250,000 Pounds Wool Sold Here In Buying Wave

Bulk of Local 12-Month Clips Go At Quarter In Week's Sales

In excess of $60,000 was poured into the pockets of Crockett county producers of wool the past weekend in sale of approximately 250,000 pounds of long wool from the local warehouse of the Ozona Wool & Mohair Co.

The bulk of wool moved in the local sale went at 25 cents, with some dropping a half cent under that figure. One small lot of Corriedale wool sold at 26 cents. The buyer was Tom Richey, for A. W. Hilliard & Son.

Shipment of the wool is already under way with the balance to move out in the next few days, according to Melvin Brown, manager. With the shipment of this wool, the local warehouse will still have on hand approximately 180,000 pounds.

The wool market, asleep for a month, awakened with a bang in a weekend surge of buying thru-out the producing area. Buyers were active in a half dozen West Texas storage centers and a heavy cut was made in the state's wool stores as a result of the demands from eastern mills.

Peak price of the new buying move was paid by J. M. Lea for the crossbred Corriedale-Delaine and Corriedale-Rambouillet clip of Dwayne E. Hughes following the auction sale at the Lea warehouse in San Angelo Tuesday. The demand was principally for 12-months length and the bulk of staple of this length went at 25 cents.

Growers whose clips were included in the 250,000 pounds sold here during the weekend were Earl Chandler, Chandler Bros., Colwick and Chandler, J. L. Martin, Fleet Coates, Bud Coates, Jake Miller, Mrs. A. W. Clayton, Ted White, Howard and Williams, Mrs. E. B. Ingham, Espy and Means, J. W. Espy, George Montgomery, Beecher Montgomery, Joe Clayton, Boyd Clayton, Bryan McDonald, Vic Montgomery and several other small lots.

ONE THING and THEN ANOTHER

By FRED GIPSON

CORPUS CHRISTI.—My next-door neighbor who sits on an apple box in the back yard of his home here was sitting on his apple box and watching his quackless black Belgium ducks pick grass in the shade of a fig tree when I rolled into town.

That's what he was doing when I left here three weeks ago. I've quit wondering what my neighbor thinks about as he sits all day long on his apple box and watches his ducks pick grass. I now wonder what the ducks think about.

My neighbor was mighty glad to see me come back, he said. He had some problems that needed discussing and I guess he'd not found his ducks very communicative.

For one thing, he was bothered about the rain that had been falling for the last couple of days. Not only had it kept him in the house and off his apple box, but he was troubled about what the rain might do to the cotton crops around.

Just because a man has no cotton is no sign he's not qualified to worry about it.

"Rain'll rot the cotton, won't it?" my neighbor wanted to know. "And some people say it'll bring flea hoppers and leaf worms and things like that. Be mighty bad if it does."

"Still," he mused, "there's already too much cotton. Government's having to store it... funny" (Continued on Page Four)

Talks to Baptists

Fifty thousand delegates are expected to attend the sixth Baptist world congress opening Saturday in Atlanta. Gov. E. D. Rivers of Georgia will welcome the conferees, holding their first meeting since 1934.

Mrs. Butler To Attend Baptist World Alliance

Ozona Woman to International Meet of Baptists In Atlanta, Ga.

Mrs. S. L. Butler left Wednesday morning for Dallas where she will board a special train for Atlanta, Ga., to attend the Baptist World Alliance which will meet in the Georgia city one week beginning Saturday. The special train will leave Dallas tonight and will not stop en route, arriving in Atlanta Friday night.

The Ozona woman will be one of a large number from this area to attend the World Alliance, a fellowship gathering of Baptists from throughout the world.

The Baptist World Alliance was organized in 1904. Meetings are held every five years, but the 1939 meeting will be only the sixth for the Alliance, 12 years having gone without meeting in the period immediately and following the World War.

An attendance of 60,000 persons from 60 different countries of the globe is expected at the Atlanta meeting. Morning services are to be held in the Atlanta municipal auditorium while the evening sessions are to be held in the huge athletic stadium there. The Alliance has rented a huge three-ring circus tent which will seat 20,000 persons, for use in case of rain.

Dr. George W. Truett of Dallas, one of the World's outstanding Baptist leaders, is president of the Alliance. Prof. Nordstrom of Sweden is vice president and Dr. J. H. Rushbrooke of London, England, is executive secretary. The last congress of the alliance was in Berlin, Germany, in 1934.

Sessions of the alliance are to be broadcast over one of the major networks, it has been announced.

Heavy Rains Fail To Bring Up Average For Year's Moisture

A little under the average, even with the torrent of rain which fell here Thursday morning, the rain record for Ozona so far this year stands at a total of 10.97 inches.

The first six months of the year was below the average considerably, with only 6.42 inches recorded to the end of June. To this total was added 4.55 inches which fell last Wednesday night and Thursday morning.

February, which was innocent of any measurable moisture, so far holds the record as the driest month. June and March were at a deadlock for second driest with .47 each. January was the wettest of the first six months with a total of 2.23 inches; May was a close second with 2.12 inches and April third with 1.13 inches.

Humble Nudges Casbeer Out Of Softball Lead

Oberkampf Crew Under New Head, Break Into Win Column

The Standings
	W.	L.	Pct.
Humble	5	1	.833
Casbeer	5	2	.714
Tex-New Mex	4	3	.571
Piggly Wiggly	3	4	.429
Williams	2	4	.333
Oberkampf	1	6	.143

Two newsworthy happenings have transpired in the past week to clamor for recording in the history of the current local softball wars.

One is that the Humble-Wilson Motor team nudged the fast stepping team of youngsters captained by Musty Casbeer from the top position and the other is that the team playing under the Oberkampf banner but owned and managed by Bryan McDonald and Houston Smith broke into the win column.

By virtue of making a clean sweep of their two games this week, while the league leading Casbeer crew was one of their victims, the Humble lads stepped into the league with five wins out of six starts, Casbeer's boys having two losses chalked up on the red side of their ledger.

In their second game under the new management, McDonald and Smith's aggregation pasted the J. H. Williams team 15 to 3 in the Wednesday night contest. One of the best games of the season was that between Piggly Wiggly and the Tex-New Mex Pipeliners last night, the Pipeliners nosing out by a count of 7 to 6.

The week's results in league combat saw Humble trim Casbeer and Piggly Wiggly beat Oberkampf Friday night, Casbeer and Humble winners over Piggly Wiggly and Tex-New Mex respectively Monday night, and Oberkamps trim Williams and Tex-New Mex bare victors over Piggly Wiggly Wednesday night.

Friday night Humble and Williams and Oberkampf and Casbeer are due to clash. Monday night it will be Humble and Oberkampf. Tex-New Mex and Casbeer, and Wednesday night Piggly Wiggly and Williams, and Tex-New Mex and Oberkampf.

Mrs. B. B. Ingham and Miss Betty Ingham are expected home this weekend after a trip up the eastern seaboard.

Finding Of Human Skeleton In Canyon Grave Stirs Memories Of Mysterious Murder and Vanished Men In Old West

Memories of the days when the edge of the Badlands was not far distant from the main street of Ozona, and when a man's past was his own secret, were stirred here the past week with the discovery of the grim reminder of what appeared to be an early-day murder mystery—a human skeleton under carelessly piled rocks in the head of a canyon 40 miles southwest of Ozona.

And it is still as much a mystery today as it was 40 or 50 years ago when human life was taken, and as officers reconstruct in theory the story, the murderer carried the body of his victim to the canyon rim, threw it over and then heaped boulders over the remains, with no other man in the world any the wiser—at any rate, none with a disposition to tell.

The skeleton was discovered by members of a pear-digging crew employed by Bill Brock on the Joe Blakeney ranch. Sheriff W. S. Willis was notified and with Justice of the Peace W. M. Johnigan went to the scene to investigate. The officers found the skull, leg bones, a few ribs and other smaller bones, most of them dug out from under loose rock, apparently

Athletic Park Is Wrecked By Floods; Grid Field Damaged

Raging Flood Waters Rip Out Fences; Newly Sodded Field Is Washed Up

Flood waters from Gurley draw, sweeping down to new record height in Thursday morning's flood, all but nullified work of a month or more and an expenditure of more than $100 on the part of school officials in an effort to sod the playing field for football next fall at Powell Athletic field, declared C. S. Denham, superintendent, after surveying the damage here upon returning the end of the week from Austin, where he and Mrs. Denham have been attending summer school at the University of Texas.

The rushing flood waters, besides sweeping away the fence around the park on the east, south and west sides dug out the newly turned earth where grass had been started, swept a good portion of the field clean of the growing grass and left but a litter of loose rock.

Workmen were engaged in the task of trying to save the work already done by clearing off the trash left by the receding waters and putting the soil back in condition for replanting. Extensive fence repairing will be necessary before the opening of the school athletic season next fall.

Flood Tosses Up Relic Of Ancient Volsteadian Era

An enlightening bit of ancient history was tossed up on the crest of flood waters in Gurley draw last Thursday when receding waters left in their wake a tall brown bottle, without label, and sealed with the familiar crinkled edge cap, also without brand imprint. Some wag with the soul of an archaeologist placed the bottle, its contents still undisturbed, on display in the curio window of the Jones Saddlery, with the following inscription:

"A Relic: Tossed up by the Gurley flood of 1939. This interesting specimen was unearthed by the mighty onrush of water as it poured over the village of Lima. Authorities tell us it is many years old, harking back to the Volstead era. The contents is known as Homebrew, and historians tell us that it was a beverage concocted by our progenitors from offal of the Dinosaur, and was a highly satisfactory substitute for water, of which there was little, if any."

Sheffield Plans 2-Day Rodeo and Dances July 28-29

Roping, Riding Contests; Dancing Each Night On Menu

A two-day rodeo and race meet is to be staged at Sheffield Friday and Saturday, July 28 and 29, under the direction of Dave Poole. Plans are being perfected this week for the two-day affair Friday and Saturday of next week.

It is to be a strictly amateur show, according to the director, and the purses are expected to attract some of the best range talent of four counties.

A big dance is to be staged each night following the afternoon program. Rodeo events will include calf roping, goat roping, wild mare riding and saddle horse races. A cordial invitation is extended by the rodeo management to Ozona people to attend the two-day show.

Gas Co. Abandons Projected Line From Eldorado

Asks Retention of Franchise To Await Closer Development

An offer to relinquish its franchise for a natural gas distribution system in Ozona, but with a hint that the company is still interested in a system here if a source of supply can be found near enough to keep the pipeline expense to a figure commensurate with the possible returns, was made in a letter written by F. A. Hornaday, president of the Rio Gas & Power Co. of San Antonio, this week to County Judge Chas. E. Davidson.

The company is watching possible development of gas wells in present wildcatting activities between Eldorado and Ozona, Mr. Hornaday indicated in his letter, and should a source of supply nearer Ozona be discovered, the company will be interested in coming to this city with its lines.

The gas company's executive's letter to Judge Davidson is as follows:

"Dear Judge: As agreed with you when we secured our Crockett county gas franchise during March last past, we wish to advise after a complete survey of the city and the investment necessary to take gas from Schleicher county to Ozona, it is at this time impracticable to install a gas distributing system in your community.

"However, with the oil development around Eldorado, we are (Continued On Last Page)

Torrential Rain Puts Draws Out Of Banks Here

Gurley Draw Highest In History; 4 1/2 In. Recorded Here

It was one of those "million dollar" rains that fell over Crockett county and surrounding territory of West Texas the past weekend, drouth-breaking downpours that will put dollars in the pockets of West Texas ranchmen through a probable rise in livestock and wool prices.

Ozona and the immediate area got the lion's share of the moisture with a torrential downpour last Thursday morning which sent draws through the city on rambling rises and did considerable property damage, including washed out fences, damaged stalls and other property at the fair grounds and some damage to homes entered by the rambling waters.

Gurley draw, a short wash entering Ozona from the northeast reached the highest level in the town's history, according to old timers, when a "flash" flood fell to the east and northeast of Ozona shortly before noon Thursday. The rain was estimated at more than six inches, ranches on the outskirts of Ozona to the east reporting that as much as three inches fell in a period of 30 minutes.

The flood water swept across the highway at the east edge of the city, taking out long stretches of fence on the W. E. Friend, Jr., ranch bordering the highway. Into the fair grounds, the swollen draw swept the new board fence, erected this summer, and carried away several of the race horse stalls and damaged others. Homes along the path of the water that left the usual course of the wash were entered by the murky waters doing slight damage in some cases, and one small Mexican residence on the bank of the draw was washed from its foundation and carried several hundred feet down stream.

Johnson draw was also out of its banks as a result of heavy downpours on its watershed to the north. The water was up to the floor level of the highway bridge in Ozona. Continuing rains between here and Barnhart kept the flood water at this high level for more than two hours before it finally started to recede. Several families living in tents along the Johnson draw south of Mike Couch's grocery were forced to flee when the water got up into the camp. They lost some belongings that washed down in the flood waters but the tents with-

Infantile Paralysis Case At San Angelo, Health Officer Warns

A warning has been issued by Dr. B. T. Brown, city health officer at San Angelo, to parents to keep their children at home and to see that they avoid crowds of all kinds in San Angelo as the result of discovery of a case of infantile paralysis in that city.

The victim is Ramon Rumbo, son of Gus Rumbo, living at 79 Gillis street in San Angelo. The boy is 13 years old. If no new cases are discovered in two weeks, the danger should be over, Dr. Brown declared.

It's Your Town, Too!

It's your town, too. You live here, you earn your living here by one means or another, you have some investment in the town, either a little or a lot. Its future concerns you if you expect to continue to make your home here.

The heart of your town as such is its business life. Without business there would be no town, for what is a town if it is not a grouping of residents in one community, who for the benefits and greater pleasures humanity obtains from living together in groups or communities, are willing to share the responsibilities and added costs of providing the conveniences that are used in common by all the people. Without the availability of needed supplies furnished by business, the inconvenience of living would be too great in any community and its residents would leave and seek another where such a convenience was available.

The importance and prestige of any town is measured by the kind of business houses it supports. If the places of business in a community receive a major share of patronage of its residents, they are forward looking, progressive and able to serve their patrons to their more complete satisfaction and at the same time more economically. For greater volume means faster turn-over and that in turn means that profit margins can be lowered (prices reduced) and still the same returns on the investment realized.

Your patronage, then, of your home town business firms reacts to your own benefit. It makes it possible for the firm to improve its business, to give you better service at a lower price. If every article of merchandise that is purchased by Ozonans were purchased from Ozona business houses, the town building possibilities would be amazing. You would see greater and more varied stocks, prices lower even than the cities and a greater community pride on the part of every resident. It's your town—make it bigger and

WPA Salaries

The complaint of Indiana WPA workers that the comparatively high salaries paid to some 700 administrative officers give the public a false impression of the cost of WPA seems to be sustained by the official salary list. For years this list was kept secret. It was revealed only after congress compelled the WPA to make its administrative pay rolls public. Conceding all the claims for good work made in behalf of the state WPA director, it is doubtful whether his salary of $8,000 a year is justified. Also it is doubtful whether the paying of more than 150 of these salaries in excess of $2,000 a year is in the spirit of the WPA—the giving of emergency relief work to people who can not find private jobs. Except in a few instances, when the employment of experts has been necessary to save projects from failure, all these so-called nonrelief jobs are really relief to the extent that the pay comes out of the emergency relief appropriation. The list does not show whether the higher salaried people have other income. It was revealed a few months ago that the Marion county director also drew pay from the city as a member of the flood-control board. In several instances there have been complaints that foremen carry on their WPA work as a sideline of farming or other gainful employment. The report justifies the view of Representative Charles A. Halleck that "entirely too large a share of the WPA money is going for administrative expenses," and that "this deprives the needy unemployed of just that much relief."—Indianapolis News.

better by making every possible purchase from your hometown business.

Churchill and Eden

Rumors persist that Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain of Great Britain will soon take Winston Churchill and Anthony Eden into the cabinet. The possibilities are interesting in the connection. Mr. Churchill has been a pet hate of the Nazis for these many months and Captain Eden is most distinctly persona non grata to Mussolini. To intrust them with major governmental responsibilities in the current crisis would be to serve unmistakable notice that appeasement has been pitched well out of the window. It would be somewhat audacious, of course, by comparison with Mr. Chamberlain's previous policy, but there is reason to believe Hitler and Mussolini would understand and respect it more nearly than they do the backing and filling that has gone on. From the domestic point of view the inclusion of Churchill and Eden would give the Chamberlain Cabinet the appearance of a genuine national government—something many observers, The Commercial Appeals among them, have thought for some time would be useful. Both gentlemen are able and both are sincerely devoted to the interests of their country, only their methods and attitudes having ever been under question. Mr. Churchill and Captain Eden are both in thorough sympathy with the present position of the Chamberlain government. The Prime Minister might seek further and do worse than to thus put the totalitarians on notice and signify to supporters of Churchill and Eden that factional political differences have been junked.—Memphis Commercial Appeals.

Isolationists Yield

Another stroke of Roosevelt luck has leapt into the administration's hands to help passage of a neutrality bill that will be acceptable to Secretary of State Cordell Hull, the President and other capital leaders. Developments abroad have been so timed that a number of isolationists have reportedly swung over to the Roosevelt-Hull philosophy that the best way to keep the United States out of war is to prevent one from occurring. The gleeful reaction of the controlled Italian press to the House's recent vote for a mandatory embargo has caused some to realize the value of giving the President discretionary powers in administering embargoes and reinserting "cash and carry" provisions in the neutrality measure. A cash-and-carry plan, as has been repeatedly emphasized, would work to the advantage of Great Britain and France, who would presumably control the seas in event of war. A mandatory embargo on shipments to all nations would work an equal hardship on European democracies and Fascist powers. The uncertainty of the Danzig issue also has played into administration hands. The state department and the President are afraid a sudden outbreak in that quarter would find the United States without a neutrality policy acceptable to the administration. According to reliable reports from Washington, all but a few extremists are sympathetic with the government's apprehension. —Mobile Register.

Something To Do!

An idea of the extent of local interest in amusements may be gained by a visit to the newly lighted softball field in Ozona some night when a game is in progress. Cars line the field on both sides at every game, and the people are interested in the entertainment offered by the contests.

At present Ozona offers its residents very little in the way of amusements. As a consequence, they have sought it elsewhere in other towns, and Ozona loses something every time one of its citizens goes to another town for whatever reason.

It was a step in the right direction when a field was lighted for night softball play. It gives amusement and exercises to a large number of men and boys who are participating, and furnishes amusement to that portion of the population which happens to like softball.

With fine swimming pools in a number of neighboring towns, many Ozonans, during the summer months, go to these towns for a swim. While they are away, they naturally spend some money, and that money is gone so far as Ozona business is concerned. From an economic and business point of view it would seem a good investment to furnish sufficient amusements here that would keep people in Ozona.

A start in that direction has been made by the Commissioners court, which announced following its July session that a move has been made to secure a site for a pool by purchase of property atop the hill east of the school buildings. This project, which was suggested by a committee of women representing local clubs, is proposed as a WPA-county sponsored project. It can be realized as such without a too heavy burden on the county if the people want it enough to speak up for it and lend their cooperation toward its accomplishment.

Debt Threatens Democracy

In a thought-provoking article in Harper's, Roy Helton argues tellingly that debt threatens democracy. And he has many a precedent with which to prove his case.

"What is it that gave Italy back to an absolute ruler?" asks Mr. Helton. "Twenty-seven billion dollars of war borrowings on top of an already heavy debt structure were more than her government could handle as a democracy. What made Hitler the absolute ruler of Germany? What but national despair under the immense load of debt that had been saddled upon Germany by the Allies and by our own super-salesmanship, creating a burden which the Republic could not carry? A master had to appear in Russia, too, because of debt..."

"More than anything that can ever face us as a nation, this problem deserves the united intelligence of all parties and all men."

What happened abroad can happen here. And no one can miss the ominous parallel that exists between the course toward dictatorship taken by the European totalitarian states and the course we are so rapidly pursuing ourselves. A staggering debt made essential the artificial blocked-mark system of Germany—a staggering debt could make necessary a "blocked-dollar" system here. A sharp rise in a nation's debt makes inevitable more and more political control over its citizens' affairs—and that means eventual dictatorship.

Mr. Helton observes that it is not yet too late—that we can still save ourselves as a democracy, by drawing in our belts, facing our issues squarely, and going to work to cut down the debt. But we cannot long delay the time for doing that—if we are to retain the rights and liberties of democracy for which our forefathers fought.

Do Your Buying At Home!

Time To Wake Up

Recently the American Institute of Public Opinion, noted for its fact-finding accuracy, started asking Americans the questions: "Do you happen to pay taxes?"

It is an established fact that nearly everyone who receives money from any source or buys even the barest necessities of life pays out a substantial part of his or her income in the form of hidden taxes. Yet 25 per cent of those answering the above question seemed sincerely to believe that they weren't helping to pay the mounting cost of government.

Sadly, enough, most of those who were not conscious of paying taxes were numbered in the group on which proportionately the burden falls most heavily—those earning less than $20 a week. The man or woman earning that amount pays, on the average, slightly over a hundred dollars a year in taxes.

The common delusion brought into the spotlight by this survey is undoubtedly one of the chief reasons why heavy government spending, waste, and inefficiency so seldom encounter concerted opposition from those most affected. And one thing at least is sure: there can be no "aroused taxpayer" so long as the individual supposed to play that role isn't even conscious of being taken for a spending sleigh-ride.

Record Number New Game Laws Added To Books

Recent Legislative Session Adds 94 Statutes To Game Laws

AUSTIN, July 19.—The regular session of the 46th Legislature set what game department officials believe to be an all-time record in the passage of game and fish laws.

In all, 94 new laws relating to wildlife were enacted out of a total of 134 wildlife bills introduced, 113 originating in the house and 21 in the senate.

At the start of the session 545 applications of county game and fish laws were on the statute books.

The new crop of laws, officials said, adds considerably to the number, although in several cases the new regulations merely extend the life of old laws about to expire.

Only seven of the 94 new laws are general laws, applicable to the state as a whole, the department announced. The rest apply only to individual counties or groups of counties.

Fishing received more attention than hunting. An analysis shows the legislature passed 30 new laws dealing with regulation of fishing or sale of fish. Fourteen new laws dealing with deer and turkey hunting were passed, 10 relating to fox, nine to quail, and five each to squirrels and fur-bearing animals. Various other local laws were enacted.

Most important among the general laws passed was that declaring the Collard Peccary or Javelina a game animal. Killing of the animals was declared illegal except during an open season, from Nov. 16 to Jan. 1, and the bag limit was declared to be two per season. Sale of javelinas or their hides were declared unlawful, except that javelinas or their hides imported from other states or countries might be sold. Many of the animals are imported annually from Mexico.

Other general laws included that placing the Startling on the unprotected list; forbidding fishing from bridges or causeways maintained by the state highway department; allowing the game commission to condemn lands for use in construction of freshwater fish hatcheries or passes leading from one body of tidal water to another; providing for the issuance of non-resident trapper licenses at a cost of $200 each; and placing the brown pelican on the protected list.

Another general law had the ef-

Counties Join WTCC Fight For Equality In Freight Rates

ABILENE, July 19.—Commissioners' Courts in all parts of West Texas are affiliating with the freight rate equality federation, sponsored by the West Texas chamber of commerce, in its campaign to secure equalization of freight rates between the southwestern zone and the highly favored zones of the North and East.

Response by West Texas counties to the call for free affiliates has been fine and almost 100 per cent affiliation of the counties in this region is expected within a few weeks, West Texas chamber of commerce officials said.

Report of the activity of the WTCC and the FREF in the recent freight rate hearing conducted by the Texas Railroad commission in Austin has been submitted to the Commissioners' Courts as well as the WTCC's 200 directors.

The two organizations, which for months have led in the growing movement against discriminatory freight rates, presented 46 charts and exhibits and 31 witnesses who testified as to the unreasonableness of differential and class rates in the state.

An order from the commission revising differential rates and prescribing the "official" rate scale of the Ohio-Indiana territory for Texas was asked by the WTCC and the FREF. Studies made by the WTCC claim Texas rates are from 60 to 85 per cent higher than the Ohio-Indiana rates.

Heavy Gains Shown In Texas Car Sales First Half of Year

AUSTIN, July 19.—Texas automotive sales for the first half of 1939 were sharply above those for the corresponding period a year ago, the University of Texas bureau of business research reported here today.

For the first six months of the year, passenger car registrations were up 35 per cent, and commercial car registrations showed a gain of 20.6 per cent over the period from January to June last year.

Automotive sales for June showed a decline from those of May of only eight-tenths of 1 per cent, increasing 56.6 per cent over June, 1938. Commercial car registrations lagged 6.5 per cent behind May, but 22 per cent above June of last year.

IN THE calamities—fire, sickness, accident or other peril—the telephone is the first thing thought of. But its daily usefulness makes it scarcely less valuable.

It makes appointments. It reaches friends. It invites the ring of opportunity.

Its value is so great that it simply doesn't pay to do without it.

Behind The Scenes In American Business

By John Craddock

NEW YORK, July 19.—BUSINESS—After drooping along aimlessly for months, the stock market last week gave financial observers reason for cheer. They were encouraged by the "growing volume as stocks broke out of their rut on the upside." This is a technical way of saying that the majority of investors (it is estimated there are 25,000,000 throughout the nation) view the immediate business prospects hopefully.

Disturbed by war scares and plodding domestic business, few persons lately have been willing to hazard a guess, backed by money, as to the direction of trade and industry. Those who owned stocks couldn't make up their minds to sell, while those with cash couldn't decide to buy. As a result, transactions in stocks have been comparatively small, and prices drawn day-by-day on a chart showed little deviation from a straight line. Last week's action demonstrated that for the moment, at least, the indecision of many investors had been resolved in favor of owning stocks rather than cash, a situation that arises when the stage is being set for a broad upturn in business.

WASHINGTON — Last week's adjournment hopes of congress faded as the senate banking committee began hearings on the administration's new "lending-spending" proposal. Federal Works Administrator John M. Carmody told the committee a $350,000,000 fund for non-federal public works would give 420,000,000 man hours of employment to workers on the projects and in forests, mines, mills, factories and transportation. Purchase of construction materials — iron and steel, machinery, cement, stone, clay, glass and lumber—costing $200,000,000 would aid heavy goods industries.

WARNING—A month ago Hector Lazo, vice president of Co-operative Food Distributors, at a convention of independent retailers in Kansas City warned that a "law passed today to put your competitor out of business may whack you between the eyes tomorrow." Such a whack last week caromed against an industry not aimed at in the original legislation, when Colorado's State Treasurer Armstrong bluntly announced that automobile manufacturers owed some $530,000 in taxes for the years 1935-39 under the state's chain store tax law "because of the close contractual relations" between them and their dealers. The contractual relations of dealers with manufacturers in other lines are under investigation, officials indicated. Tax experts pointed out that this was a striking illustration of how anti-chain store legislation constitutes a present and potential menace to all types of business and said the Colorado action served to dramatize the truth of Lazo's warning.

BACK TO SHAKESPEARE—The world consumes about four billion bushels of wheat a year. In the 12 months ending June 30, four and a half billion bushels were harvested, boosting the world "carryover" to 1,217,000,000 bushels. Therein lies the problem of wheat growers. Supply exceeds demand by a wide margin. Wheat prices for future delivery in this country during the late winter and early spring held close to 65 cents a bushel. Then in May prices climbed close to 80 cents a bushel due to drought talk and war scares. But this fillip for farmers was short-lived, prices during June and July sliding back to the 65-cent level. On the Liverpool market last week wheat prices thing, too. People raise too much cotton. Government tries to handle it for them. And they all raise a howl."

"People," I said, "are just born to howl. They come into this world howling. They go out the same way. Government can't keep the people from howling."

He agreed I was on the right track there.

From that we went into a huddle about these relievers that went on a strike the other day. We agreed that was about the damdest thing we'd heard of yet. A relief strike! We couldn't quite get that. And it was our opinion that while the strike was on was a mighty good time for the government to cut off relief altogether. Just whack it off like a chicken's head and then say to the relievers: "Now strike, and see what it gets you!" That's how broke to a 347-year low. In 1593, when Elizabeth was queen, and Shakespeare was a rising young playwright, the Wall Street Journal points out, wheat sold at 55 cents a bushel. In the England of television and stratoliners wheat plunged to 51 1/2 cents a bushel.

HEADLINES IN NEW YORK—Subsidy program on cotton exports is due August. Agriculture Department says . . . Retail tire sales in first half of 1939 best in eight years . . . Packard Motor Co. to be ready August 15 with 1940 model cars . . . American Woolen Co. sales in first half estimated at double volume in same period last year . . . 45 per cent of stores reporting to National Retail Dry Goods Association in cities ranging from 75,000 to 900,000 population provide parking facilities of some kind for their customers.

But we agreed that there were too many relief officials dipping their big spoons into the relief gravy for anything like that ever to happen.

We compared the Teapot Dome scandal of some years back to the mess they've uncovered in Louisiana and came to the conclusion that the world's really progressing. The scandals get bigger and better all the time. Put the Teapot Dome scandal up beside the Louisiana scandal, and it would look like the steam from a kettle rising beside the fumes and smoke from a volcano.

We were pretty certain there are plenty more political scandals that could be uncovered if somebody just had the nerve and initiative to lift the right lids.

We sat and wondered awhile about what this world is coming to anyway and decided it was to no good end.

Then we sat and decided that what this country needs is more people who will get up and work and make their own livings and quit expecting the government to make it for them—and do less talking, too.

Then we just sat awhile and watched the black and quackless Belgium ducks picking grass under the fig tree.

The ducks never did offer their opinion on matters pertaining to

Tobacco Chanters Vie in Novel Auctioneers' Contest

The world's first tobacco auctioneer contest was held Tuesday at Winston, N. C., in connection with the North Carolina tobacco festival. E. H. Valentine, one of the contestants (indicated by the arrow), is shown above practicing for the unique contest. The auctioneer travels down one side of the long tobacco row with representatives of the warehouse. On the other side of the row are buyers. One of the auctioneers' most precious qualities is the ability to catch the buyer's signal, which may be anything from raising an eyebrow, or twitching a lip, to—as with the man in the right foreground—a flip of the thumb.

Price-Fixing Move Of Manufacturers Hits Snag Over U. S.

HOUSTON, July 19.—The nationwide Fair Trade price-fixing movement hit a snag during the last few months losing in four out of five important tests, a roundup of recent legislation shows.

In Texas, Governor O'Daniel vetoed the proposal, which despite its sweet-tasting nom de lobby, sets aside the anti-trust laws and permits price-fixing by manufacturers. In Vermont, the state senate killed Fair Trade in an outright vote, first time the minority pressured bill ever lost a clear cut test. In Delaware and in Missouri, price-fixing lobbies have made no headway despite introduction of their law with all sorts of fanfare. In the District of Columbia, for which congress is the ruling body, the Fair Traders have rammed their pet through the House, but the Senate, warned by President Roosevelt that he doesn't favor the measure, is taking its time about considering the controversial measure.

Only in Alabama were the Fair Traders successful. They had their law enacted there.

This score is in startling contrast to the landslide movement which wrote manufacturer price-fixing on the statute books of 42 states in the past six years.

The Fair Traders obviously are beginning to worry about their drive for higher prices through manufacturer price-fixing. In the June 17 issue of the National Association of Retail Druggists' Journal, Robert W. Bowman wrote: "Confronted with federal investigation, consumer antagonism, and a general 'let down' of interest among druggists... Fair Trade will stand or fall in the next couple of years."

Movements to repeal Fair Trade are under way in many states, notably in Connecticut and New York in which surveys have shown that manufacturer price-fixing has increased living costs $1 a family a week.

The magazine Drug Topics, head cheer leader for Fair Trade, carried an article last week which must have set many Texas retail merchants who have been supporting the law to thinking, and which may explain the "let down" mentioned by Mr. Bowman. The article told how the Federal Trade Commission, now thoroughly sifting the price-fixing law's operation in New York, had been advised, "Don't only look at retail prices. Look at (wholesale) costs, too." This obviously means that the manufacturers are beginning to take away profits from the enactment of price-fixing by increasing wholesale prices to the retailers whom they control completely under the so-called Fair Trade Act.

Another type of price-fixing also bit the dust in New York recently. What was called the Unfair Sales Act was vetoed by Gov. Herbert Lehmann.

In Texas this law was given the nom de lobby of Anti-Discrimination Act. It prohibits sale of any item at less than cost plus 9 per cent, regardless of the retailers' desires or needs.

Having been flushed clearly into the open in 1939, many political experts expect that price-fixing, whether on the basis of Fair Trade manufacturer or Anti-Discrimination cost-plus, will be an important issue in Texas. The issue, the experts predict, will be drawn on the state's anti-trust laws. If the people elect a candidate who is committed to support Fair Trade manufacturer price-fixing, they will be voting to nullify their anti-trust protection. If they insist that the legislators go to Austin to protect the interests of the masses, they

TEXAS OUT-O-DOORS

AUSTIN, July 19.—Inroads of domestic sheep and elk upon the range of the wild mountain sheep in Texas will keep those nimble-footed and interesting animals from increasing much beyond their present number, it is reported by Bob Snow of the Texas game, fish and oyster commission, who has just completed a survey of wild sheep with the assistance of the U. S. Bureau of Biological Survey.

Mountain sheep, which are found in the Beach and Diablo mountains of West Texas, now number fewer than 400, according to Snow, who counted 130 in the Beach mountains and who believes, after the survey, that there are approximately 250 in the Diablos. Those mountains are the only ones upon which there is suitable range for wild sheep. Elk have taken over some of it and domestic sheep are making huge inroads upon part of the range.

While it is not likely sportsmen will ever have an open season on wild sheep, which are among the most colorful animals in the Lone Star state, three ranchmen of the Trans-Pecos are leading the fight to help the species survive. They are A. F. Yates, Vivian McAdoo and T. M. Pyle, upon whose lands most of the wild sheep range is found.

Texas sold more than one-twentieth of the federal duck stamps that were purchased by sportsmen throughout the United States during the period from July 1, 1938, to June 15, 1939, being fifth in total sales, a report of the U. S. bureau of biological survey reveals. A total of 57,675 one dollar-duck stamps were bought by Lone Star state hunters.

Minnesota led with 116,196. Michigan was runner-up, having sold 79,129. Wisconsin accounted for 78,911 and California, by showing a big increase over the previous fiscal year, was the other state ahead of Texas with a total sale of 61,790.

Total sales for the 1938-39 period were 984,401. Funds are used by the biological survey to supplement other funds used for the purchase and maintenance of migratory wildfowl refuges in the United States and Alaska.

Duck stamps for the 1939 season went on sale July 1 at all first and second class postoffices.

One of the most unusual instances of charity in wildlife on record was discovered recently by Horace LaGrone, a school teacher of Deadwood, Panola county, Texas, it is reported by Hilbert R. Siegler, regional game manager for the game department. Mr. LaGrone recently observed a bluejay repeatedly feeding another adult jay. After calling State Game Warden Ray Biggerstaff's attention to the unusual occurrence, LaGrone killed the bluejay receiving the food. He discovered this jay could not have fed himself because he had no lower mandible.

Neal Wood of near Tatum, Rush county, Texas, is one farmer who will not allow insectivorous birds to be killed on his lands and especially sparrows, that species which is regarded in many quarters as a distinct nuisance. Mr. Wood had found that the sparrows had entirely cleaned out the army worms from his cotton patches.

Bats, protected by law in Texas because of the effective work in helping to keep down insect crops can be seen by tens of thousands in some places in the state. Dr. A. J. Nicholson, regional game manager for the game department, recently observed a flight of bats from a large cave near Bracken in Comal county which continued for one hour and 45 minutes. The flight was approximately 25 feet wide and a foot thick. One bat didn't get to its usual night foraging sport for a blue-darter hawk swooped down into flight of bats and carried one off to be part of his evening meal.

The Mexican three-tailed bat is the most common of a large number of species found in Texas.

CITATION BY PUBLICATION

THE STATE OF TEXAS,

To the Sheriff or any Constable of Crockett County—Greeting: You are hereby commanded, that you summon, by making Publication of this Citation in some newspaper published in the County of Crockett, if there be a newspaper published therein, but if not, then in a newspaper published in the nearest County to said Crockett, for four consecutive weeks previous to the return day hereof, Sam Ratliff, whose residence is unknown, to be and appear before the Hon. District Court, at the next regular term thereof, to be holden in the County of Crockett at the Court House thereof, in Ozona, Texas, on the 3rd Monday in September, A. D., 1939, same being the 18th day of September, A. D., 1939, then and there to answer a Petition filed in said Court, on the 5th day of March, A. D. 1939, in a suit numbered on the Docket of said Court No. 710, wherein Annie Ratliff, is plaintiff and Sam Ratliff, is defendant. The nature of the plaintiff's demand being as follows, to wit:

Plaintiff represents to the Court that she is and has been for a period of 12 months prior to exhibiting the petition herein, an actual bona fide inhabitant of the State of Texas, and has resided in said County of Crockett at least six months next preceding the filing of this suit. That on June 21, 1933 in Pecos County, Texas, Plaintiff was lawfully married to Defendant, then a single man and that they continued to live together as husband and wife until about the 9th day of November, 1933, when Defendant left Plaintiff with the intention of permanently abandoning her, since which time they have not lived together as husband and wife.

Plaintiff alleges that during the time she and Defendant lived together as aforesaid, she was kind and affectionate to him and always administered to his needs and desires as a dutiful wife should but that Defendant unmindful of the duties and obligations of his marital vows did in November, 1933, without any cause or provocation on the part of Plaintiff leave Plaintiff with the intention of permanently abandoning said Plaintiff. There were no children born as a result of this marriage.

Plaintiff alleges that Defendant's actions and conduct toward her generally in permanently abandoning Plaintiff are of such a nature as to render their living together as husband and wife insupportable the premises considered.

Wherefore, Plaintiff prays the Court that Defendant be cited by publication as required by law, to appear and answer herein for judgment dissolving said marriage relations, for costs of suit and for such other and further relief, special and general in law and equity that she may be justly entitled, to, etc.

Herein fail not, and have present before said Court, on the said first day of the next term thereof, to writ, with your endorsement thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

Given under my hand and seal of said Court, at office in Ozona, Texas, this, the 7th day of July, A. D. 1939.

Sheriff, Crockett County

Spacious Low-Priced Home

Severity and simplicity of design combine with efficiency of layout to make this two-story and basement home an inexpensive but commodious dwelling.

The home is situated in Lancaster, Ohio, where it was built with the assistance of a $2,500 mortgage insured by the Federal Housing Administration.

The placement of the entrance permits the maximum of privacy for the living room. The upstairs sleeping quarters are reached through a hall without the necessity of passing through any downstairs room. All rooms on both floors have cross ventilation.

Quitting Job May Result In Loss Of Jobless Benefits

Workers in Crockett county this week were advised not to walk off a job and expect to draw all their unemployment benefits.

H. H. Rumph, supervising examiner for this district, said, "Quitting without good cause may result in a claimant's being assessed one of the stiffest penalties of the unemployment compensation law."

He explained that the penalty for quitting without good cause ranges from the loss of one benefit check to the loss of all benefit checks.

"The intent of the law is to help the worker who is unemployed through no fault of his own," Rumph declared, "and it is not to be confused with old age benefits or relief."

Big Load Off His Mind

"Ah bet yuh was relieved when yuh found it wasn't a spook foller in' you last night," said Sam. "Ah was so relieved," replied Rastus, "that Ah slowed down to a gallop."

Little Boy: "Can you give me anything for relieving pain?"
Doctor: "Where is the pain?"
Little Boy: "It hasn't come yet, but daddy is just reading my school report."

Investigator: "How is the telephone service around here? Are they always prompt?"

Native: "They're prompt in part; they never miss sending my bills on time."

Vetoed Highway Million Is Read Back In Budget

Engineer Opines Gov. Had No Intention to Cripple Dept.

Relative to the veto by the Governor of approximately $1,000,000 of the appropriation to the highway department for the next biennium, Julian Montgomery, state highway engineer, issued the following statement today:

In January, 1938, the state highway department, upon the recommendation of Thomas H. MacDonnell, chief of the federal bureau of public roads, employed Mr. Owens of the Missouri highway department to make an efficiency survey of the department's office and field methods and procedures. The department substantially followed the recommendations of Mr. Owens' survey, and, beginning last September, the personnel of the department was reduced by 115 employees and the operating expenses were decreased by approximately $150,000 annually, or more than $300,000 for the biennium.

As matters stand today, the personnel of the highway department has been reduced to the absolute minimum required for efficient operation.

Heretofore, only the departmental employees at the central office in Austin were itemized in the Appropriation bill. For the first time in the history of the department, the recent Legislature itemized 327 field employees which heretofore never had been itemized in the Appropriation bill. These employees had been carried en masse in the same way that several thousand of the department's other field employees always were provided for in the Appropriation bill, namely, through a general authorization to the highway commission to employ such personnel as was necessary efficiently to conduct the department's business. The Legislature, in its wisdom, decided, however, that it was proper to itemize these 327 field employees in the Appropriation bill for the coming biennium.

The itemization of these 327 field employees for the first time made it appear that the appropriation to the state highway department was increased for the biennium by more than $1,000,000, when, as a matter of actual fact, the 327 positions itemized by the last Legislature always have been filled by the highway department, but never have been shown specifically in the Appropriation bill. Accordingly, the itemization of $1,000,000 shown in the present Appropriation bill for these 327 field employees is not an increase in the department's appropriation.

It is my opinion that Governor O'Daniel had no desire actually to reduce the needed personnel of the state highway department and thereby interfere with its efficient operation. It is my belief that the governor felt that the practice followed in previous years of carrying these positions as non-budget items was more simple and that to permit the itemization of these positions in the Appropriation bill for the next biennium would create the erroneous impression that the highway department was receiving $1,000,000 more for the biennium than formerly, while other departments were being cut approximately 10 per cent. This impression would exist despite the fact that the biennial appropriation for the highway department actually had been reduced approximately $300,000. It also is my opinion that Governor O'Daniel sincerely felt that if he vetoed the 327 field positions not heretofore itemized, the Department's general authority granted in the Appropriation bill to employ all personnel necessary for the construction and maintenance of the highway system was sufficient to enable the department to continue the 327 itemized field positions vetoed by him.

It was explained to the governor that the department already had reduced its personnel by 115 and its operating expenses by more than $300,000 for the biennium without unduly limiting or restricting efficient operations, all of which the governor understood and appreciated.

For such reasons it is my opinion that the governor simply wanted to place the itemized appropriations for the highway de-

Russell-Moss Wedding Rites Read Here Sunday

A ceremony read by the Rev. Eugene Slater, pastor of the Methodist church, at 6 o'clock Sunday morning united in marriage Miss Ada Moss and Rex Russell. The wedding took place at the Joe Oberkamp home in the presence of a few close friends.

The bride wore a navy suit with white trimmings and blue accessories. Her corsage was of gardenias. Mrs. H. B. Tandy sang "At Dawning" accompanied by Mrs. Bryan McDonald, who played during the ceremony.

After the ceremony, the bride cut the three-tiered wedding cake, which was topped with a miniature bride and groom. The dining table was laid with an Italian cut-work cloth made by the bride's mother, Mrs. Minnie Crumley, Miss Catherine Chapman and Mrs. Arthur Kyle presided in the dining room. Shasta daisies and white candles decorated the rooms.

Mrs. Russell has been head of the home economics department of the Ozona high school for the past nine years. She is a graduate of North Texas State Teachers' College at Denton and has just recently returned from the University of Texas, where she completed all her work for a masters degree with the exception of her thesis.

Mr. Russell, a son of Mrs. D. W. Russell and a native of Ozona, has been connected with Joe Oberkamp's for a number of years. After a wedding trip through New Mexico and Colorado, the couple will be at home in Ozona.

Girls Choose Favorites Cream of the Feminine Crop

Beauty and popularity raised these two girls to the height of campus fame at Texas State College for Women recently. Miss Juanita Taliaferro, a Denton senior, was elected the most beautiful student this summer and Miss Evalie Rushing of Lott won the title of most popular. Winners in the annual contest sponsored by the Lass-O, campus weekly, they were presented at a formal prom a few nights after their election. Both girls are active in numerous social and class organizations, and Miss Rushing is president of the senior class.

Torrential Rain--

stood the rush.

Lumber from the wrecked stalls and board fence at the fair grounds was reclaimed by the fair association after it had been salvaged by Mexicans during the height of the Gurley draw's overflow. Work that has been done by the highway department on the new road around the Mexican point south of town was badly damaged by the high water.

Ozona recorded a total of four inches of rain in the two or three-hour period of the fall here Thursday morning. The night before a slow all-night rain had brought a precipitation of a half inch, to make a total of 4 1/2 inches in 18 hours. Practically every section of the county was visited by the weekend rains, the fall averaging around an inch over most of the territory, with some areas reporting as little as a half inch.
