

AVERAGE HOME OWNER GETS OFF LIGHTLY

Big Spring Property Taxes Pay Only Small Part Of City Operating Costs

"I'm a taxpayer!" That simple declaration may be overworked and time-worn, but it still is calculated to pack some authority by those who use it, especially when they enter with public officials.

the city this year, the average home owner would find himself assessed something like $148. Exactly half of the taxes (or $74.00) from each average home owner will go to the interest and sinking fund to retire principal and interest on the city's bonded indebtedness. The other half will go to the general fund for current operation of the various departments.

City lakes have trapped around 200,000 gallons of water since mid-April. Despite all the rains, it is becoming increasingly more difficult to get runoff because vegetation is heavy enough to retard water so it absorbs.

Wool shearing is just beginning to get underway and a choice clip is in prospect. Its volume may be lighter than two years ago because stocking is down considerably.

Knott Rebekah Lodge Has Meeting; Visits And Visitors Are Reported

KNOTT, May 14. (Sp1)— Nine members attended the regular meeting of the Knott Rebekah lodge 14 in the IOOF hall Thursday evening. Enna Coker, noble grand, presided during the session. Attending were Leila Clay, Minnie Unger, Nora Gaskin, Ola Motley, Fannie Johnson, Jewel Smith, P. Coker, R. H. Unger and Enna Coker.

J. S. Clay has returned to his home from Fort Worth. He was accompanied by his uncle, W. J. Shurpene of La Rue, who will visit here for an extended length of time.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Johnson and son, Howard, visited Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Henderson in Lamesa Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Deor Lonett and daughters of Coleman visited Tuesday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Johnson.

Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Hill and sons are on a fishing trip to Dryden.

Mr. and Mrs. Juil Martin and Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Edgess of Hobbs, N. M. and Andrew Bayes of Eunice, N. M. were Saturday guests in the Tom Castle home.

Tuesday dinner guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Castle included Mr. and Mrs. Sylvester Martin and sons of Rotan, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Powell and sons and Mrs. Lula Burchell of Lamesa.

Mrs. Lola Page of Big Spring, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Castle, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Castle and Alden Bayes, Mrs. P. P. Coker and J. S. Clay were presented with a Bible which is 87 years old by their uncle, W. J. Shurpene.

Mrs. I. Rigins visited Tuesday afternoon with Grandmother Air-heart. Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Airheart made a business trip to Colorado City Thursday evening. Mrs. Herschel Smith visited her daughter, Mrs. C. E. Taylor and Mrs. N. E. Simpson in Westbrook Thursday.

HCJC Course For Latin-American Veterans Approved

A basic preparatory course for Latin-American veterans has been approved for Howard County Junior College.

Sanction came from the institutional division of the state approval agency for veterans. Next step, before the courses can be offered, is to complete negotiations with the Veterans Administration.

E. C. Dodd, HCJC president, said that the course would accommodate up to 80 veterans who have less than an eighth grade education. The course would be set up for 25 hours of study per week on a full time basis, paced so that the veteran could complete a grade every three months. However, provision would be made for part time students.

Approval has been granted for a terminal course, as of May 12, for Latin-American veterans who are engaged in special classes at HCJC.

Local Test-Fed Steers Get Top Market Rating

Three dozen steers completing the annual feeding tests at the U. S. Experiment Farm last week topped the Fort Worth market and returned handsome dressing percentages.

F. E. Keating, superintendent of the U. S. station, returned Saturday afternoon from Fort Worth and reported that the steers averaged 26.59 except for three out of the lot.

Average weight was approximately 815 pounds at Fort Worth, reflecting not only the outstanding gains of the feeding period but also an unusually small shrinkage. Normally animals have been showing about 50 to 55 pounds shrinkage, but this year they averaged only 48 pounds in transit.

Gross per animal was approximately $216 (except for the three on the tail end). The gross dollar gain was right at $100 although the steers were bought at 28.00 and sold for cent and a half less due to market fluctuations.

Dressing percentage averaged a fancy 63 1/2 per cent, with the top lot (No. 4) showing 64 1/2 per cent dress.

Precursory examination of bladder precipitates indicated a minimum of urinary calculi, with which the tests concern themselves primarily. All lots were fed identical basic rations, varied only as to mineral content.

Ten head were slaughtered last autumn for evidences of urinary calculi, and those processed last week showed no more precipitates in the bladder than did the autumn check animals. No conclusions are yet warranted pending a detailed analysis of the tests, however.

Huntsville Army Recruiter Killed

HUNTSVILLE, Tex., May 14. (AP)—T-Sgt. Frank Franks, 27, U. S. Army and Air Force recruiter here, was killed instantly early Saturday in an auto crash two miles west of Huntsville.

Army officials were investigating the crash, which occurred on Highway 45. Funeral services were being arranged at Grapeland.

Franks was a native of Deridder, La. He had spent nearly 10 years in the Army and had been stationed here three years. Survivors include the widow and three children, Sammie, Frank, and Sandra Kay.

Philadelphia Car Fare Hike Flayed

PHILADELPHIA, May 14. (AP)— More than 3,000,000 users of Philadelphia Transportation Co. facilities paid 15 cents Saturday for a trolley ride—the highest fare in the history of the city.

The boost from 10 to 13 cents, third increase since 1947, went into effect 26 hours after the Public Utility Commission voted by a 3 to 2 decision to allow an "emergency" increase.

The PUC later will decide whether the boost will be permanent.

Glasscock Co. Has Many Sheep To Be Sheared

GARDEN CITY, May 14.—Favorable weather should swing sheep shearing into full gear in Glasscock county this week.

Rough estimates place the number of head to be handled by crews between 40,000 and 50,000, with prospects of a cleaner and heavier clip. Estimates are that the average will be around nine pounds, but one report showed short lambs to have hit that figure.

No totals have been reported on ewes since the work is just starting.

At the present time there are about six crews working in the county, and the number per crew has ranged from five to 10. Rain and cool weather have delayed shearing, and crews, which migrate in from the border, are slower in arriving because weather conditions there have retarded shearing operations.

Whether the labor situation will be difficult is problematical. In recent years, as stocking was decreased, there has been a tendency to use fewer crews, and to use those recruited in this general area.

Early reports reflect a better grade of wool than last year. No reports of contracts on the clip have been reported, nor have there been any reports of sales on freshly shorn wool. So far as could be learned ranchers have not made contracts on fall delivery of lambs, although some muttons have been contracted.

In general, range conditions are excellent and sheep are in good flesh.

Local Communicable Disease Cases Drop

Howard county had an exceptionally low number of new communicable disease cases last week, based on the weekend report of the city-county health unit.

New cases reported by doctors included one each of mumps, measles, chickenpox and pneumonia, and three of verterial disease.

Registration Begins For Swimming Classes

Registrations are being accepted now for free swimming instruction to start June 8.

Classes will be offered for children, young people and adults in beginner and advance groups. The YMCA and Red Cross are cooperating in the classes.

Registrations should be made by calling or writing the YMCA. There will be no charge for instruction, and the only fees will be those assessed for use of the pool.

Bobo Hardy will be the YMCA instructor and Olen Puckett will represent the Red Cross chapter. Life saving courses are set later.

Jap Coal Miners In 48-Hour Walkout

TOKYO, May 14. (AP)— The National Federation of Coal Miners today announced its 420,000 members went on strike at midnight throughout Japan.

The 48-hour strike is in protest to reduce wages about 20 per cent. A union leader said other labor groups—including railway workers and seamen—would meet Monday to enlist support for the coal strike.

Methodist Bishops Hit Anti-Pact Report

NEW YORK, May 14. (AP)— Fourteen Methodist bishops have announced disagreement with a church commission's report which refused to back the Atlantic Pact.

The 14 bishops, in a statement Friday, said they support the pact "with the necessary controls for its promotion of peace because in our opinion it will help to advance and protect the ideals for which our nation poured out life and treasure in two world conflicts."

Those signing the statement included Bishop A. Frank Smith, Houston.

Meet The "Seniors" of the COSDEN FAMILY

This is the 44th of a series of special Cosden presentations, recognizing the long and valued services of those employees who have been associated with Cosden for 15 years and longer. Cosden is proud of the scores of its workers who have contributed to its success through so many years.

RUPERT A. CHAMBERS

The business association of Rupert A. Chambers and Cosden dates back originally to November, 1928. He was out of the company employment for about a year, but has been continuously a Cosdenite since January 1, 1933.

Native of Danville, Ark., Chambers moved with his family to Oklahoma when he was a lad of 8, and he attended school in the Sooner state. He farmed in Oklahoma and New Mexico until 1928, when he moved to Pecos and helped in the construction of a refinery.

He moved to Forsan in 1928 and went to work for Cosden in the production department. He was transferred to Penwell before a brief lay-off, then rejoined the company in 1933 in the pipeline department.

In 1946 Chambers was made maintenance foreman, the job he now holds.

He was married to Miss Lillian Yarbrough of Oklahoma in 1911. They have four children, Walter, Audrey, Edgar and Virginia.

Chambers is active in the Forsan Service club, likes all kinds of sports.

NEW Hudson

ONLY CAR WITH THE STEP-DOWN DESIGN

Come in... See why the New Hudson is America's "4-MOST" car!

- 1 MOST BEAUTIFUL
Voted by millions—"America's most beautiful car!" A low build is the basis for modern beauty, and the New Hudson, with "step-down" design, is lowest of all—yet there's full road clearance. Its stunning lines flow naturally, even to the graceful curves of its Full-View windshield.
- 2 MOST ROOMY
Not just "more" roomy, but the most seating room in any mass-produced car, the most efficient use of interior space. Amazing head room, leg room to spare. You enjoy the most riding comfort—ahead of rear wheels, within the base frame, down where riding is most smooth, most relaxing.
- 3 MOST ROAD-WORTHY
Not just "more", but most road-worthy! Only Hudson, with exclusive "step-down" design and recessed floor, achieves a new, lower center of gravity—lowest in any stock car. Result: safest, steady ride ever known! To all this, Hudson adds the advantages of unit body-and-frame construction.
- 4 MOST ALL-ROUND PERFORMANCE
Your choice of the high-compression Hudson Super-Six engine, America's most powerful Six, or the even more powerful Super-Eight. Center-Point Steering for easiest handling. Triple-Safe Brakes for utmost safety. And many more high-performance, low-keep features.

And in addition, only Hudson brings you ... All these "most-wanted" advantages! Automatic gear shifting with Drive-Master Transmission... all-new, high-compression Super-Six Engine, most powerful American Six... Dual Carburetion... Fluid-Cushion Clutch... Manifold Body-and-Frame... Dismountable Individual Fenders... Interior Door Handles, Window Controls in recessed door panels... Super-Cushion Tires... Safety-Type Rims... President's Lack Of Office At Capitol Surprising To Tourists

By TEX EASLEY
 AP Special Washington Service
WASHINGTON, May 13. (AP)—Tourists often are surprised to learn that the President has no office at the Capitol and, in fact, seldom visits there.
 His close contact with the lawmakers is through their personal visits to the White House, nearly two miles distant from the Capitol. Congressmen sometimes go to the White House singly, particularly if it's about a matter of interest only to their district, but often they go in groups. Some talks are arranged at the legislator's request, some by the President.
 Rep. Ed Gossett of Wichita Falls, in a news letter to constituents tells the how and why of one such meeting.

"At the request of Congressman Emanuel Celler of New York, Chairman of the House Judiciary Committee, the President called to the White House all of us Democratic members of such committee," wrote Gossett.
 "His object was to sell us on his proposal to bring 400,000 so-called DP's from the DP camps of Europe. He was partially successful since the Judiciary Committee this morning (May 5) reported out a bill to bring in 339,000 of such individuals.
 "There were nine of us in the Committee who voted against the bill. This whole plan has been promoted and sponsored primarily by the Zionist organizations of America. They have succeeded in getting a great many prominent church men and organizations to join in these demands to bring these people to our shores.

 "I shall oppose this bill as effectively as possible. However, proponents of this dangerous and unfair legislation have tremendous organization, money, and propaganda behind them."

Around the Capital:
 Twenty years ago May 9 the Texas congressional wives organized as a social group for monthly luncheons at which no subject more serious than hats and children could be discussed.
 Politics and legislative matters were taboo, likewise speeches that still the policy, and it must be a good one because the group is considered the outstanding woman's organization of its kind in Washington.

The anniversary luncheon was called in honor of Mrs. Tom Connally, wife of the senior Texas Senator, who founded the club. She then was the wife of Texas Senator Morris Sheppard, who died in 1941.
 Mrs. Frances Cotton Poage, wife of Rep. Bob Poage of Waco, was chosen to serve as toastmistress. Mrs. Lady Bird Johnson, wife of Texas' Junior Senator Lyndon B. Johnson, was chosen to present a silver gift to Mrs. Connally.

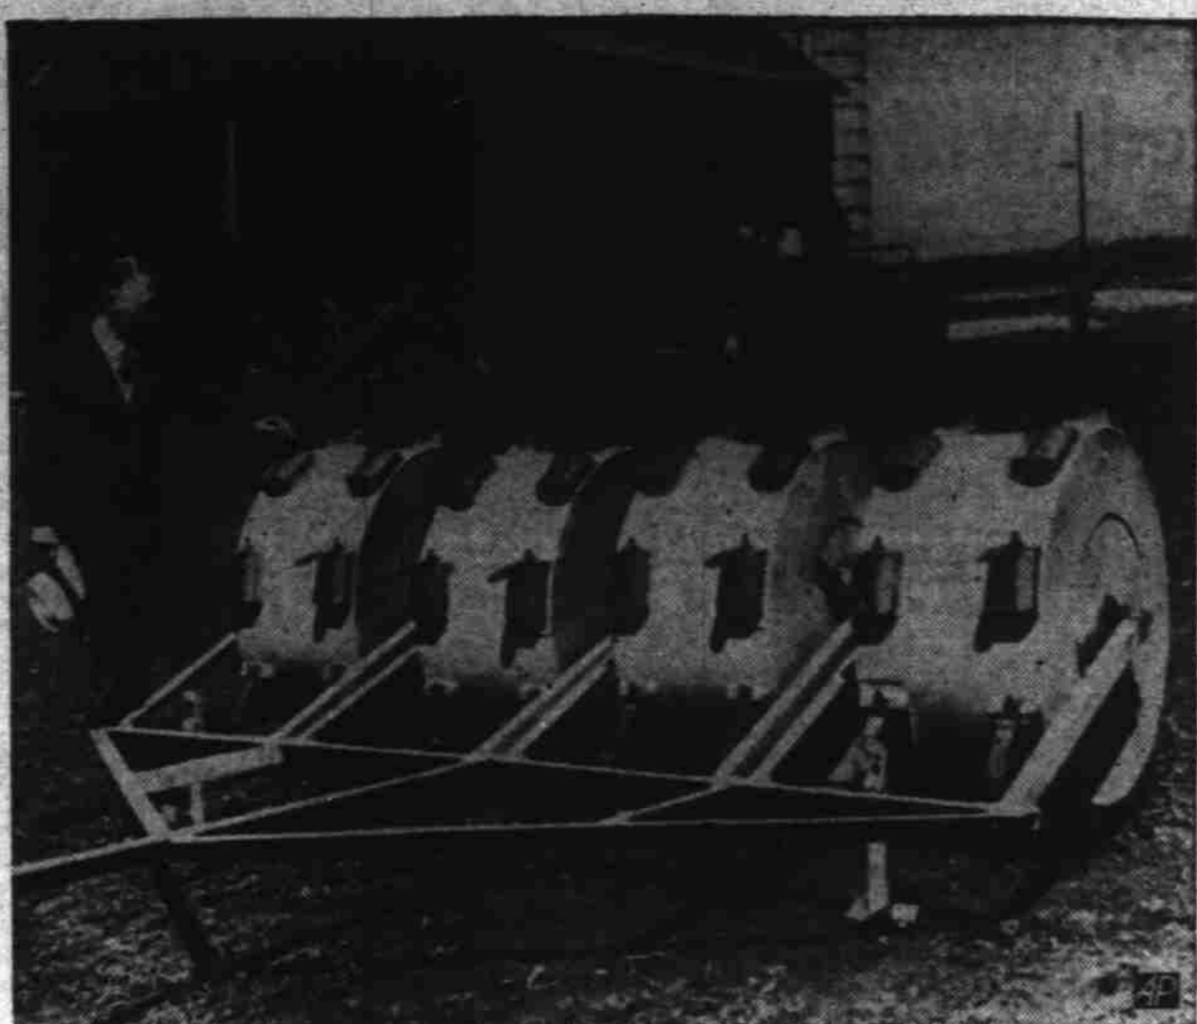

Only Texas congressional wives, or women who husbands have served in Congress from Texas, are club members. This latter category includes Mrs. Luther A. Johnson wife of the former Corsicana congressman who now is a judge on the U. S. Tax court; Mrs. Jack Beall, widow of the one-time Dallas congressman; Mrs. Fritz Lanham, wife of the former Fort Worth representative; Mrs. Eugene O. Black whose husband represented an East Texas congressional district before assuming a federal judgeship here.
 Only Texas women can be invited to the monthly luncheons as guests. The affairs usually are held at various small but well-known inns.

At the Rio Grande Valley's Congressman Bentsen may have to ask the House Roll Call clerk to say "Lloyd Bentsen" or "Bentsen of Texas" when calling out the members' names.

 When the vitally important vote was taken on the motion to send the Wood labor bill back to the committee, Rep. Denton of Indiana answered to Bentsen's name, voting "yes", and the roll clerk hears him instead of the Texan. Bentsen voted "no". The matter was straightened out at the end of the roll call, during a tense moment when the entire issue was in doubt. The "yes" was 212 to 209.
 On another recent occasion Rep. Carl Vinson, (D-Ga.), the chairman of the Armed Services Committee, answered to Bentsen's name.

Decline Noted In Unemployment Pay

WASHINGTON, May 14. (AP)—The number of workers drawing jobless insurance pay fell 57,000 last week, the first drop in a month.
 This decline brought the total down to 1,980,000 during the week ending May 7 as compared with 2,037,000 for the preceding period.
 But the Federal Security Agency said Friday the number of newly laid-off workers filing claims for unemployment compensation rose from 322,100 to 354,000 in the same period.
 Before last week's drop in jobless payments, the agency noted that for three weeks there had been a steady increase. Despite the decline the May 7 total still was 775,000 higher than in the same period last year.
 On this point, the FSA report said that more workers have been using up their jobless benefit rights this year than during 1948. In the 345,000 people exhausted these rights as compared with 239,000 in the same period last year.
 Only 33 million of the nation's workers are covered by the unemployment insurance which is administered by the states themselves.

SMART DOG IS BACK AT HOME

LOS ANGELES, May 14. (AP)—Bert Grateful is grateful today for a classified ad that brought back his wandering dog.
 Teal II, a female Springer Spaniel, left home last Wednesday and appeared Friday at the door of Stanley T. Gray, several miles away. The dog was carrying a copy of the Los Angeles Times in her mouth.
 Gray looked through the lost and found ads in the paper, found one fitting the dog's description, and telephoned Grateful.

$519,250 Mark Is Reached In City Building

City building figures for 1949 moved past the half-million dollar mark last week, chiefly on the strength of three new residential permits. The total for the year at the end of the week amounted to $519,250. Ten permits for an estimated $35,225 in new construction were issued during the past week.

The local Texas Employment Commission office made 76 referrals to jobs, which resulted in 44 placements last week. At the same time the TEC received 34 new work applications and 26 new job orders. Active applications on file at the end of the week totaled 315, while reception contacts for the week totaled 356. Other activity at the TEC office last week included the handling of 50 claims for unemployment compensation.

Nine warranty deeds were recorded in the county clerk's office during the week. No large transactions were reported, however. Consideration involved in the deeds filed for recording amounted to $15,460, which increased the year's total to $638,896.

A new tabulation on new motor vehicle registrations, covering a period of two weeks, lists 50 new cars, 15 new trucks and one new motorcoter.

If you drive a Cadillac, the sketch above tells a story. Somewhere on the streets or highways you bring your car to a velvety stop to give a "lift" to a youngster whose thumb is pointed the same way you are—and you watch his face light up as he settles down beside you.
 "Boy, a Cadillac!"
 You know, without asking, what is going through his head. He's dreaming of the day when he himself grows up to man's estate and has a Cadillac of his own.
 It is only natural, of course, that Cadillac should occupy this unique place of honor in the dreams and aspirations of American youth—for Cadillac is the only car in America whose name and crest have been reserved exclusively for cars of the very highest character. It is the only fine-car name that has meant the same—for decade after decade.

 This year, the Cadillac name has a special luster—for Cadillac cars are powered by a great new V-type engine—the creative masterpiece of Cadillac's renowned engineering division. Performance is so brilliant, from every standpoint that it simply must be experienced in order to be believed.
 Why not experience it yourself? You are welcome in our showrooms at any time.

Legislature Is Credited With Some Hard Work This Session

AUSTIN, May 14. (U.S. Underneath that froth of hubbub and confusion in the Texas House of Representatives this session is a solid rock of hard work.

Speaker Durwood Manford of Smiley pointed it out—

1. Out of almost a thousand bills introduced this session, approximately half of them already passed. That's a record other recent legislatures can't touch.
2. First time in modern history the House has disposed of the four big appropriations bills before the Senate has taken up even one on the floor.
3. More controversial legislation thrashed out and passed than in any other session in modern times.

"Furthermore," Manford added "every day something controversial has come up. There hasn't been a single day when the speaker can sit back and relax."

"You just sit back and think-that House has worked."

To a novice onlooker it's the babble of a thousand tongues—150, to be exact. There's a public address system. The speaker has a microphone and there are two more mikes on the floor.

Times come when there's somebody yelling on each floor mike and up on the rostrum is the speaker pounding his gavel for order. And there are some members with voices booming enough to stand up at their desks and yell—"make them sit down, Mr. Speaker."

It's the best example you can think of offhand of the American way of life—free speech and debate.

And it works, too.

The House has disposed of the basic science bill, the oil unitization measure, the chiropractic licensing board, elimination of the poll tax for voting—all measures that have tangled up many a previous Legislature.

And there are the Gilmer-Aikin bills reorganizing the state school program.

"Sure, we spent a long time on those three bills," Manford said. "But you've got to consider that almost each section of those is a bill in itself. We passed almost 55 or 60 bills when we passed the Gilmer-Aikin program."

They talk and they yell, and somebody always shouts—"what are we voting on, Mr. Speaker?" But the speaker pounds that gavel and order, relatively speaking, is restored.

Native Texan Named To Head Weather Office At Galveston

WASHINGTON, May 14. (U.S. — The Weather Bureau is sending a native Texan to head the weather office in Galveston.

Bureau Chief F. W. Reichelderfer announced today that Houston-born Ernest Carson, a career weather man now stationed here, will succeed Percy J. Naughton when the latter retires May 31.

Carson has served in the "southern Hurricane Area" most of the time since he entered the weather service at Houston in 1916.

His assignments included Pensacola and Miami, where he served from 1935 until being moved here a year ago.

Reichelderfer commended Carson's work in giving public warning and precautionary suggestions in advance for some 20 hurricanes that occurred in his areas.

66 OVERCOME BY GAS

NEW YORK, May 14. (U.S. — Bulldozers scraped through deep ooze and matter wreckage today to clear the blast-seared Holland Tunnel for its daily load of 46,000 cars and trucks.

A big truck, rolling towards New York with a cargo of chemicals, blew up Friday morning. It spewed fire and poisonous gas through 300 feet of the traffic-clogged tunnel.

Normal vehicular traffic may be resumed tomorrow morning, Austin J. Tobin, executive director of the New York Port Authority, said after an inspection trip today that the New York-bound tube would be restored to service "at the earliest tomorrow morning and at the latest Monday."

Tobin said however that the tube would be closed from 10 to 12 hours at night for a month or two to permit repair work to proceed. Damage may total $1 million.

The New Jersey bound tube was reopened five hours after the accident.

Minor explosions and small fires hampered workmen throughout last night but added little to the already severe damage.

Repairmen said 250 feet of the tunnel's inner ceiling would have to be replaced.

New Jersey authorities sought to determine criminal negligence led to the concentrated destruction on the underwater highway that links New York and New Jersey beneath the Hudson River.

However, the cause of the blast could not be pinpointed in the welter of debris. New York fire officials said atmospheric pressure in the tunnel may have touched off the truck's cargo of carbon disulphide.

Sixty-six persons, mostly firemen and tunnel workers, collapsed or staggered groggily from the tunnel's smoke-fogged depths during a five-hour battle with fire and fumes.

Twenty-six were taken to hospitals with burns or gas poisoning. Experts said only the 34 powerful blowers in the walls kept gas fumes from building up a blanket that might have turned the tunnel into a deadly gas chamber.

The evil-smelling, yellow fumes were drawn out and replaced by fresh air before they cost any lives. Firemen wore gas masks or oxygen helmets as they braved the smoky, steaming semi-darkness in relays.

At least 23 trucks rumbled to an abrupt halt in bumper to bumper confusion as a mushroom of fire signaled the explosion. They were sprayed with flaming chemical and damaged or destroyed.

The intense heat fused some of them together, melting their metal frameworks into an almost solid wall of wreckage.

Their cargoes of meat, rags, chemicals, butter, and eggs were stewed into a thick, stinking mess. It lay ankle deep on the floor of the tunnel's eastbound tube.

Panic-stricken private motorists abandoned their cars and stumbled for the tunnel exits, handkerchiefs clutched to their smoldering eyes.

However, workmen said no private cars were destroyed in the blast area.

Great chunks of cement dropped from the tunnel's inner walls, imperiling rescue workers.

Telephone, television, radio and press cables melted away in the heat. The American Telephone and Telegraph Co. called it the worst communications failure in its history.

Phone service from New York to Jersey City went out with the destruction of a 200-circuit cable. Half the long distance circuits to

Negro Says He Saw Movie Night Of Rape-Slaying

GUAM, May 14. (U.S. — A Negro Air Force private told a court-martial today he was watching a movie the night Ruth Farnsworth was beaten, raped and left dying in the jungle.

Shortly after Pvt. Herman Dennis left the stand, his attorney rested for the defense. The court then recessed until Monday, when it will hear final arguments. Dennis is one of three soldiers charged with the rape-slaying.

Dennis testified that he was in an Air Force Theater eight miles from the jade shop where the 27-year-old Miss Farnsworth worked on the night of Dec. 11. That was the night of the attack.

Four other Negro soldiers a short time previously testified they had seen the defendant at the theater. Two prosecution witnesses had declared they saw him near the shop the night of the attack.

Dennis insisted he did not visit the jade shop or talk to Miss Farnsworth on the day of the slaying.

Dennis also contradicted the testimony of Sue Blackledge, a white Navy civil service employee who sometimes worked part time in the jade shop with Miss Farnsworth.

Miss Blackledge said she complained to her employer last October that Dennis had entered the shop and asked her for a date.

Dennis declared that Miss Blackledge initiated the conversation and asked him how he felt about racial segregation overseas.

The defendant said he replied

Banquet Is Held

COAHOMA, May 14. — Coahoma High School Seniors were honored Friday with a banquet and prom given by the juniors in the Settles Hotel ball room. Theme chosen by the juniors was "the '49." Picks and shovels with gold colored rocks lined the banquet hall. A tiny covered wagon filled with various wild flowers formed the table centerpiece. Plate favors were tiny guns in holsters.

W. A. Wilson gave the invocation which was followed by the welcome by Wendell Shive and the response by Peggy Stringtlow. Dr. P. D. O'Brien was the principal speaker.

"Along the Navajo Trail" and "The Old Covered Wagon" were the two vocal numbers presented by Lee York, Patsy Kiser, Jo Nell Tidol, Nellie Moorhead, Jane Echols, and Dena Hale. Doris Shackelford read the will. Wade Choate gave a trombone solo. Margaret Stamps gave the class prophecy.

that he did not think segregation was justified overseas because it was hard for a man to be without a woman so long.

Two other Negro soldiers also are charged in the case. Calvin Dennis, a half brother, and Sgt. Robert W. Burns have been granted separate trials.

Miracle Boy And Mother Celebrate

LIMA, Peru, May 14. (U.S. — Little Gerardo Medina and the mother who gave him birth when she was only five years and eight months old, celebrated his 10th birthday today.

Medical science was amazed when on Mothers Day, May 14, 1939, Dr. Gerardo Losada performed an operation delivering a son from a mother not much beyond babyhood herself.

Today they are sturdy, healthy children, leading the normal, poverty stricken lives of a million others on the western Andean slopes.

The son's half-breed grandfather has taught him to herd goats, but the child also attends the same school as his mother, Lina Medina, now nearly 18 years old.

Lina now knows that the boy is her son, and not a brother, as he first had told her. The boy, however, believes she is his sister.

Dr. Losada, who saved both mother and son with a Cæsarian operation, is far from popular with the children's grandparents. He says they resent the fact he overruled their desire to send the children abroad for exhibition, hoping to reap a fortune from those who would pay to see.

It was the doctor who convinced authorities that the trip should not be allowed.

Losada, now owner of a swank clinic, said he plans some day to write a book about the case, and that he can now understand why it did not draw sustained interest from the medical profession abroad.

He said the child-mother is sensitive about the case, and weeps if people question her about it.

The birthday observance did not disturb the meek life of the little goat herder, who lives in his grandparents' hut at the little Andean village of Ticrapo, south of here. It was school as usual this morning, but work among the goats in the afternoon, when school closes for the Saturday half-holiday.

Berlin Airlift Cost $199,077,000

WASHINGTON, May 14. (U.S. — The National Military Establishment estimates the cost to the United States of the Berlin airlift at about $199,077,000.

This figure, announced Friday, includes $181,307,900 for the air phase carried on by the Air Force and Navy, and $8,770,000 for the Army, which did the ground job.

SEVERAL SOLONS FAVOR PLAN

Senate Group Ponders Police Force For Atlantic Alliance

WASHINGTON, May 14 (AP)—A group of senators gave serious thought Saturday to an international police force for the North Atlantic Alliance.

Senators Mundt (R-S.D.) and Hendrickson (R-N.J.) said they are among several lawmakers who look favorably on such a plan to enforce peace.

Mundt said he will back a move for an international police force, to include Spain, Turkey, China, Argentina, and "all other non-Communist countries of the world."

Hendrickson said he is "sympathetic to the objectives," but has not yet become an active supporter of the plan. He added that he'd like to see it done under the United Nations.

The two senators gave their views to reporters in separate interviews.

Bridge expert Ely Culbertson has interested a group of senators in his idea for setting up a "contingent force" among the 12 pact nations.

This volunteer army would be made up of exiles and citizens of countries not large enough to have their own armies. It would be controlled by a central council on which the United States would have two votes and the other countries a total of five.

Culbertson said this proposal will be made in the form of a resolution in connection with the Senate's consideration of the Atlantic Treaty and arms-for-Europe program. With U. S. backing, he said, the other pact nations probably would accept it.

Mundt said such a plan may be offered when the $1,100,000,000 arms program for pact nations is brought before the Senate.

But he added his major objective will be to get this government to lead the way in a world disarmament drive, coupled with international arms inspection. This is more important, he said, than formation of a police force.

Mundt said the United States should call a conference of UN powers—with or without Russia—to decide what changes should be made in the UN charter to give that organization more power.

Support for the Culbertson plan appeared to come mainly from senators who believe the United Nations cannot enforce a peaceful world as long as there is a power of veto in the Big Five Council.

While Culbertson would limit his police force initially to the pact nations, Mundt favors taking in all anti-Communist nations.

Hendrickson said he might become an active supporter of the plan if he can see it outlined in greater detail.

Truman Letter Not Criticism Of Demo Leaders, Says White House

WASHINGTON, May 14 (AP)—The White House said Saturday President Truman intended no criticism of House Democratic leaders in a letter he wrote to a union leader about recent labor law compromise proposals in Congress.

House Speaker Rayburn (D-Tex.) and other administration supporters last week offered a compromise House labor bill, including a number of provisions similar to those in the administration-opposed Taft-Hartley law. But the bill was defeated.

The President is pledged to repeal Taft-Hartley. His letter to A. F. Whitney, president of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, read:

"The compromisers got nowhere, as I was sure they wouldn't, and they never had any consideration whatever for me."

Questioned on published reports that this was a presidential spanking of Rayburn, White House Press Secretary Charles G. Ross said there were two "typographical errors" in the quoted sentence.

Ross said he checked the letter's text with Mr. Truman and "no-slap at any person was intended." Ross said the sentence should have read:

"The compromisers (instead of 'compromisers') got nowhere, as ever from (instead of 'for') me."

Commission To Post Allowables

By The Associated Press

Texas oilmen next Thursday will know whether the five-month-old downward trend in the state's crude oil production is to continue or begin an upward climb.

The state's Railroad Commission will set the June daily production allowables at a hearing in Corpus Christi.

Production in Texas averaged 1,884,600 barrels daily for the week ending May 7 compared to 2,509,200 on Jan. 1.

Last month the commission indicated reduced foreign crude imports and improved domestic stocks might justify an increase in production in June.

Domestic production for the week ending May 7 averaged 4,896,750 barrels daily, a decline of 25,300 from the previous week. A year ago production averaged 5,412,750 barrels daily.

Pre-Trial Hearing In Price-Fixing Suit Set Monday

AUSTIN, May 14 (AP)—Pre-trial hearing in the state's gasoline price-fixing suit against 10 major oil refiners will be held Monday in 98th District Court before Judge Charles O. Betts.

Attorney General Price Daniel will return from Washington, where he argued the state's side in the nation's biggest land suit—the tidelands case—to announce he is ready in the state's largest anti-trust in history.

Monday's proceedings will deal with objections and exceptions filed by each of the 10 oil companies against the state's charges. Defendants' motions for separate trials will also be considered.

Chief allegation in the attorney general's petition is that the refiners have maintained an artificial uniform tank wagon price per gallon on gasoline in Texas since the end of OPA.

Companies involved are Arkansas Fuel Oil Co., Cities Service Oil Co., Continental Oil Co., Gulf Oil Corp., Humble Oil and Refining Co., of Texas, the Texas Co., Sinclair Refining Co., and Phillips Petroleum Co.

Judge West Dies Friday At San Antonio

Judge Duval West

SAN ANTONIO, May 14 (AP)—Retired Federal Judge Duval West, 87, died Friday at his home here.

During his long and colorful career, Judge West was a rancher, renowned hunter, deputy United States Marshal, and assistant United States attorney.

Funeral services were held here Saturday afternoon.

Judge West retired from the bench as judge of the Western District of Texas in 1932. He was appointed to the judgeship in 1916 by President Woodrow Wilson. He took the oath of office on Jan. 2, 1917.

His appointment followed a diplomatic career in Mexico during the revolutionary period as personal agent of President Wilson. He interviewed Pancho Villa.

Born in Austin, Nov. 13, 1861, he was graduated from Texas Military Institute here in 1879. As a young man he managed a ranch near Cotulla.

Judge West received his license to practice law at the age of 19, but did not begin active practice until 10 years later. He served as deputy United States marshal and assistant United States attorney before becoming judge of the district.

He was a veteran of the Spanish-American War.

Judge West is survived by a daughter, Mrs. E. S. Emerson, and six grandchildren.

A biographical sketch on Judge West occupied nearly half a page in Who's Who. As a deputy marshal, he and one other man repulsed a band of train robbers who tried to hold up a train near Harwood. He was a member of a posse that ran down a band of train robbers in Wilson County.

At the age of 70, Judge West was considered by many to be the greatest hunter in Texas. He would bag his full allotment of deer every hunting season.

Transfer Of Local Dry Lands Station To State Proposed

WASHINGTON, May 14 (AP)—Approval of legislation to turn over dry lands and irrigation stations at Big Spring and Dalhart, Tex., to the state has been recommended to a House agriculture subcommittee.

Frank W. Parker, assistant chief of the Bureau of Plant Industry, Friday told the group 11 stations would be transferred under the proposal.

The stations largely serve local needs, he explained.

Parker said the government would continue to give some financial assistance when the stations are under state supervision.

States would not have to accept them, however, and the Secretary of Agriculture would transfer them only when satisfactory agreements with states were reached.

Confessed Slayer May Have Killed Two Others In '48

KINGMAN, Ariz., May 14 (AP)—Sheriff Frank L. Porter of Mohave County said Saturday he is investigating the possibility that a confessed murderer being held in the county jail may have been responsible for two other killings.

The man being questioned is Ivan Leroy Miles, 23, who first gave his name as William Edward Thorn of Hereford, Tex. Miles has confessed to the hitch-hike shooting of Glen Yarbrough, Corcoran, Calif., here April 7.

Sheriff Porter said Miles is "having difficulty" remembering where he was on Feb. 9, 1948, when R. D. MacNeil, El Paso newspaper advertising manager, and Maurice Heaton, Los Angeles advertising man, were killed at El Paso, Tex.

The sheriff said Miles was not in prison at that time, having completed a 50-month term in the New Mexico prison on a forgery charge.

Over $300 Taken In Hotel Holdup

AUSTIN, May 14 (AP)—Two men carrying pistols robbed the Alamo Hotel here early Saturday, escaping with more than $300 in cash.

Two hotel employees told police the two were about 19 and 23 years old, and furnished descriptions.

The robbers entered the lobby about 3:30 a.m., pulled their guns on J. E. (Zolle) Thompson, night clerk, and Julius Garden, night porter.

Thompson told police one man took the money from the cash drawer. The men cut the outside telephone line, pulled loose the switchboard phone, and then locked Thompson and Garden in the check room before making their getaway.

Boy Scout Comes To Aid As Negro Chases His Father

FORT WORTH, May 14 (AP)—A 12-year-old Everman Boy Scout came to the rescue when his father was being chased by a Negro prowler Saturday. Young William D. Taylor shot the Negro in the face with a .22 caliber rifle from a distance of 30 feet.

He and his father, W. H. Taylor, a Texas and Pacific carman, spotted the Negro sitting in the Taylor car near the house. The elder Taylor ordered him out of the vehicle and was assaulted by the Negro.

As the prowler chased Taylor around the car, William grabbed his target rifle, took careful aim and fired. The bullet entered the Negro's left cheek and emerged through the right cheek.

A few minutes later the Negro was arrested by deputy sheriffs.

The district attorney's office said no charges would be filed against the boy. Action was pending against the Negro, who was taken to a local hospital.

Heart Attack Fatal To ICS Official

HOUSTON, May 14 (AP)—A heart attack in a local restaurant Friday night was fatal to E. D. Armitator, 52, Texas-Louisiana district manager of the International Correspondence Schools.

He was a native of Iberia, La.

Funeral services will be held here Sunday.

GROWTH IS PHENOMENAL

Big Petroleum Industry Offers Many Opportunities To Youth

WILLIAM R. BOYD, JR., President, American Petroleum Institute

The petroleum industry is a lustrous, vibrant one whose growth from scratch to its present position in less than 90 years is striking evidence in itself of the many opportunities that are available within its ranks for the graduates of the nation's high schools, colleges and universities.

Mushrooming up from its humble beginnings in 1859, in the little town of Titusville, Pa., the petroleum industry is outranked now only by agriculture in the dollar value of its products. It supplies almost 50 per cent of the energy requirements of the country, and its uses in various forms run into thousands.

On the whole, the petroleum industry is known for the stability of its employment, and its wages and working conditions have always been considered among the best. Its operations are myriad, and there seems no doubt that its payroll probably reflect a greater variety of trades and talents, arts and sciences than any other single industry.

Too, fresh blood, new ideas and improved techniques have always been welcomed by the industry in its mighty task of keeping America well supplied with petroleum products.

Both in this country, and on foreign soil, the industry has been carrying out a tremendous expansion program for years.

It is a fascinating and complex job, this business of finding oil, producing it, refining it, and transporting it to the millions of Americans who use it as gasoline, fuel oils, household oils, industrial oils, lubricants, greases, synthetic rubbers, plastics, medicine bases and compounds, disinfectants, anti-septics, weed and bug killers and many other products.

Among the wide variety of skills which the industry employs constantly are geophysicists, surveyors, engineers of all sorts, paleontologists, steel riggers, drillers, mechanics, truck drivers, pipe liners, maritime crews, refinery hands, technologists, research experts, scientists, so many trades and occupations that it is almost impossible to enumerate them all.

At the present there are more than 2,000,000 persons working in the various phases of petroleum in this country alone. There are 125,000 in administration and research, 231,000 in production and exploration; 157,000 in refining and processing; 223,000 in transportation and communications; 1,150,000 in distribution and marketing (including 734,000 service station personnel) and 120,000 in service and supply.

College and university graduates may find research to their liking. The petroleum industry has always been a leader in research, and currently is spending more than $100,000,000 a year to give America not only still better motor fuel oils, lubricants and other products, but many more of them.

Many oil companies carefully look over the most promising prospects in the universities and colleges. Some are tabbed while still in school and are given special training and summer jobs in the field to test their abilities.

The growth of petroleum has been based on enterprise, ingenuity and competition. These are fruitful signs for bright young men who can be trained and who can develop into the leaders of tomorrow.

UN Quits Trying For Adjournment

NEW YORK, May 14 (AP)—The United Nations Assembly abandoned Saturday night all attempts to adjourn this week end. It put over until Monday the last two hot issues—Spain and the former Italian colonies.

The delegates will tackle Monday at 8:30 a.m. CST, a Latin American proposal to take the diplomatic wraps off Spain. The disposition of the former Italian colonies will come up when action on Spain is concluded.

Late Saturday the delegates approved a resolution asking South Africa, India, and Pakistan to go into a round-table huddle over the problem of India's charge that South Africa discriminates against persons of Indian origin.

This was the mildest action so far taken. In two previous assemblies the delegates have said South Africa violated fundamental human rights in its treatment of Indians.

After the vote Dr. Herbert V. Ewart, Australian foreign minister and Assembly president, said there still were important items for the Assembly and if no one objected he would adjourn the meeting until Monday morning. He rapped his gavel at 4:23 p.m. CST while weary delegates applauded.

The end of the Assembly depends on how quickly they can decide the Spain and Italian cases. This may not come now until Tuesday as there are long lists of speakers in both cases.

The Assembly sat until nearly 2 a.m. CST this morning, completing work on a proposed treaty affecting press freedoms.

Corsicana May Decontrol Rents

CORSICANA, May 14 (AP)—Mayor Hubert T. Braselton said Saturday the City Commission may decontrol rents here at a meeting Monday.

But there is a condition to the plan.

The City Commission has promised to "decontrol" Corsicana if landlords will "morally obligate" themselves not to raise rents for six months.

Landlords began pouring into City Hall early in the day to sign the agreement. In case of "hardships" the plan would allow a 25 per cent raise.

Mayor Braselton said that if a sufficient number of the landlords agree to the plan action would be taken probably on Monday.

San Angelo Invades Local Park For 3 Games Monday

Sam Harshaney Heads Guests

Their Longhorn baseball league activity now getting to the point where it is work, the Big Spring Broncs return home Monday night to open a three-game series with the rugged San Angelo Colts. Starting time will be the conventional 8:15 o'clock.

The Concho City gang has always been tough for the locals to beat. This year is due to be no exception, since the Colts have returned about the same lineup it fielded, plus a new manager in Sam Harshaney and a couple of outstanding rookies.

One of Angelo's first-year stand-outs is Johnny Klicik, San Angelo high school basketball coach, who had been hitting surprisingly well. Red Cowley, Jake McClain, Ken Clusley, Durward Cox, Bill Guthrie and Jimmy Baker are all back with the Colts this year.

Following the Angelo set, the Steeds go to Roswell for two games and then pop up in Midland for three before shuffling back to their own orchard. When they come home again, it will be with Roswell.

BALLINGER, May 14—Ballinger's Cats snapped the Big Spring winning streak at eight straight games by defeating the Broncs, 7-1, behind the six hit pitching of Richard Curtis here Saturday night.

The 11-hit Ballinger offensive was paced by Lou Dawson and Pinky Higgins, each of whom had three safeties.

The Cats exploded for four big tallies in the fourth round.

Pat Stasey drove in Big Spring's only run with a fifth inning double. Ed Ramirez crossing the plate.

Forsan Plays Coahoma Nine In Tri-County Feature

Big Spring (Texas) Herald, Sunday, May 15, 1949

COAHOMA, May 14—The Forsan Oilers try for their fifth Tri-County baseball league victory in a row here this afternoon, when they play Earl Reid's Coahoma Bulldogs. Game time is 3 o'clock.

The Bulldogs must figure out ways and means of scoring on Lefty Shelton, the Forsan flinger, who has pitched three shutouts in a row.

The Coahomans are winless in four starts but were strengthened recently with the addition of Clarence (Peavine) Trantham, formerly a member of the Big Spring professionals.

Trantham is a tall right-handed pitcher whose best pitch is a fast ball.

Forsan already holds victories over Coaden, Ackerly, Knott and Howard County Junior college. Coahoma has lost to Ackerly, H.C.C. Coaden and Knott in that order. Three of the games, however, by two runs or less.

Mare Home First

CAMDEN, N. J., May 14—King Ranch's—Ocean Brief set a new record of 1:09 3-5 for six furlongs at Garden State race track today in winning the $15,000 added Camden handicap.

The five-year-old mare with Bobby Strange up bettered the old mark of 1:09 4-5 set by Polynesian in 1947.

Sam Snead Will Miss Colonial Golf Tourney

FORT WORTH, May 14—The Colonial National Invitation Golf Tournament announced its field today and said there was no controversy with the PGA although professional Sam Snead was not included. Neither was Amateur Frank Stranahan.

Thirty-five professionals and one amateur were invited and accepted. The tournament, a $15,000 affair will be held June 2-5.

Max Highfill, chairman of the tournament committee, said Snead was invited to play in the tournament but could not because of a commitment made with his home club. Stranahan was not invited, Highfill explained, because it was known he would be playing in the British Amateur and would not be able to accept.

Regarding a report that the PGA had, in fact, demanded that two professionals not included in the original list be invited, Highfill said the two in question were on the secondary list and were extended invitations on the basis of improved records after the original list went out.

Names of the two professionals in question never were revealed.

Those who will play here are: Clayton Heffner, Jimmie Demaret, Cary Middlecott, Lloyd Mangrum, E. J. Harrison, Bobby Locke, Skip Alexander, Johnny Palmer, Bob Hamilton, Dick Metz, Dave Douglas, Forworth Vines, Toney Penna, Marty Furgol, Chick Harbert, Pete Cooper, Eric Monti, Herman Keiser, Bill Nary, Al Smith, George Fazio, Lawson Little, Henry Ransom, Jim Ferrier, Kyle Laffoon, Chandler Harper, Fred Haas, Jr., Byron Nelson, Jim Turnesa, Vic Ghezzi, Ed Furgol, George Schmitter, Ed Oliver, Raymond Gaiffard and Joe Kirkwood, Jr., professionals, and Charles Coe of Ardmore, Okla., amateur.

Cummings Cops AC Feature

Bob Cummings got off on the right foot by beating George Curtis in the feature wrestling attraction at the Big Spring Athletic club Friday night, winning two of three falls.

Billy Goeltz, from Chicago and Milwaukee, trimmed Jackie Pappenheim, the Oregonian, in the supporting bout with a reverse arm lock.

Foster Is Kayoed By Jersey Boxer

NEW YORK CITY, May 14 (Spl)—Middleweight title hopes of Vince Foster came to an abrupt halt here Friday night when the Omaha, Neb., lad was kayoed by Charles (Chuck) Fusari of Irvington, N. J., in 2:46 of the first round.

A near capacity crowd at Madison Square Garden saw Fusari floor Foster three times before Referee Ruby Goldstein stopped the proceedings.

Rice Star Wins Singles Title

AUSTIN, May 14—Rice Institute's Chick Harris, whose frail frame belies his enormous tennis tenacity, captured the Southwest Conference singles championship here today.

Harris, a slender red-faced blond from Corpus Christi, defeated Felix Kelley of Texas, 6-4, 6-0, 6-1, after recovering from an erratic start.

Kelley teamed with left-handed Bobby Goldfarb to overpower their Texas teammates, Ed Branswell and Howard Startzman, and win the conference doubles, 2-6, 6-4, 6-1.

IN STEER PARK

Bengals Play Grandfalls At 3:30 P.M. Here Today

Ynes Aguilar, newly signed by Manager Ynes Yanes, will go to the pitching rubber when the Big Spring Latin-American Tigers square off with the Grandfalls Mustangs in an exhibition baseball game at Steer park today. Starting time is 3:30 p. m.

Aguilar was signed to afford Isa Mendosa, veteran flinger, some relief. Mendosa will probably be at some other position in the lineup, however.

The Big Springers will be sporting new uniforms in today's bout. They will also be seeking their fourth win in five 1949 starts. Only San Angelo's Greyhound's have beaten the locals and the Bengals will get a chance for revenge in a few weeks.

Aguilar will probably be pitching to the 17-year-old Galdino Lara, who is helping Tom Fierro with the catching duties.

Most of the other Tiger positions will be handled by veterans.

Lepard Breaks 440-Yard Mark

Leon Lepard, perhaps the greatest track star Big Spring high school ever produced, set a new 440-yard meet record and ran anchor on the ACC mile relay that also galloped to a new mark in the Texas Conference meet staged Friday in Abilene.

Lepard, now a freshman at the school, covered the 440 yards in 49.2 seconds, three tenths of a second under the standard established by Harrison of Howard Payne three years ago.

Lepard took the baton in the mile relay race two yards ahead of Eugene Carter, running fourth for the Jackew, and finished ahead of 15 paces after being passed at one point. The Wildcats' time was 3:19.2, which shattered the old mark set by Howard Payne in 1938.

Ackerly Meets Knott Billies

ACKERLY, May 14—Ackerly's Eagles host the Knott Billies in a Tri-County baseball league game here this afternoon. Starting time is 3 p. m.

Knott blanked Coahoma, 2-0, last Sunday while Ackerly lost its last game to Coaden.

Bobby Beal may pitch for O. L. Raven's Knott gang.

Baylor Bears Even Series With SMU

DALLAS, May 14—Baylor clipped three SMU pitchers for 12 hits and a dozen runs to win a Southwest Conference baseball game Saturday 12-5.

The loss ended SMU's season. They finished fourth for the second year in a row.

SMU went ahead briefly in the first inning, Kyle Rote scoring on Reid Williams' fly to left field.

Looking 'Em Over

by Tommy Hart

They may not equal the overall record of the 1948 club that won 84 decisions, tied one and lost 53 in 138 starts but this year's Big Spring Broncs made a much better start than did their predecessors . . .

The 1948 Hososes won nine times in 14 starts during the first two weeks of last season . . . This year's team won 11 decisions while losing only three times in its first 14 starts . . .

Despite the fact that the Cayuses haven't yet played San Angelo, Roswell or Midland, local fans seem to like this year's schedule better than the 1948 program, which called for longer road trips and home stands . . .

Pat Stasey, the Bronc, is expecting a pitcher by the name of Humberto Garcia in from Havana within a few days . . . Garcia comes with great promise . . .

Despite the fact that Big Spring was already ahead by eight runs, generous Big Springers kicked in with something like $20 when Bert Baes hit his home run against Sweetwater Wednesday night . . .

They obviously meant it for a sort of farewell gift for we Bertie, who was playing his last game in a Big Spring uniform . . .

Baes doesn't intend to go back to Cuba, at least for a while . . .

He may go to work here and play ball on Sundays for a San Angelo Latin-American nine . . .

When the Hososes appeared in Odessa for the first of its two games earlier in the week, some hoodlum broke into Big Spring's bus parked outside the baseball field and made off with a $21 glove . . .

The thief will probably brag to his grandchildren in future years how mischievous he was in the "old days"

Preps To Spend Summer In Baseball

Practically all of the youngsters who will be back for the 1950 Big Spring high school baseball season have signed on with Tri-County league teams . . .

The circuit, of course, is strictly amateur . . . Lou Lockhart's favorite pitch is the knuckleball . . .

He's the ace of the Sweetwater Swatters' pitching staff . . .

Bobby (Pepper) Martin of Our Town is hitting the No. Three spot for the Greenville Majors . . .

Simon Luna, a Del Rio pitcher at the time that club was in the Longhorn league and a brother to Ballinger's Felipe Luna, is twirling for McAllen in the Valley league . . .

Tony Fiorito, who filled in at short stop for Midland the latter part of last season, is now second basing for Paris of the East Texas league . . .

Alex Monchak, the Odessa pilot, is looking forward to Rex Pearce, the Oiler second sacker of the 1947 season, re-joining the club about June 1 . . .

Pearce, who holds the Longhorn league record for stolen bases, is finishing college . . .

An addition to the Odessa roster, by the way, is Hector Bonet, who wore Abilene togery when the Blue Sox appeared here in an exhibition game early in the season . . .

The baseball wise tell you that Odessa's big weakness is a shortage of outfielders . . .

Of the gardening trio with the Oilers, Big Spring's Bob Doe appears to have the best chance of sticking . . .

The ban on first basemen's trapper mitts won't be invoked by the national baseball rules committee until 1951 . . .

Tommy Saez, who tried out here as an outfielder, has returned to Cuba.

Trantham Serving 'Em Up To Hososes

Clarence (Peavine) Trantham, a standout hurler here in the late '30's, has been throwing batting practice for the Broncs . . .

The big boy is now living here and doesn't miss a local game, when he's in town . . .

San Diego, once one of the weak sisters in the Pacific Coast league, expects to draw better than half a million fans this season . . .

The Padres' attendance has already passed the 100,000 mark . . .

When Lubbock was flooded recently, the city high school's new fieldhouse lost its maple floor, valued at better than $1,500 . . .

Water seeped up underneath and caused the wood to buckle . . .

Mrs. Joe Kuykendall of Big Spring and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Burris of Lubbock will go to New York City around the end of this month to see H. C.

Aggies Win Third Straight Conference Track Meet

Hampton Sets Two Standards

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark., May 14. —Blond J. D. Hampton shattered two distance records in leading Texas A&M to its third consecutive Southwest Conference track and field championship here today.

Three other records were set— all by Aggie performers—and another tied in the two-day meet. A & M compiled 55 1/2 points. Texas, with 49 1/2, was second and Rice, with 36, third, followed by Arkansas with 12, Southern Methodist 12, Baylor 9 1/2 and Texas Christian one.

Hampton, a skinny junior from Brady first established a new mark of four minutes 17.2 seconds in the mile run. After resting 70 minutes, he ran the two-mile grind in nine minutes 30.7 seconds. He finished far ahead in both races and his ten points gave him individual honors.

The smooth-striding Hampton ran his unbeaten string to 17 races. His two-mile mark erased the 9:32.4 standard set up in 1925 by Sando Esquivel of Texas and his mile jaunt cracked by three seconds the record made last year by little Jerry Thompson of Texas.

Other record-breaking performances: Ray Holbrook's 47.3 seconds for the 440 yard dash, eclipsing the 47.8 mark of Harold Hall, Rice, set in 1941.

The Aggie mile relay team's one minute 14.1 seconds, bettering the old mark of 3:16.7 by Texas in 1938.

Bob Hall's 22.5 seconds for the 220-yard low hurdles, established in yesterday's preliminaries. Texas' Perry Samuels tied the 100 yard dash of 9.5 seconds held by several men.

A crowd of about 2,750 watched the second conference meet to be held here and the first since 1922 and saw the well-balanced Aggies win seven events and score in all but three.

Dick Gyselmann Tops Hitters

Dick Gyselmann may have his troubles as pilot of the Sweetwater baseball club but obviously he had no problem solving the offerings of Longhorn league pitchers.

The tall infielder is leading the circuit in batting through games of Tuesday, May 10, with an average of .500. To accumulate that record, Gyselmann has collected 23 hits in 47 official trips.

Big Spring is leading in team hitting with a mark of .297, two percentage points better than Vernon, but is fourth in team fielding with a mark of .930.

Longhorns Gain League Crown

COLLEGE STATION, May 14. —The University of Texas Longhorns had their backs to the wall today and Murray Wall came through with a two-hit, 6-1, victory over Texas A&M that won the Southwest Conference baseball title.

The title victory kept intact the virtual monopoly of conference baseball started by Billy Disch back in the beginning of competition and continued by his coach successor, Bibb Falk.

They whipped the Steers Friday, 6-1, to throw the championship in balance today.

It was the third victory for Wall this week and his eighth of the conference season.

Texas clinched matters in the seventh with a four-run outburst. Frank Kana's home run started it. Bobby Fretz's error on Ed Kneuper's single with the bases loaded accounted for the other three tallies.

Wallace Moon homered for A&M's only score.

Locke All But Sews Up Prize In Links Show

NEW ROCHELLE, May 14. —The task of standing off Bobby Locke plainly is too much for the current crop of American professionals, and so the methodical shot-maker from South Africa almost surely will tuck away a check for $3,000 when the Goodall Round Robin Tournament winds up tomorrow night.

Marshall Gets Four Safeties

NEW YORK, May 14. —The New York Giants cracked base hits like pop corn at the Polo Grounds today as they thundered to a 12-2 conquest over the Philadelphia Phillies.

Johnny Mize, Whitey Lockman and Willard Marshall spearheaded the 16-hit attack with homers. Marshall, who drove in three runs, also stroked three singles while Bobby Thomson chipped in with a single and triple. Every Giant hit safely except Pitcher Sheldon Jones and Augie Galan, who didn't have an opportunity to bat.

Branch Spriggs Pitches Second Tri-County League No-Hitter

Branch Spriggs pitched the second no-hit no-run game of the Tri-County baseball league season here Friday night when he led the Couden Refiners to a 9-0 victory over the Akerly Eagles in a game limited to eight innings because of rain.

Recently recovered from a sore arm, Spriggs faced 28 men in the eight rounds he worked. Three Akerly players reached base in the third when Spriggs gave up two bases on balls and the Refiners' short stop booted one. Spriggs gave up two more walks in the eighth but one of the Eagles who gained a life was thrown out at third.

George Porter, Akerly flinger, pitched shutout ball for two innings and then the roof caved in. The Coudeners picked up two tallies in the third and scored in three of the five innings thereafter.

Jack Lee and Leonard Morgan paced the Couden offensive with two extra-base hits each.

The other Tri-County league no-hit no-run game was pitched by Lefty Shelton of Forsan, also against Akerly.

BUFFALO, N. Y., May 14. —Victor E. Vasicek of El Campo, Tex., University of Texas guard, has signed with the Buffalo Bills of the All-America football conference, the club announced tonight.

Who said so? And why are they the most wonderful tires ever built?

The tires that revolutionized automotive riding and driving

- 1. The tires that perform with more air and less air pressure
2. The tires that absorb the road they travel on
3. The tires that fully cushion every shock and road strain
4. The tires that radically influenced modern automotive engineering and design
5. The tires that have been copied and imitated but neither equalled or duplicated
6. The only tires of low air pressure with especially designed steering tread
7. The tires without any excess (lasy) rubber - run cooler and, therefore, wear much longer
8. The tires exactly designed to fit your present wheels
9. The tires chosen as original equipment on the finest of the new cars
10. The tires that make old cars feel like new

SW Body Acts To Place Bars On Recruiting

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark., May 14. —Strong steps were taken by the Southwest Conference faculty committee here today to restrict recruiting of athletes by supporters of member schools.

The committee adopted a resolution citing "lavish entertainment" for six Waco and Port Arthur high school athletes and warned if it happens again, the recipients may be declared ineligible at the school involved.

The resolution didn't name the athletes nor the schools involved in the cases cited by the committee, and James Stewart, executive secretary of the conference, declined to amplify.

The committee also made it clear that the conference approved in principle the NCAA's sanity code. Stewart said that a majority of conference members indicated they would send representatives to a meeting of Southeastern and Southern Conference members at Atlanta, May 28, to discuss the code.

Stewart said the faculty committee adopted a resolution explaining that Southwest participation in the meeting was not to be considered a rebellion against the code of collegiate sports ethics.

Stewart said the committee suggested one amendment to the code —to permit schools to provide all meals for athletes during the season or pre-season practice period of any sport. Under the sanity code, schools now may provide only one meal daily to athletes.

The committee also: 1. Changed rules to permit conference baseball players to play an unlimited number of games with non-scholastic amateur teams during summer months.

2. Awarded football broadcast and television rights in Texas to Humble Oil Co.

3. Expanded a rule requiring an athlete to attend a member school a full year before becoming eligible for athletics to include athletes transferring to a school during his freshman year.

4. Limited to 12 the number of games freshmen baseball teams may play.

5. Increased fees for officials from $75 to $100 in football and from $40 to $50 in basketball.

6. H. Walker, Verban 1, Cavaratta 1b, Leonard 1, M. Howell 1, ...

WEST TEXAS OIL

Second Strawn Lime Producers Finaled In Tom Green, Scurry

By John E. Brewer
SAN ANGELO, May 14.—Second Strawn lime discoveries in southeastern Tom Green and in north central Scurry counties were completed to provide two of West Texas' principal oil developments this week.

Southeastern Tom Green county's second discovery completed with daily flowing potential of 227.22 barrels of 34 gravity oil and gas-oil ratio of 434-1. A south offset was also spotted. J. K. Wadley of Texarkana R. T. Adams Drilling Co. of Fort Worth and Louis Burns of Brady No. 1 J. Wiley Green gauged through a quarter-inch choke and casing perforations at 4,674-4,700 and at 4,717-23 feet. The section, a fossiliferous conglomerate, higher in the Strawn pay in the Susan Peak field one mile west, had been acidized with 3,900 gallons. Oil from the well, 230 feet out of the northwest corner of section 195-11-SPRR, is to be trucked to Humble Pipeline Co. station northwest of San Angelo as is crude from Plymouth's five completed wells in the Susan Peak field. Four Plymouth pumps offsetting the Strawn discovery on the north, awaited potential gauge.

J. L. Collins and others No. 1 G. E. Parks, second Strawn find in Scurry county, completed for a 24-hour natural flow of 512 barrels of 41.6 gravity oil and gas-oil ratio of 640-1. Production was through half-inch tubing choke from 7,313-22 feet in open hole. It is 1,960 feet from the north, 330 feet from the west line of section 442-97-HATC, 1 1/4 miles east of the North Snyder (Canyon) pool and 3 1/4 miles northeast of Placid No. 1 Mrs. W. W. Early, first Strawn producer in the county.

First West Texas producer for Hiawatha Oil & Gas Co. of Pittsburgh, a Benendum & Trees concern, apparently has been assumed in No. 1 L. M. Wilson, half mile south and quarter mile east of the Diamond M (Canyon) field. It recovered 180 feet of oil and gas.

Still Drilling

Wyoming Test Sets New World Depth Record

HOUSTON, May 14. (AP)—Oil men are learning more and more about the interior of the earth.

A Superior Oil Co. wildcat well in Wyoming has passed a depth of 19,600 feet, a world's record, and the drill bit still is digging deeper and deeper.

Oil well equipment manufacturers predict it will not be long before the bits are probing 25,000 feet below the earth's surface.

Deep drilling is nothing new to Superior Oil. Two previous record depth wells have been abandoned as dry holes—an 18,700 foot hole in California and one of 17,800 feet in Oklahoma.

To the oil industry such dry holes are sharp reminders of the expenditures, disappointments, and hours of toil which must be experienced in development of new oil reserves.

The American Petroleum Institute estimates the American Oil Industry since the first well was brought in at Titusville, Pa., in 1859, has drilled 1,250,000 wells with total drilling footage surpassing 2 1/2 billion feet.

This footage, API says, is equivalent to drilling 60 holes through the middle of the earth.

Well footage of this year's drillings are expected to exceed 100 million feet.

Oil Companies hoping for early settlement of the tidelands ownership controversy are receiving little encouragement from Washington.

Louisiana and Texas attorneys general this week asked the Supreme Court not to authorize the federal government to file suit seeking recognition of paramount rights to the tidelands of the two states.

Louisiana contended the federal government cannot sue a state without the state's consent. Texas pointed to its 10-year status as a republic and to an annexation treaty in which the federal government recognized the state's ownership of its public lands.

U. S. Solicitor General Philip B. Perlman told the court the states are "looting" tidelands oil and "lootings" for legislation to give them clear titles.

Meanwhile, in Houston, H. S. M. Burns, president of Shell Oil Co. was commenting that in his opinion the tidelands should belong to the states. Then he added:

rest mud and 6,200 feet of pipeline on an 80-minute drillstem test from 6,746-61 feet and cemented 5 1/2-inch casing at 6,745 feet. Plug was drilled out of 5 1/2-inch string at 6,745 and it was expected to start flowing.

Magnolia No. 1 A. B. Eiche, 1 1/4 miles northwest of Magnolia No. 1 H. G. Moore, opener of the Kelly (Canyon) pool and four miles west of Snyder was completed officially Saturday for 166 barrels of 41-gravity oil on a 24-hour flowing test. Gas-oil ratio was 808-1 and flowing tubing pressure 775 to 785 pounds. Actually, the zone tested was only four feet below 6,774 feet and bottom at 6,778. Location is 680 feet from the south and west lines of section 309-87, H&TC. There was no water.

IN SOFT ZONE

Southwest Borden Test Shows Water

Water resulted from a drillstem test at Seaboard Oil Company of Delaware and Pan American Production Company No. 2 T. J. Good, west offset to the flame concern's recent discovery from the Canyon line of the Pennsylvania in South-Central Borden County, six miles northwest of the Vealmoor field in North-Central Howard County.

With the tool open one hour at 3,348-3,421 feet, recovery was 330 feet of sulphur water. There were no shows of oil or gas.

This exploration, at the center of the northwest quarter of the southeast quarter of section 37, block 32, T-4-N, TP survey, was drilling ahead from 3,458 feet in lime. It is to go to about 8,000 feet.

In Northeast Borden County, 11 miles northwest of Gall, Sinclair Prairie Oil Company was drilling ahead with its No. 1 Sterling Williams, deep wildcat, 660 feet from north and east lines of section 45, block 32, T-6-N, EL&RR survey.

Last report had it below 9,446 feet in lime.

Seaboard No. 3 T. J. Good, north offset to the southwest Borden discovery, was drilling below 5,318 feet in lime. It is 645 feet east from the east and 661.3 feet from the south lines of the northwest quarter of section 37-34n, T&P.

Seaboard No. 1 Clayton & Johnson, 660 feet from the south and west lines of section 37-31-n, T&P, six miles northwest of Gall, was at 4,420 feet in lime on a projected 8,500-foot venture.

In northeastern Howard county Magnolia was installing pump on its No. 1-A Gartner, section 87-20, LaVaca, which is to test after treatment with 4,000 gallons from 8,190-8,215 feet, plugged back depth.

Three flankers to the Vealmoor field were making more hole toward 8,000 feet for tests of the

Utilization Bill Sent To Governor

By The Associated Press
Only the signature of Governor Beauford Jester is needed to give Texas its first oil and gas utilization bill, the proposal, bitterly fought many years, having been approved by the House of Representatives Wednesday.

Lieut. Gen. Leslie R. Groves, wartime atomic bomb chief, said in Oklahoma City it will be "decades and decades" before atomic energy will be used for industrial power.

Pacific Petroleum Ltd., of Canada, has announced plans to construct a $175 million 1400-mile, 30-inch natural gas pipeline from west central Canada to northern California.

Midland Wildcat Has Lost Circulation

In the Pegasus area of South west Midland County, Magnolia Petroleum Company is trying to regain circulation at its No. 2-30 Roy Glass, north flanker to the No. 1-A TXL. Total depth is 8,864 feet in lime and shale.

It is 1,960 feet from west and 660 feet from south lines of section 30, block 40, T-4-S, TP survey.

Magnolia No. 1-36 Glass, a southwest extension try to the Pegasus discovery in northwest Upton county, and 1,960 feet from north and 660 feet from east lines of section 36, block 41, T-4-S, TP survey, was making hole below 6,220 feet in lime.

Both these explorations are due to drill to about 13,000 feet to explore the Ellenburger.

Southeast Tom Green Outpost Is Green

M. E. Davis and Hiawatha No. 1 Jones, Southeast Tom Green County wildcat, eight miles southwest of Wall, and 660 feet from north and west lines of section 190, district 11, SPRR survey, was bottomed at 4,501 feet in Canyon lime, and was taking a drillstem test.

A Schlumberger survey had been run, and it had indicated possibilities of fluid in the zone above the current total depth. Side-wall cores had some signs of fluorescence and gas.

Water resulted from a drillstem test at Seaboard Oil Company of Delaware and Pan American Production Company No. 2 T. J. COSDEN CHATTER

Cosden Family Scattering For Visits, Outings

By Personnel Department
This weekend will find many members of our Cosden family scattered in the surrounding territory: Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Brown are spending the weekend with friends and relatives in Fort Worth. Pattie McDonald will be in Lubbock visiting friends. Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Stark plan to stay at the company cabin at Fort Phantom Hill near Abilene. Mrs. Mamie J. Mayfield and party will be trying out new fishing lures near San Angelo. P. E. Witt will be in Abilene for Motorcycle Races and will do some fishing at our Cosden camp. George Phillips will spend Monday and Tuesday catching what fish is left at Fort Phantom Hill. Mary Nations plans to spend the weekend in Snyder with her husband.

Mr. C. W. Smith and Mr. R. M. Johnson have been out of the office on business this week which has taken them to Kermit, Carlsbad, Artesia and Roswell, New Mexico.

We wish the best of luck to some of our competent accountants who are leaving the office for a few days next week to go to Mineral Wells to take C. P. A. examinations: Fred Stitzel, Billy T. Smith, and Louis D. Carothers.

Neil Rhea McCrary has as her guests, her sister, Mrs. L. H. Gast and her son, Ronnie and Dougie. Mrs. Evelyn Phinney, J. D. Siltner, B. T. Bridges, C. E. Millam, and Ed Adams are back at work after being on our sick list.

We are sorry Mr. Keats' daughter, Janine, has been ill with food poisoning. R. D. West's daughter, Lois, has had a throat infection, and R. W. Thompson's children, Joe Rankin and Carolyn have had tonsillitis. Mrs. H. H. Wright has also been ill, and Mrs. Yeta Reed is back in the office after minor surgery.

Phillip Gressett is in Medical Arts Hospital seriously ill, and we are wishing for his speedy recovery.

We were happy to have the Seventh Grade pupils and their teachers from Central Ward School make a tour of our Refinery last Tuesday.

All of us are beginning to think of vacations again, and early vacationers from Cosden are: W. O. McClelland, D. R. Hale, C. L. Jones, J. F. Reedy, Ralph Shanks, and Troy Powell.

These visitors called on us this week: Louis Patton, Fort Worth; Nelson Phillips, Jr., Dallas; Jim Samford, El Paso; Ray Knowles and William Springer, Midland; Al Peckus, Chicago; Ken Lumley, Tulsa; Al Mullis; Dr. Robert L. Purvin, Dallas; A. M. Lacey, Amarillo; M. Manley, Tulsa; Hugh Wallace, Dallas; D. Denmore, Chicago; Lee Newton, Chicago; and Mr. Cobb, Houston.

The Cosden "Refiners" will play their regular schedule game with the Junior College team at the Junior College field at 3:00 p. m. this afternoon.

Andrews Outpost Will Acidize Fasselman Zone

MIDLAND, May 14.—Preparations were being made to acidize in the Fasselman section of the Silurian at Cities Service Oil Company No. 1-E Cowden, outpost to the Dollarhide field of Southwest Andrews county.

Perforations were shot in casing at 8,654-99 feet with 216 shots. This section was swabbed dry natural.

On last report, operator was preparing to acidize with 1,000 gallons.

Total depth is 8,792 feet. The Fasselman has developed free oil on drillstem tests at this venture.

It is 660 feet from south and east lines of the southwest quarter of section 14, block A-52, psi survey.

Attempting to log more Wolfcamp-Permian pay section, Pan American Production Company and Taylor Refining Company deepened their No. 2 R. W. Foster, discovery prospect in the Central Sterling County Wolfcamp, to 5,586 feet and bailed sulphur water.

Operator has plugged back to 5,466 feet, squeezed cement below casing set at 5,462 feet and was waiting for cement to cure on the squeeze job. Testing is to be resumed.

Location is 660 feet from north and 1,980 feet from west lines of section 10, block 13, SPRR survey, about nine miles southwest of Sterling City.

Drilling was continuing at the three outposts to the Flanagan field of South-Central Gaines County.

George P. Livermore No. 1 Head, 631 feet from north and 610 feet from west lines of section 12, block A-23, psi survey, was beyond 10,012 feet, making hole a lime.

Magnolia Petroleum Company No. 1 Flanagan, another flanker, had reached 9,856 feet and was continuing in lime.

It is 1,980 feet from north and 660 feet from west lines of section 9, block A-23, psi survey.

The other: Flanagan stepout, Shell Oil Company, Inc.; No. 1 Selma Andrews, et al, 660 feet from south and west lines of section 2, block A-23, psi survey, was deepening in 5,387 feet in lime.

Stanolind Oil & Gas Company No. 15 American Warehouse, deep wildcat in the Cedar Lake area of Northeast Gaines County, was bottomed on 13,187 feet in Ellenburger lime, running surveys and waiting on orders.

Top of the deep zone has made water at this prospect. The venture probably will plug back into the Devonian for further testing.

That formation yielded free oil when drilling through.

This exploration is 1,650 feet from south and east lines of section 5, block H, D&W survey.

WINGS OVER BIG SPRING

CAA Meeting Set For June 16 Here

A maintenance conference, sponsored by the Big Spring district office of the CAA, has been set for June 16 here. Sam Monschke, aircraft maintenance inspector announced Saturday.

Approximately 100 people are expected to attend from the West Texas area served by the district. There will be a technical meeting for designated maintenance aircraft inspectors at 3 p. m. A social hour will be held at 5:30 p. m., followed by a banquet at 6:30 p. m. in the Settles ballroom with Reg Matthews, from regional CAA headquarters in Fort Worth, as the featured speaker. Practically all airport operators in this area will participate.

Several contestants in the women's transcontinental race, which has Big Spring as an overnight stopping point, have written Jack Cook, Munny airport manager, for a layout of the field. Cook has made arrangements for a weather bureau clock to be on the line so that contestants can taxi up and have their flight cards punched promptly on arrival. The race is a clock-to-clock time affair with contestants to be disqualified if flying after sunset. Most of those stopping here are expected to arrive about June 2.

Horace Hanson, Continental Air Lines manager, returned Friday from Denver, Colo. where he attended a three-day sales and traffic meeting in charge of Robert F. Six, president of the company. Ernie Willbanks, San Antonio, district CAL traffic manager, also attended.

Bill Edwards experimented last week with a spray to kill weeds along runways. Saturday they were willing and by the fore part of the week a verdict on effectiveness of the plan should be in.

John W. Simpson, airframe and equipment engineer for the CAA at Fort Worth, is due here this week for a tour of the West Texas district with Sam Monschke.

An entire squadron (VF-78A) of Marine fliers from Squantum, Mass. refueled here Friday and Saturday. They were flying Corsairs.

CAA control tower operators "balled out" a week ago Saturday night at the height of a thunderstorm which came near kicking up a twister at the Munny port. Wind reached a velocity of 85 mph and sucked out a control tower window. The fire truck also lost a hood and Bill Edwards' BT-13 took a nose dive on the north side of the hangar.

J. R. Smith last week successfully passed his instructor's rating under Emerson Carpenter, aircraft agent for CAA.

A Mr. Stevens, lighting expert from the 4th region of CAA, was here during the week to counsel with Munny operators on the port lighting system.

Work order on the new terminal is expected Monday or Tuesday so that work will probably start during the week.

Air Force traffic at the Munny port is mounting steadily so that it amounts to nearly half the Navy volume. Formerly it rated only about one-tenth of the Navy volume.

Barber Shoppers Invite Public To Join In Meeting.

Barber Shoppers harmonized on their invitation Saturday to all persons interested in hearing or singing old fashioned barbershop quartet numbers to participate in their meetings.

Next session is the weekly meeting at 8 p. m. Monday in the band room at the high school. All persons are invited to attend, either as singers or as "crowds," the classification for those who prefer to listen. Charter is due to be presented before long from the Society for Preservation and Encouragement of Barbershop Quartet Singing in America.

Graduation Derby Clock Wound Up

Clock on the graduation derby is all wound up and on its way. For the second successive year, Joe Blum, Shaw Jewelry manager, has erected the graduation clock, with names of the graduates on the face of the dial. The clock is due to run down on or about May 28, the date of commencement.

This year there will be 21 jewel wrist watches presented—one to a girl and one to a boy—to those on whose name the minute and hour hands of the clock stop. The complete class list was imposed on the face of the dial, said Blum, before the clock was wound.

Texas Boy Leaves Hospital After Tack Removed From Lung

PHILADELPHIA, May 14. (AP)—Bobby Sanders of Crowley, Tex., who had a tack removed from his lung Thursday, was discharged from Temple University Hospital Saturday.

The boy swallowed the upholstery tack last Sunday. After medical treatment at Wichita Falls failed to dislodge it, he was flown to Temple's bronchoscopic clinic.

Hospital officials said Bobby was in good condition and would return home Monday.

Three County Horses Place At San Angelo

Three Howard county horses placed in the bride class showings at the San Angelo horse show Friday. Frances Weeg took fifth place with her Sapho Tone in the Palomino show horse of 1947 class, and Ira Rice took a similar place with his Gold Dust in the Palomino show mares foaled in 1948. John Butler, Forsan, copped sixth in a large field with his Tommie Del Sur in the Palomino pleasure type stallions foaled in 1946.

Ellenburger Is Spread In Upton

Ellenburger production in the Benedum field of East-Central Upton County has been spread through the completion of Silck-Urschel Oil Company No. 1-B J. S. Elliott, 660 feet from west and 1,980 feet from south lines of section 46, block Y, CCS&RGNG survey.

Flowing through a one-half-inch choke, the well was completed for 532.18 barrels of 60.1-gravity oil per day, with gas-oil ratio 3,850-1. Production was natural with no water from the open hole pay at 11,440-11,525 feet.

Humble Oil & Refining Company drillstem tested in lower Permian lime and shale at its No. 1 First National Bank of San Angelo, one-mile west outpost to the same company's No. 1-B Barnett. Fasselman producer in the Benedum area of East-Central Upton County.

The examination will for 38 minutes at 7,213-7,310 feet, recovering 45 feet of drilling mud with no shows. More hole was being made under 7,360 feet in lime and shale

Brannan Plan's Real Author Is 'Farmer-Statesman' Of N. Y.

This is the fourth and last of a series of articles on the new farm bill advocated by Secretary of Agriculture Charles F. Brannan.

By HOUSTON HARTE
WASHINGTON — The real author of the Brannan plan is Harold Edward Babcock, chairman of the Board of Trustees of Cornell University and a practical farmer operating livestock and poultry farms in northern New York.

Babcock is known as the "farmer-statesman" of New York to a number of farmers and livestock raisers who have come under his spell. He is the author of many treatises on livestock subjects, and an authority on co-operative marketing.

He has been an agricultural teacher, county agent, director of the Farm Credit Administration and is a leader in the Aberdeen-Augus and Guernsey livestock associations.

Babcock has been an advocate of the "two-price" theory of farm product support as against the so-called "parity and loan price" support theories which have been the basis of all farm policy since the days when we killed little pigs and plowed under every fourth row of corn or cotton.

Babcock does not endorse the social and political implications of the Brannan plan. Replying to a wire seeking his opinion on the Brannan plan, Babcock said: "Answering your wire, may I say that I am in full accord with the objectives of the so called Brannan plan. It recognizes certain essentials which have been too long disregarded and spotlights them for the nation's attention."

"These essentials are that the function of agriculture is to provide us all with the best possible diet. To maintain this role the size of our livestock population is the most important single factor. Mere conservation of soil resources is not enough. The productivity of our soils must be built up through soil conservation practices and the application of animal manure."

"Personally I have never thought of the government as taking sole responsibility of attaining these objectives. I have expected that the government would do a good deal of research and education and that an integrated system of free enterprise would progress toward the goals of a better diet, an expanded livestock population and continuously improving soil resources."

"I would still like to see these goals attained in this manner. As to the methods for attaining them put forth by Secretary Brannan, I have no competent opinion about their cost, their effectiveness or their impact on the social and political life of this country. But if his methods are undertaken I shall keep my fingers crossed."

By adding livestock to the list of price supported items, the Brannan plan attempts to shift all land withdrawn from cotton, wheat, corn, peanuts, etc., into grass. Making livestock a part of the program, grass on small farm units can be made profitable. But of course this increases the competition in meat production for the big ranch operators of West Texas.

Livestock raising on cultivated lands is considered essential to any long range farm planning for two reasons: It promotes soil conservation and it raises the living standards by producing more meat and less starches and fats.

The Brannan plan would introduce another quota factor. It would limit its support standard to the farmers' first 1,800 "comparative units" of production. A comparative unit is 10 bushels of corn, 7.7 bushels of wheat, 50 pounds of cotton or an equivalent.

Beyond the 1,800 units each farmer would be operating in a free enterprise market, selling what he produced for what he could get for it.

O. C. Fisher, representative for the 21st Texas district, says the range unit system limits cow herds to 200 to 250 head, breeding ewes to 2,500 head on any ranch, in order to get the full benefit of the dual price system.

In effect, this limit would cover only about the first $25,000 of farm income. About 2 per cent of America's six million farmers would be largely eliminated. They are the 120,000 big farm operators—the big cotton planters of the South, the big wheat farmers of the Plains, the big cattlemen of the West. Brannan says they are not farmers in the ordinary sense of the word. They do not run the family size farms that congressmen idealize. They are the "factory farmers."

Incidentally, they now produce about a fourth of the United States farm output, measured in dollars. Any farmer would be free to come into the plan or stay out. If he came in—and with surplus piling up it would be reasonable to expect that most farmers would come in—the government would have a lot to say about how he ran his farm.

Participating farmers would have to practice sound soil conservation in the use of their land. They would have to accept such measures as acreage allotments when these are accepted by two-thirds vote of farmers as is the practice under the Aiken-Hope Act. They would have to abide by marketing quotas and marketing agreements when adopted by similar referendums also provided in existing law.

But after all these desirable things are accomplished someone must determine what the plan costs. Mr. Babcock, who fathered the plan, says he not only does not know, but has a question in his mind as to whether the government should foot the bill. Secretary Brannan dodges it with this statement: "Four factors make it impos-le to say what the plan will cost. First, no one can tell what acreage will be in production. If they did know, no one could predict the yield per acre. No one can predict what the consumer demand will be. No one can predict the quality of the crops produced, and quality determines what they will sell for.

"The cost comparison is not between this program and no program, but between the one we have now and the proposed program."

"As between the two, I say the proposed program would cost less than the existing (Aiken-Hope) program."

There appears to be a number of opportunities for political power in the administration and operation of the Brannan plan. Here are at least three:

(1) It claims to produce cheap food for the urban dweller. This is a justifiable appeal. No one can be criticized for wanting to make it possible for everyone to eat well. The fact that the taxpayers are footing a part of every grocery store ticket will not deter many voters from welcoming this part of the "bold new plan."

(2) General Motors Corp. has a cost of living index tied to its wage contract. The Brannan plan would bring down the hourly wage at GM under the present contract. It could also knock out all the cost of living wage increases made during the last few years. It is true that the Brannan plan will reduce food costs, wage increases are over without more production.

(3) The organization that figures the farmer's yearly sales sheet and passes on his yearly "support standard" is offered an opportunity to purchase votes with the taxpayers' money, never seen before in this nation. It is asking too much to expect that party politics can be kept out of it.

Accused Doctor, Wife Slated To Give Testimony In Murder Trial

By WILLIAM EBERLINE
 Associated Press Staff
CEDAR RAPIDS, Ia., May 14 (AP) — Dr. Robert C. Rutledge, Jr., of St. Louis, and his pretty blond wife will testify probably early next week in his murder trial.
 The state completed its case Friday before court adjourned until Monday morning. It used 40 witnesses and five days in presenting its case.
 Defense Attorney Walter Barn-

grover in his opening address to the jury said Dr. Rutledge would tell the court what happened in a "sordid chapter" in her relations with Hattman. Mrs. Rutledge broke into tears and left the courtroom for a brief period Friday during the questioning of the state's last witness, Dr. Regis Weland, Linn County deputy coroner.
 Weland said he performed a postmortem on the body of Hattman on Dec. 15, day after Hattman was slain. He said death was caused by a stab wound in the chest which pierced both heart and liver.
 Earlier Detective Sgt. Maurice F. O'Neill of St. Louis testified he believed he had heard Dr. Rutledge tell Cedar Rapids authorities "something about calling Hattman 'seduced and debauched' when he (Rutledge) and his wife were under the impression she was pregnant."

 O'Neill said his recollection was that Dr. Rutledge said he "called Hattman and told him he thought Hattman ought to pay for an operation. But the doctor said he received no reply to that and after a while Mrs. Rutledge was all right."
 Immediately after the state rested Friday, District Judge J. E. Heiserman took under advisement a motion by the defense for a directed verdict of acquittal. He said he would rule on this Monday.
 Edelweiss, low growing flower of the high mountains of Switzerland, is protected by law because of its rarity.

Driveway Death Ruled Accidental

SCOTSDALE, Pa., May 14 (AP) — Richard Thorn drove down the driveway of his home and on to a baseball game Friday.
 His father looked out a window and saw the body of Richard's five-year-old brother, Arthur, lying in the driveway. Richard was called home from the ball game.
 Coroner Joseph Check said Richard, 18, apparently didn't realize the car had struck his brother on the rough driveway. "It was purely accidental," Check reported. "There will be no inquest."

Year Of Roses...

The wondrous magic of Mother Nature has never been more fruitful in Big Spring flower gardens than this year. It truly is a year of roses. One of the "picture-book" floral panoramas is that found at the J. N. Lane residence, 1604 Nolan. This view and others on the page are merely representative of the profusion of colorful blossoms found throughout the city. (Photos by Jack M. Haynes).

FENCE ATTRACTION — Passers-by have been pausing in admiration at the J. N. Marchbanks residence, 1110 Johnson, to view this garlanded fence.
RED, RED ROSES—The attractive pergola arrangement in the center view is a crimson adornment at the residence of Edith Hatchett, 1303 Johnson.
SPRINGTIME GLORY — Another blazing display of roses (far right) is found at 1500 Johnson, home of the J. T. Dillards.

"Sleeping Beauty" Is Operetta Title

"The Sleeping Beauty," a children's operetta based on the ancient fairy tale, with original words and music by Oliver William Robinson, will be presented Friday at 8 p. m. in the municipal auditorium by students of the Farrar Pre-School.

Act One takes place in the hall of a castle for the christening of the baby princess, Rosa. Act Two is in the drab tower room of the castle. The time is sixteen years later. The setting for Act Three is the same as that for Act Two and the occasion is the arrival of Prince Charming and the expiration of the wicked fairy's curse.

Characters include: King, Tom Ostman; Queen, Ann Homan; her aids: Ken Lawrence and Frank Reynolds; Lords and ladies of the court, Danny McCrary, Jayne Cook, Gerald Farrar, Sue Ellen Griffin, Jerry Younger, Deane Mansfield, Bill Bourr, John Reid Schwarzenbach, Carolyn Thompson, Jim Burk, Mottelle Groehl, Tom Bunch, Robert Vance Lebkowsky, Genell Hughes, Ken

Official Visit To Be Made Here

Mrs. Charisey Ward, President of Business and Professional Clubs in Texas and a resident of Houston, and Mrs. Iva Noyes of Midland, eighth district director, will be special guests at a dinner meeting of the local B and PW Club to be held Tuesday at 7:30 p. m. in the Settles Hotel.

Members of the radio and news service committees will be in charge of the program.

Y Square Dance Club Has Regular Session

Members of the YMCA Square Dance Club held a regular session in the YMCA Thursday night.

Those attending were: Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Roden, Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Agee, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Bradley, Mr. and Mrs. Omar Pitman, Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Basham, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Bloom, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Morgan, Mr. and Mrs. G. McNallen, Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. R. RIBBON RAMBLINGS BY MILDRED YOUNG

There are any number of Big Spring graduating high school seniors to whom we might well pay tribute, but we've heard so much good about Virginia Costello, that we have chosen her as our target for 1949 graduation congratulations. However the congratulations go to the entire class.

Since we do not know Virginia personally, we are reprinting an editorial found in the senior edition of the high school paper, "Corral," published last Friday. Entitled "A Tribute To Virginia Costello," the article was written by Arah Phillips.

"When Virginia Costello completes her senior year at Big Spring High School, and moves West to join her family, who has already moved to El Paso, she will be leaving behind a record that any senior should be proud of. Virginia will have earned her diploma which shows she has successfully met her scholastic requirements, and which will permit her to enter practically any college or university.

She will be leaving behind a host of friends among both students and teachers, who will miss her wholesome personality.

Ginger has not only finished the course of study as prescribed by the high school, but she has had fun while doing it. In my opinion there is not another girl in District 2AA who has made more friends with other girls and with coaches of other teams with whom she has come in contact at volleyball games than has Virginia. In fact coaches and team-members of the opponents seem always to remember and inquire about her.

Ginger has set a record that should be an inspiration and encouragement to other Latin Americans as well as all other kids. She has proved that any individual can make good in school, can have friends, can be popular in the true sense of the word, and can be admired by everyone if that individual will put forth the effort. Ginger has proved beyond a doubt that no race is discriminated against in Big Spring High School and that all have equal opportunities to participate in school activities if the individual will avail himself or herself of such opportunities.

In my opinion she has done more for girl's volleyball, and therefore more for girl's athletics than any other person in the system during my five years tenure in the physical education department.

She has shown an interest and enthusiasm in volleyball a little above any other girl. She has been student assistant in carrying on intramurals in both high school and junior high, and has proved herself dependable and capable.

Ginger has played outstanding baseball in both church and YMCA leagues.

Conceit has no place in her life and I have found her always to be not only willing, but eager to follow directions and learn everything that would help her become a better athlete.

Her conduct and sportsmanship during the past four years has been of the highest type. Many, many times have I heard her urging the girls to keep training rules. Many, many times has she encouraged the girls to hustle more when they were on the short end of the score, and by her own example of putting every ounce of energy and enthusiasm into the game, when the going was the hardest, has been largely responsible for winning many games.

She has been active in several school activities having served as captain of the volleyball team; member of Girls Athletic Association of which she is secretary; runner-up for senior favorite; and chosen as senior Who's Who.

These and other honors have come to Ginger during her high school career, but perhaps that best thing of all that could be said about her is that "she has many friends, because she has been a friend."

Virginia is considering preparing herself for a physical education instructor, and I'm sure that many students and teachers join me in wishing that she will do this, for she has many characteristics that would help her be a success."

Mrs. Jim Harper Is Club Hostess

Mrs. Jim Harper, 2206 Johnson, was hostess to the weekly session of the Sew-Sew Club.

Those attending were: Mrs. C. E. Richardson, Sr., Mrs. Roy Brown, Mrs. H. B. Stanaland, Mrs. A. M. Harris, Mrs. Al Weese, Mrs. C. E. Richardson, Jr., Mrs. H. H. Wakehouse, Mrs. Newell Leopard, Mrs. Berle Haynie and three guests, Mrs. Noble Allgood of Brownwood, Mrs. A. C. Savage and Mrs. W. C. Mattingly.

Mrs. J. B. Knox Is Club Hostess

Mrs. J. B. Knox was hostess to a regular meeting of the Stitch A Bit Club. A salad course was served. Sewing was the entertainment.

Mrs. G. G. Morehead will be hostess to a breakfast to be held by the club next Wednesday. Those attending were: Mrs. Raymond Covington, Mrs. J. D. Jones, Mrs. Tippy Anderson, Mrs. Merle Creighton, Mrs. Ray Smith and Mrs. Hank Agee.

Second Class Badges Received By Scouts

Mr. W. D. Rowland, leader, presented members of Girl Scout Troop 21 with their second class badges in ceremonies held at the Girl Scout hut Friday evening.

Those receiving the badges were: Judy Rainwater, Syble Fulmer, Iris Jones, Kathlene Culwell, China Carroll, Carolyn Miller, Barbara Rowland, Agatha Cagle, Peggy Griffin, Sue Ann Everett, Carolyn Dietz, Ann Richburg, Mary Ann Leonard and Beverly Jean Horglas. Clara Freeman and Tommie Jo Williams are eligible to receive the badges but were unable to be present for the ceremonies.

Arthur Leonard, scout master, was the guest speaker for the evening and emphasized the progress which the girls have made in recent months and the potential progress which can be accomplished by the movement with the cooperation of the public. Leonard concluded his remarks by saying that if the laws of the Girl Scouts and Boy Scouts were practiced by everyone, there would be no need for jails and that we would have a much better community. Refreshments were served. Parents and guests present were: Mrs. L. M. Fulmer, Mrs. J. H. Richbourg, Mrs. E. F. Everett, Mr. and Mrs. T. N. Culwell,

"Music And World Understanding" Is Topic For Fine Arts Program

"Music And World Understanding" was the topic of the Fine Arts Program given Friday afternoon in the H. G. Keaton home with Mrs. Keaton in charge. Mrs. Keaton stated that a spiritual world unity might be created through world-wide music appreciation and understanding. She said that people rarely hate those with whom they sing. Thanks to radio and records, said the speaker, it is now possible for us to hear, enjoy and learn to appreciate every type of music from every land. Popular music, said Mrs. Keaton, is familiar music, many classics have become popular by being used as the tunes for popular compositions causing the public to become familiar with them. Our need now, declared the speaker, is for an international anthem, drawing us all to our feet in a world patriotism.

Continuing, she stated that we can all enjoy many kinds of music if we try and that today neither musical snobbery nor musical ignorance is necessary, but to be versatile, we need to enjoy as many different types of music as there are types and countries. Mrs. Keaton illustrated her talk with records of almost every type of music, ranging from Bach to "Sabre Dance", composed and performed by people of all nationalities.

Selections included: German, Bach, "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring;" First Piano Quartette, Polish, Russian, Hungarian and American pianists; German, Mozart, Aria from Le Nozze de Figaro, "Voi Che Sapete," sung by Bider Sayasu, Brazilian, soprano; Polish, Chopin, "Polonaise," played by Spanish, Jose Iturbi; Rachmaninoff, Russian, playing his own Prelude in C sharp Minor; Ernesto Leucome, Latin American composer, "Malengrena," played by Oscar Levant, American; "Sehoney," sung by James Melton; "Indian Love Call," Hammerstein and Jeanette McDonald; "Coco Waters," Bob Nolan and Sons of the Pioneers; "Sabre Dance," Arain Katchalurian, Andrews Sisters; and Cole Porter's "Begin the Beguin" and De Hardelet's "Because" sung by Marilya Keaton. Mrs. Clyde Thomas, Sr., Mrs. Wayne Williams and Mrs. E. J. Riddell were three new members who were welcomed to the club. Others attending were: Mrs. J. P. Dodge, Fannie Stevens, Mrs. Harwood Keith, Mrs. H. M. Rowe, Mrs. G. W. Chowns, Mrs. A. B. Wade, Mrs. Ira Driver, Mrs. D. C. Sadler, Mrs. Bob Eubank, Mrs. Arthur Woodall, Mrs. Charles Kolberg, Mrs. Albert Smith, Mrs. R. L. Warren, and Mrs. L. E. Eddy.

Dan Conley Speaks At P-TA Meeting

Dan Conley spoke on the subject, "The Importance of Music in the Home," at the musical program and social meeting of the College Heights Parent-Teacher Association at the school Thursday.

Conley said that "we cannot escape music in our everyday life; therefore parents should do all in their power to make it possible for their children to have some musical training, which not only furnishes an outlet for the child's emotional and physical energy; but also can be played for his own enjoyment." In closing, Conley said that "music almost always draws the family closer together."

Larry Evans played three musical selections, "Clair de Lune," "Sweet Sixteen," and "Twelfth Street Rag." Others on the musical program included the students of the first grade class under the direction of Mrs. Norman Spencer and Mrs. Gilbert Gibbs. Jeri Lynn McPherson was featured in a ballet dance accompanied by Betty Farrar. Kay McGibbon played a piano solo and accompanied Mrs. Gibbs' class as they sang nursery rhymes which were set to music.

Russell Croft, principal, expressed his appreciation to the teachers. Mrs. Gibbs' room won the room count.

In reviewing the club work during the past year, it was announced that $600 had been raised at the school carnival, with the proceeds being used for equipment for the school including phonograph and sound film strip, a back stop for the ball field, an American duplicator machine, a large classroom dictionaries, silverware and a coffee urn for the kitchen.

The tea table was covered with a lace cloth and centered with a floral arrangement of yellow gladioli and blue roses, the club colors. Blue napkins were embossed with College Heights in gold. Mrs. Lambert Ward poured and Mrs. How-

Forsan To Begin Commencement Week Tonight

FORSAN, May 14.—Dr. F. D. O'Brien, pastor of the First Baptist church in Big Spring, will bring the baccalaureate sermon here Sunday at 8:15 p. m. in the high school gymnasium, setting commencement week activities in motion.

In succession, the eighth grade promotion will take place Wednesday at 8:15 p. m. in the school cafeteria room with Sewell Jones, Big Spring Church of Christ minister, as the speaker, and the senior commencement exercises at the same hour Thursday in the gymnasium with Martelle McDonald, Odessa, 70th judicial district attorney, scheduled to bring the address.

The baccalaureate will include Tannhauser march by Wagner and the march for Verdi's "Aida" as processional and recessional. Joe B. Masters will pronounce the invocation and Price Bankhead, Church of Christ minister, the benediction. Laura Whittenberg will sing A. H. Malotte's interpretation of the Lord's Prayer, and G. D. Kennedy, superintendent, will preside, and the congregation will join "Beautiful Savior."

Mary Ruth Howard is to bring the salutatory Thursday evening, and Pauline Massey the valedictory. A mixed quartet will sing "You'll Never Walk Alone" and "Send Out Thy Light." J. E. Chanslor will present diplomas, and C. V. Wash will pronounce the benediction and E. N. Baker the benediction.

Wednesday evening the promotion class will sing "God Is Our Song," by Beethoven. Bobby Leonard will read the class history, Peggy Knight the class prophecy, Jesse Overton will give the invocation and Price Bankhead the benediction. Kennedy will present the promotion certificates.

Two Big Springers To Get BBA Degrees

Two Big Spring seniors are included in the list of 504 candidates for degrees from the University of Texas college of business administration, when commencement exercises are held May 30.

They are Betty Belle Penn, and Jack Donald Riggs.

ONLY TWO OUT OF 90 UNDECIDED

City High School Seniors Are Making Plans For The Future

Big Spring high school seniors constitute an unusually purposeful graduating class.

Of 90 members answering a questionnaire for the Herald, only two are undecided as to whether they want to go to college or work. The proportion of those thinking in terms of college at this time is extremely large, and so is the degree of choice on a college. For instance, 33 boys and 34 girls are now planning on college. Of this number 63 have settled on a first choice of institutions.

Elders needn't be concerned about the "younger generation," if the senior class is a criterion, for they outstrip the older folks by far in church membership and attendance. Thirty-six boys and 46 girls said they were church members; five boys and three girls said they were not. All of the boys who were church members said they attended fairly regularly and 48 girls (two more than the number of members) are regular attendants.

In general, they like the program the church is giving them, for 34 boys and 39 girls felt the church was meeting the challenge in interesting young people. Six boys and eight girls thought the church was falling short.

Practically all of them feel that their high school experience has been profitable. Only two answered "no," one holding that a wider variety of subjects is needed, another bemoaning inadequate state support to give teachers more pay. Two said the experience was "fairly satisfying" and one

Commencement Set Today At Garden City

GARDEN CITY, May 14.—Commencement activities will be ushered in here at 11 a. m. today with baccalaureate services at the Fort Baptist church.

The Rev. Anthem Wade is to bring the sermon, "Building a Christian Life." Invocation will be by the Rev. A. C. Durrant, who also will read the Scriptures. Benediction will be by H. L. Lovell, principal. There will be congregational singing and Mr. and Mrs. Lee Watkins and Mrs. A. C. Durrant will appear as a vocal trio in "Make Me a Blessing." Mrs. Alton Cook will be at the piano for the processional and recessional, and Supt. C. G. Parsons will preside. Johnny Cline, Charlie Cunningham, Wilma Dean O'Bannon and Norma Huff will serve as junior ushers.

Delbert Downing, manager of the Midland chamber of commerce, is to be the commencement speaker. Helen Hightower will bring the salutatory and Mary Frances Robinson the valedictory. Class history will be read by Joe Cunningham, the class prophecy by Emma Cline, and class will be by Marion Wilkerson.

Lovell will present the graduates to Supt. Parsons, who in turn makes the presentation of diplomas. Mrs. Rube Ricker, who will play the processional and recessional, also will play the class song, "End of a Perfect Day." The commencement exercises will be held in the school auditorium, as will the eighth grade promotion ceremonies on Tuesday at 8 p. m. Seniors are Emma Cline, Joe Cunningham, Helen Hightower, Mary Frances Robinson, Marion Wilkerson.

thought it was "very profitable." All others answered "yes."

Why did they like their high school career? Many liked the various activities such as the band, the Bible class, a touch of aeronautics and public speaking, a Latin trip to Caribbea Caverna, a Spanish trip to Eagle Pass, the Bible trip to San Antonio, special subject matter, specific instructors, being honored with class or school offices, and many others.

But by far, the biggest reason was that they found the student body, and the faculty, generally speaking, to be friendly. A few felt that there were some indifferent instructors and that they had some individual peevish at particular students, but by and large the class had words of praise for the faculty, its attitude, its cooperation, and "the way they can teach us anything" or "taught us how to learn and yet enjoy it." Some praised spirit and progress.

Seniors were pointed in highlighting a few scholastic needs. Not many dwelled on this point, but there was general agreement among them—that more modern teaching equipment and a new high school are needed. Several volunteered that they were impressed by the way the school was being run and among the few who commented upon it, there was an even division on whether the community was doing all it could to support the schools.

Few of those who plan to go to work have promise of a job, and most of them had no idea what would be a fair starting salary. Those who already work part time have the inside job track.

As for choice of college, Howard County Junior College has a commanding lead with 25 specifying this institution now. Nearest competitor was Texas Tech with nine, followed by North Texas Teachers with six and University of Texas with three.

Five plan on business colleges, two each on Stephens, S. M. U. Schreiner, A. C. C. (one of these might go to Tech), and one each to Oklahoma A. & M., Loyola, Baylor, Texas Mines, McMurry, Hardin-Simmons and Bob Jones University.

Seniors have a definite leaning to office work. Those pointing toward secretarial, stenographic

City Scholastic Census Nearing Hike This Year

The scholastic census for Big Spring may approach a 200 increase over last year.

Figures are yet incomplete as the administrative staff principals and teachers double-check on names which appeared on the roll last year but for some reason are not shown on the roll this year. Some of these are known to still reside in Big Spring, although they may not be in school or may be attending college.

So far, the census shows approximately 4,000 scholastics. The final figure last year was 3,924 before transfers. The net gain before transfers may be around 100, and with transfers, the gain may be between 150 and 200.

Even if these figures pan out, there is a possibility that the gross to the district from the per capita payment will be less for the 1949-50 session than for this year. Reason is lowering of the per capita payment to $50 from the current $55.

Hundreds Of School Children Pay Visits To Texas Memorial Museum

By MARTHA COLE AP STAFF

AUSTIN, May 14 (U.S.)—School children swarm by the hundreds over the Texas Memorial Museum here. More than 4,000 came in March and approximately 5,000 in April to gaze at John Garner's gavel collection, a miniature replica of the flagship of the Texas Navy, Sam Houston's pistol, beads from an old Indian grave in Lamar county—"Four floors well-filled. The museum is only ten years old and we're already worried about being overcrowded," said its director, Dr. E. H. Sellards.

"Texas was ripe for a museum." The museum was opened Jan. 15, 1939, three years after Texas had marked its 100th anniversary of independence from Mexico. Talk of a state museum had been going on for years. Then the American Legion got down to business and raised slightly less than $100,000 for it. The federal government contributed $300,000 and the state $225,000. Regents of the University of Texas are its directors.

The gleaming native stone building rises atop a small hill directly east of the University campus. At the bottom of the steps going up the hill is the statue of wild mustangs—$60,000 gift of Mr. and Mrs.

reorganization plan, which provides other means of support through its foundation program. What effect of the G-A bills will have on the district and others in the county is not accurately known now pending completion of conference studies by the senate and house and final enactment into law.

Dr. Sellards said the most outstanding group historically is the Wooten gun collection. It contains approximately 400 items, beginning with guns from the 14th century. They were collected by Dr. Goodall Harrison Wooten and give to the museum in 1944 by Mrs. Ella Chickering piano wrote a letter to us with the wrong address. We almost didn't get that letter. That piano was shipped to New Orleans in 1945 and brought to a plantation on Lake Caddo." The donor is Mrs. F. C. Fox of Karnack, Tex.

Most of the geology exhibits have come from field trips made by the museum staff. The last was to the Kincaid Cave in Uvalde County last fall.

"A couple of boys were poking around in that cave," Dr. Sellards said, "and came across some darts that looked different from any other Indian relic they had come across. We were informed and investigated."

"We found three civilizations had lived in that dugout, the earliest 10, 15 or 20 thousand years ago."

Tarzan Finds Adventure In The Big City

Tarzan traces an airplane-borne safari to civilization and experiences more thrill and adventure in New York than he ever encountered in the wilderness. In "Tarzan's New York Adventure," playing at the Lyric theatre today and Monday with Johnny Weissmuller, Maureen O'Sullivan and Johnny Sheffield. Circus lion hunters invade Tarzan's jungle domain, and carry away Johnny Sheffield. Weissmuller and Miss O'Sullivan pursue them, don garments of civilization, and go to New York. Battles against circus crews and police, a near riot in a courtroom, and a dive from the Brooklyn Bridge are among the thrills Weissmuller faces in civilization, and an attack on the safari by savages in the jungle and thrills with wild beasts provide other excitement, amid which are hilarious comedy moments as the jungle monarch tries to adjust himself to the ways of civilization.

Tenant Farmer Gets Death In Slaying

WAYNESBORO, Ga., May 11. —A tenant farmer was sentenced to death yesterday for killing a three-year-old boy in a fit of anger. W. R. Hobbs was sentenced to die in the electric chair July 8 for the murder of William Anderson last winter. The jury was out less than half an hour.

Hobbs was arrested after a carpenter-called to the Anderson home to build a casket—noticed large whelps on the child's body and notified the sheriff.

Police said Hobbs later confessed he had kicked, beaten and finally bitten the youngster to death in a fit of anger.

Seniors Think Community Is Failing On Youth Activities

As a community, Big Spring lacks a lot of getting a clean bill of health from high school seniors on the issue of meeting the challenge of youth.

Asked the question of whether they thought the community was the challenge in serving its young people, 25 boys and 29 girls, out of 50 filling the questionnaires, said "No." Only 11 boys and 11 girls answered "Yes."

Notwithstanding this, most of those answering specifically (the question was perhaps misplaced in the questionnaire for maximum participation) plan to make Big Spring their home. Nine boys answered "yes," seven "no." 19 girls said "yes," five "no." There were 25 boys and 29 girls who had no comment, again due to a fault in the questionnaire.

By far the leading thought among the seniors is that the community has fallen down in providing a center for its youth. A few who saw a failure, and some who thought the community was meeting the challenge, cited the YMCA permanent home project as a commendable step. But a place for young people to meet and for clean recreation and entertainment led the list by a tremendous margin.

Several scored the community for lack of interest in young people; scant support of school teams; three thought a school board and administration shake up in order; one said adults weren't worried until teen-agers got in trouble.

There was common complaint about a dearth of varied recreation and entertainment. One said that young people grew weary of going to church and the movies on weekends, and another said they had "no place to go except movies and a beer joint." One took a poke at school athletic reporting.

Some among the seniors heaped abuse upon the young people, saying much of the fault lay with them. Several praised Big Spring adults for a quickening spirit of concern and an attempt to do all that they can. A few thought that the community was filling the bill in being above average in spirituality.

As for reasons for wanting to live in Big Spring and for wanting to leave, a few of the more succinct were: "Does anyone want to stay away from the town he knows?" "Yes, people here are a soft touch." "No, the town has no future." "Too many people like to sit on their money pots and refuse progress." "I want to go where a pharmacist is needed the most—probably back in the hills; otherwise I would want to settle here very much." "I want to live here because I want to see Big Spring grow as I have dreamed it would become a cleaner and friendlier city." "I don't like the climate." Most wanted to settle here because they would be among those they had grown to know and love.

HIGHLIGHTS ON KBST

Choral Festival On The Air Today

The Northfield Choral Festival in which more than 1,000 students of the Northfield School for Girls and Mount Hermon School for Boys will participate, will be broadcast over KBST and the American Broadcasting company at 2:30 p. m. today.

The chorus is broken up into several groups for the concert, including an unaccompanied-voices choir and combined choirs of the two schools.

This is the fourth year that the choral festival, which started as a hymn sing back in 1895, has been broadcast. The traditional musical event of the two schools at East Northfield, Mass. had its beginning during the leadership there of Dwight L. Moody, famous evangelist and founder of the Northfield Schools.

Van Melin and Ida Lupino co-star in "Ladies and Gentlemen," a piercing and clever satire on human character which only Charles MacArthur and Ben Hecht could write, on "Theatre Guild on the Air," Sunday this evening at 8:30 p. m., over KBST. The play by the famed co-authors of "The Front Page" is presented in a special broadcast from Pittsburgh, Pa.

Harold Isaacs, author and foreign correspondent for "Newsweek," H. R. Knickerbocker, author, roving foreign correspondent of INS and official wartime correspondent of the First Division of the U. S. Army; Rep. John M. Vorys, Republican of Ohio, member of the joint committee on foreign economic cooperation and house foreign affairs committee, and Sirdar J. J. Singh, president of India League of America. America's Town Meeting is broadcast by KBST each Tuesday evening at 7:30 to 8:30 p. m.

"FINE ARTS QUARTET" Bela Bartok's Quartet No. 6 will be played by the Fine Arts Quartet of the American Broadcasting Company over KBST at 10 a. m. today.

"Bartok's music," says Cecil Gray, "is the program music of the soul, the record of psychological experience." The arresting quality of Bartok, one that distinguishes him from his colleagues, is that he has no set and invariable method of procedure.

"The Headliners Show" a program of music with an added attraction in the person of Steve Wilhelm, will switch to a new time on KBST Monday. Formerly heard at 10:15, the show henceforth will be heard from 7:30 to 7:45 p. m. on Monday, and Wednesdays, and on Friday at 6:45 to 7:00 p. m. The Headliners Show features the music of K. Bert Sloan and his orchestra, singing by Trudy Wood and Lee Norton, and the very popular feature, "Five Minutes About Texas", narrated by Steve Wilhelm.

The question to be discussed on Tuesday's broadcast of "America's Town Meeting of The Air" is "What Should We Do About The Communist Threat in Asia?" The speakers for the broadcast will be

'Queen For Day' Program Slated At Odessa

The popular radio program, "Queen For A Day" moves into West Texas for special presentations at Odessa Saturday, May 21 and Sunday, May 22.

Scene of the programs, with Jack Bailey as the master of ceremony, will be in Odessa's Broncho stadium. Seats will be limited to one side of the stadium, and orders may be sent to "Queen For A Day," Box 1549, Odessa.

A Queen will be selected on each of the two Odessa days, and these will win trips to Hollywood for a tour of motion picture studios, famous restaurants, and broadcast headquarters.

Two-hour shows are scheduled at Odessa, local bands will give concerts prior to the Queen ceremonies. Proceeds from the West Texas programs will be used to help send the Odessa senior high school band to New York as the Texas state band at the Lions International convention, and the junior band to the Tri-State Band Festival at Enid, Okla.

Conviction Of Six Negroes Flayed By Subversive Group

TRENTON, N. J., May 14. (AP)—The conviction of six Negroes, now under death sentence, was attacked Friday as a "vicious frameup" by the leftwing Civil Rights Congress.

The state supreme court is to hear argument on the appeal Monday.

Hurling charges of racial persecution at Mercer County police officials, the Congress termed the trial a "Northern Scottsboro case."

The group, listed as subversive at William Horner, 72-year-old Trenton shopkeeper. Now in the state death house, they face the biggest mass execution in New Jersey's history.

"Conviction of the six Negroes by an all-white jury was based solely on so-called 'confessions' which were extorted from the men and later repudiated by all of them," the Congress charged.

"They were arrested without warrants, not permitted to consult with counsel and questioned by re-lays of police officers for five days and nights."

Defense lawyers contend their clients confessed after they were drugged and beaten by the police.

Reaction Of Seniors Worthy Of Serious Community Thought

Most of us do a lot of talking about the problems of youth, and in a large measure we are repeating some musty ideas we read or heard repeated. Being out of close touch with youth, we lose the youthful viewpoint too easily.

the question honestly, realizing that they may not yet understand some of the hard problems of rallying support to any enterprise of a community nature. Moreover, we are sobered by a sense of realization that we are not doing all that we could (let alone should) for the simple reason the young people hold the opinions they do.

Philosophy Of The Ninety And Nine Still Part Of Our World

By FRANK GRIMES

If you are an O. Henry fan (and we have actually seen him referred to as O'Henry in serious book reviews in serious newspapers, which goes to show the power of commercial advertising over straight literature), you recall one of his finest stories, called The Gift of the Magi.

Well, in spite of all the cynicism of the times, you know the answer to that. The wife was frantic. She wanted her husband to come back, so she could wait on him and perhaps—who knows—help pull him past the crisis and by loving care restore him to good health. Love works miracles.

LAHORE, Pakistan (AP)—West Punjab Province, bordering India, will have a wheat surplus of more than 6,000 tons this year, Food Department Secretary R. D.

Garden City High Seniors Grateful For School Days

GARDEN CITY, May 14—Members of the senior class are unanimous in feeling that their high school experience here has been a profitable one.

This, according to their comments, is largely because they have made many fast friends and because they have realized the importance of an education. All of the seniors are church members but only two make a habit of regular attendance. Eighty per cent think that the church is meeting the challenge in interesting young people.

Moreover, they believe the community is meeting its challenge in serving its youth. One noted that formation of clubs was an evidence, another thought the chartering of a Lions club reflected community progress, and still another believed the starting of a Bible course was a step in the right direction.

The two, both boys, who do not plan to stay on a college career, plan to stay in Garden City. One has promise of a job, having been associated with a company for two years and therefore having a chance for advancement. The other will enter ranching.

Three said they planned to enter college, one at North Texas and two at Texas Tech. One was undecided, one planned to be a nurse, the other a teacher. None of the graduates had immediate matrimonial intentions. Boys average 18 years of age, the girls 17-18 years.

Ackerly Seniors Plan For Future

More than half of the members of Ackerly High School's graduating class are planning marriage soon after commencement, but few of them plan to make their homes in Ackerly, based on answers to questionnaires distributed by the Daily Herald.

Twelve members of the Ackerly senior class completed at least part of a questionnaire. Of that number all were listed as church members, while eight felt that their church is meeting the challenge for interesting young people. Only five said they believed their community is meeting a similar challenge.

Failure to provide entertainment and a general lack of interest in young people were listed as principal shortcomings of the community in that respect. Four of the 12 Ackerly seniors said they planned to attend college, but only two listed their preferred college by name. One plans to attend Howard Payne, while another will attend Draughon's Business college in Abilene.

Seven of the 12 who completed questionnaires are girls, four of whom plan immediate marriage after graduation. Only one of the girls definitely plans to remain in Ackerly, and two of them plan to become nurses or nurses aides. Others did not list a vocation except to become housewives.

Of the five boys, two plan to work in oil fields, while another announced intentions of following the carpenter's trade and one hopes to become a veterinarian. Three of them plan immediate marriage.

Three of the boys listed their idea of a fair starting salary, two of them naming $300 per month and another $240 per month. Average age of the 12 seniors completing questionnaires is 17 years, and eight of them attended Ackerly schools for four years or more.

Moscow Farms To Plant Branched Wheat This Year

MOSCOW (AP)—Many farms near Moscow are to plant branched wheat this year. Branched wheat, instead of having one ear to each stalk like ordinary wheat, has many ears to each stalk.

The managers of the Moscow farms which were selected for the first use of this new wheat variety in the region around the Soviet capital have undertaken to produce from 75 to 112 bushels of "branched" wheat per acre. Russia now averages about 115 bushels per acre or thereabouts.

Branched wheat has been bred and developed by Soviet agricultural scientists who have done intensive research on it for many years. The area under cultivation to it is being rapidly extended, and results watched carefully.

"Moscow Bolshevik" reported a conference at the Lenin All-Union Academy of Agricultural Sciences at which the leading Soviet agricultural scientist T. D. Lysenko explained to farm managers in the Moscow area how they must handle branched wheat acreage.

Lysenko stated that the amount of branched wheat sown must be from 0.9 to 1.0 bushels per acre. Lysenko said the branched wheat should be sown in single rows 40 centimeters apart at a depth of from 3 to 5 centimeters. Cultivation, he stated, should be undertaken with horse cultivators only and not with tractor cultivators.

Lysenko told the farmers that in the Moscow district the branched wheat must be sown before May 1.

New Moscow Play Has Interesting Sidelights On U. S.

MOSCOW, (AP)—The Moscow Baire Theatre has produced a new play about Russians and Americans. It is called "Fateful Inheritance".

It pictures four Americans aboard a Volga River steamer. One, a representative of an American law firm, is in search of the heir of the estate of an American millionaire of Russian lineage who has died and left $20,000,000 without a will. He is after a 7.5 per cent commission which the play claims must, according to American law, go to the person who finds a missing heir.

In a moment of weakness he allows his fellow Americans to worm out his secret, whereupon two of them decide to get the money for themselves.

The heir to the millionaire's riches is supposed to be Semyon Tuzov who is aboard the boat. Much of the play is devoted to scenes showing the Americans trying to get Tuzov to sign a paper to the effect that the given American had informed him of his estate first.

Tuzov puts them off several days, then calls them together in the salon and announces that he has discovered the real heir to the millions.

This theme offers many opportunities for jibes and patriotic feuilletons on such things as Russian food, Russian baths, and Russian people.

Watch Is Ideal Gift For Graduating Senior

One of the greatest thrills which comes in the life of any boy or girl is the presentation of their first "good" watch. For this reason, it has become a custom for parents to present such a gift on some extra special occasion and this occasion is often graduation.

Many types and styles of gifts are presented the high school or college graduate, they vary in price from the most inexpensive to the most expensive, but in years past the leading gift for boys and girls has been a watch. According to the latest reports from local jewelers, this year will not be an exception.

In the line of the more extravagant gifts, shoppers will also find leading lines of luggage in the latest colors and styles. This gift should prove especially pleasing to the graduate who will be going away from home to attend college or to work. Nothing does more to make a weekend football or longer trip pleasing than the fact that the traveler has a "good looking" set of luggage to display.

With more and more emphasis placed on the bride's accumulation of a complete table service of China, crystal and silver before she takes the marriage vows, silver has become a very popular graduation gift in recent years.

As always there are many, many inexpensive gifts which will make graduates happy. All of the usual gifts and a few new ones are on display in local windows. There are musical jewelry boxes, make-up kits, pearls, ear screws, bracelets and rings for girls. Cuff links, tie clasps, including a new pencil-clasp combination, fountain pen and pencil sets, lighters and cigarette cases for boys.

I recent months, there have been some reports that jewelry, including engagement rings, was becoming more and more tailored. Local jewelers seem to feel that there may be some trend in that direction, but that, generally speaking, styles have made no drastic changes.

WAKE OF THE RED WITCH

DAUNTLESS MAID — This is one of the dramatic scenes from a dramatic story of France's foremost heroine, as told in the Technicolor "Joan Of Arc," which stars Ingrid Bergman in the title role. The picture, produced by Walter Wagner and directed by Victor Fleming, is at the Ritz theatre Tuesday and Wednesday, as a special roadshow attraction.

IN ALCOTT STORY — June Allyson appears as Jo and Peter Lawford as Laurie, in a new film version of the famed Louisa May Alcott story, "Little Women," which plays at the Ritz theatre today and Monday. Others in the cast include Margaret O'Brien, Elizabeth Taylor, Janet Leigh and Mary Astor.

'The Green Promise' Drama Of Farm Life

Tapping a really new background for its action, Glenn McCarthy's initial production, "The Green Promise" stars Marguerite Chapman, Walter Brennan, Robert Paige and Natalie Wood in a warmly human story of a farming family and the famous 4-H clubs. The picture is at the Terrace Drive-In theatre tonight and Monday night.

Alcott Classic, 'Little Women' Is Filmed Anew

A new film version of that favorite on many library shelves through many years—Louisa May Alcott's "Little Women"—is the major attraction for today and Monday at the Ritz theatre. This newest production casts June Allyson as Jo, Peter Lawford as Laurie, Margaret O'Brien as Beth, Elizabeth Taylor as Amy, Janet Leigh as Meg. The Italian film star, Rossano Brazzi, makes his American screen debut in the role of Professor Bhaer, Mary Astor as Aunt March, C. Aubrey Smith as Mr. Laurence, Elizabeth Patterson as Hannah, Leon Ames as Mr. March and Harry Davenport as Dr. Barnes.

"Little Women" is one of those American popular novels that has almost attained the stature of a classic. Author Alcott received a total of $300 for the book's first issue of 2000 copies, in 1850. Today, one first edition is worth $385. A total of 80,000 copies were sold the first year which was also the year of the first transcontinental railroad, which took the book across the entire country. It has been translated into every known tongue, with so many millions of copies published that it has been impossible to keep a record of the total sales. In 1890, editions in three volumes were published for the blind.

William A. Brady produced the first stage version of "Little Women" in 1912, with Alice Brady starring. It was revived in 1916, with Paul Kelly in the male lead and Laurie, played in the M-G-M film version by Peter Lawford. In 1933, Katharine Cornell played the role of Jo, now enacted in the picture by June Allyson. Another revival of the play occurred in 1931.

The Alcott novel was first made into a motion picture in 1919, with a second version filmed in 1933, with Katharine Hepburn in the role of Jo.

Joan Of Arc Story Impressively Told

By TOMMY HART

Taken straight from the pages of 15th century history, Walter Wagner's "Joan Of Arc," which is to be shown local audiences at the Ritz theatre Tuesday and Wednesday, fulfills its mission in relating with telling effect the story of the girl who fulfilled Merlin's prophecy that a maid would come from the Bois Chenu to do great deeds for France.

The movie might be overly long for some theatre-goers, perhaps could have been shortened in places. However, audiences will probably find that the spectacle will hold them as few movies have in recent times.

Ingrid Bergman, a Swede who gambled in assuming the role of the French patriot, accepts the has surrounded herself with a tremendous cast which seemed to revel in the chance to paint the challenge and seems up to it. She deathless story of the 19-year-old girl who became a French saint. Jose Ferrer, portrayed as the Dauphin who became regent of France after Joan had assumed command of the French armies and led them to victory over the intruding English, is well cast in his first featured role. His experience on the stage stands him in good stead.

Others who stand out in the cast include J. Carrol Naish, Hurd Hatfield, Francis L. Sullivan, Sheppard Strudwick, John Emery, George Coulouris, John Ireland, Ward Bond and Cecil Kellaway. The camera descends upon Joan, then Jeanette d'Arc, as she helps her parents in the country-side of Domremy. She hears a voice from God, a voice which commands her to go forward and raise the siege of Orleans, then under the ire of the British.

She tries to ignore them but the voices of the Creator and the angels will not lend her rest and, at length, she heeds them. It was in her 18th year when she approached Robert de Baudricourt, captain of a fortified town near her father's place and pleaded with him to gain for her an audience with the Dauphin. She was at first refused but persisted and won the privilege.

A thrilling court scene, in which Joan seeks out the Dauphin after one of his attendants and hides from her, creates the opportunity for Joan to rally the armies and lead them against Orleans garrison.

The battle scenes that follow are among the greatest ever put to film and required the services of thousands of extras.

When the French emerged victorious, the news aroused great emotion throughout France and made the coronation of the Dauphin possible.

Certain that the English could be ousted from France by additional attacks, Joan set out to seek audience with the king, hoping to get permission to carry the fight to the enemy. She was to be disappointed. The king seemed willing to rest on his laurels, although he did ennoble her and exempt her village from taxation.

Allen influences, including the Burgundians and the hard-pressed Britons, realized the importance of destroying the power of the Maid and, in so doing, discredit the King. Taken prisoner at Compienne after she had decided to press the fight for France's liberation herself, she was brought to trial in a spiritual court on mock charges.

The English had from the outset announced their intentions of burning her alive, if she be found guilty

OPPORTUNITIES ARE VARIED

Journalism Has Strong Appeal For Many Boy, Girl Graduates

By CRANSTON WILLIAMS
General Manager, American Newspaper Publishers Association
This June, large numbers of young men and young women, graduating from universities, colleges and high schools, will be seeking opportunities in the economic world. Some of these young people will have already determined upon their field; others will be groping for a field which offers them opportunities best suited to their temperments, aptitude and training.

There is the advertising side for those interested in salesmanship. There is the mechanical side for those having an aptitude for mechanics. And there is the business side for those wishing to enter the journalistic field but having no particular desire to specialize in either writing, advertising or mechanics. It should be pointed out, however, that the newspaper business, like all others, offers no magic formula to success. Success requires knowledge, experience, and hard work—lots of it. Many young people graduating this year may have specialized in journalistic subjects and may feel, as a result of this training, that they will immediately step into some position and attain a high executive position. This is not true, in the newspaper business, nor in other professions. Students having such ideas should look elsewhere, because while education is valuable and necessary, it offers no substitute for the experience and actual hard work that must be undertaken by anyone wishing to reach a successful peak in journalism. Because of its many-sidedness, journalism perhaps requires more experience, more objectiveness, more well-founded general knowledge than any other profession or business. The most necessary requisites to success in this profession are intelligence, scientific curiosity and a willingness to learn and to work. With these qualifications, those entering the journalistic field will find that their feet have already started on the first rungs of a ladder, the climbing of which may be arduous but attainment at the peak of which brings a singular satisfaction seldom to be found elsewhere. Student elections are all over and B.S.H.S. students are getting ready for exams. The winners for yell-leaders are: Lou Ann Miller, Luan Creighton, Diana Farquhar, Sue Craig, Peggy Lamb, Alfred Chevarria, Ann Crocker. For student council representatives—June Cook, Luan Creighton, Dallas Woods, Wanda Lou Petty, Jackie Little, Mona Lue Walker, Bud Whitney, Charles Rose, Doyle Mason, Shirley Riddle, Marilyn Miller and Albert Long. The 1950 student president is Amos Jones. Congratulations to all these winners they really have an opportunity to serve in these offices. Monday, May 23rd is the big day for the seniors, because Monday marks the annual Senior day celebration. The senior class this year voted on Christoval for the site of their adventure. The seniors will leave around 4:00 Monday morning in cattle trucks and return about 7:30 that evening. Also coming up is the baccalaureate sermon Sunday, May 22 in the Municipal Auditorium. W. C. Blankenship will preside, and the processional will be played by Charles Rainwater. Rev. Aisie Carleton will deliver the sermon. To sing on the program are: Vevegene Apple, Ellen Eastham, Jc Ann Tanner, Mary Louise Porter, Rebecca Rogers, Charlotte Williams, Charles Rainwater, Richard Laswell, Jimmie White, Allen Holmes, Richard Deats, Carrol Choate. The group will be accompanied by Mary Jane Hamilton. Then the commencement exercises will be held at the Municipal Auditorium on May 25. W. C. Blankenship will be presiding and Billie Jean O'Neil will play the processional. Dr. P. D. O'Brien will give the invocation, while Patsy Ann Young will give the reading "Yesterday" and Richard Deats will follow up with "Tomorrow." Jane Stripling is to sing a solo accompanied by Mrs. Nell Frazier. Dr. James P. Cornette will then give the address entitled "The Important Things of Life—Yesterday, Today, and Tomorrow." Dr. Cornette is president of the West Texas State Teachers College. John Coffee, secretary of the school-board will be in charge of the introduction of senior graduates. Dewey Martin, vice president, will present the diplomas. For Real FURNITURE VALUES, see the BARROW-DOUGLASS advertisement on Page 3, Section 1 of today's Herald.—adv.
