Greyhound Is Wrecked On 80 West Of Loraine

LORLAINE, May 7. (AP)—A loaded Greyhound bus overturned on a rain-slick road near here Saturday. One passenger was killed and 31 injured, one critically.

Lubbock Flood Claims One Life, Does Severe Damage

By The Associated Press

Floodwaters rose into 350 Lubbock homes and took one life Saturday, raising Texas' violent weather toll to five dead and 36 injured.

Thirty-one others were injured. Mrs. Ira Duke was electrocuted at Lubbock when she pulled a light cord after water came up into her house.

And no rivers to overflow. But before the waters subsided late Saturday they had risen in the business and in the lower residential sections.

Two of the dead and five of the injured were at tornado-stricken Sundown, 45 miles west of Lubbock. Property damage was estimated there at $100,000, and 15 homeless families were being cared for.

At Lockney, Mrs. W. F. Pierce, mother of two children, was killed by lightning.

For hours the City of Lubbock was isolated from highway travel, and for hours no plane could land.

The Rev. Bill M. Scott, 22, and his daughter, Pamela, 4, were the victims of Sundown's Friday night tornado.

And a sixth death—out of the storm area—was that of five-year-old Eugene Kinney at Houston. He was drowned in a pool formed by recent rains filling a place where some draglines had been working.

Under the rains, Tech Terrace, an addition of fine homes, became a sea of water. The impressive tide lapped over windowsills of many Lubbock homes.

Insurance adjusters estimated damage to Lubbock homes and property—damage caused by a 5.13 deluge of rain which flooded the almost level city—would be $150,000 to $250,000.

There was also the cost of replanting 300,000 to 500,000 acres of cotton in fields which became shallow lakes under the heavy rainfall. That cost was estimated at $750,000 to $1,250,000—but a bumper crop because of the moisture was expected to offset the loss later.

Heavy rain fell 14 miles north of Lubbock and more rains threatened the entire section of flat lands around that city.

The Lubbock area took stock Saturday of one of the worst 24 hours of rain and windstorms in its history. Lubbock has no creeks to swell, and a great cold front, cause of all the violent weather—including four tornadoes—brooded, immobile, over the whole spreading area. More rain, more unsettled—perhaps vicious—weather was in the offing. When the cold front invaded Texas Thursday night and Friday, two tornadoes hit the Panhandle. They did little damage,

Stormy weather continued to spatter West Texas with hail and rain Saturday night. Odessa had a heavy, ten-minute hailstorm, but there were no reports of widespread damage there.

BRITON IS OPTIMISTIC Bevin Sees Accord On German Problem

BERLIN, May 7. (AP)—British Foreign Secretary Bevin voiced optimism Saturday for a successful agreement with the Russians on the German problem.

"We have had enough quarreling and now we all want peace," Bevin said upon his arrival for week-end conferences with British and German officials.

The Briton will sit with foreign ministers of Russia, the United States and France in Paris May 23 and obviously intended to collect here as much first-hand knowledge of the German situation as possible. He said he had "a lot to do" in a short time.

Staffs of the Military governments already have started the machinery to move traffic when the Russians lift their blockade of Western Berlin next Thursday, May 12.

U.S. and British liaison offices instructed German rail men to begin moving their trains from Frankfurt at 12:01 a.m. That day, with a goal of dispatching 24 trains carrying 28,000 tons of consumer goods raw materials, coal and food. The first will reach the border of the Russian zone at Helmstedt after daylight. Trains also are being put in readiness in Western Berlin to take off at midnight.

Germany is eight hours ahead of central standard time. This means Frankfurt trains will get under way at 4:01 p.m. CST, Wednesday.

The Russians have given no sign at exactly what time their barricades will be lifted. British officials said this information probably will be obtained by telephone Wednesday.

A military government spokesman said the United States, Britain and France will lift all counter-blockade measures against the Soviet zone of Germany as soon as the first western train goes through a Russian check point.

Contract On New Air Terminal To Be Awarded Tuesday

Formal letting of the contract on the new municipal air terminal is due at the regular meeting of the city commission Tuesday evening.

Approval was received Friday from the CAA after the city had submitted the list of low bidders on the job that figures almost $50,000.

As soon as bonds can be posted, a work order is due to be issued, said H. W. Whitney, city manager. This means that contractors may move in around the middle of May. The CAA is participating equally with the city in construction of the new headquarters building at the port.

Also on the agenda for Tuesday is the second reading of the proposed new taxicab ordinance.

Canadian Writer Succumbs Friday

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif., May 7. (AP)—H. Bedford-Jones, 62, author of historical novels and prolific short story writer, is dead. A two-year heart ailment claimed the Canadian-born writer Friday.

Author of some 500 books, Bedford-Jones had lived here 19 years. He was born in Napanee, Ont.

Reviewing The Big Spring -Week-

Joe Pickle

Take a good look. You are seeing one of the better weather years of this area of West Texas. No one knows what subsequent months will bring, but the situation right now is rated as good or better at this time than in 1941 or 1932.

Through Saturday evening, the U. S. weather bureau total for the year was 6.06 inches. Of this amount 1.72 inches came in January and 3.22 in a series of showers since April 15. These were spaced so that the bulk of Howard county acreage has been planted, but by no means all. Cotton acreage will be terrific. If weather conditions in the summer are favorable, production records will be shattered. Last week's rain amounted to .32 of an inch at the bureau, 1.1 at the experiment farm and considerably heavier elsewhere.

It will be interesting to see how many roses James Eason gives away today as Mothers Day gifts. Eason, whose place is on U. S. 80 at the juncture with the Moss Creek road, has offered to give every mother coming to his place today a rose or roses. He only has about 12,000 blooming bushes now.

Big Spring is due to have another radio station. The FCC last week issued a construction permit to Leonard R. Lyon, Big Spring, for a 100-watt station to be known as KTXC. Lyon estimated that about 80 days would be required before construction can begin.

Topping of the remainder of the highway between Garden City and Big Lake is underway. This links Big Spring, Garden City and Big Lake, three county seats, for the first time via paved highway. The local chamber of commerce is considering an informal trip down south to celebrate the occasion with our neighbors.

Loads are increasing for city trucks now gathering trash from the citywide clean-up campaign. At the rate everything is growing, they could make a round a couple of weeks hence and come up with a big haul. Pressure will be on residents to use the hoe and rake to keep down an extraordinary growth of weeds and brush.

Contingent arrangements have been completed for the proposed courthouse project. Now the big job is to get the money.

Cosden Doubles Exhibit Space In Exposition

Cosden Petroleum Corp. has doubled its exhibit space in the second annual Southwest Industrial Exposition opening in Fort Worth Monday.

Last year Cosden had but one booth but received hundreds of favorable comments on the products display and souvenirs. This year two spaces (161-A and 162-A) are being utilized for an enlarged and more interesting display.

Cosden will have a miniature refinery, such as was exhibited a year ago and subsequently shown at other expositions. An additional attraction this year will be miniature replica of Orme (Arlington, Texas) Products Terminal, complete with all the paraphernalia.

REPORT LOCAL PROJECT 72 PER CENT COMPLETED

VA Hospital Making Good Progress

Nearing the three-quarter mark on its progress chart, the Veterans Administration hospital project here is nearing completion of outside brickwork on the main building of the six million dollar job.

Louis G. Bradley, engineer in charge for the U. S. Corps of Engineers, said that estimates were that the hospital was 72 per cent toward completion.

By the end of this week, the floor of the center section is in place and stone and aluminum trim will go up rapidly in this area.

With the exception of floor tile crews, weather strippers, and some miscellaneous crafts, all major groups are now at work on the project. Extensive plaster work is underway in the main building and plaster walls have been completed in the attendant's quarters to the northeast.

Some marble work has begun, principally in shower partitions and terrazzo crews are at work on border and floor designs. Rough tile partitions in the north part of the building are in place. Walls are to be started soon on the nurses' quarters. A substantial amount of plumbing fixtures have been set.

Elevators in the hospital are about 95 per cent complete; mail drops are in place, a pair of 500 KVA transformers are set and a 200 KVA transformer is due to be installed this week.

Concrete paving, curb and gutters on the hospital tract are about 75 per cent complete. The stack work on the power plant is complete, the garage, shops, etc. well toward completion.

Status of the manager's quarters, and duplexes is about the same. No tests have yet been run on the overhead water storage tank pending arrival of proper pumping facilities. Considerable trim work remains for the main building but will proceed steadily with completion of the outside brick laying. Meanwhile, crews will concentrate on inside masonry. Machines for the mechanical ventilation are being placed as the project heads for the home stretch. Completion is due toward the end of this year.

BECOMING A LANDMARK — Looming large over the Big Spring skyline to serve as landmark from practically all directions, the impressive main building of the Veterans Administration hospital project is now 72 per cent along the road to completion. This is a recent view. — (Photo by Jack M. Haynes)

Fear Kashing Has Fallen To Chinese Reds

SHANGHAI, Sunday, May 8. (AP)—All communications have been lost with Kashing, strategic rail city 62 miles southwest of Shanghai, an official announcement said Sunday.

The communique from the Shanghai garrison did not say flatly that Kashing had fallen to the Communists, but such announcements seldom mean anything else.

Only a few hours before the government reported repelling the Reds at the Kashing airport.

The Communists, in a broadcast Saturday night, announced capture of a town 33 miles north of Tsingtao in a drive aimed at that anchorage of the U. S. western Pacific fleet.

The Communists, in a broadcast from Peiping, also reported capture of the last two Nationalist holdout cities in the north on the Peiping-Hankow railway and declared:

"Now all North China is liberated."

Actually, Tsingtao and the far northwestern provinces remain in Nationalist hands.

The Shanghai Nationalist Garrison reported continuing Red pressure on the other defenses of Shanghai, but said all attacks were repelled in sharp fighting.

STORM ACCOMPANIES DOWNPOUR

Big Spring Area Gets Heavy Rain

Weather turbulence kicked up again Saturday night to dump torrents of water on the Big Spring area.

A flooding fall of about a half-hour's duration accounted for .38 inch in the weather bureau's gauge at the airport. This last downpour brought the official total since Friday night to 1.05 inches.

The rain, here and at neighboring points, was accompanied by a dazzling electrical storm. There were no reports reaching The Herald, however, of lightning hits.

Some store owners spent anxious moments as a huge volume of water cascaded down Runnels street from Fourth to First. Water stood almost at curb level in the 300 block of Runnels, but receded rapidly after the downpour.

Sand bags and other storm gear were secured at entrances to the Settles hotel and at several other buildings. The water never quite topped sidewalk level, however.

Automobiles drowned out in high water at the foot of Runnels street at the height of the run-off, and traffic moved cautiously along West Third street from Bell street westward.

There was some hail with the brisk rain. The storm subsided locally as it moved on to the southeast. At 10:30 Saturday night, Garden City reported only a light drizzle.

Other nearby localities reported downpours matching that in Big Spring, with estimates of total ranging from a half to one inch. Stanton said it had a heavy downpour, while a hard rain and a severe electrical storm visited Lamesa. The fall was estimated up to an inch in the Vincent area, while at Coahoma, from one-half to three-quarters of an inch fell.

Forsan was having brisk showers at mid-evening, while both Ackerly and Koost reported "hard rain." None of the points reported hail or wind damage.

Completion Of City Paving Contract Delayed By Showers

Two showers within the past week have delayed completion of the city's current paving program.

Brown & Root, contractors, had planned to fire their hot mix plant Saturday morning, but the weather interfered. Now it will be the fore part of this week before the topping mix can be run. Meanwhile, there may be a necessity for minor reshaping of base material.

Approximately 13 blocks of topping is to be run and will require, with good weather, all of this week. Showers threatened curbing on the North Gregg and Lamesa highway paving project being handled by the state highway department. The old street and base had been removed to the sub-grade, causing run-off from the north slopes to gnaw at the curbing base. However, no significant damage had resulted at noon Saturday.

Coalition Drive For Cut In Spending May Face Showdown

By JACK BELL, Associated Press
 WASHINGTON, May 7.—A coalition drive for a cut in government spending appears headed for a Senate showdown early next week.
 Sen. Ferguson (R-Mich.) said today he expects the fight to start when administration Democrats call for another vote on the move which recently sent a $2,400,000,000 labor-federal security money bill back to committee with orders for a 5 per cent cut in operating costs.
 Sen. Green (D-R.I.) has said he will offer a motion to reconsider that action.
 "I think we have the votes to beat that move," Ferguson told a reporter.
 Discussing the size of government expenses, Sen. Byrd (D-Va.) said he thinks Congress might have to raise $10 billion in new taxes next year if it doesn't practice some economy now.

 "I don't know where we could get another $10 billion in taxes," he commented.
 "We get only about $11 billion from corporations now and we couldn't put much more on them. Individuals couldn't stand a much heavier burden and certainly excise levies can't be increased."
 Byrd estimated in the Senat Friday that on the basis of known facts there may be a $6,500,000,000 deficit in the year beginning July 1.
 "But he said this estimate was based on revenues continuing at the level they now maintain.
 "We may not get those revenues and if we don't, then the deficit could go to $10 billion," he said.
 He added that any such excursion into red ink would make it extremely difficult for this nation to continue economic aid to other nations. And he said it could cut off entirely any military aid to the Western European members of the North Atlantic Alliance.
 Senator Wherry of Nebraska, the Republican floor leader, told the Senate yesterday that the Communists are just waiting for this country to go broke.
 Observing that Russia hopes "this country will disintegrate economically," Wherry declared: "We will get neither peace nor security if the United States becomes a bankrupt nation."
 Senator O'Mahoney (D-Wyo.) said he agrees with Byrd that there ought to be some government economy. But he said the increase in government spending is a result of "conditions which required that expansion."
 He complained that economic concentration "has brought about control of our economy in a few large cities," and added that Congress "ought to create a climate in which little business can live."

Student Handless In Bomb Explosion

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., May 7. (AP)—Some Rutgers University freshman chemistry students decided to concoct a bomb in a paper drinking cup Thursday as a prank.
 The instructor was out of the room for a moment, and it seemed like fun.
 The bomb was all too effective. It blew up suddenly. As a result Anthony J. Iannarone is without hands today.
 The 18-year-old student was reported in "fair" condition at St. Peter's Hospital Friday. Both hands had to be amputated last night. He also suffered possible chest injuries.
 Two other students were slightly hurt in the blast. The university instructor said only slight damage was done to the laboratory. About 30 other students were not hurt.
 The university said the prescribed experiment which the freshmen students were doing did not contain an explosive mixture. But the students had access to other chemicals in the laboratory, a spokesman said.

Mustangs Out Front

WACO, May 6. (AP)—Southern Methodist University wrapped up the denominational track and field title of the Southwest Conference yesterday, scoring 62 points.
 Texas Christian was second with 55 and Baylor third with 53.

Four Trapped Miners Dead After Blaze

GIRARDVILLE, Pa., May 7. (AP)—Four miners were found dead Friday after rescue workers battled 48 hours to reach them in an anthracite shaft filled with smoke and fumes from an underground fire.
 The four bodies were discovered 600 feet below the surface, close together in a tunnel running off the main shaft.
 A deputy coroner said apparently they died shortly after the fire broke out last Tuesday night in the No. Five colliery of the Gilberton Coal Co.
 Joseph Kupulis, who led the five man rescue crew which found the bodies, said there were indications the four men had walked up a sloping tunnel from the mine's 80-foot level and then collapsed.
 The four miners were William Kelly, 49, Joseph Wovak, 34, both of Shenandoah, Pa., Raymond E. Eye, 35, and William O'Brien, 53, Girardville.
 The mine blaze started while eight members of a night force were in the shaft. Four reached the surface.
 The initial alarm touched off a frantic effort to clear the shaft of smoke and fume that rescuers could reach the trapped men.
 Fans were installed both to blow the fumes below the level where the men were believed trapped and to suck the poisonous monoxide fumes out through air vents.
 Gradually rescue crews worked their way down the main shaft, up.

Ghost Of Raider Finds Gambling Places Deserted

HOUSTON, May 7. (AP)—The ghost of Raiding Constable Dale Richardson stalked Houston bookie shops today and found them as deserted as the mythical haunted house, although it was Derby Day.
 Word was flashed around town this morning that bookie operators had just as well take the week end to go fishing for wire service which supplies operators with horse race results, was closed again today, for the second consecutive day.
 Service was stopped shortly before noon yesterday when the word spread around town that the swashbuckling La Porte constable was back in town and apparently heading for another foray. He has a habit of raiding suspected gambling places.
 Discontinuance of service through today was bad news for bookie operators for the annual running of the Kentucky Derby and an anticipated "heavy play" was being looked forward to. Service was discontinued because of the fear of another foray by the colorful La Porte raider.

Dallas Transport Strike Is Averted

DALLAS, May 7. (AP)—AFL union employees of the Dallas Railway and Terminal Co. Friday had accepted a six to nine cents an hour wage boost—putting the stamp of approval on an agreement averting a city transportation strike.
 The wage raises ranged from six cents for workers making 80 to 90 cents an hour to nine cents for those making $1.17 an hour and their way down the main shaft, up.

Cotton Crop Is Estimated At 14,868,000 Bales

WASHINGTON, May 7. (AP)—The 1948 cotton crop was estimated Friday at 14,868,000 bales of 500-pound gross weight in final report by the Agriculture Department.
 This compares with 11,857,000 bales produced in 1947 and with a 10-year average of 12,014,000 bales. Cotton seed production was put at 5,941,000 tons compared with 4,581,000 in 1947.
 The combined value of cotton lint and cottonseed from the 1948 crop was estimated at $2,641,336,000, the highest in record. The figure in 1947 was $2,294,543,000 in 1947.
 The value of the 1948 crop of lint was put at $2,241,077,000 compared with $1,892,528,000 in 1947.
 The value of the 1948 crop of cottonseed was placed at $400,259,000 or about the same as that for the 1947 crop.
 The 1948 average price received by farmers for cotton sold prior to May 1, 1949, was 30.1 cents a pound against an average of 31.93 cents for the 1947 crop. The season average price of cottonseed was $67.40 a ton or about $18.50 below the 1947 average.
 The yield of cotton per acre last year was reported at 313.1 pounds compared with 267.3 in 1947.
 The acreage in cultivation on July 1, 1948 totalled 23,110,000 acres, or 5.5 per cent more than the 1947 acreage.

Bonds Set For Pair On Narcotics Counts

DALLAS, May 7. (AP)—U. S. Commissioner W. Madden Hill has set bond for Fred Renden and Billy F. Stone in connection with narcotics charges.
 Bonds of $1,000 each were set yesterday at a hearing for Renden and Stone. The bonds are returnable at Corpus Christi. Another bond for $500, returnable at Dallas, was set for Stone on a charge of possessing narcotics.
 Government witnesses testified a San Antonio man was arrested by government agents and a bag containing marijuana was confiscated on a Dallas-bound bus near San Antonio last week. Stone, a witness said, was arrested in Dallas with the baggage check which matched the claim number on the marijuana bag.

ELLENDER HITS EXPENSE

Closing Of Camps For DP's Urged

WASHINGTON, May 7. (AP)—Sen. Ellender (D-La.) called today for the closing of all displaced persons camps in Europe by June 30, 1950.

"If we don't get those people repatriated or moved to other countries," he said, "they will stay in camps as long as we continue to feed them."

William Hall, State Department budget officer, told a Senate appropriations subcommittee yesterday that refugees are "still arriving" at the camps and the "birth rate is a very difficult problem for which we do not have the answer."

He submitted figures showing there were 524,481 DP's in the U. S. zones in November, 1947, and 429,397 in Jan. 1, 1949, a decrease of only 96,084.

Hall was testifying on the department's request for $70,449,000 as this country's share of the expenses of the United Nations international refugee organization for the 12 months beginning next July 1.

Ellender, a member of the Senate group, said after yesterday's session that he wants the subcommittee's report to demand that every effort be made to wind up the agency by June 30, 1950.

He said it was originally supposed to last only three years and has been costing this country approximately $70 million annually.

If the camps aren't closed down said Ellender, "the high birth rate and the entry of new people will constantly increase the problem." But he added that he will oppose any attempts to liberalize the law passed by the last Congress to let DP's into this country.

Hall testified that his figures on DP's in Germany, Austria and Italy included both those in camps and those living outside of camps in the U. S. zones. All, he said, are under the protection of the refugee organization.

The State Department official said 16 nations contribute to the agency with the U. S. share set at 45.7 per cent of the total expense.

But he acknowledged that the U. S. contribution has been exceeding 60 per cent because not all of the countries who had been expected to join the organization had done so.

The "target date" for closing out IRO, Hall said, is June 30, 1950, but he added that he did not know whether the date could be met.

Five Years Given In 'Error' Slaying

ABILENE, May 7. (AP)—An Abilene barber who testified he shot the wrong person was sentenced to five years in prison.

A district court jury Friday found John Thomas Williams, 50, guilty of the murder of Jeanne Paschall.

The jury returned its verdict after two and one-half hours deliberations. Williams smiled when the verdict was read. His 10-year-old daughter grasped his hand and wept bitterly.

Miss Paschall, 19, was killed by pistol shots Oct. 17 last year as she, Williams' divorced wife, and a niece, covered in a tourist cabin bathroom.

Williams testified he shot the wrong person. He said he fired into the bathroom thinking he was shooting at Weldon Cosden, whom he claimed had broken up his home. He said he feared Cosden would come out shooting at him.

NAMED SALES MANAGER—Miss Helene Hoffman (above) was named as a $17,000-a-year new car sales manager of an automobile firm in New York City. She was described by her firm as "the first, and thus far the only woman to attain such an executive position in the automobile industry in New York City." She joined the firm in 1939 as a $25-a-week stenographer, and when the proprietor went in to the Marine Corps during the war, she kept the business going. (AP Wirephoto).

Wooden Fence Guards Shanghai

By TOM LAMBERT AP STAFF

SHANGHAI, May 7. — How well defended is Shanghai?

Beyond the city limits, it is guarded by the same type of defenses erected around Peiping, Tientsin, Suchow and Nanking — before those places fell to the Reds.

The pillboxes, barricades and soldiers I saw in a tour outside the city today were identical with those I saw around and within the North China cities last winter. There is only one exception—Shanghai also has a wooden fence.

The defenses begin to appear before the city limits are reached. They are mostly barbed wire barricades along the main roads. It would be simple to go around them.

As the city thins out toward its edges and a few small fields replace slums, pillboxes become evident. These are mud mounds with slits for gun muzzles. They share field space with graves.

On the outskirts of the city, the number of civilians decreases and the number of soldiers increases. Most of the uniformed men look like raw young farmer boys, better acquainted with the rice paddy and the hoe than with the loaded tommy guns or bayoneted rifles they are packing.

Four of them jumped into the back seat of our car as we halted at a roadblock. A sentry wanted to know our business in leaving the city. Explanations meant nothing. U. S. passports seemed to prove we were harmless.

The quartet in the back seat, loudly chewing stalks of sugar cane, seemed indifferent to our conference with the sentry. They grinned, however, at another guard who was searching a Chinese man leaving the city. The guard punched the man's cloth-wrapped bundle and roughly jerked off his hat as though he suspected something were hidden under it. All he found was a gleaming bald head.

Roadblock guards proved generally agreeable but officious. Some-how they gave the impression that it was more important to check the slight trickle of Chinese entering and leaving Shanghai than to think about the city's defense.

They check everyone—their own buddies as well as aged women; their own army trucks as well as farmers' two-wheeled carts of hay.

We saw few people entering or leaving Shanghai, compared with the numbers who went both ways last week and earlier this week. At one point today, a sentry called out attention to a single airplane overhead.

Several days ago, the air was full of planes ferrying people out of this threatened city.

Truman Presents Collier's Awards To Congressmen

WASHINGTON, May 7. (AP)—President Truman Saturday presented to Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich.) and Representative Rayburn (D-Tex.) the annual Collier's congressional awards for distinguished service to the nation in 1948.

The ceremony took place in the Rose Garden at the White House before a distinguished audience of persons in and out of official life.

To each went an engraved silver plaque and a check for $10,000 to be given to whatever public purposes the winners designate.

Vandenberg said his check will go to the First Congregational Church in his home town of Grand Rapids, Mich.

Rayburn said his check will go toward establishing a public library in his home town of Bonham, Tex., for the benefit of residents of Bonham and Fannin Counties.

He said his own documents and books will be housed in the library and that it will be a general library for the people "who have voted me into office 22 straight times."

YOUNG GIRL ADMITS DROWNING OF SEVEN-YEAR-OLD BOY IN DITCH

JOLIET, Ill., May 7. (AP)—A 13-year-old girl, in an oral statement to a deputy sheriff Thursday, told how she drowned a seven-year-old boy in a drainage ditch last Saturday.

"I had thought of killing this particular boy many times," the girl, Diane Allen, was quoted by the deputy as saying. "I decided to do it that day (Saturday)."

Diane, an eighth grade pupil, was held in the Will County jail without charge pending action by the state's attorney. She was brought to jail from her home in Oak Lawn, a Chicago suburb, after Deputy Roy Doerfler said she admitted drowning the boy, Charles Johnson.

Doerfler said Diane first told him she knew nothing of Charles' death. But as he started to leave her home, he said she told him "I did it," and started crying.

"I had nothing against him," the deputy quoted the brown-haired girl as saying. "We'd bicker and fight some times, but it didn't mean anything."

Doerfler said Diane, in a statement to him and James Clark, special investigator, told them she knotted her scarf around the Johnson boy's mouth and "then I told him I was going to drown him. He struggled some but I held him face down in the water until he didn't struggle anymore. When I got up the body turned over face up."

Trapeze Artist Injured In Fall
NEW YORK, May 7. (AP)—A trapeze performer was seriously injured last night when he plunged 40 feet to the ground before a stunned crowd of 15,000 at Madison Square Garden.
He was reported in fair condition today at a hospital.
The man, Friedrich Hersen, 34, was doing a headspin, assisted by his wife, when a trapeze bar gave way. He clutched desperately at the bar, but his grasp slipped.
The accident occurred during a performance of the Ringling Brothers, Barnum and Bailey Circus—two days before the circus leaves on its annual road tour.
The performer, billed as "The Great Greek" suffered injuries of the back, side, shoulder, wrist and possible internal injuries, the hospital said.

New Owner Quite At Home With Huge Hope Diamond

NEW YORK, May 7. (AP)—There was one awkward moment in the interview with Harry Winston, new owner of the fabulous Hope diamond.

He was talking casually to a reporter over a long, velvet-topped table. Between them, in four trays, lay the famed jewel collection of the late Evelyn Walsh McLean. The 44 1/2-carat Hope and the 100-carat Star of the East diamonds hung on a little stand.

"There's a diamond missing," the jeweler said, just a little less casually. "The little five-carat one."

A sickening pause followed. The reporter, who had never owned more than a $4.50 class pin, shuddered. But Winston, who has owned the 726-carat Jonker diamond and the 726 1/2-carat Vargas diamond was still relaxed as he hunted through the collection. Finally the missing stone was uncovered under a large ring setting.

"Funny," the jeweler said, "I can tell in a second when one's missing. Works unconsciously."

The reporter asked Winston whose gem collections are insured for "many millions" by Lloyd's of London.

"What would you have done if the stone hasn't turned up?"

"Well, for one thing," he said, "I might press this little button near my table. The police would surround the building in just a few minutes."

Winston recalled, with a nervous grin, the time he was looking at some big stones when his elbow brushed a $125,000 diamond into his waste basket. The stone was missing for three days, while everybody in the organization had themselves a small nervous breakdown searching the vaults and 1,500-odd paper packages of gems.

"Finally," he said, "three days later, we discovered the diamond—in a trash can in front of our building waiting to be dumped into a city truck. Since then, we keep all our refuse in the building for at least a week, just in case."

Another time, years ago, Winston was examining a $7,500 diamond he held in a tweezers when he turned for a second to speak to someone. "When I turned back," he said, "it was gone. I must have pressed the tweezers too hard and the stone jumped out. You'd be surprised how far they can jump."

"Eight years later, we were moving to a new building when someone took down the venetian blinds. There, about eight feet up, between two slats, was the missing diamond."

Harry Winston, "just past 50," is a stocky, suave, dark-skinned man whose continental air reflects his years of dealing with royalty all around the world.

"You know," he said there is big business. To do it, you need great knowledge. Also courage. Also you must enjoy looking at a very rare diamond because sometimes it takes 15 years to sell one.

"But most of our business is in the lower-price field. We have stones for as little as $2. The average engagement ring in this country is a quarter-carat. Retailing between $100 and $150. That's the biggest part of our trade."

Winston was born in Los Angeles. His father was a small retail jeweler and the business goes back in the family several generations. Harry started work in his father's shop at 16, studied, acquired a "feel" for gems, and then moved to New York at 21.

He started trading on his own with $2,000. After a while his reputation grew and the banks began to advance credit. The banks still back him up in some of his biggest deals.

He doesn't wear jewelry himself and personally doesn't care for it on men. Away from work, he likes to play tennis and golf and read detective stories, not necessarily about jewel thieves.

Winston is prohibited by the terms of his insurance from having his picture taken. He himself has never been subjected to any violence although years ago, after a busy day, he frequently would find himself coming home with $100,000 worth of stones in his pockets. "Please," he said with a grim smile, "please make it very clear to your readers—all your readers—that I don't every carry a single diamond on me any more. I check every pocket and cuff before leaving the office. Please make that clear."

His caution is understandable. Just a year ago one of his salesmen was kidnapped in Los Angeles with about $100,000 worth of gems. The salesman was recovered. About two-thirds of the jewelry was

Figures Stymie Claimants To Fields Fortune

LOS ANGELES, May 7. (AP)—Claimants to the fortune of W. C. Fields find themselves deep in a mathematical morass today. The case was adjourned until Monday so they can sort through the figures.

Statistics entered the battle over the late comedian's $771,000 estate when Samuel Pop, an accountant, came up with an informal record of Fields' financial doings. The comedian died Christmas day 1946.

Pop appeared at yesterday's session as a witness in behalf of Fields' sister, Mrs. Adel C. Smith and his brother, Walter Fields. The accountant said he could furnish a record of the film comic's income and expenses showing there was no California community property law before 1937.

Mrs. Smith and Walter Fields contend that if Fields were not a California resident until 1937, then the widow, Mrs. Harriet V. Fields 69, would have no right to community property before that date.

But Mrs. Fields' attorney says he has 100 witnesses who could testify that Fields was legally domiciled in California many years before 1937.

There are three other principal claimants to the estate. They are Carlotta Monti, actress friend of Fields who was bequeathed at least $50 a week for life; a son Claude Fields, and William Rexford Fields Morris, who claims to be an illegitimate son of the comedian.

INTERIM REGIME ORGANIZED

Western Germany Spurs Red Pleas

By JAMES DEVLIN Associated Press Staff Bonn, Germany, May 7. — Western Germany has said "no" to Communist pleas to halt formation of its proposed new state.

Her political leaders, meeting here Friday night, completed all but the final formalities of adopting a West German constitution. They scheduled the last step of adoption for Sunday and voted to place government in the hands of an interim organization until a regular government can be formed in July.

The constitutional convention clearly was speeding its work to beat the Wednesday midnight deadline for lifting the Berlin blockades.

The Western occupation powers want the West German government to be the one for all Germany if there is an eventual union of the Soviet zone with the American, British and French zones.

The developments came as Russia and the Western allies worked at top speed to lift their blockades at midnight Wednesday. The actual work will be done by German transportation experts.

The task involves the complicated threat of a rail workers strike. Employees who live in Western Berlin but work on Russian-controlled rail lines in the Eastern sector threatened to strike unless they are paid in West Marks. They now receive Soviet-backed East Marks worthless in the Western Sector.

The "interim organization" to handle governmental details until formation of the new West German government was assailed by Communists. They claimed it virtually created a new government without giving the people a chance to vote on it. The non-Communists pointed out that it will be in no sense a permanent organization.

The people will elect 400 delegates to the parliament's lower house or bundestag. The 11 state legislatures will choose the members of the upper house, or bundesrat. Each state will have at least three members. Some will have five, depending on population.

The convention passed the proposed constitution by a vote of 47 to 2, overriding the contention of Communists that plans to lift the blockade call also for setting up an "all-German" government which would include the Soviet and Western zones.

Sulphur Springs Students To End Walkout Monday

SULPHUR SPRINGS, May 7. (AP)—High school students will end their two-day strike and return to classes here next Monday, but they're not happy about the resignation of their principal, H. Clay Cheek.

Following a meeting Friday night, a spokesman for the students, Billy Wayne Harry, said his group decided to demand the recall of Cheek by the board.

"If they don't recall Cheek," declared Harry, "the people of Sulphur Springs are going to demand the resignation of the school board."

Both Cheek and high school Supt. Ercell Brooks resigned Friday. Their resignations were accepted by the board.

The student strike grew out of a demand by the students that the board drop a reported plan to dismiss Cheek. About 150 high school students struck Thursday and some 400 cut classes yesterday.

The chairman of the school board, John M. Sheffield, said Cheek and Brooks both felt that, for the good of all concerned, they should resign.

WHIRLWIND FINISH SEEN

Texas Legislators Take 50 Per Cent Pay Cut Wednesday

AUSTIN, May 7. (AP)—Legislators take an automatic 50 per cent pay cut Wednesday. This may help bring the 51st regular session to a whirlwind finish.

A strong movement to get the job done was taking shape as the session neared the 120-day mark. It is Tuesday. The constitution provides that senators and representatives be paid $5 a day instead of 10 after the 120th day.

The two main jobs unfinished are a final solution of the spending-taxation issue and final enactment of the last of the Gilmer-Aikin school bills.

Major accomplishment this week was completion of legislative action on two of the school measures: S. B. 115 by Jim Taylor of Kerens and S. B. 117 by A. M. Aikin, Jr., of Paris. They are on Gov. Beauford H. Jester's desk. A conference committee was named to adjust House and Senate differences in S. B. 116 by Otis Lock of Lufkin, the minimum school foundation program measure. The Senate accepted House changes in the other two.

News that the general revenue fund has exactly 134 million dollars left for spending will put the issue of appropriations and possible new taxes into the spotlight the remainder of the session. A House subcommittee is preparing an omnibus tax measure that the Legislature can go to work on if spending can not be trimmed down to fit revenue.

All but one of the major money bills that must be passed before the session can end have been sent to the floor by House and Senate Finance Committees. That is the eleemosynary appropriation, still in Senate finance. These bills have top priority and debate could start at any time.

Here in brief was this week's major action:

House: Approved and sent the Senate $2,500,000 soil conservation bill.

Passed and sent the Senate a bill requiring loyalty oaths of all state employees.

Killed a proposed federal constitutional amendment limiting presidential terms to two.

Passed 108 local and uncontested bills.

Killed in committee a bill permitting sale of liquor by the drink.

Passed on second reading the Senate-approved oil utilization bill.

Approved with amendments a Senate bill setting up a Real Estate Commission, returning it to the Senate for concurrence.

Senate: Passed 23 uncontested measures, including an appropriation for establishment of a state hospital for spastics.

Approved with amendments a bill setting up a universal fishing license and returned it to the House for concurrence.

NEWLY-FOUND VIRUS REPORTED TO CAUSE DISEASE MUCH LIKE POLIO

BUFFALO, N. Y., May 7. (AP)—A new kind of polio or a disease much like polio is caused by a newly-found virus, according to an Albany doctor.

The virus causes paralysis in humans about as often as other known polio viruses do, but the paralysis is less severe and of shorter duration. Dr. Gilbert Dalldorf reported Friday. Dalldorf, director of the division of laboratories and research in the State Health Department, spoke before the State Medical Society.

The new virus was obtained from 17 humans who had a disease that appeared to be polio, Dalldorf said. One difference in the new virus is that it causes paralysis in mice only from two to eight days old, and not in older mice. It causes no paralysis in monkeys, as do known polio viruses.

Another difference, Dalldorf reported, is that the new virus results in destruction of muscles in the unweaned mice, but doesn't seem to damage their central nervous systems. Nerve damage is thought to be the main action of regular polio viruses.

It still is not known if the new virus acts in humans as it does in mice, Dalldorf said.

West Working On Issue Of Occupation Troops In Germany

WASHINGTON, May 7. (AP)—Russia's expected proposal to withdraw all occupation troops from Germany is regarded here as one of the most difficult issues the Western Powers will have to meet at the big four ministers conference in Paris.

Indications are that the United States, Britain and France are yet to decide exactly how they will deal with the proposition if the Russians put it forward. There is no evidence that they will accept any such demand.

State Department experts are now working intensively on this and other problems expected to arise at the Paris meeting which opens May 23. On most other problems the unified American-British-French position is determined.

Plans already are under way for creation of a western German government, thus far developed against Russian opposition. Those plans will form the basis of western proposals for a government for all Germans.

The western nations are determined that the unification of all Germany must permit true personal freedom and democratic political institutions for the entire nation. This would mean a radical change in the system prevailing under the Russians.

Peasant Leaders' Terms Confirmed

BUCHARIST, ROMANIA, May 7. (AP)—The life sentences of Peasant Party leaders Julius Maniu and Ion Mihalache on charges of high treason and sabotage were confirmed today by the Romanian Supreme Military Court.

The court also rejected 13 other appeals of defendants sentenced to terms ranging from two years to life on charges of crimes against the state.

Attorneys for the accused announced they will make final appeals to the Supreme Court of the republic. In view of today's results, such appeals are regarded as having little chance of success.

Socialite Accused Of Beating Wife With Flashlight

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla., May 7. (AP)—A criminal information filed here today accused Frederick O. Hammer, 41, New York and Palm Beach social figure, with beating his heiress wife, the former Andrea Luckenbach, severely with a flashlight aboard their yacht.

Hammer already was under arrest at Daytona Beach, Fla., when County Solicitor T. Harold Williams of Palm Beach County filed the information, which alleged aggravated assault.

Williams said he understood that Hammer first obtained medical attention for his wife, then took her to Daytona Beach aboard the yacht, Hamandy, "under close surveillance."

Mrs. Hammer, heiress to millions amassed by the steamship family, "escaped from the boat while her husband was away for a time" and fled to her Palm Beach home, said Williams.

Chief Deputy Sheriff Walter I. Minten was to go to Daytona Beach later today to bring Hammer back here to face trial.

Rayburn, Vandenberg Get Collier Honors

WASHINGTON, May 7. (AP)—Speaker Sam Rayburn of Bonham, and Sen. Vandenberg, Michigan Republican, are winners of the Collier's Magazine awards for service to the nation last year.

Each will get $10,000. Rayburn was recognized for his work as minority leader and for party loyalty. Collier's called him "a real leader who never hesitated to risk his own political neck when faithfulness to party policy called on him to do so."

Blame Night Hunters In Gunshot Wounding

LAREDO, May 7. (AP)—Juan Guzman, 59, was in Mercy Hospital here Saturday with wounds by two high-power rifle bullets in both ankles.

He said the shots crashed through his truck while he and his son, Jesus Guzman, were returning Friday night from San Antonio. Authorities blamed night hunters.

Rhee Seeking Aid In Battle Against Reds

SEOUL, May 7. (AP)—Korea's Communist menace was made in Washington as well as in Moscow, President Syngman Rhee asserted today. And he asked if America stands ready to battle the Red threat to his nation.

"The Republic of Korea is struggling for its life against a Communist menace that is not of its own making," he said in a statement.

"When Japan was defeated there were no Communists in Korea. They were invited in by the division of our country across the middle, by Russian-American agreement."

The republic Rhee heads governs only South Korea, which was American-occupied after the war. A Korean Communist regime rules North Korea, which formerly was Russian-occupied.

His statement asked whether the republic could count on "all-out American aid" in case of attack.

Only a token regiment of American troops remains in South Korea now. Plans for its withdrawal in a few months have been announced.

But Kim Dong Sung, Korean director of information, declared in another statement:

"We do not believe the United States can or will withdraw its remaining troops until it has answered our question as to what will be done to aid us in case of Communist attack from across the border."

Slayer Of Railroad Man To Die In Chair

DALLAS, May 7. (AP)—A sentence of death in the electric chair at Huntsville June 7 was pronounced Friday for Umberto Ramirez Valero in the 1947 slaying of Thomas Gentry Taylor, retired McKinney railroad man. He was convicted Feb. 21, 1948, of beating his victim to death with a crackcase pan during a robbery.

New York Turns Out For Solons

NEW YORK, May 7. (AP)—Like any other tourists, some 150 congressmen and their families are taking in the sights in New York City today.

Of course, the city is going to a little extra effort to make their tour entertaining.

But the itinerary includes the usual tourist high spots: radio shows, airports, the stock exchange, a river steamboat excursion, industrial plants, the U. S. Military Academy at West Point. The senators and representatives—along with their wives and children—are guests of the commerce and industry association of New York, Inc.

Banners saying "New York City Welcomes Congress" greeted them on their arrival here from Washington late Friday. They return to Washington Sunday.

Great Future Seen For Bluebonnet Farm

WACO, May 7. (AP)—Chancellor Gibb Gilchrist of Texas A&M College predicts a great future for Bluebonnet Farm, the big experimental livestock and crop center near McGregor. The college operates the farm.

Gilchrist addressed a meeting yesterday honoring Secretary of Agriculture Charles Brannan at the farm headquarters. He thanked Brannan for aid from the department of agriculture in getting the farm into operation.

Colorado Wreck Kills Two Texans

LAMAR, Colo., May 7. (AP)—Two Texas youths were killed yesterday in the collision of their truck and a Santa Fe freight train at a grade crossing near Wiley, 10 miles northwest of here.

Highway Patrolmen identified the dead as John Levi Angel, 24, of Groom, and Edward Johnson, 15, of Amarillo.

Officers said the truck struck the cab of the locomotive on a U. S. 287 crossing. Their bodies were hurled 106 feet.

Tractor Operation Transforms Agriculture In Howard County

For a potential of more than 175,000 acres of cropland in Howard county this year there are approximately 1,150 tractors with a theoretical power of 29,000 horses at work.

On flat and mildly rolling land it is possible to plant 60 to 70 acres a day with a large four row tractor—quite an improvement over the six to seven acres a farmer could plow with a three span team and one-row machinery before the iron workhorse came into prominence.

Contrary to popular conception, the horsepower rating on tractors isn't relatively high—19 to 24 on the average, with the four-row units requiring up to 35. The gear ratio, however, is something to behold.

The tractor has proven not only useful as a time-saver but also as a crop-saver. In drouthy years, crops hinge frequently on threshers. Getting seed into the ground quickly after these brief downpours is the problem. It just couldn't be done adequately with teams of horses and mules. Now, with the tractor, the farmer is able to plant continuously, night and day, during that crucial period after the rain. Lighting equipment have become standard equipment for farm tractors for night use.

Estimates of agricultural agency personnel and tractor dealers is that the 800 farms in Howard county average one and a half tractors to the farm. These serve an estimated average of 224 acres cropland.

Contouring and terracing have presented some problems in farm operations, creating short, curving and point rows which slow cultivation. However, tractors have proven equal to the situation.

Advent of the tractor has created other new fields of activity aside from farming. Machines need attention of mechanics. Too, tires wear out, by some estimates as slowly as five years, creating a demand for several hundred tires a year as well as lots of retreading and vulcanizing. Unlike the faithful team, the new farm power source hasn't yet learned to consume hay. That means that thousands upon thousands of gallons of gasoline are required along with vast quantities of lubricating oil and grease. As recently as a decade ago there weren't over a couple of houses devoted primarily to implements and tractors. Now there are five times that number.

WINGS OVER BIG SPRING

Women Air Racers To Make Stop Here

Big Spring has been designated as an overnight stopping point for the third annual transcontinental air races for women fliers.

Jack Cook, Muny port manager, received notice Saturday that Big Spring had been selected as a key point on the races from San Diego, Calif. to Miami, Fla. Announcement was made by the Ninety-Niners, an international organization founded by the late Amelia Earhart of licensed women pilots. The race is being sponsored by the Florida chapter of the Ninety-Niners.

Starting date is June 1 and Cook estimated that most of the planes stopping here would likely arrive June 2. It was estimated that there would be 40 to 50 contestants flying single-engine, lightweight planes with 250 hp maximum. Finish of the race is scheduled to be before the all-women's world's air show in Miami June 4-5.

Two CAA men have been cited during the past week for long and faithful records of service with the federal aviation unit. They are Floyd Kimzey, chief airways communicator in charge of the CAA airways communication station here, and Otto Richardson, maintenance electronics technician.

Both men were cited for more than 10 years of service, for each had joined the CAA in 1938. L. C. Elliott, regional executive for CAA, paid tribute for a decade of service, accounting loyal and competent personnel, one of the greatest assets of the CAA. Kimzey entered service at Tucuman, N. M., and was stationed at El Paso before coming to Big Spring in 1942. Richardson entered August of 1948 from San Antonio. Kimzey's interest in aviation goes back to 1930 when he enlisted in the Navy as a radio operator on the old tri-motored Ford craft doing aerology exploration. Later he served on early-day Navy fighter craft. Richardson got his start in aviation with the Northwestern Airlines, was associated later with American Airlines. He is active as a member of the Big Spring Amateur Radio club.

Pilots from Big Spring are due to hop to Hobbs, N. M. today to extend congratulations to Granville Lasseter, an old time aviation enthusiast in these parts, on the formal opening Saturday and Sunday of his LaMiradora flying center. Beside paved runway and regular port facilities, LaMiradora also has a cafe, over-night stopping accommodations, etc.

Navy traffic boomed again during the past week at the Muny port. Civilian traffic also spurted, but thunderstorm conditions put periodic dampers on this volume of traffic.

With formal contracts to be awarded Tuesday for new airport terminal construction, actual work is due to get underway within a week or so. Already the general contractor has been making use of salvage lumber for the job.

City Building Recovers After Brief Setback

City building figures led major business indicators in a substantial recovery last week, following a brief recession which produced but limited gains. Both commercial and residential construction projects were represented in the past week's permits which numbered 18. Estimated cost totals amounted to $38,540, which extended the 1949 aggregate to $496,025.

Real estate activity also revived, based on warranty deeds recorded at the county clerk's office. Seven instruments were recorded during the week. The $40,644 involved in the new transactions put the year's total at $623,438.

The Texas Employment Commission office in Big Spring received 96 new job orders, made 74 referrals and logged 36 placements during the past week. Reception contacts at the local office totaled 323, while 34 new work applications were received. There were 325 active applications on file at the end of the week. The TEC office handled 70 claims for unemployment compensation last week.

Thornton will discuss several soil conservation factors, including some technical and educational information as well as prospects for the AAA program for next year. Jaycee representatives will present information concerning their state organization's interest in soil conservation, which has been adopted as the principal junior chamber of commerce project in Texas for this year.

The district SCS representatives will discuss technical assistance which is available to cooperators in the Martin-Howard district. A district supervisor for Zone No. 2 of the Martin-Howard district will be elected at the meeting.

Demonstration Of Wool And Mohair Judging Held Here

Eighteen Howard county 4-H club members and two from Glasscock county participated in a special wool and mohair judging and classification demonstration here Saturday at the club show barn.

Jim Gray, wool and mohair specialists from San Angelo, conducted the demonstrations. Club members judged a class of Southdown ewes, a class of Rambouillet ewes, three classes of wool and two classes of mohair. They also classified three groups of wool according to grade, length and shrinkage, and two groups of mohair according to fineness.

All club members witnessed a practical demonstration in shearing. All steps of the shearing process were covered.

In addition to the 20 club members, more than a dozen sheep raisers of the area and veterans classes observed the demonstration. Gray was assisted by County Agent Durward Levitt of Howard county, and H. M. Fitzhugh, Glasscock county farm agent.

Gray plans to return Wednesday to conduct a flock demonstration at the J. W. Overton ranch near Fort San.

Painter Remains Due Here Tuesday For Reburial Rites

Remains of Pfc. Tom Henry Painter, who died of wounds received in action against the enemy on Saipan on July 5, 1944, will arrive here Tuesday morning for final rites.

The casket will be at Nalley chapel until time for services at 3 p. m. Wednesday at the East Fourth Baptist church. The American Legion will furnish the honor guard and pallbearers and be in charge at the graveside.

Painter had been associated in Big Spring with Marvin Sewell for a decade before his entry into the service in 1942 when he received the Marine Corps reserve at Oklahoma City. He was born July 7, 1913 at Denton.

During his military service he saw action against the enemy at Guadalcanal, Tarawa and Saipan. He had earned the Bronze Star medal, the Purple Heart, posthumously the World War II victory medal. Pfc. Painter was wounded on July 4 and died the following day.

He leaves his father, W. H. Painter, Denton; his mother, Mrs. L. S. Proctor, Big Spring; two brothers, Jim Painter, Odessa, and Jeff Painter, Big Spring.

Cities Service Extends Contracts

By The Associated Press. Cities Service Oil has awarded contracts for a $4 million tube oil compounding plant at Cicero, Ill. Oklahoma's State Senate has approved a one-cent hike in the state's gasoline tax, now 5 1/2 cents per gallon.

The March 1 average retail price of gasoline in 50 representative cities across the nation was 28.50 cents a gallon, including 6.38 cents in taxes. Sinclair-Prairie Oil has extended the Southwest Maysville field in Oklahoma with two new wells flowing 1184 and 1111 barrels in 24 hours.

The Illinois State geological survey reports that recent developments indicate oil discoveries in the state will continue a long time. The 1949 budget for the oil industry information committee has been reduced to $1,500,000, compared with the $1,850,000 figure originally planned.

Opening Of Municipal Pool Set For May 29

Opening of the municipal swimming pool in the city park is scheduled for May 29. The pool will be the first Sunday after school has been dismissed for the summer, and city officials acted in cooperation with the schools in fixing this date. In previous years, mid-May opening of the pool has had a stimulating effect on absenteeism in the schools.

Taft, Myers Lock Horns Senate GOP Claims Credit For Passing Domestic Bills

WASHINGTON, May 7. (U.S.—) Senator Taft (R-O) said Saturday that major domestic legislation passed by the Senate is part of "the Republican program" and inquired "What's happened to Mr. Truman's proposals?"

Senator Myers of Pennsylvania, acting Democratic floor leader, retorted promptly that his party not only has "corrected some of the mistakes of the Republican 80th Congress, but is moving ahead with the President's program."

In separate interviews, Taft and Myers claimed credit for their respective parties in Senate approval of housing, aid to education, and school health bills.

"These were part of the Republican program that the Senate passed last year," said Taft, who heads the GOP Policy Committee. "On the other hand, to date the Democrats haven't brought forth anything new."

"They have talked about a national health program, including socialized medicine, but it doesn't look now as though they are going to try to pass it this year."

"Secretary of Agriculture Brannan has suggested a new farm program, but they don't seem to have been able yet to get it into bill form."

"As for repeal of the Taft-Hartley act, which the President talked about all the time in his campaign, the House action on that seems to speak for itself."

Stock Exchange In Semi-Coma Most Of Week

NEW YORK, May 7. (U.S.—) For one day this week the stock market behaved as though it had some relation with the outside world. Prices responded decisively to the day's news.

Most of the time, though, it was the old story—the market in a semi-coma. Business Saturday was the smallest for any Saturday since last Oct. 9. Only 240,000 shares of stock changed hands and prices barely stirred. A week ago turnover was 310,000.

News that the Berlin blockade would be lifted gave the market its biggest flip forward in the past five weeks on Wednesday. The general level of prices hovered close to the highest in a couple of months. Individual issues advanced fractions to a peak of 3 points or so, with a number at top quotations for the year.

But there was no broad public response to the foreign news on Wednesday. The volume of trading expanded above the 1,000,000-share mark but little represented new business.

On Thursday profit-taking sales chipped away at Wednesday's gains. On Friday further mild selling pressure was enough to depress the price level slightly.

Saturday's trading resulted in just about a dead heat. Only 592 individual issues appeared on a slow-moving ticker tape. Of these 179 advanced and 208 declined.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks remained at 63.3, which compared with 63 at the close last Saturday.

The House last week finally sent the only bill it even tentatively approved—a measure by Representative Wood (D-Ga) retaining many of the T-H provisions—back to committee for a fresh start.

Conceding that the Republicans had furnished help in passage of the aid to education, housing, and school health bills, Myers added that talk by GOP senators "certainly delayed the final vote on all of these bills."

"We are getting through some important parts of the President's program," Myers said. "The housing, education, and school health bills were all in our platform."

"We have voted to correct the mistake the Republican 80th Congress made in restricting the Commodity Credit Corporation's ability to acquire grain storage facilities."

"We have passed the Marshall Plan bill. Next week we are going to take up the measure, which the House already has voted, to correct the mistakes the Republicans made in continuing the reciprocal trade agreements program."

Clark Offers To Compromise On Tideland Issue
DALLAS, May 7. (U.S.—) The Dallas News will say in a dispatch from Washington Sunday that Atty. Gen. Tom Clark offered Saturday to compromise on the tideland issue: "Without spelling out details of his plans, Clark suggested the compromise could extend to division of proceeds from the development of the lands, state taxation of the developments, state proration and regulation measures." The news said.

was happening at all."
Miss Johanne Christian of Seminole, Tex., who was on her way to Hamilton, said:
"I was conscious until the bus turned over. Then I didn't remember another thing until someone was bending over me asking if I were hurt."
At mid-day many of the women passengers still were wearing blood-stained coats and dresses. The greatest concern was over their luggage. A Greyhound bus from Abilene picked up the luggage at the wreck site but there was delay in reuniting passengers and luggage.
O. Massey, head of Greyhound's personnel department, visited the site of the wreck. He said that he had waited in Abilene for Logan, the driver, but that Logan apparently had returned to his home at Pecos, or to Fort Worth. Massey said Logan is married and father of one child.

Calumet's Ponder Is First In Classic At Louisville

Beats Capot By 3 Lengths

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 7. (AP)—Ponder, doughty son of a former Derby winner, came flying in the final furlong today to win the 75th Kentucky Derby going away as a great crowd of over 90,000 roared its amazed disbelief.

So far back a half-mile from home that he appeared hopelessly beaten, the Calumet Farm's beauty turned it on as the field of 14 entered the long stretch at Churchill Downs and made the favored Olympia and all the rest look like they were standing still.

Forty yards from the finish the dark brown son of Pensive flashed past Greenleaf stable's Capot, his last rival for the $91,600 prize, and went under the wire three full lengths to the good.

Olympia, which had been backed down to an odds-on choice, led all the way until the field thundered into the final quarter, and then folded like a camp chair despite Eddie Arcaro's frantic efforts to hold him up. He finished a badly beaten sixth.

So little regard has the crowd had for Ponder, despite the fact that he was trained by that modern wizard of the turf, Ben Jones, that the winners rewarded his scattered backers with a whopping $34 in the mutuels.

Capot, which ran a consistently fine race behind Olympia for the first mile, and then went past the tiring favorite and looked like the winner a furlong from home, paid $9.60 to place. Isidor Beiber's Palestinian, third choice in the betting, came on to take third, four and a half lengths back of Capot, and paid $4.80 for show.

Strung far out behind the three leaders, in order, came Old Rocker, the second betting choice; Halt, Olympia, Model Cadet, Duplicate, Johns Jay, Ky Colonel, Lexington, Jacks Town, Wine List and finally Seneca Coin.

Ponder, ridden by Steve Brooks, was out of the starting gate a dead last. Jones, who saddled the great Citation and his stablemate, Coaltown, in last year's Derby and who now has had a record-breaking five victories in the three-year-old classic, forgot all dignity and ran out on the track to greet Ponder when Brooks brought him prancing in to receive the traditional blanket of roses.

Besides Ponder, Pensive, Whirlaway and Citation, Jones saddled the winning larvae in 1938.

Brooks, who gave the winner a beautiful ride all the way and had him rattle perfectly while the leaders wore themselves out, had ridden in only one previous derby, finishing sixth on Star Reward in the '47 race. He is a 28-year-old ex-cowboy from McCook, Neb.

Looking 'Em Over

by Tommy Hart

There's been quite a turn-over in personnel in the Longhorn baseball league in two years time. . . . Of the 135-odd athletes in the circuit, only nine have been in the organization two years. . . . That would be Pat Stasey and Bertie Baez of Big Spring, Stu Williams of Ballinger, Bob Huntley and Guin Simons of Vernon, Jake McClain and Miles Smithhart of San Angelo, and Weldon Stewart and Carriel Nipp, both of Midland. . . . Thirty-eight others have seen one year's service in the league. . . . Some of the veterans are due to lose their jobs by the coming Wednesday, when managers must limit their squads to two class-men and seven limited-service operatives along with seven rookies. . . . Orlie Moreno, the great third sacker for Big Spring in 1947, and the Washington baseball chain have severed relations. . . . Orlie had a hot debate with Joe Cambria, the Washington scout, and Cambria had the player traded. . . . Orlie was with Havana in 1948. . . . When most pitchers signal to their catcher whether or not they like the kind of pitch he is asking for, they nod or shake their heads. . . . Not so Freddy Rodriguez of the Broncos. . . . He uses his glove hand. . . . According to Shorty Shelbourne, the Midland sports writer, Bob Cruys says he isn't hitting as many home runs in the Longhorn league as he did in the WT-NM circuit last year 'because the fences are further from home plate'. . . . A Vermontville Michigan, high school boy by the name of Ken Beardslee has gained 17 pitching victories this spring, eight of which were no-hitters, five were one-hitters, two were two-hitters and two were three-hitters. . . . He has never allowed more than three hits a game.

Writer Always For Lamesa Entry

In a recent "Between You and Me" column, Amarillo sports scribe Harry Gilstrap recalls this department screamed "like a wounded tomcat" when it was suggested Lamesa be moved in to the Longhorn league. . . . We screamed, not because he favored it, but because of the manner in which he suggested it. . . . As a matter of fact, the writer was among the first who campaigned for a more compact league with such cities as Lamesa and Abilene replacing Vernon and Roswell. . . . Gilstrap stated he wanted the change because Lamesa was never able to field a team on a par with such powerhouses (his claim) as Lubbock, Amarillo and Albuquerque. . . . We resented the insinuation that the WT-NM league was any stronger than our own Class D circuit. . . . Hal Sayles, president of the Longhorn league, is all for getting Abilene and Lubbock into the organization, says baseball must look to the day when it must depend upon natural rivalries for gate appeal and reduce on the mileage each team travels to cut expenses. . . . You can look for radical changes in the memberships of both leagues by 1950 and perhaps a jump in classification for the Longhorn circuit. . . . Ferd Neimann, who first based for Del Rio in the Longhorn league in 1948, is now with the McAllen club in the Valley loop. . . . Joe Tondrick, ex-Longhorn umpire, is calling balls and strikes in the East Texas league this year.

Green's Pueblo Team Is Out Front

Pat Proby, the Odessa shortstop a year ago is playing the same position for the Brazos club in the East Texas league now. . . . Most of the fans agree that this year's Longhorn league schedule is much better than it was a season ago when home stays and road trips were longer. . . . Howard Green, the one-time president of the Longhorn league, must be smiling. . . . At the latest reading, his Pueblo team was atop the Western league standing. . . . Del Rio of the Valley league is playing in a new park this year. . . . Last year, when in the Longhorn loop, the team used a race track as a home field. . . . Big Spring is supposed to have a pitcher enroute here by the name of Garcia. . . . He's been with Havana. . . . Steve Dotur, who played a good game for Oregon in the last Cotton Bowl game, has changed his mind about school and will play football again next fall. . . . He's a tackle. . . . Many an observer expects the two major professional football leagues to attain peace by 1950. . . . Vic Webber, the popular wrestler, may shortly move from Plainview to San Angelo. . . . Look for Bob Cummings, the Ohio grappler who was an MP during the last war, to work in here shortly. . . . Bob lives in Oregon now, by the way.

Cayuses Terminate Stand With Cats In 3:30 Game

Ballinger's Cats and the Big Spring Broncs wind up their business in a 3:30 o'clock Longhorn baseball league game at Steer park this afternoon, after which the locals head for Odessa and a pair of tussles with that city's powerful Oilers.

Charles English's Cats from Runnels county are making an all-out bid for first place. With the race now in its second week, it appears that at least seven teams are in a position to contest for the leadership. Only Sweetwater is faltering at the moment.

After the Hosses terminate their business in Odessa Tuesday night, they return here to play the Sweetwater clan Wednesday and Thursday, then shove off for Ballinger for three tilts.

A mist that turned into a down-pour just as activity was to be resumed in the lower portion of the fourth frame forced postponement of a baseball game between Big Spring and Ballinger here Saturday night.

At the time Empire Bruce Averill called a halt, neither team had scored. Big Spring had registered two hits off Dick Kalogine while the best the Cats could do with Freddy Rodriguez's offerings was a single by Stu Williams in the fourth.

Roddy had fanned six batters in the four rounds while Kalogine had cut down two on strikes.

Felix Gomez and Bert Hernandez had accounted for the Big Spring hits. Gomez's was an infield blow in the first that Third Sacker Lou Dawson wanted to roll fould but didn't. Hernandez hit sharp past Charley Young, second sacker, to open Big Spring's portion of the third.

LONGHORNS EDGE TORNADOES, 4-3

Bunt By Lee Counts Walker

The Big Spring high school Steers got up off the floor and socked the Lamesa Tornadoes, 3AA Champions-to-be by a 4-3 count in a thrilling contest that went two extra innings here Friday afternoon.

Two spectacular plays decided the skirmish. Howard Washburn dropped a two-run single into center field with two men had been retired in the seventh inning to send the game into extra innings.

In the ninth round and after one man had been retired, Jack Lee laid down a perfect bunt down first base way which enabled Ray Walker to dash plateward with the winning tally.

The Tornadoes apparently had sewed up the game in the fourth inning when a wave of misplays and a hit by Walt Massengale enabled them to score all their runs.

Lefty King, Tornado hurler, was invincible until the seventh when he hit Harold Rosson and walked Floyd Martin to set the stage for Washburn's blow. The blow authored by the Big Springer got to Dickenson, Lamesa center fielder, but just did, rolling off his glove. Rosson and Martin were on the move and scored easily.

In the ninth, Walker strolled to open the round. Kimble Guthrie, a pinch hitter, struck out, but Martin and Washburn walked in succession to set the stage for Lee's lay-down.

King struck out 16 Steers during the fracas.

IN THREE CLASSES Spring Training For Prep Gridders Again Okehed

AUSTIN, May 7. — Spring Training will return to three of the five classes of Texas school boy football in 1950.

The city conference, Class AA and Class B voted to reinstate this highly controversial activity. It was announced Saturday at the annual meeting of delegates of the International League held in connection with the state meet.

Class A and six-man football battled against its return, the former by a one-vote margin and the latter by two.

The vote was in a five-point referendum conducted by the league the past month.

Always a hot issue, spring football was eliminated in 1948 by a referendum of the league membership. Agitation soon arose, however, for another vote on the question. The league executive committee agreed to take another ballot.

It was not surprising that the City Conference and Class AA voted spring training back but the fact that Class B did and Class A didn't was something of an upset. It generally is conceded that the larger schools can afford to have spring football more than the smaller ones that do not have the manpower to hold spring football and carry on the spring sports program full blast.

Voted was clarification of the amateur rule whereby sports considered in the professional class would be listed. It carried the stipulation that if a boy is declared a professional it will be for only one year and not forever as in the past and that he can not use his athletic ability to further any enterprise.

People From 30 State Seeking Tickets For SMU-Irish Game

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Want to see Southern Methodist and Notre Dame play football in Dallas next December? Then keep your fingers crossed.

You'll have to wait until Aug. 1, before tickets go on sale. But people from 30 of the 48 states have already deluged Southern Methodist athletic business manager Lester Jordan with requests for tickets.

"It beats anything that has ever happened," said Jordan Friday.

"One fellow in Denver, Colo., wrote and wanted 30 tickets. And some people over in Tennessee want to make up a Tennessee Special and cover over by the trainload."

Jordan said the people who have written in too early give every reason in the world for wanting to see the game.

"They've read a lot about Doak Walker, Gilbert Johnson, Kyle Rote, and Dick McKissick and the way they play football here in the Southwest. Most of them say they want to take a vacation and see the game as part of it."

The Cotton Bowl, undergoing another enlargement, will probably seat around 75,000 next season. Someone, of course, is going to be disappointed. There just won't be seats for all.

The Notre Dame-Southern Methodist game has brought the greatest number of requests for tickets ever received at Southern Methodist. And this includes the year the Mustangs went undefeated, untied and to the Rose Bowl—1955.

Jordan said "the way we will work the distribution of tickets is like this:

"Sections, of course, will be set aside for students, for the visiting club, lettermen, exes, and alumni.

"On August 1 for four days we will take applications from the general public for season tickets and for single game tickets. We'll work this the way the Cotton Bowl tickets are handled; i.e., the envelopes as received until the four days are up, and then start filling them on a 'first come, first served basis'.

"So if you want to be in on the ground floor, wait until 12:01 a. m. on Aug. 1 and then mail your ticket request.

"One fellow, though, took a time-honored right. He wrote his U. S. Senator to help him get tickets. It didn't help.

Southwest Meet Next Weekend

By The Associated Press

Texas A&M goes after its third straight Southwest Conference track title at Fayetteville, Ark. next week. The Aggies are good bet to win it.

Texas, long the Southwest's top power in track and field, is a question mark entry this year. The Longhorns' chances are carried on the injured legs of Charley Parker and John Robertson.

Southern Methodist, Rice, Baylor, Arkansas and Texas Christian University may determine the winner by the number of points they make. The title fight, though, appears between the Aggies and Longhorns.

Robertson, sprinter and broad obertson, sprinter and broad jumper, have been out of action for almost six weeks with injured legs.

How well they round into shape by next Friday and Saturday spells the difference in the Texas team.

In top shape, Parker rates a good bet in the 100 and 220-yard dashes.

Robertson is top man in the broad jump and good for place points in the sprints.

And with these two running Texas' 440-yard relay team is almost a cinch victor.

Distance runner J. D. Hampton, Quarter - Miller Ray Holbrook, Weightman George Kadera and a flock of other individual stars give A&M balance in almost every event.

John Rowland of Southern Methodist and Augie Erfurth of Rice probably will dominate the hurdles.

Bob Walters of Texas and Vern McGew of Rice are the outstanding high jumpers in the conference.

Records which may be broken are in the mile, high jump, discus and mile relay.

Robert (Red) Rolfe is the 12th manager in Detroit Tiger history. The Detroit Tigers averaged 44.907 paid admissions for their 14 home night games during 1948.

Yankee Soph Stops Sox 8-1

CHICAGO, May 7. — Bob Porterfield, sophomore New York Yankee pitcher, toed the rubber for the first time this season Saturday and pitched the Yankees to an 8-1 triumph over the Chicago White Sox.

Porterfield, who injured his arm in an exhibition game in Brooklyn April 18, scattered ten hits. He allowed a hit in every inning except the first and not more than one until the ninth when the Sox bunched three for their lone run.

The Yanks collected 11 safeties against their former mate, starter and loser Allen Gettle, and relievers Bob Kuzava and Bill Evans.

Gettle's wildness cost him a run in the first inning. He jammed the sacks on three walks and Yogi Berra fly ball brought home the Yanks' first run.

WEST TEXAS OIL

Gaines And Scurry Log Discoveries

By JOHN B. BREWER SAN ANGELO, May 7—Discovery flowing oil production from the Canyon in southern Gaines county and from the Strawn Clear Fork in north central Scurry county highlighted West Texas developments this week.

J. L. Collins No. 1 G. E. Parks, 3 1/4 miles east of the North Snyder (Canyon) field in Scurry county, flowed an estimated 25 to 30 barrels of oil in a one-hour drillstem test from 7,308-22 feet in the Strawn. Top of pay at 7,312 feet is about 150 feet high to Placid No. 1 J. B. Early and others, Strawn strike 3 1/2 miles south-southwest. Location is 1,980 feet from the north, 330 feet from the west line of section 42-97-H&TC.

Barnsdall staked locations for seven additional outposts to Sunday No. 1 R. B. Brown, latest completed Canyon lime discovery in Scurry; 2 1/2 miles south of the North Snyder (Canyon) field. The new tests will be on the A. L. Wren land in section 20-1-J. P. Smith survey.

Standard of Texas started No. 2-4 Mrs. Jessie Brown, slated 7,000-foot test on the south side of the North Canyon field, 467 feet from the south, 1,980 feet from the east line of section 440-97-H&TC. Canyon of the Pennsylvanian was found productive half mile west of the north end of the Doss (Clear Fork) field in southern Gaines county by Ralph Lowe of Midland No. 1 Shell-Helen Cunningham and others. The wildcat flowed oil at rate estimated at 17 barrels hourly in testing from 8,800-8,951 and 87 barrels of 47.2 gravity oil in last three hours of test from 8,900-90 feet. Projected to 10,000 feet, it is drilling ahead. Clear Fork pay was missed. Location is C SE NW 4-A24-psl.

Forest Oil Corp. and Anderson-Prichard Oil Corp. No. 1-A Farmer County school land, 660 feet from south, 860 feet from the west line of league 12, league 217, Farmer County school land survey 15 miles southeast of Seminole, will start May 10. Contract is to 8,000 feet. Shell started No. 2 W. L. Hawkins, slated 7,300-foot Clear Fork test, C-NE NE 8-A24-psl, half mile south of No. 1 Hawkins, opener of the Flanagan (Ellenburger) field. No. 1 Hawkins flowed oil from the Clear Fork and two other outposts, projected to the Ellenburger, indicated production from that formation.

Magnolia No. 18-B Cowden, C-NE NE 2-A55-psl, 2 1/2 miles southeast of the Dollarside multiple-pay

Silurian Spread Seen In Upton

Slick-Urschel and Plymouth No. 2 D. L. Alford drilled ahead toward Ellenburger after offering prospects of extending Silurian production in the Benedum (Upton county) quadruple-pay field (two miles south and slightly east. On a drillstem test from 10,778-924 feet, it showed gas-bearing distillate at a rate estimated by some as high as 8 to 10 million cubic feet daily. It is in lot 2, block 504, P. B. Scott survey.

Texas Pacific 63-E-A John F. Lane, C-NE SW 5-CC&SF, west offset to No. 62-E-A Lane, Silurian and Ellenburger discovery in the McCamey (Perman) field, gauged 8,300,000 cubic feet of gas daily, spraying distillate, on a Silurian test from 6,879-6,960 feet. It is going ahead to the Ellenburger.

Location has been staked for an outpost to the Santa Rosa Ellenburger gas and distillate field in northern Pecos county coincident with completion by El Paso Natural Gas Co., of a line into the area from Jal. N. M.

C. W. Chancellor, Slick Oil Co. and others staked No. 2 Thornton Davis, the outpost, in C SE SE 106-8-H&GN, half mile southeast of their No. 1 Davis, the discovery and a quarter mile east of Slick-Urschel and Shell No. 1 Peppers, second well in the field. No. 1 Peppers produced gas at the rate of 28 million cubic feet daily and 27 barrels of distillate per million cubic feet of gas. It was shut in. It treated the Ellenburger with 3,000 gallons of acid through casing perforations at 9,200-9,250 feet. Location is 1,200 feet from the south and west lines of section 106-8-H&GN, five-eighths of a mile south-east of the pool opener.

Morrow Suggested As Ambassador

WASHINGTON, May 7.—President Truman said Thursday he was asked to consider Dwight Morrow, Texas Democratic national committeeman, as an ambassador. He did not say to what country. Should he be named, the way would be clear for Byron Skelton of Temple to become Texas committeeman.

The Texas party's executive committee has asked Morrow to step out, but he refused. The committee voted Skelton as a replacement.

KECK Asks Permit

WASHINGTON, May 7.—Station KECK, Odessa, asked for a permit to change operations from daytime to unlimited hours. SK wants power at night. An application was filed with the communications commission Friday.

North Snyder Pool Flanker Is Located

Another flanker to the North Snyder field of North-Central Scurry county has been spotted. It is The Pure Oil company No. 1 W. H. Adams, 665 feet from south and east lines of section 383, block 97, H&TC survey. Elevation is 2,491.9 feet.

Starting by May 11 with rotary tools, the exploration is to make 6,800 feet of hole to test into the Canyon line of the Pennsylvanian. The Ohio Oil company No. 1 Emery, Northwest Kent county wildcat which is contracted to 8,100 feet to explore into the Ellenburger, took a drillstem test when total depth was 8,422 feet in an unidentified lime.

Length of the test and the packer point have not been reported. Recovery was 200 feet of slightly oil and gas cut drilling mud, and 2,670 feet of slightly gas cut salt water. There were no shows of oil.

Operator drilled ahead to 6,180 feet and encountered another soft section. A drillstem test was being run to that bottom at last report. The project is 15 miles southwest of Spur, and 1,980 feet from the north and 819 feet from the east lines of section 39, block 2, H&GN survey.

M. E. Davis and Hiawatha Oil & Gas Company No. 1 Wallace in Central Kent county, and 660 feet from north and west lines of section 57, block 98, HTC survey, was drilling ahead below 7,115 feet in Ellenburger, lime and dolomite. Up to now that formation has not yielded any indications of possible production.

Sub-Fire Station To Be Activated Week From Today

Activation of the City of Big Spring sub-fire station at 18th and Main has been set for one week from today.

Operations will start at the station with the 6 p. m. shift on May 15, H. W. Whitney, city manager, announced.

Appointment of six additional policemen and elevation of some other staff members has made possible the opening of the new $30,000 structure which was completed more than a month ago.

H. V. Crocker, fire chief, had announced J. D. Allison, J. D. Anderson, R. A. Baker, Tony E. Hale, L. H. Merworth, and J. R. Piper as new policemen, said Whitney. Hubert Clawson and Jeff Jenkins had been advanced to the rank of lieutenant and will be in charge of the two shifts at the station.

On duty with Clawson will be O. W. Laws, driver, L. H. Marwood, hoseman; with Jenkins will be E. Taylor, driver, and Tony E. Hale, hoseman.

Crocker is to make a territorial division for use of equipment, and although calls will come into the main and sub-station simultaneously, the location of the fire will determine which station furnishes equipment initially. On small blazes only one truck will make the run, but where there is doubt or a larger blaze is reported, both stations will answer.

Biblical Drama Will Be Staged Thursday, Friday Under HCJC Auspices

Learning to live together as an essential to continuing peace is the over-simplified gist of "The Light Eternal," a Biblical drama to be staged Thursday and Friday under the auspices of the Howard County Junior College.

There will be productions at 8:15 p. m. on each of the days, and a special children's matinee Friday at 2 p. m. at the city auditorium.

Story of the play is centered around a grandfather, disturbed by bickering of his grandchildren. When they ask for a story, he impulsively tells "the most exciting story ever told," a story from the Bible. He reminds them that in Biblical days "people looked, dressed and talked differently, but they had the same kind of trouble and worry that people do now." Yet with all their troubles, there came a great Light—the coming of which sets the play's theme.

The grandfather, played by J. C. Mittel, tells the children, Marjorie Sue and Frank Medley, Jr., the story of how Joseph was sold by his brothers into slavery. His appearance

Local Firm Offers Jobs For Autos Oven-Baked Paint

A special "oven" for applying baked-on enamel for automobiles, the first piece of such equipment ever to be used in this section of the country, has been installed at the Quality Auto Top & Body Co., located on the Lamesa highway.

The new piece of equipment enables the local concern to rely upon factory methods for automobile painting which command enough confidence by the management to prompt a guarantee on all auto painting work performed there. A new dust-free, air-tight paint room also has been constructed at the Quality shop, to insure best conditions while all painting jobs are underway. Oven baked paint jobs offer many advantages, because the paint dries evenly and without porous finish.

UNDER TREATMENT IN HOSPITAL

Jimmy Looks Like Any Boy Of His Age—But He Has Leprosy

CARVILLE, La., May 7, (AP)—Eleven-year-old Jimmy is nonchalantly chewing a wad of bubble gum. He's wearing a yellow checked sport blouse. His hair is neatly combed, and he is grinning a friendly grin. He looks like any number of kids you'd see in your neighborhood. But he isn't. Jimmy has leprosy.

So have his father, his mother, his grandmother and his two older brothers. They are all here together at the U. S. Marine Hospital—the National Leprosarium conducted by the Public Health Service.

They are all under treatment for a disease of the skin and nerves which, authorities say, is not necessarily disfiguring, is not incurable, and is less communicable than tuberculosis.

Leprosy—it's called "Hansen's Disease" here where there is a campaign against use of the words "leper" and "leprosy"—has two forms:

1. A skin type. As the disease advances the skin thickens around the forehead, eyebrows, ears, cheeks and nose. In the most advanced cases the face takes on a lion-like expression.
2. A "nerve" type. The disease attacks the nerve structure while at the same time discoloring, but not raising, patches of skin. Affected areas become powerless to feel heat, cold or pain. The face, with its muscles weakened, assumes a make-like expression. Blindness may develop.

Fewer than 100 patients are bedridden here, and of the hospitals total 400 patients doctors say, many have no outward signs of the disease.

One bedridden patient is a young man—a nerve-type case—who periodically suffers such excruciating pain that even drugs like morphine cannot completely relieve him. Another is a woman who at times has fever ranging up to 106 degrees.

Other patients have some skin blemishes, ulcers or lumps. A few showed marked disfigurement, and one man is going blind. But the doctors say all have shown improvement under treatment with "sulfone" drugs, the latest and most promising weapons against the disease. Carville has been discharging more and more patients with the disease "arrested" each year since the sulfones came in. Jimmy and his family are examples of what one doctor here calls "the real public health problem" in leprosy—and instance of the disease going through an entire household before any member of the family was brought under treatment. It is the general opinion of experts that children are born free of the disease. However, it is not common for

HIGHLIGHTS ON KBST

Cole Porter Hit Scheduled Monday

The dramatic story behind the writing and production of Cole Porter's latest smash hit, "Kiss Me Kate," musically illustrated by the songs from the show sung by singing host Gordon MacRae, Lucille Norman and the Sportsmen, will be re-enacted on the ABC-KBST broadcast of The Railroad Hour Monday, May 9, at 7 p. m.

Among the lilting tunes from Porter's score to be heard on the broadcast are "So In Love," "We Open in Venice," "Wunderbar," "Why Can't You Behave?" and "Always True To You Darling."

"OF MICE AND MEN"

"Of Mice and Men," voted one of the ten best plays during its Broadway season and winner of the Drama Critics' Award, will be presented by "Theatre Guild on the Air" Sunday at 8:30 p. m. on KBST. Burgess Meredith will star as "George" and June Havoc will be heard as "Curley's" wife.

A powerful drama, "Of Mice and Men" is about a couple of California ranch workers, George and Lennie, who are hired by Curley. George looks after Lennie, who, although a half-wit, has great physical strength and is a tireless worker. Throughout the play, George reiterates to Lennie his dream of owning land and working their own farm. However, Curley's wife has other ideas. George never realizes his dream and the drama ends in tragedy.

"TOWN MEETING"

Four civil liberties proponents of divergent views, argue the question, "Should Minority Groups Exercise Censorship over Books and Films?" on the televised broadcast of America's Town Meeting of the Air Meeting Tuesday, May 10, at 7:30 p. m., over ABC and KBST. The Town Hall telecast will mark the program's return to New York following an extended spring tour.

With George V. Denny, Jr., as moderator, the program's affirmative speakers will be Harry Epstein, Anti-Defamation League member, former N.Y. Solicitor General and chairman, National Community Relations Advisory Council, and Robert J. O'Donnell, professor of philosophy, Iona College.

Defending the negative position will be Morris L. Ernst, noted attorney and author of "The People Know Best," and John Mason Brown, author, lecturer, and drama critic of the Saturday Review of Literature.

"GREATEST STORY"

Adam's discontent when the poor whom he has aided thank only God and not him, provides the drama for The Greatest Story Ever Told, this afternoon, at 5:30 over KBST.

Titled "Let Not Thy Left Hand Know," the story is based on quotations from St. Matthew 6:1-4. Adam, a young hardworking stonecutter, has inherited a fortune from his uncle. In the belief that he is following the Master's teaching, he gives generously to the poor. But it is not enough for him to give—the poor must know that he is their benefactor.

Confused and discouraged when a poor woman tells him that "A man tries so hard to buy the gratitude of the needy is a very troubled man indeed," Adam goes to the Master for advice.

His difficulties are solved when the Master tells him—"Take heed that ye do not your aims be seen of them—otherwise, ye have no reward of your Father which is in heaven."

the disease to go through the entire family. It is the exception rather than the rule. The Public Health Service has launched a new program designed to meet this and related problems, says Dr. F. A. Johansen, medical director of the hospital.

It is a plan under which the service, instead of attempting to confine all patients in Carville, would attempt to establish diagnostic and treatment centers in each of the four states where the disease is prevalent—Louisiana, Florida, Texas and California. The plan has already been launched on a limited, experimental basis.

Johansen says extensive trial of the plan would require training of large numbers of workers and funds from Congress.

The philosophy behind the idea is this: Undetected persons who know, or suspect, that they have leprosy will be encouraged to seek treatment voluntarily—if they know that leprosy is being approached like any other public health problem.

With the plan, Johansen says, must go an intensified educational program "to change public opinion in regard to Hansen's disease."

"It is not an easy job to change notions that have gone unchallenged for thousands of years," he says, "but the success we have had so far is of great encouragement to us."

Orangefield Man Killed In Accident

WILKES-BARRE, Pa., May 7, (AP)—This is the three-day saga of Mrs. Charles Le Grand, age 61. Thursday: She accompanied her husband on a business trip to near-Nanticoke. He left her in the car and returned 15 minutes later. She was gone.

Passerby told him they saw a woman of his wife's description walking toward a colliery where there are several mine strippings. A search of the area failed to locate her.

Friday: A torrential rainstorm hit the area. Le Grand had all but given up the long search when Paul Bush reported he'd found Mrs. Le Grand.

She was sitting under a tree in a park a mile from where she had vanished. Her body and clothing were drenched with rain, splattered with mud. She was rushed to a hospital.

Saturday: Doctors at Mercy Hospital said Mrs. Le Grand's condition is good. She is expected to survive.

Phil Pesco, brother of Santa Clara basketball Coach Ray Pesco, coached his Olympic Junior College quintet from Bremerton, Wash., to a 32 won, two lost record this year.

Mother's Day

Anna Jarvis of Philadelphia wished to show her heart-felt appreciation for all her mother had done for her and in so doing started an observance which has received nation-wide recognition.

Throughout the nation, today, children and adults alike, will do something extra special for Mother on her day or pay some sort of tribute to the memory of their mother. It will be a day of special church services, programs, gifts, visits, flowers and telegrams.

Anna Jarvis was forgotten and died penniless, but the movement she started increases in popularity with every passing year. Whether it's Mom or Mother we honor, Mother's Day seems to create a spirit of "every day should be Mother's Day."

Something new in school music will be created Thursday evening in the high school gym. Eighth grade students will present the operetta "White Gypsy" by Grant Schaefer and libretto by Theodosia Paynter. This is reported to be the first time Big Spring students have presented an operetta of this type.

A fiesta is in progress in the forest when the story opens. The gypsies are being reprimanded for making merry while their chief languishes in a dungeon, where he had been cast by the "Kink," played by Doyle Mason, brother of the King of the Gyros, a white people whose domain includes the forest. The Kink has seized the throne driven the King from his palace and locked the Princess, Joyet Gound, in the tower. She escapes and flees to the gypsy camp, where she falls exhausted and unconscious. The young tribesman, Kon, Alfred Chavarria, induces her to stay with his people. disguised as a gypsy. Romany Rose, Mozelle Carter befriends the Princess, but Jola,

Nancy Frazier, casts jealous eyes upon her.

Jola goes to the palace and steals the Kink's wig and crown. He becomes an object of ridicule, and loses his power over the Gyros. He and his two spies, Gayle Braesiecke and Jimmy Hicks, escape. He disguises himself as the Sultan of Duck and journeys to the gypsy camp to obtain a charm for his baldness. Romany Rose penetrates his disguise and he and his spies are seized by the gypsies and put in chains. As both Gyros and the gypsies feel that they have been wronged by the Kink they join in a song of vengeance.

The exiled king, Larry Cooper, has established his court in the depths of the forest. He and his attendants and soldiers are off on a hunt and the gypsies and Gyros mingle together as they await their return. They come later and bring Kom, whom they have captured. Kom is accused of spying. He is tried and condemned to prison. The Princess reveals her identity to her father and tells how Kom has saved her from the wrath of the mob. The Kink shows his gratitude by ordering Kom's release.

Romany Rose obtains the key of the dungeon to which she journeys and returns with the gypsy chief,

RIBBON RAMBLINGS

By MILDRED YOUNG

We were rather impressed with the movie entitled "Knock On Any Door" which played at a local theatre last week. It was another one of those "crime does not pay" pictures, but this one had a great deal to say about society's responsibility for the "kids" that go wrong. When responsibility comes to the front we wander back to the days when an age-old question was asked for the first time: "Am I my brother's keeper?"

Most of us had rather think we're not, we had rather "paddle our own canoe", find what happiness we can and escape from the difficult and ugly as much as possible. It's one thing to live with ourselves and try to make the best persons we know how, and it's another to take on the responsibilities of other people.

Regardless of what your attitude toward your fellowman is, one thing seems certain, we all find ourselves desiring to find a suitable answer to the age-old question.

Another thing the movie brought to mind was some of the tricky methods by which some confessions are received in the court room. We have the highest respect for the law profession, some of our good friends are lawyers, but we sometimes wonder if there are not a good many things in the court room as in other places which need the attention of our high thinking lawyers and laymen in the field.

We've never taken part in or witnessed any real court proceedings, but we think we should. Methods by which justice is administered are very important to us all. There is always the possibility that we might be on trial someday.

After the program opened with the group singing "Home, Sweet Home," led by Mrs. W. A. Laswell, Mrs. Johnny Johansen gave a devotional, "Law of Freedom." She stated that there is no discipleship without discipline and that if you know the truth, it will

MRS. C. R. MARCHBANKS HAS DRESS WITH 84-YEAR OLD CALICO MATERIAL

Carefully tucked among her treasures, Mrs. C. R. Marchbanks, 87, has a dress with material that is at least 84 years old. Despite its antiquity, the striped calico frock is in reasonably good condition, but Mrs. Marchbanks has not yet decided to hazard a trial fitting.

It was her mother's dress, and as a three-year-old girl Mrs. Marchbanks had one patterned like it with long sleeves and basque fit. Her child's dress long since was worn out but Mrs. Marchbanks saved the hooks from it.

How the family came by the material is a story within itself. Her father, Lige Jones, was a Confederate soldier, having enlisted from Johnson county. In 1864 he captured some materials from the Yanks, the first he had seen in a number of years except that his wife had woven.

So he brought it home and later Mrs. Jones handmade herself and two daughters dresses. Subsequently, she gave her dress to her daughter as an heirloom. Mrs. Marchbanks has kept it carefully at her home at 207 East 13th.

Motherly Ambition Can Be Both Wonderful And Dangerous Thing

Instinctive and unfailing love is exalted habitually on Mother's Day, a virtue which lends itself to repeating with the same freshness as salvation.

Almost forgotten is the equally potent force of motherly ambition, a quality which is both wonderful and dangerous.

It is as natural for a mother to have ambition for her children as it is for her to love them. Love is sometimes understandably blind; ambition is subject to unrestrained and misdirection.

In our day of materialism, it is only natural that motherhood be tempted with pitching ambition upon a plane calculated to bring economic success. Parents, and mothers in particular, are prone to indulge in the joy of sacrifice so that their offspring may have everything their heart desires. Children must have this "advantage" and that, regardless of cost. Not infrequently, great emphasis is placed upon social standing, with all the involvements of clothes, entertainment, liberal allowances and kindred indulgences to provide a better station in life than parents enjoyed.

These traits cannot be degraded, for they are all too natural. Perhaps, however, they might be modified with a sober perspective of what fundamental ambition mothers ought to hold for their children. Nothing is more satisfying in the end than that children mature into solid, contributing, spiritual characters. No mother could have a nobler ambition for her children. All the other things that matter will be added in due time. Extravagant ambition can be bitter and perplexing.

A Good Mother Has The Heart To Mother The Whole World

By FRANK GRIMES
Herald Special Writer

A very witty woman, and a mother to boot, once remarked that mothers deserve no credit for harboring mother love, for they can't help it; it is instinctive with them.

That is very largely true. The few mothers who do not love their children are merely the exception that prove the rule of almost universal mother-love.

Mother's Day is the one Sunday in the year set aside for doing homage to female parents, which is a pretty flat way of saying it. Almost invariably all men think of their own mothers in this connection, and forget about the mothers of their own children, thereby getting themselves into hot water. This is unfortunate, but understandable, seeing that everyone's thoughts on Mother's Day turn to his or her own mother. (So when you're handing out a suitable gift to Mother, mister, don't forget the Little Woman.)

In nearly every person's life, the one tenderest thought is always of mother. That is natural, and as instinctive as mother love itself; for the mother is the one who gives the most care, the most attention, and the most demonstrated love to the offspring.

These thoughts of mother are enduring; the older one gets, the longer the mother has been gone, the tenderer the thoughts her memory evokes.

If you're on the shady side of fifty, Mother is likely to be but a memory, and what a sweet and devoted memory it is. It has been, let us say, 27 years since she went away. If she were alive she'd probably be 100 years old at her next birthday. Born, let us suppose, in 1850, in Alabama. Dad would have been 104 at his next.

Russo-German Negotiations Must Be Considered In Big Four Meet

The crucial question, as we begin again to treat with Russia about Germany is how far advanced are the negotiations which have been going on between the Russians and the Germans. Although remarkably little attention has as yet been paid to them in this country, the Russo-German negotiations have exercised great influence on the course of events since the blockade of Berlin. They are the most likely reason why the Soviet Government is now prepared to lift the blockade unconditionally. And they may, unless our diplomacy is most astute and resourceful, prove to be decisive in the forthcoming conference of the Big Four.

The foundation for these Russo-German negotiations was laid at the Warsaw conference, attended by all the satellite states, which issued a declaration on June 24, just as the blockade of Berlin began. It denounced the idea of a federal Germany as "disembowelment," and proposed a central German government, a peace treaty, and the withdrawal of the occupation forces within one year.

It was no accident, I believe, that after that offer, the German minister-presidents of the western zones put themselves publicly on record against a western German state. Since then, despite all the pressures and inducements by General Clay and Ambassador Murphy, the Germans have managed not to form a western state, however often it has been announced that they were going to do it.

The proceedings at Bonn become intelligible only if we realize that they have been accompanied by underground discussion between the western Germans and the eastern Germans who are in touch with the Soviet. They are intelligible only

Trieste Refugee Report Released

ROME (AP)—Over 100,000 refugees and prisoners of war from eastern Europe passed through Trieste's transit camps since the end of the war, the Allied Military Government (AMG) of the Free Territory says.

Since May 1945, the refugee camps in Trieste territory gave shelter to 60,741 refugees from eastern European countries, 20,511 prisoners of war, and to 18,351 Italian citizens who abandoned the former Italian eastern territories assigned to Yugoslavia by the peace treaty.

The refugees and prisoners of war were cared for by officials of the British, Swiss, American, Yugoslav, and Italian Red Cross organizations. They were sent to "Dundalk Bay" when 1,025 refugees from Poland and the Baltic countries from DP camps in western Germany left for resettlement in Australia.

Columnist Writes Letter To Daughter About His Pioneering Quaker Mother

THE NOTE — With Mother's Day today, Drew Pearson's Column takes the form of a letter to his daughter about his mother.

Mrs. George Arnold Los Angeles, California Dear Daughter,

Last week on grandmother's birthday, I went up to Romansonville, Pa., near Swarthmore, to visit her grave. I wish that you could have been with me. The maple trees were halfway in leaf and so delicate—the way she loved them. The dogwood was pink and white, and the tree she planted in front of our old house has grown so big that she could scarcely have recognized it—but it lacks the care it had when she was alive.

And the violets, that she loved so much, seemed even more blue and tender. Your Aunt Ellen and I planted some on her grave.

April to me is the year's most beautiful month—the month when the world comes to life again, and when she was born — and died. It seems a long time now, and yet so short a time. . . . so short a time as the years gallop by.

I don't know how well you remember Grandmother Pearson. She died a few months after a war started that she prayed would never happen—a war which she, in her peaceful Quaker-like way, thought could have been avoided.

She never made headlines, as did Grandmother Patterson, nor built up a newspaper. But the love that still remains in the hearts of others may be a greater monument.

"I REMEMBER MOTHER" The thing I remember most about my mother is the things I wanted to do with her when she was alive—but didn't. You never realize what it is not to have a mother, until she is gone, and then the only thing that is left is a grave and memories.

Memories can be so full and satisfying. But they can also be filled with regret—regret for the things you never did with your mother that she wanted you to do—the trips she wanted you to take with her, the books she wanted you to read, the plays she wanted you to see.

After father died in San Francisco, I took her to Yosemite, Calif., where I had to speak. There is an artists' colony nearby and quite a nice hotel. It was a short trip, but how mother loved it. I can still remember putting her on the bus as I went south and she went north. We were together only a day, but she looked so happy—just for spending a little time with her eldest son.

There were so many other days I could have spent with her—but didn't. And then suddenly it was too late. I couldn't spend them with her anymore.

TWO PIONEER WOMEN I have sometimes thought that if she had to go, it was better that she went before President Truman threw a name at me which reflected on her. It would have hurt her terribly.

The funny thing is that my mother was something like Harry Truman's mother, though I wasn't as lucky as he in having mine with me so long. Both were pioneer women from neighboring states, one from Missouri, the other from Kansas.

Mother was born in Humboldt, Kan., about the time the Santa Fe Railway was laying its tracks down to the Indian Territory. Her family came from a long line of pioneers, beginning with her first great-grandfather, Andreas Wolf, who arrived in Philadelphia from Germany in 1732 and helped to settle Lancaster County, Pa. Another grandfather was killed by the Indians along the Susquehanna in 1761; then gradually the family pushed West, to Madison County, Ohio. From there my own grandfather (my mother's father) pushed on to Kansas.

He was a schoolteacher, a farmer and a dentist—a tall, thin man with a beard, and I still have a picture of him holding you, his first great-granddaughter, when you were six months old.

Grandfather Wolf was one of the few dentists in southeast Kansas at that time, and he also made trips down to the Indian Territory to pull teeth for the Indians. So he was busy. I don't know how good a dentist he was, but I do know that he was a good father because by mother was only eight months old when her mother died.

THE LAST SPRING Well, those are some of the things I thought about last week during my trip up to the old Friends' Meeting House where mother is buried, and where the pine trees stand so serene and peaceful over the headstones that you wouldn't think the world was such a troubled place in which to live.

I thought back to the times mother used to spank me with the other side of the hairbrush. It never hurt anyone. She didn't know how. And I thought of all the times I was thoughtless and not much company for her when father was away.

And I thought about the spring when mother died. That too was a lovely April. The rest of the world was not lovely. It was the first spring after Pearl Harbor, and the world was bloody and sad. Mother had worried over the war as if by worrying she would prevent it. I used to tell her that at the rate Hitler was going there was no possible way we could keep out of it, but she kept hoping and praying just the same.

Mother had been unhappy and restless after father died. She was torn between seeing her children in Washington and her children in Swarthmore. She missed her own home, yet was too homesick to settle down by herself.

Finally in that first spring after Pearl Harbor, she did find a small house near her grandchildren in Swarthmore. And seemingly content for the first time since father left her, suddenly she left us to join him.

I have sometimes thought that the coming of the war which she had prayed so hard to prevent was just too much, and that she was glad to die.

It seems a long time ago, but I still miss her, and can't help thinking how much she would have loved being a great-grandmother to your new son.

Much love from,
Your Father.

Cary Grant Back On Job After Jaundice Attack

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—It will be sodas but no Scotch for Cary Grant for the next three to five years.

The star is back at work following his serious attack of jaundice while picture-making in England. His doctor has ordered a diet without alcohol, eggs or fried food for a long time to come.

"It's good for me, though," beamed Grant. "I just had an ice cream soda."

He says he's feeling fine, and he looks it. He has gained back the 30 pounds he lost. He had different testimony from his co-star Ann Sheridan, who has opined that film making abroad is strictly for the birds.

"Just one thing I regret," said Grant. "The English say their winters are too hard for Americans. Why, the weather was wonderful. It was just this epidemic that took us."

"Except for the illnesses, we had a wonderful time over there. "And I couldn't have been more pleased with the trip back if they had delivered me to my door. The doctor said I couldn't fly; and the Queen Mary has too many people. So I took a Dutch boat the long way home through the canal. I soaked up the sun on the top deck for a month. It was wonderful."

Grant has four or five more weeks of shooting on "I Was A Male War Bride," which was to have been filmed entirely in Europe. He won't make another film until December. His medic has advised him to take things easy.

Around The Rim—The Herald Staff

A Novice With The Pasteboards Attempts An Argentine Creation

Maybe it's time to make a confession, to extract the cadaver from the cupboard, as it were.

For years, I put up a determined resistance to anything resembling a pastime with cards. There were a few private reasons for this. One is that my few excursions into a little diversion known as poker always proved definitely deflationary. The other is that when I was lured into an attempt at bridge, the partner and/or the opponents were always so coolly precise about the thing, I was always left feeling like a ten-year-old sitting down with Einstein to work out a new angle on Relativity. In other words, I was incompetent, so I shied away.

Things have changed somewhat. It started with an occasional fling at pitch, which is well enough if you can get enough aces, deuces and jacks. Then I progressed, or retrogressed, if you will, to something called "hearts," a Satanically-conceived proposition designed to make you cuss Hoyle, all pasteboard in general, and particularly the guy sitting on your right who takes fiendish delight in "smoking" when you hold the ace-of-hearts.

This is calculated to create ulcers where no ulcers thrived before, so I graduated to a rummy deviation known as "Oklahoma," in which the play may be more complex but is definitely less irritating.

Well I thought Oklahoma would serve the purpose for an occasional friendly evening, but what happens but the somebody comes along with a completely new concoction which has been coated with the appellation of "Canasta."

This, they tell me, is an Argentine variation of rummy, and must be accomplished with all the speed and deviousness that an Argentine put'r into a game of jai alai. I am also advised that Canasta is beginning to sweep the country much as bridge did at one time, or maybe like mahjong. The implication being—ard encouraged, no doubt, by the rule book writers and the card manufacturers—that it's "smart" to be playing Canasta. Some of the big shots in the bridge world, they tell me, are becoming Canasta addicts, and the snooty magazines like Vogue are running articles on how to meld a quick Canasta while the opponents are still sorting out their cards.

Well, Canasta has its points: it's an ideal four-handed game, with you and your partner drawing cards like mad to make a book and accumulate some score while at the same time shutting off the foes with a minus, if possible. You have situations in which you can cuss your luck (no wild cards), your opponents (for knocking you out of a likely draw), your partner and yourself for general all-around dumb playing. I take it that this sort of griping is part and parcel of every good card game, and that if you couldn't rant and rail at something or somebody you would not be playing the silly game anyway.

Now, don't be asking me about the Canasta rules. I don't know 'em very well, and besides you'll get too much pleasure in trying to interpret the intricacies of what to do and when to do it. If you're burned on bridge, or hot up on hearts, or miffed at moon, or done with dominoes, or fed with flinch, you might see about this Argentine thing. But don't blame me. All I did was mention it.—BOB WHIPKEY.

Berlin Airlift, Despite Its Cost, Has Built Up Democratic Morale

THE HEROIC AIRLIFT WHICH FINALLY has forced the raising of the Russian blockade of Berlin has been a labor of Hercules and costly in many respects, but on balance it represents blessings in disguise for the Western allies.

U. S. Secretary of Defense Johnson yesterday characterized the carrying out of this task as "one of the greatest transportation feats in history." British Prime Minister Attlee, after seeing the airlift in operation recently, described it as "one of the wonders of the world."

There's no exaggeration in those statements. The airlift has been an unprecedented demonstration of power, of technical skill, of vast resources of courage, of determination—and of allied unity.

BECAUSE THE ALLIED AIRLIFT represents all these things, there is no doubt, as I see it, that it must have a huge influence in welding together the nations of western Europe into the Atlantic Pact. That airlift has been a mighty builder of morale among the Democracies.

But that isn't the whole story. This grueling and dangerous task, which even has cost lives, has provided America and her allies with technical knowledge which could have been acquired in no other way and which might be invaluable in event of another war. As Elton C. Fay, AF air expert in Washington, puts it:

"The Berlin lift has provided the Air Force with a laboratory to determine just how many planes, how much concerted effort of all the military forces, would be required to supply a large forward position cut off from normal sea or land supply lines. The Air Force has learned, among other things, . . . how to fly hundreds of planes in a parade of closely following aircraft in a tight corridor where the weather often was too thick for birds to navigate."

'Miracle Man Of Michigan' Some Day May Dwell In White House

LANSING, MICH. (AP)—A YOUNG Democratic governor works all day at a wide desk here in a timeworn statehouse that looks across a lawn loud with robins.

He is 33-year-old G. Mennen ("Soapy") Williams, whose friends believe he will some day dwell in the White House.

Right now the Robins on the statehouse lawn aren't making nearly as much noise as the Republican legislators inside. And what the legislators are doing to the young governor's New Deal program is something he feels shouldn't happen to a Democrat.

For he works in a house divided. There is a broad river of dissent between the young governor and the Republican-dominated legislature. And the river is in flood.

THERE ARE THOSE WHO THINK Williams became "the Miracle Man of Michigan Politics" last November when, solidly backed by labor, he defeated Kim Sigler by 163,854 votes. But there are those, too, who think his victory merely reflected a decline in the popularity of Sigler, who was seeking re-election.

The new governor has both class and mass appeal. He has been a political protégé of Supreme Court Justice Frank Murphy and he is an heir to the Mennen shaving soap fortune.

Williams is 6 feet 3 1/2 inches tall, friendly and easy going. He invariably wears a bow tie, an engaging grin—and a cowlick of stubborn dark hair.

When I went in to see him, I had a moment of wonder. The first flash of his smile was startlingly reminiscent of Franklin D. Roosevelt.

THE GOVERNOR IS PERSONALLY popular with the Republican legislators, who regard him tolerantly as "a well-intentioned young man." But he is acutely

WHAT A DIFFERENCE BETWEEN this and the days of the Franco-Prussian war of 1870-71, when Paris started the world by breaking through the German siege with balloons! These balloons, which were flown when the wind was right, sometimes carried homing pigeons which were liberated to take back news to Paris. The besieged Parisians also sent out 65 balloons carrying a large quantity of mail and 164 people.

The biggest airlift operation prior to the Berlin show was that operated over the "hump" in the Himalayas between southeast Asia and China. The journey over the hump amidst the lofty, cloud enshrouded peaks, was a fearsome one. Not only was there the ever-present danger of a crash but the Jap warplanes used to lurk in the clouds, waiting to shoot down the Yankee transports. I crossed the hump twice during the war—once in a terrible storm. I didn't like it.

BY THE WAY, A LARGE NUMBER of airmen who participated in the hump operations also have been engaged in the Berlin airlift.

The hump airlift did a great job with scanty equipment but naturally it wasn't on the scale of the Berlin lift. Now, thanks to the Russian blockade, the allies have had an unparalleled experience which might have taken years to acquire otherwise.

However, we have gained all the knowledge we need for the time being, thanks. We don't want any further experience.

So we trust British Foreign Secretary Bevin is justified in his hope that the forthcoming meeting of the big four foreign ministers on the German question will be the basis for a lasting settlement. Hope is a grand thing, though there's a difference between hope and expectation.

Boy-And-Dog Story Told In Ritz Film 'The Sun Comes Up'

Jeanette MacDonald's glorious voice—Lloyd Nolan's two-fisted ruggedness—Claude Jarman, Jr.'s juvenile appeal—Lassie's exciting exploits—Marjorie Kinnan Rawlings' heart-warming story—Technicolor reproduction of the majestic Santa Cruz mountains. These are the highlights of the new M-G-M drama, "The Sun Comes Up," offered today and Monday at the Ritz theatre.

Following her recent hit in "Three Daring Daughters," Jeanette MacDonald now plays the role of a concert singer who loses both husband and son only to find a new life and romance through the devotion of a mountain boy and a dog. The new picture marks Miss MacDonald's 17th Technicolor production and furnishes a glittering showcase for her vocal as well as acting talents.

As Tom Chandler, the author in the story, Lloyd Nolan sheds his mantle of "tough guy." But it has taken him fourteen years to play a romantic role. He first had to shoot his way through fifty-five films and slug a long list of screen things in such pictures as "The House on 92nd Street." It was in Marjorie Kinnan Rawlings' unforgettable "The Yearling" that young Claude Jarman was introduced to the screen, an introduction which won him a special Academy Award. In his new film he realizes the ambition of every boy—to have a champion dog and plenty of room in which to romp with him.

Lassie, too, comes into his own in this story which is set in the breathtaking lovely Santa Cruz country. His heroic rescue of Claude in a spectacular orphanage fire sequence is listed as one of the year's big screen thrills.

The supporting cast is headed by Lewis Stone, in his first appearance since "State of the Union," and features Percy Kilbride, Nicholas Joy, Margaret Hamilton Hope Landin and Esther Somers.

An entire country village, including cottages, store, barns, orphanage and fields of corn and wheat was created by the M-G-M studio in the heart of the Santa Cruz mountains.

RELIGIOUS SPECTACLE—Here is one of the spectacle scenes from "The Lawton Story," a film based on the development of the world-famous Easter pageant staged yearly in the Wichita Mountains near Lawton, Oklahoma. The picture, done in color, was filmed there, and follows faithfully the religious festival developed over a period of 25 years. The picture is at the Lyric today through Tuesday as a special road show attraction, and in addition there will be at the Lyric stage Lee Lindsay, the Wichita Mountain speaker, and a costumed Pageant Girls, who present a review "The Prince Of Peace."

IN MOUNTAIN STORY—Percy Kilbride and Claude Jarman, the lad who made a hit in "The Yearling," appear here in a scene from "The Sun Comes Up," a moving story of mountain people—a boy and a dog—which is at the Ritz today and Monday. The Technicolor picture also has in the cast Jeanette McDonald, Lloyd Nolan, and the dog Lassie.

Biblical Pageant Brought To Screen In 'Lawton Story'

Twenty-five years ago, a Protestant minister by the name of Mark Wallock conceived the idea of an Easter religious pageant to be staged in the natural amphitheatre in the Wichita Mountains near Lawton, Okla.

So consecrated did he become to the task of developing this annual religious festival that practically the entire population of Lawton has had a hand in its presentation, many of them playing the same parts in the Passion Play year after year. And the growth of the spectacle has been such that, in recent years, as many as 250,000 to 300,000 people have gathered in the great outdoor bowl to witness it.

The undertaking has prompted the making of a picture called "The Lawton Story," and this presentation will be at the Lyric theatre here today through Tuesday, at special price schedules. In addition, there is a special stage program.

"The Lawton Story" was made in color, and was made at the Oklahoma setting, using many of the original cast members, and without the use of star names. It has been widely acclaimed as a spiritual presentation of merit ranking with "The Ten Commandments," and "The King of Kings" as a religious spectacle. It has been endorsed as being worthy of the Passion Play which prompted it, and called a Biblical presentation of moving beauty.

The Rev. Mr. Wallock missed seeing the film of Biblical tableaux, since his death occurred a few days after the shooting was completed. His co-workers, however (including the regular Passion Play cast of 3,000) have viewed the enriching work their efforts helped to bring about. The picture had its preview in Lawton April 1, at prices of $1,000 per seat to help enlarge and maintain the Lawton spectacle.

On the stage here will appear Lee Lindsay, famed as one of the Wichita Mountain speakers, and a group of costumed Pageant Girls, who will enact a brief review of the Rev. Mr. Wallock's life, titled "The Prince of Peace."

'Joan Of Arc' Booked At Ritz For May 17-18

The pageantry and glamour of the French court in the Fifteenth Century and the medieval battle-grounds of France provided back-grounds for the super-film in Technicolor, "Joan Of Arc," with Ingrid Bergman starred as the famous martyred heroine.

The picture is booked at the Ritz theatre as a special roadshow attraction on Tuesday and Wednesday, May 17 and 18.

Bringing into sharp relief the last two years of the Maid's inspiring career, the Victor Fleming production reveals the restless urge that drove the unlettered peasant girl to win command of the French armies and lead them to victory over the invading English forces.

Her subsequent triumph in the coronation of The Dauphin as King of France, his bitter aftermath as the treacherous ruler abandons her to her enemies, and the mockery of a trial that sent her to the stake are thrillingly portrayed in the RKO Radio release. Hailed by critics as one of the great pictures of all time, "Joan Of Arc" presents a notable cast in support of Miss Bergman. Among the featured players being Jose Ferrer as The Dauphin, Francis L. Sullivan, J. Carrol Naish, Ward Bond, Shepherd Strudwick, Hurd Hatfield, Cecil Kellaway, Gene Lockhart, John Emery, George Coulouris and John Ireland.

Walter Wanger produced the picture, which was more than a year in intensive preparation, and Victor Fleming directed. Maxwell Anderson and Andrew Solt wrote the screenplay, based upon Anderson's stage play, Joan of Lorraine.

Western Drama Today's Feature At The State

Romance and treachery on the cattle ranges keynote "Blood on the Moon," spectacular film version of the Luke Short novel, with Robert Mitchum, Barbara Bel Geddes and Robert Preston in the stellar roles. The picture is at the State theater today and Monday.

Preston portrays a boisterous frontier crook, Miss Bel Geddes the fiery daughter of an elderly cattleman, and Mitchum a roving cowboy who hires out to Preston to help put over a shady deal on the cattleman. But Mitchum soon becomes disgusted by Preston's greed and by Preston's secret romance with the cattleman's other daughter, and decides to wash his hands of the whole thing.

Preston, however, forces a quarrel on Mitchum and tries to ambush him, with the result that Mitchum joins forces with the cattleman and, by the daring kidnapping of a crooked government agent involved in the deal, manages to save the rancher's herds in a thrilling climax.

Walter Brennan, Phyllis Thaxter, Frank Faylen and Tom Tully head the featured cast of the RKO picture, which was directed by Robert Wise and produced by Theron Warth.

'Wallflower' Is Gay Comedy At The Terrace

The accent is on youth in the stellar ranks of Warner Bros.' rollicking comedy-romance, "Wallflower," which is featured tonight and Monday at the Terrace Drive-In theatre. Robert Hutton, Joyce Reynolds, and Janis Paige are all in this bright class.

Hutton, who has been zooming along since his film debut in Warner Bros. "Destination Tokyo," carries the leading male part, with Miss Reynolds and Miss Paige sharing feminine honors. Miss Reynolds, remembered for "Janie" and "Always Together," plays the shy, young miss in "Wallflower."

Miss Paige, last seen in "Winter Meeting," is also among the bright young performers now on top in Hollywood. Don McGuire, in the cast of "Wallflower," completes the roster of youthful who disport in this former stage hit of the same title.
