locker room is kept at a temperature only slightly above zero so that the meat remains frozen until the customer takes it out. Three seems to be less difficulty about handling meat out of the freezer-locker than one would expect, if we take the word of people who have used them for several months. First, a home where there is a refrigerator can keep the frozen meat safely for four or five days after taking it out of the freezer. Then too most farmers come to town often; and many plants, through cooperation of ice routes, milk routes and Star mail routes, have established systems of delivery of frozen foods to the farm homes.

Vegetables, Too

All that has been said so far has been about frozen meats, but many vegetables may be preserved with all of their freshness and vitamin content. Turnip greens, mustard, spinach, green peas and beans as well as roasting ears may be stored in the freezer-locker. The same is true of most fruits. A few of the vegetables have not, as yet, been frozen successfully, among these the tomato, which, because of its water content, cracks open upon being frozen. Investigations are under way, however, to find a way to freeze all vegetables.

If there should be a merchant who reads this story and concludes that his trade would be injured by the building of a freezer-locker plant, let him answer these questions: Which would you rather have for your customer a farmer with $250 in the bank and nothing else, or one with $250 in the bank and a potential supply of those articles of food we have mentioned? How long can the government, in the face of the national defense program, continue to borrow immense sums of money each year to keep up the farmer's buying power? If the government should lessen or discontinue pay to farmers, are we prepared to stand the economic shock that would result? And after all, will freezer-locker plants bring about less trade or will it just result in better living and greater efficiency for the farm people?

(This story will be followed by one which will give the plans of Howard County Land Use Planning Committee for building a freezer-locker plant.)

Midway Due To Have Big Enrollment

Midway school will open at 8:40 a. m. Monday, Sept. 9, for the beginning of the 1940-41 school term. Due to an extremely large class of beginners and a large number of pupils who have moved into the community since the last school year, school officials expect the largest first day enrollment in the school's history.

Extensive work has been carried on for the past six weeks in order to have the school in readiness for the new term. The physical equipment of the school is in better condition than it has been in for many years. The floors in all the class rooms, in the library, the auditorium and the gymnasium have been cleaned and refinished. All the weeds around the school have been cut and the grounds have been graded and leveled.

A new 60-passenger school bus will serve the community this year. Most of the local pupils and the forty high school pupils who attend the Comhoma high school will have free transportation on this bus.

Since the board of education recently passed a ruling which prohibits the enrolling of pupils who have not been vaccinated against smallpox, it is urged that parents have all pupils vaccinated before school begins if that has not already been done.

Vincent School To Open Next Monday

Monday, Sept. 9 will mark the opening of Vincent school. A short program will inaugurate the new term. Opening address will be given by Cliff Wiley of Big Spring. Mrs. Jim Hodnett will begin her eighth term as primary teacher. She is a student of Texas Tech.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Swentt will begin their fourth term as intermediate teacher and principal. Mr. Swentt is a graduate of W. T. S. T. C. Canyon, and Mrs. Swentt is a graduate of Sam Houston State Teachers college, Huntsville.

The friends and patrons are cordially invited to be present for the opening exercises.

More than 400 American manufacturers are registered with the Munitions Control Board as actual or potential producers of implements of war.

Program Held At Opening Of Moore School

MOORE, Sept. 5—A large group assembled in the auditorium Monday morning for the opening exercises of school. Following introductory remarks by Miss Arah Phillips, principal of the school, the Rev. J. A. English conducted the devotional exercises. Each teacher and trustee also made brief speeches. Mrs. J. F. Sellers, principal of Caudle school spoke briefly. Following assembly students met in home rooms for assignments and books. Seven grades of work will be offered this term. Fifty-seven pupils were enrolled. Teachers include Miss Arah Phillips, sixth and seventh grades; Miss Anna Smith, fifth grade and coaching; Mrs. Lottie Holland, third and fourth grades, and Mrs. J. C. Groff, first and second grades.

Mr. and Mrs. Coy Thomas and children, Richard Bryant and Donald, returned to their home in Akron, O., Friday after spending two weeks with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Thomas, and other relatives here.

O. B. Bryan, project superintendent of the Caprock Electric Cooperative, was busy with sign-up work and securing easements for the REA line this week.

J. W. Phillips, Mrs. Lee Castle of Brown and Mr. and Mrs. Ted Phillips and son, Everett Doyle, of Big Spring spent Sunday at Doherty visiting Mr. Phillips' brother, Aubrey Phillips.

Helena May Daniels was honored Sunday with a birthday dinner given by her parents. A cake with eleven candles decorated the center of the table. After the noon meal the children engaged in games, while the elders spent the afternoon visiting. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Rowland and son, Bill, Mrs. J. W. Phillips and son, Cecil, Pete Queen, Jerry Grissam of East Texas, Miss Arah Phillips, Miss Anna Smith, Mrs. W. H. Ward, Mrs. J. C. Groff and Wanda Jo, Sheran Jane and Murphy Lee Daniels. Others visiting in the afternoon were Mr. and Mrs. Bill Barber and children, Billy, Jr., Ramona Fay and Donald Ray, and Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Turney, all of Big Spring.

The recreational roundup party held in the gymnasium Friday night was well attended. Doyle Turney and his string orchestra composed of Tom Castle, Mrs. Doyle Turney, Bill Rowland, J. D. McGregor, Curley Smith and Jerry King furnished music. Mrs. Chesie Walker and H. F. Malone, recreational supervisor, were in charge of the group games.

Mrs. J. H. Powell left Friday for Hico to attend the funeral services of a brother, Milton Walker.

Bonnie Lyle Smith of East Texas is here visiting her sister, Mrs. Stewart Thomas, and family.

Mrs. R. M. Wheeler left Monday for Clifton to visit her parents.

HURLER, WHO WANTED FILLING STATION, CHANGES MIND

OKLAHOMA CITY, Sept. 5 (AP) — For a country kid who didn't care for baseball in the first place, Dewey Adkins has done mighty well. He has just completed, in one year, a rise from the sandlots to the major leagues.

The Oklahoma City Indians sold the 21-year-old, 200-pound rookie pitcher—leader of all Texas league hurlers—to the Cleveland Indians, to report at the close of the season.

And for once Adkins, who aspired to a filling station management and figured baseball didn't offer much of a future—was happy. "Whew!" he exclaimed when informed of the deal. "Thanks!"

Adkins made Texas league pitching history with a pair of huge fists that smother a baseball like the rocks he used to chuck at street lights in the old home town, Wilsonville, Neb.

"That kid's got a future," Adkins' dad remarked one night after Dewey had virtually darkened the town. He called Dewey in and said:

"Son, you've cost me $25 replacing street lights and it's time you paid me back. There's a ball game here tonight and you're gonna pitch."

"I've got a date," Dewey objected. "You'll pitch or get out," his father stormed. "You're not going to get any place minding a filling station."

Dewey called up his date (she's Mrs. Adkins now) and asked her advice. "Pitch," she said, "I'll go with you."

Adkins got a shutout, striking out 18 men.

The housewife came to the door. "Look here," she cried, "I might tolerate you looking over my yard before you guess how much water we used, but when you start digging holes to test the depth of the moisture, it's going too far!"

THERE'S REAL ACTION IN Boom Town

Clark Gable And Spencer Tracy As Two He-Men Of The Texas Oil Fields Fight It Out—With No Holds Barred!

Spencer Tracy and Clark Gable square off for the start of the "Boom Town" battle.

A swift right cross by Gable catches Tracy under the ear and staggers him.

Swinging viciously, Gable and Tracy come to close quarters as they battle.

Tracy comes through with a smashing haymaker that catches Gable unawares and floors him.

Disheveled and badly cut, Gable is battered to the floor to rise for more action.

On his feet again, Gable comes through with another smashing right that connects.

Gable's terrific right sends Tracy sprawling with blood streaming from his mouth.

Bruised and cut, Tracy picks himself up and returns to the fracas which finally ends in a draw.
