Crockett Field Well Flows 100 Barrels Hourly

Small Pumper Turns to Gusher After Deepening 36 Feet

Deepening 36 feet, from 1408, where initially it had been only a 63-barrel-a-day pumper, Gilcrease Oil Co.'s No. 1-13 University in the University field in extreme northwestern Crockett county flowed an estimated 100 barrels of oil hourly for five hours.

The deeper pay was believed by some to correspond with the main oil bearing Permian lime in the famous Yates field, only 11 miles south and slightly east. But weighing against the prospects of development of a field of magnitude, it was reported, is the fact that some wells in the field have encountered no water or oil in drilling to the same horizon.

The well had been drilled but a short distance into the lower pay when it began flowing through 7-inch casing, cemented at 1,293 feet. In five hours, it flowed an estimated 500 barrels into the pits which were overflowed. Turned into storage, the well gauged 60 barrels of oil in one hour and 20 minutes, a rate of 45 barrels hourly or 1,080 barrels a day. Oil was reported free from water.

The well is 2,310 feet from the south, 330 feet from the west line of section 13-14U. It is about the center of the field in which Gilcrease has 21 small producers, the Lu-Tex Oil Co. four.

The Crockett field was opened in April, 1938, when L. H. Choate and Fred Hogan of Midland drilled the discovery well on a farm-out from Humble. Gilcrease later bought their properties and those of Black and Eubanks, other operators in the area. A pipeline was recently laid ten miles northwest to Humble Pipeline Co.'s McCamey pump station to provide an outlet for the field.

ONE THING and THEN ANOTHER

SAN ANGELO. — It's funny sometimes how a kid'll figure out some fool thing he'd like to do, and then if he never gets to do it, keep wanting to all the rest of his life.

Me—I want to drift down a long river in a boat. I don't know why. I can't row a boat. I can't even pole one. I went out in the Laguna Madre one night with Joe Wall, state boat captain, and never was so aggravated at myself for not being able to pole a boat. I'm lazy, but I do like to be able to do my part on a trip. Like it was, all I could do was just sit and let Joe do the work.

Ever since I was a kid, I've wanted to drift down a river in a boat, like Mark Twain's "Huckleberry Finn." Likely, that's where I got the idea. I want to load up with a coffee pot and a little bed roll and push off from shore and tell the rest of the world to go to hell for a spell.

I want to sit and listen to the water gurgling and lapping about the boat. I want to trail a frog or worm baited fishline and drag in a flopping fish every once in awhile.

I want to shade up at dinner-time, cook my fish, stretch out on my roll and listen to the drowsy whirr of the locusts in the trees and to the raspy calls of the katydids.

And when the cool of the evening comes, I'll load up and drift again.

And I'll pull out on a sand bank every once in awhile and read the stories the wild things have left written with their tracks at the water's edge. And maybe I'll shoot a couple of squirrels for supper. Or, knock over a cotton-

Casbeer Cluters Take Wider Lead In Pennant Chase

Chance Of Stumble May Put Oberkamps In Line For Top

The softball league leading lads piloted by Musty Casbeer widened the margin of lead during the past week's series of games by sweeping all opposition for three more straight wins to retain their clean slate of no losses for the second half. Victims of the week were the Humble Oilers, until then a close second to the leaders, the Piggly Wiggly crew of Arthur Kyle's and the Williams Grocers, with J. A. Barrow ramrodding.

A new threat to second half supremacy presented itself with McDonald's Oberkamp Gassers successful in their two starts of the week to bring them within shooting distance of the leaders. The Gassers in the week downed the Piggly Wiggly and Williams teams. Texas-New Mex Pipeliners were also in the double win column for the week, downing the tobogganing Humble Monday night and Piggly Wiggly Wednesday night. A protested game between Williams and the Casbeer team played Tuesday night went to the league leaders.

At present it looks like a clean sweep for the Casbeers for the season's championship without a playoff, the team having sacked the first half crown. However, anything can happen and both the Humble and McDonald teams are still in the running. The league leaders have three more games on their schedule. Friday night against their chief threat, the Oberkamp Gassers, Monday night against the Tex-New Mex Pipeliners, a team that has been improving steadily, and the final Friday night of next week with the Williams team, which boasts the league's fan-elected all-star hurler, Slim Davidson. A rocky road the balance of the way, then, for the leaders.

Besides the game with the champs Friday night, the contending Gassers meet Humble Monday night and Tex-New Mex Wednesday night, also a rough assignment. The Humble Oilers their stint with the Williams team Friday night, and Piggly Wiggly Friday night.

Crockett Girl Wins West Texas Roping Title In Junction

A 17-year-old Crockett county school girl, self-trained roping artist, fought her way to the West Texas girls calf roping championship in a spirited three-day contest at Junction last week as a feature of the Hill Country Rodeo and Race Meet.

Miss Margaret Owens, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Owens, Crockett county ranch folk, captured the $100 purse and the West Texas girls calf roping title by defeating Miss Sydna Yokley of Canadian. The contest was a daily feature during the three-day rodeo.

Miss Owens' total elapsed time was 306.4 seconds to 427.6 for the girl from Canadian. A stubborn calf which fought for 140 seconds against Miss Yokley's efforts Wednesday skyrocketed her time.

The rivalry between the two attractive feminine ropers was to have continued this week at Santa Anna's rodeo Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday.

Kimble Judge, Avowed Candidate For District Judge, Visitor Here

Judge J. B. Randolph of Junction, county judge of Kimble county, and Weaver H. Baker, also of Junction, district attorney of the 112th judicial district, stopped off for a brief visit in Ozona Wednesday morning on their way to Alpine on business.

Judge Randolph, who will have served Kimble county as its county judge for 16 years with completion of his present term, is an avowed candidate for district judge of the 112th district in 1940. He was endorsed by a number of leading attorneys in the district in San Antonio and San Angelo for the appointment to the post upon retirement of Judge Joe G. Montague, but Governor O'Daniel appointed Judge W. C. Jackson of Fort Stockton to the position.

All-Stars Play Scrubs In Match Saturday Night

Fan-Elected Softball Stars Battle All Other Players

In a brief but spirited voting contest, a team of all-star softball players was elected by Ozona fans the past weekend, and all ready the fan-picked stars have been challenged for a battle under the lights next Saturday night against a team to be hand-picked from all other players in the city league.

And what a battle it promises to be! Maybe the fans picked the best players, say the opposing managers, but only ten could be elected to the all-stars and that leaves lots of good players for the opposing team that will make it interesting for the top notches.

The contest for the pitching slot on the all-stars was between Slim Davidson and Elmo Berman, the former nosing out the latter by a few votes. Although it was agreed to pick the ten players receiving the largest number of votes for the all-star team, such action would have resulted in both leading pitchers on the first string. Consequently, it was agreed that Berman pitch for the scrubs and Davidson for the all-stars, otherwise the all-star lineup to be exactly as the fans picked them, positions they play in the game to be determined by the manager.

Frankie Jones of Bryan McDonald's Oberkamp crew was elected manager of the all-stars, beating out Vic Montgomery for that post. Jones was also chosen for a playing position on the team.

The choice of fans for the all-star team (with Berman shifted off for opposing pitching chores) was as follows: Frankie Jones, manager, Vic Montgomery, J. M.

Crockett County In Best All-Around Economic Condition Of Any County In Texas, Dallas Students Survey Shows

County's Per Capita Income By Far Exceeds In State and Nearly Triples Average National Income

Crockett county, in the heart of the livestock producing section of West Texas, enjoys the distinction of being in the best all-around economic condition of any of Texas' 254 counties.

This was the finding of an economic survey just completed and made public by students in statistics and graphics course at Southern Methodist University in Dallas, under the direction of Prof. Jerom B. Cohen, who compiled the results.

Three other West Texas counties, Sterling, Upton and Tom Green, were included among the first ten counties in the state in this classification. Sterling county ranked fourth, Upton eighth and Tom Green county tenth.

Sources of information in arriving at the economic rankings included the Texas Almanac, based on Department of Commerce and Bureau of Census figures, and the Consumer Market Data Handbook.

Dallas county ranked second among those enjoying the best all-around economic condition. Potter county (Amarillo) was third, Tarrant (Fort Worth) fifth, Gray (Pampa) was next, followed by Harris (Houston), with Gregg (Longview) in ninth place.

In working out the index of economic ranking of the different counties, the researchers used per capita income figures; retail sales volume, also reduced to per capita basis; automobiles, radios and telephones, all reduced to the per person basis. In all of these classifications, save that of retail sales, Crockett county was among the top dozen of counties, holding first place by a wide margin in the matter of per capita income.

Five West Texas counties ranged among the first dozen in per capita retail sales. Dallas county led with a per capita average of $490, as compared with the average of $189 for all Texas counties and $260 for the national average. The leading counties in per capita retail sales, as found by the S. M. U. research, are: Dallas, Gray, Potter, Ector, Culbertson, Gregg, Tom Green, Tarrant, Harris, Travis, Upton and Midland.

In the combined index of economic status, Crockett led with a rating of 214, followed by Dallas with a rating of 209, Sterling, rated at 201, was the only other West Texas county ranged above the 200-mark. In working out the combined index the income and retail sales figures were reduced to a per capita basis. Automobile and telephone figures were converted into persons per automobile and persons per telephone. Radio figures were in the form of persons per radio. Business Improves In Justice Court With 6 Defendants Justice of the Peace W. M. Johnigan found business good in justice court during the past week, when a total of six defendants filed before him on a variety of charges.

Lottie Mae Evans and Lessie Thornberg, colored, were charged with fighting and fined $1 and costs. The fine was remitted, however, since the justice concluded that the fight was in reality little more than a battle of words and threats.

Bobbie Galyon served out a fine in jail upon conviction of a charge of drunkenness and disturbing the peace. E. E. Edwards paid a fine of $1 and costs on the same charge. Rudolph Martinez, charged with desertion of wife and children, is at liberty on bond pending hearing of additional evidence which he has promised in support of his contention that he had made arrangements for payment of $20 a month to his family for their support. Pancho Varela is at liberty under bond for payment of a fine of $1 and costs on a drunk charge.

NEW TEACHER HERE

Miss Zelma Scott of Gatesville, who has been selected as teacher of social studies and penmanship in the Ozona grade schools for the coming term, to succeed Mrs. Ted M. White, resigned. Miss Scott has had ten years of teaching experience and is doing summer work at the University of Texas toward her Masters' degree.

Blazing Honeysuckle Vines On Park Fence Cause Fire Dept. Run

Ozona's fire department was called out Tuesday afternoon to extinguish a blazing fence.

It was not a net wire fence, nor yet a wooden fence. It was a honeysuckle vine fence around the Powell athletic field. The origin of the blaze was unknown but the fact that green honeysuckle vines will burn with much the same vigor as an oiled rag was a revelation to many who witnessed the blaze.

A wide swath of the vines on the west side of the fence near the entrance gate was charred by the flames, which were leaping high into the air when the fire truck arrived on the scene.

NAVY RECRUITER HERE

R. A. Peterson, chief machinist mate, United States navy, now in the navy recruiting service with headquarters in El Paso, stopped off briefly in Ozona Tuesday. The navy is now seeking new recruits for the service and Mr. Peterson said that he planned to make another visit to Ozona in the near future. Young men of the community who desire information about the navy, or are interested in enlistment are asked to leave their names with Postmaster J. R. Kersey.

COMPLETES TRAINING

Miss Elizabeth Coose, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Steve Coose of Ozona, has just returned from San Antonio where she has spent the summer completing a course of training at a business college in that city. She finished her work at the business college with highest honors for the class of graduates.

Miss Coose has been employed the past two years as secretary to the superintendent of schools and will continue in that capacity during the next school term.

Mrs. Mary Flowers has returned to her home here after a three-months' visit with relatives in Arkansas and Tennessee.

Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Baker and daughter, Priscilla, are attending a convention of Piggly Wiggly store operators in Galveston this week.

County Taxable Property Values Show Increase

Hike In Intangible Tax Values Offsets Livestock Decrease

Despite the fact that the number of head of livestock of all classes declined slightly from last year, total valuation of all property in Crockett county for taxation this year will show a net increase of $25,496, according to preliminary figures compiled this week by Bill Littleton, in charge of assessments in the office of the sheriff, tax assessor and collector.

The increase in total valuations is accounted for in the sharp rise in values of intangible assets, in this case principally oil through pipelines in this county and rolling stocks on a short stretch of railroad line across the northern tip of the county. Intangible tax values rose a net total of $45,205, the assessor's figures show.

Total valuations for county taxes this year will reach $6,152,005, while the total for school taxes is $5,139,355. Intangible property is not assessed for school taxes. Valuations for school taxes show a decline of $19,709. Accounting for a part of the decline in values is the reduction made this year in assessments for automobiles. Last year, automobiles were assessed on a basis of 60 per cent of their cash value, while this year this figure has been dropped to 25 per cent. Total automobile valuations last year in this county were $111,749. Figures are not yet available for this year.

Crockett county landowners rendered for taxation a total of 1,782,080.5 acres of land, an increase of 2,560 acres over last year's rendered roll. A total of 359,805 head of sheep were rendered this year, a decrease of 3,933 head over last year's total. Cattle this year number 14,171, a decrease of 2,321, and horses total 1,587, a decrease of 43 head. Goats held their number to about the same as last year, 20,621 head. Tax rolls are now being compiled and will be ready for tax collections scheduled to start October 1.

New Deep Test To Be Drilled On Todd Ranch

Continental Stakes Location For Ordovician Test

Authentic information was available here this week to the effect that location has been staked and plans are being made for an early start on a new deep test to be drilled on the Todd ranch in Crockett county, about 15 miles northwest of Ozona.

The new test, seeking Ordovician production, is to be drilled by the Continental Oil Co. in cooperation with other companies owning acreage in the area. No definite data as to when the company would move in drilling crews and machinery was available.

The location is understood to be in the southwest corner of section 30-WX. It is to be about a mile and a half southwest of the Stanolind Oil Co. unit test drilled on the Todd ranch several years ago. The Stanolind test encountered the Ordovician at between 7,000 and 8,000 feet and was drilled to between 8,000 and 9,000 feet, and abandoned as dry. It is presumed that the Continental test will be drilled to around 8,000 feet.

Mrs. Egon Schneider and small son, Billy, left the weekend to return to their home in Mineral Wells after a visit here with Mrs. Schneider's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Johnigan. Mr. Schneider, who is employed on a dam building project near Mineral Wells, came for his family Sunday.

Crockett Leads

Every loyal resident of Crockett county should have felt a thrill of pride at announcement of the results of the economic survey which showed this county at the top of the list of 254 Texas counties in strength of its economic position. Crockett county held a commanding position of all round economic strength in the system of rating used, largely because of its leading per capita income figure, an average of $1,077 in 1938.

It is not accident that this county has this unusually high index of economic standing. The county's income rating, nearly three times as large as the average for the entire United States, comes about by reason of large ranching operations in the county. And that is not alone because of the fact that ranches in the county are large, but because ranchmen in this county have waged an unremitting campaign for improvement of the type of livestock and ranching methods throughout the county. Every ranchman has approached his own problems in the light of experience of others in the industry, each striving to better his flocks and herds and to improve operating methods for a more successful business.

Wool from Crockett sheep and lambs off Crockett ranges have consistently scored high in the market because ranchmen in this area have constantly produced a better product. And that improvement has come about through careful breeding for types that produce superior fleeces and choicest lambs.

Oil development in the county has also produced its share in the county's total wealth and income. Enterprising business concerns in Ozona have contributed their share, though not in proportion, the index shows. The survey, in fact, contains an indictment of residents of the county on this score—that the county failed to get in the running of leading counties in the matter of per capita retail sales volume, although its citizens boast the greatest per capita income. This discrepancy in the county's economic index leads to a strong suspicion that much, too much, of the county's purchases are being made from business concerns on the outside—that other towns and counties are being fattened on our fruits. Let's resolve to strengthen the county's position in the matter of retail sales by buying more at home.

LEST HE FORGET

You Big Bully, You!

Poland is "running amuck and threatening Europe's peace and justice," according to one Berlin newspaper. Another Nazi organ denounces "the infamous Polish provocation." Another screams in its headline, "Dangerous Polish war-mongering at the behest of London and Paris." Thus the 'white war' over Danzig is revived by Dr. Goebbels, who has boasted of his power to play on public opinion as on an organ. He pulls out this stop and that stop, starts the treadles functioning, and out from the great diapason swells a hymn of hate. Poland, which has declined to surrender to Germany its nostrils on the Baltic—Danzig and the Corridor—is pictured as a bandit by the government which only five years ago pledged ten years of Polish-German peace. This may be a case of all bark and no bite. If Hitler decided not to fight Poland for Danzig, it is reasonable to suppose that he would do some blustering in the press. But if he decided to press the Danzig issue, come what might, he would also undoubtedly start just such a newspaper campaign of vilification against Poland, preparing the way for a "defensive" war against Slavic bullies. So those Berlin headlines aren't much help to anybody who wonders (as who doesn't?) whether war is near at hand. But at least they are another illustration of the fact that American newspapers, whatever their shortcomings, are practically Utopian when compared with the press of Totalitarianism.—New York World-Telegram.

Wishful Thinking

... Last year, we remember, there was a lot of wishful thinking in administration circles about driving out of Congress sundry Democratic members who had "resisted" the court-packing program. Of those definitely proscribed, all save one were triumphantly returned to Congress by their constituents. So it is conceivable—to all outside the administration's inner circle, anyway—that Democratic congressmen who resisted some administration measures during the recent session will not be rebuked by their respective constituents nor driven by popular wrath to recant and swear unquestioning obedience to the New Deal chieftains. Since the court-packing scheme failed to win popular approval and support despite its distinguished authorship, it is just possible that the folks back home may not like some of the administration measures which failed of passage this year. We even venture to suggest the possibility that congressmen who "resisted" some of these measures were in closer touch with the public sentiment and attitude with respect to those measures than the administration councillors were. Time alone can test the reported administration belief that those Democratic congressmen who dared oppose any part of its program will get a spanking from their home folks and come back submissive to the administration's will. Our own guess is that the belief is mistaken and that Mr. Roosevelt needs a vacation from the wishful thinking of his New Deal inner council.—New Orleans Times-Picayune.

IT'S GREAT TO BE AN AMERICAN

Problems confront the country, but it's great to be an American. We have our troubles, but it's great to be a Texan.

Elsewhere, everywhere in the Old World, darkness and chaos abound. In Asia savage warfare rages. On the borders of bleak and barren Mongolia, Russians battle fiercely in unannounced warfare with the warriors of the Mikado. In the Balkans, peasants tend their crops and flocks and fearfully scan the horizon and skies for enemy bombers. Central Europe is a tinder box. Danzigers walk the streets with mouths closed. The Polish Corridor is alive with bristling bayonets, and the armed machines of Germany and France stare at each other from the doubtful shelters of their Siegfried and Maginot lines. In every British town and hamlet of the British countryside, young boys and girls are practicing the sickening art of gas drills. The world has gone mad with fright. It is a harrowing picture.

Every Texan should be proud of his heritage, Texas Americans are indeed fortunate.

American Women's Freedom

The recent ninety-first anniversary of the first women's rights convention in the United States was observed as "Woman's Independence Day."

The average American woman, however, probably passed it by without any special recognition or observance. The woman of today—regardless whether she lives on a farm, keeps house, or works in an office—will find it hard to envisage a day in which women did not have the freedom to permit their full participation in the world in which we live. The progress of independence for women has kept pace with the material and industrial growth of the nation's progress and wealth.

Now that women in other parts of the world are losing their freedom and find their rights abrogated by dictatorial edicts and collectivism, the American "Woman's Independence Day" should be observed every day. And it should take the form of a greater interest in those things which safeguard that independence.

Only as women help to preserve and strengthen the foundations upon which the freedom of all of our people rests, only as they become more deeply interested in finding a solution to the problems which face the private enterprise system today—will they be able to retain their independence.

In other countries, where these rights were not guarded vigilantly, women are now relegated to the kitchen, the field and the rangle of cannon fodder.

You Pay for What You Get-- Get What You Pay For!

IT IS A DEAD moral certainty, no one ever gets something for nothing. You pay for everything you get, but frequently we fail to get what we pay through injudicious buying.

"Caveat emptor" was the watchword in the days of early Rome. And it applies today as appropriately as then—"Let the Buyer Beware" when dealing with strangers. Perhaps the things told you are true. Again perhaps they are not. The thing is—can you afford to gamble on an unknown's integrity—to risk losing money you worked hard to earn?

When you deal with your local merchant you don't gamble. You know you will get exactly what you expect to pay for. You have not this assurance when you buy from unknown sources.

Unless you are completely satisfied with any purchased article, you do not get what you pay for. When you order from mail-order houses, you are not sure the article will meet your anticipations, even though it is not misrepresented. When you buy from an unknown itinerant salesman you run the risk of being "gypped."

There is only one way to be sure of getting satisfaction—see what you buy and know the person selling it. If you do this you'll avoid disappointments and in the long run will save your hard-earned money.

Behind The Scenes In American Business

By John Craddock

NEW YORK, Aug. 21.—BUSINESS—Vigorous objections were heard to President Roosevelt's proposal last week that Thanksgiving Day, 1939, be moved ahead one week from the customary last Thursday in November which this year falls on the 30th. Excepting the football crowd, most dissenters said they don't want another tradition shattered. On the other hand, men with an eye for business see much to recommend it. Retail store records show that a greater volume of annual business has been done in years when Thanksgiving fell far enough ahead of Christmas to permit four full shopping weeks. In each Christmas shopping day roughly $160,000,000 a day flows across the nation's retail counters. While loss of six days might not mean a sales shrinkage of $960,000,000, there could be sufficient decline to cut a swathe in the $1,000,000,000 sales gain made by retailers in the first half of 1939 over last year's first six months. And every dollar lost at retail causes minute repercussions in employment and profit possibilities of mills and factories.

WASHINGTON.—Disappearance of new land frontiers is commonly blamed for American economic troubles. Without arguing the point, it is interesting to observe that the department of interior is quietly "plugging" for Alaskan colonization. Bought from Russia for only $7,000,000, the Yukon country offers richer rewards than those garnered by pioneering settlers of the West, interior officials believe. The resources of Alaska differ from the United States and may be developed without competing with products here. For example, Alaska has enough timber to supply on a sustained-yield basis one-fourth of United States need for newsprint which is now about 75 per cent imported from Canada and northern Europe. In the Alaska of the future interior officials see a need for boat builders and fishermen, for trained toy makers and machinists, skilled leather workers and cabinet makers. More than 98 per cent of the land in Alaska still is public, available for homestead settlement.

In addition, 60 trains of "modernized" standard equipment with some streamlined features, and popularly included in the roster of "streamlined" trains, have made their bow. Every streamlined train of either classification has in its short lifetime produced additional passenger traffic and substantial earnings, as the total trains near the century-mark. Lead Poisoning Kills Wildlife In State of Minnesota

ST. PAUL, Minn.—Lead poisoning has killed more ducks in Minnesota the past few years than the gun of the hunter—and the affliction now threatens extinction for several species of migratory waterfowl. A survey conducted by wildlife conservationists showed that buck shot from the hunter's shotgun was spread heavily over the state's lake bottoms where the waterfowl feed. The resultant lead poisoning has taken an alarming toll among waterfowl, it was pointed out, especially diving ducks that feed in deep water.

Dr. G. Swanson of the University of Minnesota and T. L. Osmer of state game and fish division inspected several lake bottoms and found as many as 11 lead pellets to the square foot. "In one series of three lakes we found for every 14 to 24 square feet of lake bottom an average of six pellets that could be reached by waterfowl," Osmer said.

PITY THE POOR HAY FEVER VICTIM

Hay fever sufferers will begin to feel the effects of rag weed pollen during the month of September, and the state department of health again urges that local civic and municipal organizations start now eradicating all rag weed before the plants start blooming. By cutting rag weed now, the pollen content of the air will be greatly reduced during the fall months, and hay fever sufferers will be greatly benefitted.

A pamphlet containing complete information relative to the accepted principles of rag weed control may be secured free of charge upon request from the State Department of Health, Austin, Tex.

WHY Humble Oil & Refining Co. Reduced the Price of Crude

This statement is published as a paid advertisement by Humble Oil & Refining Company for the benefit of those who are interested and not acquainted with the facts.

On August 11 the Humble Company posted reductions in the prices at which it purchased crude oil in Texas and New Mexico by amounts ranging from 5c to 32c per barrel, and averaging 18.5c per barrel. In view of the fact that this action on our part has been severely criticized before the public, we outline below the facts and reasons on which it was based:

1. On August 1 the quantities of crude oil listed below, aggregating 218,920 barrels daily in Texas, Louisiana and Arkansas, were moving to market at prices substantially below the Humble's postings for similar crudes:

AREA	BBLs. DAY
Texas—
West Central	37,000
Gulf Coast	22,600
Southwest	16,900
East Central	12,800
East Texas Field	6,850
Panhandle	1,500
Total Texas	97,650
South Louisiana	81,920
North Louisiana and Arkansas	39,350
Total	218,920

2. The amount of crude moving below Humble's postings was greatly increased when on August 10 the Sinclair-Prairie Company posted a reduction of 20c per barrel affecting the oil produced and purchased by it in Texas, New Mexico, Oklahoma and Kansas, which action was followed immediately by reductions in the price made by a number of smaller purchasers. These reductions applied to more than 150,000 barrels of oil. This, added to that mentioned in the preceding paragraph, equals 368,000 barrels. In the three States in which Humble operates, Texas, New Mexico, and Louisiana, the aggregate volume of oil moving below Humble's prices approximated 17½% of the total current production in those States.

3. The movement of constantly increasing quantities over the past year or more of crude produced in the new Illinois fields, reaching a total of 300,000 barrels daily on August 1, on a price basis substantially lower than Humble's postings in its territory, exerted a progressively depressing effect on the crude oil market. The effect was felt in Texas; and actually since April 1 Humble has lost 10,000 barrels per day of business absorbed by Illinois crude. This loss of business was in addition to that lost by Humble as a result of the movement of crude at low prices in the territory where we operate.

4. On August 11, therefore, the total volume of oil moving at prices below those of the Humble was approximately 668,000 barrels.

5. The crude oil market has been under pressure for more than a year. The price adjustments made last October did not remove fully the disparity between Humble's prices and those of some oil moving in its markets. Since that time the volumes of crude moving below our prices have increased steadily, with the result that when the reductions of Sinclair-Prairie and others came on August 10, affecting approximately 150,000 barrels of crude per day, conditions were so bad that we were compelled to reduce our prices to meet this competition. In no case are our new postings lower than the Sinclair-Prairie postings for similar crudes.

6. The Humble Company is primarily a producer of oil. Its crude oil properties constitute its principal asset. Its net production averages 133,000 barrels a day. We are also crude oil merchants and purchase, at our posted prices, 251,000 barrels of crude oil daily in Texas and New Mexico. These prices also govern the price at which we sell the oil which we produce. Because of our large production we are vitally interested in the maintenance of fair prices.

Our refineries consume something near the amount of oil which we produce. As a consequence, with respect to our purchases we are in the same position as a merchant dealing in any commodity. To continue in business, we can not over a long period of time pay higher prices than our competitors. We are compelled to meet competition. The price of oil, like that of other commodities, is subject to change with market conditions. These are simple and fundamental business principles. We were reluctant to cut the price of crude, not alone because of its adverse effect on our own earnings, but also because of its effect on our customers and upon the industry and the state at large. Under these circumstances, we could not continue to pay the prices we had been paying.

7. As a matter of policy the Humble Company maintains stocks of crude oil very slightly in excess of the amount required as working stocks to carry on operations. We do not believe in storage of oil above ground but in production of oil currently as required for market. We do not speculate in oil. We have no desire to buy oil at any price to accumulate for storage.

8. We think the price for oil brought about by the competitive conditions above mentioned is lower than should be realized. In our opinion the flood of oil from Illinois and Louisiana, most of which is being produced wastefully, in violation of conservation principles, is primarily responsible for the market conditions which necessitated our price reductions. It is our hope that these conditions will be corrected and that the market will improve.

And then there'll maybe be a muscle shoal somewhere. And a man can tie up and gather armloads of the bi-valve mollusks and sit on a grassy bank and cut them open and maybe find a pearl or two. I always did want to find a pearl, a real good one. I found a little seed pearl one time, but I lost it.

And at night, after the squirrels have been cooked and eaten and the ants are polishing off the bones I've scattered about, I can lie and look up at the stars and wonder how far away they are and whether there's any life on the other planets of this universe.

Drunk Driver Gets Chief Blame For Six Months Highway Toll

STIN, Aug. 23.—State police delved into a six-month survey of Texas traffic to place blame for a disastrous highway toll.

699 lives lost in Texas traffic during the first six months of more than half, or 394, were in highway crashes. Of 174 in highway killed, almost one-third, or 64, were struck on highways, a figure out of proportion to the volume of pedestrian traffic on highways, state men said.

Separating highway accidents from all others, state police learned that the drinking driver may be accountable for almost 24 per cent of the fatalities on the highways. When all traffic—urban as well as rural—is considered, the drinking driver's percentage of highway crashes drops to 19.71 per cent.

On the other hand, excessive drinking for conditions is given as the primary cause in but 15 per cent of the highway fatalities as compared with more than 16 per cent for all traffic.

Statistical comparisons show peculiarities to the highways are drivers who pass without sufficient clearance, remain at the wheel while fatigued or asleep, and on the wrong side of the road, and operate with improper, blinding or no lights.

The drinking pedestrian also enters into the highway picture as much as he appears in urban traffic. He is held accountable for 2.38 per cent of fatal accidents in both highway and in all traffic.

Head-on collisions with another vehicle were responsible for more than 27 per cent of fatal highway crashes. The percentage drops to a little more than 18 per cent when urban traffic is added to the picture.

as defined by Webster:

A combination of factors, elements or the like, as in a diet, such that the proportions are correct for a certain purpose.

You can't improve on Webster, and when we say that 997 Motor Oil is balanced for performance, we mean that it has a combination of qualities such that the proportions are correct for the purpose of motor lubrication. . . . Definite improvements in 997 give it all the desirable qualities you seek in a motor oil in perfect balance—none are over-emphasized, none sacrificed. . . . And the result is—perfect performance in your car. BALANCED 997 gives you: a clean motor, low oil consumption, safe service, great stability at high and low temperatures, minimum engine wear, freedom from sticky gum and varnish-like formations on pistons and piston rings, easy starting in winter, instant lubrication, a perfect seal between piston rings and cylinder walls, low carbon, easy pumpability and circulation. . . . TEXAS OUT-OF-DOORS

A 15,000 to 20,000-acre tract of land in East Texas is being sought by the Texas game, fish and oysters commission to be used in an effort to preserve the pure strain of eastern wild turkey, of which there are not more than 150 birds remaining in the Lone Star State and probably not that many additional from Texas to the Atlantic seaboard. The game refuge, if obtained, will also be used for projects tending to restore deer, turkey, quail, doves and fur-bearing animals. The game management project is one of those being considered if the use of federal funds made available under the Pittman-Robertson Act is restored to the game department.

Many of the wild turkey in Texas, as well as in other states have become mixed with the domestic turkey, but game department biologists have found approximately 150 eastern wild turkey of a pure strain in southeast Texas. The unmixed wild turkey is a richer dark brown than the birds which are inbred with domestic turkeys. The bars on the tail are very faint.

Landowners asking too high prices for their land either on sale or lease basis has kept the department from going ahead with its plans for saving the eastern wild turkey, a truly game bird, which it is believed, could be brought back in large numbers in eastern Texas.

White quail are extremely rare, although found occasionally in Texas. One was seen recently on the ranch of Mrs. Hal C. Peck, game commission member, south of Odessa.

Damage done to wildlife by motor cars was emphasized recently when State Game Warden Tom T. Waddell of Eagle Lake reported 15 birds and animals found dead on a highway during a 63 mile drive. They included two doves, three skunks, two opossums, two cottontail rabbits, one jackrabbit, an English sparrow, one female quail, a night hawk and a water moccasin.

Harold Barrow and Ernest Porter of Oak Grove community in northeast Texas, are warning fishermen to wear sneakers, boots or some other form of footwear when wading while fishing. Barrow, while walking in Sulphur river recently, was grabbed by a large turtle. The turtle's lower beak cut a large gash in the bottom of Barrow's foot. The top of his beak went completely over the foot and mashed it. An X-ray examination later revealed a broken bone.

Porter, seeing Barrow being dragged under water, went to his rescue. The turtle turned loose of Barrow's foot and grabbed Porter's foot in exactly the same way, cutting a large gash in the bottom of it. It is reported by State Game Warden H. R. Morell of Mount Pleasant, where the men were brought for treatment by Dr. T. A. Grissom.

How fast can mourning doves fly? Their greatest speed has probably not been clocked, but you hunters will know why those delectable little birds are so hard to hit when you learn that a pair of mourning doves were clocked at exactly 70 miles per hour for more than 300 yards recently by Charles E. Frelley, Jr., regional game manager for the game department.

Not all predators of wildlife are blood-hungry creatures of the wild, and with a new crop of game birds in the field, Will J. Tucker, executive secretary of the game department, this week requested every Texan to look after his so-called domesticated animals which are allowed to run loose.

That you cannot blame a good rabbit or bird dog for hunting when he gets a chance and that the damage done to wildlife might well be charged to owners of the animals is the opinion of game experts. Hunting dogs can do almost as much damage as semi-wild house cats. They can hardly be expected to know when the legal hunting season ends and they naturally will continue the pursuit for which their masters praised and trained them at other times.

The number of loose running dogs can, however, in no way compare with a large number of semi-wild house cats which range the woods and fields, especially near the urban centers, and unless citizens stop dumping unwanted cats and kittens along highways, return of wildlife to Texas fields and woodlands will be appreciably hindered.

Legal Notices

CITATION BY PUBLICATION THE STATE OF TEXAS.

To the Sheriff or any Constable of Crockett County—GREETING:

You are hereby commanded, that you summon, by making publication of this Citation in some newspaper published in the county of Crockett if there be a newspaper published therein, but if not, then in a newspaper published in the nearest county to said Crockett County, for four consecutive weeks previous to the return day hereof, Cora Looney whose residence is unknown, to be and appear before the Hon. District Court, at the next regular term due to live together as husband and wife until about the 15th day of September, 1928, when Defendant left Plaintiff with the intention of permanently abandoning him, since which time they have not lived together as husband and wife.

Plaintiff alleges that during the time he and Defendant lived together as aforesaid, he was kind and affectionate to her and always provided for her needs and desires as a dutiful husband should, but that Defendant unmindful of the duties and obligations of her marital vows, did in September 1928, without any cause or provocation on the part of Plaintiff, leave Plaintiff with the intention of permanently abandoning said Plaintiff. There were no children born as a result of this marriage.

Plaintiff alleges that Defendant's actions and conduct toward him generally in permanently abandoning Plaintiff, are of such a nature as to render their living thereof, to be holden in the County of Crockett at the Court House thereof, in Ozona, Texas on the Third Monday in September, A. D. 1939, same being the 18th day of September, 1939, then and there to answer a Petition filed in said Court, on the first day of August, A. D. 1939, in a suit numbered on the Docket of said Court No. 716 wherein Phil Looney is plaintiff and Cora Looney is defendant. The nature of the plaintiff's demand being as follows, to wit:

Plaintiff represents to the Court that he is and has been for a period of 12 months prior to exhibiting the petition herein, an actual bona fide inhabitant of the State of Texas, and has resided in said County of Crockett for at least six months next preceding the filing of this suit. That on April 14, 1928 in Wilson county, Texas, Plaintiff was lawfully married to Defendant, then a single woman and that they continued together as husband and wife in supportable the premises considered.

Wherefore, Plaintiff prays the Court that Defendant be cited by publication as required by law to appear and answer herein for judgment dissolving said marriage relations for costs of suit and for such other and further relief, special and general, in law and equity that he may be justly entitled to, etc.

Herein fail not, and have you before said Court, on the said first day of the next term thereof, this Writ, with your endorsement thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

Given under my hand and seal of said Court, at office in Ozona, Texas, this, the 1st day of August, A. D. 1939.

GEO. RUSSELL,
Clerk District Court, Crockett County, Texas.

Cowgirl Contest Featured Event At Midland Rodeo

50 Prizes Offered Sponsors At Show Sept. 2-3-4

MIDLAND, Aug. 23.—Officials of the Midland rodeo, September 2-4, have announced that cowgirl sponsors representing West Texas and New Mexico towns will compete for prizes valued at $650. The greatest prize list ever offered for a similar event in the Southwest. At the same time, they have announced that a finals contest will be a feature of the sponsors show this week.

Under the plan, sponsors will be judged on riding ability, horse, costume and equipment as in former years. First prize in this event will be a $125 hand-made saddle with a deluxe baggage set valued at $85 to the winner of second place; a $50 watch, as third prize; and a pair of chaps valued at $35 for fourth prize. Fifth and sixth winners will also be rewarded. The title of "Miss Rodeo" will also be conferred upon the place winner in the event.

The six winners of first place will be eligible to enter a sponsors' contest at the last performance of the rodeo Monday, Sept. 4. Winners of first place in the 1935-36-37-38 Midland Sponsor's contest will be eligible to compete. As a test of rider and horse's ability to handle cattle, each contestant will be allowed two minutes in which to pen a wild range calf, released into the arena from the calf roping chute. According to cowmen who know the vagaries of a range calf, this test will bring out the best in both horse and rider. There will be but a single reward in the final event—a two-horse capacity deluxe trailer with canopy and accessories, valued at $300. With entries nearing the 25 mark it is anticipated that the new event and added prizes will attract sponsors from many more West Texas and New

Frame Colonial

This dignified New England home represents a type of construction typically American. Its interior arrangement is as traditional as its simple exterior. Lack of waste space, a feeling of spaciousness, and honesty of architectural design make this home preferred by many over less conventional plans. Given a valuation of $6,700 by Federal Housing Administration officials, this home was built in Massachusetts with the aid of a mortgage for $5,900 insured by the FHA.

Mexico towns. West Texas towns are being urged, through Chambers of Commerce and horsemen to send relay teams to represent their towns in the daily relay race for ranch horses only. Cash and valuable merchandise prizes are being offered winners in this event. With one-half dozen towns already entered it is anticipated that a half dozen more towns will be represented before the event of the rodeo.

Wind Is Topic Of Tall Tales In Dust Bowl

LAMAR, Colo.—Southern Colorado farmers, embittered by years of attempting to raise crops in this section of the dust bowl, nevertheless evidence humor as they explain improvised tests for measuring velocity of wind and intensity of storms.

"I always depend on the goat-skin method," one gnarled man of the soil said. "We wet a goat skin inside the house in the morning and hang it over the key hole. If the four of us can't hold it there, it's too darn windy to work in the fields."

His test, however, was disputed by several neighbors, supporters of the "log chain" test.

"We just hang a heavy log chain from the eaves of our ranch house," one of them explained. "If it stands straight out horizontally, we know we'd better stay in."

A Lamar pastor, too, has his dust bowl standards. He said only one thing should prevent his flock attending church.

"Stick your hand out," he directed. "Cup it for a few seconds, then bring it down to your side. If you can still see where your hand was, you're then excused for staying at home."

BIRD IN HAND MEANS CAGE
NEW ORLEANS, La.—Vincent Matassa knows now that a bird in the hand means he goes in the cage. Matassa was freed under $500 bond for holding a captive mockingbird. U. S. Commissioner Carter ruled that he violated the migratory bird treaty act by being caught with a feathered friend.

'Ours,' Sisters Shout

When officials of Rockville, Md., dedicated the city's new $77,000 post office they encountered difficulties. Mrs. Elizabeth Wimsatt of Washington, D. C., erected a warning sign, declaring that she and a sister were among eight heirs of the former owner of the site and had received nothing from the government. After much wrangling, the chief of police persuaded the adamant sisters to leave the property quietly.

Woman Values Relic As From The Liberty Bell

COLUMBUS, Ohio.—Mrs. Harland Venrick of Columbus believes that she has a small piece of the Liberty Bell.

According to family tradition her great grandfather's Masonic emblem was made from a fragment of the famous bell. It was given to him by a fellow Mason who repaired the bell.

"In tapping the bell with a hammer the smith accidentally knocked off a small piece," said Mrs. Venrick in relating the story. "From this he had two Masonic keystones made, one for himself, one for my grandfather, Washington Reifsnnyder."

Reifsnnyder had his keystone put into a gold watch charm which Mrs. Venrick came across recently in going through personal effects left by her mother.

The emblem bears this inscription: "W. Reifsnnyder, Schuylkill H. R. A. Chapter No. 159, Feb. 5, 1852."

Mrs. Vanrick explained that as some Masonic orders add 4000 years to the time, it is indicated that the medals were made in 1852.

According to history the famous old bell was cast in London by a Thomas Lister. Because of brittleness it was recast twice and hung in 1753.

The crack occurred July 8, 1835, while the bell was tolling the death of Chief Justice John Marshall of the Supreme Court of the United States.

were assigned to each series. Per capita income was assigned a weight of four retail sales 3, automobile 2, telephone 2 and radio 1.

Crockett county took first in the combined index largely because of its leading position in the per capita income series. The county had a per capita income of $1,077 in 1938, while Dallas had a per capita income of $863. The average per capita income figure for all Texas counties was $325. This compares with the per capita income for the entire United States of $437. The 10 leading counties in order of importance according to per capita income were Crockett, Sterling, Potter, Dallas, Ector, Tarrant, Gregg, Harris, Gray and Upton.

Ector county was shown with the most automobiles in relation to population, with 1.1 persons per automobile. Dallas county had three persons per automobile. The average figure for all Texas counties is 4.1 and for the United States 4.3 persons per automobile. Leading counties in the automobile index were Ector, Moore, Gaines, McMullen, Crane, Midland, Winkler, Crockett, Chambers, Sterling, Kendall and Randall.

Kendall county was shown as having the most telephones in proportion to population, with seven persons per telephone. The average figure for all Texas counties

Peace-Time Maneuvers Test Army Efficiency

When the United States army began its most extensive peace-time maneuvers at Manassas, Va., recently, these members of the Twenty-eighth tank company of Pennsylvania, left, were kept busy checking over their huge mechanized war steeds. Right: That mock wars have their casualty lists was proved by one private, who reported at the 104th medical regiment offices to receive first aid for an injured eye. The report did not state just how the soldier suffered the injury.

was 27 persons per telephone, and for the United States 11 persons.

The 12 leading counties in the telephone index were Kendall, Travis, Gillespie, Sterling, Bandera, Burnett, Tarrant, Hood, Victoria, Bexar, Crockett and Lampasas.

French Babies Protected From Gas Attack

In the event of war and threat of gas attacks, French babies under two years of age will be protected by means of a respiratory device which is connected with the gas mask of the mother. Not strong enough to open the air vents in a regulation gas mask, they are protected by this means. The baby's covering is made of fireproof silk. Professor Lee Mee, left, invented the device.

All-Stars—

Cox, J. T. Casbeer, Frankie Jones, Joe Friend, Rex Russell, Charles Williams, Vaughan Brown, Jim Dudley, and pitcher, Slim Davidson. Joe Friend led the field with the highest number of votes, 31.

A long list of players seen in action regularly on the local playing field received one or more votes in the contest. Ranking next to the all-stars, in what might be termed a second-team selection, were the following players: J. W.

Johnigan, Gene Williams, Vernon Wilson, Bill Seahorn, O. D. Busby, Frank Russell, Haskell Leath, J. A. Barrow, P. C. Perner, and Bill Hannah.

O. D. Busby and Hartley Johnigan will assume joint management of the scrubs team in the game with the all-stars. They will have the pick of all players eligible in league play. The game is scheduled for 8:15 o'clock Saturday night.

Mrs. James Baggett was to have undergone a minor operation on her in a Temple hospital this morning.

Orient Is Topic At Missionary Meet

"Carrying Out the Great Commission in the Orient" was the Royal Service study topic when the Woman's Missionary Union of the Baptist church met Wednesday afternoon at the church.

Mrs. Clyde Childers directed the Bible study on the topic, "Ever Enlarging Citizenry of the Kingdom." Mrs. G. L. Nesrsta was leader for the day and discussed the topic "The Great Commission and the Orient." Mrs. S. L. Butler told of Palestine today and also of China today. Mrs. J. S. Whatley discussed Japan today. Mrs. J. T. Patrick discussed "Making Disciples in Palestine" and Mrs. George Bean "Making Disciples in China." Mrs. Bean also gave "Making Disciples in Japan. Mrs. Nesrsta told stories of cheer.

Others present were Mrs. R. K. James, Mrs. J. T. Keeton, Mrs. Harvey Collard and Miss Maybelle Taylor.

The society will meet at 4 o'clock next Wednesday afternoon at the church for a social. All circles of the society are urged to have a 100 per cent attendance of their memberships.

YOUNG THIEVES WARNED

Three teen-age youths were given a lecture and released when they were brought before Justice W. H. Johnigan in justice court a few days ago, on a charge of theft of an auto radio from a truck belonging to Hugh Gray. The radio, an expensive make, was sold for 50 cents. The purchaser of the radio came in for a share of the lecture and warning.
