Teachers Welcome Winter Moisture In Drouth Area

Dry Soil Soaks up Two Inches in Past Two Weeks Period

Two inches of moisture and up to nearly three inches in some areas, has been winter's gift to a drought stricken ranching area of West Texas in the past three weeks.

Although some of the welcome moisture came in the form of ice, sleet and snow, it was none the less welcomed for its benefit to range conditions, both during the rest of the winter and for early spring growth of range feed on wooded acres.

Last Saturday a general rain throughout this West Texas area was the most cordially welcomed of all that has fallen in the past three weeks period. Falling on a soil that has been parched before the previous week and the week before that by the coating of ice and snow, with accompanying damage to transportation and widespread damage to public utilities, but beneficial to agriculture, Saturday's all-day slow rain, all the more moisture into the parched earth and ranching area than it has had in more than a year over most of this area.

The Saturday rain, falling slowly throughout the day and into the night, totaled .66 of an inch. The rain was heavier over most of the country, with many ranching areas to the south and west reporting as much as an inch.

The cloudy weather and sleet this week will help to send the moisture deeper into the parched earth and ranching areas are hopeful that with favorable weather the rains will bring a winter weeds and serve as a foundation for drouth recovery. Spring bring more moisture at the right time.

Although the temperature did not reach the lows registered previously this winter, the bluenosed weather which whipped into West Texas Monday afternoon brought a probably the most disagreeable weather of the winter, a cold north wind which cooled the temperature from a high of 50 plus at noon to below 30 before night fall. Freezing sleet and snow came down with the new cold wave. The temperature sagged to 20 on Tuesday morning and stayed in the low twenties for the rest of the day and that night, with some light rain. The temperature Wednesday morning forecasters promised a break in the cold by today, with possible rainfall over the area.

Mexican Man Dead in Home

Julio Vasquez, about 60 years old, was found dead in his home early this morning. Vasquez had been ill for several days, suffering from what was believed to be heart disease. Neighbors went to his home Wednesday night to inquire about his condition, but finding the door locked did not enter. After daylight this morning they looked through a window and saw the body sprawled on the floor in the bedroom. He had been dead several hours. Funeral arrangements are pending this morning. Vasquez had worked in yards for several years.

Wings Over Jordan Choir To Return Here February 7

Famous Negro Choir To Be Sponsored Again by Rotary Club

"Wings Over Jordan," which has won the title of the world's greatest Negro choir, will make its second appearance in Ozona on Monday, February 7, again under sponsorship of the Rotary Club.

The famous Negro choir thrilled a large Ozona audience which almost filled the high school auditorium when the choir appeared for its first concert here last year. So enthusiastic was the local reception of the group of singers that the choir is playing the local engagement this year without requiring a guarantee from the sponsoring club.

The group, which has broadcast over the Columbia network the past ten years or more, will present two concerts while here, one in the afternoon starting at 3 o'clock for the school children and at 8 o'clock in the evening, both in the high school auditorium.

The chorus was organized in Cleveland, Ohio, by the Rev. Glen T. Settles, then pastor of the Cleveland Gethsemane Baptist Church, who is still the group's director and manager. From appearances in nearby communities, the choir gained rapid fame and its first radio concert was over a Cleveland station after which Columbia Broadcasting Co. signed the choir for regular Sunday morning programs over its network. Since then the choir has thrilled millions of radio listeners.

Preserving and perpetuating the sacred Negro Spirituals has become a major project of the organization under Rev. Settles' direction. It is carried on in the interest of better interracial relations and the fostering of a deeper universal appreciation of the cultural and artistic background of the American Negro.

"Negro or white, regardless of religious preference, all people can feel the beauty and sincerity expressed by the Spirituals," says Rev. Settles. They are the creation of a God fearing people who expressed their sorrow, joy, hopes and fears through the medium of prayer which flows from their hearts in music. Wings Over Jordan sings these songs, which are the heritage of the American Negro, as they were created.

Woman Falls Into Open Stove Firebox, Critically Burned

Julia Vasquez, wife of Alcario Vasquez, ranch hand employed on the W. A. Childress ranch, suffered critical burns shortly before noon Tuesday when she fell into the open firebox of a wood stove at the ranch home occupied by the couple.

Mrs. Vasquez was subject to epileptic seizures and suffered such a seizure as she was putting a stick of wood into the stove. She fell across the stove with her hand and part of her arm in the firebox. Her small daughter pulled her away from the stove and she was rushed to a San Angelo hospital where attending physicians pronounced her condition as critical. It was thought possible that it would be necessary to amputate the badly burned arm.

Aside from a few smashed fenders, the first casualty of the week's "ice age" is Kenneth Perdue, high school student, who broke a finger while riding a sled behind an automobile. When the car stopped suddenly, the sled scooted into the bumper and young Perdue smashed a finger in trying to lessen the collision impact.

George W. Kendrick of San Angelo, representative of the Equitable Life Assurance Society, was a business visitor here last week. Mr. Kendrick conferred with N. W. Graham, local loan correspondent for the Equitable.

Property Rendition Blanks Being Mailed To Crockett Taxpayers

Property owners of Crockett county are receiving their rendition blanks being mailed from the office of the county tax assessor and collector. These blanks are to be filled in by property owners for tax purposes in 1949, showing property owned on January 1 of this year.

All property owners in the county are urged to fill out these blanks immediately and return to the assessors office and those who do not receive the blanks by mail should call at the sheriff's office and fill out a blank.

Persons who do not own land, livestock or town property of any kind are reminded by Sheriff V. O. Earnest that they may render their automobile, jewelry or any kind of personal property to qualify themselves for voting on any issue which may be presented. Only property tax paying voters are eligible to vote in certain elections, on bond issue voting, for insatnce, and all otherwise qualified voters who wish to qualify for voting in bond elections should render some property for tax.

Sheriff Earnest also reminds this week that the deadline for paying poll taxes is drawing near. January 31 is the last day on which poll taxes may be paid to qualify for voting in any election in 1949. If you have not paid your poll tax, better not depend on the "Civil Rights" Congress to get the poll tax ban passed in time for 1949 voting in Texas.

SWING OF SOUTHWEST FARM MARKETS

(USDA) — Only cotton, corn, hay and wool were able to keep above the general wave of declining prices sweeping into trading at southwest farm markets last week, reports the Production and Marketing Administration, U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Cattle prices broke around the market circle last week under the pressure of several weeks of heavy shipments, dull demand in the dressed beef trade and competition from increased pork supplies. Losses ranged mostly from $1 to $1.50 per 100 pounds with cows suffering the most. Vealers and some stocker cattle escaped the decline. Monday's markets made an effort to erase some of these losses, but higher asking prices slowed down trading. Sales were about steady with Friday's close.

Bad weather took the blame for last week's lightest sheep and lamb receipts at southwest markets this year. But despite these small supplies, the weakness in other livestock prices crept into the market, with slaughter lambs declining around 25 to 50 cents. However, Monday saw prices turn fully steady to stronger.

Scattered sales of southwest wool were firm. Some contracts were made in Texas for 8-month wools at 60 cents per pound, f.o.b. Mohair moved slowly at steady prices.

Rain, snow and ice helped to broaden the demand for hay last week. Both southwest and midwest markets were firm. Fort Worth sold U. S. No. 1 grade alfalfa at $39.50 to $42.50 per ton, wholesale. Kansas City quoted some grades at $30 and up.

Most wholesale prices of feeds worked their way lower last week. Cottonseed and alfalfa meal took the sharpest tumble. Bran and shorts withstood the decline fairly well.

Since Monday a week ago, corn went up a half to 3 cents per bushel, sorghums a nickel and barley a penny. Oats lost about a half cent and wheat remained the same.

Furniture Dealers May Aid Drive to End Misuse of Mohair Label

SAN ANGELO — Retail dealers here at the recent furniture market in Chicago expressed great interest in the campaign to end misuse of the term mohair in upholstery and other products containing little or no mohair, according to information received by Ernest Williams, secretary, Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers' Association. The program provides for notification to Better Business Bureaus of deception being practiced upon the trade and the public and includes application to the Federal Trade Commission for rules governing the use of the word mohair. It is based on remarks made to the Annual Convention of the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers' Association by Nathaniel Duval, sales manager of the Massachusetts Mohair Plush Company.

Today furniture manufacturers have difficulty in determining the mohair content of many upholstery fabrics.

Under terms of a resolution passed by the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers' Association, it is required that where the word mohair is used on any product without a statement of percentage of mohair present, the product must contain a minimum of 50 per cent mohair. Further, where the product contains less than 50 per cent mohair, an exact statement of the percentage present must be made. The requirement would cover all identification labels and tags as well as other advertising.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Who's A Foreigner?

While I'm waiting for a haircut the other day, Slim Hartman lets slip with a crack about those "foreigners" who live by the depot.

"Now wait a minute, Slim," snaps Doc Sherman. "Don't forget we're all 'foreigners' more or less. Some of our families have simply been here longer than others. But even if they came over on the Mayflower, they were foreigners to the Indians."

Slim gets a little red and you could see that Doc had him. "And the reason they came here," he goes on, "was to find freedom to do and think as they wanted to so long as they didn't tramp on the rights of the other fellow."

From where I sit, America became the great land it is today through our being tolerant of different people and different tastes—whether it's a taste for square dancing or waltzing, radio or movies, goat's milk or a temperate glass of sparkling beer.

Clark-Owens Nuptials Celebrated in Iraan

Miss Nelda Jean Clark, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Delfo Clark of Westbrook, and W. W. (Amos) Owens were united in marriage on January 24 in Iraan, Texas. Mr. Owens is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Owens, Crockett county ranch couple and is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Wilse Owens of Ozona.

The bride is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Hardee of Colorado City.

Jack Hedrick, minister of the First Christian Church of Iraan, performed the single ring ceremony in the presence of members of the immediate families.

For her wedding ensemble, the bride chose a navy blue, gabardine suit, with white blouse. A high neckline and peplum back accented with self covered button trim. The skirt was cut on slender lines. Her accessories were grey and she wore matching grey suede sandals. Her half hat was of navy and featured a short veil. A corsage of red carnations completed her ensemble.

honeymoon in the mountains of New Mexico. On their return they will make their home on a ranch in Crockett county, where the groom is engaged in the sheep business.

The bride and groom were high school sweethearts, having finished Iraan High School in 1948, and 1947 respectively. The bride attended Draughon's Business College in Abilene after graduation from high school.

The bride was named honoree at a lovely gift tea on Friday evening, January 21st, in Iraan. Setting for the party was the banquet room of the Lunch Kit.

White stock and fern were used on the registration table which was laid with a Maderia cloth. Mrs. Earl Leverich presided at the satin-bound bride's book. White carnation and fern and potted ivy were placed at vantage points about the room and centered the gift tables. Imported Venetian point lace was used on the gift tables. Appointments of crystal and silver graced the refreshment table. Silver tea and coffee services flanked the wedding cake of unusual design. The cake was fashioned after a sheet of music with the traditional wedding march on one side and the names, Amos and Nelda, on the other. Mrs. A. L. Ford poured tea and Miss Marcella Coleman presided at the coffee service. Mmes. G. Roberts and C. C. Schweikhardt served cake. Illumination was provided by tall white tapers in crystal candelabra.

Miss Barbara Lee played a medley of love songs throughout the tea hours.

In the receiving line were the honoree, her mother, Mrs. Delfo Clark, her grandmother, Mrs. F. W. Hardee, Mrs. Jeff Owens, mother of the groom, Mrs. Wilse Owens, grandmother of the groom, Mrs. Jim Watts of Alpine, sister of the groom and Miss Delpha Sue Clark, sister of the bride.

Calling hours were from 7 p.m. until 9 p.m. Hostesses were Mmes. Charles Watson, C. C. Schweikhardt, C. S. Wood, O. K. Powell, G. Roberts, Edward A. Lee, E. Leverich, Earl Meadors, A. L. Ford, H. P. Cartney and John Monroe.

Some of the students home between final examinations and the beginning of the next semester are Joyce West from S. M. U., Joe Perry and Bill Forehand from A&M, and Nat Read from N. T. A. C.

Early Baggett, who recently underwent treatment in a Temple hospital, has returned to his home here. The doctors apparently did a good job of putting him back in order.

WSCS Approves Circle Plan; Three Circles To Be Organized

The Women's Society of Christian Service of the Methodist Church met Wednesday afternoon at the Chapel at 2 o'clock for a business meeting called by the president, Mrs. E. A. Harrell, for the purpose of adopting a report of the committee appointed to study the Circle plan of Society organization.

It was voted to form three Circles, each of which will choose its own officers, time of meeting and course of action. Each of the Circles will be a member of the Executive Board and will report at the regular monthly business meetings. In February a social will be given at which time names of members of the Society will be drawn for membership in the three Circles.

Mrs. E. E. Lippman was elected treasurer of the Society to succeed Mrs. J. E. Baggett, and Mrs. Joe Clayton was chosen first vice president to succeed Mrs. E. A. Harrell, who was elevated to the presidency.

Beginning at 2 o'clock the group began its study of "China in Asia Today," conducted by Mrs. E. E. Lippman. Mrs. Stephen Turner read a paper on "A Journey Through China," and Miss Frances Taylor discussed "Characteristics of the Chinese." Mrs. Carolyn Williams closed the study with the devotion.

It was announced that a Mexican supper will be served at the Community Center tonight (Thursday) from 6 o'clock to the Ladies' American Mother's Club. A cover charge of $1 will be made to reservation.

The next meeting of the Society will be held at 2 o'clock Wednesday, February 2, at the Chapel to continue the study on China.
